IMPORTANT MEETING COLLEGE TRUSTEES

WORK ON NEW BUILDINGS TO BEGIN NEXT SPRING

The meeting of the Board of Trustees held at Delaware College on Tuesday, goes on record as one of the most important in the history of the institution. Not only was official announcement made to the board by H. Rodney Sharp, chairman of the new development committee, of the gift of $500,000 to the college, but Mr. Sharp also announced a second gift by an unnamed donor. The meeting was largely attended, among the number being Hamilton M. Barksdale, an official of the duPont Powder Company, who has been named a trustee very recently.

The members of the Board attended the regular college chapel exercises, after which matters of business were taken up. Professor George S. Counts was appointed Professor of Psychology and Education at a salary of $2000 a year. Professor Counts is a graduate of Baker University, Kansas, and came to Delaware from the University of Chicago. The matter of investigating the subject of Marketing Produce was discussed. A committee composed of Daniel Corbit, chairman, Frank C. Bancroft, William H. Heald, Professor H. Hayward, and Dr. E. V. Vaughn was appointed to consider the marketing proposition.

A matter of special local interest was the discussion relative to an attempt to secure a property on the northeast corner of Delaware avenue and Depot Road that is now owned by the government. The property was purchased about two years ago as the site for a proposed new postoffice building, but Congress has never appropriated the money necessary for its erection. Ex-congressman W. H. Heald was appointed a committee of one to confer with the government authorities, to see if it will be possible to secure the property. Mr. Heald will report his findings to the next meeting of the Board.

The greatest interest of the meeting, however, in the report of Mr. Sharp, chairman of the Development Committee, who announced the gift of $500,000, and the improvements which are to be made with it. Under the terms of the gift $200,000 is to be invested as an endowment fund, and $300,000 is to be used for remodeling the old dormitory and for the erection of a modern science building. It is planned to use $75,000 in remodeling and equipping the old dormitory, to be changed into a students' "Commons," where will be the offices of the executive officers of the college, a dining hall to accommodate at least 250 and rooms suitable for the various social activities of the undergraduates.

The architects have allowed $225,000 for the Science Hall, and after frequent meetings of the committee and members of the faculty, the architects have presented a design for the new Science Hall which appears to meet the requirements for at least ten years. This building will house the agricultural and chemical departments.

It was decided to take immediate steps to convert what is known as the Newark Post property into a library, which can be done for approximately $600. The present library will be used as a suitable and very much needed Students' Club operated under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. The cost of repairing and furnishing will be taken care of by private subscription. Work on the buildings will be started early in the spring.

Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of the college, in his report recommended the appointment of a committee to extend extension activities to the industries of the State. He also referred to the generous assistance which individual citizens of the State are extending to students in need of help.

The committee appointed to make recommendations relative to a permanent policy for the Summer School reported. All powers given to the trustees were placed in the hands of Dr. Mitchell, and power given the president to select his dean and faculty. The courses, according to the Act of the General Assembly will be mapped out jointly with the State Board of Education.

J. H. Hossinger of the Agricultural committee, gave the report of the Experiment Station and Agricultural Extension work. The committee recommended that the winter course of agriculture be resumed, and that the department be strengthened by the appointment of two new instructors—one in rural economics and one in agricultural engineering.

Luncheon was served at the Women's College. Miss Robinson in her report, discussed the questions of scholarship, social activities, and the general progress of the institution.

Old Newarker Champion In Middle West

William Crow of Steubenville, Ohio, formerly of this town, has created quite a sensation in the Middle West as a wrestler. The following appeared recently in the Steubenville paper: "The great excitement at the Victoria Theatre was between Bill Crow of this city and Bill Snyder of Mingo. These two men met on several previous occasions and this match was to decide superiority. Snyder gave up in the first fall on a hammerlock in eighteen minutes. Crow secured a half Nelson in the second round and ended the match in two minutes."

Young Collegian's Sad Fate

George V. M. Jones, only son of George Massey Jones, a leading lawyer of Dover, a student at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., was crushed to death under an automobile which turned turtle on Sunday night of last week, on a curve in the road near Kugelsville, 12 miles from Easton, while young Jones and Alvan S. Hutchinson of Oyster Bay, N. Y., a class mate, were returning from Beechwood, N. J. Hutchinson was painfully but not seriously injured. The young man had taken Hutchinson's sister and another young lady to the Beechwood Institute after viewing the Lehigh-Lafayette football game on the previous afternoon and were returning to Easton when their car was overturned. Young Massey's funeral was held on Wednesday in Dover and was largely attended.

Newark Boy In Explosion

Ten persons have been reported killed in the explosion at the Brandywine plant of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co., which occurred about 1.30 yesterday.

Layton Gray, a Newark boy employed at the yard, was near enough the scene of the explosion to be thrown violently by the jar.

