Rittenhouse Motor Co. Damaged In Monday Fire

Volunteers of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company responded to a two alarm fire on Monday morning at the Rittenhouse Motor Company on Academy Street, where a pair of oil burner explosions damaged the building basement and first floor.

Firemen said one oil burner explosion was followed by a second one after they arrived, and they are believed to have been caused by an overheated water tank.

The fire was confined to the basement of the building where it did considerable damage. Smoke caused some damage on the first floor.

Fire Chief John Cunningham and State Fire Marshal Walter J. LaRue are investigating the cause and damage.

Got an itch to switch the pitch?

Here's the New Hit in Hardtops
—the 4-Door Riviera

WANT to do what a pilot does when he clears for take-off?

Want to feel the pulse-quickening thrill that comes of giving the gun to a high-powered automobile with the world's first airplane-inspired transmission?

Want to try Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—the spectacular new wonder drive that's the talk of car makers and car buyers alike—and the drive that's sending Buick sales soaring to new record-breaking highs?

Well, sir—be our test-pilot guest at the wheel of a '55 Buick and let today's Dynaflo do the honors.

When you press the pedal as you normally would, you move ahead in velvety smoothness, getting plenty of miles from each gallon of gas...

Because twenty propeller-like blades inside the Dynaflo unit, spinning in oil, have an angle of "pitch" for top economy—like the modern plane's propellers when cruising in the air.

But comes the need for emergency acceleration, and—like a pilot does for quick take-off and climb—you switch the pitch of those Dynaflo propellers for action, just by pressing the pedal all the way down.

Instantly, you get full-power response for split-second getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge to get out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's a response thrilling beyond all previous experience—because there's never been anything like it before in any car.

And we'd like you to try it—along with the walloping new V8 power, the cruiser-steady ride, the fine handling ease, and the true big-car roominess that are all part and parcel of every Buick.

Can you come in today—this week, for sure—and test pilot the hottest Buick yet built?

Fifteen members attended the annual banquet of the Ladies Auxiliary, Christiana Fire Company, at Van's last week, marking the 33d year of club activities.

It was in February, 1922, only one year after the formation of the Christiana Fire Company, that a group of civic-minded women met at the home of Mrs. B. B. Peters to organize the Ladies Auxiliary. The 43 charter members selected Mrs. James Appleby president, Mrs. Effie Thorp vice-president, Miss Mary Eastburn secretary, and Mrs. George Butler treasurer.

Attending the banquet were Mrs. Myrtle Taylor, president; Mrs. A. B. Currinder, past president; Mrs. Ada Cleaves, Mrs. Mary Laws, Mrs. Laura Mae Vincent, Mrs. Mary Vincent, Mrs. S. E. Wooleyhan, Mrs. Amerigo Thorp, Mrs. Frances Hales, Mrs. Lela Cleaver, Mrs. Mildred Cunane, Mrs. Violet Long, Mrs. F. T. Dianich, Mrs. Delia Suppe, and Mrs. Virginia Thorp.

Thursday evening card parties in the fire house are continuing through April. A profit of $36 was reported for last week.

Next Tuesday, April 26, is the date of the regular Auxiliary meeting in the fire house. Mrs. Myrtle Taylor will preside.

At the last meeting of the Christiana Improvement Association it was decided to replace village street signs where necessary. The next meeting will be held on May 2 and plans will be made for a picnic in June.

Mrs. James Blest, president, and Mrs. William Kee, secretary, were among the Christiana-Salem PTA delegates attending the annual convention of the Delaware Congress of Parents and Teachers at Conrad High School.

At the PTA meeting scheduled for next Wednesday, in the school auditorium, a local talent show will be the entertainment feature. Anyone wishing to participate should contact Mrs. Blest, Mrs. Kee, or Mrs. C. S. Kleinbach.

