

To: Paul L. Dunbar
Library of Congress
From: Alice Ruth Moore
Brooklyn

(1)

[FEB. 24, 1898]

[Public School]

P. S. #66.

Wednesday, noon.

Dearest heart. - I have a minute or so before the bell rings so I'm going to devote them to you. I believe I'm tired and disgusted this morning. I am writing this in another teacher's room and she is teasing me to death. "I am writing to him", I reply to her fire of questions, "telling him
I'm tired of teaching and I want

him to take me away!"

I am sorry I permitted my foolish superstitions.

Wednesday night.

Well, the balling just at this point and I stopped, and of course couldn't resume until to-night; And now I have read your dear letter. How poor unfortunate darling to have to read such "poems". Why don't you get out an injunction against him.