ACS Committees To Be Selected By Mail Ballots

Community Elections
Being Conducted From
Nov. 21 Thru Dec. 1

The election of community Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees in Delaware will be conducted by mail ballot again this year, according to an announcement this week by W. H. Hopkins, chairman of the state ASC committee. Farmers should all have received their ballots by now, he said.

The period for voting in the community elections is from Nov. 21 through Dec. 1, 1958. County committees will be held Dec. 18, 1958, in Kent and Sussex Counties. Since New Castle County is a one-county community, the elected county committee will be the county committee.

The farmers in each community will elect a committee consisting of a chairman, vice-chairman, and regular member. In addition, first and second alternates will be elected in each community.

The community committee chairman also will be the community delegate to the county convention. A county ASC committee consisting of a chairman, vice-chairman, a regular member and two alternates will be elected at the county conventions.

The federal government's agricultural conservation program, the wool incentive, price support, soil bank acreage reserve and conservation reserve programs; marketing quotas and acreage allotment programs are administered by county and community ASC committees.

Any farm tenant, operator, or owner may vote in the community elections if he is now participating in, or is eligible to participate in, any of the programs administered by county ASC committees.

Mrs. H. G. Young, 254 Orchard Road, is again chairman of the county committee and repair for the Newark Central Welfare Committee, and is responsible for dressing and repairing the dolls for youngsters at Christmas.

The need for dolls which are distributed by the Central Welfare Committee in the Christmas baskets, is greater this year than ever.

The final collection date is Wednesday, Dec. 3, and Girl Scout troops planning to donate or dress dolls as Christmas projects, are urged to present them to Mrs. Young by next Wednesday.

Christmas Crafts
Classes To Begin
Tuesday, Dec. 2nd

The first class of the Christmas crafts course sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association, will be held next Tuesday, and classes will continue through Dec. 22, meeting at 8 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Newark Recreation Association offices.

Gem stone jewelry work will be featured, using small, highly polished stream and field stones, and class members will mount these in a variety of settings and patterns to produce necklaces, pendants, earrings, and other jewelry items.

Also featured will be a new type of bouncing Christmas tree ornament. Starting from a plastic powder, the class will mold and then decorate the ornaments to individual tastes with spangles, glitter and stars.

Copper enameling, basketry, and ceramics will be offered if interest warrants. Silk screening for Christmas cards, and a natural material wreath construction will complete course offerings.

Charles Goudy will be the instructor, and registrations may be made at the Newark Recreation Association office, 315 Delaware Circle or by mail to PO Box 281.

A nominal fee for the seven sessions must be paid at the time of registration, and materials will be provided at cost.

City To Pay Water Main Costs For Elliott Heights Residents

Council Agrees Upon City Responsibility For Promise
Of Free Water Line With Annexation; Rankin Submits
Resignation As Veteran Member Of Pension Committee

Following protest by 17 owners of 23 lots in Elliott Heights against city assessment for the cost of water main construction promised as a free installation with annexation of the area some seven years ago, Newark's City Council agreed last Tuesday night that such costs will be borne by the city in keeping with the promise made prior to passage of the water main construction ordinance of June 21, 1958.

Former Councilman Carl S. Rankin presented a report from the city pension committee, urging council action on the pension program with emphasis on three phases—administration, cost trend, and equal treatment for all employees—and submitted his resignation as a veteran member of the committee after yeoman service.

"We are a fair and just people," a spokesman said, protesting city assessment at $2 per front foot for installation of the water main out Paper Mill Road in the Elliott Heights area, "but we were promised this water line, cost-free, when the area was annexed by the city."

Two Out of Three
The speaker went on to say that Elliott Heights was one of three territories for which the city had agreed to provide free water mains—that the other two had received promised provision—and that while there was "good reason for the delay with construction of the new Paper Mill Road pending, we should not be penalized for this delay."

Builder Hugh Gallagher pointed out that municipal water lines had been provided for his development in 1952 at city expense, and Mr. Rankin, a member of council at the time, reviewed negotiations for Elliott Heights annexation.

Councilman George Neighbors terminated the discussion with "I move that the city assume this obligation," and the motion was passed with unanimity. Costs amount to $6,700.

Pension Plan Concerning administration of the municipal pension program, Rankin urged council to set up suitable procedures for all pension affairs, pointing out that on pension matters was maintained.

