

FLUORINE EQUIPMENT NOW UNDER STUDY HERE

Committee Also Seeking Approval Of Town Doctors

The proposed fluorine plan moved a step further towards final adoption at a special meeting of Town Council Thursday, when the lawmakers considered the full facts on the project.

Members of the local fluorine committee under Dr. P. K. Musselman, while final approval has not yet been given by Council, the fluorine committee was directed to investigate in detail the types of equipment needed and the best methods of installation.

The latter is expected to have its recommendations ready for the July meeting of Council. The plan calls for treating the town water supply with sodium fluoride as a curb on tooth decay in young children.

The indication is that Council, after surveying the wealth of facts gathered by the local committee on the use of fluorine in public water, is convinced the project is worthwhile and now wants the technical aspects of installation cleared up.

Also, the Council has directed the committee to seek the formal approval of all local physicians and veterinarians for the project. The doctors are being asked to certify either verbally or in writing that water diluted with fluorine in the percentage planned is in no way injurious either to humans or animals.

Dr. Musselman said this week he has secured the approval of four physicians and that none as yet has opposed the project. Those who have gone on record as approving are: Dr. C. R. Donahue, Dr. Arthur A. Mencher, Dr. E. L. Hampton and Dr. Hobart Hare. Those who will be approached are Drs. E. H. James Wallace M. Johnson, William C. Johnson and G. B. Pearson.

NHS PUPILS TO ATTEND GIRL STATE

Therese Tierney and Mary Louise New, both of whom will enter the senior class at the Newark High School, have been selected to represent the school at the annual Girls' State to be held in Dover, June 22-23.

Miss New will serve as state treasurer, while Miss Tierney will act as a representative in the miniature state to be operated by girls from schools throughout Delaware.

The local pair, who are being sponsored by the J. A. O'Daniel Unit, No. 1, American Legion Auxiliary, were selected on the basis of character and scholarship.

The girls will form their government at the state's legislative hall at Dover, where present and former members of the General Assembly will be on hand to assist and advise them. During their stay at the state capitol, the girls will be quartered at Wesley College.

The students will organize political parties, hold conventions and campaigns, elect state officers, and carry out legislative executive and judicial actions of a state government.

Girls State is sponsored each year by the Delaware Department of the American Legion Auxiliary to give training in democratic government to potential leaders for the future, according to Mrs. Robert J. Davis, Girls' State Chairman of the local Auxiliary.

Cornerstone For New School Laid Without Ceremony

The cornerstone of the elementary school building now under construction here was laid this week without ceremony or fanfare.

The announcement was made by Supt. Wilmer E. Shue. He said it was decided to omit formalities until the dedication ceremonies after the building is completed.

A metal box was placed in the cornerstone this week, containing, among other things, a list of all students currently attending the Newark schools; a school directory for 1949-50; copies of three student publications, "Buzz," "Newark," and "Toddlers' Toot"; a recent handbook; copies of the Newark Post and the News-Journal papers; a copy of the ballot used in the referendum for approval of the building.

E-52 Plans Comedy Production July 14

To Stage "Yes, My Darling Daughter," As First Summer Session Play

The University of Delaware's Summer School program this year will include the first full-length dramatic production in the history of summer study at Newark. Dr. C. Robert Kase, director of dramatics at the university, announced today.

On July 14, there will be a Mitchell Hall production of "Yes, My Darling Daughter." Tryouts are open to all Summer School students.

Meanwhile, Dr. Kase will teach a course in acting and directing for the benefit of students who have not been able to work this course into their winter program, and for Delaware school teachers who wish to improve their professional knowledge in this field. The course is a basic one, prerequisite for advanced courses providing graduate credit, which will be offered later in subsequent Summer Sessions, or in extension. Registration for the course will be held Monday during the regular University Summer School enrollment period.

Recreational Swim Program Opens Mon.

Instructional Swimming Held Up Until June 27; Full Schedule Listed

Recreational swimming will start Monday and instructional classes on June 27 in the summer program sponsored annually at the U. of D. Women's Pool by the Newark Recreation Association.

Harry Rawstrom, university swimming coach, who will again direct the program, this week released full details on the schedule.

Recreational swimming for children of all ages will be held Monday through Saturday from 3 to 5 p. m., while sessions for adults (14 and up) will be open evenings from 7:30 to 9:30.

Classes under qualified instructors for beginners and intermediates and life saving groups will be confined to the mornings. Beginner classes will be staged Monday, Wednesday and Fridays, with the boys meeting from 10 to 11 and the girls 11 to 12. Intermediate classes are scheduled for Tuesday, and Thursdays, the boys from 10 to 11 and the girls 11 to 12. Joint boy and girl life saving classes will be confined to two-hour sessions on Saturday from 10 to 12. Only children of school age will be accepted for the classes.

American Red Cross certificates will be presented to all those who successfully complete their respective course. Junior and Senior Life Saving certificates will also be available to those who qualify. Swimmers 19 or over may also be recommended as American Red Cross Water Safety instructors if they meet the standards.

A small fee for the instructions will be charged for the instructional and recreational swimming.

Mr. Rawstrom also announced that two tennis courts will be available on Frazer Field to those who take part in the recreation program.

Gregg Jewelers To Move To Newly Built Store

Gregg Jewelers, now located at 170 East Main Street, will move to quarters in the newly constructed store at 178 East Main Street, by July 10, Otis Gregg, proprietor said this week.

The move will mean an expanded show room, with additional display cases, in more spacious and modern quarters. The store will remain open for business during the moving period, Mr. Gregg said, "even if I have to put up a pup tent on the sidewalk in between."

He also announced that Aileen Ritchie and Rodney Reed are the winners of the popularity contest staged recently by the store for Newark High School seniors. Members of both the junior and senior classes were allowed to vote for the senior of their preference.

Miss Ritchie received a Lady Calvert wrist watch and Reed a Lord Calvert watch. Runner-up for the girls was Nancy Smith, with Jane Foster third. Jim Ford was second in the boys' contest.

Newark Girl Graduates From Goldey College

A Newark girl, Renda Hoffercker, R. D. 1, was among 69 graduates who received diplomas at the semi-annual commencement exercises of Goldey College, Wilmington, last week. Dr. Jay W. Miller, principal, presented the awards and William E. Douglas gave the president's message.

CHILDREN'S DAY MARKED BY CHURCH

Exercises By Presbyterian Sunday School

Children's Day exercises were held Sunday morning by the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church with a large attendance of children and parents.

The platform was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers and greens arranged in a semicircle with a high background of banked flowers and twining shrubbery, which effectively set off the crisp dresses and gay ribbons of the children taking part.

Johanna M. Miller was the announcer. The opening prayer was given by Kay Faron and Mary Jeanette Chalmers led the responsive reading. Recitations were given as follows: "The First Sunday School," Freddy Rhom; "A Glad Day," Billy Long; "What the Sunbeams Say," Nancy McDowell; "In Summer Time," Richard Ely; "The First Children's Day," Raymond Ely; "I'm Glad," Ruth Ann Tressler; "On Children's Day," Terry Crowe; "A Greeting," Patricia Crowe; "Welcome Song," Wilson Young; "The New Umbrella," Sandra Scott; "I Bring You a Smile," Frank Scott; "We Thank You," Donald Keister; "Smiles," Mariana Kacena; "Just a Little Rosebud," Jane Steel; "A Children's Day Greeting," Mary Ellen Biddle; "An Invitation," Paul Biddle.

