TAX ASSESSMENT RATE FOR TOWN REMAINS $1.10

Books At Rhodes' Drug Store; June 17; All Residents Urged To Check Books. Clean-Up Days June 20 And 21

TO CALL REFERENDUM

At a special meeting of the Council of Newark, held last Friday night, the assessment rate was placed at $1.10 per hundred, the same as last year. The property assessments were checked, and only two changes were made in the list of the previous year. June 17 was named as "appeal day," and on that day the Council of Newark will sit from 1 to 6 p. m., advanced time, to hear appeals.

The regular monthly meeting of the Council was held Monday night, and it was decided that the Council call for a referendum vote on the bond issue of $65,000, authorized by the last Legislature. The bill authorizing the issue specified a referendum vote. It was also specified in the act that $45,000 of the total be used to refund outstanding 5 1/2 per cent bonds, and to issue 4 1/2 per cent bonds in their stead, and that the remaining $20,000 be used for street improvement work.

The president and treasurer of the Council were authorized to replace certain demand notes now outstanding with a single note to be known as the "sewer loan note" and said note to be reduced and the interest on it paid from income to the sewer account.

Mayor Collins appointed Thursday and Friday, June 20 and 21, as the bi-monthly clean-up days.

It was decided to withhold the $25 usually paid the Chamber of Commerce, monthly, for the use of the motorcycle used by Constable Wide-

Town Referendum On $65,000 Bond Issue

On Saturday, June 22, there will be a special election of the citizens and property holders of the Town of Newark to decide whether or not the Town of Newark shall be authorized to borrow the sum of $65,000 with bonds, under the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly, approved April 29, 1929.

The election will be held in the Town Offices between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m., daylight time. Every citizen of the town eligible to vote at any election is entitled to a vote in this referendum, and each person or corporation holding and owning real estate in the Town of Newark shall have the right to cast one vote for every dollar or fractional part of a dollar of taxes paid during the preceding year.

The purposes of this bond issue contemplated are two-fold and specifically stated and regulated by the Act of Legislature authorizing the issuance of the bonds. $45,000 of the amount authorized is to retire 5 1/2 per cent bonds, issued in 1920 by the Town of Newark, and to replace these with 4 1/2 per cent bonds. The remaining $20,000 is to be used for street improvement work.

"SAVE-A-LIFE" DRIVE BY STATE

Governor Buck Makes Proclamation This Morning Of Campaign To Reduce Motor Mishaps; Starts June 15, Ends July 15

In an effort to reduce automobile accidents and eliminate loss of life caused by motor vehicles in Delaware, a statewide "Save-A-Life" campaign will be conducted from June 15 to July 15, inclusive, it was announced today by Charles H. Grantland, Secretary of State.

The campaign is made official for the state by a proclamation issued by Governor C. Douglass Buck at the Capitol this morning. The proclamation calls upon all municipal authorities, motor organizations and civic and commercial bodies to cooperate in the "Save-A-Life" movement.

The purpose of the campaign is to establish a regular annual period of free mechanical inspection of all motor vehicles licensed to operate in this state. New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other states have already conducted "Save-A-Life" campaigns and several other states have announced their intention of doing so in the near future.

Service stations and garages in every community in the state will be appointed to serve as official inspection stations from June 15 to July 15, inclusive. During this period every motor vehicle in Delaware is requested to drive or send his car or truck to one of these official inspection stations to be examined regarding its mechanical condition. This inspection will be made entirely without charge at official garages and service stations and the motor vehicle owner is free to choose any official inspection station he desires.

GOVERNOR BUCK IN NEWARK ON MEMORIAL DAY

Attends Town Services At Library. But Does Not Give Address; Newark Observance Of Day Most Impressive In History Of Town

REVIEW MARS PROGRAM

The Town of Newark observance of Memorial Day, last Thursday, was the most colorful and impressive in the history of the community. The parade was the largest ever held on this anniversary, and the services at the State Memorial Library were distinguished by the presence of Governor C. Douglass Buck. In addition to the official observance, planned by the town committee, the community paid homage to the occasion by an almost universal display of the national colors on practically every institution, place of business and private residence. Only two incidents marred the program. One was a delay in starting the parade, and the other was a most untimely review of the University of Delaware R. O. T. C. battalion, which was staged right in the middle of the services at the Library.

The parade was headed by a decorated car in which were seated Major R. G. Buckingham, G. A. R., and honorary marshal; Mayor Frank Collins, who presided at the services at the Library; Samuel Lloyd, grand marshal of the Wilmington Memorial Day parade, and a member of the Wilmington Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and John M. Ward, G. A. R. The car was furnished and decorated (Continued on Page 10.)

BEAUTIFYING NEWARK

The Post's customary yearly bestowal of credit upon those who take pride in well-kept lawns, gardens, flowering plants, bushes and trees, and buildings painted, will certainly have to be extended this season to the residents of Lovett avenue. Nearly every building there is being painted.

The new school grounds and athletic field just opposite are in fine condition and present a beautiful appearance, making this an ideal residential section.

Mr. Wm. J. Lovett, founder of the avenue, has purchased more ground and intends extending the avenue almost to South Chapel street. He contemplates erecting houses of a new and distinctive type of architecture, which, in connection with the ideal location, should appeal very strongly indeed to the careful and particular home-seeker.

TRAFFIC CASES

On June 1, L. Standt was arrested by a special officer of Newark, for reckless driving through the town. He was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Thompson. Millard Jamison, of Elkton, was arrested the same day by Officer Cunningham, for passing the red traffic light at Chapel and Main streets. Magistrate Thompson fined him $5 and costs.

Tuesday evening, Thomas O. Milliken was arrested by Officer Cunningham for double parking, and fined $2 by Magistrate Thompson.

During the past week six traffic offenders have been arraigned before Magistrate Thompson by State Highway officers. The fines in each case were $10.

