CHILDREN'S THEATRE GROUPS TO MEET HERE

Prominent Speakers To Be At U. of D. Conference

Two women of national prominence in the children's theatre field will be the principal speakers at a one-day Children's Theatre Conference sponsored by the University of Delaware Dramatic Center to be held here on Saturday, January 26, it was announced today by Dr. C. R. Kase, director of dramatics.

The principal speakers of the conference will be Mrs. Hazel Robertson of the Palo Alto (Calif.) Community Center's Children's Theatre and Miss Gloria Chandler, director of children's theatre work for the Junior League of America.

Also featured on the all-day program will be a recently filmed Children's Theatre production of "Titan" made by Mrs. Robertson and transcriptions of children's radio programs produced by the Junior League.

As a result of this meeting the University Dramatics Center hopes to stimulate the production of children's plays throughout Delaware. This is a phase of theatre, Dr. Kase stated, which has long been neglected in this area, although it has been developing in other parts of the country as an important part of community and school life.

Cooperating with the University in arranging and conducting this conference are the University Drama Group of Newark and Recreation Promotion and Service, Inc., of Wilmington.

VICTORY CLOTHING COLLECTION LAGS HERE

Increased Support For Drive Urged By Committee

As a slow response marked the first week of the local Victory Clothing Drive, committee chiefs yesterday urged residents of Newark and surrounding communities to renew their efforts in bringing clothing donations to the official depots so that packing can begin at once.

Plans for the speed-up of the drive were discussed at a meeting of the Victory Clothing Committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce held Monday with president Jim Garner, Jr., presiding.

As announced last week, the receiving depots are located at the State Theatre, Postoffice, Jackson's Hardware Store, Newark Department Store, Acme Market A & P Store, Delaware Avenue School and University of Delaware.

The committee in charge of the drive is as follows: Chairman, Jim Garner; arrangements, Jack Handloff; publicity, Jerry Weinberg; collections, Bill DeLong and Stearns Putnam; packing and sorting, Mike Kubico and Tom Foster; shipping, Ed Pierson. Valuable assistance was given to the committee by Ted Jones and Frank Tolomeo.

With the slogan "Can You Be at Ease While Others Freeze?" the committee pledged to increase their efforts. To date the amount of clothing collected has been very disappointing, committee members say. While no specific quota has been set for Newark, it is hoped that the collection here will be at least as large as that in communities of similar size. Unless clothing is brought to the depots in much larger quantities than at present, this goal will not be reached.

Jerry Weinberg announced that all fraternal, religious, and service organizations have been provided material for publicizing the drive, and that the Newark schools will put on an intensive campaign for a week. Other organizations have pledged their help.

Collections at the receiving depots will be made every Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon by the Jaycees. In the event that additional collections are necessary, the receiving depot should call Jack Handloff, 6121, who will dispatch a truck to the depot.

She serves as consultant to the newly created children's creative drama group sponsored by the Northeastern University School of Speech.

FAMOUS ART WORKS ON EXHIBIT AT U. OF D.

Group of 23 Pictures By 19th Century Masters

Miss Harriet Baily, director of fine and applied arts at the University of Delaware, called attention today to the exhibition entitled Nineteenth Century Leaders of Modern Painting which is now on display in the art gallery in the Memorial Library. This exhibition which is being circulated among museums, colleges, schools and other institutions by New York's Museum of Modern Art will continue through January 22.

The group of 23 pictures represents the 19th century masters who first revolutionized modern painting. Such a collection of originals would be impossible to assemble, but the visitor may enjoy in fine color reproductions the masterpieces which he might otherwise never have the opportunity to see.

The exhibition traces the history of the modern movement from Corot to the work of the Post-Impressionists Cezanne, van Gogh, Gauguin and Seurat. It includes work by Daumier, Manet, Monet, Degas, Renoir and the Americans Homer, Ryder and Eakins. Among the well known masterpieces included are Daumier's "Don Quixote," Manet's "Boy With a Pipe," Homer's "Nor'Easter," Corot's "Woman With a Pearl Ring," Cezanne's "Boy With a Red Waistcoat," van Gogh's "Landscape With Cypress Trees" and Eakins' "John Biglen in a Single Scull."

Labels with explanatory notes accompany the pictures. Wall placards trace the history of the movement and give brief biographies of each artist.

All non-veteran students at the University of Delaware were reminded this week that they must have applications and all credentials in the hands of property university authorities not later than Jan. 26 in order to be admitted for the second semester of the current academic year. The rule, however, does not apply to veterans' applications for enrollment which will be considered up until the last possible moment, she added.

Meanwhile, Charles W. Fay Cartledge: Personalities And Careers

Pure Country Sausage and Scrapple Produced by Sowden Real Delicacies

Nothing can tempt the appetite more than sizzling hot sausage and scrapple, especially on a cold winter's morning when a good breakfast starts the day off just right.

And few have ever equalled the sausage and scrapple produced of the best ingredients by Edward C. Sowden and Son, on Lancaster Pike, Wooddale, across the highway from Hercules Golf Course.

Fresh veal is sold, too, by the firm to make its presentation of better foods more complete.

