RECREATION ASSOCIATION TO USE NHS GYMNASIUM

Permission Granted At Nov. School Board Meet

Permission to use the high school auditorium for community recreation work was granted by the Newark Recreation Association by the local School Board at its November meeting last Friday. President Joseph McVey presided.

The association is planning to stage a number of entertainments for the youth of the town this winter, it was said.

A change in the school calendar permitting a week's vacation for teachers rather than the two days previously authorized, was approved by the board. The calendar is now in line with the official state school schedule, except for Christmas vacation which will be from December 20 to January 5.

A decision to purchase new Acousti Celatex for the ceiling of the main school corridor in any effort to reduce echo and noise was also agreed on by the board.

Supt. Wilmer E. Shue reported on a number of school activities, including the open house which marked National Education Week last week and attracted over 400 parents as classroom visitors; also the new elementary report card system; the radio broadcast recently staged by Miss Ann Stauter's monogram; and problems of the school cafeteria.

CONCERT CAMPAIGN ENDS TODAY

Near Sellout For Artist Series At Mitchell Hall

Possibility of a membership sellout for the Artists Series of Concerts this season was reported by the Newark Music Society this week. The group's membership campaign, which thus far has met with an enthusiastic response, closed today.

Membership subscriptions, which entitle the holder to attend all four concerts, are limited only by the capacity of Mitchell Hall, it was said.

The Artist Series has been steadily increasing in popularity the past few years and prospects are good for a record membership this season. Much of the increased demand is due to subscriptions by university students.

While no contracts with artists have been signed as yet, the program committee reports that contacts with several booking agencies have been made and the signing of a prominent baritone soloist, violin, cello, piano trio; and a modern dance group are practically assured.

A definite announcement concerning all four concerts will be made in the near future, officials said. The first concert will be held early in December.

ATTENDANCE RECORD SET

Local School Tops County

Newark School, with an enrollment of 1,299 pupils in grades 1 to 12, inclusive, led the schools of New Castle County in attendance during October, according to a report by the Visiting Teacher, Martha I. Barnes.

Newark's percentage of attendance for October was 96.4 per cent. A. I. & Pont came second with 96.3 per cent; Claymont third with 96 per cent; Mt. Pleasant fourth with 95.8 per cent; and New Castle fifth with 92.5 per cent. In September, Newark and A. I. & Pont were tied for first place, both with 97.8 per cent; New Castle was third with 97.6 per cent; Claymont fourth with 97.3 per cent; and Mt. Pleasant last with 97.1 per cent.

Repeat Showing of "Shadow And Substance" Is Planned

Local theatre-goers who missed the E-52 Player's presentation of "Shadow and Substance" last week will have an opportunity to see it this Saturday when the group stages a repeat performance for delegates to the University's Dramatic Conference here. The general public may attend.

The curtain will go up on Mitchell Hall stage at 7:30 p. m. Saturday evening. Ticket prices will be the same as for the previous performance. There will be no reserved seats.

The first presentation by the E-52 group this season, "Shadow and Substance," a popular play by Paul Vincent Carroll, was well-received by local audience during its three-day run here last week.

AVC CHIEF TO ADDRESS LOCAL VETS ON TUESDAY

Bolte To Talk; Open To All Vets Of Town And University

Plans for forming a local unit of the American Veterans Committee will get underway here next Tuesday evening, when Charles G. Bolte, author of "The New Veteran" and national chairman of the American Veterans Committee, will address World War II veterans of Newark and vicinity and from the University of Delaware in the lecture hall of the Newark Methodist Church.

The meeting, which will mark Mr. Bolte's first appearance in Delaware, will be sponsored by the Wilmington Chapter No. 1, American Veterans Committee, and will be open to all persons eligible for AVC membership, including ex-servicemen from all branches of service, regardless of race, color or creed.

The Wilmington chapter plans ultimately to sponsor Newark Chapter No. 1 of the American Veterans Committee.

Bolte, national head of the organization, is a native of New York, but grew up in Greenwich, Conn., and was graduated from Dartmouth College in June, 1941.

A short time later, he joined the British Royal Rifle Corps and served a year in England, another in the Middle East under Montgomery, and fought against Rommel's Afrika Korps in the desert. It was at El Alamein that he incurred the wound which cut short his military career and sent him home.

Shortly after his return to the states, Bolte heard of the new American Veterans Committee, then a loosely organized correspondence group of men still in the service. The committee found in him a chairman who fully accepted the responsibility of laying the foundations for the organization.

Since January, 1944, the AVC has developed into a forceful organization which is seeking to help shape a liberal, postwar policy.

