COUNCIL ERECTS MEMORIAL BOARD

Service Board Placed On Academy Grounds

In tribute to the men and boys in the armed service from Newark and vicinity a large Memorial plaque or sign board measuring about sixteen by twenty feet has been erected on the lawn in front of the Old Academy building on Main Street.

At the present time there are names of about six hundred of our local boys who are in the armed services placed on this board and there is room for about the same amount to be placed on the board as soon as their names are given either to the Town Council or the Newark Post.

The sign board which is a beautiful affair is painted white and surmounted with a large gold eagle. At night the entire board is floodlighted so that everyone can read the names of those who have gone from Newark to serve their country.

At the regular monthly meeting of the town council in February Councilman Norris N. Wright suggested the purchase and erection of such an Honor Roll for service men.

Various designs and suggestions were received and the Honor Roll that is now placed on our Main Street is the result. The entire cost of the memorial has been taken care of by the local town council.

TESTS SHOW DEFECTS IN SETUP

Two Air Raids In Week Keep Wardens Busy

Newark's Civilian Defense organization have been on the jump two evenings in succession. Monday evening the local warning center received the Yellow signal at 9:46 p. m. and the Blue signal came through about four minutes later.

The Red quickly followed at 10:00 o'clock and remained on until 10:10 when the second Blue signal was given. The White signal or the All-Clear was given at 10:31 and there was some confusion due to the newly adopted regulations that are in effect in Wilmington and have not been adopted by the rest of the county.

Tuesday evening the civilian defense workers were again called to action when the town sirens and whistles again started to blow about 8:45 p. m. At 8:47 the Blue signal came through and the Red or danger signal followed at 8:55.

The second Blue signal came on at 9:09 and the all clear was given at 9:28 p. m.

The test air raids and blackouts have shown up several defects in the setup and it is expected that they will be taken care of. There is a need for everyone to be better informed about the rules and regulations. Many motorists are complaining that one air raid warden will tell them to proceed slowly with a low light and the next warden will stop them.

ANDY WALP RECEIVES "WINGS"

Attended Gunnery School

Included among this week's graduating class at the Harlingen, Texas, aerial gunnery school—men to fill fighting slots in bomber crews—was Andrew S. Walp, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Walp.

Andy, as he was so well known in Newark, was a member of the senior class at the Newark High School and he will receive his diploma in June along with the rest of the senior class although he was inducted into the armed service in January.

Andy Walp for the past several years has made his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Claringbold. While at Newark High School he played football and basketball on the varsity teams.

One of the "Men Behind the Triggers" of the Army Air Forces, he will sit in the front row of aerial combat in dealing out the vengeance admonished recently by Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the Air Forces, when he said: "Every time you line up a Jap Zero in your sights, think of your comrades of the Tokyo raid who were murdered in cold blood!"

At brief exercises in Texas he received a diploma and silver gunner's wings. Completion of the course and another technical course automatically entitles him to sergeant's chevrons. Unless retained as an instructor then, he will immediately join a combat unit.

CHANGES IN POULTRY CEILINGS

Recent changes in poultry ceiling prices announced by the Office of Price Administration provide poultrymen of Delaware fair prices and the opportunity to lend their cooperation in preventing inflation, observes Garry A. Miles, extension poultryman for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Under a new amendment to the OPA poultry price regulation, Miles points out that Delaware poultry growers are permitted to receive 28 1-2c at the farm for live broilers, fryers and roasters; 25c for fowl and 21c for old roasters. And payments over these prices, whether in the form of cash, merchandise or services, violate the law and must be refused by the grower.

In the establishment of the purchase price for live poultry, Miles advises growers that the Chicago Base Price of 27 1-2c for all live broilers, fryers, and light and heavy roasters has been used. To this is added the "freight rate" from Chicago to the place at which the seller parts with the physical possession of the poultry. Since the "freight rate" from Chicago to all points in Delaware is within a fraction of 1c, the Delaware ceiling price is set at 28 1-2c.

25 Years Ago

Newark Men In Accident

R. T. Jones and Robert Motherall, returning from Wilmington on Thursday, in Mr. Jones' Buick roadster, collided with a Ford car, at the intersection of the road leading from the Kennett to the Lancaster pike. The Ford car which was climbing an incline at a good speed, was practically demolished.