For the last three years the firm's retail store has been at 731 Madison Street, Wilmington, but folks remember its history goes back to 1909, the year the parent enterprise was founded. The store is open only on Saturdays and affords housewives the opportunity to buy the best and provide their families with tasty, wholesome and delicious foods.

Throughout New Castle County the firm's wholesale service is widely known and has been relied on down through the generations.

Edward C. Sowden is the directing head of the concern.

Returning SeaBee Heads Firm He Began When Japs Were Raiding Pacific Bases

Folks who are asking "What will the returning veteran do?" will find a pleasant answer in the work of Earl Rieckel whose initiative carried him through two and a half years in uniform and back to the business he established shortly after the outbreak of the war.

Mr. Rieckel is an expert carpenter and equipped to do all types of remodeling, altering and similar services. He established his own business on the principle of giving his best and included the installation of asbestos siding in his regular work.

Sound like he was "built" just for the SeaBees, doesn't it? He was. In July, 1943, he laid down his hammer and saw and learned how Uncle Sam planned to whip the Japs with the aid of those aggressive Construction Battalions.

December 8 he returned to re-establish his old firm at 7 Lovelace Avenue, Farnhurst.

Throughout Newcastle County his services are regarded as standard and many new customers call on him for the highly specialized and thoroughly reliable job he is able to do.

Estimates are always given cheerfully by Mr. Rieckel.

Chicken chow mein is a major attraction here, while a variety of other tasty, delicious and wholesome Chinese dishes are offered. The bill of fare also contains a full selection of American foods which are top favorites, too, with many customers because of the distinctive manner in which they are prepared.

Orders are put up quickly to take out so that patrons may enjoy the delicious delicacies at home. An advance call to Wilmington 4-9638 "does the trick."

New York Oyster Bar Is Brand New Spot Serving Food the Customers Appreciate

The name is old but the place is new. The service is the same but a modern note has been added. These facts are attested to by everyone who visits New York Oyster Bar, 803-05 North Union Street, Wilmington.

There is a background to the business that is not only extensive but which mirrors the reason for the standing of the famous name in Wilmington.

The late Alfonso Crisconi established the original business at 835 King Street in 1916. From the outset of its career customers flocked to the place to buy its variety of seafood sold at wholesale and retail.

In 1939 the first New York Oyster Bar was opened and its fine foods became justly famous. The location, reconverted and well-appointed, augmented its excellent dinners and seafood with beer and liquors. Fresh fish is still available in the raw state.

Two years later Mr. Crisconi died, but the business passed to the able hands of his sons, Albert and Joseph. The former manages the King Street location and the latter is in charge of the new place serving all seafoods, steaks, chops and beer.

The need for prompt service in America's restaurants was never more in evidence than during the war period and Maryland Quick Lunch kept to its standard of endeavor by meeting the needs of customers who always seemed to be in a hurry.

But the speed with which you were taken care of at 400 Maryland Avenue, Wilmington, did not affect the friendliness of the owner or his workers, for John Wojdak had a deep personal interest in making his wartime service the same as it was in peace years.

Quick lunches are a specialty, with sandwiches, big and meaty, featured. Platters are a top favorite of Maryland Quick Lunch customers, too, while the patron who wants to sit down and enjoy a full course dinner can get his wish at Wojdak's location.

Right in the midst of wartime shortage of men and materials, Mr. Martin established his own firm. This was three years and the ensuing period of time has found a wide acceptance of his endeavor among folks who want the best.

Established When Liquor Was Scarce, Corson's Store Has Gained Approval

Even when the shortages were at their worst, the management of Corson's Liquor Store managed to provide the best for his customers and through the last two years the business has found it is possible to win friends and permanent customers even under adverse circumstances.

Domestic brands and a variety of imported labels are found in stock at Corson's Liquor Store, making the location at 533 West 2nd Street, Wilmington, a widely patronized one. The advantage of always being able to please the customer to the fullest has not been on the side of the retail liquor dealer in late years for the lack of supplies has hampered him.

But, at Corson's, the methods of providing well for the public have been centered in the interest of Mr. Corson who gets a great deal of personal satisfaction out of selling the best to his trade and dispensing courtesy in large quantities.

The store is open daily except Sundays, until midnight.

Brandywine Radio Service Is Prepared To Provide Homes With All Appliances

During the latter part of the war, Brandywine Radio Service gave an excellent account of itself by repairing radios and small electrical appliances so that its customers would be assured of the best at all times.

Fulfilling this important work was not the only aim and effort of the enterprise at 2007 Market Street, Wilmington, however, for the business paved the way to sell new radios and appliances as soon as manufacturers released them.

Refrigerators, washing machines, irons, toasters and other time-and-labor saving devices will be on view with householders afforded the type and model they wish. It will be a happy day for Brandywine customers when the new, bright and efficient appliances appear.

Radios, and eventually, television sets will be sold to round out a complete and impressive endeavor second to none in the metropolitan area.

Robert A. Wrightson and Frank Martinez established the business. They have been in the same line of endeavor since 1921 and are recognized experts.

Nearly Everybody, it seems WANTS TELEPHONE SERVICE

Demand for telephone service is tremendous . . . far greater than we'd have guessed it could be five months after the end of the war.

