

Mayer, Dean and Roberts Make W. H. S. Swallow Bitter Pill Delaware To Play Haverford At Frazer Field This Saturday

NEWARK HIGH TROUNCES WILMINGTON HIGH'S BEST TEAM 13-0, SATURDAY

Biggest Upset Wilmington Lads Have Had This Year. Had Game Won By Four Touchdowns (In Their Heads)

Wilmington High football squad was the most dejected set of boys that the writer has seen this year leaving the du Pont athletic field after Newark High gave them the biggest upset of the year last Saturday. They evidently had the game all sewed up in a bag, according to the Wilmington papers, until Mayer, Dean and Roberts tore it to shreds, and believe me it was a bitter pill for the so-called city lads and lassies to take. When Dean carried the ball over for the second touchdown he smiled at the fellow who tried to get him, did he smile in return, well I guess not, he looked like a man eating tiger.

Mayer, halfback, upset the Wilmington grid machine when he dashed 75 yards for a touchdown and then in the final period ran interference for Dean who also crossed the last white stripe.

The Wilmington rooters were so sore and dejected at the outcome that sixty or eighty per cent left the stands before the game was over. Some of the Wilmington rooters booed our boys and called them farmers and what not, but they certainly showed the city lads how to play football. There was absolutely no sportsmanship shown our boys in the game at Wilmington Saturday. Two Wilmingtonians, we believe took upon themselves to police the side lines but were not very successful. They kept talking continuously to the Wilmington players and blocked the view of Newark's paid spectators. They also started to talk hard to several Newark rooters—but when the Newark folks told them where to get off they backed up about 30 yards and kept quiet—and we mean quiet.

In the second period Wilmington High had the ball on Newark's thirty-nine yard marker and third down to go when Highlets tried a long pass which Mayer intercepted on his own 25-yard line and raced through the local team behind perfect interference for a touchdown. Roberts converted the extra point when he dashed around end.

Mayer was by far the most outstanding player on the field and constantly ripped large holes in the Cherry and White line through which he and Dean went, making large gains. Dean, besides scoring in the final minutes of play, also played a great game, taking out at least one man on every play.

In the final quarter the Highlets line held and kicked off of danger only to have Mayer rip off twenty yards to once more put the visitors in a scoring position. In three downs Dean and Roberts gained ten yards for a first down and placed the ball on the five-yard line. From here Dean crashed the line for the touchdown. Roberts' attempt to crash the line for the extra point failed.

After Newark kicked off after the touchdown Coach Gardner put in Cullinane to throw some passes, one of which to Lindsay was successful to put the Highlets far into enemy territory but on the next play Roberts intercepted the ball. The game ended shortly after High School had gained the ball.

Thornton proved the best ground gainer for Coach Gardner's crew and was the only Highlet to make any large gains. One of his runs putting them in a scoring position, but the Newark team fought back, and gained the ball on the twenty-yard line when Cullinane, put in for one the one play, threw a pass that grounded over the goal line. This was in the last part of the third period and was the only time the Highlets seriously threatened.

Everyone of the Newark boys played wonderful football and Coach Gillespie we know is proud of his and our team. We understand it is customary for the winning team to take the ball, but the Wilmington boys weren't sports enough even for this and started to fight over it. The Newark boys very graciously left them have the ball.

Eric Mayer Sixth Brother to Star In Football at Newark High School

"Another Mayer boy ran amuck." This remark has been heard a number of times on the streets of Newark since last Saturday when Eric Mayer, playing in the backfield for Newark High School, ripped up the Wilmington line for long gains, ran 75 yards for a touchdown and an intercepted pass and ran interference for a teammate who also scored a touchdown that gave Newark the 13 to 0 victory over the larger school.

This is not new for a Mayer boy to run amuck for a Newark High team. Many citizens of Newark who take their high school football seriously recall that there has been a Mayer boy on the Newark High team ever since football was first started at the school in 1918 until the present team with the exception of one year, 1930. Six brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Mayer who live on a farm near Newark, have played on the local high school football team as well as other teams of the school during fifteen seasons including the present one. Nearly all of them have played football, baseball and basketball, but all have played football and played it well, two of them, "Winnie" and Frank, are members of the University varsity squad now.

Eric Mayer, who starred against Wilmington, is the youngest of the six brothers. He is only a sophomore and has two more years of football at high school. It will seem strange to local fans after that to have no Mayer boy on the team. They have all been stars and aided Newark in winning the D. I. A. A. championship eight years in the past fourteen.

Johnny Mayer, the oldest of the brothers, now in the garage business in Newark, was the first of the group to score touchdowns for Newark. He was a student when the school organized its first football team in 1918 when the players had to provide their own uniforms.

Johnny played three years on the line but his senior year starred in the backfield. He was a member of the first Newark team that won the State championship, defeating Bridgeville in 1920. He is one of the few four-letter students turned out by the school as he also won honors in baseball, basketball and track. He went to the University of Delaware for a year but did not play football.

Next came Arthur Mayer who played ed end on the high school varsity for three years and also made his letter in baseball and track.

The next Mayer boy to flash his stuff on the gridiron for Newark was Eugene who played end and in the backfield for a couple of years. He also made his letter in other sports.

The fourth Mayer brother to bring football glory to the local school was Vincent, known to his friends as "Winnie." He played end on several championship Newark teams and at graduation entered the University of Delaware where for three years he has been one of the best ends the Blue and Gold has ever had. He is a senior this year. "Winnie" also played baseball and basketball in high school.

