White Clay Creek Bridge To Include Four Lane Traffic

$457,272 Project Design
Indicates Future 4-Lane
Highway To Wilmington

An indication that Capitol Trail eventually will be turned into a four-lane highway from Wilmington to Newark is contained in the design for the $457,272 bridge now being constructed over White Clay Creek at the eastern edge of the city.

The bridge itself will be four lanes wide, although the approaches to it will be only two lanes to correspond to the existing roadbed. State highway department officials said this week.

This means that when and if the highway is broadened to four lanes no change will be required in the bridge design.

The bridge itself will be 48 feet wide, enough for four 12-foot lanes. The approaches will be 24 feet wide. Construction of the big concrete structure also will remove a dangerous kink that now exists in Capitol Trail at the city's eastern boundary. The almost right angle turn over the present White Clay bridge will be eliminated along with the span itself, thus removing a dangerous traffic hazard.

Work on the new bridge, which began last January, is moving according to schedule, highway officials said. The structure will be finished in January, 1955.

Funds for the project were provided by the highway department. The contractor is the Empire Construction Company, Baltimore.

University Opens Marine Laboratory Construction Bid

Georgetown Contractors
Submit $58,591.12 Bid
Covering Lewes Project

Reese W. Smith, Georgetown contractor, has submitted a low bid of $58,591.12 to construct a marine biological laboratory near Lewes for the University of Delaware.

The bid was one of four opened last week at the university in Newark.

No contract was awarded. All bids were referred to Stanhope and Manning, Wilmington architects, for the laboratory, for consideration.

The other bids were: John L. Briggs of Georgetown, $66,630; Frank Dolby & Sons, Salisbury, $69,450; and Andrew J. Murray & Sons, Georgetown, $73,478.

The laboratory will be built on the north side of Roosevelt Inlet near Lewes, on land separated from the mainland by the Broadkill River.

The site was selected because the water is clean, unpolluted by water of high salinity, a boat dock area protected from storm damage is nearby, and the area is centrally located among the salt water resources of Delaware.

Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, marine biologist at the university, was in charge of planning for the new building.

Curtis President Gets Distinguished Service Citation

Allen Horton, president of the Curtis Paper Company at Newark, was among those given a silver jubilee citation by the Limited Editions Club of New York City for "distinguished service to the world of books."

The framed award was presented last week at an anniversary banquet at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City commemorating the quarter century of the organization's publications.

Mr. Horton, a director of the American Institute of Graphic Arts, has been president of the Curtis Paper Company for the past seven years. That firm supplies the paper on which the exclusive Limited Editions Club volumes are printed.

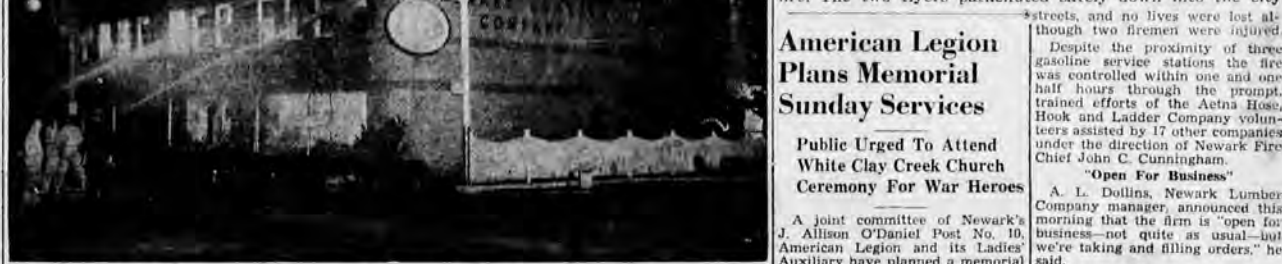

A number of authors, artists, and businessmen were honored at the same event for their contributions to fine publications.

Delaware Park Racing Begins Saturday For 32-Day Meets

Delaware Park, the Diamond State's foremost sports attraction, will launch its 32-day thoroughbred racing season on Saturday with prospects bright for a record season. A near-million dollar improvements and expansion program will provide considerably increased facilities to accommodate the Stanton track's patrons.

Fourteen major stakes are down for renewal, headed by the $100,000 added New Castle Handicap, world's richest race for fillies and mares, on the July 5 closing day. This mile and a quarter classic is expected to be worth a record $122,000 or more. In all, approximately $1,300,000 will be distributed among horsemen, including an all-time high $310,000 stakes program. The $10,000 Wilmington Handicap, as usual, will top the initial card. Three other inaugural features will honor the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Nur Shrine Temple with trophy presentations after each.

John G. Maurer, Jr., safety director of the plant, was notified of the award by Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council. Mr. Dearborn congratulated officials and employees of the Newark plant on the safety program that resulted in 1,435,000 man hours of work without an injury.

Congratulations on the award were extended to Mr. Maurer by J. James Ashton, manager of the Delaware Safety Council, who characterized the plant safety record as "a very commendable one."