Working for the American Veterans Committee has become Charles Bolte's full time job. His articles have appeared in "The Nation," "The New York Times Magazine," "Harpers," "Tomorrow," and "The American Legion Magazine."

He is married and lives in New York City.

EFFICIENCY IN POULTRY BUSINESS

Records Do Away With Guess Work

Keeping simple, yet accurate records on the poultry flock takes the "guess work" out of what the flock has done during the year, says J. Frank Gordy, extension poultryman of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. While admitting there are advantages in starting poultry flock records at the time pullets are housed, Gordy emphasizes that any time is a good time to start keeping records.

The most important records to keep are receipts, costs, production, and mortality. Receipts should include all income from the sales of eggs and poultry and eggs and meat used at home should be credited at current selling prices.

Feed, litter, labor, equipment bought and chickens purchased are some of the important items under costs.

Production and mortality records are indications of the efficiency and the kind of management followed. Both of these records are of value in analyzing the results of the year's poultry work in an effort to adopt improved practices for increased efficiency and greater profit.

Complete, yet simple records of the poultry enterprise will help the poultryman in becoming a better than average poultryman.

The Delaware Agricultural Extension Service has available account forms for poultrymen of the state desiring assistance in poultry account keeping. Special account books are available for boys and girls.

A request to the County Extension Office at Newark, Dover, or Georgetown or to the Extension Service, University of Delaware, Newark, is all that is needed to obtain such account forms.

ANTI-RAT CAMPAIGN IN STATE

Urge County Farmers To Support Plan

New Castle County farmers are asked to join in a one-night campaign on November 28 to provide a Thanksgiving Day meal for thousands of rats that are plaguing their farms.

The meal to be provided is one of the new war-developed poisons known as Anti Plans for the feast are being arranged through the cooperation of the Extension Service and the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior.

John Webster, New Castle County Agricultural Agent, says that the one-night campaign will be waged because rats move freely from farm to farm and individual control is ineffective. The united efforts of all is the only sure way of results.

To those farmers who don't think that it pays to attack the rat problem seriously, Webster points out that losses caused by these sneak thieves in the United States last year were computed at 500 million dollars, or as much as the total losses from fire of all causes.

The poison to be used will be available only to those farmers who notify County Agent Webster that they desire to join in the campaign.

All persons interested are asked to write to Webster at the County Extension Office, Newark, for directions to obtain this rat poison.

ACP GROUPS ARE ELECTED

Retain Most Committeemen

C. E. Oehlert, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration, announced this week that farmer delegates to county conventions to elect county Agricultural Conservation Program committeemen returned all but two committeemen to office.

Farmers voting in New Castle County re-elected as their committeemen for 1947, Barton T. Hopkins, New Castle; Jay Price, Townsend; and Steele Atwell, Newark.

In Kent County, the committeemen are H. Harry Wilson, Dover; Willard S. Jester, Felton; and John L. Tarburton, Dover.

John L. Tarburton is the new member of the committee. The third member of the 1946 committee was C. Arthur Taylor, Harrington.

The new committee member in Sussex County is Miles T. Mills, Milford. Mr. Mills replaces Howard Hitchens of Seaford. Committee members in Sussex returned to office were C. A. Pepper, Georgetown and R. W. Lingo, Millsboro.

URGE CARE IN TURKEY SELECTION

Points To Look For In Buying Bird

There is no prettier picture than that of the Thanksgiving turkey, roasted golden brown and ready to carve. This year, with the turkey supply adequate enough to assure the traditional holiday dinner for everybody, the wise homemaker will be careful about selecting and preparing the bird, to insure top quality.

The eating quality of the cooked turkey depends on these two factors, careful selection and cooking, says Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, nutrition specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. She suggests looking for the following points in choosing the Thanksgiving bird:

The skin of the turkey should be clean, waxy, with few pin-feathers and with a layer of fat showing beneath the skin. It should not be bruised or discolored. The bird should be generally plump, with a broad, well-fleshed breast. It should be fresh, with no off odors. Frozen turkey should be frozen hard when taken from the store.

In cooking the turkey, the wise homemaker will follow this procedure: Rub the cavity of the bird with salt (1/4 teaspoon per pound of bird). Stuff cavity well, but not too tightly, and fill the neck with stuffing. Lace or sew the abdominal cavity together to hold the stuffing in. Rub the skin with softened cooking fat. Top and sides of the bird may be covered with a thin cloth moistened with fat.

