Referendum Asked On Forming Kindergarten At Local Schools

Vote Needed Because New Class Would Depend Solely On Local Funds; Four Other Recommendations Are Made

A proposal that the Newark Board of Education hold a referendum to determine whether this community should form a kindergarten as part of its school program was made this week by Supt. Wilmer E. Shue.

The recommendation was one of four contained in Mr. Shue's annual report, which will be presented to the school board at its October meeting tomorrow night.

The other recommendations asked for are: additional classrooms by 1952, about 30 more acres of play space for high school and new elementary buildings, and the purchase of a school bus for use on field trips.

The referendum on the kindergarten question is necessary, Mr. Shue said, since the state does not provide funds for such a program and it would have to be supported solely by local funds.

He did not estimate the cost of operating a kindergarten here. Space for such a class has been provided for in the new elementary building now under construction.

Mr. Shue's recommendations to the board follow in full:

1. Added Playground and Athletic Field Space—When the present elementary school was being planned the Board of Education in adopting the location on the present plant agreed that it was necessary to accommodate the school program we try to secure an athletic field or playground space elsewhere.

2. Have now come to the point where this matter is urgent. The minimum recommended site for an elementary school today is ten acres. For a high school the minimum is ten to fifteen acres.

Family Here 'Adopts' Little Greek Girl

Stamatis Mavrou

A 5-year old Greek girl, whose father was killed in an air raid, has been "adopted" by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Grettum, 6 Tanglewood Lane.

The Grettums will support the child by sending funds through the Foster Parent's Plan for war children.

The youngster's name is Stamatis Mavrou, and she now lives with her mother and older brother in Piraeus in a tiny, dark room, with a floor of dirt and cement.

The mother is unable to work steadily because of ill-health, and the brother is also sickly. The family subsists on a tiny pension received as a result of the father's death. He was killed in 1944 in an air raid at Piraeus. The family's difficulties are increased by the fact that Greece is a country still at war.

Brown haired, brown eyed Stamatis is not a pretty child, but she is clever and charming. She likes to play with dolls but does not own one now.

It is only through the help of the Foster Parent's Plan that the family will be able to survive at all. Since its beginning the plan has cared for more than 60,000 children. It does not perform mass relief. Each child is treated as an individual. The plan is now helping children of 14 different nationalities.

The American headquarters of the Plan are at 55 West 42nd Street, New York City, 18.

Cafeteria Addition Eases School Rush

A $16,000 extension to the cafeteria was opened at the Newark schools this week, and lunch time has become decidedly less hectic.

The addition, a large, attractive room, finished in glazed tile and a celotex ceiling to cut down the babble, practically doubles the capacity of the lunch room. New tables with enameled fibre tops have been installed, and chairs to match will arrive shortly.

A second service counter, with a complete steam table, has also been added. This makes possible two serving lines and means that double the amount of students can be handled at one time. The furniture and the service counter added another $5,000 to the cost of the renovation.

The cafeteria now holds about 450 pupils at one sitting. Formerly, only 250 could be handled.

Since approximately 1000 students eat lunch at the school, the mid-day rush problem is still a complicated one. Some classes begin eating at 11:30 a. m., and the remainder are staggered through 1:30 p. m.

Danita Strike Clash Brings Charges On 6 Non-Strikers Here

Strikers Also Ordered Into Court On Contempt Claim; Strike Winding Up Seventh Week

As the Danita Hosiery strike rounded out its seventh week, tension continued high between the strikers and union members who have returned to their jobs.

Following last week's acts of vandalism attributed to the strikers, a court order was issued directing the strikers to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court for alleged violations of a previous restraining order.

This was capped on Monday night by reports of new violence. This time, a group of non-strikers were alleged to have attacked three strikers in a mix-up around 11:30 p. m.

According to local police, Chaney Carson and two companions, George Creswell and Lawrence Clausen, all strikers, were set upon by six non-strikers in front of Mr. Carson's home at 82 Amstel Avenue.

Warrants have been issued against the non-strikers by the local police. Magistrate Clarence Foster refused to divulge the exact nature of the charges. His excuse was "no time."

According to police, the warrants were issued against: Thomas Schultz, West Park Place; Thomas Wilson, East Park Place; Carl Grey, Milford Crossroads; Arthur Goerner, Benny Street; Henry Clark, Benny Street and Edgar McDonald, North College Avenue.

Police disclosed that Goerner is charged with making threats to kill, trespassing and inciting a riot. The other five are charged with trespassing and inciting to riot.

Police also said that an incident was reported to have taken place on Monday night in which McDonald, one of the non-strikers charged above, was (Continued on Page 2)

8 Veteran Teachers Honored At Board Dinner On Tuesday

Staff Members With 25 Or More Years Service Get Recognition

Eight Newark school teachers, each with 25 or more years experience, were presented with silver letter openers and certificates for outstanding service, at a dinner Tuesday night in the College Inn.

The presentation was the highlight of the annual get-together of the faculty and school board members.

The six veteran teachers, representing a total of 244 years of classroom experience, were: Mrs. Della Caswell, fourth grade; Miss Ann Gallagher, high school social studies; Miss Irma Jacqueline, third grade; Miss Rebecca Kirk, high school social studies and Latin; Miss Greta McKinsey, social studies; Miss Jane Smith, second grade; Miss Ann Stauter, mathematics; and Miss Sarah Steele, first grade.

