Recreation Ass'n Lacks $2,750 In Community Fund Cutback

City Requested To Contribute Deficit As United Fund Drive Falls $106,000 Short Of Goal; Newark Program To Be Curtailed Unless Financial Backing Is Obtained

The public program provided by the Newark Recreation Association may be curtailed this year as a result of a $2,750 reduction in the United Community Fund allocation for this program. Contributions to the United Community Fund were $106,000 short of the established goal.

The Newark Recreation Association, in an effort to maintain its standard community service, has requested the City of Newark to make up this deficit with a municipal contribution of $2,750.

In a letter directed to the mayor and councilman, and presented at last Tuesday night's regular City Council meeting, NRA President Robert C. Meyer states:

"Unless the $2,750 is forthcoming from some source, the Newark Recreation Association must be forced to reduce its services to the citizens of Newark."

Cutbacks, it will mean that four playgrounds will be operated on a half-day basis, and with shortage of supplies. The Summer Youth Center will close three weeks early and will operate short of equipment.

"Bittenhouse Park will be without the services of a lifeguard for the major part of the summer; two only Baseball Leagues may not function for lack of supplies and facilities, and all areas and facilities will receive only token maintenance."

"It is therefore, respectfully requested that the mayor and City Council give serious thought and favorable consideration to the allocation of the present public recreation program operated and administered by the Newark Recreation Association."

Meyer reports that 670 youngsters registered on the four playgrounds at summer with a total participation of 16,200 boys and girls for the 11-day program of eight weeks; that 12 teenagers registered for the 12-week Summer Youth Center; and that 11,000 people swam and used picnic facilities at Bittenhouse Park. The Newark Recreation Association has provided these activities solely from the United Community Fund in the past. Meyer states, "It now requests the financial aid of the City of Newark to permit the continuance of this program."

Panel Of Safety Experts Feature NHS Assembly

In an effort to impress on the student body the reasons for safety precautions and some of the mechanical aspects of the program, a four-member panel of safety experts spoke at a weekly Newark High School assembly yesterday.

Principal speaker was George W. Reed, representative of the Atlantic Reading Company, Lieutenant Colonel and Sergeant Reagan of the Delaware State Police, and Captain Roy Hill of the Newark Police, to speak.

Andrew Marcantonio, head of the school's student driving program, was also present. Richard Hastings conducted opening exercises.

U. of D. Research Aid In Combatting Children's Disease

Dr. Harold Kwart Reports Progress With Knowledge Regarding Cystic Fibrosis

A significant step forward in combatting the disease cystic fibrosis, was announced with reports on research at the University of Delaware Saturday.

Samuel Lenher, foundation president, spoke and reports on research in progress were made by Dr. Edward W. Comings, dean of the school of engineering; Dr. Harold Kwart, associate professor of chemistry; and Dr. George T. Felbeck, Jr., assistant research professor of agronomy.

Dr. Kwart's project, "studies on the structure and construction of mucus materials," began with an analysis of the secretion of a mucus snail, but was recently enlarged to include the nature and constitution of human respiratory mucus.

"This work," Dr. Kwart said, "is largely supported by the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, an organization dedicated to stimulating fundamental research that may afford promise of determining the nature and causes of cystic fibrosis. This disease, third greatest killer of children after accidents and leukemia, is recognized as being of congenital origin and is associated with some abnormality in the functioning of the exocrine glands."

Work with both snail and human mucus has demonstrated the importance of neutral salt constituents of the aqueous medium in which mucus substances are dispersed, Dr. Kwart said.

"The clinical people took up this observation and translated it into practice," Dr. Kwart noted. "They have found that a splendid course of therapy which keeps the patients' lungs quite clear of accumulations and pockets of heavy mucus is to aspirate a mist of saline solution into the lungs at intervals."

Dean Comings' report dealt with research on jets of air which, he stated, is a project having almost nothing to do with jet aircraft.