It comes from a typical cross section of the public: From men and women who have come to regard the telephone as an essential part of American life. . . . From families who came to Delaware to work in war industries and, liking the State, decided to stay. . . . From farmers for whom the telephone will be more than ever an essential factor of modern farming. . . . From returning veterans who couldn't think of living without telephones, especially after their experience with modern communication in all theatres of war. . . .

It's all very exciting. It's a sign of the times . . . of Delaware's continuing prosperity.

And right now our $5,500,000 expansion program is under way to provide people with the kind of telephone service they like . . . and the kind we like to provide.

Public health agencies, expanding police and fire departments, doctors, many returning veterans, and others to whom you'd give priorities, naturally have first call.

But once we get our hands on enough telephone instruments and central office equipment, and once we can build our outside plant, lay and splice cables, erect poles and string wires, and tie everything together into the living organism that is the telephone system . . . once we do all this, we say, Delawareans will have as much telephone service as they want and finer telephone service than they ever dreamed of.

We repeat—WE'RE ON OUR WAY.

Here are THE THREE OBJECTIVES of our $5,500,000* EXPANSION PROGRAM

1. To end all waiting lists for telephone service.
2. To provide the people of this State—city people and farmers—with finer and finer telephone service.
3. To make available the many new developments in communication, pioneered by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

* Part of the Bell System's two billion dollar Expansion Program.

DELAWARE DAIRYMEN OUTLINE '46 PROGRAM

Goals Set At Meeting Here Of State Dairy Groups

A five-star program aimed at assisting Delaware dairymen in shifting from war to peacetime production was drawn up here last week at a meeting of the Delaware Dairy Production Committee. In attendance were Delaware Extension dairy and livestock specialists, county agents, members of state agencies and commercial groups.

The program is designed to guide the Delaware farmers in peacetime as the National Eight Point Dairy program did during the war, according to A. E. Tomhave, head of the University of Delaware Department of Animal and Poultry Industry.

The first goal of the program is the leveling of production to reduce the seasonal rises and depressions in the milk market. According to the Extension specialists, the establishment of a fall-freshening schedule for cows will take from five to eight years. Farmers will need advice on careful breeding to meet seasonal market conditions, and especially on furnishing a greater supply of milk in the fall when the milk market is at its lowest.

The other four goals are better quality milk for greater profits, better hay and pasture, herd improvement and record keeping, and herd health.

These goals will be further stressed at a series of four dairy feeding and management schools to be conducted throughout the state this month. The last of these schools will be a Dairy Day program to be held during Farmers' Week at the University on Wednesday, Jan. 30.

HOME AGENT FOR COUNTY APPOINTED

Nancy Kelly Selected By U. of D. Service

The appointment of Miss Nancy Kelly as home demonstration agent for New Castle County has been announced by George L. Schuster, director of the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Delaware.

Miss Kelly, a native of Glade Springs, Virginia, was born on a farm and has a general farm background. She attended the University of Tennessee for two years, then transferred to the Virginia Polytechnic Institute to major in home economics extension. She graduated from here in 1941, with a B.S. degree.

During the past four years, Miss Kelly has been a home demonstration agent in Virginia, working in Sussex and Greenville Counties for one year, in Sussex County for two years, and in Accomac County for six months.

Miss Kelly, succeeding Mrs. Kate Healey Daugherty, who resigned in November, has begun her duties and will make her home in Newark.

Newark Lions Club Hears Talk Given By Dr. C. J. Rees

President T. D. Smith celebrated his birthday this week by presiding over the regular weekly dinner meeting of the Newark Lions Club, held Tuesday evening at the Country Club. T. A. Ross won the award presented by Mr. Smith.

Frank Smith, program chairman for the evening, introduced Dr. Carl J. Rees, head of the Department of Mathematics, at the U. of D., who gave members a first-hand and highly interesting discussion on impressions of China, gleaned from experiences gained while serving recently in that country with the Army Air Forces. The Constitution Committee, together with the Board of Directors, met last Monday evening, January 14, at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the president, T. D. Smith.

A total of 453 arrests were made by the Newark Police during 1945, according to the yearly report released by Chief W. H. Cunningham at the monthly Council meeting Monday.

Ninety-six investigations were also conducted by the force, including nine cases of breaking and entering, five of which were cleared. Other investigations listed were: larceny, 19 cases, 16 cleared; shoplifting, 1 case which was cleared; fire at South Hall, U. of D., also cleared; deaths, 4 cases, all cleared; and 61 accidents.

The 453 arrests were classified as follows: drunk, 103 arrests; disorderly conduct, 93; assault and battery, 45; parking, 39; speeding, 22; knowingly permitting an unlicensed operator to drive a car, 11; loitering on the street, 8; threatening bodily harm, failing to stop at a stop sign, no operators license, and passing a red light, 6 arrests for each offense; vagrancy and larceny, 5 for each; trespassing and soliciting rides, 4 for each, driving an unregistered motor vehicle and failing to send a child to school, 3 for each; interfering with police officer, breaking glass on the street, fighting on the street and assault and battery with a motor vehicle, 2 for each; failing to take treatments, malicious mischief, fugitive from justice, highway robbery, breaking and entering, improper lights, using profane language, discharging fire arms, no registration card in possession, animals running at large, having a barking dog, illegal use of motor vehicle, desertion of family, obtaining money under false pretense, leaving scene of accident, improper brakes, non-support, tampering with a motor vehicle, larceny of bailee, and following too close to fire engine, one arrest for each offense.

