ORGANIZATION OF SENATE BLOCKED

NO BUSINESS TRANSACTED

After a late hour caucus, the members of the General Assembly met yesterday morning for organization. While there were some contests for the different offices, the Republicans of the House effected their organization without trouble and were ready for business on schedule time. The local representatives who bolted the caucus on Monday evening were only holding out for the rights of their respective districts. Contrary to Wilmington papers and local reports, the bolt was not made at the organization of Levy Courtman Groves. It was merely a stand taken for recognition of their constituents and not for any personal advantage as none of those who left the caucus were candidates for Assembly honors.

In the Senate—there was a different story. To date the stories are conflicting. This much is true—the Democrats after a conference in Henry Ridgely's office started the disgusting procedure. Immediately after prayer by the chaplain, an attempt was made toward organization. Lieutenant Governor Ferguson presiding, refused to recognize any but hold-over members. This gave him the deciding vote in all questions before the body with the result that four Democrats effected a permanent organization. An appeal from the decision of the Chair was denied by the presiding officer. Parliamentary rules were made on the spot. All the new members, including Senator Frazier, were sworn in. In effecting the permanent organization the Clerk (Democrat) with Lieutenant Governor backing him, refused to register the vote of Senator Frazier, just sworn in.

As an outcome, two separate organizations were effected and today noon, no change had been made.

Due to this, the Governor has not presented any communication to the Assembly.

Post Special

Dover, 11 a. m.—Senate snarl remains the same as yesterday. After offering his certificate of election and being sworn in, the Democrats are still tying up the regular business, in refusing to grant Senator Frazier the rights of office.

At 11 o'clock The Post received this message: "Democrats of Senate ordered Democrat Sheriff to bring in ballot boxes for a recount of the ballots, despite the fact that the Court has once decided the contest."

Trunks Reach Destination

Mr. C. B. Evans received on New Year's eve, news of the arrival in Wilmington of baggage belonging to him, which was left in Hamburg, Germany, last August. Mr. and Mrs. Evans were unable to get their baggage upon leaving Germany, and had since their return ceased to worry about the trunk left abroad. The baggage reached Newark on Monday, however. In spite of the fact that it has been on the way for five months, an examination of the contents proved that only one small box containing cuff buttons was missing.

In On Honors Again

Frank H. Dean, Delaware College, ex-'14, a "youngster" at the U. S. Naval Academy, has been elected assistant manager of the 1915 Navy football team. Dean is at present a sub-guard on the "Varsity" basketball team.

Appropriations For Education

Wilmington Council and the Board of Education will confer upon the matter of amending the act of Legislature limiting the appropriations to the schools so as to permit of that increase and thus meet imperative needs, such as increased high school facilities, improved sanitary conditions, etc.

Governor Entertains Legislature

Governor Miller entertainer on Monday at his home on Red Oak road, Wilmington, at a luncheon all the members of the Legislature preliminary to its meeting on Tuesday, and also members of the Senate of 1911, in which the Governor sat.

Delaware Ships Flour

The third earload of flour contributed from Delaware for relief of the Belgians was to be shipped on Monday from Wilmington. Three earloads of canned goods have also been shipped. Arrangements are making to run a car from Milford north to Middletown to receive further contributions. It is stated that Delaware has contributed $50,000 in supplies and money for relief of war sufferers.

Wedding

HEAVELLOW-WARE

Mr. Walter V. Heavellow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Heavellow, and Miss Mary Ware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ware, were married December 31, 1914, by the Rev. Joel S. Gilfillan at his home, corner of Main street and College avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Heavellow will make their home on the A. C. Heiser farm near town.

Operated On For Appendicitis

David Chalmers, the fifteen-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Chalmers, is seriously ill at the Homeopathic Hospital, Wilmington, where he was taken on Sunday by Dr. W. H. Steel. The boy was suffering from a severe case of appendicitis. The doctors operated on Sunday, since which time the patient has been fighting gallantly for recovery.

Suffrage Headquarters Opened In Dover

Suffrage headquarters were opened in Dover on Tuesday with formal ceremony marking the occasion. Women carrying the shields of all the States in which women are now voting marched from the station to the headquarters on South State street. Speeches were made by Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, Mrs. Frances I. duPont, and Miss Mabel Vernon. A reception and housewarming to which the public was invited followed. Among visitors who took part in the demonstration were Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, Mrs. Frances I. duPont, Miss Audrey Shortlidge, Mrs. Julien Ortiz, Mrs. Martha Cranston, Mrs. Victor duPont, Jr., Mrs. Reuben Satterthwaite, Miss Helen Cranston, Mrs. Charles Warner, and Miss Sarah Pyle.

Represented At Association Meetings

Delaware College was represented at the meeting of both the Modern Language Association, held in New York during the Christmas holidays, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science, held in Philadelphia at the same time. Dr. W. O. Sypherd attended the former, and Dean Robinson of the Women's College and Dr. G. A. Harter, Professor Harry Hayward, Dr. R. C. Reed, Dr. Manns, Dr. Taubenhans, Professors McCue and Houghton, and Messrs. Pailthorpe and Lintner attended the latter. The Modern Language Association is composed of teachers of literature and languages in colleges and universities; the Association for the Advancement of Science includes not only those who teach scientific subjects, but all who are doing research work in science or are interested in scientific problems of every kind.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. will meet this Friday afternoon at two o'clock, at the home of Miss Ella Miller, West Main street.

Legislator Falls On Ice

Post Special

Ferdinand Daisy, Republican Representative from Baltimore hundred, slipped and fell on the streets of Dover this morning at 8:30 o'clock breaking his leg. Mr. Daisy will be compelled to return to his home and will in all probability be absent from the capital during the early weeks of the session.

M. E. Church Notes

Revival meetings are in progress at the M. E. Church. Meetings every evening except Saturdays. Sunday services: 11 a. m. Subject, "How a Revival Came to Town." 7:30 p. m.—A Revival sermon. All seats free.

High School Plans Benefits

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Association of Newark High School, it was decided to hold a bake during the afternoon and evening of Saturday, January 23, in the High School building. The date of Friday, March 26, was chosen as the time for a play to be given in the Opera House. Proceeds for the benefit of the Association.

