Present Incumbents Win Election in Two Districts

Spirited Contest on Yesterday

Only Paid-up Taxables Could Cast Ballots

No contest for town office in recent years has so aroused the interest and the lethargy of the peace-loving citizen as that settled by yesterday's election.

Opposition to the present administration became apparent when they filed for re-election in order to complete big projects for town improvement now under way. The opposition filed candidates and the campaign went forward with all the zeal and thoroughness of a national contest. In the three districts 208 votes were polled, an unusual number, since only paid-up taxables for the previous year could vote. Contrary to the expectation of many, women could not vote this year.

In the Upper District E. C. Wilson, the present incumbent, won over State Senator John F. Richards by a vote of 61-23; Charles Colmery won over John Powell in the Middle District by 43-31; and A. L. Beals won over the present incumbent Jonathan Johnson, by 28-21, in the Lower District.

In the absence of Secretary-Treasurer S. B. Herdman, Ernest Frazer acted as one of the judges of election. The other judges were Wilbur Wilson and A. Lewis Fisher.

Is Transferred to New York

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelly have learned with regret of his transfer to the New York office of the American Vulcanized Fibre Co., where he will be a traveling salesman. Mr. Kelly has been connected with the plant here for several years. A vocalist of unusual ability, he has given of his talents freely to church and other enterprises.

Will Give Entertainment at Ogleton

A number of talented young men comprising the Mandolin Club at Newark High School will give an entertainment at Ogleton School House tomorrow evening. The club consists of Clyde Davis, John Mayer, Henry Townsend, Robert Hayes, Edward Hahn, Daniel Walton, Charles Evans, Courtland Houghan, Leroy Crompton, William Schwartz and Floyd Hubert. A large program of recitations, songs, and instrumental selections has been prepared.

Newark to Put Ball

Team in the Field
A number of the young men of the town held a meeting on Monday evening and effected organization. Frank Mote was elected manager and Victor Armstrong was made temporary captain. Another meeting will be held next Monday evening when it will be decided whether independent or league will be played.

Already 15 or 16 candidates in this team, all of them experienced players, are out for positions and it is a foregone conclusion that the Newark Athletic Club will put a fine team in the field.

Missionary Society to Meet Thursday Evening

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church will hold its regular meeting on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Miss Wesley.

Castle K. G. E.

to Hold Initiations
Castle No. 23, K. G. E., will initiate a large class of candidates next Saturday night, April 16th. All members are invited to come out and watch the Castle Degree Team per-

NEWARK YOUNG WOMAN THROWN FROM AUTOMOBILE

Miss Helen Troy Has Miraculous Escape from Serious Injury

Miss Helen Troy, a sister of Mrs. Louis Klee, miraculously escaped death yesterday morning when a touring car driven by her brother-in-law, Louis Klee, crashed into a large Vim truck, near Marshalltown. In the car were also State Representative, Charles L. Medill and Mr. Klee's young son, Eugene.

Mr. Klee overtook the truck and signalled to pass. As he was about to do so the truck turned suddenly into a farm lane. Realizing that a collision could not be avoided, Mr. Klee put on the brakes and swerved aside to lessen the shock which was however sufficient to hurl Miss Troy from the car. She was considerably frightened and shaken but not seriously hurt.

The other occupants of the car and the driver of the truck escaped without injury. A fender of Mr. Klee's car was bent but no further damage was sustained.

Edward Larsen of this town was the driver of the truck.

Newark Fire Company Congratulated

Mr. A. L. Mooney, representing the Springfield Fire Insurance Co., of Springfield, Mass., visited here on Monday to inspect the damage to J. Mausel Tweed's property on Main Street caused by the recent fire. He expressed great surprise that the fire was controlled and confined to that building after having gained so much headway, stating that the "town" was to be congratulated on its efficient fire company.

Mr. Tweed's loss under his policy with the above named company was proven and settlement made in full, check in settlement being received through the company's agents, The Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Co., on Thursday. Mr. Tweed was very appreciative of the prompt and satisfactory settlement made.

D. C. Alumni to Organize

Delaware College Alumni of Wilmington will hold a meeting tonight at the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of effecting an organization of a local chapter. Several attempts have been made in the past but without success. Philadelphia and New York have thriving chapters and Wilmington is determined to have one.

Wilmington has more graduates than any other locality and once organized would wield a tremendous power in Alumni circles. The idea proposed is that the organization shall not only be a social affair but shall take an active part in College Councils.

Ladies Aid Society

Elected Officers

The annual election of officers for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frances A. Cooch, resulted in the choice of the following:

President, Mrs. Howard Williams.

Vice-President, Mrs. Howard Patchell.

Secretary, Mrs. Frank Willis.

Treasurer, Mrs. Francis A. Cooch.

Great regret was expressed by the Society that Mrs. George Ferguson, who has been president for several years, was compelled to relinquish the office this year because of ill health. Appreciation of her excellent work in that office was expressed by her co-workers in the society.

Routine business was transacted and a social hour enjoyed.

The society will meet on May 5 at the home of Mrs. Daniel Stoll.

CENTURY CLUB NOTES

At the regular weekly meeting of the New Century Club on Tuesday, the following program was enjoyed:

Piano duet, Mrs. F. M. K. Foster and Mrs. G. E. Dutton.

Reading, "If," Rudyard Kipling, Mrs. C. A. Short.

Current Events:

Dean Robinson spoke on John Burroughs; Mrs. George Carter spoke on "Greater Usefulness for Newark Women"; Mrs. R. O. Bausman on the "Pulp and Paper Industry in Alaska"; Mrs. Elinor Harter on "Can Automobiles be Struck by Lightning?"; and an interesting article on Glands, and Mrs. T. R. Martin, "The Message of the Japanese Emperor to the U. S."

At the meeting yesterday two officers for the Club Corporation were elected, Mrs. Harry L. Bonham and Mrs. Thomas Manns.

The meeting next Tuesday, April 19th, will be important. Reports will be heard from chairmen of all standing committees and election of officers will take place.

The annual Children's Party will take place on Saturday afternoon, April 16th, and is in charge of Miss Mary E. Rich.

The last meeting of the club year will be April 26th, when the installation of new officers will take place, followed by a reception to them.

Will Open Restaurant on Elkton Avenue

The carpenter shop belonging to George W. Griffin on Elkton Ave., has been fitted up into spacious rooms which will be used by Ira Kilmon for an up-to-date restaurant. He expects to begin business there in a few days.

Rev. Raymond Ketchledge at First Presbyterian Church

The Rev. Raymond Ketchledge, of Camp Hill, Pa., will preach at both the morning and evening services in the First Presbyterian Church next Sunday, April 17th. All members are urged to take this opportunity to hear Mr. Ketchledge.

