In the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

A college graduate and biological technician, she is one of several hundred young people from 43 countries participating in this year's exchange program to promote better understanding among people of many nations.

Delegates share ideas and ways of life with people of their host countries by living and working in the homes of rural families.

Following is Miss DeLong's latest report on her visit, which began last June.

The school system in Ceylon is entirely free — through university. All schools are government-sponsored, and teachers are government servants. Boys and girls start at age five or six and it is supposedly compulsory until age 14. However, this is technically not always regular during the year either.

Up until three years ago, the medium of instruction was English — thus accounting for the largest number of English-speaking people in down areas. Since then and even now, the system is having difficulty changing to Sinhalese and Tamil. The school buildings are most often lime-washed bricks about 4-ft. high and open to the roof. Village schools are often thatched-roofed; others tile or zinc sheeting. Many classes are in the one room.

Each teacher has a slate blackboard supported on a stand. Small children sit on benches, and the older ones sit at long tables. The texts are paper backed and they use small books to write their exercises. Pencils, pens, rulers are carried in small tin boxes, about water paints size.

Usually school starts at 8 and lasts until 1:30. There is tea break on interval of 15 minutes. During this time they receive CARE milk and buns. These are hamburger bun size, but sweeter, made of American flour sent by CARE. Powdered milk also is provided, but most often it is not served because they don't like it. I tasted some, and even with sugar added, it doesn't come close to fresh milk. It's served warm.

Up to the eighth standard — eighth grade — they study geography, math, history, "mother tongue" and English. Beyond this, if they pass the SSC — junior school certificate — they are eligible to study at a college.

There are many schools which were private, mission-sponsored, but which are now government schools, with curriculum of wider range. These are in villages and town areas. The girls wear white uniforms, plain frocks with pleated skirts; boys wear blue shorts and white shirts.

When in the first form (beyond SSC) the students are required to major in arts and sciences and follows courses strictly within that area. In larger colleges, home science also can be taken. Arts majors continue the previously studied subjects and add literature, religion (in former church schools), government.

Science majors study two languages, physics, biology, chemistry, math, religion.

Homemaking students study preparation of western "short eats" (cakes, puddings, etc.) because usually they have kerosene stoves here; needlework sewing, laundry methods; sometimes first aid, and child care. Science students have labs and lab periods are usually once a week.

At the end of two years the island-wide GCE ordinary level is given (General Certificate of Education). If you pass enough credits (subjects) in this time either in arts or sciences but also toward GCE Advanced Level or university entrance. This course is two years.

Upon satisfactory completion the graduate enters the university.

The grading system is scaled down above 40 is passing.

I'm not certain if the tests are extremely hard to compensate — not being able to read them. The English classes and exams I've read have been of very high standards and the marks were low. However, I know English preparation is not all this good.

Report cards are in book form, used for many years. Each subject and category is listed, and a mark is given. There is also space for teacher comments.

I admire the teachers a great deal. Many of them in the lower standards have not passed beyond the GCE ordinary level. That first day must really be a rough one.

The university campus is divided between Colombo and Peradeniya where I am now. It is a three-year course for a bachelors degree. Here, also, the student follows strictly arts or science curriculum.

We are staying with a lecturer at the University of Ceylon.

Fall Bulb-Planting Offers Wintertime Blooms In House

For a touch of spring in the house during the bleak days of January and February, now is the time to plant spring flowering bulbs, reminds Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

Daffodil, tulip, hyacinth, crocus and other bulbs planted now, will produce colorful flowers in mid-winter. However, it is necessary to provide proper growing conditions.

Spring flowering bulbs to be successfully forced into bloom in January and February, need a light, well-drained soil; eight or nine weeks in a cool, dark place; adequate water, and then warm, sunny conditions.

Stevens recommends mixture of two parts good garden loam; one part sand, and one part humus, because it is easy to prepare and provides good drainage. Use a bulb pan or any clay pot. An inch or two of stones or other drainage material should be placed on the bottom.