Church News

With a gratifying total of $2890 in cash and pledges, the Presbyterian Church three-week campaign for $2500 was brought to a successful climax last Sunday, as announced by Dr. Ernest Freeman Hall, minister, in furthering its drive for the needed $10,000 for the purchase and renovation of the adjoining Morrison property, the board of trustees last week appointed a building fund commission of Miss Florence Appleby, Mrs. I. N. Morrison, Mrs. H. A. Phelps, Olan Cleaver, Duncan Anderson, and Millard Davis.

A special congregational meeting will be held in the church immediately after morning worship on Sunday, for discussion and action on the subject of incorporation.

The Young People's Society of the church will sponsor a bake sale in front of Jackson's Hardware Store in Newark this Saturday morning, beginning at 9 o'clock. Proceeds will go to the building fund.

At 8 p.m. Sunday there will be an hour-long recital of sacred music on the new organ in the Methodist Church, Mrs. Roland Bouds, organist at the Greenhill Presbyterian Church, will be the musician.

Over $230 was realized on the duck and ham supper sponsored by the finance committee of the Methodist Church last Saturday.

William Pacrops took his seventh graders on a visit to Wintertown museum and gardens today.

Mary Jane Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Miller of McDaniel Heights, is the name of the new great-granddaughter of Mrs. L. N. Savage, East 9th Street. Weighing in at 7 pounds, 9 ounces, the baby is Mrs. Savage's third great-grandchild. Her father, on duty with the Navy in Rhode Island, was granted a weekend leave to become acquainted with his first child.

Mr. and Mrs. Arbra Billings are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at the Memorial Hospital on April 13.

Mrs. Peggy Miller underwent surgery in the Wilmington General Hospital on Friday.

Robert Long, Jr. and John Cunniff, Jr., were home on leave from Bainbridge Naval Training Base last weekend.

Dinner guests of the John Currinders last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Herman McGinness of Dover, Mr. and Mrs. Bramble, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Boyer of Wilmington.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Shirley Kay Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Gallagher Taylor of Wilmington, and Mr. Norman H. Taylor of Bear, to Dr. Edward M. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Marvel Phillips of Wilmington.

A graduate of the University of Delaware and the University of Pennsylvania school of social work, Miss Taylor is associated with the Children's Home, Inc., at Claymont. Dr. Phillips, a graduate of Lafayette College and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, is serving an internship at the hospital of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy. Bobby Schulz observed his 14th birthday on April 17.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new home being constructed for Mr. and Mrs. William Kee on the Christiana-Bear road. Attractive brick ranch-style in architecture, the house was designed by local architect C. S. Kleinbach.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton
Consumer Information Specialist

Meat and Poultry

Price increases on pork have been anticipated now that the peak slaughter period for fall pigs has passed. That rise has not occurred, however, and good retail prices still hold. The best values in pork are found in loin roasts, picnics, and other shoulder cuts and shank ends of ham.

Spring lamb continues to sell at premium prices, but there have been several reductions since Easter. Lamb shoulder cuts, leg, liver and stew meat are among the best choices.

Roasts offer the greatest economy among the beef cuts this week. Lower prices are offered in most stores on round, chuck and rib roasts. Beef liver and ground beef continue to be low priced.

Consumer demand for poultry eased last week and prices went down slightly. Turkey remains most economical.

Seafood

Shad is the most favorably priced fresh fish in Delaware this week. There are other good values on fresh cod, small haddock and frozen cod and perch.

Canned Goods

Green string bean stocks last month were nearly double the 1954 level and price cuts are showing up in most retail stores. Corn stocks, 14% above last year, also caused price reductions, especially on fancy grade whole kernel corn in small size cans. Canned grapefruit juice now is selling at an unusually large discount below orange juice, making this a good time to stock up. Greatest price declines have been on asparagus and cucumbers this week and both are at moderately low levels, well below extremely high prices early this month. Green onions, radishes, eggplant, new cabbage and mushrooms all are inexpensive vegetables on this week's market. Leafy greens of all kinds also are good buys. Valencia oranges and Florida grapefruit are the most attractively priced fruits.