MANY ATTEND ANNIVERSARY OF ORGANIZATION OF RED MEN

GREAT CHIEF OF RECORDS HERE

PARADE, SPEECHES AND SINGING FEATURES OF INTERESTING CELEBRATION HELD AT FRATERNAL HOME SUNDAY

The achievements of the Improved Order of Red Men in the State and in the nation, the high ideals for which it stands, and the history of its inception, were told in an entertaining way to interested listeners at the 36th anniversary of the establishment of the local Order, celebrated last Sunday at the Fraternal Home.

The lodge members met in their hall at 130 and donning their regalia marched to the Home preceded by Minnehaha Band. Here a goodly number of friends from surrounding communities had assembled in the spacious reception room for the exercises of the day.

The choir from the Methodist church led in the singing of old familiar hymns, to accompaniment by Dr. C. F. Miller. Prayer was offered by George W. Russell, Superintendent of the Fraternal Home. He was followed by Rev. Frank Herson who told what an anniversary should mean in retrospect, introspection and resolve for betterment. He lauded the fraternal spirit of the order and pointed out the responsibility resting upon an organization of such far-reaching influence. The possibilities for betterment of the

COLLEGE GLEE CLUBS TO PRESENT "MISS BOB WHITE"

Rehearsals Going Well Under Direction of Miss Dora Wilcox

The Girls' Glee Club of the Women's College, and the Men's Glee Club of the Men's College of the University of Delaware, have combined forces for the production of the comic opera "Miss Bob White." This is the most ambitious work attempted in recent years by any musical clubs of the University.

Rehearsals are being held almost daily in Wolf Hall. The opera is under the direction of Miss Dora Wilcox, director of music at the Women's College. Miss Edna Pratt will accompany at the piano.

Miss Helen Fisher will appear in the title role. Her voice shows up to advantage in all her songs, and her acting is very well done. As the charming milkmaid she will appear in a most captivating part. Eleanor Vineyard as the pretty farmer's daughter is another star.

The two glee clubs have in their membership the best singers in the University. Some of the Freshmen are showing up very well. The singing of the upper-classmen, including Dantz, Rowan, Daley and Christfield is up to old-time form.

The following is the complete cast:

Artie TreBillion	L. B. Daley, '22
Billy VanBillion	J. G. Christfield, '22
Duke of Hightitties (English peer)	Clifford Smith, '24
Lord Bashful (His son)	F. J. Rowan, '23
"Friend" Samuel Rodd (Farmer)	Irving Boggs, '21
Jack Heartie (a sailor)	G. F. Waples, '21
O'Yankemin (a suburban cop)	Harold Repp, '22
George Washington DeVere (Butler)	T. R. Dantz, '22
Nagg (a hunter)	Herbert Kirk, '24
Brush (a hunter)	H. P. Yost, '23
Miss Livingston (Miss Bob White)	Miss Helen Fisher, '21
Goldenrod (Farmer Rodd's daughter)	Miss Eleanor Vineyard, '24
Miss Liveinthepast Autumn	Miss Beatrice Naylor, '23
Miss Schuyler (a one-onlyl Dame)	Miss Mabel Bromley, '24
Maggie	Miss Myra Averett, '24

CONFERENCE SECRETARY ADDRESSES MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Mrs. C. W. Weldin of Wilmington Here Last Week

An interesting and inspiring address by Mrs. C. W. Weldin, of Wilmington, corresponding secretary of the Wilmington Conference for the Home Missionary Societies was a pleasing feature of the monthly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. V. Vaughn.

The meeting was formally opened by the president, Mrs. H. Warner McNeal. A victrola selection, "Abide With Me," was the first number on the program. Mrs. Rebecca Crossan led the devotional exercises, taking for her topic, "Work, and How to do it." She read Romans, 15th chapter and called upon every member for a sentence prayer.

Mrs. T. F. Manns who was chairman in charge of the afternoon's program, gave an entertaining exposition of the function of a missionary society in the church, declaring it to be "the balance wheel" for the militant organization.

Mrs. Weldin in the course of her address called attention to the fact that the emblem of the association is the flag and that the missionary society is the only organization outside of the naval and military, that is permitted to use the flag as an emblem. She recounted the good work done by the organizations throughout the conference and gave inspiration and encouragement for a continuance of their efforts.

After the meeting an informal reception was tendered Mrs. Weldin and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Newark Rifle Club to Meet Tomorrow Night

The Newark Rifle Club organized several months ago, will hold a very important meeting at Powell's restaurant on Thursday evening, April 14, at 8.30 o'clock.

Local Colored Man Killed by Train

The body of Joseph C. Potter, a negro trackwalker, aged about 19 years, unmarried, was found lying in a ditch beside the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Ruthby and Stroud's Bridge early Friday morning by a passing train crew. He had apparently been struck and killed by a train.

The body was taken by the crew to Wilmington and was later returned to Christiansa where relatives arranged for burial. The young man was well known in this vicinity where he worked as a farm hand previous to his employment as trackwalker.

St. Thomas' Guild to Hold Bake

A bake will be held in W. D. Dean's store next Saturday beginning at 10 o'clock and continuing throughout the day. Mrs. George Carter is chairman of the committee which is composed of the entire membership of the Guild. They invite all members of the society and of the church together with all their friends, to assist either by contribution or by purchase. The skill in the culinary art displayed by these women at previous affairs bespeaks success in this venture.

Local High School Girls in Declamation Contest

Two Newark young ladies, Misses Anna Little and Sara Pierson, were competitors in the county declamation contest held at Du Pont High School last week.

Miss Little's selection was, "Uncle Remus' Comments on 'Preachin' dat am Preachin'." Miss Pierson's was "Here Comes a Bride."

Masons Entertain State Officers Monday Evening

Grand Master Addresses Gathering

Many Visitors Present from This and Neighboring States

Probably the largest assemblage that has gathered in Odd Fellows' Hall in recent years gathered there on Monday evening when Hiram Lodge, No. 25, A. F. and A. M., was honored by a visit from the Grand Master, Wm. J. Highfield of Wilmington, and the following Grand Lodge officers:

Visitors were present from the neighboring communities in Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania. The principal address of the evening was made by Grand Master Highfield. Brief speeches were made by others. Hiram Lodge was represented by Past Masters C. A. McCue and C. A. Short.

Following the program a bountiful supper, consisting of fried oysters, chicken salad, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee, and cigars was served by the members. A community sing and a social hour followed.

Will Soon Choose Team to Face Kiwanians

"Rehearsals" will begin in earnest this week for the baseball game to be played Saturday, April 23, between a team chosen from the faculty at Delaware College and one from the Kiwanis Club of Wilmington. Candidates are reporting daily to Captain Kirkbride who will put them through practice games with the Rehab team the latter part of the week. The candidates include to date, Messrs. Shipley, Tarr, Davison, Runk, Diminick, LeCato, Hancock, Brinton, Foster, Reese, Manns, Harris, McDonald and Baker.