The turkey should be roasted in a shallow pan, in a preheated oven set at 300-325 degrees F. Turn if necessary to brown sides and breast evenly. Roast 25 to 30 minutes per pound. To tell when the turkey is done, move the drumstick up and down. If the leg joint gives readily or breaks, the turkey is done. The turkey should be cooked and allowed to stand on a warm platter 20 to 30 minutes before carving. This gives the meat a chance to absorb the juices and the cook time to make the gravy and garnish the platter.

To complete the picture, the bird should be carved at the table. While carving skill comes only with long practice, a sharp knife and a few minutes spent beforehand studying directions will help the inexperienced carver to disjoint and slice roast turkey.

Youthful Journalist Reports On Classwork

Following is an article by Ellen Jane Bywater, sixth grade student at the Newark School, on recent activities of her class:

Under the supervision of Mr. Eugene Kalachava, Mrs. Marshall's sixth grade recently made paper mache masks. The base was formed of torn-up newspaper mixed with water and flour. The class worked paste into the base to prevent cracking and made the mache more like clay. After the masks were thoroughly dry they were painted. They resulted in a great variety of colors with an odd assortment of facial expressions. These masks were on display in Room 101 during the latter half of American Education Week.

Evan Ottey Is Serving On New Navy Plane Carrier

Seaman First Class Evan Ottey is now serving aboard the Saipan, one of the Navy's newest aircraft carriers. The Saipan was commissioned at the Philadelphia Navy Yard in July, and was then moved to Pensacola, Florida, to pick up her crew.

On Navy Day, the carrier was open to civilian inspection at Houston, Texas. Seaman Ottey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Orville Ottey, Nottingham Road. He received his basic training at the Bainbridge Naval Training Center.

OPA Hikes Price On Country Cane Sugar

OPA last week granted a price increase of 10 cents per "Georgia gallon" on country cane syrup in its first pricing order since last week-end's sweeping decontrol action.

The agency described a "Georgia gallon" as slightly less than a standard gallon.

The increase will boost the cost of No. 1 1/2 cans about one cent when grocers receive their first shipments at the new price, OPA said. The agency added that the increase is mandatory under the OPA extender act which requires that ceilings reflect parity prices.

An OPA official said country cane syrup is produced principally in southern states and represents "only a small percentage" of all syrups manufactured in this country.

Only sugar, syrups, rice and rents remain under price ceilings.

PRICES RISE ON ELECTRIC APPLIANCES

Follow On Decontrol

Substantial price increases on home electrical appliances were reported last week following developments in adjustment of business and industry to decontrol.

Dealers and distributors of General Electric Co. home appliances were being advised of retail increases ranging from below 10 to around 60 per cent on electric clocks, dishwashers, washing machines, refrigerators and flat-plate type home ironers.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced boosts of from 8 to 25 per cent on distribution transformers, integral motors of one or more horsepower, low voltage switch gear equipment and fractional horsepower electrical motors.

Prices on farm equipment and tractors were lifted 10 per cent by the Minneapolis-Moline Power Implement Co.

At Washington Joseph Gerl, a director of the Radio Manufacturers Association, estimated a cost of $250 to $400, plus tax, for the average popular television set. Gerl is president of Sonora

Radio & Television Corp.

The American Institute of Laundering said rising costs of soap and labor are expected to increase laundry work charge but said a survey indicated "no skyrocketing of prices."

In the rubber industry, the G. F. Goodrich Co. announced there would be "no change at this time in tire prices" and U. S. Rubber Co. said it contemplated "no immediate general increase" for its products.

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel Corp., said it plans "no general increase in steel prices at this time," but added the future course "must of necessity depend on cost trends."

Spot price of heavy native cow-hides at New York today declined to 32 cents a pound, compared with 15 1/2 cents under OPA and 35 cents in the first publicly reported transaction after they were decontrolled Oct. 30.

Tilling with a Hundred Teams of Steel

MORE power on the farm means more food . . . more jobs.

If a farmer had three teams of horses twenty-five years ago he was well equipped. Now, with over two million tractors and thousands of other power producers, most farmers command the equivalent of . . . a HUNDRED TEAMS.

Wise use of their power, which can be packed into a few tons of steel, is enabling U.S. farmers to keep abreast of unprecedented food requirements. It is one of the secrets of national progress.

Steel horsepower does more than produce bigger crops with less labor. It has released, for production of human food, millions of acres once needed to feed horses and mules, and has created thousands of new jobs for town and city people who process and sell the increased harvests.

The benefits of farming with steel are the result of teamwork between farmers and industry. The farmer knows what he needs; industry knows how to supply it at a price he can afford. This teamwork must continue if America is to remain a land of abundance.

Farmers need still more power. The country needs still more food. Uninterrupted industrial production will permit industry to catch up with the pent-up need for more farm power.

