PRACTICE AIR RAID DRILL AT DAWN

Will Be Held Within The Next Seven Mornings

A practice air raid drill is scheduled to be held during the early morning hours during the next few days. It was disclosed by Garrison Gassaway, executive vice-chairman of the Delaware Council of Defense.

The drill will be signalled by the Second Service Command, with headquarters at Governors Island, N. Y., at the request of the council.

The time for the test was not disclosed, but Mr. Gassaway said that it would come after dawn.

The second of the state's two monthly practices will be a blackout during the week of Aug. 24, the defense leader said.

The purpose of the morning test, which will be the earliest yet held in Delaware, will be to see if wardens and other civilian defense personnel are able to man their posts at that hour. Mr. Gassaway said the Second Service Command wishes to discover the public reaction to an early test, believing that if there is a raid enemy fliers will use the night hours to fly, reaching their objectives near dawn.

Delaware has not had an air raid practice since the last week in July. A blackout was called at dusk. The test contained numerous incidents arranged by local defense councils to rehearse their protective agencies.

The approaching drills are also expected to include incidents.

CUB PACK CAMPS AT BALL RUN

Cubs Hike Five Miles; Cook Over Open Fire

Newark Cub Pack No. 55 hiked to Ball Run on Saturday afternoon for an all-night camping trip.

The boys in charge of Barton Mackay and Benson Rugg left the Scout camp in the Old Academy building at 6 o'clock and hiked the five miles to Ball Run. Tents, supplies and packs were taken to the camp site ahead of the boys in cars and the 15 tents were set up as a street by the time the boys arrived.

In the evening the boys had a Hot-Dog roast and sang songs around the camp fire. Stories were told the boys and taps were sounded at 10:30.

The boys were awake the next morning before reveille was sounded and were in swimming. Breakfast was served at 8:30 and was followed by games and contests. Church service was held at 10 o'clock under the direction of Jay Steinhauer, Milton Draper and Benson Rugg. The balance of the morning was devoted to swimming and sunbathing.

Each Cub cooked his own dinner over the camp fire and after dinner the boys defeated their dads at a football game. They broke camp at 10 o'clock to return to Newark.

Those on the trip were: Joseph and David Stout, Ralph Barrow, Norris Smith, William Hulse, Ralph Fournace, Arnold Thomas, Ronald Bramble, Raymond Knox, Dick Patchell, Jay Steinhauer, Jr., Norman Delph, Howard Lond, Leslie Lewis Thomas Davis, Benson Rugg, Jr., Phil Harrison, Henry Corbett, Barton Mackay, Wayne Sparks, Eugene Trivitt, Milton and Jimmy Draper, George Ganzman, Norman Fawcett, Rodney Smith, Henry Harris, Richard Dayton, Jr. and Glenn S. ## Local Workers Eligible For G. R. Village Homes

More than half of the homes at George Read Village have been rented to defense workers. It was stated this week by Charles E. Schwartz, manager of the housing project. One hundred and ten leases have been signed and 92 families have moved in.

Local plants have been notified that many of their workers have been certified as eligible to become tenants.

The workers, it was stated, must be migrant war workers whose employment in a Newark plant began since July 1, 1941 and who have moved into this locality since that date.

The same restrictions govern their eligibility to become tenants as imposed upon the tenants from the Elkton defense plants.

Certificates or application blanks have been left in the offices of local plants.

TAX EXPERT TO SIT HERE

At Newark Trust On August 31

Although very little is definitely known as to just what the procedure will be followed in filing a statement of estimated income for the current year as a basis for payment of Income Taxes upon the 1943 income, several million American wage earners soon will find out.

Valuable assistance in this painful detail will be provided at the Newark Trust Company on Tuesday, August 31, when a representative of the U. S. Internal Revenue Department makes his annual visit to that institution. The representative will sit at the Newark Trust Company during banking hours, August 31, to assist Newark taxpayers in the preparation of their Income Tax Returns which must be made not later than September 15.

SUNDAY MORNING FIRE CUTS A. & P. STORE

Entire Stock Of Store Is Destroyed By Fire and Water

The worst fire to visit Newark in years destroyed the interior of the A and P Store located at the corner of Main and Haines Street early Sunday morning. The fire, believed to have been caused by defective wiring broke out in the rear of the building near the refrigerating equipment.