Parish Sociable Coming

At the regular monthly meeting of the Parish Guild of St. Thomas' Church, Monday night, Miss Frances Hurd was named chairman of a committee to arrange for a parish sociable this month. Mrs. Charles W. Colmery and Winfield S. Coverdale were elected members of the guild, bringing the total up to 59, which is considered very encouraging for an organization hardly out of its swaddling clothes. Meetings are held the first Monday night of each month.

PARENTS' NIGHT AT NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL

Possibilities of New Association Discussed

The community meeting held in the High School building on Tuesday evening was given over to a consideration of the possibilities of the Parent-Teachers' Association recently formed in Newark. The audience was made up very largely of parents of the community to whom the discussion was a pertinent one. Following a song "Old Mother Goose" by seven little girls, Mildred Major, Marjorie Rose, Dorothy Hoffecker, Ruth Richards, Leah Poole, Olive Porter and Emma Lovett, a piano solo was given by Mrs. William Holton. Miss Marie Ritz concluded the musical program with a vocal solo, giving as an encore one of Eugene Field's lullabies, set to music.

The feature of the evening was a talk by Miss Irene Earll, director of Hagley House, Wilmington, on "The Relation of the Parent-Teacher Association to Recreation." Miss Earll is the Delaware representative of the National Mothers' Congress, the only woman's organization recognized by the government. The organization has the endorsement of the Department of Education, with offices in a part of their government building. Although no government funds are available to carry on this work, office room has been given and the franking privilege granted. The Parent-Teacher Association is a division of the work under the supervision of the Mothers' Congress, and Miss Earll earnestly urged the new local organization to affiliate with the national movement as a means of gaining the greatest good from the association. All are eligible to membership who are interested in the public schools, and the problems of child welfare. The speaker advocated as one of the early activities of the new association the establishment of playgrounds for the children of the community, insisting upon the importance of making the appointment of a play director one of the first things in such a plan. Miss Earll cautioned the workers should they attempt playground work, not to be discouraged by catalogue prices of apparatus, declaring the paraphernalia

Lodge Starts New Year

I. O. G. T. Lodge 239 started the New Year in good shape on the first day of the year with between 30 and 40 present. Mr. Elwood Nichols, Grand Chief Templar of Delaware, Maryland, and Pennsylvania, with several of his family and friends motored from Ham-morton, Pa., and attended the meeting. Bro. Nichols was enthusiastic in his remarks and gave good counsel for the coming year. Dr. Gilfillan who has been in the work for a number of years, a P. G. C. T., reviewed some of his experience in the work in Western Pennsylvania. Several interesting readings by the visitors helped lend considerable life to the social hour.

Five or more new members will be initiated this coming week, which goes to show that the Lodge is certainly starting the New Year aright.

Entertainment At Head Of Christiana

Christmas exercises held in the Head of Christiana Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, January third, were largely attended. The room was prettily decorated with red and green paper and Christmas bells. A tree on the platform pleased the children. Boxes of candy and oranges were distributed among those who had attended the school during the year. Sixty-three pupils are entered upon the roll book. Mention was made of the fact that the superintendent and secretary have been present at every session during the year. After a pleasing program of recitation and song, the pastor delivered a short address.

The Sunday School will be closed for the winter, but will reorganize April fourth, when it is hoped a larger attendance will enable the school to do even better work than in the past year.

AETNA'S RECORD FOR THE YEAR

Valuable Service Rendered Rural District

The Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company at a meeting held last Friday evening, elected the following officers for 1915:

President, S. B. Herdman; vice-president, Charles L. Medill; Secretary, Charles W. Colmery; treasurer, A. L. Beals; fire recorder, Clarence Jester; chief, E. Clifford Wilson; assistants, Elmer J. Ellison and Frank M. Lutton; chief pipeman, Ira Shellender; assistants Harry Hill, Leslie E. Hill, Norris Worrall, Chester Ewing and Wilmer Renshaw; directors, Robert S. Gallaher, H. Warner McNeal, Ernest Frazer, Joseph Hossinger and J. E. Bailey.

An interesting report was read by the Fire Recorder, showing the services rendered the community by the company during the year. Fourteen calls have been responded to—nine within and five without the limits of the town. Newark has happily escaped fires of serious proportion during the year. The greatest loss was on the frame building owned by John K. Chambers, on Haines' Lane. Here a plug stream was used. In the other fires the chemical played an important part. On the out-of-town calls excellent work was accomplished. On a number of occasions the engine proved its great value where water is available. The engine went into services at the following fires:

January 17, House of David C. Chalmers, Main street. Cause, defective flue. Damage, about $10.
February 3, house owned by Mr. Alfred A. Curtis, on Corbit street. Cause, cigarette igniting bed clothing. Damage, about $10.

Historical Lecture Announced

Dr. W. E. Lingelbach, professor of Modern History, University of Pennsylvania, will give the second lecture in Delaware College Historical series, on Thursday evening, January 14, at eight o'clock. The subject is "Some Basic Factors of the European War." Dr. Lingelbach has recently returned from Europe, and his lecture is based on personal investigation while abroad.

Dr. Mitchell Addresses Savannah Y. M. C. A.

On Sunday afternoon, January 3, Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, president of Delaware College, addressed the Y. M. C. A. of Savannah, Georgia, at a meeting held in the Odeon theatre of that city. His subject was "The Worker Without a Wage." Dr. Mitchell reports that the Savannah Y. M. C. A. is one of the most progressive and flourishing in the South. It has a very large membership and owns a building which cost $200,000. This association is growing steadily, and is thoroughly wide-awake in every respect.

Fire Fighting Machine Again In Service

Fire on Sunday shortly after twelve o'clock broke out in the home of Samuel Spence, who lives on the road between Christiana and Ogletown. Neighbors went to the assistance of the family, and while they were unable to combat the flames, they succeeded in saving most of the furniture in the house. A call was received by Aetna Fire Co. which promptly responded to the summons. While the fire had gained too much headway to leave any possibility of saving the Spence house, the local firemen did good work, together with the Fane Fire Company of Wilmington, in preventing its spread to the houses in the immediate vicinity. The Spence house was entirely destroyed.

Pyle Paintings Threatened

Mural paintings by the late Howard Pyle, valued at $15,000, were threatened early Monday by a fire which damaged a house on Delaware avenue, Wilmington, owned by the artist's widow. Good work by firemen saved the pictures. Many sleeping boarders were driven out by the smoke.

June 21, John Kinsey Chambers property, Haines' Lane. Cause, oil stove exploding. Damage, about $75. (Plug stream used.)