Other recitations were: "The Great Secret," Enola Newton; "Going to Church," Lennie Loudis; "Roses," Carolyn Shields; "The Sun Flower's Lesson," Linda LePage; "Long Ago," Ann Goddin; "Summer," Kathy Kakavas; "Together," Celia. Please turn to Page—2

Local Couple Named To State VFW Posts

Joseph Crossan was elected chaplain of the Department of Delaware, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and his wife, Agnes, was named chaplain of the state Auxiliary at the annual Delaware encampment at Rehoboth Beach last Saturday.

It was the first time in many years that a member of the local V.F.W. post had been named to a state office and the first time in the history of the local Auxiliary that one of its members had been raised to a Department position.

The husband and wife team were installed in separate ceremonies during the convention, which elected Richard E. Rayne, Seelyville, state commander, and Mrs. Evelyn Jones, New Castle, state Auxiliary president.

Reminder On Referendum

School officials issued a reminder this week that the referendum on consolidating the 1-room Pleasant Valley School with the Newark School District has been scheduled for Saturday, July 2.

The polls will be open from 2 to 5 p. m. at the main high school building.

The residents of Pleasant Valley have already voted to discontinue their 1-room school, and, if the referendum here is favorable, the Valley pupils will enter the Newark schools in the fall.

Visiting Scots Lass Surprised To Find 'Mom' Is The Boss In U. S.

Mom rules the roost in the American home but in Scotland father is still master of the house—that's the basic contrast in family life between the two countries, according to Miss Anne Green, a young Scottish lass and domestic science teacher, visiting Newark and the county this week as a guest of the Delaware 4-H Clubs.

She was surprised to find, she said, that in the farm families she has visited here the mother is often looked to for decisions and planning and assumes the role of home manager. In Scotland, father may affect skirts in public but he wears the pants at home. Miss Green failed to say which set-up she prefers, but, after all, she has to go back home soon to resume life with father on their 200-acre farm in Inverurie, Aberdeen.

The freedom and license granted children in U. S. families is another thing Miss Green remarked. At home, she said, the old adage that children should be seen but not heard is still regarded as sound.

American mothers, she added, do not allow themselves to be dominated by household chores and routine as much as does the Scottish housewife. She pointed out that Delaware farm women frequently drop everything to go off

'FRESH AIRS' AGAIN SEEK INVITATIONS

City Children Look Forward To Stay Here

Two-week vacations in Newark homes for New York City tenement children are again being sought by the local committee of the Tribune Fresh Air Fund.

The "Fresh Airls," as the children are known, will arrive here July 26 for two weeks, and invitations from local families should be made as soon as possible, according to Mrs. A. P. Colburn, who heads the Newark committee.

Two of the seven children who stayed with families here last year have already been invited back again. Arrangements for bringing others here may be made through Mrs. Colburn.

The "Fresh Airls" are selected from New York's needy families by leading city social agencies. Their medical care and transportation here are paid through the Fund. The host's only cost is for food and shelter during the two weeks.

Full details may be secured from Mrs. Colburn or the following committee: Michael Kubicek, Dr. A. J. Jackson, Mrs. Walter Hulihan, T. D. Smith, Mrs. Milton Draper or R. T. Ware.

In urging support for the program, the New York committee this week issued the following plea: "The housing problem is a serious one in New York. When as many as four or five children often sleep in one small room, it is no wonder they are surprised to learn that some people have houses just for chickens. All over New York, mothers take their small children to the movies and park them there for hours in order to go shopping and have time for chores. How much better for a child to spend part of his vacation in a Friendly Town! Won't you invite a youngster to be your guest for two short weeks? Thousands are praying to come."

Neeson Rehired As Asst. Supervisor On Monthly Basis

Robert Neeson, fired unexpectedly from his post as Town Supervisor by the Town Council in April, has been rehired as assistant supervisor on a month to month basis.

The move was taken by Council at its June session last week on the recommendation of Councilman Frank Durnall. No reason was given either for Neeson's firing or for his reappointment.

Neeson, who was given a month's notice in April on the appointment of Arthur Hauber as Chief Town Supervisor, has accepted the month-to-month offer.

LEGION CARNIVAL IN JULY

Delegates have been selected by the J. A. O'Daniel Post, No. 10, American Legion, to attend the Department of Delaware Convention, July 15-16, in Dover.

The selections were made at the Post business meeting Tuesday. Commander William Beswick also announced plans for the annual Legion carnival to be held here, July 22-30.

Surprise Graduate At NHS Exercises

Adm. Blandy Finally Earns High School Diploma

Although the program listed 86 graduates at the Newark High School commencement last Friday, there were actually 87. The unscheduled but no less blushing recipient of a coveted diploma was Admiral William H. P. Blandy.

It seems that during his busy career the Admiral had forgotten to collect a high school diploma. He left the Newark Academy here a year before he was scheduled to graduate and immediately entered Delaware College, later going to Annapolis.

School officials here got wind of the vital oversight from members of the Admiral's staff, who said he had always wanted a diploma, but didn't think it proper to ask.

Hurried arrangements were made, and when the curtain was rung down on the commencement, a group of faculty and school board members and the graduating class gathered backstage for a brief ceremony, in which Adm. Blandy was presented with an honorary diploma from Newark High School.

Dr. John Shilling, state education official, who was a guest at the commencement, made the presentation and said that, although the Admiral had not passed his final exams in school, he had earned the diploma through demonstrated ability later. The Admiral beamed in the manner expected of a graduate and said his fondest ambition had now been realized.

Tax Rolls On View Here Until June 27

One Opportunity Left For Vote Registration

Interest in the current tax assessment rolls is running higher than in previous years, according to officials at Rhodes Drug Store where both the real estate and the non-property lists are on display.

A duplicate listing of non-property owners is also posted at the Council Offices. It was disclosed this week.

The lists will remain open to the public until Monday, June 27, at noon. From 1 to 6 p. m. that day, Council will sit as a Board of Appeals at the town offices.

Property owners will then be permitted to request changes in their assessment figure. These hours will also be open for the final registration of non-property owners. Such residents are advised to check the lists now on display. If their name is not included, they must register on Appeal Day in order to be eligible to vote in next year's town election.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Legal Fallacies

A talk on the legal responsibilities of everyday life, pointing up some of the popular misconceptions about law, was given by Samuel Handloff, lawyer and local Rotary Club member, at the unit's weekly dinner meeting on Monday night.

He stressed particularly the responsibilities pertaining to oral and written contracts, adding that, despite the general impression, oral contracts are usually binding, except when they concern real estate.

Incorrect notions about law, which Mr. Handloff referred to as "Barber Shop" law, are common, he said. One such is belief that canceling a check through one's bank after using it to pay for an article automatically relieves one of the debt. Another is the notion that a borrower who offers to pay installments on his debt and is turned down by the lender is thereby relieved of the debt itself.

Information on the annual soap box derby in Wilmington may be secured through the club, and registrations are being accepted at the Newark Department Store.