Gilmore Ott was master of ceremonies, and Supt. Wilmer E. Shue made the presentations. Members of the school board were introduced, and President Joseph McVey spoke briefly on their behalf.

The guest speaker was Clarence Fulmer, principal of the Wilmington High School, who discussed current world conditions. He advised the teachers not to let their classrooms close in around them so much that they lose sight of the larger world about them. He insisted there was much room for optimism about the future, and he predicted that the coming decade will be one of the most challenging periods in mankind's history.

The program was in charge of the faculty's social committee.

Weekly Prayer Meet Planned By Baptists

The group of Baptists currently holding meetings in the New Century Club have decided to begin regular prayer meeting on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Prayer groups will gather at the homes of friends of the congregation. The first meeting was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bryant, South Chapel Street.

At the suggestion of the members, Marshall P. Watson, a student at the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Philadelphia and pastor of the Baptist Sunday School. More details will be available as they materialize.

Still Plenty Of Time To Get In Big Subscription Race; You Can't Lose; Commission On All Sales

Free Diabetic Tests Offered By Three Local Physicians

Three Newark physicians announced a plan this week to search out local residents who have diabetes and don't know it.

Figures for the nation show that a million Americans are undetected victims of this disease. A certain percentage of these could well live in Newark and vicinity. Unless discovered and treated, they will ultimately contribute to the statistics which make diabetes eighth among all diseases as a cause of death.

The initial step in diabetes detection is simple. Residents of the town and vicinity, who have never been tested, are asked to drop a sample of their urine, together with their name and address, at any of the three doctors' offices.

The three are: Dr. C. R. Donoho, South College Avenue. Dr. William Silverman, Academy Apartments, Main and Academy Street; and Dr. E. Hughes Nutter, Delaware Avenue and Haines Street.

The samples will be analyzed for sugar content. There will be no charge for the service. The physicians are donating their time and skill to the project, which is part of a nation-wide diabetes detection search, led by the American Diabetes Association and the American Medical Association.

Once discovered and treated, a diabetic can expect to live a quite normal life, so long as he eats the proper diet, takes adequate exercise and receives sufficient insulin to convert the sugar he consumes into energy. Not everybody who has glycosuria (urine sugar) is diabetic, but all diabetics have glycosuria.

Equipment for self-testing is available in many drug stores in the form of kits. These may be used to determine the presence of abnormal sugar in the urine, thus leading possible diabetics to seek confirmatory diagnosis and treatment from their physicians.

QUIET WEEK FOR AETNA

The Aetna company rested on their laurels this week. No fire alarms. They'll be busy this Saturday night, parading again, this time at Coatesville, Pa.

Unitarian Pastor To Address AAUW Here At General Meet Mon.

Facts On Displaced Persons To Be Given By The Rev. John G. MacKinnon

The Newark Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its first fall meeting on Monday evening in the Women's Faculty Club Rooms in Warner Hall at 6 o'clock.

The speaker will be the Rev. John G. MacKinnon, pastor of the First Unitarian Church in Wilmington. His subject will be "Displaced Persons." Inasmuch as Mr. MacKinnon has worked actively with the church organizations which have arranged for many of these people to come to America he has an authentic background for his talk. He welcomed a "displaced family" into his home in Hillcrest last summer and thus had an opportunity to learn their problems first hand. Members are invited to bring guests to this open meeting.

Mrs. C. Marcus Olson, president, will preside over a short business session, but the main business, such as the report on the Seattle Convention, to be given with moving pictures by Mrs. N. B. Allen, will take place at the November meeting. Mrs. Olson, who will attend the New York Herald Tribune Forum on Wednesday, will also make a report on that trip at the November meeting.

Members interested in study groups are reminded that they will meet to organize next week as follows: Tuesday, social studies, education and legislation, at the home of Mrs. Hugh Gullidge; Wednesday, international relations, at the home of Mrs. Carl Rankin; and Thursday, creative arts, at the home of Mrs. Cyrus L. Day.

Start Today To Win New Buick Super; $750 Is Second Prize

A new Buick Super Four-Door Sedan will be awarded the winner in the Newark Post's "Everybody Wins" subscription campaign now in progress. In fact, this big contest is just getting under way. The Post is presenting an opportunity to its readers and others, and the winner will ride away in his or her new Buick automobile on December 3rd.

A second Grand Award of $750.00 in cash also is offered to any enterprising citizen of this trade territory who will grasp this opportunity.

And aside from a chance at either of these magnificent awards you are given positive assurance that a weekly commission check will be issued each Monday to all active workers. And, of still greater importance, while earning these commission checks, contestants are accumulating valuable votes toward winning the top award Buick, or a nice load of cash.

The Post's attractive subscription contest, though announced last week, is just now beginning to gather headway and the above opportunities are at this moment wide open challenges to the ambitious. Here we are presenting one of the soundest and best business propositions to come your way in a long, long time. We, therefore, issue the invitation to one and all to come to the office of the Newark Post and let us explain the proposition in full, whether or not you enter the race.