Potato prices have continued to rise. Old crop Maine potatoes now retail for about two cents more per pound, a price increase of 50% since news of frost damage to new crop potatoes in the south.

Frozen Foods

Orange juice packers are unable to keep production up to increases in demand, a situation due partly to a smaller crop of Valencias. Retail price increases seem likely this year and a good stock in your home freezer probably will save money. Economical frozen vegetables include lima beans and yellow corn.

Red Riding Hood To Be Presented By E-52 Players

8th Children's Theater Offered To Open Next Week At Mitchell Hall

"Little Red Riding Hood," the eighth Children's Theater production of the E-52 University Theatre, will be presented in Mitchell Hall next Thursday and Friday. The show produced especially for children will open Thursday night at 7:30 and a matinee will be given Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Every year the E-52 Theatre presents a touring play for children and this year the show will be given in 14 different towns in Delaware, Maryland, and Pennsylvania. On Saturday, April 30, two performances will be given at the Playhouse in Wilmington.

This year's play includes colorful dances, clever songs and exciting suspense which will delight any child. The play was written by Charlotte E. Chorpenn with some revisions of the original fairy tale.

Instead of one wolf, this play has two wolves, an old grandmother wolf and a young wolf who thinks himself smarter than humans. The young wolf is constantly trying to trick people by imitating them. However, he is unable to trick Grandmother Slyboots.

Little Red Riding Hood is continually forgetting what her mother tells her, and a grand party is prepared when she finally remembers not to stray off the path in the woods. The woodcutters, her mother and the grandmother all plan the party and a special surprise for her.

The end has been changed and instead of killing the wolf, he is happily caged. He is pleased with his captivity because he will be served by men.

Kathy Jordan, a university freshman, plays the part of Red Riding Hood. Another freshman, Elaine Stuber, has the part of her mother. The young wolf is Judy Kase and the old wolf is played by Mary Minkiewicz. Barbara Miruk plays the grandmother and Irv Rinard and Dick Stewart portray the woodcutters.

C. Robert Kase is directing the show, and Elizabeth Parkhill is the assistant director and company manager.

Newark Defeats Redskins, 2-1 As Conway Pitches 4-Hit Ball

Yellowjackets Rained Out of Last Week's Elkton Test, Stop Conrad At Home On Tuesday For Season's First Win; Griffith's Nine To Meet Brown, Away Tomorrow

The Newark Yellowjackets, rained out of last week's opener with Elkton, met the visiting Redskins on Tuesday under ideal conditions of field and weather, and behind the four hit pitching of Bob Conway, defeated Conrad, 2-1.

Both Newark runs came in the second inning, with Shortstop Bobby Downes driving home John Slack, and scoring the winning run himself.

Conrad pushed a run across in the fifth, and that terminated the scoring for the afternoon.

Six of Coach Charlie Griffith's ten men who saw action in the opener, hit safely, with Catcher Mark Hurn leading the Newark hitters with two for three.

Hitting Performance

Coach Griffith has announced a 21-man Yellowjacket squad consisting of Mark Hurn, Charlie Moore, Ray Klapinsky, Jim Martin, Fred Borchardt, Gene George, Bill Hiddleston, Bob Downes, Larry Blasot, Bob Conway, Lee Schaffer, Dick Pyle, John Miller, John Slack, Jim Jackson, Lou Scarborough, Dick Schultz, Bill Shue, Dick Simpers, Joe Marvel and Jerry Knotts.

Chuck Fisher has been named manager of the baseball squad, with Neils Ludlow and Dick Vallant, assistants.

Charlie Griffith's Newark nine will meet Brown in Wilmington tomorrow afternoon, and the Yellowjackets are slated to tackle Wilmington High's Red Devils in Newark next Tuesday.

Babe Ruth League Attracts 94 Boys At First Tryouts

Boutin, Ritchie, Stimmel, Bailey Selected As Team Managers In 4-Club Loop

The Newark Optimist Babe Ruth League inaugurated its 1955 season last Saturday with a baseball clinic for boys 13 to 15 years old.

