

S.G.A. Elects Student To Fill Office Vacancy

A Delaware student will be elected SGA treasurer to succeed Janet Smith at the meeting of the student government in Brown Hall tonight.

Following the announcement of the future vacancy, the governing body decided last week to fill the position at this week's meeting.

The newly-elected official will serve as an assistant-treasurer for the remainder of the first semester, working with Janet Smith on student finances. Following Janet's graduation in February, he will complete the unexpired term of office as treasurer.

Tasks facing the incumbent consist of handling and budgeting of SGA accounts, authorization of payments, working with the vouchers, reviewing budget allocations and serving as chairman of the finance committee.

According to the student government constitution, vacancies occurring in such offices as treasurer may be filled by members of the Student Government Association. Rather than undertake the delay and detail involved in a campus-wide election, the group decided to fill the vacancy in a meeting of the association itself.

The week's delay in the procedure enabled representatives to approach prospective candidates, thus eliminating the possibility of electing an unwilling student.

While no specific qualifications are required for election to the position of treasurer, the general election stipulation of a 2.0 cumulative scholastic index does apply. A student not holding a present SGA position is preferred.

Civil Service Offers Engineering Positions

New examinations have been announced by the United States Civil Service Commission for Engineer (various options) and for Aeronautical Engineer, Naval Architect, Marine Engineer and Welding Engineer. The positions to be filled pay from $3,410 to $10,800 a year in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity.

To qualify for these positions, applicants must show appropriate education or experience in the field of work for which application is made; no written test will be given. Full details concerning the requirements to be met are given in Civil Service Examination Announcements Nos. 383 and 386.

For further information, including instructions on where to send applications, consult the examination announcements. Information may be obtained from most post offices or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

General Maxwell's Forces Return To Cooch's Bridge

By BILL BROWN

Almost one-hundred and seventy five years ago the forces of General William Maxwell took their position at Cooch's Bridge to meet the onslaught of the British forces marching on Philadelphia. Since then the old bridge had become a monument of particular significance to Delaware historians, but it had never again felt the tramp of soldiers' feet upon its surface.

Then, on November 12, 1953, the bridge had a re-awakening, as it once again was visited by long-lost friends. The thirteen-starred flag of the colonies once more flew, and General Maxwell and his men did battle, as the renewed tramp of military boots shook loose the dust of memories from the ageless boards. Present too were General George Washington and his staff, along with Miss Betsy Ross, whose needle and cloth produced the flag of the new nation. What was the occasion for this re-incarnation?

Well, to be correct, these revolutionary soldiers were actually costumed members of the E-52 Players who were taking part in a program commemorating the issue of a stamp in honor of the late General

Role Of Engineer Is Address Topic Of Dr. Brennan

Dr. Paul J. Brennan, professor of Civil Engineering, will speak on "The Role of the Engineer in World Affairs Today" at Tau Beta Pi's annual banquet to be held on Tuesday, November 24. Initiation of new members will precede the dinner which is under the chairmanship of Salvatore Rubini.

The banquet, scheduled for 7:30, will be in the west wing dining room in Old College; all members of the faculty and practicing engineers in the association, which is an engineering honor society, are invited to attend.

Seven student pledges, two juniors and five seniors, are expected to be initiated that evening. They are: Edward Taylor and Alvin Major, juniors; and John Bauer, Jr., John Todd, Joseph Wallis, Frank Gibbs and James Glick, seniors. As one of their pledge duties, these future engineers erected the replica of the bent of a trestle in front of Evans Hall this week. This insignia, fashioned of canvas ribbon around pegs, is the official emblem of Tau Beta Pi and is constructed annually on this spot.

Veterans Propose New Organization

Veterans of the armed forces now attending Delaware met yesterday in the Brown Hall Lounge to hear the report of a committee appointed to frame a constitution for a proposed campus veterans' organization. Nominations for officers of the group were also accepted at the meeting.

The constitution, as adopted, will be sent for approval to the Dean of Students' office. Members of the committee included Jerry Berkowitz, John France, Ennalls Berl, Charlie Gebhart and Jack Yeih.

Another meeting will be held Wednesday, November 24, for the election of officers.

Poet Robert Frost Presents Reading Of Works Tonight

Robert Lee Frost, poet, lecturer and teacher, will be the featured guest tonight when he gives a reading of his poetry in Mitchell Hall at 8:15 p. m.

Frost's visit to the Delaware campus, will highlight the Visiting Scholar program for this year as well as this week's "Aspects of New England's Culture" program.

A large crowd of students and members of the general public are expected to attend the reading. In addition to tonight's program, the 75-year-old poet will enter a class discussion at 2 p. m. today in room 220, Hullahen Hall.

Students will be admitted to the program free of charge upon showing their identification cards. A limited supply of reservations were available for the general public earlier this week.

Unlike most poets, Frost did not achieve success until he was middle aged. His first book, A Bag of Will, was published in England, where he first received his popularity. North of Boston, printed a year later in England, became known internationally. When Frost finally returned to the U. S. at the age of 40, he found himself famous.

The language in Frost's poems is conversational, but his works are not simple. He has often been called a rural or regional poet; however, his poetry is full of universal meaning. He has combined playfulness with deep thought and humor with seriousness.

His poetry tells of personal experiences. He has been a swinger of birches" and has felt "the weight of an oxhead poised aloft." Most of his poetry typifies the life of people, not only in New England, but all over the world.

Art Gallery Exhibit Shows Furniture Of Past Century

A special exhibit of New England 18th Century furniture and decorative arts is now on view in the Art Gallery on the second floor of the Library. The materials of this exhibition have been loaned to the university Art Department from the private collection of Mr. Kenneth Danby of Wilmington.

The group consists of both the early and the late periods of the 18th century so that comparisons may be made in the changes that take place in the style. Connecticut workmanship is shown in a very fine candle stand of about 1770. A Grandmother's Clock made in Concord, Massachusetts, by Nathaniel Monroe about 1800, and a pie crust chippendale table dating about 1770 are representatives of Massachusetts' industry. The two portraits on exhibition are by unknown New England artists.

Mrs. Charles Dorman, University of Delaware '47, has been in charge of arranging this group of New England art which forms a part of the series, "Aspects of New England Culture." This series was presented during the week of November 17 by the Music, English and Art Departments of the university.

The public is invited to the Gallery, which is open during regular library hours.

"Earnest" Production Opens In Mitchell Hall December 3

By BILL DuBELL

The only way to behave to a woman is to make love to her, if she is pretty, and to someone else if she is plain."

This is but a sample of the brilliant and witty dialogue which abounds throughout the E-52 University Theatre's winter production, "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde. The show will be presented on the evenings of Dec. 3, 4, and 5 at 8:15 o'clock in Mitchell Hall.

Tony Mitchell, Bill Harkins, Connie Goodman, and Ellen Ungerleider will be presented in the feature roles of the play. Under the direction of Dr. C. Robert Kase, chairman of the Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech, these and five other players have been rehearsing this light comedy for a month. Their witty lines are the product of a literary genius who put comedy into his everyday conversation.

Other members of the cast are Bill Brown, Jack Mealey, Jack Grant Gunvor Thurreson and Cindy Travis. Ed Phillips, president of the E-52 Players and assistant director of the show, and Dick Sutton are understudying the male parts.

The plot of "Earnest," characterized by Dr. Cyrus L. Day of the English Department as "the cleverest farce in the history of English Drama," is based on the assumption.

Attendance Of 400 Is Recorded At Parents Meeting

The third annual Parents' Conference held last weekend at the University attracted approximately 400 parents of new students.

Following a meeting in Mitchell Hall with an address by Dr. Perkins, the parents attended small discussion sessions with instructors and upperclassmen associated with the fields of study in which their sons and daughters are enrolled.

Also present at the general meeting in Mitchell Hall were Dean Hocutt, Frank Swain, and Dr. Francis H. Squire.

A luncheon at Kent Hall featuring entertainment by the University of Delaware Men's Chorus.