Now, let's be brief and advise you what to do. The contest office is situated in the Office of the Newark Post at 14-16 Thompson Lane. If you want to take advantage of this liberal and altogether attractive offer, simply drop into the office. A representative of the Liner Circulation Service has been engaged to handle this contest and, therefore, to explain the entire proposition in full to any and all who care to learn, whether or not you enter the contest.

After you have heard the complete details you will be handed an entry blank. If you think the deal is a good one you may sign the entry blank and obtain a subscription receipt book. From then on you are an agent of this newspaper for the duration, or until December 3rd. If you like this idea come on in and you have the assurance that it will cost you nothing to try what in all probability might develop into the best step you have made in your life. ### Methodist Women To Stage Bazaar

Variety Of Unusual Items To Be Offered In Sale Starting At 9 A. M., Nov. 3

A holiday bazaar and turkey supper will be held by the women of the Newark Methodist Church next Thursday at the church.

A variety of unusual items will be offered for sale at the bazaar from noon to 9 p. m. The supper will be served from 4:30 to 7 p. m.

A novel feature of the bazaar will be a parcel post booth, offering sealed packages for a small charge. Also on sale will be distinctive Christmas cards, wrappings, children's hand-made clothing, hand-sewn aprons, baked goods, fruits and jellies, homemade cakes and candies and nylon stockings.

A special children's section will be set up, offering movies, circus booth, special prizes, balloons and popcorn. Also planned are a white elephant table, plant section and a canned jelly and pickle table.

The committees follow: Children section, Mrs. E. Speer and Mrs. D. Lanning, co-chairmen, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Jack Harris, Mrs. David Drew, Mrs. Charles Troy.

Parcel post booth—Mrs. Horace Seeley, chairman, Mrs. Leon Gilmore, Mrs. C. Webb, Mrs. Ferris Wharton, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. George Schuster.

Newarkers Raid Attics For Madri-Gras Parade Costumes

Newarkers of all ages were urged to raid their attics this week for costumes to wear in the mammoth parade which will highlight the annual Halloween Mardi-Gras here on Oct. 31.

Grandma's favorite party dress or grandpa's old Sunday suit may be just the style now to win the comic division prize.

Fifty-two cash awards will be offered managers in the merry search, which officials hope will be bigger than ever this year.

will be judged and awarded in the high school auditorium.

There will be prizes for the best dressed and for the most comically dressed person, couple and group. The first prize in each class will be $5, with $2.50 for second. A separate set of the same prizes will be assigned to all persons up to ten years, another to persons between 10 and 14, and a third to persons over 14. A set of the same prizes will be offered the Negro children.

Virtually every civic club in town is behind the program and has assigned a representative to the organizing committee.

Newark Man Named Training Officer Of 736th Gun Battalion

Harvey T. Ogden Will Direct Plans And Training Of Delaware Guard Outfit

Plans and training of the 736th Gun Battalion, Delaware National Guard, will henceforth be in charge of Capt. Harvey Thomas Ogden, of near Newark. His appointment as the battalion's plans and training officer was announced last Thursday by Lt. Col. J. James Ashton, commanding officer.

The position was left open by the advancement of Maj. Joseph Scannell to executive of the 736th. It is expected that Capt. Ogden may soon be raised to the rank of major.

A veteran of World War II and the holder of the Bronze Star Medal and the Purple Heart, Captain Ogden served as battalion supply officer.

The captain, a farm placement supervisor with Unemployment Compensation Commission, started his military career as a private in the field artillery. After 16 months as an enlisted man, during which time he advanced to staff sergeant, he attended Officer Candidate School at Fort Sill, Okla., and was commissioned a second lieutenant. He was promoted to first lieutenant in January, 1943, and raised to captain in December of the same year.

In 1944, Captain Ogden went to Europe as fire direction officer of the 963rd Field Artillery Battalion and participated in the invasion of Normandy. He saw combat service in four campaigns, and was wounded in the Battle of the Bulge.

Following his discharge from the Army in 1945, he joined the 198th AAA Group, Delaware National Guard, shortly after it was organized and was assigned to the 736th. He is married and has two children.

Island Size Of Connecticut Discovered Last Year

Within 2,000 miles of Washington, D. C., an island nearly as big as Connecticut was discovered for the first time in 1948. The National Geographic Society points out. Named Prince Charles Island for Great Britain's infant prince, it lies in Canada's Foxe Basin, just north of Hudson Bay.

attacked by strikers. A warrant for this has been issued against Clausen and Carson.

Tuesday night's fight, therefore, seemed to be a follow-up on the Monday night incident.

According to police the Tuesday night clash occurred when Carson, driving by his home with Clausen and Creswell, saw two cars with their lights on parked in front of the house. One car was blocking the driveway. Carson got out to investigate and was set upon by a non-striker from one of the cars but managed to break loose and slip in the rear door of his house. The non-striker then attacked Creswell and Clausen, but before they could inflict serious injuries, Carson reappeared with a shotgun and drove them off.

The hearing on the charge will be held before Magistrate Foster at 8 p. m. Friday night. The case in which McDonald charges Carson with attacking him will be heard at the same time.

ly on last week's vandalism which brought new court action. The order directs the strikers to show cause why they should not be held in contempt for disobeying a previous restraining order. A number of the strikers are ordered to appear in the Court of Chancery, Wilmington, on Oct. 26.

