

Referendum Scheduled Oct. 10 For 50-Cent School Tax Rise

Newark Board Of Education Adopts Resolution To Vote On 50-Cent Permissive Tax Rate Increase Over Three Years; $4 Head Tax Elimination, Kindergarten Aids

A resolution to remove the $4 capitation tax; to overcome affects of inflation; to promote kindergarten, and to initiate a program of equipment replacement and instructional improvements was passed by the Newark Board of Education at a recent public meeting in the Administration Building.

The resolution calls for a current expense referendum next Oct. 10, to implement a three year 50-cent tax increase program which will set a new permissive tax rate to be phased in with an approximate 30-cent increase during fiscal 1970, a 10-cent increase during fiscal 1971, and five-cent increase during fiscal 1972.

The current expense permissive tax rate is 90 cents in the Newark special school district.

1965 Referendum

In November, 1965, Newark voters approved a current expense referendum for an additional 25-cent to be levied over a three-year period. This program is in its final year of operation.

The school board reports that residents have expressed approval of this three-year program method because of the sound planning it makes possible and because of the economy of having to operate only one current expense referendum every three years.

The capitation tax levied in 1964 will be eliminated with passage of this October's referendum. Many local residents have expressed dissatisfaction with the present capitation tax of $4 for each person over 21 years of age, board officials report.

Increased costs and rapid growth have made it impossible for Newark schools to replace equipment in some older buildings of the district. Nine of Newark's 17 schools are 10 or more years old.

"Adequate funds must be provided to replace equipment in these older buildings as it becomes worn and outdated," President Albert H. Jones of the Newark Board of Education said.

Jas. M. Fox Named As Civil Defense Coordinator At UD

James M. Fox has been appointed coordinator of the civil defense program of the University of Delaware extension division.

A 1962 graduate of the University of Missouri, Fox comes to Delaware from his alma mater where he was an instructor of radiological defense courses for the extension division there.

Earlier, he was administrative assistant to the director of research of the Kellwood Co., New Haven, Mo., and he also taught general science, physics and mathematics for two years at New Haven High School and was a radio-TV repairman.

One of Fox's first ventures at Delaware will be the recently announced 32-hour radiological defense course scheduled during August in Dover. The class will meet six weekdays and two Saturdays, beginning August 6.

The purpose of the course is to qualify radiological defense operations staff members in assembling, evaluating, coordinating and disseminating radiological information. Those who complete the course will be able to provide technical guidance in radiological defense planning and operations, and on-the-job staff training.

Fox, who attended Missouri on a Naval ROTC scholarship, also has served three years in the Air National Guard and has taken graduate work at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

He and his wife and three children will reside at 28 Gill Drive, Rob-scott Manor, Newark.

The Rev. R. Jervis Cooke

Nominated For Bishop
At last Thursday morning's session of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference at West Virginia Wesleyan College, the Rev. R. Jervis Cooke, pastor of Newark United Methodist Church, was listed among several other clergymen on the first ballot cast by the 52 delegates that will elect two new bishops to the United Methodist Church.

The Northeastern jurisdiction is comprised of 27 conferences representing 12 states, 2,000,000 members, 9,400 churches, and 6,800 clergymen.

Susan Cramer Wins Honor

At Lebanon Valley College
Susan E. Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Cramer of 420 Townsend Road, Newark, is among 113 Lebanon Valley College students named to the dean's list for academic excellence during the past spring semester.

A sophomore at Lebanon Valley this fall, Miss Cramer is a biology major.

Heuberger To Head Sick Plant Clinic For UD Field Day

University Experts Plan
Clinic To Aid Farmers,
Gardeners, Plant Lovers

Farmers, home gardeners, and house plant enthusiasts searching for cures and cures for ailing plants will have expert advice at the University of Delaware's annual Farm and Home Field Day on Aug. 14, at the Georgetown Agricultural Substation.

Field Day visitors are invited to bring plant specimens to a special Sick Plant Clinic where problems will be diagnosed by specialists in entomology, horticulture, agronomy and plant pathology. Microscopes and other equipment will be set up for diagnosis.

Dr. John Heuberger, professor of plant science at the University of Delaware and chairman of the Sick Plant Clinic says that the purpose of the clinic is to aid farmers and homeowners in recognizing and solving problems caused by insects, disease, weeds, soil fertility levels, poor variety choices and other factors which reduce yields and affect quality.

Field Day visitors should bring whole plants for diagnosis when possible, says Heuberger. In the case of trees and shrubs, a branch will be sufficient for diagnosis.

If an insect problem is suspected, bring a specimen of the damaged plant along with any insects found on the plant.

An last year's Field Day Clinic, over 150 plant ailments were diagnosed, including instances of insect infestation, chemical deficiencies, improper fertilization and disease.

Also featured at the Sick Plant Clinic will be exhibits of turf, poisonous plants, weeds, ants, ferns, and disease-causing fungi.

