PRICE SEVEN CENTS

Wilmington Savings Fund Society Opens Newark Branch Bank At 53 E. Main St.

The Wilmington Savings Fund Society held open house yesterday at its new branch bank, 53 East Main Street, Newark, as some 300 residents of the area visited the new branch and were taken on a tour of its facilities.

The new bank represents the third branch unit established by the society since its first mutual savings institution in Newark.

According to Thomas Tatnall, president of the Newark branch, the new branch is designed to provide more convenient service to the area's residents and to attract more depositors who had to bank in the city's main office at Ninth and Market Streets, Wilmington.

The branch will have a working staff of seven employees, including a teller and a cashier.

Visitors to the Savings Fund open house were given a free directory of Newark and its organizations, and antique copies of the Declaration of Independence.

The two-story brick and metal structure is of contemporary design with a porcelain and aluminum front set in limestone framing. The street level, a cast aluminum grille covers the main banking area.

The first floor of the new building is devoted entirely to banking facilities. The second floor will have a total rentable area of 3,000 sq. ft. available for business offices or professional suites.

The decor of the new branch building is a bright, complementary motif projecting a feeling of informality and friendliness.

Tellers counters, check writing facilities, and a 24-hour drop depository with inside and outside access are arranged in a semi-circular sweep at left of the main entrance.

The wall at the right of the lobby features a patterned cast aluminum gate which closes off the banking area from a second floor mezzanine.

Robert Lee George, a graduate of the University of Delaware, has been awarded a $300 scholarship, it was announced by the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Order of the Eastern.

Mr. George, who was endorsed by the First Presbyterian Church, will enter Princeton University in the fall to prepare for the ministry.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee George, 32 Hillcroft Road, Mt. Pleasant, Newark.

The closing of the Thrift Shop at Newark Area Welfare Committee for the summer months on June 10 marks the end of the shop's most successful year according to Mrs. Robert C. Lewis, general chairman of the Thrift Shop activities.

"More donations have been received than in any previous year," Mrs. Lewis said, "and increased proceeds from sales, turned over to the Newark Area Welfare Committee, have provided more food, fuel, clothing and medication to worthy residents as well as making a regular contribution to the local dental clinic."

Mrs. Lewis expressed thanks to volunteers who gave freely of their time to make it possible to keep the shop open; to donors and every Friday since last June, and to the press.

125 Dads Turn Out To Prepare Fields For NRA Baseball

Five League Diamonds
Readied By Volunteer
Father & Son Workers

The Newark Recreation Pony League season was unofficially opened last week as 125 Dads turned out with rakes, shovels, hammers and saws to ready the five league diamonds for pre-season practice.

The American League backstop and storage box were repaired and rebuilt, and the diamond was raked clean. Base paths and home plate are awaiting a second work party.

At the Major League diamond, Dads and boys completely reconditioned the field, home plate, and the pitcher's mound; repaired backstop wire and the storage box.

With a change of location due for the Eastern League, the Dads laid out a temporary diamond for practice purposes. Following the close of school, the diamond will be located at the Oglethorpe Junior High School field.

The International League crew numbered 30 Dads and twice that number of boys, who raked the new diamond on Poplar Avenue extended, cut base paths, put in the plate and rubber, and painted the backstop.

The National League field on Kells Avenue, was mowed and raked; base paths and infield received special care; and the wooden backstop was removed in anticipation of pipe and chain link fencing.

Stan Francis, NRA director, said, "These Dads are the greatest. The numbers that turn out and the way they work to help the boys get ready for their season is really appreciated. It shows they take a great deal of pride and interest in their sons' activities."

Free Salk Shots
Offered Saturday
At Newark Clinic

A polio clinic for the free administration of Salk vaccine will be offered at Newark Junior High School this Saturday, from 9 to 11 a.m.

"Many people still suffer from a tragic misconception that polio, long known as infantile paralysis, is a children's disease," a spokesman for the Medical Society of Delaware said yesterday.

"In reality, when polio strikes, it strikes blindly. And adult victims are likely to have much more severe after-effects than children."

"Delaware's health authorities are very anxious that all adults up to age 45, realize that failure to obtain a full series of polio shots is taking a foolish and unnecessary risk."

"They are also anxious to extend protection against polio to the professional group which cannot act for itself but must depend upon parental action," the medical official concluded.

Author and Engineer
John E. Dawson

A senior engineer with Hercules Powder Company; a native of Newark; and a graduate of Newark public schools and the University of Delaware John E. Dawson is the author of a series of two articles in the May 2 and 16 issues of Chemical Engineering magazine.

Mr. Dawson, who resides at 12 Ritter Lane, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Harry Dawson, 330 East Main Street, Newark.

Arrangements for the Flower Show

Mrs. L. P. Kelsey (fourth from left) chairman of junior classes for the Flower Show to be held this Saturday and Sunday at the University of Delaware's Agricultural Hall, is photographed while offering instruction in flower arranging with Mrs. W. C. Higham, Debbie Wilson, Rachael Bleckman, Deborah Root, and Cindy Wilson.

Mrs. A. B. Root of Beverley Road, Newark, is being shown by Mrs. Edward Bloom, chairman of the Delaware Flower Show, how an arrangement might be made in a "tokonoma" or Japanese niche which will be a feature of the show.

Mrs. Root is co-chairman of the committee on judges for the Flower Show to be held at Agricultural Hall at the University of Delaware, June 4-5.

Ricky Kutz Wins Office
In Residence Hall Ass'n

Ricky Kutz, son of Dr. and Mrs. Fred B. Kutz of Newark, has been elected vice-president of the Men's Residence Hall Association at the University of Delaware for 1960-61.

The association is responsible for all aspects of student life in the men's residence halls.

Donna Wollaston
Crowned Oglethorpe
Junior High Queen

Donna Wollaston was crowned May Queen of Oglethorpe Junior High School at a dance sponsored by the Student Council on May 20.

The May Queen was elected as the most popular, and the girl who contributed the greatest service to the school.

Donna is treasurer of the Honor Society and captain of the Cheerleaders.

May Day princesses were Amy Miller, Stevie Stroup, Pat Babcock, and Ellen Coon—candidates for May Day Queen.

The Student Council organized a Student Day in which pupils traded places with their teachers. John Southard, Student Council president, was acting principal; Bill Taylor was school secretary; Bill Graham, counselor, and Mitzi Tarkano, nurse.

Reception Planned After Graduation By Class Of 1960

Parents and other friends of the Class of 1960 of Newark Senior High School are invited to a reception in the school cafeteria following graduation ceremonies on June 7.

Later in the evening, parents of seniors are planning a dance to be held in the Newark New Century Club.

The reception is sponsored by the senior class, with Mrs. Wallace Adams, assisted by Mrs. Vello Houle, Mrs. James Mackrell, Mrs. Charles Larr, Mrs. Jack Freed, Mrs. Merritt Burke, Mrs. C. M. Linden and Mrs. Eugene LeVigne.

An invitation to the dance is extended to all seniors, with or without dates.

A gala evening is being planned by the parents, with dancing and other entertainment.

Downstairs will be decorated; space will be reserved for reminiscing, and refreshments will be served in this area until 2 a.m.

Dance chairman are Mrs. Robert Kerr and Mrs. Guy Johnson.

Chaperones for the evening will include Mr. and Mrs. Rickard Loftman, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kugel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson.

Jr. Fishing Derby
Slated June 18-19
At Stanley's Pond

The fifth Annual Junior Fishing Derby sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association and the Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Saturday and Sunday, June 18-19, with fishing to begin at 9 p.m.

The two-day event will be held at Stanley's Pond, site of the 1959 derby.

The Delaware Game and Fish Commission again is cooperating and will furnish several hundred additional fish of assorted sizes, with game wardens on hand to help supervise.

Derby age limits are from six to 15 years. All fishermen must be registered and have Junior Fishing Derby licenses. The contest is open to boys and girls, with prizes to be awarded in six categories to three age groups.

Initiated in 1956 at Rittenhouse Park where some 200 youthful anglers vie in high muddy waters with little success, the derby moved to Stanley's Pond in Delaplane Manor in 1957.

The derby is planned as an instructional as well as recreational event. Young fishing enthusiasts must bait up and land all catches unassisted to be eligible for prizes.

"Wardens" from the Jaycees will be on hand to record catches.

Jack Casey heads the Jaycee committee, and Stanley Francis, executive director of the Newark Recreation Association, is coordinator.

Record Class Of 253 Seniors To Graduate Tuesday At NHS

NHS Senior Class Sermon Scheduled For Sunday Night

The senior sermon will be held in the Newark High School Auditorium for 253 graduates of the Class of 1960, their families and friends at 8 p.m. this Sunday.

The Rev. Robert F. Aufferth, pastor of the Bible Presbyterian Church of Newark will officiate.