Plant the bulbs about a half-inch apart with the tops at the surface of the soil. The number of bulbs that can be planted varies with the size of the bulbs and the container, but a large clay pot will usually accommodate four to six bulbs. For about two months the bulbs should be kept in a dark place where temperature will not rise much above 40 degrees.

Providing a temperature of about 40 degrees is difficult, Stevens notes. However, no harm results if the temperature falls much lower at times, except that the pot may break. A cool garage is often suitable. Keep the soil moist but not too wet. Some people bury the pots in a pit and cover with sand or straw. Be sure drainage is good wherever they are stored. Too much moisture will rot the bulbs. Mice and other rodents often destroy the bulbs kept outside unless the pot is covered with wire screening.

After eight or more weeks in this cool, dark condition, the plants should produce a solid mass of roots. This is necessary for good flower production, Stevens explains.

Bring plants into a cool room such as an enclosed porch, and keep out of the direct sun for a couple of weeks. Then bring the pots into a room where there is plenty of sunlight and temperatures of 65 to 70 degrees. Give the plants plenty of water as they come into bloom.

Central Elementary PTA Plans Open House Program

The Central Elementary School PTA, meeting next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria, will feature an open house program.

Parents will have opportunity to visit the classrooms and meet the teachers after a brief business meeting.

Advice On Canning Stresses Selection Of Quality Product

Your final canned product will be no better than the fruit or vegetable was before you processed it, notes Mrs. Suzanne Tattall, New Castle County home economics extension agent. This is why it is important to use only quality products.

Fruits and vegetables should be gathered at their peak of maturity if maximum flavor is captured.

Can as soon as possible after gathering. When vegetables and fruits wilt, some of the nutritive value and good fresh flavor are lost.

Use only standard jars commercially made for canning. Jars of other types are not tested to withstand the heat required and may break.

Use only recommended methods of canning, regardless of what the product is. All low acid foods, which include meats and vegetables — except tomatoes — should be canned in the pressure canner. This is because a temperature of at least 240 degrees F. is needed in order to destroy all types of harmful organisms. This temperature can only be reached under pressure, Mrs. Tattall explains.

Acid foods, which include tomatoes and fruits, should be canned in a boiling water bath. Because of the acid content of these foods, certain harmful bacteria which might

Charlotte Harris Accepted In Baldwin-Wallace Band

The 96-member band under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Snapp, is composed almost entirely of conservatory of music students, and is known as one of the best college bands in the country.

SECOND CAR CARE

Delaware families who own two or more cars should give as much attention to maintenance of the other cars as to the first, Delaware Motor Club AAA officials advise. "Nearly 20 million cars throughout the country are in the more-than-one category," Manager William P. Markland said, and unfortunately, these cars frequently do not get the same mechanical care that usually is given the most-used vehicle."

otherwise be present cannot live in the presence of that amount of acid.

Regardless of the recipe used for making preserves, jams, pickles, and relishes, the final step must be processing jars of the finished product in a hot water bath. This helps in excluding the air from the jar, preventing the growth of molds and lengthening the shelf life of the product.

Canned foods should be stored in a cool, dark, and dry place, Mrs. Tattall says.

Prince Caradja To Address BPW Dinner Meeting

Princess Catherine Caradja, a Rumanian refugee, will be the guest speaker at the Business and Professional Women's club dinner meeting next Monday evening at the Glasgow Arms, with her topic "Life Behind the Iron Curtain."

Anyone interested in hearing Mrs. Caradja is invited to attend the meeting, and may make reservations by calling Mrs. Naomi McCann.

An Allied plane crashed on her estate, and she helped this crew and over 100 other American fliers in the POW camp from 1943 to 1944.

By this time she had over 3000 children in the foundation.

Mrs. Caradja continued this work through the Russian invasion and succeeding Red government until 1949 when the foundation was taken over by the state.

She has been in the United States four years, has spoken in 48 states, and has seen 82 of the ex-prisoners of wars she had helped.