Advising council to consider cost trends, he raised the question of how much the city will have to pay in the future. He estimated a balance of $25,000 in the pension fund after payment of 1964 premiums.

In making equitable treatment for all municipal employees, the pension committee report recommended that no employee be required to leave normal retirement date, and that those retained by special request of council be paid both pension and salary while working, with the pension to be paid at the rate of one-half per cent of compensation multiplied by the number of years service prior to Jan. 1, 1954, and subsequently, at three-quarters per cent compensation multiplied by years of service.

Resignation
In announcing his resignation as a member of the pension committee since its inception, Mr. Rankin said that he had done a lot of work for the city without compensation, and that he could no longer devote such time to the pension program.

Mayor Frank Durnall expressed appreciation for Rankin's efforts and said: "I hope council will not accept his resignation. I feel that Rankin should be paid for what he does." He referred to Rankin's replacement of Charles D. Long as a paid secretary for the pension committee, since Mr. Long has requested to be relieved of this assignment.

Proposed ordinances to rezone for business the Bernard Saunders and David Hall properties on Corbit Street and at Elkton Road, received first readings, with the proposal to rezone the Gallo property from RS to Business for a parking lot, passing over the objections of Councilmen Coverdale and Steele by a vote of 32. Both objected to the removal of a residential buffer zone with commercial zoning of the lot.

"Aiken Alley"
Concerning closing or paving of the long-discussed "Aiken Alley" from Haines Street west to the city property on Academy Street, former Delaware Lieutenant Governor Edward W. Cochran—attorney for the Pappas family requesting that the driveway be closed to through traffic—said "the driveway is not, nor never was a city street" and that the city had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Council was happy to drop the problem and permit the Pappas to use the driveway as their deed permits—as they wish.

Councilman Steele urged the necessity "to move promptly to provide sanitary sewers for the Fairfield development, because of cold weather," citing the delay since Aug. 26. City Manager J. J. Salvoara explained that bids were to be received Dec. 4, and that delays had been occasioned by engineering difficulties.

NORTH STAR GARDENERS HEAR DERRICK ADDRESS

Joseph Derrick, superintendent of Mrs. Lamont duPont's estate, and technical advisor to the North Star Country Gardeners, gave a lecture on house plants at the North Star Gardeners' November meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rufford Harrison.

Mr. Derrick staged flowers for Mrs. duPont at Swarthmore College recently and took five prizes. A 20x15-ft. exhibit of a formal garden of chrysanthemums and other plants took a gold-seal special award.

Curtis C. Wallace, Jr., president of the club, called upon Melville Kershaw, acting chairman of the nominating committee in the absence of Clarence Moore, to present the slate.

The club voted the following members to the executive board—Mrs. Pasquale Albertelli, J. Rufford Harrison, and Mrs. Robert J. Martin.

Mr. Wallace reminded members that roses to be planted on the fence entering North Star had arrived. This activity is in conjunction with the North Star Women's Association to beautify the community.

Mrs. William Chernish, vice president of the club, is in charge of the project.

F. L. Mathewson, club member and president of the National Association of Gardeners, stated that a trip to the National Arboretum in Washington, D.C., is being planned to view the azalea gardens in the spring.

Mrs. Robert J. Martin and Mrs. Curtis C. Wallace, Jr., are representative members to the Delaware Federation of Garden Clubs.

GULL'S PARADISE LOST

The Early American magazine tells of the sad plight of the seagulls of St. Augustine, Florida, which, according to report, "are starving to death in the midst of plenty, because they have forgotten how to fish."

The gulls used to live on the waste from the local shrimp fleet. They didn't have to catch fish—or teach their young the techniques of fishing. Then the shrimp fleet moved away to Key West and paradise was lost. The Early American says: "A few of the birds had the intuition to follow the fleet. A few more were enterprising enough, or had enough instinct left, to take to the sea once more. But many of them can be seen sitting sadly where they were left, starving to death because no one will bring them shrimp, while out in the Gulf there is a sea of food for the taking."

These gulls were victims of the gull equivalent of a welfare state. Their needs were met in return for little or no effort on their part—and the result was a steady attrition of the qualities and abilities that go to make self-reliance and independence. And what the welfare state does to lower orders of life, it does to the human animal as well.

Letters To The Editor

The $880,000 Newark Special School District bond referendum, scheduled for Dec. 13, is the subject of controversy all over this area. In the heated arguments I have heard, there seems to be a singular lack of knowledge of the basic facts of the case.