Individual conferences of parents and faculty headed the afternoon's activities. In addition the program included the showing of the university motion picture and the E-52 presentation of a scene from "Our Town."

Tassel Girls Mail Review To Alumni

Tassel, the University of Delaware's honorary club for senior girls, started sending copies of the Review overseas to alumni in the service last week.

The organization will split expenses with the Student Government Association for the Reviews sent to 26 alumni servicemen. Tassel does this each year to keep the servicemen in touch with their alma mater while they are serving their country.

The five members of Tassel are: Jane Banks, Janet Smith, Janet Leary, Mary Ann Reinke, and Mary Ann Lindale.

Delaware Captures Crown Of "Mythical Middle Six"

With the final gun of the Delaware-Lafayette game last Saturday, the 1953 Blue Hens wrapped up the championship of the new mythical Middle Six Conference. This year's squad, through a season of head-up football, conquered one by one the opposing teams of rivals Gettysburg, Lehigh, Muhlenberg and Lafayette to establish a conference lead that cannot be captured this late in the season.

While the UD eleven will meet Bucknell, another conference entry, this Saturday, the season record of four wins and no losses in the conference assures the Hens of the conference victory. This is true since the second place winner, Gettysburg is winding up the '53 season with a non-conference game against Franklin and Marshall on Saturday.

In addition to achieving the best record in the won-and-lost column, Delaware also attained the maximum points scored for them and the minimum points scored against them. Jim Zaiser and Rocky Carzo of the UD squad hold second and third places, respectively, in the league's individual scoring records.

The mythical Middle Six Conference is an experiment conducted by schools in this loop for

Meet Dr. Herbert Dorn Economics Professor

By BARBARA BREWSTER

On rare occasions we meet someone whose activities seem to far exceed the limits most of us place on how much one person can do in a lifetime. Dr. Herbert Dorn, professor of economics and business administration, is such a person as evidenced by the very interesting story of his life.

Born in Berlin, Dr. Dorn took his undergraduate work at the Universities of Berlin, Freiburg, and Munich. This was followed by four years of training in the law courts and graduate work at Berlin University.

After completing his work toward becoming a judge, he was called into the Ministry of Justice in 1914. He held positions in the Justice and Treasury Departments of the Reich and then became Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in matters of Public Finance. He resigned this position in 1933 as a result of the Nazi rise to power. Prior to 1920 he taught at the University of Economics, Berlin, where he became honorary professor and director at the Institute for Public Finance in 1927, and Employment in Geneva in 1947.

While in Germany Dr. Dorn took part in many international conferences, including the Versailles Peace Conference. He was chairman of the Fiscal Committee of the League of Nations.

During the Second World War, Dr. Dorn remained in Cuba where he became Director of International Economy in the War Economy Board. He contributed to the preparatory work which was to result in such organizations for inter-American and international cooperation as UNRRA, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and Organization of American States. He also took part in the Conference on Trade and Employment in Geneva in 1947.

Thus was Dr. Dorn's past. We

are very fortunate that his present and future plans include this university. After coming to the United States in 1947, Dr. Dorn visited in Newark. He and his wife were very impressed with the university; subsequently he accepted a teaching position here.

As a result of his experiences in Latin America, Dr. Dorn became convinced that economic cooperation between the Americas is essential. This conviction led him to plan the Institute for Inter-American Study and Research here at the university. This institute recently sponsored the Fourth Delaware (Continued on Page 8)

Foreign Language Instructors Hold Initial Discussion

The Delaware Chapters of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and the American Association of Teachers of French sponsored this fall for the first time a joint meeting of the two organizations on Sunday, November 15, at 3 p.m. in the Women's Faculty Club Rooms in Warner Hall. The meeting was open to all teachers of French and Spanish in the public and private schools of the state who were interested in meeting their colleagues for the discussion of common problems.

There was a double feature program on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Winona Botello, teacher of French and Spanish at Mount Pleasant High School, showed the group films which she took during a recent trip to Mexico. Miss Norma Jampolsky, teacher of French and Spanish at Newark High School, related some of her experiences as a Fulbright Scholar in France during the academic year 1952-53. Miss Jampolsky, a University of Delaware alumna of the class of 1952, received her M. A. degree in French from Middlebury College in August.

The meeting was held under the sponsorship of Miss Mabel Riblett, supervisor of Modern Languages in the schools of Wilmington and president of the Delaware Chapter of A. A. T. S., and Miss Edna C. Fredrick, president of the Delaware Chapter of A. A. T. F.

Freshmen Vote In Maloney & Evans As Class Leaders

Meet the Freshman Class officers. At an election held several weeks ago the freshmen cast their ballots for their favorite candidates, and the question ever since has been "who won?"

Elected President was Jim Maloney, who graduated from Dover High School in the class of '52. While there he was class president for his freshman and junior years, and vice-president of the Student Council during his junior year and president during his senior year.

He was active in football, basketball, baseball and track, winning his letter in all of them, and he was elected co-captain of the Dover High football team during his senior year.

In addition to his duties as Freshmen Class President and student here at the university, he recently received an appointment for a four year term to serve on the Delaware Commission on Children and Youth.

Vice president for the 1957 class is Grace Evans. Grace is from Wilmington and attended P. S. duPont High School. During her attendance there she was a member of the Student Council, cheerleaders, and leader corps. She was also active in the Senior Play Committee and in the Studio Club. She was treasurer of the Y-Teens and was vice president of her church group.

She has already become an ac- (Continued on Page 9)

University Hour Features Eminent "Visiting Scholars"

As a part of the Cultural Activities Committee, the University Hour is designed to introduce campus students, and any other interested persons, to renowned speakers from diverse fields. These speakers are brought to us as "visiting scholars." The various chapters and schools of the university are asked to suggest outstanding figures whom they feel would be able to speak on something of interest. From these suggestions, the committee chooses about ten names and arranges dates for these speakers to appear on campus. Consequently, University Hour does not meet at a specified hour (as College Hour does). It meets at any time convenient to the speaker and the university; these meetings are chiefly in the evening.

N.Y.U. Announces Law Scholarships Available In 1954

The New York University School of Law has announced that twenty Elihu Root - Samuel J. Tilden Scholarships, with a value of $6,600 for study leading to the LL. B. degree, will be awarded on a competitive basis, to students entering New York University in September 1954. There will be two scholarships awarded from each of the ten Federal Judicial Circuits.

These scholarships will be awarded on the basis of potential capacity for public leadership, academic record, and record of participation in extra-curricular activities. Selections will be made by a panel in each Judicial Circuit upon the nomination by a committee in each state.

SGA Backs Plan For Safer Driving

Since the university has joined the National Safe Drivers' League, the S. G. A. is planning a big drive to reduce reckless driving. Dean Hocutt is ordering stickers, posters and membership cards that will be paid for by the university. The drive will be endorsed and advertised by the fraternities, commuters' organizations and Kent Dining Hall.

The League has asked the support of the university and big businesses in Delaware, such as the Du Pont Company. The S. G. A. is sending two representatives to the Chrysler Corporation to ask if it will cooperate with the university to cut down the numbers of accidents in the area.

Mr. Wise Lectures To Headline Staff

Mr. Carl Wise, of the Journal-Every Evening, met with the headline staff of the Review at 7 p.m. Thursday night, Nov. 19, to instruct and discuss the writing of newspaper headlines.

Mr. Wise, a '23 graduate of the University of Delaware and a former editor of the Blue Hen, is the news editor of the Journal-Every Evening. He served formerly as city editor of the Wilmington Morning News.

Mr. Wise's daughter, Elise, is now enrolled here at the University of Delaware.

Col. Hamblet Stresses Advantages Marines Offer To College Women

In an interview for college campus publications, Colonel Julia E. Hamblet, Director of Women Marines, stated that "the United States Marine Corps is looking for the best caliber of college women this country has to offer to serve as commissioned officers in the U. S. Marines."

The head of 2700 Women Marines added that college women fill a vital role in the Marine Corps as command and administrative officers. A career in the Marine Corps is also profitable, she pointed out, since a college woman can earn up to $4,250 upon appointment to the rank of second lieutenant.