Dr. Felbeck, director of the Foundation's andelot research on soil organic matter, described the use of ultrasonic irradiation employed in Delaware laboratories to extract organic material from the inorganic fraction of the soil.

Holy Angels Mass Offered For Girl Victim Of Cancer

Seven-Year-Old Renee Mulholland Succumbs After April Diagnosis

A Mass of the Holy Angels was offered last Friday for Renee D. Mulholland, seven, who died of cancer on Jan. 5, at her home, 23 East Stephen Drive, Chestnut Hill Estates.

Renee, a first grader at Holy Angels School, Newark, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mulholland.

The little girl was never told she had cancer, but her father said "she knew she was going away because she was sick."

Her parents told the Rev. Leo O'Neill, Holy Angels and St. John's pastor, that Renee did not have long to live—and Father O'Neill gave Renee her first holy communion in May—a little earlier than usual.

Her parents had an early Christmas party for Renee on Dec. 5, at home, with a visit from Santa. Renee especially treasured the little play musical organ which her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Donald Holdsworth of Chester, Pa., gave Santa to give her.

Renee's struggle with cancer began last April when her parents noticed that she was running a fever at night. She was normal and healthy in every other way.

Her parents took her to the Memorial Hospital. Doctors took x-rays, which showed Renee had cancer of the kidney. The disease had also spread to her lungs.

She was admitted to the Philadelphia Children's Hospital on April 3. This was the first of several trips to the Philadelphia Hospital for x-ray therapy—46 treatments in all. (Continued on Page 8)

Newark Motel Plans Delayed Pending New Zoning Measure

Proposed Ordinance To Rezone South College Avenue Residential Property Tabled Pending New Legislation On Divisional Business Zone; Planning Dept. Ousted

Plans to erect a motel in Newark were delayed when an ordinance proposed to rezone the Jacob A. Correll property off South College Avenue from residential to business, and scheduled for a second and final reading at the regular meeting of City Council last Tuesday night, was tabled pending the outcome of new legislation recommended by the Planning Commission.

At the recommendation of the Planning Commission, a proposed ordinance was prepared and approved at an initial reading last Tuesday night, to provide for divisional business zoning with A and B classifications, both requiring landscaping in keeping with residential surroundings.

The Business A zoning will permit establishment of a shop, office, bank, restaurant, church, personal service firm, or community center, with a 30-ft. minimum rear yard, while Business B zoning provides for a motel, retail store, refreshment stand, bowling alley, indoor theatre, greenhouse, or undertaker.

Betty McClelland, western district council representative, opposed tabling of the proposed ordinance scheduled for final reading, observing that the Planning Commission had "no right to hold up anyone while considering new legislation."

"Planned Zoning"

Councilman William Coverdale replied: "I cannot praise enough the Planning Commission. For the first time I have seen planned zoning."

Harlan Williams in the audience, representing the realty firm of Young & Williams conducting negotiations for the motel site, criticized the Planning Commission for recommending non-existent legislation with attending loss of time, and requested a council vote with "do you want the motel or not?"

Gibby Young, of the same firm, interjected that parties concerned with the proposed motel, were willing to waive immediate action on the ordinance to rezone the property from RS to Business, if the A and B Business zoning recommended by unanimous vote of the Planning Commission would not require resubmission of the motel proposal, asking City Solicitor John Sinclair if such action was withheld, pending passage of the A and B zoning legislation, "will we be any worse off, times-wise, than if our request for Business zoning is defeated tonight?"

After some mental gymnastics with the 1959 calendar on the council chamber wall, consideration of required attending periods, council meeting dates, Sinclair said that he could foresee no time loss.

And the motel matter was tabled pending passage of the supplementary ordinance for A and B zoning.

Departments

The Planning Commission ordinance was amended at a second and final reading, eliminating provision for a planning department.

