WILLKIE CLUB URGES VOTERS TO REGISTER

Delegation Attends Rally Tuesday In Wilmington

Letters are being mailed this week to a large number of Newark residents urging them to join and become active members in the Willkie Club. Emphasis is being placed upon urging all voters to register on Saturday, Oct. 19th.

Local officers have been informed that the Hatch Act does not prevent general employees or employees receiving part of their compensation from Federal funds from becoming members or expressing personal opinion, it does however, prevent them from what is commonly known as campaigning.

A large delegation of Newark members attended the rally in the Playhouse in Wilmington on Tuesday which was addressed by John W. Hanes, former under secretary of the Treasury. It will be recalled that he was called by the Treasury to bring about cooperation with business. Paul D. Lovett, president of the local club was on the program.

The local Willkie Club headquarters are open daily from 7 P. M. to 9:30 P. M. and also on Saturdays from 11:30 P. M. to 9 P. M. Many working people are taking this a great convenience. Plans have been taken by the University of Delaware to organize a Willkie Club. This club will be organized by the College Division of the Association of Willkie Clubs after being accredited by the State Headquarters in Wilmington. The Newark club will cooperate.

In response to many inquiries, the club officers advise that consideration is being given to finding ways and means of placing a banner across Main Street. To date it has been found that this is beyond the ability of the organization to finance.

The club is continuing the practice of sending to major Willkie radio stations and invites every interested person to join the group. Plans also being discussed for participation in National "No Third Term Day" on Oct. 23rd, but these have not yet been decided.

150 ATTEND BIKE CLUB SAFETY MEETING

Talks Made By W. Floyd Jackson, George E. Ramsey; Movies Shown

More than a hundred and fifty members of the Newark Bicycle Club, sponsored by the Lions Club, attended the second Safety Rally held in the State Theatre Saturday morning.

A. E. Tomhave, president of the Lions Club, presided over the Rally and introduced W. Floyd Jackson, president of the Delaware Safety Council, who addressed the assembly.

George E. Ramsey, town councilman and engineer on the B. & O. Railroad, was also introduced and made a short talk. Mr. Ramsey was a member of the first safety committee formed on the B. & O. Railroad a number of years ago. Mrs. Tomhave also presented Scoutmaster Vernon Steele and Chief of Police Wm. H. Cunningham, both of whom have worked untiringly in the formation of the local bike organization.

Following the presentation of guests, club members enjoyed a bicycle safety movie shown under the sponsorship of the Delaware Safety Council and three movie shorts, consisting of a news reel, Our Gang Comedy and cartoon, with the compliments of the State Theatre.

Officers of the club will be elected at the November rally, the date and place of which will be announced later. It is planned to elect one director from each school grade who will serve as the board of directors. The directors will then elect club officers. Thus each grade will be represented.

It is also planned to form individual clubs for each school grade. Following the election of officers they will formulate plans for regular programs to be presented at the monthly rallies. The club membership is growing daily as additional registrations are being made both at school and the town council. Any bicycle rider who has not had his vehicle registered should contact Chief Cunningham at the town council office.

MOVIES AT ASSEMBLY

Students and guests at the Wednesday morning assembly period in the high school were treated to the presentation of movie films dealing with the old south, known as "Dixie," which are among the Chronicles of America films recently presented Delaware schools by an anonymous donor.

Next week's assembly period will be held at 2:15 Tuesday afternoon instead of Wednesday morning. Anderson's Circus will be the feature circus with a galaxy of dogs, ponies, monkeys and trained animals of the sawdust ring.

This circus has gained an enviable reputation throughout the East where it has toured schools in several states. All parents and friends of the local schools are invited to attend the circus. There will be no charge or collection taken.

The question of Newark-to-Wilmington telephone toll charges came up for a general discussion and it was pointed out that other communities, such as Claymont, Hockessin and New Castle, did not pay toll charges on Wilmington calls. Weldon C. Waples was appointed a committee of one to investigate the comparative rates paid by the above communities and report back on the possibilities of having the Newark-Wilmington toll charges eliminated.