Newark, Delaware, Thursday, November 21, 1946

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

The cash farm income of the United States in 1939 was eight billion dollars, and in 1946 is estimated to be about 23 billion dollars, an increase of 280 per cent.

In Delaware the cash farm income in 1939 was 25 million dollars, and in 1946 is estimated to be about 90 million dollars, an increase of 360 per cent.

The October New Castle County Dairy Herd Improvement Association report indicates that close attention to changing to the winter feeding schedule is necessary if a drop in milk production is to be prevented. Figures in the October report compiled by the association supervisor and distributed by Edward H. Schabinger, assistant county agent show that during the month of October the average herd production was lower than during September.

In October the herd production averages in Circuits No. 1 and 2 were 551 and 642 pounds of milk. In September the averages were 628 and 688 pounds.

Schabinger recommends that dairy-men begin their winter feeding program and even though many may wish to continue to their herds on pasture be sure to provide sufficient supplemental feeds to maintain maximum production.

High herds in milk production during the month of October are those of Lewis Phipps, Wilmington; Horace Woodward, Hockessin; Foxden Farms, Newark; Henry Mitchell, Hockessin; and Edwin Pierson, Hockessin in Circuit No. 1.

High herds in Circuit No. 2 are those of Fred Martens, Newark; Peter Zeitler, Glasgow; Wallace Cook, Summit Bridge; St. Andrew's School, Middletown; and Edward and Lewis Ratledge, Townsend.

Select the turkeys for next season's breeding before any of the flock is marketed is the advice of J. Frank Gordy, extension poultryman of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

After some sales have been made growers find that they have a hard time selecting enough good birds from those they have left.

Birds of early maturity and possessing the distinctive characteristics of the breed are always to be desired for breeding stock.

Select birds that are vigorous and alert. Keep only those that have a desirable body conformation, indicated by a full, deep, well-fleshed breast; moderately short legs that are straight, strong and set well apart with a thigh that is well-meated. Birds selected for breeders should also have a wide back and a deep body with the width and depth carried well to the rear of the bird.

While harvesting a bumper corn crop this season, Delaware farmers are advised by C. E. Phillips, extension agronomist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service to be careful that they do not lose a part of their crop because of mold.

The moisture content of corn this season is extremely high. Normally the moisture content of corn is seldom over 25 per cent. This year it is over 30 per cent, largely because of the mild weather prevailing when frosts usually occur to hasten maturity of the stalk.

High yields are taxing the storage facilities on many farms, so Phillips says that all bins should be checked for mold frequently and that every effort should be made to permit as much air to circulate through the corn as possible.

ORCHARD DISEASE CONTROL

Delaware peach growers are advised of peach leaf curl and peach brown rot control practices which should be followed this fall in the latest issue of "Orchard Spray Notes," prepared by the departments of pathology and entomology of the University of Delaware and distributed by the Extension Service and the State Board of Agriculture.

According to the notes dormant sprays can soon be applied safely on peaches for the control of leaf curl disease. Fall spraying is recommended whenever possible because weather conditions, or pressure of other work in the spring may prevent spraying.

For peach leaf curl alone growers are advised to apply liquid lime sulphur, seven gallons per 100 gallons of spray, or Bordeaux 4-4-100. For peach leaf curl and moderate control of San Jose scale and red mite—apply liquid lime sulphur, 10 gallons per 100 gallons of spray.

Brown rot was destructive during the 1946 season. This means that there is a heavy crop of mummies in the orchards that will carry the fungus over winter. In view of this, brown rot may be a serious problem in 1947 if weather conditions are favorable for its development.

To prevent a possible serious outbreak next season, farmers are advised to remove all mummies hanging on trees now and destroy them and remove all fallen mummies from the orchard by raking.

If the mummies are left in the orchard, the orchard should be disced in the spring just before and during blossom time to disturb the mummies so they will not produce spores to cause blossom infection.

THE POCKETBOOK KNOWLEDGE

2nd Grade Makes Art Book For Hospitalized Children

A second grade class, taught by Mrs. Helen Dooty, has made a book of Thanksgiving pictures drawn by the children. The book will be sent to the Children's Ward of the Delaware Hospital, for the entertainment of children unable to be home for Thanksgiving.

Each pupil expressed his own idea in a drawing and, according to Mr. Eugene Kelecheva, head of the Art Department in the Newark Schools, "the drawings show a great deal of originality of ideas with good color design."

Army Seeking Disabled Vets With Usable Skills

Over 20 Million In Back U. S. Taxes Collected In State

Collection of $20,075,358 of delinquent individual and corporation income and excess profits taxes for the fiscal year ending last June 30, was reported recently for the District of Delaware by Collector Norman Collison.