Mrs. McClelland, in opposing the measure, said she was a member to do away with the planning department. Lay people cannot carry on all the work of the Planning Commission. Already, they have hired a lawyer, a consulting engineer, and Mr. Long has had to provide additional secretarial work to keep up with the Planning Commission," she said. "There is greater need for someone on a full-time basis."

The first meeting to consider the 1960 budget was scheduled for next Tuesday night; the auditing firm of Mack & Company is to be retained to complete the final six months audit for 1959; and Solicitor Sinclair presented the long unsigned agreement—now signed—with Franklin Builders for construction and financing of the Cherry Hill sewer line.

A petition was presented by owners of property adjoining the Correll site off South College Avenue, requesting revocation of "all other petitions for spot zoning" and urging that the recommendations of the Planning Commission be followed to rezone their nine acres.

Reapportionment

Samuel I. Handloff to the audience, asked council "what happened to the plan for reapportionment" of voting districts, and urged that "council reject or pass a suitable plan at the next meeting. I am interested," he concluded, "as a resident of the district with least representation." Mayor Frank Durall requested that the topic be restored to the next agenda.

Council approved a request from Main Street merchants to display three special sale banners across Main Street; action on a request by the Newark Recreation Association for city contribution of $2,750 to the NRA program to compensate for reduced United Community Fund aid was deferred pending budget hearings; and City Manager Francis Neide announced that the codification of municipal ordinances was expected to be completed this month.

In 1960...

THINK TWICE before You Borrow

Installment credit by banks is an important and necessary part of our American way of life. Loans, paid off bit by bit, ease family emergencies, send children through school, meet major expenditures for needed purchases.

Borrowing, however, isn't always a good idea. For unnecessary credit works harm. When we borrow for non-essential purchases or even for normal expenditures which should be met from current income, we use careless credit—overload the family budget, may borrow trouble as well as cash.

So, before you borrow in 1960, think twice—

1. Is your loan really necessary? Is there an important need? Does the loan do more than cover the normal costs of everyday living—costs which should be met from income?
2. Is the loan within your means? In paying can you stretch income far enough to cover both loan and normal costs of living?

Unless you give an emphatic "Yes" to all parts of the above questions, think twice before you ask anyone for a loan in 1960. If you say "Yes," you are cordially invited to come to Wilmington Trust for your Installment Loan.

Our rates are moderate. But even more important, our attention to your needs is considerate and understanding. Helping you borrow wisely is part of the obligation of Wilmington Trust to you, to ourselves, to our community.

The troop's annual banquet is scheduled for Feb. 6, and a Saturday trip to some point of interest in Philadelphia will be made next month, according to Scoutmaster Donald McLaughlin.

All children interested in joining the junior choir of the Christiansa Presbyterian Church are asked to be at the church at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. Transportation will be furnished for those who have no ride to the church. Betty Hill will direct.

The high central pulpit has been removed and replaced by a side pulpit and a lectern. A central communion table has been installed, and new lofts constructed for the organ and choir. The interior is being completely repainted. In the basement, crumbling brick and timber foundations have been replaced, and necessary repairs have been made in the belfry.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Cleaver, Jr., of Rambleton Acres, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Robin Elaine, on Dec. 29. The Cleavers, who lived on Old Baltimore Pike in Christiansa, also have a one-year-old daughter.

LOSERS WEEPERS!

HOW TO SAVE YOUR SHIRT

There are only two ways in which a U. S. citizen can protect his future earnings, beyond a nominal living amount, from virtual confiscation by federal, state and local taxation. One, don't ask for public expenditures for activities which citizens can provide for themselves. In other words, don't favor a "welfare state" and then expect to enjoy the privilege of spending your own earnings as you see fit, because the politicians will be spending them for you. Two, when you have the opportunity, vote "no" to all measures, candidates and office holders carrying favor by raids on the public treasuries for expenditures other than for legitimate functions of governing and national defense.

Only you can save your shirt from being taken by tax collectors who merely carry out the orders of public servants and laws you sanction under present government.