In seeking the order, Arthur G. Logan, Danita attorney, filed affidavits charging that one employee's car had been splattered with paint, that another employee had been threatened and assaulted, and that members of the union have blocked exits and entrances by "throwing lumps upon the driveway at the entrance to the plaintiff's mill . . . daily for a period of two weeks."

Carson is also accused by McDonald of assault and battery in Wilmington on Oct. 5, and faces a Municipal Court hearing.

acres. We now have both schools on a site which has a total of ten acres. It is, therefore, recommended that the board study the possibility of securing additional space which would take care of our school needs.

2. School Bus for Field Trips—There are many field trips which the school needs to make which require a school bus. The present arrangement, through the fine cooperation of Mr. Eugene Stiltz, has enabled us to continue thus far but with some handicaps. It is recommended that the school district own and operate its own bus for these trips so that the educational value accruing from them will not be denied any child who is not able to pay the fees which we are now required to assess for such trips. Such trips will become more and more a part of our general educational program and as such should be made available through the general school budget. In addition to the field trips here mentioned, there are the many athletic events for which our own school bus would be most advantageous.

3. Kindergarten—Although the kindergarten program is limited to Wililmington, Claymont, and Alexis I. du Pont at the present time, some thought should be given to making this a part of every school. The people of this district have repeatedly asked when we are going to start a kindergarten. There are many problems that must be met before a successful kindergarten program can be inaugurated as part of the public school program.

In the Commission Report on the study of Delaware Schools, kindergartens were recommended. We suggest that this problem be studied and that in order to properly finance a kindergarten program it would be necessary for the local district to pay more taxes for the same. It is our suggestion, therefore, that a referendum be conducted to determine whether this school community desires and will support a kindergarten program for this district.

4. Additional School Building—In December, 1948, a conference was held with the State Superintendent with regard to the need for an additional building in our district. An estimated population growth showed the need for ten additional rooms for 1952. The State Superintendent, at the conference mentioned, agreed that we should request an appropriation from the State to cover such a building program. The local Superintendent, however, pointed out the possible complications that would develop if a state re-districting program were to be carried out. In other words, the question of location of the new building for our district under any state consolidation plan was a matter which should be fully weighed. If our district should be enlarged it is quite possible that the additional building should be done elsewhere than in the Borough of Newark. The State Superintendent then suggested that we wait until the State's Master Plan for Consolidation was completed.

Newark High School has a new language teacher, Miss Evelyn Ball, who comes from Allentown, Pa. Miss Ball was graduated from Penn State in 1949 and has had seven years of language. Last summer she heard of a vacancy in the language department and decided to come to Newark High School. She likes to read, but does not particularly like sports. Her time is not usually her own, as she is occupied with teaching French and Spanish most of the time. Miss Ball says that she enjoys teaching very much and loves her subject. She is also sponsor of the Newark High School cheerleaders.

Mascot of the Twirlers

Marion Cullen, a new feature of NHS band, is seven years old and in the second grade. Bobby Jo Brittingham from Elkton has given Marion lessons in twirling, preparing her for her present part. She will be with the band for the rest of the year. Marion does some acrobatics besides twirling. She wears a white suit trimmed in gold and carries two batons.

N.H.S. Sells A. A. Card

Due to the lack of funds the Athletic Association has been selling membership cards to the student body of Newark High School. This program has been headed by Mr. W. Matt, physical education instructor at N.H.S.

These cards entitle students to go to any home athletic event free. Up to date 182 students bought cards, of which 85 are boys and 97 girls. This is a very small percent of 764 students who are in the high school. Three hundred memberships are needed so the Athletic Association can pay its debts. The price of the cards is three dollars; cards can be bought on installment.

Extra-Curricular Activities

Newark students are among the few in the state to enjoy such a varied and extensive extra-curricular program. NHS clubs include band and orchestra, office practice, Hi-Y, drama, boys' and girls' leaders clubs, Home Economics, drivers' course, library, twirlers, cheerleaders, projectionists, and Buzz.

It is the aim of the clubs offered to NHS to help the students find an interest and develop their personalities and abilities.

The journalism students will from time to time report the activities and programs of the numerous activities in the Yellow Jacket column.

P.T. A. Meeting A Workshop

All parents, teachers, and interested citizens are invited to attend the P.T. A. meeting tonight at the Newark School at 8 o'clock. The main feature of the evening will be a Workshop which is divided into four sub-groups. A discussion leader will preside in each session which is scheduled to last 45 minutes. After the session, refreshments will be served in the cafeteria by the parents of the tenth grade homerooms.

Newark Team Defeated By WHS
Wilmington High School defeated Newark at Newark on Saturday afternoon, October 15, by a score of 12-0.

The Newark team went into the game as the underdogs. Newark kicked and was holding Wilmington until a long pass by the "Devils" gave them six points. In the second quarter the Devils again scored by a pass. Although trailing by twelve points, Newark fought hard throughout the rest of the game.

Comments heard in the crowd in attendance at the game were about Newark's hard hitting Donald Sharp. This is his first year for the Yellow Jackets. Other comments indicated the good work of Earl Schaen and Henry Correll.

Assembly Programs

Square dancing is the subject for the October 19 assembly planned by Mrs. Grace Gibb and her dance group. The Antrim Bureau will provide the Dorset Trio for the October 25 program in the auditorium. Other assemblies listed for the future are:

A film to be shown on October 25, Mr. Morrison's homeroom, on November 2.