Splendid Attendance Record

The records for attendance and punctuality in the eleven grades of the Newark Public Schools shows a great improvement. They are as follows:

	Pct.	At.
Miss Esther Ferguson	98.9	93.
Miss Rosa Pepper	97.	95.
Miss Elsie Davis	99.	95.
Miss Katherine Heiser	99.56	96.
Miss Emily Pennington	99.6	90.2
Miss Agnes Medill	99.3	93.
Miss Helen Steele	97.2	92.
Miss Frances Medill	95.6	92.5
Miss Lillian West	97.3	96.
Miss Bertha McKee	98.8	92.7
Miss Minnie Armstrong	98.8	96.5
Miss Mabelle Pennock	98.2	90.
Miss Babelle Pennock	98.	97.7

This record shows that a percentage of ninety-nine per cent in punctuality and ninety-five per cent in attendance is quite possible. As a report of several rooms show. A pleasant surprise awaited the pupils of Newark High School on their return Monday morning. Two new sanitary drinking fountains, the gift of Mr. L. B. Jacobs, had been installed in convenient places.

Dancing Class Discontinued Because Of Death In Family

Owing to the death of William Maull of Lewes, who died of pneumonia, after an illness of only two days, last week, the dancing class under the direction of Miss Catherine Maull, held in the Newark Armory every Thursday evening, will be discontinued until after Christmas.

Although the class itself will be discontinued during December, a number of the young men will give an informal dance in the Armory, this Thursday evening. Members of the regular class, wishing to attend, will be made welcome.

Delaware Farmers Urged To Exhibit At State Corn Show

The Ninth Annual State Corn Show will be held in Firemen's Hall, Seaford, Del., December 8-11, 1915. Sussex County produces more corn than any county in the State. According to the census of 1910 the yield of corn in Sussex County exceeds 2,000,000 bushels. The Corn Growers' Association is expecting a large number of exhibits from all parts of the State and particularly from Sussex county.

The Association offers cash prizes amounting to $500 for the best exhibits of corn, small grains and seeds. It is hoped that a larger display of wheat and legume seeds will be made this year, as the association recognizes the importance of these crops as next to that of corn. The State of Delaware is becoming well known for its production of cowpeas, soy beans and crimson clover seed.

Through the interest and activity of the Seaford Board of Trade a number of Special Prizes donated by the business men of Seaford will be awarded to exhibitors from Sussex County.

The Association is aware that the yield and quality of the corn this year is not equal to that of last, yet this should not deter the corn growers from exhibiting as conditions are much the same throughout the State. The prizes are offered for the best grown this year. It will be noted from the premium list that in several classes, competition is restricted to growers within a county. This will insure fewer handicaps to the exhibitor and a wider distribution of premiums.

Exhibitors at County Shows are especially urged to enter the State contest.

All grain growers are invited to become members of the Association.

The program consisting of addresses and demonstrations on grain growing and soil improvement is as follows:

Thursday, 10 a. m., Dec. 9, Address of Welcome, Mayor of Seaford; Responses and Address, James P. Shallcross, Middletown, President Delaware Corn Growers' Association; Some Foundation Principles in Soil Improvement, Prof. Alva Agee, Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J.; Discussion; The Importance of Variety in Grain Growing, Round Table Discussion (continued on page 4)

Rural Carrier Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of New Castle, Delaware, to be held at Wilmington and Newark, on January 8, 1916, to fill the position of rural carrier at Hockessin and Marshallton, and vacancies that may occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

EDUCATIONAL VALUE OF INSTITUTIONS

Commercial And Industrial Possibilities Discussed

An illuminating discussion of the educational problems of an industrial community was given Monday evening at Delaware College by Professor William S. Franklin, formerly of Lehigh University. The lecturer developed the contrast between the boyhood life of a youngster in a modern industrial city and the boyhood life of a youngster in a new country like Kansas in the sixties. His subject was "Bill's School and Mine."

Professor Franklin is an enthusiastic believer in vigorous competitive play and in work—the kind that earns wages.

Professor Franklin spoke briefly of the value of play as a training in application, saying that there never yet was a boy who dreamed of ice cream sundaes while playing ball. Play is a training in application. That certainly is a paradox; and yet everyone knows that play is the first thing in life to give rise to that peculiar overwhelming eagerness which alone can bring every atom of one's strength in to action. A ability to focus one's whole mind upon an undertaking and to apply one's whole body in concentrated effort is what our boys and girls are most in need of and vigorous competitive play serves better than anything else, if, indeed, there is anything else to create it.

Professor Franklin spoke briefly of the problem of the energizing of play. Strenuous play leads to strenuous work. Play ball. Scarcely more than a generation ago every American boy came under the spell of hunting and fishing; and there is no more powerful incentive to laborious days nor any antidote so potent for bodily discomfort and hardship. A hunting and fishing boyhood! Such has been the chief source of human energy in this lazy world of ours; and the problem of educational play is to a great extent the problem of finding an effective substitute for the "lure of the wild," for stimulating young people to intense activity. The lure of the wild! Alas it is but a poet's fancy in this tame world of ours. But our boys remain as a permanent race of Wild Indians however tame the world may come to be; and fortunately they are not dependent upon completely truthful externals. The genuine Wild Indian becomes a sorry spectacle even if

Plans For County Corn Show

Farmers Urged To Exhibit

The second annual New Castle County Farm Show will be held in the Diamond State Grange Hall, at Stanton, on December 6. Prizes in three classes will be offered as follows:

White, first prize, $5.00; second, $3.00; third, $2.00. Yellow, first prize, $5.00; second, $3.00; third, $2.00. The prizes are offered for the best ten ear exhibits.

A grand sweepstakes prize, a pure bred pig, from the Delaware College Experiment Station, is also offered, for the best thirty ear exhibit from any grange or farmer's club in the county. A silver loving cup, suitably engraved, is also to be offered.

