Local DP's To Study
Elementary English
In NHS Adult ClassClass For Persons Unable To Speak English To Start
November 30

A class in elementary English for displaced persons and others who have recently arrived in this country is being formed as a part of the Adult Education Program of the Newark Public Schools.

About 15 persons have enrolled thus far for the class, which will meet for the first time Wednesday, Nov. 30, at the Main Street Building.

The instructor will be Leon Moyer, elementary teacher at the Newark Public Schools. Most of the students are expected to be displaced persons who have come to this area recently from such places as Latvia, Switzerland, and the Ukraine.

Mr. Moyer is proficient in German, and most of the students thus far enrolled are also familiar with that language. The class will begin with simple English conversational phrases, move on to vocabulary building and elementary reading. It is expected to last about 10 weeks.

The class is being formed at the request of both the Wilmington Branch of the State Adult Education Program and the local displaced persons.

$1950 Turned Over
To Newark Schools

A sum of $1950, the balance of the budget appropriated for the Pleasant Valley School for this term, has been turned over to Newark schools, it was disclosed at the November meeting of the Board of Education on Friday night.

The 1-room Valley School was consolidated with the Newark District this past summer, and the money was the residue of funds that had been appropriated for the school this term.

The Newark board also approved the appointment of the local Building Commission intact for another term. The commission will oversee the current school building program, including the new grade school now under construction and the large-scale gymnasium expansion planned next summer. Those who retain their places on the 3-man commission are: Norris N. Wright, W. Franklin Wilson and Joseph M. McVey.

The board also granted the use of the school auditorium to the Newark Alumni Association for its Christmas dance on Dec. 23 and to the American Association of University Women for its state meeting on Feb. 27. This session will be open to the public.

Orchestra Concert
On Tuesday Night

The University Orchestra, comprising about 30 musicians from the University of Delaware's student body, the faculty and from outside instrumentalists of the Newark area, will present a concert at Mitchell Hall on the evening of Nov. 29.

The concert, at 8:15 p. m., will be open to the university community and the public without charge, according to J. Robert King, director.

The program will consist of Eighteenth Century music, described by Mr. King as "a very melodic period with simple, unaffected music."

The five works will include two early symphonies by Johann Christian Bach and Carl von Dittersdorf.

The next two works will be by J. S. Bach: Arioso from a Bach cantata, and For G String from Suite No. 3 in D Major. Following the intermission, the orchestra will play Franz Schubert's Symphony in B-flat Major.

Newark's Oldest Safety Program

One of the first things Newark school pupils learn isn't taught in classrooms. They learn to look both ways before crossing the street, and their instructor is Chief William Cunningham in his booth on the corner of Delaware Avenue and Academy Street.

Long before state-wide safety programs were thought of or Safety Councils were formed the Chief was making Newark kids safety-conscious. He's been at it for the past 19 years, except for a brief spell in the service during the war. The booth has been there for 12 years, and, before that, he stood in the street and ushered the kids across. Although its but one of the many chores he's responsible for as head of the local gardamers, he rightly considers it his most important.

As any 7-year-old in town will tell you, there's no man who flings himself more wholeheartedly into his work than the Chief. Spend five minutes with him at the booth when school lets out, and you'll see a man with problems on his hands—hundreds of them.

He's famous for his way with kids—and he's not easy on them either. Woe betide any youngster who fails to follow orders—look both ways and wait for the signal. But, if they do, they all know they'll win more than a gold star in safety—they'll earn one. Please turn to Page—6

Mayor Signs Disputed Light
Contract; But Still ObjectsLost Articles Uncalled
For At Police Station;
Post Plans Weekly List

If you've lost anything recently in Newark, a good place to look for it is at the Newark Police Station.

Lost articles are constantly being turned in there, according to Chief William Cunningham, and many of them are never picked up.

Right now, for instance, the police are holding a pair of women's glasses, a ladies' black pocketbook (no identification) and a man's pocket watch.

The owners can pick them up on the presentation of reasonable proof of ownership.

At the suggestion of the chief, the Post will hereafter carry a weekly list of lost articles turned in to the police.

Local Dentist Named
Head of State Group

Dr. Clyde Cox, Newark dentist, is the new president of the Delaware State Dental Society.

He was elected to succeed Dr. Richard B. Wier at a meeting last Thursday in the Academy of Medicine Building in Wilmington.

The society also took under advisement a possible visit by Dr. John Knudsen, director of the U. S. Public Health Service, to conduct experimental sodium fluoride preventive treatment in Wilmington.

Other officers elected are: Dr. Joseph Mach, first vice-president; Dr. John Maguire, second vice-president; Dr. Harry L. Kurfurst, treasurer; and Dr. Louis Kreshtool, secretary. Dr. James A. Paradisi was elected to the executive board for a one-year term.