Preparation for assignments in the United States, Hawaii and Europe begins at Quantico, Virginia.

Upon completion of training, candidates become full-fledged second lieutenants.

"The training classes help build self-confidence and leadership ability," Colonel Hamblet said. The women officers receive all types of interesting assignments, either in command positions or staff positions in such fields as communications, personnel, special services, administrative, supply and public information.

Home Ec. Club Initiates 56 Members

On November 4th, 56 girls were initiated as members of the Home Economics Club at the meeting held in Warner Hall. They were as follows: Marjorie Lockett, Leora Waller, Phyllis Baker, Marjorie Norton, Mary Jane McCabe, Audrey Mitchell, Jean Leonard, Margaret Corbett, Barbara Fogg, Cynthia McCue, Autumn Dewey, Ginny Rennie, Rosalie Schlatter, Dolores Lloyd, Alice Mary Dennison, Miriam Bushkoff, Shirley Watson, Barbara Shank, Meryl Manchee, Janet Hetzel, Barbara Cubberly, Barbara Kulp, Barbara Holler, Lois Alderman, Ginnie Andrews, Julie Richardson, Martha Gruwell, Judy Atkins, Betty Jane Weber, Betty Paul, Nancy White, Janet Briggs, Eula Mae Bunting, Nancy Young, Pat Rutland, Jane Burdette, Dottie MacDonald, Joyce Adams, Peg Yerkes, Karin Venetian, Pat King, Mary Ellen Kracker, Chris Reh-fuss, Audrey Hardenburgh, Lucille Moore, Cathy Lange, Mary Kaleel, Bettymae Snowberger, Phyl Anderson, Carol Frany, Ann Blanton, Sheila Cunningham, Sarah Rudolph, Mary Ann Simpson, Martha Thomas and Georgeann Voshell.

An important business meeting of the Home Ec. Club was held on Monday, November 16, in Room 11, Robinson Hall.

Alpha Zeta Welcomes Seven Undergraduates

Members of the Cook chapter of Alpha Zeta from Rutgers University journeyed to Newark two weeks ago. They came down in order to aid in the initiation of seven University of Delaware undergraduates into the local chapter of the honorary agriculture fraternity.

The new initiates, Roland Hearn, '55; Paul Lloyd, plant pathology '55; Dick Nye, plant pathology '54; Walt Garber, '55; Ted Hughes, vocational education '55; George Comegys, plant pathology '54; and Art Johnson, animal industry '54, met their obligations for admittance into the organization headed by Ed Stout.

Dr. T. A. Baker, professor of animal and poultry industry at the university, also assisted in the initiation.

Ag. Club Visits Center

The Ag Club of the university visited the Research Center of the United States Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Maryland, last Thursday, November 12.

Among the visitors were Jim Bradford, club president, Dr. R. O. Bausman, advisor, 47 undergraduate students, 3 graduate students and 10 faculty members.

The trip to Beltsville was sponsored by the Ag Club, since none of the departments in the School of Agriculture sponsor such trips. The club felt the trip would be worthwhile and educational, particularly since Beltsville, location of the world's largest agricultural experimental station, is so close to Newark.

The research station consists of 11,000 acres of farm land. The station is concerned with agricultural research on national problems and problems which the individual state experimental stations find too hard to handle.

The Ag Club visit, which started at the Dairy Husbandry Department, began with a lecture on pasture problems and silage storage. Then they visited the herds, having special interest in the breeding experiments.

The club next visited the Poultry Department and saw the work being done with the Beltsville white turkey.

After lunch, the club visited the Soils and Plant Industry Department where they were shown work being done on chemical weed control and the effect of insecticides on grasses.

Harvard Crimson Voices Opinion Of Sen. McCarthy

Senator McCarthy was recently challenged by the Harvard Crimson, undergraduate daily newspaper, to "put up or shut up" on McCarthy's charge that Harvard students were being subjected to Communist indoctrination.

An editorial in the Harvard paper replied to a charge voiced last week by Senator McCarthy stating that it (the editorial board) knew of no faculty members who demonstrated Communist characteristics and called upon the Wisconsin Republican to actually name the Communist staff members of Harvard University.

Late last week, McCarthy made public the message of a telegram sent by him to the Harvard president. In this wire he inquired of the university's action in the case of a Professor Furry, who, according to McCarthy, had refused to state whether or not he had indoctrinated students in the Communist philosophy. Professor Furry and two other teachers were placed on probation for three years following their refusal to answer questions before the Senate Internal Security Committee headed by Jenner of Indiana.

The editorial, entitled "Put Up or Shut Up," professed that unless McCarthy can present actual proof, he is damaging a university which contributes as much toward fighting Communism as does McCarthy himself. Also, state the editors, if this charge is false, then it stands as probably the most "irresponsible untruth he has ever spoken." It added that ex-president Conant entered in his last annual Harvard report that he had no knowledge of any Communist Party members at Harvard.

Professor Furry, the principal figure under dispute, reportedly was to be subpoenaed when the Senate Investigation Subcommittee hearings began today. The hearings are to be televised nationally.

Vacation To Begin On November 25

Thanksgiving vacation will officially begin at the close of classes on Wednesday, November 25. It will end the following Sunday evening, and regular classes will resume on Monday, November 30.

An attempt is being made to determine how many men will wish to remain in the dorms between Wednesday evening and Sunday noon. This information will form the basis for closing the men's dormitories or keeping one or two buildings open.

For women students, Topsy Hall will be open for those who are unable to go home for the vacation. It is anticipated that only a very few women students will stay over.

Class cuts will not be allowed on the two days immediately following the vacation. A student who incurs such a cut or cuts will be placed on attendance warning. This warning will notify the student that should he incur an unexcused absence in any course, he will be dropped from that course with a grade of "F."

The last meal before vacation will be Wednesday's lunch. No meals will be served during the holidays, and the regular meal schedule will begin again on Monday with breakfast.

College Hour

Where'd It Go?

The attempt to schedule events during the weekdays here at Delaware is an extremely difficult feat—with the sole exception of 11 a. m. on Thursday. This has been reverently designated as college hour.

Inquire of a freshman what college hour is. Any positive answers warrant a compliment about his imaginative mind or his inclusive knowledge of the history of the university.

We have had one college hour in the first nine weeks of the school year! This one was scheduled through contact with the Assistant to the Dean of Students, entirely outside of the realm of the SGA College Hour Committee.

About two years ago, an obvious decline in the interest exhibited by students toward college hour was noted. As a result, a considerable amount of effort was concentrated on that project last year. The results were extremely gratifying, in both the aspects of student attendance and of variety and quality of college hours.

This year's doomed program had a rather precarious beginning with less than mediocre interest shown in it, not by the students but by its stepfather, the student government. After discarding the idea of discontinuing college hour, the seeds for the '53-'54 program were cast into the wind. As of yet those seeds have failed to germinate.

No, the college hour committee is hardly one which brings self-glorification. However, it is one which, with the minimum expenditure of effort, brings campus glorification. It is also one which, when left undone, rewards those responsible with a label of "Responsibility Shirked."

The policy of a governing body is, in part, to accept the problems confronting them and to deal with them by the most acceptable means. Another important portion of that policy is to make some constructive gains. W. G. D.

A New "Book-Burner"

Round Robin

For a brief moment, we would like to be somewhat unoriginal and reprint a phrase by the Morning News editorial writers: "... we would like to say categorically that Robin Hood was not, and never had been, a Communist, Russian spy, pro-Communist, Communist sympathizer, or fellow traveler. He was a good Englishman, which was as close as anybody could come to being a good American in his day, when America hadn't been discovered yet."

This satirical comment arises from the insistence on the part of a member of the state of Indiana's textbook commission to banish from the school books of the state the legend of Robin Hood.

While not the most extreme example of the disease of overcautiousness, this is the most striking in the realm of ridiculousness. This would serve, if by some remote chance it were enforced, to initiate a precedent which would be extremely detrimental to the freedom of thought and discussion which is now our privilege.