Of this amount $17,804,333 was in taxes due, $20,279 in penalties, and $2,253,645 in interest.

Total federal taxes collected through the Delaware district office in the 1945-46 fiscal year were $402,981,778.91, and in the prior fiscal year, $406,290,089.39, a decrease of 13.6 per cent.

The collections of the 1944-45 fiscal year were a record for the office, and the decrease in 1945-46 resulted from a decrease in employment as the war plants started to close down, Mr. Collison explained.

WareAbouts

Only recently becoming a golf addict, but fervently, we feel a bit like Edgar A. Guest who strikes, we think, a good note in his poem, "Golfing Parson's Farewell" . . . not that we are acquainted with any golfing parsons but that it just seems to us a timely thought—with the crisp November weather putting an abrupt stop to this pastime. Guest's poem, copyrighted 1946, says:

The parson put his clubs away
And with a smile, said he:
"Now come to church some Sabbath day
And hearken unto me.

"I'll point to you the fairways wide
O'er which your feet should tread.
I'll be your counselor and guide
To fairer greens ahead.

"To find you sitting in a pew,
Would be a pleasant thing.
But, if that seems too much to do,
I'll see you in the spring."

which, we think, has a lot of merit. Not that you should do as we do but rather as Guest says . . . and, if we knew a golfing parson, we think that's the way he'd feel about it, too.

About the only good thing we've ever heard in connection with Governor Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia, is his recent declaration of "open season" on Communist organizations which, he claims, are quite as un-American as the outlawed Ku Klux Klan . . . with which we agree.

Coach Bill Murray and the Athletic Board, at the University of Delaware, deserve unstinted thanks of all Delawareans for their staunch refusal to be stampeded into moving the Delaware-Muhlenberg game to Shibe Park.

Incidentally, although Coach Murray, and others who should know, solemnly proclaim that the Mules will be the Hens stiffest opposition this year and may snap Delaware's winning streak . . . we're inclined to think differently.

That the Mules will be the toughest opponents the '46 edition of Hens have faced, we agree. But, that they may beat Delaware—we do not agree. In our humble opinion, the Hens will take Muhlenberg twelve points—or better.

We're looking forward to hearing Herm Reitzes describe "What a ball game" with a great deal of displeasure but wouldn't be at all surprised if the powers had a real commentator at the mike for this game.

Why we brought Reitzes up again we don't know. Seems like every time we open our mouth, we put our foot in it . . . guess there's plenty of room, at that.

But, getting back to good old Herm. More people than have ever commented on our column before stopped us to say that they agreed wholeheartedly with our disparaging paragraph published last week . . . and we thought, for once maybe that we'd said something everyone agreed on. But, nope, today we get ANOTHER unsigned postal card.

We'll quote the anonymous thrust (probably from a relative) for you and let you draw your own conclusions. Here it is:

"I wonder if you could do better than Herm Reitzes. Hearing his earnest description of the University of Delaware football games is better than not hearing them at all and I don't imagine there's a surplus of volunteers for the job."

Admitting the childishness of answering anonymous contributions but just for the heck of it anyway, we would say that we could do a better job than Reitzes if we were interested in that type of work rather than our own. Also, we'd say that our unknown author is perfectly correct in the statement that listening to Herm is better than not hearing the games at all . . . and that his descriptions are earnest.

How a copy of "The Rocket," home office publication of Hercules Powder Company, ever got on our desk is a mystery to us but it bore the following marked poem which, we think, is good enough to repeat here:

DELAWARE—HORRAY!
Andersen

Now you hear about Army and ole Notre Dame
Their praises are sung everywhere.
But lately I've heard about a town
from the North,
Northwestern? Hell no—Delaware.

I come in on Monday and sing about "Bama,
And Lujack of Notre Dame,
But Ferguson walks in with a Delaware cheer,
And Samuel, he hollers the same.

"Did you see what they did," hollers
Bob with a gleam,
And Ed cries, "Look at the score,
Why we ran up a total of eighty-two points,
And fumbled, we should have had more.

"Why, we're as good as the Army and the Tennessee Vols,
We'd spot Georgia a touchdown or two,
Should we get to the Sugar or Rose Bowl this year.
There's no telling what we might do."

So I'm hoping ole Delaware wins every week,
I hope they will always succeed.
For I once said that Delaware was about to get licked,
And did that nose of mine bleed.

I was hit in the mouth and below the left ear.
And someone blacked both of my eyes,
So I'm off of ole Bama—I'm a Delaware man.
Cause, brother, I work with those guys.

