

SCHOOL TAX LEVY IS CUT 2 CENTS BY SCHOOL BOARD

No Increase
Seen Without Referendum,
Officials Say

A reduction in the school tax rate from 36 to 34 cents on every $100 of assessed value was approved by the Newark School Board at its April meeting on Friday night. The new rate will be effective for the fiscal year beginning in July.

The drop was made possible, officials said, by an increase in the assessment value for the Newark district. According to the county tax office, real estate in this district is now valued at $110,000,000.

Last year when the peak 36-cent rate was set, authorities said no more increases were anticipated under the current school program. The present school year this policy, under which a schedule of tax rates necessary to pay off the bonded indebtedness of the district has been drawn up to include the year 1973.

The tax levy here will not go up unless a new building program or expansion of facilities becomes necessary, which would require another bond issue and, consequently, another referendum.

The reduced rate will raise $43,910 during the coming year, or about $4,000 less than last year's levy. The difference will be made up from a fund source which the school board has on hand and plans to consume gradually. These local funds will be used chiefly for meeting the district's bond payments and interest. About $24,910 will be left this year, with $1,000 being earmarked for the town library and the remainder $18,000 being used for additional teacher salaries.

THIS CAREER CONFERENCE IS SUCCESS

Students Get Valuable Aid
On Job Choice

A survey of U. S. job classifications and the educational qualifications required at the beginning in each field was the main feature of the variety of job fields conference held at the high school career center here last Thursday afternoon.

Students in grades seven through 12 were given a detailed and informative outline of the variety of job fields existing in this country, covering everything from clerical work, through scientific, professional and technical fields to semi and non-skilled labor.

Following his address, the senior students broke up to attend individual consultations with some 15 specialists on hand for the job consultants, all leaders in their special fields, were stationed in various classrooms, and the students were given time to hear those talks which interested them most.

The junior high students, meanwhile, were in the auditorium for a talk by Dr. Henry Weitz, director of the

Town Holds Up Plan To Repair Honor Roll

To Consider Memorial Group's Protests On Monday Night

The town has held up at least temporarily its plan to use $350 for repairs to the Honor Roll on Main Street following protests last week of the War Memorial Committee, which claimed the money could be better spent to swell the fund being raised to erect a permanent memorial here.

The question of whether or not to switch the Honor Roll appropriation to the monument fund will probably be taken up at the April meeting of the Town Council on Monday night, according to George Ramsey, acting secretary, who has placed it on the agenda.

The Memorial Committee, under William Coverdale, announced last week it had $2,075 toward a revised goal of $3,000, which will be sufficient, it says, to erect a suitable monument here. The $350 proposed for the Honor Roll repairs would provide a substantial boost to the fund, Coverdale said.

Jaycees Again To Offer Free Safety Tape To Bike Owners Saturday

Plans for a third and final offer to equip local bicycles with free "Scotch-lite" tape were announced this week by the Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The reflecting safety tape will be applied to all bicycles brought to the Jaycee rooms in the Old Academy building this Saturday between 10 and 12 a. m.

The tape will be free to bike owners who did not take advantage of previous offers. There will be a nominal fee for commercially owned wheels.

About 95 bicycles have already been equipped on previous occasions with the tape, which reflects headlights brightly and is an excellent safety feature for night riders.

New Zip To Drinking Water After Reservoir Cleaning

If you notice a little more zip and sparkle in the town drinking water this week it's all because the town reservoir got a thorough cleaning.

Municipal crews, under the direction of George Ramsey, drained out the water on Monday and gave the big tub at the end of Academy Street, a thorough scrubbing with disinfectant, then flushed it out.

The work was done on the recommendation of the local board of health, which in a recent report to the town, urging new safeguards, also advised inspecting questionable wells in this area, flushing out the water mains once a month, and a closer check on the water chlorination system.

100 WORKERS PUSHING GIRL SCOUT DRIVE

Intensive Fund
Campaign Seeks
Money For Camp

Over 70 volunteer workers divided into 20 teams began a house to house campaign here Tuesday seeking funds for the Delaware Girl Scouts.

This is the Newark phase of a statewide drive which asks $80,000 for a permanent girl scout camp. A 175-acre site has already been purchased at Grove Point, Md. Once completed, the camp will offer full recreational facilities and will be the first ever operated for the girl scouts.