The corn show will take place in the evening, and all entries received up to that time will be judged. In conjunction with the Corn Show there will be a Vegetable Show, conducted by the Diamond State Grange.

Although this is generally recognized as a poor corn year, farmers are urged to exhibit the best of their crop.

Minnehaha Team Victorious

Minnehaha Tribe Quoit Team defeated Manitou tribe of Wilmington last evening by the score of 103 to 73 in a very hard contested game, both teams fighting hard for the honors. Minnehaha Tribe Quoit Team will go to Wilmington tonight to play Mattahoon tribe.

Sale Of Old And New In Opera House Building

The ladies of the Newark M. E. Church will hold a unique sale in the Opera House store building, corner Main and Academy streets, on December 10 and 11. The "Sale of Old and New," it is called, and the ladies have planned three distinct departments—a rummage sale department—the old, and an apron and fancy goods department—the new, where the shopper may find attractive Christmas gifts. The committee has made a specialty of aprons, having bought the material by the piece and made numbers of useful and dainty articles. These two departments will be opened on Friday afternoon. On Saturday there will be the additional attraction afforded by a "Bake," where may be purchased cakes, candies, bread, pies, and countless home-made delicacies. The "store" will be open from Friday afternoon until Saturday evening.

To Endow Old Swedes Church

Rev. Dr. Fredrick M. Kirkus, rector of Trinity Episcopal church Wilmington, at the semi-annual dinner of the Church Club of Delaware, held at the Hotel duPont announced plans to secure an endowment fund of $50,000 for Old Swedes Church, included in Trinity parish. He stated that a former member of the church had offered $2,000 for the purpose and that when the donation was announced from the Trinity pulpit an additional $7,000 was offered at once. Dr. Kirkus reviewed the history of Old Swedes founded in 1638. The present building was erected in 1698 by Eric Bioirk. The church is the mother of all the Episcopal churches in Wilmington, all of which, save Trinity, have been severed from the old corporation and the labor and cost of its maintenance present increasing difficulty.

Truck And Auto Collide

A heavy motor truck of the Diamond Ice and Coal Company driven along the causeway in South Wilmington last Monday became unmanageable and crashed into an automobile in which retired Police Captain Charles E. Evans and wife were proceeding along the causeway. The auto was swung completely around but was not overturned. Both occupants were cut about their faces and heads. The truck brought up against a telegraph pole and was damaged but the driver escaped injury.

Home Economic Students To Entertain

Townpeople Invited

Friday, December third, the birthday of Ellen H. Richards, known as Home Economics Day in the college and educational world, will be observed at the Women's College, when the students in the Home Economics department will receive their friends and those interested in the institution. Tea will be served in new practice dining room, in Science Hall. The occasion marks the formal opening of the new dining room. A cordial invitation is extended to the interested citizens of Newark.

Athletics In Educational Institutions

On Tuesday, November 23, Dean E. L. Smith delivered a Chapel talk to the students on "Athletic Activities in Educational Institutions." After reviewing the different forms of sport indulged in by men of affairs, the speaker considered whether it was true "that far too large a percentage of the students in our American educational institutions and those of foreign lands as well have no interest in anything that tends to take them out of doors."

Dean Smith said in part: "Admitting the value of the highly developed system in vogue in our American institutions today for the production of specially trained athletes, and not wishing even in the slightest degree to detract from the good work now being done by the departments of physical education in systematizing the various forms of exercise in our colleges and universities, I believe we must go still further and evolve some efficient method to induce those of our students who are not now interested to participate in outdoor sport for its own sake. In other words, our educational institutions collectively are not reaching their maximum efficiency if they are not doing something for the physical welfare of the greatest number it is possible to reach."

RAILWAY OFFICIAL COMES TO NEWARK

Public Invited To Meet Distinguished Guest

Mr. Elisha Lee, the General Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railway, will make an address at Delaware College on Thursday morning, December 9, at 11.30 o'clock. His subject will be "Some Observations of a Railroad Operating Officer." The public is cordially invited to be present.