In a decision as important as this, affecting as it does the future of our children's educational opportunities, every parent needs to fully inform himself or herself on the matter before voting on the issue. The opportunity to do so is ours in the open meeting to discuss the bond issue scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 11, at the high school auditorium, at 8 p.m.

I am going to that meeting to find out from people who know—towns-men and women in whom I have confidence—the answers to my questions. Then I shall make up my own mind whether to vote "yes" or "no" on the bond referendum on Dec. 13. A Newark Mother

21 Nov. 58

Dear Mr. Ware:
Thank you very much, your help in the past four years. Four years ago I joined the United States Air Force and was stationed far from home. During this time you brought my home town to me in the form of a paper. It was because of your paper I was able to keep up on the home town news. Thank you again.

Now I would like to ask you to discontinue the paper until I come home.

I am on my way.
Sincerely yours,
John A. Mann, Jr.

Thirteen Seniors To Conclude Newark Football Careers Today

Co-Captains Wayne Crissman At Center, Luke Lackman Quarterback, Lead Senior Yellowjackets In Last Game With Traditional Thanksgiving Day Test With Conrad

Thirteen seniors conclude the Yellowjacket chapter of their football history this morning, as Coach Don Miller's undefeated Newark High School champions of the Blue Hen Conference meet the Conrad Redskins at 10:30 on the Newark field to wind up the 1958 season with the traditional Thanksgiving Day contest between the two schools.

Reserve seniors, and a powerful factor in the Yellowjackets' all-victorious season for the first Blue Hen Conference championship, include Guards Dan Stonecipher, Dick Wyatt and Nick Livingston; Tackles Wes Barrows and Bill Batt, and Fullback Dick Cleaver.

Injured Star
Pete Moroz, senior halfback and veteran from last year, was injured in pre-season practice, and has been unable to play during the regular season.

Champions of the newly-organized Blue Hen Conference with a 4-0 record, the Newark Yellowjackets are undefeated in eight outings this season—Don Miller's fourth as head coach—and the former Little America champions for the Little America of Delaware has lost but two games during his four-year tenure as Yellowjacket pilot.

One of these games was a 13-12 setback to Coach Billy Cole's high-riding Colonials of William Penn in 1955, and the other—following an undefeated season in 1956—was a loss in 1957 to out-of-state powerhouse Hackettstown, in New Jersey.

The Champions
Opening with Sharon Hill, Pa., at home, the Yellowjackets won their first game of the 1958 season on Sept. 20, and rolled unbeaten and untied over Elkton, P. S. duPont, Mt. Pleasant, Howard, William Penn, Dover, and Wilmington High.

The tentative starting line-up for today has Jezyk and Mackey at ends; Machulski and Wilson, tackles; Wallace and Jackson, guards, and Crissman at center.

Conrad's starters in the line include Dabson and Stafford, ends; Bianco and Frederick, tackles; Covey and Binder, guards; and Walker at center.

Seabiscuit's Victory Over War Admiral Cited As "Greatest" In Pimlico Special

"Probably the greatest individual performance by a jockey in this century," is the comment of a prominent racing official in connection with George Woolf's victory in the 1938 Pimlico Special astride Seabiscuit as he defeated the favored War Admiral in one of the top match races in turf history.

The Pimlico Special will be run again this Saturday for the 22nd time, but the Seabiscuit-War Admiral fracas still stands out as the top spectacle in Maryland racing history.

That was in 1938 and Woolf, piloting Seabiscuit for Charles S. Howard, ran the race exactly the way he wanted it run, much to the chagrin of Charles Kurtsinger who was on Glen Riddle Farm's War Admiral.

Seabiscuit the come-from-behind performer. War Admiral drew the rail for a walk-up start, suited for a horse of the Admiral's vaunted early foot.

Yet when the start came, Woolf had Seabiscuit away from the post, winging. He was two lengths in front after an eighth of a mile as a jam-packed Maryland Jockey Club gathering looked on in wonder. At the clubhouse turn, Seabiscuit had the rail and War Admiral was trying to catch up.

Entering the far lane Kurtsinger drove frantically until War Admiral was on even terms. But Woolf on Seabiscuit had something in reserve. He kept pace with War Admiral all through the back stretch and into the final bend. Then slowly but surely, the Howard representative began to ease ahead.

War Admiral tried, but the farther they went, the farther Seabiscuit was in front—and at the wire the margin was four lengths.