With the increasing number of girls joining the Scouts who want the advantages offered by group living in the outdoors, the state's leaders have volunteered to satisfy what they considered an acute lack of facilities.

The state campaign opened with a meeting in the Hotel DuPont, Wilmington, where Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, celebrated author and American Woman of the Year, was the speaker.

Directing the Newark drive is Mrs. T. A. Baker, with Mrs. Barton Mackey as treasurer. Contributions may be sent direct to Mrs. Mackey. Other members of the planning committee are: Mrs. R. T. Ware, Mrs. Allen Colburn, Mrs. S. W. Smith, Mrs. R. Rogers Fouracre, Mrs. William D. Murray, Mrs. Morris B. Field, Mrs. C. N. Lanier, Mrs. C. F. Wells, and Mrs. J. C. Weinberg.

Deadline for the drive is May 9 and a schedule of meetings when zone

FIRE RAZES BARN MON.

Shifting winds blow sparks from burning barn and sparks from machine shed and two-story barn near here Monday, completely destroying both buildings for an estimated loss of $15,000.

The shed and barn were on the estate of Edward W. Cooch, of Cooch's Bridge.

The blaze was well underway when the Aetna and Christiana fire companies arrived, and the firemen concentrated their efforts of saving two other buildings which were threatened by the spreading flames. These were saved.

Tricky winds which changed direction suddenly blew the fire across a field where trash was being burned and set fire to the barn, which was empty of cattle at the time, but contained grain and feed to aid the blaze. The flames quickly spread to the shed which housed valuable farm machinery.

Twice sparks from the high leaping flames ignited two other buildings on the farm, but firemen managed to extinguish them. The blaze began around 10 a. m. and the volunteers were kept busy until 1 p. m.

Four other fires were reported here the past week, the first last Wednesday when grass caught fire on the property of Dr. A. J. Strikol, Creek Road. The damage was slight. Another minor grass blaze broke out the same day at Iron Hill.

Thursday night a short circuit caused flames to break out in an automobile opposite Len Walbridge's paint store. The owner of the car was unidentified, and the damage was estimated at $10.

Saturday a tenant house on the farm of Oliver Koelg, near the National Fibre Company, was burned out.

Indian War Dances Or Classical Opera —It's All In Grade Music Fete Friday

A realistic Indian pow-wow, a full scale opera, a minstrel show, and a series of gay folk dance routines will be offered in one heaping eveningful of entertainment here next Friday.

The event will be the annual spring music festival of the Newark Elementary School in the auditorium at 7:30 p. m., when grades one to six will stage what promises to be one of the most ambitious programs in the school's history. The festival, held in connection with National Music Week, will illustrate how "music and art strengthen friendly ties of individuals, groups, nations."

The highlight will probably come when grades five and six offer their own interpretation of the opera Carmen by Bizet. The students have learned many of the arias and chorus numbers and have created a number of speaking parts for their dramatization of the famed story. Their script was drawn up after lengthy class study of the opera and its composer. The cast was selected after try-outs in which Randolph Lindell earned the part of Don Jose and Virginia Starkey that of Carmen, the cigarette girl.

Next most colorful event will probably be the Indian ceremonial dances by the second graders. The students carried out much research on songs and dances of various tribes and will stage a historically accurate rendition of an Ojibway pow-wow and corn grinding ceremony.

The minstrel show will be by grades five and six with Douglas David and Glen Ratti as end-men and Willis Jackson as the interlocutor. The show will be based on the student's classroom studies of the South.

SUBSTITUTE POSTAL JOB OPEN HERE

Deadline For Applications
Thurs. May 12

An examination for Substitute Clerk-Carrier for duty at the local post office, was announced yesterday by the Director, Third U. S. Civil Service Region.

Substitutes start at $1.29 per hour while regular employees are paid from $2.55 to $3.55 per year. Applicants must actually reside within the delivery of the post office or be bona fide patrons of such office. Persons now employed in the post office will be considered bona fide patrons.

There are no experience requirements needed for this position. All applicants will be required to take a written examination. Because the use of motor vehicles is required in city-delivery service, no persons will be appointed as substitute city carrier who does not drive an automobile.

Applicants must have reached their eighteenth birthday but must not have passed their fiftieth birthday on the closing date for acceptance of applications and must be citizens of or owe allegiance to the United States. The age limits will be waived for veteran preference applicants.

