HERE AGAINCivic Clubs
Will Join In Staging Event
On October 30

Halloween and Mardi-Gras, including costume parade, dances for teen-ages and refreshments for adults and younger children, will be staged here again on October 30.

The committee which directed last year's successful fête decided at a meeting of the club representatives on Thursday in the office of Dr. John R. Stieglitz, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, was in charge.

Cash prizes will be offered in costume contests. It was agreed that the junior class, Sadie Hawkins, will be crowned for mischief night. The committee decided to hold only one dance on the night of the Mardi-Gras. Last year there were two, one for the senior high school and another for the junior high school. The dances have not been worked out yet.

Stieglitz's committee includes: Harry H. Lyons, dance and refreshments; E. T. McCully, Recreation Committee; dance locations; H. H. Lyons, Rotary, judging and collecting prizes; Mrs. J. P. Cann, Centennial Club, dance music; Mrs. Anne H. Lyons, Soroptimists, award prizes; W. S. Chrysler "Open House"
Is Set For October 8

Formal opening of Chrysler Corporation's new MoPar Parts and Accessories Distributing Center on South College Avenue is set for Friday, October 8.

An "open house" will be held from 3 to 6 p. m., when residents from this entire area are invited to tour the huge plant, which has been in official operation here for some time.

In announcing the event, Ralph Brosius, manager of the Newark plant, said: "This is our way of letting you know that we're mighty happy to be able to become a part of this community. Naturally, we're anxious to get a chance to meet our new neighbors here in Delaware. We thought one of the best ways to get together with you would be to hold open house in our new home."

The plant is designed to supply Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler dealers on the Atlantic slope with replacement parts and accessories.

1ST GRADERS
GET READING
TESTS HEREBeginners To Be Regrouped
On Abilities

Tests were given to all first grade pupils at the Newark Schools early this week to determine their readiness for reading instruction. The program was carried out under the supervision of Henry M. Brader, elementary supervisor.

The tests are of the utmost importance, Mr. Brader said, since a large part of the failures in first-grade achievement occur because the school curriculum is not modified to provide for individual differences among pupils in maturity and ability.

The age criterion of six years has proved, he said, inadequate as an indication of the readiness of a child for formal school learning.

At the completion of the tests, pupils are regrouped into sections suitable for their level of maturity. Each child will then be started at his appropriate level, providing a setting in which each can be at ease and work at his own rate.

Working with Mr. Brader on the project are the following teachers: Miriam Nottingham, Sara Steele, Marjorie Jamison and Mrs. Hazel Sutcliffe.

CONCERT AT CLUB MONDAYJ. R. King Will Give Horn Solos

J. Robert King, director of instrumental music at the University of Delaware, will give a program of French Horn solos at the first fall meeting of the Newark New Century Club on Monday at 2 p. m.

Mr. King, who has degrees of B. M. and B. S. M. from Oberlin College and a master's degree in Musicology from the Eastman School, is a major in the French Horn and also an accomplished violinist.

Before coming to Delaware, he was director of instrumental music at Berea College, Kentucky, and at the Eastern Illinois State Normal School. For two years, he played first horn with the Akron Symphony Orchestra in Akron, Ohio.

Mr. King came here in 1946. Since then, in addition to his staff duties, he has organized the Newark Civic Orchestra and several ensembles.

Hostess for the meeting will be Mrs. Charles Evans.

P. T. A. SETS
ATTENDANCE RECORD FOR
SEPT. MEET341 Members
On Hand For
First Program
Of New Term

Exactly 341 members, the largest attendance on record, turned out for the first Parent-Teacher Association meeting of the season last Thursday in the high school auditorium.

Main feature was a program on traffic safety, which opened with a talk by Mayor Ford H. McBerly. He discussed Accident Prevention Week now being observed here and called for public cooperation with the local police force which is now carrying out a campaign to cut down automobile speeding. He was introduced by P. T. A. President Col. Layton Zimmer.