Local Youth Wins VFW State Title As Marbles King

Marty Hall, Bear, Stops
Defending Champ Mueller
In Sunday Test At Newark

Newark is fast acquiring a reputation as the spawning ground of marble shooting champions. The current city champ and its ex-champ finished first and second in the state marbles tournament sponsored here last Sunday by the Delaware Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The winner was 13-year old Marty Hall, of Bear, a cool, dead-eyed knuckle artist, who two weeks previously had won the Newark city title.

Runner-up was 14-year old Johnnie Mueller, Glasgow Road, defending state champ and last year's Newark title holder, who went on to finish twelfth in the 1953 national marbles tournament.

Governor J. Caleb Boggs was on hand last Sunday to present the governor's trophy, a gold statue of a marble shooter to Marty, following the grinding four-hour tournament.

Marty, who was in fine fettle all day, worked his way up from the preliminaries to the crown without losing a single match. Johnny Mueller got off to a rocky start in the preliminaries when he lost to Warren Davis, of Newark, but the defending champ got a grip on himself after that and shot his way to the final meeting with Marty.

The two decided the issue in the best of three matches. The first match was a close one, with Marty winning the first two frames. The second match was a walkover for Marty.

The young-at-heart invited to attend the Marionette Show. The young at heart—which includes all age groups—will have an opportunity to see an imported, professional marionette show in Newark next Thursday when Dorothy Zaonick brings her Suzari Marionettes to Mitchell Hall to offer "Hansel and Gretel."

Two performances will be given one in the afternoon at 4 o'clock for the particularly young in years and the second show will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Designed to be seen by other than television audiences and those in the orchestra, the puppets are some two feet high and embody Miss Zaonick's expert knowledge of sculpture, wood-carving, painting, lighting, and theatrical techniques.

Legion Auxiliary Urges Community Display Of Flags

"Be proud you are an American—show your colors" local ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary urged this week in an effort to promote the display of American flags in homes and businesses.

The local Legion Auxiliary has placed flag poles in all classrooms of the new Brookside and Medill elementary schools, and has secured outdoor sets for individual home display, with Mrs. John Fader and Mrs. A. E. Tomhave as co-chairmen of this project.

"One of the finest traditions in the history of our nation," Mrs. Fader and Mrs. Tomhave stated in a joint announcement yesterday "is the pride with which Americans have displayed the Stars and Stripes on national holidays. It is a privilege and personal obligation of every American citizen to own and display the American flag."

Memorial Day, and Flag Day on June 14 are two occasions when we should see our nation's colors flying on every street in the community," the spokesmen for the Auxiliary emphasized.

Korean Pilot of $100,000 MIG Enrolls As Delaware Freshman

A 22-year-old North Korean enrolled Monday as a fine arts student at the University of Delaware, eight months and three days after he flew his Russian-made MIG-15 out of Communist territory in a long-awaited dash for freedom.

No Kum Sok, whose Americanized nickname is Ken, will take preparatory courses when the summer session opens June 21, and follow a four-year course starting in September.

His original interest was in mathematics and engineering, but when he arrived in this country, under the auspices of the State Department, he wanted to study political science so he could return to South Korea and go into government service—"to fight the Communists."

Now, he's not sure just what his study will be, but according to John E. Hootcutt, dean of students, "it will probably lie somewhere between engineering and political science."

Ken can pursue his studies here with assurances of security not always available to political refugees from behind the Iron Curtain. His only living relative, his mother, is in South Korea, safe from Communist reprisals, and there is $100,000 in a trust fund administered for him by the State Department in a California bank—his reward from this government for delivering the MIG to the allies. American Legion Plans Memorial Sunday Services

Public Urged To Attend
White Clay Creek Church
Ceremony For War Heroes

A joint committee of Newark's J. Allison O'Daniel Post No. 10, American Legion and its Ladies Auxiliary have planned a memorial service to honor the memory of the men and women who have given their lives for the nation in time of war.

The public is invited to participate in this annual service which will be presented at 8 p.m., Sunday, May 30, in the White Clay Creek Presbyterian church, one mile east of Newark on Kirkwood Highway or Capitol Trail.

Mrs. Harry N. Herbenner, Auxiliary president, will lead the responsive readings, Mrs. Leon W. Case, Auxiliary chaplain, will read the scripture lesson, and Mrs. W. Floyd Jackson, Auxiliary member, will sing the memorial solo, "There Is No Death."

The post color detail will take part in the ceremony of advancing and retiring the colors.

John List, post commander, will lead in the pledge of allegiance to the flag; John Fisher, immediate past-commander, will lead in the recitation of the American Legion "Preamble"; and Leon W. Case, post vice-commander, will give the memorial prayer.

James H. Bishop, pastor of the church, chaplain of the post, and chaplain of the Department of Delaware, will conduct the service and present a memorial message on the Legion theme, "For God And Country."

