Johnson Earns Decisive Victory Over McBerty In Tuesday Vote

Sunday Movies Approved By 290-Vote Margin; First Show This Week; Durnall, Coverdale, Rankin Are Victorious

Earning a decisive margin of 317 votes, Dr. Wallace Johnson, physician in practice here for the past 25 years, ousted Ford H. McBerty, incumbent, as Mayor of Newark in the annual town election on Tuesday.

Sunday movies were also overwhelmingly approved by a 1063 to 773 count in the turnout which broke all previous records here.

A total of 1,955 ballots were cast, well over last year's 1,714 valid votes, which at that time was the highest count in town history. The referendum drew a total of 1836 ballots.

Also victorious in Tuesday's vote were: William M. Coverdale, eastern district; Frank Durnall, middle; and Carl S. Rankin, western. Coverdale, a business aide at the VA Hospital, is a newcomer to Council, as is Mr. Rankin, an engineer at Continental-Diamond Corp. Mr. Durnall is beginning his second straight term.

The Mayor and new Councilmen will be installed at the annual organizational meeting of the Town Council next Tuesday. Following the usual custom, the session, which will also deal with appointments and salary questions for town employees, will be closed to the public.

The approval of Sunday movies reversed a previous verdict of the voters, who turned down the proposal some years ago. The Sunday shows will begin next week, according to Herman Hand, manager of the State Theatre, who in a pre-election statement said that the films will be shown during the usual church hours and only shows suitable for family viewing will be shown on Sundays.

An interesting sidelight on the issue is the fact that Sunday shows were previously legal here even before the referendum, since the town has no ordinance forbidding them and state law permits their showing on specific days on Sunday. In the face of the previous negative referendum, however, the State Theatre management refrained from holding Sunday shows.

In his first bid for public office in Newark, Dr. Johnson drew a total of 1122 votes for Mayor against 715 for McBerty, incumbent, who was re-elected to his first term. William M. Coverdale, the third contestant for the post, garnered 108 votes.

In a statement yesterday, Dr. Johnson said: "I wish to thank ALL the citizens of Newark for their splendid support in my behalf in the town election of April 11. Your selections of newly elected Councilmen are also greatly appreciated as this assures the people of Newark a cooperative and judicious administration."

In the eastern district, Mr. Coverdale also running for the first time, received 192 votes to top three opponents. Thomas Skripkas was his nearest competitor, with 119. C. Harold Durnall earned 97 and Daniel Harvey, Jr., 58. The middle district contest saw Mr. Rankin returned for his second term with 434 votes against his only rival, Charles N. Lanier, Jr., who drew 230 votes.

In the western district, Mr. Rankin also outvoted two opponents, receiving 374 of the 780 total votes. His closest rival was George Wilson, the town's first Negro candidate, who collected 230 ballots. Ernest L. Skating, Jr., earned 176.

Dr. Johnson's victory was a significant one, as he had been defeated in the previous election. His campaign was supported by a large number of volunteers, and he was able to secure a decisive win.

The election results were announced at a press conference held at the State Theatre. Dr. Johnson expressed his gratitude to the voters and his confidence in the new Council.

The inauguration ceremony will be held on Tuesday night at the State Theatre. It is expected that a large number of citizens will attend the event.

The new Council will meet for the first time on Wednesday morning. They will discuss the town's budget and other important matters.

University Student Groups To Entertain Younger Children
During Festivities

A family party, the last to be sponsored this term by the Newark Parent-Teacher Association, will be held tomorrow from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., at the high school. Officials point out that the time has been chosen with a view toward permitting older pre-school children to attend with their parents.

While parents and older children are enjoying themselves at the party, the younger children will be entertained by several University of Delaware student groups. The Child Development Class in the School of Home Economics is planning a program for the pre-school children and the Recreation Class in the Physical Education Department will entertain the older group.

Children in the seventh grade and up will join in the party with their elders. It is understood that the regular Friday night canteen at the New Century Club will be open as usual.

The PTA will wind up the season's social activities with a dance in the university field house on Friday, May 19. The Rhythm Doctors, a well-known dance orchestra, will play. The proceeds will be used to purchase playground equipment for the local schools.

Things every woman should know about finance will be discussed at a forum April 20 to May 10, at the New Century Club.

Sponsored by the Newark Trust Company, the forum, open to any woman of the community, will consist of five meetings to be held on Thursdays from 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Registrations may be made in advance at the Trust Company. Attendance at any one session will be limited to 225 persons.

Experts in various fields of banking, real estate and finance will discuss in straightforward, non-technical language such topics as: "You and Your Bank," "Things Everybody Should Know About Real Estate," "What Women Should Know About Investments," "The Concluding 30 minutes of each 90-minute meeting will be devoted to questions and answers from the floor."

The bank's purpose in holding the forum is to "provide practical answers to problems common to women seeking a better working knowledge of the fundamentals of money management."

Other new officers are: Robert P. Nick, second vice-commander; Clyde Baylis, finance officer; A. E. Tomhave, historian; H. Truitt, chaplain; J. List, Sgt.-at-arms.

Residents along rural mail delivery routes of the Newark postoffice were urged this week to cooperate with postal authorities in making sure mailboxes are in serviceable condition, with the name of the owner plainly visible on the sides.

About fifty per cent of the rural boxes on Newark routes are without names, according to Corbit Crompton, assistant postmaster. This frequently causes delays and mix-ups in delivery, especially when substitute mail carriers are assigned to the routes. Mr. Crompton also points out that many boxes are of an unapproved, top-open type that add to the difficulty of prompt delivery.