Treasurer J. E. Daugherty reported on the financial status of the organization and George F. Jackson invited Chamber members to attend the November 18 meeting of the Rotary Club and hear a speaker from the National Chamber of Commerce.

Application for membership was submitted by The C. & L. Printing & Specialty Co., of Elkton, Md.

NEWARK FACING THIRD DAY OF STRIKE

Chain Stores Still Closed; Wage And Hours Under Discussion

Chain stores of Newark, Wilmington and northern New Castle County are expected to remain closed today as this area faces its third day of the strike of union meat cutters. Stores in eastern Pennsylvania and southern New Jersey are also affected.

The strike was called on Tuesday by the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America (A. F. of L.) against the American Stores, the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and the Union Premier Food Stores, over a wage and hour disagreement.

A joint statement issued by the companies said the management had held conferences for the past 10 days with different locals of the union on proposals for renewal of contracts, and added:

"Despite the earnest efforts of all concerned, and even though wage increases were agreed to by each of the companies, it has been found impossible to reconcile conflicting viewpoints on several issues."

The union, seeking a new contract to replace one which expired Oct. 1, asked a reduction in working hours from 51 to 48 hours a week, Natale Masi international representative of the union, said. Instead, he declared, the companies sought to increase the hours from 51 to 53.

Masi said increases in wages for managers of one-man stores and "super" markets was sought also, along with two weeks vacation with pay instead of one. The A. & P. stores had granted the last demand.

Approximately 18 men are employed at the American and A. & P. stores located here.

938 MEN REGISTER HERE FOR SERVICE

State Total Expected To Reach 36,000 In Final Count

A total of 938 men from the Ninth Representative District joined approximately 34,000 from other parts of the state yesterday in registering under the first peace-time draft for a year of compulsory military training.

Sussex County's returns showed 7,081 registered with Kent County reporting 4,160. Wilmington's figure, with 9,570 reported from 93 of the 148 election districts, is expected to total 16,000.

The law required that all men between 21 and 35, inclusive, register for the draft. The requirement was binding upon all, the blind, those obviously too poor in health to be admitted to the army, the healthiest athlete, and the man who will be excused from service because he has dependents.

As each registered, he answered 11 questions, giving his name, address, telephone number, the name and address of one who would always know where to reach him, his place of employment, and other information.

Then he signed an index card on which the information had been jotted down by the registrar. The card will be given a number and in a week or ten days, the numbers will be piled in a gold fish bowl in Washington and drawn one at a time. That will determine the order in which the men are liable for service.

Five districts in the Ninth Election District reported the following number of registrations: First—155; second—345; third—134; fourth—148, and fifth—156.

Registrars who served voluntarily for the day, from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m., were:

First District—Barton H. Mackey, Harry B. Williamson, Jr., Dr. Henry C. Reed, and W. Harry Dawson; second—James C. Haslings, James Robinson, Nathan Davis, Earl Crowe, Richard Ryan, Mrs. Rachel C. Hastings, Edward Stuckley, and Miss Jane Hastings; third—Paul Wier, W. Paul Viet, Miss Mary E. Webber, Mrs. Sarah D. Morrison, James T. Moore, and John W. Moore, Sr.; fourth—J. Paul Jacquette, William Doyle, and Frank H. Balling; fifth—James Malone, Jay Robinson, and Leo Moore.

SERIES OF LECTURES

Prof. Robert B. Mowat, of Oxford and Bristol Universities, England, opened a series of lectures on the subject, "The Diplomatic Relations Between England and the United States," before more than 100 students and faculty members at the University of Delaware Tuesday afternoon.

The visiting professor, whose talks are sponsored by the Carnegie Foundation and the university's department of history and political science, covered the period from the peace treaty of 1783 down to 1814.

"The Revolutionary War was really a civil war inside British people," he said, "a civil war which might have broken out in Great Britain but actually occurred in the American colonies."

Giving further evidence that the ties between the United States and England could not easily be broken, Professor Mowat pointed out that John Adams, minister to London, in his first audience with King George III, said he had come to restore good humor and good nature between two peoples. George III answered that he had been the last to agree to the separation, but since it had occurred, he would be the first to hold out the hand of friendship.