Program chairman was William Campbell, and Jack Handloff, vice-president, presided in the absence of Ken Steers.

Wilson Levis Graduates From Mt. Hermon School

Wilson C. Levis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Levis, of West Main Street, was among the candidates for graduation from Mount Hermon School at the 63rd commencement on Monday. The Rt. Rev. Norman B. Nash, Bishop of Massachusetts, delivered the address and Dr. Howard L. Rubendall, headmaster, awarded diplomas to the 150 graduates.

Commencement activities, which occupied the entire week-end, included the performance of Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" on Saturday evening, given by the Hermon Players and Tau Pi dramatic club of the sister school at Northfield.

ARMED FORCE NEEDED FOR PEACE, SAYS ADM. BLANDY

But Democratic Principles Are Best Weapon Against Despots

"While freedom has made gains in parts of the world, it is losing ground in others and we cannot remain complacent and inert," Admiral William H. P. Blandy told 86 members of the graduating class of the Newark High School at the commencement exercises here last Friday night.

"The most successful weapon for defeating communism," he continued, "is the proven success of the truly democratic principles of freedom . . . whereby the freely chosen work of an outstanding individual in any walk of life not only brings success to him, but benefits all."

But along with his democratic principles, moral strength and vast wealth, this country must have fighting power to preserve peace, he said. At one point in referring to communism, he told the graduates "you may have to combat this false and evil idea all your adult lives."

He concluded by saying the best advice he could give was to "follow closely the affairs of your nation . . . keep yourselves informed of them and be quick to detect any threat" to those principles on which are happiness and security depend.

Adm. Blandy opened his address with an interesting sketch of his boyhood in Newark, pointing up the vast changes that have taken place here and in the world since the turn of the century.

The talk was the highpoint of the exercises at which Joseph McVey, school board president, awarded diplomas as Supt. Wilmer E. Shue presided and the exercises were presided over by Frederick B. Kutz.

PRIZES AT 9TH GRADE EXERCISES

Four homeroom presidents accepted promotion certificates for 120 ninth grade pupils, marking their formal entry into senior high school in annual exercises last Friday morning at the Newark schools.

Supt. Wilmer E. Shue presented the certificates and those who accepted them on behalf of the students were Ann Crunden, David George, William Knotts and Bernice Wilson.

A number of student addresses, selections by the orchestra and the senior processionals-recessional also were included in the program.

The highlight came when Frederick B. Kutz, high school principal, announced the prizes and awards. They were as follows:

New Century Club Award for outstanding work ninth grade scholarship and citizenship—Edith Priestley; Newark New Century Club Award for outstanding work in ninth grade art—Janice Olson; VFW Auxiliary Award for Americanism essay contest—Marilyn Murray and Mary Italiano; Daughters of American Revolution Award to boy and girl excelling in study of U. S. history in senior high school—Dorothy Aulen and Paul Hodgson; American Legion Auxiliary Award for best girl in eighth grade social studies—Betty Lou Murray; French-American Medal for excellence in French—Mary Anne Reale.

A boy and girl each grade seven through 12, who excelled in good sportsmanship was presented a certificate and a pin by the Sportsmanship Brotherhood. Those singled out to receive this award were: twelfth grade—Rodney Reed, Marjorie Dann; 11th—William Reybold, Gertrude Tierney; 10th—James Bueche, Alta Warrington; 9th—David George, Milmo Fox; 8th—Nancy Pennock, Ronald Bramble; 7th—Ben Day, Marie Woerner.

Poison Ivy Curbs Simple But Early Detection Needed

Wash Exposed Parts With Hot Soapy Water As Soon As Possible

Many susceptible men and women are made miserable each year by rash and irritation caused by poisonous plants, notably poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac, says Mrs. William N. Carr, vice-president for Home Safety of the Delaware Safety Council. The plants contain certain chemicals to which many people are very sensitive. When this chemical reaches the skin the typical rash results.

These plants should be uprooted and destroyed upon recognition. Poison ivy is a three-leaved vine or bush, and at some seasons it has white berries. It is poisonous all year round. Poison sumac is a shrub or small tree having from seven to thirteen leaves on each stem. Poison oak is a bush with leaves resembling oak leaves.

Persons who are not susceptible to plant poisoning should do the eradication of these plants whenever possible.

If you are susceptible to poisoning wear heavy gauntlets, long sleeves and high shoes when working around these plants. Such clothing should be thoroughly washed afterward in water containing a great deal of soap.

Protective ointments, too, have been used with success in preventing ivy poisoning. One such ointment is an alkaline cream containing sodium perborate. Certain inoculations, too, may prove helpful.

The prevention of ivy poisoning after exposure is simple, and if applied early, may prevent appearance of the skin condition. As soon as possible after contact with the plant, wash the exposed parts of the body thoroughly and repeatedly with abundant hot, soapy water. Next apply rubbing alcohol to these parts, and again wash with soapy water. Do not apply vaseline or greasy salves, ointments or creams as these may spread the poisoning.

Seek Delawarean To Claim $10,000 Estate

Louis (or Luke) Graham, who would be aged if living, or his children or grandchildren, are being hunted in Delaware and Eastern Maryland to claim a $10,000 estate of which they obviously have never heard.

This became known here today when Walter C. Cox, probate genealogist, 208 S. La Salle St., Chicago, who specializes in tracing missing relatives to settle estates, assumed charge of the search with scant clues on which to proceed.

"Graham is reported to have settled in the Delaware-Eastern Maryland area many years ago," Mr. Cox said. "He was born in about 1875, which would make him 74 years old if still living."

"Our best information is that he married and had a family. If this is correct then his living children or grandchildren would succeed him to claim to the sizeable fortune, if they can be located and prove their relationship."

"We would also like to locate other relatives such as nieces and nephews of Graham, in the hope that they can give us information about the family."

Children's Day

Smith, "June Time," Joyce Morris, "My Rose," Susanna Long, "Good Morning," Alan Ely, "Red Roses," Marilyn Miller, "Every Minute," Eddie Weil.

Solos were given by Sylvia Dale, "What Makes the Flowers Green," and by Rose Ann McMullin, "The Little Voice," while Janina and Marianna Keacena sang "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us."

Both the Beginners and Primary Departments gave several vocal selections. An exercise, "Jesus and the Little Children," was given by Andrea Lanier, Janina Keacena and Lynn Colburn. Another, "God Is Quite Near," was given by David Stennel, Lester Lewis and Peter Reinhardt.

A special Children's Day offering for Sunday School missionary work in the Ozarks was taken. The ushers were: Virginia Lanier, Carolyn Jones, Gail Kauff and Esther Backof.

The decorating was in charge of Helen Krapf, assisted by Carol Milliken and Mrs. R. W. Heim. Rehearsals were handled by Mrs. Charles Lanier, aided by Mrs. Charles Cooper and Mrs. Mervin Dale.

follow:

"When I was invited by your principal to speak at these exercises, a flood of memories of the Newark of my own boyhood was loosened. In this reminiscing, I was so struck by the truly cataclysmic changes which have happened not only to Newark, but the entire country and the whole world since the days of those earliest memories, that for some time I could think of little else. And so it occurred to me that perhaps those very changes might constitute a fitting subject for my address."