He urged rural residents to cooperate in a "fix-up" campaign, especially during Rural Mailbox Improvement Week, scheduled for the first week of May.

In addition to seeing that the boxes are in good condition and plainly marked, Mr. Crompton advises that they be grouped together on single boards wherever possible, especially at or near crossroads.

Friday two grass fires were reported on the Creek Road property of Frank Green.

Saturday things began popping around 10 a. m. with a call from Iron Hill for grass near the residence of John E. Foltz. Before 11 a. m. the firemen were out again fighting burning grass along the Ogletown-Salem Church Road.

Two calls were sounded Sunday, the first around 5 p. m. for grass on the Elkton Road property of Raymond Lewis. Later a rubbish pile, the only variation on the week's theme, was reported ablaze on the property of Fred Waples near Glasgow. The firemen are credited with preventing the flames from spreading to the house nearby.

Monday around 11 a. m. grass caught fire in the rear of the Merryland Roller Skating Rink, near Glasgow.

NHS Girls Better Students Than Boys, Recent Survey Shows

Analysis Of Latest Honor Rolls Shows Girls Far Outstrip Boys In Standing

Women may be the weaker sex, but you can't say they don't have brains—at least you can't say it about the girls at the Newark High School.

The fair sex there far outstrips the boys in scholastic standing, according to a survey carried out recently by Principal Frederick B. Kutz. Of course, the difference may be due to the fact that high marks are not particularly fashionable among boys, but the figures, which aren't supposed to lie, say that the girls do much better in their studies.

Of the 107 students on the first and second honor rolls for the fourth marking period, 91 are girls and only 44 are boys. Fifty girls as against a mere 16 boys were listed on the first roll, and 40 girls compared with 12 boys won places on the second.

To make the first list, a student with four subjects must make straight A's and a student with five must make at least four A's and a B. Requirements for the second roll are three A's and a B out of four subjects and three A's and two B's out of five.

A further breakdown of the latest list shows that out of a total junior-senior high school enrollment of 703, exactly 67 students made the first roll and 40 the second. This was 15 per cent of the enrollment.

The percentage of honor students by grades follows: seventh, 27.9; eighth, 18.1; ninth, 11.2; tenth, 13.4; eleventh, 11.2; twelfth, 8.1.

Percentage of girls on the first and second rolls was 22.3 and boys, 8.

Fund Drive To Open Monday For Summer Recreation Plan

Broad Program, Including Many New Activities Proposed If Two-Week Campaign Proves Successful

A drive to finance what promises to be the most varied summer recreation program ever offered here will be launched Monday by the Newark Recreation Association.

Proposing a broad program for this summer, including many new activities and special events, recreation officials stressed that the results of the drive will determine to what extent the enlarged plans can be put into effect. They urged every local family to make some contribution to insure the success of the campaign. The campaign will continue through May 1.

Paul Dolan, faculty member at the University of Delaware and a director of the Recreation Association, is the general drive chairman, heading a squad of 20 men. The town has been divided into sections to facilitate the canvassing.

Details of the program proposed for this summer were worked out following a survey of local residents conducted by Mr. Dolan. The somewhat startling results of the sampling, which covered a cross-section of 200 residents, is carried elsewhere in this issue.

The broadened program, which will include activities for both white and Negro residents, was drafted in response to outspoken criticism by individuals and civic groups of the inadequate recreational projects sponsored here the past few summers.

If the funds raised through the forthcoming drive permit, this summer's program will include for the first time such supervised activities as: arts and crafts, badminton and horseshoe competition, bike hikes and many "special events."

Also planned is a supervised playground area for younger children, offering a program of crafts, story telling, singing games, mimetics, sand box play, special event days, and other creative activities suited to the primary age group.

The program will also offer activities of former years such as swimming, softball and hardball leagues and tennis.

Recreational activities for the New London Road areas are also included in the scope of the 1950 program, according to officials.

Parents To Tour New Elementary School; Dance Slated In May

The motion picture, "Human Reproduction," will be shown at the April meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association in the school auditorium, next Thursday at 8 p. m.

The film, produced by the McGraw-Hill Book Company and obtained on loan from YMCA, is designed to assist parents in giving vital information to their children.

The picture provides accurate information and proper terminology so that parents will not be at a loss for words when children request answers to their questions. This film was previewed by a small group representing a cross section of the membership, which voted for the showing at the coming meeting.

Because of the long time consumed by the speeches at the school dedication, relatively few persons had time to inspect the new school building. For this reason, Supt. Wilmer E. Shue is arranging to give parents another opportunity to visit the building as a part of the program of this PTA meeting.

Mrs. George Arthur, chairman of the hospitality committee has announced that refreshments will be served by a committee of mothers of the children of the second and seventh grades. The group, under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. A. Manns and Mrs. John Backoff, will include: Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mrs. Charles Lanier, Mrs. Edgar Binder, Mrs. C. Linden and Mrs. Walter Thompson.

Calvin Ball, New Castle County Pomona Master, had charge of the ceremonies assisted by Mrs. Eulalia Dempsey, county supervisor. The state officers commended the new grangers and spoke briefly on the juvenile work. The new grange has not yet received its charter and until that arrives it will remain nameless.

In line with the annual Cancer Control Drive, a health program will be given at the meeting of Union Grange on April 19 in charge of Mrs. Howard Wallace, health chairman.