A film on safety was also shown by Walter Wassner, chairman of the P. T. A. safety group. He explained the purpose of the new school safety patrol and asked for parental cooperation.

Another highlight was a talk by Supt. Wilmer E. Shue who described plans for the new $700,000 elementary building soon to be erected here. He outlined details of the 26-room structure and said that officials hope to have the work started by November 1.

Mr. Shue also introduced the new teachers on the faculty this term. Afterwards, the organization of homeroom mothers for the term was completed under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles M. Cooper.

Plans for a magazine drive by the school pupils were also discussed. Funds for such projects as new athletic field bleachers and lights for night games could be raised, it was pointed out. Last year's successful campaign secured money for new band uniforms and for auditorium curtains.

Capt. Barker Gets New Post In Philippines

Captain Leonard C. Barker, of Newark, who is now on duty with the U. S. Army in the Philippines, has been designated assistant post engineer of Headquarters, Camp Rizal, Philippines Command in Manila.

His wife, Elizabeth and two children, Gail and Leonard, Jr., who are now residing at 16 Tyne Avenue, will join him in Manila sometime in December.

Capt. Barker left for the Philippines last July after having served at Headquarters Sixth Army and at the Presidio of San Francisco. Commissioned in the Officers Reserve Corps in 1934, he graduated from Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He served in the European Theatre from 1945 to 1946 and was commissioned in the Regular Army the following year.

Formerly an engineer connected with the Hercules Powder Company in Wilmington, Capt. Barker graduated from the University of Delaware, where he was a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity.

Envy A Teacher's Summer? Most Work Or Study, Survey Shows

What does a teacher do in the summer—that long, long vacation the rest of us hurried wage earners envy so much?

Well, believe it or not, most of them work or go to school. This is indicated in a questionnaire recently filled out by the faculty members at the Newark Schools.

Of the 15 who reported on their summer activities, five said they attended various colleges and four took jobs. One made an extended trip and took a short course. One got married and spent the summer traveling. Two sensible pedagogues said they remained at home, and one anonymous instructor who apparently is overly addicted to vitamin bars said she "fanned, swam and helped paint a house." Her only comment was "I'm tired."

Of the five who took courses, two, Mrs. Margaret Koeling and Miss Jeanette Thoroughgood, attended the University of Delaware. Both took "Basic Human Development and Guidance." Later, Miss Thoroughgood made a motor trip through New England and got in a spot of mountain climbing (her first) in New Hampshire. Didn't so much as skin her shins, she reported.

Two others, Dorothy Markert and Henry Brader, new elementary supervisors, studied at the University of Pennsylvania. Both completed graduate work in their respective fields. Science teacher, H. Lewis Miller, took

First Community Fund
Drive Is Planned HereRed Feather Campaign
Will Be Introduced In
Newark October 3 to 10

Newark's first red feather campaign of the United Community Fund will be held here October 3 to 10 under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. O. Bausman.

Volunteers will go from door to door during that period in the drive which is being introduced in Newark this year because many of the 23 organizations supported by red feather funds serve local citizens either directly or indirectly.

A few such groups are the Boy and Girl Scouts, The Children's Bureau, Children's Home, The Family Society, Delaware Creative Workshop, Home of Merciful Rest, Wilmington General Hospital, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Mental Hygiene Society, The Traveler's Aid, and Salvation Army.

Groups not covered through the drive, it was stressed, are the Red Cross, the state cancer and tuberculosis societies and the Newark Visiting Nurse Association.

No quota has been set for the local area, Mrs. Bausman said, but the goal for northern Delaware is $844,989. Plans for the drive will be completed at a meeting of solicitors tonight in the Century Club Building. Guy R. Codding, executive director, and Miss Martha Trace, residential secretary, will be on hand.