Of these, six were held for court, nine were committed to the workhouse, and forty-four cases were dismissed.

Overnight lodging was provided for 17. During the year, there were 2185 police calls. Eight lost children were returned to their parents. Thirty-one bicycles were returned to their owners.

Three fugitives from justice were returned to their respective states. Three stolen cars were recovered. Two men were returned to the military authorities. One escaped prisoner of war was turned over to the military authorities.

The police car was driven 31,898 miles during the year and the motorcycle 340 miles, while fines collected amounted to $3045.00.

DIVORCES SET RECORD

394 For Year In The County

New Castle County's Superior Court last year awarded 35 per cent more decrees nisi of divorce than in any previous year in the court's history.

Records compiled in the office of Prothonotary James M. Maloney show that 394 decrees were awarded in 1945, while the largest number in any previous year was 290 in 1943.

That the rate is still increasing is indicated by the fact that the present January term has seen the granting of 74 divorces with its calendar only half completed. In the entire January term last year only 66 decrees were awarded.

Mr. Maloney's records fail to support the theory that hasty war marriages are causing the rising divorce rate, for the average couple on last year's divorce list were married during the depth of the depression. The average length of marriage at the time the decrees were granted was 11 years and 10 months.

Thirty of last year's divorced couples had passed their silver anniversaries.

Private Howard Palmer, an operator of the Delaware Coach Company, was our first employee to enter the U. S. Army. He entered the service in January, 1918. After basic training with the 1st Infantry Division, he served in France, Belgium, and Northern France and was awarded the Purple Heart and Good Conduct Ribbons, as well as the European Theatre of Operations with 5 Battle Stars.

G. I. JOE SPEAKS

"I've been in the Service—but I seldom got any service when it came to buses in the cities I struck during my 'hitch' in the Army. Long waits and slow, uncomfortable rides were the 'order of the day' with me. Take it from me—all you need to really appreciate what there is right here at home is to visit a few other cities throughout the country, like I did."

Back at work on his old Vandever Avenue "run" since October, 1945, Howard is one of many returned veterans in our employ who are anxious to provide you with safe, convenient, comfortable transportation—who join in our desire to give you better service than ever before.

FREEDOM HAS NO "BUTS!"

The wonder of 1945 was that so much could happen in so few months. Staggering headlines became commonplace. There was the death of President Roosevelt; the war ended; the United Nations Organization became a hopeful fact; and, most cataclysmic of all, was the thunderous dawn of the atomic age. These were but a few of the headlines. The events they portray have left a turbulence in the human mind such as has never been experienced before. That turbulence is shaking the postwar world to its very foundations. The peace and plenty which so many had hoped for when the guns fell silent, is nowhere to be found. Whether it will materialize in the reasonably near future depends upon the fortitude and common sense of millions.

An indication of the temper of the times is evident in the words of one veteran, a college graduate who lost a leg at El Alamein: "There is evidence among us of a growing distaste for orations. We will tend to judge parties and proposals by results, not by protestations of high purpose. We know freedom doesn't mean much without groceries — how can a man enjoy a speech on an empty stomach?"

Appealing as these words sound on the surface, they reveal the terrible weakness in thought that today threatens the future of the American republic and the hope of democratic government throughout the world more seriously than any dictator or combination of dictators ever has. First, this veteran — and his reasoning is paralleled by millions of civilians — is assuming that freedom is somehow to blame if there is a grocery shortage. Second he infers that a little less freedom can result in a few more groceries. Third, he makes the potentially fatal blunder of inviting a strong man or group to take action, in the same breath, mind you, that he questions the validity of freedom unless it is accompanied by a three-decker sandwich. This bread and butter philosophy leaves the way wide open for the demagogue to step in with a hatful of promises — impossible promises that will result in less freedom and fewer, not more, groceries.

General Carl A. Spaatz, former commanding General of the United States Strategic and Tactical Air Forces in the Atlantic and Pacific Theaters, says: "Discontented youth make for troubled waters in which the unscrupulous politician loves to fish. When the 'man on the white horse' comes forward in such a situation, things begin to happen, as they happened in Germany. Hitler rose to power on the back of youth."

The most important issue before the American people today is how to get the price tag off freedom. In other words, freedom, our form of government, our religious beliefs, should not be considered in the same breath with material fortunes. The former are things of the spirit that must survive in lean years as well as years of plenty. The latter, in spite of our best efforts, will fluctuate. The old saying of shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves in three generations used to pretty well express the American's philosophic approach to the ups and downs of economic life.

Undoubtedly as time goes on, greater protection against the hazards of poverty and illness can be evolved. Great steps have already been taken in this direction. The United States is so far ahead of the rest of the world in the achievement of humanitarian ideals and attainment of material comfort, that comparison has become impossible. We have gotten ahead because heretofore our faith in freedom, in representative government, in the right of a man to keep the rewards of hard work, has been complete. Heretofore we have never, in effect, said: "Freedom is okay, but—"

In commenting on the present socialistic policy of Great Britain, which a powerful faction in our country seems bent on copying, opposition leader Winston Churchill said: "I foresee with sorrow but without fear that in the next few years we shall come to fundamental quarrels in this country. It seems impossible to escape the fact that events are moving and will move toward this issue: 'The people vs. the Socialists.'"