Issues New Statement Covering
His Position; Still Claims
Contract Is Not Best Town
Should Have; Pact Ratified

Mayor Ford H. McBerty last Friday signed the controversial light contract between Newark and the Delaware Power and Light Company, but he let it be known he still felt the agreement was not the best the town was entitled to.

He said he signed because "I have now come to the conclusion that other members of the Council have closed their minds on the subject and further effort on my part would be futile at this time."

His statement, which reviewed his version of the events leading up to the contract dispute, the changes worked into the draft at his insistence, and his present stand on the issue, is carried below in full.

The contract was given final ratification at a special meeting of the Town Council on Monday night, when the Mayor's statement was read into the minutes on a motion by Councilman Robert Levis. Mr. Levis made the motion in response to a request by Mayor McBerty that this be done.

The Mayor's statement follows: "For the benefit of members of Council and public-spirited citizens I wish to explain definitely and clearly my reasons for signing this contract. First, may I say I am signing not because of an oral ultimatum by the chairman of the Electric Committee of the Council, which ultimatum expires Saturday noon, November 19, 1949. Nor am I signing because I feel this is the best contract to which the people of Newark are entitled from the Delaware Power & Light Company. I am signing because after having stood alone against the unanimous membership of the Town Council in favor of careful examination of the new contract and for full and complete hearings on the contract I now have come to the conclusion that other members of the Council have closed their minds on the subject and further effort on my part would be futile at this time."

"I wish to state that I have been motivated in my stand in this matter by the advice, assistance, and encouragement given me by civic-minded people and groups which have been following actively the trends of town affairs in recent months. "In recalling the events which have transpired since the subject of a new power contract first arose, it appears that from the first contract initially shown to me to the contract I am now signing the Town of Newark has not been offered the contract to which it is entitled. For the sake of the people of Newark, I regard the Electric Committee who submitted the contract did not see their way clear to suggest and hold open and public hearings or consult experts in the field of electric contracts for advice. Santa Claus' Arrival
Here Is Delayed; Not Expected 'Til Dec. 10Welcoming Parade Postponed A Week By Jaycees

Santa Claus sent word this week from his North Pole headquarters that he will have to postpone his arrival in Newark.

Originally scheduled to come here Dec. 3, he now says he won't be able to make it until Saturday, Dec. 10, but he promises faithfully to arrive that day on the 3:03 p. m. Baltimore and Ohio train.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring his visit here, is revising its plans to greet him on that date. Town dignitaries and civic officials are planning to stage a gala welcome for the jolly old fellow and will escort him down Main Street in a parade.

The bewhiskered gent will remain here for the remainder of the Christmas season, making his headquarters in various stores under a tentative schedule announced this week by Don Savitch of the Jaycees.

His first stop will be the Department Store, where he will remain the afternoon and evening of Dec. 10 to interview youngsters.

From then on the schedule will be: Dec. 12—National Five and Ten; Dec. 13—Jackson's Hardware; Dec. 14—Pine's Shoe Store; Dec. 15—Eagle Furniture; Dec. 16—National Five and Ten; Dec. 17—Department Store; Dec. 18—Newark Electric; Dec. 20—Trivits; Dec. 21—Theo. S. Jones; Dec. 22—Jackson's Hardware; Dec. 23—Eagle Furniture; Dec. 24—Main Street.

Santa Claus will be at these stores 6 to 9 p. m., Monday through Thursday, and Friday, and Saturday, 1 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The Jaycees are also planning to set up Santa Claus mail boxes in various stores throughout town.

SKINNER NOW EAGLE SCOUT

Charles Skinner, a member of Troop 56, was raised to the rank of eagle scout on Saturday at a court of honor and review on Saturday at the William Penn High School, New Castle.

Scouts of the Cooch's Bridge District Del-Mar-Va Council, took part in the ceremonies.

Carlson Resigns As U. of D. Head;
Accepts Vermont U. Presidency

Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the University of Delaware, today announced his resignation, effective next April, to become president of the University of Vermont.

He said that "opportunity for professional advancement" in his new position had overcome his reluctance to leave the Delaware post he has occupied since July 1, 1946. "I feel that we have started much that is worthwhile at the post-war University of Delaware, while carrying on the university's best traditions," Dr. Carlson said. "I regret that I will not be here, save in spirit, to aid in the completion of many of these programs."

Frank Guarrera

By winning a contract with the Metropolitan Opera Company and being singled out by Arturo Toscanini to sing at Milan's LaScala Opera, Frank Guarrera, 24-year-old Philadelphia-born baritone, has emerged as one of the most conspicuous young artists on today's concert stage.