Mrs. Bausman has already organized her central committee which includes: Mrs. J. F. Daugherty, Mrs. George Worrlow, Mrs. David Ann, Rodney Dann, Mrs. Arthur Ayres, R. S. Snyder, Mrs. W. O. Skold, A. K. Dollins, Alvin Handloff, Mrs. Edwin Shakespeare, Milton Draper, Cornelius Morgan, Mrs. Milton Young and R. W. Heim.

In urging public support, Mrs. Bausman this week issued a statement highlighting the services of some of the organizations which stand to benefit from the drive.

She said in part: "Through the services of red feather organizations the community is made a better place to live. It is these agencies which assist in the emergency needs. Even a full pay envelope does not make such needs disappear. The services rendered by these organizations are known as the Red Feather services—hence the use of the red feather in the campaign.

"The Children's Bureau carries the responsibility for 3 specific services to children—it places children in foster homes—it places children for adoption and it gives protection to children in cases of parental neglect.

"The local troops of Boy Scouts have as their sponsor the American Legion while the Girl Scouts are sponsored by the New Century Club. Each of these organizations benefits by this campaign. Such funds are needed in maintaining the Scout camps and for the overall administrative expenses. No troop receives any funds from this campaign for local expenses. Any expenses so incurred by a local troop is met by having some outside activity such as a bake or movie benefit.

"The Family Society deals with the family as well as the individual entity. (Please Turn to Page 9)

Memorial Drive Gains
Momentum After Appeal

The drive to erect a permanent memorial to Newark's war dead has gained momentum, following the distress call from the committee two weeks ago.

Over $200 has been received since the renewed appeal was made. This brings the fund total to over $700, still far short of the $5,000 goal.

However, the committee decided this week that, regardless of the amount collected, the money will be used to erect some sort of a permanent memorial here.

Meanwhile, the drive will be intensified the next two weeks, and the public is urged to continue its support.

One of the largest individual contributions to date came recently from a Gold Star Mother who gave $35 with the comment that "After all, a memorial would be all we will have to recall our son. We do not know where he is buried abroad."

HANDICAPPED AID WEEK TO
BE OBSERVEDState Program
Helps Disabled
Find Employment

In an effort to locate as many disabled persons as possible in the state, the Delaware Rehabilitation Division will again set certain days aside during "National Employ the Handicapped Week" for concentrated case finding and interviewing.

October 3 to 9 has been proclaimed by Governor Walter W. Bacon as "Employ the Handicapped Week." In Delaware, employers are urged to hire as many disabled persons as possible, and all individuals and organizations are asked to refer any disabled person to Vocational Rehabilitation.

This state program of aid to the handicapped, offers medical examinations, and treatment, artificial appliances, guidance, training in a vocation, and suitable placement. Services are based upon a financial need, and no money is repaid the division. This is a year-round program for the purpose of restoring handicapped persons to employment and independence.

Since the work was started in 1939, the division has successfully rehabilitated (closed in employment) 1,725 disabled persons. Most of these were unemployed when referred to rehabilitation or, if employed, were earning only a small salary. After rehabilitation services were provided, all of them became self-supporting, able not only to take care of themselves but their dependents as well. Among the disabilities which some of them had were the following: Arm or leg off; disabled arm, leg, or back; infantile paralysis, tuberculosis, heart trouble, poor vision, one eye, hard of hearing, deaf, varicose veins, hernia, etc. Some of these helped needed medical treatment or operations to place them back into employment; some needed artificial arms or legs, hearing aids, or glasses; some had to have training or retraining in an occupation—all had some defect which prevented them from getting or holding a job.

Housewives are also eligible for such services, if they are unable to carry on their household duties because of a handicap. Persons must be of vocational age and must have the desire to (Please Turn to Page 9)

P. T. A. Membership Drive
Is Now Underway Here

The annual fall membership drive of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association is now underway and will continue through October 7.

Recently named homeroom mothers are carrying out the campaign under the direction of Mrs. Layton Zimmer. A faculty committee under Miss Mary Melvin is cooperating.