If there is one thing our country should keep in mind above everything else during the coming year and in all the years to follow, it is that freedom has no "buts." You either believe in it or you don't, and socialism isn't freedom.

QUIT BLOWING IN YOUR MONEY

Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin writes one of the best letters to the newspapers of his State that goes from Washington, and in his New Year's Letter he found time to rejoice that "the old order changes, giving place to the new." Being an optimist, he looks for better times in future days.

The Senator reports that "the American people now have accumulated 170 billion dollars in savings, the greatest amount in history." He warns people who have a nest egg to beware of swindlers and crooks out to steal it with every shady scheme conceivable. But he also tells his fellow members in Congress to stop their habit to "spend, spend, spend."

At the close of the year 1945 he paints a plain news picture of "what acts did Congress take, specifically during the fateful year of 1945?" and then he explains: It ratified the United Nations Charter, voted funds for foreign relief, authorized world financial cooperation, reduced taxes, abolished war time, liberalized the G. I. Bill of Rights, authorized housing funds and navigation and flood control appropriations. These are but a few of the hundreds of Bills passed by Congress during the last 12 months.

Among future issues that Congress will face when it opens its Second Session, Senator Wiley believes there must be a solution of how to curb the strike menace and protect the best interests of the public, of labor and of management. Whether or not to merge the Army and the Navy into one Cabinet Department to enact peacetime conscription? How to cope with the still terrible housing shortage? What to do about revising our tax system? How to handle price and rationing controls? What about the proposed health and social security legislation? How to reorganize the Government and strengthen Congress and the other branches to meet their heavy responsibilities? How to insure full justice for returning servicemen? What to do about controlling and utilizing Atomic energy? How to meet the farmer's problems, the laboring man's, the small businessman's and so on.

OH, RUBBER!

While we are on the question of favoritism for certain foreign products, we might mention the fact that natural rubber comes largely from the far Pacific, and apparently the Dutch East Indies are among the pets from which natural rubber is brought to the United States. All signs indicate that we are now producing just as good synthetic rubber as natural rubber grown in the Pacific. It has cost our country a few billion dollars to back our synthetic schemes. Why pipe down on our own successful synthetic rubber plants in order to buy foreign-grown rubber? Here is a case for "America first."

BUS FIRE NEAR TOWN

10 Passengers Leave Safely

Ten passengers were forced to evacuate a bus enroute from Newark to Wilmington when a short circuit caused the vehicle to catch fire at about 11 o'clock last Thursday morning on the Capitol Hill, a mile outside of town. The driver, Earl A. Jones, threw open the emergency and front doors when he noticed the flames, and the passengers fled out without panic. Jones summoned the Aetna Company which extinguished the blaze. Damage was estimated at about $100.

The Delaware Bus Company later commended the Aetna Fire Company for its prompt and efficient handling of the blaze.

A chimney fire also occurred on Thursday at the home of John Miller, West Delaware Ave., the Aetna company extinguished the blaze before damage resulted.

Sunday a grass fire broke out along the railroad tracks on the property of Frank Godwin at Rambo's crossing. No damage was reported.

Job openings were found for 20,508 persons in Delaware last year by the U. S. Employment Service for a decrease of 11.2 per cent from the peak of 23,107 placements reported in 1944, according to Benjamin Ableman, state director of the USES.

AUTHORIZED KEEPSAKE DEALER

There's no denying that everybody loves a winner. But many local athletic fans are getting hep to Newark High's scrappy little basketball team despite the fact that they recently dropped close decisions to invading Wilmington schools.

Friday night's encounter with P. S. duPont was just too exciting to watch—sitting down, said one faculty member as he pranced nervously about during the extra period, called when the game ended with the score deadlocked at 46-46. P. S. eked out a 52-50 victory in the overtime period in a hard-fought, clean game that was more of a tribute to Coach MacDonald's cohorts than a disgrace.

The netting which hangs between the gymnasium and the auditorium, where spectators sit, was taken down Friday night for the first time and its absence proved a boon to spectators. If they could just devise some way of seeing both goals from either side of the auditorium now, greater attendance and spectator interest might be aroused.

Local week-end basketball interest is pointed towards the high school's first meeting with Middletown, on the home court. Newark should tuck this one away on the winning side of the ledger.

Ken Steers, Blue Hens, smarting from a 72-44 defeat at the hands of Rutgers, at New Brunswick last Fri., are chosen to repeat their victory over Swarthmore when they invade Pennsylvania, Friday night, but will likely bow to a smart, hard fighting aggregation from P. M. C. here Saturday evening.

Frank M. Durnall installed Saturday as Royal Vizier of Habib Temple No. 205 Knights of Pythians, a post formerly held down by Earl Carney Wolven, exiled to Selbyville. Congratulations, Frank.

Reported that one leading Florida resort hostelry dissuades guests from entertaining wounded veterans because they don't want any war reminders hanging around.

