CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR INSTALLS OFFICERS

Candlelight Service Is Held Last Sunday

A candlelight service featured the installation of officers and chairmen of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Newark Presbyterian Church at their regular weekly meeting held last Sunday evening in the church auditorium.

Miss Elizabeth Fouraker, of Wilmington, president of the State Christian Endeavor Union, was in charge of the service, which was arranged by Miss Miriam Lewis, chairman of the prayer meeting committee.

In charging each of the new officers with the responsibility of the tasks before them, Miss Fouraker emphasized the importance of such virtues as love, sincerity, loyalty, truth, faith, strength, cheerfulness and vision to inspire them to give their best to promote the society's welfare.

The new officers installed were: Peggy Nichols, president; Melissa Baker, vice-president; Jane Ann Lovett, secretary and Joseph McVey, treasurer.

The chairmen of the various committees are: Miriam Lewis, prayer meeting; Ann Chalmers, lookout; Charles Eastman, social and Helen Eastman, music.

Lynette Steinouer read the scripture and Dorothy Draper made the prayer. The ushers were Jerry Oram and Donald Knauss.

$450,000 NEWARK'S BOND QUOTA

21 Per Cent Subscribed First Week

Wayne C. Brewer, general sales manager of the Newark Fourth War Loan Drive has stated that the quota set for Newark and vicinity is $450,000 which is quite a high figure but with each team captain and their workers putting forth the proper effort, Mr. Brewer feels that the goal can be reached.

The first turn-in for the present drive was held at the Elliott Building on Tuesday night of this week and sales and pledges reported were $96,000.

While this figure is far from the total needed to put Newark "Over-The-Top," it is felt that with more than two hundred canvassers working Newark will fill its quota and do as good as any town of similar size.

Mr. Brewer stated that the amount of sales and pledges to date represented 21 per cent of the quota whereas in some of our larger cities and towns the sales and pledges only amounted to 17 per cent.

WAR BOND PREMIERE TO BE HELD FEBRUARY 10

Bonds Only Admission To Musical Comedy In Technicolor

Newarkers received an added incentive to support the Fourth War Loan drive this week with the announcement that the State Theatre will present a War Loan Premiere in cooperation with a nation-wide movement for theatre participation in the war effort.

The purchase of bonds will be the only admission to the presentation of "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," a technicolor musical featuring Betty Grable, Robert Young, Adolph Menjou and Virginia Grey at the State Theatre on Thursday evening, February 10. No tickets will be sold to this performance but war bonds will be available at the boxoffice on the night of the show.

Advance purchases of bonds may be made at the theatre, the Newark Trust Company or Farmers Trust Company. The purchase of each bond will entitle the purchaser to a seat for the Bond Premiere provided he specifies that the State Theatre is to receive credit for the sale.

Seats have been scaled for the performance with $100.00 bond purchases getting the choice seats; $50.00 Bond purchases, the next best and $25.00 Bond purchases the remainder. With 650 seats available all bond purchasers are assured of good seat locations.

There will be only one show on the War Bond Premiere date. The sole performance will begin promptly at eight o'clock. There will be no second show and no matinee. Residents who have not already purchased their limit of War Bonds in the Fourth War Loan campaign are urged to buy an additional bond through one of the above-mentioned agencies and reserve their seats to see "Sweet Rosie O'Grady."

FIBRE WAR MATERIAL ON DISPLAY

Pearl Harbor Souvenir At Continental

Among the many plastic parts which Continental-Diamond Fibre Company make for War equipment is a plastic directive nozzle used on Carbon-Dioxide Fire Extinguishers. Thousands of these directive nozzles are shipped out of Newark every week. They are used on all planes, jeeps, trucks, ships and stationary Army, Navy, Marine and Coast Guard installations.

On display at the Continental-Diamond plant is one of these plastic nozzles which was buried in the mud at Pearl Harbor for over six months and which is none the worse for this experience. It is part of the War Bond Drive Exhibit in which C-D participated at Delaware Power & Light Company in Wilmington.

The display is being shown at the plant to help War Bond Sales — and to show the importance of C-D products in the War effort to encourage C-D workers to help recruit new workers for C-D, many more of whom are needed to help make vitally needed plastic and fibre parts.

Local Women Attend Frontier Nursing Service

Mrs. J. P. Cann, Mrs. Pilling Wright, Mrs. Ernest Wright, and Miss Edna Sampson were among those invited to the tea given by the Philadelphia Committee of the Frontier Nursing Service at the Cosmopolitan Club in Philadelphia on Thursday, January 20.