City Council

Decision on charges to the City of Newark for expenses incurred by the Newport commission with enactment of the State Municipal Street Aid Fund, was tabled pending review of Newark commitments, if any, the municipal zoning map is to be checked for current accuracy and acceptance at Mrs. McClelland's urging; and Neide is to follow up on requirements for regular physical examinations of Newark police.

Vernon Steele, finance committee chairman, reported "definite progress in setting up proper procedures by the accounting department, and we are pleased with the amount of work accomplished."

Coverdale cited the need for a traffic light on Capitol Trail at Lombard "to avoid another fatality" and cited the industrial plant, company-manipulated traffic light on South Chapel Street as a traffic hazard with the operation of the municipal light at Delaware Avenue.

Councilman George Neighbors suggested synchronization of the two lights, and the city manager is to notify Continental-Diamond Fibre Corp. of such intent.

Councilman Coverdale objected to "records not in custody of the secretary as required by charter," and said that "filing was behind as much as three years."

Steele said that a file clerk and a central filing system were to be provided in the new budget.

Attendance Awards Councilman George Wilson asked that the charter be amended to provide for a $10-15 fee for attendance at council meetings in addition to the $250 and $500 annual salaries paid the councilmen and mayor.

"We might even attract brains to council—and we don't have too many of them," Wilson said. Sinclair is to prepare the necessary papers, with Councilman Samuel Diehl dissenting.

Diehl urged that commercial users of the municipal sanitary land fill be charged a fee for the "three or four truckloads daily" and Neide is to recommend a fee at the next meeting.

The city manager announced that representatives of the federal housing agency were expected in Newark this Thursday; that a meeting on air pollution was scheduled for next month; and reported that orders had been issued to vacate 12 houses on Cleveland Avenue as unfit for occupancy.

Parking on the curve before a professional office on East Main Street near the traffic circle is to be prohibited for safety's sake; Neide reported that additional capacitors are being installed to obtain an improved power factor; and bills presented by Fairfield Construction Company for $12,744, and for $3,553 as the cost differential in construction of 8-in. and 12-in. water mains and interceptors are to be paid subject to city acceptance and dedication of such lines.

The Boy Scouts' request to raise and lower the flag in front of the Academy Building during the week of Feb. 8-15, was approved, with Councilman Coverdale commenting "They'll do better than some of us. I come by and see the flag flying at night."

Zoning, Planning Topics For League Of Women Voters

Public Meetings, Thursday; For Wednesday, Thursday; Agenda Item To Be Chosen

Zoning problems and new concepts in planning and zoning will be discussed by the Newark League of Women Voters at regular unit meetings next Wednesday morning and Thursday evening.

The discussions will continue topics introduced earlier this month, with information on Newark's planning commission and local surveys.

The committee has prepared background information "in consultation with numerous local people to whom we are most grateful," Mrs. Jerry A. Nelson, chairman, said yesterday.

Other committee members are Mrs. John Eldridge, Mrs. E. Vernon Lewis, Mrs. Halsey MacPhee, Mrs. Joseph R. Perkins and Mrs. Clyde Richards.

Members of the league will express their choice of subjects for concentrated study and action during the next year.

Mrs. Joseph R. Perkins, president, said "This year, we have two local items—the Levy Court of New Castle County, and planning and zoning in Newark. We must ask ourselves, are we ready to reach conclusions leading to action, or do we wish to continue our studies—and with what emphasis—or should we drop one or both of this year's topics and choose something else instead?"

As prescribed by league by-laws, Mrs. Perkins said, member suggestions will be reviewed by the board of directors and returned to the membership for consideration at least a month before the annual meeting in March.

The league acts only on governmental issues, and the local, current agenda must deal with an important community problem which can be tackled at a local level of government.

Pow Wow Planned For Cub Scouting In Local District

The Capitol Trail District, Boy Scouts of America, will conduct a Cub Scout Pow-Wow, at the Anna P. Mote School on Kirkwood Highway. This Pow-Wow for adult leaders and parents of Cub Scouts, will feature an informal exchange of ideas rather than a formal training program.