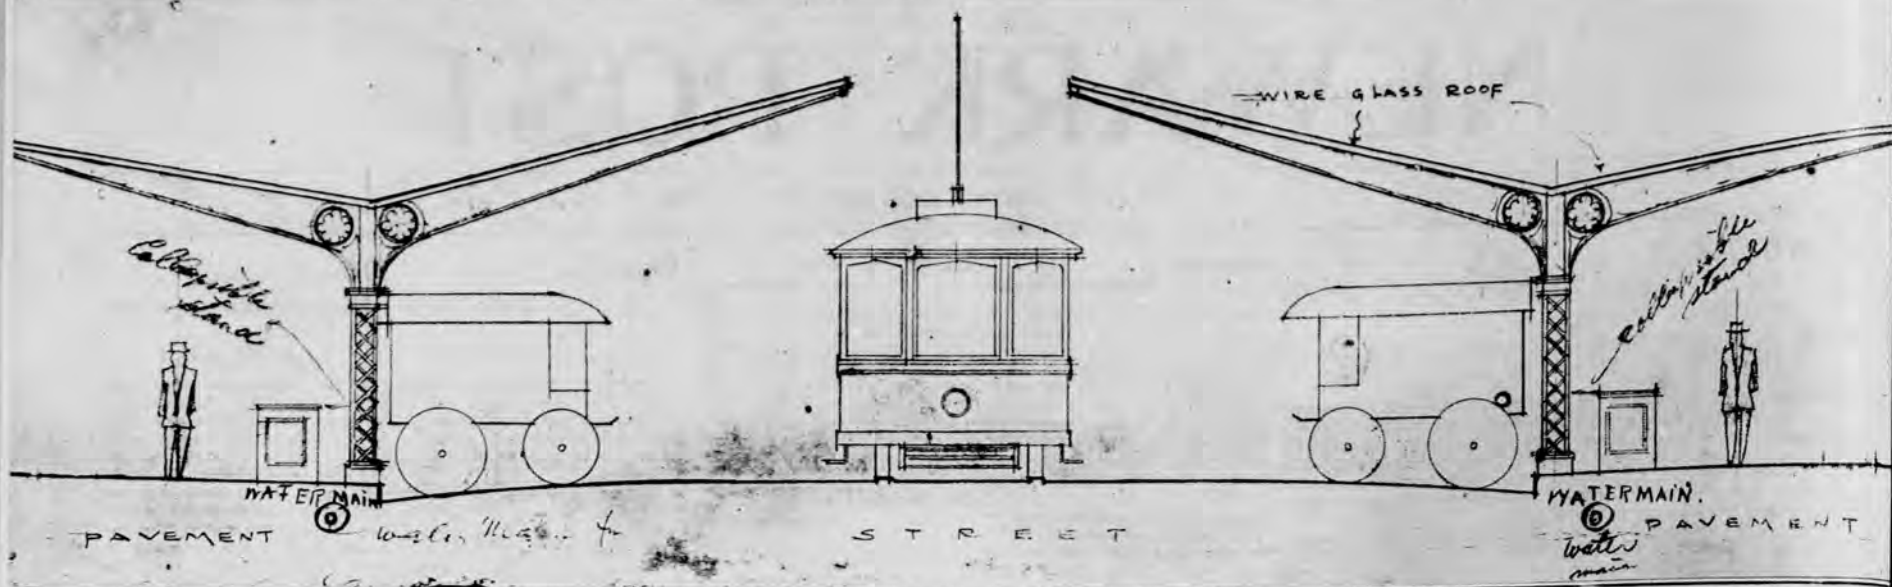

Mr. Lee is a man of great personal force and a leader in the industrial world. He is likewise deeply interested in the agricultural development of this region of country. What he has to say, therefore, will have great value for all classes of our citizens. It is expected that a representative company will be present at that time.

Claim For Patent Royalties

The Levy Court was notified by letter last Tuesday by F. H. Drury, a member of a Chicago law firm, that a number of bridges built in New Castle county during the past six years have been infringements on a patent issued to Edwin Thatcher whose fixed royalty is 10 per cent on structures costing up to $10,000 and 5 per cent on cost exceeding that sum. The Levy Court is requested to state whether it is willing to pay Thatcher's royalties, failure to do so which will involve suit for their collection. County Engineer Wilson is quoted as saying that he has been building concrete bridges for years and that each bridge was of his own individual design.

MARKET PLAN PROPOSED BY DAVID SNELLENBERG

PLAN FOR SHELTERED MARKETS INDORSED AT MEETING

RURAL AND CITY MEN DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Changes in the system under which the Wilmington street markets are conducted, including the erection of permanent ornamental shelters in the streets in which street markets are held and the building of removable stands, were proposed by David Snellenberg at a meeting held Saturday afternoon in the offices of the Delaware State Fair Association under the auspices of the New Castle County Farm Bureau and County Farm Agent L. H. Cooch. His plan was unanimously adopted by the county body.

Advocating the erection of ornamental shelters, supported on ornamental steel pillars, and with glass roofs sheltering the streets in which street markets are held, Mr. Snellenberg said:

"I am very glad of this opportunity to say a few words in behalf of good markets.

"To my mind there is nothing that we could do for Wilmington that would so much benefit our city.

"Anyone anxious for a bigger and a better city of Wilmington must realize that the future development of the community lies that way.

"I would say that as our markets go—as our markets progress—so Wilmington will go and so Wilmington will progress.

"Let me point out a few things to you:

"Good markets are of the greatest possible importance to the manufacturer. By that I mean markets where the working man can provide for his family and himself at reasonable prices those things which are essential for the use of his household and the maintenance of the health and well-being of himself and the members of his family.

"Such market conditions will make for happy, contented and efficient labor.

"They will make of such a working man part and parcel of our community. I hold it to be a well-established industrial and commercial truth that one satisfied working man is worth one dozen dissatisfied working men, especially if those dissatisfied working men have good and substantial ground for their dissatisfaction.

"Good markets are equally important for the merchants. Through such markets these merchants would be enabled to attract much suburban trade that now goes elsewhere, and which it is of the highest economic importance shall be brought to Wilmington. In the securing of that trade no single agent would exercise a greater influence than a properly conducted and sanitary city market.

"New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans and Baltimore are great cities, but, gentlemen, I would call your attention to the admitted fact that they are no greater than are their market systems.