JACKETS STILL SEEK FIRST WIN AS SEASON NEARS END; PLAY AT DOVER TOMORROW

Kick-Off Set For 2:15 P. M.;
Newark Swamped By A. I. Here
Saturday, 31-0, For Sixth Loss;
Tigers Score In Every Period

Still seeking their first win of the season, the Newark High Yellow Jackets move down state tomorrow afternoon for a tilt with Dover High School. The kick-off will be at 2:15 o'clock.

Last Saturday, the Jackets lost their sixth straight, when they bowed to the Tigers of A. I. duPont on the latter's field by a 31-0 count.

Kenny Hopkins opened the Tigers' touchdown parade, when he blocked Bud Ford's boot on the Newark 20 and fell on it for a score when it bounded into the end zone.

In the second quarter, Reynolds carried over from the four to climax a long drive. Then, just before the half, Doug McKenna intercepted a pass and raced 60 yards for a touchdown.

In the third period, Frank Drake added another six-pointer when he skirted the Jackets flank for 34 yards. Late in the fourth quarter, Brown intercepted a pass and scampered 20 yards for the final tally. This nullified a spirited goal line stand made by the Jackets a short time previously.

Although they have yet to taste victory, the Jackets are showing renewed spirit in practice drills and pointing for the Dover game this Friday.

Southern California, which tangles with U. C. L. A. Saturday in a game destined to produce the Pacific Coast Conference champion and host team for the Rose Bowl, moved into the top ten for the first time along with Louisiana State.

Fifty-eight of the 110 writers who voted this week put Army at the top of their ballots, compared with 57 the previous week. Sixteen of them voted for Notre Dame as the best team of all, compared with 31 a week ago, and 23 others, still remembering that scoreless deadlock, called it a tie.

While Army gained one first-place vote, Notre Dame lost 15, indicating that the Cadets' 34-7 walloping of Pennsylvania made a greater impression on the experts than Notre Dame's 27-0 triumph over Northwestern.

But Army's point total, on the basis of ten for a first-place vote, nine for second and so on, was only 50 points greater than Notre Dame's, compared to a spread of only 34 points a week ago. The Cadets piled up 1,053 points to 1,003 for Notre Dame.

Georgia drew eight first-place votes and a total of 845 points while U. C. L. A., which got five first-place votes, wound up with a point total of 760.

Prayer For Peace which was given in assembly last week, was broadcast over Station WDEL Friday morning by Miss Stauffer's 12A homeroom. Victor Grettan was the narrator.

Thursday night at P. T. A. meeting, the NHS Dramatics Class gave a play entitled, "Thirty Minutes in a Street."

The Dramatics Club, which meets every Friday, now has four plays in rehearsal. They are: "Getting Pinned," a one-act play directed by Betty Brown, "Spreading the News," directed by Elizabeth Kessing, "Uncle Bob's Bride," by Joan Patchell; "Pawn Shop Granny," by Catherine Highfield.

Miss Ann Stauffer is head of dramatic activities in Newark High School.

High School Gymnasium To Be Open To Public

Announcement was made yesterday that the Newark Recreation Association, Inc., has completed arrangements to rent the high school gymnasium for public evening programs three nights a week during the winter season.

The gym will be open at 7:15 Monday evening, November 25, for informal basketball with the public invited to attend, at no cost or obligation. A definite program embodying basketball, badminton and volleyball is in the making and will be published probably next week.

Informal play will be organized in the three sports with a view to entering into inter-town competition in basketball after the first of the year. Persons or firms interested in entering teams should contact Ned McCully.

HENS TOP MULES IN GRID POLL

Delaware Moves To Sixteenth

The University of Delaware gridders moved up to sixteenth place in the weekly poll of the Associated Press sports writers. Muhlenberg, also with a clean slate for the season, advanced to twentieth place, just within the second ten bracket.

Delaware garnered a total of 31 points to earn 16th place, while Muhlenberg's tie for 20th with Tulsa University was earned through a total of 19 points.

Army still boasted a narrow margin over Notre Dame at the top of the list. The Cadets piled up a total of 1053 points against the Irish's 1003. Georgia and U. C. L. A. held down third and fourth place slots respectively.

Texas, erstwhile leader of the entire country, and Pennsylvania, once a third-place choice, dropped completely out of the top ten following last Saturday's defeats.

Southern California, which tangles with U. C. L. A. Saturday in a game destined to produce the Pacific Coast Conference champion and host team for the Rose Bowl, moved into the top ten for the first time along with Louisiana State.