The program for the evening includes the procession, "War of the Priests" by Mendelssohn; the hymns "Come Thou Almighty King" and "Faith of Our Fathers," and anthems by the A-Cappella Choir.

The choir will be led by Jane Cooper, with organ music by Daniel A. Rineer, Class of 1961.

Radiological Data To Inform Public, Topic For Meeting

All people with scientific training, as well as persons interested in civic leadership, are invited to participate in a meeting to be held next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Highlands School auditorium, 21 Gilpin Avenue, Wilmington.

The subject of the meeting is "How Can We Provide Radiological Information to the Public, Without Misinformation and Worse?"

Millard Zeisberg, director of Atoms & Use, Inc., stated "We hope to stimulate interest of the area's scientists in self education and in planning for public education in connection with the problems being raised by the Atomic Age."

Zeisberg said that the proposed meeting is in keeping with plans discussed in New York when some 20 groups across the nation met to discuss responsibility of the scientist in furthering public understanding of problems of nuclear energy and ionizing radiation.

The problem-solving discussion meeting will feature short addresses by the University of Delaware's Arnold M. Clark, Ph.D., a radiation physicist; and Robert W. Freilich, M.D., a physician familiar with medical use of X-rays and radioactive isotopes.

These two will open the "area of doubt" problem existing on the scientific side of radiation hazards.

Their presentation will be balanced by a report from a study group on "Adult Education and the Field of Public Information" as it ties in with overall problem of informing the public.

Church Strawberry
Festival Planned
At St. Andrew's

The annual strawberry festival of St. Andrew's United Presbyterian Church, Brookside, will be held with a cake sale on Friday, June 10, from 6 to 8 p.m. Strawberries will be served with cake, ice cream, and coffee on the church lawn.

The event and cake sale will be held inside the church building in case of rain.

The Women's Society of St. Andrew's is sponsoring the strawberry festival and cake sale, and the public is invited.

Mrs. Doris Hoefflinger is chairman, and the serving committee includes Mrs. Justine Rees, Mrs. Pauline Helm, and Mrs. Agnes Ulrich.

Smyth Center Leaders
Honored With Coffee

A morning coffee presented by Ruth Ackerman, director of the Alice P. Smyth YWCA Center, and Mrs. Melville Korshaw, chairman, in Mrs. Korshaw's home on May 19, honored some 60 YWCA committee members active during the last year.

Life members Mrs. Herbert Dorn, Mrs. Raymond Helm, Mrs. Edwin Neilan and Mrs. J. Pearce Conn served coffee.

YWCA Center committee chairmen are Mrs. Clarence L. Smith, luncheon; Mrs. C. Robert Bauer, program; Mrs. William F. Limber, publicity; Mrs. Clarence S. Moore, Jr., hospitality; Mrs. Robert Bauman, ways and means; Mrs. Cuthbert Webber, membership; and Mrs. David Nelson, nursery.

Cost Of Living Raise
To Be Paid By Chrysler

A cost-of-living wage increase of two cents per hour was approved for the first pay period after June 1 for some 5,000 employees of the Chrysler Corporation's three plants at Newark.

About 950 salaried employees will receive a $75 allowance payable June 15, for the June-July-August quarter.

Newark Police Apprehend
Three Ferris Runaways

Three boys, ages 13 to 14, who fled from the Governor Bacon Health Center last Thursday night were picked up by Newark police on South College Avenue at 8 a.m. Friday.

The boys, who police said broke a window in a store in Delaware City, were returned to the institution.

Herrman Selected
As New Director
With Foundation

Newark's C. Chapman Herrman, Jr., of the Cathedral School of Theology in Atlanta, Ga., will become co-director of the Wesley Foundation at the University of Delaware next September for the period of a year, replacing the Rev. Leland B. Hall, who has been granted a year's leave of absence for study at the University of Alabama, and will return here in September, 1961.

Dr. John J. Bunting, Jr., pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, is minister-director of the foundation.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Chapman Herrman of Newark, he received his BS from Georgia Tech; next August, he will receive the BD degree in theology at Emory University, Atlanta.

While in college, Mr. Herrman served as president of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity, and as local president of Pi Tau Chi, national religious honorary society. He is a member of Alpha Phi Mu and Tau Beta Pi, national technical honorary societies.

He served two terms as president of the Wesley Foundation, and as assistant director of the Wesley Fellowship at Emory University.

Employed for two years with General Electric in Tampa, Fla., and 15 months with Du Pont in Wilmington, Mr. Herrman was granted a lay speaker's certificate at the quarterly conference of the Newark Methodist Church last February.

He graduated from Woodberry Forest, in Orange, Va., and from Duke University.

He worked a year for the Du Pont Company in both Sanford and Wilmington before deciding to study for the ministry.

Married to the former Carolyn J. Weimer of Newark, the Dickey's have two small children.

Robert Dickey, Jr.
Ordained Deacon
At Newark Church

Robert W. Dickey, Jr., of Newark was ordained a deacon in the Episcopal church on Saturday morning, May 21, in St. Thomas' Church, Newark, by the Rev. J. Brooke Mosley, bishop of Delaware.

The Rev. Malcolm Marshall, rector of St. Margaret's Church, Washington, preached the ordination sermon.

Mr. Dickey was ordained four days before his graduation from Virginia Theological Seminary by special permission of Bishop Mosley. He received his bachelor of divinity degree yesterday and left today for the missionary district of Wyoming.

On June 1 he will take charge of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Sundance and St. John's Church in Upton. Both missions, understaffed for several months, are in the Black Hills.

Mr. Dickey received his clinical training while at seminary from the Danville (Va.) State Hospital, and his pastoral training at St. Margaret's.

Summer Sessions
At U.D. Extended
To Eight Weeks

Dean Penrose Announces
Summer School Schedule
Change From Six Weeks

A summer school session for eight weeks has been announced by Dr. William O. Penrose, dean of the school of education, and director of summer school at the University of Delaware.

Departure from the six weeks' program of the past eight years will permit an increased credit load per student and will enable the university to operate its physical plant more efficiently.

Classes will begin June 21, and will continue through Aug. 12. A post-session in several specialized areas will begin Aug. 15 and continue until Sept. 2.

The normal credit load for the summer session will be nine hours for undergraduate, and eight hours for graduate students.

The summer program is planned for four major groups—Delaware teachers; out-of-state teachers; University of Delaware and other college students in good standing; and other mature persons who may profit from specific courses.

Registration for summer school will be held on the university campus, Monday, June 20.

Three special summer institute programs also have been scheduled—an institute for junior high teachers of mathematics; a language institute for elementary and secondary school teachers; and a guidance and counseling institute for high school teachers.

Bulletins are being distributed by the university, and copies are available upon request by writing to the director, University of Delaware Summer School.

Good Scholarship Factors
Stressed By Psychologist
As 29 Pupils Win Honors

Factors leading to good scholarship were emphasized by Robert Mayer, psychological examiner for the Newark special school district, in recently addressing the Ogletown Junior High School upon induction of 29 students into the National Junior Honor Society.

The assembly under the direction of John Southard, president of the Ogletown chapter, opened with a band selection directed by Philip Taylor, and candidates for membership were announced by Principal H. Lewis Miller.

Qualities considered in selecting students for membership were explained by Honor Society members: Scholarship, John Southard; Leadership, John Collins; Service, Louise Richardson; Character, Alice Vandever; and Citizenship, Donna Wolaston. Carol Felsinger lit candles that represented these attributes.

Ninth grade students received into honor society membership are Joyce Koria, Susan Larson, Judy Lynum, Peggy Schulz and Nina Tammi.

300 Homemakers
Attend At Dover
Demonstration Day

"Today's homemaker can surround herself with spray cans, if she wants to, and every can will contain a different product," University of Delaware consumer information specialist Anne Holbert, told 300 homemakers at State Home Demonstration Day in Dover on May 4.

She also mentioned several other new products found in today's supermarkets — canned peas with small white onions; frozen food from famous restaurants; potato flakes, and dehydrated hash brown potatoes.

Patricia Middleton, home management specialist with the University of Delaware home economics Extension Service staff, discussed "Equipment and Housepower in Tomorrow's Home."

Janet Coblenz, nutrition specialist; was a panelist with discussion of weight problems.

Janet Reed, clothing specialist; and Katharine Jones, New Castle County home demonstration agent, put on a fashion show with homemakers and children as models for the clothing made in sewing classes carried on by the Extension Service.

Mrs. Alice King, state home demonstration leader, spoke on the theme of the program, "The Challenge of Change."

She said the person who gets ahead must dare to be different. She said it is part of the job of the Extension Service to help inform people of new things and new methods of doing things. Change does not come easy. "We've always done it this way," is an age old excuse for sticking to the same old familiar routine, she said.