Following the Memorial Day parade and the concluding services at the University of Delaware library on Sunday, an exhibition drill will be staged on the campus by the visiting U.S. Navy Drum and Bugle Corps from the Bainbridge Naval Training Station.

Throughout the day's observance, Newark business establishments and private citizens are urged to display the American flag wherever possible.

With The Army

Pvt. Merritt J. Buchanan

Stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., Pvt. Merritt J. Buchanan, husband of Eleanor E. Buchanan of 13 Choate Street, Newark, is receiving training in the Ordnance School at Aberdeen as an ammunition supply specialist.

Graduates of the ammunition supply course are qualified to command a squad of ammunition handlers engaged in the issuance, storage and transportation of military explosives.

The pilot, telephoning his plight to the New Castle County Sheriff's Office, was quoted as saying: "I headed for the only dark space I saw, and my buddy and I bailed out."

Firemen tried desperately to keep the fast-spreading flames from reaching 60,000-gallon capacity fuel oil tanks in one of three gasoline stations which ringed the lumber yard's two-story brick building, and outdoors storage space.

In addition to the Newark fire company, those at the scene were: Singery Company from Elkton, Md., and all from New Castle County: Wilmington Manor, Christiansa, Belvidere, Five Points, Cranston Heights, Mill Creek of Marshallton, Minquas of Newport, Goodwill of New Castle, Talleyville, Holloway Terrace, Minquasdale, the Air Base Company, the Chrysler Corporation Company, Poekessin, Elmore.

It was pointed out that the fire was so intense that it was blowing to the west even greater damage could have resulted, for the buildings are closely grouped and a number are of frame and wooden construction. A two-story frame building just west of the lumber yard, which had been formerly used as a dwelling, was badly scorched.

Firemen used not only the Newark water supply but had laid a hose line about half a mile to White Clay Creek, and were getting extra water there.

At midnight, smoke had replaced the flames.

Blackout Alarm

Electric lights were blacked out right after the crash of the ship but electric power lines carrying 32,000 volts.

At Col. Benjamin H. King, commander of the New Castle County Air Force Base, the pilot was Capt. Leroy B. Hanson, 32 of Salt Lake City, Utah. The other officer was identified as Capt. Howard N. Franklin, also 32, of Medford, Mass. Both were stationed at Mitchell Air Force Base.

Franklin landed in the yard of a Newark home and Hansen, who suffered a slight sprain of one foot, struck the concrete of a wide street not far from the crash scene.

All available fire fighting apparatus in northern New Castle County and from neighboring Maryland towns was at the scene in a matter of minutes, and at least two volunteer fire-fighters were injured.

Injured Firemen

They were Ray Robinson, 38, a Newark fireman, with an injured hand, and Ray Roman, of Wilmington Manor Fire Company, who was overcome by smoke.

Shortly after the crash, word spread that the plane, loaded with explosives, had crashed into the brick office building at the front of the property, the firemen smashed in the plate glass windows.

State policemen joined Newark police in keeping back the crowd which grew hourly. Maryland National Guardsmen on their way home from a drill at the Army on Delaware Avenue also gave a hand to keep order.

"Bailed Out"

S. Hallock duPont Provides 20-Acre Pushmobile Track

Long-Term Lease Costs $1 As "Shrine For Kids" For Quarter Of Century

S. Hallock duPont of Henry Clay, has provided 20 acres of choice rolling countryside near Newark for youth recreation for at least the next quarter of a century.

This was accomplished over the week end when Mr. duPont, president of Pushmobile Track, Inc., transferred the land to the corporation on a long-term lease for a consideration of $1.

The plot, estimated at about 20 acres, surrounds the site in a rapidly developing rural office building district where the pushmobile track is now under construction by George and Lynch. It is situated across from the Louviers Building of the duPont Company, about 25 minutes from Wilmington by automobile.

In essence, the condition of the transfer was as follows:

"In turning over this tract of land to the Pushmobile Track, Inc., it is understood that the organization in turn will make it available to the exclusive use of the Delaware Association of Police, which will have rights to the tract any part of the year in keeping with the expansion of recreation facilities such as a skating rink or teen age dance pavilion—as long as the activities are for the benefit of the youth of Delaware."

While it is true that the construction of the pushmobile track and other facilities are proceeding on schedule, to be ready for the Pushmobile Derby on Aug. 21, this was the actual formal transfer of the control of the property by Mr. duPont to the organization of which he is one of the founders and its first president.

The track will be 30 feet wide and about 1,000 feet long. There will be an underpass, directly under the finish line so that the public can cross from one side to the other, without interfering with the races.

Already many facilities are planned to go underground, such as electrical wiring, telephone lines, etc., in order to preserve the natural outdoor beauty of the spot.

Mr. duPont said he wanted very much to have the area operated as "a shrine for kids." And the construction of the pushmobile track is the first step in that direction.

