Wife of Prominent Contractor Dies Suddenly This Morning

Mrs. George Griffin Succumbs to Apoplexy

Funeral to be Held Saturday Afternoon with Interment at Bethel Cemetery

The sudden death this morning of Mary M. wife of George W. Griffin came as a severe shock to the whole town for her illness which developed suddenly last night was unknown to most of the friends and relatives.

Mrs. Griffin was in her ordinary health and spirits yesterday and performed the usual daily tasks. About 5 o'clock she went upstairs and lay down for a brief rest. She was suddenly seized with severe pains in the head and called to her daughter, Mrs. Edna Fader who immediately summoned medical aid. Mrs. Griffin in a few minutes lapsed into an unconscious state from which she never rallied. Everything that medical assistance could accomplish was done by the doctors of the town, but without avail. Her sons Byron and Howard were summoned from Norfolk and Howard arrived before her death. Mrs. Griffin was the daughter of the late John and Elizabeth Ramsey and was born in Cecil Co., Md. where her girlhood was spent. Practically all of her married life has been spent in Newark.

Mrs. Griffin was a woman of charming personality, a consistent member of the Presbyterian church, a good Christian woman, beloved of a large circle of friends who bear abundant testimony of her worth and her admirable character. A devoted wife and mother, her example and training have left an indelible impress on those who are left behind.

She is survived by her husband George W. Griffin, a prominent contractor and builder; one daughter, Edna, wife of A. F. Fader; and four sons, E. Byron and Howard D. who conduct a real estate business at Norfolk, Va., T. Reese and Ralph R. who live at home.

Funeral services will be held at her late home on Saturday afternoon, April 10, at 1:30 o'clock with Rev. W. J. Rowan officiating. Interment will be made at Bethel cemetery.

Principal Of Hampton Institute To Visit Here

Dr. James E. Gregg, Principal of Hampton Institute expects to visit Delaware College April 6. The object of his coming is to learn something of the progress of the schools of this State. Hampton is one of the great experiment stations in education in this country, and Dr. Gregg desires to profit by the plans on foot for the improvement of the schools of Delaware. On the same trip he has been invited by President Jason to visit the State College for Colored Students at Dover. Dr. Gregg expects also to confer with Dr. Joseph H. Odell and Dr. Richard W. Cooper of the Service Citizens with a view to inspecting the building plans for the various schools throughout the State. Dr. Gregg's visit is an intimation of the widespread interest throughout America that centers in the progressive plans that the State of Delaware has adopted for its schools.

Aetna Company Will Soon Announce Committees for Carnival

The appointment of committees for the annual Firemen's Carnival which will be held July 24th to the 31st inclusive will be made in a few days. The same general committee which served last year has been appointed this year. The same general plans with the addition of new features and attractions will characterize this affair which will be held as previously on the Academy grounds.

EVERYTHING READY FOR BIG CARNIVAL OPENING

Reports Show Generous Response to Appeals of Solicitors

"All ready and set to go" was the gist of the report made by George Carter, Chairman of the general committee for the Carnival to be held April 7-10 by St. Thomas' Guild. This report was the epitomization of reports made by all carnival committees at their final session Monday evening at the Parish House, following the regular Guild meeting.

Mr. Carter announced that a number of valuable prizes donated by Wilmington and Newark merchants will be given during the week. The prize for the winner in the young ladies' popularity contest, a handsome wicker chair, upholstered in cretonne, was donated by Miller Bros. of Wilmington; a Morris chair for the most popular young man was given by John Brand & Co. also of Wilmington.

Other substantial gifts which will be awarded as prizes in various contests were donated by Wilmington merchants as follows: R. L. Ford Co., mahogany tea wagon. Smith Zollinger Co., a velvet rug. Wilmington Furniture Co., a sofa pillow.

H. Feinberg, an Electric lamp. Elwood Souder & Sons Co., candlesticks.

Lippincott & Co., a handsome doll. Crosby & Hill Co., a pair of gloves.

Palisade Manufacturing Co. 3 boxes of Kitchen bouquet.

Goldie Bros. 3 cases of grape juice and other soft drinks.

The American Stores Co. of Newark gave 1/2 barrel of flour; R. W. Lovett, a rug; and Mrs. Mattie Dobson, a rug.

Reports made last night by committee chairmen showed that some very thorough preliminary work had been accomplished by the Guild members and others and that a generous response had been met by solicitors.

The grand opening tonight will in all probability be preceded by a parade over the principal streets, headed by the Minnehaha Band, according to a report by C. T. Denney. This band will furnish music during the entire time free of charge.

Representative William D. Dean reported that with the assistance of his side partner, Mrs. Mattie Dobson, the spy young dancer of more than seventy summers, a fine exhibition of plain and fancy dancing will be staged nightly.

The reports of the various "Eats" committees brought an anticipatory gleam of pleasure to every masculine eye at the meeting. Hot crullers, fried while you wait; hot "dogs" in fresh, fluffy rolls; coffee in full Guild measure; Breyer's ice cream, and other good things to eat, will be on hand in abundance. This was assured by Mr. Carter's constantly repeated question, "Will you have enough?"

Measuring mentally a probable hundred or two of Mr. Carter's capacity the chairmen one and all, with a "do-or-die" expression said, "There will be sufficient."

Plans to the minutest detail were completed Monday night. The decoration committees and (Continued on Page 4)

Alexander Elected Captain Of Basketball Team

The D men at Delaware College, at a meeting held last Thursday elected Howard Burton Alexander captain of the basketball team for next year. "Alex" is one of the most popular men on the team and in the college. He hails from Oil City, Pa., is a member of the Junior class, and played forward for two years on the basketball team. He is also a member of the football squad.

Wilmington Attorney To Speak Tomorrow Night

Henry R. Isaacs, a prominent attorney of Wilmington will address the Alpha Branch of the State Teachers Association tomorrow evening at the High school. The meeting is open to the public.

M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONTRIBUTES TO EASTER SERVICE

Gives Fine Entertainment and Remembers "Shut-ins" With Flowers and Fruit

An Easter entertainment in conjunction with the regular morning worship was the happy arrangement of services at the Methodist church last Sunday morning. The church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and potted plants, under the direction of a committee from Mrs. Mary E. Williams' class, of which Miss Gertrude Hill was chairman. The young ladies received many congratulations upon the success of their efforts.

After the usual preliminary song, prayer and scripture reading, the following program was rendered under the direction of Superintendent Earl Dawson and Mrs. Leonard Rhodes.

Recitation, "Easter Greeting" Rowland Jackson

Recitation, "A Happy Easter" Frances Hall

Recitation, "What does Bunny Hear?" Francis Crowe

Song—"Life is the Message" Chorus of Girls

Recitation, "Chick a Biddy" Elaine Bennett

Song by School

Recitation, "The Violet" Irma Hall

Exercise, "A Sunbeam Basket Seven Girls

Song, "Good Morning Bright Easter," Pauline Moore, Esther Henning

Lily Drill, Class of 8 girls

Recitation, "The Easter Day is Breaking" Elizabeth Campbell

Recitation, "Easter Sunlight" Louisa Willoughby

Recitation, "Easter," Darwin Cage

Easter song by School

A more elaborate program had been arranged but illness among the children prevented many on the program from taking part. Baskets of fruit and flowers used in drills and exercises were later distributed among the sick and the "shut-ins" of the congregation.

The evening service was as usual well attended. Two solos were sung by Mr. Gunderer, a soldier and vocalist of unusual ability, who while here on a stop-over between trains on Friday night was attracted by the practice singing of the choir, came into the church, and was invited to sing. On his return trip from leave, on Sunday he stopped over and sang with the choir at both services.

Rev. Frank Herson preached a particularly eloquent sermon on "At the cross with Mary."

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY TO LEAVE NEWARK

Has Resigned to Enter Business at Former Home in Pittsburgh

W. Paul Bebout, general secretary for the local Y. M. C. A. has tendered to the Board of Directors his resignation which will become effective May 31.

Mr. Bebout came to Newark from Trenton, N. J. September first to inaugurate the "Y" work here and has performed excellent service in putting it on a working basis. He has been untiring in his efforts to provide healthy entertainment for the young people and has succeeded to the entire satisfaction of the Board of Directors, who regret sincerely his intended departure. They will meet on Thursday evening to take action on his resignation and to make plans for choosing a successor.

Mr. Bebout will go into business at his former home in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The "Y" Juniors are at the present time intensely interested in the outcome of a pool tournament for which there were 24 entrants. Elimination contests are taking place daily.

A shuffleboard tournament will be arranged at an early date.