CLEANS JAIL

James Fisher picked up Tuesday night in an intoxicated condition was given the alternative of working for the County for 5 days at the Workhouse or working for the Town by policing the jail. Fisher elected the latter proposition, and spent an industrious morning, Wednesday, cleaning up the municipal hotel. A sanitary committee, composed of Chief Keeley and Officer Cunningham, supervised the operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ford and daughters, of Cooch's Bridge, spent Sunday with Mrs. Ford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dayett, Sr.

Wm. A. Reed, Sr., celebrated his 82nd birthday on Wednesday at the home of his nephew, Robert Reed, Jr., near Cooch's Bridge. Mr. Reed was one of the founders of Silverbrook M. E. Church. About 49 years ago Mr. Reed and three other prominent men decided that the children of the section, which he had named Silverbrook for the stream nearby, needed an open-air Sunday School. They were employed at Harlan's plant and each subscribed $10. The first meeting was held in 1880. Only Mr. Reed and one other remain of the founders.

Mrs. Sarah Sue Eliason, widow of John Frazer Eliason, died at the home of Mrs. James D. Eliason, of Middletown, on Sunday morning at 8:30. She was spending a few days in Middletown and suffered a stroke on the morning of May 29. She was in her 83rd year, and is survived by one son, John C., and three sisters, Mrs. Natalie Jones, of Wilmington, Mrs. Orie Ford, of Cooch's Bridge, and Mrs. Fannie Cleaver, of Wilmington. Services were held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in Forest Cemetery.

The closing day exercises of Stanton School were held on Monday evening in the Odd Fellows' Hall at Stanton. This will mark the closing of the old Stanton School as with the opening of the fall term will be the new district, Stanton Consolidated District No. 38, comprising the districts of Stanton, Sunnyside and Forrest Oak. LISTEN, FOLKS!

I was amazed at the ease which one may learn the Hawaiian guitar. The other day while at Salter's Music Shop, 222 W. Ninth Street, Wilmington, the beautifully haunting melody of Aloha Oe was taught me in one lesson—almost unbelievable, isn't it? The soft sweet strains of the guitar make it an ideal instrument to entertain not only yourself but others—and it is so easy to learn to play under the expert instruction of Mr. Salter.

A Regrettable Incident

On Memorial Day the University of Delaware R. O. T. C. battalion was inspected and reviewed by Governor C. Douglass Buck. While a review on Memorial Day is not in the best military usage, it was a well deserved compliment to Governor Buck, and under the circumstances of the Governor's visit it was perfectly appropriate and permissible. However, the time and manner in which the inspection and review were given were particularly untimely and unfortunate.

Governor Buck consented to come to Newark on Memorial Day and present reserve commissions in the United States Army to graduating cadets in the Delaware R. O. T. C. unit. Through arrangement between the University authorities and the Town of Newark Memorial Day committee, it was decided that the Governor's address and his presentation of commissions, to the student officers be incorporated in the community Memorial Day service. It was understood that the R. O. T. C. battalion was to pass in review before the Governor, but that the review was to take place before the services opened or after their close. The committee was given to understand that the students to receive the commissions would be presented to the Governor before the speakers' platform, and with this understanding this ceremony was given the position of honor in the middle of the program of memorial services.

To the chagrin and embarrassment of everyone connected with the program, when Governor Buck rose to receive the cadets, no cadets appeared. Unprepared for any such situation, the Governor greeted the audience, stated that he was not going to make a Memorial Day address, and sat down. The services in tribute and memory to the dead were about to be continued when Major Glassburn, U. S. A., commandant of the Delaware R. O. T. C. unit, appeared before the platform and saluting the Governor, escorted him away from the platform and services to a point some distance up the campus, where a flag had been planted. The R. O. T. C. battalion was then drawn up for formal inspection, and the Governor inspected it. After the inspection, the Governor was escorted back to the flag where he stood while the battalion passed in review before him. At the conclusion of the review, the graduating cadets were presented to the Governor, where he stood by the flag, and received their commissions. After the commissions had been presented, the Governor returned to the speakers' platform, and the memorial services were resumed.

The inspection, review and presentation of commissions took a full half hour, and during this time the other guests were left sitting on the platform, their services suspended out of courtesy to the Governor's absence. The crowd wandered away from the seats, and a good part of it failed to return for the conclusion of the services.

The incident was not only a flagrant discourtesy to the guests and participants in the program, but was a desecration of the occasion. The services were in honor, reverence and memory of the heroic dead, and a review such as that which interrupted and suspended these services, had no appropriate part of significance in a memorial ceremony. Governor Buck must have been keenly embarrassed to find himself an unwilling and unwitting figure in such an incident.

If the unfortunate incident was an error in judgment on the part of Major Glassburn, we are amazed. A graduate of West Point and an officer of his rank, should have developed a most exacting sense of propriety in matters of this nature.

If the incident was a deliberate attempt to "steal the show," it fell far short of its intent, for it brought nothing but general censure on the head of the person responsible.

The affair is to be regretted extremely for several reasons. It developed an unpleasant situation in the visit of Governor Buck, whom the community was eager to honor. It placed Governor Buck in an embarrassing position before the people of this community. It was an unfortunate reflection on the University of Delaware, and it was an insult to the memory of the dead, whose memory the day was set aside to honor.

Insuring Greater Safety

It was announced today by proclamation of Governor C. Douglass Buck, that June 15 to July 15 would be Safety Safe-A-Life-Month throughout the State of Delaware. The State departments are co-operating with the Delaware Safety Council to make a complete inspection of every motor vehicle in the State as regards safety devices. Garages and service stations in every town in the State have been registered to make free inspections of brakes, lights, horns, steering mechanisms, etc., on any vehicle brought to them. Drivers are asked to join in this safety campaign by having the safety devices on their automobiles checked and adjusted.

Today the Regional Planning Federation is making an exhaustive survey of traffic in the Tri-State region. Police and agents of the Federation were on the roads at 5 o'clock this morning, and will remain until midnight to check traffic. The data collected will be compiled and after conclusions are drawn from the findings, traffic remedies will be proposed.