Local sidelight on televised senate committee hearings—housewives of this area say they're running out of sit-down jobs to do while watching our competent(?) lawmakers squirm under the hot lights. Though the personality insights on the principals are fascinating and despite the viewer's gain of knowledge of parliamentary procedure, this viewer finds the haggling reiteration of the hearing as annoying as getting the carton ends out of a package of frozen spinach.

Frozen Food Demonstration Presented At Locker Plant

The first in a series of demonstrations was held by the Newark Frozen Food Locker Plant last Thursday night, with Miss Marie Schallenberg, food economist, discussing the latest developments in the frozen food industry.

Guests were invited to try a few of the frozen food samples, including banana lollipops, and pineapple tidbits, along with other frigid refreshments, and a meat-cutting demonstration was presented by Louis Kraft, proprietor, to acquaint the guests with the various cuts of meat provided by a beef quarter. The audience was favorably impressed by the entire program—from Miss Schallenberg's talk to Mr. Kraft's finesse with the steaks.

New Agricultural Engineer Engaged For U.D. Position

W. E. Larson, of Logan, Utah, Combines Research, Teaching, Extension Duty

William E. Larson, of Logan, Utah, has been named instructor of agricultural engineering at the University of Delaware.

"This position will combine teaching, research and extension work," explains Prof. Claude E. Phillips, chairman of the department of agronomy and agricultural engineering. Larson will concentrate on a strengthened program of instruction in this subject, with part-time extension duties in working with farm machinery and structures. He will assist Byron Bondurant, who is in general charge of all three phases of agricultural engineering work.

Brookside Reflections

The Brookside PTA dance last Friday evening was a huge success. The Rhythm Doctors were excellent and the Newark Country Club was a grand place for the affair. I hesitate to guess how many couples attended the dance but I can say, without any hesitation, that everyone had a wonderful time.

Prizes were donated by the merchants in and around Newark to winners Al Waters, Ben Dannen, Joe Marchetti, Jim Leedy, Cal Hadley, Mary Waters, Helen Abbott, Bill Macon, and Mr. Morris (I missed the first name).

A very lovely and enjoyable affair and one that will be hard to beat.

A great big thanks to Brad Howes, dance chairman and his committee! Chris Michel celebrated her sixth and Kathy Michel celebrated her second birthday with a combined party last Saturday. Their guests were: Ellen Wright, Daryl Schneider, David and Kathy Middleton, Jeffrey Wright, Susan and Nancy Farrow, Jeanne, John, Kathleen, Steven and Michael Kinney.

The Pender Hundred democratic club held its first meeting Wednesday evening at the Brookside school under the direction of Carl J. Scott, president.

John Bellere, program chairman was fortunate to obtain the services of Eugene Lamont, a prominent Wilmington Democrat, as guest speaker. Mr. Lamont spoke on "The Importance of Registration" and "Do's and Don'ts in the Use of the Voting Machine."

On the Cherub List this week are: Mr. and Mrs. Per Draghein Thorson, on May 17, at the Delaware Hospital, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bradley Thompson Jr., 19 Kerda Drive, on May 23 at the Delaware Hospital, a son.

Congratulations to both couples!

The final meeting of Cub Scout Pack 252 will be held at the Brookside school, 7:30 p.m., Wed. June 2. During the summer no pack meetings are scheduled although several affairs for the Cub Scouts and their families are being planned.

The pack committee met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Case.

White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church

Andrew Lindell, father of Elder Ralph Lindell and Trustee Raymond Lindell, passed away at his Locust Grove Farm home last Saturday. Mr. Lindell has been ill for some time. His condition was complicated by a broken hip suffered in a recent fall.

The Improvement Society is to be congratulated for assuring the preservation of historic White Clay Church through the re-pointing of the bricks. The appearance of the building has been greatly improved. Ladies working in the church kitchen appreciate the installation of a large ventilating fan, last week. Contributions from the White Clay Fellowship and the young adult class made this possible.

The Evening Circle has voted to discontinue the nursery during the church hour until fall, or until parents indicate a desire for this service.

The June meeting of the White Clay Fellowship will be held at church on Tuesday, June 1, at 8 p.m. The program will be in charge of Elizabeth Benson and the Rev. Bishop will conduct the worship. The hospitality committee consists of Louise Peach, Clifford Lynam, Eleanor Trivitt.

Sunday, in the 11 a.m. service, the pastor will bring a message on "New Men For New Days." Flowers during the month of June are in charge of Mrs. David Eastburn.

Memorial Service

Sunday, May 30, is Memorial Sunday. Many seem to forget the real purpose of the day and it has become a grand time for a holiday, an outing, or a picnic. While these activities are good for the family, let us not forget to plan our day so that we include divine worship in memory of those who have given their lives for the freedom which we enjoy.

The annual memorial service sponsored by J. Allison O'Daniel American Legion Post 10 and its Auxiliary will be held at White Clay Church on Sunday, May 30 at 8 p.m.

