The Mill Creek Hundred Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, organized in 1932, held its 162nd annual meeting last week. Officers and directors were elected and yearly reports heard.

W. H. Naudain was reelected president; Robert Yearsley, secretary; Ralph I. Klair, treasurer. Directors chosen for two years were: J. W. Pennington, Mill Creek Hundred; Marc D. Way, Christiansa Hundred; Harry S. Hanby, Brandywine Hundred; and W. S. Carter, White Clay Creek Hundred.

The losses for 1954 for fire and extended coverage were $10,278.74. The damage done by hurricane Hazel increased losses in extended coverage.

A county-wide meeting was held in Harmony Grange Hall last Wednesday when grangers from all parts of the county had the opportunity to hear John B. Hervey, national grange deputy. His talk pointed out three important phases of grange work — community service, influence of national grange on legislation, and membership.

The speaker was presented by the Delaware state grange master, W. H. Naudain. For increasing membership, he emphasized an area survey and special committees in charge of this work.

John R. Butler, New Castle County Pomona master, introduced the new county deputy, Robert B. Walker, Jr., retiring master at Harmony.

During Mr. Hervey's stay here he visited Kent and Sussex counties to conduct similar sessions. He was the guest of State Master Naudain at his home at Little Baltimore.

The Waverly Club had an unusual program last Wednesday when members heard the history of paperweights and ear rings.

Exhibits There was an exhibit of old and modern paperweights. Mrs. Joseph Mitchell presented a paper on that subject, stating the earliest known paperweight was the year 1846 and Mrs. Granville Eastburn displayed one dated 1847. Another antique was a glass crimson rose pattern made in Millville, N.J., which belonged to the family of Mrs. Fred Earle.

Mrs. Eastburn read the club history and a paper on earrings. This custom of earrings started in 350 B.C. and the earliest mention of them is found in the Bible.

Wedding customs for the various countries were discussed by Miss Anne Derickson.

Next Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. the club will meet with Mrs. Harvey C. Woodward with Miss Helen Thompson, co-hostess.

The Winodausis Home Demonstration club will begin its 1955 program with a meeting and covered dish luncheon next Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Keidel on Lancaster Pike.

Y's Owl 4-H Club This club installed new officers last Thursday night and held a safety program. The leader, Mrs. Nelson Goff, installed Charles Meredith, president; Deloris Ulmer, vice-president; Barbara Gregg, secretary; Donald Gregg, treasurer.

George Parris, safety chairman, had a program on that subject. A film on fire safety was shown by Maurice Field, county leader. The club gave a donation of five dollars to the March of Dimes.

Mr. Field made a recording of this meeting which was given the 4-H Review over WDEL last Saturday.

Commendation was given the group for winning the achievement award in the state-wide contest for the third consecutive year.

Corner Ketch Jesse Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patterson, celebrated his fifth birthday anniversary last Wednesday with an afternoon party. His guests included Patricia Patterson, Carol Patterson, Gene Stoker, Ruth Ann Buckingham, Marie Sannell, and Wayne Patterson.

Mrs. Theresa Dempsey has accepted a teaching position at Stanton school. She teaches the second grade.

Harmony School George Washington Carver Day was celebrated last Wednesday with the following program: Negro spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," school; Carver's early life by Barbara Cannon; Negro song, "Camp Town Races," by B. Cannon; Sophia Springer, Shirley Davidson; Carver's plant hospital by S. Davidson; song, "Shortnin' Bread" by Sophia Springer.

Tomorrow afternoon, the school will have a variety program and on Jan. 21, there will be an original play for thrift week.

The well at the school went dry last Thursday and through the courtesy of the Mill Creek Fire Company water has been furnished. The school board and teacher appreciate the cooperation given by these volunteer firemen.

Two commercial films have been shown at the school. One on "Sterling on Your Table" was sent by Towle Silversmiths; the other, "Sugar Through the Ages" was provided by the Philadelphia Sugar Refineries.

Mark Kenyon from the State Board of Health, will show a health film at the PTA meeting next Wednesday night.

Officers Installed Harmony Grange had its installation of officers and named its new committees last week. The community service committee was authorized to purchase a wheelchair which will be loaned to anyone in the community. Picnic tables and a shelter for school children are other projects being planned for this year.

Honors have again been won by Harmony juvenile grange. The state awards have been announced.

The grange received a five dollar prize for community service.

Sallie Evans placed first in the state in the scrapbook contest on "Trees," sponsored by National Grange. She will receive a cash award of five dollars.

James Alexander won first in the soap-carving contest and his prize will be recreation equipment.

Betty Woodward was a second prize winner in the sewing contest. This is the second consecutive year Sallie has won the first place in the state.

The juveniles are sponsoring a square dance for the youth of the community the third Friday of each month.

Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church Twelve persons were received at the communion services Sunday, five on confession of faith and seven by reaffirmation and letters of transfer.

The annual congregational and cooperation meetings will be held next Monday at 7:30 p.m. The terms of S. S. Dennison, C. Warden Goss, and Kemper B. Pierson expire as elders-of Robert P. Maclary, Einar Stouland, and Horace Woodward, Edward A. Naudain, Robert W. Maclary, John V. Townsend, and Green Stephenson, trustees.

Circle Two of the Women's Association will have Miss Ruth Ball as chairman of devotions and Mrs. Harry T. Bollman as its program chairman for this year.

The church school elected its officers for the year at the annual meeting last Thursday night.

They are James Alexander, general superintendent; Carl Roehm, assistant superintendent; C. McKeely, junior secretary; C. Walker, adult superintendent; Henry L. Goss, assistant superintendent; Mrs. W. H. Naudain, adult secretary; Mrs. George Trimble, organist; Mrs. George Trimble, organist; Mrs. James Alexander, Cradle roll; Mrs. Paul E. Hitchens, nursery; Mrs. Dale Seymour, kindergarten; Esley Harlan Highfield, primary; Esley Langerak, junior; Mrs. Herbert Langerak, junior; Mrs. Harold Wivel, senior.

The school has an enrollment of 160 members.

Methodist Church The Methodist Youth Fellowship met Sunday evening with Miss Irmitz as hostess.

The group will hold a roller-skating party tonight at the Delaware Rink.

The Booster Circle will hold its January meeting tonight at the home of Mrs. Norman W. Hitchens at Little Baltimore. Last evening the Helping Hands Circle met with Mrs. R. P. Mayor.

The Mite Circle will be entertaining next Thursday evening by Mrs. George Alcorn. Mrs. Clarence Jester will have the program. Hobbies will be assisted by Mrs. Clifford Ayars, and Mrs. Lillian Waters.

The following persons were received into the membership of this church last Sunday morning: Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Neidigh, Mrs. Marvin Patterson, Mrs. Ferris H. Demsey, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Clemens, and Miss Elizabeth Clemens.