University specialists staffing the clinic include Agronomist Richard Cole and Leo Cotnam; Horticulturists Robert F. Stevens, Vernon Fisher and David Tait; Entomologists Dale Bray and Frank Boys; and Plant Pathologists Heuberger and Donald F. Crossan.

Library Acquires Chemistry's Story In 2,000 Volumes

The University of Delaware Morris Library has acquired a large and excellent collection on the history of chemistry, Acting President John W. Shirley reports.

The collection of over 2,000 volumes published from 1479 to 1969, was purchased from the firm of Lart Ancien of Zurich, Switzerland, through Bernard M. Rosenthal of New York.

Assembled over a period of 30 years by a chemist whose hobby is the history of chemistry, the collection includes works in alchemy, pharmacy, occult sciences, perfumery, and publications in physics and medicine related to chemistry.

"It is not likely that another collection of the scope and quality of this one will be available again," said Dr. John M. Dawson, director of libraries. "There are books in this collection which I do not recall having previously seen offered for sale. This collection will not only greatly strengthen our resources for the University of Delaware-Eleutherian Mills-Hagley program, but in itself provides resources for a graduate program in the history of chemistry. In my opinion this is the most significant collection the library ever acquired," Dawson declared.

The purchase of the collection was the result of a cooperative effort. It was first offered to the Eleutherian Mills-Hagley Foundation, but in itself provides resources for a graduate program in the history of chemistry. In my opinion this is the most significant collection the library ever acquired," Dawson declared.

"Circus In The Wind" With Showmobile To Be Offered Free By Baltimore Group

"Circus In The Wind" will be presented at the CTA Showmobile stage at the Newark High School field next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. Presented by the Baltimore Children's Theatre Association, "Circus In The Wind" is being brought to Newark for this one performance only.

Resident children and nonresident adults will see themselves in Jimmy, the small boy who just had to be in the circus for one day, and his reconstructed grandfather Jonathan, who shared Jimmy's dream.

Diane McFann of the Greater Newark Recreation Association advises, "Circus In The Wind" blends comic reality and the call of distant music, and will be performed by an experienced company of young people from CTA's creative drama classes who are adept at capturing both comedy and nostalgia.

It will be presented from the stage of the showmobile, a completely equipped theatre-on-wheels built into a 23-ft trailer.

The Baltimore Showmobile has become a summertime tradition in Maryland in the five years since the theatre could go to the audience as company and crew for 30 or more performances each summer.

For the young people who serve as company and crew for 30 or more performances each summer, it is more than a tradition — it is the high point of the year. They come back, knowing the demands of their job, but they love to share the varied world of imaginary experience with all who will come and listen.

Professional direction and supervision is provided by CTA's Artistic Director Lynne Auman, and by Robert Keane, designer and company manager.

"So drop your ears and listen to the call of 'Circus In The Wind,'" Diane McFann urges.

The performance is free to all, thanks to the Greater Newark Recreation Association and New Castle County Department of Parks, sponsors of this event.

Registrations Set For Kindergarten At Local Schools

Four Jr. High Buildings
Sites For Registrations
Monday Thru Wednesday

Public kindergartens may be offered in the Newark district for the first time starting this September. Registrations will be held next Monday thru Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the district's four junior high schools.

Dr. George V. Kirk, superintendent, indicated that plans have been underway during the past year to establish kindergartens as soon as state authorization makes it possible. A bill was passed by the legislature in June authorizing public kindergartens. However, the bill did not contain sufficient funds.

The legislature approved additional funds last Friday, but this bill still needs the governor's signature.

Kindergarten classes will be started this fall in Newark only if fully funded by the state.

Classes will be placed in those elementary schools with sufficient room. This means that some pupils will not be located in schools nearest to their homes.

Bus transportation will be provided for students who live more than one mile from the school to which they are assigned.

Kindergarten will operate on half-day sessions and pupils will be assigned to morning or afternoon sessions as classrooms are available.

The four centers for registration are the Central, Christiana, Ogletown, and Shue schools.

To enter kindergarten a child must be five years of age on or before next Jan. 1, and parents must present the child's birth certificate at time of registration.

The registration period is to assist in planning for the number of classes and teachers required.

Final establishment of the program will be announced as soon as a bill provides adequate financial support from the state.

Vacation Closing

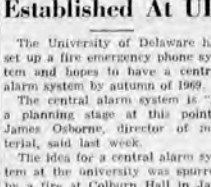

The Newark Post will not be published on Thursday, Aug. 15, because of annual staff vacations.

The office and printing shop at 14-16 Thompson Lane will be closed from Saturday, Aug. 10, through Sunday, Aug. 18.

Printing orders will be received and processed thru Friday, Aug. 9, with deliveries to be made after one week vacation.

There will be no Post for Thursday, Aug. 15, but the paper will be printed the following week — on Thursday, Aug. 22.