Frankie Mayer, the fifth brother, graduated from Newark in 1930. As Eric was only in the eighth grade that year there was no Mayer boy on the varsity high school football team that fall. Last year, Eric, then a freshman, played in enough games to win his letter. This year he has developed into a star halfback, playing regularly on the varsity.

Frankie spent a year at the Catholic University, Washington, where he played on the freshman team. This year he is a sophomore at the University of Delaware and indications are he will make his letter and that he will be a star back in another season. He also played baseball and basketball in high school, as does Eric.

These Mayer boys from the oldest to the youngest have always been popular with students and townspeople of Newark whether in high school or college. They have always kept in good physical condition and have been a credit to their schools and themselves.

Their parents often attend high school or college games to see their sons in action.—Every Evening.

"SCENERY" IN AN AGATE

Moss agate is sometimes called mochatone or scenic agate, says Nature Magazine. It is a more or less transparent chaledonic quartz in which iron or manganese oxide has painted scenes resembling sometimes landscapes, sometimes mosses, and sometimes star-like radiations. The principal sources are Colorado, Montana and Wyoming.

DELAWARE BLUE CHICKS HAVE ONLY LIGHT WORKOUT YESTERDAY

To Play Haverford This Saturday; Large Crowd Expected

Dummy scrimmage, nearly all of which was devoted to blocking, occupied most of the time devoted to practice yesterday afternoon by the University of Delaware football squad. Coach Charlie Rogers also rehearsed several plays and tuned up his forward passing attack for the Haverford game here Saturday. No actual scrimmage was staged and in all probability, nothing but light work will be indulged in the rest of the week.

Captain Bud Haggerty was in uniform yesterday afternoon and will be ready to play against the Scarlet and Black team. The Haverford game will mark Bud's last home appearance in a Blue and Gold football suit and he is anxious to play against the Main Liners. Haggerty will play part of the game although he may not start. He is still bothered by his bruised shoulder but not to such an extent that he will be forced out of the game entirely. Allan Kemske had the little finger on his right hand in splints today. The digit was broken in the P. M. C. game and he will not be able to play against Haverford on Saturday. It is also doubted whether Winnie Mayee will play as he suffered a gash at the elbow last week that required two stitches to close. With the exception of Haggerty and Winnie the rest of the first team should be able to play, although Johnny Branner is also considerably battered.

It was announced today that neither Frank Mayer or Ed Thompson will be able to play in the two remaining games against Haverford and Washington College. The transfer rule will effect both of the men and their activities on the Delaware gridiron ended for this year against P. M. C. Both Thompson and Mayer started against the Cadets.

The game on Saturday is expected to be witnessed by one of the largest crowds of the year. The Haverford game has been deemed as Homecoming Day and this will draw many graduates who do not ordinarily come back for the contests. An Alumni dinner will be held in Old College at 8 o'clock Saturday evening and the annual Freshman parade will be conducted by the Derollets, a senior honorary fraternity, on Friday night preceding the game. A huge pepfest will be held after the parade in Old College.

15,000 FANS WITNESS KEMKSE AND GREEN SCORE FOR BLUE AND GOLD

A fighting and desperate Delaware team defeated the strong and heavy P. M. C. football squad in the Atlantic City Auditorium last Friday night before 15,000 breathless and heart-throbbing fans, 7-6. Joe Green's successful try for the point after touchdown proved to be the margin of victory for the Blue Hen team.

Coach Rogers' gridders displayed an entirely new team against P. M. C. in comparison with the one which faced St. Joe's last week.

Delaware Scores First

Green's perfectly executed pass to Thompson from P. M. C.'s 38-yard line placed Delaware in position to make their lone 6 pointer. "Big Ed" seemed to come from nowhere when he grabbed the heave from Joe's trusty right arm. The big fullback then fought and squirmed his way to the Cadet's four-yard marker. Kemske then backed up a little from regular formation so he could get more drive. The ball was snapped and Allan started for Aub Walker's back. Several P. M. C. men were grouped at this spot. Aub and Back Palmer were unable to open a hole before this mass of man power but they did succeed in charging hard enough to prevent the men opposite them from raising up. "Ske" did not look for a hole in the line but for one in the air. When he got to the Delaware forward wall he saw his chance and taking off from his best foot he dived through the air across the Cadet goal line. It was several seconds before the referee raised his hands to acknowledge a score. Finally his hands went up and the Blue and Gold fans went wild with enthusiasm. Joe Green then dropped-kicked a perfect point after touchdown. At this time in the game, this point did not seem to be of any great importance.

P. M. C. Talks in Last Quarter

Toward the end of the third period, P. M. C. began a long drive into Delaware's territory. The drive was momentarily halted on the 25-yard line as the quarter ended. When the last period started, Coach Timm's gridders resumed their drive toward the pay-off station. "Reds" Pollock, hard smashing back of the Cadets, raced around Delaware's right end to the 3-yard line. Two cracks at the line gained only one yard. Malinski, following wonderful interference, dashed around his own right end for a score.