The Philadelphia Committee of the Frontier Nursing Service conducts a demonstration covering ten thousand people in a seven hundred square mile area in the Kentucky mountains. It maintains a corps of trained public health nurses under a medical director and carries out a program for preventing and controlling diseases.

Mrs. Mary Breckinridge, Lexington, Kentucky, was a special guest and reported on the frontier nursing in the war and she stressed the need for carrying on the work for the benefit of the mountain people in Kentucky and value of the practical training which the young physicians and nurses acquire for similar work in other mountain areas.

Mrs. Harry Clark Boden, 29 West Park Place, is a member of the Philadelphia Committee and of the National Board of Trustees of this organization.

ASTP UNITS FACE CUTS

College Courses May be Abolished

The House military committee may recommend abolition of a large part of the Army's specialized training program soon in a move designed to save an estimated 150,000 pre-war fathers from military induction.

Committee members made this disclosure privately on Monday as they neared completion of closed hearings on the extent and value of the program.

A survey of the committee indicated overwhelming sentiment against continuing the student-training at present rates and a feeling that the entire undertaking, with the possible exception of dental and medical training, should be stopped.

To put weight into its recommendations, expected to be made within the next few weeks, the committee is considering asking the House appropriations committee to cut off any further funds for the program.

It would, however, have a direct bearing on an estimated 140,000 young soldiers now in colleges and universities studying dentistry, surgery, medicine, languages and a wide range of other subjects.

LESS MEAT NEXT MONTH

Higher Point Values Seen

Housewives can expect a smaller supply of meat in February and ration point values will be higher, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said this week.

There will be more butter, the OPA chief said, but the supply has not improved sufficiently to warrant a reduction of the current value of 16 points a pound.

"You will remember," Bowles said in a radio address, "that I have been cautioning you every month since September to expect higher point values for meat in February and March. Because of somewhat smaller supplies and the constantly growing demands of the Army and Navy, these higher point values on meat probably will have to be continued — with occasional ups and downs — throughout the spring."

There will be changes "both up and down" in the processed foods point chart for next month, the administrator stated.

NEWPORT REPORTS ON RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Forty Workers Give 41,555 Hours To Make 1,665 Garments

Newport, Jan. 27 — Mrs. Leslie Mahan, chairman of Welfare of the Newport area, reporting on the activities of the group assisting with Red Cross work reports that during the year 1943 there were 40 workers enrolled, comprising women from Newport, Newport Heights, Lyndalia, Woodcrest, Stonehurst, Silview and Tuxedo Park. This group completed 41,555 hours of work, and made 1,665 garments, many of which were made by hand, due to the lack of sewing machines. They included pajamas, nightgowns, skirts, blouses for women and girls, as well as 350 baby garments of socks, nightgowns, bibs, booties, etc. Considerable knitting was done by women who were unable to go to headquarters to work, including 117 men's sweaters, 25 pairs of knitted socks, five knitted scarfs, 6 knitted children's suits of hat, mittens, sweaters and pants; 10 knitted beanies for sailors, 13 pairs of men's gloves and 13 pairs of knitted mittens, five soldier helmets. The group also made 82,750 surgical dressings. One of the most faithful workers is Mrs. Ella Woodward in her 82nd year, who has previously been awarded a certificate of recognition for her work, by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Mahan reports she has been informed there is an urgent demand for surgical dressings, and urges women of the community to come to headquarters and assist with this work. The Community Building at Marshall and Market Streets is the Red Cross Headquarters here, and the women meet on Wednesdays from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 10 p. m. Women from Newport and surrounding community are invited to come to this center. Anyone having a sewing machine they could lend to the headquarters for this work, would be very much appreciated as it would speed up the work.

Assisting Mrs. Mahan this year will be Mrs. Ernest Spicer, Mrs. A. C. Hall, Mrs. Irene Killinger and Mrs. Alice Fleming.

ARE YOU PAYING YOUR WAY?

Today we are beginning to realize at long last that our army has reached a definite point of superiority over anything which the Axis armies have to offer. Superior armies mean quicker victories, but—superior armies cost money. Our war costs for the fiscal year of 1942 were $71,000,000 a day. Today they are $265,000,000 and still going up. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, the country spent $577 on each individual and of this $532 went for war expenses. We are the Nation. We furnish the funds to meet the costs of war, and we do it through taxes or through loaning, not giving, a substantial portion of our personal cash. In facing the Fourth War Loan Drive and those which must follow each one of us must be faced with this very personal question. If my country is spending more than $500 on me to win this war, have I furnished my full share of the funds which I now have to meet this expense? Think it over. Are you pulling your own weight or is someone else paying your way?