Games, handicraft, stunts, skits and ceremonies, and administration of Cub packs will feature the Pow-Wow.

The Capitol Trail District, which covers the area from Price's Corner to Newark, has 20 active Cub packs.

The Pow-Wow committee, headed by J. R. Freed, has invited all Cub packs in the district to participate, and any interested adult in the area is invited.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mel Hunter at the Boy Scout office in Wilmington. Cost will include dinner and a Pow-Wow notebook.

The program will begin at 1 p.m., and will conclude with a blue and gold dinner at 6 o'clock.

All Cub packs conduct a similar dinner in February, and this year's dinner has special significance since 1960 is the Golden Jubilee Year for Boy Scouting in the United States.

David is a student at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa.

Next Wednesday morning's meeting will be held at Mrs. Perkins' home, 403 West Chestnut Hill Road. Coffee will be served at 9:30 and the discussion will begin promptly at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. William Long will be hostess for the Thursday evening group at her 403 Country Club Drive home at 8 p.m.

Non-members are welcome and are invited to call Mrs. A. D. Duff, Townsend Road, before the meeting they wish to attend.

The general public will have an opportunity to hear part of the league's discussion on Radio Station WDEL next Wednesday at 7:15 p.m., when Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Nelson will talk over some highlights of "The Exploding Metropolis" in which the editors of Fortune Magazine discuss problems of city growth and planning.

Marshall Saunders Tops Newark Scorers As Yellowjackets Wallop Wilmington Hi

Marshall Saunders, with nine field goals, was high scorer last Tuesday night, as Coach Bill Conrad's Newark High School Yellowjackets overpowered the Red Devils at Wilmington High School, 62-44, with a surging, second half scoring session after a 25-point, half-time tie.

The win gave the Yellowjackets a 1-1 split in conference competition, and a 2-1 interscholastic record for the season, plus an initial victory over the Newark alumni.

Coach Conrad's eagles lost a home stand with P. S. du Pont last Friday night, 57-40, in their first exposure to Blue Hen Conference campaigning.

In Tuesday's win over Wilmington High, Joe Studier was runner-up for Newark with 15 points, including six field goals; and Carl Rice sank seven field goals after leading his mates in scoring for the first three games—wins over the alumni, Kennett Square, and the loss to P. S. du Pont.

Topping the Wilmington eagles, 15-13, in the first quarter, Newark was on the short end of a 12-10 scoring session in the second period for the half-time tie.

But in the second half, the Yellowjackets ran wild, topping the Red Devils, 21-9, in the third quarter, and leading their hosts, 16-10, in the final period for the 62-44 victory.

The Newark jayvees lost the preliminary contest, 57-33.

Last Friday, P. S. du Pont gained a 29-13 advantage over Newark in the first half and remained in command.

Upsets, Nip-Tuck Basketball Feature NRA Senior Games

Upsets and nip and tuck basketball featured Recreation Senior Basketball League play last Monday night as the improving Delaware State Police gave notice they are very much in the league, beating Avon in overtime, 67-61.

At the end of regulation play, Avon was winning by two points. However, Trooper Billy Knotts had two foul shots to make—and made them both—and sent the game into overtime.

Pete Shelton led the Trooper scoring with nine baskets and five fouls for 23 points.

Bill DeLar once again paced the Avon attack with 24 points, followed by teammate George Dutton who hit for 22.

Previously unbeaten Jackson's Hardware suffered its first defeat at the hands of an inspired Continental Diamond Fibre squad.

Jim Martin displayed fine team play and a hot hand, leading the Fibre scorers with 21 as teammates McFeely had 10, Howarth nine, and Wendell Osborne, eight.

"Little General" Dave Stimmel was high point man for Jackson's as Don Hughes scored nine, Homer Hilmer seven and George Morrow, Clyde Louth and Bob Howarth, six each.