"The Newark of my earliest memory belonged quite literally to the horse and buggy age. Many kinds of horse-drawn vehicles could be seen in the town and along the country roads. And in winter, when a sufficiently heavy snowfall permitted, all normal traffic was sometimes suspended during the noon hour, and spirited sleigh races were held on the business section of Main Street.

"I retain some memories of my school days, of course, especially of my teachers: Miss Fanny Medill, Miss Laura Raub, now Mrs. Hoisinger; and Mr. George Messersmith, the High School principal, who later entered the diplomatic service and became our ambassador to Mexico and then to Argentina. But what we did outside of school seems to come back much more vividly: swimming and fishing in what we called 'Whitley Crick'; skating there, or on somebody's duckpond; sledding most anywhere, but especially one winter with homemade bobsleds on a long slope of the Creek Road; camping on the Elk River, (which we reached in a farm wagon), and catching crabs and fish there; or wandering through the woods in the fall, hunting for chestnuts and walnuts. I suppose you boys and girls today still do some of these things. I hope so. I've always felt a deep sympathy for any man I've ever met who had missed the thrill and pleasure of roaming through fields and woods in his boyhood."

"The Newark of the 1890's knew, of course, the telephone and the electric light, though many a house still had neither. The bicycle was still a very modern conveyance, and the first automobiles did not appear until after the turn of the century. I remember one 4-seater, with two seats facing forward and two facing aft, as we say in the Navy, whose owner never drove out of town without having all seats filled, for he was unable to push it back alone, and that frequently had to be done."

"* * * I know that I do not have to berate communism in order to convince a group of young citizens from this state, whose Caesar Rodney rode hard through the day and the night to sign the Declaration of Independence; whose revolutionary regiments were two of the finest in the Continental Army; and which was the first state to ratify the Constitution of the United States. My purpose in mentioning communism is to point out that in fighting this menace, while Freedom has made gains in parts of the world, it is losing ground in others, and we cannot remain complacent and inert. You young people in this graduating class may have to combat this false and evil idea throughout your adult lives before its final defeat, so firm is the intention of its stubborn and stupid prophets to fasten its yoke upon the world."

"The most successful weapon for defeating communism is the proven success of the truly democratic principles of freedom. The salient principle opposed to communism is freedom of enterprise, whereby the freely chosen work of an outstanding individual in any walk of life not only brings success to him, but benefits us all. It is this free and competitive enterprise, more than any other one factor, even including our great natural resources, which has given us our great material development, our high standard of living. And it is our individual liberties, our recognition of the dignity and rights of every man, whatever his station in life, which now give this country its great moral influence in world affairs. But neither our vast material wealth nor our great moral strength can succeed in preserving peace in the world without one more factor—our fighting power. The United Nations, though a useful forum for exchange of ideas, has so far been blocked, both by the veto of one country afflicted with chronic disagreement, and by the utter lack of an international police force, from enforcing the views of the majority of nations. It therefore behooves the United States, as the strongest of the peace-loving, nonaggressive nations, to maintain adequate forces ready to fight, and large reserve forces ready to mobilize. These, combined with our expressed intention to fight, upon sufficient cause, alongside other nations threatened with aggression, as set forth in the Atlantic Pact, will go farther to discourage aggressors and preserve world peace, than all of the inert neutrality proclamations or treaties outlawing war, ever written."

"* * * Part of our fighting power must therefore be land power, and part of it must be naval power. The sea is still the world's most used highway, in spite of the increasing use of air transport."

"* * * For the first time in history, this country of yours possesses the power to control the seas. It is a priceless possession, not to be taken lightly or used unwisely. I think all the fair-minded nations of the world will agree that we are using it well, for peace and not for imperialism. We are using it to send aid to stricken nations, to help them to stand upon their own feet, to regain their prosperity and to restore their ability to resist encroachments upon their freedom."

"* * * As one who has not many years left in his active career, talking to you young citizens who have not yet entered upon yours, the best advice I can give to each of you is to follow closely, throughout your lives, the affairs of your nation. Whether actively engaged in those affairs or not, keep yourselves informed of them, and be quick to detect any threat, from within or without, against many and striking scientific, technical and political changes which have taken place throughout the world since the origin of this great nation of ours, the principles established by our forefathers in founding our government—the fundamental principles of freedom—have remained unchanged, and our happiness and internal security lie in continued adherence to them. They will endure as the guiding tenets of our daily life so long as Americans value their freedom and are willing to defend it."

COUNCIL OF NEWARK

List Honor Rolls For Pleasant Valley; Pupils Make Tours

Those With Perfect Attendance
Records Treated To Blue
Rock Ball Game

Reports for the sixth and final marking period of the school year have been turned in at Pleasant Valley School. Iron credited places on the first honor roll were earned by Beverly Ann Foltz, Lawrence Lee and Kay Logan, grade five; Alvin Peel and "Billy" Pollari, grade two; Karina Pollari and "Teddy" Schwartz, grade three. These seven pupils had straight "A" averages.

There were three red-letter days the week of the term. On Tuesday the school teacher took six pupils to Rockford Park, Wilmington, for the Junior Red Cross picnic staged by the Junior Red Cross Council of the state. The Pleasant Valley pupils turned in their gifts to be used for the birthday of veterans during the summer months.

Wednesday night brought with it the best for earning the perfect attendance award; the privilege of witnessing a professional baseball game at the Wilmington Ball Park. How the children did cheer when the Blue Rocks defeated Hagerstown, 4-2! The pupils who had earned the award were transported by the teacher, Mrs. Herman W. Stradley and by a parent, Mr. John A. Logan. Those who made the trip were: Ruth Ann McCormick, Alvin Peel, Karina Pollari, Dora Jane McCormick, Kay Logan, Dennis Kemether, "Teddy" Schwartz, Ray Thorp, and Harry McCormick. Ernest Luoto, another winner could not be present.

Community Picnic
Today afternoon, the community enjoyed its annual picnic. The pupils had arranged an amateur show preceding the organized games outside. Games were in charge of Mrs. Tunis Foltz, Miss Alice Stanton and Catherine Boom. Refreshments of ice cream and home-made cake were served to the large crowd present.

Mrs. Stradley Honored
Gifts were presented by twenty-five families to Mrs. Herman Wayne Stradley, of Newark, who has taught at the school for the past seven years at the local school. The gifts were presented by Mr. Francis Thorp, president of the P. T. A., who expressed the deep respect of the group that Mrs. Stradley, who had been invited unanimously by the Board of Trustees to return, has accepted a position at Harmony School in the incoming school year, because of the pending referendum for consolidation being held at the Newark School on July 2, according to a report from Mrs. Stradley. It is the wish of the majority of the voters directly connected with the school that, there will be a negative decision at the polls so that Pleasant Valley School may remain open.

Honors For Former Pupil
Revi Elaine Toivonen brought honor to Pleasant Valley School by winning the Newark High School Alumni prize of $127.50 as well as the prize of $110 offered by the Knights of Pythias for the best essay on a youth problem. Elaine, who was graduated from Newark High School on Friday night, returned her whole six years of elementary education at the Pleasant Valley school.

Birthday Party
Mr. and Mrs. John A. Logan entertained the whole school and the teacher at luncheon recently in honor of their daughter, Kay Louise's seventh birthday.