Members of both the Legion and Auxiliary will participate, and the public is cordially invited.

Perkins Discusses Financial Outlook For State Farmers

University of Delaware President Predicts Firm Farm Real Estate Values

The tremendous rate of economic development in Delaware should mean that the state's farm real estate values will hold steady or advance one or two per cent, Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, told the Delaware Farm Dealers' Association at Georgetown, last week.

Generally the farm financial outlook for 1954 is "not particularly cheering, nor is it a prediction of immediate disaster," he said.

New officers of the association, unanimously elected, were Martin Sterling Smith of Laurel, president; succeeding Curtis W. Steen of Dagsboro; Max Corder, Milford, vice president; and George Stokes of Milford, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Perkins said that although the national economy continues prosperous and unemployment is low, a decline in foreign demand has caused a significant weakness in the farm market.

He also predicted that farm real estate may decline to near the 1951 level—something between $80,000,000. He hastened to add, however, that Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey do not follow the general trend.

The university president made the following predictions on the agricultural picture for the year to come: Farm mortgage debt will climb until it reaches a total of about $7,800,000,000; credit will be difficult to procure for farm real estate; liquid financial assets of farmers will be over $19,000,000,000; time deposits and government bonds held by farmers will go up about $400,000,000, while currency and demand deposits will go down $400,000,000.

Feed a Billion

The University of Delaware head stated that the nearly 2,000,000,000 acres of land in the United States could possibly feed one billion people—six times the present population of the United States.

"Fortunately for our peace of mind there are optimists as well as pessimists in the world. The optimists are little worried about our perked planet," declared Dr. Perkins.

Special guests at the session, which included a fried chicken dinner and professional entertainment, were Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Waller, Prof. and Mrs. A. E. Tomhave and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Worrlow, of Newark.

OUR DEMOCRACY—MEMORIAL DAY

"To you from falling hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high."

—JOHN MCRAE

THESE WORDS, WRITTEN DURING WORLD WAR I BY JOHN MCRAE, CANADIAN POET AND SURGEON, EXPRESS THE SPIRIT OF ALL PEOPLES JOINED IN DEFENSE OF LIBERTY.

SOON AFTER THAT WAR, CONGRESS ESTABLISHED THE BATTLE MONUMENTS COMMISSION TO BUILD AND MAINTAIN AMERICAN NATIONAL CEMETERIES AND MEMORIALS ABROAD AT PLACES WHERE OUR ARMED FORCES HAVE SERVED. TO THE COMMISSION IS ENTRUSTED CARE OF THAT HALLOWED GROUND. AND ON THIS MEMORIAL DAY, LET EACH OF US BE MINDFUL OF THE POET'S MANDATE TO HOLD HIGH THE TORCH THAT HAS LIGHTED OUR AND OUR FATHERS' WAY.

Sports

Otis Gregg's fence-blasting Newark ball club ran into an snag in New Castle and a 16-3 defeat at the hands of the Colonials in a 7-inning Susquehanna League game. Seth and Chalmer then stole second and gave up 10 hits, while Newark collected a total of seven safeties from the offerings of the Colonials' Vannort.

The University of Delaware nine turned back Temple Frazier Field by a score of 3-2 as Hall on the hill, Roman at short, and Taylor, with his base-running, starred for the Hens.

Hall, who turned in his best performance of the year, held the Temple sluggers to five hits, while Roman's work at shortstop saved the Delaware day on numerous occasions. Ace Taylor's flying feet provided the final thrill and won the game for Delaware in the ninth when he came to bat with the score tied. With instructions to bunt, Ace laid one down in front of the plate and beat it out. He came sliding safely home in a squeeze play.

John F. Shaw, Jr., won a silver spoon for low net at the Newark Country Club while E. B. Wright defeated P. B. Myers, 1-up. P. P. Pie Jr. defeated C. H. Hopkins 1-up in the first flight, second round Classes of Eight tournament play.

Newark Little League Season Opens With Parade, Twin Bill

Dr. John R. Downes Pitches First Ball To Inaugurate 2-1 Mound Duel Between Victorious Fire Co. Pirates, Avon Yanks; Jackson Cubs Top VFW Phils In Nightcap

Newark's 1954 Little League baseball season opened Saturday with an elaborate parade, a flag presentation ceremony, and a double header in which the National League Fire Company Pirates won a 2-1 opener from the Avon Yanks and the American League Cubs sponsored by Jackson's Hardware, stopped the VFW Phils 6-5.

The parade of Little League ball players was led by an autocade of local dignitaries, the Junior High School Band, the Color Guard of the VFW J. Allison (D'Amico) Post, and members of the Aetna Hose Hook and Ladder Fire Company.

In leading cars were John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware; Ralph Malden of Avon Products; Ralph Colbert, Little League president; Dr. John R. Downes, city councilman; Earl H. Henderson, president of the CIO-UAW; Wm. A. Martin and George Stover, Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant officials; and Maj. Thomas Beck, U.S. Army Ordnance.