PNEUMONIA — A MEDICAL EMERGENCY

Pneumonia is a serious, infectious disease of the lungs which last year claimed the lives of 180 persons in Delaware and killed 811 persons here during the past 5 years, reports the State Board of Health in warning the public that skilled medical and nursing care are essential for all pneumonia patients and that complete rest and proper nourishment are absolutely necessary.

When conditions are just right for pneumonia to develop, the germs settle down at some one point in the lungs and from there spread into the surrounding tissue. The ability of the germs to establish themselves depends a great deal on the strength of the defense forces of the body invaded.

A person who comes down with pneumonia is usually just getting over, or is still ill with a cold or influenza. The onset is likely to be sudden. The patient may have a shivering chill or just feel chilly. His temperature rises, he usually has a cough, rapid panting breathing; and sharp pain in the side, chest, or shoulder—made worse by breathing. He may raise small amounts of sticky, rust-colored sputum. In the great majority of cases, these signs and symptoms mean that the patient has pneumonia.

Physicians now have the powerful "sulfa" drugs as weapons against pneumonia. These drugs should be given only under the direction of a physician, since the "sulfas" are dangerous to some people. The doctor makes examinations of both the blood and the urine of the patient and if the drug does not agree with the person, he is able to check it at once.

Nursing Care

If the pneumonia patient remains at home, the physician's instructions as to nursing care should be followed exactly.

The State Board of Health nurse may be called by either the doctor or the family, and she will demonstrate the best methods of bedside care of the ill person to some members of the family.

It is important that a pneumonia patient remain absolutely in bed and be relieved of all physical exertion, such as feeding and moving himself. So far as possible, he should be spared anxiety. Restlessness adds to the danger.

Pneumonia is a communicable disease. When the patient is treated at home, no one should enter the sickroom except those who are responsible for his care. This will insure quiet and help greatly in preventing the spread of the infection. The nose and throat discharges of the patient should be caught in pieces of cloth or soft paper and burned. The patients' eating utensils and linen should be taken care of separately and should be thoroughly scalded and washed with soap and hot water after use.

Prevention

In mid-winter many people have reduced bodily resistance and are more subject to colds. Apparently a cold or other acute infection of the upper respiratory tract makes the lungs more apt to be attacked by pneumonia.

Remember, warns the State Board of Health, that the body's defenses against disease are weakened by chilling following exposure to wet and cold, or sudden chilling when over-heated; from fatigue and too little rest; and from childhood diseases such as whooping cough and measles.

Staying at home IN BED at the beginning of a cold may cure it quickly and prevent the onset of the more serious influenza or pneumonia.

POLLS OF PUBLIC OPINION

Recent polls of public opinion show that Governor Dewey of New York is leading all other Republicans as the favorite for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1944. For instance Dewey gets 53 per cent and Wilkie 27 per cent in New York State, Dewey gets 27 per cent and Wilkie 19 per cent in Illinois. Dewey insists that he is not a candidate but of course he could be drafted for the nomination.

On every corner lot Wilkie is described as a politician "opposed by the politicians, especially by the Republican leaders in and out of Congress." In that connection the ability of politicians to switch to the leading candidate was shown in the 1940 Republican National Convention in which Wilkie trailed the procession in early voting until the politicians all jumped aboard his band wagon and nominated him with many loud whoops. The big political bosses change their minds quicker than the proverbial jack rabbit.

All of this adds up to the inevitable conclusion that the chances are about 50-50 as to whether it will be Dewey or Wilkie. But as Mr. Roosevelt has observed, "it is too early to talk about the 1944 Presidential election." That's different!

By the Rev. Wendell P. Loveless,
Director of WMBS and WDLN, Chicago

The Old Testament is God's picture book to help us see some of His glorious truths. In Deuteronomy 33:24,25 we have a picture of a normal Christian—what God expects us to be as representatives of Him in this world: "And of Asher he said, Let Asher be blessed with children; let him be acceptable to his brethren, and let him dip his foot in oil. Thy shoes shall be iron and brass; and as thy days, so shall thy strength be."

First, a normal Christian is fruitful—"blessed with children." Christ Himself said, "I have chosen you . . . that ye should go and bring forth fruit" (John 15:16). As the rest of John 15 shows, only as we abide in Christ can we be fruitful. It is not our working for Christ, but His working through us that produces fruit.

The normal Christian has a good testimony—"acceptable to his brethren." It is a fine thing to be able to stand up in a meeting and "give a reason for the hope that is within" us. But it is even more important to live our testimony. If we claim to be genuine, let us live genuine lives.