Guarrera, whose career was launched so spectacularly less than two seasons ago, will be heard at Mitchell Hall, University of Delaware, in a public concert on the night of Dec. 1. The concert will be one of the University's Artists Series.

Guarrera was graduated from the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia on May 1, 1948. Fifteen days later he won a coveted first place in the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air.

When Guarrera made his first appearance on the air, the alert ear of Toscanini, listening in on the auditions, was attracted. The famous conductor immediately called Willfred Pelletier, Metropolitan Opera conductor in charge of the auditions. Very shortly, Guarrera found himself making several trips from Philadelphia to New York to rehearse under the Toscanini baton. The maestro invited him (Continued on Page 6)

Time Is Short To Win Or Lose Buick;
Dec. 3rd Is Final Day

For the past two weeks, the Saturday night—November 26th—has been looming importantly on the horizon and every tick of the clock has been bringing the end of the big "second period" of the Post's subscription contest just that much nearer, every hour of every day being crisscrossed full of opportunities for those who really want to be declared winner of first honors and of finally realizing what heretofore might have been merely a wonderful dream.

Next week is the last week of this thrilling race. It will see Fairer Time on his way in such rapid flight there will scarcely be time to catch one's breath before everything will be over, the winners named and the proud possessors begin taking enjoyment in the fruits of their efforts.

And what does victory mean in this great contest? It means the fulfillment of one's fondest dreams, the immediate gratification of a burning ambition, a record of unusual achievement, and a spic and span beautiful new Buick Super Four-Door Sedan worth $2309.80—for keeps.

Mindful of the fact that the remaining time will pass quickly because of the excitement attached to the close, the management of this newspaper wishes to put the question, whether or not hard work now will be worth more than all the regrets in the world after the race has been lost?

If so, then there is just one simple procedure for those who, with all their heart, want to win, and that is to make every one of the few remaining days a banner day; solicit the unstinted assistance and wholehearted support of all your friends, relatives and acquaintances and draw upon every resource for final success.

Prizes from Big Time contest are urged contestants right along to do their best, but now we wish to lay particular stress on the final necessity of looking the situation squarely in the face and putting forth supreme efforts now if you want to be declared grand prize winner.

Map out a thorough, systematic round-up during the few remaining days of this contest. Do not accept as unquestionable facts the praising words of admiring friends that you will "win in a walk" or the grand capital prize is already in your grasp. No one can be farther off in their reckoning than he or she who is self-satisfied at this stage of the game. Instead, tell your well-wishers to put their shoulder to the wheel that you are guiding and assist in pushing it along with a full-limit subscription.

And, as a final and fair warning, do not underestimate the strength of any competitor. Overconfidence has lost many battles and it would be far better to win the prize you most desire by a million votes (representing only (Please Turn to Page 2))

From Nov. 22 to Dec. 1 there is to be an exhibition of facsimile documents and editions of Poe's works on display in the university's Memorial Library. Friends of contestants, please listen to this:

It may be physically impossible for the earnest, hard-working contestants to get around to see everybody during the short remaining time of this contest. Each of them has a list of unredeemed promises. Many of these promises were made in good faith, but they won't help a bit unless you do something about them. Likewise, many have said that they intend taking advantage of this money-saving offer and help their favorite with an extension subscription, but good intentions never do any good unless acted upon.

pressive gains in finances, membership, and influence.

Probably no church leader in America has traveled more widely than Dr. Pugh. In 1943 and again in 1945 he made a trip around the world as chairman of the General Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains. On Oct. 18, 1946, Dr. Pugh received a Certificate of Appreciation from the United States

Navy for his outstanding service to Naval personnel and his "wise counsel, thought, and service," during his special visits to naval stations during the war. On July 8, 1947, Dr. Pugh received the Medal of Merit "for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services to the United Nations during the war." The medal was presented to Dr. Pugh by Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson in the latter's office in the Pentagon Building, in the presence of a company of distinguished visitors.

An organ recital will be given Sunday evening at 8 p. m. by John Thoms, Jr., organist of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Wilmington. Mr. Thoms has selected for his recital compositions which will utilize the full range of the organ.

The following Sunday, Dec. 4th, the evening service at 7:30 o'clock will be conducted by the younger people of the church as their part of the series of dedication services. Rev. John Oldman, Jr., pastor of Lower Brandywine Presbyterian Church, will address this meeting. Rev. Oldman is one of the younger ministers in this area and is particularly active in young people's religious work.

Removal of the old organ made several changes in the arrangement of the church necessary and general repairs and improvements were made at the same time. This work has been under the able direction of Mr. A. Frank Fader, assisted by Mr. Richard S. Snyder, Dr. T. A. Baker and Mrs. R. W. Helm acting as a committee of the Board of Trustees.