Special assembly by the Antrim Bureau at 11:15 on November 4.

Mr. Gibbs' homeroom on November 9.

Mrs. Bonney's homeroom on November 16.

During the program on October 19, Jair dos Santos and his South American dance group will perform three dances. Miss Gordie, the student Gym teacher who left last week, came back to teach square dancing to a group of seventh graders in the assembly. Another feature during the program was a square of eight teachers demonstrating a dance. The object of this assembly was to get more students and teachers interested in square dancing.

Instructions For Student Treasurers

Newark High School has issued some general instructions for all student treasurers to follow in regard to handling money from sales, withdrawing money, authorizing purchases, and supporting records.

All money must be handled by elected or appointed student treasurers or faculty advisors. When money is to be turned in to the office, Mrs. Lawrence, the general treasurer, is ready to help. Banking hours from Monday to Friday are: 11 to 11:15 and 3:05 to 3:30. When collecting at sales, a student treasurer should make arrangements to get change one day in advance. When all sales are completed, the money should be counted and wrapped. A deposit slip should be filled out and taken with the money to Mrs. Lawrence.

dwarf cattle in a "lost canyon," near Jamestown, N. D.

Veterinarians J. W. Kinne and G. A. Ottinger said they examined the five tiny head of cattle brought out of the canyon by Gene Holter, 27, former rodeo rider and showman.

Holter said he had heard stories of the lost canyon and its strange herd of dwarfs for years, and finally located them. He said he brought three bulls and two cows out by helicopter.

But he kept them locked in his barn and refused to show them to newsmen because, he said, he has a contract with a national magazine for exclusive picture rights.

Kinne and Ottinger believed that a soil or water deficiency in the canyon, where the cattle lived, hindered the functioning of glands which promote growth. The animals are about the height of a large dog, they said but they are "perfectly proportioned."

High School News Writers To Convene Nov. 5 At U. of D.

Delaware Scholastic Press To Hold Annual Conference

The annual conference of the Delaware Scholastic Press Association has been arranged for Saturday, Nov. 5, at the University of Delaware's campus in Newark. James Towers, president, announced this week.

Francis X. Gallagher, program director at Station WJLA, Wilmington, will be the principal guest speaker. His topic will be "The Scholastic Press as a Free Press." He will speak at a general meeting at 9:30 a. m.

More than 200 high school journalists from approximately two dozen schools of the state are expected to attend. Mr. Towers, a Newark High School student, the advisers' chairman in the organization is Miss S. Webster of the Alexis I. du Pont School faculty.

The conference program will center around a general session in Mitchell Hall starting at 9:30 a. m. This is to be followed by all delegates, and it will be followed by 12 panel meetings, covering such fields as cartooning, news-writing, editorials, headline writing, humor, layout and makeup, sports, yearbooks, interviews and getting names into the news. Reports in each of these fields will be made during the discussion.

Mr. Towers said that in order to encourage participation in the discussion, a series of meetings of each panel will be held.

The balance of the program, he said, will include showing of a motion picture which depicts newspaper making; luncheon; and delegates' attendance at other of two football games during the afternoon.

Other student officers of the DSPA are: Vice-president, Edward E. Bronner, Salesman School; secretary, Lois Watt, Mt. Pleasant School; treasurer, Suzanne Yorkes, Laurel. In addition to Miss Webster, the advisers have elected Miss Elsie Massey of Laurel as vice-chairman.

Legion Women Back Bill To Ban Court Picketing

Enactment of a law to outlaw the picketing of courts is being urged by the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Paul D. Lovett, Legislative Chairman of the local Auxiliary. The bill to make picketing of courts an offense have been introduced in the Senate and House, and have been endorsed by the American Legion, she stated.

"The practice of picketing courts has tended to impede the administration of justice by influencing and intimidating the courts, their officers, jurors and witnesses," Mrs. Lovett said. "It has been used repeatedly during the trial of the communist leaders in New York."

P-T.A. Workshop Is Planned Tonight

Informal talks between teachers and parents on the problems of local pupils will be held tonight at 8 p. m. at a meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association in the high school. The discussion leaders for the various groups will be: Charles Cooper, senior high; John Miller, junior high; Morris Field, intermediate; Russell Hyre, primary. Teacher consultants will be: George Nickle, senior high; Dorothy Markert, junior high; Mrs. Elsie Rose, intermediate; and Sara Steele, primary.

Free refreshments will be served following the talks. Hostesses will be parents of the tenth grade students under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Reed, assisted by Mrs. Ellsworth Carr and Mrs. Katherine Tompkins. All parents are urged to attend, even though they may not be members of the P-T.A.

Last week's announcement concerning the appointment of new P-T.A. chairmen by the executive committee was incorrect. Mr. C. H. Cooper and not Mrs. Cooper heads the ways and means committee. Mrs. Maurice Field and not Miss Jeannette Thoroughgood is in charge of the magazine committee.

This Is Entry Week

Think! Then make up your mind to win, set action to your determination and get in. Let a pencil, a receipt book, plus the will to win, lead you right into the drivers seat of that wonderful new Buick. This is known as entry week and next week, when the first vote standings of the various contestants is published, marks the real beginning of what promises to be a most exciting and interesting race.