The aim is to top last year's total of 941 members. Persons need not necessarily be parents of school children to join, it was said.

To rate the honor roll, a student must gain a 2.5 average out of a possible 3.0 for the semester.

TOWN-WIDE
FORUM ON UN
IS SCHEDULED
FOR OCT. 25Public Urged To Join Discussion
At Century Club;
4 Talks Planned

A community forum on various aspects of the UN will be staged here October 25 in the New Century Club.

The event, which is expected to arouse wide public interest, will bring into sharp focus here one of the world's major issues.

The program, being sponsored jointly by nine Newark civic clubs, will lead off with brief talks by four speakers, who will sketch the background of the UN and pose the major problems surrounding it. Afterwards, there will be a question and answer period with the audience participating.

Particularly timely now when the UN is facing possibly its most severe test, the local forum will serve to highlight the strength and weakness of the organization and will seek opinions on making it a more adequate body for international law enforcement.

The moderator will be Paul Dolan, instructor in political science at the University of Delaware. The speakers will be: Clarence A. Fulmer, principal of the Wilmington High School; Gilbert Nickle, international relations chairman of the Newark Rotary Club; Dr. John Munroe, assistant professor in the history department at the University of Delaware; and Mrs. Olaf Bergelin, member of the international relations study group of the local AAUW.

The committee behind the affair is headed by Mrs. L. A. Grettum of the Newark AAUW. Groups working with her are the Rotary, Lions, V. F. W., American Legion, P. T. A., Century Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Soroptimists.

DENTIST
RECALLED
TO SERVICEDr. John K. Hughes
Forced To Cancel
All Appointments

The dental practice of Dr. John K. Hughes, at 262 South College Avenue, came to an abrupt end this week when Dr. Hughes' offices were closed and all appointments cancelled due to his recall into the U. S. Navy.

The suddenness of his departure, Monday, for duty with the regular Navy at Oceanside, California, made it impossible for Dr. Hughes immediately to obtain an acceptable successor, making it necessary to close his office and cancel all outstanding appointments without notice.

A Lt. Commander in the Naval Reserve during World War II, Dr. Hughes was stationed at Norfolk, Bainbridge and in the Philippines during his four year tenure of service.

Following his release from active service, he opened dental offices here, at 262 South College Avenue, about two and one-half years ago, serving a definite community need and winning friends and clients by his amiable congeniality and strict adherence to the ethics of his profession.

His reentrance into the regular navy will be marked by his advance to the rank of Commander as soon as the new commission can be confirmed. Dr. Hughes' wife and daughter, Terry, will remain in Newark at their residence, 162 West Main Street. Another daughter, Katherine, is a nurse in Wilmington.

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

New Playground Opened; Debate Site For Postoffice Building

From Issue of October 3, 1923

New Playground

That a playground has been needed for many years in Newark was brought out conclusively during the past few days, when the apparatus installed by the Chamber of Commerce under the direction of J. C. Hastings was thrown open to the children of the town. Visitors at the grounds, immediately fronting the armory on Delaware Avenue, said they never knew there were so many kids in town.

Rector Leaves

The old St. Thomas' P. E. Church was crowded last Sunday morning with members and friends of the parish, come to say farewell to the Rev. Edgar Jones, rector for over two years, who, with his family, will move soon to Cincinnati. He will become Dean of the Cathedral in that city.

New Postoffice

It was announced at Monday night's Council meeting that Newark may soon have a new postoffice building. The present government lot is situated opposite "The Knoll" on the northeast corner of South College and Delaware Avenues. There is some talk however, of securing another location. Councilmen feel the present lot, purchased by the government many years ago, is too far from the center of town.

Personals

In addition, Frank Mercer, Newark High's agriculture teacher, exhibited three pigs for Donald Hummel, who was unable to attend. The animals were transported by truck to the fair.