Vote Here Soon On School Merger Plan

Question Of Consolidating Iron
Hill School With Newark
To Be Decided

A referendum on the question of merging the Pleasant Valley School District with the Newark district will go before the local voters in the near future.

The Newark school board has agreed to hold the referendum as soon as the state legislature passes its general appropriation bill, which contains Newark's school budget for the next two years.

The board wants to be sure its budget is approved and that it has enough funds to handle the Pleasant Valley pupils before it goes ahead with the referendum.

If local voters favor the consolidation plan, the Valley pupils will start to school here in September. The residents of Pleasant Valley have already voted to abandon their 1-room school and join the Newark district.

About fifty pupils, it is said, are now attending the school there, and, if the referendum passes, will go to swell what already promises to be a record enrollment here next fall.

Plans to hold overflow classes in the Sunday School rooms of the Methodist Church are already underway. The additional funds needed for the project are provided for in the budget request now before the legislature.

To Start Work Soon On 60-Family Apt.

Ground Breaking Expected In Four Weeks If No More
Obstacles

If no further delays develop, ground breaking for the long planned, 60-family apartment house on Elton Road, is expected to take place within four weeks.

The John K. Walters Company, of Wilmington, which is promoting the project announced this week that construction of the elaborate $550,000 structure will take about six months, and, according to present plans, is expected to be ready for occupancy by fall.

Final settlement of the financing is being completed through the Federal Housing Authority, a company spokesman said, and the construction contract has been awarded to the Mitchell Construction Company, Camden, N. J. Local contractor, George Moore will cooperate with the Mitchell Company in the work.

The apartments, which will be in a moderate rent range, will contain one or two bedrooms, tile bath, modern kitchen, and complete laundry facilities, including ironing and drying, in the basement. Ample play space for children, and parking area will also be provided in the settlement, on which $25,000 will be spent on landscaping.

The permit for its erection here was granted after much dispute well over a year ago at the height of the housing shortage. Since then, construction plans have run into one obstacle after another. Difficulties over laying a storm sewer through the property, for instance, held up the project about four months.

ZONING MAY BE REVIVED

Only routine business is on the agenda for the April meeting of the Town Council set for Monday night, but if the special sessions of the new Council to date are any indication, there still may be some unexpected fireworks.

Chief item of business will probably be a renewed consideration of the proposed zoning ordinance. Needing only its third and final reading for passage, it was tabled three months ago due to a request from the Chamber of Commerce, which objected to restrictions on business district growth.

No action is likely on the Fluorine plan, which proposes to treat the town water supply with a solution of Sodium Fluoride as an aid in preventing tooth decay in young children. This was tabled last month pending a report from the local committee which visited Newburgh, N. Y., where a community Fluoride experiment is underway.

No report has come from this group as yet, but Dr. P. K. Musselman, who heads the committee, said this week he has by no means abandoned hopes for introducing the plan here and expects to have more details in the near future.

Dr. Gould In Siam As Economic Aide

To Spend 4 Months In Bangkok As Advisor

Dr. Joseph S. Gould, 24 Kentway, chief economist for the World Bank, is on leave of absence to serve as economic advisor to the government of Siam.

Now enroute to that country, he is expected to arrive there this week-end and will make his headquarters in Bangkok. It is expected his work in Siam will take about three or four months, after which he will return to the U. S. to resume his post with the World Bank. The latter, known more accurately as the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, works in connection with the United Nations and the U. S. Government.

His present trip is not Dr. Gould's first visit to Siam. Less than a year ago, he went there in connection with a UN survey.

Dr. Gould, who has been a resident here for some time, was formerly head of the Economics Department at the University of Delaware.

Mrs. Harvey Bounds will be tea hostess.

MAYOR AND COUNCIL IN CLASH OVER AMICK FIRING

Closed Meet
Here Friday
Shifts Town
Appointments

Conflicting reports are still circulating regarding the closed session of Town Council last Friday night, when Town Engineer M. G. Amick and Supervisor Robert Neeson were fired and Arthur J. Hauber was named Chief Town Supervisor, a new title on the municipal payroll.

A dispute over personnel and payroll policy between the mayor and the members of Council apparently came to a head with the mayor walking out early in the meeting and returning later.

The widely heard report that, after the meeting, Mayor McBERTY accused an unidentified Councilman of seeking election for graft purposes was verified by Councilman Samuel Diehl, when questioned by the Post this week. He added that five other Council members were present when the remark was made.