June 30, Elwood McKee's farm, stubble field. Cause, spark from B. & O. R. R. No damage.

July 5th, house of Joseph Faro, Cleveland avenue. Cause, waste paper. Damage, about $10.

July 22, Grange Hall. Room occupied by Mr. West, tailor. Cause, gasoline stove exploded. Damage, about $50.

November 7, Dr. Steele's stable, Main street. Cause unknown. Damage about $5.

November 13, house of Dr. Steel on Cleveland avenue. Cause, defective flue. No damage.

Out-of-town Calls

November 7, Mr. Albert Heiser's farm, straw yard. Cause, spark from B. & O. railroad. Damage about $400.

December 4, Mr. Sharp's farm, Christiana, Del. Cause unknown. Damage, about $4000. (Did not go into service as no water was available.)

December 18, Mr. William Chillas' farm, Rowesville. Cause, defective flue. Damage, about $1000. (Excellent work. Engine had to lift water 10 feet and pump thru 900 feet of hose.)

December 22, pumping station of P. B. & W. Railroad Company, Christiana, Del. Cause unknown. Damage, about $400.

December 22, freight car of B. & O. Railroad. Cause, overheated stove. Damage about $200.

December 26, house of Mr. Jacob Shew on Delaware avenue. Cause, defective flue. No damage.

Cantata On New Year's Night

A cantata entitled "A Twentieth Century Santa Claus" was given in the Presbyterian Church, Christiana, on New Year's night. The various choruses were ably rendered by the school. The music unfolded the story of a crowd of little Misses Up-to-date who complained of an old-fashioned Santa Claus. They decided to send for a twentieth century Santa, whose arrival proved a disappointment, however. The little folk, greatly humiliated, sent again, for their kind old friend of years. The twentieth century Santa was impersonated by Mr. Warren Singles; the old Santa by Rev. A. Van Overen.

OBITUARY

ADAM E. WIEGAND

Adam E. Wiegand, who has for some years spent his summers at Roseville, died at the Essex, 34th and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, yesterday, aged 72 years. He had been ill about a month suffering from general debility. His funeral will be held Thursday at 11 a. m. at St. Stephen's Church on Tenth street, Philadelphia. Mr. Wiegand was a lawyer and conveyancer who retired from his profession 15 years ago. He married Miss Frances Chillas of Roseville, who died about a year ago, leaving a son, Hubert Wiegand.

THOMPSON F. EWING

Thompson F. Ewing, aged 66 years, died at his home near Newark on Tuesday, January 5, after a brief illness from pneumonia. Mr. Ewing spent last Wednesday cutting fodder on his farm. This it is believed led to the contraction of a cold which rapidly developed into pneumonia. Funeral services will be held from the late residence near Newark on Saturday, January 9, at 11 o'clock. Further services at St. John's M. E. Church, Lewisville, Pa., at 1:30 o'clock. Interment in the adjoining cemetery. A widow and nine children, Mrs. Chester Kirk, Belmont, Pa.; Mrs. George Cloud, New London, Pa.; Misses Eva and Ella Ewing, Newark; Arnold Ewing, Paoli; Fred Ewing, Michigan; Samuel Ewing, Wilmington; Morris and Emory Ewing, Newark, survive.

WOMAN'S SPHERE IN 1850--AS TOLD IN THE DELTA PHI GAZETTE

Through the courtesy of an old Newarker we have before us a copy of the "Delta Phi Gazette," volume 8, number 25, bearing the date of March 13, 1850. The paper was found among the possessions of the late James Maxwell. The miniature magazine has been written in ink by an editor appointed for one number of the volume, and contains as the leading article an essay on "Women," which we are reprinting as given in the paper. The editor on this particular occasion was D. R. Frazer, who afterward became a distinguished Presbyterian minister. The article is a revelation from two standpoints—the sentiment regarding the sphere of woman, and the results attained by the English department of Delaware College.

In all the varied circumstances of life, in whatsoever situation man may be placed, whether the smiles of heaven and that choice and precious blessing "which maketh rich and sweet peace" rest upon him, whether his sky be calm and serene without a speck to obscure the noontide glory—or the clouds of adversity gather thick about him, the dark and boisterous waves of misfortune, roll across his pathway, and all the powers of evil beset him, in either case we find woman the firm, true and unflinching friend of man. In his prosperity, whilst all is bright and joyous, she shares it and is the companion of his pleasures—when afflictions and tribulations come upon him—she is ever the sharer of his grief—the alleviator of his agony—and by her bright and joyous countenance, tends in a great measure to dissipate the surrounding darkness—to dispell the gloom and send the warm and genial rays of hope, into his dejected and downcast soul—O, how often, when the cares of life beset him, would he faint and fall beneath the heavy burdens imposed, was it not that the soft, plaintive and musical tones, of a winning and bewitching voice, urged him onward—to cheer up and battle manfully—and how often, going forth under this Palladium, and with this encouragement, have days of toil and nights of labor been cheerfully passed, until at length the desired goal has been reached, and victory secured.

The amount of influence she exerts over mankind is almost incredible, and when exerted in her legitimate sphere, always exercises a salutary influence—even of that soft and refining kind, which the rude and boisterous nature of man most needs—restraining his rashness and madness—curbing his impetuosity, preventing him from entering upon, or reclaiming, by her kind counsel and assiduous attention, from the paths of vice—noted for her forbearance and unchanging love—she is preeminently the greatest and choicest of God's gifts to man—and even Eden with all its pleasures, teeming with its membership objects of sublimity—beauteous groves—enchanted and bewitching scenery—with everything to please the heart and attract the eye, even this was imperfect until she graced it with her presence—

Yet notwithstanding her many excellencies—notwithstanding the many good traits developed in female character—and notwithstanding the healthful influence she throws around man—like everything human she has her imperfections, her shortcomings, and we are constrained to say "We have somewhat against thee"—

Where Religion and Education have not shone in upon the gross darkness which naturally envelops the mind of man, and have not brought their potent agencies to bear upon society, for its amelioration and improvement—we find woman in a state of abject slavery—the man exercising the most horrible Tyranny and compelling her to perform the most menial offices—she is not looked upon as an equal with man—as a being possessed of all the functions, both of body and of mind as her liege lord—but is regarded as an inferior, and as a lower order of creature, in the scale of being—but when the pure rays of religion break in upon their benighted minds, the condition of woman is changed for the better, she is allowed the enjoyment of more privileges—is recognized as bone of man's bone and flesh of his flesh, and acknowledged as an equal and a companion—and it is found to be invariably the case, that the greater the advance of civilization and enlightenment—the more woman is respected and esteemed.