Dr. Downes initiated a pitching duel between the Pirates' Ely and young Pollari of the Yanks, as he tossed out the first ball, and the Little Leaguers took it from there.

5-Hitter

Pollari gave up but five hits to the victorious Pirates while Ely was nipped for eight safeties by the Yanks, but the Fire House Pirates came up with the extra run and the first win of the Newark Little League season.

Spence, in left field for the Pirates, and Fulton at second base, stepped across the plate for the Goats in right field; Conkey, at short; Maddock, first base; and Ely, pitcher, did the hitting. Ely checked in with two hits in three trips.

For the Yanks, Sharpless, at first, and Jaquette, left field, each contributed two hits in three trips, while Lusardi, at third; Dickerson, center field; Angstadt, catcher, and Morey, in right, checked in with a hit apiece.

In the second game, the losers again outbit the victors with a performance of the same quality. A pair of hits each to Stimmel and Brooks of the Phils, and single safeties to Starkey, Blansfield, and Burns.

Whiteman issued but five base hits to the Cubs, with a pair each to Tulley and Stimmel, while he hit to Hummel, Jackson's twirler.

Saunders, Colbert, and George worked as umpires.

Keybold Cops Final 830 At Home In Hen Uniform

With time of 1:54.8, while making his final appearance at Frazer Field, in a Delaware suit, Bill Keybold scored an easy victory over Bob Lewis of West Chester, Pennsylvania State Teachers College champion, in a special exhibition 880-yard match at the Delaware Interscholastic Track and Field Meet Saturday.

Keybold took the lead at the outset and won by 12 yards. He led by two yards after the first lap, which he circled in 37 seconds. He started to open up 300 yards from home and began pulling away from Lewis at that point.

Independent Girls Lose Sunday Tilt To Visiting Phils

Unearned Runs Account For 4-1 Loss By Local Lassies' Softball Team

The Newark Girls' Independent softball team lost a 4-1 contest on unearned runs to the visiting Philadelphia girls' squad on Sunday at the high school field, while the opposing pitchers tossed six-hit ball over the seven inning course.

Philadelphia took a one-run lead in the first inning when Patterson walked, advanced on two passed balls, and scored on a long fly to left field.

In the second inning the Philadelphians converted two errors and a hit into a pair of runs and in the seventh, put together a couple of hits and a Newark error for the final tally.

In the fifth, Newark's Sharpless at third base singled, stole second, and scored on Sturgeon's solid smash to center.

All runs scored thus far during the season against the Newark girls have been of the unearned variety.

The Braves are beginning to move and they will be in the race from here on out. With the Phils and Giants making themselves pesky, this could shape up into a five club race that should have the fans sitting on the edge of their seats.

The Phils look good some days and then not so good. They still have not solved the problem of bringing in the ducks and before long they may be leading the league in "men left on base". Take last Sunday's game against the Giants.

The club left a total of 13 men on the sacks and then lost 6 to 4. A hit in most any inning would have brought in a couple of runs, but no hit.

It begins to look as if the Phils have a lot of hitters for the averages and they don't drive in the runs. They hit when it means getting a man on base, but don't when it means bringing him home. Earlier in the week they did the same thing against Milwaukee and took another licking. Maybe Mr. Hamey will make a deal and they will come up with an answer.

Shadows While on the subject of the Phils, the little tempest they had last week made a lot of noise. Mr. Carpenter had been having his players shadowed to learn if his boys were behaving. So far Granny Hamner is the only one who has complained.

Little Leaguers On Parade

ENROUTE to the opening day doubleheader, and parading in the wake of adult dignitaries and junior musicians, the last of the Giants and the vanguard of the Yankees are photographed in the Main street sun close to the South College avenue corner last Saturday.

5th Annual Park Track-Field Meet To Be Held Here

Park Recreation's fifth annual State Track and Field Meet, scheduled for June 5, will be held at Frazer Field through the cooperation of University of Delaware officials.

This meet is open to any resident of Delaware, and entries are expected from practically all of the place winners in the recent scholastic meets as well as from many of the state's residents who have been performing for some of the universities. Events will include the 110-yard low hurdles, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440, 880, mile, 2-mile, 12-pound shot put, javelin, discus, broad jump, pole vault, and high jump.

but he really hollered. It seemed a private eye from St. George's was on the trail after Hamner and Grannly had him pinched. The apology he received from Carpenter seemed to mollify Hamner and so the incident ended, however, the rest of baseball's higher ups were interviewed and gave their ideas on the subject.

In the old days, shadowing was common practice but today the players are a lot smarter and take better care of themselves.

No club today has a player like Bugs Raymond, Phil Douglas or Rube Waddell—to name a few.