The alarm was turned in at 1:50 by a passerby but by the time the firemen arrived the blaze had gained considerable headway. Two engines from the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Company responded to the alarm.

Firemen broke open the front and rear doors of the building to gain entrance. Dense clouds of smoke hampered the efforts of the firemen to get to the blaze with the hoses.

The local firemen under the direction of Chief Elmer Ellison battled the flames until close to five o'clock before it was finally put out. Large quantities of sugar stored in the back of the store were also destroyed. The entire contents of the building were either destroyed by fire or made unfit for sale by smoke and water.

Traffic at the fire was handled by Sgt. Leroy C. Hill of the local Police Force assisted by other officers. Members of the Auxiliary Police (Civilian Defense Corps) under the direction of Allen Cain were called into service at 3 o'clock and worked in two-hour shifts to prevent looting of the merchandise from the store.

William H. Cunningham, chief of the local Police Department was high in his praise of the Auxiliary Police and the way they responded to the call and their efficiency in the performance of their duty.

The building, which is of brick construction, was owned by Jack Dennison of the Dennison Motor Company, who estimates the loss to the building at close to $10,000, which is covered by insurance. Loss to the stock and fixtures will run well into the thousands of dollars. The store is managed by Leroy Morgan of Cranston Heights.

Work was started early Monday morning in an effort to get the store ready to again serve the local buying public but it was not known how soon the store would be ready to resume operations due to the fact that there is a scarcity of store fixtures due to war conditions.

Price Ceiling Cut On Frozen Fish List

The OPA has ordered reductions of from one cent to 12 and one-fourth cents per pound in the ceiling prices of eight different items of frozen fish and other sea foods.

The action was taken, officials said, to thwart attempts being made to avoid observance of ceilings for fresh fish. Fish destined for immediate consumption were being frozen in order that the higher prices allowed for the frozen articles could be obtained, OPA said.

Items affected by the reduction are four different kinds of frozen sword fish, three styles of frozen whiting, and frozen sea scallops.

CANNERS WARNED

Home canners have been warned against use of "canning powders" and other chemical preservatives. Says W. C. Campbell, Commissioner of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, "... Practically all the substances proposed in the past as chemical preservatives have limited value as such and in view of the known harmful effects of some of them and the doubtful safety of others, they should not be used as substitutes for the more efficacious and safer processes of sterilization by heat."

It is stressed that registration may be made by mail. The registration card may be mailed to one of the offices making a check or money order made payable to the Motor Vehicle Division.

The amount of the registration fee is shown on the registration card. The fee will be returned properly stamped with the new insert.

Registration for a half a year is available in which case just one-half the amount on the card should be paid. However, there is an added fee of a dollar for the six months' registration.

Registration cards may be mailed to these offices: Governor's Avenue, Eighth and Brancroft Parkway, Wilmington, or Railroad Avenue, Newark.

HAVE CHILDREN PHYSICALLY FIT FOR SCHOOL

With school days only about a month away, parents are considering the health of the children in preparation for a busy winter of school routine. Well children learn faster than do sickly ones and they are less apt to be seriously affected by the contagious diseases of childhood—from colds to whooping cough—some of which occur in every school each year, according to the State Board of Health.

While the Board is concerned with the health of all school children, it is especially interested that children entering first grade this year have both physical and dental examinations and corrections made of any defects found, BEFORE they begin school. In this way they will be able to start their school careers with as few handicaps as possible.

Last year Newark had 130 children in first grades and this year it is expected that the number of those entering may be approximately the same. Many, no doubt, have had physical check-ups by their family physicians but for those whose families cannot do this or whose doctors are too busy, the State Board of Health suggests that the prospective first-graders be brought to the Well Child Conference (baby clinic) nearest them for a pre-school health examination.

The next Well Child Conference to be held in Newark will be on Thursday afternoon, August 26 from 2 to 4 P. M. for white children while the colored clinic is scheduled this morning from 10 to 11 A. M. and on Sept. 9th, same time, at the New Castle County Health unit.

Need Better Nutrition

Many defects found in five and six-year-olds examined so far are nutritional ones. Mothers should bring their youngsters in for a check-up even if they do think they are in good health. At the Conference, with a doctor and nurses in attendance, they can find out if their school child-soon-to-be is properly fed for his age and, if not, just what he should be given.