A total of 94 boys registered for the clinic and began competing for positions on the four teams and the high school field was one of the busiest places in Newark as the candidates went through fielding instruction and drill in the morning session, and batting practice in the afternoon.

A lot of baseball talent was displayed and competition for starting positions promises to be very keen. Managers for the teams have been chosen by the four sponsors in Ed Boutin for Curtis Paper; Bill Ritchie for Equitable-Security Trust; Lowell Stimmel, Newark Lumber; and Roger Bailey, William H. Porter, Inc.

The success of the clinic can be attributed to the group of men who gave their time to act as instructors. Many good tips on baseball technique were passed on by Leroy Hill, Jr., Paul Whiteman, Ernie George, Henry Brooks, Bill Barrow, Jim Ford, Harvey Ogden, Gene Schaefer, Harry McKenry and Bob Conway.

Two more try-out sessions are scheduled for April 25, and 30. The player auction will be held on May 2, and the teams will have three weeks of practice before the season gets under way with a double header on Saturday, May 21.

Pimlico To Name Jockeys Elected To Hall Of Fame

The work of the nomination committee for the Jockeys Hall of Fame at Pimlico has been completed and the names of the ten riders chosen to appear on the final ballot will be announced next Wednesday.

From a list of 54 submitted suggestions, the committee picked seven inactive jockeys, two of whom will be elected to the Hall of Fame in the final balloting. The same group also picked three active riders, and one of these will be selected by the 1,200 sports editors, turfwriters and sportscasters participating in the poll.

Someone interrupted to remark that old-time pitchers often claim that one of the weaknesses of their modern counterparts is that when they get behind in the count, they don't have the nerve to come in with a breaking pitch.

"Don't let those old pitchers fool you," smiled Harris. "Maybe from where they're watching, up in the stands, it looks like the pitcher's aren't throwing that curve when they're behind. But folks in the stands can't judge what the pitcher is doing. To someone up in the stands, it can look like a fast ball."

The Detroit manager admits that the old-timers might have been a bit smarter, and they made a manager's job a little easier. For example, the manager has almost complete control of the hit-and-run play. If he doesn't call the play from the bench, the play won't be tried.

However, Harris concludes, the present bunch is willing to learn and maybe in the not too distant future, they'll be calling the play on their own.

"Big Klew"

While drawing by far the highest salary ever paid a player by the Cincinnati team, Ted Kluszewski, the big first sacker of the Reds, is aiming for four goals.

First of all, Ted wants to repeat as home run and runs-batted-in champion of the major leagues, or at least of the National League.

Second, he is out to win the National League batting championship.

Next, on his ambitions, Kluszewski is set on making this his fifth straight year as the top fielding first baseman of the National League.

And, lastly, he wants to help move the Reds into contention for the pennant, or at least into a first-division finish, something no Cincinnati team has achieved since the 1944 Reds wound up third with 86 games won and 65 lost.

That season closed out a highly successful era for the Reds and big Ted is hopeful of being able to help launch another era like it this season.

Lean Ten Years

For the ten seasons since their last first-division finish, Cincinnati's teams have finished fifth twice, sixth five times and seventh three times and averaged approximately 67 victories and 87 defeats a season.

Kluszewski has been the Reds' first baseman, and usually one of those lean years, and it has not been his fault that the club finished down in the race each year.

The slugging first sacker made history last year when he led the major leagues in home runs with 49 and also was top man in the big show at driving in runs, slamming 141 tallies over the plate.

THE NEWARK POST

The Newark Post, Newark, Delaware, Thursday, April 21, 1955

Eight

The last time we saw Norvin "Rip" Collins, Jr. behind a sports desk was back in July of 1951, when Junior was sports editor of the Sunday Star and his assistant returned from a roundelay put on by the Delaware Federation of Sportsmen and Conservation Clubs at Nockentown—some eight hours late for work on a busy Saturday.