Both of these projects are of vital interest and importance to the people of this State, and complete co-operation of the public in these campaigns will greatly reduce the constantly increasing hazards of highway travel. It is hoped that every car owner will take advantage of the opportunity of having his car inspected free of charge, and will have made any necessary adjustments to insure its safe operation. It is also hoped that all persons receiving questionnaires distributed by the Regional Federation will fill out these questionnaires carefully, and send them in. Both agencies are doing a large and needed public service in the projects they are undertaking.

HOMEMAKERS BROADCAST

Next Thursday, June 31, at 7:30, standard time, Mrs. Kate Henley Dougherty, County Home Demonstration Agent, will tell the radio listeners of Station WDEL about the big Achievement Day and Homemakers Picnic, to be held at the University of Delaware on June 20. She suggests that all people interested tune in for the details on this big homemakers event. Please note that the County Extension broadcast period has been changed from Wednesday to Thursday.

CLASS ENTERTAINED

On Saturday evening, June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweeney entertained Mrs. Leonard Lewis' Sunday School Class, at their home near Newark. A very enjoyable evening was spent in playing games, after which delicious refreshments were served. Y.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

PROUD OF SCHOOLS

Newark Public Schools close June 14. Soon over 1100 children, who go to our local public schools, will close their books for vacation time. This is looked forward to by them in a very anxious spirit. Greater per cent of the scholars will have passed their year's work, but some will be forced to renew their past year's work.

From the writer's view-point, Newark has reasons to be proud of the school system here. Our school board has solved many a problem that has taken years to solve. We have as a superintendent a man second to none. Professor Brinser has the interest of our children at heart. He is always ready and eager to meet and consider reasonable suggestions that may be offered by any one, especially the parents of our children.

We are also fortunate upon having a well-trained force of teachers in our schools. Our children's future depends entirely upon these teachers, as they are endeavoring to mold into their minds a clear education. It would be well for our children, also a great help to their teacher, if we as parents should keep in close contact at all time with the teacher and child. The teacher cannot accomplish their full desire if they do not receive the full cooperation of the parent.

As a parent of two boys I desire to express my appreciation to Professor Brinser, Miss Reafer and Miss Medill for the interest in my two sons.

A. Neal Smythe.

LEGEND OF ARBUTUS

There is a pretty Indian legend that tells of the birth of the arbutus under the gentle ministrations of the Summer Goddess, who warmed the frozen leaves of the tree that had been the tepee of the Winter Manitou, and breathed into them new life and fragrance. Then she left them as a sign that should tell the children, says Nature Magazine, that the Winter Manitou was no more, and summer had come to reign in his stead. Better known as the simple verses of Whittier in reference to the joy of the Pilgrims at finding in the new and insipid land a substitute for the Mayflower they had left behind in old England. And "Mayflower" it is to this day in our country districts, and the appointed State flower of Massachusetts.

man, and owned by the Chamber of Commerce. This motion was made because there was some doubt as to whether the Constable would continue to give motorcycle service.

In reply to a letter written by the Mayor to the Delaware Electric Power Company on the subject of regular bus stops, the Power Company submitted a blueprint showing 12 stops on main streets coming into town and 9 stops leaving town. The Power Company also stated that it would erect "bus stop" signs on the stops decided on. The Council made three changes in the plan and approved it. The stops listed on the west bound trip are: Leak's Garage, two stops between Leak's and Newark Center, Newark Center, Chapel street, Choate street, Farmers' Trust Company, Rhodes' Drug Store, North College avenue, and the terminus of the route at the Deer Park Hotel. The east bound stops are: South College avenue, Harter Hall, Academy street, a point between Haynes and Chapel streets, Chapel street, Newark Center, two stops between the Center and Leak's, and Leak's Garage.

On a motion it was decided to order one and one-half tons of calcium chloride to use on Kent Way as an experiment as temporary improvement of dirt streets.

J. H. Hutchison was awarded the contract to repair the roof of the Town Building and to shingle it with asbestos shingles. Daniel Stoll was awarded the contract for the sheet metal work necessary in repairing the roof. The awards were made on a basis of competitive bids. There were three bidders on each contract. The roof repairs included removing the bell tower.

An extra man was authorized for the street force.

Ten dollars was appropriated for a donation for the Memorial Day services. The donation will be paid into a permanent memorial fund. Herbert Henning was appointed to represent the Council at a Permanent Memorial meeting.

The treasurer reported a balance of $11,133.17 in the treasury on June 1st, and $331 received from the Alderman for fines and licenses.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT WHITE CLAY CREEK CHURCH

Children's Day exercises will be held in the White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning, June 9, at 11 o'clock, standard time. A cantata entitled "Summer Gladness" will be presented by the members of the Sunday School.

SCORE KITCHENS FOR CONTEST

Making Final Averages In County Contest; Plan Tour Of Kitchens

Miss Pearl MacDonald, State Specialist for the Extension Service of the University of Delaware, is spending this week and next in the final scoring of the kitchens that have been improved during the "Wife Saving Kitchen Contest," put on by the Home Demonstration Agent of New Castle County.

"Many interesting improvements have been made by the contestants during the contest period, but one has to visit these kitchens and see the pride with which the home maker points out her improvements in order to realize the real value of this campaign," reports Mrs. Daugherty, Home Demonstration Agent.

This contest has brought about splendid cooperation between different members of the family. In many instances the husband or sons have been just as interested in making the improvements as the home maker.

Mrs. Daugherty is planning a tour of inspection in the near future to some of these kitchens that have made the greatest amount of improvements. The public will be invited to go on this tour. Watch the papers for further notices regarding this kitchen tour.

A prudential committee consisting of Daniel Thompson, Warren Singles and Frank Fader, was appointed. This committee will consider the proposal of planting ivy at the rear of the Academy building. The treasurer reported $559.96 in the treasury.

At an organization meeting, held Friday night, E. C. Wilson, Warren Singles and Frank Fader were elected trustees to fill the vacancies left by the deaths of Dr. H. G. M. Kollock, N. M. Motherall and Eben B. Frazer.