When the protective foods—milk, eggs, leafy green vegetables, Vitamin C rich foods (as tomatoes, citrus fruits, cantaloupe, or raw cabbages), and whole grains, are included in sufficient amount they supply 95 per cent of the child's energy needs. This leaves very little room for cookies, cake, soft drinks as well as sweet desserts which many parents feel is essential because they contain some milk. It is preferable, says Miss Eleanor Wilkinson, the Board's nutritionist, to give milk in beverages, soups, or other made dishes where more milk is used. Parents need to give children plenty of whole grain breads and cereals, which are vital to health at any age, but are particularly important in developing firm muscles and warding off fatigue in active children.

Dental Defects Important

Dental cavities are the second highest in the list of defects to be found among the children of this age group. It is important that these cavities be filled in order that the child may be able to keep his teeth until the second ones are ready to come through. Baby teeth lost early because of cavities, may mean that the jaws will change in shape so that the permanent teeth do not come in as evenly as they should. It is a matter both of better personal appearance for the child and of better chewing surfaces if the teeth are regularly spaced. The baby teeth hold the spaces open for the second teeth.

Other Defects

Other defects which are found among the prospective first-graders include poor eyesight, faulty posture (often due to poor nutrition) poor hearing, skin diseases and heart conditions.

Assistance for the child now, before September, may mean a much healthier and more successful school year for the youngsters, emphasizes Dr. Hotopp.

LESSON-SERMON

"Mind" is the subject of the lesson-sermon of First Church of Christ, Scientist, at Park Place and Van Buren Street, on Sunday, August 22, 1943.

Mrs. J. D. King of Colusa, Calif., for 56 years has exchanged one letter every week with Mrs. W. C. McMillan of Sacramento.

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

The ingredients would be enough to daunt the most dauntless—ants, spiders and scorpions, temperamental women, transportation problems, collar-curling, heat, lack of facilities. But Capt. C. Robert Kase (of U. of D. fame) knows how to combine the above ingredients and serve up a soldier show that perks up that intangible thing called morale, so necessary in a place like Trinidad with its remoteness, lack of fighting to absorb spirit and energies.

Capt. Kase has been organizing touring shows of soldiers, and camp shows, supervising USO show troupes, arranging singing contests, radio programs, and working out other ideas on the side. Easy as rolling off a porcupine.

One day the Show Troupe (civilians) were scheduled to fly to one of the neighboring towns. Said Capt. Kase, "The Army couldn't take them because all the fliers went on a picnic yesterday and picked up some kind of poison so their eyes are swollen shut. The Navy promised to help out in an emergency but discovered they had no authorization to carry women. . . . About 3 o'clock, it became obvious that it would be necessary to send them commercial. That involved getting priorities, Transportation Requests, tickets, visas, immunization records, and all these in different places and within the space of less than two hours. . . . I had to make special arrangements with the Venezuelan Consulate for the visas, because the office was normally closed on account of the holiday. When I finished the above—I found that all plans had been changed and government transportation was being furnished."

Then he writes about a typical scene at a dress rehearsal with femme temperament: "First the girls came to the show without eating. It was called for 7 o'clock, and most English families don't eat until 7:30 or 8. Then there were too many soldiers hanging around—although they were all connected with the show—and the girls don't like to practice in front of such an audience, especially since it was a Samba dance that involves considerable wiggling. Then the girl who was directing them, resented having some of the boys help her direct. I still haven't discovered the cause of Miss B's temperament, except that she wasn't getting enough attention and decided to make a nuisance value of herself. To top it all, we had to rehearse without a piano."

"One reason the dress rehearsal was so bad was that we tried to squeeze about 35 people into two small dressing rooms, in which they had to stay for the length of the show because there was no back entrance. On the day of the show, we simply cut two holes in the back of the theatre to give them a chance to get out when they were not needed on stage."

With all that, "much to my surprise" (says the Captain humbly) the show turned out to be very successful. The audience, which packed the theatre, by the way, thoroughly enjoyed themselves and were most enthusiastic. In fact everybody spoke highly of it and the Colonel seemed pleased."