Former Newark Resident Dies in Middletown

Mrs. Mary Floyd Choate, widow of David Choate of Newark, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel J. Brockson, near Middletown, on Monday.

Funeral services will be held at the home of her son-in-law tomorrow afternoon at Middletown and interment made in St. Thomas' cemetery, Newark. Mrs. Choate came to Newark a bride and lived here for 54 years. Her husband kept a shoe shop and general store here for many years, in the property now occupied by Geist and Geist. Mrs. Choate assisted with the work and by her kindly interest and helpfulness endeared herself to hundreds of customers, and to neighbors who remember her with grateful affection. Her daughter taught in the public schools here.

Since the death of her husband she has made her home with her daughter. She was 85 years old and in spite of her years was active and unusually alert mentally.

Roses on Their Way Home

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rose have received word of their departure from West Palm Beach for the homeward journey. They will stop at Jacksonville, Fla., enroute, and will also visit Rev. and Mrs. Walter G. Haupt at Washington, D. C.

For The Homemaker's Eye

Rhubarb: Dessert and Tonic

Rhubarb, which possesses highly desirable nutritional qualities, and may be procured at a reasonable cost, is rich in mineral salts, and is something which all persons are likely to need as a spring tonic.

The first novelty in cooking rhubarb may be overcoming an old prejudice in favor of removing the skin. This thin red skin should be left on if one is to secure an attractive, beautifully colored product, no matter what rhubarb recipe is to be followed. Another innovation in the plain preparation of rhubarb is baking rather than stewing it. Alternate layers of rhubarb and a generous sprinkling of sugar, placed in a baking-dish with a few small pieces of butter and a little grated lemon-rind or cinnamon on top, will give the family an entirely new conception of rhubarb sauce.

All during the hot summer months rhubarb itself, or rhubarb juice or jelly, will make a pleasant, cooling item on the week's menus. In gelatin desserts, sherbets, punches or in shortcake or pudding, on cooler days, rhubarb has its place. Once it becomes popular to the family taste, some must be canned for winter use.

Rhubarb Sponge.

Two tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1-4 cup cold water, whites of 2 eggs, 1 cup rhubarb sauce, 1-2 cup sugar, 2 cup milk.

Soak the gelatin in the cold water until it is soft. Scald the milk, and dissolve the sugar in it. Pour the hot milk over the gelatin, and stir it until the gelatin is dissolved. Set the mixture in a cool place until it begins to stiffen. Then beat it well with an egg beater, add the rhubarb, and fold in the well-beaten whites of the eggs. Turn the mixture into a mold that has been rinsed with cold water and chill it until it is set. Serve the sponge with whipped cream.

Rhubarb Puffs.

One cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking-powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted fat, 1 egg, beaten, rhubarb sauce.

Combine all the ingredients, except the rhubarb, in the order given, and beat the mixture until it is smooth. Grease individual molds or cups, and into each put three tablespoons of rhubarb sauce and then one tablespoon of the batter. Steam the puffs for twenty minutes and serve them warm with cream and sugar or with foaming sauce.

Rhubarb Shortcake

Three eggs, 3 tablespoons lemon-juice, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking-powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Beat the yolks of the eggs until they are light. Add the lemon-juice, and gradually beat in the sugar. Beat the whites of the eggs until they are dry, add them to the mixture and beat it well. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Fold the dry ingredients lightly into the egg mixture. Bake the cake in two layers in a moderate oven.

Rhubarb Sherbet.

One tablespoon granulated gelatin, 1-4 cup cold water, 4 cups rhubarb-juice, 2 cups sugar, juice of 2 lemons.

Soak the gelatin in the cold water until it is soft. Make a syrup by boiling the rhubarb-juice and the sugar for five minutes. Pour the hot syrup over the gelatin, add the lemon-juice, and stir the mixture well. Strain it, allow it to cool and freeze it.

Rhubarb Punch.

Recipe 1.

One cup sugar, 1-2 cup water, juice of 2 lemons, 3 cups rhubarb-juice, 1 cup pineapple-juice.

Bol the sugar and the water for three minutes, and add it to the fruit juice. Chill the punch before serving it.

Recipe 2.

1-2 cup sugar, 3-4 cup water, juice of 3 oranges, juice of 1 lemon, 3 pints rhubarb-juice, 1 pint green tea, twice the ordinary strength.

Boil the sugar and the water for 3 minutes, and add it to the fruit-juice and the tea. Chill the punch before serving it.

Canning Rhubarb for Sauce.

There are at least two good ways of doing this:

1—Pack the rhubarb as tightly as possible into a jar. Fill the jar to overflowing with a hot, heavy sirup made of twice as much sugar as water and cooked until the sirup forms a thread when dropped from a spoon. Adjust the rubber and the lid, but do not seal the jar. Sterilize the jar for 15 minutes on a rack in a covered pan of boiling water. The water around the jar should come about one inch above the top of the jar. Seal the jar, remove it from the water, invert it on a cloth and allow it to cool.

Store it in a cool, dark place. Rhubarb canned in this way makes good sauce or filling for pies.

2—In a pint jar place a layer of sugar one-half inch deep, then a layer of rhubarb of equal depth and alternate in this way until the jar is filled, having a layer of sugar on top. Adjust the rubber and the lid and sterilize the jar in boiling water, as previously directed, for 25 minutes. Seal the jar, remove it from the water, invert it and allow it to cool. Store it in a cool, dark place. This makes a richer sauce than does the method previously described.

Some persons advocate canning rhubarb without cooking it. The jar is filled with rhubarb and placed under the water faucet where the cold water is allowed to run over the rhubarb, packing it into the jar and filling every crevice. The jar is then sealed and stored in a cool, dark place. It must not be moved or disturbed in any way until it is opened. The rhubarb is sweetened when the jar is opened for use. Although this uncooked rhubarb may keep satisfactorily, the flavor is generally not so good as that of rhubarb canned by one of the methods previously described.

ENGLISH VS. SLANG

Local Campaign Fails

Anti-This and Anti-That, the fads and fancies of this day! Will they never cease? It has reached such a state that one cannot rank at all in Social circles unless devoted to the campaign of the Anti Something.

The inconsistencies of the devotees to the various causes are both serious and ludicrous. The best illustration that has come to our notice is this—

A Professor of English came into our office to place an order that would require the thought, time and energy of our Craftsmen. In appearance, he resembled the typical London Clubman. His dress was immaculate, of the latest Holborn (via Chestnut Street) cut. Serious mien, perfect enunciation. Pronunciation was direct from Oxford with a touch of Harvard. While tracing, by his every act, an ancestry of training back to Beowulf, Chaucer and King James Version, he recognized with his superiority, a respect for the Craftsmen—and assumed, for the while, don't you know, a democratic air. But to the story.