At 5 Saturday afternoon the home of the Sigma Nu Fraternity, the old campus in the rear of the Sigma Phi Epsilon House and the looking Frazer Field will be dedicated. After exercises have been held the new building will be open for inspection for a time. That evening the Alumni Association of Delaware College will hold its annual reunion and meeting in Old College, Lane in the evening the various fraternities will hold their annual reunions.

One of the planned features of the commencement has had to be postponed until the convocation exercises at the opening of college in September. That is the laying of the cornerstone of the new auditorium, the gift of H. Rodney Sharp, which is under construction. The building which is to be named for Sam Chiles Mitchell, former president of the University of Delaware, will cost $250,000. Due to delays in starting the excavation for the building, construction has not progressed to a point where the corner stone could be laid at the time of commencement. In addition to this, Dr. Mitchell is to be the honor guest at the convocation of laying the corner stone, recuperating from an operation, would be unable to make the journey to Newark at this time. Dr. Mitchell is now a member of the faculty of the University of Richmond, Richmond, Virginia.

History of Veterans' Poppy

In order to dispel certain misunderstandings incident to the poppy sales by the local posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion Auxiliary, we are publishing, in part, a letter from Robert E. Handy, Jr., National Adjutant General, Veterans of Foreign Wars. This letter was written to Colonel S. J. Smith, Past National Chaplain, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in answer to a request for data on the poppy movement in the United States. The letter explains something of the history of both the Veterans' of Foreign Wars "Buddy Poppy" and the American Legion Poppy.

The poppies of both organizations are manufactured by disabled veterans and the proceeds from their sales are used for relief work among the disabled veterans and the widows and orphans of veterans.—Ed.

"Kansas City, Kansas, May 31, 1929. Colonel Samuel J. Smith, Past National Chaplain, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., 222 South College Avenue, Newark, Delaware.

"My dear Colonel Smith: I am going to write you partly from memory as to the history of the poppy movement as I understand it and I will make the statements short and to the point without any embellishment. I have been chairman of the V. F. W. National Buddy Poppy Committee since February 1, 1923, and am pretty well informed as to what has happened since that date, from personal observation.

"The poppy movement got its impetus from the poem 'In Flanders Fields' by Colonel John McCrea of the Canadian Forces, which was written before the United States entered the World War. The idea took hold throughout all of the allied countries but no definite organized sale of poppies on a nation-wide scale was conducted in America until 1921 when the Franco-American Children's League sold poppies, ostensibly for the benefit of children in the devastated areas of France and Belgium. I don't know what disposition was made of the money but the organization got into litigation and eventually dissolved. I believe they used some French made poppies but they also used a quantity of poppies made commercially in the United States.

"Madame Guerin 'The Poppy Lady from France' approached the V. F. W. early in 1922 and urged us to take up the poppy idea. I am informed that she had previously approached the Legion and was turned down. Reuel Elton who was then Adjutant General of the V. F. W., accepted the idea and the National Council of Administration authorized a poppy sale prior to Memorial Day, 1922. In this sale the V. F. W. used only poppies made in France and had some left over which were used in 1923. Due to the difficulty and delay experienced in getting the poppies from France, it was decided to have our poppies made in this country and for the 1923 poppy sale, the V. F. W. used some French poppies and had the balance made by a firm of artificial flower manufacturers in New York City.

"It was during the 1923 campaign that we evolved the idea which resulted in the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy. We felt that as the poppies were being sold for the benefit of disabled and needy ex-service men and their families, we might as well go to the disabled men for our poppies and let them earn money by making them. This plan was presented to the 1923 Encampment at Norfolk, Virginia, and adopted. Immediately thereafter we established the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy factory in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where all of our poppies for the 1924 sale were made. General Frank P. Hines, Director of the United States Veterans Bureau, endorsed our plan and pledged the cooperation of the Bureau. All men employed in making poppies for the 1924 sale were sent to our poppy factory by the U. S. Veterans Bureau manager in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. It was during this winter that we adopted the name 'Buddy Poppy' which originated with the men themselves.

"In February of 1924 we registered this name with the U. S. Patent Office and hold a certificate dated May 20, 1924, granting us trademark rights in the name 'Buddy' or the classification of artificial flowers. We have made that trademark a guarantee that all poppies bearing that name and the V. F. W. label are genuine products of the work of disabled and needy veterans. No other organization, firm or individual can use the name 'Buddy Poppy.'

"After the 1924 sale was over some of the larger departments of our organization believed it would stimulate local sales if the poppies they used were made within their own jurisdiction and our 1924 Encampment at Atlantic City adopted resolutions permitting any department of the V. F. W. to produce poppies for its own use, to conform to specifications laid down by the National Poppy Committee and to be made only by disabled and needy veterans in U. S. Veterans' Hospitals or in workshops supervised by the V. F. W. Starting with the 1925 poppy sale, the V. F. W. Buddy Poppies have been made in U. S. Veterans' Hospitals or Soldier's Home Hospitals in Maine, Massachusetts, New York, Maryland, Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma and Washington State and the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy workrooms in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Minneapolis, Minnesota. We have letters from the medical officers in charge of the Veterans' Hospitals commending us for this work and stating that the making of poppies in the hospitals is of distinct therapeutic value in nervous and mental cases.

"The National Organization through the National Poppy Committee has kept close check upon the work and furnished all V. F. W. Buddy Poppy tags which must be used upon all poppies sold by any unit of the V. F. W. The departments securing tags from me must make an accounting for all tags used and return unused tags at the close of the campaign. The V. F. W. has steadfastly adhered to the policy of veteran-made poppies.

"As I mentioned earlier in this letter, the National Council of Administration authorized the 1922 V. F. W. Poppy Sale and the National Encampment held in Seattle, Washington, in August, 1922, adopted the poppy as the official Memorial Flower of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and endorsed the poppy movement.

