City Revenue Tops Budgeted Expenses For 1st Half Year

Salary Increase Plan
Of City Manager Held
Up For Council Study

Municipal revenues for the City of Newark had justified the budgeted expenses of the first half of the year, but actual spending had not caught up with revenue in the period from Jan. 1 through June 30.

In a 26-page mid-year budget report to the mayor and city council, City Manager J. J. Salvoara comments on the city's financial position.

The city has paid out only 41.1 per cent of its budgeted total for salaries and wages, since salary increases recommended by City Manager Salvoara for 50 employees, effective July 1, 1958, have not been approved by council.

Salaries are budgeted at $351,800 and only $144,625 was spent. General fund revenue in the first half of 1958 totaled $78,645.67, which is 45.5 per cent of the budgeted total. This includes the $145,240.15 cash balance carried over from last year. The second half could be expected to bring in more revenue because the real estate tax did not become payable until July 1. Only $12,554 of the $250,000 expected from property taxpayers trickled in before June 30.

During the six months when 45.4 per cent of the revenue came in, only 35.7 per cent of the budgeted expenditures were made.

Most of the pre-tax improvement in municipal revenue was in the "utilities charges and sales" column. The six-month collections from sale of electricity and water, and sewer service charges were $408,907. This figure is considerably more than half the $716,065 collected in all of 1957 and it is nearly two-thirds the 1956 total of $630,246. However, it is still only 48.8 per cent of the $838,500 budgeted this year for utility revenue.

Assessments, fines and permits are lagging far behind, with only $12,044 collected and $40,100 budgeted.

Only 39.7 per cent of the maintenance and operations budget was spent, or $224,933 out of $566,240.

Lowest percentage-wise is the spending for capital improvements. Only 24 per cent of this was done early in the year, or $85,264 out of $355,800.

Diamond State Co. Requests Increase For Phone Rates

Newark-Wilmington Toll-Free Dialing Scheduled
With PSC Rate Approval

The Diamond State Telephone Company has filed new tariffs with the Public Service Commission of Delaware which will increase present rates, depending on the type of service, from 45c to $1.20 a month for residence customers, with corresponding increases for business customers throughout the state.

The new rates, expected to provide additional annual net income of $1,073,700, are scheduled to go into effect on Sept. 15. A. E. Rose, Diamond State Company manager, said.

Further extensions of local calling areas are planned in 13 exchanges, including toll-free calling between Wilmington and Newark. If the company's financial position is improved as contemplated by these proposed rates," Rose said.

He pointed out that inflation confronting the telephone company with the same basic problems as every other business, and cited the increased cost of materials and wages as the big reason for needing higher rates at this time.

Rose stated that with a year's experience with existing rates, the company earned less than the return allowed by the commission in prescribing the present rates. He stressed the need for adequate earnings so that the company can undertake the type of planning and construction which in the long run means better telephone service and lower cost to the customer.

"Our construction requirements have been increasing, requiring substantial amounts of investor capital to finance new expansion," Rose stated. "This expansion means more jobs, more local purchases and other benefits to Delaware."

He estimated that the Diamond State Company's expansion rate through 1960 will approach $7 million a year.

Rose said the proposed new rates will enable the company to grow with Delaware and continue its program of service improvements.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton
U. of D. Agricultural Extension Service

The price of beef has taken a downward trend. It may be the consumers' resistance to high prices or perhaps it's due to an increase in supplies; regardless of what caused the decline it's welcome. When shopping be sure to look at the entire meat counter before you decide what to buy. In many cases, you will find roasts to be cheaper per pound than hamburger or even hot dogs.

This is quite a "switch" and one every member of the family will like.

Standing rib roasts were selling at very low prices last week and will be featured again this week.

Here are two points to consider when buying a roast. First, a standing rib roast should never be less than two ribs thick, otherwise it will tend to dry out too much in the roasting process.

Second, it is easier to carve if the butcher has sawed across the ribs where they meet the back bone.

The important thing, however, when buying a roast or any beef is to look for meat that has flesh which is smooth and velvety, fine grained, and of a light cherry red color with plenty of marbling (a fine network of fat through the red meat). This type of meat is tender and of high quality.

Chuck roasts are more plentiful and prices are lower. A four-to-five pound choice grade roast is a thrifty buy for even a small family when utilized for Swiss steak and stew meat or hamburger as well as a roast. Your butcher can cut the roast to give you this assortment.