Watson Scores 3 TD's, Mitchell, Hayman One Each As Newark Beats Conrad 35-7

Capt. Reggie Watson at fullback, paced the powerful offense of Coach Hoffman's Blue Hen Conference Champions Yellowjackets last Saturday morning, scoring three touchdowns as Newark defeated Conrad 35-7 on the local high school field.

Watson ran 44-yards for a touchdown in the first period; and in the second quarter, dashed 35-yards to score again, and then tallied the third touchdown with a two-yard drive into the end zone.

Steve Mitchell at end for the Yellowjackets, intercepted a Redskin pass in the second quarter and raced 70-yards for Newark's fourth touchdown in the first half. Dick Fulton at halfback, kicked a pair of extra points to give the Yellowjackets a 20-0 half-time lead.

In the third quarter, End Conway Hayman caught a pass from Quarterback Norris Saunders for a 60-yard scoring play.

Conrad's Craig Martin intercepted a Yellowjacket aerial in the fourth quarter to sprint 103-yards for a Redskin touchdown.

The Yellowjackets play at P. S. du Pont this Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

Coach Bill Billings To Speak Monday At TD Club Lunch

Bill Billings, Middletown High School football coach with undefeated campaigns for the past two years, will be the guest speaker for the Newark Touchdown Club luncheon meeting at noon Monday in the Horseshoe Carriage at Ogletown.

Former Delaware guard, and football coach with Bud Wilkinson and Bill Murray at Oklahoma and Duke Ted Youngling addressed last Monday's meeting, citing the Delaware defeat at the hands of Gettysburg as "no upset."

Youngling said "I am no believer in upsets. The underdog always has a chance in football, and coaches must be constantly on guard, especially if their team is favored."

With two national back-to-back championships at Oklahoma, Ted Youngling recalled the Sonora 7-0 defeat by an inspired Notre Dame team coached by Terry Brennan.

"Gettysburg was out to get the king," Youngling said, stressing the emotional problem faced by a No. 1 team in maintaining peak performance against all comers.

"Man for man, Delaware was the better team," Youngling said, "but the long bomb hurt 'em."

The speaker concluded that "there is no better training for young men, than the educational values of football."

Playing for Newark against Conrad were Mitchell, Larry Tucker, Dave Graybeal, Conway Hayman, Sam Jackson, Orville Wright, and Duane Zsedeny, ends; Capt. Ricky Hicks, Bill Murphy, Ralph Hicks, John McCormick, Mike Ogden, Roger Hernon, Pat Walker, and Bob Nichols, tackles; Rick Cronin, Jack Hassman, John Mayer, Jim Clark, John Ingold, Romont Perkins, Billy Richards, and Bill Bobb, guards; Bob Ewing, Bob Curran, Mike Turner, and Ken Woodward, centers.

Behind Saunders at quarterback, were Lou Stengari, Mark Brown, and Mike Roberts; the halfbacks, were Charley Hayman, Dick Fulton, George Kearney, Dick Kelly, Dave Word, and Jim McDonough; and playing a fullback were Watson, Don Walp, Marty Duff, and Bob Vance.

Conrad's first touchdown with a six-yard pass from Quarterback Lou Stengari in the second period, and Tackle Bob Nichols nailed the Conrad ball-carrier in the Redskin end zone for a safety and an 8-0 lead.

Stengari scored a touchdown in a plunge from the two-yard line in the third quarter, and Arthur "Speedy" Wright took a Stengari pass for 60-yards to score in the final period.

Playing for Santo's Jayvees last Monday were Orville Wright, Sammy Jackson, Richard Zsedeny, and Dick Graybeal, ends; Rowan Perkins, John Nichols, and Roger Hernon, tackles; John Ingold, Billy Richards, Jim Clark, and Bill Bobb, guards; Mike Turner, Bob Curran, and Kenny Woodward, centers; Stengari, Mike Roberts, and Mark Brown, quarterbacks; Jim McDonough, Dick Kelly, and George Kearney, halfbacks; and Howard Duff and Bobby Vance, fullbacks.

The Yellowjacket Jayvees play the P. S. du Pont junior varsity at Newark next Monday at 3:30 p.m.