The mayor himself, however, denies the charge and says he objected only to the dismissal of Amick and the hiring of Hauber. His position on Amick and his stand on the entire town payroll system are carried in a letter elsewhere in this issue.

The new supervisor, Hauber, has had a varied career in construction work since he graduated from Delaware as a civil engineer in 1906. From 1945 to early this year he was Assistant County Engineer, and recently has been connected with the engineering firm now working on the Chesapeake City high level bridge.

Precise information on the Mayor-Council clash was not available since it apparently took place after the meeting and was not covered in the minutes released by Councilman F. A. Wheelless.

The fact that the session was closed to the public and that several citizens invited by Mr. McBERTY to attend were turned away came as something of a surprise since, traditionally, Council holds only one closed session a year—its organization meeting after the election—though the charter says that all meetings shall be public.

The move to exclude the public was made, however, with the approval of new Town Solicitor John P. Sinclair. In a statement this week Mr. Sinclair said he had ruled that "any legislative" (Please Turn to Page 7)

SOLOISTS IN SONG CYCLE NEXT WEEK

"In a Persian Garden," a song-cycle for four solo voices will be sung at the University of Delaware's Mitchell Hall at 8:15 p. m., on Friday, April 29, featuring Miss Hilda Somers, of the university's music faculty, and three singers of the Westminster Choir College.

The first part of the program will be readings and comments by Dr. W. Owen Sypherd on the poetry of Omar Khayyam's "The Rubaiyat," with music composed by Liza Lehmann. This music will be sung as the second portion of the program.

In addition to Miss Somers, who will sing the soprano part, the soloists will be Miss Eleanor Ritter, contralto; Jack DeLon, tenor; and James A. Berry, bass. The piano accompaniment will be played by Miss Mildred Gaddis, also of the Delaware music department.

Mr. DeLon is familiar to Newark audiences, having sung there several times previously. He has been tenor soloist with the Westminster Choir for four years. A soloist with orchestra for "The Messiah" and "The Prodigal Son," he spent one summer singing in the production of "The Lost Colony" at Manteo, N. C.

Miss Ritter, a Westminster Choir College senior, has been contralto soloist with the Westminster Choir for two years, and as a member of a symphonic choir, she has performed works with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Mr. Berry, bass soloist with the Westminster Choir for three years, also has performed with choirs with the New York Philharmonic, and has been a guest soloist at Constitution Hall, Washington; Town Hall, New York; and the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

The program will be open to the public without charge.

Student Council Buys New Clock

The Student Council of Newark High School has purchased a two-faced clock for the second floor corridor with the funds made from selling hot dogs, cokes, and candy at the school athletic events.

The clock will have a fourteen-inch diameter and will be fastened to the wall because the ceiling is too low. There will always be a light on each side of the clock so that the students may see it from either end of the corridor.

The clock is expected to arrive sometime in June before the close of school.

STATE-WIDE HOMEMAKER MEETING SET

To Feature
Club Week
Observance

The annual state-wide meeting for demonstration members will be held in Delaware's observance of National Home Demonstration Week, May 1 to May 5. More than 400 women representing home demonstration clubs are expected to attend the meeting, May 5, in Smyrna High School, according to Mrs. M. Gertrude Holloway, state demonstration leader.

Plans for the program, discussed at recent State Home Demonstration Council session, have been disclosed by Mrs. Holloway and Mrs. Jonathan Chavles, Delmar, council president. Featured speaker will be Miss Florence Hall, senior home economist of Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, whose topic will be "Rural Women Broaden their Outlook."

Reports on club projects and achievements during the past year will be in the form of a television show, with clubs participating from each county. Subjects to be illustrated include health and safety, international relations, homemaking practices, off-duty training for club members, family relations and community work.

A discussion on the role home demonstration clubs may play in furthering the 4-H Club program in Delaware will be led by Miss Jean Lee, state 4-H specialist. Also on the all-day program will be group singing led by Miss Margaret Black of Newark.

Part-Time Licensing Of Radio Stations To Stop

The Federal Communications Commission announced recently it plans to stop licensing share-time or specified-hours stations in the standard radio broadcasting field.

The announcement said such licensing was necessary in the early days of broadcasting when many facilities could not operate on a full time basis. But, FCC said, "the reason for the existence of such operations has largely disappeared."