So with a bit of the Strand in his attitude, he called for the Foreman. Now Kells is not the ordinary Printing Plant but "Foreman" is a title unused here except in documents, violently official. He asked for the Foreman and Harry came. For that he is—and a good one. But he doesn't exploit it. He's a Master Craftsman and real Craftsman do not know nor recognize Foremen. Harry has an ancestry, too. He draws a College man's salary, called "so-much-a-week." He's a mechanical genius—born that way. He knows Printing—the how, when and why. He may not know Chaucer but he knows old English. He is unacquainted with Architectural History but he knows his Gothic Types. He may not know his Shakespeare, but he can beat any Professor in seven states in a Spelling Bee. He learned it at the case and proof stone. He's an American—looks it, acts it, lives it and talks it.

Away from the story again.

The Professor, glancing at the ceiling, gave a resume of the coming campaign. A dissertation, it was, on the dangers of prevalence of "Slang." It had become alarming. Scholarship was embarrassed. It had even dared enter the sacred halls of the College. The horrors of the Dark Ages darkened the sky. Learning was sick—and dying. So he was founding an Anti-Slang Society for Prevention of Cruelty to the English Tongue. An Anti-Slang week would start the following week. The Pronouncement would be made in Chapel and thereafter the thesis would be nailed to the door. In the words of and with the air of Martin Luther, "God help me, I can do no other."

Thus the idea, but the words strained the grace and mercy of the Dictionary. Far be it from me to attempt repeating. I know my place—a mere news reporter. He placed the order for printing. Rather, I should say inquired cost of what is vulgarly termed as Posters. The Masses, even in such a campaign must be sought. What will be the cost? Instructions followed with painstaking precision. Harry was dazed. He thought if conditions were as bad as depicted that costs were not to be considered. He supposed the order would be placed with dramatic appeal, "At any cost, at any cost."

But since the inquiry was made, he jotted down stock, cutting, composition, lock-up, make ready, press run, ink, etc.—and in a wave of enthusiasm to do something for the world and coming men made the price $6.87 net—no profit nor overhead.

The Professor, founder of Anti-Slang said

"GOOD NIGHT."

The Campaign was lost. The Bard of Stratford lies restlessly by the Avon, but Americanism still lives. Nature dominates. The Man in the Professor asserted itself.

Egg Laying Competition

The Egg Laying Competition at Georgetown, conducted by the Philadelphia North American, in cooperation with the State Board of Agriculture, is attracting more and more attention and interest with every succeeding year. This is the tenth year of the competition and the seventh in which it has been located in Delaware. The primary purpose of the competition is to raise the standard of egg production. The average hen in the United States lays about seventy eggs per year. The profitable hen must lay more. The highest record made in this competition was that of Lady Eglantine, of 314 eggs in 364 days. The highest pen record of five hens is 1305 eggs per year, an average of 261 eggs per bird. One hundred pens of five birds each make up the condition, the year beginning on November 1 and ending October 3. Any variety of standard breed is admitted.

These pens have come from all parts of the United States, from Florida and Texas; from Washington and California; from Vermont to Michigan; from Canada and from England. This North American competition was the first to be started in this country, but since that time similar enterprises have sprung up in the United States and in Canada. Australia was the pioneer, having started about sixteen years ago. The great interest in these competitions is shown by the fact that the poultrymen of Ohio are asking for sixteen thousand dollars a year for the next two years to carry on an egg laying contest at the State University. New Jersey has two contests now running and expects to start another next November, and is asking for $150,000 for a special poultry building. The State Board of Agriculture hopes to continue this contest indefinitely, but may be compelled to move it from Georgetown to either Milford or Dover.

Have Practical Work in Poultry Raising

Friday, March 18th, the Agricultural class of the Lewes High School took a trip for the purpose of studying incubators and brooders on the farms of Arthur Marshall and Ernest Magee, respectively. The boys were much interested in a 250 egg incubator at the former place and the method of operating it, and quite as interested in the workings of the brooder house on the farm of Mr. Magee, which is now actually in operation. The willing co-operation of citizens and farmers of this class in making field trips successful helps greatly in keeping the flame of interest burning bright, for the class room is not the only place to learn and an occasional break from it serves to bring the pupils back with renewed interest.

TO CLEAN UP TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis eradication work is going on with an ample state appropriation to take care of it for the next two years. During these two years it is expected to clean up Kent and Sussex counties, so as to make them "free areas." With this purpose in view the tuberculin test will be offered free of charge to every cattle owner in these two counties. In New Castle county the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The essential points in the agreement under which this work is done are as follows:

The testing is done by regularly employed State or Government veterinarians and there is no charge for the service. The cattle owner is required to furnish transportation between his farm and the station for the veterinarian, and also meals and lodging when necessary during such times as the veterinarian is engaged in the performance of his duties under the agreement.

The entire herd must be tested and retested at such times as are considered necessary by the Bureau and State Board.

All reacting animals must be removed from the herd and slaughtered as soon as possible, ordinarily within ten days. If not within thirty days no indemnity is paid to the owner of the cattle; provided that arrangements may be made to keep registered animals separate from all other animals and retained for a limited time for breeding purposes.

The premises must be cleaned and disinfected. Milk from reacted cows cannot be used unless it is sterilized.

Only tested cattle can be added to the herd. If untested cattle are brought to the premises they must be kept entirely separate from other animals until they are tested. Any animals added to the herd will be tested as soon as possible, but no indemnity will be paid the owner if they react on the first test after being purchased.

No indemnity will be paid for animals which react to the test that have not been in the State for at least six months.

No cattle should be presented for the tuberculin test which have been injected with tuberculin within sixty days immediately preceding or which have at any time reacted to a tuberculin test. All reacting cattle are to be appraised immediately after or within a few days of the test. The veterinarian and the owner usually act as appraisers. In case they cannot agree, a disinterested person is called in to assist in the appraisal.

The owner of the reactors should send them for the highest price possible to a butcher, or he may ship them to an abattoir where they may be inspected by a Federal Inspector.

The United States pays the owner one-third of the difference between the salvage and the appraised value not to exceed $25 for a grade animal, and $50 for a pure bred animal, and the State pays one-half of this difference not to exceed $125 for a grade animal and $150 for a pure-bred animal.

A Burroughs Memorial

A memorial tablet to John Burroughs on the summit of Slide Mountain is a proposal made by Mr. T. E. Benedict of Napanoch. The bastion of Slide, so called because a part of the highest ridge fell away from the mountain in the last century, is in the heart of the Burroughs country. Twenty miles to the northwest the naturalist was born in the valley of the East Branch of the Delaware, at Roxbury; and forty miles to the southeast he lived for many years, fruit grower and philosopher, on the banks of the Hudson. The Southern Catskills, the Catskills of Ulster, were a wilderness in his boyhood, and to the day of his death they remained a region of forest and crag, with little pasture and less tillage. At the time of his last ascent of the mountain the view was what he remembered it to be when first he looked out upon it, across Wittenberg to the great hills that shut out the Hudson; north to the tumbling highlands of Greene; west to the smiling valleys of Delaware, and south to the billowing sweep of forest in Ulster and Sullivan, where the settler's fights with the wilderness permitted of no trace.