Mr. Jones' car turned turtle, throwing both occupants on the bank. Both men were pinned under the car, and their escape without serious injury seems miraculous. Aside from a slight laceration on the head which Mr. Marshall sustained, they were unhurt. The car was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars.

Gardening Class Organized

Mr. Martin, State Leader of Boys' and Girls' Club work, accompanied by his assistant, Miss Medill, visited the grammar grades at the Newark school on Tuesday morning, and enrolled between 60 and 70 pupils in gardening work. The lot formerly loaned by the trustees of Delaware College will be used this year for the school garden, and many of the children will have their plots at home.

The class met with a trained agricultural student and Miss Medill this afternoon to plan the work.

A committee from the Parent-Teacher Association will be named to plan methods of financing the work.

H. Hayward will act as marshal, assisted by Dr. Greenfield, and Messrs. N. N. and E. B. Wright. Colonel Pendleton, and Professors Pailthrop and Foster have been appointed by Dr. Mitchell to aid in arrangements. The parade is a patriotic demonstration, on this, the first anniversary of the war. Every citizen should sacrifice his personal plans for the day to fall in line. Bring your American flag, and Come! Everybody out at three p. m.

METHODS FOR ANT CONTROL GIVEN

Persistence Necessary To Eliminate Pests,
Says Entomologist

If you are bothered by ants you probably agree with everybody else that they are one the worst of household nuisances.

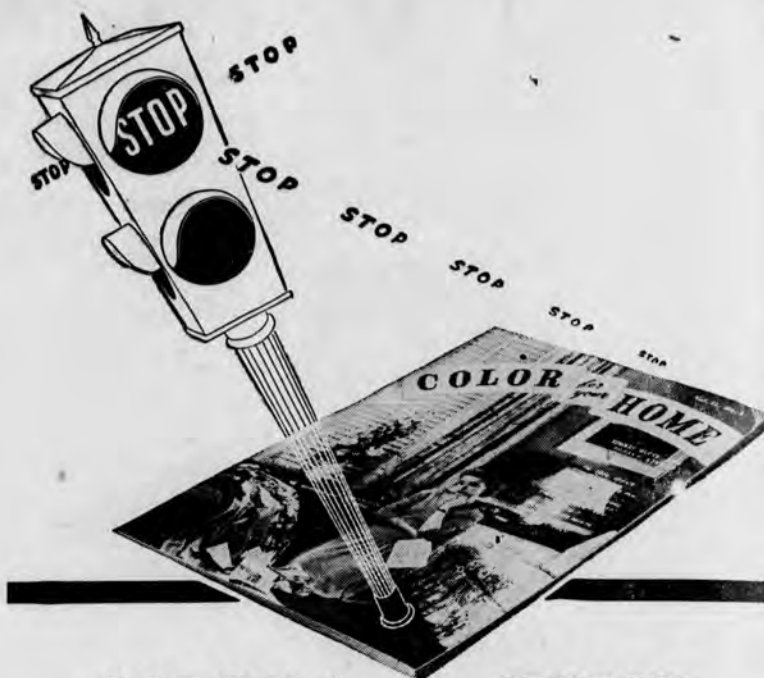

Because there are many species of ants and each have their own particular habits their control must depend upon the species causing the trouble, says Harvey L. Chada, assistant entomologist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. Since the ant is a persistent insect, control methods must be equally persistent.

For ants which get into fat or grease, work a small amount of tartar emetic into small pieces of bacon rind, butter, or lard, and put it where it is accessible to the ants. For those which bother sweets, use one part of tartar emetic with five parts of syrup of diluted honey. Small tin or cardboard boxes with holes in the sides are good containers for the poison so children or pets cannot get to it.

Where nests can be located outside in the soil, ants can be effectively controlled by use of carbon bisulphide or calcium cyanide. Punch holes in the soil in and around the nest about eight inches deep and about six inches apart. Pour one or two tablespoonfuls of either carbon bisulphide or calcium cyanide dust into each hole through a funnel. This should be done on warm days. Plug the hole with moist soil and cover the treated area with a wet bag or blanket for about twenty-four hours.

Commercial ant traps are effective—especially if the poison ingredient is either thallium sulphate or sodium arsenate.

More information on control of these or other species of ants may be obtained by writing county agricultural agents at Newark, Dover, or Georgetown, or to the Department of Entomology at the University of Delaware at Newark.

4-H CLUBS TO OBSERVE RURAL LIFE ON MAY 16

Special Services In Churches To Observe "I Am An American Day"

Delaware 4-H club members will observe Rural Life Sunday on May 16, the day set aside as "I Am An American Day" by President Roosevelt, announced C. E. McCauley, county 4-H club agent supervisor for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

This annual event will include special services in many churches of the State emphasizing to 4-H club members good citizenship and the duties and opportunities of club members in a nation at war.

Arrangements have been made by representatives of local 4-H clubs for special services by the ministers, or for programs to be presented by the club groups. All other youth groups are extended an invitation to attend the service in their communities.

In a statement regarding 4-H Club Sunday this year, M. L. Wilson, national director of the Agricultural Extension Service, said, "The spiritual development of the individual is essential to a full, well-rounded life of service. In this development, the Christian church plays a large part. Through the centuries it has proved a source of strength which has enabled both youth and adults to meet unflinchingly life's problems. It has given hope to those whose feet have faltered. It has helped to renew faith in their ability to serve and to serve well. It has brought to all whose hearts are attuned to the Infinite that inspiration and sense of spiritual unity with one's fellow men that is so essential to any people in times of crisis."

FARMERS PARTICIPATE IN WAR-CROP PROGRAM

3800 State Farms To Aid Production, Conservation

Eighty-eight hundred Delaware farms will participate in the 1943 agricultural conservation and war-production program of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

The farm sign-up was completed today by the Delaware Agricultural Conservation Committee and its county and community committees.

Only 628 eligible farms in this State will not cooperate with the 93.3 percent of the eligible farmers in their AAA program to produce more war-crops and to conserve and build the fertility of Delaware's soil.

"I congratulate the farmers of Delaware and the county and community committees and field men of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency on the completion of a task which will contribute much toward the winning of the war," declared Clarence E. Ocheltree, Chairman of the State AAA Committee.

"In overcoming the labor shortage, gasoline and rubber rationing and the increasingly exacting duties on their own farms to complete successfully this important preliminary to the 1943 AAA campaign of soil conservation and war food production our farm population has demonstrated its patriotism, its indomitable will to win and its faith in the objectives and methods of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency," Ocheltree continued.

The 1943 AAA program was designed by the participating farmers to accomplish three general objectives: Increase the nation's food production, balance the production of the various crops with needs, and protect the soil fertility against the destructive effects of over cultivation.

Government benefit payments will be made to farmers for the following: Production of special and war crops, meeting war-crop goals, soil-building practices, soil-conserving practices, reforestation and forest-stand improvement.

Members of the Delaware Agricultural Conservation and Committee are: Chairman of the three county AAA associations are: New Castle, Barton T. Hopkins; Kent, R. Harry Wilson; Sussex, William I. Pase.

ARISTIDES JOHN MAVROMATIS

Residents of Newark are saddened this week by the untimely death of Dr. A. J. Mavromatis.

Imbued with a gracious manner, a cheerful disposition and an intensity of purpose that endeared him to friends, patients and acquaintances alike, Dr. Mavromatis was a learned student of medicine and an exemplary citizen. His services to his fellowmen were numerous and earned for him the gratitude and loyalty of those in his care.

His ardent love and understanding of great music enriched his own life, and through him, that of his friends, with whom he was so delighted to share it.

He will be greatly missed in a community, grateful for the privilege of having known him for a few brief years.

A LIVELY GHOST

The pay-as-you-go tax plan just naturally didn't die. Apparently the backfire from taxpayers over the country was terrific since the bill was shelved by the House.

A letter to the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee has just been published and expresses ideas that seem to be general over the country. In part, it says:

"Sentiment throughout the country, as demonstrated beyond doubt, is behind such a plan and Congress must eventually so recognize. . . I can speak somewhat feelingly on this subject because I am chairman of the War Savings Committee of my town. I have a splendid group of fellow workers and we are already organized to do our best. . . But it is mighty hard to do that best when the Treasury Department, at the same time when it launches the greatest bond campaign in human history, opposes the one method of taxation which will do the most to make such a campaign a success."

Commenting, the Wall Street Journal says: "The country wants to pay its Federal taxes as it goes, and will do that sooner or later. Until the issue is settled, 40,000,000 citizens will be harassed by uncertainty about their tax obligations, since the rate of withholding as well as the date of its beginning, both remain to be fixed by law."

TOMORROW MAY BE TOO LATE

How often the expression is heard today: "Be careful! You can't replace it." That warning has been applied to everything from pins to tractors. Never was the American public so waste conscious. Yet, in one vital respect it is still far too careless. That respect is fire. Millions of dollars worth of property and thousands of lives are lost annually by preventable fires.

It is an ironical fact that the man who cares for his car like an only child, will very often not hesitate to leave that car in a garage alive with fire hazards. And the housewife who guards with similar diligence the welfare of the electric range or refrigerator, will blithely disregard the commonest fire hazards such as frayed wiring, trash in the attic, open fireplaces and carelessly strewn matches.

Fire can wipe out a home and every "irreplaceable" object in it in a matter of minutes. Some of those irreplaceable objects may be human lives. Of the 10,000 persons who were burned to death in the United States in 1941, two-thirds perished in homes.

Fire prevention, like charity, should start at home and spread in widening circles until each person is doing his utmost to prevent destructive fire anywhere in his community. Fire department officials are only too glad to point out potential hazards to the uninformed.

Start now to protect your "irreplaceables" against fire. Tomorrow may be too late.

FOR THIRTY PIECES OF SILVER?

A letter from members of the 750th Tank Battalion, Company A, at Fort Knox, Kentucky, to workers who recently struck in a war industry, said in part:

"We feel deeply hurt to think you would let the boys overseas down. Just what do you think would happen to this country if the boys overseas would sit down, and quit fighting, because they just make $50 a month? We need more fighting equipment. What do you Americans want? More money now and slavery later, or less money and freedom? Just think how some of your sons and brothers over there would feel if they knew how you were selling them out, and that's what you are doing when you stop production."

There is a bible story of a sell-out for 30 pieces of silver. Read it.

JUVENILE CRIME

There has been an alarming increase in juvenile crime, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover told a committee of Congress recently. He furnished particulars that showed an amazing and dangerous state of affairs. Crimes committed by girls under 21 years of age have increased 64.8 per cent, up to 104.7 per cent in a year. In the same class of crimes the arrests of young men under 21 have increased 17.1 per cent. Mr. Hoover told the committee that in spite of the fact that so many young men have gone into the Army and Navy that practically all the arrests are of civilians. "If conditions had been otherwise the percentage of crimes of young men would be much higher," he added.

He attributed the increase in juvenile crime to high pay for youths, lack of recreational facilities, and decrease of home influence due to the fact that so many fathers and mothers are both working.

U. of D. Tests Thanite To Combat Malaria

Promise of an effective weapon for combating the malaria mosquito is provided by a pine tree product now being tested at the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station.

Members of the British Mission on Insecticides visited the university several days ago to see the research work being carried on there.

Entomologists say there is an extreme need for a substitute for pyrethrum, most commonly used spray material for both flies and mosquitoes. Pyrethrum, however, comes largely from Kenya, a colony in East Africa, and is now very limited—not even sufficient for the needs of the American armed forces.

The product being tested is Thanite, made chiefly from products of the Southern pine, through a process developed by the Hercules Powder Company.

University Awaiting Contract With Army

Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president of the University of Delaware, said yesterday that the assignment of soldiers to the university for courses in military engineering awaits only the signing of contracts by Army and university authorities.

Dr. Hüllihen made it clear that no final information on the subject was obtainable until the "contractors for the Army" had arrived at the university and actually signed a contract with university officials.

Dr. Hüllihen said that all survey work by the university and the Army authorities, necessary before soldiers could be assigned to the university, had been completed months ago.

MORE FOOD

Following a special appeal by Chester Davis, new War Food Administrator, for the planting of still more war crops, Clarence E. Ocheltree, Chairman of the Delaware Agricultural Adjustment Agency, today asked the 300 AAA community committeemen in the State to canvass their districts for farmer volunteers who will pledge themselves to increase their 1943 potato and soybean acreage goals.

FOOD for THOUGHT

Charlotte Spencer Hurley

"Know Your Can Arithmetic"

One step in making point rationing easier is to know your can arithmetic. To get your money's worth and your point's worth, choose the size of can most economical for your use. Since most of the canned goods we buy fall in three sizes No. 1, No. 2 and No. 2½, the following table has been prepared for the homemaker's convenience. It gives information you need in buying canned goods. In using it, remember that the average serving is around 1/2 cup. We suggest that you clip this table to your Official Table of Point Values for Processed Foods.

Ave. size 1 lb. (No. 1, tall); cups 2; servings — 3-4; 1 lb. 4 ounces (No. 2), 2 1/2 cups, 4 — 5 servings; 1 lb. 12 ounces (No. 2 1/2), 3 1/2 cups, 5-7 servings; Juice Cans — 12 1/2 fluid ounces, 1 1/2 cups; 1 pt., 2 fluid ounces, 2 1/4 cups; 1 pt. 4 fluid ounces, 2 1/2 cups; 1 pt., 8 fluid ounces, 3 cups; 1 qt., 14 fluid ounces, 5 3/4 cups.

You may find it helpful to write the size of the can above the appropriate column on your "Official Table of Point Values for Processed Foods". Too, drawing a colored line down either side of that column will direct your attention to it when you are planning your purchases. For example, your No. 2 can would fall in the 6th column over (the column headed "over 1 lb. 2 oz. including 1 lb. 6 oz."). Write No. 2 over the column and draw your colored line on either side of it. When you want to buy food which comes in this sized can, you can see your point values more easily.

AUXILIARY CONTINUES POPPY DAY PREPARATION

Mrs. A. E. Tomhave Is Poppy Day Chairman Of Local Unit

Faith in America with those who have died in the nation's service will be pledged anew on Poppy Day, May 21 & 22, Mrs. A. E. Tomhave, American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Chairman, said today as the Auxiliary continued preparations for its annual distribution of memorial poppies.

"The wearing of the poppy is a personal pledge that we will not 'break faith' with those who died but will carry on to the achievement of the things for which they gave their lives," said Mrs. Tomhave.

"Millions of Americans will wear the poppy this year as a tribute to the dead of both World Wars and a mark of their determination to conclude this war with complete victory. The flower is the symbol of life given in service for America. The wearer makes an unspoken pledge to the nation's heroic dead that he will live as they died, serving America."

Poppies will be offered to everyone in Newark by the women of the Auxiliary on Poppy Day. No price will be asked for the flowers, the pennies of children being just as welcome as the dollars of the wealthy. A poppy over every heart is the goal.

Contributions given to the Auxiliary's volunteer poppy workers will go in their entirety to the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of The American Legion and Auxiliary, where they will help support the Legion's and Auxiliary's efforts for the disabled fighting men of both wars, and for the children of the dead and disabled.

Corp. Horn whose home is at Merri-dan, Conn., was assigned to the lobby of the Newark Trust Company and Corp. McMillan of St. Louis, Mo., was stationed in the Farmers Trust Company.

It was reported at the close of banking hours that each of the two corporals had received one application.

When interviewed, both WWAC Corporals were high in their praise of the service and said that they just love it.

DAIRY LABOR

County USDA War Boards are now receiving from local Selective Service Boards lists of draft-deferred men who are qualified to work on dairy farms. The War Boards are making a direct appeal to these deferment cases to volunteer for work on dairy farms, which have been asked to increase their production of war foods in spite of a serious shortage labor shortage. Similar appeals are being made to Selective Service registrants between the ages of 38 and 45 who are in non-deferrable jobs.

Motorists Use Mail To Renew Licenses

Motorists of Delaware can perform a patriotic duty, save themselves time and inconvenience and help conserve gasoline and wear and tear on their tires by mailing in their automobile operators' renewal stubs immediately.

Only 5,000 of the 105,000 licensed automobile operators in Delaware have applied for new operators' licenses.

Only 20 days remain in which to renew the license. Therefore, it is urgent to mail your renewal stub with $1.00 to the Motor Vehicle Division either at 8th and Bancroft Parkway, Wilmington, Delaware; Dover, Delaware; or Georgetown, Delaware.

The specific directions are: Tear off the renewal stub from the current operator's license; mail it together with $1.00 in cash, check or money order to the Motor Vehicle Department. There are no blanks to fill in on the stub except in case the motorist has changed his address. If you have changed your address, you should fill in the space provided for your new address.

SURE SHOT

Much has happened in the past few days. It is only right that we should all pay tribute to those employees at the Triumph Explosives Company who lost their lives or were injured in Tuesday's disaster.

This was the most frightful affair that has come close to home for many of us who are enjoying living in a land that has not been overrun by the ravages of war. True, we have sent our loved ones over there to fight for our country, but that is a lot different than having our cities destroyed and our population enslaved.

When Newark was called on for assistance our people were quick to respond. The entire resources of our town were placed at the disposal of our neighboring town. Our ambulance was rushed to the scene and cots, blankets, stretchers, medical supplies, nurses, doctors and first aid people responded to the call for help.

These folks gave their lives the same as the men on our fighting fronts but there are no medals handed out.

The week-end found a truce (?) between our government and the union boss. Why does our government have to have a truce with any union. Is the union as big as our government? I could get a job in a ship yard or a factory, which would pay a lot more money than I earn here, but I would be forced to join a union. Not for me, baby.

I was always under the impression that the Constitution of the United States gave a man the right to labor and I have not been able to find where it said that before a fellow could go to work it was necessary to pay tribute to a labor racket.

I was employed at the Federal Housing project called George Reed Village for three months this past summer and fall. While working in the office there I learned a lot about the labor situation. The contractor who had the job could not hire anyone unless that person was first O.K'd by the shop steward of the union and every day the Shylock had his lecherous hand out for the pound of flesh. If the dues were not paid the poor laboring man was discharged.

It is reported that Newark has another merchant. We are told that Denny Marshall has taken over the Cunningham Service Center. Well Sure-shot wishes to welcome Denny into the fold and we trust that you will prosper in your venture (that should be good for gas without a ration card).

A short time ago the Junior class at the Newark High School held their annual Junior Prom. The sophomore class must have been left out because they have decided to tell their own affair. That chubby (Cueball) Martin fellow just called up and gave me a story about the Sophomore Hop which will be held on Friday, May 14 and being press agent for Campbell's Commandos. I naturally tried to tell the Sophs that Campbell and his group of noise makers were just as good as some of those BIG name bands. Did I get the raspberry? No one wants to have anyone from the old home town. It is not being done.

Last week at the Jeep Jambooree the Newark public had a chance to see just how good our own kids are when it comes to music. I want to again say that Professor Kutz has done a fine job with our children and he should receive a lot of credit. Those young musicians gave a fine performance.

Yes, there was a Bond Drive on and again Newark went over the top. Way over the top. Naturally that was to be expected. Newark always goes over the top. Newark is not such a bad place even if the newspaper reporter does get ? for the stories he writes or the ones he keeps out of the paper for the benefit of humanity.

The boys and girls at the Newark High School are busy getting ready for the Play Day scheduled for Thursday afternoon, May 20. The affair is going to be in the form of a field day and all kinds of athletic events have been planned for both the boys and girls. Can you imagine this—Harvey Gregg and Billy Ritchie have been placed in charge of getting the track in shape and the other day they were busy with pick and shovel removing a large pile of dirt that has been cluttering up the track for the past several years. Harvey looked real nice in his red track suit.

Paul Teller is expected to be out for the quarter mile event. Jim Davis and Roddy Holton will be out for the high jump. Donald Griffin, the broad jump and Buddy Cataldi will also compete in the quarter mile.

Those nazi generals who started around Stalingrad, on opposite sides, forgot to say "bread and butter," first. Any American schoolboy could have predicted "bad luck" for them, for omitting the magic words.

STORAGE OF WINTER CLOTHING RECOMMENDED

Proper Care Will Prevent Moth Damage

"It isn't too early to start thinking about where and how to store your winter clothing to protect them from moths," says Miss Louise R. Whitcomb, home management specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. "They may have to be on duty next winter and probably the next, so you'd better take care of them."

Warm weather and dark places are ideal working conditions for the moth. Its favorite diet is wool, fur, hair, feathers and everything made from animal products, and he particularly likes soiled places.

Moths seldom attack clothing which is brushed every two or three weeks, and carpets which are systematically vacuumed. But in putting away clothing away for the season it is better to use more care. Dry clean or wash any garments which are soiled. Others may be aired and thoroughly brushed—use a flat brush with soft bristles. Shake fur trimmings gently. Remove all dust from pockets, collars, cuffs, plackets, and hems.

Pack tightly immediately after cleaning and, if possible, seal. Garment boxes may be sealed with gummed tape. Another insurance against moths is sprinkling flakes of some tested insecticide between garments on folds of tissue paper. Chemicals recommended for this are naphthalene, paradichlorobenzene, and gum camphor—a pound of any of them will protect a whole trunk of clothes, and three or four pounds is enough for a closet if it is sealed.

Wool clothing after cleaning and packing should be stored in a dry, cool place.

A $50 WAR BOND EACH WEEK FROM A $60 SALARY!

"What good will money be if we lose the war?" asks Razook

TEDDY RAZOOK is helping build that bridge of ships America needs for Victory. He is also helping pay for them. Every week he buys a $50 War Bond.

"I figure it this way," he says. "I'm single, 22, and make $60 a week. If I put $37.50 into a bond, I still have more than 20 bucks. For a single fellow, that's plenty. I've been draft-deferred as an essential war worker—AND I figure the least I can do is loan every cent I can spare to carry on this war. And on top of that, I get $4 back for every $31."

Razook went to work in the shipyards after closing up his gas station for lack of business. He plans to return to the gas station after the war, meanwhile continuing his purchase of War Bonds.

Perhaps, like Teddy Razook, you, too, are fighting on the home front. But are you making it the best fight you can? Boost your Bond buying through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan right now...

You've done your bit—now do your best!

FARM FIGHTERS

Because farm men and youths of draft age continued to ignore appeals to apply for draft deferment on the grounds that the nation's fighting forces need their food production more than their marksmanship, the Delaware USDA War Board today notified all county War Boards that their most important assignment at this time is to make certain that all essential farm workers be deferred and to convince such workers of the vital part they have in the war effort.

DEHYDRATING PLANT

Thirty tons of Del-Mar-Va Peninsula vegetables a day will be the initial capacity of a new dehydrating plant being installed by the Phillips Packing Company in Cambridge, Md. This output will be for military purposes, since one shipload of dehydrated foods will feed as many men as five shiploads of fresh and canned foods.

George Neighbors, proprietor of Neighbors Pharmacy stated this week that the plot of ground located next to his home of South Academy Street which he offered for a victory garden had been loaned to Howard Wallace of Choate Street who will farm the plot which is about 56 by 220 feet.

Robert Congo, age 14 and Joseph Congo, age 13 years, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Congo of Sandy Brae did a beautiful job of plowing the ground this week.

BACKYARD POULTRY SCHOOL

At Wolf Hall Auditorium
On May 22

A one-day school for backyard poultrymen will be given at Wolf Hall Auditorium at the University of Delaware on Saturday, May 22, from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., according to A. E. Tomhave, head of the department of animal and poultry industry.

As an aid to the war effort and as a profitable and interesting hobby, many families are this year keeping a few chickens in their own backyards. The department of animal and poultry industry is conducting this school in order that these small flocks may be more efficiently managed to be of real value in the emergency. There is no charge, and everyone interested in backyard flocks is invited to attend.

Poultry specialists will discuss best breeds, purchase of stock, brooding, feeding, and care, use of ranges, management, and disease control as they apply to small flocks. There will be demonstrations on canning, killing and preparing poultry for home consumption, and culling the flock to remove poor layers. Further information will be given through exhibits and a tour of the University Poultry Farm.

Anyone interested in attending this school is urged to write the department of animal and poultry industry at the University of Delaware in Newark for a complete program, and for an indication of intention to attend so that plans can be made for appropriate facilities.

M. James Parsons, Assistant Superintendent of Newark Public Schools was inducted as a new member and reports were heard from George M. Worrlow, secretary-treasurer, and various standing committee chairman.

4-F RATING FOR UNFIT DRAFTEES

New Ruling Avoids Repeated Physical Exams

To avoid repeated physical checkups, all draft boards have been ordered to place all rejected physical defective men for armed service in Class 4-F instead of 1-A. These men will not need pre-induction physical examinations unless the board is certain that the defect has been corrected.

The ruling results from a new Army policy of restricting to 5 per cent, formerly 10 per cent, the men accepted for limited service of the total accepted for general serving any one day. Because some of the rejected men remained in 1-A's, it was difficult for them to find employment. National Selective Service headquarters said that the new arrangement would remain in effect until "uniform and permanent physical standards" are prepared for registrants.

Boards locally have generally placed men rejected by the Army into 4-F, but in some cases they were placed in 1-A remediable class, or 1-A suspended class, to be sent for examination again. These classifications are now abolished.