Cheerleaders Get New Uniforms

Newark High cheerleaders will appear at the Newark-Brown football game on October 2 in new uniforms—black corduroy jumpers with chenille stars and gold blouses with French sleeves.

Noted Explorer Is Now Giving Extension Course

Earl Parker Hanson, an outstanding explorer and geographer, will inaugurate a course in "New Worlds Emerging," in the University of Delaware's extension division this fall. Paul M. Hodgson, director of extension, announced recently.

The course which will be offered Monday evenings at Wilmington High School, will consist of a survey of modern geographic trends as seen through exploration and present economic pressures. These trends will be examined especially as they relate to the areas in the tropics and the arctic regions.

Mr. Hanson, author of more than 50 articles on geographical subjects in popular magazines, also has written many technical articles on special geographical subjects in numerous journals. He is the author of four books which have been published, and he is completing another one on world geography.

This past summer he was a visiting lecturer in geography at the University of Delaware's summer session, and during the spring term he was visiting lecturer at the University of Maryland.

You Are Invited

TO OUR "OPEN HOUSE"

Next Week on Friday Afternoon, from 3 P.M. to 6 P.M.

Next week on Friday afternoon, October 8, from 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock, we are inviting everyone in this area to visit our new MoPar Parts and Accessories Distributing Center on South College Avenue in Newark.

This is our way of letting you know that we're mighty happy to be able to become a part of this community. Naturally, we're anxious to get a chance to meet our new neighbors here in Delaware.

Well, we just thought one of the best ways to get together with you would be to hold "open house" in our new home. That will give us a chance to meet you and give you a chance to come over and see how we carry on our work.

Our new plant is designed primarily to supply all Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler dealers along the Atlantic slope—from Maine to the Carolinas—with a wide variety of factory-engineered and inspected MoPar replacement parts and accessories.

We hope we shall have the pleasure of seeing you on Friday afternoon, October 8. And, if you would like to bring any of your friends who may not have seen this invitation, please feel free to have them come to our "open house" with you.

RALPH BROSIUS, Plant Manager

Delaware Parts Plant

CHRYSLER CORPORATION—PARTS DIVISION

WHEN YOU VISIT US we'd like to show you this new overhead conveyor that helps us get parts shipments out in a hurry. It's nearly half a mile long... carries special conveyor trucks loaded with order books down the aisles to our packing department.

WE DON'T TAKE ORDERS with nuts and bolts. We take orders for parts which might get lost in the mail. So we have a system of order books which are kept in a central place. We put small orders in the books and you can see them at our new plant.

OUR LOADING DOCKS are built right inside our new plant, enabling us to load and unload freight cars and trucks quickly. This is only one of many things we'll be able to show you when you come to our "open house" on Friday, October 8.

You'll be surprised how simple and easy it is to cook better meals on the beautiful new Frigidaire. And, there's no flame, no soot, no smoke to dirty your kitchen. Newark DEPARTMENT Store
Store Hours 9 to 5:30, Fri. & Sat. 9 to 9

What is the secret manufacturing process by which shoelaces are designed to snap on precisely those mornings when you have overslept?

We sat one recent morning on the edge of our bed and groggily asked ourselves this question. We toyed with a frayed bit of shoelace and considered the problem from every angle. We had plenty of time at that point, since our rising schedule had been thrown completely out of gear.

We wondered, for instance, what the daily shoelace-snapping rate is throughout the nation and what its repercussions are in politics and economics, in lost man hours, lost tempers, lost breakfasts and broken homes.

For our own part, we knew from experience that we were in for a trying week or two. We had no objections, of course, to a few knots in our shoelaces. But we foresaw bitterly that the thing would not end there.

Our trouble has always been that we are not the type who keeps reserve supplies of shoelaces on hand, neither are we the kind who remembers to buy them when needed. Shoelaces, for some reason, are things we just do not think about as we go through our daily routine.