Next Monday, it's the State Police vs. Continental Diamond at 7 p.m., and at 8:30, Jackson's vs. Avon.

Ann Dunn's 278 Tops CDF League With High Single

George Reynolds, with a 269, and Ann Dunn, with a 278, scored high single games for men and women during the first half of the Continental-Diamond Fibre Corp. Bowling League schedule, President Lewis Fell announced Tuesday. John Gerominski is secretary, and Frank Riley, treasurer.

Gene Brown rolled a three-game 655, and Ann Dunn, a 648 as high series scores for the first half season.

First Half Standings

With a mighty splash, Herman Klahr fell off the end of the plank dock and through the ice into the cold, black water of Prime Hook Creek, and after a long drive from Newark to the Sussex County picket water below Milford, our fishing trip appeared to be at an end before we had wet a line.

But Mr. Klahr has all the durability of a polar bear or a Chesapeake Bay retriever, and despite his early immersion in the January ice water, fished with enthusiasm well into the afternoon when a weak, westerling sun chilled and chased his companions back to the warmth of the car for the long haul back to Newark in the cold gold of the trying, dying day.

With a bucket of lively bullhead minnows obtained from a friendly bait dealer on U.S. 13, north of the St. Georges Bridge, we drove through Milford, across Waples Pond, and turned off the highway onto the sandy road leading to the Prime Hook backwater.

January Jolt
The farmer's wife registered some surprise when we stopped to inquire about renting a boat on this January day, but provided a pair of oars from winter storage in the barn, along with her expression of doubt that the boats were still in the water.

Driving into the woods toward the creek, major obstacles in the path of picket fishing appeared to be a morass of trees and brush along the trail through the trees, and the likelihood of finding the boats in winter drydock.

With a splash, we drove into the mud and water, sloshed and slewed over the submerged rut—gained the high ground beyond the rut—and rolling easily over the pine needle carpet, drove down to the creek to find the boat in the water. We had it made—we thought.

The boat was not only in the water—there was plenty of water in the boat. And a thin sheet of ice covered the water beside the plank-dock.

After some bailing with a scoop had failed to lower the ice water level appreciably, we broke the boat from its icy bonds and hoisted it up onto the dock, and with Herman on the end of the dock at the bow, lifted the boat on its side while the water drained out.

Man Overboard!

And then with the boat empty—and one head the same way, with no thought but to get the boat into the water—we gave a shove on the stern—and pushed our friend at the bow into the Prime Hook ice water.

For a very brief moment, Herman disappeared beneath the surface, and then with a splashing jump that jarred on the end of the ice water and onto the dock with a question hard to answer: "Why did you push me in?" he asked.

And until this writing, we didn't realize that our shove on the stern of the boat had pushed him in. It was cold; things were a bit hectic in wrestling with the boat; and Herman's sudden splash in the creek, along with subsequent salvage operations, temporarily terminated any continuity in accounting for the debacle.

Benjamin Franklin was truly one of the most useful citizens and public men his country ever had. He always seemed to get what he wanted, and did much for the United States when it was in a great need.

Franklin was in a dispensable to the age in which he lived, and through his life and writings has influenced a host of people to be better Americans.

His birthday is celebrated Jan. 17th.

Although we honor the memory of men like Franklin on a specific day and month, we should be conscious of good insurance practices all the year round. We are aware of your needs.

With artificial lures, the boys had failed to get a strike, but upon our arrival, the first bullhead dropped into the tumblehole just off a sandbar in the swirling, dark eddy below the waterfall, was grabbed by a golden green pickerel that dragged the red and white bobber down into the depths.

We caught three pickerel—missed a half dozen strikes by being over-anxious—fried fish and bacon in a black skillet beside the water—and arrived back in Newark just ahead of nightfall.

And at this writing, Herman Klahr is alive and well—no cold nor pneumonia.

Nelson Discusses Major Vs. Small College Football

Big Time Grid Challenge "Isn't Important To Me" Delaware Coach Relates

Why won't Dave Nelson, the most sought-after college coach in the nation, accept the challenge of big-time football?