DEAN DEARING SPEAKS
British General Edward Braddock, who was mortally wounded when his troops were repulsed in the French and Indian War, was absolved of much of the blame for his defeat in a recent talk by Dr. G. Bruce Dearing, professor of English and dean of the University of Delaware's school of Arts and Science, who addressed the 61st general court of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of Delaware at the Wilmington Club.

It is perhaps the highest distinction of the Greeks that they recognized the indissoluble connection of beauty and goodness.

Performance, Not Price
Cited In Chick Purchase

Poultrymen buying replacement chicks for market egg production should select chicks on the basis of expected performance rather than price. Expected performance can be determined, to a large degree, by checking the performance records of the various strains.

According to Ray Lloyd, assistant extension poultryman at the University of Delaware, a few extra cents per bird will more than offset the small additional cost of better quality chicks.

Poultrymen should investigate the breeding of the chicks to see if they have the potential for laying more than 200 high quality eggs per year, as well as the ability to live through the laying year.

The Hockessin-Yorklyn Lions Club elected officers for the coming year last week, with William F. Butler, president; Paul Cochran, vice-president; Robert Martin, secretary; Thomas Outten, treasurer; Kenneth Berry, tail twister; James Marsey, lion tamer; Henry Malin and Louis Dolle Molle, directors for two years.

The installation will take place June 26 at the Yorklyn Gun Club house at the annual ladies night dinner meeting.

Fred H. Smith, William H. Naudain, and Robert Yearsley represented the club at the Lions convention in Atlantic City for three days last week.

The club again will sponsor its summer recreation program for the youth by providing free swimming instruction at the Yorklyn Pool beginning July 5. Mr. Outten is chairman.

The Rev. John W. Simpkins, Jr., preached last Sunday at Hockessin

Methodist Church where he was appointed pastor by the Peninsula Conference. He and his family moved into the newly redecorated and renovated parsonage on old Lancaster Pike this past weekend. Mr. Simpkins comes to Hockessin from Charlestown, Md. He was also assigned to Mt. Lebanon Methodist Church making Hockessin a two-church charge again.

For many years, Hockessin and Cedars Churches were a combined pastorate. A local young man, he graduated from Conrad High School and then went to Wooster College, where he received his bachelor and master degrees from Boston University theology school.

Louise Dempsey of Corner Ketch, spent last week in Nassau.

Initiation of candidates in the third and fourth degrees will feature the Harmony Grange meeting next Monday at 8 p.m.

Old homes in the Hockessin area were visited by members of the Hockessin Community Club last

Legion Auxiliary Receives Poppies For Distribution

Members of the local American Legion Auxiliary met recently and Mrs. Conrad Lewis, poppy chairman, distributed poppies to members who were out bright and early on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, May 19, 20, 21.

The committee for the sale of the poppies includes Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. Jacob Correll, Mrs. Orville Little, Dora Gibb, Mrs. Eric Mayer, Mrs. Paul Lovett, Mrs. Harold Sheaffer, Mrs. John Fader, Mrs. Ivan Parsons, Mrs. Lee Lewis, and Mrs. Charles Hopkins.

Junior helpers are Ruth, Lois, and Jane Mayer, Marlene Parsons, and Deborah Trivitt.

Chairmen of the committee for serving lunch for the bands in Newark's Memorial Day parade include Mrs. Correll, Mrs. F. Allyn Cooch, Mrs. Dickey, Mrs. Glenn Skinner, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Little, Miss Gibb, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Conrad Lewis, and Mrs. Parsons.

week at the May meeting.

Included in the tour were the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jarrell, Jr., on Limestone Road, built in 1717, the home of Nicholas and Elizabeth Springer; the brick residence of Mr. and Mrs. Manley White just off Mill Creek Road, the old Everson property built in late 1700's; the Georgian home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Silvious on Lancaster Pike with a fireplace date of 1761; and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hansen on Bengel Road, built about 1800.

The club elected and installed the following officers: Mrs. Joseph A. Glenn, president; Mrs. Douglas Gay, and Mrs. Donald Reid, vice-presidents; Mrs. H. R. Tattall, recording secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Russell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Leroy Stephenson, treasurer; Mrs. T. R. McClure, librarian; Mrs. Thomas R. Wood, retiring president, director for two years. Mrs. Wood installed the new officers.

Hockessin Fire Company will meet next Monday at 8 p.m. when reports will be heard from the annual fund drive. The goal was $15,000 and the firemen hope to be able to plan for purchase of a second 1,000-gal. tank truck.

The Y's Owl 4-H Club will hold its June meeting this evening at the home of Beverly Rice at Oakwood Hill.

Three members of the White Oak 4-H Club gave demonstrations last Thursday night at Agricultural Hall in Newark. Kenny Lomax showed how to preserve a moth; George Nickle showed how to make a bed; and Sally Pierson demonstrated the pinning of a pattern.

The club also sold $35 from its baked goods sale.

George Nickle, president, will be the club's representative at the annual short course, June 22-25 at the University of Delaware.

John Naudain graduated last Friday from Massanutten Military School at Woodstock, Va. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Naudain of Paper Mill Road, attended commencement exercises.

Linda Ford, fifth grade student at Yorklyn School, won the history essay contest sponsored by the Capt. William McKenna Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Linda received a sterling silver medal presented for the chapter by Mrs. James Marsey, national defense chairman.

Linda's topic was "Cooch's Bridge."

Honorable mention and a certificate of merit went to Joyce Bennett, also a fifth grader.

Field Day masses were held Memorial Day at the new All Saints Cemetery on Kirkwood Highway and the historic Coffee Run Cemetery on Lancaster Pike by the Rev. Anthony F. DiMichele, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church, Hockessin.

Coffee Run is the cradle of Catholicism in Delaware and in this cemetery are buried the early pioneers of the Catholic faith.

Newark, Delaware, Thursday, June 2, 1960

SUNDAY MEMORIAL

Newark honored her fighting men who gave their lives for their country, with an impressive memorial service and a parade with pageantry, drums, stirring martial music; and the thrilling cadence of marching feet as some 1,200 military men and women, youth and adult band members, volunteer firemen, Cub, Boy, and Sea Scouts passed in review before a group of Gold Star Mothers; Gov. J. Caleb Boggs; Lieut. David Buckson; other state and city officials, and thousands of local residents and out-of-town visitors last Sunday. The threat of rain failed to discourage—or dampen—the many, many participants who gave generously of their time in paying tribute to our heroic war dead.

All of those who participated, and particularly Newark's Memorial Day program chairman—C. Vernon Starnes—along with Col. Daniel N. Sundt, parade marshal—were to be commended for a magnificent performance.

GOLDEN AGE OF RAILROADING

No industry has had wider editorial and public attention paid to its problems than the railroads. And no wonder—with featherbedding, ever-increasing competition from motor carriers and the private automobile, rigid and obsolete regulatory rules and policies, and soaring passenger train fares, this absolutely basic and essential industry is regarded with the most serious kind of troubles. And those troubles are of direct concern to the government, the enterpriser, and the people of this nation.

A good many of us, therefore, have regarded the railroads with a gloomy one. But the Lewiston, Montana, Daily News, takes a very different and interesting view.

It is convinced that tax and legislative and regulatory reforms concerning the railroads are coming. It sees evidence that the golden age of the 130-year-old Iron Horse... is yet to come. And the most impressive evidence of all, it goes on to say, "is found in the confidence of the railroads themselves with the vigor with which the lines are moving to throw off the stationary, job-destroying, multimillion dollar annual burden of featherbedding. Since the close of World War II, the railroads have invested 14 billion private dollars in their own modernization and plan to keep on streamlining operations and equipment. . . . This expenditure represents a stack of thousands of dollar bills nearly a mile high. And these are NOT out of the U. S. Treasury, but out of the pants pockets of private citizens who are betting the railroads are here to stay." The Iron Horse isn't lying down. He's throwing his whole might into the battle to survive and do a better job than ever. And all he asks from the government is a fair deal.

Area Resident Receives Suggestion Award Check

Troop 55 Scouts Hold Honor Court For Parent Guests

Parents were guests of Boy Scout Troop 55 at a court of honor on May 29, at the sponsoring Calvary Baptist Church. Senior Patrol Leader Larry Weinig assisted by Patrol Leader John Sterrett conducted a Tenderfoot candlelight ceremony for Curt Garber, Dennis Irons, Kerry Mayer, Thomas Plotts, John Steigley and Dick Sample. Scoutmaster Theodore Van Kirk presented Tenderfoot badges to the mothers who pinned them on their boys' uniforms.

David Gaines and Thomas Willey received Second Class badges from Assistant Scoutmaster Charles Eastman, and Leroy Willey of the troop committee, awarded First Class badges to Joel Bolado, George Thomas and Floyd Kemke.

Patrol leaders Mike Harris, Flying Eagle, Joel Bolado, Beaver, and John Sterrett, Panther, received their insignia, and a senior patrol leader emblem was presented Larry Weinig.