A ruling of this nature serves rather to interject further fuel to the fire of the mental crisis surrounding the existence of Communism in the United States. Rather than make unavailable various volumes, additional ones should be added—ones that unveil the Communism of today and critically compare it to democracy. W. G. D.

Funds And Finances

"He Who Pays The Piper . . ."

The furor touched off by the university administration's request that the SGA accept responsibility for its own bookkeeping has abated. The fact that it was short-lived and promoted by only a few of the more vocal students indicates that the general student population either lacks interest in the management of its own affairs or that relatively few of the students know enough about SGA to understand the problem in either its specific or more general aspects. Something might be said for both alternatives.

On the question in point, the bookkeeping expenses, there is little to be said for the emotional response to the administration's request. Any organization, within or without the college community must expect to meet its own legitimate expenses. The administration, however, must share responsibility for the friction resulting from the request, for it was presented in a heavy-handed manner hardly calculated to effect the transaction smoothly. The same tact employed in Dover every other year would not have been out of place in the SGA council.

Problem Solved Through Submission To Plan

Nevertheless, despite the initial disturbance, the problem was solved, as it had to be, when the SGA submitted to the plan proposed by the Administration. The details of the solution are unimportant and need no elaboration; but the incident implies a deeper problem, which is by no means insignificant.

To begin with, the unavoidable lesson brought home to the SGA was that "he who pays the piper calls the tune." Under the present system that incorporates the SGA fee to the student into the general university fee, there is no SGA fund except that allocated by the administration. To date the SGA has expected and received the yearly sum of $15.00 per student to make up its budget, but there is no obligation on the part of the administration to allocate that amount.

The SGA can get just as much money, or as little, as the administration sees fit to allow, and the SGA therefore has actually no power whatsoever to refuse any request sent to it. From this fact it is but a short step to the conclusion that, but as a game to divert the students and as a means to distribute money to various student activities around campus, the SGA has no effective existence at all.

SGA Merely Another University Department

No legislative assembly can function as such with a knot tied in the purse strings. Since the SGA has no control over its own finances, it can act not as a student government, but simply as another department of the university. This distinction is an important one.

If the students are satisfied with the SGA as merely an administrative social agency, then no problem exists in the present arrangement; but if they desire to govern their extra-curricular activities, then they are not getting their wish. Financial independence is the primary requirement for such government.

This independence will not easily be secured, however. As long as a compulsory SGA fee is required of the students, regardless of its relationship to the general university fee, the administration cannot relinquish control of it. President Perkins and the Board of Trustees must answer to the General Assembly for every penny they collect on registration day, and no one within reason can ask that they neglect their responsibility to themselves by permitting any part of that money to be spent without their approval.

Therefore, if financial independence and real self-government is the desire of the students, the SGA will have to collect its own fees on a purely volunteer basis. In the past the association has lacked the confidence to adopt such a program. In the future, it can gain that confidence only if the student body makes known its wish to have an effective voice in campus affairs. R. C. C.

Traffic Deaths

The Headlines Today

"Three Are Killed On N. J. Turnpike," "Penns Grove Man Killed In Crash," "Two Hurt As Bus Plunges In Ditch," "New Death Record"—these are the headlines today. Possibly in the most recent paper, the facts were altered somewhat, but these are glaring examples, nevertheless, of many of the stories on the front page of a modern daily newspaper.

According to recent statistics, eight thousand young men and women were mentioned last year in headlines very similar to those reprinted above. One of these marked the decease of a student of the University of Delaware.

An additional thirty thousand older Americans rose to fame in obituary columns from traffic deaths. One and one-half million more were injured.

These facts make interesting reading, as is evidenced by the position they occupy in the newspapers' makeup. However, these same facts have little actual effect on the driving habits of the American public, as is evidenced by the continually rising rate of traffic deaths.

No one can compose any "Ten Commandments for Accident Elimination." A decisive step in this direction, however, is to create an awareness of the cause, the accident itself, and the resulting consequences implied in such innocent-appearing headlines. W. G. D.

Letters To Editor

Dear Glenn:

In the November 6 issue of the Review you commented on the cut in the SGA's social budget. I realize that economy is a very necessary part of any business organization. However, it seems to me that a college education embodies four years of both academic and social learning, that which is often referred to as "a well-rounded education."

The administration-enforced cut in the social fund from three-thousand to nine hundred and fifty dollars amounts to a one-third reduction in SGA sponsored social activities. This necessitates drastic reductions in such well-remembered functions as Senior Weekend, and the Junior Prom, not to mention the many other equally important but less renowned social affairs which were evidently considered worth their expense by the former administrations.

To me it seems that the above social reductions are just another in the current trend toward less administration spending (for the record) without regard to the resultant lowering of student morale and school spirit. A prime example of the financial squeeze on the student is the meal ticket. The financial statement for 1951 showed a dining hall profit of 17,000 dollars, yet in September 1952 the price of meal tickets was raised, and all freshmen living in University dormitories were required to eat at the dining halls.

Although the university has made academic progress in the past several years, it has in my opinion regressed to a greater extent in the fields of social culture and student-administration relationships.

SGA News

Treasurer's Report

There is a balance of $2,914.20 in the SGA account and $922.90 in the social budget. The final figures have not yet been completed for the Sinking Fund.

Social

The decoration committee for the Christmas Dance will start working this week. Records of Bill Davies are now on the juke box in the Student Union. Tickets will go on sale the Monday before the dance.

Dining Hall

A substitute system in the dining halls and waiters for banquets were discussed. Some complaints were made concerning such things as water pitchers.

Elections

Due to the unexpected completion of college credits by the current treasurer, a new treasurer will be needed for the second term. It was moved and seconded that a treasurer be appointed by the SGA. The motion was passed by a unanimous decision.

College Hour

Would like to sponsor a college hour for an SGA meeting so that any questions could be answered.

Women's Ex. Council

Chairmen have been appointed for the various women's activities for the remainder of the year. The Judiciary Committee has been appointed.

Cultural Activities

A member of the Cultural Activities Committee has suggested that the SGA combine with them to put on a College Hour with some band such as George Shearing, Stan Kenton, etc.

New Business

Judiciary Committee of SGA

It has been suggested that letters be written to several colleges.

Safe Driving Campaign

The car stickers and membership cards for the National Safe Drivers League are being ordered and arrangements are being made for distribution. Frank Swain and Marianne Reinke are going to speak with the Public Relations Department of Chrysler to see if they would also join.

Respectively submitted,
Mickie Blaine, Recording Sec. SGA

Urnst And Ienst*At The State

After spending the greater part of the week digging themselves out of the parking lot at Warner Hall, dodging snowballs, and valiantly trying to keep their footing on the various walks between north and south campus, our heroes have emerged victorious from the "Battle of the Blizzard." They decide to celebrate said victory by going to a movie.

As they ascend the steps to Main Street, they glance at the glowing marquee of the State (of Confusion). What's playing? None other than the great Charles Boyer, a horse opera, Humphrey Go-Cart in selected shorts, News of Yesterday and Prevues of Coming Distractions.

Choking Ben Franklin in their hot little hands, they plunk their fifty cents on the counter. The ever-alert ticket vendor casually seizes the half a rock, bites it to see if it's real and presses the magic button. With a whir, a clank, and much grinding of gears, the orange tickets leap out of their slot. After stooping over to pick them up off the ground, Urnst and Ienst hurl themselves bodily against the well-oiled doors, with the use of Urnst's handy-dandy, pocket-sized crowbar, Ienst manages to pry open the access to joys untold. Urnst manages to squeeze through. Once inside, he casually kicks out the glass to let his companion through. Floating into the auditorium on the pungent odor of the popping popcorn, the boys drift into the first three rows. An usher, bedecked in the uniform of a First Lord of The Admiralty, tells them that no one is allowed in the first few rows:—Safety precautions because of Monsieur Boyer's dangerous lower lip. Turning, they are greeted with three rows of silver-inlaid saddles, thoughtfully installed by the management to lend atmosphere for the second film, "Blazing Guns At The Bar DP Ranch."