Tom Mitchell's Two Goals Provide NHS Soccer Win

Tom Mitchell scored both goals as Newark defeated Christiana 2-1 in a soccer game played for both schools.

Mitchell, playing left wing, scored in the first and final periods.

Inside Right Ricky Suetter tallied for the losers in the last quarter.

Paul Fine, Saul Savitch Win Golf Club Honors

Paul Fine gained the semi-finals of the President's Cup golf tournament at Gettysburg last week, and Saul Savitch took low gross honors in the fall medal-play tourney with a 76.

"I think I'll just sit here and watch for awhile," Mr. Dohner declared.

And then Jo Ann did something that her older brother has never accomplished — she caught a black drum from the Delaware surf.

This drum was a baby as black drum go, but it was a fair fish at that — stocky and silver with blue-black vertical stripes — and with any kind of subsequent good fortune, is still swimming in the Atlantic or an estuary.

"The poor little thing," Mrs. Dohner said with real feeling — and the baby drum was restored safely to the sea.

The wind shifted from warm southwest to cool southeast as the sun dropped low toward Rehoboth Bay over the dunes and drift fence behind us, and from the darkening sky, over the ocean, a great undulating V of Canada geese flew westward into the golden glow of the sunset as we used up our last strip of bait. Fair enough.

The Rock Hall rain was replaced by a sunburst over Maryland's Eastern Shore one day last week, and this was all the encouragement Carroll W. Mumford, Frank Morrison, Arthur Rittenhouse, Ralph Wilson, and Arthur Holmwood needed to hurry aboard Capt. Roger Jester's party boat Ranger for a go at the Chesapeake Bay rockfish.

"We got about half-way out to the fishing grounds," Mr. Mumford said, "when things really got loose — rain again, and a northeaster."

But Skipper Roger Jester is a rugged fisherman, and he is a tough, enthusiastic crew on board. They fished on, despite wind and rain, and trolling offshore with bucketfuls near the staked nets west of Rock Hall, boated seven nice striper.

"Gulls were working over the bay," Carroll Mumford, "but we couldn't see any rock breaking, and we caught ours while trolling deep, near the bottom."

Mariner Mumford had words of praise for Skipper Jester.

"He is no dictator — you fish as you please — but he is always willing to help if you need it — and fishes hard," the veteran Newark sportsman said.

The Houston Colts' Brandon Davis introduced his bride to the generally frustrating fishing at Lumm's Pond last Saturday — and Sue Ware Davis is convinced that Lumm's is a pretty fair place to fish at that.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis were welcomed by eight white perch, four crappie, and a lone largemouth black bass boated in some pleasant local bait fishing with bullhead minnows.

Brandy, the former Yellowjacket and Duke speedster who made the majors as an outfielder with the Pittsburgh Buccs, does his fishing the hard way. Passing up opportunity for a base bonus opportunity for his frequent baseball trips to Florida, B. Davis returns to Newark for his fishing with the hard-to-get Lumm's Pond denizens.

Nelson's Hens Face Lafayette Saturday At Newark After 22-19 Loss To Bullets

Delaware's Fightin' Blue Hen football champions, their aura of invincibility shattered by a 22-19 defeat at Gettysburg last week, will have to deal with the revenge-minded Leopards this week as Lafayette invades Delaware Stadium on Saturday and Coach Ken Bunn's team is anxious to repay a 61-0 defeat the Blue Hens dealt them last year.

Horvath, a 170-pound senior, is the leading rusher on the team with 19 carries for 70 yards.

"Our defense did its job against Hofstra, especially in stopping their ground game," Bunn says. "This week, though, we will be up against a very strong running attack."

Lynca Mosteller Announces Squad For Girls Hockey

Stopped 1-0 in their opener with William Penn's varsity girls, Coach Lynca Mosteller's Newark High school varsity and Jayvee hockey teams are scheduled to play away at Sanford this afternoon, and face Middletown in a Newark home stand next Wednesday at 3:30.