A normal Christian is one led by the Holy Spirit—"dip his foot in oil." Paul admonishes, "Be not drunk with wine, wherein in excess; but be filled with the Spirit" (Eph. 5:18). It is not a question of our feeling some great emotional stir, nor experiencing some tremendous mental and spiritual upheaval, but it is a matter of bringing ourselves to Him, for His power, His direction, His complete control of every department of our being. As we confess every known sin, thus receiving forgiveness and cleansing (1 John 1:9), and as we recognize that He is the One who can guide and empower us in service and then yield ourselves to Him, He fills us to overflowing, that in the overflow others may be saved and blessed.

Shoes are provided for the walk of the normal Christian. They are durable—"shoes . . . iron." God doesn't give us smooth roads to travel, for we are told that "in the world ye shall have tribulation." But God does give us the kind of shoes that enable us to "run the race with endurance" (Heb. 12:1). The shoes are also beautiful—"shoes . . . brass." It is God's purpose that the Christian's walk should encourage and strengthen and lead others to praise God.

The reason these things may be true of us is because "as thy days, so shall thy strength be." And that strength is a Person—"the Lord is . . . my strength" (Ps. 18:2); and the Lord is always the same—"as thy days."

What a God is our God!

Carol Singers Make Tour Of Town

The choir of St. Thomas' P. E. Church according to their annual Christmas custom made a tour of the town on Christmas Eve singing carols and making calls on the "Shut-In's". Stiltz's bus was secured and the choir was enabled to make 21 calls between 12:20 and 2:30 a. m.

On their return to the parish house they enjoyed a luncheon prepared and served by some of the ladies.

Previous to their departure a communion service with choral singing was held in the church and was very well attended.

Watch Night Services

A "Watch Night" service will be held at the Methodist Church tonight to usher in the New Year. From 10:30 to 11:15 a social hour will be enjoyed in the lecture room and refreshments of coffee and cake will be served. At 11:15 the worshipers will adjourn to the upper room where a prayer and praise service will continue until the midnight hour.

Red Cross Secures 1590 Members

The night before Christmas all committeemen turned in to the chairman for the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call a complete list of the names for the district and an assurance that a thorough canvass had been made.

Miss Alice Kerr who served tirelessly as secretary to the chairman, Mayor Eben B. Frazer, had the accounts of those who completed the canvass of their districts before Saturday night in excellent shape and was able to make a complete report on Tuesday evening.

1590 members, nearly 200 per cent of the previous enrollment, is the astonishing total for the district. In addition to this, 10 subscribers to the Red Cross Magazine were secured, making a total of $1,600 to be turned over to this organization.

Newark Youths Skate on Thin Ice

The freezing weather of the last few days delighted the hearts of the young vacationists who are fond of skating. Settling's pond had a thin coating of ice which lured a few venturesome spirits on Monday. After futile attempts and much breaking through, they abandoned the sport.

Craftsmen Have New Year Treat

The craftsmen at Kells were the happy recipients of tickets to the moving picture show on Monday—an especially delightful New Year's gift from the management of the Newark Opera House.

Airship Looted by Thieves

An airship wrecked near Hockessin on Christmas Eve when the aviator lost his way in the fog, was looted by thieves while awaiting removal by the government mechanics from Howard Mitchell's farm near Hockessin. The identity of the thieves is not known, but the government to whom the vandalism was reported is understood to have promising clues.

M. E. Church to Raise $1,200

The Methodist Church is making a drive this month for $1,200; a part of this, $700 is for payment of an old debt and $500 is for general improvements. The money is being raised through subscriptions obtained by solicitors who are making a canvass of the members.

The quantity of Christmas mail passing through the local post office was far in excess of that handled in previous years. The regular force, however, coped with the situation, cheerfully and efficiently, no additional help having been necessary except in the distribution of parcels by the city carriers. The office was open on Sunday from 10 to 12 and from 5 to 6 to receive and distribute parcels. These worthy servants of Uncle Sam and aids to Santa Claus were commended by Postmaster Bowen and deserve much praise for their excellent work in the necessarily trying holiday time.

Happy scene on Friday evening last of a jolly gathering when the children and older folks assembled to celebrate Christmas. A large tree adorned one end of the room. The entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. Charles W. Colmery with Miss Charles E. Welser at the piano. Carol recitations and piano duets were the main features. The rector, Rev. Walter G. Hays, opened and closed the affair with words of prayer.

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

When the attractive face of Ginger Rogers flashes on the local screen to make an appeal to back the attack, it suddenly strikes you that the number of reminders that "this is no time for complacency" has been increasing ominously.

And it seems that we need it. In a nearby war plant, a skilled employee refused to buy war bonds, said he guessed it was a good investment but he didn't believe in sending his money to further a war. He was laid off on the premise that a fellow who doesn't want to "back the attack" doesn't deserve to be in a plant where the materials for attack are produced.