The lights dim, the show goes on, and Boyer's techniques (later to be practiced on south campus) are avidly absorbed. After an hour of preparation, the supreme moment arrives, the great Lover leans close to the heroine, and the B&O comes thru with a roar, shaking the ancient structure to its rotting foundation. The screams of frustration from the stag females reverberate long after the train has passed.

Comes next the horse-opera with Hopalong Chastity. Following the local youngsters, Urnst and Ienst move to the silver-inlaid saddles. After riding the range for a full ninety minutes and cheering the villains and booing the heroes, their saddle sores became too much and they decide to leave. But they can't—chewing gum, you know. Here even the crowbar does no good. Struggling against the seat of their troubles, the boys are dislodged from their sawhorses and with a loud crash fall to the floor, with the saddles right behind. The management appears; summary justice is dispensed; and our heroes are tossed from the premises by two big, burly, bristling ushers.

Graduate Students Plan Square Dance On Dec. 5

Plans for a square dance on December 5 for all graduate students of the University of Delaware were recently announced by a spokesman of the Graduate Council.

The social event, scheduled for 8:30 p. m. in the Women's Gymnasium, features Chris Sanderson and his band.

Review Advertisers*Our Benefactors

The statement is often made, by the editorial staff as well as other students, that the Review belongs to the students. Why? Because they pay for it.

This is something of a half-truth. More than twenty-five percent of this newspaper is financed through advertisements.

These firms who "contribute" regularly to our vulnerable treasury ask little in return—only that they be considered when students make their contribution to the monetary cycle.

Advertisers are trimming nearly two thousand dollars a year from your bill. Here they are: Powell's Ice Cream, Frank M. Smith, Farmers Trust Office, Deluxe Candy Shop, Chesterfield, Murray's Toggery, Abbotts Shoe Repair, Newark Taxi, Newark Newsstand, Lucky Strike, Fader Motor Co., Leo Clymer, Newark Hobby Shop, Boeing Aircraft, Poffenberger Studio, Newton's Flowers, Newark Department Store, Phillip Morris, Linton's Restaurant, Newark Trust Co., Western Electric, Chevrolet, Faders, State Restaurant, Rhodes Drug Store, W. B. Bridgewater, Jos. Miller, Augies and others.

These are the firms who show such an interest in your paper, often with little return. Give these merchants and companies some consideration in your purchases.

"HOW GOES IT?" dials New York— and a building in Illinois answers

Shell Oil Co. wanted a small brick building in Illinois to be able to teletype automatically to a dispatcher in Radio City—more than 800 miles away. The building in Dennison, Ill., is one of four pumping stations on an important oil line. For efficiency, all these stations were to be controlled from New York. Bell System engineers were asked to help.

Now the New York dispatcher operates these stations by using an ordinary telephone dial. By dialing a number, he can make a pumping station automatically report back its meter readings by teletype! He also dials numbers to open and shut valves, start and stop pumps, and summon an attendant. It's done through Bell System facilities.

These remote-control installations represent salesmanship, research and engineering skill on the part of many Bell System people. That's the reason there are rewarding opportunities in many lines for college people in the telephone company. Why not check soon with your Placement Officer on your chances to start with the Bell System after graduation?

Marine Corps Officer Will Meet With Delaware Students On Dec. 2

Captain Haywood of the U. S. Marine Corps will visit the campus on Wednesday, December 2 for the purpose of explaining to students opportunities for commissions in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Captain Haywood will be in the corridor of the Memorial Library basement from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Wednesday, December 2.

The U. S. Marine Corps offers the college man the opportunity to receive a commission as second lieutenant, upon graduation.

The Platoon Leaders Class is available for undergraduates. The second offer, the Officer Candidate Course, is open to seniors and graduates between the ages of 20 and 27. Classes for the OCC are held each March, July, and October at the Marine Corps Schools at Quantico, Virginia.

Design

AND DEVELOPMENT

Call for Knowledge, Ingenuity, Teamwork

Making new products in large amounts, devising new processes, and improving old ones—such problems are the job of Design and Development. An example was the development of a large-scale process for making "Orlon" acrylic fiber starting from small laboratory samples of polyacrylonitrile.

Quantity production of polymer was only a beginning. A whole set of new and unusual problems arose in spinning the fiber, because polyacrylonitrile decomposes before it melts, and it dissolves only in high-boiling solvents.

A team of Du Pont technical men—chemical and mechanical engineers, instrumentation specialists, metallurgists, and materials handling experts undertook to find a solution. Here are a few of the problems they met:

1. Solve problems in heat transfer and fluid flow arising from the fact that the spinning solution must be blanketed with inert gas to prevent fire hazards.
2. Design a system for controlling the temperature of the viscous spinning solution within  $\pm 0.5^\circ\text{F}$ . at hundreds of points in the plant.
3. Design new mechanisms for winding yarn at high speed without any deviation in yarn tension.
4. Design air conditioning and ventilating systems to remove fumes from specific spots, but still allow easy access to all areas.

Among Du Pont's many research and engineering activities, Design and Development jobs provide great opportunity for the knowledge, ingenuity, and teamwork capacities of men in a great variety of technical fields.

tion, by two young gentlemen, of the name of a fictitious character, Earnest, and the final clearing up of their identities in time to marry two pretty girls.

The criticisms of the sophisticated mannerisms and social hypocrisies of the 19th century, about which the play was written, are as timely for today as they were in 1895 when the play was first produced in London. In 1947 "Earnest" was again produced, this time on Broadway where it was vigorously received by its audiences and was acclaimed by virtually every New York critic.

Herman D. Middleton, technical director, and his crews have prepared sets, properties, and special effects in keeping with the play's farcical attitude. The audience will view the players, garbed in their 1890 costumes, through a gilt picture frame, which will surround the stage. In order to make the show as perfect as possible, the Players have gone to New York to get their costumes from the famous Brooks Brothers.

Heads of the production phases are Joe Koffenberg, production manager; Jean DeVries, assistant production manager; Jane Martin, scenery painting; Barbara Miruk and Liz Parkhill, properties; George Cavey, sound; Lew Whitaker, lighting; Irene Klahr, make-up; Marilyn Haley, house manager; and Bill duBell, publicity chairman. Even if both of us did have something to do with it, after hearing most of the comments around the town we've come to the conclusion that the Junior Musical was really quite passable. Bebe Hahne, Rita Timmons and Warren Beh plus the rest of the production staff, them what worked on costumes, sets, sound and lights, piano movers, curtain pullers and last but not least the trained seals themselves, performed very well. Just hope the Junior Class made money. Sure like to have that Senior weekend in spite of the Administration's austerity program. Nobody seemed to be worried much about anything, parties at Ye Olde French-towne and the park where the deer and the antelope play being the order of the day after it was all over.

After grouching all around the Quad we've decided that most of the party boys made so much of last weekend that they were all done in this weekend. Consequently we foundy no news, which in our case, is not good news.

Some of the die hards wouldn't give up so easily, so they took off for the jungle. (That's where Leopards hang out isn't it?) Just in passing, we would like to remark that Lafayette's campus is just as long as ours, only it's up and down. Really a fine game on the part of the Hens, who looked very good in front of a home town crowd of 4800 and about 200 misplaced Chicks. After the game some of the Lafayette fraternities opened their houses to all. Seen there and at the game, Neil Thomas, Dave Lechrone, Fred Freibott, the Stouts with dates, Jody Reeger and escort, Bob Ferguson and Valerie Stienmetz, John Fernandez and Lois West, Wendy Wheatley and Shirley Baker, Julie Jefferson, Barbara Nast, Lucy Darby, Shirley Gross and finally Dave Menser and Edie Evans.

Delayed congratulations to Lois Pelligrine and Bill Ritchie who were pinned two weeks ago. Congratulations also to Sylvia Field and Bill Collings.