HEN-MUHLENBERG CLASSIC MARKS CLIMAX OF SEASON FOR LOCAL FANS SATURDAY

Wilmington Park Expected To Bulge With Capacity Turnout For Long Awaited Duel; Hens Are Given Slim Edge In Odds

All the essentials for a super grid spectacle will be offered at Wilmington Park this Saturday afternoon, when two powerful and unbeaten football clubs, boasting approximately equal records, meet to decide what many feel will be the small college championship game in the East.

The teams in question, needless to say as far as local fans are concerned, are Delaware and Muhlenberg. While there may be bigger games on the national scene this Saturday afternoon, none will outshine the Wilmington Park contest in interest hereabouts. To give the festivities added spice, bowl bids are said to be in the offing for the victor.

Last Saturday, while the Hens were pecking away at Washington College until officials mercifully called a halt with the score 61-0, Muhlenberg was leisurely interring Moravian 47-0. The two teams, which have been pacing each other victory for victory all season, have piled up records that leave little choice as to which is the better, but self-styled dopesters are picking Delaware by two touchdowns.

Against Washington, the Blue Hens practically bivouaced in the Shoemen's end zone as they piled up nine touchdowns during the afternoon. The game was only five plays old when Doc Doherty started things off with a 23 yard journey to pay dirt. In the same quarter, the Hens staged a 43 yard march, with Joe Coady going over from the three.

Mariano Stalloni came through with a spectacular and impromptu score in the second quarter when he faded back to pass, found no receiver, and decided to solo the 15 yards himself, winding up unscathed in the end zone. Paul Hart's contribution came in the same session when he bulldozed his way in two plays from the seven. The scoring opportunity was set up by Captain Tony Stalloni who recovered a Shoemen fumble.

The Hens found the going even easier in the second half, opening with a short-cut to a score on the kick-off as the Hens' charging hard downed Yerkes, Washington ball carrier, in his own end zone for a safety. Angelo Cataldi later spearheaded a steady drive, traveling 28 yards on six plays for the tally.

A heave from Joe Coady to Buck Thompson, counted for the next score. The toss was made from the 36 yard line. On the following kick-off, the Hens again collected an easy six points when the boot carried to the Washington end zone where Jim Brown, the visitor's safety man, watched it idly until Ernie Mettenet, Hen end, fell on it for a Delaware touchdown.

During the last quarter, the Hens reserves kept the score keepers busy with Tony Sorti plunging over from the 1 yard line after he carried the ball 28 yards on the preceding play. The

9211 ARMY ENLISTMENTS IN OCTOBER

Total Is For First Army Area

The officials recently reported 6,244 enlistments in the first week of October, the majority by high school graduates joining before October 5 to insure themselves full benefits for future education under the G. I. Bill of Rights, during October, a total of 9,211 men joined the new regular Army during October in the nine states of the First Army Area, which includes New York, New Jersey, Delaware and the six New England states. The announcement was made by the United States Army Recruiting Service, First Army.

Of this total, 8,147 were original enlistees—men with no prior military service—and 1,061 were Army of the United States veterans returning to service. During the first week, 3,927 were original enlistees.

Two thousand, three hundred and ninety-nine of the men enlisted for three years, and 6,414 for 18 months. One hundred and twenty-eight of the three year enlistments were airborne service, 86 with the 82d Airborne Division, and 42 with the 11th Airborne. Of the 9,211 men enlisting, 5,595 were from New York, New Jersey, and Delaware, and 3,616 were from the six New England states.

'BUZZ' CHIEF WINS PRIZE ON EDITORIAL

Ethel Weaver Named Winner

Ethel Weaver, editor of Yellow Jacket Buzz and Assistant Editor of Krawen of Newark High School, was unanimously awarded first prize in the local Quill and Scroll Journalism Contest for Editorial Writing.

The judges were: Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent, Frederick B. Kutz, principal, Mr. Raymond Justin, Miss Irene Wilkinson, and Miss Ann Chalmers, English teachers.

Paul Kraemer won second prize, while Virginia Craig and Tony Cosetti received honorable mention.

Without preparation, each contestant wrote for 45 minutes on one of the following:

For These Things We Are Truly Thankful; Is Our Christmas Spirit Too Greatly Commercialized?; Can the U. S. Stand Afloat and Alone?; As for the Radio, We'll Take the Movies; Up and at 'Em! Get in These Yearbook Subscriptions.

Miss Weaver wrote on Christmas; Kraemer on U. S. Isolation, and Miss Craig on Thanksgiving.

Miss Weaver's winning editorial has been sent to the Contest Editor of Quill and Scroll as an entry in the national contest. National winners will be awarded the Quill and Scroll creative writing key and will be eligible, if seniors, to compete for the $500 President's Scholarship.

