POSTMASTER APPOINTMENT THE GREAT ISSUE

HOSSINGER WITHDRAWS PARTY LEADERSHIP FIGURES IN THE CONTEST

The Postmaster appointment still occupies the center of the stage. The College Endowment, the Jacobs decision, even the new printing plant down Depot Road, take minor place beside the Postmaster contest. As predicted last week, Hossinger withdrew. Rather than settle this muddled the issue, practically every one in Newark, candidates included, conceded the office to Mr. Hossinger if he wanted it. Here is where Saulsbury made his usual mistake. Instead of making the appointment and dealing with a few disappointments, he has now the citizens of three hundreds interested, all forming opinions, practically all adverse to the Senator. The most staunch Saulsbury men have refrained from defending his action. So much has this opinion gained ground, that business judgment instead of politics is playing a part. With Hossinger out Bowen has gained more than either of the other candidates. It is understood that the Fisher following is breaking up with a growing tendency to Bowen. In a contest of this kind, Bowen's history works in his favor. His Democracy is unquestioned yet he has never taken part in the petty party squabbles. This gives him an advantage over Fisher. As a leader of the Eastern district, Fisher naturally has made political enemies as well as friends. It is questionable whether the vote there will show him the real leader.

McMullen is at a disadvantage by not being a resident of the hundred. This of course is the result of a sentiment rather than legal. He has a perfect right to serve as postmaster. The legality is not questioned but there is a sentiment against him on that ground and it is growing. One Democrat said, "I have no opposition to Mr. McMullen except on that ground. He is not, nor ever has been, a part of the life of this community. Under any other circumstances he would admit it."

McMullen had strength with the leaders. No man in the contest has the political backing that he has. By political backing, we mean, the majority of the County Committee, the majority of the State Committee. Aside from these, he had letters from many of the leading Democrats in Newark. An amusing circumstance (there may be several) he had a letter from a Newark man favorable to Hossinger. Not anticipating this turn of events, he wrote the letter, fully expecting Hossinger to receive the appointment. This man is bound to McMullen. At the beginning of the contest McMullen could have brought more pressure to bear on the Senator than any man in the (continued on page 8)

Army Trucks Pass Through Newark

Ten autocar trucks, belonging to the U. S. Army, passed through Newark on Tuesday, enroute from Plattsburg Camp to Washington. There were in the train nine trucks used in the quarter-master's department, and an ambulance from the Red Cross, each car floating a large American flag.

High Grade Poultry Stock At Farm

The Delaware College Farm is importing from Mr. Tom Barron of England twelve Buff Plymouth Rock pullets, which Mr. Barron had reserved for his own use. In addition to these, representative pens of six other breeds have been secured. Honorable O. A. Newton of Bridgeville, whose pen of birds in the Fourth Egg Laying Competition now closing, leads all Delaware entries, doated some White Plymouth Rocks. From Captain Ward Daisy of Frankford, Del., were secured a number of Brown Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds and Buff Orpingtons were given by Mr. Barr of Lancaster, Pa. His enthusiasm in promoting the development of these two breeds has pushed them to the front in egg-laying competitions. Mr. A. A. Christian, the owner of Eglantine Farms, Greensboro, Maryland, has given twenty-five White Leghorn pullets of the same breeding as his wonderful hen, Lady Eglantine, which now has a record of 310 eggs in 359 days, in the Fourth Competition. It is the purpose of the College to import a cockerel from the flock of Mr. Tom Barron to mate with these high class pullets. The college has in the present competition a pen of Buff Plymouth Rocks and is to have in the next competition a pen of Black Langshans bred by Myer & Sons of Missouri. Mr. Polard is mating up pens of these various breeds with the idea of supplying hatching eggs from them. The college has purchased for its own use eight Buckeye Colony Houses for accommodating this breeding stock and the birds will be used for class room and experimental work as well as for the production of eggs for hatching purposes.

Retired In Recognition Of Services

Delaware State Corn Show

Preparations are being made for the Ninth Annual State Corn Show to be held in Seaford, December 8-11, 1915. Seaford is the first town in the State, aside from Wilmington, to ask officially, through its Board of Trade, for the Corn Show. The Delaware Corn Growers' Association decided upon Seaford as the location for the 1915 meeting largely because of the interest manifested by the business men of Seaford and the nearby farmers, who filed a petition including more than one hundred names.

Premiums amounting to nearly five hundred dollars will be offered for the best samples of corn, wheat, rye, oats, clover seed, soy beans, cowpeas, etc.

A program including addresses by prominent corn growers and investigators will be given during the session.

Write E. A. Grantham, Secretary-Treasurer, Delaware Corn Growers' Association for premium list.