Delaware Offers Tree

Seedlings To Landowners

The State Forestry Department is offering landowners of this state a bargain in reforestation and soil erosion control in the form of seedlings of pine, poplar and locust trees.

At the nursery five miles below Milford, thousands of the tiny loblolly pine, white pine, yellow poplar and black locust seedlings are being assembled for shipment to landowners of the three counties. Thousands of each variety await shipment, but none are to be used for embellishing landscape.

For only $2.50 you can have 1,000 seedlings, which are especially good for lumbering. In past years, the department has discovered that the three types on hand are faster growing, mature more rapidly, and are readily adaptable to Delaware soil.

offered himself as a candidate not because he expected to be elected but to remind Newark of its "forgotten" citizens.

He said he had learned in the Newark schools that representative government was supposed to represent all the people but that he found this apparently did not include his people. The 92 children in the Negro community here, he said, have to cross the highway to school without benefit of police escort. The area also has little or no recreational facilities.

Asked what he thought of a public supported recreation program, Mr. Wilson said he favored such a project because he believed that prevention was the best cure for delinquency. The town, he claimed, should pay for recreation with tax funds for the same, if not better, reasons it pays for the maintenance of the town jail on Academy Street.

Brass Ensemble To Play At Conference

The Brass Ensemble of the University of Delaware, directed by J. # Chrysler's Blind Selfishness Continues To Block Strike Settlement

Chrysler has enjoyed the most profitable year in its history. It has piled up millions upon millions of dollars to set new records in profits—$213,170,000 before taxes; $132,200,000 after taxes; 34.4 per cent return on investment after taxes—more than $2,000 profit per worker.

Chrysler has just set aside out of these 1949 profits a $9,690,869 bonus "kitty" to be split up between a handful of already highly-paid officers, executives and supervisory employees. This $9,690,869 bonus "kitty" would pay more than half of the total annual cost of the pension and hospital-medical demands of the 89,000 Chrysler workers.

The Chrysler strike continues because the Chrysler Corporation, in its blind selfishness, still refuses to make the same economic concessions to its workers that have been made by its competitors.

Ford, Nash-Kelvinator, Kaiser-Frazer, Budd, Massey-Harris and many others have settled with the UAW-CIO for benefits to their workers equaling 10 cents an hour for pensions, medical-hospital programs and insurance.

All the pension payments negotiated with Chrysler competitors provide for the establishment of an actuarially sound Trust Fund into which the company makes payments to cover future service credits as earned and to pay up back service credits over a fixed period of time. This is the only way that pension benefits can be guaranteed. Chrysler refuses to establish this kind of an actuarially sound Pension Trust Fund.

Chrysler's phony "bank deposit" will not provide security for Chrysler workers since it does not create an equity for each Chrysler worker based upon time worked in the past and in the future as is done in the Pension Trust Funds established in contracts with Chrysler competitors.

Chrysler Rejects Sound Principles Accepted By Its Competitors

The five principles listed below are common to the agreements signed by the UAW-CIO with Chrysler competitors. These five principles represent the basic framework of a sound pension agreement. Chrysler, in its blind selfishness, continues to refuse to accept the basic principles agreed to by its competitors.

1. Establishment of a Trust Fund into which company payments are made on an actuarially sound basis to cover both past and future service credits. (Chrysler rejects this principle completely.)

2. Company payments into the Trust Fund on a "level cost" method of funding. "Level cost" method of funding means amortizing past service credits over a stipulated period of years and accumulation of funds to cover future service credits as earned. (Chrysler rejects this principle completely.)

3. Administration of the pension program by a Joint Board of Administration on which the Company and the Union have equal representation, with provision for an impartial chairman. (Chrysler, at the end of the 56th day of the strike, agreed to accept this principle partially.)

4. Selection by the Company of a Trustee—a legally qualified Bank or Trust Company—as custodian of the Pension Fund with the responsibility of investing the funds. (Chrysler accepts this principle since it is the corporation's own proposal and represents a concession by the union.)

5. Payment by the Company of a minimum of 10 cents an hour to cover the cost of the Pension program and the Hospital-Medical program. (Chrysler offered to pay only 3 cents toward the 10-cent package before the strike started and did not change its position until the 56th day of the strike when the company increased its offer to 4 cents per hour for pensions, hospital-medical insurance benefits.)

While the above principles are common to all the agreements with Chrysler competitors, there are some variations between other parts of the agreements. The Union has proposed repeatedly that Chrysler accept the principles common to all the agreements and that we negotiate all those elements of the agreements which vary. Chrysler, in its blind selfishness, refuses to accept this sensible and practical approach.

Here Is The Record Of Chrysler's Unwillingness To Resolve The Dispute:

On January 23, in a final effort to avert the strike, the Union proposed that the principles in the pension dispute be arbitrated while the plants continued to operate. The Union was prepared to prove the soundness and merit of its position before an impartial Board of Arbitration. The Chrysler Corporation rejected this sensible arbitration proposal which would have averted the strike.

On January 24, the Union wired Chrysler President K. T. Keller asking him to participate directly in negotiations. Mr. Keller refused.

On March 3, the Union made a new proposal to end the strike, including a further arbitration proposal. Again the Company rejected this sensible proposal to end the strike.

On March 7, the Union held a mass meeting of Chrysler workers at the State Fair Coliseum. Chrysler President K. T. Keller, Executive Vice-President Herman Weckler and Industrial Relations Director Robert W. Conder were invited to come to the meeting and present the Corporation's position on the issues involved. They refused.