Delaware's Team Work Improved

Delaware's team work was greatly improved from last week's game. The entire team played better collectively and individually than at any other time this season. Captain "Bud" Haggerty played like times of old although handicapped by an injured hand and shoulder. "Winnie" Mayer's great stand against a 225-lb tackle will not soon be forgotten. "Winnie's" shins looked like they had been run through a meat grinder when he walked off the field at the end of the game. "Stretch" Pohl, improving steadily at his newly acquired wing post, was continually in the Cadet backfield breaking up plays and on one occasion blocking a punt. The weight handicap faced by the two Walkers, Dillon and Palmer, speaks for itself. Putting under ideal conditions, "Big Ed" Thompson booted several times for 65 yards. Joe Green played one of the greatest games of his career. "Old Dependable" Branner was once more back in the thick of the fight. "Frankie" Mayer, "Ske" Kemske, and "Joe" Crowe, who got in the game during the last few minutes, proved to be good ground gainers on the offense and alert tacklers on the defense.

Science and Religion

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, American physicist who has looked so far into the unknown that he has been awarded the Nobel prize, many American and foreign medals, and memberships in about every important scientific society, has long been a cementing influence between science and religion. In Winnipeg, last Sunday, the eminent pursuer of the cosmic ray paused in his effort to wrest more facts from the realm of the unseen long enough to set forth again his belief that there is nothing in the rational view of a scientist to alienate him from religion.

Young students who are starting upon educational adventure that sometimes creates an impression of collegiate sophistication that scorns established religious principles might profitably consider the viewpoint of a man whose insight into modern science transcends the commonplaces of half-cooked iconoclasts and sees science and religion as harmonic notes in life's composition.

Some years ago Dr. Millikan remarked that "Science has learned to walk humbly with its God." Now and then students gaining their first vision into science get into that mental state in which a little learning is a dangerous thing. Their wisdom weighs so heavily upon their minds that they become far from humble in their views. If they continued their educational adventure to higher planes they would probably acquire new humility, for Dr. Millikan notes that young scientists are adhering to the church in increasing numbers, and that foremost men of science have always given a definite place in the cosmic scheme to divine force. He cites in this connection, Galileo, Faraday, Maxwell, Newton, Einstein, Jeans and Eddington.

Science has not set up detours from the blazed trail of established religion.

NATURE'S MAGIC MIXTURE

A drop of blood has been shed, in all probability, for each blood-like gleam from the surfaces of the ruby, says Nature Magazine. And to think that they are nothing but a little oxygen, such as we breathe, a bit of aluminum, tons of which were used in building the new Akron, and a trace of chromium, a substance that any painter carries in large amounts. But their secret is that they were mixed in Nature's laboratory!

County Home Demonstration Agent Helps Farm Women Solve Problem of Surplus Milk

"For the past year or so," says Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty, County Home Demonstration Agent, "I have heard so many farm women complain of the low prices that they were getting for their surplus milk. I decided that there might be a solution to this problem by teaching them to make a quantity of their surplus milk into American cured cheese to be used for home consumption.

"Four demonstrations of the making of cheese have been given in different sections of the county, and as a result of this," continues Mrs. Daugherty, "many molds of cheese can now be seen curing in cellars and cold pantries of the farm homes. Mrs. Charles Dukes, of Taylor's Bridge, has made 23 pounds of cheese to date, and several women in the Taylor's Bridge community have made 10 pounds each. The total cost for making this cheese, including the milk, is about 11 cents per pound, which is 18 to 29 cents per pound cheaper than it can be bought, and at the same time it gives the homemaker the convenience of going to her cellar and cutting off the amount of cheese she needs without having to put out any money or make a trip to town for it. This also carries out Dean McCue's idea of 'Farm First for Food and Feed.'

"Cheese," continues Mrs. Daugherty, is one of our most wholesome and economical foods, and one of our best substitutes for meat—a pound of cheese being equal in food value to more than a pound of any kind of meat. As there is so little waste to cheese, it is much more economical than meat."

Mrs. Daugherty will be glad to send directions for making and curing cheese to any one writing her at the Extension Service, University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware.

Delaware Has 90 Miles of Single Lane Pavement

In the United States there are some 3000 miles of single lane pavement from eight to ten feet in width. Despite the fact that these pavements are only one traffic lane wide, they are almost entirely free from accidents, a survey shows.

County highway officials reported on concrete pavement four to eighteen years old carrying much of the purely local traffic.

The accident map of Delaware, states E. E. Duffy, Delaware Automobile Association, A. M. A., 1223 Market street, which has a total of ninety miles of single lane pavement, shows a concentration of accidents along the main country highways and not a single accident on the twenty-six strips of single lane pavement carrying local traffic.

Single lane pavement consists of a strip of concrete, one traffic lane wide, with a wide shoulder for meeting and passing, which is placed at one side of the center line of the roadway. This type of pavement, held ideal for traffic flows of from 50 to 400 or 500 vehicles a day, is being built in many rural communities because it gives main road travel qualities, all-year service, and doubles the mileage road funds may purchase.

Freedom from accident on single lane pavement is due to the natural safety of concrete and to ordinary driving courtesy on the part of the local citizens who are almost the only users of these roads.

Church Observances to Mark Close of Bicentennial Celebration

The George Washington Bicentennial Celebration will be brought to a close on Thanksgiving Day, November 24, in the same manner in which it began on February 22—with religious services in honor of George Washington in all churches of America.

The United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission estimates that more than 75,000 churches will participate in separate Thanksgiving Bicentennial exercises. In many cities and towns, the Bicentennial Commission reports, churches of all denominations will hold joint commemorative Thanksgiving Day exercises in honor of the Father of His Country.