Fifth Grid Title

For the fifth consecutive season, Newark won the high school football championship of Delaware, when the local warriors rode roughshod over Laurel High School in the annual title game at Milford on Thanksgiving Day. The final score was 19-7.

With this game tucked away, Newark has created an enviable record in scholastic sports in this state, a record which should stand for some years to come. The remarkable string of championships started during Coach Harry MacDonald's term in the local school and continued unbroken under the guidance of Joseph S. Wilson, and this year, Horace A. Nunn.

Against Laurel, Newark played a hard, consistent game. Chief honors of the day might easily be shared between Davis and Jaquette. The former played his best game of the season. Patchell used his plays with rare judgment, and Rose and Jaquette were bulwark on the defense. Davis ran back punts in the second half with skill and courage. Chalmers, as usual, played a splendid game.

He came to Newark a few years ago and entered the Rehabilitation School of the university here. He specialized in animal husbandry during his school term. He was graduated last year.

William Lewis is recovering from an illness of several days past.

Personals

On the evening of November 15, Mr. John L. Davis, 352 South Chapel Street, was given a grand birthday surprise, it being his 68th birthday. Scores of guests attended a surprise party in his honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Steward C. Strickland and family, of Elkton, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Strickland, of Park Place, were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cleaves, Kells Avenue.

Facts About the Strike

You Want Full and Accurate Information Concerning the Strike

We will present the facts for your judgment, fully realizing the serious handicaps and hardships which are being imposed upon you. We again ask you to judge whether or not this strike is justified.

Background Facts

The Union has reduced its demands from 35c to 15c per hour. This, and the remaining demands, will cost about $183,600 per year.

For several weeks, the Delaware Coach Company and Union have been conferring on this situation. The Company pointed out to the Union that:

- The regular average wages earned by operators are now $75.52 per week or $327.25 per month.
- Living costs are slightly less than last year.
- Delaware Coach Company business has decreased.

The Company's Wage and Benefit Offer

The Company offered approximately $50,000 in wage increases and additional benefits. This offer was made with the hope of preventing the strike. The Company's offer was rejected by the Union. The Company then offered to arbitrate.

The Company's Arbitration Offer

The Company is willing to arbitrate the points in dispute on the basis of increases in the cost of living since October 1, 1948, and the ability of the Company to pay under existing fare rates.

The Union refuses to arbitrate on this basis, and by insisting upon unrestricted arbitration without regard to increases in the cost of living, or the Company's ability to pay, seeks a re-negotiation of the entire contract which does not expire until October 1, 1950.

Simple Arithmetic Proves the Impossibility of Meeting the Union's Demands

The increase demanded by the Union is approximately $183,600 a year. Our estimated operating income, allowing for payment of the Company's offer, is $34,889 for the year ending September 30, 1950. Simple arithmetic proves that the Company will not earn the money to pay the Union demands.

What the Company's Offer Would Accomplish

The Company's present working conditions and pay schedules are good. With the increases offered by the Company amounting to $50,000 a year, they will be improved.

We repeat $75.52 per week or $327.25 per month is good pay. If the Company's offer is accepted, the average pay will be $78.49 per week or $340.12 per month, which is still better pay.

Need Clean Range For Good Cooking

Clean Kitchen Stove Important To Meal Preparation

A clean kitchen range looks and also cooks better than one allowed to gather grease, spilled food, dust or rust, according to M. Katharine Jones, Home Demonstration Agent. A clean range also helps keep the kitchen clean and free of unnecessary smoke and odors. To help keep the stove free from odors, store left-over cooked foods in the refrigerator. Too many housewives use the oven for storage, she says.

Wipe up spills and splatters promptly with a dry cloth or paper, she advises. "Acid foods may eat into enamel surfaces if left on. Other foods, especially grease, may scorch on until they are difficult to remove except by strenuous scouring, which is hard on the surface. Grease come off most easily when fresh and hot.

Metal and porcelain surfaces need frequent washing with a cloth moistened in warm suds of mild soap or a detergent, but this should be done only after the stove cools. A wet cloth on a hot stove is a hazard to hands and may crack enamel. Many good housekeepers make an after-dishes habit of washing the stove. Go easy on water so that it does not drip or run down sides or into burners, leaving streaks or rust.

Charred particles on burners or heating units, or in the bottom of the oven may be brushed out after the stove cools. If gas burners become clogged, they may be cleaned with a metal hair pin or wire.