But oftentimes, madam when thus raised from the dust of humility—thus acknowledged and exalted, cannot rest satisfied with her present attainments—ever ambitious ever desirous to secure more respect—more power for her sex—she pushes forward, and with hasty strides, endeavors to pass by her more cautious and plodding companion.

Being fearful lest the great ends and aims of government may be subverted—she desires to exercise the right of franchise—wishes to hold the reins of government in her hand, and that her voice should echo and resound in the halls of legislation, and secure this consummation so devoutly to be wished for—We see and hear of women rights conventions gathering over our land—where the voices of down Trodden what shall I call them—female women—I suppose can be heard shouting aloud for liberty—Fanny Lee Townsend, and women's rights—

But this open and hostile demonstration—disgusting to every noble—honorable and Truly virtuous woman in our land, has been abandoned—concluding to stand at the helm and guide the ship of state, is the prerogative of the Lords of creation—but in a smaller and more confined sphere reign she can and reign she will—in household and domestic affairs, she asserts her supremacy, erects her standard, and voo to the unhappy mortal who dares to disobey, and refuses to bow down to do homage—Here may she ever rule supreme for this is indeed her legitimate sphere—but contented she will not remain—

After assaying for some time to wear the pants (alias bloomers), she has concluded since all her efforts have proved unavailing, and her endeavors futile—that man was indeed intended to be heard over woman, and has been compelled to acknowledge that woman was created for man, and not man for woman—

But now although defeated and driven from the field she is not conquered, her indomitable spirit still remains—and whilst not daring to draw up her forces, and come to the conflict, yet her perversity is manifested in a striking light—for although she cannot engage in the unequal strife, yet she is constantly inventing new kinds of torments with which to pester her foe—and then, quietly enjoys his anguish.

Dreadful is the wild war whoop of the savage to the inhabitants of some poorly defended frontier—but equally so, the hoop which has reached us, causing anguish of mind, when the announcement was made to the world, that the vindictive energies of woman had discovered a new implement of torture—

Fearful since they have been denominated the weaker half of humanity, they may also be considered the smallest half, they have so inflated their wearing apparel that they resemble an immense balloon in a reversed position—visit one of our large cities, behold the immense expanse and astounding amplitude of the skirts of our city belles—and you will not long doubt the truth of this assertion—but I would advise you to be cautious in pursuing your investigations, and if some of the fair sex should chance to pass by you—to leap at once from the pavement, lest by coming in contact with this moving map of erinoline and ratten, you may have to bear the brunt of battle—for whilst they afford great protection, against all undue familiarity, they are apt to maltreat, abuse and batter the lower extremities of the genus homo—

But when their good and bad qualities are placed in the balance their good preponderates and despite their folly they constantly changing whims—and their constantly devotion to fashion—we still admire—respect, and love them, and are willing, since in this world there is no rose without a thorn, to suffer the few evils, that we may enjoy the many blessings which they bestow—that makes it the unquestioned "big value but low priced" car of the world.

We do not ask you to buy a Studebaker because of the record a specially constructed car may have made in this, that or the other race, when driven by an expert racing driver. No—but we do ask you to investigate the performance of the Studebaker in every-day use, under every day conditions, and in the hands of thousands of average drivers. It is the use to which you will put a car that should determine its value to you. Let us show you what the Studebaker has done and will do in the service to which you expect to put it. If you ask why Studebakers are better—why they give and always have given thorough satisfaction—consider the aims, ideals and honesty of purpose behind them; the quality of Studebaker materials; the vast extent and intensiveness of Studebaker manufacturing methods; the excellence of their engineering design; and the fact that in each and every important or vital particular these cars welcome comparison with the highest priced.

You will find them competing with cars that sell at prices $500 higher; and you will also find them showing higher quality throughout. Studebaker prices are lower because these cars are completely manufactured in Studebaker plants, carry but one profit, and impose no middleman's tax on the buyer.

Phone us now for a Studebaker demonstration.

Largest Apple Crop Ever Produced

"This year's apple crop is the largest ever produced in the United States," is the announcement made by the Department of Agriculture, which has placed the 1914 yield at 259,000,000 bushels or 114,000,000 more than was produced last year. These figures represent the actual "agricultural yield," the department explained, and should not be confused with those of the commercial crop, which comprise the marketed portion of the total production. In 1913 the commercial crop was estimated at 40 per cent of the agricultural production. In 1913 the commercial crop was estimated at 40 per cent of the agricultural production. Using the same proportion for the 1914 basis this year's commercial crop would total 103,600,000 bushels.

Real Brotherhood

In the schoolhouse in a small western city, a short time ago, upon the motion of the Catholic priest, the Methodist minister was elected president of the community's social center for the winter. Then three basketball teams were formed, including the priest, the minister, the blacksmith, the editor, a farmer, the keeper of the village restaurant, a dentist, a clothier, a teamster, a drug-gist, a garage owner, the banker, the saloon keeper, a hardware merchant and a house painter.

They differed in religion, in politics, in income, in social status about as widely as men can differ. But in the common school building, in the free democracy of the social center, they agreed to lay aside their differences for the novel purpose of discovering how much good fellowship there was in meeting together, now and then, as equals, as brothers. In the democracy of play, in the democracy of frank, fair discussion of public questions, they are finding out, these differing men of this small city, that, as human beings, they're amazingly alike, once you get below the surface.

And out of this agreeable discovery will come, for this small city, more tolerance, more kindness of feeling, more give and take than it has ever known before. Even when they shall differ again—as, of course, they often will—it won't be with such bitterness, as much bigotry, as much mean hate as of yore. It's a wonderful solvent, is brotherhood.

PEOPLES' COLUMN

Raking Over Uncle Sam

To the Editor of The Post.

Sir: If the Government requires five or six months notice before it can furnish a mail and parcel post box for outside use at the local post office what nonsense to advocate public or federal ownership of all public utilities?

Who, I wonder, would care to wait four months after notifying the telephone company to place a telephone in his office or home? Yet the Newark postmaster and office patrons have had to bide their time that long while the Postoffice Department gave this demonstration of gross inefficiency in conducting public business.