During the week that followed, our worst fears were realized. We tied a knot in our laces that first morning with the firm resolve to stop at the shoemakers before doing anything else. And, surprisingly enough, we did. The trouble was he hadn't opened yet.

The next time we remembered him, we were sitting groggily on the edge of our bed the following morning, again holding a fragment of shoelace in our hand.

Three days and about four knots later, our shoes began flopping off our heels at odd moments, always, of course, when we were miles from any store.

At the week's end, we found ourselves sitting in another grey dawn at that inevitable stage in the game when it was impossible to tie another knot in our laces. They looked like a profound treatise in Indian string-tying.

Our only way out, as we had foreseen from the beginning, was to use a bit of wrapping string to serve as a substitute lace. It was then we hit on the original angle of tying the remnants of the shoe string around our finger as a reminder.

It worked, too. We bought shoelaces that day and put them carefully in our pocket where they remained quite safely until the next morning, when, unfortunately, we overslept again and didn't have time to insert them.

That was the day our friends began breaking off conversations and moving away when we approached. A few hinted tactfully that, if our back was against the financial wall, we knew we could count on them, old boy. One wit frankly advised us to go find a beach to comb.

That finally drove us into action. We took ourselves by the scruff of the neck, marched to the nearest shoe store, bought a new pair of shoes, took the old ones to the shoemaker, told him to insert new laces and name his own price.

Meantime, we're quietly cornering the shoelace market. We are determined to lick this thing yet.

Last Thursday night about 12 prominent adults, each a representative of a leading civic organization here, met covertly to map strategy for outwitting the town's young hobgoblins on Mischief Night.

Traditionally, this is the night when youngsters get free license for minor vandalism, such as gate removals, window soaping, bell-ringing, etc. Sometimes, in their exuberance, they wreak serious property damage in town.

The brain trust of grown-ups gathered to devise counter measures. They hatched a scheme for holding another Mardi-Gras here. This proved a successful dodge last year, and it was thought that, perhaps, the kids could be roped in again.

Personally, we feel this a much more sensible way to deal with Newark's annual night of anarchy than to leave it to the local police force or parental threats.

The trouble is it requires cooperation. Not so much money, as hard work. It takes a lot of time and effort to stage the affair—organize and oversee the parade, judge and award the prizes, prepare and serve refreshments, stage the dances and carrying out other aspects of the program.

The 12 lone adults mentioned above will need a lot of backing. Members of the cooperating clubs will be expected to respond as one man to this call to high duty. Repel the forces of anarchy, men, defend private property—your property! Man the defenses against the small fry!

BOARDWALK TRAFFIC HAZARDS
The Boardwalk's latest—a mechanical rolling chair—went into operation recently at Atlantic City.

Ten streamlined chairs, propelled by electric motors and guided by chauffeurs seated behind the passengers, went into competition with man-pushed chairs that have been a part of the walk for more than 60 years.

The new chairs were the first of 100 permitted under a recently passed city ordinance. They move at 2.5 miles an hour, but can attain a top speed of four miles if needed.

HENS FACE YEAR'S STIFFEST ASSIGNMENT SAT. NIGHT AGAINST MARYLAND TERPS

Jolted By P. M. C., 13-7, In Opener, Delaware Strives To Iron Out Weak Points In Drills Past Week; Terrapins Lose Services Of Ace Back Gambino

Still a bit nonplussed by their 13-7 loss to P. M. C. in the season's opener last Saturday night, the University of Delaware's Blue Hens stepped up their daily grind on Frazer Field here this week in preparation for their toughest football game of the campaign—against the University of Maryland Terrapins at Wilmington Park on Saturday night.

Most serious aspect of the P. M. C. defeat were the injuries suffered by co-captains Bob Campbell and Gene Carrell. The former was gashed badly about the lips and Carrell absorbed a shoulder injury. The two, however, may be ready for the Maryland clash.