"The American Legion adopted the Poppy at the convention held at Cleveland, Ohio, September 27th, 28th and 29th, 1920, in a resolution which reads as follows:

"Whereas, a movement has been instituted to adopt the poppy as the Memorial Flower of the American Legion throughout the nation:

"Whereas, out of this should come some symbol to perpetually remind us, and to unfailing teach coming generations the value of 'Light of Liberty,' and our debts to those who helped to save it for us by paying the supreme sacrifice, and that we may not forget that:

"In Flanders Field the Poppies Grow

Among the crosses—row on row."

"Therefore, be it resolved, by the American Legion in convention assembled, that the movement to have the poppy adopted as the Memorial Flower of the American Legion be endorsed; and be it further:

"Resolved, that the National Convention adopt the poppy as the official flower of the American Legion.

"Note—By action of the National Executive Committee, the Poppy should be worn on Memorial or Decoration Day and not on Armistice Day."

"It was currently reported that the Third National Convention of the American Legion at Kansas City, Kansas, on October 31st-November 2nd, 1921, disavowed the poppy and adopted the daisy as the official flower of the American Legion. I do not have available any printed matter on the subject but I find in the printed summary of proceedings of the Fourth National Convention of the American Legion at New Orleans, Louisiana, October 16th-20th, 1922, the following:

"Resolved that the Poppy is hereby declared to be the official American Legion Flower, instead of the Daisy, which was adopted by the 1921 National Convention of the American Legion."

"Who first sponsored the idea of the poppy as a Memorial Flower in America will probably never be settled but the Legion claims that a young lady from Georgia evolved the idea while working under the auspices of the Red Cross in New York during the war and that her plan was the one presented to the American Legion Convention in Cleveland in 1920. Be that as it may there are claims that artificial poppies were made and sold in this country as early as the spring of 1919. The Service Star Legion unit in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, claims to have sold poppies to raise funds for the homecoming celebration of the men from Milwaukee who served in the A. E. F.

THESE HAWKS SIMILAR

The European sparrow hawk is an accipiter, similar to our sharp-skinned hawk, says Nature Magazine. Our ancestors would have shown better judgment if they had named the common falcon which they found in the New World the American kestrel, and used the term sparrow hawk for our common small accipiter. There are many misleading names in bird terminology.

FIREWORKS BLAST FATAL TO 4; EXPLOSION NORTH OF ELKTON LAID TO BACKFIRE OF TRUCK

Driver Is Instantly Killed, While Others Succumb In Union Hospital; Bodies of Victims Badly Torn, Mangled By The Force Of Impact

A jury summoned by Coroner Green will conduct an inquest Thursday evening into the explosion of chemicals at a fireworks plant of the Victory Sparkler and Specialty Company, a mile north of Elkton, on Friday afternoon, that killed four workmen and slightly injured a dozen other persons.

The explosion was caused by the backfire of an automobile truck, one being killed instantly and the others succumbing later at Union Hospital. Several hundred girl employees at the plant rushed to safety as one building alongside them was blown to bits and another took fire. Falling glass and timber struck several of the girls and they had to go to Union Hospital, Elkton, for treatment.

Elkton firemen saved from destruction several large buildings in which tons of black powder were stored. Only a few hours before the explosion a third building of the group owned by the Victory Sparkler and Specialty Company was destroyed by fire, causing a near panic among girl workers.

The dead are:
Harry Brown, 58, of Fair Hill, driver of the truck.

Vernice Jones, 38, of Elkton, his assistant.

John Gilbert, 21, of Elkton, another workman, who was riding on the truck.

Allen Dickerson, 24, of Elkton. Brown drove the truckload of chemicals from Elkton to the plant. On the seat beside him was Jones. Riding on the rear of the truck was Gilbert. Dickerson was working inside a large frame building used as a storehouse for chemicals.

Girls Flee In Terror
When the truck stopped, Brown suddenly put on the brakes and shut off the engine. There was a backfire through the exhaust pipe and immediately the cases of chemicals loaded on the truck exploded.

There was a roar that could be heard in Elkton. Girls ran in terror from buildings nearby, shrieking. Several of them were bleeding about the head. They had been struck by bits of glass blown out by the force of the explosion.

Flames spread from the truck to the storage building, where Dickerson was working. In a few seconds there was a roar and the whole building was a mass of flames.

Dickerson fought his way through the flames and collapsed in front of the building.

Find Body In Debris

Frantic workers in other buildings ran to the truck. They saw the body of Brown, burned to a crisp, in a mass of debris. The truck itself had been blown to bits.

Searching in the ruins they came across Gilbert and Jones, lying on the ground, their clothing a mass of flames and pulled the two men to an adjoining building, where they were given first aid.

Some one telephoned for an ambulance and the fire engine company at Elkton. The three burned men were rushed to the hospital, where they died within the next three hours. There was no hope for Brown. He was burned almost beyond recognition.

The flames continued to spread from the storage building and set fire to another frame structure about 10 feet away.

When firemen arrived this latter building was burning fiercely.

Nearly 300 persons, many of them girls, are employed at the plant, which comprises a group of nearly 50 small buildings. In most of these buildings are stored materials for the manufacture of cannon crackers, rockets and other fireworks.

The man who was hurt in the other explosion which occurred Friday morning is Frank Walker, of North East. He was working in a building not far from the scene of the truck explosion, when chemicals flared up through some undertermined cause, burning him about the head and shoulders. He was treated by Dr. J. J. Greenwald. The shed in which he was working was badly wrecked by fire, but no one else was injured. Walker's injuries were not serious.

The men employed in the plant summoned the ambulance from Elkton and the Singery Fire Company. The men who were injured were removed to Union Hospital with the exception of Brown who was dead by the time that the ambulance arrived.

There was no hope for the recovery of the men when they were removed to the hospital, but everything possible was done to relieve their sufferings, and their relatives were summoned.

The firemen confined their attention to saving several nearby buildings of the plant.

On either side of the mixing house, not more than 12 feet from it, are small powder magazines but containing enough powder to do considerable damage if an explosion occurred. These buildings were protected by the firemen and the flames which had broken out in another small building near the mixing house were extinguished.