Ovens often are neglected in cleaning because they are closed and out of sight. Yet a dirty oven may smoke when heated so that food cooked in it takes on an unpleasant taste. Diluted ammonia helps remove scorched-on grease in oven. Apply with a cloth. Or set a dish holding an ammonia-soaked cloth in a closed oven overnight to let the fumes loosen the soil. Then scour lightly with very fine steel wool or fine scouring powder like whiting. Leaving the oven open to cook helps keep it clean and fresh and prevents rusting from closed-in steam.

State's Driver Aid Plan Is Lauded

The driver education program of the Delaware Safety Council is "one of the best in the United States," Warren Highman, publication editor of the Accident Prevention Company for the Association of Casualty & Surety Companies of America, said recently following a tour of various points in the council's program for highway safety.

Mr. Highman, whose offices are in New York City, was met by John Reeder, president, (and Francis J. Jamison, assistant manager of the Delaware Safety Council, who conducted him on a tour of Howard and Newark High Schools, where driver education is stressed in cooperation with state agencies.

Mr. Highman said his initial purpose in visiting this city was to obtain a "pictorial review" of how driver education is sponsored and encouraged by the Delaware Safety Council. He will report for national publications on the local methods on his return to New York.

YELLOWJACKET HIGHLIGHTS

A Column of News Contributed
By the Journalism Class At Newark High School

Members of the All-County Team

This year the Yellowjackets' football squad has developed three main standbys. These fellows are Phil Harrison, Yellowjackets' left end, Cliff Gray, and Bernard Blaney. Harrison was named end on the All-County second team and Gray and Blaney received honorable mentions.

Phil Harrison is a senior at Newark this year and this is his third year on the squad. Phil also plays varsity basketball, track, and baseball. He has scored 24 points for NHS in football.

Cliff Gray is also a senior this year. Cliff plays right guard and has also been on the football team for three years. Last year and the year before he played center.

Bernard Blaney is a sophomore and this is his first complete year in Newark. Late last November Blaney transferred here from Wilmington High School. Immediately he came into the limelight as a high scoring ace on the JV basketball squad. Blaney plays left halfback for NHS and he leads the football squad in scoring by crossing the foe's goal line five times for a total of thirty points this season.

November 15, the Buzz staff bottled some cranberries, put them in the hall and announced that all students could guess how many there were in the bottle.

Carl Butterworth guessed nearest to the right amount, which was 333. He guessed 335 and won two reserved tickets to the Senior Play, "Mother Is a Freshman."

Delaware Ends Most Successful Year Since Unbeaten '46 String

Fifteen Seniors Turn In Gear For Last Time; Murray's Birds Surprise Pre-Season Dopesters By Winning 8 Out of 9 Games

Fifty-five University of Delaware gridders turned in their gear Monday morning after the most successful football season since the undefeated team of 1946 turned in ten straight victories. Bill Murray's surprising Blue Hens won eight of their nine games, which was considerably better than pre-season dopesters figured them to do. The Birds topped P. M. C., Richmond, Rollins (Lafayette), Muhlenberg, Bradley, Washington and Lee, and West Chester, and lost only to Bucknell, 13-7.

Fifteen men checked in equipment for the last time Monday, and all of them will be remembered as among the top contributors to the athletic renaissance in Newark when they graduate this June. All of them, too, had a hand in the exciting victory over a previously undefeated West Chester eleven on Saturday in the top home thriller of the season.

After handing the Teachers two first period touchdowns by virtue of a five-yard punt and a fumble, the Hens roared back to score once in the second quarter and three times more in the last period to triumph, 27-14. Co-captains Mariano Stalloni and Jack Miller, heading the list of departing seniors, had a field day against the Rams, and Bob Burk, Sam Macrum, Leo Mullin, Bull Murray, Larry O'Toole, Hank Paris, Phil Genthner, Jack Gallagher, Kenny Wood, Tom Silk, Stan Bilski, Ted Youngling, and Ray McCarthy all, appropriately enough had a hand in the proceedings in their last game for Delaware.

Marty Pierson's University of Delaware freshmen eleven, like the Delaware varsity in their reversal of the pre-season predictions, turned in an undefeated card this fall by topping the Muhlenberg freshmen on Friday, 20-0. It was the fifth consecutive win for the Chicks, and for Pierson, the ninth win in the last ten games in his two last years as frosh coach. Pierson's eleven of last fall lost only to the Navy Plebes, 7-6, and this fall his defensive players allowed only two scores, both of them by Lehigh in a 14-12 victory.

Dramatics Class Speaker

The Dramatics Class at Newark High School, while making a study of radio, was quite fortunate to have as a speaker Mr. William Brown of Station WDEL. Mr. Brown, who is an announcer at the Wilmington radio station, spoke to the Dramatics students of the various fields in radio on November 16.