On March 16, the UAW-CIO asked outstanding religious, educational and civic leaders to meet and hear all the facts about the dispute. So that these community leaders might get both sides of the issues, the Union again asked Messrs. Keller, Weckler and Conder to be present and give the Company's side. Again they refused.

This record by Chrysler leaves only one possible conclusion—

The Chrysler Corporation cannot justify its position in this strike before any fair and impartial body, nor to the public, nor to its workers. It is crystal clear that Chrysler is determined to win its case—not on the basis of fairness, truth and equity—but through the brute strength and arrogance backed by its fantastic 1949 profit of $213,000,000, plus its millions in cash reserve.

In a police state where democracy has been destroyed, industrial peace is possible without justice. But in a society of free men, industrial peace is possible only if it rests upon a foundation of economic and social justice. Chrysler's blind selfishness denies its workers justice, and so blocks the road to industrial peace. The Chrysler Corporation weakens America's position in the cold war by clinging to selfish policies that threaten to drive us back to depression, decay and defeat. The Chrysler strike will be settled when blind selfishness gives way to reason. The strike will be settled when the Chrysler Corporation meets its responsibilities to its workers and to the community.

There are two basic conflicts in the Chrysler strike:

People vs. Profits and Principles vs. Propaganda

The UAW-CIO stands for people and their welfare above profits.

The UAW-CIO bases its case on principles—not on propaganda.

The Chrysler workers and their union are confident that, in the end, people and principles must win over profits and propaganda.

International Union, UAW--CIO
Local 404, Newark, Delaware

INSURANCE PREMIUMS PAID!

Insurance premiums will be paid for the month of April by the UAW-CIO on hospital, medical and surgical insurance policies carried by Chrysler workers.

These premiums were also paid for the month of March by the Union after the Chrysler Corporation turned down an appeal by the Blue Cross to agree to deferred collection of premiums after the strike ended, although such an agreement would have cost the Corporation nothing. But Chrysler apparently preferred to use the absence of insurance protection as another of its weapons against the workers and their families. We are glad that the solid support being given the Chrysler strike by the membership of the UAW-CIO enables the Union to take that club from over the heads of the Chrysler workers.

Since that solid support for the UAW-CIO Emergency Strike Fund is continuing, the Union is pleased to announce that the insurance premiums for Chrysler workers, in the amount of approximately $200,000, will be paid.

YELLOWJACKET HIGHLIGHTS

A Column of News Contributed By the Journalism Class At Newark High School

High School Students Tour New Building

At the request of the junior and senior high students in Newark, a tour of the new elementary building was planned and carried out Wednesday morning, April 5.

The students were dismissed from Wednesday morning assembly by homerooms and each class was conducted through the building by its homeroom teacher.

On the whole everyone liked everything about the new building and its conveniences. Especially interesting to the older pupils was the fact that the size of the elementary students was taken into consideration and things were planned for them. The office has counters of two heights; each room has a drinking fountain and mirror hung low, and the desks and chairs are small to accommodate the children comfortably. Here are a few write-ups giving impressions of high school students on the new elementary school.

Barbara Bryant.

Students Tour New School

Immediately following the assembly at the Newark High School, on April 5, the student body present was informed that they were to tour the new elementary building at that time. This opportunity to view the new adjacent building has been impatiently awaited by all high school students.

When impatiently awaited by all high school students, who have been restricted from that building.

Upon a signal from Mr. Kutz, students left the auditorium in homeroom groups and made their first tour of the school.

The many modern features of the school were met with enthusiastic approval. The many new attractions of the school included green chalk boards, indirect lighting, completely furnished art and music rooms, various color schemes of different hues in each room, and intricate-patterned tile floors.

Marty Murphy

"A Dream School"

The new elementary school is a "dream" I wish I could return to the first grade so I could enjoy the new "greenboards," the separate fountains and lavatories, the modernized windows and drawers, lockers and shelves and the comfortable, lovely-to-look-at floors. I bet "a dollar to a doughnut" that all the students in the school envy the placement of the chairs in the music room and the useful lockers in the art room. The library reference room is "super," with those art-lined shelves and the convenient use of the book cases. I want the teachers to know that I personally tested the chairs in the lounge and, oh boy! are they comfortable! The play gym stage are wonderful, and waiting room is more than we expected. The inside of this wonderful building adds the final touch to a "dream" of a school house.

Janice Olson.

Newark's New Elementary School

During my tour through the new elementary school building, by first impression was that it is probably the most modern school in this whole area. A factor which impressed me most of all was the abundant space. I especially liked the color schemes used throughout the entire building. This seemed to give the whole school a pleasing atmosphere. One thing that I did not like was the style of the windows or the classroom doors. My personal opinion is that I don't care for that type window in any school (as I have seen several) and I certainly wouldn't like to be in a classroom and have to feel so pined in. The floor coverings are much nicer and more comfortable to walk on than our floors. The kindergarten flooring is very clever, as is the gym. The idea of separate lavatories and such is very good and will be much easier for the teachers. I really like the roomy look in the whole building as a lot of room creates a much nicer environment. The chalkboards in the rooms are very nice and I especially like the modern and well-planned art room. The music room is very suitable and much needed. I am sure it will encourage younger children to look forward to such a modern, clean, and inviting school to attend as Newark Public School.

Filed in the office of the Secretary of State of Delaware on the 6th day of April, 1950, at 9 o'clock A. M., and recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds for Castle County, Delaware, on the 6th day of April, 1950.

Agnes Tierney.