Those who jump right in, take full advantage of the special offers in votes, will make a good showing in the first vote publication. In truth, you can be the leader, which in theory at least, might mean "one foot on the running board." But time is important! Please do not delay any longer!

Japan's Life, People Discussed At Club Meeting On Monday

Mrs. M. M. Daugherty, Former Home Agent, Tells Of 2 Years Residence In Occupied Japan

The Newark New Century Club welcomed back on Monday a member of long standing, who has recently returned from two and one-half years' residence in occupied Japan. Mrs. M. M. Daugherty, whose husband, Lt.-Col. Daugherty, was formerly with the American headquarters staff, discussed Japan, its people, and its culture at the club's regular meeting Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Daugherty gave her audience a comprehensive picture of Japanese home life as it appears to the American visitor today and displayed many interesting examples from her large collection of Japanese silks, porcelains, lacquer-ware, and cloisonne. A complete Japanese wedding outfit, including handpainted kimono, handwoven obi adorned and interwoven with gold threads, footwear, and traditional gold-and-silver fan, was modeled by Miss Rosemary Mays of Corsicana, Texas, who is Mrs. Daugherty's house guest.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. L. A. Grettum, chairman of the international relations committee.

Hostess for the day was Mrs. Newman Rose, assisted by Mrs. William H. Adams, Sr., Mrs. William H. Adams, Jr., and Mrs. William Berry. Mrs. Robert T. Jones poured.

County Poultrymen Plan Jersey Tour

The New Castle County locals of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association and the County Agricultural Extension Service will sponsor a poultry tour to Cumberland County, New Jersey, on Monday, October 24, for all poultrymen and their guests.

The tour will be supervised by E. H. Schabinger, County Agent and J. L. Crothers, Jr., Assistant County Agent. The group will assemble at Hare's Corner Esso Station on Route 13 and will leave promptly at 9 a. m. It is suggested that each person bring his own lunch for convenience. The cavalcade of automobiles will proceed to Shiloh, Norma, and Vineland, New Jersey, with five stops being planned for the inspection of phases of the poultry industry as found in New Jersey.

4-H Clubs To Mark Achievement Week

To report on the total accomplishments of all 4-H Club members during 1949 and to give recognition to local volunteer leaders, National 4-H Achievement Week will be observed November 5-13.

In Delaware, 4-H Clubs and their leaders are making plans for special observances during this week. Exhibits of typical work of 4-H members will be displayed in places of business. Adult organizations such as service clubs, chambers of commerce and farm organizations will feature talks by 4-Hers and local leaders.

During this week, the objectives of 4-H Club work will be stressed. It is a part of the national education system of cooperative extension work in agriculture and homemaking in which the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the state land-grant colleges, and the counties share. It provides rural young people an opportunity to learn the value of science in their farming and homemaking projects. Four-H members develop leadership and the ability to work with others through their responsibilities in the clubs. They develop an interest in their own communities and a sense of responsibility as citizens through taking part in community projects that contribute to the welfare of others.

The expression "4-H" typifies the training of Head, Heart, Hands and Health which the club program provides.

UN Day Observance Set For Sunday Nite

The Department of Delaware, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is taking the lead in sponsoring community-wide observance of United Nations Day, with special exercises in Wilmington High auditorium at 7:30 p. m. on Sunday night.

John E. Babiarz, senior vice-commander and co-chairman with Mrs. Evelyn Jones, department president, announced today that a speaker of prominence has been secured to give a detailed account of U. N. accomplishments.

He is William Wood, assistant chief of Public Liaison, Department of State, Washington, D. C. Mr. Wood is in charge of the State Department's radio and television activities.

Babiarz stated today that other interesting features have been developed for Sunday evening's program, and urged the people from all sections of the state to join in the fourth anniversary eve U. N. salute. Invitations have been extended to Governor Elbert N. Carvel, Mayor James F. Hearne, and to leaders of civic and fraternal organizations. Members of these organizations are also welcome. Babiarz said.

MISS KATHERINE EGNOR

BRIDE OF WILLIAM SMITH
The wedding of Miss Katherine A. Egnor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Egnor, 1429 South College Avenue, to William C. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Smith, of near Newark, was celebrated at 2 o'clock on Wednesday evening, October 14, at St. John's R. C. church with Rev. Leo O'Neil performing the double ring ceremony.

Miss Robert Stewart, Jr., sister of the bride, and Mr. Charles Daly, cousin of the bride, were the attendants and the Yellow Flashes played the wedding march. Mr. Robert Daly, another cousin of the bride, was usher.

The bride wore a street length dress of tulle with matching accessories and a corset of gardenias.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony after which the couple left on a wedding trip to the Poconos.

Miss Smith is a graduate of the Newark High School and of Goldey College and is now an secretary at the University of Delaware.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of the Newark High School, is associated with Chrysler Corporation, Newark.

PRAYER AND SELF DENIAL

WEEK OCTOBER 25-31
A week of prayer and self-denial will be observed from October 25 to 31, by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newark Methodist Church. This observance is not only urged by this individual group of women but by all Methodist women everywhere.

Wednesday, October 26, will be known as "Quiet Day" and will have special hours of service here in the local church in the chapel from 10 to 11 a. m., 2 to 3 p. m., and 7 to 8 p. m.