Mr. Brown, educational program director at WDEL, came to NHS after having heard the American Education Week transcription, which Newark students recorded for a 15 minute broadcast. He has invited the Newark school to continue with plans for more programs which, if satisfactory, will be aired on WDEL's "Learning to Live" series.

The next program being considered by the Dramatics Class is a recording of the church scene in the Christmas performance "Why the Chimes Rang," to be presented at Newark on December 23.

Conrad

The Newark Girls Hockey team opposed the Conrad Girls team on Thursday, November 10, 1949. The first varsity score was made by a Newark half back, Nancy Stanley, in the first half. Conrad then turned the tables and made three goals. At the end of the game the score was 2 to 1 in favor of Conrad.

The Newark Junior Varsity won 1-0. Mary Fulton, a center forward, made the goal for Newark. This was the first game Conrad J. V.'s have lost.

Pre-Game Interest Mounts Over Conrad-Newark Clash Today

Teams About Evenly Matched For Annual Fray; Game To Be Broadcast

With the pre-game excitement mounting, the traditional Thanksgiving Day meeting between the Yellowjackets and the Conrad Redskins today on the latter's field promises some of the best grid fare of the current high school season. The kick-off will be at 11 a. m.

The game will be broadcast over WAMS, starting at 10:55 a. m.

The past records of the teams are not much of a help to dopesters who want to go out on a limb. In this annual encounter, the figures can easily lie.

Conrad, with five wins against three losses, has had a better season than the Jackets, who have lost four and won three. But the comparative statistics are confusing. Conrad defeated Salesianum, 6-0. The latter knocked off Newark in an upset here. On the other hand, the Redskins bowed to A. I. duPont, 13-0. The latter proved easy victims to the Jackets, who brushed them off, 33-7.

The Jackets will be at top physical strength and mentally at their peak. A big student pep rally last night gave the boys a last-minute tonic, and they have their orders to win.

Newark will also be spurred on by the need for avenging last year's defeat by Conrad on Frazer Field. A victory will balance their record for the current season at four and four.

A bonfire was lit on the athletic field last night and the team and students gathered round for a high spirited time under the direction of the cheer leaders.

At today's game the band is planning special mid-contest exercises. Newark will line up as follows: Left tackle, Hinkle, 69; left guard, Bramble, 67; center, Gregg, 60; right guard, Gray, 64; right tackle, Smith, 68; left end, Harrison, 70; quarterback, Records, 55; right end, Reybold, 61; left half back, Blaney, 62; fullback, Schaefer, 63; right halfback, Correll, 57.

Also likely to see action are: Barrow, guard, 68; Bueche, center, 65; Carswell, tackle, 41; Cochran, halfback, 12; Crothers, tackle, 58; Draper, tackle, 12; Delp, tackle, 9; Foster halfback, 54; George, quarterback, 15; Gregson, guard, 37; Hawthorne, center, 10; Kauffman, guard, 8; Kline, guard, 5; Knox, quarterback, 53; Lawson, guard, 16; Leahy, tackle, 71; Lehman, halfback, 56; Martin, halfback, 59; McElwee, halfback, 2; Murphy, center, 35; M. Murphy, center, 14; Palmer, halfback, 13; Sharpe, tackle, 52; Sobdewski, center, 38; Wollaston, center, 50; Sparks, guard, 38; and Thorpe, center, 4.

Blue Cross Payments In State Top National Average

The Delaware Blue Cross Plan paid out 93 per cent of its income to hospitals for bills of its members in the first six months of this year—almost six per cent more than the nation's average for Blue Cross plans, it was announced today by Group Hospital Service.

A new record in percentage of income paid out to hospitals was reached during that period by the nation's non-profit Blue Cross plans, it was disclosed.

This national figure of 87.64 per cent was below that of the Delaware organization, with its 93 per cent pay-out.

Hen Cagers Facing 15-Game Schedule

Only 3 Lettermen Back From Last Year's Team

With only three lettermen back from the squad that won seven of their twenty games last fall, Coach Fred Emerson faces a rugged winter in his first year as director of the University of Delaware basketball program. Emerson, currently occupied with his duties as end coach on the Hen football team, has nevertheless been holding twice-weekly practices in the evening, and hopes to build a strong eleven around Captain Jim McFadden, Frank Albera, and Ace Hoffstein.

The University Athletic Council today released a fifteen game schedule for the Hens, with Muhlenberg and Lehigh the only newcomers. The Hens will open with the Mules on Dec. 14 away.

The schedule:
Dec. 14—Muhlenberg, away.
Dec. 16—Washington College, away.
Jan. 6—Lawrence Tech, away.
Jan. 7—Swarthmore, home.
Jan. 11—Haverford, away.
Jan. 14—Urbain, away.

