

Gas War Headed Off At Parley Of Eight Dealers On Monday

Elliott Agrees To Hold Price
Line After Urging General
Reduction Here

The threatened gasoline price war headed off here at a meeting of eight dealers Monday afternoon, when Elliott Sunoco dealer, reluctant to hold his prices in line with the others for the present.

The session, second in a week, was scheduled for noon tomorrow but was moved up when the dealers indicated they were ready to settle the issue.

Previously, Mr. Elliott had announced intentions of cutting his price to 24½¢ per gallon, a drop of about two cents below the remaining dealers in the Wilmington and suburbs.

He said he felt the move was necessary in order to meet competition. Prices have been cut since early June, Mr. Elliott quoted sales figures to prove his volume had been dropping steadily since that time. He said he had no intention of launching a price war in Newark but was seeking a general price reduction.

At Monday's session, the remaining dealers solidly lined up against a price reduction, claiming their already slim margin of profit would be wiped out by the move. Some admitted that their volume had also been dropping off but felt that the proposed reduction was not the solution, since it would require virtually doubling their present sales volume in order to hold their current net incomes.

They insisted a better method to reduce customers was to step up service benefits.

Mr. Elliott was not convinced by this argument. He felt that what was lost in gas sales would be counterbalanced by increased sales of accessories, such as oil and grease, as his former customers returned.

He said after the meeting, however, that he would not make the first move but prices since he did not want to put "down on him." He indicated, though, that, if business continues to decline, he may be forced to independent action.

The Newark chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will open its fall program with a meeting this Saturday afternoon in the Cleveland Avenue Community Center.

The business meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served starting at 4:30 p.m. at the Center for the benefit of the chapter.

The Rev. George T. Walton, president of the chapter, will address the group at the business meeting and will discuss the local and national plans for the association. Plans will also be presented for the organization of a youth chapter under the leadership of Miss Gloria Howard and Mrs. Naomi Rosenberg.

Mr. Julius Ryland, chairman of the fund raising committee, announced to the organization this week that the committee had raised a total of $150 in expenses involved in the recent case concerning admission of Negroes to the University of Delaware.

The sum will be added to the funds raised by the Wilmington organization.

Mrs. A. H. Able, chairman of the educational committee, also announced that a fund had been set aside to help colored students at the University of Delaware. Efforts are also being made, she reported, to find part-time housing and eating places for colored students.

The family doctor who arrived shortly after the accident, pronounced the victim dead. Coroner William Smith, Jr., who certified the death as accidental, said Mr. McKeowan had probably been walking in his sleep and was unaware of his surroundings when he fell.

A retired farmer, Mr. McKeowan moved into Newark four years ago. Prior to that, he operated a farm on the New London Road most of his life. He was a native of this vicinity.

General services were held yesterday afternoon at the R. T. Jones Funeral Home. Interment was in Head of Christians Cemetery.

John McKeowan, 81, died Sunday, as a result of a fall down his cellar steps from his home, 143 East Cleveland Avenue.

Construction Still Held Up On Two Houses Because Of Zoning Law Violation

Construction is still being held up on two new bungalows on East Cleveland Avenue believed to be in violation of the zoning ordinance.

The issue was aired at a meeting of the Board of Adjustment last week, but no action was taken. Currently a survey is being made of the two properties to determine the extent of violation.

Both buildings have been placed too near adjacent property lines. The law calls for an eight foot clearance between the sides of the dwellings and the property lines. The new buildings are believed to be about five feet from the lines.

The builder, G. Wesley Wollaston, secured a building permit, as required by the zoning law, before starting construction, but apparently misunderstood the clearance regulations in that area. One of the homes is almost complete, and the other is well advanced. Both are of cinder block construction and have cellars.

Unless some other solution can be found, the buildings, which are situated side by side will either have to be moved or Mr. Wollaston will have to acquire additional property on the sides.

Dr. Colburn Grooms 500 U. of D. Freshmen In Talk On Monday

Urges Incoming Students To Cultivate Friendships With Faculty Members

Five Hundred University of Delaware freshmen were urged Sunday by Acting President Allan P. Colburn to "take the initiative in cultivating friendship with the faculty, because you will find this one of the most rewarding of your college experiences."