Another Delawarean announced, "They're not going to see my money. Nope, I'm not buying bonds to give the Democrats campaign money for next election."

But even meeting the bond quota doesn't mean that we back that money with the moral determination to win the war and the peace.

In a wealthy suburban town near New York, town residents went way over the top in War Bonds, averaging about $1100 per man, woman, child. Yet one of the most influential women spoke—not more than a year ago—on the need for loving the Japanese. And another—when it was suggested that the town newspaper should talk up against war-time pacifism remonstrated: "But we must realize that the Japs are human beings."

And the man to whom she spoke reminded her, "I think the philosophy of the beautiful people is a very admirable one. But you cannot stick a bayonet into a man whom you're being urged to love. You realize of course that the Jap soldiers are killing our men. Doesn't that furnish reason enough for hating them now?"

"But we're killing them too", she said, apparently not at all convinced. The whole discussion started when this man, a well-informed individual who teaches in a university in New York, suggested to me, "I wonder if the hatred of the fascist way, or the hatred of war itself is going to be lasting enough to ensure that we don't have another blood-spilling 15 years from now."

And he pointed to the example of the last war where hatred of the war—remarkably strong when we were in the fight—soon subsided into criticism of England for getting us into it, hatred against big munition makers as those who directly caused the war, discontent with the economic system because it did not afford jobs at once to returning veterans.

But there has been a longer period of education against Fascism. Won't our students particularly remember how Fascists caused this war? someone protested.

The professor countered: Three years ago, when both German and Italian Fascism were in full flower, students came to me and stated, "I would embrace any system if it means that there's a job for me when I get out of school." Does that show that their convictions are basically strong enough to continue to fight the idea of Fascism after the war ceases?"

And while we are on the subject, he added, "I think the English and the Russians will hate enough to try to squelch a future war caused by fascist ambitions. But the war is closer to them."

"I spoke to a correspondent just returned from England who told me, 'I was cold every minute of the time I was over there. As for eating no-one does that for pleasure anymore. Nor is anyone particularly well fed. When you can get scrambled eggs, you get a miscellaneous-looking mass concocted of powdered eggs and usually imported from the United States. The English don't talk much about the war but it's easy to see that they're fighting it with all their strength.'"

"It seems a strange thing to say," my friend continued, "but the zeal with which we fight and remember seems tied up closely with the amount of destruction of physical property that a nation has suffered, not the size of its casualty lists."

"In our own Civil War, why is it that the South remembers the conflict so much more bitterly than the North. Both sides suffered large numbers of casualties. The answer seems to lie in the fact that Southern properties were ravaged."

"That is why I think the British and the Russians will remember this war more than we. The fighting is being done on their soil, not ours." I hope that the professor's fear that we shall not have a long memory will be discounted by our efforts. It probably depends on whether the "home front" we have erected will prove to be a strong fighting front—not a front behind which those who won't zealously back the attack have a chance to hide.

ERROR AIDS ADVERTISING

Wrong Number Reacts Two-Fold

Proof of the advertising power of the Newark Post was well evidenced last week when the wrong telephone number appeared in an advertisement of the Newark Newstand.

Neighbors Pharmacy 'phone number, 2900, was inadvertently published in the add instead of 2990, the correct number of the Newark Newstand who were announcing that they are now exclusive distributors for the Wilmington and afternoon paper home delivery service.

As a result employees of Neighbors Pharmacy didn't get much work done for two days because they were busy answering telephone calls intended for the Newark Newstand. The Newark Post sincerely regrets the error and ensuing inconvenience suffered but is glad that at least two customers are now thoroughly convinced that it pays to advertise — in the Newark Post.

SPOTTERS ON DUTY

Newark's two airplane observation posts were on duty again today as part of their effort to retain the personnel of their organization.

At the Chestnut Hill post J. H. Rumer was day captain and Andrew Evans and Danny Hamilton being on duty for the first shift from one to three o'clock and Clifford Moore and Eugene Trivits taking the second shift from three to five o'clock.

At the Possum Park Post, Dr. Carl J. Rees was in charge and Mrs. E. B. Lamborn and Mrs. M. A. Staats were on duty for the first shift with Phil Harrison and Donny Rumer taking over the second shift.

SHOTS

J. H. (Sureshot) Rumer

Sergt. Charles R. Hollister, Jr., is a visitor in Newark this week and Sureshot had the pleasure of talking with both him and his wife Wednesday. Sgt. Hollister, who like his brother George is very modest, was very reluctant to talk about himself but he could not get over the complacency of the American public about the war.