Good intentions, which had been resolved around an early morning news coverage and participation in a fishing contest with the assembled sportsmen, had been cast along with innumerable fishing lures to the four winds, and considerably bolstered by beverages available on the premises, we had stayed on interestedly and irresponsibly to surf a tackle box and a reel in the surf and bait casting contests—to the surprise of one and all. Particularly, Surf Castin' Charlie Dickey.

In consequence, O' Rip was a busy sports editor, indeed, when the missing member of his Saturday sports staff showed up at 8 o'clock that night after missing a noon starting time.

Back-Breaker

Whether that particular instance broke the Collins back, or whether it was a culmination of things experienced in our past sports desk association, is a moot point. But in any event, Rip relinquished his sports editorial responsibilities just before that to enter the retail meat business.

And as we said, that was the last time we saw him behind a newspaper desk—until this past Tuesday.

Returning from a Main Street tour, we came upon Rip Collins, with the Little League story on this same page as the result.

Welcome back, Dad, and thanks from this editor and from the Little Leaguers of Newark.

Opening Day

Newark's White Clay Creek came in for more than its usual share of attention with the opening of Delaware's trout season last Saturday. From reports filtering into this center, tackle employed ranged from fly-casting wands to saltwater windlass gear, and worms were the popular order of the day.

Understandably flattered by all this attention, the trout were pleasantly cooperative and a number of limits were quickly filled by the enthusiasts along and in the creek.

One veteran Newark angler had taken a couple of trout from a pool across the stream from his bank-side stand, when an anxious stranger began infiltrating the veteran's territory, dropping his line and lure into the same spot.

Somewhat annoyed by these claim-jumping tactics, the Newark sportsman retaliated by flicking a cast into the water at the intruder's feet—and a lusty brook trout flashed out from beneath the bank to wallop the fly on the first cast.

That did it. The stranger reddened up, gave up, and packed up.

Carp Again

Instead of trying trout, we caught carp on Saturday in a brief return visit to the tidal estuary draining the New Castle City Dump. And Jimmy Godsey's carp elixir paid off for the second straight running.

Little Bill hooked into a 4½ pound carp on the first cast, narrowly escaped joining the big fish in the watery, and startled the passing motorists on the nearby bridge with his enthusiastic shouting. It was his biggest fish to date.

Rockfisherman Tombo Sherwood stopped by during the week after a winter of hibernation from the Indian River Inlet jetties, to relate a grim tale concerning his experience suffered one day last fall.

The Other Side

Squidding without success from the north jetty, Tom was informed that spotted weakfish were being taken in numbers by casters from the south rockpile across the way. Devoting some visual attention to the anglers plying the surf around the south jetty, he discerned several trout being hoisted from the water, and accordingly, undertook the long, booted, sandy trek back up the beach, across the bridge, down the beach, and slipped and slid out onto the south pile rocks.

Harold Low, along with several other jetty jockeys, had strings of from 20 to 30 spotted sea trout weighing from three to five pounds tethered beside the rocks, and Sherwood prepared for some pleasant action.

After several casts with a small bucktail, a big trout swept into the lure, was pulled up onto the jetty—and shook loose to bounce once on the rocks—and on the second bounce—splashed safely back into the water.

"I didn't feel too bad about that—then," Tom related. "But that was the last fish of the day. Nobody had a strike after that."

Stewart, Dollins Set Pace In Suburban Golf Victory

Newark Country Club's entry in the Class A Philadelphia Suburban Golf League got off to a successful start over the weekend, handing DuPont-Penns Grove, N.J., a 4½ to 3½ defeat.

Pacing the victorious Newarkers in the partners best ball team tests were Club Champion Bob Stewart and former club and State Amateur titlist Al Dollins.

The pair swept their match, earning the maximum nine points. Other high point victories were turned in by Newark's Dick Bauer and Doug McMinin, and Boyle McSpadden and Harvey Ewing.

The day of the 400 hitter is gone, according to Stanley (Bucky) Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers and dean of major league pilots.

In Harris' words, "I don't believe we'll see a 400 hitter in the majors for many, many years — maybe never."