A. B. Eastman gave one-year service pins to Ronald Drake, Jeff Frank, David Gaines, Billy Gale, Steven Henrickson, Floyd Kemke, Peter Lutz and George Thomas.

Local Area Resident John Gill Receives Tidewater Capital Award For Suggestion

John A. Gill, 117 Brennan Drive, Todd Estates, an operator at Tidewater Oil Company's Delaware Refinery, has been awarded the 1959 eastern division capital award under the company's suggestion plan.

Five other Newark area residents shared in awards presented to 10 eastern division employees who submitted the most adopted suggestions during 1959. Gill's suggestion, that a by-pass line be installed at his unit, was judged to be the best of all employees.

Two-year pins went to Wayne Gale, Mike Harris, Karl Reichenbach, John Sterrett and Larry Weinig; and a six-year service pin was awarded Ken Weinig, Jr., assistant scoutmaster.

Troop Committee chairman Walter Sterrett gave the troop a district round-up plaque and a troop camper's certificate for having a 50 per cent of its members who camped out for 10 days and 10 nights during the year.

Weekly troop meetings will continue throughout the summer, each Monday.

Twenty-two boys will attend Camp Rodney at the Jamboree site in the Lenape Camp, Aug. 7-14, and all meals will be cooked by the boys on charcoal fires.

On Sunday, May 29, Scouts marched in the Memorial Day parade.

John C. Edwards Funeral Services Conducted Today

John Curtis Edwards, 63, of West Stevens Drive, Chestnut Hill Estates, Newark, died Monday in the Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of the late Mrs. Mary L. Edwards.

Born in Baltimore, Mr. Edwards made his home in Lancaster, Pa., until two weeks ago when he moved to the Newark area to make his home with a son, Richard S. Edwards. He was employed by Penn Dairies of Lancaster.

In addition to his son, he is survived by three grandchildren. Requiem mass was offered at 10 a.m. today in Holy Angels Church, with interment in All Saints Cemetery.

Funeral arrangements were conducted by the William J. Warwick Funeral Home.

Harvey Percival Dies In Hospital In Brief Illness

Harvey W. Percival, 52, of 5 Kells Avenue, Newark, died Tuesday of last week in the Delaware Hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Indiana, Mr. Percival was employed by the Du Pont Company in Richmond, Va., in 1940, had been assigned to a number of Du Pont plants, and was transferred to the pigments department in Baltimore. In 1951 he went to Newport-Krebs plant as a construction engineer.

He is survived by his parents, Edward and Lillian Percival of Bridgeville, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. J. T. Davis of West Lafayette, Ind.; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Services and interment were in Bridgeville on Saturday.

Hypnosis Authority John Shenk, Guest Speaker For Group

John B. Shenk, lecturer and consultant on hypnosis and psychic phenomena, made his third public appearance in Newark for the parapsychology group on Saturday, May 14, in the Masonic Temple, at 8:30 p.m., with his topic "Hypnosis, An Approach to Extra-sensory Perception."

A teacher dealing with remedial work at McCaskey High School, Shenk is a graduate of Millersville State Teacher's College where he taught industrial arts. He holds an MA degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

Recently Orion magazine published a series of articles by Mr. Shenk explaining hypnosis and pointing out its possibilities. He is co-author with Carl Rice of "Meet the Amish" a popular book on the customers of the Amish people of Lancaster County.

Delaware Athletes Score As Dean's List Scholars

Who says athletes aren't scholars? Named to the first semester dean's list are Pete Lengemann, varsity tennis player, Newark; Jack McKelvy, freshman basketball player, Wilmington; Sonny Rehm, varsity baseball infielder, Middletown; Tom Schonauer, varsity basketball, Barrington, N. J.; Luke Lackman, freshman football quarterback, Newark; Dutch Holsinger, freshman swimmer, Wilmington; Hans Jondal, varsity soccerman from Sweden; and Carl-Olaf Homen, track and cross-country star from Finland.

At a recent meeting of the First State Toastmasters Club of Newark, Dr. Harry W. Wolfe, Jr., of Christine Manor, Newark discussed civil defense in a speech entitled "Are You Prepared?"

He discussed preparation on a county level describing up-to-date facilities at the Levy Court Building; and explained emergency and disaster procedure on a county-wide basis.

Wolfe listed the minimum needs for individual survival as follows: a home shelter; two weeks' supply of provisions (including seven gallons of water for each person; blankets; medical supplies; portable radio; and knowledge of first aid. He urged his listeners to act now before it could be too late.

Other speakers included G. Melvin Dempsey of Corner Ketch, and C. Quentin Miller of Newark. Mr. Dempsey's talk described different types of hecklers and how to deal with them.

Miller discussed current trends in education with particular emphasis on the Newark special school district.

Robert O. Pearson of Nottingham Green presided over a series of debates for the defendant and for the court. James J. Mackrell of Windy Hills walked off with the honors as best table topics speaker.

The club announced its annual spring membership drive, from April 15 to June 1. Interested persons may call Matthew W. Jaskulski or James A. Sample.

PLANNING FOR NEWARK'S FUTURE

Did you know that a four-lane highway from Elkton to the city limits is being built? Where is this highway going from there—and its traffic?

How could the proposed shopping center on Ogletown Road affect Newark's future?

What are Newark's regulations on subdivision building? Are they adequate? Are the present regulations being enforced?

What are the responsibilities of any planning commission? The biggest job of any planning commission is to draw up the comprehensive or over-all plan, a guide which suggests how the present and the proposed physical features (highways, parks, institutions, residences, commerce, industry) should be related to each other.

How, then, does a planning commission make this comprehensive or "over-all" plan? The first basic ingredient is research and analysis—study of past growth, present trends, land contours, prevailing winds, industries, average income, population growth, child population, existing land use, and types of housing.

The second basic ingredient is the plan for physical improvement—major street plan, water supply, sewers, schools, recreational facilities, balance of housing types; public buildings and lands; city's appearance, zoning, industries, historical buildings, and control of suburbs.

The third basic ingredient is a suggested means of carrying out the plan.

Women's Job Competition Seen Increasing In 60's

Women over 35 who want to return to work will soon find jobs harder to get, says Patricia Middleton, home management specialist with the University of Delaware. During the 1960's there will be an increase in the number of young people seeking jobs, she says. This increase represents the coming-of-age of the children born during the "baby boom" of World War II and the postwar years.

These young people just entering the job market will be competing with mature women re-entering the same market.

A low-cost way to control unwanted grass in Delaware.

It's DOWPON®—the economical grass killer. Instead of chopping or cultivating all season, just apply Dowpon to your fields—in the spring before planting, or in the fall, after harvest—and you'll be rid of tough problem grasses. That's because Dowpon, sprayed on the leaves, kills the whole grass plant, from the tops to the deepest roots—at a rock-bottom cost per acre. Also use selectively in some crops.

May Bride

Mrs. Frank A. Mullen

The Marquand Chapel, Yale University Divinity School, was the scene late Saturday afternoon, May 28, of the wedding of Miss Ruth Charlotte Ackerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard John Ackerman, 41 Center Street, West Haven, Conn., to the Rev. Frank Albert Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edwin Mullen, "Trails End", Paragon, Ind. The Rev. Doctor Roland H. Bainton, professor of church history at Yale University, officiated at the ceremony, the vows of which were written by the couple.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a silk organza gown trimmed with Alencon lace, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, short sleeves, fitted bodice and a full skirt, banded with lace. Her headpiece was a crown of pearls and sequins with a French illusion finger tip veil. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. John Curran, Wilmington, Del., was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were: Norma Ginter, East Haven, Conn., cousin of the bride; Mrs. Frederick Hanna, Newport, Del., and Miss Judith Ann Varney, Wilmington, Del. The attendants wore street length dresses of open blue, and the maid of honor a light blue silk organza. Junior bridesmaids were: Miss Bonnie Murray and Miss Jacqueline Murray of Bridgeport, Conn. The junior attendants wore open blue organza over light blue taffeta.

The bride's mother selected an aqua silk cocktail dress with white accessories. A light blue shantung dress was chosen by the mother of the groom and she wore a blue straw hat with white accessories. The Rev. Thomas J. Mullen, New Castle, Ind., was his brother's best man. Ushers were: Captain Arthur Ackerman, Milford, Conn., brother of the bride; the Rev. Verlyn Barker, Omaha, Neb.; the Rev. Frederick Hanna, Jr., Newport, Del.; Mr. John McHenry, Wilmington, Del., and the Rev. Richard Yerrington, Middletown, Conn.

A reception was held in the Common Room of the Yale Divinity School. The bride attended William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo. The groom is a graduate of Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind. Both received graduate degrees from the Yale University Divinity School.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of the Newark Center of the Young Women's Christian Association. Mr. Mullen is the executive of the Newark Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The bride, for her going away outfit, chose a blue and white linen dress with matching full length coat and short sleeves and she wore an orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda and Canada, the couple will be at home at Glen Farms, Newark, Delaware.