"At the outbreak of the French Revolution," Professor Mowat stated, "with the British navy enforcing a blockade off France, new disputes arose between England and America."

"Claiming under the doctrine of freedom of the seas the right to send ships wherever she pleased, America nearly came into conflict with the British navy again. The situation was saved by George Washington who sent John Jay to London and by the conclusion of a treaty of friendship and commerce which Jay signed on Nov. 19, 1794."

"The War of 1812," he continued, "a result of a series of misunderstandings on the same question, freedom of the seas, was agitated when the United States objected to British orders in council which enforced the right of search against any American shipping."

He pointed out that President Madison demanded withdrawal of the order in council but the death of the British prime minister, Perceval, assassinated May 11, 1812, caused a delay in negotiations and the government of Lord Liverpool was not formed until June. The new government at once took steps to withdraw the orders and announced their suspension on June 16, 1812, he said.

"There were, however, no facilities to flash the news to the United States," Professor Mowat said, "and on June 18, a declaration of war passed through Congress."

"The unhappy war of 1812, which neither country wanted, ended with the Peace of Ghent, Dec. 24, 1814, and since that time there has been complete peace between the two countries."

Folks used to put off making needed home repairs because they "couldn't afford it". Delayed home repairs lead to bigger repairs and it's extravagance not to make them.

Especially is this true, now that the ABC Monthly Payment Plan enables you to make needed improvements now and pay for them on easy monthly payments arranged to suit you.

WHILE THE UNIVERSITY of Delaware gridders continue what again may turn out to be a long quest for victory, another local eleven has exceeded the fondest expectations of event its fondest rooters.

Bill Gillespie and his Newark High School eleven, now boasting of triumphs over two Wilmington elevens, Vocational and Wilmington High, have served notice in no uncertain fashion that they're out for the county crown this season.

The Jackets, who polished off the Brown contingent two weeks ago, clearly proved that the triumph was by no means a fluke when they drubbed their second Wilmington opponent by a 19-7 count.

THAT THE LOCALS ARE SURGING even their own coach is obvious for Gillespie, at the start of the campaign, would only hazard the vague prediction, "we'll win more games than we did last year." With two wins in three starts under their belts, they're well on the road to their mentor's goal which is four games.

P. S. duPont, slated to entertain the Jackets on Saturday, will prove a little higher hurdle than has been placed before the Newark team in the last two games, however, and the Dynamiters, victorious over Conrad last Saturday, will be gunning for their second win in order to level their 1940 slate.

A passing attack, with Albert (Ace) Aiken on the projecting end, has played no small part in the Jackets' offensive, while a number of deceptive maneuvers have been added to the ground formations to give the locals one of the most potent high school grid machines in this section.

YOU CAN START BUILDING UP your vocal chords for a "state championship" yell if the Jackets move through the Dynamiters on Saturday without suffering any ill effects.

On the other hand, the Blue Hens are on the verge of tumbling into another dismal season that has all the earmarks of being a repetition of last year's fiasco.

You'll recall without any trouble, the first three tilts dropped by the Hens in 1939, three close decisions that shattered the morale of the squad and made the team easy prey for the opponents to follow.

Remember the Ursinus Bears' 3-0 conquest; Dickinson's 13-7 triumph and Lebanon Valley's 7-6 victory—all tilts in which the Hens showed up well in every department except the score—all close margins but defeats nevertheless.

This series of close setbacks had a souring effect on the entire squad and it wasn't until the final game of the season against Washington College that the Hens snapped back to win by an overwhelming count.

Much the same thing is likely to happen again this year unless the Delaware team emerges with its first win on Saturday. The current campaign has started out in a too familiar fashion—two games, both dropped by one-touchdown margins.

It's been too long a time since Dame Fortune smiled on the luckless Blue and Gold eleven.

BOWLERS CRACK MARK

Paced by Henry Mote and Charlie Tasker, a team of local bowlers turned in a 2,953-2,537 triumph over a Dover contingent last Saturday on the Dover alleys.