So spoke Harris from his favorite seat next to the bat rack in the Detroit dugout, and making it clear that he wasn't trying to undercut the present crop of major league hitters.

"Not at all," confirmed the veteran pilot. "Today's players are as good as they ever were. My point is that we'll probably never see another 400 hitter in the majors no matter how good the fellows are who come along."

The Slider

As Bucky says it, the reason is the development of the relatively new pitch they call the slider. Harris says that almost every good pitcher in the majors is using it effectively, especially when he's behind the count, at three-and-one or two-and-one.

Those up to his theme, Harris continues: "Let's go back to, say 1933, the last time I was managing Detroit. There were some real good hitters around then—Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, and Jimmie Fox, and Hank Greenberg was just coming.

Those fellows didn't have to look at that slider. I don't know if they'd have had those lofty averages or hit as many homers against the slider. When they were in their prime, the hitters were hitting the fast ball when the pitcher got behind. The hitter could dig in and power the ball."

Coming In With It

Someone interrupted to remark that old-time pitchers often claim that one of the weaknesses of their modern counterparts is that when they get behind in the count, they don't have the nerve to come in with a breaking pitch.

"Don't let those old pitchers fool you," smiled Harris. "Maybe from where they're watching, up in the stands, it looks like the pitcher's aren't throwing that curve when they're behind. But folks in the stands can't judge what the pitcher is doing. To someone up in the stands, it can look like a fast ball."

The Detroit manager admits that the old-timers might have been a bit smarter, and they made a manager's job a little easier. For example, the manager has almost complete control of the hit-and-run play. If he doesn't call the play from the bench, the play won't be tried.

However, Harris concludes, the present bunch is willing to learn and maybe in the not too distant future, they'll be calling the play on their own.

"Big Klew"

While drawing by far the highest salary ever paid a player by the Cincinnati team, Ted Kluszewski, the big first sacker of the Reds, is aiming for four goals.

First of all, Ted wants to repeat as home run and runs-batted-in champion of the major leagues, or at least of the National League.

Second, he is out to win the National League batting championship.

Next, on his ambitions, Kluszewski is set on making this his fifth straight year as the top fielding first baseman of the National League.

And, lastly, he wants to help move the Reds into contention for the pennant, or at least into a first-division finish, something no Cincinnati team has achieved since the 1944 Reds wound up third with 86 games won and 65 lost.

That season closed out a highly successful era for the Reds and big Ted is hopeful of being able to help launch another era like it this season.

Lean Ten Years

For the ten seasons since their last first-division finish, Cincinnati's teams have finished fifth twice, sixth five times and seventh three times and averaged approximately 67 victories and 87 defeats a season.

Kluszewski has been the Reds' first baseman, and usually one of those lean years, and it has not been his fault that the club finished down in the race each year.

The slugging first sacker made history last year when he led the major leagues in home runs with 49 and also was top man in the big show at driving in runs, slamming 141 tallies over the plate.

Kluszewski was the first National League player to lead the majors in those two respects in the same year since the late Hack Wilson did it in the Chicago Cubs 25 years ago by setting two league records which still stand.

Five Lettermen Bolster Yellowjacket Track Squad

Coach Bob Farny, in grooming his track and field charges for the season opener with Wilmington High at A. L. duPont's field, has five Yellowjacket lettermen back in harness.

Veterans Bill Hiddleston, in the discus and shot put; Jake Shew 220-yard sprinter and javelin passer; triple-threat Joe Lehman, in the 440, pole vault and high jump; Miller Burt Chase; and John Miller, weight man, bolster the Newark cause.

The Yellowjackets will enter the Suburban meet at Claymont on May 4 in their next appearance.

Drexel Golf Team Stops Delaware Squad By 6-3

Drexel's golf team defeated Delaware, 6-3 on Tuesday at the Newark Country Club. Each team won three matches, but Drexel won all the best ball tests.