Very few price changes show up on the still booming fresh vegetable market. Supplies are big, quality good and prices much lower than a year ago.

Cantaloupes, homegrown, remain the best fruit buy. They are selling as low as three big melons for 29 cents. Watermelons are another excellent buy, as well as peaches.

More apples are coming to market and seedless white grapes.

Remaining Farms Increase Acreage McAllister Reports

The trend toward fewer farms and farmers producing more food on farms of larger acreage is continuing, W. T. McAllister, extension agricultural economist at the University of Delaware says.

To back this up he says the farm population dropped by almost two million people in 1956. At the same time the size of individual farms is increasing.

The average farm today is 40 per cent larger than in 1940, an increase in size from 174 acres in 1940 to an average of 242 according to most recent figures.

Inflation has increased land values 40 per cent during the last seven years and has caused a much greater need for capital to operate a farm or to get into farming.

Only 12 per cent of the population is involved in actual agricultural production now. This means 88 per cent of the people are feeding themselves and the other 88 per cent.

In the early days of America, 85 to 90 per cent of the people were farming in order to feed themselves and the few non-farmers.

More farmers are finding it necessary to work at off-farm jobs too. Between 1950 and 1956 the number of farm people working at off-farm jobs increased from 30 to 40 per cent, McAllister said. The percentage of farm wives working off the farm increased from 17 to 26 per cent during the 1950-1956 period.

Dairymen Invited For Annual Tour On August 22-23

The New Castle County Dairy Herd Improvement Association in cooperation with the County Extension Service, has chosen Aug. 22-23 for the annual dairy tour according to Edward H. Schabinger, New Castle County Agent. Local DHIA members and their wives are invited to attend.

Since many of the dairymen have shown an interest in the 1958 National Plowing Contest to be held during "Pennsylvania Dutch Days" at Hershey, this will be included on the first day of the tour.

The second day will be spent in touring various dairy operations throughout adjoining areas of Pennsylvania.

The group will leave from Agricultural Hall in Newark on Friday, Aug. 22 at 8 a.m. Friday night will be spent at the Home Ranch Motel in Middletown, Pa., and it's home by 6 p.m. Saturday.

A FINANCIALLY HEALTHY TELEPHONE COMPANY

Telephone service must keep pace with fast-growing Delaware!

Dynamic changes have affected Delaware's economy and resulted in the establishment of new businesses, industries and households . . . population growth is the fourth fastest in the nation . . . per capita income is growing faster than in any other state . . . household income has become the highest in any state!

To match this growth, large expenditures for new telephone equipment must continue—if we are to maintain an adequate communication system, so vital to Delaware's progress and growth.

Delaware has always benefited from the finest in telephone service. Ours was the first state to enjoy 100% dial service. And we have spent $21 million in the last 3 years alone to provide adequate service for our customers . . . 116,000 Delaware families and businesses. It has taken that vast sum to match telephone growth with Delaware growth. But our job is far from finished.

Depending upon our financial ability to do so, we expect to continue our program of improving customer service . . . by providing more individual lines; having fewer party lines and fewer customers on rural lines . . . by extension of direct dialing of out-of-town calls by customers . . . by elimination of many toll charges and expansion of the local calling areas in the exchanges serving a majority of the customers in the state.

A SHORT STORY ABOUT PROTECTION

Out of Africa comes a story about a cattle rancher who was plagued by lions. They raided his corral, broke down his fences and made off with his prize bullocks and heifers.

The rancher got himself the most powerful gun he could get and kept it loaded at his bedside. But now, for one reason or another, no lions attacked.

After a time, the rancher put his rifle on the shelf. Then he took the cartridges out, and when the rainy season came the lions were rusted.

One quiet summer night the lions came prowling again at his farm. He rushed for his gun but couldn't find the bullets, and when he did, the rifle was so rusty it wouldn't fire. The rancher suffered fearful losses.

This story parallels the history of the Salk vaccine. The American public contributed millions to the March of Dimes to find a preventive for polio paralysis. The Salk vaccine, developed on a March of Dimes grant, was the long-sought-for answer.

But now that we have this weapon, we allow it to spoil in warehouse shelves. Three out of seven polio-susceptible persons have failed to get their shots. So alarmed are polio authorities like the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that they warn against new polio epidemics this summer.