JEWISH GROUP PLANS DANCE JUNE 11th

The Women's Group of the Newark Jewish Community will sponsor a dance and show at the Hotel DuPont in the Gold Ballroom on Saturday, June 11.

There will be continuous dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to live music. Song stylist and recording artist Eddie Dano, comedians Fisher and Marks, and a new musical act will be on hand to entertain you.

Tickets are one sale and proceeds will be added to Newark's first Synagogue.

Table reservations can be made by calling either Mrs. Joseph Goldblatt, WY 8-3074 or Mrs. Morris Ross, EN 8-7038.

Bride May 7th

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Carter

Miss Joan Marie Heitzenroder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heitzenroder, 133 South Chapel Street, Newark and Mr. Thomas W. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Carter, Kaolin Road, Kennett Square were married May 7, in Holy Angels Catholic Church, Newark at 11 a.m. with Nuptial Mass.

The Rev. William J. Klapp officiated and was assisted by the Rev. Charles W. Hammer and the Rev. Leo O'Neil.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of hand clipped chantilly lace, featuring a molded bodice, with pearl studded lace appliques outlining the scoop neckline, long pointed lace sleeves and a bouffant lace skirt accented at hem by alternating tulle and lace ruffles. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with orchids in the center.

Miss Barbara Gallagher of Newark was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Louise Lambert of Middletown, Mrs. Kathy DiEoardo and Miss Joan Flabbi of Newark, Miss Sharon Sanborn of Newark was junior bridesmaid and Sally Ann Lambert of Middletown was flower girl.

The maid of honor was gowned in aqua blue of silk organza featuring a fitted shirred bodice and short sleeves, with a ballerina bell skirt of taffeta. Her head band was of aqua blue silk organza petal with a face veil. The bridesmaids wore pink gowns of identical style as that of the maid of honor, while the junior bridesmaid wore one the same as the maid of honor and the flower girl wore white taffeta.

Mrs. Heitzenroder, mother of the bride chose a dress of lilac organza and like accessories. She wore a white orchid. Mrs. Carter, mother of the groom selected a dress of gray organza, using white accessories and she too, wore a white orchid.

Mr. Joseph Horisk of Woodcrest was best man and Mr. John Heitzenroder, Jr., the brides brother, and Messrs. John and Arthur Carter, brothers of the groom were ushers. The ring bearer was Andrew Lambert of Middletown.

Miss Doris Jarmon, Newark was the organist, and accompanied Mr. Herbert Shelton, Newark as vocalist.

A reception was held in Fournier Hall after which the couple left on a wedding trip through the skyline drive.

Mrs. Kathy DiEoardo, Miss Joan Flabbi, Mrs. Louise Lambert and Mrs. Bertha Sanborn entertained at showers for the bride.

Personals

Mrs. Mildred Sharp, 133 Courtney Street, and Miss Lavina Donovan are spending a two weeks vacation in Bermuda, guests of Mrs. Sharp's son, Airman Eugene Sharp and family, stationed at Bermuda Air Force Base hospital. They have a six-week-old daughter, Donna Lynn, a daughter Carol Ann, five, and a son Gary, four.

Samuel S. Wilson was among those who received a BA degree at commencement exercises, May 15, at National Agricultural College, Doylesville, Pa. Mr. Wilson is a nephew of Miss Sarah E. Potts, E. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keeler and children were recent guests of Mrs. Keeler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Holloway of Harrington.

Mrs. Marion Palmer and children, Wanda and Vicky were recent guests of Mrs. Harold Palmer in Felton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Orendorf spent the May 14-15 weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Earle Orendorf in Bridgeville.

Mrs. Carolyn McCann and children spent the May 14-15 weekend with Mrs. McCann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pritchett and children, Emily and Teresa were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Dutton in Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moore of Glasgow entertained Mrs. Mary Watts of Collins Park on Sunday, May 15. Guests included Mr. Brown, Mrs. Wilson, Footie of Cedars, Mrs. Emma Mahaly, Elkton, Mrs. Gertrude Breeding and Mrs. Romaine Bare of near Ogleton.

James H. Moore of Glasgow celebrated his 69th birthday on May 10. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Noah Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Moore—all of Newark.

Sarah Lynne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curtis Potts of Towson, Md., has been admitted to the 1960 freshman class at Goucher College. Miss Potts is a senior at Towson High School.

Mr. Embree S. Brown of 33 Paper Mill Road, celebrated his 90th birthday on Monday, May 30. Mr. Brown, who was born in 1870, operated a farm on Elkton Road and was fondly known as "Farmer Brown" to the many Newark residents and those dozens of children who were given to climbing aboard his wagon. Guests at dinner included Jacob E. Brown, his son, Mr. and Mrs. Stirling Brinkman, his son-in-law and daughter; and their son "Mac", Mrs. Gertrude Draper and his wife, Mrs. Embree Brown.

Mrs. Mary Glackins of Baltimore, Md., has returned to the city following a three weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, Kells Ave.

Miss Margaret Butler of Wilmington, spent the holidays with her sister, Mrs. William C. Chalmers and Mr. Chalmers, W. Delaware Avenue.

MISS JONES GUEST OF ROSEDEL CLUB

New Castle County Home Demonstration Agent Katherine Jones was guest of the Rosedel Home Demonstration Club meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Lola Playter, Delaplane Manor. Miss Jones showed a film on health "That We May Live."

Mrs. Carolyn Timko, president, and Mrs. Henrietta West, publicity chairman from the Wilmington Manor Club were guests.

Letters were read from Betty Lou Fisher and Dino Wiranatakusuma thanking the club for gifts.

A July hot dog roast at the home of Mrs. Mildred Godwin, and a covered dish luncheon for August at the cottage of Mrs. Michael Timko at White Crystal Beach, were planned.

A talk "How To Choose Laundry Aids" was given by Mrs. Harold Stanley.

Mrs. Iva Taylor and Mrs. Michael Timko attended a May 18 meeting at Agricultural Hall on "Sandwiches for Everyone," and Mrs. Stanley, community worker chairman, was a judge on clothing at a recent contest in Ag Hall.

And here is a different restaurant sign: "We're responsible for your hat and coat, but not for the food."

Karl Frantz Named Outstanding Athlete At Annual U. of D. All-Sports Banquet

Karl Frantz, senior baseball and football player from Audubon Park, N. J., was named the year's outstanding athlete at the University of Delaware annual all-sports banquet in the Student Center last Thursday night—one of 150 letter-winners honored.

Others receiving principal awards were Robert Peirce, of Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Richard O. Cheadle, Woodhaven, N. Y.; John Bowman, York, Pa.; Homer Rehm, Middletown, and Charles Melvin, New Castle, Del.

The alumni award to Frantz was made in absentia as he was with the Delaware baseball team as captain in Cooperstown, N. Y., where the Blue Hens defeated Colgate in the first round of the District II playoffs to determine a representative to the NCAA "world series" in Omaha, Neb. George W. Thompson, vice-president of the Alumni Association, made the presentation.

Frantz also was a stand-out defensive end for the Blue Hen football team for three years.

Peirce received the W. S. (Red) Tawes Memorial Trophy from Wrestling Coach Alden H. (Whitey) Burnham as the most improved member of the wrestling team. Peirce, a senior, was two-year captain of the Blue Hen team with a 1959-60 record of 5-4. He was the first Delaware representative to the NCAA championships this spring.

The Jack and Hugh Dougherty Memorial Swimming Trophy was awarded by Coach Harry Rawstrom for the second time to Cheadle, co-captain of the swimming team which compiled a 6-4 record. A butler specialist, Cheadle paced the Hens in scoring.

Bowman received the award for excellence in scholarship and football, presented by dean of students John E. Hocutt. Bowman, a full-back, was the leading ground-gainer on the Blue Hen Middle Atlantic Conference championship team last fall, netting 670 yards.

The Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference award to the senior athlete with the best scholastic average was presented to Rehm by Director of Athletics David M. Nelson. Rehm, who also was away on the baseball trip, has served as third-baseman for the Blue Hen nine for two years. Rated a major league prospect, he received honorable mention on the district all-star team.

Melvin was named the outstanding senior lacrosse player by Coach Ed Maley. A midfielder, Melvin was recently named the All-Penn-Del second team. He was the Blue Hens' top scorer this year with 20 goals and has been a three-year regular.

Carl-Olaf Homen, track and cross-country ace, was cited by Toastmaster Raymond E. (Scotty) Duncan, assistant director of athletics, for his outstanding contribution.

Anderson, Stewart Tie As NCC Title Medalists

George Anderson and Bob Stewart each earned a 36-hole 143 last Monday to tie for Medal honors in qualifying for the NCC Country Club's annual golf championship.