My Impression of Elementary School

Our state is doing a very good job of constructing new schools to replace the out-of-date, one-room country schools. Our new school has all of the latest developments in color schemes and lighting. The building is so constructed that there is a drinking fountain and lavatory available for every room on the first floor. There is also ample storage space for books and other materials. In the Art Room there is specially designed equipment such as removable chalk-boards, paint trays, extra closets and washing facilities. There is a much better chance for advancement in a building with such pleasant surroundings.

School Hats Being Sported by Students
If you were to walk through the halls of Newark High School you'd think your eyes were going bad on you. They really wouldn't be though, because those black and yellow spots you'd see would be the school hats that the students are wearing.

The hats were ordered about the first week of March and finally arrived the 23rd of the same month. The girls' hats are the "beanie" types while the boys' have the "cap" styles. Both styles are the same school colors, black and yellow, with a black N on the yellow portion of the girls' hats.

8th Delaware Play Festival To Open Mail In Donations To Cancer Crusade At U. of D. April 28

14 Schools And 5 Community Theatres To Join In Mitchell Hall Event

The eighth Delaware Play Festival will be the largest in history, with 14 schools and five community theatre groups presenting plays at Mitchell Hall, Newark, on April 28 and 29, according to Miss Mabel Wright of Wilmington High School, chairman of the festival committee.

For the first time, all plays will be presented in Mitchell Hall, since the county elimination tournaments have been discontinued.

The result will be 10 hours of plays, in five different sessions—Friday afternoon and evening, and Saturday morning, afternoon and evening. The school groups will present their plays in the first four sessions, and the community theatres will stage theirs on Saturday night.

All will give one-act plays, or cuttings of longer plays. Simplified settings will be employed in order to make it possible for the various offerings to be seen in quick succession. Plays of the various organizations will be scheduled by periods, but their exact order will not be announced. A single 50-cent ticket of admission will be good for all of the performances.

No more than 12 festival plays ever have been presented at Mitchell Hall in previous years, and of these only four were productions of school dramatic societies.

The five community theatre groups will be competing for a best-production plaque now held by the Wilmington Drama League on the basis of last year's plays. The school plays, however, will be on a non-competitive basis, because awards were dropped when the elimination-tournament aspects were abandoned.

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From Issue of April 15, 1925

Town Election

Arthur L. Beals, member of Town Council for the past two terms, was again reelected to a seat in that body yesterday from the Eastern District, over his opponent Charles C. Hubert, 42 votes to 19.

This was the only contest decided at the annual town vote. Mayor Fraser, E. Clifford Wilson and R. Gilpin Buckingham, all unopposed, also became members of the new Council. Mr. Buckingham replaces Charles W. Colmary, retiring member.

In the Middle District five votes were cast while eight were cast in the Western District. Little excitement characterized the pre-election campaign of the two candidates from east Newark.

Oratorical Contest

Before a large crowd of fellow students and friends last Thursday afternoon, Albert Clark, Justin Steel and Marian Phelps, seniors in the high school here won the right to meet the representatives from 3 other schools in this section at the County Oratorical Contest in Wolf Hall, Saturday night.

HOW TO "CLICK"

as a Party-Line Neighbor

1. When you start to make a telephone call and find your party line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call.

2. When, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up reasonably soon and free the line.

These little courtesies are returned again and again... with dividends in good telephone service. When party-line neighbors cooperate courteously, everybody benefits!

FILLIN' IN

The inside story on what the young generation thinks of modern education was revealed to us recently on a bus. We found ourselves sitting in front of two young men, whose conversation indicated they were alert, critical minded ninth graders, with fixed, hard-headed judgments on matters scholastic.

They were apparently old grade school chums who had entered different high schools, and this was their first opportunity to compare notes. It was evident they were experts in sizing up what they considered the essentials of a good school.

Although their standard of values would have probably disconcerted and disheartened professional educators, especially the advanced thinkers, we found their talk refreshingly familiar. Educational theory and practice may have come a long way since we went to school, but the students, we were comforted to learn, seem to have changed very little.

Still a prime requisite for a worthwhile school, we heard, are plenty of good-looking girls. As one youth put it, "Boy, have we got the honies in our class, some dishes, bud, arf, arf, yuk, yuk!"

We sensed an approving nod from his companion. "You don't need any visual aids to pick 'em out in our room, either," he sniggered, then emitted a snarling noise that sounded something like "Arrumpf!"

In our own day, the sentiment was the same, only the choice of words differed. We preferred such tame expressions as "hot potatoes," or "snazzy janes" to "yuk, yuk" or "arrumpf."

From coeducational matters, the pair passed on to statistical comparisons of the number of days each got off for Christmas and Easter vacations and for such unexpected boons as teacher conferences.

Also touched on was the lavishness of lunch room menus, the number of study periods each could boast in a week and the comparative comfort of various types of school desks. Both seemed to prefer the kind with lift-up tops. We didn't learn why.

The fact that one school used letters in marking and the other numbers was dismissed as obscure pedagogical quibbling. As one put it, "They're equivalent to the same thing, don'tcha think?"

Thoroughly discussed was whose school could boast the roughest, most audacious, teacher-defying characters. "We have one boy who sits in the back of the room all day, chewing tobacco. He even bought himself a foot rest."

"Aw, that's nothing. We've got a big guy in our room who sits in the front row so he can ask the teacher to marry him. Proposes to her at least ten times a day. During reading period yesterday, he read her one of Shakespeare's love sonnets. Boy, was it ever warm! She's a nervous wreck."