Sgt. Hollister said that he was mighty glad to be back in the states after being away in the South Pacific battle area for so long but he said that the folks at home can't begin to know what their sons, brothers, fathers and loved ones in the service are going through while we at home are still living as usual and not sacrificing one thing.

When I asked Sgt. Hollister what medals he had, he politely told me that he was not in the service to accumulate a lot of that kind of junk. I was led to believe that what few decorations he did wear was because his wife, who is very proud of him, sewed them on his uniform and told him not to take them off.

Young Hollister was very proud to tell me that his wife was an exception as, unlike a lot of other girls, she waited for him to come home for three years and then they were married.

A funny thing happened the other afternoon. Sureshot was up Main Street and a young woman driving along nearly hit a soldier who was not even trying to get out of her way. She leaned out the side of the car and shouted: "Soldier, that's the way Angels are made!"

The Newark High School basketball team held the Conrad team for three periods on Tuesday night and when the final period came up they folded up and let those fellows walk off with a 24-19 victory. Now, those fellows from Conrad school are fine, clean players and they have a dandy coach in Dick Roberts but there is no sense in letting them win just because they are nice people. Anyway it was a nice game and both teams scrapped hard.

The University of Delaware team showed that they could really play basketball when they walked over the West Chester Teachers College last Saturday night. All those Blue Hens needed was to get started and they really went to town. Sure, they have a good coach in that Ed Prince fellow. Now let's talk about bowling — Miss Gladys Woodward who bowls for the Bio-Chemical team and again in the Thursday night league can tell the girls how it is done. She is the holder of five News-Journal awards for bowling a certain number of games over a certain score. Yes, she is good.

Alma Tolomeo is second high with the Thursday night league and Mrs. Virginia Mahanna was in third place. Pauline Bridgewater took fourth place honors and Ann Chalmers was fifth place winner.

Miss Ruth Safran, bowling with the Alley Cats was first from the bottom of the league with an average score of 66 pins. How About That? Yes, Miss Safran writes a column in this paper entitled "How About That". Sureshot is wondering if she was referring to her bowling average.

We noticed that William K. Gillespie was high scorer on the mens' section of the Bio-Chemical bowling team but even if he was high, he did not do so good. Really, we thought that Bill should bowl at least an average of 200. But, that was only the first half averages. Possibly he will be among the top-notchers by the end of the second half.

There is a Bond drive on and we are told that Newark's quota is set at $450,000 and at the first turn-in night there was only $96,000 reported. My-my, that is just too bad but there is a bright side to the Newark drive. Wayne Brewer is at the head of it and when Wayne gets steamed up, just look out. We are sure that he will give the workers a pep talk and they will put on steam and go out in the hills and valleys of White Clay Creek Hundred and dig up more and more Bond purchases.

One team captain was very discouraged when she went to one door and the good lady said "My husband works in Wilmington at one of those big-shot companies and he wants to play big shot in there so he has to buy his bonds where he works." Well, that makes him a nice citizen of Newark. Hope this don't hurt too many people's feelings. But Newark needs the business.

Something else, there is a drive on for the collection of scrap paper and we are told that there will be several trucks in Newark on Sunday to collect this paper that the government needs so badly. (They may need it for fourth term ballots). Everyone is asked to bundle their paper and set it out on the porch or some convenient place and when the collectors come after it it will be handy. Oh, yes, we were asked not to say who was going to collect this paper on Sunday as some folks might object to them working on Sunday. It is a shame what people in Newark object to.

Bob Carpenter Seeks New Phillies' Nickname

Bob Carpenter, Jr., new president of the Philadelphia Phillies, has announced that he was seeking an additional nickname for the team—one which will reflect the club's "new spirit."

Carpenter said he had no intention of dropping the name "Phillies" but wanted something to use on uniforms and letterheads like "Braves" of Boston or "Cubs" of Chicago. He said three season passes will be given for the best three suggestions and that, in addition, a $100 war bond will be sent to the final winner.

The contest opened January 25 and closes Feb. 27. All suggestions should be contained in letters of not more than 100 words which must be mailed to the Phillies, 1906 Packard Building, Philadelphia.

Deaths From Motor Accidents Increase

A total of ten deaths from motor accidents, so far this year, compared with four during the same period last year, was reported by John R. Tader, manager, at the meeting of the board of directors of the Delaware Safety Council Tuesday in the Hotel duPont. Ernest H. Hawkins, president, presided.

Poor weather conditions were responsible for the increase in fatalities, said Mr. Tader, who noted that the council, aided by wartime restrictions in travel, had reduced traffic accidents of all kinds in Wilmington to a total of 761 during 1943, compared with 1,001 in 1942.