The reports from the religious societies of America indicate that every church of the land will participate in this closing tribute, either by holding separate Bicentennial exercises or by joining with the other churches of their community in a combined celebration.

The Bicentennial Celebration has been going on in all parts of the world for the past nine months. More than 700,000 separate committees, representing the schools and churches as well as civic, fraternal and patriotic societies, have been actively engaged in honoring the memory of George Washington on the two hundredth anniversary of his birth. Every state, city and town in the United States has participated. Besides, the celebration has been carried out in all our territories and dependencies as well as in the seventy-eight foreign countries.

The records of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission indicate that to date more than one million separate Bicentennial programs have been held in all parts of the world.

This unprecedented celebration—the greatest tribute ever paid to a national hero—will come to an official close with observances of simplicity and respect. A united nation will show its reverence and admiration for its founder.

The United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission announces that it has prepared special booklets to assist organizations in arranging their Thanksgiving Day celebration. More than 25,000 of these booklets have already been distributed. In addition the Commission had prepared a book of sermons made up of contributions from the leading clergymen of the various denominations of America. These sermon books have been distributed primarily to churches in small cities and towns where facilities for research are not abundant. Copies may still be procured by writing to the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission in Washington, D. C.

18,000 Children Killed by Accidents In United States Each Year

Approximately 18,000 children are killed each year by accidents in the United States. Almost half of them, 8,500, are under five years of age. Of these 8,500 little children who are killed because of somebody's carelessness, about three-fourths, or 6,400, are killed in their own homes where they are thought to be most safe. Children of that age must be expected to be heedless. It is up to their parents to teach them the right thing to do and to teach them not to do the dangerous things.

The Delaware Safety Council urges parents to continually warn children of the dangers of playing with matches. Matches should be kept in an inaccessible place so that the youngsters cannot get them. Ordinary matches are far more dangerous than safety matches because they will strike any place and will light one upon the other. Safety matches should be used in the homes.

Many children lose their lives by accidental poisoning in the homes each year. All poison bottles should be carefully labeled. It is a good precaution to stick pins in the corks of poison bottles so that they can be distinguished in the dark. Generally poisons need not be used in the homes because there is a non-poisonous substitute for each, but if they are felt to be indispensable they should be kept in a place inaccessible to children.

Highly polished floors are the pride of many housewives and yet painful injuries and deaths have been caused by slipping on them. Small rugs increase the danger. Never place rugs at the head or foot of stairs or elsewhere on slippery floors.

Although elderly persons are the more frequent victims of falls, children come in for their share of tumbles too. Teach them not to climb on staircases, porch railings and other dangerous places.

Mrs. Emma B. Evans, chairman of motion pictures, said that her committee expected to cooperate with the state committee in its program.

Mrs. Wm. J. Barnard, chairman of hospitality, announced the following appointments: Mrs. William Hayes, assistant chairman and typist; Mrs. Harvey Hofferker, treasurer and buyer; Mrs. S. A. Slack, coffee and tea maker; Mrs. A. D. Cobb, badges; November Hostesses, Mrs. C. M. Myers, Mrs. A. C. Huston, Mrs. Lee Lewis and Mrs. Gerald Gilligan; December Hostesses, Mrs. Wm. Hayes, Mrs. A. D. Cobb, Mrs. Paul Lovett, and Mrs. Walter Holton; January Hostesses, Mrs. R. L. Spencer, Mrs. A. B. Eastman, Mrs. Allyn Cooch and Mrs. R. L. Cooch; February Hostesses, Mrs. S. A. Slack, Mrs. Harvey Hofferker, Mrs. G. D. Plummer and Mrs. Harvey Steele; Hostesses for March, Mrs. Wm. Lynam, Mrs. C. E. Ewing, Mrs. James MacKenzie and Mrs. G. H. Lloyd.

Mrs. Wm. R. Wilson, chairman of welfare, made the following report: "The mayor has appointed a committee to look after relief this winter to coordinate with us and avoid duplication. The different organizations are asked to report to us any relief work which they may be doing and thus prevent any over-lapping. The plans have not been worked out altogether but we are very much pleased to have the assistance of the men for it is hard for women to cope with unemployment.

Our work this summer and fall has been greater than for like seasons in previous years. The college contributed $1664.12 (464.12 from the Delaware-Haverford game and balance from salaries) and had we not received their May contribution of $300, our committee, would now be bankrupt.

Six of the Home Economic girls at the College, under the direction of Miss E. Kelley, have taken some old coats given us, cleaned and pressed them and are making new suits for some of our little girls. The remaining five girls in the class are making suits for five little boys.

The Red Cross has given us a hundred bags of flour of twenty-four pounds each to distribute, while Mr. Bush, overseer of the post, has donated another hundred bags. The last amount is given us as a postage since the county has no fund to help the poor and has had to withdraw its relief—this, of course, throws a heavier burden upon us.

A call one morning to Mr. Jacobs resulted in his locating a good second-hand oil stove. He repaired this, the only cost to us being $1.50 for the material needed, and delivered it to a young mother who sadly needed it. Another stove belonging to an old colored woman was repaired by Mr. McKay, of the University. The new parts would have cost $14.00 but he secured materials and the cost was negligible.

One boy has been taken this fall to the Kirkwood Clinic in Wilmington for an examination, and a little girl to an oculist in Wilmington whose services in both cases were free.

The dental clinic is still well patronized. Dr. P. K. Musselman and Mrs. G. D. Plummer give their services every other Tuesday.