Next Sunday evening, the service will be devoted to the Bible study of the Old Testament.

Golden Anniversary Mr. and Mrs. T. Wilton Porter of Rosche, former residents of this area, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Sunday afternoon with an open house at Harmony Grange. Three of their daughters live in the hundred — Mrs. W. H. Naudain at Little Baltimore; Mrs. W. H. Narvel and Mrs. Calvin H. Ball on Limestone Road.

The couple are members of the grange and Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church.

Methodist Church To Start Mission School Activities The second annual school of missions will begin Sunday at 5:30 p.m. at the Newark Methodist Church, and will continue for three subsequent Sunday evenings. The speaker this Sunday will be the Rev. F. S. Samuel, a minister of the Orthodox Church of South India, a graduate of the General Theological Seminary in New York City, and now studying for his master's degree at New York University.

The program will begin with a covered-dish supper, and during the address separate activities for the younger children will be provided.

The school of missions is jointly sponsored by the church commission on missions, Dr. Francis B. Cramer, chairman, and the Women's Society of Christian Service, Mrs. John H. Hildreth, secretary.

At the 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday services, Dr. John J. Bunting, Jr., minister, will continue a series of three sermons on "The Church's crusade for world order" with his subject, "The Instrument of Peace."

YELLOWJACKET HIGHLIGHTS

By the Journalism Class

Student of the Week Kenny Hall, a senior, was born Feb. 10, 1936, in Newark. This is his first year at Newark High having come to us from Howard High School in Wilmington. He takes the general course, and chemistry ranks high with him.

Kenny, who is any coach's dream, plays any position in the backfield and is a linebacker on defense. He plans to go to college at one of the "Big Ten." After graduation he plans to teach physical education, but secretly hopes to play professional football.

If you call "Bunny" "Coke," "Little Mo" or "Coca-Cola," Kenny will answer. Coke stands 5-11 and weighs 185 pounds. Everyone knows his cheerful smile which is backed up by bright brown eyes. When asked what he thinks of going steady, he answered, "Great." He also likes seafood, "Eternal Love" and "Earth Angel" are his favorite songs. His hobby and favorite pastime is writing letters to Louisiana.

"Coke" is a member of the Hi-Y, Recreation Club, and the Ground Observer Corps. The thing he will remember most about Newark is being the first negro co-captain of a Newark football team.

—Floy Bullock

Student Council The NHS Student Council project for the month of January is the cafeteria, according to a recent announcement by Patricia Sen, president.

They will try to promote a cleaner and quieter cafeteria. Posters are being put up requesting the students' cooperation.

Also, Student Council is planning to have a doctor come to speak to the senior high about too many sweets and cokes.

Another project of Student Council will be Student Day on Feb. 9. —Libby Wooleyhan

New Editors Robert Sharp and Ann Parsons will serve as the new editors of the Yellow Jacket Highlights column, which appears in the Newark Post.

The journalism class which is composed of 17 juniors and seniors elected the editors on the basis of their interest in dependability, and their ability to write during the last two marking periods. One of their duties will be to list and assign news each week.

Among the new projects of the class is the interviewing of prominent members of the community, whom the students select. These interviews will be carried on in a "professional" manner and written according to the rules.

Editors who served for the first part of the year were Kathy Lanning and Carolyn Chalmers. —Carolyn Nutter

$12,000 PER WORKER

How much do you think it costs to give the average worker in American industry a job—that is, to provide the machinery, materials, working space and other needed facilities?

An authoritative survey places the figure at about $12,000 per worker—and in some industries it is many times that.

The money that provides the jobs comes mainly from two sources—industry's profits, and the savings of individuals and institutions in the forms of stocks and bonds. These buy the tools that make high employment and high wages possible.

We rightfully hear much of the importance of labor. But we should hear much more than we do of the importance of the investor.

HISTORICAL REVIEWS OF THE NEWARK AREA

By ETHEL M. HILL

Christmas Day 1886 was not a happy day when about 300 families watched the flames and smoke carry away the source of their bread and butter in the fire that took away the Dean and Pilling Woolen Mills.

Newark, a comfortable, sleepy little town had not known such a calamity. The mill remained in ruins until about 1900 when built up again by S. J. Wright as the Fibre Mill, now the National Vulcanized Fibre Company.

After the Dean Woolen Fire things were at a standstill for some time because the weavers who had been employed here were not acquainted with the work offered by the only other mill—the Curtis Paper Company.

Of course, most of them had small gardens, and chickens and pigs, which were still permitted in the town limits.

Every woman baked bread for her family. Work for the family was not easy then and had to be shared by the girls and boys. This was the time before the electric refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, and the washing machine. All this work was done by hand. If one were so fortunate as to have outside help, the kitchen chores were taken care of. If not, the children did their part.

The Aetna Company
In 1888 the men of the town—Messrs. Pilling, Dean, Curtis, Armstrong, Donnell, Lutton and Kollack decided that this town must not suffer again so they organized a fire company—Aetna—Greek word for "first"—Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company.

They secured a lot of land from the Caskey Estate on Academy Street just back of Caskey Hall, the Opera House, and across from Caskey's home, the double green stone front house where Dr. Cox now has his dental parlors on Main Street.

When the hose house was completed, built by Contractor Joseph Willis, father of baseball player Victor Willis, and by my father, the fire company decided to hold a fair to help defray the expenses of fire-fighting equipment.

The fair was held in the new hose house and all the young people of the town helped.

I was asked with the rest of the small fry to be an ice cream waitress and felt so very important when with all the grown-ups who helped I was given a boutonniere, a red carnation with smilax—a little green leafed vine then so very popular, now so seldom seen.

National Magazine Cites Dr. Perkins' Education Forecast

Business Week Supports U. of D. Head On Needs For Expanded Education

Business Week magazine cites theories of Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, in last week's issue, where "The Coming Crisis in Education" is discussed.

Pointing out that the first crop of World War II babies will come of college age in 1958, the magazine says reliable estimates indicate "as much as 100,000 more students will be provided for higher education in the next 15 years as all our colleges have built since Harvard was founded over 300 years ago."

Noting that limiting enrollments to students with the higher aptitudes would be an only partially satisfactory solution, the magazine quotes Dr. Perkins: "Of the top 10 per cent of young persons in terms of college aptitude, less than half go to college."

The magazine suggests that state legislatures grant private institutions the complete tax exemptions given public schools, and encourage unrestricted gifts from corporations to colleges.

"But these efforts represent only a beginning. As Dr. Perkins states, 'The United States desperately needs educated people in order to strengthen our country militarily, economically, morally, and in the conduct of self government.' Unless the problem of expanding our educational system is thoroughly planned and thought out, the desperate need will not be met."