The Army Quartermaster Corps film, "Difficult Driving," was exhibited.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

Pathologists Discuss Plant Disease Problems

Farmers will be given assistance in preparing income tax for 1940F in each of the three counties this week by representatives of the federal tax office through arrangements with the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Meetings for Kent and Sussex counties will be held at 1:30 in the afternoon both Thursday and Friday. Meeting places have not yet been scheduled, but there will be two meetings in Sussex and one in Kent each day. Announcement of meeting places will be made through Station WDEL and the newspapers as soon as they are set. The New Castle County one meeting was held in Newark Monday, and a second is scheduled for 1:30 Friday afternoon at the Middletown High School.

ODT, OPA, and AAA held a joint meeting in Dover Monday to review procedure for distribution of rationed gas for farm users.

Plant pathologists of the Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, and Norfolk Truck Agricultural Experiment Stations will meet at the Experiment Station in Delaware on February 2, to discuss mutual plant disease problems on common crops growing under similar conditions and soils in the area and to organize cooperative tests on control measures, in order to make a more substantial contribution to agriculture in the individual states, area, and nation. There will be two sections, one on vegetables, cereals, and victory gardens, and one on fruits. Discussion leaders on the various subjects under each section have been appointed. There will be no formal papers, but general discussions.

Delaware's first 1944 allocation of 20 per cent superphosphates for farm distribution by the State Agricultural Adjustment Agency is double that for the same period last year, according to Ernest S. Mattiford, state AAA committeeman. The new allocation of 450 tons will be distributed on a basis of 50 tons for each of the three counties for each month from March to May, inclusive. Purchases are limited to two tons per farm. The price is $18 per ton at the railroad, and the cost may be deducted from the farmer's 1944 AAA payment up to the farm materials allowance. Farmers should apply at county AAA offices for these materials.

Prices at which Delaware's essential war crops will be supported by the WFA during the 1944 harvest will be announced as soon as congressional action has been taken, says Clarence E. Ocheltree, chairman of the Delaware AAA. Allowance rates at which Delaware farmers will be paid by AAA this year for extra expenses in increasing war food production through soil conservation practices will also be announced whenever approved by congressional action.

Frederico Marroa Ozanam of the State of Minas Gerais, Brazil, is spending a few weeks observing the poultry work of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station. Mr. Ozanam and Augusto Pariso de Gusmao, who has already spent some time at the Experiment Station, were sent to this country for a year's study of the poultry industry by the Inter-American Administration's cooperative educational program.

The Delaware AAA with cooperation of the Soil Conservation Service and Delaware Agricultural Extension Service held county staff conferences on meeting war food goals last week. Community committeemen, county committeemen, and representatives of the State committee attended these meetings.

Walter Camp once stated that Col. Frank B. Goettge, Marine Corps officer who has been listed as missing in action, "is one of the greatest football players this country has produced." Col. Goettge quarterbacked the Quantico Marine team to 28 victories against three losses and a tie during the seasons of 1921-22-23-24.

MAIN STREET

WAR has helped destroy a lot of America's old illusions. The idea that all South Sea beauties look like Dorothy Lamour. The idea that all Englishmen wear monocles and all Russians whiskers. The idea that all electric companies are the exclusive property of a handful of wealthy people.

The efficient way in which huge quantities of electricity are being delivered to roaring war plants and quiet homes—without rationing, at low pre-war prices—has given the folks on Main Street a clearer understanding of their personal interest in the electric light and power companies.

Actually, few if any other industries are so widely owned. Directly, by many thousands of individual stockholders—housewives, farmers, mechanics, factory workers, teachers. Indirectly, by the millions of savings bank depositors and insurance policyholders—which includes almost every adult American.

Utility securities are popular investments with the banks, insurance companies and fraternal orders which hold your savings in trust for you. Why? Because cheap, dependable electric service is so basic to your way of life. Because this service is provided and protected by experienced business management.

Wherever you live in America—on Main Street, Park Avenue, or RD No. 1—your money has helped to build the electric industry and you have a large stake in it.

EXTENSION SERVICE POST-WAR OBJECTIVES

Four Freedoms Goal Set By Agriculture After War

While agriculture's first responsibility now is winning the war, and all its resources are directed toward this effort, there is also a responsibility to meet in planning for agriculture in the post-war period, says Director G. L. Schuster of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service. A committee of Extension Service workers in Delaware is already working on this problem. "Desirable Post-War Objectives", number 1 in a series of circulars on "Planning for Delaware Agriculture", is now available to the public, and the committee will make further information available as soon as it can be developed.

The first circular sets forth the results which will be aimed for in developing other plans for agriculture after the war. First, of course, is satisfying for our whole economy the first of the four freedoms, Freedom From Want. This is the original job of agriculture, and it is planned for more hopefully and more efficiently than ever after the war.