So much had preceded the race that the public stormed Pimlico to see it. The track even ran out of admission tickets and took cash at the gate.

Riddle had demanded the walk-up start. At his request, the New York starter had replaced Maryland's regular starter. And yet it was Seabiscuit, the underdog, who triumphed. Seabiscuit, the horse Howard had purchased from Wheatley Stable for $8,000 because he had been unsuccessful, even in the claiming ranks.

His rival had won the Triple Crown, been handled meticulously and obviously had raced to his breeding "in the purple."

Those at Pimlico who want to refresh their memories of the great 1938 Pimlico Special, need only step in the members club and visit the Jockey's Hall of Fame room. In this national shrine is a portrait of George Woolf, one of the 12 jockeys voted into this exclusive group to date.

One look at "The Iceman" in color and you may understand why Seabiscuit beat War Admiral.

Trio In Backfield Heads Statistics For Hen Gridders
Jack Turner, Jim Breyer, Tony Suravitch Top List Of Delaware Performers

A talented trio of Delaware backfield performers, headed by Halfback Jack Turner of Philadelphia who set a new season rushing record for the Blue Hens, dominate final team statistics.

Turner, a former Germantown Academy star, was the team leader in both rushing and total offense with a record-breaking 874 yards rushing up in 174 carries for a season average of 5.1 yards per try. The pile-driving halfback's career record now stands at 1138 yards for 211 carries in two seasons.

Quarterback Jim Breyer of York, Pa., was the top Hen passer, winding up the season with a phenomenal 61.9 per cent of his attempted aeriels completed to Delaware receivers. Breyer's 483 yards gained passing ranked him second to Turner in total offense, and he also led the team in punting with a 32.9 yard average.

High-scorer for the year as a result of his outstanding performance in the finale with Bucknell, Fullback Tony Suravitch of Chester, Pa., was also the leading pass receiver with 12 catches for 129 yards and two touchdowns.

Emerging from an up-and-down season with a 5-3 record, the Hens show an even greater edge over their opponents in the statistical round-up.

Offensively, the Hens outdid their opponents in both rushing and passing, ending the year with a total offense of 2,535 yards compared to 1,684 yards for the enemy and a scoring edge of 188-102.

City Council

Councilman George Wilson pointed out that no progress had been reported on the Gray's Lane sewer approved last July, and the city manager said that the drawings from the engineers had just been received Monday. Drainage conditions with the exposed pipe and ditch from Prospect Avenue to the railroad on North College Avenue, are to be investigated at Wilson's suggestion.

In answer to Coverdale's query, Salovara reported that electricity for Fairfield had been provided from Nottingham Road, and that negotiations were continuing with the Delaware Power and Light Company for sale of the power lines on New London Road.

"Take 'em Down"

Coverdale protested the display of directional and other signs in violation of the local ordinance, and the Mayor agreed. "Take 'em down," he directed.

A request from residents of Academy Street for one hour parking restrictions from the auto sales building to the university power plant driveway, was granted with the modification for a two-hour limit.

Council approved the bill presented by Mack and Company for $2,415 in auditing the municipal accounts; authorized the expenditure of $7,000 from the general fund for roofing the central stores warehouse on the former Phillips property; and approved the expenditure of $1,500 as an emergency measure to clean the drainage ditch from the University Garden Apartments to West Park Place.

The city manager announced the appointments of Frederick C. Herold and Russell D. Snyder as police trainees, effective Dec. 16, from 17 applicants; and reported that agreements had been reached between Lawson Starcher and all but two property owners concerned with the acquisition of land for the extension of West Cleveland Avenue.

No Sale

Salovara's recommendations concerning the municipal position of fire marshal were approved, but when he requested authority to auction off the police motorcycle because of hazards involved in its operation, Councilman Neighbors objected.

"Sell it," Neighbors said "and we may have someone killed using it in the neighborhood." It was agreed to trade the machine on a three-wheel vehicle for which provisions are to be made in the new budget.

Salovara reported that Acting Captain LeRoy S. Hill had been advanced to full captaincy in the Newark Police Department; requested and received authority to re-reminds us of wants satisfied, of hopes fulfilled, of friendships sustained, of liberties preserved. Let us be grateful for these blessings—and let us be glad that we can be grateful. For it is only in the spirit of sincere thankfulness for what we have received that we can truly aspire to brighter goals, larger achievements, and—by the grace of God—finer service to our fellow men in a freedom-loving America.