Faculty Of Local Schools Presents Curriculum Report

Progress Report Offered On Cooperative Studies For Revised Curriculum

A progress report was submitted to the Newark public school faculty at a special meeting held last week, a report on the revision of the school curriculum—a project in which the entire faculty has been engaged.

Working in cooperation with the faculty, a number of parents have contributed to the efforts of the total group, according to the office of Supt. Wilmer E. Shue.

The faculty and lay group has been divided for committee purposes in seven areas: Language arts, social studies, mathematics, science, business education, guidance, and arts, which includes crafts and music. The major effort of all areas committee to date has centered on developing general aims and then specific aims.

A progress report to the entire faculty was made Tuesday by the seven area reporters on the general and specific aims of each learning area. These represented the functional aims based upon recognized needs, interests and abilities of the local school children.

The next step will be to tabulate specific aims in each grade level for each of the seven learning areas. The major step of the curriculum revision program will then consist of outlining the subject matter content for each area and for each grade level.

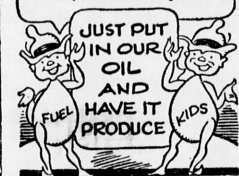

Lay participation has been and will be welcomed in this cooperative effort. It is hoped that the final result will be a functional curriculum integrated both horizontally and vertically throughout the entire district.

This is considered very important now that the district has several elementary schools and, beginning next year, with a new senior high school apart from the present junior-senior high school.

It is felt that it is extremely important that all learning in the school district should progress with similar objectives and that the subject content offered be such that all of the some 3,000 school children in the Newark district would have the same educational opportunities and receive the same learning values, the officials explained.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton
Consumer Information Specialist

Pork deserves top priority on this week's list of best buys in food. The total pig crop in the year just ended was 13% larger than in the previous year. Marketing of hogs is seasonal, and January finds pork in its period of peak supply. There will be abundant stocks of pork and pork products in Delaware retail stores this week. Prices will be very attractive, especially on pork roasts, shoulders, ham, chops and lard.

Meats and Poultry
In addition to pork, there are good values this week on young chickens for frying and broiling, stewing chickens and heavy turkeys. A few stores are featuring lamb at very reasonable prices even though wholesale price rises on lamb are expected.

Seafood
Outstanding among the many economical seafoods this week are frozen cod, halibut and haddock; canned tuna; and fresh trout, whiting, porgies and rock.

Fresh Fruits
A bumper crop of Florida oranges has pushed prices down. Tangerines and grapefruit also are at low prices during the current period of seasonal supply. Small sizes of these citrus fruits offer the best values. Look for other good fruit "buys" on apples from Delaware and nearby states. Varieties most abundant now are: Red Delicious, a desert apple; and Greenings, for cooking purposes.

Fresh Vegetables
Large supplies, good quality, and favorable prices apply to all of these vegetables this week: carrots, turnips, eggplant, sweet potatoes, Eastern crop white potatoes, onions, mushrooms, greens and lettuce.

Eggs
Low cost, nutritious eggs remain in very large supply at low prices. Large and medium eggs are priced in correct proportion and both are strongly recommended as an exceptional food value.

Dry Groceries
Don't overlook the currently low prices on these canned foods: corn, applesauce, sweet potatoes, citrus, and citrus juices. Take advantage of the bargain in rice that results from the 1954 crop being the largest on record.

Nine Boys Receive Tenderfoot Badges In New Troop 255

Nine boys were awarded Tenderfoot badges at an investiture ceremony inaugurating a new Boy Scout Troop, No. 255, at the Newark Methodist Church on Monday night.

The new troop is sponsored by the Newark Methodist Me.'s Club. Vernon Steele, chairman of the troop committee, was in charge of the ceremony, assisted by members of Newark Troop 56, directed by William McLean, assistant scoutmaster. The color guard was comprised of members of Newark Sea Scout Ship 250.

George P. McCrone, scoutmaster of the new troop presented Tenderfoot badges to nine boys—Ronald Bagdon, Jerry Blackenship, Arthur Davis, Robert Davis, William Moore, Larry Saunders, Robert Starkey, William Thompson and Charles Troy.

Assistant scoutmasters of the troop are Harry D. Williams, William Conway, and Charles M. Gibb.

State Financial Reports Provided Newark Library

Several copies of two reports containing financial data for Delaware's current meeting of the General Assembly in Dover, have been provided at the Newark Free Library by Henry H. Wolf, Republican State Representative of White Clay Creek Hundred.

Mr. Wolf, who resides at 231 Dalmian Road in Newark, and is serving his first term as assemblyman, suggests a review of these reports by those interested in state finances. "Accounting and Related Fiscal Practices in Delaware" was compiled by the Public Administration Service, and "Fiscal Affairs in Delaware" was prepared by McKinsey & Company, management consultants.

New Cafeteria Inspected By West Park Place PTA

Parent-Teacher Association members inspected the new West Park Place Elementary School's cafeteria at their meeting last week.

Mr. "Percy" Mumford is cafeteria manager. On her staff are: Mrs. John Daly, Mrs. Raymond Benson, and Mrs. H. E. Custer.

The PTA discussed ways to improve the Newark school district's position when it comes to obtaining more teachers. It also saw two pictures on mental hygiene for school children and was reminded of its campaign to obtain books for the school library.

Christiana Calling

Sylvia P. Jones, Correspondent
Phone New Castle 7413

Great enthusiasm was displayed around these parts for the brief deer-hunting season, and several animals were bagged near Christiana. One of the lucky hunters was Jake Wiggins of Appleby Road, who shot a 150-pound deer on the Oliver Lynam farm on Friday.

When the Christiana Fire Company answered a call to the Charles C. Irwin farm on the Cooch's Bridge-Newark Road late last Friday night, the women of the Auxiliary were on hand with hot coffee for the fire-fighters. The fire was already out of control when the firemen arrived and the barn was destroyed, but 15 cows were led to safety by an unidentified passer-by who was the first on the scene. The alarm was turned in to the Christiana Fire Company, which in turn called Newark's Aetna Hose, Hook, and Ladder Company and the Singery Company of Elkton. Their combined efforts kept the fire from spreading to nearby buildings. Loss was placed at $5,000, including grain stored in the barn.

The January meeting of the Christiana Fire Company is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, Jan. 18. Election of officers for 1955 will be on the docket.

Last Tuesday evening, delegates and alternates of the Christiana Ladies Auxiliary attended the county meeting of fire company auxiliaries at Holloway Terrace.

Community Square Dance
A square dance for adults of this school district will be sponsored by the Christiana-Salem PTA in the school auditorium tomorrow evening.