But in accomplishing this main objective of agriculture, provision must also be made to put it on a scale which will provide an income comparable with other industries for the job done and living conditions must be improved so that they, too, are comparable with those of persons in other industries.

To get an idea on what is being planned to meet these and the many other problems which will face post-war agriculture, get a copy of this circular from your county agricultural agent or the Extension Service in Newark.

The committee working on these problems at the School of Agriculture is made up of H. A. Johnson, associate economist, chairman; T. A. Baker, professor of animal industry and dairy husbandman; E. P. Brasher, associate horticulturist and truck crop specialist; Mrs. Helen McKinley, assistant director; C. E. Phillips, associate agronomist and forage crop specialist; and G. M. Worrlow, associate director.

TAX AID DATES SET

Deputy Here Next Month

Dates on which a deputy collector from the Internal Revenue Bureau will be at the Newark Trust Company were announced this week.

The representative will be at both the Newark Trust and Farmers Trust Company several days during February and March. The schedule for both banks is: Newark Trust Co., February 1, 2, 3, 19, 21 and March 6 and 7; Farmers Trust Company, February 4, 5, 7, 23, 24 and March 8 and 9.

Taxpayers of Newark and vicinity should avail themselves of this opportunity to obtain assistance in the preparation of their 1943 Federal income tax returns — without charge.

Sweden To Ship Paper To U. S. When War Ends

Sweden is ready to resume normal exports of wood pulp and paper products to the United States as soon as restrictions on ocean shipping are lifted.

Goesta Hall, representative of Swedish Wood Industries, said Swedish pulp and paper mills have been modernized during the war period and large stocks await shipment to this country.

He estimated imports of Swedish paper and pulp into the United States would again approximate $50,000,000 annually.

Auto Drivers Licenses Delayed Until March 1

While the State Motor Vehicle Department has announced that no current operators licenses will be issued until March 1, many persons have sent in their licenses to the offices. All have been returned. It was explained that the department has had difficulty in acquiring material to make up the necessary forms and will be unable to issue the new licenses until March.

It was emphasized that both the original and duplicate license must each bear the operator's signature and officials point out that some of the cards received and returned failed to bear any name.

RATION TOKEN PLAN EFFECTIVE FEB. 27

Buying Power Will Be Kept Stable Under New Plan

The new ration token plan effective next February 27 will enable the housewife to buy about the same amount of rationed processed foods and meats — fats as she is now buying. The Office of Price Administration said today.

Ration buying power will be kept on an even keel by adjusting point values very slightly at the time that the token plan goes into effect. The result will be that the housewife's monthly allotment of about 60 points of ration stamps to each member of the family for buying meats and fats will buy the same amount that she gets with her present approximate 64 points a month. Likewise, the 50 points she will receive monthly for processed foods purchases will buy an amount about equal to the 48 points she has had to spend.

Through lowering slightly the value of meats-fats stamps and adjusting upward point values of processed food, ration buying power will be kept stable. Thus, there will be neither a loss in red stamp buying power nor a gain in blue stamp buying power.

Under the present Rationing program, a strip of ration stamps is worth 16 points on a weekly basis. When stamps are used in War Ration Book Four under the ration token plan, stamps will have a value of 10 points each regardless of the number printed upon them.

The present 16 points for meats and fats becoming valid at the beginning of each week roughly total 64 points a month. Under the token plan 30 points (three stamps) will become valid at the beginning of each two-week period, a total of approximately 60 points each month.

For processed foods, 48 points become valid each month. Under the token plan 50 points will become valid the first of each month.

ASSEMBLY AT SCHOOL

Directed By Prof. Kutz

The regular assembly program held in the Newark High School auditorium this week, was in the form of a song fest directed and conducted by Professor Frederick B. Kutz.

The program included service songs, old favorites, special war bond and stamp songs. The "sing" was opened by the singing of the Star-Spangled Banner and concluded with the Newark Alma Mater.

The orchestra with Dorothy Hollingsworth at the piano accompanied the singing. The stage and song slides were handled by Eugene Trivits, Francis Tweed and John Pock, all of the 7C section.

Dr. Glenn Gildersleeve, State Director of Music, was the guest of honor. He gave a short talk and directed one of the songs.

We Suggest That You . . . try NEIGHBORS for those little intimate items that are increasingly difficult and scarcer as days go by.

For instance — we have a large supply of Pepsodent Tooth Paste (bring your old tube) and other nationally known brands of dental pastes, powders, antiseptics, etc.

Also we suggest bandages, hospital cotton, adhesive tape, gauze and other first-aid and sick-room supplies.