Prof. Rich Visits Ocean View

Professor M. E. Rich, of the Women's College, visited the public schools of Ocean View on Monday. In the afternoon she addressed the Home-Makers' School in the town, which has been a great success. In the evening Miss Rich organized a parent-teacher association with thirty charter members.

HALF MILLION GIFT TO DELAWARE

DONOR'S NAME UNKNOWN

The latest development in the plan for a greater Delaware College, is the recent announcement of a gift of a half million dollars. The following account, from the Evening Journal of Saturday, October 23, gives all the facts that have at this date been made public.

"Delaware College, at Newark, is to receive a gift of a half million dollars from a man who stipulates that his name shall be kept secret, according to an announcement made this morning by Henry B. Thompson, of this city, chairman of the executive committee of trustees of the college.

"Of the $500,000 gift, $300,00 is to be used for new buildings and improvements of the college, while $200,000 shall go into an endowment fund for the maintenance of buildings.

"The State will be put to no additional financial burden by the erection of new buildings with the gift, for the proceeds of the endowment fund will be applied toward maintaining the imposing structures to be erected.

"This splendid contribution of a half million dollars to Delaware College, is in addition to the money recently presented by a man whose name is withheld from the public for the purchase of a great tract of land extending from Delaware College to the Women's College, to be used as a site for new buildings to be erected according to a comprehensive plan looking fifty years into the future.

"It is proposed that Delaware College shall become one of the foremost in the land, with a rank equal to that of Dartmouth. Certainly, should the comprehensive project as outlined in drawings and sketches by Architect Day, an expert on college architectural development, be carried out, Delaware College would become the foremost State College in the country.

The gift of $500,000 was communicated to the executive committee of the college trustees at a meeting held last night at the home of Henry B. Thompson, at Greenville. A letter was received from the donor setting forth his desire to give the money for the development of the college, and imposing secrecy as to his identity. The offer came as a most pleasant surprise to the members of the executive committee, and the gift was accepted by that committee subject to the action of the board of trustees of the college. It goes without saying that the trustees will be glad to accept the gift and confirm the action of the executive committee.

The committee on new buildings of which H. Rodney Sharp, of this city, is chairman, has been in consultation with Day & Klauder, architects, of Philadelphia, relative to plans and specifications for the new buildings, according to the scheme of comprehensive development.

"The first building to be considered probably will be for the science side of the institution's activities—agriculture, laboratories, etc.

"The next meeting of the college trustees will be held on November 30, at Newark.

Chairman Thompson, of the executive committee, was authorized at the meeting last night to appoint a special committee to consider the question of the future of the fraternity houses at the college. Under the new system proposed (continued on page 4)

JACOBS WINS SUIT

Supreme Court Confirms Former Verdict

At a special term of the Delaware Supreme Court, held in Wilmington, at noon yesterday an opinion was handed down by Judge Boyce in the case of Samuel B. Herdman, treasurer of the town of Newark, Del., vs. State of Delaware upon the relation of Lynwood R. Jacobs, the case being one in which Jacobs, who had a contract with the town of Newark to construct a sewer, presented his bill for the balance alleged to be due him for material and labor amounting to $5,970.62 to the town treasurer, who refused to pay the same.

Jacobs brought suit in the Superior Court of New Castle county, where he received judgment for the full amount. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court and that court yesterday affirmed the decision of the court below, taxing the costs in the case on the Town Council of Newark.

The details of the case will be given in a later issue.

Next Sunday morning Mr. Haupt will preach especially to the men of the parish.

On Nov. 29, in this church there will be an Advent Mission lasting for a week, the special preacher each night being the Rev. Election Day Draws Nigh In Eight States

Importance Of Suffrage Test Indicated

Eight states, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio and Mississippi, will hold elections on Tuesday, November 2.

In four of these states, Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi, governors are to be elected; in six states, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Kentucky and Mississippi, the state legislatures, in whole or in part, are to be elected, and in five states, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ohio, important constitutional issues are to be decided.

With a few exceptions, in fact, these constitutional questions will be the dominant issues on election day, including as they do such fundamental matters as woman suffrage, municipal home rule, prohibition, state income, taxes, referendum plans and some lesser reforms.

The woman suffrage question will come up for decision in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, which states will furnish, in point of population, the greatest test the suffrage issue has ever had in the United States. New Jersey, the first state in the East to vote on equal suffrage, defeated the proposition at a special election given over exclusively to the suffrage question on October 19. While it has been held by some political observers that the result of the test in New Jersey would be reliably indicative of what might be expected in the three bigger neighboring states, the suffrage leaders have not been discouraged by the big majority with which the issue was defeated in New Jersey, and look forward to the bigger tests with confidence.