This week we have come up with a really new and novel place that we're willing to venture very few people have visited this year.

the first time. The plan was originally suggested by Al Cartwright, sportswriter of the Journal-Evening. Cartwright contacted various sportswriters in the communities surrounding five of Delaware's rivals and related the plan.

The suggestion was well received, and the "mythical" conference standings have been printed throughout the season in this area, including some of the Philadelphia papers. Eastern sportswriters maintain that the salvation of small college athletics lies in the establishment of conferences, which could be enlarged to include other sports in addition to football.

This mythical Middle Six Conference is still in the experimental stage; however, it is an arrangement which may expand into the capacity of an actual conference.

First Guidance Workshop Proves Helpful For Attending Counselors

"I thought the workshop of great value" said Miss Anna Beebe of Lewes High School at the conclusion of the first University of Delaware Guidance Workshop. Her opinion was seconded almost unanimously by the other counselors and principals who attended the day long session on Tuesday.

The guidance workshop was designed to improve the freshmen program of the University and to help the high schools prepare students for college. High school principals and counselors from throughout the state participated.

After the morning session the visitors lunched at Old College, following which they interviewed until 2:30, when they attended a summary conference. During this conference they discussed the results of the interviews.

About 200 freshmen were interviewed, and the interviews show that, among other things, freshmen have difficulties with English themes, note-taking and mathematics. They also find dormitories noisy and assignments hard.

While most of the freshmen interviewed disliked the orientation program, they approved the advisor system and found instructors to their liking.

The workshop will probably be continued in coming years. The participants voted almost unanimously to continue it.

★ Dis Chords—Dat's All ★

Ye olde column has returned to ye olde campus once again. This time, however, we're alternating in publication with a musical newcomer to the Review from Downbeat Magazine.

Leafing through our handy little pocket folio of disc chatter, we see the name of Walter Winchell appearing as scriptwriter and co-producer of the RCA Victor release, "Hit Songs From Flop Shows."

Johnny Mercer, in a Variety item catalogue under "Inspirations," admits the following: "Accentuate The Positive" — probably got the idea while lying on a psychiatrist's couch: "Bob White" — the only words that I could think of that would fit those two notes; "Laura" — the publisher gave me the title; "Goody Goody" — couldn't have come from anywhere but an old laundry list: "Lazy Bones" — took me one year to write it and was one of the first big ones. Didn't know how to rhyme very well then. Got stuck with the "E" in potato. "I'm An Old Cow Hand" — after I did that one, I had to defend myself with a six-gun. It was a parody on the popular western songs. "Atchison, Topeka, and the Santa Fe" — I was riding on the Union Pacific when I got the idea for the words. "Blues In The Sky" — the baritone needed a song for "Texas, Little Darling." "Cool, Cool Of The Evening" — written the night our bedroom air-conditioner broke down.

The widely discussed Kinsey report has invaded the realm of the music world, for, in the RCA Victor platter, "Don't Believe Everything That You Read About Love," the implication is that gals are "better" than the experts indicate.

Joint Conference Considers Reports Of College Heads

The first Industry College Conference at the Greenbrier Hotel here was told recently that out of 25 college presidents questioned, 20 per cent are member of one or more corporate boards of directors; while out of 48 industry leaders, 50 per cent are on one or more college board of trustees.

The finding were obtained through institutional questionnaires sent out in advance of the two-day conference here which brought leaders of industry and education together to study "cooperation to provide improved educational opportunities for our young people" as the program puts it.

The questionnaires revealed that 40 per cent of the colleges participate with industrial firms in work-study programs. Only five of the 25 colleges report that up to 50 per cent of their professors are employed by industry in some capacity. More than 60 per cent of the colleges engage in industrial research; three-fifth of them conduct adult education courses designed for industrial executives and employees.

The 48 industrial questionnaires revealed that more than half of the companies sponsor scholarship and fellowship programs with 62 per cent of those open to the general public and the remainder confined to employees or their children.

THE OUTSTANDING PLAY OF THE WEEK

The outstanding play of last Saturday's 13 to 7 verdict over Lafayette was the play which resulted in Delaware's second and winning touchdown.

The second touchdown was set up by a 33 yard run by Jimmy Flynn. He ran from Delaware's 26 yard line to the Lafayette 41. Flynn plunged through the center of the line and then cut down the sideline.

Scabbard & Blade Announces Names Of New Members

Scabbard and Blade, the honorary fraternity of military students, has recently chosen most of its new members for the year. The new names have just been announced, as a result of screening by the fraternity, in conjunction with recommendations from the Military Department.

Selected for membership this year are: juniors; Bill Knoll, Jack McDaniel, Brad Barnes, John Fernandez, Dale Hill, Jimmy Flynn, and Bill Keene. The seniors are: Ralph Barrow, Bill Reybold, Kirk Banks, William McMaster, Bill Doppstadt, Bill Phillips, Bob Green, Marty Apostolico, Sherman Bristow, Joe Marra, Vern Huber, and Bill Annonio.

These boys attended a smoker of the organization, conducted in much the same manner as fraternity smokers, at which they were judged for personality. They were also picked for merit and scholastic average, a 2.3 index being required.

Although the main purpose of the Scabbard and Blade is to advance interest in the military field and to honor outstanding work in military science, the members do various military duties on the campus. In addition they have social functions, and the members are always welcome at the Officers' Club on the New Castle County Air Base. The group recently took a trip to Aberdeen Proving Grounds and plan to visit the Chrysler Plant sometime soon.

Leading Scabbard and Blade this year are: Jim Schaubel, president; Ed Stout, vice president; Joe Wortz, secretary; and Art Vandepoole, treasurer. Major Thomas A. Mitchell is advisor for the organization.

Predictions

Delaware over Bucknell
Maryland over Alabama
Auburn over Clemson
S. M. U. over Baylor

The Armchair Umpire

By CHARLES WILLIS

On the strength of last week's 13-7 victory over the Lafayette Leopards, the Blue Hens have clinched a tie for the mythical Middle Six crown. Tomorrow's encounter with the hapless Bucknell Bisons at Lewisburg, Pa., will bring to a close Coach Dave Nelson's finest season since he took over the football coaching rein in 1951.

Under the "Admiral's" leadership, the Hens have logged a 5-3 record in 1951, a 4-4 log in 1952 and a 6-1 ledger thus far in this campaign. The Blue and Gold are 4-0 in conference competition.

FLYNN SPARKLES

Two speedy and hard-running halfbacks, Jimmy Flynn and "Zeke" Zaiser, carried the brunt of the Hen attack overland, amassing a total of 116 and 70 yards respectively. Quarterback Don Miller had another fine day, completing 10 out of 14 aerial attempts for 123 yards. "Humphrey," in addition to tossing his eighth T. D. pass this season, upped his percentage of completions to 51.8. Stellar defensive work was turned in by ends Tom Redfield and Marty Apostolico and tackle Steve Butcher.

HENS DOWN MILLERSVILLE

Basketball Coach Fred Emmerson's 1953 five met Millersville State Teacher's College this past Monday in a practice game and eked out a close 53-51 win over the future teachers. Capt. Frank White led the Delaware attack with 14 points. Sophs Bob Hart and Jack Waddington also reached double figure with 12 and 11 respectively. Yesterday the Hens journeyed to the University of Maryland at College Park and were guests of the Terrapin quintet in a practice contest. A practice game with Navy will be played within the next several weeks. These tune-up games provide an excellent opportunity for the team to iron out any flaws and to develop team work. Washington College will open the season for Delaware December 2 in a home contest.

Although "Whitey" Burnham's soccer squad is not having one of its better seasons, the Hen booters rose to the occasion last Wednesday and defeated last year's national champion, Franklin and Marshall. The Hen booters tallied thrice in the first period — two by John McLaughlin — and once in the second for a 4-0 halftime lead. Then the Hen defense led by goalies Tom Brown and Wayne Cox withstood a spirited 3-goal rally by F & M to preserve the 4-3 triumph. McLaughlin leads the Hens in scoring with seven goals and in assists with four. The Hens will attempt to improve their 2-6 record this afternoon against Drexel on Frazer Field.