Addressing the new Class of '54 at its first assembly in Mitchell Hall, Dr. Colburn pointed out that "the faculty can help a great deal more than in their classroom instruction. They are anxious to become personally acquainted, but because there are so many more students than teachers it is hard for the faculty to take the initiative. So I am urging you to take the initiative."

"Don't hesitate in calling upon the faculty in their offices or homes. Make a standard practice of speaking to every member of the faculty whenever you meet. You will find your friendships will be rewarding, particularly because your professors have so many interesting sides. They wouldn't be teaching unless they had a great interest in the students and a corresponding interest in ideas and in cultural life."

Dr. Colburn expressed the hope that the freshmen will develop "a tremendous loyalty to the University of Delaware," which he said "has an impressive history and is a first-rate institution of which you may be extremely proud." He cited accomplishments of alumni and the present staff, and advised: "Do everything in your power to insure that you stay here."

"We have so many requests for admission from out-of-state that we can accept only a small fraction of them," he added.

Dr. Colburn told the freshmen to "think now of what your goal is in your educational activity at the university." One of the ways of setting (Continued on Page 10)

Richard O. Gifford, son of Mrs. Mary Gifford, Harmony Road, is beginning his freshman year at the University of Delaware this week.

Capitol Trail residents were shocked late last Thursday afternoon by another serious automobile accident. The driver of the car, Robert V. Stout, of Rockborough, Pa., failed to make the turn at White Clay Creek bridge and collided with one of the abutments with such force that the car was badly damaged. Mr. Stout is confined to the Delaware Hospital with severe lacerations and possible skull fracture and internal injuries.

Traffic on the highway had to be delayed over Red Mill until the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company could extinguish the fire which had started in the car.

Manlove D. McMullen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Manlove D. McMullen, Capitol Trail, left this week for New Haven, Conn., where he expects to complete his senior year at Yale University in February.

White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church The Junior Choir under the direction of Miss Hazel Johnston rehearsed on Monday evening in preparation for their participation in the morning service on Sunday, Sept. 24, at 11 a.m.

On Wednesday evening members and friends of the church enjoyed a covered-dish supper sponsored by the choir for the benefit of the Improvement Fund. Mrs. Raymond Benson served as chairman.

At a meeting following church service last Sunday, the following members of the Woman's Missionary Society announced that they plan to attend the fall meeting of the Presbyterian Society to be held in Salisbury, Md. on Tuesday, Oct. 10: Mrs. Paul Peach, Mrs. James H. A number of members expressed a desire to attend the sessions of the fall Missionary Conference sponsored by the Wilmington Council of Churches on Sept. 24, 25 and 26.

Mr. Willard Johnston, superintendent of White Clay Creek Sunday School, announces that Rally Day is being observed next Sunday, Sept. 24. Promotion exercises will take place, also, the granting of attendance awards. The session will start at 10 a.m.

Rally Day will likewise be celebrated in the church service at 11 a.m. with a message by the pastor on "God Calls to Action."

A cordial invitation is extended to the community to attend a candlelight service in the sanctuary at 7:30 p.m. with a pastoral message on "Setting Our Thoughts on Fire." This service is sponsored by the Westminster Fellowship with the young people participating in the service.

The Improvement Society will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Della Othoson and Mrs. Jane Chambers, with Mrs. Alice Hammell, president, presiding. Miss Elizabeth Brown will have charge of the program. The Refreshment Committee consists of Mrs. Della Othoson, Mrs. Jane Chambers, Mrs. Paul Peach, Mrs. Margaret Johnson.

Rev. James H. Bishop reports that the teams are working hard to complete the church census for the area and he hopes that all information will be turned in this week. The census is sponsored by the Wilmington Council of Churches.

Many favorable comments have been made about the unusual displays of flowers from the manse and from gardens of other church members, which have helped to beautify the sanctuary during the summer months.

these cars and their dealers... are earning friends as never before

Already, 1950 stands as the biggest and busiest year in American automobile history. But it is far from being the easiest one. All concerned—buyers, dealers, manufacturers—each has had his special difficulties.