From the flank of Slide and its foothills rise the prolific streams where Burroughs matched his wits against the hidden trout, season after season; the Esopus, the Neversink, the Beaver Kill, the Willowemoc and tributaries of the East Branch of the Delaware. He had made a hundred camps in that shaggy paradise, so far from "the madding crowd." He had drunk from its springs—the purest water in the world, he averred—and he had made his bed upon the Hemlock boughs in the light of the stars. He had listened with suspended breath to the spiritual strains of the hermit thrush as the dusk deepened, and the robin's brisk chirping had roused him when the first light of day flowed into the forest spaces. There was no animal from Bruin to the silk-coated mole, no bird from the eagle to the wren, no tree, no flower, no plant or moss, no cloud in the sky above, no phase of storm or calm, he was not lovingly familiar with. He was one with all that made the Southern Catskills "God's country" to him. And Slide was the great landmark, the sentinel of the wilderness, the sign of things of the spirit that he could feel but not utter. Surely its proud summit is the most appropriate place for a memorial to John Burroughs.—N. Y. Times.

CHEER UP!

IT COULD BE WORSE

THERE'S ALWAYS SOME WORK TO BE DONE

We asked a Salesman what had become of all the PAPER HOUSE MEN who usually hit Wilmington once a week. This is what he told us:

"It doesn't pay them to come down. They all say that HORNER is the only busy printer in Wilmington, and he can't buy enough to pay all of us."

Why are we BUSY when all others are IDLE?

HERE ARE THE REASONS:

1. We advertise.
2. We do a better grade of work.
3. Our prices are right.
4. We give good service.
5. We don't try to do all kinds of work, but specialize on small forms, Letterheads, Blotters, Cards, Envelopes and Imprinting.

Call on us for Good Printing, Form-Letters, Advertising-by-Mail-Work, Multigraphing, Mimeographing, Addressing, Typewriting, and anything else along those lines.

APRIL 13, 1921

The King is dead. Long live the King!

Delaware College is a Memory. The name passes into History. That which yesterday we called our Alma Mater has been, by onslaught of events, interpreted as Progress, transferred to the Records of the Past. By an Act of the General Assembly, the College has passed out of existence. In its stead, the institution is now officially University of Delaware.

And it is with a feeling of sadness that we record the action.

Delaware College has a history, proud, dramatic and of influence. Around Old College Hall, cluster memories and traditions that are very dear to the student of yesterday. Nor is it mere sentiment to be cast thoughtlessly aside in this day of material ambitions. For it was the love of these that held the interest of the Alumni. That now, is lessened and in some cases, lost. Alumni interest and support of any institution is based more on sentiment than civic duty. Interwoven with those traditions are ideals which this newer institution may well emulate. Small in size, modest in name and circumstances, and unassuming, the Delaware of yesterday stood for things worth while. She has had her great days and her great men. There have been periods of mediocrity and neglect, it is true, but in days gone she stood for manhood and scholarship. Scholars of national recognition have taught within her walls and men have gone out from the Avenue of Lindens with training and inspiration that have built strongly for the welfare of State and Nation. Men of such scholarship, and recognized ability, she has had on her faculty that graduates bearing certificates of sitting under their tutelage found instant recognition.

"From Delaware College? You studied under Professor —, then we know your possibilities," has been said to many a graduate in applying for a position. There have been times when Delaware College was known and recognized in certain fields of study as among the best. Men, standards and ideals made her so. Men make Institutions, not Acts of General Assembly. Men, Scholarship, Ideals, make Colleges, not corporate names, athletics and ambitions. Emerson was right—"an Institution is but the lengthened shadow of one man." Look at Gilman, Gildersleeve, Rowland, Adams! They made Johns Hopkins known the world over. Around the Ideals and Personalities of these men, Time is clustering traditions that dominate the world's thought. All the architecture, athletics and catch advertising crumble into mute details in comparison to the seminary in McCoy Hall down on Howard Street in Baltimore. Veritas on the Hopkins shield is living reality there.

So the change of name marks the end of something that is intangible perhaps, but very dear to us. Our diploma reads Delaware College and the College no longer exists.

Our ambition to make that little college down in Delaware, a leader in some phase of national life is never to be realized. A bit of foolish pride, perhaps, a bit old fashioned, maybe, a dream, perchance, but we wanted to stand out, to be distinctive. As a University (which Delaware is not—"though by your smile you seem to say so"), she is just one of many. She has lost forever a certain individuality. The stranger does not appreciate this sentiment. Only the old student feels and understands. Webster would know at Dartmouth, Adams would know at Amherst. It is a very sacred thing to us.

But enough. Sadly we pass out under the Lindens into the world. Our Alma Mater is no more.

Looking forward, however, we hail the University of Delaware.

Delaware of old gives you a heritage rich in thought and deed, a bequest that only Time can create. It is yours to guard and cherish. Her sons give gladly the support that you may merit—if you wish it. They feel a bit strange but yearn, after all, for your welcome. They can serve you. The Alumni of old Delaware served well—not merely in lip loyalty, expressed in Campus cheers and annual reunions, but in actual service. The existing charter, the complete State ownership, the development of grounds and buildings, and increased appropriations had their inception and execution in voluntary and organized alumni circles. State recognition of State ownership can be accredited to the influence and direct efforts of her graduates.

Frankly, it may be said that the Alumni have not always agreed with the policy of the directing board, but loyalty to the College success has silenced their expression. In regard to the change of name the spirit of unselfishness restrained the impulsive comment of her sons. With extraordinary demands and needs from the State, they, in a high spirit of sacrifice, but faintly realized, gave up rather than embarrass the success of the Institution.

The University does this which may be an advantage. Because the youngest Alumnus is older than the Institution, he, as a citizen of Delaware interested in the State University need not be withheld by sentiment from expressing his views on making the most intimate inquiries. There is no longer the delicacy of loyalty to his Alma Mater, right or wrong. As a citizen he has that responsibility and errs grievously if he neglects this duty. The preference

*"To sin by silence
When we should protest"*

need no longer cause restraint. The Alumni of Old Delaware have at heart more truly the interests of the College than is possible for any others to have. They may not express that love so wisely but none live who can express it so truly and disinterestedly.

The Faculty and Board of Trustees will do well to urge their cooperation, to give them a hearing, to counsel with them. Not only, moreover, when campaigning for financial aid, but in the policies and possibilities of the University in its service to the State.