Mote racked up a score of 648 while Tasker piled up 614 pins to lead the Newark team in setting a new three-game record for the Capital bowling house.

JACKETS AFTER WIN OVER P. S. DYNAMITERS

Aerial Attack Expected To Carry Local Eleven To Win

Victorious over Brown Vocational and Wilmington in their last two starts, Coach Bill Gillespie's Newark High School gridders are pointing toward another conquest on Saturday when they meet P. S. duPont, the third member of Wilmington's "Big Three," on the enemy's field Saturday afternoon.

Aiken In Shape

Boasting of a well coordinated passing and running attack, the Jackets have surprised local followers with upset wins over two strong city opponents.

With Albert (Ace) Aiken, spearhead of the Jackets' offensive, back in shape after nursing a sore arm early in the week, the local eleven will be at full strength when they meet the Dynamiters.

While the running offensive has proved invaluable to the Newark contingent, most of its success has been achieved through a deadly forward passing attack that has completely baffled opponents to-date. In knocking off the Red Devils last week by a 19-7 count, the Jackets piled up a total of 10 completed aerials in 14 attempts and have established themselves as one of the best forward-passing teams ever to represent the local school.

A well-coordinated backfield, consisting of Aiken, Jim Duffy, Bill Balling, and Jim Kelly, has proved the brightest spot on the Jackets' eleven for besides turning in good defensive and ball-carrying performances, not one fumble has been charged against them, despite the fact that on some plays, every back handles the ball.

Spirit Good

Praising the spirit and will to win of the entire squad, Coach Bill Gillespie was hopeful but not entirely optimistic about prospects of another victory.

"This is the first opportunity that a Newark eleven has had to defeat Wilmington's 'Big Three' in the same season," he said, "and I certainly hope we can make the most of it."

"The squad is young and for the most part inexperienced," he pointed out, "but every member has shown a fine spirit which has aided considerably in our victories over Vocational and Wilmington."

Standing pat on the lineup, the Jackets' mentor will start Ken Barnes and Dick Robinson, both of whom played outstanding offensive games last week, on the flanks; Paul Cochran and Francis Hill at tackles; Ray Ewing and "Buck" Gregg at guards, and Berry Wiggins at the pivot position. Aiken, Duffy, Balling, and Kelly will handle the backfield duties.

Wiggins, a senior, who has played two years of varsity ball at the pivot position, was elected captain of the team prior to the Wilmington victory. The 145-pound griddler served as an understudy to Bill (Barney) Hancock in 1938, but took over the regular assignment last year.

JACKETS' MENTOR PICKS HENS

Sticks With Own Team Too In P. S. Engagement

(Each week a guest selector will name his choices in the Newark Post Forecasters' Contest. This week's guest for games to be played Oct. 19, is William K. Gillespie, coach of the Newark High School football team—Ed. Note.)

Coach Bill Gillespie, coach of the Newark High School football team, predicts another victory for his Jacket contingent when it faces P. S. duPont on Saturday.

Basing his forecast on the fact that Delaware is slated to rebound for a win over Ursinus before a large homecoming day crowd, the local mentor also predicts a 7-0 conquest for the Blue Hens.

Other choices are:

Franklin and Marshall over Muhlenberg; Minnesota to beat Ohio State; University of Michigan to take Illinois; Holy Cross to stop New York University; Notre Dame to take care of Carnegie Tech; University of Pennsylvania to win over Princeton; Randolph-Macon over Washington College, and Pitt to upset Fordham.

DELAWARE GRIDDRERS MEET URSINUS ON HOME GRIDIRON

Blue And Gold, Turned Back In First Two Starts, Still Searching For A Victory; Starting Eleven Unchanged For Alumni Homecoming Day Clash

Coach Bill Murray's University of Delaware eleven, turned back by one-touchdown margins in their first two tilts, will stage another attempt to break into the win column on Saturday when they entertain the Ursinus Bears in the first home clash of the season. The game, which will be played before a large Homecoming Day crowd, will get underway at 2:15 o'clock.