Nobody else's vaccination—not even your children's—will protect you. Each person has to get his own. Don't take a chance—take your polio shots.

Reviewing improvements made in recent years, he pointed out that Delaware, first all-dial state in the nation, has had 100 per cent dial-operated telephone service since 1950.

He emphasized that the "hours of work required to pay an average telephone bill had gone down 38 per cent since 1940 and vast improvements had been made in the service.

"We must raise our prices just as non-regulated businesses have been forced to do," Rose added. "We must have earnings that enable us to help meet expansion requirements and to attract the investment capital we urgently need to keep pace with the rapid residential and industrial growth of Delaware."

Maj. John Honour Elected Chairman For Todd Estates

Civic Ass'n Selects
Retired Officer, UD
Senior To Head Group

Major John H. Honour has been elected temporary chairman of the Todd Estates Civic Association now being established by residents of the rapidly growing community near Newark.

Retired after 20 years service with the U. S. Signal Corps during which he rose from the rank of private to major, Major Honour is now a senior at the University of Delaware where he is working toward a degree in the field of neurophysiology.

In addition to electing a chairman at the recent meeting of all interested residents, the group approved the appointment of a committee authorized to proceed with the drafting of a proposal setting forth the fundamental aims and purposes of the association.

Members of the committee are: Horace I. Bomar, James G. Boyer, Robert Cookson, Floretta Y. Brown, Norman Freeman, Mrs. James Schiller, Mrs. Hugh O. Smith, William F. Williams and Joseph A. Williams.

The committee was requested to complete its function by Aug. 25 in order that proposals can be presented to the community for approval. A tentative date of Sept. 4 has been set for the next meeting of all residents.

At that time additional committees will be created to draft an organization chart and a set of rules and articles governing the association.

Invitations to attend association meetings have been extended to the nearly 100 families now residing in Todd Estates as well as about 50 more scheduled to occupy homes in the next 30 days.

Jim Case Speaks For Rotary Club On Scout Program

James O. Case, Capitol Trail Scout district executive, addressed the Newark Rotary Club last Monday night, on benefits provided for boys during the 49 years that the Boy Scouts of America program has been in existence.

He described how the scouting movement meets the needs of boys of various ages, from the family-centered cubbing program which channels the boys' vivid imaginations into means of learning, to the vocational and community service programs for older teenagers.

In the 49th year, the scouting movement is now serving 58 per cent of all boys in the 8-18 age bracket, he said, and the chief limitations on reaching the other 42 per cent are in finding institutions to sponsor troops, men to guide them, and money to operate them.

Case pointed out that Camp Rodney will have 4,000 boy-weeks of camping this year, a large increase over last year, and that its facilities are "taxed to the hilt," but that even more boys could be served if there were more manpower.

Sunnyside School As Kindergarten Nursery, To Open

Five years ago, the Lennox School at 215 West Main Street in Newark was asked to close its doors because of zoning restrictions, but because of continued demand and interest, the school with a new name and at a new location will be reopened for local youngsters.

Mrs. C. R. Otto, director of the school, had her initial training at Cornell University's department of child development, and obtained a BS in education at the University of Delaware. She is a licensed teacher, a certified social worker, and holds a certificate from the University of Delaware as a psychiatric social service aide.

Mrs. Otto has six children, six years experience in Ithaca, N. Y., as owner and director of a nursery school; two years as owner-director of the Lennox School in Newark, and has taught three years as a first grade teacher in Brookside.

Modern Language Extension Classes To Expand Scope

Godbey, Roberts Plan
Expansion Of Program
In Extension Division

The modern language program offered by the University of Delaware extension division will display greater scope and variety when classes resume in September.

The extension program in languages has been planned by Dr. Gordon C. Godbey, director of university extension, and Dr. Kimberley Roberts, chairman of the department of modern languages.

The courses in Russian initiated last year will be extended. The elementary Russian course taught by Dr. George E. Brinton was so popular during the 1957-58 extension program, that an additional course in intermediate Russian is projected for this year.

Dr. Brinton will continue to teach the elementary course, while a newcomer to the university faculty, Miss Irene Nagurski, will conduct the intermediate class. Miss Nagurski will also teach elementary Russian in the regular daytime classes.