Let it be understood the Postmaster and the lessor of the new post office are in no wise to blame for this delay. Before the new office was opened requisition was made for a mail box and this was followed by repeated requests, and complaints also from patrons of the office.

It is such stupid governmental red tape as this that makes one look askance at the proposed government ownership of telephone and telegraph lines.

Mr. Earl Vandever of Philadelphia is the guest of his mother Mrs. John Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Guernsey Dayett of Wilmington were recent guests of George Ferguson and family.

New Century Club News

The New Century Club convened for its first meeting since the holidays on Monday afternoon. After the roll call and the reading of the minutes a motion was made that a rising vote of thanks be given the committee and all those who contributed toward making the Children's Christmas entertainment a success. Many expressions of appreciation were given and the Secretary authorized to end a letter of thanks to Mr. S. J. Wright for the free use of the Opera House. The chairman of the committee, Miss Grime, reported what had been done for promoting Christmas cheer, aside from the entertainment on the 23rd.

Miss Maxwell, chairman of the Library committee announced that Dr. Kollock had presented cases for the Kollock Memorial books. A motion followed that a letter of thanks and appreciation be sent to him. The gift of $10.50 which had formerly been presented by the Club to the Library Committee for book cases will be used for other purposes.

On motion the Secretary was requested to send a letter of condolence to the Smyrna Club in the great loss they have sustained by the death of their president, Miss Emma Hough.

Mrs. Tyson, chairman of the Building Committee, brought the real interest of the Club to a focus by reporting values and dimensions of lots available for purchase for a site for a Club House and also drew much enthusiasm from the members when she announced that a lot had been offered as a gift by Mr. S. J. Wright. The gift also includes concrete curbing and sidewalks. The lot is situated on East Delaware avenue. After considerable discussion for and against a motion was made and seconded that this most generous gift be accepted. A rising vote of thanks was given the donor.

The program followed, "A Musical Afternoon," by Miss Wilson and Mrs. Cann. The club was delightfully entertained by papers on musical subjects, Miss Wilson dwelling on Russian music and Mrs. Cann on that of our homeland. Selections were played by the former and vocal solos rendered by the latter.

Next week the meeting will be in charge of the Educational Committee and will be addressed by Prof. Rich. A full attendance is requested. At a meeting of the Executive Board held before the holidays it was decided to present the janitor of the Hose House with five dollars.

Gibbons Removed From Office

William J. Gibbons was removed from the office of Child Labor Inspector by the members of the Delaware Child Labor Commission at their meeting Saturday afternoon, and Glen Edwards, field secretary of the New York Child Labor Committee was elected as temporary inspector to succeed him. This action was taken after a motion to reconsider the resolution adopted on December 19, asking for Mr. Gibbons' resignation, had been defeated, the vote upon the motion being 5 to 3.

A motion was then made by Miss Emily P. Bissell, seconded by Irene duPont, that Mr. Gibbons should be removed from office, he having refused to resign. All the commissioners, with the exception of Messrs. Marvil, Hazell and Conly voted for the removal of the inspector. Mr. Gibbons has thus been removed from office on charges preferred by a member of the commission which he was not given a chance to defend himself against. The meeting of the commission was held in the office of Charles W. Bush, the secretary, in the Ford building. It was not a "star chamber" session as was held by the commission when the resolution was adopted calling for Mr. Gibbons' resignation. It is stated that the reason for electing Mr. Edwards as temporary inspector is to give the commission an opportunity to look over the field before deciding upon a permanent official.

Improved Roads In New Castle

County Engineer James Wilson states that practically all the sections of good roads contracted for during the summer in New Castle county have been completed. A few stretches not exceeding half a mile in length will be completed in the spring. It is stated that 21 miles of improved highway were finished during the season, the dryness of which was favorable to the work.

NEEDS OF THE RURAL SCHOOL

Question Considered At New Castle Pomona

An interesting meeting of the educational committee of the Pomona Grange of New Castle county, Patrons of Husbandry, was held yesterday afternoon in the Delaware State Fair office, Fifth and Shipley streets. Besides the members of the committee there were present Dr. Charles A. Wagner, State Commissioner of Education; Miss Winifred Robinson, dean of the Women's College at Newark; Prof. Harry Hayward, dean of the agricultural department of Delaware College; Prof. Elmer Cross, superintendent of free public schools in New Castle county; State Master M. H. McCoy and Miss T. T. Weldin. The majority of these persons spoke during the meeting. Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, president of Delaware College, had been invited, but a note stating that he was away on education work and would not return until Monday was received from his secretary.

Horace Dilworth, educational secretary of Pomona Grange, presided at the meeting. He told the purpose of the meeting, of considering the need of changes in rural school management and the need of action in this direction by the Legislature. Practically all of those present took an active part in the discussion, although nothing more definite was decided upon than that a special meeting should be called later to further consider these subjects, and that the chair should have the power to call the meeting. It is believed that resolutions will be presented at the next meeting outlining the matters on which the committee advocates legislative action, and that the legislative committee of Pomona Grange will be conferred with.

The discussion was principally on the lack of uniformity and system among the county schools. It was pointed out that pupils from country schools, receiving less individual attention from teachers and about two months less of schooling than the city scholars, were placed at a disadvantage upon entering high schools and colleges. According to Hervey Walker, of Pomona Grange, who spoke at the meeting, "Pomona Grange has for 20 years been endeavoring to secure uniform and efficient management of rural schools; to have them each use the same textbooks, to provide for better pay for teachers and also better accommodations." It was said that, because of short terms, usually six or seven months of the year, small pay and poor accommodations good teachers are hard to get for the country schools. Also, there are the attractions of the library and many others to lure teachers to the cities.

Dr. Charles A. Wagner stated that the State Board of Education has the matter of regulating rural schools in hand and it is making an effort to bring about favorable conditions. In fact, he said, the board about two years ago inaugurated a system which has been gradually working to the desired end.

The number of textbooks available for each study has been limited, he said, and in the front of each book has been placed a notice to the effect that the system of textbooks must not be changed within the next five years.

"This has been gradually making better conditions, but the change is necessarily very slow. I am glad that you are showing such an interest in the matter, but you must be patient and co-operate with us for results."