JACKETS RATED UNDERDOGS FOR SEASON'S OPENER HERE SATURDAY WITH BROWN VOC.

Coach Matt's Latest Varsity Edition Boasts Veteran Backs But Revamped Line; All Except One Are Seniors; Kick-off 2:15

Newark High's Yellowjackets will be the underdogs when they take on brawny Brown Vocational here in the season's opener Saturday afternoon. The kickoff time is 2:15 p. m.

Coach Walter Matt's revamped varsity will be led by a veteran, all-senior backfield. For the rest, though, new faces will make up the line-up. Even so, the first string line will be composed of seniors, except at one tackle post.

Not at all happy about his chances, Matt will be hoping for the breaks against the big Brown team. His small, shifty backfield and inexperienced line will have to depend on fast, brainy football to make a showing.

Sidelights On Blue Hen Gridders Listed

Two brother acts are in evidence this fall for the University of Delaware's Blue Hens. The Greenfield twins, Doug and Don, are confusing the opposition from their backfield posts, while Carl and Mariano Stalloni are operating from guard and fullback respectively.

Wilmington's Pierre S. duPont High School is the best represented on the University of Delaware football roster. Eight Delaware gridders are products of that school. Wilmington High School, Salesianum Catholic High School, Chester (Pa.) High School, and Freeport (L.I.) High School each boasts four alumni on the roster.

Since the arrival of Coach Bill Murray in 1940, six University of Delaware gridders have received Little All-America Honors. Guard Hugh Bogovich in 1942 and Tackle Tony Stalloni in 1946 were named on the first team. Others to receive recognition were Center Jack Messick, Fullback Paul Hart, and Halfback Gerald Doherty in 1946, and Guard Walt Marusa in 1947.

EGGS ARE MEAT SUBSTITUTE

Use eggs for a nutritious and economical supper dish. Chop a medium-sized onion and a green pepper and saute them in a little butter or margarine. Turn the vegetables into a greased baking dish and break half a dozen eggs over the mixture. Sprinkle the eggs with salt and pepper and place the baking dish in a shallow pan of water in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes, or until the eggs are set.

GRANGE HEAD IN TALK AT ROTARY CLUB

Mitchell Gives Facts On Farm Group Services

Paul W. Mitchell, master of the Delaware State Grange, discussed the "Grange As A Service Organization" in a talk Monday night at the Newark Rotary Club.

Program chairman was Leon Gilmore, and President Ken Steers presided.

Mr. Mitchell stressed the cooperative spirit which the Grange inspires in communities of the 37 states in which it operates. On the national level, the Grange, he said, supports a representative in Washington to assist in planning agricultural legislation.

The national master, Alfred Goss, is one of the nation's noted agricultural economists, and his services are available to the membership.

A guest at the session was Don Savitch, of the Eagle Furniture Company. Visitors were Charles Ator, Jacksonville, Ill.; Allen Houghton, Alexandria, Va.; and H. Wallace Cook, Middletown, Del.

ARTISTS WILL APPEAR THRU U. OF D. SERIES

Four Concerts And Drama Are On New Program

Inauguration of an "artist series" featured by four concerts and recitals and an appearance by the Margaret Webster Players was announced today at the University of Delaware.

The various events have been scheduled at approximately monthly intervals throughout the fall, winter, and early spring, beginning with a concert by the Budapest String Quartet on the night of Thursday, Nov. 4.

Open to the public on a subscription plan, the series will continue on Friday, Dec. 3, with a recital by Maryla Jonas, pianist.

The Margaret Webster troupe will produce "Hamlet" on the Mitchell Hall stage on the night of Wednesday, Jan. 12, as the third event of the series. In a non-series performance, the Players also will present "Macbeth" at 2:30 p. m. on the same day.

On Monday, March 21, Kathleen Ferrier, English contralto, will be heard in a recital, and to close the year's program the Farman Sinfonietta will be heard on Monday, April 18.