Suggests Free Delivery

"With good and sanitary markets in Wilmington, drawing hundreds of thousands, it would pay the merchants of Wilmington to establish a free delivery of market baskets throughout the city and also to any reasonable point outside the city limits. You may feel inclined to ask why such a free delivery would benefit the local merchant, instead of being a big burden upon him. I will tell you why: Most of the marketing is done by women. As a rule they shop where they market if shopping and market conditions be properly balanced. It follows then that if we can have here in Wilmington a market system which will appeal to the women of our city and the surrounding territory, marketing and shopping will go hand in hand and out of the increased trade that comes to the merchant, he can well afford to pay his proportionate share of such free delivery. I also firmly believe that such good markets would go far toward solving the buy-at-home problem, of which we hear so much at the present time and for the solution of which we are doing so little that is of practical nature.

"Good markets would develop our city in many other ways. They inevitably would bring to us modern storage plants, in which Wilmington at the present time is so sadly deficient.

"Good markets would be one of Wilmington's biggest assets from an advertising point of view. They would spread broadcast the fact that Wilmington is a good place in which to live. They would attract to our city the home-seeker, with whom the cost of living means so much. They would make it easy for our manufacturers and merchants to obtain the help they need, because one of the first questions that is asked by the wage earner when he is urged to move into a new community is what his expenses there will be compared with his expenses in the community in which he then resides.

Changes Advocated

"In view of all these things and of many others which might be enumerated and doubtless will be touched upon in the course of this conference, City Council should at once provide the facilities for good sanitary and modern markets.

"Semi-permanent stands should be built that would be both practical and ornamental.

"Marketing ought to be made possible and pleasant in all kinds of weather by building a cantilever canopy over the sidewalks and for a distance out into the street.

"The stands provided for the farmer should be capable of being taken down and stowed away compactly after the market hours are over.

"There should be a liberal supply of running water to remove from the market all deleterious and offensive matter.

"King street should be paved both in the roadway and on the sidewalks, in such a way that it might be flushed easily and quickly after each market day, or as often as sanitary precaution should seem to call for it.

"In short, our markets ought to be such as Wilmington's location and environment suggest. We are at the head of the most fertile region in the whole world. We are the whole show windows of that rich and prosperous territory. The land surrounding us produces a bountiful supply of most of the things that are needed to stock those markets. The people need the fruits, meats and vegetables which are supplied in such abundance by this territory. The fruit growers, cattle raisers and farmers are sadly in need of that trade. The market is needed as a place of exchange for these commodities. It is the duty of the city to supply it. By supplying it we do not mean a market in which flies, dust and reckless and indiscriminate handling of foodstuffs are its most prominent characteristics, but a market in which cleanliness is the keynote and reasonable prices the rule.

"It is criminal for us to fail to take advantage of those things with which nature has so lavishly endowed us. Under her beneficent sway, the earth, the air and the water conspire to produce for us an abundance of almost everything that we need and we shall ignore our most wonderful opportunities if we fail to provide those things which will make of Wilmington a

HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON CORN FODDER

One great objection to the use of corn fodder has been the waste on account of the hard outer shell of the stalk, which prevented the cattle from getting to the succulent inside.

This has been overcome by the "PEERLESS FODDER SHREDDER" which does not grind the stalk, leaves and top into powder or chop into hard, sharp edged chunks, but crushes the entire stalk with heavy, blunt teeth, making every part valuable as food, easy to get at and leaving the waste in such a condition that it may be handled with a fork and used as litter.

We have a stock of these "SHEDDERS" on hand at No. 360 Maine Street.

Absolutely free from adulterants and fillers, just like the feed you would mix for yourself. It is a special combination of choice cottonseed meal, dried best pulp, alfalfa feed, corn distillers' grains, wheat bran, wheat middlings and a little salt, that's all; each ingredient weighed by automatic scales and all thoroughly mixed in huge power-driven mixers, so that it is always absolutely uniform, and always good. An extra quart of milk daily from each cow may turn a loss into a profit. Try LARRO-FEED for more profits. Send for a plan of "Money Saver" if you are not satisfied."

MARKET CONFERENCE

More than usual space is given to our rural readers. The conference on the Curb Markets, called by County Agent Cooch brought out an interesting discussion which indeed promises something more than talk. The plan submitted by Mr. David Snellenburg has struck the idea in a practical way. Farmers who hear of it are all enthusiastic and express belief that it will solve many of the ills of the market, not noted at first glance.

It is hoped that Wilmington will sense its value and help to put it into execution. Here is something definite for the Chamber of Commerce to work on. Better service to a buying public and more business will result.

EDUCATIONAL VALUE OF INDUSTRIAL INSTITUTIONS

he does not sicken and die when he is deprived of his millions of race of Wild Indians however tame try; but our boy Bill cannot have such an out-of-doors, never again as long as this earth shall last. Indeed he has no need of such a thing, for, if his fancy is stirred by ardent playmates, he will chase an imaginary stag around a vacant lot all day if only there is a mixture of earth and sky and greenery to set off his make believe—and eat mush and milk when the day is done.