Newark Fire Marshal

William M. Donahue

Emergency Phone System For Fires Established At UD

The University of Delaware has set up a fire emergency phone system and hopes to have a central alarm system by autumn of 1969.

The central alarm system is in a planning stage at this point, James Osborne, director of material, said last week.

The idea for a central alarm system at the university was spurred by a fire at Colburn Hall in January. At that time, if a fire broke out in a dormitory, an alarm could be pulled to alert residents, but to alert firemen, a call would have to be placed to either campus security or county call board.

According to Osborne, the university has the beginning of an emergency telephone network and more funds are being added. The call goes directly to an emergency center and from there to the fire department.

City Fire Marshal William M. Donahue said the city was considering a system, but it still "is in the talking stage."

A joint city-university system has been discussed, Donahue said, and possibly would be beneficial in many ways, especially outside if it could be installed at once.

Budget Revision At Mid-Year Contains Pay, Fringe Benefits

Five Per Cent Pay Raise, Added Vacation Time Slated
With $28,400 Increase In Unappropriated Surplus, Drop
Of $54,400 In Expenditures; City Hall Talk Deferred

Comptroller Albert K. Martin's six-months report was reviewed without question; the mid-year budget revision with a decrease of $54,400 in expenditures; and providing a five per cent pay increase with additional fringe benefits for municipal employees was approved at a special meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night.

Discussion of a city hall site, scheduled after the special meeting, was deferred when the special meeting was extended from the 10:30 deadline and adjourned at 10:45 p.m.

The reduction in budget expenditures is due principally to elimination of $160,000 allocated for the sidewalk construction program as a result of last April's referendum.

The proposed five per cent pay increase for salary and wages personnel, excluding police and staff members, effective last July 1, is budgeted at $25,000, with police pay rates adjusted for a competitive position with a starting rate higher than Wilmington and New Castle County police, but lower than the Delaware State Police scale. Staff members pay scales remain as covered by the present ordinance.

Fringe Benefits
Proposed improved fringe benefits amounting to $14,400, include fully paid hospitalization, an extra week of vacation for three weeks after five years of service; and a maximum of five weeks vacation after 20 years.

An ordinance is to be prepared covering budget revisions.

Councilman Alan R. Thomas urged that a proposed 15 years seniority requirement be changed to 20 years for five weeks of vacation, saying "I know of no local industry where this applies." And Martin replied that the 15-year, five-week vacation period "holds true in New Castle County."

City Manager Edward R. Stiff recommended creation of a building department for complete charge of building, plumbing, fire, housing, electrical, zoning, and heating codes; the levying of fees for plumbing and zoning permits; and pay increases for building officials.

Plumbing Permit Revenue
Plumbing permit fees for a typical house would amount to $19, and a fee of $10 is proposed for a zoning permit.

Councilman John H. Fasmacht termed the creation of a building department, "an excellent idea to have it as a separate department" from the present public works division.

An ordinance is to be prepared for implementation of Stiff's proposals.

With Martin's recommendation for city purchase of Boroughs electronic data processing equipment, council approved finalizing negotiations for such purchase, with a view to conversion by next July.

Stiff reported that Detective Robert Stafford and Marvin Fitzgerald, and Corp. Ronald Bramble attained the three top scores in police promotional examinations conducted for sergeant with the resignation of Sgt. Paul Morrison.

Council approved promotions for Stafford to platoon sergeant as a replacement for Sgt. Frederick Herold in his move to the post as detective sergeant; for Fitzgerald as a juvenile-community relations officer advancing from Grade 3 to 5; and for Bramble as platoon sergeant replacement for Sgt. George Getty who will fill the new position of traffic-highway safety sergeant.

Comptroller Martin presented pension committee review of the consultants report on funding of the municipal employees pension plan, recommending that 50 per cent of the fund be invested in fixed income of Bankers Life Co., and 50 per cent in the separate equity account of the Bank of Delaware. Martin further recommended that the firm of Edward H. Friend be retained for installation of a new pension plan and contract at a cost not to exceed $1,000, and for maintaining consultation services for a one-year period at a cost of $1,447.

"I imagine it has a few flaws in it," Councilman William M. Corvade said of the pension plan funding proposal "but it is an improvement over what we have had in the past."

And council approved implementation of the pension funding program as outlined by Martin.

Jack Vinson Heads Project
With $48,200 NSF Grant
The University of Delaware has received a two-year grant of $48,200 from the National Science Foundation to support research on pyrolytic graphite alloys.

The project is being conducted by Dr. Jack R. Vinson, professor and chairman of the department of mechanical and aerospace engineering.

Genevieve Blatt To Speak
At Conference For Aging
Genevieve Blatt of the Office of Economic Opportunity, will be the chief speaker at the Governor's Conference for the Aging next Oct. 15, at the University of Delaware.