The explosion caused great excitement in this section and hundreds of people rushed to the scene and remained until the firemen had extinguished the flames. Large numbers of motorists passing along the road also stopped but they and others were compelled to keep at a safe distance for fear that another explosion might occur.

The coroner's jury picked to investigate the deaths is composed of Andrew D. Dean, William Lusby, Horace Reynolds, Herbert Bryson, John Conway, William Senton, Harry O. Dean, Thomas McDaniels, Ellsworth Short, Benjamin Wilson, Andrew Cameron, and Samuel Henry.

J. B. Decker, president of the Victory Sparkler and Specialty Company, who was in Boston when the fatal explosion occurred, has started a thorough investigation among the staff officers at the works to find if any of the company's rules had been violated in the handling of explosives at the plant.

The funerals of the four victims were held Monday afternoon, services for Albert J. Jones and John Gilbert being held in North East. Harry Brown was buried at Fair Hill and Allen Dickerson in Elkton. Both Jones and Dickerson were married and leave families.

TO REDUCE RAIL CURVE

The much discussed proposal to remove the sharp curve in the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad between the Elkton passenger depot and Elk creek bridge, will soon be realized, it is reported.

For the past twenty years it has been reported at intervals that the tracks would be straightened, the work was never done. Within a year, if the plans are not changed, the tracks of the railroad will be shifted about a thousand feet farther north.

The railroad company, some years ago, purchased a portion of the necessary rights of way, and during the past few weeks, has purchased the balance of the property needed. It has also purchased a number of residences along North street, necessary to make the improvements contemplated.

It is understood that the plans call for the erection of an overhead bridge similar to the one now being erected at Red Mill grade crossing, in the western section of Elkton. There seems to be much opposition to this move and a strong move will be made to prevent it, according to reports. The erection of an up-to-date passenger depot is included in the contemplated improvements, it is said.

Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still devoting a considerable section of its plants to the manufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford:

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$3.75 to 4.00

turned questionnaires," Mr. Connell, executive director of the Federation, declared, "it is hoped to develop plans for a great coordinated system of highways and boulevards. This will constitute project number 1 in the Regional Plan to be completed sometime in 1931. Circulation in the various component parts of the region must be made easy. Congestion, wherever possible, must be reduced to a minimum. It can readily be appreciated that transportation, whether it be of human beings, freight, or merchandise, is the backbone of regional planning.

"In the interests of the public at large, we are appealing for cooperation in facilitating a large return of the questionnaire. We are depending upon the good faith and understanding of all regional travelers and commuters. The Regional Planning Federation exists for the purpose of devising ways and means for improving convenience and accessibility. It is hoped that everyone will respond by filling in the questionnaires for the desired data. A large return of questionnaires is essential in accumulating sufficient index data to enable the Federation to proceed with its studies, which are an insurance against haphazard and piecemeal development."

"SAVE-A-LIFE"

Official windshield stickers will be issued in the name of the Secretary of State and one of these will be placed on every motor vehicle that passes inspection as being in good mechanical condition insofar as its safety factors are concerned. Cars that reveal mechanical defects which render them unsafe will have to be put in good order before the official state sticker will be issued to the owner.

"The proposed 'Save-A-Life' inspection of automobiles will be devoted chiefly to the brakes, horns, lights, steering mechanism, windshield wipers and mirrors," said Secretary of State Grantland in announcing the campaign to reduce automobile accidents and prevent fatalities in the state. "These are the items most likely to get out of order on the average automobile and statistics show that they are the most frequent causes of accidents."

Governor Buck's proclamation calls upon the officials of every community, and various civic, commercial and industrial organizations to lend their wholehearted support to the statewide movement for greater motor vehicle safety. The text of the proclamation follows:

Baseball Makes Slang of Its Own

Baseball has a racy slang, used by the men who earn their living in the game. The origin of some of its picturesque, pungent phrases is hazy, as is the identity of the originators, but most of the expressions are understood and are used by players in all parts of the country. As the sport enlists the services of players from the North, South, East and West, and shifts them around from circuit to circuit, it brings about a pooling of language, and a phrase that aptly describes a feature of the game travels rapidly.

To the professional, a uniform is "a monkey suit" or the "monkeys." They refer to hands as "mitts" and have adopted the common expression "dogs" for feet. A pitcher easy to hit is termed a "cousin," the expression that such-and-such a pitcher is "my cousin" being a common one. Balls that are pitched with little or no curve and require no great effort to meet solidly are called "cripples." A curve is often called a "number one ball" and a fast one a "number two," one and two fingers frequently being the catcher's signals for them.

Other terms for a fast ball are "hard ball" and "smoker." When a pitcher throws a fast one the batsman is often heard to say that "there was smoke on that one," or that "he had his smoker working that time." A slow ball is sometimes referred to as a "dope." A half-speed ball is a "mixer," while a fast one that breaks in as it should is said to be "mixed."

Language of Pitchers

A spitball is usually called a "spit-

ter." A knuckle ball or a variation of it is often characterized as a "forked ball." A high ball is "one around the neck" or "one around the ears," while a very low ball is termed "one around his dogs." "Dusting them off" is a phrase used to describe balls aimed at or close to the batsman's head, the idea being to drive him away from the plate and make him panicky. The deliberate aiming of a ball at the batsman is, of course, strictly forbidden, but "dusters" are often used in the first two or three innings. The psychological effect on the batsman for the rest of the game is often potent.

A pitcher who has fine control is said by his fellow performers to be able "to put it into a knothole," and one who shows steadiness in the pinches is described as "having guts." One who gets flighty "lacks guts" or has one of several unprintable deficiencies. "In the alley" or "in the slot" is said to be a ball that cuts the heart of the plate, and "up his alley" a ball that comes at the speed and in the position that a particular batter finds easiest to hit. The two phrases obviously have been borrowed from bowling.

