AQUATIC CLUB

The Aquatic Club, sponsored by W.A.A., is a group of highly skilled swimmers whose aim is to promote interest in swimming on campus. The goal of the organization is to achieve perfection in synchronized methods and routines of swimming through practice of stunts and strokes in order to present the annual water show. The club has received a great deal of help from Miss Maryann Waltz, our faculty advisor, and Mrs. Barbara Wallace Rothacher. The officers for 1950-51 were President, Nancy Nicoll; Vice-president, Alison Buckley; Corresponding Secretary, Eleanor Williams; Treasurer, Joan Wallace.

Upper Left—La Crosse is co-managed this year by Ann Catts and Julia Richardson. It is a new sport to the gals' on lower campus, but proves to be a challenge to the female athletes.

Upper Right—Archery is an addition to our schedule this year. Joanna Newton, who has won honors in archery in New York State, is the manager. A class tournament is scheduled and the top scorers will combine with men archers for a co-recreational tournament.

Lower Left—Softball, this year, is managed by Shirley Burns, and will give the "south campus slug-gers" a chance to raise their batting averages.

Lower Right—Badminton, squeezing in between the winter and spring activities, is managed by Nancy Newton. A double elimination tournament is being played off.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club was organized to give the students a chance to exchange ideas, receive instruction, exhibit their works, and obtain experience in the field of photography.

Among the many activities are illustrated lectures obtained from leading film manufacturers, speakers from the faculty or student body, or from outside the University, exhibitions of members' work, projects, print criticisms, models, competitions, camera hikes and outings, and the sponsoring of salons composed of photographs taken by world-famous photographers.

ART CLUB

The Art Club is composed of a mixed group of art majors, students, and faculty members interested in the field of fine arts. The club meets three or four times a semester in an informal atmosphere to discuss examples of art, listen to varied speakers, and watch movies pertaining to art. The function of the organization is to stimulate an awareness of art as a vital part of everyday life.

THE MATHEMATICS CLUB

Recording Secretary & Treasurer	Thomas Luff
Corresponding Secretary	Patrick Thaddeus
Social Chairman	Verna Lair
Faculty Advisor	Edith A. McDougale

On the campus of the University of Delaware, the Mathematics Club combines the social integration of students and faculty and the chance for the students to hear about and learn something that may be of necessity in their future work. The club is composed not only of students in the fields of science but also of those students who feel that mathematics is not to be left to the theorist, but should be exposed to the world so that with and by the applications of mathematics we may better understand the world about us. Membership in the Mathematics Club is open to all students, and faculty of the University, the main qualification being "intellectual curiosity".

In the spring of 1949, a group of students majoring in accounting felt there was a need for formal organization and initiated the Accounting Club. Since that time the club has participated in many campus activities. In addition to the conduction of regular business meetings and participation in intramural sports, the club has held several social gatherings at which some very prominent men from the business world spoke. From these men the members of the club have obtained some vital information about the various opportunities in the field of accounting.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

This is a relatively new organization, appearing on campus for the first time in the fall of 1949. Membership in the club is open to all students as are all the meetings. The club has a small nucleus of members. The purpose of the club is twofold. The first purpose is to provide the stimulus for the gathering together of students to discuss controversial matters on which philosophy, considered as a collected body of knowledge, might shed some light. The second purpose of the club is to provide outlet for new ideas. These meetings are for the purpose of obtaining information on some particular field through the combined efforts of the group who have studied the problem at hand and at the meeting, exchange their various findings. Further meetings are planned on the relationships between philosophy and the various fields of study offered here at the university.

THE ECONOMICS CLUB

The Economics Club of 1950-51 is more a regular gathering of people interested in the theory and application of Economics than a formal organization with set laws and parliamentary procedures. It is felt that by the adoption of this new activity the individual will be better able to assimilate the purpose of the club—the broadening of his outlook to the end that he will be more tolerant and better capable of understanding current events in the light of their impact on the social and economic structure. The meetings consist of weekly "get-togethers" in the basement of the library, during which time an informal discussion is held on any aspect of Economics or Business that happens to be advanced. No membership roster is kept and anyone may attend.

Mr. Bernard Clyman is the club's faculty advisor. Greg Gause and John Halloran are chairman and vice-chairman respectively. Dr. Fisher acts as discussion supervisor, correcting mis-conceptions of theory if they arise.

The Varsity Club this year has sprung to life in an endeavor to take its place among the various campus activities.

Aside from introducing high school athletes to the Delaware campus, proceeds from its activities—the Varsity Club Show, and the Spring Football Game—went to aid the Crippled Children's Home of Wilmington and further the Stadium Fund campaign here on the campus.

The Varsity Club is an organization of lettermen from among the eleven varsity teams on campus, aimed at the promotion of sports and sportsmanship among both varsity and intra-mural teams and the overall promotion of school spirit.

RALLY COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Rally Committee is to encourage school spirit among the student body. The Committee is publicizing all the sports on campus. Its main project this year was to introduce the flash cards at the basketball games. This plan will also be used during football season but on a larger scale.

The Rally Committee is an honorary organization. Students are eligible for membership through their interest and active participation in campus activities.

TABLE TENNIS CLUB

The purpose of the Table Tennis Club is to promote interest in table tennis both here at school and outside the University. At the club meetings, instruction is offered in the game and tournament playing as well as playing for plain recreation is done. Outside the University, the club team has fared quite well for itself and the school. The team has played in the finals of the National Intercollegiate Tournament and has a win of 9-0 against the national champions in its record book. This year the team started off impressively with a 13-4 win over Temple University.

The Chaperone has been Miss Marjorie Webb. Mr. Bernard Clyman, the faculty advisor, and Miss Beatrice Hartshorn, women's faculty representative, have been very helpful with their suggestions and criticisms.