The conference will relate to "Retirement Income Maintenance." Miss Blatt is a special assistant to the director of the Office of Economic Opportunity program to aid the elderly.

A joint city-university system has been discussed, Donahue said, and possibly would be beneficial in many ways, especially outside if it could be installed at once.

At that time, if a fire broke out in a dormitory, an alarm could be pulled to alert residents, but to alert firemen, a call would have to be placed to either campus security or county call board.

WHAT DOES HISTAMINE MEAN?

In recent years "antihistamine" has become a household word. Antihistamine preparations have found their way into the family medicine cabinet alongside bandages and aspirin, barbiturates of soda and antiseptics.

But despite the wide acceptance of antihistamine medications, the meaning of the word "histamine" remains obscure. We use the word "antihistamine" so freely, it sounds as if we know what it means.

Let's make a new start by defining "histamine."

Histamine is the substance that conveys the boss that you have a fever and should be home and in bed, since it produces your red and runny nose.

Histamine is the substance that causes a hay fever victim to turn into a picture of misery due to his watery eyes and stopped up nasal passages.

Histamine is found in all animal tissue. Exactly how this chemical substance is freed from the cells containing it is not clear, although it is known that one release mechanism is triggered by allergen antibody contact.

Histamine can kill you. In reactions to severe shock, it can cause general dilation of blood vessels with subsequent drop in blood pressure. Extreme cases of shock — called anaphylactic — can be fatal.

In dilating small blood vessels, histamine causes blood redness (as in a reddened nose during a common cold, a red wheel at the side of a newspaper).

Mrs. Richard Blevins and Mrs. L. Lambert are recreation chairmen. White Oak 4-H Club met Thursday with Pat Ryan, and plans were made for the annual fun night program to be held this evening at 6:30 at Lenape Park.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cannon and some Stephen and Philip of Eastburn Farm, have been on a two-week motor trip to Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. They toured Cabot Trail in Nova Scotia, and visited in New Brunswick.

Enroute they stopped at Mill Seaport, Conn., and Sturbridge Village, Mass.

Of local interest is announcement of the engagement of Yvonne Elizabeth Powers and David K. Gass.

Miss Powers is the daughter of Mrs. Edward James Powers of Millville, Ala. Mr. Gass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Warden Gass of Duncan Road.

A graduate of the University of Delaware, he is employed by International Business Machines Corp. in Huntville, Ala.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi and has her master's degree from the University of Alabama. She attended the University in Cambridge, England. She is with the Huntville school system.

Limestone Presbyterian Church. Young Adults will hold a pool party on Aug. 17, from 8 to 11 p.m. at Red Mill swimming pool. Mr. and Mrs. David Denney, Mr. and Mrs. Don Borders, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rabian are the committee.

Members are asked to collect clothing next month for Church World Service. Mrs. Luther Bicknell, Jr., is chairman.

The Rev. George Leukel, former pastor at Kennett Square Presbyterian Church, will preach here this Sunday at 10 a.m.

Meredith Ors is spending this week at Chesapeake Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jones and Mrs. Claire E. Jones have moved to Rochester, N.Y.

Mrs. Frank Batorstori of Limestone Acres, is a surgical patient in Delaware Division.

James L. Dickinson of McKenna's Church Road, is a patient in Memorial Division.

Ebenezer Methodist Church. Holly Grange, and Denise and Vera Roberts attended Camp Peconic on the Chesapeake from this church school.

While the Rev. Robert Helms, pastor, is on vacation, the pulpit will be supplied by laymen and visiting Methodist ministers.

On Aug. 11, John Keison, a delegate to the Methodist General Conference in Dallas, Tex., will preach, assisted by Lindsay Greenblatt of Ebenezer.

Colds, hay fever, and other allergies are not fought with antihistamines alone these days. But, while they do not prevent or cure the disorder, they are important in relieving discomforts and miseries they cause. Among the antihistamine compounds that have taken a leading role in providing decongestion and relief from cold and hay fever symptoms are the Novahistine antihistamine products of the Pittman-Moore Division, The Dow Chemical Company.

Novahistine products permit the patient to breathe freely. They check formation of excessive irritant secretions. Sneezing and nose blowing, which often spread infection into the middle ear and sinuses, are minimized, and mouth breathing, which dries out and dehydrates the covering of throat and larynx, is prevented.

Everyone knows about antihistamines. Now you know what histamine is.

The Rev. Ralph H. D. Hughes, a former pastor of St. Mark's Church at Stanton, will be the guest speaker on Aug. 18, and Melvin Demps

Robert A. Short Opens New Office In Governor's Bid

State Insurance Commissioner Robert A. Short, who is seeking the Republican nomination for governor, this week opened headquarters in Wilmington at 1297 North Union Street.

The Wilmington headquarters is the third to be opened by Short since announcing his candidacy. Kent County headquarters are located at 306 South State Street, Dover, while Short's Sussex campaign is headquartered in the Sussex County Republican Headquarters in Georgetown.