"It isn't important to me," says Nelson, originator of the wing-T offense and holder of a 75-28-5 record in the last 10 years at Delaware.

"I get just as much satisfaction out of beating Connecticut or Rutgers as I would out of beating Illinois or Minnesota if I were coach at Michigan."

Nelson attended the annual meeting of the American Football Coaches Association in New York last week.

This week he will go to Miami Beach where, as member of the NCAA Football Rules Committee, he will vote on the AFCA's recommendation for unlimited substitution. The Admiral is known to be in favor of the limited substitution in effect.

"The game's the thing," Nelson said. "Recognition just isn't that important. It's tougher to teach football on the small-college level than in the big time. And it's even tougher on the high school level."

Bob Ingalls, coach at Connecticut and center on the same Michigan team with Nelson, said, "What a lot of people forget is that Davey had a taste of the big leagues when he played for Michigan. He knows all about jam-packed stadiums and hero worship. He has found his niche and is happy in it."

Ogletown Jr. Boys Basketball League Results Reported

In the NRA Ogletown Junior Boys Basketball League division, comprised of eighth graders, the Warriors beat the Hoopers 33-9. The score remained fairly close during the first half. However, the victors pulled away in the third quarter.

Jones was game high point man with 13 as teammates John Subach, Gary Springer, Ricky Hicks and Charles Simpers each scored four.

Eugene Zebrowski led the Hoopers with six points.

The Globetrotters edged the Vultures in overtime, 23-10. Ronnie Kaper led the Trotter scoring with 11 points, teammate Hicks had seven, and Dennis Bolden scored four points to lead the Vultures.

In the senior division of eighth and ninth graders, the Comets defeated the Beatniks, 19-8. Mike Smith was high scorer for the Comets with nine points, followed by teammate Bill Lackie with six. Lynn Keene led the Beatniks with five points.

The Lancers edged the Colts, 28-24, in a game that wasn't decided until the last three minutes of play. James Johnson of the Lancers took game scoring honors with eight field goals and a foul for 17 points, while Tom Blist and Drendell each had 10 points for the Colts.

The Blackchaws outlasted the Vampires, 13-8, as Bayard Hendricks scored six points for the winners; teammates Bob Blumman, four, and Tom Sharrah led the Vampires with six points.

drop our disappointed 11-year-old companions off at the Cedar Pond tumblehole to fish while we drove into Milford for a dry pair of pants and socks.

"I'm not cold," Herman said. "I feel good. It woke me up."

After taking off his sodden, woolen trousers, socks, and outer jacket, Mr. Klahr discovered that he hadn't been soaked through and through. Understandable, too, since no one ever remained in any water more briefly. Putting on a pair of dry, thermal boots, an extra jacket, and a spare parka in the car, and with new, dry pants, socks, and a cap purchased at Milford, Hardy Herman was ready to fish. And he did.

Driving back to the Cedar Lake tumblehole where we had left the two boys, we found Billy Richards and Billy Waggaman fishing with more enthusiasm than success.

With artificial lures, the boys had failed to get a strike, but upon our arrival, the first bullhead dropped into the tumblehole just off a sandbar in the swirling, dark eddy below the waterfall, was grabbed by a golden green pickerel that dragged the red and white bobber down into the depths.

Carl-Olaf Homen Takes 2d In Mile At Baltimore Meet

Delaware's Carl-Olaf Homen finished second in the 14th annual Eastern AAU Track Championships, first of the season's indoor meets, at Baltimore last Saturday night.

Homen led most of the way in the mile before overtaken by Quantico's Mike Fleming.

This was the first time Homen, the Blue Hens' undefeated cross country runner, ever raced on boards and Coach Ken Steers was pleased with his performance.

Homen, who has been working intermittently, is not yet in top form.

Delaware's relay teams fared well, the mile team winning its section, and the two-mile team placing second.