In addition to the Russian classes, seven other modern language courses will be taught in extension this year.

The courses and their instructors are elementary French, Dr. Frederic C. St. Aubyn; intermediate French, Samuel Borton; elementary German, Dr. Elizabeth E. Bohning; elementary Spanish, Dr. Elbert D. Turner; intermediate Spanish, Dr. John C. Vorrath; and elementary Italian, Mrs. Yvonne Mahru.

In addition to the courses offered through the extension division, extension students may pursue advanced language courses for both undergraduate and graduate credit during late afternoon classes on the university campus. These courses, which were scheduled late in the day for the convenience of extension students, include Medieval and Renaissance French Literature, Dr. Roberts; 17th Century French Literature, Dr. St. Aubyn; and Spanish American Literature, Dr. Turner.

The first six months brought 29 accidental deaths in homes in Delaware as compared to 36 highway deaths, she said. More than half of the fatal home accidents—15 out of the 29—were falls. There were seven deaths from fire; three from poisoning; one from suffocation; and three unclassified.

The Home Safety Institute, designed to improve public awareness of home accident hazards, and to cut down on the number of home accidents and injuries, is being sponsored by the Safety Council and the State Board of Health at the new Non-Commissioned Officers' Club at the Dover Air Force Base, on Oct. 10 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The program will include several talks and exhibits, and the meeting is expected to be attended by 200 persons representing women's clubs, farm, educational, civic, and veterans' groups, and professional and trade organizations.

Local Man Chosen On Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All American Eleven

Joseph A. Shields

A 1934 graduate of Springfield College and a member of the varsity football team for three years, Joseph A. Shields has been nominated by the college as its candidate for the third Silver Anniversary All-American football award sponsored by Sports Illustrated.

Currently a teacher of physics and general science in Elkton Junior High School, Mr. Shields has led a varied career in education, business and farming since his graduation from Springfield.

Active in both civic and professional organizations, he is past president of the Newark Rotary Club; past president of the Southern States Cooperative in Newark; chairman of the YMCA fund drive in Elkton; member of the board of directors of the Towson Production Credit Association; and is a member of the NEA American Physics Teachers Association.

Following his graduation "with praise" from Springfield College, he served as director of physical education at the Hill School in Pottstown, Pa. From 1933 to 1942 he was an instructor in physical education at the University of Delaware.

He later became assistant manager of the Southeastern Pennsylvania chapter of the American Red Cross, and then executive director of the Delaware chapter of the American Red Cross.

From 1946 to 1956 he owned and operated a 302-acre dairy farm of 125 head of Jerseys, a farm he sold when he returned to teaching.

Continuing his interest in sports, Mr. Shields has won several state badminton championships and is a golfer who plays in the 80's.

Included with Mr. Shields' letter of nomination, were several letters of commendation from persons in his hometown. All indicated the outstanding work he has accomplished with the young people.

One in particular noted that "It is a fine thing that Joe continues to teach in Elkton, for I am sure he would make more money in business, but he sticks to teaching where his influence can count most."

In his final season of football at Springfield College, Joe Shields was named captain and halfback on the All-New England team, halfback on the Eastern Football Team, and to the All American Board of Football

Fire drills were conducted at all parochial and public schools in the Newark district last Thursday, as Aetna Fire Chief Clifton Knotts, and Newark Police Chief William H. Cunningham made their annual inspections during Fire Prevention Week.

City Manager J. J. Salovea, Clifford Morris and Albert Bell accompanied the fire and police chiefs in their inspections.

A record exit time of 38 seconds was reported at the West Park Place Elementary School, with 577 pupils, while the Brookside Elementary School, with 578 youngsters, was runner-up with an exit time of 40 seconds.

'Y' Gym Program For Local Youth To Begin Saturday

The city has been divided into nine areas for the residential solicitation, and area campaign leaders are Mrs. Florence Kershaw, Cornelius Morgan, Robert Forbes, Mrs. Jean Spoor, Jr., Mrs. Emily Eppes, Mrs. Dorothy Rand, Mrs. Claire Berg, Mrs. Anne Baranowski, and J. Leslie Ford.

Mardi Gras Committee Announces Plans For Community Hallowe'en Festivities

Final plans for the annual Hallowe'en Mardi Gras on Thursday, Oct. 30, have been announced by the Mardi Gras committee, with a program featuring a costume parade, free games midway, free movies, refreshments, and street dancing. More than 10,000 Hallowe'en revelers are anticipated.