A thousand little problems might have frozen the wits of a less ingenious fellow—like the time the soldiers kept unloading bags of cement and stacking them ceiling-high in a theatre "to be the scene of a show that evening—or walking through the sleeping bodies of natives (piled on the street) to find the famous Calypso singers (who had the same sleeping habits).

"Nuff said—the Captain thrives on blowing away tumbleweed (to him)—problems to give entertainment-hungry soldiers the programs that keep ingenuity and heart can muster. So you work for the Government

It's not listed as a capital offense—being a government employee—but if you are (or have been) one, chances are your head will be taken off for all the gripes harbored against OPA, SEC, WMC, CCC, PRP, CMP, NRLB, WLB XYZ (just to mention a thimbleful). Typical is the story of a representative of the Social Security Board who attended a conference in Elktion recently.

"I got my last check just before I left for New York—didn't have time to cash it. I had all my credentials, it was a government check, so I figured I'd have no trouble. After going from bank to bank, someone suggested one of the larger uptown banks. There I was sent from Teller to Manager and finally to the Bank President to approve the transaction. He glared at the check.

"I don't know why I should cooperate with the Government—it doesn't cooperate with us," griped the President. "Always interfering."

"I'm from the Bureau of Old Age and Survivor's Insurance. I haven't heard any complaints about it," countered Leo. "We try to give service."

"Well, I don't know about that," said the President, "but your OPA stinks."

'Hot' Records, Please

You can't save much for records out of a Private's salary—even if you think that swing music is absolutely "out of this world". The Hot Club (composed of five happy) Privates at the University talked over their problem with me. They're sure that somebody has some old Duke Ellington records or other rhapsodic recordings just gathering dust. And they are convinced that some toe-tapping swing in their rare at-ease moments would restore their respective souls. If you have a record that fits the bill, I'd be happy to shoe the G. I.'s off the wall to tote them for you. (Call me at 8734).

War Correspondent Quotes:

It isn't every morning you choke on a cup of coffee at the sight of a friend's name in the New York Times. (It isn't every morning that you get around to reading the second section either).

In a story wirelessly from North Africa, Milton Bracker selects—out of all the soldiers—my friend, Paul Green—to set forth Paul's attitude to the different standard of living he experiences in North Africa.

And Paul says, "Living in a city like this has made me realize two things—the utmost necessity for bringing the four freedoms to places like North Africa and the tremendous difficulties involved in their application. The poverty and aqualor so apparent to an American have been the rule for hundreds of years.

"The promise of the four freedoms has undoubtedly had a terrific effect on people who have been submerged for centuries. . . . Freedom—so academic to Americans—is a heady wine to the natives.

"Although appreciating the hard job ahead, seeing all this has brought a feeling that the four freedoms simply must be carried out to sweep away the debris of centuries and bring the benefits of modern living to fellow humans deprived of them for so long."

Bracker concludes: "Private Green does not have the answer to the problem any more than unnumbered statesmen down through the centuries have had the answer. But at least he is thinking about it, which is a good sign."

SURE SHOT

When anyone gets their name in this column two weeks in succession they must be good. Well, Frank Smith, the operator of the Atlantic Service Station at the corner of Main and Chapel Streets (free ad) spent the weekend at the Cub's overnight camp at Ball Run and the Cub master stated that the tents were not long enough for Frank. A large portion (has feet) stuck out the foot of the tent. It was also reported on good authority that he is some eater. To start off his breakfast he will consume a whole box of cereal and that is only a starter.

Snookie Badders made out all right at the Kiddie Matinee last Saturday. He won one of the shoe races and finished up at the lower end of the lot. Mr. Kay gave him his prize and when he came to Sureshot to have his name put down, Sureshot also paid him. Snookie is a fine boy. He offered to give the extra money back but Sureshot told him to keep it.

One night last week four prominent Newark citizens were perched on the roof of Cyrus Rittenhouse's garage so that they could get a better view of the North Carolina Ridge Runners who were providing the entertainment. Bill Clancy who thinks of the funniest things started home to get some tomatoes to throw at them but his wife would not allow him to waste those valuable vegetables. She must have been thinking of the ration points.

The airplane spotters from the Possum Park and the Chestnut Hill observation posts who are assisting members of the American Legion to operate the various booths at the carnival are having a good time and seem to enjoy helping out. Dr. Downes don't seem to want anyone to help on the Kiddie ride. He keeps his eyes on that little red fire engine and thinks of his childhood days.