Del. Soccer Team Opposes Drexel Inst. This Afternoon

With a current record of two wins and six losses, the soccer team will oppose Drexel today at 3:00 p. m. The game will be played at Frazer Field, and it is the last game on the 1953 soccer schedule. Drexel is the outstanding contender for the title of the Middle Atlantic Conference. It suffered its only defeat in the conference against Washington College just last Saturday.

Last Wednesday the Hen booters showed real class in knocking off last year's national champions, Franklin and Marshall. The wearers of the Blue and Gold displayed great spirit and hustle as they braved the snow to post the win. The Delaware combine was certainly up for the game. In the first period, it scored three times. The first score was brought about by a fine pass from playmaker Lee Kalinowski to John McLaughlin; John then bounced the ball into the goal. This tally was soon followed by another as a result of a long kick by Will Thompson. McLaughlin, assisted by Willie Regester, then scored his second goal of the day. In the second period, the Hens boosted the score to 4 to 0 when Dan Walton hit with a hip shot.

At this point it seemed as if Delaware was going to make a slaughter of the game; however, in the second half, the offense of F. and M. began to roll. F. and M.'s chances of scoring were greatly enhanced when Tom Brown, Delaware's goalie, was taken out of the game with a shoulder injury. Playing for the first time in a Blue and Gold uniform, Wayne Cox made a fine showing filling in for Tom Brown. Wayne will surely see a lot of action during the last few games. The F. and M. rally was put down only after they had scored three goals. Final score: Delaware 4, F. and M. 3.

Last Saturday, Delaware traveled to Baltimore to challenge Johns Hopkins. Hopkins has one of its strongest teams in recent years; she posted wins over F. and M. and many other top-flight teams. In the first half Johns Hopkins compiled an early lead of 3 to 0; Delaware could not seem to overcome this large deficit. John McLaughlin made the only Blue and Gold score; however this goal was more than neutralized by two more by Johns Hopkins. Final score: Johns Hopkins 5, Delaware 1. Tom Brown was unable to play this game because of a bone separation in his right shoulder; John McLaughlin was suffering from two bruised ribs throughout the game also.

John McLaughlin still looms as Delaware's No. 1 offensive weapon. He has now amassed seven goals and four assists. The statistics to this date are:

Scorers:
John McLaughlin	7
Ken Whittington	2
Willie Thompson	1
Don Walton	2
Ralph Henderson	1
Bill Colona	1

Assists:
John McLaughlin	4
Will Thompson	2
Bill Regester	1
Lee Kalinowski	1
Dean Steele	1

Goalie Saves:
Tom Brown	106
Wayne Cox	23

Sullivan's Yearlings Conclude Excellent Season

The 1953 edition of the Blue Hen yearlings closed out a successful six-game schedule by walloping a game, but outclassed Wesley Junior College eleven, 46-0. Although muddy Frazer Field made the footing precarious, the frosh managed to score at will. Johnny Oberg, yearling fullback, led the touchdown parade with three six-pointers and a single conversion, while Bob Money-maker racked up two paydirt thrusts. Carmen Cella and Tom Williams added the final counters, as the frosh concluded a highly successful schedule with a 4-1 won-lost record.

A look at the final statistics showed fullback Johnny Oberg as the team's leading scorer with forty-three points totaled by six touchdowns and seven extra points. Right halfback Carmen Cella followed close behind with thirty-six counters, while Bobbie Money-maker rounded out the top three with 18. The freshmen totaled one hundred and thirty-six points on twenty-one touchdowns and ten conversions, while limiting five opponents to just twenty-seven points.

Outstanding along the line throughout the season were: Dave Coulombe, Dick Ross, Ed Malinowski and Lou Stenger at the ends; Ed Sakusky, Walt Collings, Pete Mulligan and Johnny McIntyre at the tackles; Tommie Thomas, Albie Sparks, Mike Kravitz and Ray Ejak at the guards; and Jerry Weiss and Duke Shelton at center. Coach Jimmy Sullivan did a commendable job in guiding his eleven through a tough six-game slate, including a 19-13 win over Temple and a 26-0 romp over Lafayette.

Tomorrow Admiral Dave Nelson and his Blue Hens will meet the Bisons of Bucknell University at Lewisburg, Pa. The game will be played in their Memorial Stadium with kick-off time scheduled for 2 p.m.

This game will bring to a close a very successful football season for the Hens and their followers. A victory tomorrow would bring the Blue and Gold record to a 7-1 log. This has been the best season for Coach Nelson and his aides with the only sad day being the one Saturday in October when they were upset by the Teachers of West Chester. Tomorrow will also bring to an end the football careers here at the university for Captain John Borresen, Tom Fannon, Frank Serpico, Rocky Carzo and Bob Peoples. Much credit should go to these departing seniors for their outstanding play in bringing the Blue Hens to the top of the football spotlight.

With the departure of P.M.C. from the schedule, the Bucknell rivalry dating to 1908 becomes the oldest of all on the current list. It is certainly one of the hottest and best from the standpoint of clean, aggressive football. The over-all record is 3 wins for the Hens as against 5 losses.

Lost from the Orange and Blue of last year, which posted a 6-3 log, are the famous touchdown twins in Burt Talmadge and Brad Myers. Myers is now playing with the Los Angeles Rams. Starting his seventh year as head of the Bisons coach, Harry Lawrence, who has devoted to football coaching (his Baltimore City College team once won 54 straight games, and his Bucknell teams once spanned 17 in a row, 4 in 1950, 9 in 1951, 4 in 1952 until Colgate stopped 'em), is not an unhappy man even though his team has only won one game this season. Their only win was against Buffalo 35-6. Since then, they have lost seven straight, to Temple, 28-21; Lafayette, 7-6; Holy Cross, 40-0; Muhlenberg, 18-13; Lehigh, 20-6; Colgate, 19-12; and last week Gettysburg, 26-13.

Operating the Orange and Blue split T will be Ken Adamec, a 6-2, 190-pound senior who will handle the passing and punting. In front of him he will have a forward wall which weighs collectively a mere three-quarters of a ton. Heading the list as far as weight goes will be Jim Egloff, 237-pound tackle, a converted end from last year. His running mate will be Ron Lloyd, who tips the scales at 230 pounds. At the guards are Billy Gray, 213, and Hank Papek.

This week we would like to present another sketch of one of the staff of the Women's Physical Education Department.

MISS RUTH L. MALBURG

Miss Malburg was born in Ridge-way, Pennsylvania, and she received her Bachelor's degree from the University of Maryland. Her first teaching job was and is at the University of Delaware, where she has been a member of the staff in Physical Education for the past three years. Miss Malburg's speciality is dance, and as the sponsor of The Modern Dance Club, she has done much to promote an interest in both modern and folk dancing on campus. This past summer and next summer Miss Malburg will be working for her graduate degree in dance at the University of Wisconsin. Her interest in dance has also extended outside the field of teaching, which is proven by the fact that she was previously a member of the Dance Theatre in Washington, D. C.

Miss Malburg has no preference in sports other than dance. She enjoys all sports, both team and individual.

Next week we will continue our thumbnail sketches, and we hope by then we will at least be able to give you the results of the hockey game between the Physical Education majors.

Blue Hen

Tom Redfield, this week's "Blue Hen of the Week," is one of the most powerful and versatile men on this year's Blue Hen eleven. Last year's team, which was plagued with injuries, called on Tom to play end, tackle, center, and a trial in the backfield — and gave an excellent account of himself wherever he played. Tom has been called the scourge of enemy backs by many an onlooker. This year Tom has played at one position, and has displayed great offensive and defensive work. Ask any opponent; they will tell you. With two ends like Redfield and Serpico, the other team won't get too far.

Tom stands a little over six foot and hits the scales at about 195 lbs. He is a junior in the School of Arts and Science and hails from Doylestown High School, Pennsylvania.

To demonstrate some of his powerful ability — after last year's baseball team played a few games it was evident that Tom walloped some of the longest drives ever witnessed at Frazer Field.