The week will be completed by a special worship service on Sunday evening, October 30, at 7 o'clock in the chapel with talks being given on the special project of this year by Mrs. Paul Jaque, Mrs. Frank Jamison, Mrs. James Nichols, Mrs. Lester Beers and Mrs. Oliver Koelgel, Jr.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

FILLIN' IN

P. D. Lovett, banker, scout official, solid citizen, will be glad to learn he may now add to his list of titles that of "The Wheel from Newark." This was conferred on him in an informal ceremony at Rhodes' soda fountain last Saturday morning.

Two university students were talking about a meeting they were arranging. One suddenly struck his forehead and said, "Say, I forgot to tell you. A guy from town here is coming as a special guest."

"What guy?"

"Forget his name, but he is a Wheel from Newark, and he's coming. Be sure to get him on the program."

The speaker left, and his companion remained to muller over his soda. We were as mystified as he. The number of wheels in Newark is rather limited. In this respect the town is scarcely mobile at all. One would be lucky to find enough full-fledged wheels here to equip a sedan chair. We wracked our brain.

Then, suddenly, came the great revelation. The first student poked his head in the street door and shouted, "The Wheel's name is Lovett!"

One of the principal charms of the autumn season for us is the odor of burning leaves. We find this especially true in Newark, where this sweet and melancholy incense carries the added tang of illegality. It is an outlawed odor here, a munitious, defiant scent. In our nostrils, it bespeaks embattled homeowners caught in the toils of two highly justified town laws, one a safety measure forbidding the burning of leaves and the second an anti-nuisance edict forbidding the littering of one's property, especially pavements and gutters, with leaves. Hemmed in by these quite sensible restrictions, many homeowners feel the rebel urge within them. Either they must spend the next two months carting away leaves, or they must break the law and burn them.

Ever since the trees began to turn, we've been keeping our nose to the wind for the rebellious scent and our eyes peeled for a rising plume of illegal smoke.

We've found no evidence of a mass uprising, but we did happen on one gentleman nursing a wisp of a fire, throwing on one leaf at a time and darting his eyes about furtively. When he caught sight of us, he moved in front of the fire, grimed guiltily, and said something about "damn old sparks from the railroad."

We also interviewed one insurgent housewife, who has formally seceded from the town. She burned her leaves in her front gutter, marching up and down before them with a rake and a Barbara Fritchie look in her eye. The town truck passed during her picketing, but no one dared touch a hair on her gray head. In fact, she swears she heard muted but distinct cheers.

On the other hand, the U. of D., which has a leaf problem to make one goggle, has set the proper example by hiring a corps of rakers to clean up the campus and haul the debris away. This method is a little too elaborate for the average homeowner. The latter is doomed to wind up either with an aching back or an itching conscience. One logical solution would be for the town to pass another law making it illegal for the leaves to fall. This might relieve everyone's mind.

We salute science this week for two new contributions to human knowledge of a type we would like to see more of. One is a cure for baldness in robins, and the other provides the first experimental proof that gum drops are more potent than cheese as mice bait.

The latter discovery was announced recently by University of Vermont scientists. They were chary about giving out details. They merely said they used everyday, corner store gum drops in ordinary traps. One professor, probably working on a fellowship sponsored by an old maid's home, reported he trapped 17 mice with one gum drop. The entire study was begun, they said, because the university laboratories were plagued each fall by field mice looking for a place to spend the winter.

The cure for robin baldness is credited to a rank amateur, an unidentified Long Island man, who, in the true scientific spirit, stumbled on his great discovery accidentally. His 13-year old neighbor found a bald robin and knitted a bonnet for it. Our man grew interested in the case and recommended experimenting with the bird's diet. He finally hit on a successful combination—mocking bird food, hard boiled eggs and celery.

All we can say is science inches on.

Warriors Prep For Cage Opener, Nov. 2

With the opening of their National Basketball Association season but two weeks away, the Philadelphia Warriors are stepping up their training pace at Hershey, Pa., and figure to be further advanced for this year's opener than for any previous inaugural tilt.

The Warriors have been scrimmaging with Eastern League and nearby college quintets this week and, starting Saturday at Baltimore, will play five exhibition games in eight days to put the finishing touches to their play prior to plying off the league race against George Mikan and the Minneapolis Lakers, 1948-49 BAA champs, at the Philadelphia Arena Wednesday, November 2.

Hens Seek Fourth Triumph In Game At Lafayette Saturday

First Meeting Of Teams Since 1921 Finds Leopards At Full Strength Under New Coach Clipper Smith

Free from a 26-6 triumph over Rollins last Saturday at Wilmington Park, the University of Delaware football forces travel to Easton, Pa., this weekend to meet the Leopards of Lafayette College. The Hens will be trying to break a scoring famine that has plagued them in three previous meetings with the Maroon. Victims of shutouts by 41, 31, and 44 points in 1914, 1915, 1921, the Birds fully expect to do much better in their fourth trip to Fisher Stadium.

Clipper Smith, Lafayette mentor well known to Delaware fans for his excellent Villanova teams of the thirties, is expected to have his team at full strength for the Birds after an open date last week-end. The Hens, on the other hand, were forced to go all out to defeat a scrappy Rollins College team, 26-6, and there will be no rest in the Delaware camp this week.