Allen Couch and J. Q. Smith do right well at the Big Six and last Thursday there was a fine pair at the Dice Game—Sureshot and the Editor of the Newark Post.

Corbit Crompton and Orville Little served in the blanket booth Tuesday night. Well it was fairly cool and they should have done some business.

Dutch Fader was seen operating the Over and Under game. That Fader fellow will always be over and never under, you can bet. Anyway he was way over when he turned in the receipts for the evening.

We wonder why Howard Long likes to sell tickets at the Ferris Wheel? Probably because that brings in more than any of the other concessions on the lot.

Gerald Gilligan, assistant chief observer at the Chestnut Hill observation post was in charge of the Chair Ride on Tuesday night. Gillie said that that ride always reminds him of the wind generator on top of the observation post.

Bill Hamilton, treasurer of the outfit was gone so long on an errand Tuesday night that everyone was afraid that he had walked off with the funds.

That Kay fellow who runs the carnival is a fine guy. He made a free-will donation last Saturday to the Legion Auxiliary of $150.

Morris Ewing likes to work at the Bingo stand. So does Angelo.

Frank Springer, that tall, thin and handsome letter carrier on the local Post Office staff is missed by everyone on his route.

Norval Robinson, that former member of Newark's police force, who is in training to become America's most famous Admiral in the U. S. Navy left this week to return to duty. Good luck Admiral.

I was privileged to read a letter this week from Corp. Vernon Lovett who is stationed at Memphis, Tenn. In his letter he stated that another fellow and himself were picked up on a Sunday by the owner of a 10,000-acre cotton plantation. The gentleman took the two soldiers to his home for dinner and then took them on a tour of his plantation where more than 1,000 negroes are employed. Vernon states that out there it is a common thing for someone to invite the soldiers out for dinner and they are treated fine by the citizens and their families.

Sergt. Raymond (Buck) Beers came home unexpectedly this week and Buck sure looks fine.

I received some pictures from my own son this week who is stationed in Africa. One showing him admiring a camel. Possibly he was thinking about that story of how long a camel can go without a drink. Good luck Jack.

I am wondering why Cliff Lee and Bill Gray have not written. Both of these boys are real handsome and possibly their time is taken up with other matters.

I read in the Wilmington paper yesterday that the unions in Detroit were going on a strike if they did not get more BEER. They do think of the funniest excuses to hold up production

ARCARO IS REINSTATED

Jockey Club Lifts Suspension

They call little George Wolf "the iceman" because of his coolness in handling horses in important stake engagements. Dapper Don Meade, clever Conn McCreary, Johnny Longden of Count Fleet fame, Cal Bierman who won the Kentucky Derby on the outsider Gallahadion and scores of other topnotch race riders pound the turf daily.

Tough little Tommy Atkinson, Eddie Guerin and Wee Wendell Ends—they're all outstanding jockeys but when the chips are down Eddie Arcaro, the swarthy little Italian who was set down about a year ago, can hold his own with the best of them.

It is indeed welcome news that Arcaro has been reinstated by the New York Jockey Club and will again be eligible to don silks on September 19—one year to the day from the time he was grounded.

when our country needs production more than ever.

A report just reached the writer of this column that Jay Steinoer, Club Master of Newark Pack No. 55 could not sleep so well last Saturday when the boys went camping at Ball Run so he woke Frank Smith and the two of them sat there in the tent chewing the rag until Milton Draper had to tell them to shut up as the rest of the folks could not go to sleep for the noise that they were making.

AIRPLANE SPOTTERS TO RECEIVE "WINGS"

Merit Badges Will Be Given For Service

The Delaware men, women and children who have served as airplane spotters at the state's airplane observation posts will soon receive their "Wings" from the Army Air Forces, it was announced last week.

Spotters who have served 500 hours or have otherwise been outstanding in their service will receive special merit insignia.

George Ehinger, state liaison officer of the Ground Observer Corps in Delaware, said that lists of eligible observers are being forwarded daily to Army officials by chief observers. Approximately 5,000 spotters are due to receive the emblems.