In remarks at opening ceremonies, Short stressed the need for a more effective program of crime prevention and control in the state to protect lives of Delawareans.

He said that the current state administration has failed in this regard, committing a five per cent increase in crime last year and an additional increase this year.

Short also described as "completely ineffective" the positions of his opponent for the nomination. He said that Russell W. Peterson has opposed capital punishment, vacillated on use of National Guard patrols, and generally followed a "go-easy-on-offenders" line.

Short called for greater recognition of the deterrent value of punishment for criminals and a broad-based attack on conditions which contribute to lawlessness.

Bob Short and The Taxpayers' Dollar

If Bob Short received the Republican gubernatorial nomination and won in November, what sort of a governor would he make? Past performance indicates he would make a good one — one who would look after your interests as a taxpayer.

Why do we say this? Because as State Insurance Commissioner, Bob Short currently heads the only state agency that operates today on a smaller budget than five years ago!

That's not saying he would be able to cut expenditures of the entire state government in half. But it does mean he would cut out waste, eliminate duplication and overlapping of services and give us the most government per dollar of tax revenue.

Some areas of government would probably cost more under Bob Short's administration. Like police protection. But if we're able to live and work without fear of rioting and other violence, more dollars spent here would be worth it.

Administration is nothing new to Bob Short. He received a good foundation for it as an economics major at Princeton. That was twenty-five years ago. Since then he's been demonstrating sound administration — in his own business enterprises, in his community, and in state government.

Somebody suggested a "Hoover Commission" to study ways of streamlining Delaware's government. Here's a better idea — let's organize a "Short Commission" with Bob Short as governor at the head.

Student Discover Indian Artifacts At South Bowers

A cache of Indian artifacts was found near South Bowers by University of Delaware archeology course students just as the course ended last week.

The class had been held five days a week since mid-June. All eight students, armed with good maps according to State Archeologist Ronald A. Thomas, instructor.

The artifacts were found in an Indian burial pit. They consisted of five large blades made of stone from the upper Delaware Valley in New York State, plus small arrow points neatly stacked one above the other, a stone pendant, an Indian worn around his neck, and a dozen bone implements.

Some of the students are so enthusiastic about the project that they plan to remain and continue digging even though the course has been completed.

Miss Constantine, Sandra McGraw Attend DE Session

Manera Constantine and Sandra McGraw, DE-DO teachers at Newark and Christiansburg high schools, attended the distributive education seminar at the Rehoboth Hotel at Rehoboth this past week.

The seminar is held annually to keep the teachers informed on up-to-date teaching vehicles and to study the changing world of merchandising which is the basic course of study for the program.

Distributive education is a training program for high school students that enables them to train and work part-time in the retail, wholesale, and service-selling occupations.

The two Newark district high schools have been participating in the distributive education program for the past two years.

Home Irrigation System

Advised For Good Lawn

The difference between a fair lawn and a really good lawn is fair water when you need it, says Dr. William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware. And the way to get that much needed water is with a home irrigation system.

Installing a home irrigation system is not a particularly difficult task, says Mitchell. In fact the average homeowner can easily do the job in a single weekend.

WOOD UTILITY POLES

A KEY NATIONAL ASSET
BY TOM CUNNINGHAM
AMERICAN WOOD PRESERVERS INST.

POLES TAKE PRESSURE!

If you had the tremendous task of getting electrical power to every home, business and factory in the U. S., you might break under the pressure. But it's pressure which enables millions of wood utility poles to do exactly that!

Utility poles are first loaded onto a special rail car and rolled into a giant pressure cylinder which forces chemical preservatives such as creosote and pentachlorophenol deep into the wood. Impregnating these preservatives under the quality standards followed by members of the American Wood Preservers' Institute insure a life exceeding 35 years regardless of the climate.

You can be sure of having the electrical energy you need daily, because each year about 6,000,000 poles are getting "the treatment."

Profit In Broilers Cited By McAllister In Ohio

The profit situation for broilers in the next six to nine months can be either favorable or disastrous, depending on production decisions made by the broiler industry, says W. T. McAllister, extension farm management specialist at the University of Delaware.

Speaking at the American Poultry Congress and Exposition in Cincinnati, McAllister pointed out that the red meat supply balanced against consumer demand is favorable toward broilers.

"I believe that the real profit opportunities lie in managing production to take advantage of long-time cycles characteristic of large animal production," said McAllister.

"Broiler firms must give more weight to red meat supply cycles."

ADVANCING AGE AND SIGHT

As we all know, many changes occur in the human body as we advance in age. For instance, the bones become heavier and more brittle.

The eye begins to change at around 25 to 30 years of age. The crystalline lens begins to harden.

This hardening process, as with the bones, continues at all age levels. Between the ages of 40 and 45 it becomes most noticeable.