Now that it is called a University, what are the changes to be made? Surely they will be marked and of consequence. What is to be the policy? Whom and in what manner and scope will the Institution serve? What are to be the standards of entrance, scholarship? In a University there is a different atmosphere of intellectual life. In a word, the Alumni of old Delaware and Citizens of the State await with interest some such announcement.

If University of Delaware is to more truly live the intellectual life, to better train our youth, to better serve our State then indeed—

*The King is dead.
Long live the King.*

Origin of the Printers Chapel

The name CHAPEL was the name applied to every printing office at so early a date that its origin is in doubt as to whether it was derived from the fact that William Caxton set up his first press within the unused St. Anne's Chapel in Westminster Abbey, or from a bit of pleasantry on the part of some ungodly soul gifted with a sense of humor.

An ancient poem in praise of the craft has it:
"Each printer, hence, how'er unblest his walls,
E'en to this day his house a Chapel calls."

The father of the Chapel was the oldest printer in the shop. It was his duty, in case of a disagreement or quarrel between two craftsmen to "Call the Chapel" to the imposing stone and to try the case. His decision was absolute, and the loser had to pay a fine, "For the good of the Chapel" what today in city sweat shops is called a bucket of suds.

Regarding the Devil, we read in an ancient volume:

"We're the furthest from good when the church we are near
So in each Printer's Chapel do Devils appear."

The custom even today in small shops of using a headstone in the composing room, probably originated from the Chapel idea—church yard was the burying ground.

MANY ATTEND ANNI- VERSARY ORGANIZA- TION OF RED MEN

The ideals of the Order with regard to education and religion, together with a plea for earnest support of both, was eloquently voiced by the speaker.

A brief history of the local order established 36 years ago, included the story of its big achievement, the purchase of the Fraternal Home. The story of the four men who started the fund with their nickels for a nucleus was told with fitting eulogy of those warriors who have since passed to the "Happy Hunting Ground." The fine mansion, together with some 13 acres of ground, was purchased of D. C. Rose for $6,000. $1,000 of this was returned as a gift to the order by Mr. Rose, when the purchase was made. The value of the property has increased nearly 800 per cent since the time of purchase and is now a valued possession in both a literal and a figurative sense.

Great praise was bestowed upon Mr. Russell for his efficient, conscientious management of the property and of the Home. He closed with a eulogy of Collector of Wampum Frank Smith and a plea for the support of the order and the audience for better schools.

Following Mr. Griffith's speech, Great Sachem Smith introduced the only surviving charter members of the Order, Thomas A. Mullen and John Frick.

Great Chief of Records a Guest.
Great Chief of Records Edward McIntire, of Wilmington, spoke briefly of the altruistic work of the order with special reference to the care of orphans in their own homes or in the homes of competent relatives or friends. An interesting history of the movement inaugurated by a Cleveland Red Man was told by Mr. McIntire, who threw an interesting side-light on the story of the Mothers' Pension Law fostered by Red Men. The first Board appointed to administer the law was composed of four members of the Daughters of Pocahontas. The bill was approved and signed by Governor Townsend, a great sachem of the Tribe at Selbyville. He urged the support of the people for an increased appropriation to care for 75 mothers who are now on the waiting list and who cannot be helped because of the recent inadequate appropriation.

He declared the Order to be subsidiary to the Church, supplementing its work. He urged further cooperation and commended the fitness of the religious character of the anniversary celebration.

After the singing of America, which closed the exercises, the visitors inspected the building and grounds and enjoyed an hour or so of social intercourse.

Wilmington Newspaper

Another daily newspaper for Wilmington and Saturday afternoon weekly are topics of serious discussion and club talk in various circles. One story has it that political interests are to be more carefully presented to the public, while another story is that certain public utilities see the handwriting of coming events and are preparing to take one last stand.

A few weeks ago, newspaper interests from New York and down East visited Delaware and made a survey of the local situation from a strictly business point of view. Newspaper observants have for years looked upon Wilmington as a fertile field for an independent newspaper, as a strictly business viewpoint. "The location and national angle of Wilmington's business interests make it especially attractive to the newspaper man who is entirely disassociated from personal or political interests," is the comment of these representatives.

These flare-ups of another newspaper are more or less periodical but the rumor just now more or less suppressed is being watched.

"Bert" Everson Does Wonderful Piece of Work

On display in the window of the Newark Inn is a model of the Battleship Pennsylvania, that has been judged a most wonderful piece of workmanship. It was made by Albert G. Everson ("Bert") a guest of the house. The model and small ships and boats surrounding it have 1584 pieces of wood, and took almost three months to make. Surrounding the battleship are the Destroyer Cassin, K-5 submarine, sailboat Resolute, motor boat Miss America, and schooner Esperanza. A former sea captain who was a guest of the house on Sunday judged it the most perfect of its kind, and said it was exact in every detail. Since placing the model in the window, it has caused a lot of favorable comment. Mr. Everson was formerly connected with the Continental Fibre works and some time ago made a model of the plant. A motor accident a few years ago caused an injury which has kept Mr. Everson confined to his room. Bert's friends say he sure is a genius. —Communicated.

"Daughters of King" Show Big Increase—Reports at Meeting Wednesday

The Daughters of the King, a philanthropic organization of St. Thomas' P. E. Church, held an interesting meeting at the Parish House last Wednesday evening. A full account of the affair presented by the Secretary, Miss Audrey Miller, is as follows:

The Daughters of the King, Chapter No. 647, of St. Thomas' P. E. Church, held their regular monthly meeting in the Parish House on Wednesday evening, with only one member absent. The meeting opened with the singing of the Hymn of the Order, "Lord, Speak to Me, that I May Speak", and the devotional exercises, conducted by the president, Mrs. William D. Dean.

Reports were heard from the following committees: Visiting, Sanctuary, Sunday School, Monthly Service, New Work, Membership. The benevolent report was not called for, as a stranger to the Order was present and all such work is done quietly. Letters were read from the following out of town members belonging to this Chapter: Mrs. Ruth N. Rhoades, of Washington; Mrs. D. C. Rose, at Palm Beach; Miss Elsie Cooch, at Philadelphia; and Mrs. Koehler, of Philadelphia. Mrs. William D. Dean, who is in charge of the extension work of the Order in the Delaware Diocese, reported on having written to all out-of-town members, asking them to form Chapters in their newly adopted Parishes, and also having written follow-up letters with literature to Rev. Jos. Eays at New Castle, Rev. Percy Donaghy at Middletown, and to Rev. E. Stevens, of Calvary, Wilmington.

There were eight candidates to the Order present to start on their probation or trial period of three months, namely: Mrs. Herbert Owens, Mrs. R. O. Bausman, Mrs. E. Wilson, Mrs. F. M. K. Foster, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. D. Lee Rose, Miss Clark, and Miss Marjorie Rose.