Mrs. S. A. Slack, chairman of legislation, reported the steps which she and her state committee expected to take in the reduction of taxes. Mr. Ramsey of the Taxpayers' Research League, appointed by Governor Buck, in his address before her group said that in 1922 New Castle County tax rate was $1.10, which equaled $1,600,000, and of it 15 per cent went for interest on road bonds and in 1925 33 1/3 per cent went for interest and matured bonds.

In 1927, the State assumed the interest and in 1931 the State assumed the interest and the payment of the road bonds of all counties.

Since then, Kent has reduced its rate from 80c to 54c; Sussex from $1.10 to 70c, but New Castle made no reduction until this year, $1.10 to $1.05.

To reduce taxes we should strive to reduce expense of the big items such as general government and the highways, which was 56 per cent.

Unification of the State highways would cut county tax in half. Mr. Ramsey urged the Women's Club to sponsor the measures for tax reduction which his league sponsors.

District of Delaware Y. W. C. A. News

Miss Lelia Hinkley, Y. W. C. A. secretary of Peiping, China, will be in Dover Friday, November 18, to speak at the Annual Meeting of the District of Delaware Y. W. C. A., which will be held at the Wesley Methodist Church. Soon after graduating from the University of Colorado, Miss Hinkley entered upon her work in China where she has been for a number of years. From time to time she has returned to New York for study. Miss Hinkley feels that one of the encouraging phases of Chinese life at present is the great desire of the women to establish the Y. W. C. A. program and that they themselves are increasingly taking over the leadership of the work. Miss Hinkley returns to China in January, 1933.

Arrangements for the observance of the 25th anniversary of the organization of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A., and for special music have been made for this meeting. All members and friends of the District Y. W. C. A. are invited to be present. Tickets for the dinner may be procured from Mrs. John Shilling, Mrs. Charlotte Reed, Miss Elizabeth Rowe, and Mrs. George Ehinger.

The Girl Reserves and Business Girls Club of Dover are working on an interesting project of World Friendship. Each club has selected a country to study and they are trying to discover the kinds of costumes, customs, foods, and activities of the women and girls of that country. On December 10th they will hold a Christmas Festival, and each club will portray the Christmas customs of its country through pantomimes, songs, legends, and plays. Following this each club plans to serve some food characteristic of its country. The countries being studied are Sweden, Italy, France, Palestine, Roumania, Mr. George Henry, Principal of the Dover High School, spoke to the Torchbearer Club, on Italy, that being the country they are studying. Mr. Roy Helfenstein is helping the Business Girls in their study of Palestine, and the girls are also following his lectures on Palestine with interest.

The Blue Triangle Club, of Dover, has divided into two clubs because of the differences in the age groups. Mrs. Marian Herbst and Mrs. Myrtle Roop are the advisers of the older group which will meet Tuesday afternoons, and Miss Jeanette Kesseling is to be the adviser of the younger group, which will meet Monday afternoons. The Dover Business Girls discussed the customs of Palestine at their meeting, Thursday, November 17, at the home of Charlotte Reed.

The Delaware City Girl Reserves held the first meeting of their "Christmas Workshop" for handicraft activities on Wednesday, November 16, in the new school. The girls plan to make some gifts to give as Christmas presents and to remodel old toys for those who would not have any Christmas this year.

Thirty-one Girl Reserves met in New Castle, Monday night and decided to form a Junior and a Senior Club. Mrs. Helen Newlove is to be the adviser of the Junior club which will meet Thursday afternoon, and Mrs. Marjory Montgomery and Mrs. Phyllis Tobin will be the advisers of the Senior club which will meet Monday evenings.

A group of students and teachers of Seaford met with Miss Good and Miss Buckwalter, Y. W. C. A. secretaries, on Wednesday morning to discuss the matter of organizing a Girl Reserve Club in the Seaford High School. Mrs. Handy, Mrs. Elliott, Miss Ellen Carlson, Margaret Wainwright, Ruth Bowden, and Mr. Thornburgh were on this committee. They decided to have the Girl Reserve program presented to the girls of the three upper grades of the High School on November 22, and let them make the final decision on the subject.

The Frankford Women's Council of the Y. W. C. A. met on November 8 to organize and make plans for the year. Mrs. James Polk was elected chairman and Mrs. R. P. Long secretary. The group will hold monthly meetings, the next one being December 7th at four o'clock. The need for vocational guidance for the high school girls was discussed and it was decided to secure some books on this subject and place them in the town library for the use of the young people. Mrs. Polk will act as adviser of the Girl Reserve Club until the first of the year when Mrs. Pugh will take charge of it. The members of the Council are: Mrs. James Polk, Mrs. R. F. Long, Mrs. Ray Pugh, Mrs. H. B. Shepherd, Mrs. C. C. Fooks, Mrs. Frank Long, Mrs. Topp M. Heath.

TWO MILLION RELIEF BILL DRAFTED AND PRESENTED AT SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

To Be Vested in a Temporary Emergency Relief Commission of Eight Members

The text of the $2,000,000 relief bill presented at the request of Governor Buck to the special session of the Legislature which opened in Dover at noon Tuesday was made public.

The bill provides for the authorization of a $2,000,000 bond issue to be bought with that amount of money borrowed temporarily from the State school fund and to be repaid to the fund through payments from the general fund over a period of ten years. The bonds will bear interest of two per cent annually.