Six University Band Members Honored At Grid Season Close

Presented Gold Emblems By Band Director

Six University of Delaware students who have completed three years in the university's band organization received special gold emblems at the conclusion of the football season, which also marked the end of the marching band's current program.

J. Robert King, band director, said that the bandmen honored are: Robert A. Carothers, Roy F. Nichols, Leon Tabb, Stuart W. Pratt, Clyde F. Grier, and William S. Hamilton. Mr. Carothers received a pin, and the others received keys.

The presentation will mark the second time such awards have been made. Last spring several seniors were given the first band awards. Next spring, juniors in the present band will receive similar awards if they have completed three years in the organization.

The award consists of a gold shield with a large treble clef down the center. Across it are the first four notes of the university's alma mater. On the reverse side are the winner's initials and the years and organizations which entitled him to the emblem.

Football Squad Sees Delaware Game

Newark's Yellowjackets football squad went to see the University of Delaware play West Chester State Teachers College, Saturday, November 19. Thirty-five squad members went to the game.

The boys thought they were going to see Coach Fred Sposato's alma mater, but Coach Sposato's alma mater, Delaware, came back to win 27-14.

Tatnall

The Newark Junior Varsity hockey team played the Tatnall hockey team Tuesday, November 15, on the college field. Newark won this game 2 to 1. Goals were made by Mary Alice Fulton and Jean Moore.

The second division was played by the "babies" of the team. This was their first time to play. The score was a tie, 2 to 2.

Mayor Signs Contract

I observed that these more reasonable methods of arriving at our agreement for a contract were being considered. I personally undertook to make the contract paragraph by paragraph and to compare it with my knowledge of contracts enforced in the communities and with contracts which I have been acquainted with for thirty years of professional experience.

I promptly sought an opportunity to express views to all members of Council, both by letter and at a regular meeting. The receipt of these views was entirely negative. It appeared that all the members of Council, in addition to the Electric Committee, made up their minds and the subject was a closed one for them. I still, however, felt by virtue of my office as Mayor, and by virtue of my position in the affairs of Newark, something further could be gained by presenting the committee's hasty decision.

At a further meeting of Council, at which an especially employed attorney was invited to attend for consultation, I again attempted to present my position with regard to the proposed contract. I was graciously given the opportunity of questioning the contract, and through his cooperation it was possible to point out certain ambiguities of the contract and certain matters which in all probability could and should be changed through careful negotiations with the power company. The special attorney present was most helpful and rendered valuable advice, but benefits that could have been received from such a meeting with him were impeded by members of Council who were still insistent on haste. My primary and sole motive then and now is maximum benefit to the people of Newark.

Following the meeting of Tuesday, November 15, 1949, further negotiations were entered into with Delaware Power & Light by the Electric Committee, and my suggestions listed below were incorporated into the contract before me:

(a) Re-wording of the metering clause to correspond more closely to the present contract, particularly concerning a ratchet in the meter.

(b) Re-wording of the clause concerning right-of-way for high tension supply lines to make it clear that the Town is not required to provide rights-of-way except on town property.

(c) Clarification of the clause concerning switching and other equipment to be furnished by the power company, making clear the extent of such equipment that the power company may require the town to provide.

(d) The striking-out of a phrase in "escape clause" concerning rates to be paid for electricity, thus breaking this clause.

(e) The clarification of the right of Newark to serve the entire area in the so-called Kadow Development, southwest of the town boundary.

Subsequently, I have made further studies and feel it is highly desirable that additional changes should and possibly could, in whole or part, be incorporated through further negotiation. These proposals were outlined in a letter mailed by me on November 16, 1949, to the chairman of the Electric Committee. After he had received that letter, I was, on November 17, 1949, definitely and positively advised by the Chairman of the Electric Committee there would be no other effort on their part directed towards any further improvement or clarification of the electric contract for the Town of Newark.

"I have been variously charged with duties to sign the contract on behalf of the Town of Newark, and with failing to perform my duty as President of Council in this respect, and since such charges have been made, I state am not guilty. Any failure or refusal to act in connection with the contract has been on the part of those members of Council who have steadfastly refused to participate with me in the study of the best possible contract that could be obtained.

"I execute the contract which has now been presented to me with changes believed by me as Mayor standing against Council, and feeling as I do on the basis of foregoing facts that this contract is the best that can be achieved through majority action of Council as now constituted."