Turkeys Abundant; Price To Be Below Last Year's

An abundant supply of turkeys, at prices under last year's levels, is predicted for Thanksgiving.

Retail prices of turkey hens are currently at about 55 to 57 cents a pound, compared to a high of 68 cents, before price controls were lifted from meat. This time last year, turkeys were selling at about 65 cents a pound.

Growers are producing about 100,000 birds this year, which is about the same as last year's production. Paul Hodgson of the Bureau of Markets in the State Board of Agriculture said recently that few turkeys have been sold in recent weeks, but an increase in marketing volume is expected next week.

EXPOSE COMMUNIST PARTY WORK

National C. Of C. Publishes Report On Red Activities

In cooperation with member organization, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is currently giving wide distribution to its 40-page report on "Communist Infiltration in the United States."

Already becoming a best seller, according to officials, the report urges that the federal government obtain and make public the membership and source of funds of the Communist Party in the U. S.

Other proposals contained in the report are:

More fact-gathering by private groups and the government to reveal Communist activities, "since Communism thrives upon deceit." Education of labor by labor unions and non-economic groups to give "the non-Communist majority the training needed to fight their disciplined opponents."

Increased attention to public affairs by business men and awareness on the part of business of Communist influence.

Exclusion of Communists and their followers from government service "because Communist loyalty is primarily given to a foreign power."

Strict reciprocity with the Soviet Union on part of the United States in the number and freedom of movement of nationals of either country within the other.

The report also goes into considerable detail on the various "fronts" used by Communist in pushing their aims from the behind the scenes, by which they frequently use unsuspecting persons for their purposes, the report claims.

DDT No Match For Jersey Mosquitoes

New Jersey mosquitoes, with a reputation for toughness, have proved too much for famed DDT—the war-time insecticide that vanquished hordes of the insects in the jungles of the Pacific.

The Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission, in its annual report to the board of free-holders, commented that DDT was used with "mediocre results" against New Jersey's winged behemoths, and that "DDT is not the entire answer in mosquito control here."

DANGER OF REDUCED CROP YIELDS

Fall Growth Too Thick, Says Farm Expert

Delaware's blanket of green growing fall seeded grains is picturesque now, but may cost Delaware farmers a pretty penny.

Unusually warm weather this fall has resulted in early seeded fields of fall grains making excessively rank growth. This excessive growth may result in serious reductions in yields, reports C. E. Phillips, extension agronomist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Reduce yields can be expected, Phillips says, if we have ice and sleet conditions for any extended period this winter for there is danger of winter killing from smothering on such fields. Smothering is caused not so much by the ice, but by the thick mat of green material formed by the weight of the ice. Another danger from the unusual growth is that there may be serious lodging of the grain before harvest next year.

To reduce both dangers, Phillips recommends that fields of fall grain that have made excessive growth be pastured. Under average conditions grazing will reduce yields of grain, but Phillips estimates that this loss will not be as great as that which may result from smothering and lodging.

In pasturing grain fields farmers are cautioned to keep their livestock off the fields when the ground is wet. Serious injury to yield will also result if the grain is grazed too late in the spring. Under average conditions grazing after April 1 is not recommended.

Expect Soap Shortage To Last Another Year

The Department of Agriculture says soap will be hard to get for at least another year.

With controls gone, no one will predict how much it will cost from here on out. Already, some popular brands are up 50 to 60 per cent. Government economists say they may level off there, or go higher. On the other hand, a determined buyers' strike may force them down, as in the case of meat, the experts say.

War-time manufacture of explosives, destruction of foreign copra sources, the meat shortages and labor troubles have contributed to the shortage.

Before the war, the United States annually put two billion pounds of fats and oils into soap. Of that amount, 60 to 70 per cent was animal fats, 25 per cent coconut oil, and 5 to 15 per cent other ingredients, principally vegetable oils.

Legion Meet

a special affair planned for Washington's birthday, February 22.

Herman Handloff, of the ways and means committee, outlined plans for a Legion frolic cabaret dance to be held at the Shriners' Club on the DuPont Highway on Wednesday evening, December 4. Music will be supplied by the 14-piece Royalists Orchestra from Wilmington. The committee includes: Herman Handloff, William K. Richardson, Harvey Robertson, Harold Sheaffer and John R. Fader. Refreshments will be provided by the Legion Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. John R. Fader.

William K. Richardson, in charge of the current membership drive, announced that the campaign is proceeding successfully and that a large number of new members would probably be accepted at the social meeting next Tuesday.

Plans for a Christmas Party for the Legion and Auxiliary were also discussed. Details are being handled by Bernard Doordan and Jack McDowell, who head the program committee.