Plan Now For Home Canning
Check over your supply of jars and lids for canning now. Then you'll know that they are in good condition and that you have plenty for the day when spring produce is ready for canning.

M. Katharine Jones, home demonstration agent, warns against using defective jars and lids. They may present the slightest seal that's necessary for successful canning.

Miss Jones says that any jars or lids with cracks, chips or dents should be discarded. Also discard a lid with a porcelain lining if it is cracked, broken or loose. If this type of lid has even a slight dent at the seal edge, discard it.

Another point to check is rubber rings if you use them in canning. Generally it's best to get all new ones. If you bought more rubber rings than you needed last year and have unused ones left over, you may use them if they are in good condition. Test rings by folding them.

Directs Delmarva Chicken Festival

Dave Greene

Mr. Greene, of Milford, Del., is president of Delmarva Chicken Festival, Inc., which is perfecting plans for the second annual event to be held in Salisbury July 12th, 13th and 14th.

Highlight of the Festival will be a National Chicken Cooking Contest to be witnessed by a large group of food editors and experts who will be flown to Salisbury by chartered plane. This is said to be the first such affair ever conducted.

A Poultry and Egg Show, a Queen Contest, a dance and a mammoth parade are other features of the festival which is expected to attract some 30,000 visitors during the three day celebration.

Production of chickens in the Delmarva area is estimated to exceed $100,000,000 annually. It has become the peninsula's leading enterprise.

Home Sites Bought

One of the largest real estate auction sales held in Newark in some years took place last Saturday, when about 275 building lots, formerly a part of the Charles P. Wollaston farm in the Depot Road section was put under the hammer. A free lot went to Daniel Stoll.

Heavy local buyers were David C. Rose, George L. Medill, John K. Johnston and the Town of Newark. Mayor Frazer purchased for the town several lots adjoining the municipal water pumping station. The sale, in which 50-foot lots ranged from $25 to $700 each, is reported to have brought a total of $16,000.

Youths On Cruise

J. Penrose Wilson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilson, and Marshall Mann, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Mann, left New York last Saturday for a two months cruise to South America. Their ship, bound for Chile, will stop at Columbia, Ecuador and Peru. The youths are working their passage.

Every available seat was taken at the Children's Day exercises Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church. Some of these in the beginner's department who gave recitations were: Junior Hancock, Harold Tiffany, Jr., Elizabeth Rose, Virginia Hurlock, Virginia Phillips, Dorothy Mitchell, Dorothy Sterritt, Tommy Ingham, Helen Krapf, Billy Ford, Dorothy Murray, Dorothy Holton, Peggy Ford, Gwendolyn McCormick, Esther Grier, Maggie Campbell, Mildred Campbell, Virginia Cooch, George Wood, Jack Hurst, Doris Herdman.

The following babies were baptized: Harold Hurlock, Thomas Griffin, Jr., June Eisner, Jean Barnes, Kenneth Barnes, Thomas Preston, Conrad King, Dolby Lewis, Jr.

Friends of little Jimmy Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hutchinson of West Main Street, will be glad to know that the little fellow is on the road to recovery from a serious accident suffered many weeks ago.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rankin, of Park Place, was operated on for the removal of adenoids last Sunday at his home.

Thomas, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Cooch, was operated upon for the removal of tonsils last Sunday at the Cooch home. The operation was successful. It was performed by Dr. Day, of the staff of Johns Hopkins in Baltimore.

Delmarva Chicken Festival To Offer $1750 Cash Prizes

Awards To Be Made For Float Entries In Mammoth Parade July 14

A total of $1750 in cash prizes is to be awarded to participants in the mammoth parade to be held in Salisbury on July 14th as a feature of the Delmarva Chicken Festival.

To encourage the entry of attractive floats, the Parade Committee is offering prizes of $100, $50 and $25 to three different classes. These are for Poultry industry and allied interests, civic and other organizations, and for commercial floats entered by other than the poultry industry. Float prizes for the three classifications total $525. Only two classifications were provided for last year.

In a similar effort to stimulate interest among musical units, a total of $525 will be awarded to them. Sets of prizes of $100, $50 and $25 are scheduled to go to the first, second and third place winners in both a Senior and Junior division of Drum and Bugle Corps. Another set of prizes in the same amount will be presented to various bands.

Firesmen from Peninsula towns and cities will vie for another set of the $100, $50 and $25 prizes with an additional $50 going to the company traveling the longest distance with 25 or more men in line. Fire company auxiliaries will be recognized by way of a $50 award to the best appearing unit with 25 or more in line.

Veterans organizations are offered $30 and $25 for the first and second place winners competing for "best appearing" while $35 will be given to the unit with the most members in line. Ladies Auxiliaries of these organizations will receive $25 and $15 for the largest units in line of march. Proportionate prizes are provided for

Q—I wish to convert my National Service Life Insurance. Do I get credit for all the money I paid on my term insurance?

A—No, because the premium paid on your term insurance were required to pay for the cost of the protection afforded. If you convert now, you must pay the full premium required at your attained age for the converted insurance.

Q—I just received my NSLI policy but I notice the beneficiary is not endorsed on it. Why is this?

A—NSLI policies do not show the beneficiary or the option chosen by the insured. When you designated your beneficiary the form you signed was made part of your records. If the designations were endorsed on your policy, it would not necessarily be accurate at a later date, since you can change your designation without sending in your policy to be corrected.

Q—May I name anyone as beneficiary of my insurance?

A—Yes. You may designate any persons, firm, corporation, or other legal entity, including your estate.

Q—I am a World War I veteran and have a non-service connected disability. Am I entitled to a pension?

A—If you are permanently and totally disabled for reasons not traceable to your service in the armed forces you may be entitled to a pension. You must have been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable after a minimum of 90 days service, or if you served less than 90 days, you must have been discharged for disability incurred in line of duty. In either case, you are disqualified if your income exceeds $1,000 per year if single, or $2,500 if you are married or have a minor child.

MEYER-PEARSON WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Arrangements have been made for the wedding of Mrs. Mabel Florence Somers and Dr. G. Burton Pearson. The ceremony was performed on June 3, at Chestertown, Md.

PERSON-POWERS WEDDING ON SATURDAY

Miss Arlene Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Lynch, East of the city, and a cousin of the bride, will be flower girl at the wedding of Miss E. R. Pierson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Pierson, of the city, and Mr. Edward Powers, Saturday, June 18, at 3:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church.

Donations were made by this club to a needy family, to a family whose home was destroyed by fire and a money donation of $5.00 to the Girl Scout Fund.

The members voted to prepare canned goods this summer for donations to needy families.

A picnic supper has been planned for the July meeting, Thursday, July 14, at the home of Mrs. John Lynam.

The group has also planned for a trip to Hershey, Pa. on July 21.

The June meeting of the Degree Association of Friendship Temple, No. 6, Pythian Sisters, will be held in conjunction with a picnic supper on the evening of Thursday, June 23, at Ball Run Park at 6:30 o'clock.

A business meeting will include plans for a trip by the members and all members are urged to be present in order that such plans may be completed at this time.

Committee for the picnic includes: Mrs. Evelyn Stickley, chairman, with Mrs. Maude Moore, Mrs. Clara Morris, Mrs. Mabel Hall and Mrs. Ethel Morris assisting.