Mr. Wilkinson introduced Miss Robinson, dean of the Women's College, who said in part: "We find that the greatest difficulty encountered is that of the range of preparedness among girls entering our school, due to lack of uniformity in preparation. We realize that girls must be prepared as teachers and take up the duties of teaching in rural schools, and wish that we could induce more of them to take up the work. There are many things presenting an unpleasant affront to them. The pay of rural teachers is poor, and I would suggest, perhaps, a graded increase in the salaries of these teachers. With better pay and better conditions, the prospect of rural teaching will become more inviting to girls. We shall be very glad to do anything for the better training of students to be teachers, and would be glad to learn of conditions in each part of the State from where our girls may come." Dr. Wagner emphasized the need of securing information and criticism from each locality.

The educational committee consists of the following persons: Horace Dilworth, chairman; T. T. Weldin, Arnold Naudain, Hervey Walker, Frank Yearsley, Charles P. Diekey, Benjamin A. Groves, Francis dell Janvier, Norris M. Wilkinson and Clarence Craig, the last one, however, being absent from yesterday's meeting.

Another Carload of Food This Week For Stricken Belgium

Last Thursday, through the noble response of Delawareans, we were able to ship our first carload of food to the starving Belgians.

Now let us make this our slogan: A carload a week. Let us all work and give and ask friends to give in humanity's name for the relief of this starving people.

More Food a Necessity

"We need," said a Belgian Committee-man, "200 tons of wheat daily." "We are able to distribute less than a quart of soup, and about a pound of potatoes daily, with a tiny quantity of meat occasionally." "In offering our heartfelt thanks to the American people we pray them to allow their generosity to continue for without them we should have starved, and without them we must starve."

Belgians Uncover to Our Flag

"The Americans have saved us from starvation," was the cry on every lip, the committeeman goes on. "Every American seen in Liege was hailed as a benefactor. Whenever an automobile carrying an American flag passes in the streets the people take off their hats."

Tell Belgium Delaware Gives

Let us tell Belgium that food is coming for her hungry millions, her starving women and babies. Let us tell her "Delaware gives." A small donation from each of us will make that carload this week a certainty.

Here and There

Miss Jessie Kohl, Miss Mildred Rodgrave and Catherine Beaten, pupils of the public schools, and George F. Richards, are ill with typhoid fever at Middletown. It is hoped that the disease will not become prevalent.

Representatives of Wilmington clubs were to meet this week to consider a law that will permit organizations to sell liquor to members.

John E. Greiner, consulting engineer of Baltimore, reports to the Levy Court that the Washington street bridge is safe for traffic and will continue so for years to come, provided proper regulations are maintained and the structure be kept in good repair.

A stray bullet fired by one of the crowd celebrating New Years on Thursday evening struck and broke the eyeglasses worn by a young woman in South Wilmington who escaped with a slight scratch on her nose.

Thieves stole all the honey from the hives of Harry Burleson, near Seaford, last Tuesday night. Hundreds of bees escaped and were found frozen to death on the ground next morning.

Mrs. John J. Black of New Castle, a sister of the late Governor James B. Groom, of Elkton, got an ugly fall at her home on Wednesday when a step ladder on which she was standing broke as she was about to descend. She was badly bruised and severely shocked but luckily escaped other injury.

The body of a man, later identified, as Ellwood Johnson of Elsmere, was found with the head crushed, lying along the B. & O. R. R. tracks near Wilmington on Friday afternoon. A bill for a sweater purchased at a store in Wilmington, bore his name. He had been struck by an express train.

Thomas Fox and William Filbert, charged with assaulting Robert Wilson of Lewisville, while he was selling Christmas trees in Wilmington, were dismissed by Judge Churchman as Wilson could give no clear account of the affair.

Milbourn Williams and Priestly Wheatley, farmers of the Seaford section, last Tuesday slightly tacked them, but they killed it wounded a large eagle which at with sticks. It measured 6 feet 3 inches from tip to tip.

Rev. R. W. Trapnell, rector of St. Andrew's Church, Wilmington, who served upwards of 1500 men with breakfast on successive days in the basement, has received sufficient support to continue the service for two weeks at the rooms of the Sunday Breakfast Association. He will also urge Council to establish a municipal woodyard.

James G. Manning, aged 42 years of 505 West Third street, Wilmington, a P. B. & W. R. R. brakeman, fell under a moving car on Friday night in the Edge Moor yards. Both of his legs were crushed at the ankles and were amputated below the knee, at the Homeopathic Hospital.

A story comes from Seaford that Lewis Jefferson of Blades, whose hand was severed by a circular saw in the Allen Company mill at Seaford several weeks ago, felt pains and itching seemingly in the lost hand. At the suggestion of neighbors, the hand, buried when lost, was dug up on Thursday. The fingers, which were cramped, were straightened and weighted and the hand was reburied whereupon Jefferson felt relief and looks for no further like experience.

Wilmington's financial condition at the close of the year showed great improvement. The money on deposit to the city's credit totalled $306,644.45 against $187,122.88 on December 31 last year, and there are no bills outstanding.

During 1914 there were 1447 deaths, 2465 births and 1074 marriages in Wilmington. During the year the police made 4347 arrests. Since July Building Inspector Anderson issued 257 permits for structures with a total value of $1,647,877.

President Wilson on Wednesday shook hands with twenty pupils of Willard Hall Grammar School, Wilmington at the White House, Washington, which they visited under escort of their teacher, Miss Lena Dillon.

Mrs. John E. Scott, wife of a letter carrier, was roused about 4 a. m. last Wednesday at her home, 512 West Sixth street, Wilmington, and saw a man rummaging the bureau in her bedroom. He ran down the rear stairs and escaped through a window. Mrs. Scott was thrown back at the head of the front stairs by another man who also left by the same window. Two of her husbands uniforms, two sweaters and other wearing apparel were found missing.

Wilmington Council will hold a special meeting today, it is stated, to consider the matter of a bond issue to be authorized by the Legislature to cover the cost of paving to give work to the unemployed on grading as soon as weather conditions permit.

Miss Emma Hough, daughter of Rev. John Hough, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. James P. Hofferker, in Smyrna, last Monday night, of apoplexy with which she was stricken on the previous Saturday evening.

Thomas W. Mabrey (Dem.), returned elected from the Third Representative district of Kent county by 40 majority, has replied to Elmer H. Walker (Rep.) who has served notice of contest on the ground of Mabrey's non-residence, denying all the contestant's allegations and declaring that he, Mabrey, is duly qualified and was rightfully returned elected.