The very excess of demand over production has made it hard for buyers to get or dealers to provide just the model and color wanted on just the delivery date desired.

In view of all this, we take especial pride in the great record of owner satisfaction and enthusiasm our 1950 lines of Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto, and Chrysler cars are making.

Never have we so strengthened the enthusiasm of long-time owners of our products for the new values they get today. And never have we won such enthusiastic new friends from among former owners of other cars.

This is because of our 1950 cars themselves. In their engineering, design, and workmanship of construction, they are the best cars and biggest values we have ever offered.

And also, it is because of the kind of men who sell our cars and the way they treat their customers and prospects.

The businessmen who handle Chrysler Corporation cars have been deliberately sought out and encouraged to be the best and most responsible motor car dealers in the world.

Their businesses, like our own, are built on Walter Chrysler's basic idea that success in this business is based not just on making a sale of a motor car, but in winning a friend who will buy many cars in his lifetime. This means starting with great value in the car itself—then adding honesty and fairness in distributing cars—in making trade-in terms—in equipping and conditioning your car for delivery—and, above all, in expert and conscientious service as you use your car.

Below are the names of our dealers in this area. Talk to them before you choose any new car. They are doing a wonderful job, with a wonderful line of cars. Drop in, and see how much they have to offer you this year.

Safety Hints

Well, boys and girls, the school bells have rung and called the classes together again!

It's kind of exciting, isn't it? ... Looking forward to seeing all your friends and classmates again ... Yes, September is "back to school" month for girls and boys everywhere.

And here's some pretty sound advice from the Delaware Safety Council for you to take along with you to your classroom. In the first place, learn the safest way to and from school and follow that route every day. When you are walking, be sure to stop at the curb, look both ways and for turning traffic before you cross. Cross streets only at crosswalks, too, and walk—don't run across the street. Obey traffic officers, school crossing guards, school safety patrols and all traffic signs and signals along the way ...

And here's some more advice from the Council to protect you during after-school play hours: Play on playgrounds, yards or vacant lots—never in the streets. Roller skate only on sidewalks and never roller skate or coast from driveways or alleys into the street. Never try to "hitch" a ride on a vehicle when you are roller skating or bicycling. And remember this, too: Follow all regular traffic rules and hand signals for motorists when you are riding your bicycle.

Here's a final word, boys and girls: if you are walking somewhere where there are no sidewalks, be sure to walk on the left side of the road, facing oncoming traffic. The Council says that readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic are not the only things you must learn ... You should also learn your ABC's of safety and always be careful!

The breeding flock should be regularly culled to remove birds that are out of condition, in poor health or molting. Those with frosty combs and wattles also should be taken out.

Blue Hen Gridders To Invade Lehigh Saturday In Debut

University of Delaware's gridders tapered off heavy scrimmages sessions this week in preparation for their opener Saturday with Lehigh University at Bethlehem, Pa.

In scrimmages earlier this week, the Hen scrubs used Lehigh's tricky T attack on the varsity as Coach Bill Murray sought to plug up his defenses against the Engineers.

The Hens' biggest job Saturday will be bottling up Dick Gabriel, halfback and captain of the Lehigh eleven. The elusive 177-pounder is the only eastern intercollegiate back to gain 1,000 yards or more in a single season.

Last year Gabriel gained 100 yds. or more in six of Lehigh's games. No Delaware back equalled that record in Hen games. The Delaware staff rates Gabriel as one of the most dangerous backs ever to face a Hen team.

Bill Leckonby, the Engineers' coach, says this about the boy: "Gabriel is as good a back as there is in the East. He is hard running and fast, and some people have compared his style to Steve Buren of the Eagles. His long strides make his speed deceptive, and when he gets in a jam, he has the power to get out. He's the fastest man on the squad."

Air Forces Reserve Troop Carrier Wing Seeks 600 Recruits

512th At New Castle Airport Needs Men, Women From This Area

The 512th Troop Carrier Reserve Wing at New Castle County Airport, Wilmington, Delaware, is now accepting qualified men and women from the Newark area for enlistment in the Organized Air Force Reserve, it was announced today.