The five local boys with their dads, who spent the past week-end at the Y. M. C. A. Camp, Camp Tockwogh included: Mr. Ira Jones and son, Frazer; Mr. Herman Handloff and son, Bobby; Mr. Herbert Troy and son, Chuck; Mr. John Cronin and son, Jackie; and Mr. John Hildreth and son, Steve. Two boys, Paul Brasher and Tommy Thomas and their dads were unable to make the trip.

Boys of the local organization known as "Indian Guide" must be of the ages of six, seven and eight and it is necessary that both the father and son be members. Each of the members are known by an Indian name. Mr. John Hildreth is the leader of the Newark group. This group is under the direction of the Wilmington Y. M. C. A.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my Mother who passed away one year ago June 18. I often sit and think of you. And then of how you died. To think you could not say goodbye. Before you closed your eyes. The blow was heavy, the shock severe. I never thought your death so near. Your grave I

We went to the commencement exercises at the high school last Friday partly to see the graduates graduate but chiefly to determine whether or not this chap Blandy actually hailed from Newark as he claimed.

The acid test, we knew, would be his pronunciation of "Newark." If he were an outlander, an imposter from Newark, N. J., or a renegade conductor from the Penna. R. R., posing as an admiral, he would betray himself, we were sure, by telescoping the word in something like "Nuerk," but if he were a genuine native he would give it the full, round, two-syllabled utterance common to this place.

We are happy to report that he passed this test with flying colors. Although he spoke of Newark frequently in his talk, he made no tell-tale slips, never failed to say "New-Ark" in the native way as if referring to a late, post-deluge model of the fabulous Biblical craft.

We were pleased to note also that he looked like an Admiral. He was lean, ruddy, sea-bitten, stern visaged, iron grey at the temples, and handsome—altogether a fitting subject for a portrait on a naval recruiting poster or for the lead in a Hollywood sea saga. His accents were clipped and sharp, and he manned the rostrum as if it were the poop deck of a frigate and the audience his crew assembled in the waist of the ship to hear his pre-battle address. As his talk progressed, we could almost feel the auditorium rocking on stormy ideological seas.

The exercises were notable also for the absence of traditional, often boring, commencement verbiage. At no time during the evening were the graduates reminded that "this commencement marks a milestone in your career" or a "stepping stone to higher things" as "you go down the path of life."

Instead, the speakers confined themselves to more or less straightforward remarks. Perhaps the most significant line in Adm. Blandy's talk was in reference to Communism when he said "you young people in this graduating class may have to combat this idea all your adult lives." A sobering, and from the looks of things, all too sound a warning.

Another surprise for us that evening came when they passed out the diplomas. These, we noted, were not rolled up but came flat in what appeared to be leather folders. We suppose this is to simplify showing them to fond parents and prospective employers. We don't know how long this has been in practice, but we think it a distinct advance.

Our diploma, we recall, was so tightly rolled that opening it was like prying apart a steel coil and to keep it open we had to bend down the corners with paper weights, ink bottles and the like. We never did manage to flatten it out long enough to discover whether or not our name was spelled correctly, and we never took it with us when we went job hunting because we knew that any attempt to open it under the nose of an interviewer would only embarrass us both. We eventually threw it in a bureau drawer, where, so far as we know, it remains to this day—as tauntily coiled as ever.

The comedy relief at the commencement was provided, strangely enough, by our staid school board president—Mr. Joseph McVey. He proved himself a witty, off-the-cuff speaker, not above a bit of slapstick. He wasn't scheduled to talk but he insisted on getting in a bit of advice to the graduates. He said that during the Admiral's speech he had been thinking how true it was that everyone couldn't expect to be an Admiral. He concluded it was important for the rest of us to do whatever is expected of us, no matter how trivial it may seem, to the best of our ability. Making good at whatever one is doing, he said, may quite unexpectedly lead to success with a capital S.

Sound advice, surely, but marred by the fact that Mr. McVey himself, apparently, had not been following it all evening. Instead of listening to an Admiral as he was supposed to do, he had been brooding on how to slip across an unscheduled speech. We can only conclude that Mr. McVey will not only never make an Admiral, but that, if he insists on ignoring them, not even a good crew member.

His talk, though, was spiritedly and entertainingly, qualities rarely found at formal functions.

The rumor, now rife, that he accused the local school board of being infested with Communism is not exactly true. He did call his colleagues on the board "left-wingers," but, before the Un-American Activities Committee is called in, we think it should be made clear that Mr. McVey was merely pulling off the best and only pun of the evening. The school board was seated in the left wing of the stage.

These days, though, even red-tainted puns are dangerous. Someone is likely to become alarmed and point out that, in aiding and abetting the Public Schools, Mr. McVey is fostering a socialized institution.

The high-point of the evening, we learned later, came after the curtain was rung down, when Adm. Blandy was presented with his first and only high school diploma. It seems he left the Academy here a year before formal graduation to enter Delaware College. Now he is an official graduate of Newark High and, incidentally, a lush prospect for back Alumni dues.

Anderson To Defend Title In State Golf Tourney Here Saturday-Sunday

54-Hole Event To Draw Delaware's Top Linksmen; Ellis Taylor Another Favorite; Dollins, Rivers Also To Make Strong Bids

By BILL ANDERSON

George Anderson, the present Delaware State Amateur Golf Champion and 4-time Newark C. C. Champ, will take to the local links this week-end in search of his second straight state title. The 54-hole tournament will open Saturday with 18-hole round and end Sunday with 36 holes.

Anderson has been playing consistently par and reigns as the early favorite while the entries are coming in much slower than expected.

Another pre-tourney favorite is Ellis Taylor, lanky Wilmington linksmen. Taylor, who was the '47 winner, has been playing in a number of events in the Philadelphia area and won the H. B. Ellis Memorial Trophy in Wildwood in early May.

The praise for the aforementioned gentlemen does not mean that they are the only two who have a chance to win. Al Dollins, balding Virginian, is a scratch handicapper and stands an excellent chance of winning. Young Billy Pie will give the boys a tough time and so will Sanky Richards, Bob Stewart, Jr., and Roland Wollaston.

Visiting players will include Jackie Rivers, runner-up, last year, and Vince Brodie, who was the medalist in last year's qualifying round.

Vacation Hints

So you're taking a vacation trip?

Every year many vacations, long anticipated and begun with glee, end in tragedy. A little thoughtlessness, a moment of recklessness . . . and then a lifetime of regret.

On vacation trips you do unaccustomed things . . . drive strange highways . . . live differently than during the rest of the year. That's half the fun of vacations. But for your own safety and the safety of others extra precautions are necessary.

The Delaware Safety Council gives you a few timely hints for your vacation:

Be sure your car is in good mechanical condition.

Don't pack your car so as to obscure your vision through the rear view mirror.

Don't overload the car, for if you do it is more likely to break down and is difficult to steer.

Speed and distance do not measure enjoyment.

Make your daily goal one that you can reach without speeding.

Stop when you become tired or drowsy . . . either for a rest or for the night.

It is not for you to judge the necessity of traffic light and speed limits in rural areas. Let your driving conform to conditions.

Obey "School . . . Slow" signs the year around. Even in the summer many schools run vacation schools . . . and children use school playgrounds almost every day in the year.