When reading, the person tends to blur and the reading matter has to be held at varying distances from the eye. This is because the lens is no longer as flexible as it was and cannot change its shape to focus for objects that are closer.

The focusing mechanism of the eye changes much like the bellows in a camera. It is doing this constantly, depending upon the sharpness or blurriness of the image received on the retina, or back of the eye.

Since this focusing is automatic, we take it for granted. Only when the lens hardens do we realize its importance.

Remember, however, that this condition is normal and does not mean weakness or disease. With bifocal, and even trifocal contact lenses, or spectacles the useful age of mankind has been extended.

A professional eye examination at regular intervals—every six months, according to the National Eye Research Foundation—is a certain method of knowing your exact eye condition.

Pizzaburgers Go to Teen Barbecue

Comes teen party time at your house, and the junior host or hostess is very likely to suggest the all-time favorite hamburger as the menu feature. And with good reason. What is more appetizing than the scent of beef grilling over a charcoal fire, or the sight of thick, juicy burgers on crisp toasted buns?

The hamburger has almost limitless flavor possibilities, however, depending on the skillful use of lasting sauce or an interesting garnish. When your teen chefs start making up party lists, suggest these rave-winning Pizzaburgers, as the menu feature. Providing the flavor difference in these tender, juicy burgers are special Italian type seasonings and a surprise topping of sliced anchovies and Mozzarella cheese. Give the burgers an extra measure of flavor and moistness with sauced condensed tomato soup used both as an ingredient and as a sauce to spoon over the patties. Double rich, double thick, expertly seasoned, sauced tomato soup no good no less, and for so many cooking uses, is a real boon to the outdoor chef. Keep plenty on hand all season long, to help you create both indoor and outdoor masterpieces of good eating. Round out the menu with a tray of crisp vegetable relishes and a plump dip, ice-cold beverages, and fruit and cookies for dessert.

PIZZABURGERS
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) tomato soup
1 lb. ground beef
1 onion, minced
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon anchovy, cap. oil
1/2 cup sliced olives (optional)
1/2 cup sliced mushrooms (optional)
Ground hard rolls

Blend soup, vinegar, oregano, and basil. Combine 2 tablespoons soup mixture with 1/2 cup crumbs, egg, and garlic salt; mix thoroughly. Shape into 6 patties. Press anchovy and mushroom patties. Place on grill (broil side up) about 4 inches above glowing coals. Brush with sauce; turn 1/2 way with cheese; cook 5 minutes more. Toast rolls. Heat tomato sauce; serve over patties on rolls. Makes 6 sandwiches.

A PAIR OF ANGELS

Newark lost two wonderful ladies last Monday with the passing of Mrs. Ruth E. Phillips and Mrs. Josephine W. Vansant, and certainly, our loss is Heaven's gain.

We prize the 13 happy years to which Mrs. Phillips contributed much as a good, kind across-the-street neighbor, where her brightness and unfailing good cheer were almost rivaled by the lovely flower garden that she and her husband Claude tended together for a glorious display of spring, summer, and fall color.

Mrs. Vansant, a working bookkeeper in her 80's, has been a fine friend and a tower of strength for all who knew her, and particularly for the Mitchell bomber battle flyer of World War II — Saul Savitch — to whom Mrs. Vansant, affectionately referred as the "boy merchant" during their 20 years of business association.

These two great ladies contributed a great deal of goodness for a better way of life in which we sorely miss them both.

U. of D. Division Of Urban Affairs Joins In Census

A census of population began today in the Oak Grove school district as a joint effort between the district and the University of Delaware division of urban affairs.

The census will obtain information on composition and growth potential of the district's inhabitants, with particular attention to the number and location of preschool and in-school children.

Should there be any doubt as to the authenticity of an enumerator or any question concerning the census, residents are urged to contact Kevin O'Connor of the division of urban affairs.

The Oak Grove district will be the 30th Delaware school district to participate in the census program of the division of urban affairs.

Districts enumerated since inception of the census program in 1963 include Wilmington; Smyrna, Bridgeville, Alexis I. du Pont, New Castle, Gunning Bedford, Alfred I. du Pont, Newark, Marshallton, Redbank, Arden, Stanton, Claymont, DeLaWarr, Mt. Pleasant, Conasa, Middletown, Newport and Richardson Park.

McQuillan Named By Budd As Regional Sales Chief

The Budd Polysystem Division has appointed J. A. McQuillan as regional sales manager of the West Central sales region with headquarters in Indianapolis, succeeding W. H. Gotschall who retired July 31.

In his new position McQuillan is responsible for the division's sales of industrial plastics in eight Midwest states.

McQuillan, who joined Budd in 1962, has 15 years sales experience in the plastics industry.

Stock Market Know-How Shated For Fall Course

Understanding the stock market, one of the most popular courses offered through the University of Delaware extension division, will be taught in Wilmington and Dover next semester.