Coach Mosteller's varsity includes Katherine Johnson, Joyce Bensinger, Susan Hawthorne, Debby Burke, Mary Roberts, Betty Gore, Linda Edwards, Sally Austin, Phoebe Elbridge, Linda Proctor and Judy McFarlin.

The Jayvee squad includes Jackie Parker, Anne Frame, Erica Wilson, Susan Maclary, Eva Runk, Linda Barrett, Gail Weber, Lynn Harrington, Linda Marcantonio, Sylvia Miller, Roberta Hopkins, Jody Roberson, Brenda Billingsley, and Maria Buckingham.

Lost opportunity is the greatest of losses.

Don, Dave Miller Set Viking Pace In Cross Country

Don and Dave Miller scored first and second place finishes for Coach Bill McNamee's Christiana Vikings, but Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjackets won the cross country meet at Rockford Park in Wilmington last Tuesday afternoon by 27-28.

Newark Captains John Ludlow and Ricky Stearns took third and fourth place points; Mike Goeller finished fifth for the Yellowjackets, followed by John Curtis of Christiana; Dick Mendenhall and Bill Kremer of Newark; and Christiana's Joe Outlaw and Tim Herman finished 9th and 10th.

McNamee's Vikings defeated Wilmington High by 26-29 last Thursday, with Twins Don and Dave Miller showing the way home.

And Ciesinski's harriers stopped Conrad 23-32 with Ludlow and Stearns taking first and second places.

Van Grofski Joins Frith, Bill Hopkins In Record Attack

Delaware Quarterback Tom Van Grofski has joined teammates Wes Frith and Bill Hopkins in their onslaught on the Blue Hen record book.

Van Grofski, who hails from Bloomington, N.J., completed 15 passes in the Hens' 22-19 loss to Gettysburg last Saturday for a single game record. Don Miller set the old mark of 14 against Bucknell in 1953.

Dave Nelson for his play against the Bullets, has completed 26 of 47 passes in two games and is a threat to Frith's season mark of 62.

Frith, senior end from Flourentown, Pa., hauled down five of Van Grofski's aerials Saturday and has 13 receptions for the season.

His eight catches against Hofstra set a Delaware single game mark, and he will be on his way to breaking Jimmy Thomas' 1949 season record of 30.

Hopkins has yet to break any records, but the speedy senior halfback from Dover, N.J., has been the Blue Hens' outstanding runner and looks like good bet to break Jack Turner's mark of 874 yards gained in 1958.

Bill ramblled for 148 yards against the Bullets and has picked up 336 yards on 33 carries for an average of 10.2.

Hopkins had his nose broken early in the second half at Gettysburg, but returned to action almost immediately and was the spark behind a fourth-quarter touchdown drive that gave the Blue Hens a 19-14 lead.

Bill's touchdown runs of 11 and 14 yards against the Bullets boost his season total to four. He tallied on yards of 63 and 73 yards against Hofstra.

The coaching staff also had praise for halfback Paul Mueller, junior from State College, Pa.

"Mueller did some excellent blocking," Nelson said after viewing the game films. "He played a strong game."

Paul picked up 23 yards on four carries against the Bullets and now has 41 for the season — a distant second to Hopkins.

Sophomore Mike Purzycki grabbed five passes against the Bullets. The Newark, N.J., end has eight receptions for 62 yards.

Sophomore Quarterback Jim Romberger of Middletown, Pa., has punted nine times for a 31.6 average.

Bill Horney's Vikings Hold P. S. du Pont Scoreless In First Half, Lose By 14-0

Coach Bill Horney's Christiana Vikings held P. S. du Pont scoreless throughout the first half, but the Dynahs came on to register seven points in each of the remaining quarters for a 14-0 Blue Hen Conference win here last Saturday afternoon.

The Dynahs scored touchdowns with a 75-yard punt return by Mike Perry in the third quarter, and a three-yard plunge by Fred Young to cap a sustained fourth period drive.

Christiana plays at William Penn New Castle this Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Roger Barnes and Aubrey Fisher were the quarterbacks; Joe Greynock, Mike Horney, Dave Taylor and Joe Thomas, halfbacks; and Dick Baechtel and Al Darger, fullbacks.