The administration of the relief fund shall be vested in a Temporary Emergency Relief Commission of eight members to be appointed by the Governor and to serve during his pleasure but not beyond October 31, next year, the bill provides, unless specifically authorized by the Governor to serve for a specified longer period that shall not extend beyond April 30, 1934.

Five of the members shall be appointed from the State-at-large and the three remaining members shall at the time of their appointment be designated by the Governor as relief directors, of whom one shall be appointed from among the residents of each of the three counties, to serve in those counties.

The emergency relief provided by the bill shall be confined to work relief and direct relief.

Each relief director shall organize in his county a county committee to be composed of the members of citizen's relief committees now in existence. The functions and duties of the county committees shall be to raise by subscription within the county an amount equal to twenty per cent of the whole amount of money furnished by the commission for direct relief in the county during each month.

The bill further provides that in furnishing work relief or direct relief, or both, no discrimination shall be made against any applicant on the grounds of race, color, religious belief or political affiliation. No relief shall be furnished except to persons who are in actual need and who are involuntarily out of employment, yet capable and willing to work or whose employment is not sufficiently remunerative to provide the necessities of life for themselves and dependents and who have been residents of the State for at least one year prior to their applications for relief.

Those who receive old age pensions, mothers' aid, those who are physically or mentally incapacitated from earning a living, those who have never been regularly employed and who have been in whole or in part charges on the community and those who are provided for by law, private, charity or otherwise shall not be eligible to aid under the bill.

It was reported Tuesday that several residents of Wilmington who have been interested in unemployment relief activities for two years or more would visit Dover Tuesday or Wednesday to suggest several changes in the bill. They contend that administration of the relief fund should be left to the relief committees now existing, particularly in Wilmington, because of their experience in this line of work. It is understood they do not plan to submit an entirely new bill.

SAPPHIRE'S MANY SHAPES

Sapphires occur in such igneous rocks as granites, syenites, rhyolites especially in rocks rich in aluminum, and also in metamorphosed strata associated with tourmaline, spinel and garnets. In the natural state, says Nature Magazine, they may be either double pyramid hexagons or six-sided, barrel-shaped crystals or water-rolled, rounded pebbles. These gems are, next to the diamond, the hardest of all natural substances.

The Home and That Boy of Yours BY F. H. CHELEY PLAY IN THE HOME THERE is another aspect of play that is vitally important. The old-time home was a place where the whole family did things together to a very much larger extent than at present. The very nature of things made such a condition both possible and necessary. The family fellowship through interesting activity both in the home and out and came to know each other and to appreciate each other and to develop a whole chain of fine loyalties, many of which have completely vanished in our modern day. Today each member of the family, by changed conditions, finds its main occupation out and away from the family, so that the only tie that is left to hold family circles together into units, is play, activity in which all can share, and as a result, fellowship. Son is so often a total stranger to father and vice versa, because they do nothing together, not even eat. Son is so often really a total stranger to mother because she does more and more for him and less and less with him. There is a very real place for family play, in the fine, big, broad meaning of the word and whole families need to give more careful consideration to the possibilities of just such a plan. And I'm not talking about an occasional game of checkers or even an occasional friendly rough house. I'm talking about a much larger mutual participation in interesting things to do together. Many homes have one night a week when the family as such, entertain or go out together to the theater or to call on friends, or to dance or to play golf, or what not. Many families are vacationing together to the advantage of all. While it is perfectly true that as the social consciousness dawns, the growing child is called to more and more strongly by the gang and should respond; and while it is perfectly true that we should guard against dominating and controlling unfolding personalities for our own ends, or as we think best, rather than as is best for them, there is still a happy means, where the boy thoroughly enjoys activity (play) with his parents and his parents enjoy the participation with the boy. While technically it is very difficult for a father to pal with his son because of differences in age, experience and point of view, there are thousands of fathers who continually "play" with their sons some activity of mutual interest and to the great advantage of both. Families can play together by making more of the established family holidays and by maintaining open house for a boy's friends, inside of reason. By such a plan boys may be kept at home and happy at least during the years when it ought to be so. (© 1932, Western Newspaper Union.)

Program to Raise Standards of Farm Housing Offered by President's Conference

To the five million American farm homes in which all water for household use is still carried in from the well by hand, waste is carried out in pails, and lighting is by kerosene lamps, the President's Conference on Home Building and Home Ownership offers, in the publication of its final report on "Farm and Village Housing," a program for the improvement of these primitive conditions.

The report is the work of a committee of forty-five specialists in various fields of agriculture and housing, under the chairmanship of Provost A. R. Mann of Cornell University. It is based upon a survey of the physical conditions of rural housing throughout the nation, a survey of financing practices, of taxation difficulties, and of the agencies available to work for the improvement of farm homes. It recognizes that the incomes of farmers must increase before most of them can afford new homes of suitable standard, and that this increase must be preceded by more intelligent use of land, involving particularly the withdrawal from agriculture of sub-marginal land.

But meanwhile, the report finds, much can be done by the farmer himself and by the agencies devoted to his welfare to improve rural housing. If farmers cannot afford new dwellings, they can repair and remodel those they have. The authors of the report believe that the poor physical quality of most farm homes, indicated by the fact that the average value of farmers' dwellings in the United States according to the 1930 census is only $1,126, by the presence of piped-in water in less than one-sixth of American farm dwellings, and by the general absence of labor-saving devices, is due as much to indifference and to lack of information on how to make improvements economically as it is to low incomes. Accordingly a major feature of the report is that it brings together existing information to serve as a manual for the farmer. There are instructions on how the farmer can acquire plumbing, electricity, and heating equipment bit by bit at a cost which the majority could probably afford. There are also comprehensive instructions on the mixing and use of paints, on the building of frame houses, on the protection of health, and on the planning of the farmstead for beauty and utility. In this connection the report points out that so far even less attention has been paid to making the farm home attractive than to making it comfortable.