Newark Man Appointed County Constable

Among the appointments made by the Levy Court last week was that of Delaware Lovett of this town for County Constable.

TWO MEMBERS OF COUNCIL TO BE ELECTED NEXT TUESDAY

Remaining Work on Street Improvement to be Done Under Contract

The following names have been filed for members of Council to be elected next Tuesday, April 13, to serve for two years:

Middle District, George W. Rhodes Western District, O. W. Widdoes Eastern District, R. J. Morrison

The present incumbents for the Middle and Western Districts, T. J. Willis and Daniel Thompson have not filed for re-election.

No contest has developed and the election will in all probability pass off without any fireworks.

The regular monthly meeting of Council was held in the their rooms on Monday night. A number of bills were ordered paid and the water question was discussed briefly but no conclusion could be reached since the opinion of the consultant engineer has not yet been received, nor any action yet taken on the bill now before the Legislature relative to the matter. Council decided to have the street work on Delaware Avenue and South Chapel Street completed by F. W. Lovett, under contract instead of by day work as has previously been the custom.

Local Delegation To Grand Castle Reports Fine Time

Ivy Castle, No. 23, K. G. E. had a very large and enthusiastic meeting last Saturday night. A royal sendoff was given the delegation of Past Noble Chiefs on their departure for the Grand Castle, which met at Georgetown on Monday, April 5th.

The delegation consisted of brothers R. J. Crow, J. B. Frazer, Jos. W. McCormick, J. T. Anderson, and Wm. J. Lovett, representative. The journey was made by motor, leaving Newark, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

They report an especially eventful and pleasant trip. The roads, owing to recent rains were almost impassable in places, they declare, but the pleasure of traveling on the duPont boulevard compensated for the discomfort of the poor roads.

They reached Georgetown shortly after 3 o'clock, had supper at the famous Brick Hotel and made a brief inspection tour of the town.

The Georgetown Eagles later in the evening escorted the out-of-town delegations to the M. E. church where they enjoyed a special Easter service followed by an informal reception to the visiting Eagles.

Under the guidance of Judge Henry C. Conrad they were then taken to places of interest in the town and given a brief and interesting history of the place. Early Monday morning he showed them through the Old Court House, and his residence, which contains a large and valuable and very remarkable collection of antiques and curios. The Mayor of the town, Mr. Howard Stewart, and other prominent citizens joined in entertaining the visitors.

The Grand Castle convened at 10 o'clock, with a very large attendance. Grand Chief John Still, of Smyrna, presided. After the ordinary routine of business, several addresses were made by prominent speakers an especially good one by the Rev. Z. W. Wells, of Wesley church, Wilmington.

Reports showed that the K. G. E. throughout the state is in a very prosperous condition.

The majority of the delegations from up state towns returned home on Monday evening. Some however, visited Lewes, Rehoboth and other down-state towns.

All brothers are urged to come out next Saturday night and hear the report of their representative.

Dean Cullimore Visits Newark

Allan R. Cullimore formerly dean of the Department of Engineering, now director of Newark Technical School Newark, N. J. came to Newark yesterday and returned this morning. He was given a most cordial reception by friends in the town and in the college where he is very popular.

GREAT CHIEFS OF MINNEHAHA TRIBE RAISED LAST NIGHT

Deputy Great Sachem and Other Distinguished Visitors Here for the Event

Deputy Great Sachem, J. Thompson Eastburn, accompanied by acting Great Chiefs—Great Senior Sagamore Frank H. Buckingham; Great Junior Sagamore, William H. Chambers; Great Prophet, Warren Lamborn; Great Chief of Records, Harvey A. Mouskey; Great Keeper of Wampum, George W. Dempsey; Great Collector of Wampum, A. H. P. Eastburn; Great Sannap, Leslie McCormick; Great Mishinewa C. P. Denney; Great Guard of Wigwam, Raymond V. Connell; Great Guard of Forest, Frank Morris; visited Minnehaha Tribe No. 23, Tuesday evening, April 6th, and raised the following chiefs of the tribe: Prophet, Thomas A. Mullin; Sachem, Ira Shellender; Sr. Sagamore, Leon Powell; Jr. Sagamore, J. P. Shockley; chief of records, F. C. Jester; collector of Wampum, F. M. Smith; keeper of Wampum, C. P. Denney; Sannaps, Ward A. Lindell and John W. Moore; Warriors, George W. Krapf, Edward Cloud, E. M. Thompson and E. B. Wilson; Braves, John Jones, F. G. Widdoes, Lewis Krapf and W. C. Jester; Guard of Wigwam, C. E. Denney; and guard of Forest, William S. Armstrong.

The visiting chiefs are members of Wawa Tribe No. 45 of Union. After the raising ceremony there was a varied entertainment consisting of music, speeches and refreshments. The affair ended up in a smoker. All present seemed to be pleased with the entertainment.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR YOUNG FOLKS' DAY AT CENTURY CLUB

Varied Entertainment for Juniors and Young Club Members Saturday

Plans have been completed for Junior and Children's Day which will be observed by the New Century Club next Saturday afternoon from 3 o'clock to 5:30. The sons and daughters of club members will be eligible to attend, also a few specially invited guests. For the first half hour an entertainment will be provided under the direction of Miss Rohr of the Women's College. This will be followed by a grand march in which everybody will participate. The younger children will then proceed to the basement where they will be led in the playing of games. The juniors and the young people who are club members will be entertained in the lecture room with dancing for which an orchestra has been secured. The younger club members are each entitled to bring a guest. The others who are not children of club members will receive special invitations.

The entertainment plans include the serving of refreshments. Next week's program will be held as usual on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Griffith, State chairman of music in charge. An exceptionally fine musical program will doubtless be rendered and a large attendance is expected.

Local Man Lands Big Contract In Smyrna

Mr. Forrest W. Lovett has been awarded the contract of resurfacing all the streets of Smyrna, Del. He expects starting work at an early date, notwithstanding several jobs in this neighborhood to be completed before going there. During the winter months he overhauled and repaired his large stock of road-building machinery and added many new and up-to-date appliances—the latest being an Indiana tractor, which is one of the first of its kind in this part of the state and is an object of much interest to those who use tractors. Mr. Lovett will have it on exhibition soon—the place and date will be announced later.

High School Alumni Association Begins Membership Drive

Will Now Admit Non-Graduates

Plans for Memorial Day Service in Conjunction with the Local G. A. R. Post

A special meeting of the Newark High School Alumni Association was held at the Academy building last Saturday evening to consider activities for the current year. In view of the increased demand on the treasury due to the advance in prices over those of last year, it was deemed necessary to increase the dues from 50c to $1.00 per member. Plans for the annual banquet and the projected membership drive inaugurated last year were discussed briefly.

A meeting of the Executive Board was held at the home of Miss Lydia Fader on Wednesday evening when it was decided to do intensive work in pushing the membership drive.

In 1919 a committee was appointed, to consider the question of admitting to membership those who had been students at the high school but who did not complete the prescribed course. As a result of this a resolution was adopted to the effect that any former student who completed one-half of the course of study prescribed at the time of his enrollment, is eligible to membership. Since neither the school authorities nor the Association has any record of the work done by individual students, the latter must take the initiative in joining since obviously it is impossible for the Association to know those to whom invitation should be extended. They are particularly anxious, therefore, that individuals who are eligible come forward and place their names with the chairman.

The full text of the resolution covering this point together with the general invitation is found elsewhere in this paper. At the executive board meeting tentative plans for a Memorial Day celebration to be held jointly with the G. A. R. were made.

A committee consisting of the President, Miss Etta J. Wilson, Captain J. Wilbert Ramsey, and Miss Agnes Medill, was appointed to confer with J. E. Lutton of Reynolds' Post No. 29, G. A. R. relative to a fitting program.

In order to provide funds for this and other activities the Association will give a moving picture benefit "Under the Willow Tree," next Monday evening.

OBITUARY

Elizabeth Wollaston

Elizabeth Wollaston, wife of the late Albert Wollaston, died suddenly at her home on East Main Street, on Friday, April second. The deceased was in the seventy-eighth year of her age. Mrs. Wollaston had been suffering with rheumatism since the previous Monday. On Thursday evening she conversed with relatives who had called to see her, apparently much improved and far removed from a serious condition. Shortly after retiring at nine o'clock, however, her heart suddenly collapsed and she sank into an unconscious state from which she never rallied, gently sleeping away into a sweet and peaceful death.

Mrs. Wollaston was the daughter of Mary and Springer McDaniel of Stanton, and a life-long resident of this community. She was a devoted mother, a kind neighbor, conscientious and eager to carry her full share of any public service requested of the community, while many indeed have felt the effects of a kindly generosity unknown to any but the recipients.

Funeral services were held from the late residence on Easter Monday, Rev. David A. Reed, pastor of White Clay Creek church of which the deceased had for years been a member, officiating. Rev. W. J. Rowan, of the Newark Presbyterian church, assisted at the services.

Interment in White Clay Creek Cemetery.

BRINGING THE SPRING WILD FLOWERS INTO THE YARD

Bluets, Violets, and Other Early Wild Flowers May be Transplanted Easily

Some very interesting little gardens may be made in spring by transplanting to suitable receptacles some of the early wild flowers. Such displays are particularly helpful in adding interest, because they bring into the school a suggestion of the beauty of the outer world. For this reason also they are desirable for the home, helping when displayed in living or dining room to link our lives with the spirit of the passing season.

The chief factor in the availability of wild flowers for this purpose is that of ease of transplanting without a check to growth. A plant with a shallow, compact root system which is easily dug up and reset in a flower bowl is ideal for this purpose. Availability is often determined by the accident of situation. A plant which has found a place for itself in a shallow depression on a ledge or in the top of a stump may often be taken up almost as easily as a potted geranium may be taken from a flower pot. Such a plant is of course very easy to transfer indoors.

Over several great regions in the United States, the bluets or innocents is found in one variety or another. In New England and the North Atlantic States the common species is Houstonia coerules, but in other sections other species occur. This is one of the earliest wild flowers, growing in masses which are readily taken up by the roots and transferred to low, broad flower jars, where the plants will continue to open their interesting little flowers for several weeks. These flowers are sensitive to weather changes. In a moist, cool atmosphere they turn downward on their stems to turn up again in sunshine.

Some of the early violets, particularly those growing along the mossy borders of ponds and streams, are also easily taken up without injury to the roots. The sweet white violet is one of the most abundant kinds in such situations and is likely to be especially prized for its delicate perfume. It has smooth round leaves and so is readily distinguished from the lance-leaved violet which occurs in similar situations. The interesting bird's foot violet is found in dry, sandy soils, but carefully selected specimens may be successively taken up during rainy weather.

It is nearly always true that wild plants with thick succulent roots can be transplanted after growth begins more successfully than those with only fibrous roots. Even if there is a temporary wilting, the plant is likely to recover soon because of the supply of stored-up nutriment. The bloodroot is a good illustration of this. So when you dig up the roots soon after the frost is out of the ground be careful not to break off the leaf or flower buds and you may hope to have the blossoms expand indoors with as much beauty as they do in the spring woods outdoors. No other wild flower has quite so pure a white, and one must always marvel at the sudden color transmutation of the bloodroot as it reaches the glowing petals.

Set the bloodroot plants in soil or fiber in an attractive receptacle and watch the dropping away of the deciduous sepals, the opening and passing of the spotless petals, the development of the poppylike seed pod, and the lusty growth of the splendid leaves. Each phase is full of interest and challenges interpretation with pencil and brush. At last the plants may well be set out in a corner of the garden where they will be easily accessible another spring.

Squirrel corn and Dutchman's breeches are two other early wild flowers which sometimes are found growing in situations where they may be taken up with little disturbance of the root system. They are beautiful and interesting flowers, related to the familiar bleeding hearts of our gardens.

For The Homemaker's Eye

A splendid way to preserve the freshness of halved grapefruit—to retain all of the juice and the just-prepared-a-few-minutes-ago appearance, although several hours may have to elapse before the fruit goes to the table is to cover the half spheres with rounds of wax paper and then press lightly so that no air can readily get in. A very satisfactory method and it looks well in case should any one take a peep into your kitchen beforehand rather than to see the fruit exposed to the open. If placed in the ice box no odors therefrom will penetrate the fruit, either.

Cover your ironing board with Turkish toweling if you would have your clothes look especially well. Colored clothes should be ironed with a warm iron (not hot) to avoid changing the color, and with such a cover it is possible to make them look much better, with a cooler iron than is otherwise necessary. It is a slight saving in fuel, too, as an iron can be used for several minutes longer after the heat is turned off, than where the regular covers are used.

Stale bread and cake may be freshened by wrapping in a damp towel and placing in a hot place until the towel dries. Another way is to wrap in a dry towel and place in a colander set over a kettle of boiling water. This steams the bread or cake, and it can be eaten very soon. Care must be taken not to let either get too moist. If the crust seems wet, slip it into the oven for a few moments, letting it get dry but not hard.

Pour boiling water over lima beans which are to be shelled and see how easily and comfortably the shelling will be accomplished.

If the handle comes off your potato knife, wind the blade where it goes into the handle with rather fine strong thread and thrust it into place, where it will then stay.

It is usually a painful and disagreeable task to remove adhesive plaster that has been used to strap a dressing cover over a wound, especially if the sufferer is not strong. It can be done with very little effort if a small piece of absorbent cotton is first moistened in alcohol and then rubbed over the adhesive. It usually loosens the coating from the tape, which may be gently pulled off. The coating may then be removed from the skin by a few applications of alcohol.

There are innumerable uses for lime water, and so no home should ever be without it. It is used to keep milk vessels wholesome, to make the milk digestible, to soften water, sweeten drains, etc. By heating lime water well into olive oil or linseed oil there results one of the best known remedies for burns and scalds. To make lime water, put a lump of quicklime as big as the two fists into a clean earthen pitcher, pouring over enough fresh drinking water to cover it six inches deep. Stir well with a wooden spoon, let stand half a day, and then pour off the clear liquid without disturbing the lime at the bottom of the pitcher. Strain through cheesecloth and then keep in small bottles tightly corked. When using, always pour off a little from the fresh bottle or one that has been opened. Thus one gets rid of the crust that forms.

The first thing in any case of scorching is to empty the contents of a pan into another container immediately. Never add water or stir up a scorched food. If just the gravy is slightly scorched, the addition of a bit of brown sugar will kill the scorched taste. If badly scorched, rescue all the meat possible with onion and pepper. Chop up an onion very fine and brown it in oleomargarine; add a tablespoonful of flour, stir smooth in the browned oleomargarine and onion until flour is brown. Make a generous cupful of beef bouillon with the extract of beef and boiling water and add to it the browned flour, stirring constantly; then heat the meat in it. This is not to be recommended as a proper ragout, but it makes a palatable dish and saves the meat that carelessness would otherwise have spoiled.

Potatoes should be kept in a cool place where it is dry and dark. The sprouts can be rubbed off when ready to use.

Apples should be wiped dry and placed on a shelf with as little crowding as possible. The best apples may be wrapped in tissue paper.

To beat butter to a cream, if very hard, it can be slightly warmed in the oven or put into a hot bowl, but it must never be melted.

Dip your mixing spoon in cold water each time before dipping into the cookie batter and the mixture will slide off much more easily.

Shining doorknobs add to the attractiveness of a house just as shining window panes do. You may not particularly notice that the doorknobs and window panes of a charming home are bright and shining—but were they grimy and neglected you probably would notice it. If the doorknobs have become very dingy try a little sweet oil and rottenstone on them and after that keep them well rubbed with some good brass polish. It is rubbing that counts more than anything else in polishing brass. Cut a hole in a piece of newspaper and slip the paper over the doorknob so that the metal polish may not touch the woodwork of the door. Then rub and rub with vigorous strokes and a sufficiently large cloth for easy handling. Doorbells and faucets are always shining, also, in a house where the doorknobs look bright.

Mothers' Column

Eighth Article of Series for Mother's Column contributed by the Medical Consultant of the State Reconstruction Commission. Submitted by the Commission through the Clearing House of the Delaware State Program.

BOTTLE FEEDING

In taking up the question of bottle feeding of babies, we have to deal with a subject which has many aspects. It will be impossible to go into a great deal of detail in a series of articles like this, but we will endeavor to give the mothers some practical points which must be observed if the baby is to do well.

Of course, no baby should ever be taken off the breast and put on the bottle without first consulting a physician, preferably one trained in infant feeding.

The first consideration will be the milk supply. There are all kinds of milk and all kinds of milk producers. Naturally, some are better than others. You should carefully investigate the various dairies and pick out the one that produces the purest, cleanest milk. Grade A milk should always be used. Never use any poorer quality, and above all never use milk bought in bulk. Pasteurized milk is best if this is available. This is no place to discuss in detail the milk problem, so we will merely say, "Get the best that is obtainable." The increased chances for your baby's good health will repay you many times over.

If you are not satisfied that your milk supply is absolutely free from all contamination, it is comparatively easy for you to pasteurize it yourself at home. This will be taken up later on.

Naturally, cow's milk is made up differently from human milk. Therefore, it is necessary to change the cow's milk to make it more nearly like human milk. For example, there is more sugar in human milk. Therefore, it is necessary to add some to the cow's milk. The other constituents are different also, so it becomes necessary to make up what is known as a formula for the baby's food. These formulae are usually made up from whole milk, that is, milk just as it comes from the cow (not skimmed milk—nor milk with any cream added). To this "whole" milk, water and sugar are added. The proportion of these varies with the age and condition of the baby. For example, one usually starts a baby off on one-third milk and two-thirds water, with some added sugar. The total amount varies with the capacity of the baby's stomach. The new born child is not able to take more than two and one half ounces eight times in 24 hours. The child of three months will take four ounces seven times in 24 hours, etc. This will all be explained by the physician to whom you go.

Bottles must be bought for the baby. Enough should be purchased so that you can prepare the whole 24 hours' supply at one time. This is for the reason that it is most undesirable to pour the feeding from one receptacle into another after it has been pasteurized. Bottles should be of such shape that they are easily cleaned and sterilized. The mouth must be large enough to admit a bottle brush easily. Nipples must be of a variety that will stand turning, scrubbing and sterilizing.

You can get just the right formulae for your baby according to his age and size by applying to the Health Centers of the Reconstruction Commission.

American Farmer Is Efficient

The average American farmer produces nearly three times as much food as any other farmer in the world. Most people will be surprised to hear this, especially in Europe. We often read that farm land abroad produces three or four times as much per acre as in the United States, and the American farmer is often criticised for this state of affairs. It is true that an acre produces much more abroad, but that is because there are so many more men to work on it. Some thirty-five per cent of the population of the United States work on farms, and they not only feed themselves and the sixty-five per cent who live in cities, but most of the world besides.—March Boy's Life.

This Town Transformed By A General Clean-Up

A town where every citizen but one painted his house, made repairs of the premises, fixed up his lawn, and arranged flower and vegetable gardens was described today by C. P. Chase, who visited it last week. The town is Greenfield, Iowa, and the visible results of the Clean-up and Paint-up Campaign there are remarkable, says Mr. Chase.

Greenfield has 3,000 inhabitants and this propaganda for a more beautiful city was started by a local newspaper taken up by the Commercial Club and backed by the city officials. Every house in the city with a single exception was repainted. All porches, windows, fences, sidewalks, and other things in disrepair were attended to. Then refuse, ashes and other waste were cleaned up. Attention was then turned to lawns and gardens and the result, says Mr. Chase, is one of the neatest and most attractive towns he has ever seen.—Clinton (Iowa) Advertiser.

EUROPEAN WOMEN ARE AFTER OUR MEN, GIRLS!

If You Have a "Lonesome" Man in Your Camp Watch Out for Him

Everybody loves a lonesome man, according to the letters received by the Travelers' Aid Society of New York from English girls, who are not unwilling to become acquainted with American men. The society finds itself in danger of becoming a matrimonial bureau through an article published setting forth the disappointments resulting from international romances which have come under the observation of Travellers' Aid agents.

The article was published in a number of English papers and many young women in England have evidently arrived at the erroneous conclusion that there are not enough brides in this country to go around and therefore have volunteered in letters sent to the society to become acquainted, at least, with these "lonesome" Americans.

The letters express warm sympathy for Americans, who have found that the girls who have come across from England and France to marry them as a result of engagements entered into during the war had fallen in love during the voyage with some one else whom they wanted to marry by the time the vessel docked in New York.

Wants to Try Out an American

"After reading about you in the Weekly Despatch," writes one woman, who describes herself as a hospital nurse, "I feel sure you can help me by introducing to me some lonely man, age 36 to 40 years. He must be tall and have a good position. For years I have wanted to get in touch with an American. Born in Pittsburgh and taken to England when a child, I have no relatives left, so at times am very lonely and feel often that there might be in America some lonely, quiet, clean man who would be glad of friendship."

From London a girl writes that she has read in the papers that "you had found English girls change their minds on arriving in America. I want to assure you that we are not all alike. If you know of an American who is very lonely and wishes to marry for companionship I should be glad to meet him.

"The only thing I am particular about is I would like to meet some one tall and older than myself and one who is really lonely, for, that is the only true way to happy marriage. One can meet men, very often and have a chance of marriage, but they are mostly men who are not fond of home life and after all it is no use marrying otherwise, is it? Marriage means home life."

In this letter "lonely" is underscored.

A canny Scottish lass says nothing of matrimony in a letter in which she asks the Travellers' Aid Society to forward a letter of sympathy to a young man in Grand Rapids, Mich., whose English fiancée had fallen in love with a fellow passenger on the voyage to this country.

"I do not mean any harm in asking you to send my letter to the young man," says this young woman, "only I do feel sorry for him, as I went through the same experience myself."

An English mother who read the article in an English journal has written to the society to say that the disappointment is not all on the side of American men. This woman's daughter married an American, or perhaps a Canadian, and was brought to Montreal as his bride, where he deserted her. She is only nineteen years old and is now working as a waitress in order to get passage money home to England.

"It is far better for the young Americans who were disappointed by their fiancées to find that these girls are the victims of unbridled emotion before marriage than afterward," writes this disappointed mother.

The Travelers' Aid Society has come into close touch with many international romances through its care for war fiancées arriving in New York. The society, however, has not the slightest intention of adding the offices of an international cupid to its other responsibilities—New York Evening Sun.

Friendship Should Be No Excuse For Being Disagreeable

It is an abuse of friendship to make it an excuse for being disagreeable, but few of us, to our shame be it said, are as courteous and painstakingly agreeable to those we love as we are to more acquaintances. We demand favors as a right, from sister or brother, and forget the thank you when they are given. We criticize with a zest which suggests that we find it enjoyable. We find fault without any attempt to spare the feelings of the friend censured.

Two young women walking together one afternoon, met a little girl whose hands and face were soiled from her play. "Why, you dirty little thing!" one of them exclaimed. "Do go and wash before anybody sees you." As the girl scampered away the other remarked, "I shouldn't think you'd be very popular in this neighborhood if that's the way you talk to people." With a laugh the critic offered an explanation which evidently seemed to her to cover the case, "Oh, that is my youngest sister."

There is no reason why brothers and sisters should not profit by whatever love and kindness you have to spare. There is no reason why the members of our families should be treated with less consideration than we show total strangers. The love which takes liberties that mere acquaintances would instantly resent, certainly has serious flaws.

The Man Who Refuses To Knock

You've heard of a fellow refusing to drink
And of others refusing to eat;
You've heard of a fellow refusing to smoke
And a fellow refusing a seat.
There are men who are famed for refusing to run
For office or safety or pelf,
But here is a scrawl for the man who, of all,
Has the finest control of himself.
I speak of the man with a clamp on his voice,
Whose talking is tight under lock;
The man with a muffer attached to his mouth—
The man who refuses to knock.

The man who won't knock is a curious chap. He Often goes out with the crowd,

Where grouches are aired and the grievances bared

In fault-finding candid and loud;
Where only his friends are around him to hear

The hurts that he probably feels,
And everyone revels in woes and complaints

And mention of villainous deals;
Where hammers go ringing with vigor and zest

On anvils that shudder and rock;
Yet calmly and firmly he passes his turn, the Man who refuses to knock.

—Michigan Tradesman.

"Them Good Old Days"

Today it is a poor egg that doesn't bring a nickel, and butter is worth 70 cents the pound. The old-timer looks back over the years. He sighs for the good old times. Eggs were 10 cents a dozen and butter 20 cents a pound, says the Miami News.

But does he really want "the good old times?" Let's see.

In those days people had parlors and didn't use 'em. Now they have living rooms and wear 'em almost out.

They lighted their homes with kerosene "hanging" lamps.

Fellows took their girls out "buggy-riding" and knew nothing of the joy of a fleet motor car.

Men were paid a dollar a day on the section, and the other day laborer, just a little above him, was paid ten dollars a week.

As some other man has said, when a person had weak lungs they began to select a nice green spot in the "marble orchard" for him, and if your appendix got tangled up, they said you had inflammation of the bowels and they buried you deep.

And women wore bustles and long gummy skirts and had limbs instead of legs.

Houses were heated by stoves of one kind or another. And—bath tubs and other toilet facilities there were none. Remember those cold winter nights, with the ordinary lot 220 feet long?

Yes, those were not the good old days. Let 'em keep their 10-cent eggs and their 20-cent butter. Living in 1920 is worth more than it costs, even if it costs more than it did.—Lawton (Okla.) Constitution.

Why You Read The Newspaper

Right away you say "to know what's going on everywhere, to be well informed."

You read the front page for the most important news. There's at least one more page that you turn to regularly, probably several pages. It may be the editorial page, the woman's page or the sporting page. Perhaps it's the market page, or local news. At any rate you want to have up-to-date information on whatever interests you.

Do you read the advertising columns regularly? Do you know that they are one of the most important features of your newspaper? You are interested in whatever will save you money, time and labor.

Read the advertisements to learn what is new—what you need—and where to find it.

The newspaper advertisements will tell you how to increase your knowledge and your income. They are a liberal education in themselves. Read them faithfully.—Exchange.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB NEWS TO BE DISCONTINUED

Newsy Little Sheet to be Consolidated with State Extension Service Paper

The issuance of the March number of the Boys' and Girls' Club news marks the passing of this newsy little paper, according to an announcement contained therein. The little sheet typewritten and multigraphed by the Extension Service Staff, has served an admirable purpose in holding together in bonds of good fellowship, the members of the various clubs throughout the state.

It was not an expensive nor pretensions publication but it was distinctively a boys' and girls' paper filled with inspiration for every member everywhere in the state. Every club knew what every other club was doing each month of the year, what songs and yells had been adopted, what really good things were done elsewhere. Individual achievements were recorded and yearly programs outlined; inspiring messages sent abroad and important announcements made.

The club news will consolidate with the Extension Service.

The editor says in explanation of this action:

"This is the twentieth and last issue of the Delaware Boys' and Girls' Club News. When this club paper was first established club work was being done by Delaware College and cooperating agencies as general extension work on a state-wide basis. Club in Delaware has since gone through the so-called propaganda stage and has been developed on a county-unit basis under the general direction of the county farm bureaus, which cooperate with the local communities and the public schools on the one hand and on the other with the extension service of Delaware College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. So the Club News has served its purpose well and will now make way for other publications that are better suited to meet the new needs of the day.

The Club News will be consolidated with the State Extension Service News, which will be sent each month to all local and county club leaders and to every family of the state where there are one or more club members or one or more farm bureau members. Good pictures of club activities, brief accounts of club work in each county, and real stories of live, hustling club members will be featured as time and space will permit.

In addition, a monthly club news letter will be sent out by the State Club Office to all local and county club workers to adult community advisors and school officials, to the end that a training in service may be given in the fundamentals of club work according to the needs of the field."

Press Association Protests Against Tax On Advertising

S. E. Shannahan, president of the Del-Mar-Via Press Association has sent to Congressman Carville D. Benson the following letter protesting against the proposed tax on advertising:

"Easton, Md.,
March 31, 1920.

"Congressman Carville D. Benson, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

"My dear Mr. Benson—I understand that Congressman Thompson has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives, known as House Bill No. 12,976, relating to a tax on advertising. The object of the bill is said to be to conserve the supply of print and other papers, as well as to increase the revenue for the government.

"If this bill is really intended to conserve the supply of paper, it is to my mind, a joke, especially when there are (so I am reliably informed) over a thousand more employees in the Government Printing Office using up tons and tons more of paper than either before or during the war, much of which never sees the light of day, which the President of any bank or trust company or any newspaper or magazine publisher can confirm. If Mr. Thompson really wants to conserve paper, I trust you will use your good influence to urge him to stop the exportation of paper and temporarily at least, set aside the duty on the importation of pulp.

"If the bill as is indicated in its title, is to increase the revenue of the government, don't you think it a little unfair that in addition to all of the taxes that a newspaper corporation pays that it has to additionally pay on the sale of the only production it has to sell, namely advertising space?

"At the present high cost of paper, which while the government reports say can be bought for $7.99 a hundred and the best price I can possibly buy it for is $11.18, and hard to get at that figure, together with the high cost of labor that if additional expenses are laid upon the smaller papers that it will mean within a very short time that these papers will be throttled and strangled out of existence.

"The Advertising Club of Baltimore, as well as the Del-Mar-Via Press Association, are very much opposed to this bill and I feel sure that the papers of Maryland and Delaware will appreciate whatever assistance you can give them by opposing its passage.

Sincerely yours,

TOWN ENJOYS DIZZY WHIRL OF SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Many Festivities Signalize Close of Quiet Lenten Season

The close of the Lenten season was signalized by an avalanche of social activities that will make the town a lively place for the next few weeks.

Monday evening many of the younger set attended a dance at Elkton; last night the Continental Fibre Co. Band gave a large dance.

The Omega Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternities will hold dances on Friday and Saturday evenings.

One of the Midwinter series of dances will be held on Friday evening at the New Century Club. The young ladies of the town will give a Leap Year dance at the New Century Club on Monday night, which will be a very jolly affair. Fine music will be furnished by the orchestra from the Hotel duPont grill and every one is looking forward to a delightful time.

Mrs. C. A. McCue entertained a house party over the week-end. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bruner and daughter, Mr. Barton and Mr. T. F. Phillips of Woodbury, N. J. and Mr. and Mrs. R. Walter Plumley of Perryville, Md.

Mrs. McCue also entertained at an informal dance on Wednesday night at the Experimental Farm the following guests:

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Banham, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Holton, Mr. and Mrs. R. Walter Plumley, Mrs. Bruner, Mr. and Mrs. J. ### ANNOUNCEMENT OF CAPTAIN O'DANIEL'S WEDDING RECEIVED HERE

Young Couple Expect to Visit Groom's Home in the Near Future

Announcement has been received in Newark this week of the marriage of Captain John Wilson O'Daniel, U. S. Army, and Miss Helen Ruth Bowman, at Nogales, Arizona, on Wednesday, March 24.

St. Andrews' P. E. Church, a clipping from a Nogales paper states, the scene of the impressive military wedding, was beautifully decorated for the occasion by the men of the 25th U. S. Infantry, to which the groom was assigned upon his return from France last September.

A wealth of evergreens, fresh with mountain fragrance, afforded a charming background for the profusion of American flags used in the decorations.

A feature lending itself in no small degree to the beauty and dignity of the occasion was the regimental flags—Old Glory falling gracefully into wondrously rich folds, and the blue and gold regimental standard, bearing on one side the coat of arms of the United States and on the other a long list of battles in which the historic regiment has participated.

The bride, accompanied by her matron of honor and two bridesmaids, was given away by her uncle the Hon. G. Wirt Bowman, Captain Lowell Brooks, a fellow officer in the famous Composite Regiment organized to represent the United States in the victory parades of Europe, acted as Captain O'Daniel's best man; and fellow officers from the 25th U. S. Infantry acted as ushers.

Captain and Mrs. O'Daniel spent a short honeymoon at Los Angeles, after which they returned to their furnished bungalow at the border army post. They expect to visit the groom's former home here sometime during the coming summer.

Captain O'Daniel is a Delaware College man, ex-1917, and previous to the war served with Co. E. of Newark, for six months on the Mexican border. He was assigned to the first officers' training camp at Fort Myer, Va., soon after the declaration of war with Germany, and was commissioned at the end of his period of training a second lieutenant in the regular army. He was twice promoted while on active duty in France during the last year of the war.

The bride wore white satin, with trimmings of antique lace. Her lace veil was worn by her mother at her wedding. The bride carried a shower bouquet of bride roses, orchids and sweet peas.

The bride's attendants were the groom's sister, who was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Peach, a sister of the bride, and Miss Helen B. Bancroft, of Wyoming, a cousin of the bride.

The maid of honor wore white net over pink flowers. Her bouquet was orchid colored sweet peas, Ophelia roses and daisies.

Miss Peach and Miss Bancroft wore orchid colored organdie frocks, and hats of orchid maline with trimmings of pink roses and ribbon. They carried bouquets of pink and orchid sweet peas.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, W. Paul Peach. A brother of the groom was best man. The following girl friends of the bride formed an aisle for the bridal party to pass through: Misses Helen and Sara Pennington, Misses Elizabeth and Anna Walker, Miss Margaret Walls, Miss Emilie Mitchell, Miss Blanche Derickson. They wore white dresses with pink and orchid colored sashes.

Decorations at the house were palms and ferns and cut flowers. The color scheme of pink and orchid was carried out. The wedding march was played by Miss Mary Mays, of Waterford, Va., a college friend of the bride. Miss Kathrynne Ross, another former college chum, sang. The bride and her friends attended Blackstone College, Blackstone, Va.

The ceremony was witnessed only by the immediate families, after which a wedding breakfast was served. A reception was held this afternoon, from 1 to 3 o'clock. After a trip north, Mr. and Mrs. Garrison will live at Ten Hills, Baltimore, Md.

Edmanson—Backof

Raymond E. Edmanson son of Mr. and Mrs. George Edmanson of this town and Miss Frances F. Backof of Elkton were quietly married on Saturday evening at the Presbyterian Manse by Rev. William J. Rowan. The bride was attended by Miss Edmanson, a sister of the groom. After the ceremony the young couple left for a honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside in Newark.

Davis—Campbell

In the presence of the immediate families, Miss Beulah Campbell, daughter of Mrs. George Campbell of Iron Hill, and Alfred H. Davis also of that place, were married last night at the home of the bride.

Miss Ethel Campbell of this town a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white georgette crepe, hand-embroidered, and carried white sweet peas. She was unattended.

The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and ferns with green and white the predominant colors.

Following the ceremony which was performed by Rev. J. P. Otis formerly pastor of the Newark M. E. church, the young people motored to Newark where they boarded a northbound train. After a brief honeymoon spent at Atlantic City they will reside on a farm at Iron Hill recently purchased by the groom.

Distinguished Officers To Be Here For Commencement

General W. H. Gordon writes that he will attend the Commencement of Delaware College on Monday, June 14. The General was formerly the Commandant of cadets at the College. His tenure in this office was cut short by the breaking out of the Spanish American War, into which he threw himself with great ardor. The letter states that he and Mrs. Gordon look back upon their tour of duty at Delaware College with fond recollection. General Gordon has just seen the ground plan for the development of the College which interested him very much and which he hopes to visualize on the campus during his visit at Commencement. He is drawn back to the College by reason of the fact that Commencement marks the fiftieth anniversary of the reopening of the College after the Civil War.

George Leroy Brown, Colonel U. S. Army, retired, writes likewise that he and Mrs. Brown expect to be present at the Commencement and adds: "My Grandfather, when he visited me at West Point, said in parting, 'Remember that the happiest man is the one that can call up the greatest number of pleasant memories.' Certainly it has been a constant source of delight to me to recall the delightful friendships formed during the tour of duty at Delaware College."

It is a noteworthy fact that these distinguished officers have cherished the memory of the College and retain their interest in its growth.

W. H. M. S. Of M. E. Church To Have Big Meeting

The auxiliary of the W. H. M. S. of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. T. T. Martin, Friday, April 9th at 2.30. This is the "Great Spring Business Meeting," with an especially interesting program by a very able leader.

Mary T. Williams, Sec'y.

CHURCHES CELEBRATE JOYOUS HOLIDAY

Large Attendance Despite Inclemency of Weather

Easter was celebrated with more than the usual ceremony this year and church attendance in spite of the typical rainy Easter weather was exceptionally good.

The morning service at the Episcopal church was devoted to the administering of the sacrament. The Trinity lights given to the church some time ago by Mr. and Mrs. D. Lee Rose were blessed at the early service and lighted for the first time at the 11 o'clock service. The altar decorations were very effective.

According to custom, potted plants were presented to the choir members by the congregation in appreciation of their services during the year. Easter eggs were given to the children of the Sunday School. The children of the primary class were given a treat by Mrs. Dobson who presented each child with an egg containing his name.

A huge candy Easter egg was presented to the pastor.

The evening service was very well attended and a strong Easter sermon preached by the rector, Rev. Walter G. Haupt. Special Easter music was rendered by the choir augmented by a number of new voices.

Presbyterian Church Activities

At the Presbyterian church illness among the choir members and the rainy weather interfered somewhat with the plans for Easter music, but a special program was, nevertheless given. The Easter sermon, "The Witnesses of the Resurrection," was a clear and effective exposition of that glorious event. Rev. Howard Gray of Louisiana assisted with the service. The choir is practicing for a cantata which the members hope to give on Sunday evening, April 18.

The libretto will be in the hands of the audience, a fact which will increase the enjoyment of the production.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society will meet in the Sunday school room tomorrow afternoon at 2.30.

An important meeting of the congregation will be held Wednesday evening, April 14th for the purpose of electing seven trustees.

Eminent Frenchman Praises Actor

M. Chabrier-Ribaud, the eminent French authority on Oriental languages and customs, paid a glowing tribute to the artistry of Sessue Hayakawa after viewing "The Dragon Painter," the Japanese star's most recent production which will be seen at the Opera House Tuesday, April 13.

The noted French critic has been an ardent admirer of Hayakawa for many years, having first been attracted by the actor's remarkable talent while with the Imperial Japanese Dramatic Company in Tokio several years ago.

"M. Hayakawa possesses every requisite of the supreme artist," said M. Chabrier-Ribaud. "He has dramatic instinct to a remarkable degree, extraordinary facility and variety of facial expression, and is endowed, above all, with an appreciation of the beautiful which finds an outlet in such exquisite dramatic creations as 'The Dragon Painter.'"

THE TOUR OF A SMILE

My papa smiled this morning when He came downstairs, you see,
At mamma, and when he smiled, then
She turned and smiled at me;
And when she smiled at me, I went
And smiled at Mary Ann
Out in the kitchen, and she lent
It to a hired man.

So then he smiled at some one whom
He saw when going by,
Who also smiled and ere he knew
Had twinkles in his eye;
So he went to his office then
And smiled right at his clerk,
Who put some more ink on the pen
And smiled back from his work.

So when his clerk went home, he smiled Right at his wife, and she Smiled over at their little child
As happy as could be;
And then their little child she took The smile to school, and when She smiled at teacher from her book
Teacher smiled back again.

And then the teacher passed on one
To little James McBride,
Who couldn't get his lesson done
No matter how he tried;
And Jamesy took it home and told
How teacher smiled at him,
When he was tired and didn't scold
But said, "Don't worry, Jim."

And when I happened to be there
That very night to play,
His mother had a smile to spare
Which came across my way;
And then I took it after a while Back home and mamma said:
"Here is that very self-same smile
Come back with us to bed."

PLANNING AND PLANTING THE FRONT YARDS

Arrangement of Shrubs Important in Breaking Lines Between House and Lawn

The day has passed when a shrub can be planted anywhere in the front yard. There is a particular place for the shrub or it is out of place. L. H. Bailey says:
"Where to plant is really more important than what to plant."

Aside from the ever-present necessity of neat and clean grounds, the attractiveness of the front yard is dependent upon three principles: (1) "Tying" the house down to the ground with occasional shrubs and vines so placed that they will not crowd each other but will break the severe lines between the house and the lawn. (2) Choosing and arranging these shrubs with one, two, or three kinds as a basis. (3) Leaving the centers in lawns free of unnecessary walks, drives, piles of stones, or pieces of statuary.

A home could be attractively planted with either of two groups of plants—those that are not native and therefore must be purchased or grown from cuttings and those that are native and easily available. The native plants are to be preferred, since they not only decorate the home, but attract the birds by providing shelter and food throughout the winter months.

A suggestive list of the plants
is given herewith:

Shrubs.—Abelia, althaea, barberry, deutzia, forsythia, hydrangea, Japanese quince, dwarf euonymus, lilac, privet, roses, spiraea, snowball, syringa, weigela.

Vines.—Boston ivy, clematis, English ivy, wistaria, climbing roses, climbing euonymus.

Transplanting.—Many shrubs are stunted by careless planting.
The hole in which the shrub is to be placed should be deep enough so that good loam may be filled in for the new roots to feed upon and the shrub placed at the same depth it was before. It should also be wide enough for the roots to be well spread out. The shrub should be placed erect and the soil thoroughly packed around the roots. To balance the loss of roots, half of the branches should be removed at time of planting.

Pruning.—The shrubs and vines used to beautify the home should require very little care or attention other than the removal of old, dead, broken, or rubbing branches.
Shrubs in the back yard to be used as screens or to supply flowers should be pruned as follows:
Spring flowering shrubs, such as forsythia, should be pruned immediately after blooming. Summer and fall flowering shrubs, such as roses, should be severely pruned in the early spring before the buds open.

The Selling Game

A merchant of international reputation gives in a recent issue of a prominent trade journal, the following excellent advice to storekeepers and others who make a living by selling something. And after all whatever a man's trade or profession his living is made by selling something, whether it be merchandise or the work of head or hand.

He says:
"Impress your customer with the idea that he needs what you have to offer. Sometimes the less pressure brought to bear, the quicker this is accomplished.
Make your opening argument like that of a good lawyer. Present your case and array your evidence of worth, also as a good lawyer does. In other words, use tact with every prospective customer.
No two merchants are alike in their thought and methods; consequently, no fixed set of rules can be laid or formula given to attain point of efficiency. Sufficient to say that the following has a great deal to do with the make-up of a successful storekeeper:

First. Loyalty to self and customer.

Second. Personal appearance;
spick-and-span merchandise.

Third. Character and habits;
no late hours.

Fourth. Enthusiasm, life and 'ginger.'

Fifth. Understanding of human nature, to see things as they are.

Sixth. Knowledge; know the goods you deal in.

Seventh. Ability to analyze yourself and others."

The Home Paper

The home paper! How it ties those who have gone to far-off places, to other conditions and surroundings, to the faith of their forbears to the plain, simple, normal life of rural America! One is surprised when one looks over the "list" and sees where the paper goes, "out of the county." The Messenger for the past 65 years has been going to Massachusetts and Virginia; to England and California; to Oklahoma and Canada;
to Australia and the many busy but grimy mill towns of western Pennsylvania—in short to all the marts of trade and turmoil, wither our youth fare forth to win their spurs, and where too often they find instead of fame, failure;
in place of wealth, travail of soul;
and a weariness of the flesh for health and happiness. To these, the "home paper" causes many a smile of fond recollection; a re-focussing of perspective; a new balancing of comparative values; a courage to go in the way that is right; and above all an unshaken and unshakable faith in truth and freedom; a belief in real democracy and a hatred for autocracy, whether it is of a kaiser or of some malcontent, who knows not what he really does believe, except that he is against anything that has been and is, and in favor of anything that he fancies may be, utterly regardless of either cause or effect.—Arthur Brownlee, in Indiana (Pa.) Messenger.

My Ford Is My Chariot

The Ford is my chariot.
I shall not want.
It maketh me to lie down in wet places.

It destroyeth my soul.
It leadeth me into the deep waters.

It leadeth me into the paths of ridicule for its name's sake.

It prepareth a breakdown for me in the presence of mine enemies.

I will fear more evil when it's with me.

Its rods and its shafts discomfort me.

It anointeth my face with oil.
Its water boileth over.

Surely to goodness, if Lizzie follow me all the day of my life,

I shall dwell in the house of the Nuts forever.—Exchange.

"If all the poems I have written
Were piled upon a pile,
And they were with a candle litten,
You could see the blaze a mile.

But—all the gold I have gotten
For them poems I have wrote,
Wouldn't hurt the feeblest kitten
If poured molten down its throat".

Have some aigs dis mornin' jedge," asked the waiter.

"Not this morning, Sam," replied the man of the bench, adjusting his spectacles preparatory to distinguishing the name of some dish on the menu from the fly specs.

"Ever try our fresh boiled aigs, jedge?"

"Yes, indeed, Sam; and found 'em guilty."

To Eastern women love means everything, and many are the charms and spells they practice to keep the love of their sweethearts or husbands.

It has been demonstrated that women prompters' voices are more distinct on the stage and are less audible in the auditorium than men's voices.

"Before the Civil war there was not a woman teacher in the schools of the United States," was the declaration of Dr. Aurelia H. Reinhardt, president of Mills College, Oakland, California, in a recent lecture in Salt Lake, Utah. "There were no women's colleges, and Abraham Lincoln signed the bill which made it possible for women to have the opportunity of an education at coeducational institutions."

Mixed Corn Brings Lower Prices

Farmers in the Southern States are losing money because so much of their shelled corn grades
"mixed," according to reports received by the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture. It grades "mixed" because of the large percentage of straw-colored kernels which it contains.

The demand in this section of the country is for white corn for making meal and grits, and millers will usually pay a premium to get it. To class as "white" under Federal standards corn must contain at least 98 per cent by weight of white kernels. More than 2 per cent of straw-colored, yellow, red, or any other color puts it in the
"mixed" class.

If the corn is husked before shelling, ears containing colored kernels can be sorted out and used for feed on the farm. The best way, however, to have white corn for market is to plant only pure white seed.

Automobile Owners To Have Digest Of Traffic Regulations

The Public Safety Committee of the Delaware Safety Council has sent by mail to every automobile owner in the state a digest of the principal traffic regulations and motor vehicle laws applying to Wilmington, Delaware. In all, 14,000 copies of the digest have been sent out by mail. The Safety Council has also placed 6,000 copies of the digest in the hands of Justices of the Peace and the Secretary of State, who are authorized by law to issue licenses in order to make certain that every automobile owner who takes his license out after this date will also be properly informed of the laws.
After calling attention to the increasing number of deaths from motor accidents, the leaflet gives through directions as to driving, stopping, parking, lights and regulations in general. The leaflet has been approved by the Board of Directors of the Street and Sewer Department; J. W. Huxley, Jr.,
City Solicitor, and P. Warren
Green, Deputy Attorney General.

Men and Young Men

Leaves No Room for Improvement in Quality, Style, Service and Value

There's no man so extravagant he can afford to buy inferior clothing, and there never was a time when it was imperative that a man look carefully to the quality and viceability of his clothes.

Buying the Best, Whatever Price You Pay, is the Economy, and Our Maker-to-Wearer Policy of Selling sures You the Best Here at An Appreciable Saving on You'd Pay Anywhere Else.

A garment should be judged by the amount of service and satisfaction it gives—not by how much money you pay for it when you buy it, but how much value you get out of it. For forty-seven consecutive years, Snellenburg Clothing Men have given the maximum of satisfaction and wear at minimum of cost.

Fruit Growers Confident of Big Crop

Growers of fruits of all kinds in lower Delaware now feel sure they will have this year the best crops they have had in the past decade. Last winter continued cold enough from the first of December to keep the buds from swelling, and the apple, peach, pear and cherry trees are in a very healthy condition. The prospects for fine crops of strawberries, blackberries, grapes and all kinds of fruit grown in Sussex are excellent. Owners of the fruit farms are plowing their orchards and putting the land in good shape.

The great question with many farmers is what to do about growing tomatoes, and many of the large growers here say they will not raise them for the canners unless the latter will promise 50 cents a basket. The packers say they will not enter into contracts, but take the chances on buying in the open market.

Most of the farmers around here are members of the Milford Fruit Exchange, which is said to have paid a good dividend to each stockholder for last year's operations.

Delaware First State in Vocational Education

Delaware is the best organized state in the North Atlantic Region consisting of eleven states, for vocational education. This was the statement made recently by Mr. C. H. Lane, Federal Agent for the Federal Board of Vocational Education after he had thoroughly inspected the work and organization of the State Bureau of Vocational Education located at Delaware College. This department under the able direction and supervision of Dr. R. W. Heim has been steadily growing in efficiency during the past year and has reached a high standard of usefulness in every part of the state. The energy and ability of the State Director, coupled with his practicality, good sense, and understanding of conditions in the state, has won the respect of the patrons of the schools and of the shops where vocational education has been introduced. The students have been taught to do practical things. Wherever teacher conferences or institutes have been held in the state, the young people have been called upon to demonstrate their ability and in every case have made a sufficiently good showing.

to win favorable comment from officials and teachers in attendance.

The incidents related here as taking place in the Southern part of the state are typical:

Home Economics Departments Entertain

The Frankford Home Economics pupils entertained all the pupils in the vocational departments of agriculture and Home Economics both at Selbyville and Frankford last Friday. Games were played and refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. All enjoyed a very good time.

The Seaford Home Economics girls entertained the Athletic Association of the Seaford High School Monday night. One large table decorated with green crepe paper and candles presented a very attractive appearance. The girls were divided into groups i. e. hostesses, cooks and waitresses. The refreshments consisted of sandwiches, hot chocolate and home made candy. Singing and school yells were a vital part of the program. A few members of the school board entered into the activities and expressed their appreciation of the way in which the girls showed their hospitality.

Home Economics Departments Cooperate at Institutes

The girls in the Home Economics department at Millsboro under the guidance of Miss Florence Becker served a luncheon to sixteen teachers on Saturday. The girls brought in suggestions for the menus and the following menu was chosen: Salmon Loaf, Creamed Peas, Pickled Beets, Lettuce sandwiches, Norwegian Prune pudding, and coffee. The food was served at cost price. The girls brought table cloths, silver etc., from home as no equipment for serving could be afforded the first year. One merchant in Millsboro gave a pound of coffee and another loaned dishes and glasses. The girls received compliments both on the luncheon and on the appearance of the room. One of the guests remarked, "The room has a decided feminine touch."

The Laurel Home Economics girls served luncheon to the teachers who attended the joint meeting for the Seaford and Laurel teachers on Saturday. The department was in immaculate condition and the luncheon was prepared and served splendidly. The

MODEL ONE-TEACHER COLORED SCHOOLS TO BE ERECTED

First to be Constructed from duPont Fund at Christiana, Hockessin and Marshallton

Three one-teacher colored schools will be built as rapidly as conditions will permit, at Christiana, Hockessin and Marshallton. The work will be begun this week.

The site for these buildings, the first to be constructed out of the duPont Trust Fund, has been the subject of much study on the part of the State Board of Education. They are to serve as models of varying types to which school men may look until final plans for a state-wide building program are adopted.

The schools designed by Guilbert and Betelle, architects, of Newark, N. J., are to be attractively modern, conforming to the best that is known in one-school building—standard in every detail and a model for the homes of the community.

The construction work will be done by the duPont Engineering Company under the direction of A. J. Taylor.

At Hockessin the new colored school building is to be of brick veneer with slate roof. An attractive porch features the center of the front wall, with cloak and toilet rooms on either side; the dimensions of the building are 46 feet 6 inches by 31 feet 4 inches. A vestibule leads to the school room proper, in size 23x32 feet. Windows occupy the entire rear wall space. To the left of the schoolroom is a work-room 23x11, to be equipped for manual training and cooking classes. The schools will be furnished with moveable furniture so that the building may be adaptable to evening use for adult community gatherings. The site for the new building adjoins the Odd Fellows Hall, in the center of the village, and includes about two acres.

The school at Marshallton is, on the contrary, to be a frame building located on a lot adjoining and including the site of the present school building. The entrance, cloak and toilet rooms are at the extreme left, the windows on the side, and the work room in the rear resulting in a building having practically the same space but entirely different in appearance from the Hockessin building.

At Christiana the new school is to be located on the easterly side of the road running from Christiana to Stanton, north of the town proper, and not more than one-quarter of a mile from the present school. It is very similar to the Marshallton school so far as general specifications are concerned, differing only in general arrangement. Here the windows will occupy the front wall and the workroom will lie to the rear of the schoolroom. The schools are being built to accommodate 45 children. It is believed they will be complete in about six weeks, and each cost from ten to twelve thousand dollars. Immediately following their completion and in the light of the experience thus obtained, building operations on a state-wide scale, so far as colored schools are concerned, will be begun.

Would Change Number Of Levy Court Members

Wilmington and New Castle county are deeply interested in a bill presented in the House by Representative Danzenbaker which has for its purpose the abolition of the present Levy Court and its replacement with a new body of three members, instead of seven as at present.

The measure specifies the following election districts from which the members shall be elected: Wilmington, 1; Brandywine, Christiana, Mill Creek, White Clay Creek, New Castle Creek, 1; Red Lion, Pencader, St. Georges, Appoquinimink, Blackbird, 1. It provides for a salary of $5,000 annually for each member.

While the bill provides that the present body should be removed, it also makes provision that the three members who hold over at the fall election shall not be affected until their terms expire. The purpose is to advance the commission form of government idea. Representative Danzenbaker also presented a bill providing that the New Castle county grand jury shall be composed of 12 members instead of 24, as at present.

Opera House Offerings

Something About "The Willow Tree"

Cherry blossoms under a red moon of Nippon is the setting for the beautiful oriental fantasy, "The Willow Tree," which will be given next Monday night as a High School Alumni benefit.

In this production starring Miss Viola Dana she has the most colorful and picturesque role of her career, that of the appealing little Japanese maiden who came to life from a wooden image.

Ned Hamilton left England for Japan, after being jilted by his fiancée for a richer man. How he bought a wooden image from an old wood-carver, and how it came to life in the form of a Japanese girl, whom Hamilton came to love, only to lose her at last, is but a part of this delightful fantasy of old Japan. It is a beautiful love story beautifully produced.

It is a gorgeous picture, wherein ancient legend and modern fact meet in a warring clash of interests. It is the heart of pagan Japan, exotic and colorful, and permeated with the sweetest and most romantic of love stories.

Business Reserves

In receiving credit lines, in providing for improvements or for future expansion, in safeguarding against depression the RESERVE shown in the business statement is a dominant factor.

If a liberal reserve is gradually set apart from ordinary business assets, a fund may be accumulated which will be quickly available in an emergency. Liberty Bonds now held by business institutions would make an excellent nucleus for such a reserve.

It is as logical for a Business to create a reserve as for an individual. The "Equitable Trust Plan" offers the ideal method. The executive should study its merits, not only as a business expedient but for his personal adoption as well.

Ask for our booklet "The Equitable Trust Plan" for creating and enlarging an estate.

London during the Zeppelin air raids can best be obtained by viewing "Boots," the unique character play in which bewitching young Dorothy Gish, of "Little Disturber" fame, will appear at the Opera House next Wednesday. Much has been written and said about the actions of the people during those trying times when the Huns swept over the city and dropped their tons of death on the fear-stricken population. But Miss Gish can show just what people in their homes did, for she experienced nine air raids during her stay in London.

Miss Dorothy states that it was a common occurrence for people in London to have their tubs so arranged that two people could crawl under the inverted tub and thus protect themselves from falling timbers in case explosions should occur close to the building.

But the way Dorothy does it in "Boots" is funny, and you don't think near as seriously about the air raid as she does.

Empey Helps Wounded Soldiers

Guy Empey, who will be seen as the star in "The Undercurrent," which comes to the Opera House Theatre on April 10, is one of the few men who believes in practicing what he preaches. He doesn't go around telling everyone to help the returned soldier and then sit down and fold his hands, content that he has done his share toward giving a square deal to the boys who have come back. The sergeant's plan is to persuade everyone to help the boys and to do all in his power toward lending them a helping hand himself.

He has bought a semi-professional baseball team which he has renamed the "Treat 'Em Roughs."

who play every Sunday at DuPont Oval, in New York. He has his military band on hand to motion picture stars to entertain the crowds. Between innings, motion pictures of the fans are taken which are shown during the week at local theatres. All this is done for a worthy cause. The proceeds from these games are turned over to a fund to buy artificial limbs for wounded soldiers.

NEWARK OPERA HOUSE PROGRAM WEEK BEGINNING

Thursday 8th

Friday 9th

Nazimova in "Stronger Than Death," the mystery of the far East, the thrill of lurking danger and the fascination of an ennobling love romance are crowded into Metro's picturization of I. A. R. Wylie's powerful novel, which is the latest picture of the brilliant Nazimova. Also, a two-reel comedy "Washerwoman's War."

Saturday 10th

Guy Empey, the actor, fighter and writer, in "The Undercurrent." This picture tells the story of the evil forces that underlie life, and that seek to pull down that which man builds up in his best moments. News and a two-reel Sennet comedy, "Rip and Stitch Tailor."

Monday 12th

Viola Dana in "The Willow Tree," the beautiful fantasy of old Japan, a romantic comedy of the most delicious kind. The legend of the image, carved from the heart of the willow tree, that love calls to life in the form of a beautiful maiden.

Tuesday 13th

Sessue Hayakawa in "The Dragon Painter," a beautiful legend of Japan. One of the most picturesque spots of the Yosemite Valley has been used as a location—also, the famous Japanese Tea Gardens at Coronado, Cal., proclaimed by critics of pictures to rank with the most beautiful productions ever screened. Also, "School House Scandal," a two-reel Sunshine comedy.

Wednesday 14th

Dorothy Gish in "Boots" Old shoes are strange places in which to look for romance, treason and intrigue, but Dorothy Gish found them there. It's the same funny Dorothy Gish who played in "Battling Jane" and "The Hope Chest."

Attention! Former High School Students

RESOLVED, That Article 3 of the Constitution and By-Laws be amended, making eligible for membership all former students of the Newark High School who have completed one-half of the course of study offered at the time of their enrollment, upon application to the Secretary of the Association, and subject to acceptance by two-thirds of the Executive Board of the Association.

The above Resolution was passed at the last annual meeting of the Newark High School Alumni Association. All who are eligible are most cordially invited to become members of the Association. Forward application to Miss Lydia R. Fader, Secretary, Newark, Delaware, before May first.

National Guard of Delaware to be Reorganized

It is desired to reorganize the National Guard of Delaware on lines acceptable to those who will give it their active support and to form a unit that will preserve the identity of the State of Delaware, and to this end an expression of opinion from those interested is requested on the blank form below as indicated. The importance of the National Guard as a State force is recognized by all, and the part the National Guard of the United States took in the late war shows conclusively its value as a National Military Asset.

Drill and instruction average one night per week, also two weeks field training each year.

Fill out form below, sign it, cut out, and mail to Box No. 107, Wilmington, Delaware.

I prefer the branch of service marked and will enlist in this branch if it can be organized under the regulations prescribed for the National Guard of Delaware.