One former local playboy, now bulging about the middle, reminiscing recently about the days when Eddie Shakespeare played the ukele and Eddie Patchell swooned the then bobby soxers with his banjo and vocal accomplishments.

Wonder if there's any significance in the fact that a portrait of General Robert E. Lee hangs in President Truman's study? Senator Claghorn, of Fred Allen's program, would love that.

Now that the war is over, a lot of people have conveniently forgotten patriotism in favor of hoped-for gain at the expense of fellow-citizens, industry and national recovery, via the strike route. Such action on the part of dominated thousands is deplorable in the face of Federal, industrial and private attempts to keep reconversion flowing smoothly.

Unless amicable return-to-work agreements and other threatened strikes are called off, the current legislature will undoubtedly enact anti-labor laws having far-reaching effect . . . greatly to the detriment of the labor generally and particularly to the pocket-book of dues-supported and sudden power-maddened union officials.

Eddie Arcazo, America's premier jockey in our opinion, back in the saddle again as Hialeah Park opened yesterday. Eddie and ourselves have one thing in common, we both came from Kentucky. But, there the similarity ends for HE has had much success following the bang-tails. We'd have to have a broom and shovel to clean up anything.

Al Shelhamer, popular hereabouts, reported recovering from an injury incurred during a spill at Santa Anita on opening day . . . expected to be released from Good Samaritan Hospital, at Pasadena, about February 1.

Frank Glenn, jovial manager of the Slate Restaurant, will offer night owls the only place in town to get a bite to eat after ten o'clock, with the announcement that his establishment will revert to the 11 o'clock closing hour during week nights, effective next Monday. Thanks, Frank.

Amused at Dr. Hubert S. Howe's testimony at the New York Jockey Club hearing of charges against Tom Smith for alleged doping, with ephedrine, of the horse Magnific Duel. A New York physician, Dr. Howe testified that the drug ephedrine had a strong stimulating effect on human beings as well as horses . . . that he conducted an experiment upon a 135-pound man.

First, he said, his subject was asked to elevate himself upon his toes once a second until exhausted. The subject managed the trick 448 times before falling upon a bed, completely exhausted.

After a rest, the guinea pig had each nostril sprayed six times with a solution of ephedrine. Dr. Howe said the effect was something to behold. This time the man elevated himself 1,302 times, the good doctor declared, and still felt so full of vim that it was difficult to hold him down to the once-a-second routine.

Moral: Next time you need stimulation or rejuvenation, try an ephedrine solution spray in your nostrils for the tired, worn-out feeling. Sounds like a lot of bunk to us . . . but a lot of poor yokels might get ideas. If and when Joe Louis meets Billy Conn in the ring again, the Brown Bomber will all but murder Conn . . . and no pro's about it. But quick.

The Army is about to announce its decision to permit discharges to wear their uniforms longer because of the civilian clothing shortage . . . most discharges can't get out of uniform quick enough as it is.

Lump Sum Payments Of U. S. Insurance Asked

Legislation permitting lump sum payment of national service life insurance is on the calendar for study by a Senate finance sub-committee shortly after Congress reconvenes.

The bill has the endorsement of Gen. Omar Bradley and the Veterans Administration.

Lump sum settlements are not permissible under present law. If the beneficiary is under 30 years of age, the policy's amount is paid in monthly installments over 20 years; if the beneficiary is older than 30 over 10 years.

In addition to the lump sum method the new legislation would provide several optional monthly installment payment plans.

NEWARK HIGH QUINTET IN CLASH HERE FRIDAY NITE WITH MIDDLETOWN HIGH

Jackets Drop Two Close-Fought Games Here; Bow 39-31 To Conrad Redskins Tuesday Nite; Lose 50-52 Thriller To Arch-Rival P. S. duPont

Denied victories by close scores in the Conrad and P. S. duPont clashes, the Newark High courtmen will be gunning for a win when they tangle with Middletown High Friday nite before the cal fans.

In two hard fought matches, providing some of the tightest most suspenseful court action ever seen in the local gym, the Jackets went down 39-31 before the Conrad Redskins on Tuesday night while, previously, on Friday night they were shouldered aside in a photo finish with P. S. duPont by a 52-50 count. Local fans are still limp after the latter struggle which went into an extra session that turned out to be one of the most action-packed five minutes ever provided Newark followers.

Last night, the Jackets took on the Brown five here, the game not being completed when the Post went to Press.

Against Conrad Tuesday night, things went well for the Jackets until the third quarter. Matching their rival point for point during the first half, which ended in a 21-21 tie, they held a slim three point lead at the third quarter whistle, but, thereafter, their offensive bogged down as Conrad outscored them by 11 points in the final frame.

Newark's attack was sustained until near the end by the accurate long shots of Bob Gregg and the darting, dribble-in goals of Captain Eugene Schaan. Gregg took scoring honors with 15 points, while Schaan garnered 10.

In the prelim game, the Black and Orange Javees were nosed out 15-10 by Conrad. Top scorer for Newark was Takach with 5 points.