Theories and techniques, including Dow theory, advances and declines, volume of trading, confidence index, moving averages and charting techniques, will be discussed for the benefit of persons with limited experience in investments.

Session will start Sept. 24, at the P.S. duPont and Dover Air Force Base high schools.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
WHAT IS SEEING?

Although the phenomenon of seeing is instantaneous, we don't realize the great amount of interpretation required of the brain to "unscramble" what is seen.

The driver of a vehicle involved in an accident views the mishap quite differently than the "eye-witnesses." There are so many variables that occur in an accident that the actual facts are often obscured.

Your eye doctor will tell you how different patients interpret the images and letters on the eye chart in his office. There are many valid reasons for this misinterpretation. You may not be looking directly at the object in question, your gaze was wandering, The angle of view may affect your interpretation. You may have had your mind fixed on something else. You may be tired, or your eyes are not focusing. Perhaps you need visual correction. Seeing is a very complicated process and it is exceedingly important that you are properly trained to see.

The current and very intense interest in reading courses give ample evidence of the value of accurate reading. Many executives are trained to read their material more rapidly and with greater understanding. Schools have intensified this also and we are again being taught that reading is a very vital part of learning.

According to the National Eye Research Foundation, 85% of our knowledge is gained through the eye. Have you had an eye examination lately?

"Gentlemen: Start your engines... if you can!"

That warning tacked on to the usual starting command at the Indianapolis "500" Speedway made it clear that these cars would not start easily. Each of the 99 cars had been identically "bugged" with ten malfunctions. So 198 high school students began spinning wrenches.

They were racing for scholarships, prizes and trophies worth $100,000 in the Plymouth National Trouble Shooting contest, an annual event for America's top auto mechanics students.

First team to restore its car to perfect running order—in 42 minutes, 33 seconds—was James For-bis and Stanley Choura, of Galena Park (Tex.) Senior High, in the Vocational division.

Peter Miller and Daniel Fowler, of Greenhills High, Cincinnati, O., won the Industrial division in 42:46. Each team claimed a $3,000 college scholarship, earning at a rate of over $70 a minute.

The 99 compelling teams of two students each were winners in a series of 76 regional elimination contests in which students from 50 states participated. At the local level, the contest involved some 100,000 students from 2,000 schools.

After the contest ended, each student was given a chance to drive around the historic speedway under supervision. When they went home, each of ten winning teams had scholarships, a trophy, tools, and a new Plymouth engine, complete with transmission and accessories, for use in the school's auto-mechanics shop.

The program encourages students to continue their education in auto mechanics. In 19 years, nearly 15,000 boys have been placed in full or part time jobs as auto mechanics.

At starter's signal, 198 boys race for their cars and start looking for trouble, which can be anything from fouled fuel lines to improperly installed parts. One boy usually checks electrical system while other works on fuel system. Intensity of the competition as teams race the clock and each other is shown as one boy seeks to "debug" a carburetor and another goes acrobatic in checking what he suspects is a faulty wire. Hard-to-spot malfunctions have included purposely-shortened spark plugs and ignition points coated with clear nail polish to prevent contact.

Rhett P. Edwards Funeral Services Held In Dubuque

Mrs. Rhett P. Edwards, 47, of 241 Cheltenham Road, Newark died in her home Sunday after a short illness.

Born in Dubuque, Ia., the widow of Frank C. Edwards, she had lived in Newark about three years.

Mrs. Edwards is survived by a son, Dr. Frank C. Jr., of Sherman, Tex., a daughter, Mrs. Mabel E. Austin of Newark, with whom she lived; a brother, Henry J. Platt of Tama, Ia., a sister, Mrs. Jennie P. Whitwell of Tacoma, Wash.; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Services were held Wednesday in Dubuque at the Englund Funeral Home. Interment was in Highview Cemetery, Epworth, Ia.

Peter Sadowski Elected Farmers' Ass't Cashier

Peter Sadowski has been elected assistant cashier of the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware.

Sadowski has served as manager of the Brookside office of Farmers Bank since 1966.

While at P.S. du Pont High School, he joined the bank as a co-operative student employee on a part-time basis in 1953. After graduation from high school in 1954, he became a full-time employee of the bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Sadowski reside with their four children at 39 Old Manor Road, Newark.

Teachers will discover practical suggestions for developing the ability of young children to read evaluatively in a new publication, "Critical Reading Develops Early" which is available from International Reading Association, 6 Tyne Avenue, Newark.

40 Million On the Move

If you've left your heart some place recently—or plan to in the near future—you've got company. The love interest in this case is the home, which will be transplanted for about 40 million Americans this year.

Summer is the signal for address changes in this country, accounting for more than 75 percent of the year's family moving. One-third of the grand total will leave their present homes after less than a year of residence. One thing is certain, regardless of whether the household possessions are moved across town or across the country: the strange new house will be full of crates and scattered furniture when the family arrives.