Drexel Captain Mike DiVenanzo led his team with a one over par 72. John Farone, captain of the Blue Hens, shot a 75 and Delaware's Tom Parvis followed with 76.

Recreation Softball Loop To Hold Monday Meeting

Managers of teams in the Newark Recreation Softball League have been requested to send letters of team registration to Stanley Francis, director of the Newark Recreation Association, P. O. Box 281, on or before May 15. A meeting of pilots in the eight-team league will be held shortly thereafter, and Ray Ciesinski has been named director of the loop for the second straight year.

Play in the league will begin June 1 with the Chrysler Sprockets as defending champions. The Sprockets were runners-up for the state title last year.

The Cincy first sacker isn't sure which achievement he prizes most, but leans heavily toward the home run championship as his favorite title. "If a fellow hits enough homers he's bound to help his club by driving in a flock of runs," he says.

"But I also would sure like to lead the National League in batting percentage, at least once. I thought for a while last year I might make it, but I finished 19 points behind Willie Mays."

While hitting .326 for the Reds last year, his top major league average, Kluszewski rewrote the club's offensive record books. He set a new team record in slugging percentage at .682 by getting 89 long hits for 181 extra bases.

Delaware Defeats Lehigh As Green Pitches 4-Hitter

Hens Lose To Lafayette, Stop Engineers For 4th Win Of Current Campaign

After dropping a 10-4 test last week to the visiting Leopards of Lafayette, Delaware pulled ahead of a 500 season's record on Saturday with their fourth victory, a 2-1 squeeze over Lehigh.

Roger Gordon, former Mt. Pleasant High pitcher, and Maynard Dill, erstwhile Conrad High catcher, were the big cogs in Lafayette's 10-4 victory over the Blue Hens.

Dave Woodward, who once pitched to Dill at Conrad, proxy of the National circuit, pointed out at the recent April meeting of the two leagues that it would be necessary for all members of last year's teams to sign up. Both veterans and rookies are required to have their birth certificates with them at the time.

Tryouts Scheduled

Tryouts, under the direction of Ernie George, have been set for Saturday, April 30, starting at 9 o'clock in the morning on the Continental Diamond diamond, where arrangements will be made for several other practice sessions.

The auction of players—in the basement of the Newark Fire House

Delaware's varsity and freshman track teams lost to Lehigh's varsity and freshman here on Saturday, even though the Hen frosh established a pair of Delaware records.

Giving way after holding an early lead, Delaware's varsity finished on the short end, 73½ to 52½, due partly to individual victories in the mile and two-mile runs by Lehigh distance ace Duane Jennings, former P.S. duPont High star from Wilmington.

Neal Keough was a double winner for the Hens, taking the 220 and 440-yard events, while Jim Flynn stroked home first in the 100-yard dash to give Delaware a sweep of the sprint numbers.

Although outpointed by 73-52, the Hen freshman posted new school records in the discus and broad jump.

Harry Cochran, in winning both the shot and discus set a record of 118 feet, 10 inches in the latter event, while Cecil Shirey's jump of 20 feet 4¼ inches set a new Delaware broad jump standard.

Q—I understand I have 120 days from discharge to obtain Korean GI term insurance. During that period, I am covered by the free indemnity I had while in service. If I apply early, will I lose out on my 120-day free coverage?

A—you will not lose out on your 120-day free coverage if you apply for GI term insurance before the time runs out. At your request, VA will apply your initial payment to the first premium due after the 120-day period expires.

Q—I am attending a three-year trade school under the Korean GI Bill. I am allowed up to 30 days absences a year. If I'm not absent at all the first year, can I carry over the 30 days to my second year?

A—No. Unused absences may not be carried over from one year to the next.
Q—I entered the armed forces after January 31, 1955, the end of the period for building up wartime benefits. Will I, as a peacetime veteran, be entitled to GI insurance, even though I didn't serve during the wartime benefits period?

A—you may be entitled to GI insurance after separation from service. This benefit was not affected by the proclamation establishing January 31 as the cut-off for wartime benefits.