Pitchers say that a batter who experiences difficulty in connecting with a certain type of ball is "a sucker for it." When a batter is fooled by a ball the pitcher throws, he is said to have been—as is said in the general slang of the day—"foxed." Pitchers possessed of experience and mental keenness are said to have "savvy." "Stuff" is a pitcher's wares; it is also called by fellow performers his "stock" and his "goods." The ball itself is "the apple," "the pill" or "the onion."

A Batsman's Prowess

A hit is a "blow" or a "safe blow." In speaking of the number of hits they make in a game, batters usually tie it up with the number of times they were at bat. Thus, a player does not say that he had "one, two or three hits," but that he had "one for two, two for three, three for four," etc.

A string of "goose eggs" in the hit column is termed "a horse collar," the "size" of the collar depending on the number of times the batsman has gone hitless. When he lugs a bat to the plate five times, for instance, and does not hit safely on any of them, the other players say that "so-and-so got a horse collar, size five." A time at bat is often referred to as "an A. B." A batter who hits numerous drives off the third or first base lines is said to be "hitting .400 in the foul league."

A popular term among players in reference to the hitting of a ball is "riding it." "Smacking it" and "pickling it" are other slang phrases used rarely, if ever, say, as the fans do, that a hitter "popped up" a fly; in their slang a batter "pops up" when he knocks a fly that is caught. A "Texas leaguer"—a short fly just beyond the reach of the infielders and outfielders—is dubbed a "pop fly" by players. When a batter produces a safe "blow" at an opportune moment, his fellow-players say that he has hit "in the saddle," or "in the clutch."

A "bullet" is a ball the batter hits "on the nose" and into the hands of a waiting fielder. When a batter amasses three or four safe "blows" in one game he is said to be "hitting candy."

Remarks About Fielders

Sports writers speak of players as being "good, sensational, fair, mediocre or poor fielders," but the players themselves sum it up as "he can go get 'em," or "he can't go get 'em." The professionals call an error or a wild throw a "boot"; pickups, "digging them out of the dust" or "diving them." A fielder who fails to cover much ground is said to be "playing on a dime." Stealing bases is "carrying the mail."

A player's arm is his "gun" or his "wing." "A good gun" means that the possessor has a strong arm. A weak thrower is said to have a "soup arm." Curiously enough, a pitcher invariably sticks to the orthodox "arm" when talking about that important member. Tagging a runner is "putting the ball on him."

A talkative ballplayer is termed a "barber," while one who "rides" opposing players is called a "jockey." Leo Durocher, the young shortstop of the Yankees, has won considerable fame in both of these roles, and the same is true of Dick Bartell, young Pittsburgh infielder. When a "jockey" is particularly active, he is said to be "digging in his spurs."—R. J. Connors, in the N. Y. Times.

STONE WHICH CAN BE WORKED LIKE WOOD

Reports from Armenia tell of the discovery of a strange stone which, it is said, can be nailed like a piece of board, sawed with an ordinary saw, and painted any color. This curious stone, which it is hoped will insure the economic independence of Armenia, has been found in great quantities in the vicinity of the little town of Artig and as in consequence come to be called in Armenia artig dufa.

The dufa is a light building material, but it is reported to be tough and able to withstand great strains. Heat and sound penetrate it very little, and the material is being made to serve equally well as the walls of a building or as the furniture inside it.

Discharges of lava from Mount Aragatz originated the deposits of dufa, which are estimated to amount to some 60,000,000 cubic meters. The discovery has aroused great interest in European scientific circles. The Armenian Government, as a member of the Soviet Union, has sought the opinion of Moscow mineralogists as to the uses of the dufa.

According to the plans recently announced, the Soviet Government are going to erect buildings constructed of dufa in many of the principal cities of the union to advertise the stone.

A RECORD OF CONSTANT IMPROVEMENT

During the eight years since the return of the railroads to private hands following the federal control period that ended in 1920, improvements have been made in every important phase of operation.

Freight traffic has increased five per cent and freight speed between terminals 19 per cent. This improved service was achieved with 16 per cent fewer train-miles.

During the same period the revenue derived by the railroads per ton-mile has declined over 15 per cent; if freight rates in 1927 had been the same as those in 1921, the public would have had to pay 800 million dollars additional for transportation.

The improvement made in accident reduction is well known. Freight car shortages have practically disappeared. Comfort, safety and speed have all increased.

This fine record of service has had a beneficial effect on our industrial and social life. Transportation is the life-blood of commerce, progress and prosperity.

The railroads' tax burden and drastic legislation has made it impossible for the lines, during a single year since 1920, to earn the "fair return" of 5% per cent permitted by the Transportation Act. Such a condition is disheartening to the railroads and must have a deleterious influence on plans for future progress.

That which is called firmness in a king is called obstinacy in a donkey.—Lord Erskine.

HOCKESSIN HERD LEADS COUNTY COW TEST

The Jersey herd of J. Howard Mitchell and Sons, of Hockessin, lead the New Castle County Cow Testing Association in butterfat production per cow during the month of May. Their herd of 33 cows averaged 34.6 pounds of butterfat per cow, while the next highest of 33.6 pounds was produced by a mixed herd managed by Pusey Passmore on the Concord Pike, near Wilmington. These figures are taken from the monthly summary of the association records by Mr. Alois Leinen, tester. The president of the association is Mr. Paul Mitchell, of Hockessin.

Twenty-one herds with 391 cows were tested during the month by Mr. Leinen. Five of these were Guernsey herds, ten Holstein, four Jersey and two mixed. Seventy-three cows gave over 1,000 pounds of milk each, and 21 gave over 50 pounds of butterfat each during the testing period. The average milk production per cow was 706.2 pounds, and 24.7 pounds of butterfat for May. To produce 100 pounds of milk the dairymen spent on the average 82 cents for feed while the feed cost for 1 pound of butterfat averaged 25 cents. For each $1.00 expended for feed the returns were $9.44. During April the returns for $1.00 feed cost amounted to $2.02. The increase this month is very marked due to the fact that May was the month when the cows were first out on pasture.