Commanded by Brigadier General Emil H. Molthan of Wayne, Pa., the Wing which comprises air reservists from Delaware, Pennsylvania, and Maryland, has more than 600 openings for residents of Newark and the surrounding area.

Men and women with and without previous military service can qualify for the many skilled vacancies that now exist. There are openings for pilots, navigators, administrative, maintenance and medical personnel.

Men and women with previous military service, it was announced will be enlisted in the grade held at the time of their last honorable discharge from the service. Applicants must be between 17 and 35 years of age. Former service men and women can enlist up to 45 years of age.

Training will be conducted at the New Castle County Airport during weekends. The 512th Troop Carrier Wing uses the twin-engine type of cargo aircraft and training planes.

General Molthan expressed a desire to see Delaware better represented in the Troop Carrier Wing.

"Delaware is represented in the Wing," General Molthan said, "but we would like to have more of the fine type of men and women from this state. This is a wonderful opportunity for the men and women of this state to secure specialized training as well as make a contribution to the defense of this country. The air reservists will receive training pay, promotion, and will qualify for retirement benefits."

4-H Work Displayed At Achievement Fair

21st Annual Program At Experimental Farm

Demonstrations in the project fields of clothing, vegetables and poultry will be featured at this year's 21st Annual New Castle County Achievement Fair, to which the general public is invited on Saturday, September 30th, at the University of Delaware Experimental Farm near Newark.

Maurice Field, 4-H Club Agent states that "show-how" demonstrations by club members are one of the most valuable ways in which rural boys and girls learn about better agricultural and homemaking methods. All of these contests offer competition on both a two-member team or an individual basis. The demonstrations may use any subject relating to the general fields of clothing construction, styling and care; vegetable production and use; and poultry production, management and disease control.

The only regulations for these contests are that the participants must have a current project in the field in which they wish to demonstrate, and that the demonstrations be limited to fifteen minutes duration. All 23 clubs in the county are asked to have representation in these contests.

Background Of Korean War Sketched In Talk

An informative talk on Korea was given by Dr. Ernest Hall at last week's dinner meeting of the Newark Kiwanis Club.

Dr. Hall, a former missionary who spent a number of years in Korea, sketched the political developments which led to the present conflict.

It was reported that the club's recent cake sale had proved a financial success. A similar event is planned later in the fall.

JACKET GRIDDERS TO OPEN SATURDAY AT ELKTON

Sposato's Charges In Top Shape After Five Weeks Of Stiff Drills

Tentative Starting Line-Up Includes Veteran Backfield; Team Shows Fast Attack In Scrimmages With LaSalle And Archmere

Hardened into battle trim by five weeks of intensive drills, including three practice games with top-flight prep and high school teams, Newark's Yellowjacket gridders are set to invade Elkton High on Saturday for the season's opener. The kickoff time is 2:15 p.m.

A tentative starting line-up was announced yesterday by Coach Fred Sposato, starting his second year at the Jacket helm. Though taciturn about the season's chances, Sposato admitted that the team, liberally sprinkled with veterans, is in top physical shape and that morale is high. The boys are showing more spark and drive than last year's successful combine which ended its campaign with a record of four and four.

Weekly Bowling Loops Open At Newark Alleys

Five weekly bowling leagues have opened the winter season at the Newark center, according to Manager Morris Adams.

The Chrysler League and the Tuesday night circuit started competition last week, while the Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday night loops started this week.

Openings still exist on a number of teams, and interested players should notify Manager Adams.

Prior to the season's opening the alleys were refinished and were inspected and sanctioned of the American Bowling Association.

Ogletown Wins Third Straight In Little State Loop Play-Off

Downs Harmony, 4-3, On Sunday In Final Game Of The Series

Ogletown swept the title play-offs in the Little State League by defeating Harmony, 4-3, on Sunday for the third time in a row.

Harmony put up a desperate final bid, outitting the victors 10-9 and twice tying the game. The issue was settled in an extra inning, when Ogletown inched across the winning run. Though he was nicked for ten hits, Bunny Blaney managed to set the opposition down in the clinches. Ogletown opened the scoring in the third, but Harmony came back with two in the fourth to lead until Ogletown tied the score in the sixth. Both teams pushed across singletons in the ninth to move into the extra stanza.