It's one of the times in life when the home and spirit need brightening and Florists' Transworld Delivery experts have some suggestions to offer on the sending of fresh flowers from friends left behind.

First of all, the kitchen by necessity is one of the first rooms ready for living and FTD florists have some arrangements appropriate for that part of the house. A container of daisies set into a wide-brimmed cookie jar will brighten the table; or ask your florist to fill a brightly colored plastic bucket with roses—to be delivered with a new mop tied with a satin bow.

FTD florists around the nation have a knack for creating arrangements which match the particular home decor involved. For example, there are many flowers which fit country-style homes and they can be attractively arranged in a frying pan or sauce pan, as well as the traditional vase.

Another approach is the use of a little humor, such as the prominent display of a bottle of rubbing alcohol among fresh miniature carnations, with a card explaining that the first week is always the hardest.

Whatever the container, the flowers are guaranteed to be a cheering influence when the exhausted "movers" pop down in their new living room on arrival night.

Wins All Eight Starts

Nevele Pride, seen here on the training track with the great Stanley Dancer in the sulky, may attempt to set a world record for the half-mile strip early in September, according to Racing Secretary Joe DeFrank. Nevele Pride, runaway winner of "Horse of the Year" honors, has performed brilliantly again this year, winning all of his eight starts.

Because of Nevele Pride's heavy schedule through August, it seems likely that the speedy side-sweeper will make his season in the last week of Brandywine's 100-night season which closes Sept. 5.

$100,000 Delaware Handicap, Saturday Offers Golden Gallop For Distaff Stars

The race for which the most glamorous fillies and mares have been pointing comes up this Saturday at Delaware Park — the $100,000-added Delaware Handicap at the classic route of a mile and a quarter.

This will be the 31st running of the golden gallop for stars of the distaff division, an event which annually has attracted champions and near-champions. For instance, the 1966 and 1967 renewals were won by champion racemares — Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Straight Deal last season, and Brandywine Stable's grey ghost Open Fire the year before.

can enjoy a cost-free fishing break when they cross the 176-mile-long span over and under Chesapeake Bay between the tip of the Delaware Peninsula and Virginia's mainland. Until recently, there was a $1 charge for fishing and a 50-cent charge for sightseeing from the pier which accommodates more than 500 fishermen at a time.

Built out from one of the bridge-tunnel's four man-made islands, almost four miles from the Virginia Beach shoreline, the 425-ft. pier is located over some of the best fishing waters in the world—the junction of the Chesapeake Bay and the Atlantic Ocean.

Sea Gull Pier is 25-ft. above the water level, and the bay at this spot is some 40 feet deep. The big rocks piled around the artificial island to make a bulkhead, draw fish. Black sea bass, flounder, sea trout, spot, porgies and blues are caught from the pier, and one of the large-

Delaware To Play Regular Schedule Of 10 Grid Games

The Blue Hens entering the second stage of a rebuilding program under Head Coach Tubby Raymond, have scheduled 10 games for the first time in the 76-year history of the sport at Delaware.

The schedule is probably the most demanding and attractive the Blue Hens ever played. Delaware has added Lambert Cup winner West Chester, Yankee Conference Champion Massachusetts and Boston University to the schedule. The three newcomers join major college foes Buffalo, Rutgers and Villanova.

The 1968 team rounded out a 6-3-1 season with a 26-14 victory over Port DuPont.

The 1968 Blue Hens finished a 10-6 campaign with a 21-7 Cigar Bowl victory over Rollins, and the 1964 team boosted its final record to 6-2 with a 19-7 win over Kent State in the Refrigerator Bowl.

Ross Vickers' All-Stars Win State Title As Dave Chapman Hurls Second Shutout

Manager Ross Vickers' Newark All-Stars won the Delaware B & B Ruth League Tournament last Saturday afternoon as right-hander Dave Chapman hurled his second shutout of the tourney to defeat the New Castle West All-Stars 3-0 in the final test at the Newark High School diamond.

Chapman also singled to right field in the fifth to drive across Jim Ford and Gov Brooks with a pair of runs and break a scoreless tie in the championship contest.

The 18-year-old pitcher, who enters Newark High as a sophomore next September, struck out nine while giving up but four hits and a pair of walks over the seven-inning route.

In Newark's tournament opener, Chapman pitched a two-hitter in beating Mill Creek 7-0, striking out 15.

The Newark All-Stars scored their final run in the sixth inning when Steve Repole singled to left scoring Dave Radulski who had doubled.

It was the third shutout and fourth triumph for Manager Vickers' charges, marking the first time in the eight-year history of the double elimination play that any team has won the state crown with a perfect record.

Newark advanced to the Middle Atlantic Regional Tournament at Swarth Park, Hamilton Township, Trenton, N.J., starting Saturday, when teams vie in double elimination play with the winner going to Oregon for the National.