Al Huey, Delaware team captain, ran on both units, and on the winning mile team, ran the anchor lap in 52 seconds flat.

Running with Huey on the mile team were Ken Schroeck, Tom Gutshall and Cliff Lossee. They were clocked in 3:38.3.

Huey's mates on the two-mile team were Chet Stachecki, Tom Crumlish and Wes Stack. The Hens were timed in 8:29.4.

Overall highlight of the meet was Don Bragg's clearing 15-3 in the pole vault. It smashed every Baltimore record and marked the first time in several months he has topped 15 feet.

Rawstrom's Mermen Lose Swim Event At Lehigh

Lehigh gave Coach Harry Rawstrom's Delaware mermen a 78-17 dunking in their swimming meet at Bethlehem, Pa., on Saturday. It was the Hens' second loss in three meets.

Dick Cheadle took the 200-yard butterfly event as the lone Delawarean to win a first place.

Lehigh also defeated Delaware in the freshmen prelim, 59-35.

Dutch Holsinger, former Mt. Pleasant High athlete, won the diving competition for Delaware.

Hens To Face Bullets At Home Tonight Delaware Loses To Ohio State, 109-3

Hoping to improve their fortunes on their home court, Coach Irv Wisniewski's University of Delaware eagles will meet Gettysburg tonight at 8:15 in Middle Atlantic Conference competition at Carpenter Field House. The Bullets are the country's sixth-ranked team in field goal accuracy.

A freshman game at 6:30 will precede the varsity clash.

In other basketball activity before final examinations break up the winter schedule, Delaware will meet Rutgers at New Brunswick, N. J., on Saturday, and return home next Monday for a game with Ursinus. The freshmen also will play both dates.

Delaware's basketball team snapped a sad series of setbacks last Saturday by stopping Swarthmore, away, as Co-Capt. Chuck Hamilton led the Hens with 26 points to their second victory in 11 starts. The Blue Hens sank Swarthmore, 66-73.

Against the Big Ten Buckeyes of Ohio State last Monday in Columbus, however, Delaware was badly outclassed.

The Buckeyes wore out both the official scorer and Delaware in a 109-38 romp, even though their shooting ace, Jerry Lucas, was sidelined with an ankle injury.

The fourth-ranked Buckeyes took over sole possession of the Big Ten lead when both Michigan State and Purdue lost Monday night.

The 109 points against Delaware was an all-time high for Ohio State.

whose previous best was 106 against Miami, Fla., in 1953.

The steady flow of points back memories to some of Ohio State's football juggernaut of '30's under Coach Francis A. Schmidt which ran up such adding machine figures as 65-7 against Drake, against Western Reserve and against New York University.

This setback, by 71 points, the most decisive ever administered by the Blue Hens.

Chuck Hamilton was the Delaware player to score in double figures, accounting for 11 points. Delaware, which scored only field goals in the first half, managed to tie the game only once, 4-4, but then Ohio State spurred a 57-16 halftime lead.

Coach Harry Rawstrom's winning team will complete the half season Monday by entertaining Franklin and Marshall in Taylor Pool at 2 p.m.

The Hens' mermen are led by captains Jerry Harrison and Dick Cheadle.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

U. of D. Agricultural Extension Service

Three foods that rarely change in price are butter, lard and margarine, but all three have been edging down in price for the past three weeks. Butter dropped another penny this week and is selling at an average of 75 cents a pound. Both lard and margarine have dropped several pennies.

Of course the price span in margarine is great but this food can be purchased as low as 26 cents a pound in many stores.

Lard is as low as 16 cents a pound, a low price for this food. The weather is affecting the fresh fruit and vegetable market again. With snow, sleet, ice and in general, freezing weather in many of the growing areas during the past two weeks, quality of many fresh fruits and vegetables needs to be checked.

While his brother watched, Delaware's newest Citizen-Marine was sworn in recently at the Kirkwood Highway Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center.