Music and calling will be furnished by Harry Barnes, and refreshments will be served. Mrs. C. S. Kleinbach is in charge of arrangements. Dancing will start at 8 o'clock and all interested square dancers are cordially invited to come and bring their friends.

Two substitute teachers were on deck at the Christiana School last week. Mrs. Eastburn of Tuxedo Park took over the fifth grade for Mrs. Agnes O'Neal, and Mrs. Lank of Richardson Park taught Mrs. Rose Gresham's 7-B room.

Church News
The Christiana-Salem Methodist Helpers Club will meet at 7:30 Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith.

The January meeting of the Methodist Social will take the form of a covered dish supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynch, Cooper Farms.

On January 25 the Methodist choir will sponsor a movie travelogue on Switzerland. The public is invited to the showing in the church. Proceeds will help to pay for the new organ.

Mrs. William Appleby was hostess to the Hope Circle last Tuesday afternoon. The Joy Circle met at the same time with Mrs. Harry DeWolf.

The January meeting of the Church Session will be held in the Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. next Thursday evening.

Dr. Ernest Freeman Hall, minister, invited members of the congregation to attend an important ceremony in First and Central Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, on Jan. 23 at 4 p.m., when the Rev. Dr. S. J. Venable will be formally installed as executive secretary of the New Castle Presbytery.

The Christiana Community Association met last Tuesday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Louis Thorp. Plans were made to hold the next meeting in the form of a Valentine party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olan J. Cleaver on Feb. 1.

Men In Service
Wallace W. Goff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goff, Salem Church Road, enjoyed a five-day Christmas holiday with his parents. Wallace, now stationed at Fort Carson, Colo., has been in the Army almost two years and is scheduled for discharge in May.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burge have received word that their son, Charles, expects to leave Japan for the United States between the first and tenth of March. Charles left for overseas duty on Nov. 7, 1952, and expects to be discharged upon his arrival in the States.

Of special interest to residents of Christiana was the wedding last Saturday of Miss Margaret Sharpless Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith of Chestnut Hill Estates, and Samuel Gregory Hallett, Jr., of Washington, D.C. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Everett Hallman in the First Presbyterian Church, Newark. Mrs. Hallett is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of Christiana. After a wedding trip to St. Croix Island in the Caribbean the couple will live in Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Duffy of Newark have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Rose Marie Duffy, to Mr. Edward L. Murnigh, son of Mrs. Harry Stapleton of Newark, formerly of Christiana, and the late Mr. Powell Murnigh. February 12 has been set as the wedding date.

Personals
Mrs. William Victor of Red Lion spent Tuesday of last week with Mrs. Olan Cleaver.

Miss Avis Townsend of Balton, New Castle, was the guest of Mrs. George Ware last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sentman and family visited Mr. and Mrs. John Burge on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweisford and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sweisford of Pennsburg, Pa., were New Year's Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kleinbach.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taekach, who was on the sick list last week, is much improved.

Debbie and Sharon Laws of Glasgow spent last Saturday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Olan Cleaver.

Miss Eileen Blundon of Milford, was a guest of the John Burgess' on Wednesday.

Mrs. Helen Vlasveld is recovering at her home from recent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Cleaver motored to Milford on Sunday to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burge entertained their son, daughter-in-law, and small grandson, the Paul Burge family, of Bear on Saturday evening.

News Of Bear

There will be an ecclesiastical and a congregational meeting of Pencader Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, Jan. 16, at 7 o'clock.

Friends of Miss Ethel D. Campbell express their sympathy at the loss of her sister, Miss Clara Campbell, 77, who died of a heart attack early last week at her home, 6 East 36th Street, Wilmington.

Services were held last Thursday from the McGraw Funeral Home with the Rev. George E. Sterling, pastor of Silverbrook Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Lombardy Cemetery.

She was born in Brandywine Hundred, had lived in Wilmington for the past 33 years, and attended Silverbrook church. She had been in poor health for some time.

Miss Campbell is survived by one other sister, Miss Emma M. Campbell, with whom she lived; a brother, Mr. Amos, of Brandywine Hundred; four nephews and three nieces.

Miss Bessie Davis is spending some time with her sister Mrs. Anna Harrington.

Harvey Burris was unable to spend the New Year holidays at his home as he had an attack of virus and is a patient in the Veterans Hospital at Brack-Ex.

Pencader Grange
Pencader Grange held their semi-monthly meeting on Monday evening. Master Charles Weldon named the standing committees for 1955: Hospitality — Mrs. Charles Weldon, Chairman; Audrey Laws, Amanda and Agnes Morris, Florence Brown, Elizabeth Brooks, Lucy and Jean Butler, Jeannette and Audrey Brooks; Home Economics — Audrey Brooks, chairman; Lucy Butler, and Elizabeth Brooks; Mary Ann Zecha, and Mary Jane Brooks; Membership — Melvin and Wm. T. Brooks, James L. McCormick, J. Leslie Ford; Finance — C. C. Brooks, Delbert Gooden, John Butler; Legislative — John Butler, Edward Williams, Joseph T. Laws Jr.; Resolutions — Mr. Ford, Mr. Laws, Mr. Gooden.

Agriculture — Joseph T. Laws, Jr., John Butler, Edward Williams; Rooms — W. C. Brooks, Henry Brooks, James L. McCormick; Youth — Henry W. Brooks, Jeannette Brooks, Elizabeth Brooks; Health — Mrs. James Morris; Publicity — Mrs. Delbert Gooden.

A card party was held in Grange Hall on Saturday evening for the benefit of the community service committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weldon and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brooks were named to arrange for the monthly visit to Cottage No. 3 at the Governor Bacon Health Center on Jan. 12.

Officers will be installed at the next meeting on Jan. 17, by Joseph Mitchell from Harmony Grange No. 12.

The lecturer's hour consisted of songs, readings and games. Grange members were glad to hear that their worthy lecturer, Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks, had returned from Wilmington General Hospital and was improving at her home.

The charter was draped for deceased John Kennelley.

The speaker for Feb. 7 will be Myron Milbourn of the Wilmington Security office. The meeting will be open to the public.

Mrs. Kate Lee Daugherty spent the weekend with Mrs. Mamie Palmer.

Francis Crowe, Jr., a patient of Doris Memorial Hospital, visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Francis Crowe, Sr., over the weekend.

Married
Miss Barbara Ann Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Parsons of Frankford, Del., and Pierce Earl Laws, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Laws, Sr., of St. Georges, were married at 2 o'clock, Saturday, Jan. 8, in St. Georges Methodist Church by Rev. Hamilton in a double ring ceremony.

Mr. Parsons gave his daughter in marriage. Her maid of honor was Miss Helen Parks of Wilmington. Bridesmaids were Miss Janet Laws, sister of the groom, and Miss Joanne McKeown of Elkton.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids, as well as the bride, are all graduates of Delaware Hospital's school of nursing.