U. of D. To Aid State Fishery Expansion

Marine Biologist Named To Faculty

In a move to promote expansion of Delaware's fisheries, the University of Delaware today appointed Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, marine biologist, to its faculty. His appointment followed requests by the fishing interests of the state, including both commercial and sports fishermen, that the university take the lead in marine biological research.

Dr. Cronin, who has been with the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory at Solomons, Maryland, for the past seven years, will divide his efforts along three lines: Training in marine biology (he will offer a course in this field in the coming term at the University of Delaware); effective research toward restoration of the fisheries; and undertaking and sponsoring fundamental research in marine and estuarine problems. He will have the rank of associate professor of biology in the Department of Biological Sciences under Professor James C. Kakavas.

At his office in Wolf Hall on the Newark campus, Dr. Cronin, a 33-year-old Marylander, said that his first steps will be to take "inventory of what we did have, and what we do have, commercially and biologically, in Delaware waters."

GM 1949 Income Taxes To Total 444 Million

General Motors will pay income taxes totalling $444,377,889.44 on 1949 income, completed tax returns showed recently.

The amount, largest ever to be paid by the corporation, is being paid in three installments. GM's third quarter payment was $101,926.82, covering income from all subsidiaries.

What's more, the Jackets have showed up well against tough competition in several practice games. Newark "held its own" against LaSalle Prep in a scrimmage a few weeks ago. The Philadelphians are always outstanding contenders in their fast-stepping city league. Last Wednesday against Archmere Academy, Sposato says he believes his boys had the edge. Onlookers claimed the Jackets definitely outclassed the invaders. A Newark Alumni eleven provided the opposition in the third practice game, and, despite the fact that the old grads were made up mostly of college players, the Jackets turned in a creditable performance.

Major weakness in the Newark offense has been down field blocking, according to Sposato, and he believes this showed much improvement in the final practice game with Archmere.

Sposato is keeping his fingers crossed on the question of injuries. No serious mishaps have plagued the squad so far. Roland Bramble and Rod Smith were "bruised up" somewhat last week but will be in shape for the opener.

Newark's front line troops next Saturday against Elkton will be headed by Captain Henry Correll at right half. Others in the backfield, according to Sposato's tentative line-up, will be Andy Murphy, quarterback; Earl Schaeen, fullback, and Bunny Blaney, left half. Ready for action as defensive backs will be Tom Baker, Bob Boutin and Danny Palmer.

The Jackets' first home game is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 30, with Brown Vocational providing the opposition. Game time: 2:15 p.m.

Rose Tree To Present 6-Race Card, October 21

The card will thus consist of three flat races at six furlongs, one mile and one mile and a half, the Maiden steeplechase and the Foxcatcher Plate steeplechase both at two miles and the Rose Tree Hunter Challenge Cup at three miles over timber.

Kennett Sq. Blank Newark, 5-0, Sunday In Play-Off Opener

Pennsylvanians Take Lead In Penn Mar League Semi-Final Series

Kennett Square blanked Newark, 5-0, here Sunday in the opening of the Penn Mar League play-offs.

Newark invaded Kennett next day for the second in the best out of three game semi-final series.

Despite the loss, "Fuzzy" McKinnick pitched one of his best games the season, holding the league power hitters to five hits. But the Pennsylvanians made every blow count, with a total of nine runs, failed to muster a single run.

Kennett bunched most of its runs in the first two innings, slipping away three in the first and another in the second. Their final tally came in the seventh.

UN Flags Will Fly In Delaware Oct. 24

Homemakers To Make Penants For State

United Nations' flags will be flying over most communities in Delaware on and after United Nations' Day, October 24.

These flags are to be made in a modern "Betsy Ross" campaign. They will be made and displayed by the hundreds of rural girls and homemakers who belong to the state's 4-H Clubs and Home Demonstration clubs. One hundred and three other farm and civic organizations are behind this flag making project.

The program of making and flying the flags is now being launched by the Delaware State Extension Service. It was officially opened in Washington last week when 4-H girls presented the first homemade U.N. flag to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and President Truman. One of the girls, Charlotte Ingram, 15, is from Ellendale, Del.

