Lesson for February 6 CHALLENGING THE SOCIAL ORDER

LESSON TEXT—Mark 2:13-22.
GOLDEN TEXT—I came not to call the righteous, but sinners—Mark 2:17.
PRIMARY TOPIC—When Jesus Had Dinner With Matthew.
JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Passed
By.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Helping by Being Friendly.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Crusading for a Christian Society.

"Crusading for a Christian Society," is one of the topics assigned for consideration today. Everyone who is right thinking would be glad if the social order of which we are all a part might be made Christian, for it is far from it now. But foredoomed to failure are the attempts to Christianize society by some great program of "social regeneration." God's way is to save the individual who makes up the social order. When a man is right with God he will be right with his fellow man. When a man is clean inside he will be clean outside, and that is true mentally and physically, as well as spiritually.

The Scripture lesson for today is full of outstanding spiritual principles of the greatest practical import to both Christians and the unconverted. It should be studied by the guidance of the Holy Spirit and taught in his power.

I. One Sinner Becomes a Servant (vv. 13, 14).

Capernaum was so situated that it provided an excellent location for the collection of the Roman taxes which the Jews so hated. There at the "receipt of custom" sat a Jew named Levi, who was no doubt despised by his neighbors because he had joined in this distasteful business. To him came the gracious Lord with the invitation, "Follow me." How different would be the history of the cause of Christ on earth if every other man who thus was called had done likewise. To follow the Master means sacrifice and breaking with the old life, but it also means peace and glory.

II. Many Sinners Meet the Lord (v. 15).

Levi, who now becomes Matthew, showed his love for the Lord by desiring that his friends might also meet him. So he prepared a dinner for them in his own house, to which he also invited Jesus.

It is always dangerous for a Christian to maintain social contact with his former companions in sin, if he does so for his own enjoyment or advantage. But to be their friends that one may win them to Christ, that is most desirable.

III. Some Righteous Folk Miss the Lord (vv. 16, 17).

Sin is an unspeakably horrible thing that separates men from God, but it is not an insuperable barrier, for the moment a man confesses his sin and calls on the Saviour he is saved. But self-righteousness—that is the impassable barrier. God can do nothing for the man who rests his hope of salvation on his own good character, high morality, and respectable position in society.

IV. Feasting and Feasting—When and Why (vv. 18-20).

God established one fast day for Israel. They established many, especially the Pharisees. Religion that loses its spiritual life and power clings with tenacity to outward observances and symbols.

Should one never fast? Yes, to the true follower of Jesus there come times when the urgency of soul concerning the problems of one's own life, the lives of others, the needs of the world, shuts the door of interest to anything as ordinary as food for the body.

Feasting and rejoicing—are these spiritual and uplifting? Christianity is a joyful faith. It is not to be hidden in damp, dark cloisters; it thrives in the sunshine, in the happy laughter of a child, in the cheerful shout of the saint. The Church is the Bride of Christ. If the friends of the bridegroom were to rejoice (v. 19), should not the Bride shout for joy?

V. New Things versus Old Things (vv. 21, 22).

The Pharisees wanted the gospel of grace to conform to the narrow channels of their interpretation of the law. Was not the law good? Yes. Jesus said he came not to destroy it, but to fulfill it (Matt. 5:17). He here the source of the law that was might be free (Gal. 3:13, 14). But he also brought in the new covenant of assurance and grace. The mixing of grace and law, or effort to do so, has continued even to our day. Let us be clear on that point—we are saved by grace, not by the works of the law (Eph. 2:8, 9). We work because we are saved, not in order to be saved.

The striking figure of the foolish one who attempted to patch an old garment with new cloth, thus spoiling his new material and failing to mend the old, is also a warning to us that there is utterly no use attempting to fix up the old man who lives in sin by "turning over a new leaf" (where are the "resolutions" of a month ago?), or by patching up a particularly bad spot. The need of man is to be born again. Nothing else will suffice.

Suffragists Plan Walking Trip
Miss Rosalie Gardner Jones, the young woman who led the suffragist army on the recent walk from New York to Albany, visited the office of THE POST on Monday afternoon.

Miss Jones is an enthusiastic little woman of charming personality, intensely interested in the "cause" for which she is working. Her visit to this locality was for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for a walk from New York to Washington, by which the enthusiasts will be able to visit dozens of towns along the way, scattering their ideas and influence broadcast over the land.