Jack Hopper and Bob Hall were defensive cornermen; and Jerry Brown and Dave Snyder played defensive safemen.

Co-Capt. Art Durham suffered a back injury prior to Saturday's game.

John R. Egnor Jr. Wins Fishburne Tackle Post

John R. Egnor, Jr., a first-year student at Fishburne Military Academy, Waynesboro, Va., is a 205-lb. starting tackle for the Fishburne football varsity.

Officials of Kent and Sussex Raceways announced this week that all patrons will be admitted free of charge each Tuesday for the remainder of the scheduled 30-night harness racing meet.

William W. haw said that Tuesdays will be Appreciation Nights, and there will be no charge for admission to track and grandstand.

"This is one way in which we can express our appreciation to harness racing enthusiasts of this area," Shaw said.

4-H Club Agent

National 4-H Week is over and 4-Hers are starting the new year of activities. The window display contest covered the county from Wilmington to Smyrna and it was interesting to see the various displays and how they told the story.

Judges selected the Stump Corner Club exhibit for first place.

Second place was won by the Ever Ready 4-H Club, and Green Meadows Club won third place.

The Stump Corner Club will compete in the state contest at the State Fair next year.

The George Baxter family near Middletown will be the host family for our International Farm Youth Exchange delegate, Meta Walchli from Switzerland, will be staying with the Baxters for three weeks. Richard, Jane and Raymond Baxter — members of the Hi Bridge Club — will be showing Meta the American way of life.

In observance of 4-H Week, several 4-Hers were shown through the State Senate and House of Representatives. Ken Lomax and Roberta Hopkins were the two New Castle representatives with the group shown through the Houses by Frances Downs, asst. secretary of state; Sen. Cook, and Rep. McGuinnis.

Next week we should have the results of the state favorite foods contest.

Anniversary Rites For St. Andrew's To Begin Sunday

Each Sunday during this 10-week period, members who joined in a particular year, and children of the congregation born in that year, will be publicly recognized.

This Sunday at 11 a.m. the Rev. Herbert J. Hoeflinger, pastor, will preach on "The Cornerstone," William Barr, a charter member, will sing a solo, and the Senior Choir will sing.

Members who joined St. Andrew's in the years 1954-55 will be recognized this Sunday, along with children born in these years.

Lou Staats Retires In 43-Year Career With DuPont Co.

Louis T. Staats, a former partner in Newark Farm & Home Supply, retired last week after 43 years of service with the DuPont Company.

Staats joined the DuPont Company in 1916 as a stenographer in the central chemical department and in 1921 became secretary to the late Dr. Charles L. Reese, then chemical director of the company. He became secretary to Dr. Stine in 1929, and remained as his secretary and farm manager until Dr. Stine's retirement in 1945.

For 15 years he was manager of a dairy farm owned by the late Dr. C. M. A. Stine, a DuPont vice-president.

It was during these years as manager of Fox Den Farm that many new agricultural practices were tested and applied — some in conjunction with the University of Delaware, others as personal projects of Dr. Stine.

For five years Staats left the DuPont Company to become a partner in the Newark Farm and Home Supply in Newark, but returned to DuPont in 1950 to become supervisor of the offices services section of the Experimental Station, a post he held at retirement.

He plans to remain on his Lewisville, Pa., farm in retirement with Mrs. Staats. They are the parents of three grown children.

Speaking of money . . .

"Get more than money with your mortgage"

"Do what Charlie Henderson did. He knew there was more to buying a house than simply finding what 'looked right' and then getting a loan. He wanted more than money with his mortgage—he wanted good, sound advice. Charlie found it at the Savings Fund. He met a well-qualified mortgage counselor who was interested in his dreams (and his financial problems).

"Charlie Henderson got what every home buyer deserves—extra help when he was about to make the biggest investment most of us ever make. If you're thinking of buying or building, now or in the future, do what Charlie did—get more than money with your mortgage. See a mortgage counselor at the Savings Fund . . . you may meet the best friend your home ever had."