Prizes Offered By State Board Of Agriculture

The State Board of Agriculture this year offered a gold medal for the best acre of seed corn grown in the State this year, and also prizes for the highest yields of corn in the three different counties, and for the highest yield of potatoes in the State. The corn was to be weighed at husking time; and, after drying out, it was to be shelled and prizes awarded for highest yield of dry shelled corn. The contest has now been completed and the following prizes have been awarded:

Alonso S. Whitlock, Odessa, gold medal for best acre of seed corn, and $60 for the best yield in the State—128 bu. 58 lbs. as weighed at husking time, and 108 bu. 8 lbs. of dry shelled corn. J. T. Shallcross, Middletown, $40, first prize in New Castle county—119 bu. 32 lbs. at husking time, and 100 bu. 14 lbs. of dry shelled corn. E. H. Shallcross, McDonough, $20, second prize in New Castle county—95 bu. 52 lbs. at husking time, and 88 bu. 50 lbs. of dry shelled corn; also silver medal for second best acre of seed corn. Naudain & Son, Marshallton, $10, third prize in New Castle county—95 bu. 43 lbs. at husking time, and 77 bu. 38 lbs. of dry shelled corn. J. W. Killen, Felton, $40, first prize in Kent county—96 bu. 53 lbs. at husking time, and 88 bu. 6 lbs. of dry shelled corn. O. F. Basketball At Delaware

Candidates for Delaware's Basketball team have been out for hard practice every afternoon this week. The season opens on January 13 when Temple University five of Philadelphia will play in the local gymnasium. The indications are that the team will be the fastest that has represented the blue and gold for some years.

All of last year's 'varsity' five are out for the team again but there are also several freshmen who will make a try for the first team. Of these Donald Horsey, who had much experience on the Organized Militia team at Dover before entering Delaware last September, stands the best chance of getting a place. Horsey is handicapped somewhat by his size as he weighs but about 130. He proved in the class game, however, that he is an exceptionally good cage man and he will no doubt get a chance in some of the games.

Lacklen and Wiemer of the 1914 team will probably look after the forward positions again with Wills at center and Captain Cann and Dougherty playing guard. This makes a strong combination and the fact that they played together all of last season should help greatly with the team work.

This afternoon the freshmen and juniors will play for the college championship, each of them having won their class game.

FINE PRESS BUILDING AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

Copyright, 1914, by Panama Pacific International Exposition Company.

This photograph shows the fine Press building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915, dedicated to the use of newspaper men, cost $35,000. The building, a two-story structure, is in the architecture of the French renaissance and is provided with comfortable lounging and reception rooms, where newspaper men and women from all parts of the world may make themselves at home. Everybody is welcome at the Press building and correspondents are offered the use of all its facilities.

CALIFORNIA HOST BUILDING AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

The California Host building, official home of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, built at a cost of $2,000,000, including furnishings, will be the headquarters of the exposition officials. Its social functions will be administered by the Woman's Board of the exposition. This is built in an idealization of the old mission architecture and is the second largest building on the exposition grounds. Here the counties of California will display their attractions to the world. The exposition opens February 20, 1915.

Business In Delaware Peninsula

Due in part to the European war, business in the Delaware peninsula has been rather dull, according to the annual report of Frank J. Williams, manager of the local branch of the R. G. Dunn & Company's commercial agency. At the present time, he says, "all industries are dull, especially the leather and iron trades of this city, and, while none of the industrial plants of the city has been actually closed, nearly all are working on reduced time."

The total number of failures on the peninsula this year was 62, as compared with 32 for 1913 and 51 for 1912. The total liabilities were $1,853,408.61, as compared with $208,044.13 for 1913. The assets for 1914 were $1,149,840.13, against $109,375.89 for 1913. The failures in Delaware for 1914 were 43, as compared with 15 for 1913; in Maryland there were 16 in 1914 and 11 in 1913, and in Virginia there were three failures this year and six last year.

In the present year 483 new business concerns were organized in Delaware, as against 353 last year; in Maryland the number was 491, while there were 421 in 1913, and there were 167 in Virginia compared with 116 which relinquished business.

The continued dry spring and summer impaired the crops except wheat and corn, which were bumper crops, and prices were well advanced because of the demand occasioned by the European war. The hay crop was a failure, generally speaking, except in the northern end of New Castle county, while the apple and peach crops were exceptionally large, but prices were exceptionally low. The price of apples was lower than ever known to be, and this year's crop of tomatoes was impaired by unfavorable climatic conditions and there was much waste.

The Ten Demands

FIRST—Don't lie. It wastes my time and yours. I am sure to catch you in the end, and that will be the wrong end.

SECOND—Watch your work, not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short, and a short day's work makes my face long.

THIRD—Give me more than I expect, and I will give you more than you expect. I can afford to increase your pay if you increase my profits.

FOURTH—You owe so much to yourself, you cannot afford to owe anybody else. Keep out of debt, or keep out of my shops.

FIFTH—Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, never see temptation when they meet.

SIXTH—Mind your own business, and in time you'll have a business of your own to mind.

SEVENTH—Don't do anything here which hurts your self-respect. An employee who is willing to steal for me is willing to steal from me.

EIGHTH—It is none of my business what you do at night. But if dissipation affects what you do the next day, and you do half as much as I demand, you'll last half as long as you hoped.

NINTH—Don't tell me what I'd like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet for my pride, but one for my purse.

TENTH—Don't kick if I kick. If you're worth while correcting, you're worth while keeping. I don't waste time cutting specks out of rotten apples.

Dogs On Belgian Battlefields

Amongst the victims of this revolting war animals of all kinds have suffered terribly; none more so than man's faithful friend, the dog. A correspondent of L'Independance Belge, visiting the ruins of Louvain ten days after its destruction, gives a harrowing description of the fate of the dogs left behind by the departing refugees.

The correspondent says, "I will not attempt to depict the terrors and sadness of the sights which met us in passing through villages destroyed by gun-fire and the wanton burning of houses. Many of these houses had been looted and where it was impossible to carry furniture away it was taken into the street and burned, but one gets accustomed even to all these horrors."

"There is one tragedy that the most hardened cannot resist feeling compassion for—the dogs—the only living things we saw on our tour of inspection."

"In the madness of fear hundreds of dogs were abandoned by their masters, flight anywhere was the only thought of the civil population for they knew what awaited them should they fall into the hands of the drunken soldiery roaming about after the burning of Louvain."