In the frenzied P. S. duPont game on Friday night, the Jackets suffered one of the most heart-breaking setbacks of the season. Excitement, which ran high all through the struggle, reached a climax in the final minute of official play when P. S., trailing 45-46 at the time, knotted the score with a fove shot, forcing the match into an overtime period.

Newark onlookers crumpled their hats for the last time in the extra session which proved to be a wild affair. P. S. quickly surged to the lead with what looked like two decisive field goals by Walt Sackett and Bob Shockley, but the Jackets, completely unshaken, tied the count once again with two action shots, both beauties by John Takach and Tony Cossetti, while the fans pulled out the last of their hair.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

C. E. Ocheltree, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration, Field Service Branch has announced that corn loans are available to any Delaware 1945 producer until May 31, 1946 for merchantable ear corn. The loan rate in Delaware for merchantable field corn, Grades No. 3 or better, (or No. 4 on test weight alone), 15 1/2 percent moisture content is $1.15 per bushel. Anyone interested should contact his local County ACA office for full details of the program.

Delaware's 1945 fall pig crop is estimated at 20,000 head, 9 percent less than the 22,000 pigs saved during the fall of 1944, and 10 percent less than the 10-year (1934-43) average of 23,000 pigs. The number of sows farrowed in the fall of 1945 is estimated at 3,000, the same as last fall, but 25 percent less than the 10-year (1934-43) average of 4,000 fall litters. The total number of pigs saved in 1945 (both spring and fall) is estimated at 40,000 head, 25 percent less than the 52,000 head in 1944, and about 2 percent less than the 10-year average of 41,000 head. Reports from Delaware farmers on their present intentions indicate that the number of sows to farrow in the spring of 1946 (from Dec. 1, 1945 to June 1, 1946) will be about 3,000, the same as in the spring of 1945 and the 10-year average.

More than 500,000 calves were vaccinated, under official supervision, against brucellosis (Bang's Disease) during the fiscal year 1945, the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reports. This summer is an increase of about 28 percent over that of the previous year when approximately 392,000 calves were vaccinated. Under certain conditions, reactors to the test for brucellosis may be held in herds where the calves are vaccinated and where other safeguards are maintained. This procedure occurred in the case of 86,738 reactors out of a total of 342,860. Thus approximately two-thirds of the reactors were slaughtered. The average degree of infection found in tested herds during the year was 4.7 percent.

The tillers have been "putting it in the till" again during 1945. Estimated U. S. farm cash receipts from marketings in 11 months last year were 18.8 billion dollars, and adding the probable December intake to that would make a 1945 cash total income of about 20.5 billion, by BAE estimate. Compare this high mark with former estimated market receipts for our producers—1939, 7.9 billions; 1940, 8.4 billions; 1941, 17.2 billions; 1942, 15.4 billions; 1943, 18.5 billions; and 1944, 19.9 billions. This makes 75 billion dollars for the four year years of farm marketings. The parity index also moved up in December to a 25-year high.

Frozen homogenized milk, used by the Army during the war to supply milk to men on hospital ships, now offers promise for sea-going travelers as well as for milk-short areas such as the Panama Canal zone, Bermuda and other outlying islands, dairy specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture believe. The milk served on hospital ships is pasteurized, homogenized, and kept frozen in paper containers until thawed for serving. It holds its fresh flavor well for as long as 3 and 4 months, and has been favorably received by military patients who drank it at the rate of thousands of quarts a week. To save space on ships, the Army experimented with frozen concentrated milk, but it did not prove successful because it does not hold its flavor nearly as long as the frozen whole milk.

More than 300,000 Christmas trees and 25,000 bales of evergreen boughs and sprays for trimming were inspected and certified as free of gypsy moth eggs by agents of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Department of Agriculture, during the last November and December in New England and New York State. More than a hundred carloads of Christmas trees were fumigated.

This big job is done by Federal agents each year to supply Christmas markets with the fine spruces, hemlocks and other evergreens of the Northeast without danger of carrying eggs of the destructive gypsy moth to other parts of the country. The caterpillar of this moth feeds on leaves of many wood-land and ornamental trees and often completely defoliates the trees. At present this insect is confined to an area in the Northeast, and the entomologists are doing their utmost to keep it from spreading. Inspection and certification of all plant material going out of this area is necessary because one small cluster of eggs on an evergreen bough may contain as many as 400 eggs. Christmas trees and greens from the Northeast are shipped not only to eastern markets but often as far west as St. Louis.

From mid-November until Christmas, inspection centers are busy. Many of them are at convenient centers on important highways where farmers and other truckers can drive in and have their trees inspected. Some fumigation plants are privately owned, but Federal inspectors oversee the fumigating process. Methyl bromide gas, used for fumigation, kills any eggs on the evergreens and has the added advantage of making the needles cling more tightly and hold their green color longer.

EXPANDED '46 DRAMATIC PROGRAM AT UNIVERSITY

Children's Theatre Will Be Part Of Activities

A vastly expanded program in 1946 is planned at the University of Delaware for the Delaware Dramatic Center and the E-52 Players. Activities began this week as plans for a children's theatre movement were discussed.