The games midway will feature 14 carnival-type skill games for all ages, from the pre-schooler through late teenager, at the Academy-Building parking lot, with strings of multi-color lights.

The sub-teenage set will have an opportunity to test their skill in six different events ranging from button-up darts and balloons to an advanced version of the sucker toss.

"Suck-em-soft," will feature wet sponges thrown at volunteers protected by rain coats, boots and hats.

The teenagers can take home prizes from any or all of a half dozen games of skill planned for them. For the football enthusiast, a passing contest through tires is planned, and variations of bowling, dart marksmanship at moving targets, and pitching skill will all be put to the test come Hallowe'en Eve.

Some 2,500 Hallowe'en novelty prizes have been secured for the midway, which will be operated by members of the Newark Hi-Y and Tri-Y clubs and supervised by the Lions, Kiwanis, and Industrial Management clubs.

The costume and float parade will assemble at the Newark Shopping Center at 6:30 p.m. and get underway at 7:15. Expected to be larger than last year's parade, the committee estimates its length at half a mile. Individual costumed marchers, costumed pairs, small and large marching groups, self propelled, drawn, and motorized floats are included in the lineup.

The parade committee composed of the Rotary Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kirkwood Civic Association, Silverbrook Association, Sigma Tri-Hi-Y and the Boy Scouts of America, expects to have the mayor of Newark and City Council; Miss Newark, the University of Delaware Homecoming Queen, and the Newark High School Football Queen as guests of honor.

Plans also call for several 1959 model automobiles to be on display, and arrangements are being made for University of Delaware fraternities and Tassel members to aid as assistant parade marshals.

Concerning dismissal of a municipal employee with seven years of service because of inefficiency as inadvertently recommended by council with recent pay raises, Coverdale pointed out that the city charter prohibits the dismissal of any employee with five or more years of service unless council acts directly in the matter, and the employee is accorded a public hearing.

Council approved city payment of 142 September vouchers totaling $91,263.19, and a general fund cash balance of $174,914.75 on Oct. 12, 1958, was reported by Salovea.

Progress Report

Mr. Coverdale reported progress in negotiations with the Delaware Power and Light Company, citing a recent statement from John S. Walker, special attorney employed by the city, that "reception from the power company has been friendly and cooperative, and I believe we shall be able to consummate a contract beneficial to the citizens of Newark."

Action on Election Board Chairman Harold Grant's proposal to change municipal election districts, and decision on the municipal swimming pool proposal—both recommended recently by the City Planning Commission—was deferred until the next council meeting.

The proposal to adjourn just a few minutes before midnight encountered no opposition.

Hens Lose To Leopards, 7-6; Face Wildcats This Saturday

Former Yellowjacket Star Mark Hurn At Center Named Outstanding Lineman Of Lafayette Game As Delaware Loses Second MAC Test; Hens To Play New Hampshire

Coach Davey Nelson's Fighting Blue Hens invade the stronghold of the New Hampshire Wildcats this Saturday for a non-conference joust and a change of fortune after compiling a 1-2 season and MAC record with a win over Temple and a pair of one-point, losing decisions to Lehigh and Lafayette.

Hen Halfback Jack Turner, rushing leader for the unit, and the conference champion ship may well be decided on the following Saturday when William Penn High visits Newark to renew what has become an annual, story book thriller.

The Colonials meet a conference opponent this Saturday in P. S. du Pont, and the Dynahs of Coach Jack Gregory are tough.

Newark is assured of a league-leading position for the William Penn meeting, but the Dynahs could punch a big hole in this picture for the New Castle gridders. The Yellowjackets turned back P. S. by one touchdown, 20-13.

Newark dominated the play against Mt. Pleasant last Saturday, but the Green Knights gave the Yellowjackets a battle during each of the four long quarters.

Newark Scoring

With Co-Captain Luke Lackman quarterbacking the Newark offense, the Jackets scored single touchdowns in the second and final periods, with Lackman's placement good for the extra point after the first score, and a fourth period safety accounting for the final tally.

Bob Burton scored the first touchdown for Newark, plunging nine yards on fourth down for a six point chunk of Mt. Pleasant's end zone, and Lackman's kick gave the Yellowjackets a 7-0 halftime edge.