All the programs will be at 8:15 p. m. in Mitchell Hall, Newark, under a reserved seating plan which will be put into effect through public sale at the Mitchell Hall box office from Oct. 4 to 8, between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., and on Oct. 9 from 10 a. m. to noon. Information is available from the University concerning mail orders. It was pointed out that there can be no guarantee that tickets will be available for any single performance, since expectations are that the auditorium will be sold out for the entire series.

Margaret Webster's productions of Shakespeare have been recognized as the best Shakespearean presentations in this country, and the appearance of the group at the University of Delaware for "Hamlet" and "Macbeth" is the only scheduled presentation in this area while the Players are on a tour of the nation's universities.

The Budapest String Quartet is known as one of the top ranking string quartet organizations at present. Noted for its vibrancy of tone and perfection of ensemble playing, the group has been acclaimed widely throughout the country.

Since her American debut in February, 1946, Mme. Jonas has won general praise for her musicianship, command of style, and perception at the piano. Miss Ferrier's success in this country traces to her performance with the New York Philharmonic—Symphony under Bruno Walter's direction, where she sang the contralto part of Mahler's "Song of the Earth."

Harry Farman will conduct the sinfonietta in April, with Edith Schiller as piano soloist. The sinfonietta is a small orchestra of 20 musicians comprising instrumentation from all sections of a symphony orchestra. This group presents such works as the Schubert Fifth Symphony and the Grieg and Mendelssohn concertos.

U. S. Geologists Seek Uranium In Alaska

With the major nations of the world searching for radio-active minerals, the United States has turned its eyes toward Alaska.

U. S. geologists are studying especially Seward Peninsula, which protrudes like a nose from the face of the territory toward Siberia, less than 100 miles away.

Experts say the peninsula is fabulously rich in certain minerals, and they concede that it contains some uranium. The U. S. Geological Survey expects some important discoveries in the area this summer.

Walter S. West, U. S. geologist, reports that he tested an inconsequential piece of ore picked up by a prospector 43 years ago near Nome. West's Geiger counter reacted, and that means the search is on.

Davis One Of 705 Freshmen At Duke

Richard A. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brandon Davis, 54 East Cleveland Avenue, has completed the Freshman Week orientation activities at Duke University and has been enrolled in the freshman class.

The freshman class at Duke this year totals 705 men and 255 women. Capacity enrollments again prevail in all divisions and the total number of students in the university is approximately 5000.

Despite crowded conditions, classes are purposely kept small as in former years, and a teaching staff, sufficient to assure students individual attention is available.

An expansion program at Duke University has been underway during the last two years. A new engineering building was occupied last year and two structures now under construction, a new physics building and an addition to the main library will be finished during this school year.

The library addition will provide for additional stack space which will enable the Duke library to become one of the largest libraries in the South, and one of ten libraries in America with over a million volumes.

"TAG DAY" PLANS SET FOR OCT. 7

P-T.A. Makes First Donation To NHS Girls' Sport Plan

"Tag Day," sponsored by Newark High's Girls Leaders Club for a bigger and better program of girls' varsity sports, will be held October 7.

Yellow tags will go on sale from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the corner of Delaware Avenue and Academy Streets and in the main school office. Ten cents will be the minimum price, and higher contributions will be appreciated.

The first donation came last week when the Newark Parent-Teacher Association voted $27 to the project.

A tag will admit the owner to the first hockey game of the season, which will be played October 7 with Wilmington Friends in Newark. That night at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium tag owners will be admitted to two movies and followed by a dance. The films will be "The World Series of 1947" and the Delaware-Rollins football game played in Florida's Cigar Bowl.

Posters will be placed uptown. For further information listen on October 6 to the radio program "Newark Calling." Please buy a tag and help support the Girls Varsity Sports Program.

The United States Senate has sat as a court of impeachment twelve times.