The only strange note for us in their talk came when they began to discuss whose school was the most progressive. In our day, enlightened educational theory and the New Thought had not yet worked its way down to the classroom.

"Our school is so progressive," said one, "that if you get wet in the rain coming to class, they send you home for the day—the entire day!"

The other made an awed sound; he obviously couldn't top this. "Pick yourself out a puddle, buddy, and wallow."

"Yeah," laughed the first, enjoying his superior position. "At our school it's smart not to have enough sense to come in out of the rain."

When we left them, they had returned to the coeducational aspects of schooling.

Later we got to thinking that those advanced educational theorists who are just introducing the "Life Adjustment Program" and who are finally arriving at the conclusion that "education is living" are only just getting wise to something the students caught on to, in their own way, long ago.

Average British Wage Rises To $17 Weekly
The British worker's average weekly earnings have gone up six shillings and ninepence (about 93 cents) since the Labor government clamped down its wage freeze in February, 1948, a Ministry of Labor survey showed recently.

The survey of 6,500,000 manual workers in manufacturing industries and some non-manufacturing trades indicated that in a large number of cases earnings had reached an all-time high. Weekly earnings now average six pounds one shilling ninepence ($17).

DELAWARE PARK NEWS

J. Gilbert "Gil" Haus, popular racing secretary, has been busy these days sending out material to horsemen in regard to their stall applications for the 1950 meeting, which runs continuously for 32 days, beginning May 29 and finishing July 4. All applications should be in before the meeting of the Stall Committee late in April, so that they may be passed and approved. Secretary Haus is also reminding the horsemen of the Delaware State law wherein all horsemen must carry workmen's compensation insurance.

The one-two punch of the Brookmeade Stable, Greek Ship and Sun Glow, romping winner and runnerup in the Louisiana Derby, will be popular contenders for top laurels in Delaware Park's rich three-year-old stakes. Brookmeade has always been a great favorite at the Delaware strip.

Although racing isn't scheduled to start at Delaware Park until May 29, the beautiful home of the thoroughbred southwest of Wilmington already is a mecca for autoists. On Sundays a stream of cars tour the vast grounds for several hours and some groups bring luncheon, utilizing the popular picnic grounds.

Patrons of Delaware Park find themselves among friends if they stop in at Camden, S. C., on the way north. The Wilmington-owned stables of Brandywine and Mrs. E. duPont Weir are among the local stables training there. Mrs. Weir's Royal Governor, a double stake winner at Delaware Park last spring, commuted from the South Carolina quarters to Hialeah by plane to run second in the McLennan and to win the Widener.

Superintendent Clarke Pardee is well pleased with the mild winter of the Delaware Park area. Clarke reports the grounds in top shape. Unless the eccentric whims of March bring late ravages, the picturesque plant in Delaware will be ready long before May 1, opening date for horsemen to bring their charges to the Delaware Park stables to begin training for the continuous 32-day program covering May 29 to July 4.

A Delaware Park homebred was in the national limelight when Benny Civitello, Newark, Delaware, jockey, was featured in an article appearing in the March issue of Turf and Sport Digest. Benny lost his apprentice allowance during the 1949 Delaware Park season but went on to finish second behind Johnny Gilbert, leading rider of the meeting. Benny, who equaled the world's record of six consecutive winners at Bowie, Md., was born within six miles of Delaware Park and it will be homecoming for the handsome youngster during the 32-day continuous meeting from May 29 to July 4 at Delaware Park.

James C. Brady's Casemate, winner of the Delaware Park's Dover Stakes last summer, is being brought along slowly in the South Carolina training circles. The fleet son of Case Ace was partial to the fast Delaware Park racing strip and will be back this coming 32-day continuous racing meet from May 29 to July 4 with an eye on such stakes as the $25,000-added Kent Handicap and the Leonard Richards, a futurity expected to gross around $32,000. Both are exclusive for three-year-olds. Incidentally Casemate, conqueror of Hill Prince, was within 1-5 of a second of Pavot's Delaware Park five and a half furlongs record of 1:04 2-5. Pavot is also a son of Case Ace.

Newark Loses Final Game In Susky League Play-Offs

The Newark AA cagers bowed, 59-51, to the Wilmington Chicks on Tuesday night in the deciding game of the Susquehanna League play-offs.

The Chicks, trailing at one point in the 5-game series, roared back to take the last two games and the play-off title.

They knotted the series at two each last Thursday when they downed Newark, 75-56.

President Donald P. Ross and Vice-President and General Manager Bryan Field will represent Delaware Park at the Kentucky Derby this spring. Mr. Ross hopes to see his Brandywine Stable's colors carried in the classic by Greek Song. The stretch running winner of the Bowie Futurity is training well for the Louisville event at winter quarters in Camden, S. C.

Mrs. E. duPont Weir has returned to Camden, S. C., after spending a few days at her home in Wilmington, Del. Mrs. Weir's horses, including Royal Governor, winner of Hialeah's Widener, are training in the South Carolina winter quarters. Last year Royal Governor hit his full stride by winning the first two stakes at Delaware Park, and will be back to defend his laurels in the opening day Wilmington Handicap, $10,000-added May 29 sprint this year.

Bayard Sharp, a director of Delaware Park, has a string of eight capable thoroughbreds in training for the current spring meeting in Maryland. Heading the stables activities again will be trainer William L. Passmore, former outstanding steeplechase rider. Trainer Passmore's son, William J. Passmore, recently returned from Florida, and is galloping Mr. Sharp's horses for his father at Middletown, Del.