"The poor terror-stricken fugitives never gave a thought as to the fate of their faithful and, in ordinary times, loved dogs, so that in hundreds of cases the dogs were left chained up! The enemy were not merciful or they would have destroyed or loosened these poor creatures."

"Many beautiful dogs fastened by strong steel chains have thus remained for nine days without food or water. When the Belgians advanced in a final effort to drive back the enemy a number of kind-hearted soldiers asked permission to free these poor victims of war. In this way hundreds of dogs were let loose, but to the astonishment of their liberators they made no attempt to escape if patted and given food, for these brave fellows were willing to share the scanty rations with them—they neither moved nor ate but looked with saddened eyes as if suspicious of their liberators."

"Sometimes a dog would put his nose outside the kennel, then a paw, but if approached retreated in haste. It was evident that these poor creatures were resigned to their fate and only waited for death to release them from their sufferings."

"Although these dogs had been nine days without food or water and were terribly thin, not one dead one was seen. What the ultimate end of these poor creatures was none knew. A few dogs were met that had not been fastened up and they seemed fairly well; doubtless bones and food in abandoned houses would serve to keep them alive for some time. Many of the more courageous dogs followed the soldiers and were cared for as far as possible. Many having been fed, with that sense of fidelity and devotion to their masters, ran back to guard their homes and if necessary to die at their posts."

The correspondent ends by these words: "We have seen so many hundreds of refugees, so many destroyed houses and villages, but the silent misery of these dogs seemed to touch us more than any human suffering! I hardly dare write this, but it is the truth."

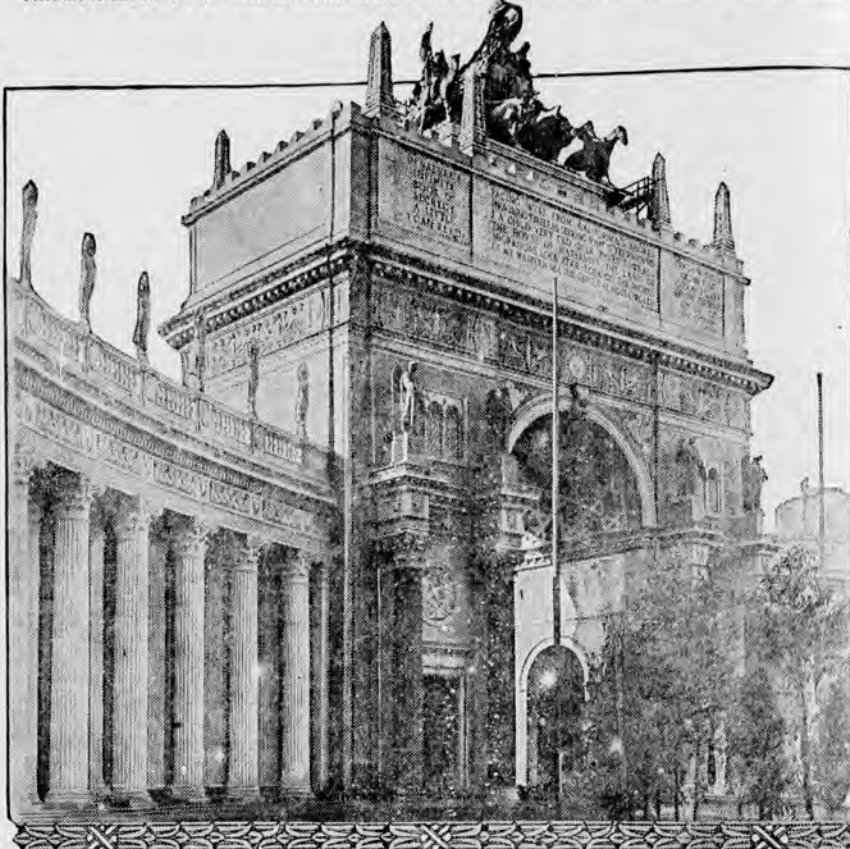

Better to weave in the web of life, A bright and golden filling, And to do God's will with a ready heart,

And hands that are swift and willing, Than to snap the delicate silver thread

Of our curious life asunder, And then heaven blame for the tangled ends,

And sit and grieve and wonder, —Faber.

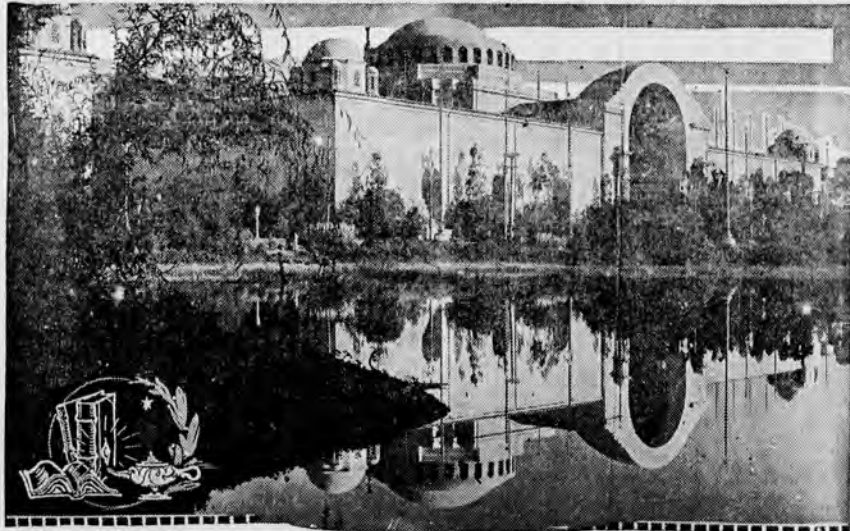

TRIUMPHAL "ARCH OF THE SETTING SUN" PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

Copyright, 1914, by Panama Pacific International Exposition Company.

Triumphal Arch of the Setting Sun, 160 feet high, at the western entrance to the Court of the Universe, the largest of the courts of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. This colossal arch reveals the magnitude of the vast exposition. Crowning the arch is a magnificent group of sculpture, "The Nations of the West." In the center of the group is a great prairie schooner, drawn by oxen, bearing "The Mother of Tomorrow" and two lads, "The Hopes of the Future." A figure of "Enterprise" surmounts the wagon top. By the sides are figures representing the American Indian, the plainsman, the Mexican and the Alaskan. The sculptors were A. Stirling Calder, Frederick G. R. Roth and Leo Lentelli. The exposition opens February 20, 1915.