Back Home The A's are back in town this week after a rough journey on the road. They had two losing streaks—one of six and another of seven. Manager Joost has tried all kinds of combinations. When he got the pitching team fell apart in fielding or hitting. When he got the hitting pitchers got bumped, and so it went. Maybe when they get back on their own field they will find themselves.

Cleveland To Hold Tryouts At Dover Field, June 11

Harry O'Donnell, chief scout in this territory for the Cleveland Indians, has announced that they will hold a one day tryout camp at Dover high school on June 11, starting at 9 o'clock. All a boy has to do is to bring himself, his glove and his baseball shoes. If he wants to take a favorite bat along, all right, too.

Any boy who has aspirations to be a pro ballplayer will find this a wonderful opportunity. It makes no difference what position you play. Just make a date to be in Dover on June 11. The welcome mat is out for an opportunity with the Cleveland club.

Renna seems to be the only consistent hitter on the club and then he was hurt in Washington. If Big Gus and some of the others find their batting eyes maybe it will help out the pitching staff. Maybe a tour of the International League with Ottawa will help some of the boys regain the idea of how to win.

The Passing of the Chief The baseball world was saddened by the death last week of Chief Bender. He had been in bad health for sometime but his ending came as a shock to the world of sport. A member of the A's since the early days, he was one of the reasons for those early pennants Mr. Mack won.

He came to the club from Carlisle Indian School and stayed until the end of the 1914 season. After his release by the A's he played with several other big league clubs and then managed in the minors. He returned to the A's as a coach and scout, and in 1952 the fans of Philadelphia gave him a night when over 30,000 turned out to do him honor.

Last year he was the first one elected to the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown by the newly-formed committee of veterans.

Louise Suggs Wins Exhibition Match With Club Champ

Lady Pro Teams Up With Al Dollins To Turn Back Mary McDowell, Joe Aneda

Professional golfing star Louise Suggs—and that is how Miss Suggs spells and pronounces her name—Louise Suggs—teamed up with Newark Country Club's Champion Al Dollins to defeat former ladies champ Mrs. Mary McDowell and Joe Pro Aneda 1-up in a nine-hole exhibition contest last Saturday.

Some 300 persons attended the clinic held by Miss Suggs before the match.

Miss Suggs turned in a medal score of 37; Mrs. McDowell, 42; Aneda, 38, and Dollins, 40.

John Purvis stopped medalist Stan Rapis in the initial round of the President's Trophy tournament by a score of 2 and 1.

In the other first round matches Tom Lovett defeated Doug McMin, 2 and 1; George Fairweather stopped Jim Tyler 2 and 1; and Frank Wright beat Paul McDermott, 2 and 1.

Jack Hare won by default from Spike Williams; Whitey Wester eliminated Dick Ware, 6 and 4; Tom Skripps defeated Art Robson, 3 and 2; and Joe Brunansky stopped Ulmer Dill 4 and 3.

Frank Tolomeo ousted Paul Muselman 1 up; Sam Richards edged Bill Martin 2 and 1; and Jerry Connell turned back Dick Bauer, 3 and 2.

Doyle McSpadden defeated Wallace Williams Sr., 4 and 3; Ray Ott stopped Bob Stewart 6 and 3; and Harry McDonald defeated Bob Manning, 4 and 2.

Boyd Cook, Delaware varsity lacrosse man, was named on the Penn-Delaware Lacrosse Association's first team in the annual selection announced last week.

The University of Pennsylvania dominated the 1954 All-Stars team with four first team berths.

Swarthmore won three first team spots, while Drexel, Delaware and Penn State were honored with one apiece.

The men of action are, after all, only the unconscious instruments of the men of thought.

Marker Discovered
In Glasgow FieldHistorian W. T. Mahoney
Given Custody of Stone
Pending Final Disposition

Glasgow has been pretty well identified as part of a Mason-Dixon Line marker by a student of the boundary's history who has taken it into "protective custody" with the approval of the state archivist.

The 200-pound section is in the possession of William T. Mahoney, a retired DuPont Company official, who has devoted much time to studying the one-time Maryland-Pennsylvania boundary.

He hopes to keep it in out of the damaging elements until the rest of the marker is found or until it is rebuilt on the original site. Mr. Mahoney thinks the stone, found in a field near Route 40, two miles west of Glasgow, is stone 79 of the boundary set up in the 1700s by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon.

Mile markers were set up each mile, with bigger, more impressive stones placed at each five-mile location on the line.

The stone was spotted by Robert E. Seddon of Lyndalia, another student of Mason-Dixon lore who passed the word along to Mr. Mahoney. Mr. Mahoney sent scrapings from the stone to Dr. Harold Beachell at the University of Delaware, who had a quantitative analysis of them done and compared the results with those from a stone positively identified as one of the markers. He concluded that they seemed to be the same kind of rocks.

The similarity was agreed upon by B. G. Nead, research associate of Johan J. Groot, state geologist.

Mr. Mahoney thinks he has the middle section of the original stone and has about concluded that its top and bottom are lost.