In the pre-senior tourney for players 46 through 54, Club Champion Gibby Young was medalist with a 76.

Medalist in the senior event for players 55 and over, is Frank Uhl, with a 79.

tion to Delaware athletics during the past year. Homen, from Finland, has been studying here for a year under a Brittingham International Scholarship. He set nine cross-country records for the Hens last fall; won and set a record in the Middle Atlantic Conference cross-country championships and set a Delaware record in the MAC 2-mile event this spring.

Duncan paid tribute to Dr. D. Kenneth Steers, who is retiring this year from his post as track coach to devote full time to his duties as chairman of the physical education department for men. Steers' track teams have had seven winning seasons, three even splits and four losing campaigns. His 1953 and 1959 teams were undefeated, and he has not had a losing campaign since 1951. All varsity records except the discus standard have been broken during his tenure.

Honored for outstanding athletic work at the university were the following three-time letterwinners: Newark's Mark Hurn and Ray Klapsinsky, football; John Bowman, York, football; Leon Dombrowski, Wilmington, football; Karl Frantz, football and baseball; John Mordas, football; Robert Reeder, Sylvester, swimming; and Robert Peirce, wrestling; Homer Rehm, Middletown, baseball; Alvin Huey, Milford, track; Russell Givin, Newark, and Robert Brunner, tennis; Robert Koyanagi, and Charles Melvin, lacrosse; and Eugene Gallagher, golf.

"Are you catching any fish?" General Jim Mackenzie asked in the long overdue sunlight of last Tuesday morning, and in response to his companion's somewhat gloomy, negative reply that was expounded upon with "I've been too busy to find time to fish," Mr. Mackenzie mused "no one should be that busy."

Newark's veteran auto salesman concurred, however, that he, too, had found little fishing time of late—and that long-planned fishing was still in the planning stage—for too long. Mr. Mackenzie had decided to stop planning and to go fishing, instead, when we told of some an-size rock taken several weeks ago near the mouth of South River in the Chesapeake, just south of Annapolis.

"Ah, they're beautiful fish, those pound and a half, two pound rock," Jim smiled in reminiscence. "And we used to get some big strippers at the mouth of the Susquehanna when the schools moved up the bay in late summer. They still come, but you have to be there at the right time and they don't stay long," he said.

Two Keepers
Mack gave us an extra pound on the pan rock we caught off Annapolis.

Of the seven or eight rock taken along with some nice white perch, only two were over the 12-inch limit, and 12-year-old Billy caught both of them.

With his grandfather, his Uncle Lew Waggaman; Uncle Tom Callaghy and 10-year-old Cousin Tommy Callaghy, we sailed out of the Severn in Lew's Lightning, driving hard before a spanking breeze that had the port gunwale heeled over almost awash behind a foaming white bow wave—and the two juvenile seamen in their first voyage under sail requested the skipper to "start the motor, instead" while anxiously eyeing the canted decking and roaring rigging.

But we sailed on, instead, and at the mouth of the South, dropped the canvas to the relief of the boys, anchored, and fished.

It was a beautiful, warm, sunny Sunday, and the blue bay sparkled from the western shore to Kent Island, while the Bay Bridge and the Navy towers loomed tall through the haze to the north.

Bottom fishing with bloodworms, Billy broke the ice with a husky white perch; his Uncle Lew followed with a baby rock that was released to grow; and Tommy Callaghy caught his twin—released with reluctance.

With a fair string of white perch, we rigged Billy's line with a Junebug spinner—and he promptly caught the first rockfish keeper of the day—a 12-inch, and as perfectly proportioned a fish as ever

Yellowjackets Cop 4th Place In Race To Blue Hen Title

Coach Joe Talarowski's Newark High Nine Ends Season With 6-8 Record

Coach Joe Talarowski's Yellowjackets closed a 6-8 season yesterday with fourth place in the Blue Hen Conference baseball race as the first place Knights of Mt. Pleasant won a 4-3 thriller at Newark. Charlie Word, who pitched the Yellowjackets to a 12-6 win over P. S. du Pont here at home on Wednesday last week, was relieved by Carl Rice in the second inning against Mt. Pleasant, and Rice hurled brilliant ball, although for a losing cause.

The Yellowjackets scored a lead run in the first, but the Knights came up with two in the second to take and maintain their advantage.

The teams matched single runs in the fourth, and when Mt. Pleasant tallied a fourth run in the sixth, Word singled—stole second and third—and came home with Newark's third run on Rice's ground ball.

But Hays, hurling beautiful ball for the visitors, quelled the rally, and both teams failed to score in the final seventh.

Newark belted the Dynans for 14 hits last Friday here at home, in a 12-6 victory.

Rice, playing first base batted four for four; Left Fielder Guy Cage, two for three; and Maynard Conkey, right field; and Alan Adams, third base, batted 5-0 with two hits apiece.

The Yellowjackets romped home after piling up a 6-1 lead in the first frame.

Racing On Grass Gains Popularity At Delaware Park

Racing on the grass, a phase of the American Sport of Kings which has grown in popularity and importance during recent years, is being emphasized more than ever at Delaware Park this season. Coming up this Saturday for its 23rd running is the $20,000 added mile and a half turf handicap, first of the more coveted grass specials slated during the 55-day meeting.

Weather permitting, Racing Secretary Allan W. (Doc) Lawlin, who assumed that post this year after many seasons in the Delaware Park racing department, hopes to card a turf race virtually every day. The longest and richest of these will be the $25,000 added, mile and three-eighths Sussex Turf Handicap, to be renewed Saturday, July 9.

This weekend's Brandywine is a test of a mile and a sixteenth. The meeting's grass schedule also includes four major features including three $10,000 specials and one with a $7,500 purse.

The 1959 Brandywine was taken by Pantene, who equaled the turf course record of 1:42 2/5.

Last year's winner of the Sussex was Monte Carlo, whose time of 2:16 established a record for the course.

The Brandywine had a gross value of $26,625 and netted the victor $19,200, while the Sussex grossed $31,400 and yielded $22,150 to the winner.

flicked a fin. And shortly afterwards, he tied into a rock of some extra two inches—the fish of the day—in a spirited spinning session.

We sailed back up the bay with sunset into a dead calm at the mouth of the Severn, and came in under outboard motor power.

While the adult four were unloading the Lightning at the dock, young Tommy Callaghy cast himself off into the shallows from a stand on the land in some last chance fishing endeavor with his Delaware cousin.

And if you're going to fall overboard, that's the ideal time to do it—after the fishing trip.

Ochs-Fisher Cubs Continue Unbeaten In American Loop

Elwood Bailey's Phils Hold 3-2 Second Place In Little League Play

Standings, Saturday, May 28

	Won	Lost
Cubs	5	0
Philis	3	2
Indians	2	3
Dodgers	2	3
Orioles	1	3
Braves	1	3

The Cubs of Managers James Ochs and Aubrey Fisher continued undefeated in the American Little League last week, as Ronald Harper shut out Lou Rosado's Indians on Thursday with a two-hitter, striking out seven, to win 6-0 over David Word with nine strikeouts in a five-hit performance.

In the second half of a twin-bill on Saturday, the Cubs beat the Braves, 2-0, in a game called because of rain in the top of the fifth.

Aubrey Fisher, Jr., was the winner. Mark Brown, the loser.

After a 19-8 shellacking at the hands of Al Dager's Dodgers on Friday, with Al, Jr., the winner, Billy Waggaman, the loser; Manager Elwood Bailey's Phils won a heavy-hitting thriller over the Indians in an extra seventh inning of Saturday's twin-bill opener, 17-9.

Rosado's Indians scored three runs to tie the score in the last of the sixth, but the Phils came up with eight big runs in the seventh, featured by Wayne Taylor's three-run homer.

Ronald Mitchell was relieved by Earl Stoddard in the last inning and Stoddard shut out the Tribe to win.

The Indians walloped John Cronin's Orioles on Monday, 8-3, with Steve Burnley the winning pitcher. Ehon Hall, the loser. David Word hit a triple for the victors.

Harry McKenry's Braves beat the Dodgers, 6-2 on Wednesday for their first win of the season. Steven Kubicko was the winner, Terry Grege, the loser, although Grege struck out 10 batters to Kubicko's five.

Vets, Curtis Win Babe Ruth League Twin-Bill Opener

Newark Babe Ruth League baseball began last Saturday with a doubleheader, as the VFW stopped Newark Lumber, 5-1, in the opener, and Curtis Paper downed the Optimists, 6-4, in the nightcap.

John Collins hurled the Vets to the opening win, allowing but three hits, while Skip Hudson hurled a five-hitter for the Lumbermen.

Gary Peterson, a 13-year-old, and Cal Hubbard, each collected a pair of hits for the Vets.