Professor Franklin's most earnest appeal related to the educational value of work. Two generations ago school was supplemented by endless opportunities for play, and children had to work about the house and farm more and more as they grew to maturity. Play and work were in those days as plentiful as sunshine and air and it is no wonder that educational ideals were developed taking no account of play and work. But to cling to these old ideals at the present time to play, when there is an almost complete absence of old fashioned chores about the home, when boys never see their fathers at work, and when the only opportunity for boys and girls to work outside the home is to face the danger of reckless exploitation! What a piece of stupidity! Our entire educational system, primary and secondary, collegiate and technical, is sick with inconsequential bookishness. Yes, but we have our manual training schools and our college courses in shop-work and shop inspection. Away with such scholastic shams! The beginnings of manual training must indeed be provided for in schools. Paper cutting, sewing and whittling. But from the absurdity of an Academic Epitome of Industry may the good Lord deliver us! And he will deliver us, never fear, for the law of economy is His law, too.

The greatest educational problem of our time is how to make use of commercial and industrial establishments as schools to the extent that they are schools.

The first object of all work is to get food and clothes and lodging and fuel, but the essence of work is a human discipline as kindly and beneficent as sunshine and the rain, and the greatest need of our time is that the discipline of work come again to its own in our entire system of education.

In the afternoon Prof. Franklin gave a lecture on "Some Phenomena of Fluid Motions and the Curved Flight of a Baseball."

WHERE IS YOUR GRAIN?

Suppose by hard work you had got together a bushel of very fine, very rare, very costly grain. You wouldn't put it in an old stove—you wouldn't hide it in some out-of-the-way place. Rats, mice or birds might destroy it—insects make it worthless—fire destroy it—servants steal it. You would keep that costly grain in a safe place, so that you could plant it and get a bounteous harvest. Why not use the same care with your hard-earned dollars? Keep them at the Newark Trust & Safe Deposit Company. We watch your dollars for you all the time and you can get them at any time. We are a Bank of Personal service.

New Century Club News

A social and musical afternoon was enjoyed by a large attendance of Newark and Middletown ladies. The club room was filled to overflowing. In spite of the good afternoon, many ladies had to be standing. The reciprocity committee, in charge of the exchange of programs, had invited the Middletown club ladies to be our guests for the afternoon. None of the Newark club members knew what the program would be, and it proved a delightful surprise to all. The Middletown club came in a body of thirty. Their program for the afternoon consisted of a piano recital by Miss Watkins, one of their members. Miss Watkins aroused a great deal of admiration and enthusiasm by playing, for almost a full hour classical selections without the help of notes. Her program opened with selections from Schumann and Beethoven, then followed others from Chopin and Liszt. She concluded with three delightful selections from MacDowell.

Following the music a social hour was enjoyed by all. The hospitality committee added a great deal to the pleasure of that social hour by some dainty refreshments.

Next week's program will be a talk by Mrs. Mitchell. Esther Taubenhause, Press Correspondent.

Christmas Spirit Abroad

HAPPY HOURS SPENT IN GIFT
MAKING

"I'm here again, Molly," the friend shouted up the stairway, "you can't rid yourself of me between now and Christmas. You will have to fail me a few times before I can resist the temptation to let you think for me. My predicament this time is Elizabeth Bradford's gift. Elizabeth board in New York, you know, and really can't be hampered with unnecessary. What can I send that will be a useful remembrance?"

Molly knit her brows for a few moments thought. "How would this do? I don't know whether you will like it or not," she declared.

"Do go on Molly, and make your suggestion," the friend announced. "Your besetting sin in modesty."

"Well, this is a very simple suggestion, but it seems to me Elizabeth might get out of it a great deal of comfort. Have you seen the covers for very best dresses made out of dainty lawns or dotted swisses? They are made by taking two widths of material, the length of a one piece dress. The two strips are sewed into a straight bag, which is turned up as though for a five inch hem across the bottom of one side, and finished with a real very narrow hem on the other. The top of the bag is curved to fit a wooden hanger. In the centre it is cut for the hook to come through the bag, and a small square pocket set on to make room for the collar of the dress.

The bag may be elaborated in many ways—it may be bound with ribbon, or briar stitched in a color to match the flower in the lawn. Wrap the hook with ribbon of the same color. After the dress has been placed on the hanger, it is slipped into the bag, and the hook of the hanger run through the opening in the top. The sham five inch hem on the bottom, is snapped to the narrow hem of the opposite side, with snapper-hooks, making an absolutely dust proof cover for the dainty dress."

"Splendid," declared the friend, as she hustled off to make the purchases for the gift.

ENROUTE FOR THE WEST

Scenes Along The Mexican Border Line

(Second letter from Mrs. A. M. Pollard, while enroute to the Panama Pacific Exposition).

"We crossed the Rio Grande at El Paso, Texas, at 11 p. m. At this place are the largest cement works in the United States. Everybody was in his berth at the time but being extremely anxious to see the river when crossing over, I sat up and peered out and sure enough, beheld it.

"On the opposite bank of the Rio Grande and only a mile away on the Mexican side, lay Juarez, where Villa's army is encamped. It made one rather shivery to imagine hearing Mexican shouts around our train and Mexican bullets flying through the air. The border line between the United States and Mexico is 900 miles long. Everything looked calm and peaceful and it was very hard to realize that poor, old, devastated, blood-stained Mexico lay just over the border.

At New Orleans, El Paso and Yuma, Arizona, watches were set back one hour, so that when we reached the last named place, you were three hours ahead of us.

"There is a station in Texas called Langtry, after the English actress, Lily Langtry. At this place, Lily Langtry expressed a wish to see a notorious judge, by name Roy Beans. She was requested to dance, and upon refusing, Judge Beans began shooting at her feet. Needless to say, Lily danced and so gracefully at that, that they named the town after her.