Best man was Robert Laws of Christiana, brother of the groom. Ushers were John Tobin and Wallace David of St. Georges.

Vocalist was Miss Nancy Shupe who sang "I Love You Truly," and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Morrow of Delaware City.

The bride wore a ballerina length white nylon net over lace bouffant gown with a tulle lace bodice with fingertip veil. She carried a prayer book with white orchids.

The maid of honor wore a red nylon taffeta ballerina-length gown trimmed in dark red velvet with matching red satin slippers and carried nosegay of red chrysanthemums and the bridesmaids were dressed alike, wearing bronze nylon taffeta ballerina length gowns.

trimmed in a darker velvet and matching bronze slippers and carried nosegays of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Parsons, mother of the bride wore a dress of fuchsia with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Laws, mother of the groom, wore a dress of flowered pearl gray with rose accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The Wright Club met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Press on old Post Road on Monday evening.

When you want to Go
-You're gonna Go!

No ifs, ands or buts about it.

When you give the gun to a 1955 Buick with Dynaflo Drive,* you move.

In the instant you push down the pedal, you get the action you've called for—immediate getaway from a standing start, or immediate safety-surge out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's not magic, this thrilling and pulse-quickening response—though it feels like the closest thing to it.

It's a principle of the modern airplane, brought for the first time to an automotive transmission.

Twenty "variable pitch propellers" inside the Dynaflo unit itself can change their angle—like the propeller of the airliner can change its pitch from take-off position to cruising position.

And what this brings to you—at the wheel of a 1955 Buick—is the nearest thing to flight on wheels. Far better gas mileage in your normal driving and cruising. Spectacular new response when you want it for extra quick getaway or emergency acceleration.

But all this, mind you, with the absolute smoothness that is constant in Dynaflo Drive.

Surely, a demonstration of Variable Pitch Dynaflo is a Buick must this year. We'll be happy to do the honors—and show you, in the doing, what a whale of a buy you make here. Drop in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year
is Buick

Yellowjackets Lose At Conrad After Stopping Brown, 58-40

Ray Klapinsky Paces Newark Scoring In Both Contests With 15, 19 Points; Foul Shots, 5-Point Second Period Offset 'Yellowjackets' Scoring Supremacy In Final Half

Five slim points in the second period, and some futile firing from the foul line in the second half when the Yellowjackets outscored their opponents from the playing floor, resulted in a 58-40 defeat for Coach Harry Squatrito's cagers, at Conrad on Tuesday night—their second loss in a balanced, two-win season to date. But last Friday night, as hosts for the Brown Vocational Bears, Newark walloped their guests, 58-40.

Trailing by half a field goal at the end of the first quarter on Conrad's floor, the Yellowjackets lost the range in the second period as the Redskins piled up 17 points to Newark's five for a 13-point half-time advantage that paid off despite the Jackets' scoring superiority in the third and final quarters.

Klapinsky, High Man
Forward Ray Klapinsky collected high scoring honors for Newark with seven field goals and one successful foul shot for 15 points, while Guard Joe Lehman checked in with three for 11 points. Captain Bill Hiddleston came through with 10 points, all scored from the competitive field.

Newark was but one point off the Conrad pace in the total score via the free throw route, but the Yellowjackets had plenty of uncontested chances.

"Poor foul shooting toward the end of the game was one of the main factors in our defeat," Coach Squatrito said yesterday. "We outscored them from the floor in the second half, and things could have ended more happily for us."

In the third period Newark outscored the Redskins, 14-10, and outpointed Conrad in the final quarter, 15-13.

Lee Schaffer contributed three field goals; Bobby Downes converted three free throws; Burt Chase, one; and Jim Martin at guard sank a field goal to round out the Newark scoring.

The Brown Win
Friday night, on their home court, the Yellowjackets gave the Brown Bears a bad evening by sending the Vocational cagers back to Wilmington on the short end of a 58-40 count.

Again Klapinsky led the scoring with 19 points—nine field goals, two foul shots, and a free pass—while Center Ed Chase connected for 10 points.

Captain Hiddleston was sick in bed at home and Burt Chase was out of action with an ankle injury, but it just wasn't Brown's night.

Fred Catts led the Bruins, with 14 points in a losing cause.

Yellowjacket Jim Martin scored nine points; Joe Lehman and Lee Schaffer, eight apiece, and Bob Downes contributed a pair of field goals for the victory.

With a 2-2 tie, Newark will play away this Friday night at Archmere, and on Tuesday night, the Yellowjackets travel to Elkton for a 7 o'clock starting date.

Little All America Miller's Services Sought By Pro 11's

National League Teams Seek Miller, Apostolico, Redfield And Butcher

Don Miller has received "feelers" from every team in the National Football League.

Delaware's Little All-America quarterback said the questionnaires death largely with whether he was interested in playing pro-football, and his military status.

Miller replied that he definitely hasn't made up his mind. He said he'll become eligible for the military draft as soon as he graduates next spring.

Although the ball-handling and passing star of Delaware's Refractor Bowl champions weighs only 165 pounds, he does not view his size as a handicap to any pro career.

Miller pointed out today that "those pros give the quarterback worlds of protection."

Miller and End Tom Redfield are believed to be receiving serious consideration from the Philadelphia Eagles. Redfield also has received a number of other NFL contacts.

End Marty Apostolico and Tackle Steve Butcher have been queried by both the Cleveland Browns and Chicago Cardinals. Redfield and Butcher are slated to be commissioned second lieutenants in the Army shortly after graduation.

Blam!
Jeff flashed an astonished, gladdened look at the great buck—slowly moved that 12-gauge automatic into line, clamped it in position with a rock-firm grip—and squeezed the trigger.

There came the thunder of the shot—the buck shifted into overdrive—and from there on out, things became a bit confused.

We vaguely remember the deer dashing down the slope, into the ravine, away and diagonally across from us. And in making a dive in the same general direction, our groundlings, we with knee-high grass, for a second shot. Rather than touch off a blast close to his partner's headpiece, he held his fire, and both of us stood shaken as the buck flashed out of sight in the thicket.

Missed
"Well I'll be dad-jimmied," Mr. Cadle whispered huskily. "Missed him? You had it right on him. You couldn't have missed him. He's dead as a post, right up there in that thicket," his partner objected with increasing certainty.

"Come on, Skip, we'll find him." The ravine, some 50 yards in depth, and extended several hundred yards beyond us in the direction taken by the vanished buck, to rise and merge with a rough, fenced pasture sparsely covered with knee-high golden grass. To the left was a thick hedgerow overgrowing several stands of barbed wire—some quarter of a mile dead ahead was the farm-house—and to the right, the pastureland sloped down into the Thousand Acres Marsh.

No Deer
There was no deer in the ravine, no deer in the tangled hedgerow, and no deer bounding or otherwise on the fields. The big buck had disappeared.

Making our way back to the empty, red shotgun shell lying on the brown leaves where the action began, we looked across the hollow at that big empty space on the trail where the buck had been, and attempted to reconstruct what had happened and just where.

There in a little clearing where the sprayed hoofprints and churned turf where the deer had made his big move at the shot, and from there the trail was anybody's guess. There was no sign of blood, no trace of the slug's passage—and no deer.

Dick Ware appeared to listen incredulously to our story, and then, believing, but still understandably puzzled, asked: "What happened, Jeff?"

"I missed him," Mr. Cadle said simply.

How It Began
But to begin at the beginning, seven of us set out before dawn after mapping some sketchy strategy, with Axel and sons Junior and Jackie Anderson deploying to the south; Dick and Jeff, to the southwest; while with DeWitt Rice, we headed northeast, to swing back through a stand of woods and into

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

On Christmas Day back in 1927, a small bundle was delivered to the home of a carpenter named Fox in St. Thomas, Pa. The Christmas bundle was a baby boy, who was given the name of Jacob Nelson Fox. He was tiny then, and he never did get to be a man of big stature. But—he became big in spirit. Jacob Nelson Fox is, of course, Nellie Fox, the nepperpot second baseman of the Chicago White Sox.

With each passing year, athletes seem to keep getting bigger and stronger. There's a demand for human skyscrapers in basketball, for human tanks in football. But, there's still room for the good little man in sports. That was demonstrated when 127-pound Bob Toski won the World tournament.

O'Shanter last summer. And it was demonstrated in the All-Star Game in Cleveland when pint-sized Nellie Fox hit the blow that decided the 11 to 9 contest for the American League.

"Little Poison"
The late Umpire Bill Klem once called Paul Waner the greatest ball player, pound for pound, that ever lived. While Fox can't match Waner's hitting feats, he still may be acclaimed the greatest player, pound for pound, who is now active in the game. Fox stands five feet, eight inches, and his weight generally is estimated at about 155 pounds.

Fox has been one of the key figures in the rise of the White Sox since the team's pennant contenders, along with Minnie Minoso and Chico Carrasquel. But in the spring of 1951 it was doubtful whether he would even make the team. Manager Paul Richards said that in spring training that year he thought Fox was hopeless. He couldn't hit, and looked awful trying to pivot on a double play.

Development
But Richards went to work on him, and so did Coach Burnham and Coach Jimmy Adair. They found that he had never had a more willing student. Fox learned to hit to all fields, and also learned to bunt. And that year he hit for an average of .313. In 1952, he led the league in hits with 192. He dropped back to 178 in 1953, but then last summer tied Harvey Kuenn of the Tigers with 201. His 1954 batting average was .319, third highest in the league. He's generally regarded now as the top bunter in the league, with Phil Rizzuto fading out of the picture.

Trickster
Fox also mastered some of the tricks of second basing. He got the knack of double play, he got the knack of hitting the bag with his right foot and avoiding the slide of the incoming runner. As his manager, Marty Marion, said, "Everything considered, I don't believe there's a better second baseman in the league. He may fall to make some of the tougher double plays where an extra strong arm is required, but he makes up for it elsewhere."

The Start
Nellie started playing baseball as a grammar school boy in his home town in St. Thomas, Pa. At 16, he went to a camp of the Philadelphia Athletics at Frederick, Md., for a tryout. The A's liked him well enough to give him a tryout at Lancaster in 1944.

After that, with time out for service in Korea, he stayed in the minors until 1949 when he got into 88 games at second base for the Athletics after Pete Suder got hurt. It was then that White Sox General Manager Frank Lane saw him. After the several hundred deals Lane has made, he'll never make a better one.

Former American League Umpire Red Jones was assigned to the Detroit club one spring and in an exhibition with the Yankees, Jones asked Bobby Brown, the Yanks' third baseman, "What are you going to specialize in after you graduate from Medical School?"

"Vivisection of umpires," answered Brown.

"Come on down here, Skip," he invited, and as he joined us, we pried some frozen fingers from around the twin barrels of the shotgun and set it aside, just out of reach.

And that's where you came in. The next day—Saturday—17-year-old Junior and 14-year-old Jackie Anderson each killed their deer on that same farm.

It was Jack's first—and his first shot did the business. For Junior, it was no novelty. He collected his first deer last year.

But we can still see that great buck with a tremendous rack tucked down along that trail like a cat in the early morning light—a splendid trophy anywhere—in Delaware!

Delaware Matmen Defeated By Cavaliers Of Virginia

Coach Whitey Burnham's Blue Hen wrestlers lost a 17-9 decision at the home of the Cavaliers from Virginia last Saturday.

Delaware's Captain Dale Boyd dropped the opener to Virginia's Colin Steel by an 8-5 decision, but the Hens' hopes soared when Bill Bauer, Ed White, and Harold Ladd won nods over their opponents in the 130, 137, and 147 pound classes.

The Cavaliers came on, however, to win the next four events as Baker, White and Nickle lost decisions in the next three weights, and Tom Oves, Delaware heavyweight, was pinned in 3:42 during the final bout.

Hen Soccer Player Earns All-America Team Recognition

Iron Man McLaughlin Honored In Selection By Coaches Association

Soccer player John McLaughlin, University of Delaware iron man from Chester, has been selected honorable mention All America. The selection was announced today by A. Huntley Parker, chairman of the All-American soccer committee.

The 27-year-old outside left is the only Blue Hen player selected in the 1954 team, compiled by the National Soccer Coaches Association.

McLaughlin previously received honorable mention All-Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. He is the only athlete in Delaware's history to receive All-America selection in soccer for two years. In addition to this honor, he has been chosen on the first team.

The Argentina-raised McLaughlin has connected for 14 goals for the Blue Hens, an all-time high in career scoring, and also established a record for continuous performance—playing in 26 consecutive games and missing only four minutes of Delaware soccer in three complete seasons. The four-minute gap came when the Hen star was injured in the final game of the 1954 campaign.

McLaughlin, who will receive a bachelor's degree in engineering in June, commutes daily from Chester, Pa. In commenting on the Delaware team, Coach Whitey Burnham remarked, "McLaughlin is one of the most outstanding men I've ever had the pleasure of coaching."

Temple and Penn State head the list of star-studded teams in this area, each having two first team All-America selections and one second team choice. Ursinus and Pennsylvania have one player who received a second team All-America berth.

Blue Chicks Stop Drexel, Lose To Ursinus Freshmen

Delaware's freshmen cagers, under the direction of Coach Bob Siemen, evened the season's record at 2-2 with a 68-41 victory over the Drexel frosh at home last Saturday night in a preliminary to the varsity joust. Paul Flood, 6-1 forward, starred for the Blue Chicks with 20 points against the Ursinus Dragons.

But despite Don Hutton's big 26 points at Collegeville, the Delaware freshmen dropped their third test of the year as Ursinus' yearlings romped off with an 89-78 victory on Monday.

REPEATERS
The major leagues have had a total of 189 team managers since the beginning of the century. Of his total, 60 have managed more than one club. Bucky Harris and Rogers Hornsby managed the most major league clubs—five each. Men who managed four clubs are Donie Bush, Pat Donovan, Hugh Duffy, Clark Griffith, Bill McKechnie and Steve O'Neill.

Yellowjacket JV's Edged By Redskins In 43-41 Contest

Brayman's Cagers Topped By Brown; Bobby Conway, Neils Ludlow, Top Shots

The Yellowjacket Jayvees dropped a pair of decisions in their last appearances—a 38-27 shocker at home with Brown's junior varsity last Friday night, and a near thing to Conrad's jayvees at Woodcrest by a 43-41 score on Tuesday.

Bob Conway capped high-scoring honors in the Conrad test for Coach Al Brayman's Newark squad, connecting for six field goals and four free throws, for an impressive 16-point total.

Ted Boutin, with seven points; John Heitzenroder, Neils Ludlow, and Lou Scarborough with five each; and Fred Gainer, with a field goal and a foul shot, all contributed to the Newark scoring.

Trailing 12-7 at the end of the first quarter, the Newark Jayvees came back to top Conrad 12-10 in the second period; matched the junior Redskins with 12 points in the third quarter; and topped them 10-9 in the final session. But that 5-point-off-the-pace first period proved to be too much handicap.

In the Brown game, Ludlow checked in with the high six point performance for Brayman, with Gainer and Scarborough on deck with four each.

Borchardt, Boutin, Gregor, and Fields contributed one point apiece.

Delaware Athletes Face Full Weekend Schedule Of Sport

Hen Cagers Play At PMC, Mermen, Wrestlers Home With Villanova, Garnet

Weekend sports at the University of Delaware feature the wrestling and swimming teams in home events with Swarthmore and Villanova, while the basketball squad journeys to PMC at Chester.

The Blue Hen wrestlers, off to a slow start in the 1954-55 campaign, enter Friday night's match as slight favorites. Delaware has edged Swarthmore in six of nine wrestling engagements in the past, winning the last four. The wrestlers will perform on Friday evening at 7:30 in Carpenter's field house.

Coach Harry Rawstrom's swimming team, Middle Atlantic title holders, meet the Wildcats from Villanova at Taylor Pool in Newark at 2 p.m. Saturday, for the first time in 13 years. The two schools have matched swimmers only five times, the last time in 1942, when the Main Line squad splashed to a 51-24 win.

Delaware swimming power has increased since then, and the Hens may dunk the Cats.

Delaware's courtmen will test the Cadet strength in a southern diving conference encounter. The fourth league game of the season for Delaware, this will be the first of two games with PMC.

"The way some women pack for a trip, the only thing they leave behind is a note for the milkman," —Sunny Gale.

Hens Rebound to Stop Ursinus After Drexel Loss In Open

Delaware Cagers Defeat Bruins, 88-81, For First In MAC Conference Play After Dropping 88-70 Opener To Dragons; Messick, Kelleher Top Local Scorers

Three points off the pace at the half, Delaware lost first conference game of the season at home on Saturday night to the defending MAC champion Drexel Dragons, a score of 88-70. Unshaken by this unfortunate initial posture, Coach Wisniewski's Whiz Kids came bounding back at Collegeville on Monday evening and upset Ursinus, 88-70, for an even split in Middle Atlantic Conference competition.

Trailing by 13 points at the half, Delaware scored on 21 of 33 shots in the third and fourth periods, knocking off the Bruins in a 21-10 rout.

Co-captain Pete Kelleher topped the Hens with 20 points as he led the team to victory. The second half, however, was early going, but Ursinus' shooting brother Art Ralph Schumacher, with 20 points, was over, Delaware was well on its way to a 21-10 victory.

Lehigh Sinks Hen Varsity, Freshmen Swimmers In Meet

The visiting Lehighs sank the sea-going Hens—both varsity and freshman—in a swimming meet in Newark's Taylor Pool last Saturday by respective scores of 50-27 and 69-15.

Delaware took one first place in Wagner's 200 yard breaststroke in a time of 2:42—and Coach Harry Rawstrom's swimmers encountered some tough going in the splash and spray during the other events.

Wagner and Walker finished second and third in the 200 yard freestyle race; Apostolico was second in the 150 yard medley.

Ryder gained a second place spot from the diving boards; Brubaker and Apostolico were two and three in the 100 yard freestyle dash; and Stewart placed second in the freestyle 200.

McDaniel was third in Delaware's win with Wagner, and Walker swam to third over the long, tough 400 freestyle course.

Susan and Virginia Furness were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Deck, Eastburn Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Capitol Trail, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Story, Garfield Park, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Furness, Elsie and Peter Jr., attended the wedding of Helene Byers and Henry Ernest Heap, last Saturday, at the Church of Our Lady of Good Council, Staten Island. They left on Friday and spent the weekend visiting Mrs. Furness' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Winter.

The new executive committee of the Mill Creek Hundred Sunday School Association will meet with President George Brown on Sunday at Codars Methodist Church, at 2:15 p. m.

Representatives of the nine associated churches in the hundred will report on action taken by the churches on the proposed constitution.

Medill Elementary School

Elwood Bittenbender, principal, reports that everything has settled down to the usual routine at school after the holiday period.

An important meeting of the PTA was held Wednesday in the form of a workshop when parents and teachers discussed problems and means of solving them.

Miss Beyerlein's first grade is studying pets. They plan to make a movie and class books. They are discussing how animals live in winter.

Mrs. Sickman's second grade is studying a unit on community helpers. In science they are studying about the weather. Many of the children have written original stories about the Christmas holidays.

Miss Beck's second grade reports that Eddy Fiscal took a trip to Washington for a week's visit with his grandmother, Michael Zubowicz and Frederick Williams spent a day in Oxford visiting his grandmother. John Eastburn took a two-day trip to Atlantic City to visit his aunt and uncle.

Indian Study

Mrs. Arnold's second grade children are bringing in head dresses and Indian suits in connection with the study of American Indians. Each will make a totem pole. They have made pottery and painted it and wrote thank-you notes to home-room mothers for their help with the Christmas party.

Miss Johnston's fourth grade pupils are preparing for a penmanship contest and they are launching a good-citizenship contest by teams—the Indians, Slave-Drivers, Sweeties and Angels.

Mrs. Rasmussen's fourth grade is preparing a play on Egypt, entitled "Quiet Flows the Nile" to be presented Jan. 19. They are also preparing a snow scene for the show case.

Mrs. Able's fifth grade reports that James Johnston went to Ohio to visit relatives. Bonnie Stevenson visited her family in Connecticut and Florence Morgenstein went to see her family in Baltimore. The class wishes a speedy recovery for Don Simons who is in the hospital for a tonsil operation. Twins, Teddy and Eddy Moore have been transferred to the Central school. A new pupil, Barbara Rampolo, has been added to the class.

Gift Horse

In Mrs. Koellig's sixth grade, Martin Whitman reports that he and his brother received a real horse for Christmas. His name is "Jingles." Jean Arnold has a pet parakeet, a Christmas present, and several in the class are using their Christmas money to send for books.

Miss Masor's sixth grade gave ten dollars to the needy families in Wilmington. In social studies they are comparing the growth of the nation with the growth of Newark.

Mrs. Hubner's sixth grade is having a project on South America. They are also preparing to study about Benjamin Franklin.

White Clay Creek
Presbyterian Church

Officers of the various organizations of White Clay Creek Church for 1955 were installed in a consecration service in the 11 a. m. service last Sunday.

Westminster Fellowship: President Audrey Butterworth; Vice-president Edith Anderson; Secretary Connie Cochran; Treasurer Carl Butterworth.

White Clay Fellowship: President Paul Feuch; Vice-president Florence Reed; Secretary Jane Hammell; Treasurer Elizabeth Brown.

Improvement Society: President Mrs. Alice Hammell; Vice-president Elmer Gallaher; Secretary Mrs. John Murray; Treasurer Miss Eleanor Murray.

Afternoon Circle: President Mrs. Atwood Johnston; Vice-president Mrs. Harvey Ball; Secretary Mrs. Andrew Lindell; Treasurer Mrs. James Bishop.

Evening Circle: President Mrs. Peter Furness; Vice-president Mrs. Michael Timko; Secretary Mrs. John Trivitt; Treasurer Mrs. Alfred Deck.

Westminster Fellowship

Members of the Westminster Fellowship with their families enjoyed a covered-dish supper at church last Sunday. The supper and program were under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Davis. Janet Goff presided for the worship period; Scripture was read by Edith Anderson; Eddie Springer led in prayer and the pianist was Mrs. Lewis Springer.

A film-strip entitled "Is Your Home Fun?" was shown by the Rev. Bishop. Tommy Davis was moderator.

Next week the group will meet at church at 6:30 p. m. to plan for the annual youth service on the last Sunday in January. Carol Finger will be hostess for the social period.

White Clay Fellowship

At the January meeting of the White Clay Fellowship held last week it was voted to begin on the last Sunday in January, Carol Finger will be hostess for the social period.

Mr. Butterworth exhibited an 18-year-old bird which has won top honors for him in the past. He specializes in the training of birds and described the careful preparations which are made for transporting the birds for a race, releasing, and timing them. Both speakers emphasized the fact that they race their birds purely as a hobby.

Mr. Stanley is president and Mr. Butterworth, vice-president of the Wilmington Homing Pigeon Club.

Naval Commander Urges Volunteer Enlistment Drive

Newark Recruiting Office Open Thursdays At Aetna Fire House From 9 to 4

The Navy's need for volunteer enlistments is immediate and acute, Commander Charles W. Cushman, officer in charge of the Philadelphia Navy recruiting district, disclosed at a press conference. He emphasized that the recently announced Defense Department manpower cut-back proposal applies primarily to the other Armed Forces.

The severity of the Navy's problem can be best understood through the following figures, Commander Cushman continued. Prior to the Korean crisis the size of the Navy was approximately 350,000 men. During this conflict, its size was more than doubled, as were its commitments and world-wide responsibilities. During the past year, the Navy has reduced to its authorized strength, approximately 600,000 men. However, its commitments have not been correspondingly reduced.

The Navy's recruiting office in Newark is open each Thursday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company firehouse, under the direction of John D. Peters, boilerman 1/c.

with headquarters in Marshallton. The president has helped about 15 boys launch out on the hobby, which he states is a good method of combatting juvenile delinquency.

Evening Circle

The Evening Circle of the Women's Association will meet at the home of Mrs. Peter Furness on Tuesday at 8 p. m. Worship will be led by Mrs. Lewis Springer and the program will be in charge of Mrs. David Anderson, Jr.

The annual meeting of the congregation of White Clay Creek Church will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 19, preceded by a covered-dish supper, at 6:30 p. m.

The committee planning the supper is made up of one representative from each organization of the church. Each family will bring complete table service, plus a covered-dish. Coffee, butter, rolls and dessert will be supplied by the committee.

In the business meeting a number of important matters will be considered. The trustees, who serve as the church corporation, will report. Elders and trustees whose terms expire, will be elected. Nominations may be mailed to the clerk of the session, Ralph Lindell.

Cooch's Bridge and Glasgow

Mildred Ludwig, Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stone and daughter Wendy have returned home after a trip to DeWitt, Ia., and West Concord, Minn.

The Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club met last Thursday at Ott's Chapel and installed the following officers for the year: President Mrs. Stephen Kucharsky; Vice-president Mrs. Stephen Williams; Secretary Mrs. Edward Crowe; and Treasurer Mrs. Anna Bierlin. A talk and demonstration on "Easier Ironing" was given. Mrs. Bierlin will fete the club at the next meeting, which falls on her birthday.

Construction on the new church building of the Old Apostolic Lutheran congregation on Ott's Chapel Road is progressing slowly due to the inclement weather. Pastor Granger attended a Christmas meeting of the denomination in Detroit.

Sunday School Awards

Twenty-seven pupils of the Glasgow M. E. Church Sunday School received their second year perfect attendance pins. Eight other children received attendance bars, and six students received honorable mentions.

The Salem M. E. Church young people met tonight at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Steimal of Ogletown have a new daughter, Martha Jane, born Dec. 30 at the Memorial Hospital, weighing 4 lbs., 1 1/2 oz.

Young Jimmy Perolas is home from the hospital, but is allowed no visitors.

Things To Come Dept.: Rumors are heard of a new recreation site to be built in Pencader Hundred. The Wiltom Club met last night for the election of officers, followed by a social hour.

At the recent board of directors meeting of the Pencader 4-H club, Earl Leasure, Sr., was elected to replace retiring Mrs. Emma Smith and George Loeb replaces Mrs. Marjorie Brown Truitt. Mrs. Myrna McElwee, leader, continues as a member ex-officio.

Mrs. McElwee will begin cooking