The university's drama department, headquarters of both the dramatic center and the Players, has blueprinted in its post-war program the following: Emphasis on development of a Children's Theatre movement throughout the state, with an initial conference at the university Jan. 26 of school and community theatre leaders, at which a national personage in such work will speak;

Production of at least one major drama each month in Mitchell Hall;

The staging of one new play during the next six months—and production of a new play in each succeeding university season;

The revival of one classic during each season, with tentative plans to stage Macbeth sometime in May;

The fourth annual state-wide drama festival finals, to be held at the university in March or April;

A general policy of closer cooperation with other civic, school, and university drama groups to the extent that talent will be shared and loaned from one organization to another.

This schedule of events was drawn up for the remainder of this school year by Dr. C. Robert Kase, director of the E-52 Players and head of the university's drama department.

E-52 GROUP TO PRESENT DRAMA AT ASSEMBLY

Stage Version Of 'I'm A Fool' To Be Given Monday, Jan. 21

The University of Delaware Committee on Assemblies and Entertainments will present the E-52 Players in a one-act play, "I'm A Fool," at the student assembly on Monday, January 21, at 4:15 p. m. in Mitchell Hall. The play is a dramatization of a short story by Sherwood Anderson, one of America's leading writers.

"I'm A Fool" portrays the tragicomic predicament of a boy who bragged too much at the wrong time. One of Anderson's best-loved stories, it was twice produced in a radio version by Orson Welles over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The production is being directed by Dr. C. N. Kase, director of dramatics. Layton Mabrey is assistant director and scene designer and Astrid Deltzsch is production manager.

The leading character, George, is being played by Basil Macknik, who has appeared in productions given by Wilmington High School, the Wilmington Drama League, and the Brandywine. He now is awaiting notification concerning the date of semi-final acting auditions being conducted in New York City by John Golden in an effort to find new talent. Macknik has successfully passed through two previous eliminations.

Also in the cast are Adele Flanzer, Dorothy Catts, Henry Taylor, Layton Mabrey, Margery Marston, Heana Wejver and William Whedbee.

The public is invited to attend this performance.

DR. JOHNSON RESUMES PRACTICE

Army Medicine Is Still On Terminal Leave

Lieut.-Col. Wallace M. Johnson, U. S. Medical Corps, on terminal leave, resumed his practice at 287 East Main Street here Monday. Colonel Johnson is a member of the staff of The Memorial, Delaware, Wilmington General, and St. Francis Hospitals in Wilmington.

Before entering the service in April, 1941, Colonel Johnson practiced medicine in Newark. He was sent to Fort Benning, Ga., for duty at the station hospital and in October of the same year was made director of dietetics. He was promoted to captain and to major in 1942 and about a year and a half ago received his present rank. He became executive officer of the Benning Hospital in November, 1943.

In June of the following year Colonel Johnson was ordered to 109th General Hospital at Fort Bragg, N. C., and shortly afterwards was assigned to duty in England. Last June he was returned to the United States and had gone to Fort Lewis, Wash., preparatory to going to the Pacific Theatre, but orders were changed because of the end of the war. He returned to Fort Bragg last October.

Colonel Johnson has a son, Wallace G. Johnson, who is serving as a seaman second class in the SeaBees, stationed at Fort Hueneme, Calif.

Marking the local observance of National Jaycee Week, the Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce will give a dinner tonight at 7 p. m. in the Glasgow Arms. Wives and friends are invited to attend. The reservation committee is in charge of Tom Foster.

MRS. G. WOHL IS SOLOIST AT VESPERS

Well-Known Pianist Is Resident Here

Mrs. Giete Wohl, of Delaware Ave., and the wife of Dr. Kurt Wohl of the University of Delaware faculty, was piano soloist at the university vesper services Sunday evening in Mitchell Hall.

Her two selections were Mozart's "Sonata in A Major" and Bach's "In Thee Is Joy." Listeners were surprised to learn that the accomplished artist, who has studied under leading piano virtuosos, has been a resident of Newark for over five months.

Born in Switzerland, Mrs. Wohl has studied under such outstanding teachers as Mayer Mahr, Edwin Fischer, Gottfried Galston, and Egon Petri. Petri will be solo artist at the next concert of the Newark Music Society.

While her husband, prior to his coming to Delaware, was an instructor at Princeton University and shortly before the couple came to this country from Oxford, Mrs. Wohl gave numerous concerts in Hartford, Conn., and at Princeton. She still continues to teach music students at that university, commuting each week.

Mrs. Wohl will also be guest performer at the February 18th meeting of the Newark New Century Club.

The Delaware University vesper services, sponsored by the Delaware Student Christian Association, and held every Sunday evening during the term, are open to the public.

Second World War Cost 4 Times That of '14-'18

The cost of the Second World War was more than four times that of the First World War, the Bank for International Settlements estimated in a report from Switzerland made public this week.

Second World War costs up to last summer borne by the various treasuries of the world were placed roughly at 680 billion dollars. Converting the "1937" dollar into a "1945 dollar" (taking into account the rise in prices) the cost of the First World War was placed at 180 billion dollars.

These figures, the report said, represent direct costs only, without taking into account the capitalized value of human life, the property losses, the loss of production, the cost of war relief and neutrals' losses.

Officials of the branch area plan to meet with Dr. Downs here sometime in the near future when captains for the local phase of the campaign will be appointed and a quota set for this area.