Attack Polished

Determined to polish up the Blue Hens' offensive for the clash with the Pennsylvania team, Coach Murray has been pacing his charges through lengthy drills in order to load the attack with more power.

In their games with Hampden-Sydney and Dickinson, the locals proved their ability to move the ball into scoring territory but proved impotent as far as making the final entrance into paydirt was concerned.

Expected to stand pat on the same lineup that opened fire against the Red Devils, Coach Murray will again have only two freshmen on the contingent when the opening whistle sounds.

Co-Captain Bill Wendle and Fred (Rebel) Sloan will again handle the flanks; John Grundy and Bob Papy, the tackle; Co-Captain Wilmer (Lunk) Apsley and Bill Laurelli, the guards, and Lew Selby, the pivot position. In the backfield, Melvin (Ripper) Brooks, Conrad Sadowski, Bill (Red) Hogan, and Al Newcomb will open hostilities. Sloan and Hogan are the only recruits on the eleven.

Ursinus, wallowed by Lafayette and Bucknell, fought to a scoreless deadlock with Dickinson, the team that handed the Hens a 6-0 beating last Saturday. Stronger defensively than the Red Devils, the Collegeville, Pa., team also presents a well-balanced offensive and a sizeable stumbling block

Defense Poor

Coach Murray cited a lack of assurance and confidence and poor defense while in enemy territory as contributing factors to the Dickinson defeat last week in his weekly football letter released through the University of Delaware Alumni Association.

"Our hopes were high as we went to Carlisle Friday night," he said. "They were still high until the final whistle blew. We felt that Dickinson was not any better than we. Some phases of their play were better than ours, but the two teams, all departments of play considered, were about evenly matched. Either team could have won, but Delaware lacked the assurance and confidence which follows success."

"The game was a dire disappointment to all those connected with the destinies of the University of Delaware football team," he stated. "The biggest fault uncovered in this game was the poor defensive play of the boys of the Blue and Gold when in enemy territory. A fairly successful defense was put together when our own goal was seriously threatened, but our backs were against the wall most of the afternoon because we allowed our opponents to make sizeable gains in their own territory and at mid-field."

CLASH WITH CADETS IS SHIFTED TO WILMINGTON

Atlantic City Site Abandoned; Teams To Meet On November 9

Shifting of the site for the annual Pennsylvania Military College-University of Delaware grid classic from Convention Hall, Atlantic City, N. J., to Wilmington Park and the approval of a nineteen-game baseball card was the principle business transacted at a meeting of the Blue and Gold's Athletic Council, Tuesday night.

The game with the Cadets was tentatively scheduled for the shore resort where it has been played for the past eight years. Decision on the change was made when the Morris Guards, sponsors of the game, decided that interest in the contest in that section was not sufficient to continue playing it there. The tilt will be staged Saturday, Nov. 9, at 2:30 o'clock.

A 19-game baseball schedule of nine home and 10 away games, was approved, including the annual Southern trip of four games, starting with American University of Washington, D. C., on April 7. Dartmouth will be met in the season's opener on April 3, on Frazier Field.

The schedule is as follows:

April 3, Dartmouth, home; 7—American University, away; 8—Virginia Military College, away; 9—Randolph Macon, away; 10—Hampden-Sydney, away; 16—Dickinson, away; 19—Drexel, home; 23—West Chester, home; 26—Washington College, home; 28—Haverford, away.

May 2—Randolph-Macon, home; 6—Lebanon Valley, home; 8—West Chester, away; 10—Washington College, away; 13—Temple, away; 14—P. M. C., home; 17—Western Maryland, home; 21—P. M. C., away; 24—Penn A. C., home.

DOUGLASS COPS SHO' TOURNNEY

Racking up a one-over-par 160 for 27 holes, Dave Douglas, Newark Country Club professional, walked off with $75 first prize money on Sunday in the annual Eastern Shore open golf tournament.

Douglas had scores of 36-36-34 for three times around the par-35 course and shaded regulation figures only on the par-five sixth where he carded an eagle three and two birdies.