George R. Worrlow, director of extension, said that the purpose of the project is "to lead to a better and more unified understanding by local groups of the United Nations, as an instrument through which free people may express a determination for world wide peace."

The modern Betsy Rosses will make the flags in blue with a white globe surrounded by laurel branches in the center. They will buy the material, sew the design, and prepare the flags to be flown in public places as part of their club work, says Miss Ruth E. Pearce, extension clothing specialist in charge of the campaign in Delaware. She feels that another purpose of the program is "to make the average American familiar with the United Nations' flag under which our forces are fighting in Korea."

Possible Industrial Sites Being Surveyed

A survey of the idle factories and industrial locations is now being made by the Delaware State Development Department to build up what is hoped to be one of the most detailed running inventories of industrial sites in existence.

Former U. of D. Employee Dies After Long Illness

William Foster Hushebeck, 78, a former resident of Newark, died at his Wilmington home last Friday after a long illness. Services were held Sunday with the Rev. Dr. J. Earl Cummings, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Glebe Cemetery, New Castle.

Born in New Castle, Mr. Hushebeck was employed at the University of Delaware until a few years ago. He was a member of St. John's Lodge, No. 2 AF and AM.

He is survived by two sons, William A. Hushebeck and Henry R. Hushebeck, both of this city; a sister, Mrs. George T. Tobin of New Castle, two granddaughters, one great-granddaughter, and several nieces and nephews.

Farm Finances Of Nation Are Sound

The working plant and equipment of America's farms and ranches has never been in better condition financially, says W. T. McAllister, Delaware extension specialist in agricultural economics. According to the American Bankers' Association, the nation's agriculture should be prepared to meet any emergency that may lie ahead.

"One of the best indications of the excellent condition of farms and ranches is the fact that farmers borrowed less from banks during 1949 than during 1948," says W. T. Campbell, chairman of the A.B.A. Agricultural Commission.

Reporting on the results of the ninth national survey of agricultural lendings, Mr. Campbell noted that there was a decrease in both the number of new loans and the total amount borrowed by American farmers. "This decline is particularly healthy in view of the present uncertainties and the slight drop in farm income in 1949. It shows that farmers and ranchers are wisely avoiding excessive debt and holding onto their reserves in case of emergency. In addition, the rapid rate of repayment on the loans indicates the farmers' determination to keep the nation's agriculture financially sound," concluded Mr. Campbell.

School District Revamping Theme Of U. of D. Course

Dr. Robert C. Stewart, director of research and publications for the State Department of Public Instruction, will take "School District Reorganization in Delaware" as a theme of a seminar course in current educational problems, for which he will be the instructor at the University of Delaware this fall.

To be conducted at Robinson Hall, Newark, on Saturday mornings beginning September 30, the course (Ed 509) will carry credit toward either undergraduate or graduate degrees. Parents and laymen in education, as well as teachers are invited to take the course, Dr. Stewart said.

A goal, he said, "is to think about what a prospective employer would look for in you as a graduate they might wish to employ."

"The purpose of your college education is not merely to prepare for employment," he said, "but this is a good way to judge what qualities will be looked for in later life." He advised them to attain good academic records showing "consistency of appli-call on reliability in day-to-day performance, but also initiative in special studies or independent work beyond the normal day's work." He suggested participation in extra-curricular activities "because that shows a broader individual, and work in life is likely to involve more working with people than mere use of technical or other knowledge." Taking an interest in books, music, athletics, and other phases of college life, Dr. Colburn said, "will make you much more of an individual, and help to develop a personality from among many factors now latent within you."

The acting president's welcome was the first major activity of Freshman Week. Later, non freshmen met with Dean of Men J. Fenton Daugherty and girls met with Dean of Women Amy Rextrew. Writing of English themes and guided tours of the campus occupied the afternoon. A program arranged by the Music Department is scheduled for tonight in Mitchell Hall. Tomorrow's program will include meetings with the deans of the several schools, and tests administered by the Psychological Services Center. A dramatic program will be presented tomorrow evening. Freshman Week will come to a close Thursday afternoon with the traditional convocation which opens the college year formally.