We alighted at Sanderson. Among the passengers was a young man affected with tuberculosis. I think he was headed in the right direction for a cure, for immediately upon inhaling the invigorating air, we decided that he could hardly fail to be helped.

At Paisano, we reached an altitude of 5,082 feet. The air is so rare here that many are afflicted with the nose-bleed.

Six thousand troops are stationed along the border and we came across many detachments of them, drawn up around some lone rancher's home. Thousands of cattle fatten upon the vast grazing ranges and recently bands of antelope have been introduced.

It seems hard that the soldiers are regarded contemptuously by so many people and suffer social ostracism, when we consider that our very lives are in their hands. I could only hope, as I looked upon their fresh, clean faces, that never a "greaser" bullet might stop the heart beat of one of our soldier boys.

At Paisano, with its altitude of almost a mile, the passengers were almost frozen and very glad when we began to descend the mountain slopes.

Ex-Governor Tunnell Ill

Former Governor Eba W. Tunnell of Lewes, who has been ailing for some time past, was advised to consult specialists in Philadelphia and left for that city on Wednesday in the private car of Superintendent Johns of the Delaware Railroad. Col. L. W. Mustard and wife and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Messersmith accompanied him on the trip.

Boy Fatally Burned

Terribly burned about the body John Leonard, aged 6 years, of 1114 B street, South Wilmington, was found lying in a clump of willows beyond the Third street bridge on Sunday afternoon and died later at Delaware Hospital. Men passing the spot saw two young boys running away and found young Leonard lying near the embers of a fire which the three boys had probably kindled. Young Leonard was unconscious when found and the other boys were not located.

Tramp On Rails Proves Fatal

Millard Bullock, aged 54, of the Pleasant Hill section in Cecil county, visited Newark on Saturday, and took the afternoon train for Childs. By mistake he left the train at Elk Mills. Rather than wait for a later train he started to walk down the railroad to Singler. He was warned of the risk he ran and said he would keep off the tracks. He met the East bound local freight on the curve, west of Elk Mills, where the engineer saw him walking in the space between the two tracks. Presently he got upon the East track in front of the train. The danger whistles were blown, and the brakes were applied but Bullock kept on the track. The edge of the pilot struck him, knocking him backward lengthwise, and the engine and several cars passed over him. The train of 31 cars was stopped and Bullock was taken from under the fifth car from the engine. His chest was crushed, and an arm and leg were broken but none of the wheels touched his body. He was taken to Elk Mills, where he died within half an hour. A quart bottle of whiskey which he carried in an inside pocket of his coat, was smashed. Coroner Dean of Elkton, held an inquest on Sunday, the jury finding that Bullock met his death while trespassing on the B. & O. R. R.

Farmer Finds Son Drowned

James R. Savin, aged 21, son of James Savin, a farmer living near Middletown, left home last Monday morning to work in woods skirting a small stream on his father's farm. The father later found his son's body lying in the stream. Dr. Lewis of Middletown was called but found no sign of life. The young man was subject to epilepsy and fell into the water probably after seizure with a fit.

President's Message To The Club Women Of Delaware

The following letter from Miss Ray Heydrick, president of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs, read at the meeting of the Newark New Century Club, defines the aims and ideals of the clubwomen of Delaware.

To the Loyal Women of the New Century Club of Newark,

Greetings:

May I congratulate you, my sisters, on the good work you have already accomplished, but I would call you to renewed service.

Why the Club? Is not its prime object service? If, then, it is service, our duty is plain; we must work together—for it is only through co-operation and love we can accomplish any good work. Let our watchwords be—Work and Service. As club women let us ask ourselves this question—what is our work today?

Someone has said: "The biggest force for reform in the country today is the American club woman."

According to your purpose, and to be true to her office, your president must present policies and lines of work to keep pace with progress; but she can do little without the hearty co-operation of the entire club body. The following recommendations are submitted for your consideration:

General Federation Magazine

First, I would urge all members to subscribe for the Federation Magazine, only one dollar per year. It is the voice of nine thousand clubs and two million members. You cannot be as good club women as you might without the inspiration and help this magazine will be to you. It is essential if one is to maintain vital relations with the notable work of women. This year Delaware will have two or more pages each month in this magazine called the Delaware Edition, which should be of exceptional value to all our club women.

Rural Schools

Second: We would do well to awaken a wider interest in our schools, and all pertaining to the welfare of our school children, especially in rural communities. Ex-president Taft said: "The cause of free public education is more sacred and of more fundamental importance than almost any other before our people. If we provide a motive for education it will prove a long step in the march of advancement."

Home Economics

Third, This department has a great mission, and this, with the improving of our rural schools, is to be the special work of this administration. Cleanliness is the most important factor in obtaining safe food. "Insure this by buying only clean food handled by clean people in clean shops."

Health

Fourth, Let us work for the segregation of the feeble-minded and the adequate treatment and care of the same. The development of a system of physical inspection of school children, in order to develop soundness of body and that soundness of mind which only bodily health can insure. "Health is economic, health is moral, health is civic." Is it not more important to keep the people well than to cure them after they are sick? In the making of your progress, may I make a few suggestions: "Tis well to be amused, but when amusement doth instruction bring, 'tis better."

Have a General Federation Day to familiarize our women with the work and aims of this great organization.