Alan Ely pitched a two-hitter for Curtis, aiding his cause with three hits of his own, including a double.

Gene Garrett fired 12 strikeouts for the Optimist Club, and was aided until the seventh inning when a pair of errors and a booming double accounted for three Curtis runs.

The CDF-Bankers game was washed out, but on Tuesday night the Vets beat Curtis, 8-3, on nine hits, with Peterson collecting two more; and Jack Alley and Joe Russell of the Vets, banging out a pair of hits apiece.

LADIES DAY GOLF
Audrey Fernengel won the Flag Tournament Ladies Day golf event last Tuesday at the Newark Country Club, with Dorothy Ott winning second place, and Ruth Waggaman, third.

Hens Win Opener, Lose To St. John In Playoff Final

St. John's University of New York, earned the right to represent District 2 in the NCAA baseball "world series" next month with a 4-3 victory over Delaware in the deciding game last Saturday at Cooperstown, N. Y.

After collecting 18 hits in defeating Colgate, 15-4, the day before in an elimination test, the Blue Hens were able to pick up only six hits against a pair of Redmen hurlers.

Ron King, lefthander from Dover, went all the way to take the loss and even his record at 4-4. He gave up nine hits, with a winning home run in the fourth, the deciding margin.

It was St. John's 14th straight win in a 19-5 season. The Redmen had beaten Villanova, 7-2, on Friday to get the shot at Delaware.

The Blue Hens' final record is 14-8.

NRA Softball Play Underway Despite Jitters, Weather

After first game jitters and bad weather, Newark Recreation City Softball League play is well underway.

Continental Diamond beat Ferro's, 8-4; Deer Park spanked Local 1183, 4-2; and Birchwood nosed out General Foods 5-4.

In the best played game to date, CDF squeezed passed General Foods 1-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Frank McQuerry. CDF's lone run was scored by McQuerry.

General Foods took their third one-run loss at the hands of the Toads, 3-1; CDF outlasted Deer Park 3-1 for a first place tie with Deer Park, 1183, and Delaware City; and Ferro's beat Birchwood Park 2-3 to round out the week.

The NRA Circuit League has run into weather trouble and since the May 16 opening date, only two games have been played.

St. Paul's Lutheran beat White Clay 11-8; and Newark Methodist stopped Brookside Methodist 7-0.

New-Rec Baseball Coaches, Players Named For Season

120 Boys In 13-15-Yr. Age Bracket To Play In Six-Team League

New-Rec Baseball League team selections have been made and practice starts this week for a 30-game schedule beginning in mid-June, with 120 boys playing on six teams in this second season sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association for 13-15 year-old-boys not already playing baseball.

The Newark Babe Ruth League cooperated with the Newark Recreation Association to form a four-team league last year. The league has been extended to six teams to provide playing opportunities for the increased number of boys in this age group.

Teams, players and coaches in the league include:

The Braves are coached by Joe Masiello and Wayne Hubler, with Bill Manchester, Harry Laws, Paul Dunmore, Eddie Baldwin, J. Vitkusky, Robert Elliott, Don Carlini, Robert Vincent, Frank Moore, John Sterrett, John Graden, Joe Bush, Dave Snyder, Eugene Fox, Dennis Bolden, John Episcopo, Dave Wood, Kurt Jones, and Bill Lloyd.

Blue Squad Announced For All-Stars At Newark To Benefit Retarded Children

Thirty outstanding boys of the 1959 football season, representing 11 schools, today were picked to play for the Blues against the Golds in the fifth annual Delaware All-Star High School Game at Delaware Stadium in Newark on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 27, for the benefit of the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children.

The Blues, selected from above the personnel boundary line—the southern city limits of Wilmington, extending West on Lancaster Pike—have yet to lose the star-spangled attraction. They will be coached this year by Wayne Pollari, former Newark High and University of Delaware athlete, new coach of Mt. Pleasant High's undefeated Blue Hen Conference grid champions.

Mt. Pleasant and another undefeated powerhouse—Salesianum—have the biggest representation on the squad with six players apiece. The Sallies, who haven't lost a game the last three seasons, possess a state-record victory string of 26.

Four Blue All-Stars will come from Wilmington High; three from Brandywine; P. S. du Pont, three; Tower Hill, two; and Brown, two; I. du Pont and Claymont, one.

The Blue crop of 1959 includes six All-Stars: Salesianum's Stephenson of Friends; Paton of Mt. Pleasant; Allen of Salesianum; Vassos of Wilmington; Terback of Mark Malmgren.

Available from the State eleven are Ed Dick, Tower Hill; Guard, Brandywine; Salesianum; Central, Mt. Pleasant; and Lambert, Mt. Pleasant.

Blues picked as Staters are End Dick, Pleasant; Tackle, Frey, P. S. du Pont; Guard, Brandywine; and Back, Brandywine, and Back, Brandywine, and Back, Brandywine.

Rose, George Tweed, Clifton Morganstern, Phil Thompson, Ronald Koehn, Bernie Kaper, Ronald Bigelow, Sonny Steele, and Gary Springer.

The Orioles coached by Russell Childress and Joseph McFann include Phillip Wright, Calvin Hubbard, Leon Wood, Maurice Steinberg, Rudy Arnold, Chuck Shelton, Jim Landreth, Vic Sadot, Wayne Morgan, Dennis Quinn, Mark Hill, Allyn Kinnamon, Jim Grant, Meredit Beauchamp, John Connell, Martin Logan, Steve Childress, Larry Murray, Bob and Jim Donovan, L. Connell, France Shelton, Robert Rawstrom and Phillip Butler.

The Yankees coached by Clarence Quinn, Alan Bell, and Cliff Early include Roy Quinn, Garry Moore, Ted Atkinson, Dave Dawson, Leonard Spayd, Jr., Joe Mallow, Rodney Butterworth, Karl Wester, Terry Quinn, Milton Steltz, Bob Carroll, Leslie Baldwin, Robert Squier, Pat Mitchell, and Keith Handling.

Exits U.D., Union Plans

Exits between the University of Delaware and the University of Delaware Union are being planned by the university.

A letter from Edwin Lewis, president of the University of Delaware Union, to the university, suggested that the university should consider the possibility of a third-party poll of the university workers. Dr. Bruce C. Wilson, university business administrator, said:

"The university and the union are both for the year for all members of the university staff. We are now in the process of planning the necessary duties to be performed by the union and the university."

Dean Comings Reports Engineering Opportunity

Dean Edward W. Comings at the University of Delaware reports that opportunities for engineering graduates in the Class of 1960 appear bright.

"In spite of a growing demand for engineers, enrollments in schools of engineering across the country have declined in the last two years," Dean Comings said. "This national trend has been paralleled in our own school of engineering. Opportunities in engineering today are such that this decline in enrollments is surprising."

Remedies Offered Overweight Diners By Janet Coblentz

An easy way to solve the overweight problem might be push-button chairs at the dining room table, suggests Janet Coblentz, University of Delaware Extension nutrition specialist.

That old joke about the best reducing exercise being an early push away from the table more true than funny. It was only funny to thin people anyhow, Miss Coblentz said.

Automatic machinery is taking all the exercise out of modern living while people are eating as much as they did before all the work-saving gadgets came along.

A few extra pounds improve your chances for coronary difficulties, heart disease, diabetes, kidney disorders and other diseases, the specialist said.

Every house should have a bathroom scale. We should be "weight conscious" and try to avoid becoming overweight. Even gaining a little as a pound a year will add up eventually to overweight and its complications.

Some foods provide only calories, and little if any valuable protein, minerals and vitamins. It is these foods with "empty calories" that we can cut down on, or cut out of our diets. These include rich sweet desserts and pastries, gravies, many fried foods, and some cereal products with little food value.

If you want to lose weight or maintain the ideal weight, then count the calories in your food as well as the vitamin and mineral content.

For information on how to lose pounds or maintain normal weight, contact your county home demonstration agent.

Katharine Jones, New Castle County home demonstration agent, gives this advice to homemakers who are trying to stretch their food dollars and at the same time protect their families' health.

To estimate the amount of edible meat, deduct the amount of bone, fat and gristle that will end up in the garbage can. When you view meat cuts critically in this way, you may be surprised at how much you are paying for inedible portions.

For example, spareribs may cost considerably less per pound than pork loin roast, but the edible portions are quite different.

Miss Jones also recommends that homemakers remember that the price of meat does not measure its food value. The lower priced meats are just as nutritious as the higher priced.

Lower cost meat cuts, such as beef chuck, short ribs, flank steak and lamb shoulder are flavorful if well cooked.

And, while you're searching for lower cost meat cuts, don't overlook beef heart and beef liver. If fresh when purchased, promptly and carefully prepared, they are a real taste treat at a reasonable price.