Before taking it home with him, he asked for, and obtained the permission of Leon deValinger, state archivist.

Kingswood-of-Brookside
Vacation School Planned

Plans for the first daily vacation church school of Kingswood-of-Brookside Methodist Church were discussed recently at an informal meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, 17 Carlisle Road, Brookside.

Meeting with Miriam Greenfield, Muriel Dismuke, Jean Maury, David Geissinger, Margaret Wright, and Dorothy Cooke, the Rev. Milton H. Keene, recently appointed as minister of the new suburban congregation, directed the discussion.

Tentative plans include starting the school for the children of Brookside on Monday, June 11, after the closing of public schools the preceding Friday. It will end June 25. Margaret Wright, a trained director of religious education, will be in charge of detailed planning.

Mig Pilot

He did not know of the offer, he said, when he turned his plane southward toward Allied lines. It was just the break for freedom he had been waiting for since 1949.

Born and brought up in North Korea, he had seen the Soviet Union take over the country in 1949, and formed a distaste for Communism then. He served a hitch in the North Korean Navy, he said, then joined the Air Force as the best possible means of escape.

He took off from the Pyong-yang airfield on a lone reconnaissance mission. A few minutes out of the airport, he made his decision and headed for Seoul.

Thirteen minutes later he was approaching Kimpoo Airbase nervously, although he had not encountered any planes from either side on the flight.

He could see training planes practicing landings and take-offs on the field and decided to come in on one of those runways.

First, he said, he dipped his wings several times as a signal of friendliness, and coming in as slowly as he dared, dropped flares, and then let down his landing gear, and came down without incident.

He opened his canopy and began shouting "Motocra"—the only English word he could remember—"so people would know I was a friend."

He was taken in hand by the Fifth Air Force. Two days after his landing, he was in Okinawa, where he underwent many weeks of questioning and "experimenting." He arrived in this country May 4, and was brought to Washington, where the State Department took him over for more interrogation. He arrived in Newark May 23.

Test We Forget...

MEMORIAL DAY brings to mind visions of marching men... the muted tones of bugles across many fields around the world. Fields of white crosses under which lie the brave who fell protecting American freedom... the freedom it is our privilege to enjoy and preserve.

Ours is a trust to insure future generations the same American Way of Life passed on to us. The same freedom of speech and religion... the right to live and work where we please, or to risk success or failure of our own efforts in a free enterprising business of our own if we so choose.

As we pause in honor of those who fell, let's be mindful of our freedoms and our trust, exercising eternal vigilance... guarding jealously against all threats from within or without, that those who fought so bravely may not have died in vain.

an air rifle. In the past, I have made studies in scientific crime detection, including the effect of missile impact on glass. If my window had been struck by any object, I could have detected it. But the pattern of the cracks was too even for that and there was no point of impact.

"Yes, I've also heard the argument that it's caused by jacking up the car. Well, before this happened, I hadn't jacked mine up for months. I tell you the car was just sitting there, empty, windows open, nobody near it, and it happened.

"The completely mystified and I'm not drawing any conclusions yet," says Dr. Platt, fretfully.

Newark government, while admitting that the mystery frosting is not uncommon here and elsewhere in the country, also are chary of giving reasons.

One doctor has a theory, though. He says it is all caused by the sun.

"The shattering," he says, "usually happens to rear windows of fairly late model cars. The windows slant, exposing them to the direct rays of the sun. The heat thus generated causes a slight expansion of the glass, a slight expansion in its frame that there is little give, with the result that over a period of time the constant pressure on the glass causes it to crack. I have traveled in the southwest and the shattering is much more common there than here, possibly because the sun is more intense.

This leaves at least two questions unanswered. Why does the phenomenon usually effect rear car windows, rarely the slanted windshields? Why do the windows crack with such mathematical precision through the entire area of the glass?

ly "set him up" by knocking a target marble near the edge of the ring, where Marty easily cracked it out, giving him the necessary seven.

Marty went on to take the second match from Johnnie in a 7-1. Then the doctored Johnnie showed he had the stuff of champions by stepping up to the new titleholder, congratulating him and wishing him luck in the national tournament.

Marty will represent Delaware in the national VFW tournament June 17 at Akron, O., leaving here June 15.

Third in the state tourney here on the Continental Diamond field was Wayne Isaacs, 12, of Milford.

In addition to the trophy awarded by the Governor, Marty also received a plaque from the state VFW commander, Elwood B. Rickards, of Selbyville.

As runner-up in the tourney, Johnnie Mueller received a plaque from state VFW commander, Elwood B. Rickards, of Selbyville.

Young Isaacs was awarded a baseball glove by James Kelley, of Newark, state junior vice commander.

Following the tournament, refreshments were served to the winners and contestants and their guests. The food, including cold platters, milk, and ice cream, was prepared and served by the auxiliary of the Newark VFW post, which was the host post for the tournament.