Local AAUW Branch To Meet On Monday Nite In Warner Hall

November Business Meeting To Feature Number Of Reports

The November meeting of the local AAUW Branch will be held Monday evening in the Women's Faculty Club Rooms in Warner Hall at 8 o'clock. Mrs. C. M. Olson, president, will preside over an important business session, featuring a report by Mrs. N. B. Allen on the National AAUW Convention held in Seattle, Washington, last summer. Mrs. Allen will show an official movie of the convention to illustrate her report. There will also be reports on the recent Herald Tribune Forum, and a continuation of the report on the Legislative Program, by Mrs. Robert Mason. In order to administer the current program and to plan for the next, the National Legislative Committee has asked that each branch rate the items in the program as found in the fall AAUW Journal according to interest. Consequently, Mrs. Mason has asked each member to bring a rated list to the aforementioned meeting.

Another feature of the meeting will be an Art Exhibit arranged by Mrs. Cyrus L. Day.

Mrs. Handloff has announced that Mrs. W. H. Adams has arranged for Dr. Carl Rees to speak on China at the next meeting, to be held on January 23. Dr. Althea Hottel, National AAUW president, will be the guest speaker at the February 27 meeting.

Mrs. Allison Manns reports that a music group has been formed and their first regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, December 13, at 8 p. m., in the home of Mrs. Dan Lanning, 148 Dalloway Road. Mrs. Lanning is acting as temporary leader and anyone wishing to join the group may call her at 2-7691.

Student Increase Is Steady At NHS

Figures For Past 14 Years Show Rise Is Constant

Figures showing the steady enrollment increase in the Newark schools over the past 14 years were released this week by Supt. Wilmer E. Shue.

In that period the total increase was 231 pupils. The jump in white enrollment topped this, coming to 379 students, but the Negro attendance declined from 129 to 91.

The high school pupil population has remained fairly constant, with 651 enrolled for the 1935-36 term as against 687 today. The major jump has been in the white elementary school. Fourteen years ago there were 510 in the grades, compared with 743 today.

The most abrupt spurt in the school population came this past year. The 1947-48 figure was 1365 for the white pupils. This year it went to 1430.

Dr. Carlson Resigns

nearly $4,000,000.

Dr. Carlson's administration at Delaware has coincided almost exactly with the university's post-war surge in size and services. From a pre-war maximum of 930 students and fewer than 500 after V-J Day, the university rebounded to 1700 at Dr. Carlson's arrival, and each fall since then it has increased to new record highs. The 1949 enrollment was 2215 undergraduates, plus 475 graduate students, 1000 in extension courses, and 1700 who studied in the last summer school.

Meanwhile a policy of "accommodating quantity without loss of quality" in educational standards has been President Carlson's watchword. In his latest annual report, he wrote that "the problems of physical accommodations, of finances, and of suitable instruction" had been met in 1948-49 and that he foresaw "real progress" in the making.

Among the accomplishments of the three-and-one-half-year Carlson administration have been:

Increasing state support for the university's operations; faculty approval for a progressive "general education" program; granting of the first Doctor of Philosophy degrees ever earned at Delaware; intensified support for various avenues of research, and the appointment of Dr. A. P. Colburn to coordinate this program; introduction of the "house mother" plan in women's residence halls; substitution of a new and broader program for foreign studies instead of the discontinued Junior Year Abroad; strengthening of the teaching staff through several notable appointments, in addition to enlarging it to provide instruction for the larger body of students; enlargement of the graduate study program; appointment of an academic extension director and the subsequent broadening of courses for part-time students throughout the state; additions to the cultural offerings in drama, lectures, music and art; establishment of the Psychological Services Center as a full-time part of the university after its separation from the Veterans Administration; granting of the first charter to the faculty by the trustees and the subsequent rewriting of faculty by-laws and realignment of the faculty's organization; appointment of the first full-time director of agricultural extension and research; creation of a Department of Biological Sciences from the former biology and physiology departments; appointment of the first Director of Admissions to handle the greatly increased work of selecting the university's students; procuring of funds and taking of initial steps for a new agricultural building on the experimental farm near Newark; taking of the first steps to build an athletic stadium, also on the farm; addition and conversion of numerous small buildings to meet the unparalleled mushrooming of enrollment without the expense of a major building campaign; altering of the university's regulations to permit entry of the first Negroes in keeping with the U. S. Supreme Court ruling; and increasing many of the services offered to students.

Fire Destroys Block Factory Near Here

Fire completely destroyed a concrete block factory south of Cooch's Bridge on Saturday morning. Two trucks and the factory equipment also were lost in the blaze, cause of which has not been determined.

The Aetna volunteers found the flames out of control on their arrival. They did not estimate the loss. The factory was owned and operated by Arthur L. McCabe, 13 Cedar Avenue, Roselle.

Only one fire alarm here the past week came around midnight Friday when a chimney caught fire at Mulligan's store, Milford Cross Roads. The damage was slight.