Both teams hammered away through a scoreless third quarter, but in the final period, Lackman passed to End Walt Mackey for a 34-yard gain and a second touchdown.

Two Oldtimers Join Jockey Hall of Fame After Nationwide Poll By Sportswriters

Two jockeys—and even the most elderly of sports fans may have trouble remembering them—were assured of racing immortality today following completion of the fourth annual election to the National Jockeys Hall of Fame.

Edward (Snapper) Garrison and James McLaughlin, crack riders of the 1880's, won two of the three Hall of Fame niches available this year under a special rule limiting the balloting to inactive jockeys.

Laverne Fator, who rode from 1919 through 1933 as a contemporary of Earle Sande, was the third jockey named by more than 1,000 sports broadcasters and writers from coast-to-coast asked to participate in the election conducted by the Maryland Jockey Club.

In previous years, three of the 10 nominees have been active jockeys and one has been elected each time. Eddie Arcaro, Ted Atkinson and Johnny Longden are the Hall of Fame members still riding today.

Rules for this year's election were changed because of the heavy backlog of deserving "oldtime" riders. McLaughlin led the balloting with 275 votes followed by Fator with 258, and Garrison with 250. Runners-up in order were Mack Garner, Carroll Shilling, Pony McAttee, Johnny Loftus, Jimmy Butwell, Albert Johnson and Fred Taral.

McLaughlin holds a record as the only rider ever to win the national jockey championship four times, leading with 123 winners in 1884; 97 winners in 1885, 142 winners in 1886; and 119 winners in 1887.

Garrison, who died in 1930, was a racing official and horse trainer after hanging up his jockey tack in 1897. Born in New Haven, Conn., Garrison is best remembered for use of his name in the phrase "a garrison finish." His specialty was explosive come-from-behind stretch drives which got him the victory at the last instant.

Fator, who died in 1936 at the age of 36, three years after he quit riding, maintained a 24 per cent winning average for an 11-year period at the peak of his career. He had 4,947 mounts and won 1,075 races with purses worth $2,406,230.

Other members of the National Jockeys Hall of Fame from past eras are Earle Sande, George Woolf, Isaac Murphy, Tod Sloan, Walter Miller and Raymond (Sonny) Workman.

The portraits of the 12 enshrined hang in the permanent Hall of Fame gallery at Pimlico Race Course.

Coach Don Miller's Yellowjackets face a non-conference test away this Saturday with the Howard High School Yellowjackets.

University division, played one of the best games of his collegiate career, rolling up 156 yards in 27 carries, but Lafayette Fullback Don Nikles edged him out for selection as the outstanding back of the day.

Delaware and former Yellowjacket Center Mark Hurn of Newark won the nomination as the game's outstanding lineman.

Flying Start In Saturday's contest at Delaware Stadium, the Hens got off to a flying start in the first period with a drive from the Lafayette 34, after Tackle Dan Tripodi recovered a Nikles fumble. With momentum provided by the running of Halfback Denny Luker, the Hens drove to a first down on the six, but the Leopards made good a goal-line stand and took possession on the two.

Neither team was able to pose another genuine threat for the remainder of the first half. The Leopards racked up five first downs, but their attack never penetrated Delaware territory.

In the closing minutes of the second quarter, Turner initiated a drive from the Delaware 22, reeling off 38 yards in hard bursts through a succession of Delaware first downs, but the Leopards struck back strongly on their own 20 and the drive collapsed in a fumble and two incomplete passes as the half ended.

With less than 10 minutes left, Leopards began a 70-yard drive, with Nikles carrying the times in the 12 plays that led to the score.

Bartos' 14-yard run put Leopards in position on the Delaware one, and Nikles made the second plunge to score.

Dan Wooten kicked the point.

Frank Mullen Addresses Meeting Of Rotary Club

Frank Mullen of the Newark YMCA, spoke at the Newark Rotary Club dinner meeting last week, comparing high school age youngsters of today with those of 20 years ago, and explaining the YMCA program. Today's high school pupils know more but think less; are healthier but less physically fit, he said. Stating that adults' main problem in youth work is to learn to communicate with young people, Mullen offered this advice to parents: "Don't worry about understanding your children but be sure to love them."

Rausch Speech Judged Best By Toastmasters