Charley Smith, the Delaware triple threat quarterback who had been suffering teeth in the Bird aerial attack, put a mild concussion in the Tar clash and played no more after the first quarter. His injury caused some concern among the Hen staff, but everyone breathed easier when his replacement got warmed up. Frankie Guthridge, a 150 lb. fullback from Vermont took his place and calmly passed and led the Hens to four quick touchdowns. His surprising aerial artistry and field generalship takes much of the pressure off Smith, and the chances appear good that he'll be seeing plenty of action against the Leopards.

A good bit of the Hen efficiency in the air has been made possible by the work of end Jimmy Thomas. The former Perkiomen Prep star has gathered in 15 passes for 166 yards, and he was involved in three scoring plays against the Rollins eleven. Another stand-out performance was turned in by Sammy Kaplowitz, a sophomore guard getting his first starting assignment. Kappy was immovable on the defense and blocked the only Rollins extra point attempt.

Bill Murray has been talking Lafayette to his Hens ever since the season began, and it's no secret that the Birds regard the clash with the Leopards as the big one on their schedule. If they fail to take the Maroon into camp, it will not be because of overconfidence. Scout Marty Pierson has made them well aware of the capabilities of the Leonard.

Greenleaf To Exhibit Billiard Skill Tonight

Ralph Greenleaf, world champion pocket billiard champ for 17 years, will stage an exhibition at the Newark Billiard Academy, Main and Chapel Streets, tonight at 9:30 p. m.

Greenleaf held the world's title from 1917 to 1933 and won it again in 1937 and 1938.

He holds the world's highest run record, 126, for a champion tournament.

Midget Grid Teams Open To Youths Of Town Under Twelve

Don Butterworth Organizes Two 100-Lb. And One 140-Lb. Squads

Openings for Newark's younger grid hopefuls still exist on two 100 pounds clubs being formed by Don Butterworth.

Butterworth, who last year coached the Cleveland Avenue Clippers, has disbanded that group, in favor of organizing the midget clubs, limited to boys under 12. No outside schedule is planned. The teams will play each other Saturday mornings on the Continental Field.

The midget clubs have been drilling for some time. One styles itself the Black Barons and is being trained in the T-formation, and the second is the Green Gazelles, which is using the Double Wing offense.

Butterworth is also grooming a 140-pound club to meet teams in its class from out of town. The first game will be with the Elm Street Eagles on Sunday, Oct. 30.

Connell's Dixie II Earns Beagle Title

Robert Connell, Newark's well-known breeder of prize beagle hounds, introduced another champion last week at the Sportsman's Beagle Club fall trials at West Chester, Pa.

His Connell's Dixie II won a field champion rating by placing first last Wednesday in the 13-inch, all-age female class. Harvey Herb, of Wernersville, Pa., handled the dog. It was Dixie's second win in a week.

The triumph made Dixie the 34th field champion sired by Ch. Grace Linesman. She is the fourth champion produced by the inbreeding of Linesman and her mother, Ch. Collins Dixie.

1950 Ice Capades To End Phila. Run Oct. 31

Enthusiastically received by press and skating fans alike, Ice Capades of 1950 continues its run at the Philadelphia Arena through October 31. Evening performances are at 8:30 and there are 2:30 o'clock matinees on Saturdays, Oct. 22 and 29.

Acclaimed in both Pittsburgh and Cleveland before it arrived in Philadelphia, Ice Capades of 1950 took the Quaker City by storm as it continued to roll up an impressive list of rave notices.

Jackets To Invade New Castle Saturday To Meet William Penn

Newark, After Bowling 12-0 To Red Devils, Can Balance Season's Record With Victory Over Castilians; Latter Seek First Win

Newark High's Yellowjackets, smarting under two straight defeats, a good chance to balance the season's grid account this Saturday when they invade New Castle to meet William Penn High at 2:15 p. m.

The game will provide added interest since two ex-grid stars and mates at Delaware will be opposing each other on the bench. Fred Smith, Newark's head coach, will be sending his charges against a team from Penn. Both men being graduates of Coach William D. Murray, their coach, expected to use virtually the same tactics.

The Jackets 12-0 brush off by Wilmington High here last Saturday was not unexpected. Even so, Newark was not by any means outclassed. The Jackets' ground offensive, while spotty, clicked smoothly at times and ripped apart Wilmington's line for sizeable gains.

Once again, the Jackets' major weakness was pass defense. The Red Devil's produced their first touchdown by reeling off the same pass play twice within a few minutes. The last time it carried 15 yards for the score.

William Penn is not expected to provide as stiff an obstacle as the Wilmington club. The Billies, who have suffered three straight defeats, are still looking for their first win.

Newark pulled through the Wilmington High fracas with only one serious injury. Center Howard Long suffered a wrenched knee and probably won't be in shape for Saturday's game. The Jackets also absorbed a number of minor injuries. End Phil Harrison pulled a ligament and Ralph Barrows, a guard, bruised a hip. Bill Reybold also was slightly hurt. None is expected to be sidelined.

After their first period six pointer, Wilmington High checked in with another in the second quarter on an end run. The teams played scoreless ball for the remainder of the contest.

Newark came close to hitting pay dirt just before the half, when Don Sharp recovered a Red Devil fumble.

She did not take time to gather the jackpot.