When it comes to extracurricular activities, Tom is an active member of the Pi Kappa Alpha Social Fraternity, the Varsity Club, and the Delaware Rifles.

In last week's game Tom caught four out of five passes to help Delaware outpoint Lafayette and win the Middle Six Championship. His outstanding performance in blocking and tackling make Tom Redfield the choice of the Review Sports Staff as Blue Hen of the Week.

Fraternally Speaking: The Greeks...

Alpha Tau Omega

Congratulations to Jim Ehler, who was pledged to ATO last week.

Our intramural basketball team, under Coach Fred Werner, started practice last Monday. Returning to bolster the squad are Art Holueck, Bill Phillips, Dyke Pollitt, and Reds Pollitt. Also expected to add strength to the team are Dean Steele, Jim Myers, and Jim Ehler.

Reds Pollitt has advanced to the quarter-final round of the handball tournament. Bill Phillips and Carl Schupp are also advancing. Dyke Pollitt and Tom Hopkins are gaining ground in the ping pong tournament.

Last Thursday, seven brothers tested the cross country course. Dean Steele finished a strong third. Dyke Pollitt, Jim Myers, Fred Werner, Carl Schupp, Tom Hopkins, and Stan Crewe finished further down the line for us. Thanks to them all for running for us, even though they were half dead from their efforts.

Kappa Alpha

The Junior Musical seemed to be the major attraction during the last week. Brother "Billy Bones" Saunders helped "Pigmy" Thomas and "Willie Scarlet" Lecrone hack out a few go-go numbers, which added to the enthusiasm.

We would like to congratulate Brother Bill Collings, who presented his pin to Miss Sylvia Field, and also belated best wishes to prexy Jim Hoey and Peggy Tighe. The chief finally came through.

A few of the members had planned to have a small get-together at the Coliseum on Saturday night; since there was a heavy fog, many of the members "chickened out" and then blacked out. Some of the members and dates seen in the fog were Joe Wortz and Barbara Snyder, and Dave Lecrone and Peg Rainey. "Crane" and "Redman" say that fog can be an advantage sometimes.

At the present there is a tremendous hunting craze going on in the house. Bob Oggenfuss, Jim Williams, Bill Wood, Jim Roberts and Fred Freibott have been gunning for the pleasant pheasant.

Phi Kappa Tau

Some of the Phi Taus and their dates traveled to Lafayette for the game on Saturday. Helping Bob Horne cheer the team to the Middle-Atlantic Championship were Bob Ferguson and Valerie Steinmetz, John Fernandez and Lois West, Fred Pullinger and Jo Kreer, Don Hornberg and Nancy Wentz, and "The Continental" with "Cubby." After the game several of us visited the Alpha Omicron chapter of Phi Tau.

Jim Bradford, president of the Agriculture Club, led a trip to Beltsville, Md., the Agriculture Research Center of the U. S. Other officers on the trip included Hap Cook, 2nd vice president, Bob Ferguson, secretary, and Bruce Stewart, treasurer.

Who played the night game at the stadium on Friday, John?

Theta Chi

Brother Devereaux McCarthy has been selected as the first potentate of the Delaware Chapter of the Green Hornets. Dev is now holding initiation ceremonies for anyone who can qualify. It's pretty tough, standing on your head, isn't it Charlie?

Last weekend Alpha Xi travelled to the Lafayette game and the post game party at the Alpha Omega Chapter. Brothers in attendance were John Micich, Dick Nagle, the Stout boys, and several brothers whose names can't be mentioned. Noticeable in his absence was brother "Tuie" Barrow.

What happened "Clyde," you didn't get stuck again, did you?

Brother "Cueball" Martin would like it to be known that he is now dart and shuffleboard champion of the house. Several brothers did not compete because of other extra-curricular activities. Look out for Moon Tracy and Monk, Cubie!

Look for the grand opening of the new Theta Chi House in the very near future. Party! Party! Party!

AEPi

Last weekend was an "off" weekend for the Apes on the hill, as the brothers dispersed to various corners of the earth. Seen at Hilltop, absorbing a little culture and refreshments, were David Schulman and Lee Lang, Cranty Rosenbaum and Sue Hoytash, Mal Silverman and Lila Schmoleroff and Carl Goldenberg and Lee Lang (?).

Wandering north to see Delaware conquer Lafayette were Gene Holland and Marcia Stamler, along with Jack Schoenberger who hurried back for a rendezvous with Rincy Levy.

Brother Porter and Carol Berman watched Army roll over Penn, while Brother Bertuch and Rhoda Weissman rolled over the roads south to see the waves roll over the beach in Atlantic City. (Oh No!)

From the latest census, which indicates that everyone will be "roamen" next weekend also, it looks as if you can put your sheets and olive branches away, 'cause no one will be Roman.

Delta Tau Delta

An emigration has set in at 158 S. College Ave. Spen Hedger started it all early last week when he moved his bag and baggage to the cellar.

Well, we thought the novelty had worn off until last Sunday night when the upper-level residents were greeted by mournful noises drifting up from the cellar. Immediate investigation revealed that the Mule and Spen were busily blending trombone groans to "Old Black Joe" (?). When interrogated by the committee, the Mule revealed he will soon join his friend in the cellar. Hedger's one-man orchestra is being replaced by the Cellar Dweller's Combo.

Last week also brought fame to Art Hodges, who came trooping in from the bogs of Maryland greedily clutching a sad-looking Canadian goose. As his associates, Wendy Wheatley and Jack Richter carried in more loot. "Bring 'em back dead" Hodges rolled his beady little eyes and commented, "A tasty snack—eh what?" We hope D. G. Menser will do as well when he takes to the rolling plains of that idyllic Maryland hunting ground this weekend.

Sigma Pi Epsilon

Congratulations to the outstanding play of the whole Delaware football team on their great exhibition at Easton, Pa.

From the brothers who witnessed the game came some surprising reports of the Lafayette squad—it seems the current trend toward prohibition hasn't hit the Leopards' campus yet. A good time was had by all!

Now that the pigskin is about to be put away, the Sig Eps have sent a delegation over to the field house for the start of basketball season. Brothers Pete Kelleher, Capt. Frank White, "Rickets" Gearhart and Jim Kinch are Sig Eps' contribution.

As a result of the mid-term slump, some of the brothers have found it necessary to add several subjects to their already full schedules. Television 650 (Prerequisite, Radio 482) and Pinochle 405 (taking the place of the recently cancelled Poker 401) are a few of the new selections.

Sigma Nu

An entire weekend without either rain or snow. Miracles never cease!

The Cedar Inn was the gathering spot for many of the brothers Saturday evening. Ken Edwards, having recuperated fully from his 12 mile hike through the snow I. F. weekend, was the leader of this gay group, which included Dan Enterline, Bill Reed, Norm Williams, Don Lewis, Harry Fitzsimmons, and Jay Badgley.

Last Sunday Sigma Nu celebrated its annual memorial services in honor of its deceased brothers. The program of the day was attendance at the morning service of Newark's Presbyterian Church, while Father Francis Cornelly conducted memorial services in the Fraternity House.

Sigma Nu made a great showing in its winning of the Intramural Cross Country Race. Congratulations to Fred Brown on his fine victory, and also to Ed White who raced Brown to the finish line.

Delta Kappa also wishes to extend congratulations to the Freshman Football Team on its completion of a very successful season. Brother Jim Flynn led the Varsity Football Team to victory at Easton, Pa.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Congratulations to Bob Fisher and Bob Cornwell, newly elected president and vice president of the Pi Kappa chapter on top of the hill. The Pikes also extend congratulations to Paul Dolan, house manager, Biff Eason, secretary, and Bill duBell, historian. To George Palmer, Frank Serpico and the others who are going out of office, the Pikes say thanks for a good job well done.

Seen traveling through the fog and in a fog over the week-end to the Rutgers University Pi Kappa chapter were Bill Downham, Herb Hackman, Bob Pillow and Bill duBell. They say sleeping on a cellar floor is not so bad.