The walking party is to start from Connecticut about the first of February. These first five women will be joined by six others in New York City. As the distance decreases other workers will join the procession. It is hoped to secure five volunteers from Delaware. From three to four thousand persons will participate in the suffrage pageant in Washington.

Miss Jones engaged rooms at the Deer Park Hotel, for the party during the time they will spend in Newark. The itinerary which she is arranging is to depend largely upon the hotel accommodations along the route. Some days it may be necessary to make much longer walks in order to reach comfortable quarters for the night.

One member of the party will travel by rail and join the pedestrians every evening. This person, unfatigued from the more strenuous method of travel, will speak at the popular meetings which will be held in the evenings.

NEW CENTURY CLUB

The study of Oxford and Cambridge was the program for Monday at the New Century Club. A very able paper was read by Mrs. J. T. Eastburn describing the city and the University at Oxford.

It was decided to postpone Mrs. Dayett's paper on Cambridge to next week's meeting when Mrs. E. W. Dawson will also give "Reminiscences of England."

An invitation was read from the New Century Club of Wilmington to attend two lectures to be given in their club room: one Friday, February 7th, at 3:30 p. m., to hear Dr. Lightner Witmer, professor of psychology at the University of Pennsylvania; and the other on Friday, February 14th, at 3 p. m., when Mrs. I. J. Bowker, president of the Woman's Municipal League of Boston, will talk on "What One Woman's Club Has Done."

During the past week, Mrs. W. H. Evans represented the Newark New Century Club at a meeting held in Dover by the Conservation Committee of the Federation. It was there decided to invite Mrs. Lydia Adams Williams, chairman of Waterways of the Forestry Bureau to lecture before the different clubs of the state. Mrs. Williams is a charming woman of delightful personality, and presents her subject very forcefully. She is very much interested in clubs and club work and all her talks are worthwhile. She will be in Newark on Saturday evening, February 1st, and will give an illustrated talk in the College Oratory, on Conservation of Waterways.

The public is cordially invited.

SURPLUS PEAS TO BE BOUGHT

AAA Subsidiary To Purchase For Relief

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced recently that the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation will purchase canned peas for distribution by state agencies to persons on relief.

The corporation will make offer forms available to canners. The corporation will consider offers received from canners throughout the country. Canners will be expected to specify prices, grades, can sizes, and quantities in the offers which they submit to the corporation.

The purchase program is designed to remove part of this year's record supply of canned peas from the normal channels of trade. It is expected to reduce the carryover into the next season and encourage better demand for peas grown in 1938 than might otherwise be expected.

Ten-Year Average $1

Prices of canned peas, number two size cans, averaged approximately 91 cents per dozen in 1936-1937 and during the ten years 1925-1934 approximately $1. The industry reports that present prices are 20 to 25 cents below these averages.

The total supply of canned peas for 1937-1938 is slightly more than 26,300,000 cases. This is approximately eight million cases above the 1930-1934 average and five million cases above the 1925-1929 average.

"Total disappearance for the current season is expected to approximate 21 million cases, leaving a carryover of something more than five million cases," F. R. Wilcox, director of the division of marketing and marketing agreements, said today. "The largest total disappearance to date occurred in 1935-1936 and amounted to 20,500,000 cases. The purchase program is expected to reduce the surplus carried into the 1938-1939 season. Growers may thus expect better prices in 1938 than they might receive if purchases were not made."

Double Lives

be saved if you have a knowledge of first aid. Quick thinking by persons knowing first aid has saved the lives of many accident victims. Here is an important thing to know in caring for the injured: Any accident victim may suffer from physical or nervous shock, may be even more serious than the injury itself. Signs of shock are: weak pulse, cold and clammy skin, open, staring eyes, and face beaded with sweat.

Here is what the first aider should do in treating a patient suffering from shock: Examine for bleeding; lay patient on his back; cover the person to keep him warm; keep his head low; loosen his clothing. Then rub his arms and legs toward the body. Don't ask him questions. Turn the head of the victim to one side if he starts to vomit. Have him breathe aromatic spirits of ammonia. And don't move him unless it is absolutely necessary.