Second prize of $25 went to George Napier of Lynchburg, Va., with 108, and Al Houghton of the Manor Club, Washington, and Hugh McClellan, Baltimore, split third prize of $10 with scores of 110.

W. J. Stenger, of Chestertown, and A. E. Benton, Newark, tied with 114 in the amateur division, and in the extra-hole playoff, Benton scored a par 4 to Stenger's 5.

Among the 13 pros entered was Ed Oliver, of Hornell, N. Y., who tied for first last year. Oliver had 71 for the first 18, but picked up midway in the last nine.

Fifty-four amateurs were entered.

AVIATION WEEK STARTS TOMORROW

Giant Airliner To Operate From Dameron's Field

Aviation Week in Newark will be ushered in tomorrow about noon with the roar over the city of a giant 550-horsepower, eight-passenger Buehl airliner, which is to remain here a week carrying passengers for short flights over the town. Dameron's Field, east of town, will be used as a base.

The ship and its crew of six is to come here from Atlantic City, N. J., where they have spent the past week. An opportunity to learn to fly will be offered Newark residents by operators of the airplane.

Chief pilot of the giant ship is Capt. H. L. Meeks, a veteran of 15 years of continuous flying service. Capt. Meeks, who will give an introductory lesson to those who wish to learn the art of flying, has more than 3,000 hours to his credit. He has barnstormed in 23 states, holds five instructor ratings, and is a licensed mechanic.

First couple over 50 years of age to come to the airport Friday will receive a free plane ride and five gallons of gasoline from Sinclair Oil Company of Elkton, sponsor of the program in this section.

Capt. Meeks said today that he has been surprised to see how many older as well as younger people in Newark are taking to flying. Frank Fuhr, operations manager, announced that rates on the airliner have been purposely set as low as possible to give every resident of this section an opportunity to fly.

A ticket entitling the bearer to one free ride with every paid ride will be given with every dollar purchase at all Sinclair stations during Aviation week.

CONTEST FEATURES HOMECOMING

Program Of Activities To Begin At Noon

With the University of Delaware football team playing its first home game of the season this coming Saturday afternoon, an unusually large number of alumni are expected to be on hand to take part in the Homecoming Day activities.

The alumni homecoming committee has arranged an attractive program of continuing events from the luncheon at noon until the close of the evening banquet and is completing plans for welcoming and entertaining the several hundred alumni who are expected to return to the campus with their wives and friends.

Early arrivals will attend a luncheon in Old College at 12:45 p. m. Following this, the returning "grads" will witness the season's first football encounter on Frazer Field where the Delaware Blue Hens will meet the Ursinus College Bears. With both teams striving to enter the victory column for the first time this year, this contest gives promise of being a thriller from the opening kick-off to the final whistle.

Immediately after the conclusion of the football game, dance music, furnished by a student trio will be heard emanating from the Lounge of Old College. There the alumni will dance, renew old friendships, re-live former days, and enjoy refreshments which will be served by wives of members of the homecoming committee.

At 6:30 the homecoming banquet, the climaxing feature of the day, will begin. J. Alex Crothers, of Merchantville, N. J., a Delaware graduate of 1916 and general manager of the South Jersey Port Commission, will be the toastmaster. There will be no principal speaker. The toastmaster will introduce the association's guests among whom will be former Judge Hugh M. Morris, football coaches Bill Murray, Flucie Stewart, and Joseph Shields, graduate manager of athletics, Gerald P. Doherty, and members of the 1940 football team.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the homecoming is: George F. Alderson '15, Wilmington, chairman; F. Allyn Cooch, '21, Newark; J. Alexander Crothers '16, Merchantville, N. J.; Robert W. Ely '31, Elmhurst; and Howard P. Young '22, Wilmington.

No School Next Thursday—Friday

Newark Public Schools will dismiss next Wednesday afternoon for the balance of the week, Superintendent C. E. Douglass announced yesterday, to permit local teachers and faculty members to attend the annual meeting of the Delaware State Educational Association which will be held in Wilmington on Thursday and Friday, October 24 and 25.

Most of the Newark faculty members are planning to attend the two-day session.