The Brandywine Stable of Donald P. Ross, president of Delaware Park, will leave winter training quarters at Camden, S. C., on March 29, and will move to New York, Trainer Buddy Raines is grooming Greek Song, promising three-year-old, for the Wood Memorial, Derby trial at Jamaica.

Nylon Paint Brushes On Market For First Time

After many years of laboratory development and use by professional painters and the United States Navy nylon-bristled paint brushes are available to consumers for the first time this spring.

Made by leading paint and brush manufacturers of America, nylon paint brushes are reported to be the smoothest painting brushes on the market today. Tests show they give excellent results for nearly all types of painting—water base, oil painting, varnish, enamel, lacquer, calcimine and white-wash. Another outstanding feature is the ease with which nylon brushes may be cleaned. The durable nylon bristles will not break off to mar the finish being applied. In addition, nylon paint brushes are not attacked by insects, fungi or vermin. They're available at Newark Lumber Company in popular brush sizes.

Newark AA To Start Baseball Practice Saturday Afternoon

Drills Set For Continental Field At 1 P. M.; Club To Enter Teams In Both Pen-Mar And County Leagues Again This Year

Players interested in trying out for the Newark AA baseball squad, which plans to enter teams in two leagues again this year, are urged to be on hand for the opening practice Saturday at 1 p. m. on the Continental Field.

With many gaps to be filled in last year's line-ups, and the teams still definitely unknown quantities, openings should be fairly plentiful for newcomers, according to Manager Leroy Hill.

Newark will again compete in both the Pen-Mar League and the New Castle County Twilight League.

The local club, which last year took both the pennant and the title played in the Pen-Mar League, looks for sterner competition in that circuit this summer. Two new teams, Kent Square and Oxford, will be in the running, along with last year's opponents: Hickory Hill, Andres Bridge, New London, Landenberg, Providence and Toughkenamon.

Returning to the Newark line-up from last year's squad will be George Schaen, catcher; Warren Ewing, Benny Benson, Fuzzy McCormick and Dick Davis, pitchers; Ronnie Bramble and Bobby Gregg, infielders; Clyde Baylis and Paul Wunz, outfielders.

Jimmy Ford, who formerly played with Glasgow, is expected to join the Newark club at second base. Joe E. bisen looks like a good bet for shortstop. First base is open to all comers due to the basketball injury of Bobby Challaenger.

Newark also intends to carry at least four members of the local high school team this year, although they will be eligible to play until after the close of school.

Bobby Hoch, a member of last year's pennant winners, is now on the pitching staff of the Houston "Buffs" of the Texas League. George Schaen, last season's winner of the most valuable player award, is catching for the University of Delaware. Gene Schaen, shortstop last year, has signed with the Philadelphia Phillies farm chain, Dick Davis is now a member of the Duke University squad.

The infield, solid with experienced talent, will have Phil Harrison at first; Jimmy Knotts at the keystone sack; Louis Buckingham at short and Ralph Barrows on the hot corner.

In the outfield will be the team's two newcomers, Bernard Blaney at center and Joe Gregg at right. The leftfield post will be held down by Alvin Sparks, back from last year's squad.

News of London-Britain Vicinity

Marthalee Ness, Correspondent
Phone Kemblesville 2171

The perch upon which she was standing to paint the ceiling of her kitchen appeared insecure, and down she came, leaving her right foot very badly injured. Ligaments are definitely injured, but the foot is still too swollen to X-ray, and poor Mrs. Garrett is certainly immobilized now.

Mrs. Ella Lee entertained for Easter dinner, and had her family around her on this happy occasion. Her sisters, Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Houchin, from Oglethorpe, Del., Mr. Charles Sines from Stanton, his daughter, Mrs. Martha Bush, his son, Mr. Benjamin Sines, Mrs. Lee's daughters and their families Mr. and Mrs. John Hitchens and son, Baynard, and Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers and Andrea Rodgers, and finally, Mr. Andrew Lee, of Washington, completed the guest list.

Envy, envy, the Kalb family is leaving April 14 on a combination professional trip and vacation tour of the family. They plan to go to Pittsburgh to visit Mrs. Wm. Boisen, to Alaska to see another aunt, Mrs. Jesse Hayden, to Toledo, to visit Miss Ann Hayden, and on to Detroit for the C. S. Meeting the 17 and 18th of April. From there they plan to go on to Chicago and visit a long list of relatives and friends. Doesn't that sound like fun?

The Arthur Nesses had a group of friends for dinner and square dancing last Friday. Seems like the bridge games get neglected when such a good show goes on in one end of the living room. Almost as much fun to watch as to dance.

Next Sunday, Rev. Corbett plans to give a sermon on "God's Plan for Your Life".

The Landenberg Men's meets Tuesday, the 18th, at 8 p. m., at the Landenberg Church. Paul Gibson will show a Travelogue Film which circumstances prevented his showing according to schedule last month.

This Wednesday there was a meeting of the Official Board at the Landenberg Church.

Easter Sunday Rev. Corbett baptized three babies. The little ones were Earl Connet Rigler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rigler, and Janet Louise Gregg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gregg, of Newark. Robert Kenneth Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert William Griffin, completed the baptismal list.

The George Kalb family drove up to London for Easter week-end, and spent a pleasant interval at the home of the Daniel Comly's. Grandma Comly proudly escorted the youngsters to Sunday School Easter Sunday and we are to think of that picture as symbolic of all the family reunions which take place on Easter.