Volunteers who have served a minimum of three months as observers, and are still serving will be entitled to wear the golden AWS wings. Chief observers and other officers will receive specially inscribed wings for the degree of service performed.

Those spotters who have served 500 hours will receive a "500 hour merit" medal to which additional bars may be attached upon completion of 1,000; 2,000; 3,000 and 4,000 hours.

Such a medal will also be awarded to observers who have rendered outstanding service, and to recognition officers and observers who have completed the aircraft recognition course plus a combined record of 250 hours of observation and classroom study.

Day Captains have turned over lists of observers from the Possum Park and Chestnut Hill observation posts to the Chief observers to be forwarded to the Army command.

August 26 Deadline For Job Applications

Men and women who wish to be considered for Civil Service positions of Assistant Lay Inspector (inspection of meats and meat food products) with salaries of $1,970 a year after overtime compensation is added, have until August 26 to file applications with the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Application forms and information may be obtained from the Commission's Local Secretary, Mr. Singles, at the Newark Post Office, or from first- or second-class post offices.

Applications are not desired from persons already employing their highest skills in war work. Appointments will be made in accordance with War Manpower Commission policies and employment stabilization plans.

George W. Crowe Made Staff Sergeant

Word has been received that George W. Crowe, son of Mrs. Carressa B. Crowe, 34 East Cleveland Avenue, has been promoted from the grade of Sergeant to the rank of Staff Sergeant.

Sergt. Crowe has been stationed at the Army Air Base, Great Falls, Montana since he entered the service in August, 1942.

Sergt. Crowe attended the Newark High School and before entering the service was employed at the Hercules Experiment Station in Wilmington.

LOCAL CANINES NOW IN SERVICE

Contribution Determines Rank of War Dogs

Newark dogs are enlisting in the Dogs For Defense movement. The first of the local dogs to enlist in this movement were four dogs owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark Boden, of Fairthorne, West Park Place.

Of the country's 20,000,000 dogs, a scant 2,000,000 are big enough—measuring 18 inches high or more at the shoulder—for war duty as sentinels, messengers or pack toters. But this week, Dogs For Defense, which procures dog power for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, dug up a new scheme to allow the canine 4-F's barred from active duty for size to join the war effort.

It works via the master's pocketbook. For a dollar contributed to the War Dog Fund at 250 Park Avenue, New York City, he can enroll his or her dog in a civilian canine corps as a private—or if he is Navy-bent, as a seaman. Other ranks range as high as General or Admiral according to the size of the contribution. The subscriber is given a certificate and the dog gets a composition collar tag.

In our armed forces there are thousands of dogs—the exact number a military secret—training in the K-9 Corps at half a dozen camps. The corps began with 200 dogs privately trained through the Dogs For Defense.

It is stated that it costs $10 to process a dog for the war; before the animal actually enters the corps. Dogs For Defense pays for registration, examination, crating, and shipping.

The Boden dogs were enlisted as follows: "Colonel" a large St. Bernard dog as a Colonel in the Army; "Topsy" a female Toy Fox Terrier, as a Seaman in the WAVES; "Faun" a female mixed breed as a private in the WAC's and "Shanene" a female Collie, as a Third Class Petty Officer in the Spars.

Being the first dogs enlisted from Newark these four dogs were appointed as official recruiting officers for this territory and have enlisted the following: "Punch" owned by Mrs. Walter B. Straub, Nottingham Rd., a Seaman in the Navy; "Dopey" owned by Mrs. Hans LeBach, a Third Class Petty Officer in the Navy; "Laddie" owned by J. P. Wright, a Lieutenant in the Army; "Norma" owned by Mrs. J. P. Wright, an Ensign in the Women's Marine Reserve; "Angus" owned by Miss Edna Samson, an Ensign in the Navy; Mrs. Howard Greene's three dogs—"Sugar" a Corporal in the Army, "Snip-Snap" a Corporal in the WAC's and "Launcelot" a Sergeant in the Marines.

Many other local dog owners are expected to enlist their pets in this worthy cause. Particulars can be secured from Mrs. Boden.