Mrs. Dean gave a little talk to the candidates, explaining how the Order was formed in the Episcopal Church from a Senior Bible Class at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, New York, in 1888. It developed from a class into an Order, through the ambition of its leaders for greater and more wide-spread activity on the part of the women of the church. Its sole purpose is "the extension of Christ's Kingdom among women and the strengthening of the Church's spiritual life. It is unlike the Girls' Friendly Societies, Guilds, etc., in one thing: everyone who wants to join may not be accepted." The Order doing good work does it secretly and can let only devoted women join. The candidates were invited, together with the regular members, to welcome the new Recruter, the Rev. Edgar Jones, of New Foundland and to make his reception a success.

Mrs. Owens read an article on the Emblem of the Order, namely a Greek Cross, and the legend Magnanimiter Crucem Sustine (Nobly Bear the Cross).

Mrs. R. O. Bausman, Miss Clark and Mrs. Wilson were appointed on the Hospitality committee to welcome our girls of the Women's College and make them acquainted.

Mrs. Jackson Burnley, Mrs. Howard Jester, Miss Audrey Miller and Miss Marjorie Rose were appointed a committee to look up the younger girls and do the work of the Junior Order.

Miss Miller read an article from the Royal Cross on "The Bones of the Church." The Wishbones, always wishing that the Church would grow, and that the Choir would sing; but when do they ever give their time and services? They wish the Church would grow to be filled at every service, but they seldom come to church. They wish that the finances might always be in a prosperous condition, but they contribute little or nothing. The jaw bones do much talking in the various societies of the Church, mostly "jawing" however, about everything that is done; finding fault with those who go ahead and do things and telling with great gusto how much better they could have done it—only "jawing" and nothing more—while they devote very little real energy to pushing things along. But the tireless workers, in every congregation, those who assist by their prayers, their presence, their council, by their contributions, both at regular church services and at society meetings, those are the backbone of every flourishing congregation.

The Daughters will not knowingly admit the wish bone and jaw bone type.

The meeting closed with the regular closing devotional exercises and the singing of the hymn of the Junior Order:

"Oh, Jesus, I have promised To serve Thee to the end."

Queen Esther Box Social

A box social will be held next Tuesday evening, April 19th, at 7:30 in the Methodist Episcopal Church for the benefit of the Queen Esther Circle. Everybody is invited to come and bring a box.

Of Interest to Owners of Motor Cars

The deaths caused in this county by reckless and unfit drivers of automobiles will no doubt arouse a desire on the part of all of us to give our support and cooperation to the enforcement of the new automobile laws recently passed at Dover. One law requires that all motor trucks be equipped with mirrors which will enable the driver to see vehicles approaching from behind. A second law authorizes the Secretary of State to revoke the license of all persons not fit to drive motor vehicles or who are persistently reckless.

A third law makes it possible to establish a check on the operation of cars by reckless drivers, and also to better trace stolen cars and prevent thefts. The latter law requires that no license shall be issued unless application be made at the same time for an "official certificate of title of each motor vehicle." The Secretary of State is required to make sure, by satisfactory testimony, of the ownership of the car before issuing the certificate of ownership, and no person is permitted under the law to operate the car without this certificate of ownership in addition to the license. Special arrangements are made for dealers. The fee for the certificate of ownership is $1.00. The receipts are to be used to cover the expense of administering the law.

Summer Furniture for Your Porch or Lawn

We are ready for the coming summer days with a very attractive showing of new porch and lawn furniture and particularly of the rustic type.

Here, is some cedar out-door furniture that comes unfinished in the natural wood. They are big, strong, sturdy pieces that laugh at sun or rain—furniture that is made to stand all kinds of weather.

And the prices of these pieces are very low.

You can get an arm chair as low as $4.00 and others up to $8.00 and $10.00.

Settees to match are $6.00, $10.00 and $11.00.

Tables to match are $6.00 and $11.00.

There is some Barnegat Cedar Furniture made with finished backs and shaped seats and finished with a weather-proof varnish. Chairs range from $8.00 up and rockers from $10.50 up. Tables in round or oblong or drop leaf can be had to match.

There are some very attractive Reed Chairs and Rockers. These come in brown, silver greys, and walnut finishes and are upholstered on unusual and summery cretonnes. They range in price from $22.00 to $45.00. Some can be had without upholstery. Porch Swings, in dark oak, are priced from $8.00 to $14.00 depending on size.

And then there is the Matthews Garden Craft Furniture made of Cypress and finished in a gleaming white. They add immensely to the appearance of your porch or lawn. Most of the designs are replicas of old English garden pieces, arbors, settees, tea sets, sun dials and odd pieces that have the mark of individuality. It is furniture that must be seen to be appreciated. The pieces are variously priced, but there is one pattern that is very popular—an English compact tea set—table and four chairs and cover at $150.00 the set.

The sturdy old-time Maple Porch Rockers with reed or slat backs are marked from $5.50 to $8.50.

There are Tables and Fern Stands and Canvas Chairs and dozens of suggestions for your porch furnishings.

We'll be glad to have you see this Summer Furniture.

Summer Draperies

Cool, summery fabrics that give that refreshing and restful appearance are here in variety.

You can get a Quaker lace curtain made in conventional or floral design and in white, cream and cream for as little as $3.50. Other patterns range in between up to $12.00 the pair. And Quaker lace curtains are the most moderately priced and most serviceable curtain for the price that you can buy.

Quaker lace nets for the woman who wants to make her own draperies, come in white, cream, and in thirty-six and forty-five-inch widths; some with lace edge and priced from 40c to $1.75 the yard.

The ever-popular madras in blue and green and rose and mulberry is a yard wide and priced from 75c to $1.25 the yard. Fifty-inch width from $1.75 to $2.75 the yard.

Mohair fabric, something new and very desirable, is in floral design, very suitable for bedroom use, and priced $1.25 the yard.

Tuscan net—a lace with large open filet designs, particularly suited for bedroom draperies and bed sets, is marked $1.35 the yard.

Summer cretonnes in vivid colorings, for cushions, slip covers or draperies, range from 25c to $1.50 the yard.

Our season's stock of Vudor porch screens is here. These very popular screens are made of bass wood and will not split or splinter. They come in green and tan and in combination colors and have a ventilating top and self-hanging device that enables anyone to hang them in a jiffy.

They can be had in five, six, seven, eight, ten and twelve-foot widths and all seven feet, six inches deep. Priced complete with cords, etc., ready to hang, from $6.50 to $17.75, depending on size.

A Vudor screen will transform a sunny, uncomfortable porch into a cool private outdoor living-room.

Great Thoughts by Great Men

"With a good pen and ink and the paper on which to write down fine and strong ideas of Justice and Truth, one is, in a democracy like ours, King of the World."