The week-end before Easter, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sanborn entertained Mr. George Gardiner, who graduates from Princeton Theological Seminary in June, and will at that time assume pastorship of the New London Presbyterian Church, where he has been discharging pastoral duties prior to his formal graduation from the seminary.

Miss Beverly Fox, his fiancée, was also a guest, as were Mr. and Mrs. George Kalb, Miss Fox and Mr. Gardiner are to be married in June.

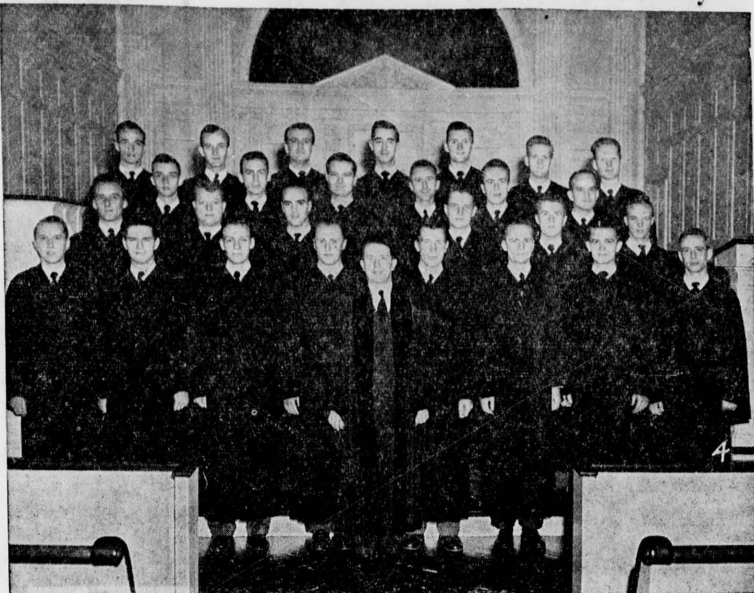

Last Wednesday the London Britain School Board met at the home of Mrs. Clarence Crossan. A great deal of business is under consideration and receiving the full attention and effort of the board.

We are so sorry that the Van Sants had a bit of misfortune the past week when they lost hundreds of chickens on account of Newcastle Disease.

Mr. and Mrs. Page Vannoy entertained at an Easter Dinner for relatives and friends at "The Old Brick Barn" farm. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vannoy, of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vannoy and daughter, Linda, of Newark, Mr. Richard Dayton, of Newark, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barr, of West Jefferson, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sherer and Dora and Billy Sherer, of Beverly, New Jersey, were also present. Afternoon callers from Newark were Mrs. Jack-

Princeton Choir At Head of Christiana Sunday

The public is invited to hear the Choir of the Princeton Theological Seminary present a service in song at the Head of Christiana Presbyterian Church, this Sunday evening, April 16, at 8 p. m.

Last Sunday this choir sang in a special Easter program over the NBC network. This or a similar group of men has sung in more than 800 churches since 1937; they sing in three different churches every Sunday of the academic year. They have sung in nearly every state of the Union as for the last three or four years they have made extensive summer tours.

The public will be given a warm welcome.

son Willis, and Mrs. Howard Morris. The occasion was a very jolly and happy affair.

We tender our sympathy to the Losees. Clifford has pneumonia again, and the whole family has been under the weather with bad coughs. Surely the sunshine will put a stop to all this illness.

The Nichol family had dinner at the home of the Lathie Lesters, near New London Sunday.

Mrs. Anson Garrett was the victim of her own industry last Wednesday. The Last Quarterly Conference of the Year was held at the Landenberg Methodist Church recently. The official board, the trustees and the committee were present. The pastoral report mentioned the following achievements, all accomplished this past year.

A monthly news letter was published by the young people under pastoral supervision. The missionary quota for the special "Advance for Christ" was met. 250 pastoral calls were made. 44 new members were admitted to the church. Visitation Evangelism was introduced. Visual aids were introduced. Vacation School at Hamorton was introduced. Regular monthly board meetings were instigated. New Youth group was started. The Men's Club was inaugurated.

A playground project was approved with the lot next to the church, to be site of the same. Supervised play was instituted last summer and is scheduled for this summer. Supervisors are supplied by the Westchester Teacher's College, from which they are sent as a part of teacher's training course.

There were 13 sessions each for two membership training classes for young people. Three field trips were taken.

Job Placement For U. of D. Students Is Rotary Talk Topic

Col. Ashbridge Outlines Methods Used To Secure Positions For Grads

Col. Donald M. Ashbridge, director of placement at the University of Delaware, was the speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Newark Rotary Club on Monday evening, April 10th. He reviewed the history of placement at the university and described the methods used to secure positions for Delaware students and graduates.

There were a total of 2500 individual interviews held last year in securing jobs for students, said the speaker. The problem has been complicated this year by the larger number of members of the senior class and graduate students.

Col. Ashbridge stated that the personal qualifications records gave as much information as possible about the students and were of assistance to interviewers.

H. Wilson Price was the program chairman for the meeting.

Dr. Hugh C. Guldage, research chemist employed by the DuPont Company, was welcomed into membership in the local Rotary Club. Lapel pins were presented to him and to James H. Cox, who had recently joined the club.

Guests at the meeting included Mr. Franklin Hillman and Mr. Alden Keene, the latter being a member of the Middletown Rotary Club.

A large number of members, including President Jack Handloff and President-elect Joseph A. Shields, are planning to attend the annual District Conference of the 272nd District of Rotary International to be held at Atlantic City next Sunday and Monday.