U. S. Marines, prior to being assigned to duties at sea, are trained at Marine Corps Sea Schools.

RICHARDSON PARK CUB PACK NO. 74 BASEBALL TEAM TIES SERIES WITH NEWARK CUBS

Richardson Park Cub Pack's Victory Last Thursday Over Newark Team Gives Both Teams Two Wins—Two Defeats; Playoff Tonight

Richardson Park Cub Pack No. 74 baseball team defeated the Newark Cub Pack No. 55 ball team last week by a score of 8 to 1 on the local high school field.

Another Jersey Track Seeks License To Run

The Monmouth Park Jockey Club has applied to the State Racing Commission for a license to conduct horse races with pari-mutuel betting for 50 days, starting next July 12, at the site of the former Elkwood Park track near Oceanport, Monmouth County according to Commission Secretary Fred H. Ryan.

The commission will consider the application at a meeting next week, along with the application of the Trenton Jockey Club for a license to conduct a 43-day meet this fall at the State Fair Grounds on the outskirts of Trenton.

Garden State Park, near Camden, has for two years conducted a meet starting in July and ending in September, and a renewal of its license for the same period next year would compel the Monmouth County operators to apply for new dates, Ryan said.

Grand Circuit Trotter Breaks Back In Race

Grand circuit and twilight returned to the Empire City track last night in a program that was marked by spills, collisions, and the destruction of a trotter following an accident.

Henry C. 8-year-old trotter owned and driven by Franch Church, Jr., caught his left hind leg in his left front shoe and somersaulted to the ground, breaking his back. The animal was destroyed by the track veterinarian. Church was thrown clear and uninjured.

Three other horses and drivers were involved in a minor pileup in a different race but all escaped unscathed.

Tuey Barrow, pitching for the local Cubs, allowed two hits, a single and a double in the second frame along with three walks to give the visitors five runs. An error by the second baseman and another by the third baseman brought the total number of runs to the inning to seven. Hilward, pitching for Richardson Park scored again in the fourth inning.

Tweed scored the lone hit and run for the Newark Cubs in the first inning. This game evened the score for the two rival teams, both having won two games. It is expected that the tie will be played off this week at Richardson Park.

63 LOTS TO BE SOLD BY SHERIFF ON AUGUST 20

24 Parcels Of Suburban Building Lots To Be Auctioned

On Friday, August 20, there will be another opportunity to buy suburban building lots at bargain prices, for at 10 a. m. on that day Sheriff Elmer C. Taylor will sell at auction 24 parcels containing 63 lots. It is likely that the properties will be sold for very moderate amounts.

Eleven of the parcels, each containing from two to four lots, are in Minquidale; nine parcels, each containing from one to five lots are in Holloway Terrace; one, containing one lot and part of another is in Hamilton Park; two containing two lots each are in Eden Park Gardens and one containing two lots is in Rogers Manor.

There have been several inquiries already about some of the lots to be sold for they include some very desirable sites for suburban homes. It is probable that owners of adjoining properties may wish to buy some of them.

The lots are being sold, not only to settle unpaid county taxes, but more especially to clear up county tax rolls, for most of the properties are in the names of persons who cannot be found. In no case are the county's taxes and costs very large, so a couple of hundred dollars may buy any particular offerings, depending on the competition.

Employees of Sheriff Taylor's office will be glad to give information about any of the properties. There have been some private sales of lots heretofore bought in by the county.

Those in whose names the properties stand have the privilege of reclaiming them within a year by paying the purchasers at the sheriff's sale their total expenses plus 20 per cent, which in itself offers a neat item of profit.

BIBLE PRESBYT'N SERVICE

Tent Meetings Next Week

Rev. Thomas G. Cross, pastor of the Bible Presbyterian Church sponsoring the special evangelistic tent meetings on the lot next to the New Century Club building on East Delaware Avenue has announced that special features of the program this week will consist of vocal solos, duets and trios as well as trumpet solos.

The services which are being conducted by the Pocket Testament League will include pictures of the "Bombing of Tokyo" and also will show the work being done in Army camps by the Pocket Testament League.

Services this evening will be in charge of Rev. Eugene Palmer and tomorrow evening Peter Boyce will deliver the message. Sunday morning and evening, August 22, the Rev. Edward L. Frizen will be the speaker.

The regular Sunday School will convene at 10 o'clock in the tent under the direction of H. Lloyd Yarnall, superintendent. The adult classes will study the regular International Sunday School lesson topic.