Greatness of soul consists not so much in mounting and in pressing forward as in knowing how to range and circumscribe one's self; it takes for great every thing that is enough, and shows its stature by preferring moderate to eminent things. There is nothing so beautiful and so legitimate as well and duly to play the man; nor science so arduous as well and naturally to know how to live this life of ours; and of our maladies the most wild and barbarous is to despise our being. . . For my part, then, I love life and cultivate it, such as it has pleased God to bestow it upon us. —Montaigne.

When Caesar spoke, the people said, How great is Caesar! When Demosthenes spoke, they said, "Let us go against the Macedonians."

"A friend to work for and give us strength, a woman to inspire and give us peace, an enemy to fight and give us courage—what man cannot find a battle to wage for Truth."

Taking the first footstep with the good thought, the second with the good word and third with the good deed, I entered paradise—Zoroaster.

A want of individuality is the most dangerous sign in modern civilization. —John Stuart Mill.

I have found it to be a real truth, that the very sitting by the river's side is not only the quietest and fittest place for contemplation, but will invite an angel to it; and this seems to be maintained by the learned Peter Du Moulin, who, in his discourse on the fulfilling of prophecies, observes that when God intended to reveal any future events or high notions to his prophets, he then carried them either to the deserts or the seashore, that having so separated them from amidst the press of people and business, and the cares of the world, he might settle their mind in a quiet repose, and there make them fit for revelation. —Izaak Walton.

Kiwanians vs. Faculty Causes Much Interest

After "Ship's" crack squad gets through showing Rutgers what real baseball is, the student body will be given another exhibition of big league baseball on the following day. Every student is advised to make arrangements to be on Frazer Field on Saturday, April twenty-third to root for the faculty.

The faculty has arranged a baseball game with the Kiwanis Club of Wilmington. The Kiwanis Club's ball team has a good reputation. The Executive Committee of the Faculty Club has arranged for the student body to be admitted free of charge, but it will be absolutely necessary for each student to show his athletic ticket.

Honorary Members Elected

At the semi-annual meeting of the Faculty Club Mr. Harry du Pont and Mr. Charles L. Miller were elected to honorary membership.

ORDERS TAKEN for baby chicks and hatching eggs. Barred Plymouth Rocks, White Leghorns and White Plymouth Rocks, also Pecan and Indian Runner ducklings and hatching eggs.

ALUMNI ACTIVE IN PITTSBURGH

To Entertain Ball Team at Two "Blowouts"

Alumni of the university residing in or near Pittsburgh held the second of a series of organization meetings at McCreary's Restaurant in Pittsburgh recently. The special purpose of this meeting was to arrange for the entertainment of the Delaware Ball Team during its two-day visit in Pittsburgh. The Pittsburgh Alumni, to judge from the program they have prepared, believe in quality and quantity production when it comes to entertaining a Delaware team. The complete program is not at hand but it is definitely understood that a big dinner will be staged for the team the night of the Pittsburgh game and that a theatre party has been arranged for the evening following the game with the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

A letter from Pittsburgh gives the information that the twenty-odd loyal Delawareans who comprise the Pittsburgh Alumni Chapter are backing the Delaware team heavily in the Pittsburgh game, and if Delaware should by any streak of misfortune chance to lose that game, they will be broke for months. On the other hand if Delaware wins the game, as we hope and predict, there is no telling to what limits the beneficence of the alumni will extend itself.

STATE DECLAMATION CONTEST TO BE HELD FRIDAY

The Second Annual State Declamation Contest, in which the High School students of the State meet to contest for oratorical honors, will be held in the Opera House, Dover, on Friday, April 15th. In preparation for this event, there were seventeen local contests held in the high schools of the State. Following these, the local winners participated in County Elimination Contests which Friday evening, and called forth splendid recitals on the part of all contestants. Every boy and girl felt that it was an honor worth its utmost effort, to have his school represented as upholding the honor of his county in the State Contest.

Consequently, there will be heard in Dover, on Friday, April 15th, at 7:30 p. m., the choicest selection of speakers from our high school population of about 2,000, and competition of the keenest sort will be found for whoever may win. Last year's contest, well remembered by all so fortunate to attend, furnished about four contenders for the State prize; this year's promises, by the signs of each county meeting to furnish nine.

Here are the declamations which will be given.

From New Castle county: "An Opera," one of George Ade's most fortunate conglomerations; "The Pie," a whimsically pathetic tale of a little boy, with a society mother; "Michael Strogoff," courier of the Czar, with his incredible adventures among the Tartars in the path of duty.

From Kent county: "Treasure Trove."

"The Baron's Last Banquet," a picture of the men of iron of feudal days and "The Bear Story," an imaginative recital by a three year old of several amusing impossibilities.

The Sussex county entries are the famous "Mark Antony's Address," given over the body of Caesar X; "Emmet's Reply," the authentic speech of the condemned Irish patriot, made directly after his death sentence had been pronounced, and

NEWARK HIGH WINS FROM GOLDEY NINE

Wins From University Yesterday Afternoon

Couch McDonald's baseball squad added a substantial victory to its list last Friday afternoon when the high school lads defeated Goldey College nine by a 6-4 score.

The game was played for the most part in the rain which fell intermittently. Wet grounds and wet ball interfered with the work of the players who, however, made the best of adverse circumstances and staged a remarkably well-played game. Two hits were registered by Mayer, Buckingham, Armstrong and Hubert.

The line-up and score:

The Car De Luxe

Willys-Knight Touring

"SILENCE IS GOLDEN" applies to Motors as well as Men. The Willys-Knight Motor is beyond description. You simply have to be shown. "Silent and Improves with use" are terms usually applied to perpetual motion theories---certainly not to motors.

But they are a fact. The man who loves the mechanics of a Howard Watch, dreams of a car with the silent motor.

Willys-Knight is that Car.

Every motorist, however experienced, simply cannot believe the claims of the Knight Car. The claims and the service are not in the Auto Class at all---they are some-thing a part. But they are facts that will convince when you see the Car.

Just ask for

MORRIS--The Willys-Knight Man at Dover

He will show you---the Car tells the story in Silence. You see and feel it. It's the Car of Your Dreams.

Forget High Prices

"START OVER AGAIN" is the slogan for the big business man. Take the loss and smile--- That's the policy of our big Reduction Sale of Men's and Boy's clothing now going on.

Goods bought at high prices, left over from fall and winter are being disposed of at reductions that will surprise you.

It promises to be a Sensation in Sales. We are going to take our loss---and start over again.

We could sell this surplus stock to salesmen for the Big City sales. But it isn't fair to Newark.

Our customers, who have made possible our success in this town, come first in our consideration. So we are making the offer here.

Spring is right at hand and we need the space.

So Friends of the Quality Shop, here's your chance to FORGET HIGH PRICES.