But the lasting service of the report is perhaps its revelation of the lack of information extant on farm housing. The authors find that in comparison to the need little has been done; there are no suitable house plans to meet the varying needs of different sections of the country and different types of farming; there have been no attempts to adapt the farm house to its special functions; there are no comprehensive studies on reconditioning. That these deficiencies must be met is self evident and the report calls for the establishment of a central agency for research on farm housing problems of inspired and coordinate investigations to get at the facts by which better homes for America's farmers can be provided.

Of special interest in connection with the present tendency to return to the land is the section of the report on part-time farmers, who have increased tremendously in the past twenty years. The special problem of all part-time farmers is said to be the "high cost of credit." "The evidence is that credit at 6 per cent is too costly to induce many wage earners to settle on the land or to facilitate improvement in the housing conditions of those who are already engaged in part-time farming."

The report contains also a splendid history of rural architecture in America, a study of village economy, and summaries of the housing conditions of Indians and of migratory laborers—conditions so bad as to constitute a social problem. An extensive bibliography of publications dealing with many aspects of farm housing is included. Secretary Wilbur of the Department of the Interior wrote the foreword, and there is an introduction by the editors, John M. Gries and James Ford. The volume is an invaluable text book and guide to action for farmers, agricultural extension agents, and all those interested in rural problems. This report forms part of the complete program, formulated by the President's Conference on Home Building and Home Ownership at its meeting in Washington last December, to raise the standard of American housing. The entire program is presented in eleven volumes of which nine have now been published. The volumes can be purchased for $1.15 each postpaid, from Dr. James Ford, President's Conference on Home Building and Home Ownership, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C. COUNTING THE STARS When, on a dark, clear night, one looks at the glory of the stars in the heavens as though the clouds in the heavens were infinite in number, says Nature Magazine, "Those that one sees with the naked eye appear countless, and one thinks of the billions only to be seen with the aid of a telescope. In truth, however, there are less than 3500 stars to be seen with the unaided eye at any one time and place and under the best conditions." The regulars (that only note half the party) are: Even another Florida boom would be better than what we have.

58. He should be independent of life's sorrows and losses
59. Then he becomes also a fountain of blessing in the world

HANDLE FUTURE BREEDING MALES CAREFULLY

By Prof. A. G. Phillips

From a poultry breeding and hatchery standpoint the male is considered to be valued at one-half the flock. Regardless of the fine physical condition of the breeding females during the hatching season, if the male bird is not normal in every way, a lot of problems, difficult of understanding, are bound to occur.

Considering that the males to be used are cockerels, a few definite details of fall and winter management are necessary in order to insure good physical condition in the breeding season.

1. Selection should be started now and continued up to January 1st. Keep culling out the unfit and cowardly males. Choose the ones that express vigor and size to the maximum degree. Those which are sexually dominant but small in size are not the best.

2. Keep the cockerels away from the females, on free range, as late in the fall as possible. Leghorns should have stumps or rails, upon which they can sit out-of-doors, in order to minimize injury from fighting. When housing them in cold weather, still segregated from the females, allow plenty of room for physical comfort. Keep the males as comfortable as the females.

3. While on free range and finishing their growth, hard grain will dominate the feeding ration. Leghorns need no mash but the heavier breeds may have it available. After cold weather forces the males into winter quarters, they should be given grain, mash, grit and water. To keep in good breeding condition, males need more protein than the hard grains will provide.

4. If poultry is kept in climates that become very cold in winter, it may be practical to cut off the combs close to the skull or "dub" the males in the fall. Nothing is more uncomfortable or harmful to proper mating than a frozen comb. The removal of the comb in the fall is far less cruel than to allow it to be frozen in a cold winter.

The breeding season is short but it must be considered well in advance of January 1st. The male being an important part of the breeding flock, he must not only be well chosen and selected but given proper feed and care.

PAY CULINARY TRIBUTE TO THANKSGIVING DAY

There is no greater Thanksgiving Day tribute than a delicious Roast Turkey Dinner with cranberry sauce, sweet potatoes and pumpkin pie.

This Thanksgiving can be an outstanding one for you and your family. Here is the meal that will make it outstanding—it is a Pilgrim Turkey Dinner adapted to the spirit of 1932.

- TOMATO OR OYSTER COCKTAIL
- ROAST TURKEY WITH CHESTNUT OR SAGE STUFFING
- CANDIED SWEET POTATOES OR MASHED WHITE POTATOES
- BRUSSELS SPROUTS, CAULIFLOWER, BROCCOLI, OR SPINACH
- CRANBERRY SAUCE
- CELERY RIPE OLIVES RADISHES
- BREAD AND BUTTER
- GRAPEFRUIT SALAD WITH CHEESE WAFERS
- PUMPKIN PIE WITH QUINCE JELLY
- COFFEE
- NUTS AND MINTS

SAGE STUFFING

- 3/4 cup butter or other fat
- 1 cup chopped celery and leaves
- 2 medium-sized onions, chopped
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 2 qts. soft stale bread crumbs
- salt, pepper
- 1 to 2 tablespoons powdered sage

Melt the fat in a skillet, add the celery, onion, and parsley and simmer for a few minutes. Add the bread crumbs, season with salt, pepper, and sage, and stir until well mixed and hot.