The herds in the association range in number from 33 belonging to Mr. Mitchell to 7 owned by Wallace Cook. In the 50 pound butterfat or over 38 per cent were Holsteins; 14.3 per cent Jerseys and 19.4 per cent were from mixed herds, (breed not marked on monthly record sheet.) The black and white cows numbered 78 per cent in the group making 1,000 pounds of milk during the month; the Guernseys were 8.2 per cent; Jerseys 2.7 per cent and mixed herds 10.9 per cent.

by the Wilmington Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Company "E", Delaware National Guard, formed the escort to the car.

The second active service organization, the Delaware R. O. T. C. battalion marched next with its band. This was followed by the combined Newark and Wilmington posts, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in their official uniforms. This contingent was headed by its colors and firing squad, which fired the salutes at the cemeteries and at the Library. Following the combined Veterans' posts was the Newark Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars Women's Auxiliary, dressed in white. Several Spanish-American War Veterans marched with the Veterans. One was Edward L. Parker, of Wilmington, who was the youngest man in service during the Spanish-American War. He enlisted with the Marines in 1898, at the age of 14, and served throughout the conflict as a bugler. He blew "Taps" at the cemeteries and at the Library. This contingent was accompanied by Robinson's Band, from Wilmington.

Following the Veterans was the Newark Post, American Legion, which displayed for the first time a beautiful set of new colors. The Legion was accompanied by the Continental Band.

The Newark Troop, Boy Scouts of America, and a contingent of Newark school children completed the parade. The parade marched first to the Methodist Cemetery, where a salute was fired and "Taps" blown, and then continued the march to the Episcopal Cemetery, where the same ceremony was repeated. The graves in the cemeteries had been decorated the day before by members of the local post of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The parade then marched to the University campus in front of the Library, where all but the R. O. T. C. battalion were dismissed.

John K. Johnson, who had been selected grand marshal of the parade, was suddenly called from town and was not able to serve in that capacity. Officer Cunningham was hurriedly pressed into service to lead the parade. The parade was delayed a half hour in starting, due to the failure of the University R. O. T. C. battalion to arrive at the starting point.

Mayor Frank Collins presided at the services at the Memorial Library, and seated on the speakers' platform with him were: Governor C. Douglass Buck; Colonel S. J. Smith, U. S. A., retired, and nationally prominent in having served fifteen years as National Chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Mrs. S. J. Smith; Major R. G. Buckingham, G. A. R.; John M. Ward, G. A. R.; Dr. Walter Hulihan, president of the University of Delaware; and Ira S. Brinser, superintendent of Newark School.

Due to the delay in the parade, the Continental Band, which was to have furnished music for the services, was unable to stay, and Professor R. W. Heim was asked to lead the assembly in singing. Three songs were sung by the crowd during the services: "America," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Colonel Smith opened the services with an invocation, and after a song, Major Buckingham recited "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address."

At this point Governor Buck, the honored guest on the platform, and the presiding official were rudely embarrassed by an unlooked for disruption of the services.

The Town Committee, which planned the program understood that Governor Buck would not make a general Memorial Day address, but was to come to present reserve commissions in the United States Army to graduating members of the University of Delaware R. O. T. C. The committee were given to understand that the 30 cadets to receive commissions would be presented to the Governor at the platform, where he would address them and present their commissions. It was also understood by the committee that there would be a review of the R. O. T. C. battalion in honor of the Governor, just preceding the services, or just after their close.

With this understanding the committee gave Governor Buck the position of honor in the middle of the program and listed him for an address and the presentation of the commissions, but no cadets were presented. After a few moments of embarrassing silence, the Governor, who was unprepared for any such situation, said that he was glad to be in Newark on the occasion of the Memorial Day services, but although his name appeared on the program for an address he was not going to make one. He then sat down. Major Robert Glassburn, commandant of the Delaware R. O. T. C. unit, then came to the platform and escorted the Governor and President Hulihan to a point midway up the campus, and the R. O. T. C. battalion was drawn up for a formal inspection. The Governor inspected the battalion and was then escorted back to the spot, midway of the campus, and the battalion passed in review. The graduating cadets were then presented to the Governor, and he presented them with their commissions.

The inspection, review and presentation took a full half-hour, and during this time Mayor Collins and the guests sat on the platform and waited for an opportunity to resume the services being given in memory of the heroic dead. The audience straggled away from the seats to watch the inspection and review, which was taking place back of them, and after the services were resumed, many failed to return to their seats.

After Governor Buck had presented the commissions he returned to the platform with Dr. Hulihan, and the program proceeded.

The tribute, given by all the organizations of the town, was carried into the library and placed on the book containing the names of Delaware's dead in the World War. The tribute was in the form of four foot American flag, made of cut flowers. It was carried and laid by two members of the Newark Boy Scouts, Victor Willis and Woodrow Singles. While the boys were carrying the flag into the library, Mrs. S. J. Smith sang "Sleep, Soldier Boy, Sleep."

Ira S. Brinser then recited the "Eulogy of the Dead," and the services were concluded by the firing of a salute, and "Taps."

Will You Win $25?

The slogan contest for FADERS' QUALITY BREAD is nearing an end. All entries must be in our hands before Wednesday, June 19, at 6 p. m.

All you have to do is to write a short sentence or phrase, containing no more than six words, descriptive of FADERS' QUALITY BREAD and its fine qualities.

Some hints for Slogan Writers

You'll find it easy to write a good slogan for FADERS' QUALITY BREAD, once you've tried a loaf. So the first thing to do is to buy one. Then eat it, either plain, toasted, with jelly, or any other way that appeals to you. You will notice its real bread flavor, its soft springy texture and the golden brownness of its crust.

Then sit down with pencil and paper!

When composing your slogan remember that these appetizing characteristics of FADERS' QUALITY BREAD are due to its ingredients being of the same high quality that a good housewife would use in her own kitchen. It is healthful, nourishing and energy building food for every member of the family—from grandfather to the very youngest.

Get these ideas into your slogan if you can. Make it remind people of the superior qualities of FADERS' QUALITY BREAD. Make it bright, snappy, and easy to remember.