Have a Social Service Day to study the civic and social conditions, and how best to remedy them.

The State Chairman of Prison Reform pleads for each club to devote one day to this subject, and to appoint a member interested in this work to represent that club on the State Committee, and says she will be glad to talk on Prison Reform to any of the clubs, if the club visited pays the travelling expenses.

Permit me to emphasize the request of the General Federation officers of Civics, Home Economics and Health that we hold a Baby week in co-operation with the Federal Children's Bureau from March 4th to 11th inclusive. Each club willing to devote this week to work for the babies of this country, send a letter addressed to the "Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C., attention of Mrs. Goodwin," asking for the directions and assistance, which will be furnished free from that office.

Then, have we not a duty concerning our sisters of Central and South America? Never before in the history of our country has the occasion been more propitious for the establishment of friendly relations with our sister republics, and realizing better relations can be brought about more certainly by knowledge, I would urge you to consider the advisability of planning for some study upon Latin America. This information will conduce to a better comprehension of these people, also a heartier appreciation of their achievements, thus giving us a desire to co-operate with them in noble aims. To those who wish to take up this study, they may secure gratis, plans, topics, etc., from Peter H. Goldsmith, Director Pan American Division, 407 West 117th street, New York City.

Again, let me suggest that you follow the request of our General Federation Chairman of Literature that the Bible as literature be given a place on our club programs. Heretofore, women's clubs have felt constrained to be neutral in religious activities; but today all communities are working out broad constructive programs of religious activities, and we feel that the moral and religious education is important to the community, and that all club women should concern themselves with it.

We could suggest several lines of study should you care to consider them. The State Chairman of Education, Arts and Crafts, Home Economics and Health have a special work for you and I beseech you to co-operate with them—for in the doing you will be helped as well as accomplishing great good.

With every good wish for you, and "thankful for the past, hopeful for the future, let us press forward."

Faithfully yours,
Ray Heydrick.

MARKET PLAN PROPOSED BY DAVID SNELLENBURG

good city in which to live—among the foremost of which are good city markets."

During the meeting there was a general discussion of conditions of the street markets of Wilmington and a number of suggestions for the improvement of the markets were made by the different men present at the meeting.

The opinion was expressed by William P. White, city auditor, that the erection of market houses at central points in the city would remedy many of the evils of the system. The erection of these houses, Mr. White said, might entail added expense on the farmers, but by the better facilities they be enabled to display their products to better advantage and to secure better prices.

During the discussion on the plan advocated Mr. Snellenburg it was explained by Mr. Snellenburg that the erection of permanent ornamental shelters in the street in which streets markets are held would eliminate all troubles caused by sun and inclement weather. It was pointed out that the shelters could be erected on both sides of the street and space thus afforded for twice as many stands as at the present time, when in King street, the market is held on one side of the street for six months and on the other side for the other six months. It was suggested that shelters could be erected in one block as an experiment and, if successful, then extended to the other squares of the same street in which a market is held and also adopted in the other market streets.

Following the discussion on the proposed plan the plan was endorsed by the meeting. The officers of the New Castle County Farm Bureau were authorized to advocate the adoption of the proposed plan and to do all in their power to make it effective.

The necessity of packing produce in a more attractive manner was advocated by Louis B. Flohr, investigator in marketing of the United States Department of Agriculture, who urged that the farmers pack their produce in a more attractive manner and that when selling produce in the street markets they dress neatly.

An illustrated lecture on marketing by parcel post was also given by Mr. Flohr in which he discussed the methods of selecting and packing the produce to be sent through the mails. The lecture was illustrated with the proper containers to be used in packing the different kinds of produce and the method of packing for safe shipment.

Among those present were: City Auditor William P. White, Horace L. Dilworth of Centreville, representing the Farmers' Institute of New Castle county; G. L. Marsh, county agricultural agent of Cecil county, Md.; George L. Townsend, Jr., representing the Farmers' Club of Kirkwood; Lewis B. Flohr of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., investigator in marketing by parcel post; L. H. Cooch, county farm agent for New Castle county; David Snellenburg of Snellenburg & Co.; Arnold Naudain, Jr., Mill Creek hundred; Frank Yearsley of Hockessin; William P. Naudain, president of New Castle County Farm Bureau; J. O. Lambson, New Castle hundred; Lewis Ball, Newport, and George Carter.

"Looking For Mary Jane"

During the past week Mrs. Herman Tyson has been busy putting the finishing touches on the three act comedy, "Looking for Mary Jane," which is to be given under the auspices of the Delaware College Agricultural Club, in the Opera House on Friday evening. This is one of the cleverest amateur theatricals given in Newark for a long time. It is a play that is sure to get the interest and sympathy of the audience the moment the curtain rises and to hold it during the entire play. The story of the play is interesting and the staging effective. The actors fit their parts as though the parts had been made for them and all work very effectively together.

Humorous and interesting complications arise constantly throughout the play, giving it attractions that cannot be appreciated except by those who see the play.

Students Enjoy "Bacon-Bat"

On Saturday, November 27, the Women's College, with one accord, forsook the academic cloisters, and hied forth to the wilds of Iron Hill. There the girls revelled in all the joys of an old fashioned "bacon-bat." Only when darkness had settled down and outdoor sport was no longer possible did the girls come back to the college buildings, too happy to be tired.