Nine Engineering Students Honored As Top Scholars

Dr. Edward C. Comings, dean of the school of engineering at the University of Delaware, has cited nine students as distinguished scholars in engineering. Of the group, two received perfect fall semester indices of 4.0, while the rest had averages above 3.75.

With perfect grades are Ronald C. Headley, Wilmington; and Richard F. Humphreys, Lewisburg, Pa.

The SICO Foundation owns the assets of the SICO Company, distributors of petroleum products, and uses profits from it to provide scholarships for worthy high school graduates who wish to become elementary school teachers. Scholarships are renewable for four years.

Benson Addresses 800 State Ag Leaders With Worrirow As Banquet Toastmaster

Some 800 Delaware agricultural leaders turned out to hear Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson at the combined Grange-Delaware Poultry Improvement Association awards banquet at Caesar Rodney High School on March 31.

Looking back to his early days in the poultry business Secretary Benson said, "When I was a boy we never gathered, we hunted eggs—in the strawstack, the machine shed, and in many other difficult and unlikely places we would find them, oftentimes beneath a defiant hen who had her own ideas about the hatchery business. Egg production per hen was low, some 110 eggs per year."

In those days the nearest thing to a broiler was the "spring chicken" caught to order from the farm flock. Now annual egg production per bird has risen from 110 to over 200 eggs per year and commercial broilers produce most of our chicken meat, Benson said.

The poultry industry is changing and it is finding some difficulty in adjusting, he said. "I am deeply convinced that it is better for farmers to make adjustments for themselves than for government to attempt to make their adjustments for them."

"You cannot run the farms of this nation from a desk in Washington," he said.

"The costly wheat surplus is our No. 1 national problem in agriculture; it reflects gross meddling by obsolete governmental law. To put it bluntly, we are in a mess—a $1,000 a minute mess," Benson said.

Congress drafted the program and only Congress can correct the situation, he said. "Until Congress acts, agriculture will be burdened with too much government, too much politics and too little common sense."

Dean George M. Worrirow was

Savoy Company To Offer "Gondoliers" For SPCA

Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Gondoliers," will be given by the Savoy Company of Philadelphia at Longwood Gardens' outdoor theater this Friday night for the benefit of the Delaware Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, with curtain time at 8:30. A Longwood fountain display will follow the open air show.

The Longwood benefit performance will feature the same Savoy Company cast that staged "The Gondoliers" in its successful 1960 opener at Philadelphia's Academy of Music.

America's oldest and largest organization devoted exclusively to the Gilbert and Sullivan tradition, the Savoy Company is made up of experienced amateurs and semi-professionals.

Entire proceeds from the June 3 performance will go to the Delaware SPCA.

Local Leatherneck, Combat Vet Wins Promotion

Acting Gunnery Sergeant Lamar H. Bragg, Jr., USMC, is handed his new stripes in promotion to gunnery sergeant, by Capt. William R. Miller, Jr., inspector-instructor of the 16th Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve.

"Gunny" Bragg, recruiter for the 16th, enlisted with the Marines in November, 1942; and was a member of the 4th Division when it entered the Pacific during World War II. He first saw action in the Marshall Islands, and during the Saipan invasion was wounded during the landing. He made another landing during the capture of Tinian, and his second Purple Heart was "earned" during the first day on Iwo Jima.

Prior to World War II, he signed with the Chicago White Sox, and was a member of the 1948-49 Quantic team considered to be one of the best service baseball teams.

Bragg returned to combat in 1953 with the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing in Korea, returning from Korea to the Marine depot at Parris Island, he served as baseball coach, organizing the first Little League in the area.

Sergeant Bragg resides with his wife and daughter at 2 Brennen Court, Todd Estates.

TV Star Larry Ferrari Plans Newark Program

Organist Larry Ferrari, television star who has drawn large crowds at the Newark Shopping Center in previous years, is returning for two engagements this month.

He will play in front of the Bank of Delaware from 2 to 4 p.m. this Saturday, and on Friday, June 17, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Ferrari is appearing through the courtesy of Scott's Appliance Store which is celebrating its fourth anniversary this month.

Elizabeth Bohning Reports German Contest Winners

Winners of the 1960 German contest for high school students were announced recently by Dr. Elizabeth E. Bohning, associate professor of modern languages and literature at the University of Delaware and national contest chairman for the American Association of Teachers of German.

Winner of the first prize, a trip to Germany coming the coming summer as the guest of the West German Government, was Arthur McCordie, a student at John Adams High School, N. Y.

There were no winners from the State of Delaware.

"Y" Camp Program Cited At Schools By DeWitt Smith

A recent Thursday and Friday were red letter days for many elementary school children in the Newark district, as DeWitt Smith, former executive of the Newark YMCA and former director of Camp Tockwogh, visited the schools and showed slides of the camp on Chesapeake Bay.

Mr. Smith, accompanied by Frank A. Mullen, Newark YMCA executive, visited the Central, Jennie E. Smith, Medill, Brookside, and the West Park Place schools with 30-minute convocations planned by the principals.

Camp Tockwogh is open June through August for boys eight through 15, and for family camping in late August and early September.

The program includes swimming, water skiing, boating, fishing, nature study, Indian lore, and "just plain fun."

Last year, 30 boys from the Newark area took part in the summer of fun at Tockwogh.

H. Fletcher Brown Biography Written By Perkins, Bailey

Benefactor Of University, DuPont Executive, Honored With Biographical Writing

A biographical essay of H. Fletcher Brown, University of Delaware benefactor, has been published by the University of Delaware Press.

Written by President John A. Perkins in collaboration with Robertson Bailey, lecturer and editor of English, the book traces Mr. Brown's benefactions to the university and his influence on the lives of Delawareans.

Although neither of the authors ever met their subject who died in 1944, Dr. Perkins stated that he was motivated to write the book "out of a sense of personal obligation."

"It is good to have this reminder that individual men of wealth often use their resources wisely for the common good," Perkins said. "Mr. Brown was particularly successful in that use. A man of great executive judgment and insight, he planned his philanthropic projects carefully before he released the money which brought them to realization."

Almost all of Brown's personal and public papers were destroyed shortly after his death, this put a hard task on his biographers.

Brown was apparently headed for an academic career as a teacher-scientist in chemistry. Near the end of his doctoral work at Harvard in 1892, he was called to take charge of experimental work at the Naval Torpedo Station at Newport, R. I., to develop military smokeless powder. This he did.

Within a few years he was in charge of the smokeless powder division of the Du Pont Company.

During World War I, the Du Pont Company produced nearly half the smokeless powder used by the Allies.

In 1930, Mr. Brown retired from active service with DuPont, and turned to public affairs, especially education. He served two terms as president of the State Board of Education, and from 1929 until his death, was a member of the University of Delaware board of trustees.

He was a quiet man, even a shy one; few people knew him at all closely. A niece, who still lives in the small Massachusetts town of Natick where Harry Fletcher Brown was born and grew up, discovered his high school graduation oration delivered when he was not yet 16. It was a fortunate discovery, for it holds the key to his character as it developed through the years.

School-Age Child Faces Top Menace With Accident Toll

Accidents are the leading cause of death to school-age children, the Delaware Safety Council pointed out in citing facts on accidents involving youngsters.

The review was issued by Clifford T. Foster, Jr., president of the council, in connection with the "hold the line" campaign conducted recently by the council at the request of Governor J. Caleb Boggs, in an effort to prevent a further rise in highway accidents.

Fatal accidents on the roads spurred far ahead of last year's figures during the summer.

Mr. Foster asked Delawareans to consider these four facts:

1. More than 2,500 children 5-14 years of age are killed annually in the nation in accidents involving motor vehicles.

2. More than 1,100 of those children are pedestrians.

3. A total of 150,000 children in the 5-14 age group are injured each year in motor vehicle mishaps.

4. One out of 12 students injured in a "school-jurisdiction" accident is on his way to or from school.

"Parents," Mr. Foster said, "should teach their children to stop, look and listen before crossing streets or railroad tracks. It's not old-fashioned to be safe. Parents should Leon Dombrowski, University of Delaware guard from Wilmington, signed with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League. He will report to their training camp in Redlands, Calif., on July 22.

The 22-year-old 6-footer was signed by Coach Mike Nixon. Although Dombrowski weighs only 210, light by professional standards, Nixon told him he would get a thorough trial at both linebacker and offensive guard.

Dombrowski said he was pleased with terms of the contract, the second offered him.

The former Salesianum All-Stater, who as a senior helped power the Blue Hens through a once-beaten season last fall, also had been sought by New York and Oakland of the New American League.

also set a proper example. Don't expect a child to obey a rule you violate."

1. Keep your car in good condition. Pay special attention to tires and brakes. You can't blame the garage man if your car doesn't stop quickly enough in an emergency.

2. Drive slowly near schools. And slow down where children are walking or playing.

3. Expect the unexpected from children. Most of them are running from behind parked cars or crossing in the middle of an intersection.