Remember that good manners make touring more pleasant . . . and safe.

Veteran's Forum

Q—My widow's pension was discontinued when I rented my home to increase my income. I now reside in my home and wish to reapply for a widow's pension. Will a reasonable rental value be counted as income?

A—No. The reasonable rental value of such property is not a factor in arriving at the amount of annual income.

Q—Will you please tell me in what order of preference the flag will be disposed of following burial of a veteran.

A—Priority is as follows: Widow or widower; children according to age, with sons having preference over daughters; father; mother; brothers or sisters; uncles or aunts; nephews or nieces; cousins; and grandparent. In-law and friends are not entitled. Except where circumstances existing at time of death prevented the issuance of a flag to drape the casket, no flag will be issued subsequent to the burial.

Douglas Earns Tie For Fourth Place In National Open

Finishes 3 Strokes Behind Sam Snead In 49-Hole Event At Chicago

By BILL ANDERSON

Dave Douglas, now playing out of Newark, Del., finished in a tie for fourth place in the 49th National Open Golf Tournament in Chicago last week-end.

Douglas, who promised that he would finish ahead of Slammin' Sam Snead, finished just three strokes behind him. Dave played consistent golf with rounds of 74-73-70-73 for a total of 290 which was good for a $500 slice of the prize money. The lanky blonde wasn't even given an outside chance by Bill Stearn, famous sports announcer who failed to mention the name of Douglas once. Stearn was broadcasting from the Medinah C. C. during the tournament.

Dr. Cary Middlecuff, Memphis dentist won the tournament with a total of 286. Snead finished one stroke behind with 287 as did Clayton Haefer, Jim Turnesa and Bobby Locke were tied for third with 288 and tied for fourth with Douglas was Buck White.

New Foreign Study Openings Available

New opportunities for study in Norway of The Netherlands during the 1949-50 school year now are available under provisions of the Fulbright Act which provides scholarships for 25 American college graduates to study in each of those countries.

Herbert H. Finch, of the University of Delaware faculty, said today he had been advised by the Institute of International Education, which administers the Fulbright scholarships, that applications for study in the two countries will be received until July 15.

The grants are limited to graduate students who wish to continue study or research in those countries. Preliminary information is available from Mr. Finch at the university in Newark. Form which he can furnish must be filed with the Institute of International Education before formal application can be made.

The opportunities for study in Norway and Holland have just been added to a list of other countries in which Fulbright scholarships can be used. These countries include China, Burma, the Philippines, Greece, New Zealand, Belgium, Luxembourg, the United Kingdom, France and Italy. Virtually all applications for 1949-50 in these countries have been exhausted, but applications for study there in 1950-51 can be made.

DO YOU KNOW—that about 18% of accidents are caused by defective automobiles?

With the average age of cars on the road now 9 years, this high rate can't be reduced unless owners keep their old cars in good condition. If your brakes grip unevenly, have them adjusted; if your lights are inadequate, have them fixed.

Investing in car repairs is an investment in your own life.

Pythians Win Again To Retain Lead In Town Softball Loop

Swamp Newark AA, 15-1, To Remain Unbeaten; Chrysler Aggies Also Win

The Pythians and the Jays stayed out in front in the community softball league race this week, the former swamping the Newark AA, 15-1, while the Jays were rained out Monday in their game with the VFW.

The Pythians thus kept their record unmarred with three triumphs in as many starts, the Jays, by virtue of their inactivity, staying at two and none.

In other matches the past week, Chrysler took over the VFW, 11-1, on Wednesday. The same evening the Newark AA and the Indians staged the thriller of the week, the former winning out 17-16 in extra innings. On Thursday, Chrysler registered its second win, downing the Indians, 8-6, while the Pythians rode over Newark AA, 15-1. Monday night's games were rained out.

In the high-scoring Indian-Newark AA fracas, the latter jumped off to an early lead but the Indians edged ahead, 15-14, in the fifth. The Aggies snatched the lead again on a single run in the sixth, and both teams scored in the seventh to tie things up again. Newark AA produced the winning run in the eighth.

First baseman Genthner, with four hits in five times up, topped the Aggie for the Indians, equaled Genthner's record for the evening.

Next Week's Schedule

June 20—Red Men vs. VFW, High School Field. Chrysler vs. Newark AA, Legion Field.

June 20—Spiders vs. Indians, High School Field. Blue Jays vs. Pythians, Legion Field.

June 23—Indians vs. VFW, High School Field. Red Men vs. Chrysler, Legion Field.

NEWARK AA TURNS BACK ANDREWS BRIDGE, 7-6, IN EXTRA INNINGS SUNDAY

Newark Knots Count In Final Session And Moves On To Win In 10th Inning Rally; Second Triumph of Year Over Andrews

After trailing throughout the game, the Newark AA knot the count in the ninth and went on to earn a 7-6 victory over Andrews Bridge in an extra inning rally here Sunday afternoon.

It was Newark's second triumph of the season over the Bridge, as well as the locals' sixth victory in eight starts and their first firm hold on second place in the Pen-Mar League.

This Sunday the home club hits the road again for a meeting with Hickory Hill.

After being held scoreless eight long innings by the 3-hit pitching of Wilson, Andrews Bridge suddenly came to life in the last half of the ninth on Sunday, pushing across four runs and one game into extra innings.

Andrews accounted for three runs in the third and added another in the fifth, sailing breezily to what seemed sure victory until the ninth.

The last-minute uprising began when Gene Schaan poked a double and Ramble quickly brought home a single. Brandle then got a home on a single by Donovan, next gained first on a slider's single, while Lynch walked, Bobby Chalmers then came through with the single scored Davis and Donovan with tying runs.

At the top of the tenth, things were dark when the visitors won two big runs on a hit and an error. But Newark proved its comeback power in the bottom half, when Gregg started things rolling with a single; and Gene Schaan, who had tied the score once more, went two out and George Schaan on a Dick Davis connected with a pinching double.

Bobby Gregg and Gene Schaan tied in sparkling fielding performance handling nineteen chances without error. Gregg also led the home two doubles in three times at bat.

Term Exams Show Tooth Decay Leading Effect In Children

Eyes, Faulty Posture, Skin
And Heart Ills Also Found
In First Graders

School health examinations of first graders who will be entering Delaware schools for the first time this year have been completed, according to the State Board of Health, and parents are reminded that they now have months remaining to have all defects found among the preschool children corrected before school begins. Although the cavities are the most common defect, it is important that they be corrected so that the child may be able to eat properly. Baby teeth are not permanent teeth, but they will change shape, and the permanent teeth do not come in until the second year of life. If the baby teeth are not properly formed, the permanent teeth will be faulty. It is important that the child have a good dental record before school begins. 4-H Short Course At Delaware State College

A two-day Short Course for Delaware Negro 4-H Club members will be held at Delaware State College, June 20 and 21, announces Mrs. Camille Jacobs, home and youth agent.

The program on Monday will include an opening session with James Powell, a 4-H member presiding; greetings from Mrs. Ruth Laws, director of home economics at Delaware State College, and Mrs. Virginia Clark, a local club leader; and group singing led by Miss Martha Evans, a club member.