CHESTNUT STUFFING (for a Ten-Pound Turkey)

- 1 pound chestnuts
- 1/4 cup turkey fat
- 1/4 cup butter
- 2 cups chopped celery leaves and stalks
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- Few sprigs parsley, chopped
- 6 cups bread crumbs
- Salt and pepper
- Savory seasoning

Cook the chestnuts in boiling water for about 20 minutes. Remove the shells and brown skins while the nuts are still hot. Try out the turkey fat and add the butter. Cook the chopped celery and onion in this for a few minutes. Add the parsley and bread crumbs and season to taste with salt, pepper, and savory seasoning. Stir until the mixture is thoroughly hot. Wipe the turkey dry inside, sprinkle with salt, and fill with the hot stuffing.

ROAST TURKEY

Since the turkey, remove the pin feathers, cleanse thoroughly, and wipe dry. Sprinkle the inside with salt, fill with hot stuffing, and sew up the opening. Fold the wings back on the neck, and tie the ends of the legs together under the tail. Rub the surface of the turkey with butter, sprinkle with salt, pepper, and flour, and lay a piece of fat over the breast bone.

To roast a young turkey, put the bird on its back on a rack in an open roasting pan. Brown lightly in a hot oven (450 degrees F.), then reduce the heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and continue to cook the turkey until it is tender. Baste occasionally with the drippings. Allow about 15 minutes to the pound for roasting.

For an older turkey, cover the roasting pan as soon as the bird has browned, and cook at a moderate temperature until tender. Allow about 20 minutes to the pound.

TO CARVE A TURKEY

1. Have a very sharp, long-bladed carving knife.
2. Place the turkey on its back with its neck at your left. Insert the carving fork at the point of the breast bone, the tines straddling the ridge, and hold the bird firmly.
3. Cut through the skin separating the leg from the body. Pull back the leg, disjoint and remove it.
4. Separate the drumsticks from the thigh by cutting through at the joint.
5. Slice the meat from the leg into several portions.
6. Remove the wing by cutting down through the joint close to the body.
7. Carve the breast meat in thin slices.

Diothane, A New Anesthetic

Diothane, a new anesthetic, which continues to kill pain after an operation and is claimed to have no habit-forming power, was reported at a recent meeting of the American Chemical Society by Drs. T. H. Rider and E. W. Scott. It is local and is said to outdo both cocaine and novocaine. The drug is closely related to a number of similar organic anesthetics which are not particularly effective. A few slight changes in the positions of atoms account for its potency.

"This compound," Dr. Rider explains, "is the only one at present available which is not only stronger than either cocaine or novocaine but can be used satisfactorily in any surgical operation that can be done under a local anesthetic. At the same time it is not habit-forming and is less toxic than either cocaine or novocaine."

"Among the outstanding effects is the slowness with which the anesthesia disappears. Because of this the patient is more comfortable after an operation than is usually the case."

"Clinical studies have been made with diothane which have shown that its use in actual practice leads to more favorable results than the use of previously known anesthetics."

MILFORD CROSS ROADS SCHOOL NOTES

Next Wednesday afternoon, November 23, at 2:45 p. m., the Thanksgiving program will be given in the school room. All parents and friends of the school are cordially invited to be present.

There will be a play, "Grandma Green's Thanksgiving." Paul Nelson, as "Grandpa" and Agnes Kwiatkowski, as "Grandma," are excellent character portrayals. Charles Nelson, as "Marvin," and Blanche Reed, as "Lucy," show how much grandchildren can really help to solve a serious situation. Carolyn Guthrie and Wilson Cunningham, as the "Stebbin" children provide the humor in the play.

Following the play, a Harvest pageant will be presented. The first scene will be an Indian one; the second, one of the Pilgrims. The last scene will show our modern conception of Thanksgiving—a scene over which Betty Hollingsworth, as "Columbia," presides.

Thursday and Friday, November 24 and 25, will be holidays.

Mr. Herman Stradley.

The State P. T. A. has selected "Health" as its problem for the year. Milford Cross Roads will make every endeavor to have the physical defects of its children corrected.

Mrs. James Cunningham, program chairman, had provided for the recreational as well as the serious side of the P. T. A. work when she presented her November program in the school room last Wednesday evening.

Adult Education

There are now forty-seven adults enrolled in the music class at Milford Cross Roads. It isn't too late to join the class. There were five new members last Tuesday night.

If you are interested in music, plan to be with us next Tuesday evening at 7:30. The teacher, Miss Helen Martin, as well as the music group itself, will give you a hearty welcome. Help us swell our numbers.

Milk Inspection

Mr. Herbert Eastburn, local milk dealer, gave the third and fourth grade children a "treat" on Wednesday afternoon after school. The children had been studying "Milk" for some time. They had been reading about pasteurizing but had never seen a pasteurizing plant. Mrs. Eastburn explained the process carefully to the pupils.

Those who made the trip were: Eulalah Brown, Annie Kwiatkowski, Scottie Guthrie, Lillard Brown, William Kwiatkowski, Daniel Reed, Stanley Kwiatkowski, Edwin Brown, and Phyllis Reed.