The morning worship service will start at 11 o'clock and the evening service on Sunday will convene at 7 o'clock. The meetings during the week will start at 7:45 p. m.

War Gas Protection Instruction Delivered

Members of Newark Cub Pack No. 55 are distributing circulars for the local Civilian Defense Council on the subject of "How To Protect Yourself Against War Gas."

When the question came up at the regular staff meeting of the Defense Council as to how the circulars could be placed in every home it was stated that the boys who are members of the Cub Scouts would volunteer to do this work.

Under the direction of Jay Steiner, Cub master, one of these circulars will be placed in every home in Newark.

60,000 Acres Wheat Suggested 1944 Goal

The Delaware USDA War Board has recommended a suggested goal of 60,000 acres of wheat for next year. This goal is 4,000 acres higher than the harvested acreage of this year which numbers 56,000 acres.

This suggested goal is in line with the increased demand for wheat, however, agricultural officials point out that there should not be unlimited increases in wheat at the detriment of other essential war crops.

Doordan Cited

The letter from General Kenney praised the courage and resourcefulness of Lieutenant Doordan and other men in the services with him, who, as General Kenney put it, are making a "very real and very tangible contribution to victory and peace."

Lieutenant Doordan was graduated from Newark High School in 1937 and from the University of Delaware in 1941. As cadet major of the University P.O.T.C. he received the highest military awards and at graduation was commissioned in the Coast Artillery. He later transferred to the air forces and received his wings at Moultrie, Ga., on July 3, 1942. He was sent overseas immediately and has been attached to the 40th Fighter Squadron serving in Australia and New Guinea.

Lieutenant Doordan has three brothers in the service. They are First Lieut. Owen W. Doordan of the Quartermaster Corps stationed in Newport News, Va.; Staff Sgt. A. Joseph Doordan, of the special service division, stationed at Santa Ana, Calif.; and Pfc. Bernard P. Doordan, who is studying at Cornell University under the Army Special Training Program.

Brown Stamps

Between Sept. 12, when the first series of brown stamps becomes valid, and Oct. 2, when the final sets of red stamps expire, both red and brown stamps will be usable. After Oct. 2 only the brown stamps will be used. Not until November will it be necessary to bring into use stamps replacing the blue stamps used for canned, frozen and dried foods.

OPA announced blue stamps U, V and W would become valid Sept. 1 and would be good until Oct. 20.

OPA also announced gasoline dealers will be prohibited after Sept. 1 from accepting old-type B and C gasoline ration coupon books. Car owners still holding the old-style books should exchange them for new sheets of coupons between Aug. 23 and Sept. 1, it was stated.

CARNIVAL HELD OVER THIS WEEK

Mr. Kay Donates $150 To Legion Auxiliary

The North Carolina Ridge Runners will again furnish music and entertainment this evening and tomorrow evening there will be an amateur contest with Cousin Lee acting as master of ceremonies.

Anyone, both young or old who can sing, dance or play musical instruments is eligible to compete in the contest as well as groups. Cash prizes will be awarded winners. $10 for the first prize; $5 for the second; $2.50 for third place and several other prizes will also be awarded.

On Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock there will be another Kiddies matinee. This week the Kiddie Party will be a costume affair with prizes for the best dressed, the funniest costume, the best decorated bicycle, the best decorated baby carriage, and the best decorated or most unique float or wagon.

The carnival sponsored by the J. Allison O'Daniel Post No. 10, American Legion is owned and operated by the Kay Amusement Company of Elkton, Md., and David Kay owner was so well pleased with the crowds attending the carnival that on last Saturday night he made a personal donation of $150 to the Legion Auxiliary to be used for child welfare work or any other work that the Auxiliary should designate.

99 Pct. of Population Has Ration Book No. 3

The Office of Price Administration has reported that more than 99 per cent of the nation's civilian consumers—an estimated 127,411,895 persons—have now received war Ration Book No. 3.

In addition, approximately 700,000 members of the armed services and 1,100,000 additional civilian applicants will receive it about the middle of September, raising the aggregate figure to approximately 129,200,000.

Civilians who did not receive the book last month should apply in person at local rationing boards on or before Aug. 10, OPA said. Members of the armed services who are eligible to use ration stamps should mail applications for Book No. 3 on or before Aug. 15 to the OPA mailing center in Chicago.