A clothing demonstration will be given by Miss Adeline Hoffman, extension clothing specialist, assisted by Mrs. Lola Tuo, Mrs. Annie Coverdale and Mrs. Alphonso Evans. For the boys, Mr. George Matthews will show how to make and splice rope and make a rope halter. Miss Louise Whitcomb, extension home management specialist, will talk on "Safety First for Home and Farm," while the climax of the evening will be a candle lighting service in charge of Mrs. Mary West. On Tuesday, the 4-H members will hear several talks: by Mrs. Violet Goodwill, Kent County home demonstration agent; Miss Martha Woodfolk, oral hygienist; Samuel Gwinn, Sussex County 4-H agent; Claude Phillips, extension agronomist; and Miss Gertrude Holloway, extension nutrition specialist.

The final event of the program will be a talent show, in charge of Miss Ola Mae Giles, Miss Blanche Taylor and Miss Betty Woodall, all 4-H Club members.

Booklet On Rules For Displaying Flag

In honor of the 172nd anniversary of the Stars and Stripes, last Tuesday, and in order that more people may obtain a better knowledge of the regulations for displaying the flag of the United States, the Marine Corps Recruiting Office of Baltimore is offering a booklet entitled "How to Respect and Display Our Flag." The booklet illustrates the proper ways to display the flag, and also a history of Old Glory. For a free copy of this booklet, send a card or letter to the Marine Recruiting Office, Post Office Building, Baltimore 33, Md.

Fluorine Plan

of the public regarding the project was reported this week. Shortly after news stories appeared reporting that Council had given initial approval to the plan, the Council received several calls from residents complaining about the water and indicating they thought it already had been treated with fluorine.

Authorities stressed this week that the project is still only in the preliminary stage and no steps to install equipment or inject fluorine into the water are likely to be taken for some time. No definite action on the plan is expected until the July meeting of Council.

The committee which is now studying types of equipment includes: Dr. P. K. Musselman, dentist; Dr. M. D. Smith, chemist; Dr. Louis Kramer, chemist; Dr. A. P. Colburn, chemical engineer; Fred Stiegler, chemical engineer; and E. S. Biddle, local health board member.

Scottish Visitor

aware, she said, was not in finding things so different from home but so much alike. The contrast in customs, family routine, even farming methods, are not so great as the similarities. In fact, she sometimes finds it hard to think of America as a foreign country. Scottish farms, she pointed out, have most of the labor saving machinery common to farms here, and the homes have much the same household conveniences. One U. S. gadget she'd like to take back, though, is a deep freezer. These are not in use in Scotland yet.

On the other hand, she is not impressed by our control heating or oil burners, which are virtually unknown in Scotland. There the houses are mostly of stone with fireplaces in every room. She admits the comfort and convenience of central heating but insists she prefers the warmth and cheer of an open fire at night to a thermostat.

An important difference in farm operation is the stricter adherence to work schedules on farms in Scotland than here. Part of this is due, Miss Green said, to the fact that in Scotland farm laborers are organized into a strong, influential "Farm Servants Union," which can to some extent control the working hours of its members. Overtime is strictly accounted for, and the workers receive time and a half pay. She added that the status of farm laborers in Delaware, where she is "struck by the segregation," might be improved by the formation of a similar union.

As for farm practices and techniques, Miss Green says there is little basis for comparison between Delaware and her section of Scotland. Here the concentration is on grain and poultry, while in Aberdeen cattle raising (Aberdeen Angus) is the chief occupation. Soil erosion, insects and erratic rainfall are the major problems here, none of which are acute in Aberdeen.

Social life, especially for the women, is much the same in both places. Aberdeen housewives have their clubs and circles. Farm shows or fairs are staged regularly.

As for physical differences in the land, Miss Green is impressed with how flat the country here is compared with her hilly Scotland, and she is amazed at the attitude Americans have toward distance and travel, thinking little of week-end trips of 40 or 50 miles, which would be regarded as expeditions in Scotland.

Shopping tours, which American farmers make a big Friday or Saturday night event, are not a custom in Scotland where all shopping is done in the daytime, and there are no supermarkets or oversized drug stores.

When she returns home, Miss Green, who has been keeping a journal, will report on her trip to the Young Farmer's Association in her neighborhood.

She qualified for the trip to the United States when she won the 1948 poultry trussing contest in the Young Farmer's group and also was chosen because of a piece she wrote telling why she would like to visit this country.

SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED BY HOME CLUBS

Student From Each County Gets Award

When the University of Delaware begins the next fall term there will be three girls enrolled in home economics for whom attending college was made easier by scholarships offered by home demonstration clubs.

According to Miss Gertrude Holloway, state home demonstration leader, the three County Home Demonstration Councils have adopted the scholarship plan as a community project and have awarded scholarships to worthy girls. The idea originated in New Castle County several years ago, with two of the scholarship winners now teaching home economics in Delaware, Joan Gezell, Wilmington, is current recipient of this scholarship. The Sussex County plan has been in operation two years, and Charlotte Swanson, Milford, has just completed her first year of college as the recipient of the $300 scholarship. The Kent County home demonstration clubs have recently put their scholarship into effect. This scholarship winner, to be announced in the near future, will begin in September.

The scholarships are gifts for the two years and loans without interest for the last two years. They are awarded on the basis of need, college aptitude and qualities of leadership and general ability. The selection of the scholarship winner is made by the County Home Demonstration Council president, the dean of the School of Home Economics and the county home demonstration agent.

Col. Pendleton To Leave U. Of D. Staff

Will Retire From Army In August And Reside In Florida

Col. Randolph Tucker Pendleton, professor of military science and tactics at the University of Delaware since April, 1946, will retire from that post and from the Army on Aug. 31, it was announced today at the university. He will retire as a brigadier-general, the rank he held during the second World War.

Colonel Pendleton, a veteran of 38 years' service in the Army's Coast Artillery Corps, was assigned to Newark at the time the university was changing from its wartime quota of ASTP students to a post-war basis. Under his command, the ROTC battalion has expanded in the past three years until there were more than 500 cadets—an all-time record—in the unit during the term which just closed.

Now a resident of Paper Mill Road, near Newark, Colonel Pendleton plans to live in Florida after his retirement with Mrs. Pendleton and their son, Randolph. A daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Huger, lives at Lexington, Va.

Over 1000 Register For Summer Session

A record-breaking Summer School enrollment at the University of Delaware was reported Monday by Registrar William H. Bohning, as more than 1,000 students began preparations for classes which begin Tuesday.

Mr. Bohning said that the total registrations would be "well over 1,000," eclipsing last year's all-time record of 1006 for the first term of the summer session. The session again is being held in two terms this year, for the fourth consecutive year. There will be six weeks of concentrated study in each of the two terms. The first term will continue from today until July 22, and the second term, beginning July 25, will end Sept. 2.

Customers
Corner

Correct prices, plainly marked, are essential to good food shopping.

You can best stay within your budget when you know as you shop how much each item is costing you.

That is why we have a rule in our stores that the price of every item should be plainly and accurately marked on the item, shelf or case.

We hope you find this policy helpful; and that you will tell us if you should ever find that we have made an error.

We would appreciate any suggestions you might have for the improvement of our price marking system or anything else that will make your A&P a better place to shop. Please write:
