NEWARK, DELAWARE, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1926

NUMBER 42

State Deluged By Furious Storm

Prevental Downpour, Driven By High Wind, Causes No Serious Local Damage

Yesterday the whole state of Delaware and surrounding country was deluged by a furious storm which started early in the morning and continued with but short respites till early evening. There was no serious damage reported in Newark, though some branches were torn from trees along the roads and several electric light poles were partially blown over. The most serious damage was to the Delaware river, where shipwreck was tied up, boats, barges and a driver broke loose and river construction was damaged.

Transportation on the railroads was held up in various parts of the state due to the heavy fall of water deluging the tracks.

The local telephone office reported telephone lines out of commission, setting 35 phones. This damage was soon repaired.

In Wilmington, store windows were blown and several people injured by glass being blown against persons.

Seaford suffered three fires as a result of the storm. It is estimated that over 3 inches of water fell during the downpour.

Ag. Club Host To Students Saturday

Guests Will See Game And Contest For Gold Watch

This Saturday, the Agricultural Club of the University of Delaware will be host to high school agricultural students from all over the state. About 200 scholars from 10 schools have accepted the invitation and will arrive with their teachers, at the University Farm at 10.30 a. m. The object which the Agricultural Club had in inviting the agricultural school students to spend the day at the University, is to familiarize the boys in the state, interested in agriculture, with the work that the Agricultural College and Experimental Farm is doing. An interesting and instructive program, which will include some of the outstanding achievements of the Experimental Farm has been prepared.

After luncheon the boys will be taken to the Delaware-Haverford football game. Each boy will be given a contest for the Elgin watch, which has been donated by Millard F. Davis, of Wilmington, for the best one thousand word essay on the topic, "What I Learned on My Visit to the Delaware Agricultural Experimental Station."

The following high schools will be represented by agricultural students: Seaford, Middletown, Newark, Greenwood, Bridgeville, du Pont, Laurel, Wilmington, Caesar Rodney and Millersville.

The agricultural teachers from the high schools which will be represented are as follows:

D. F. Long, du Pont School; Thomas Malin, Newark High School; E. P. Angel, Middletown High School; Stanley Woodhead, Laurel High School; R. Snyder, Seaford High School; George Butler, Caesar Rodney High School; Millard Fitzgerald, Haverford High School; James Hahn, Milton High School; Lyle Mowlds, Bridgeville High School; A. O. Humphreys, Greenwood High School.

"Biff" Hopkins Making Good

Another former Newark High School star, is making football history for other parts. Marion "Biff" Hopkins, playing fullback for Rutgers, is causing a lot of interested attention in that part of Jersey. "Biff" is put on some good solid beef since he has been solid enough to stop the Rutgers football mentors, where he entered next fall. "Biff" is one of the likeliest back field candidates they have scouted.

John Shilling at High School

This morning, at High School assembly, Mr. John Shilling, Assistant Commissioner of High Schools in Delaware, delivered a short but interesting address. He emphasized the fact that the community has the right to expect better things from the boys and girls in view of the excellent facilities provided today, compared with ten years ago. He closed by saying that each member of the school should make a very definite contribution each day toward making the schools better.

Mr. Shilling has been Assistant Commissioner of High Schools for eight years, and during that time has rendered invaluable service in raising the standards of curricula, class room instruction and professional solidarity in the schools.

State Conference For Highway Safety

Delegates Adopt Four Outstanding Recommendations

Four outstanding recommendations were adopted at Governor Robinson's Conference for Street and Highway Safety, held at the Opera House, Dover, last Friday, and attended by over 900 citizens.

The conference was held for the purpose of securing legislated laws that will make for greater safety on State streets and highways and Governor Robinson was asked to continue the existence of the Advisory Committee, the Legislative Committee and the Personal Relations Committee until the recommendations adopted were either successfully given place on the statutes or abandoned.

The four most important recommendations were:

1. That a compulsory jail sentence and revocation of license be imposed for first offense while driving intoxicated.

2. That the present law which establishes 35 miles an hour as the limit for safe and careful driving on open roads be revised to allow an increase of 5 miles an hour.

3. That a minimum speed for certain times on particular sections of the main highways be established. (For the minimum speed, it was suggested that 20 miles be set but the conference, in adopting this recommendation did not include any figures.)

4. That all freight trucks and passenger buses be compelled to carry a relief driver.

Among the delegates at the conference were: Edward W. Cooch, Cooch's Bridge; H. E. B. Frazer, Newark; Dr. George A. Harter, U. of D.; Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president, U. of D.; W. Snyder, Newark; Ira S. Brinser, Supt. Schools, Newark.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE RECEIVES GIFTS

Dean Robinson announced at the Founders' Day exercises last Saturday some generous gifts that have recently been made to Women's College. Mrs. A. D. Warner has had the furniture in the Warner Room refinished and has given new rugs and draperies for the room. Miss Alice P. Smythe, who, with Miss Mary Mather, originally furnished the Browning Room, as did Mrs. Warner the Warner Room, has had the furniture in that room refinished. The furniture and decorations for the large and small rooms and hall in the basement, formerly used as dining-rooms, have been the gift of Mrs. William P. Bancroft, Mrs. Henry P. Scott, Mrs. A. D. Warner and H. Rodney Sharp, and has amounted to two thousand dollars. These rooms will be used as a social center for the members of the faculty, who have heretofore never had any common meeting room for leisure hours.

EQUITABLE LIFE TO SEE DELAWARE-HAVERFORD GAME

The force of the Wilmington office, Equitable Life Insurance Company of Washington, D. C., 35 strong, will attend the Delaware-Haverford game in a body on Saturday. The group includes a number of Delaware Alumni. Huey Morris, who, besides being one of the Equitable staff, is distinguished as being the father of one of the best high school quarterbacks in this part of the country, will head the delegation.

Loaded Cartridge Explodes In Class

Appears In Belt At R. O. T. C. Machine Gun Class; Precautions Prevent Any Injury

The explosion of a loaded cartridge in a belt fitted with dummies at a machine gun demonstration before a class of 20 students at the University, Friday morning, furnished a lively mystery for the R. O. T. C. authorities. So far there has been found no clue as to where the live shell came from.

Major Arthur Underwood, U. S. A., commandant of the R. O. T. C., stated that Captain K. S. Whittemore, U. S. A., had made a report to him of the occurrence. Captain Whittemore is one of the instructors in the Military Department and had the class at the time the cartridge was fired, making a slight dent in the wall. Major Underwood said that Captain Whittemore had made a personal inspection of all the cartridges in the belts and had run them through the gun before this particular class reported. He went to his office and between that time and when he returned to the class room, a few minutes, the loaded cartridge somehow found its way into the belt.

Major Underwood explained that the loaded shell, on examination, was found to be what is known as a "guard cartridge," a type used for guard duty in congested centers, and loaded with a much lighter charge of powder than the regular field ammunition. The fact that the dummy cartridges used in the drills have bullets in the ends, so they will run through the gun, made it almost impossible to detect the substitution. He said, that the University R. O. T. C. has never had a "guard cartridge" in its stores or on its books and where this one could have come from is something no one can understand.

The fact that the class got off with nothing more than a scare is due to the vigilance and precautions of the officers commanding. No student is ever allowed to stand in front of a gun when it is firing in practice.

Brinser And Wilson Active At Convention

Newark Schools Make Fine Showing At Dover

At the Delaware Education Convention, held at Dover Thursday and Friday last week, the Newark schools made an excellent showing with their educational exhibits, and two of the staff participated actively in the program.

The educational exhibits sent down by the various classes of the Newark school system were unofficially voted to be the most complete and interesting on exhibition. Their entries in the Health Poster Contest are conceded to have a very good chance of winning. The awards will be announced next week.

Miss Harriet Wilson, teaching grade 3 at the local school, gave an address on teaching poetry in primary schools, and also taught a demonstration from "Land of Story Books" by Robert Louis Stevenson.

Prof. Ira S. Brinser, superintendent of the Newark schools, besides being chosen as a delegate to the National Education Convention to be held in Seattle, next July, was reappointed chairman of the Committee on Professional Ethics, and the committee will continue its investigation in that field. The report of the committee was presented by Prof. Brinser at the Business Meeting and principles of the code drawn were accepted.

Prof. Brinser, in his report, stressed particularly Service. "The foundation of service is intelligence. To serve well and just we must be about our business and remember: (1) The taste of the fish and not of the fisherman determines the fact" and to do this we must keep in mind (a) to (Continued on Page 4.)

SENATOR BAYARD TO SPEAK

Senator Thomas F. Bayard will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of the St. Thomas' Men's Club in the church at 7:30 tomorrow, Thursday evening. His subject will be "The United States Senate, Past, Present and Future."

November 15 to 20

Monday, which opened the Red Cross Drive in Newark, saw two booths installed, one in the Farmers' Trust Company and the other in the Newark Trust Company. So far the returns have been promising, but Newark has always had an enviable record for Red Cross subscriptions and it is hoped that every one will respond to the call before the end of the week. Mrs. J. O. G. Duffy, chairman of the local Red Cross, was confined to her home and turned the active direction over to Miss Jane Maxwell, treasurer, who deserves a great deal of credit for the way she has handled the campaign.

It is desired that all residents of Newark place their subscriptions with the local chapter, and any who cannot do so at the regular booths this week, can get memberships by applying, personally or by mail to any of the officers. The officers are: Mrs. J. O. G. Duffy, chairman; Mrs. Ernest B. Wright, first vice-president; Miss Eleanor Todd, second vice-president; Miss Jane Maxwell, treasurer; and Miss Lydia Fader, secretary.

The schedule of the workers at the booths, announced to date, is: Farmers' Trust Company, Monday, Miss Dorothy McNeal and Mrs. Wilson; Newark Trust Company, Monday, Mrs. William Holton and Mrs. R. A. Whittingham; Farmers' Trust Company, Tuesday, Miss Underwood; Farmers' Trust Company, Wednesday, Mrs. Pierce Cann and Miss Estelle Yearsley; Newark Trust Company, Wednesday, Mrs. Richard Cooch and Miss Anna Frazer; Farmers' Trust Company, Thursday, Mrs. Ed Willum and Mrs. Richard Cooch; Newark Trust Company, Thursday, Mrs. Albert Eastman and Miss Lydia Fader.

Dr. Hüllihen Returns From Joint Conference

Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president of the University, has just returned from a joint meeting of the National Association of State Universities and the Association of Land Grant Colleges, held at the New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C.

Much of the discussion at the joint conference was devoted to the question of limitation of enrollment at state colleges and universities. Nearly all state institutions are today confronted with the problem of taking care of a larger number of students than their appropriations provide for. The question is whether or not the American people desire to limit attendance at higher institutions of learning to those only, who seem especially fitted for college training. Many of the college presidents were of the opinion that the American people believe so firmly in the value of college training, that they will not be willing to have any restrictions placed on attendance.

Dr. Hüllihen stated that, happily, Delaware was not confronted with this problem. The numbers not yet having reached the point where the burden of maintenance was more than could be taken care of.

DR. BENNER GIVES SECOND LECTURE

Last evening Dr. Claude L. Benner, of the University, gave the second of a series of lectures on current economic problems before the Business and Professional Women's Club. The topic was "The International Debt Situation." These lectures, which are given in the club room, 4003 Du Pont Building, are open to both men and women and registration is still open to anyone desiring to hear them.

Red Men's Party Big Success

The Red Men's Band, of the Local Tribe, No. 23, under the direction of Charles T. Edwards, of Wilmington, gave a real, old-fashioned, bang-up party in Fraternal Hall, Armistice Day evening. Besides selections by the band, there were vocal and instrumental numbers, given by both Wilmington and local talent. After the entertainment, a dance was held and as a novelty to this part of the program, a number of old-fashioned steps and square dances were introduced.

The party was such a success that all those attending urged that it be repeated again in the near future. Plans are on foot for another Band Party next month.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Mrs. Armand Durant and her guest, Mrs. George P. Harrison, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday morning when a tree fell across the express train in which they were riding from Wilmington to West Philadelphia. The tree crashed against the opposite side of the coach, throwing glass across the aisle. A large piece struck Mrs. Harrison, but fortunately, it was the flat side and not the edge of the glass which struck her, and she escaped uninjured. No injury was sustained by other passengers, except small cuts and bruises.

DR. MANNS IN WASHINGTON

Dr. T. F. Manns left at noon today to go to Washington, D. C., to represent the University of Delaware on a committee to arrange the program for the first International Congress of Soil Scientists, which congress will convene in Washington from June 13 to 22, 1927.

J. Harvey Dickey Presides At Meeting

Ninety-Third Annual Communication Opened Today In Wilmington

The Ninety-third Annual Communication of the Delaware Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows opened in Wilmington this morning with J. Harvey Dickey, Grand Master, of Newark, presiding. The Communication, which follows the Grand Encampment, held yesterday, is attended by Odd Fellows from throughout the State of Delaware and by many distinguished visitors.

At this meeting there will be contests for several offices, particularly that of Grand Representative. In accordance with precedent, Deputy Grand Master Joseph M. Cross will likely be named to succeed J. Harvey Dickey as Grand Master.

Dinner was served at noon. Reports were presented by the Grand Master, the Grand Secretary and the Grand Treasurer. The question of an Orphans Home in Delaware is under discussion. There is already a fund of $54,000 collected for this purpose.

The present officers of the Grand Lodge are as follows: Grand Master, J. Harvey Dickey, Stanton; Deputy Grand Master, Joseph M. Cross, Wilmington; Grand Warden, Frank Hickman, Port Penn; Grand Secretary, W. W. Dooty, Grand Treasurer, Philip J. Isaac; Grand Representative, Clarence W. Thompson; Grand Marshal, Irving H. Craig; Grand Conductor, Herbert E. Green; Grand Guardsman, Francis Clough; Grand Herald, Benjamin F. Dickey; Grand Chaplain, Paul Heinzerth, all of Wilmington.

Tonight at 5.30 o'clock, the banquet of the Past Grand Masters will be held in McConnell's Restaurant.

W. H. Jump Elected Pres. Education Ass'n

Succeeds Prof. W. H. Wilkinson; Ira S. Brinser Chosen Delegate To National Convention

The meeting of the Delaware State Education Association ended last Friday afternoon. The banquet was held Thursday night. The convention was attended by all members of the faculty of the Newark School System.

Professor Wilbur H. Jump, superintendent of the Caesar Rodney School, Camden-Wyoming, was elected president of the association for the coming year, succeeding Professor W. A. Wilkinson of the University of Delaware. Professor Ira S. Brinser, head of Newark Schools, was selected as a delegate to the National Education Association to attend with President Jump and Prof. Kenyon, of Smyrna.

This convention was one of the most interesting and instructive ever held and Professor Wilkinson was officially congratulated on the program. The school exhibits were particularly interesting and were admired by visiting teachers. Prominent educators from various schools and universities gave addresses.

CENTURY CLUB SUPPER

The supper given last evening by the ladies of the Newark New Century Club for the benefit of the club, was a great success. The supper was served in the main club room and the tables were beautifully decorated with fall flowers and yellow candles. Mrs. R. O. Bausman, club hostess, was general chairman. A menu of roast chicken, dressing, glazed sweet potatoes, peas, salad, cranberries, jelly, pickle and ice-cream was served. Cake, candy and fancy work were sold. Nearly three hundred guests were served.

TO ATTEND MEETING

Professor Geo. L. Schuster, agronomist, will attend the annual meeting of the American Society at Washington this week. While there he will address the meeting on the subject, "The Relation of Potash to Quality and Crop Produced." Prof. Schuster has conducted several investigations along this line at the Delaware Experiment Station.

Prof. C. R. Runk and Mr. J. M. Graham will also attend the American Society of Agronomy meetings.

Mermaid

Harmony Grange opened Monday evening with a smaller attendance than usual. During the business hour, a resolution by Center Grange on automobile liability insurance to be reported upon at Pomona Grange, December 3, and other matters to be reported upon at Pomona and the State Grange, December 14, 15, 16, were discussed. The business session was closed to admit Mr. H. C. Palmer and Mrs. Palmer. Mr. Palmer gave a very profitable hour's talk on poultry feeding, housing and laying.

Sister Sadie Klair was reported in New York City undergoing treatment and observation.

Miss Edna Brackin spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gregg at Cranston Heights.

The Pennington's were Sunday callers on Henry Mason and William H.
McCoy, of Hare's Corner.

W. Paul Peach has been spending a few days at home.

Monday being opening day for gunning, many rabbits were reported shot in the neighborhood. Many farmers had their farms posted this season.

Mr. Leslie Woodward has been in charge of chartering buses for the Sesqui. Several leave Hockessin
Thursday morning for the Sesqui.

MORE BOOKS WANTED FOR WORKHOUSE LIBRARY

We reprint this letter from Dr.
Vrooman to the Sunday Star, hoping that it may appeal to our readers:

Editor, Delmarvia Sunday Star: A short time ago you were good enough to print a letter asking your readers to donate books to the new library being collected at the County Workhouse. Will you kindly add this letter to your columns.

We have received a large number of books but not enough. We need five hundred more. There are about 500 prisoners to be served and we need all kinds of good books for their library.
Almost every person could spare one or more and all will serve a good purpose.

Any one who has books to spare
can leave them at the Greenwood Bookshop, Delaware avenue, or if a parcel is prepared it will be called for upon request by telephone message to me or to the workhouse.

The trustees are putting up new shelves and organizing this library
so that it may be a valuable adjunct to the educational work in the institution. We need the books to fill the shelves. All kinds of good and useful books will be welcome.

Most of your readers have books
lying on their shelves gathering dust
and read by no one, why not put them to work to do something for some one in need?

W. A. VOORMAN,
Secretary of the Prisoners' Aid Society.

Without earnestness no man is ever great; or does really great things.
He may be the cleverest of men; he may be brilliant, entertaining, popular; but he will want weight. No moving picture was ever painted that had not in it depth of shadow.

Egg Record Club
Contest Started

Delaware's year-round egg-record
club contest got off to a splendid start this month. Under the auspices of the State School of Agriculture, Extension Service, of the University of Delaware, records of the production of each club will be forwarded to H. S.
Palmer, extension poultryman of the University of Delaware, where the weekly and monthly records will be compiled.

Mr. Palmer is distributing calendars for each month of the year, containing a scoring plan, where the farmer
may keep a record of each day's production, and also the expense attached and a miniature sales record, in order that he may look back and compare his marketing, in any month, with those of other months.

In explaining how to get the most eggs from chickens, Mr. Palmer said that what was most required was a balanced ration. There must be the correct amount of carbohydrates, fats, proteins, minerals, greens, water and other food elements to support the hen's body and give it surplus for making eggs.

The Delaware ration, which, in scratch feeds, combines cracked corn, wheat and oats (heavy); and mash
composed of wheat, bran, cornmeal, wheat middlings, ground oats, beef
scraps and table salt is recommended.
In this ration the grain mixture, Mr.
Palmer said, regulates the flesh of the birds and the mash mixture regulates her production. It is important, he urged, that the birds eat the proper proportion of grain and mash. Many good poultrymen feel that they can get better results by mixing all ingredients together and using an all-mash ration.

"A hen in heavy production," said
Mr. Palmer, "needs about four ounces of grain and mash a day. She uses about three ounces of this to support her body; the other ounce is used for making egg, or fat, according to the nature of the bird. If she gets only enough food to support her body she can make no eggs. Feeding a hen only enough to support her body is like hiring operators to keep machinery in a shoe factory running, but furnishing no leather with which to make shoes. One hundred birds that are laying from 25 to 50 eggs a day will eat 25 to 50 pounds of feed a day."

Mr. Palmer has mapped out a schedule which calls for so much scratch feed at daylight with warm water followed at 9 o'clock in the morning with dry mash and green feed and continuing with fresh water and scratch grain at 1 o'clock and more scratch grain at 4 o'clock. If artificial lights are used, as many scores of Delaware farmers are doing, to increase the egg production, this schedule will have to be changed to suit the hours of lighting. His one caution, in addition to all the rest, is that water fountains should be kept filled and clean. Lack of water will cut down production, he said, quicker than any other thing.

APPLETON WOMEN'S CLUB

The Appleton Woman's Home Demonstration Club entertained the county clubs in the club room on Tuesday afternoon, October 19. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. A. Baus, and was opened by singing by the clubs. After a short business meeting, the entertainment committee took charge of the program, which was most pleasing and enjoyed by all. Mrs. D. Short gave some good suggestions for Christmas gifts. Program: Recitation, Mrs. O. Otty; reading, Mrs. E. Gal-laher; song, Mrs. Ida Maddison; recitation, Mrs. E. B. Milburn and Mrs.
H. R. Smith; songs by the clubs. The hostesses for this meeting were Mrs.
H. R. Smith, Mrs. S. Pryor, Mrs. G.
Peterson, Mrs. D. Short, Mrs. E.
Robinson, Mrs. B. Ritchie, who served delightful refreshments. The next meeting will be held Wednesday night,
November 17, at 8 p. m., in the club room. All members are requested to be present. Hostesses: Mrs. S. Vincent, Mrs. P. Whitcraft, Mrs. E.
Zebley, Mrs. S. Lloyd, Miss Edith Zebley.

TAKING PHOTOGRAPHS
FOR BLUE HEN

The staff of the Blue Hen, to be published next spring by the Senior and Junior classes of the University,
announce that all contracts for work on the book have been closed and that the preliminary work is going without a hitch. W. Gould White, of Wilmington, was selected to take all the photographs and has about completed the individual studio portraits. He is now engaged in taking the pictures of the buildings and campus. Mr.
White is particularly adapted for this important work on the book, as in his 25 years of photographic experience he has not only made an intensive study of portraiture, but has taken outdoor scenes in nearly every part of the United States.

Christiana

Miss Rebecca Maclary, of Newport, and Mrs. Keen and son Irvin, of Wilmington, spent the past week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morley, of near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moody entertained on Saturday evening in honor of their twentieth wedding anniversary. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Phelps, Miss Alice Phelps,
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Appleby, Mrs.
Harry Hance, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey
Maclary, Harry, Alfred and Ella May,
Miss Rebecca Maclary, Miss Flo
Appleby, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Moore,
Miss Margaret Moore, Mr. and Mrs.
W. E. Cranston, Mr. and Mrs. William
Harrington, Mrs. Keen, Mr. Warren Singles, Miss Ona Singles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dance, Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Moody, Anna, Frank, John and Elwood Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Prouce spent the past week-end with Mrs. Prouce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Appleby.

Junior Davis is spending some time with his aunt, Mrs. Elsie Thorpe.

Miss Molly Cleves spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Harry Cleves.

Mr. Warren A. Singles, Mr. Frank
Moody, Frank, Jr., and John Moody
spent Thursday at the Sesqui.

Miss Kate M. Darlington returned home on Sunday after spending some time in Virginia.

Keep clear of personalities in conversation. Talk of things, objects, thoughts. The smallest minds occupy themselves with persons. Do not needlessly report ill of others. As far as possible, dwell on the good side of human beings. There are family boards where a constant process of depreciating, assigning motives, and cutting up character goes forward.
They are not pleasant places. One who is healthy does not wish to dine at a dissecting table. There is evil enough in man, God knows. But it is not the mission of every young man and woman to detail and report it all. Keep the atmosphere as pure as possible, and fragrant with gentleness and charity.

Newark New Century Club

The Newark New Century Club
held no meeting on November 8th, owing to the sudden death of one of its most active and enthusiastic members; the program for that day will be given on December 6th.

With a large and appreciative audience, the meeting of Monday was most enjoyable. The formal business was quickly disposed of and the program chairman introduced Mrs. Le-Roy Work, of Richardson Park, who played in her usual delightful manner, two violin numbers, accompanied by Miss Murray of the Women's College.
Miss Murray sang "Break of Day" and "The Morning-glory Song," both were beautifully rendered. Mrs. Grant Code added her talent to the occasion and sang, in her inimitable manner, a group of little French songs. Three members of the Wilmington New Century Club enthused the audience with their "papers." Mrs. Frank Ball read
"The Lure of the Fireside," Miss Mary deVou "The Lure of the Out-of-Doors" and Mrs. Edmund Barsham
"The Lure of the Bridge Table." Mr.
N. E. Leopold, of Wilmington, was introduced and outlined plans to form classes in the making of clothing (to eliminate that "home-made look.") This he said, had been successful in other clubs. All members interested will please confer with Mrs. Durant. Tea was served by Mrs. R. O. Bausman and her faithful committee.

On next Monday afternoon, Dr.
Benner of the University faculty, will give the second "Current Events" talk. Dr. Benner is a delightful speaker and holds the attention of his audience to the last minute. Mr.
Phillip Myers, also of the University, will give added pleasure with vocal solos. Members are anticipating this meeting with the keenest enjoyment.

A paper dress form can be used for fitting garments under construction, or altering ready-made ones; for adapting commercial patterns, adjusting straps on petticoats and brassieres, tacking wash collars in place, and designing new dresses. Those who go away from home should leave their "forms" behind to facilitate sewing for them.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS

A thick slice of ham, with raw sliced potatoes spread over it, and baked in milk for about an hour and a half, is unusually good. Sprinkle the potatoes with flour when you put them in the dish.

Milk soups and milk puddings contribute to the total amount of milk
the children take, as do milk sauces and flavored milk drinks. Sometimes a drug store straw will help in persuading a finicky child to try one of these milk drinks.

Bland, Sweet, Savory, Tart

Serve a vegetable dinner, similar to the restaurant combination known as "vegetable plate," once in a while. To be satisfying it must contain enough protein to make it substantial.
To be appetizing, it must have a variety of flavors—the bland, the sweet, the savory, and the tart. There must be contrast of texture also, such as the soft, the hard, the rich, and the crisp. Here are a few good combinations: Creamed potatoes, buttered string beans, beets or beet greens with vinegar or lemon juice, raw celery; cabbage scalloped with cheese, carrots, and fried potatoes; baked sweet potatoes in season, spinach with hard-boiled egg, raw cucumbers; scalloped corn, steamed carrots, Swiss chard, raw sliced tomatoes; baked eggplant, buttered lima beans, water cress; fried tomatoes, mashed turnips
or squash, baked potatoes, raw celery.

Custard

A soft custard should be cooked slowly in a double boiler and stirred almost constantly. If a custard is cooked in this way at a temperature lower than boiling a longer time is required but the custard is smooth and velvety. When it coats the spoon
the custard is done and should be removed at once from the heat and cooled rapidly. Setting it in a pan of cold water will stop the cooking and prevent the custard from curdling.

An overcooked soft custard that has curdled can be made smooth by beating with a Dover egg beater.

A casserole dinner is one of the most satisfactory to serve when one is both cook and hostess. It can be cooked in the morning, and reheated at dinner time for half an hour or so. In this way the housekeeper is free to finish the other details of her dinner and is spared that flustered and tired feeling that results from having too many last-minute foods on the fire.
Chicken, veal, beef, sweetbreads—any combination of meats and vegetables which go well together can be cooked en casserole.

A built-in ironing board, hinged to the wall and disappearing into a wall closet when not in use, is a great convenience.

THANKSGIVING

With the approach of Thanksgiving Day—once more we should stop and think, what have I to be thankful for?

"I am thankful for my health
I am thankful for my country
I am thankful for my friends."

A Creed of Democracy

"I believe in the free public training of both the hands and the mind of every child born of woman.

"I believe that by right training of men we add to the wealth of the world. All wealth is the creation of man, and he creates it only in proportion to the trained uses of the community; and the more men we train the more wealth everyone may create.

"I believe in the perpetual regeneration of society, and in the immortality of democracy and in growth everlasting."

—From the famous "Forgotten Man" speech delivered by Walter H. Page at Greensboro, North Carolina, in 1897.

"Let every American, every lover of liberty, every well-wisher to his posterity swear by the blood of the Revolution never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country and never to tolerate their violation by others. As the patriots of '76 did to the support of the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of the Constitution and laws let every American pledge his life, his property and his sacred honor. Let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father and to tear
the charter of his own and his children's liberty."—Abraham Lincoln.

Lest We Forget

By Curtis Wheeler

The cold rain falls on Dun-sur-Meuse to-night,
My brothers of the Marne, do you fare well,
Where by the ford, or on some wind-swept height,
You lie among the hamlets where you fell?

Do you sleep well these wet November nights,
Where there is never any brushwood blaze,
To cast within the dugout wavering lights,
And warm the chill of these benumbing days?

Romagne sous Montfaucon! The little towns
That scatter from the Somme to the Moselle,
Some silent sentry on their high-backed downs,
Harks still to every far white church's bell—

The humble little church of misty hills,
Set where the white roads cross, with ruined fane,
Where, through the window gaps with war-scarred sills,
A battered Christ looked out into the rain—

Silent, all silent to the passer-by,
Those lonely mounds, or rows of crosses white,
Beyond the need of bitter words they lie,
But are they silent to their friends to-night?

Can we stand whole before a crackling fire—
We, who have gone in peace year after year
Singing and jesting, working again for hire—
Deaf to the message they would have us hear?

Not while the red of poppies in the wheat,
Not while a silver bugle on the breeze,
Not while the smell of leather in the heat,
Bring us anew in spirit overseas.

Still shall we hear the voice that fell behind,
Where eddying smoke fell like a mountain wraith,
And in the din, that left us deaf and blind,
We sensed the muttered message clear—"Keep Faith."

To every man a different meaning, yet—
Faith is the thing that set him, at his best,
Something above the blood and dirt and wet,
Something apart, may God forget the rest!

The cold rain falls in France, ah send anew
The spirit that once flamed so high and bright,
When, by your graves, we bade you brave adieu,
When Taps blew so much more than just "Good Night."
—From New York Herald-Tribune.

Horse Sense

If you work for a man, in heaven's name work for him. If he pays wages that supply you your bread and butter, work for him, speak well of him, think well of him, stand by him and stand by the institution he represents. I think if I worked for a man, I would work for him. I would not work for him a part of his time, but all of his time; I would give an undivided service or none.

If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness. If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage, why, resign
your position, and when you are outside, damn to your heart's content.

But, I pray you, so long as you are part of an institution, do not condemn it. Not that you will injure the institution—not that—but when you disparage the concern of which you are a part, you disparage yourself.

And don't forget, "I forgot" won't do in business.—Elbert Hubbard.

WEDDINGS

WILSON-SLACK

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Wilson have announced the marriage of their daughter, Sara Etta, to Mr. Norman Slack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Slack. The marriage was solemnized last Thursday, November eleventh,
at one o'clock, at Ebenezer Church, Reverend Gehman, the pastor, officiating.
The only attendants were Miss Marion Slack, sister of the groom, Miss Edna Campbell and Robert Hawthorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Slack have returned from a short wedding trip spent at Atlantic City.

Cabbage-Benson

Mrs. Sadie Meredith Cabbage and Mr. Cyrus Benson, of Wilmington, were married in that city on Sunday,
by Elder William Alexander.

The scholar without good breeding is a pedant; the philosopher, a cynic;
the soldier, a brute; and every man
disagreeable.—Chesterfield.

Slogans

An English professor of University College, Nottingham, discussing in The Observer the etymology and use of the word "slogan," confesses o a vague impression that the current use of this word "for a catchword sufficiently stentorian to drown argument or criticism," is of American origin. He adds: "Most contemporary English is." Whether this was meant in praise or dispraise, one might be in doubt, if it were not that he has taken so much pains to find a reputable English etymological ancestry for the word.

It was, as a matter of fact, imported into England by no less an authority than Macaulay from Scotland,
where it had been used by Sir Walter Scott with a meaning to which it had descended through a Lowland corruption of its original Gaelic significance.
Up in the Highlands the slughghairm was merely the name of the clan chief shouted as a battle-cry, a "host-yell." Across the border these proud, breathful Highland names were shouted to be answered by the Southrons in imitation but with words that had no such flavor. The couplet into which Scott caught the softened, demeaned generic word for what had ceased to ring over this debatable ground was:
"To heaven the Border slogan rang,
St. Mary for the young Buccleuch."
And it was from this couplet, it is surmised, that Macaulay borrowed it for approved use in English literature. One of our early American dictionaries, however, disdaining such origin, independently traced it to a euphonious pronunciation of "slughome."

As Professor Weekley tells us, the coal-strike, die-hard slogan, for example, if properly used would be, instead of "Not a penny off the pay,"
&c., simply "A Cook," after the manner of the Highlanders shouting for a Mackenzie or a MacNeil. Even die-hards seem not to be willing to starve for such a personal slogan. After all, isn't the American definition of the "Vogue-word" the loftier, lifted as it is from the personal and clannish into the realm of principle? Yet slogans are dangerous at best. They often turn out to be lies in their generalities and more often intoxicated by their rhetoric. Sometimes they are the weapon of the conscienceless, intellectual or political slagger, which doubtless accounts for the early American imputation of a brutal origin. How unfair slogans frequently are may best be pondered the morning after a political campaign is over.

An Old Bible

Y. L. Williamson, of Birmingham, Alabama, who visited friends in this town a few weeks ago, had with him an old Bible which he was proud to exhibit. The book is as large as the usual family Bible, but has no insertions of family history. There are two inscriptions on a fly-leaf, which read: "1866, John Clark, Butleah, Mansfield, Sussex," and, "Presented by the Congregation Meeting at Five Ashdown Chapel to Mr. Thomas Martin."

The title and contents are printed as:

"The Bible
That is,
The Holy Scriptures
Contained in the Old and New Testament

Translated according to the Hebrew and Greek, and conferred with the best translations in divers languages. With most profitable An-notations upon all the hard places and other things of great importance."

On the same page we find:
Exod. 14, 13, 14

"Fear ye not, stand still, and behold
the salvation of the Lord, which he will shew to you this day. The Lord shall fight for you, therefore hold you your peace."

On the following page is:

"Great are the troubles of the righteous; but the Lord delivereth him out of them all."

And below this quotation we read:
"Amsterdam
Printed by Thomas Stafford. And are to be sold at his house, at the signe of the Flight of Brabant, upon the Milk-Market, over against Devener Wood-Market. According to the copy printed at Edinburgh by Andro Hart, in the year 1610, prat. 01 : 07 : 00 : 1649."

The Bible was bought three years ago by Mr. Williamson, of C. J.
Farncombe & Sons, Booksellers, of London, England, and is beautifully printed and bound, and is in excellent condition.

Every man must bear his own burdens, and it is a fine thing to see any one trying to do it manfully; carrying his cross bravely, silently, patiently, and in a way which makes you hope that he has taken for his pattern the greatest of all sufferers.—James Hamilton.

ALL KINDS OF PEOPLE

She should have died years ago. This woman never created happiness for herself. She is seventy now, fearful, suspicious, complaining.

She will tell you, as she has told me, of the utter meanness of the world and its people. At the slightest opportunity, she will unfold a story of troubles, disappointments and disillusionment of the most depressing nature. For seventy years she lived an equal with her fellow beings. Today, she regards the sunset of life as a last bitter event in a trail of bitterness.

She knows no glow of happiness of work well done, of days well spent. And she blames all but herself.

Of course, she cannot live many more years. Of late, she has been fretting about the distribution of her little group of possessions. And listening to her talk about what she was going to do with them, I thought of a poem by Mildred Stuart which goes like this:

"When I saw you making sorrowful
end, (Knowing that you were soon about to die)
Sorting your rings, promising and
and such—
Each careful, sad disposal to each friend,
Your books, your furs, your house-
your tapestry,
Trouble about how little and how much—

"I thought how easily the daisies go How tranquilly each fading from and leaf—
Slips back into the mould without demur,
With nothing to bequeath, regret,
owe,
How soon the hawthorne after journey brief
Lies down and pulls the grass
over her."

—T. R. D.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

We quote from "Harper's", 1872, from an article telling of conditions during Jackson's second term: "Duelling in those days was much in vogue, and personal discussions in the House were frequently brought to an abrupt termination by an intimation that injurious imputations would be settled elsewhere. . . . In those days, when dueling was tolerated by public opinion, notably in the Southern and Middle States, single combats occasionally grew out of the heated debates in Congress and more frequently altercation
in the House and Senate led to hostile correspondence which terminated without a meeting on the field, the intervention of judicious friends preventing the result."

Your Eyes

Intelligent care of your

BIRTHS

Eisner—To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eisner, a son, on November 10.

McKelvie—To Mr. and Mrs. William D. McKelvie, of Washington, New Jersey, a son, on November 8. Mr. McKelvie is a graduate of the University of Delaware, captain of the University football team in 1924.

To wash a pillow, transfer the feathers to a muslin bag two or three times the size of the ticking. This may be done easily by sewing the edges of the opening of the ticking and bag together and shaking the feathers from one to the other. The feathers and ticking are washed separately. Scrub the feathers in a weak solution of washing soda, using a good suds. Rinse in two or three lukewarm rinses and then dry. Beat from time to time. After washing the ticking, starch it on the inside with a very stiff starch mixture, applied with a sponge. This closes the pores of the material and prevents the feathers from working their way through. The ticking is then dried and refilled.

Delaware Defeats Gallaudet, 10-7

Blue And Gold Recover Prestige In Tense Game

Saturday was an "in" day for Delaware, and her temperamental football team had just the proper edge to sink the rugged, hard-hitting Gallaudet eleven, 10 to 7. Gallaudet is a deaf-mute institution, but that appears to be no handicap in a football sense, for these husky lads were equal to scoring on Maryland which was a trick old Eli couldn't turn. This victory should shorten the odds for this week's classic struggle with Haverford.

Gallaudet has established a reputation for deceptive plays and lived up to it in several instances when they shot plays unexpectedly through the line, while two of their backs were holding a supposed conference. Delaware tried to offset this by taking a page from Penn's book and using the hidden ball stunt—but it didn't stunt very well and Delaware won through hard, straight football and accurate passing.

Most of Gallaudet's tacklers must have been reared as Graeco-Roman wrestlers, they seemed to consider it bad form to tackle below the waist and introduced the "headlock" and "flying mare" frequently. This was very confusing to Nibbles, who being an ardent mat fan and Delaware's most enthusiastic supporter, couldn't decide just what comment to make of that situation.

Byonk, for Gallaudet, and Loveland, for Delaware, furnished most of the thrills. Byonk, 200 pounds of impetuous halfback, was in every play and every department of the game. He hurled low hard passes 30 and 40 yards that hit their target direct, he did the punting, and his speed and weight was all that Gallaudet had that could puncture the Delaware line. On the defense he was through the line time and again to throw Delaware for a loss and when Loveland made his spectacular run for a touchdown, Byonk chased and caught him right on the goal line. Loveland's running was a joy to watch and when the Gallaudet boys did lay hands on him they found him hard to hold, a twist of the hips and a pivot and he was free and off at another tangent.

The first quarter went to Gallaudet by a short margin. Neither team could gain much through the line and both teams made sizeable gains around the wings. Toward the end of the period it looked like a Gallaudet score. Delaware had drawn a 15-yard penalty for clipping and after a play or two was forced to kick. Gallaudet started a determined march down the field with Byonk and Dyer carrying the burden, but at twenty yards, their center made a bad pass and Dave Benson was through and on the ball.

In the second quarter Delaware decided it was time to decorate the score board. Twenty-two yards around end by Loveland and a pass, Creamer to Di Joseph, lay the foundation for the trick. The ball was on the mutes' 15-yard line, Creamer dropped back 10 paces and booted it between the standards for 3 points. Besides this Creamer did a piece of shifty running in this period by returning one of Byonk's boots for 25 yards.

The third period looked bad for Delaware, but they turned at the last moment to clinch the game. Byonk, for Gallaudet, heaved three perfect passes in a row and two bucks and another pass put the ball on the Delaware 25-yard line. Here, Byonk showed his daring by faking a place kick and throwing a pass right at the goal posts. Di Joseph reproved him for this bit of self confidence by knocking it down. Delaware then held for downs. Delaware's ball and on the second play Creamer threw a pass to Loveland, who catching it on the 50-yard line, eluded two tacklers and sped on for a close touchdown, for Byonk caught and threw him just as he passed the last marker. Creamer kicked the goal.

In the last quarter, Gallaudet, incensed at some close decisions, launched a desperate attack that Delaware was powerless to stop, and brought the ball to rest on Delaware's 30-yard line. Here Byonk tossed a pass straight in the arms of Wright, standing on the three yard line, but Creamer jostled him and he missed it. For this Delaware was penalized and Byonk in two exuberant plunges took it over and kicked the goal.

It was a hard, close game and Delaware deserves plenty of credit for this victory. The deaf mutes are no set-up for anyone as St. John's, who beat Delaware by 21 points, can witness. Gallaudet outweighed Delaware both in the line and back field and they play football with a total disregard for physical safety. If Delaware can play the same game this week, they should have excuse for a celebration.

The lineup:

Newark-West Nottingham

The Newark football team will play West Nottingham here, at 3:30 Friday afternoon.

"THE LOST WORLD"

Monday and Tuesday of next week, the Hanark Theatre will present one of the most unique pictures ever taken, "The Lost World" recounts the story of an intrepid band of scientists who went to South America in search of a lost world, peopled by pre-historic monsters. These monsters are reproduced by models and clever photography and appear very lifelike. They are faithfully reproduced in their habits from scientific data, and several thrilling battles are staged. Besides its scientific interest, the picture is a real thriller. Lloyd Hughes, Lewis Stone, and Bessie Love have the leads. Wallace Beery, with a full set of whiskers, as usual, steals most of the picture. Bull Montana, recognized by his ears, is effective as the ape-man.

D. I. A. A. Championship At Milford

Newark To Defend Crown Against Heavier Laurel Team

On Monday, Major P. S. Prince, field agent D. I. A. A., announced that on Thanksgiving Day, at 2:30 o'clock, at Milford, Newark and Laurel, Northern and Southern D. I. A. A. football champions, will fight it out for the main title. Newark will be defending champion.

The D. I. A. A. regulations call for the championship game to be played on a foreign gridiron. Dover was first selected, but due to difficulty in getting a field there, the event went to Milford.

Laurel holds the edge in weight and record. They will average more avordupois than Newark, and they have gone through the season without a defeat, piling up an imposing aggregate of 180 points in five games. Marvel, their heaviest man, weighs 210. Newark on the other hand lost one game to Wesley Collegiate Institute. This, however, was not a D. I. A. A. game and Newark was loafing that day, for they had trimmed Wesley nicely in the first engagement.

Laurel has not had, however, the brand of opposition Newark has had to contend with and this walk-over in taking the Southern bracket will probably work more against than for them. Newark's speed and accurate aerial attack is expected to offset the weight difference.

It is expected that a large crowd of Newark rooters will go to Milford to take in the game. Last year, the Continental Band went, paying its own way, and it is likely that it will do the same this year.

The tentative lineups for the game as announced by Major Prince, Monday were:

| Laurel                                     | Newark |
|--------------------------------------------|--------|
| Ellis . . . . . L. E. . . . . Mayer        |        |
| Marvel . . . . . L. T. . . . . McMurray    |        |
| James . . . . . L. G. . . . . Cook         |        |
| W. Wright . . . . . C. . . . . Dayett      |        |
| O. Wright . . . . . R. G. . . . . McDowell |        |
| Beach . . . . . R. T. . . . . Vansant      |        |

Delaware Frosh Lose to Wesley

Friday afternoon at Dover, the University of Delaware Freshmen won a football game on statistics but lost it by a touchdown. The Frosh had driven Wesley Collegiate Institute up and down the field and had won the game on paper—but in the third period, Chism, an alert young lad who has strutted his stuff to the dismay of Newark athletes before, snatched a Delaware pass out of the air and scurried back unopposed for a touchdown. Delaware vainly tried to offset this by a touchdown and point, but whenever they came within shooting distance of the Wesley goal, they lost the ball, generally on intercepted passes.

Aiken, Riffin and Manns took most of the honors in the freshman lineup, while Chism, the Hammond boys and Torrey starred for Wesley.

The line-up:

| Delaware Freshmen                         | Wesley |
|-------------------------------------------|--------|
| Maloney . . . . . L. E. . . . . Jackson   |        |
| Manns . . . . . L. T. . . . . Roy         |        |
| Russell . . . . . L. G. . . . . Simpson   |        |
| Staats . . . . . C. . . . . Bard          |        |
| Krewatch . . . . . R. G. . . . . Meekins  |        |
| Olandt . . . . . R. T. . . . . R. Hammond |        |
| Barton . . . . . R. E. . . . . G. Hammond |        |
| Squillace . . . . . Q. B. . . . . Torrey  |        |
| Riffin . . . . . L. H. B. . . . . Chism   |        |
| Wright . . . . . R. H. B. . . . . Krause  |        |

The First Railroads in America

The first railroad in the United States was operated by horses—not steam. It ran from the granite quarries, at Quincy, Mass., to the Neponset river, in the same state. It began operations in 1826—a century ago.

The second railroad was known as a gravity road. It was located at the picturesque little town of Mauch Chunk, Pa. It was built for the purpose of transporting coal, and began operating in 1827. The cars were drawn up incline planes by stationary engines, and ran down the planes by their own weight.

In the year 1827 the Carbondale & Honesdale road was also opened. It ran from the Delaware & Hudson canal to the coal mines of that company.

In 1828, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, the first big railway in this country, was commenced at Baltimore. The first fourteen miles were opened in 1830. The next year it was extended to Frederick, Md., a distance of sixty-one miles, and in 1832 to Point of Rocks, sixty-seven miles. Up to 1831 it was operated by horses. In that year an American-built locomotive took the place of the horses.

The Mohawk & Hudson road was commenced in 1830 and opened in September, 1831. The first locomotive used on this road was made in England, and weighed six tons. It, however, was found to be too heavy for the road-bed and bridges and was replaced by an American-built one weighing three tons.

The Saratoga railroad was completed in July, 1832. The South Carolina railroad was commenced in 1830, and sixty-two miles of it opened in 1832. In 1833 it was completed to Hamburg, 136 miles. At the time of its completion it was the longest railroad in the world. It was the first railroad on which an American-built locomotive was used. This engine was made at the West Point works, New York, and weighed four and a half tons. It made its first trip in December, 1830. This was the first railroad in the United States that transported mail.

The New York & Harlem railroad was started in 1831, and a small portion of it within the city was opened that year.

In New Jersey, the Camden & Amboy road was commenced in 1831, and fourteen miles of it, from Bordentown to Hightstown, was completed the following year. The entire line from Camden to Amboy was finished in 1834. The New Jersey railroad was completed to New Brunswick in 1834. The Philadelphia & Trenton railroad was completed in 1833.

The Newcastle & Frenchtown railroad, connecting the Chesapeake and Delaware bays, was completed in 1832. In 1835 the Washington branch of the Baltimore & Ohio was opened. In 1837, the Richmond, Fredericksburg, Va., and in 1838 the Richmond & Petersburg road was put in operation. In 1838, the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore line began business. In 1843, the Petersburg & Roanoke road was opened, thus giving a continuous line from the Potomac river to Wilmington, N. C.

In 1841, the Western railroad was opened from Boston to Albany. The following year links were completed which gave a through road to Albany. The opening of this long road was a big epoch in the history of the country. In the same year the Reading railroad, one of the greatest coal carrying roads of the country, was built from Philadelphia to the Schuylkill coal fields of Pennsylvania. From that time on railroad construction continued at a rapid pace.—National Republic.

Women's College Notes

Royal Dixon, who greatly interested the students last Wednesday at College Hour on the subject, "The Human Side of Plants and Animals," talked even more entertainingly at Forum at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A number of guests and members of the faculty attended. Marjorie Johnson was hostess. Assisting her were: Mary Louise Mayer, Anne Walker, Rebecca Hobson and Evelyn Long.

Margaret Burke, '28, Frances Malcolm, '28, and Katherine Ralph, '30, were recently elected to the editorial staff of The Review.

Margaret Nunn attended the C. L. A. Conference in Washington last week-end.

One of the most successful Open Nights at W. C. D. was held last Saturday evening. A number of Alumnae who had returned for Founders' Day attended the dance in the Hillman Herb Clarke's Orchestra furnished the music. In the receiving line were: Kitty Ady, chairman of the social committee, Dean Robinson, Miss Drake and Miss Parker.

Grace Ellison led Vespers Sunday evening. Eleanor Edge and Lillian Steel played. Dr. Matthews sang. Dr. Benner gave a short talk on the subject, "The Will to Believe," bringing out the point that unless we have the will to believe, we cannot have any purposeful outlook on life.

The Thanksgiving Dinner is scheduled for Monday evening, November 22. The members of last year's class and Junior and Senior Commuters will be among the guests.

Alumnae who returned for Founders' Day were: Eloise Rodney, Charlotte Dayett, Beulah Thompson, Viola Williams, Elsie Evans, Hannah Cannon, Mary Francis, Florence Bryan, Mrs. Richard Torbert, Unity Jones, Kitty Dougherty, Margaret Brady and Elizabeth Brady.

Visitors at College on Saturday included Mrs. Middleton, Mrs. Hubert, Mrs. Inderlied, Mrs. Arthur Patterson, and Miss Lillian Steele, of Wilmington, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mayer, of Dover; Mrs. Eskridge, of Seaford; Mrs. Krauss, of Philadelphia.

Olive Murray spent the week-end at her home in Viola; Frances Goldstein, in Wilmington.

Mildred Burchard, '30, was given a birthday surprise Friday evening by the following girls: Martha Maull, Violet Best, Caroline Staats, Suzanne Warrington, Frances Goldstein and Anna Langrell.

Founders' Day on Saturday brought to Newark a large crowd of parents, friends and alumnae. The march of the students and the tree-planting ceremony at 2 o'clock was impressive. The new tree, given to the College by the Sophomore class, is a fine, large tulip, which was planted back of the Practice House. After the tree had been planted, the spade was presented by Ann Whaley, president of the Sophomore class, to Margaret Middleton, captain of the Freshman class. The freshmen, who until Founders' Day, have no class colors, received them from Marjorie Johnson, on behalf of the Junior class. The colors were accepted by Mary Louise Mayer, sub-captain of the Freshman class. Singing was led by Miss Gillespie, director of music at Women's College, and Anne Barclay played the violin.

Dean Robinson presided at the meeting at Wolf Hall, which followed the tree-planting. Miss Hartshorn was marshal. Eleanor Edge played the piano; Anne Barclay, the violin; Miss Gillespie led in college singing. Jean Middleton gave an address, "Student Self Government." Thirty seniors were invested with their caps and gowns from Dr. Hullahen. Their little sisters chosen from the Sophomore class, assisted in placing the caps and gowns. The address of the afternoon was made by Mrs. Rudolf Blankenberg, of Philadelphia.

A program given by Miss Eleanor Stetser, of Philadelphia, soloist; Eleanor Edge, pianist, and Anne Barclay, violinist, was much enjoyed. In the receiving line were: Eleanor Edge, vice-president of the Sophomore class, Dean Robinson, Miss Taylor, Miss Drake, and Miss Gillespie. Ann Whaley, president of the Sophomore class, poured.

The Class of '28 and all of the students are happy to hear of the good work that is being done by Dorothy Inderlied in France. Dr. Hullahen brought back the news that "Dotty" is ranking fourth in the Foreign Study Group, composed of forty honor students from a number of large universities and colleges all over the country.

The tulip poplar tree, which was planted last year by the Class of '28, on the campus at the rear of the Practice House, had not thrived and Superintendent of Grounds, D. Lee Rose, replaced it last Friday with another tree of the same variety.

Dean Robinson, Miss Parker, Miss Allen, and Miss Vandevort attended the annual conference of the Delaware State Teachers' Association at Dover last week. Dean Robinson also attended the Safety Conference last Friday at Dover.

The inter-class hockey games were scheduled for Monday and Tuesday of this week. The Freshman-Sophomore game came off Monday, with a resulting score of 5 to 2, in favor of the Sophomores. The girls playing on the Freshman team were: R. Gray, G. Fleming, E. Merritt, E. DeHuff, M. Robbins, A. Barclay, E. Warrington, M. Lynam, E. Lowe, P. Robinson, and J. Mode. The Sophomore players were: C. Trimble, M. Reese, J. Rementer, G. Williams, A. Richards, C. Thomaschewski, R. Steel, C. Oskonski, V. Smith, and D. Sharpless.

The Junior-Senior game scheduled for yesterday was postponed because of the rainy weather, and will probably be played today. The Senior players will be: E. Butler, L. Bassett, L. Brooks, K. Krauss, K. Ady, D. Keithley, E. Bogdanoff, H. Coleman, S. Skewis, T. Hurst, F. Wilson. The Junior team includes: M. Burke, M. Johnson, K. Holton, M. Steele, L. Marshall, M. Hill, J. Francis, E. Stengle, E. Smithers and F. Goldstein.

Marilyn Simpler attended the Army-Notre Dame game at West Point last Saturday.

Virginia Smith attended the game, and was a guest at the fall house-party of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity at Penn State last week-end.

Wednesday night will be guest night at the Practice House this week. Jean Middleton and Louise Brooks have been invited. Ruth Larter will be hostess and Olive Murray, host.

Anne Thompson and Alice Holloway entertained at bridge and dancing Monday evening in honor of Catherine Townsend's birthday. The guests were: Catherine Townsend, Jean Loebach, Frances Eckbert, Helen Morton, Sara Coffin, Elizabeth Smithers, Miriam Lysle, Ruth Vinsinger, Helen Stayton, Louise Booker, Elizabeth Erickson, Harriet Barkley, Marian Robbins and Elizabeth Milliken.

NEWARK P-T. A.

The November meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held last evening in the Public School Auditorium, at 8 o'clock. Superintendent Ira S. Brinser spoke on "This and That."

"We cannot be teammates with strangers, hence the Parent-Teacher Association, declared Superintendent Brinser, who centered his talk around "Teamwork," saying that the Parent, the Teacher, and the Pupil constituted the team and pointed out that only through true teamwork are worthwhile results accomplished.

Mr. Brinser made an appeal to the parents to co-operate with the schools in the matter of attendance by sending the pupils regularly. He called attention to the fact that Special Districts receive their State appropriation on the basis of average daily attendance. It costs the school $1.74 per day for each day's absence in the elementary school. Last school year Newark lost a large sum because of irregular attendance.

Another feature of the program was a vocal solo by Mr. Dempsey, accompanied by Miss Nellie Wilson.

The Association has under consideration the furnishing of milk to pupils of the first grade, in co-operation with a movement started by the Century Club.

The preliminary estimate of agricultural production for the year 1926 was estimated at 2,376,000 compared with 1,340,000 year and 1,301,000 bushels production for the year. The quality of this year's crop is estimated at 100 per cent of a normal crop with $1 per cent last year's crop, the average quality three years. It is estimated that this year's crop will be shipped out of the State, as compared with 71 per cent last year and 71 per cent last year. This year's crop is estimated at 600,000 barrels compared with 380,000 barrels and 352,000 barrels, the production for the past four years. The preliminary estimate of commercial apples for comparison this year and last year are as follows: New York 1,000,000; Pennsylvania 1,011,000; Maryland 586,000; Virginia 3,296,000, 1,440,000; West Virginia 1,688,000, 749,000; States 39,949,000, 33,044,000.

A MESSAGE FOR YOU

ABOUT YOUR SCHOOLS

Prepared by the Joint Educational Committee

In the beginning, readers of the Joint Educational Committee's reports are asked to get clearly in their minds, a picture of the school that is classed as "good," according to modern standards. It is not one in which the children sit still and listen, or memorize facts. It is one, rather, in which there is activity, and situations real and vital to them, truly typical of life.

Learning which is real, which clings and becomes a part of one's character, the scientists have convinced educators everywhere, is best achieved through three things: a gripping interest which makes the mind ready for the fact; an opportunity to exercise of practice the fact; and more, an opportunity to practice, with satisfaction, the fact.

The widespread acceptance of this theory has resulted in a complete right-about-face in the schoolroom. It has changed the type of building that is satisfactory for a school and developed a new method of teaching every subject in the curriculum. "Schools aren't like they were in my day," the parent says, sometimes with dissatisfaction, because they fail to understand them. But are the changes not on the side of common sense?

We want Johnny to learn to be a citizen in a Democracy. He needs to develop good health; to learn to be self-reliant; to weigh and compare facts; to be able to form conclusions and make decisions; to co-operate and work with others. Give him an opportunity to participate in experience which will develop these things. In the school which the modern educator calls "good" the children learn through their own activities. The teacher creates a situation which will stir their interest. He leads the child to discover for himself that he needs certain skills and facts.

In a school recently visited, by a representative of the Joint Educational Committee, the teacher had chosen as the motivating theme of all school work for the third grade, the subject of "Indians." The children's interest had been genuinely gripped. They were Indians. All the grade had been divided into two tribes—Navajos & Hopis. The things learned, in every subject during the day, were

DELAWARE APPLES

The preliminary estimate of the total agricultural apple crop this season was estimated at 108 per cent of normal, or 2,376,000 bushels as compared with 1,340,000 bushels last year and 1,301,000 bushels, the average production for the past four years. The quality of this year's crop was 84 per cent of a normal as compared with 81 per cent last year and 80 per cent, the average quality for the past three years. It is estimated that 57 per cent of this year's crop has been or will be shipped out of the county where grown, as compared with 65 per cent last year and 71 per cent, the average shipped for the past three years. This year's commercial crop is estimated at 660,000 barrels as compared with 380,000 barrels last year and 352,000 barrels, the average production for the past four years.

The preliminary estimate of commercial apples for competing states this year and last year's final estimates are as follows: New York, 7,482,000; 6,250,000; New Jersey 944,000; 807,000; Pennsylvania 1,706,000; 1,011,000; Maryland 586,000; 324,000; Virginia 3,296,000; 1,440,000; West Virginia 1,688,000; 749,000. United States 20,919,000; 33,044,000.

INTEREST IN DEL-MAR-VA

While the advertising program of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association has brought inquiries from many points in this country, the extent to which it is having effect was emphasized last week when a letter was received from A. R. Bahrawi, whose address is P. O. Box No. 532, Cairo, Egypt. Mr. Bahrawi requests descriptive information regarding the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula and explains that he is interested in poultry raising and fruit growing. Mr. Bahrawi's letterhead specifies that he is a dealer in poultry and a keeper and dealer in poultry appliances.

One cannot live in an age strongly and fully if one would rather be living in some other age.—Gerald Stanley Lee.

"The constant complainer of hard times is usually one who is always looking for a soft job."

somehow an outgrowth of the needs which the Indian project had revealed to the children. First they built their teepees. There were two—lovely, colorful objects—in each corner of the room. The children had erected the tripods and decorated the covers ("make-believe" for skins) with symbols of the respective tribes. Out of a desire to do, they had been made conscious of the necessity for more number work, greater reading ability, etc. They had gained a very real knowledge of the geography of the country in which the tribes lived; they had acquired a splendid background for an appreciation of American history, and, of great importance, had worked together in groups, putting again and again, in one simple instance after another developed by the teacher, the interest of the tribe above purely personal interest.

Recently, through the discovery of examination papers of pupils of the city of Boston in 1845, it has become possible to compare the results of the old and new methods. Pupils from the modern school of today have been found to be 20 per cent more efficient, in the old fundamentals alone, than the children from similar schools of the older period. In addition, they have acquired far greater efficiency in the ability to think and solve new problems; they have vastly extended the range of their interests and their consequent chance for future happiness.

Dairy Products Special To Stop Here, Nov. 20

Newark will be the meeting place of all New Castle County dairymen and persons interested in dairy products on the afternoon of Saturday, November 20th, when the "Dairy Products Special" of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will make a stop of several hours.

This special dairy train is being operated by the Agricultural Development Department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in cooperation with the Agricultural Colleges of several nearby states and is being stopped at Newark through the efforts of A. D. Cobb of the Extension Service of the University of Delaware.

This train is really a traveling dairy school and consists of six cars carrying pure bred dairy animals, and exhibits showing the uses and value of dairy products as food.

During the stop in Newark, ample time will be given to visit the train and study the exhibits of livestock and dairy products. One car will carry an educational exhibit of the National Dairy Council, which will appeal to persons of all ages, but in particular to children of the grade school age.

Prof. Ira S. Brinser, Superintendent of the Newark schools is arranging to have the school children meet under direction of some of the teachers and visit the train, at which time each child will be given a souvenir of Educational value.

A program of lectures by capable dairy specialists will be given for the benefit of the dairymen who visit the train. Each farmer visiting the train will be registered and entitled to draw for a pure-bred heifer calf which will be provided by local organizations interested in the promotion of dairying.

A meeting especially for women will be held at Wolf Hall, and Miss Elsie Stark, of the National Council will be the speaker. Miss Stark is a national authority on food nutrition, and her appearance in every community is always welcome by the local women.

In addition to the educational program, there will be offered for sale a number of pure bred bulls, 10 to 18 months of age. These bulls will be from tested herds and all dams with high production records back of them.

This program offered without cost to the people of Newark and New Castle County provides an unusual opportunity to become better acquainted with problems affecting the dairy industry and the use of dairy products, and will undoubtedly bring a large crowd of visitors to Newark.

Cooperation in planning for the event has been given by the Newark Chamber of Commerce, the Newark Public Schools, the Newark New Century Club, the Delaware Holstein Friesian Association and other organizations.

A detailed program of the time and place of the various meetings will appear in next week's issue of this paper.

The train will be on the switch west of the E. & O. station and the program will be as follows: Meeting at train for dairymen, 1:30; meeting for women, address by Miss Stark, Wolf Hall, 2:30; sale of bulls, 3:30 to 4:00; at train; drawing for heifer, 4:00, at train.

ON TELLING THE TRUTH

Ruth I. Clonick
Judith disliked spinach. She declared with all the vehemence that is permitted to a six-year-old that she just hated spinach, that it was bitter, and that it tasted like "horrid old grass!" Not even when the spinach was fortified by special dessert could she forget this comparison. Her aversion was quite sincere.

But Judith ate spinach. She ate large dishes of it whenever it appeared on the table, and sundry fragments salvaged from the kitchen after the table was cleared. She ate it bravely, persistently and hopefully, for Judith's life ambition was to have beautiful curly hair like Maralin Moore, and Judith's mother had told her that the whole question of curly hair was a matter of eating spinach.

This had been explained in detail so many times that Judith had quite a mental picture of the bitter spinach juice working its way up to her head and wrinkling the hair inside so that it would grow out in curls.

One day after lunch, Maralin of the coveted golden curls came over to play with Judith. In the midst of establishing a very nice home in the back yard, Judith suddenly paused and eyed Maralin speculatively.

"I know how your hair got curly," she said. "From eating spinach."

"No Sir! We don't have spinach at our house. My daddy doesn't like it."

"Then how did your hair get curly?"

"It was born that way," answered Maralin grandly.

"Well, my mother told me that my hair will get curly if I eat lots of spinach." Judith held up a dark wisp of her straight bobbed hair, and said, "See, it curves a little on the ends."

"Pooh!" said Maralin, who was two years older, "that's nothing. And I don't believe it about the spinach."

"I think you're bold! If you don't believe it, we'll ask Teacher tomorrow. They you just wait and see! My mother wouldn't tell a lie."

Accordingly, next day after school, Maralin, the braver of the two, approached Teacher.

"Miss Thomas," she said, "will eating spinach make your hair curly?"

Miss Thomas looked down upon Maralin's blond curls and smiled.

"Hardly," she said. And then noticing Judith in the background, "But I think straight hair is very lovely on some people."

That day at lunch Judith pushed back her dish of spinach.

"Mother," she accused, "I've found out that it isn't true about spinach making my hair curly. Mother, it isn't true; it's a lie!" Unexpectedly Judith began to cry.

It took many days and much diplomacy to form even a thin covering of healing over Judith's wounded feelings. Naturally, the sharpest disappointment centered about the hair. But beneath this was another hurt; an infantile sense of disillusionment regarding Mother, who had broken her own commandment about telling the truth. Being a child, Judith did not reason this very far, but being a sensitive child, she felt vaguely the injustice of grown-up standards.

Children's choice of food should be guided by parents, but this should not mean that truth must be sacrificed. Tactful explanations of the natural benefits of healthful food will accomplish satisfactory results for children who have confidence in their parent's word. This confidence is the most precious bond between parent and child. Protect it.

"We have had kindergartens for years. At first we had opposition, but now we have unanimous support. Attendance is a privilege, not compulsory. Anyone who stops to think of the enormous step from home to school conditions realizes the need of a half-way house."

"Our educational institutions, the high school and the college of today, are receiving more than their justifiable share of attention and support as compared with the public elementary school. The pre-school child, 4-6, should receive as much, if not more consideration from an educational point of view than any other two years of his mental development."

NEW CODE FOR MOTORISTS

That the success of the uniform naval system of regulations governing the operation of ships and examination of pilots, engineers, etc., points the way to a similar system of regulations for automobile drivers as the solution of the serious traffic accident problem is the belief of Senator Louis A. Drexler, of Bethany Beach, a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee for the State Conference on Street and Highway Safety. Recently Senator Drexler pointed out that uniform signals, right of way rules, and other uniform standards of operation had long ago been agreed upon by the navies of the world so that regardless of location or language the practice would be the same. That this uniformity in the accepted rules of the sea together with the strict examination of the officers for fitness has been responsible for a reduction of the collision accidents to almost zero is Senator Drexler's contention.

"Contrast this condition with the one hundred and one varieties of traffic control rules," said Senator Drexler. "In one city to turn left I must pull over to the curb and move on the yellow; in another city I keep to the center and go on the top light which may be either green or red. This is but one example of the diverse regulations which cause the law abiding citizen to violate the local ordinance with a consequent confusion which breeds accident possibilities and it is merely common sense which dictates that the State should set up some standards of physical, mental and moral fitness before licensing the driver of such a potential death machine as the automobile."

Some of the reasons why the State Conference on Street and Highway Safety will propose examination of motor drivers and the amendment of our State motor vehicle law to include the provision of the Hoover Uniform code, advanced by Senator Drexler, are:

1. The large number of automobile accidents that take such a huge toll of lives, limbs and property, should be reduced, following passage of the model law.

2. There should be a marked decrease in the number of drunken drivers, as motorists who persist in mixing gas and booze will receive jail sentences in addition to having their licenses revoked.

3. Speeders will slow up when going through residential districts, where children play in the streets, if they know their licenses are in danger of being cancelled.

4. Habitually careless operators of motor vehicles, who are constantly involved in crashes, will be more cautious and courteous once they face the prospect of losing their licenses.

5. Permits to drive will not be granted to applicants who are physically unfit, by reason of being subject to fits, fainting spells, defective vision or hearing, etc.

6. Licenses will not be granted to persons who are mentally deficient. Today it is possible in some states for the insane to drive cars.

7. Foreigners who cannot read or speak English will have to learn the meaning of the rules of the road, read traffic signs, understand traffic signals.

8. Minors will not be allowed to operate taxicabs, jitneys, buses, etc.

9. Tourists who desire to spend more than a month in some other state will not have to take out an additional license, as there are liberal non-resident privileges in the proposed law.

10. The new act should result in motorists being afraid to speed away after being in an accident, because they will realize that, if apprehended, they will lose their licenses and face the possibility of both a fine and a jail sentence.

News Letter Of State Department Of Public Instruction

Prepared By Prof. R. W. Heim, State Director For Vocational Education

The Delaware Vocational Association's annual business meeting was held last Thursday afternoon at 4.00, at Dover, immediately following the Sectional meetings. A large group of vocational teachers were present in the Home Economics Laboratory.

Dr. Will Grant Chambers, Dean, School of Education, Pennsylvania State College, was secured by the Vocational Association to give two addresses. The first, "Art and Industry—Their Place in Education," was delivered Thursday morning in the Dover Opera House. The second, "Some Popular Fallacies About Education," was given at the annual banquet Thursday evening. This banquet was, as last year, held jointly by the Delaware State Education Association and the Delaware Vocational Association. It proved one of the most interesting and entertaining ever held. To quote Professor Wilkinson, "The banquet is a genuine get-together, where friends meet friends of other years, where new friends are made, and where song, laughter and serious thought are so interwoven as to make the occasion both thoroughly enjoyable and highly inspirational."

"You can't have your work up-to-date if you don't keep your mind up-to-date."

Helping the Boys to Invest Money Wisely

"As a result of a financial goal determined from which many boys are coming into possession of varying sums of money, the importance of proper ideals concerning commendable investment of this money has come to the attention of several forward looking teachers. No better example of an acceptance of this responsibility has been demonstrated than that of E. O. Bolender, of Hillside. Mr. Bolender, in studying his boys and their possibilities of arriving at their financial goal, was impressed with the dangers that might come to some boys from careless investment of their funds such as is frequently illustrated by the purchase of a 'second-hand' Ford or an investment in a 'similar liability.' As an introductory step in bringing the question of sane investments to the boys, Mr. Bolender asked one of their local bankers to talk to the boys at a regular meeting of the Agricultural class on the question of investing money with particular emphasis upon safe practices for farm boys to follow in making investments. This talk brought to the boys all that could be desired in the way of serious thinking concerning the relationship of present investments and future returns. At future meetings business men will be called in to follow up the advice given by the local banks."

Big Apple Crop to Boost U. S. Health

America should have its healthiest year in 1927, if the old adage about apples and health still holds, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. The estimated apple crop for this year is more than 234,000,000 bushels, which is the largest crop since 1914 and the third largest in the history of the United States. Because the 1926 production is fully one-third larger than last year, apple prices have dropped to the lowest point in years and give promise of remaining at a low level throughout the season.

Practically all of the increased production of the commercial apple crop this year was made in the East, the principal apple orchard section of the country, according to the Foundation. Here favorable conditions prevailed throughout the growing season, although some sections reported the crop as maturing later than usual. The crop in the Northwest, the only other important commercial apple section in the country, however, suffered severely from freezing in late September with the result that yields were materially reduced.

The export trade is likely to affect the apple market to some extent. While increased consumption in England, one of the big consumers of American apples, is not expected this year because of the continued unemployment which is keeping the buying power of the country low, Germany, another of the biggest consumers, is taking more American apples than the year before. Improvements in the purchasing power of the German people and reduced apple crops in European countries which compete with the United States in the German apple market are given as the reasons for this year's increase in the American apple trade with that country.

So far is it from being true that men are naturally equal, that no two people can be half an hour together but one shall acquire an evident superiority over the other.—Johnson.

Report of County Agent Bausman For October

Potato Demonstrations

The following shows the results of the potato demonstrations for 1926:

Demonstration on farms of J. Howard Mitchell and Sons: Yield per acre, Certified seed, 87 bu.; 2nd generation seed, 137 bu. Wilson Pierson: Certified seed, 133 bu.; 2d generation seed, 109 bu. Lewis H. Clark: Certified seed, 133 bu.; 2d generation seed, 125 bu. Horace Dennison: Certified seed, 140 bu.; 2d generation seed, 183 bu.

Prior to this year demonstrations covering a period of five years have shown that, on the average, the plots seeded with certified seed returned yields per acre of 41 bushels greater than the plots seeded with the second generation seed. It will be noted that the plots this year do not show any such consistent results. On two farms the plots seeded with certified seed produced greater yields than the plots seeded with second generation seed. On the two other farms the opposite condition was true. It is apparent that we have not yet determined with any certainty the relative value of the certified seed and the second generation seed. However, the County Agent is inclined not to attach too much importance to the results of this year's demonstrations. The vines were killed at least a month prematurely through the devastations of the leaf hopper. At that time the potatoes were growing luxuriantly. It is, therefore, apparent that none of the plots produced normal yields.

An essential factor to keep in mind is that the second generation seed are only one year removed from certified seed and that they carry most of the characteristics of certified seed. The value of the use of certified seed over the use of seed of unknown strains has been so thoroughly demonstrated that there is little thought any more of using other than certified seed or seed slightly removed from certified seed.

Tomato Demonstrations

Two tomato demonstrations have been conducted this year with the thought of showing the influence of proper cultural methods upon yields per acre and the importance of growing tomatoes regularly in the system of farm organization. On these two demonstrations seed from selected strains was used. The seed beds were properly fertilized and the plants were sprayed regularly in the bed. The plants when transplanted to the field were set deep, they were well fertilized, and properly tilled. The results of the demonstrations are shown in the following:

Demonstration No. 1—Number of acres, 10; average yield per acre, 4½ tons; average returns per acre, $90.

Demonstration No. 2—Number of acres, 5; average yield per acre, 4 tons; average returns per acre, $88.

County Average—Estimated yield per acre, 2½ tons; Estimated returns per acre, $50.

These demonstrations show that where proper cultural methods are used that fair yields of tomatoes are received even during an unfavorable growing season. This was a season when the major portion of growers of canneries tomatoes of the county did not grow tomatoes because of the heavy carry-over from last year. The demonstrations show that despite the carry-over and the poor yields, the efficient grower received fair remuneration from the crop.

Farm business studies in this county have shown that, on the average, the growing of canneries tomatoes is an enterprise that should be incorporated in the crop rotation on those farms accessible to a cannery. That is, those farms that grow tomatoes return better average labor incomes than those farms that did not grow tomatoes. The average farmer in Delaware grows tomatoes when he believes the price will be good and does not grow them when he thinks it will not pay. It is impossible to forecast yields of tomatoes and it is certainly impossible to forecast prices. Therefore, the farmer who makes money from the growing of tomatoes is the farmer who incorporates the growing of tomatoes in his farm organization and grows them efficiently year after year. The foregoing statement entails a fundamental truth that all farm business studies in the State have borne out, namely, that the farms that return the better financial returns are the ones that determined the crops and livestock enterprises best suited to their individual farm and market conditions and then produced these crops and livestock enterprises consistently and efficiently year after year.

Feeding Demonstrations

Three demonstrations have been under way this year showing the influence of alfalfa hay upon the amount of purchased feeds used. At the present time the results from only one demonstration have been collected. This demonstration was conducted on the farm of Mr. E. C. Whittington of Middletown. The year referred to ex-

ends from November 1, 1925 to October 31, 1926:

Number of cows, 18; Average milk production per cow, 8700 lbs.; Total value of milk produced, $4,056; Purchased feed fed, 8½ tons, (1½ tons of corn and cob meal fed in addition); Cost of purchased feed, $424; Alfalfa hay fed, 35 tons; Percentage of milk receipts paid out for purchased feed on this farm, 11; Average percentage of milk receipts paid out for purchased feed in the Middletown Area, 31.

From this table it will be noted that Mr. Whittington, on a percentage basis, paid out only about one-third as much for purchased feed as was true for the average of the community. It will also be noted that his average annual milk production per cow of 8700 pounds is about three times the average of the area. It is not a happenstance that Mr. Whittington affected this saving in the feeding of his dairy herd. Of the 150 records taken in New Castle county through the farm business surveys, it is significant that most of the farms that grew an appreciable amount of alfalfa hay materially reduced the amount of purchased feeds used.

More Cookies

Cocoanut Cream Cookies

Beat two eggs until light, add a cupful of sugar gradually, a half cupful of shredded cocoanut, a cupful of cream and three cupful flour, sifted, with a teaspoonful of salt and three teaspoonsful of baking powder. Chill and roll out one-half inch thick. Shape with a small round cutter and bake in a moderate oven.

Oatmeal Cookies

Brown two cupful of oatmeal in the oven until a golden brown, then put through the meat chopper; cream one cupful of shortening with a cupful of sugar; add salt to taste, two eggs, a teaspoonful each of cinnamon and soda and seven tablespoonsful of thick sour milk, two cupful flour. Add a few nuts and raisins and drop by teaspoonsful on a buttered tin. Bake in a moderate oven. This recipe makes about sixty small cakes.

THE PALM BEACH GIRL

Tonight, the Opera House has that rollicking, hoydenish comedian, Bebe Daniels, in "The Palm Beach Girl." Bebe starts as a gawky country lass and furnishes thrills and amusement by running amuck in a speed boat at 60 miles an hour. Before the picture ends a metamorphosis takes place, and Bebe emerges as a full blown society butterfly. She is ably supported by Lawrence Gray, Josephine Drake, Marguerite Clayton, John Patrick and Armand Cortes.