It was noted there are now only 16 share-time and 16 specified-hours stations out of a total of 2,127 standard stations on the air. Existing authorizations would not be disturbed by the change in rules.

The FM broadcasting regulations already provide for unlimited-time stations only.

Scarlet Fever Death Rate Is Now At 455 Annually In Nation

About 145,000 Cases Reported
Each Year; 158 In State
During 1948

An average of 455 persons still die of scarlet fever in the United States every year, and there are approximately 145,000 cases reported, says the State Board of Health. The entire year of 1948 scarlet fever reported in the State to date this year is now 71 as compared with 53 reported for this same period last year. The entire year of 1948 yielded 158 scarlet fever cases reported in Delaware, and it is probable that many more cases, which were not severe, were never reported.

However, it is very often the mild cases of scarlet fever, which sometimes occur without a rash, that cause epidemics of this childhood disease. But scarlet fever without a rash is just as contagious as scarlet fever with a rash—perhaps more so, say health officials, because it is not recognized as scarlet fever and nothing is done to keep the infection from spreading.

Confining a child who has just a mild sore throat to his home, but also to his playmates and members of his family. Scarlet fever largely affects children under 10 years of age, and it is usually 2 to 7 days after exposure to a carrier of this disease that the first signs of infection appear.

A child who is coming down with scarlet fever may, for a day or two, seem tired and out of sorts, and then develop a fever, sore throat and vomiting. In a day or two the rash (little red flat points) begin to show up on the neck and chest and gradually spread over most of the body. The tongue is furred, and in the course of several hours red points begin to appear through the coating. The entire tongue gradually becomes red (strawberry tongue).

In mild cases the rash may disappear in from four to eight hours. The throat may be only slightly sore and the fever may remain low, but even mild cases may have severe complications, including ear trouble, infected glands, and disease of the kidneys or heart.

Scarlet fever is spread through discharges from the mouth or nose of the acutely ill, convalescent patients or carriers, directly through house dust, or through contaminated milk or other food. Extreme care should be taken when a person is just coming down with scarlet fever, for it is during the first stages of this disease that it is most contagious.

Children who have had scarlet fever or who have been exposed to the disease must not return to school until permission is given by the health officer, the school doctor or attending physician, says the State Board of Health, and any member of the ill child's family who is a food handler or whose work brings them in close contact with children be excluded from their work until released by the attending physician and health officer.

E-52 PICKS NEW PLAY

'Glass Menagerie'
To Be Presented

Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" has been selected by the University of Delaware's E-52 Players as their last major production of the season. It will be presented on May 12, 13, and 14. Casting has been completed, with the four parts going to Howard Hitchens, Margaret Guenveur, Verda Vane, and Robert Niemeyer.

"The Glass Menagerie" is one of the most successful plays by the author of such plays as "A Streetcar Named Desire" and "Summer and Smoke." The original production of "The Glass Menagerie" with Laurette Taylor as the mother, played for 561 performances in 1945 and 1946 until Miss Taylor's death forced it to close. Several road companies have since toured with the play. "Menagerie" won the New York Drama Critics Circle award in 1945 for the best play by an American playwright.

Robert Niemeyer will play the role of the gentleman caller in the E-52 production. Margaret Guenveur plays the role of the daughter, will be making their farewell appearances on Mitchell Hall's stage. Scheduled to graduate in June. She has been one of the leading performers for the Players.

Letters To Editor

Is Newark Old-Fashioned?

Editor of Post

Dear Sir:

Newark Town Council at its organization meeting last Tuesday accepted, but at a later "executive" session on Friday, rejected, a preliminary report of a Committee on Wages, Salaries and Pensions.

Correct salaries help get good work. A committee, of which Dr. Charles N. Lanier, Jr., was chairman, had been studying Town employees jobs in relation to wages and salaries. Dr. Lanier is Chairman of the Department of Economics and Business Administration at the University. Serving on the committee were former Councilmen Dan and George Ramsey and Town Engineer Marion G. Amick. The committee gathered a lot of information on the most modern methods of setting wages and salaries. They worked up a simplified plan for giving points to each job in accordance with its needs for skill, the time needed to learn the job, the amount of hard work required, and so on. They compared the point ratings for each job with the present wage or salary. They found most Town jobs fell in a narrow band. They recommended a preliminary salary adjustment for several jobs found to be rather definitely outside the band.

Newark Town Council, after voting to hold an "executive" session and electing citizens present, took another step. After voting Tuesday to retain the Town Engineer and Supervisor, it voted at the "executive" session to replace these men. The mayor considers the Town had been very fortunate in getting the part-time services of its Town Engineer, Marion G. Amick, to guide its engineering work. Mr. Amick, who recently left a large company to devote his time to several business enterprises, had for many years directed a great variety of important engineering work for that company as a prominent member of its central engineering department. The most successful companies today use the principle of teaming-up young engineering graduates with a keen resourceful experienced well-paid senior engineer. The young engineering graduates learn rapidly while giving full value for their pay. The employer gets work of as high quality as if it were all done by the senior engineer, but at much lower cost, since the senior engineer need not spend his time running a slide rule and doing other things that the younger, lower paid and less-experienced man can do adequately. Such an arrangement was particularly desirable for Newark, since it offered some of the engineering graduates of the University of Delaware a chance to train for possible jobs as city managers or city engineers.

TOWN'S CASH STATUS FOR YEAR GIVEN

Survey Shows Revenue Tops Expenses Here

The town took in $12,000 more than it spent last year compared with spending $65,600 over its revenue in 1947, according to a summary of municipal finances released this week by Mayor Ford McBerly.

The report, based on the figures of auditors Frank A. Gunn and Mack & Company, covered the year February 1948 to 1949.

The text follows:
"On March 1, 1948, the Town had 'quick' assets of $103,200, offset by commitments (bills payable and open contracts) estimated at $100,000. (No records were kept before 1948 concerning commitments.) On March 1, 1949, 'quick' assets were $66,400 and commitments had been reduced to $29,200.

"Income during the 12 months ending Feb. 28, 1949, totaled $292,550; up 5% from the preceding year. No broad increases in charges were made during the year, except a 5 cent increase in tax rate, yielding some $4,500. The increase in income therefore represents more services rendered.

"Operating expenses during the 12 months ending Feb. 28, 1949, totaled $244,100, up 2% from the preceding year. However, payments for electricity purchased from Delaware Power and Light were $116,900 in the 12 months ending Feb. 28, 1949, compared to $85,100 in the preceding period, indicating some $16,000 bills carried over from one period to the other. Making this correction, operating expenses in the 12 months ending Feb. 28, 1949, totaled $228,100, compared to $255,100 for the preceding period. The cost of running the Town was thus some $27,000 lower in the year just past than in the year before. The reduction in cost was in the Electrical Department ($8,000) and in the cost of the Administrative, Street, Sewer, and Police departments, ($20,000).

"Capital outlays in the 12 months ending Feb. 28, 1949, totaled $32,400; down 40% from the preceding year.

"Excess of Revenue over Expenditures for the 12 months ending Feb. 28, 1949, was $12,000, after the above men-

LITTLE THINGS about the STARS

RADIO & TELEVISION & HOLLYWOOD

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N.Y.—There are all types of quiz programs on the air. But it remains for youth-television to come up with one of the more mature, "Who Said That?" (Saturday night, NBC TV stations) asks a panel of big-time personalities to identify the authors of colorful remarks in the week's news. Nimble reporter Robert Trout, whose ability to extemporize before a microphone is a marvel of the business, emceeds the program. Erudite John Cameron Swayze, the single regular, and three guests face light, serious, tricky questions. Like the puzzles, the guests, too, are well varied. Among those recently: H. V. Kaltenborn, Cartoonist Al Capp, Joan Blondell, George E. Allen, Presidential aide, Elsa Maxwell.

TV "CASHES IN"

Several million listeners now see, as well as hear, radio's No. 1 cash give-away program in action, "Break the Bank" (Friday nights, ABC stations) is being aired simultaneously on television. In its third year, the show follows its familiar and successful formula. The quiz master is Bert Parks; the contestants, mostly from out-of-town, wide-eyed, contagiously enthusiastic. Viewers of TV occasionally get a glimpse of the program's "pay-off teller"—tall, striking actress Janice Gilbert. She is no harm to the program's picture. Nor are the show's pay-outs. Top give-away: $9020 in solid cash; average winnings: $349 in cash.

tioned correction for electric bills. This compares with $65,600 excess of expenditures over revenue in the preceding year.

"Throughout the past year, services to the Town were held at reasonable levels. Substantial improvements were made in procedures and in record keeping, and particularly in the condition of Town properties. Town employees were granted a 5% increase in salaries and wages in April, 1948."

10TH ANN'Y FOR "HENRY"

They said it wouldn't last. But Ezra Stone, 31, twice a father, still is "Henry Aldrich"—one of the most familiar, one of the most perfectly fitted voice adaptations in all radio. Stone, a brash young actor out of Philadelphia, got the role at 21. When he went into the Army (41), there was a mad scramble for a replacement. 150 actors were auditioned. In four years, four fellows played the role, none completely suitable to producer and listeners. Stone, who had rehearsed "Henry" daily in the service, returned in '45. This month (Thursday night, NBC), on the 10th anniversary shows, Stone as "Henry" still was going strong.

Very Little Things

Lucille Ball, star of radio's bright comedy "My Favorite Husband" (Fri. nights, CBS), is glad Easter has passed. The vivacious actress doesn't own a single hat—believe it or not... There may be good reason for high morale—among the male stars, at least—on top-rated Monday night (CBS) "Radio Theatre." A regular supporting player is Joan Meer—often a claimed radio's most beautiful actress... Janet Blair revealed to a studio audience at "Cavalcade of America" (Mon. nights, NBC) that her name really is Lafferty. She's from Altoona, Pa., which is in Blair County. From that she adopted her professional name.

New Toupee Shortage

Bares British Pates

Britain, which is short of just about everything, is now running out of toupees. It was disclosed recently.

The Labor government has given away too many wigs.

In a ratio of eight women to every man, the bald-pated citizenry has been deluged the wig-makers with orders for toupees allowed under the national health scheme.

The eligible among the bald set are allowed two wigs at government expense—one to wear and a spare to send to the cleaners.

6 Million Are Now

On Federal Pay Roll

More than 6,000,000 people were working for federal, state and local governments in the United States in January; the Census Bureau reported recently.

The exact total, 6,083,000, amounted to one in every 9.4 wage earners in the nation, statistically speaking.

The January figure was an increase in government workers of 41,000 in October. Their January wage total was $1,340,000,000.

The full program was well organized and moved along quickly and efficiently. Most of the planning, including the arrangements for the speakers, was handled out by Miss Dorothy Markert, school guidance director, who headed the committee in charge.

In a statement commending Miss Markert on her work, a P-T-A spokesman said this week: "Too much credit cannot be given Miss Markert not only for her tireless efforts in arranging this affair, but also for the very efficient manner in which the conference was organized and operated."

body has the inherent power to go into executive session on occasion."

According to the minutes, the meeting opened with the approval of a motion to go into executive session, whereupon Mayor McBerty left the meeting, stating he had an important engagement elsewhere. Councilman Norman Batterby took over as president pro tempore.

A motion was then unanimously approved rescinding a ruling of last Tuesday's organizational meeting which gave a 10 per cent pay raise to Irvin Chalmers, Phoebe Sapp and Edith Murray.

Next a motion was passed rescinding another resolution of the Tuesday session which gave a five per cent wage increase to Herbert Murphy and Alex Harper.

At this point Mr. McBerty returned to the meeting.

It was then moved that Irvin Chalmers be appointed as assistant Water Superintendent under Elmer J. Ellison.

Then came the motion to hire Hauber as Chief Town Supervisor and give Amick and Neeson a month's termination notice effective May 1. The meeting was then adjourned and the fireworks, apparently, began.

CONCERT BY U. OF D. BAND MAY 1 AND 15

Two Sunday afternoon outdoor band concerts have been arranged by J. Robert King, director of the University of Delaware's symphonic band. The concerts are scheduled for May 1 and May 15 at 4 p. m. (E.D.T.) on the campus just north of the Memorial Library. In case of rain, the concert will be presented in nearby Mitchell Hall.

The 35-member band, now in its third year, will be presenting its second annual outdoor concert series. The May 1 concert will be the band's second program in Newark this season, a concert having been presented in Mitchell Hall late in the winter. In addition, the band played three concerts in schools at Dover, Milford and Georgetown last month.

The program arranged for May 1 includes several folk and popular tunes in addition to marches, including compositions of Edwin Franko Goldman and John Philip Sousa. Also to be played is "From the Delta," by William Grant Still, which is the first band composition of the American Negro composer. It will be heard in three parts: song, spiritual and dance. Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Entrance and March of the Peers," from the operetta "Iolanthe," also will be played.

The complete program follows: Alouette March, Goldman; Entrance and March of the Peers, Sullivan; From the Delta, Still; Aguerro, Pase-Doble, Franco; His Honor March, Fillmore; Mississippi Rhapsody, Weinberger; The Connecticut March, Nassau; Manhattan Serenade, Alter; Second Suite in F for Military Band, Holst; Selection of Cole Porter Songs, Arr. by Russell Bennett; Washington Post March, Sousa.

Automatic Poultry Feeder Available

If you would like to build a good automatic poultry feeder, contact the Agricultural Extension Service, Newark, for plans. According to William Calvert, extension agricultural engineer, the feeder is the same type as that which was displayed in Wolf Hall at the University during Farmers' Week.

Services Monday For Mrs. Madeline Lynam

A former Newark school teacher, Mrs. Madeline Johnston Lynam, wife of H. Clifford Lynam, of Milltown, died on Friday after an illness of several weeks. Services were held Monday at the home, and interment was in Silverbrook Cemetery.

Mrs. Lynam, who was born in Delaware, graduated from the Newark High School in 1918 and the University of Delaware in 1922. She taught in the Newark schools for 17 years prior to her marriage.

Mrs. Lynam was an active member of the White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church and the Newark New Century Club.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Marjorie C., age 4 years and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Johnston, also of Milltown.

3 Volunteer Fire Units To Join Memorial March

Latest units to accept invitations to march here on Memorial Day are three volunteer fire companies from this area, according to an announcement this week by the committee.

The three are the Aetna Fire Company of Newark, the Christiana Fire Company and the Singler Fire Company of Elkton. Chief Elmer Ellison's parade committee includes: William Frazer, Irvin Chalmers and Clifford Moore. This division will be headed by Chief Ellison.

Units previously announced as planning to take part include three out of state musical outfits, a contingent of sailors, national guard, and divisions of school children.

Drug Stores Here Mark National Pharmacy Week

To point up the service which the drug store performs in the community, Newark pharmacies are now observing National Pharmacy Week by displaying posters and distributing literature on cancer control.

Those joining in the program are C. E. Johnson, the Neighbors Pharmacy and the Newark Pharmacy. The program is being sponsored throughout the state by the Delaware Pharmaceutical Association.

The general purpose of the observance is to make the drug store an information center on disease control. Emphasis on cancer education is an example of the cooperation given by druggists to other medical groups for the benefit of the community.

MAY FETE IS PLANNED AT U. OF D.

Miss Joan Marshall, of Lewes, will be the 1949 May Queen at the University of Delaware, following elections by the student body for the May Court.

A blonde, she will reign at the annual festival on May 14, with Miss E. Jane Gordon, of Drexel Hill, Pa., as maid of honor.

Miss Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Marshall, Jr., of 803 Savannah Road, Lewes, was junior duchess in last year's May Court. A history major, she is a graduate of Lewes High School. She will be graduated from Delaware in June.

Miss Gordon was one of Miss Marshall's attendants last year. An art major, she has been co-captain of cheerleaders. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Gordon, of 2720 Eldon Avenue, Drexel Hill.

The senior duchess will be Miss Shirley K. Taylor, Wilmington; and the senior attendants will be Miss Carol Black, Wilmington; and Miss Mary Lou Richardson, Claymont.

Other members of the court will be:

Junior duchess, Miss Mary Agnes McCaville, Wilmington; junior attendants, Miss Margaret Brosius, West Grove, Pa.; and Miss Ann M. Kuhn, Salisbury, Md.; sophomore duchess, Miss Mary Lou Bowen, Kennett Square, Pa.; sophomore attendants, Miss Grace Walker, Seaford; and Miss Claire DiNardo, Wilmington; freshman duchess, Miss Nancy Ruos, Bridgeville; freshman attendants, Miss Nancy Ann Klusman, York, Pa.; and Miss Dorothy Potts, Wilmington.

The theme of this year's May Court will be that of a toyshop, in which the participants will engage in the gala activities of the toys after the toymaker has left the shop for the night. Arrangements are being made by Miss Beatrice P. Hartshorn, director; and a committee headed by Miss Sally Wooleyhan, general chairman.

The program, at 2:30 p. m., will be on the central campus near the Memorial Library.