The importance of this fact is indicated by the fact that, in point of population, the states of New York, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts which will vote on suffrage November 2, include over 20 million people—a fifth of the population of the entire United States—and these 20,000,000 are practically double the population of the states in which equal suffrage has as yet been fully achieved.

BIG DAY AT WOMEN'S COLLEGE

First Anniversary To Be Marked With Exercises

Next Saturday promises to be an extremely interesting day to students of the Women's College of Delaware, and all those interested in the development of the institution. The occasion, which marks the first anniversary of the college, will be observed by appropriate exercises. The feature of the day will be the planting of trees, given to the college by the New Century Club of Wilmington. The Club handed over $50 for this purpose, to the college authorities about a year ago, and Mrs. J. Allen Colby, president of the Club, and other officers will be prominent in the planting exercises. No invitations are being issued and everybody interested will be most cordially welcome.

Chancellor Charles M. Curtis, of the Women's College Committee of the trustees, will preside at the exercises in Residence Hall at two o'clock, preceding the actual tree-planting. Following opening remarks by the Chancellor, the exercises will proceed as follows:

Mrs. Pennybacker, the only speaker from outside the State, is an interesting talker, known to club women as she spoke at a Federation several years ago. She is editor of the educational department in the Sunday edition of the Philadelphia Record.

Singing by the Glee Club will be an enlivening part of the program, and will be under the direction of Miss Marion Brassington, the new assistant in botany.

Friends Furnish New Home

A new home for Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Beerman, who were burned out of their old home at Christiana two weeks ago last Friday, has been provided by the Gospel Mission of Wilmington. The Mission has been working to provide the new comforts ever since the calamity occurred, in accordance with the ethics of loyalty and faith, held among its members. Mr. and Mrs. Beerman have taken up their residence at 904 West Second street, where every necessity of life was provided for them. The home was first secured, and then furnished, advance rent was paid, and coal placed in the cellar. Clothing was provided and food purchased before the owners were invited to their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Beerman lost all their worldly possessions in the fire. They have long been members of the little mission and band of forty workers, under the leadership of C. M. Thomas.

Rural Tax Collections

Rural hundred tax collectors have been hustling to collect the county taxes for 1915 and the taxables in general have learned that it is far better to pay the taxes early in the year and obtain the five per cent rebate than to allow the taxes to hang on and have to pay one per cent each month. Recent collections were as follows:

St. Georges	$13,915.72
Brandywine	19,759.97
White Clay Creek	10,929.14

New Heating Plant Being Installed At M. E. Church

Improvements representing an expenditure of $1200 are being made on the Newark M. E. church. A new up-to-date heating plant is being installed and lavatories placed in the basement. Owing to the fact that the church was built without a cellar, it has been necessary to dig and build at the rear of the church. The work is being so done that the masonry could serve as a foundation for an annex to the building. L. B. Jacobs of Newark is doing the work.

County Fair At Elkton

Much interest is manifested in the coming exhibit of home, farm and school products to be held on the old Fair Grounds, Elkton, October 27-28. There will be addresses at 2 p. m. each day on farm topics. The North East and the Rising Sun bands will attend on alternate days and on Wednesday evening, the Elkton band, the Elkton Orchestra, and the Snellenburg Quartette will give a musical entertainment in the Armory.

A BALLAD OF CHIVALRY

By O. R. Washburn

The hearse has passed, the mourners too, Elizabeth Ann is dead,
She is lying in the graveyard and the final word is said,
She has scrubbed and washed her weariest day and all her work is through.

They mourn her most sincerely and her age was fifty-two.

She brought up seven children, a mother good and true,
She tended them in sickness as a good wife ought to do,
She rose at dawn, unrested, and she went to bed half dead;
"She is quite a model woman" her loving husband said.

She scrubbed and swept and dusted, canned fruit and salted meat,
For sixteen hours a day she proved a household drudge complete,
She helped him when they butchered and she helped him when they hayed,
And she made the clothes and mended them and in the kitchen stayed.

Sometimes her burdens grieved him, and it bothered him a while,
So then he told her not to mind, to meet life with a smile,
And he carefully protected her, in his favor you will note
Though he let her work her heart out he never let her vote.

Her oldest son was drinking when the local option came;
She did not have to bear the toil of registering her name;
She did not have the burden, from her fireside forced to roam,
Of voting on an issue that might break up her home.

She had to gather kindling, she had to bring in wood,
She had to help pick apples and do everything she could,
But chivalry protected her; the men were proud to quote
The fact that with her trials she never had to vote.

She had an education, she had good common sense,
She had capacity for life and affections most intense,
She saw the loafers voting and she asked to have her say
But they told her she was far too weak to share election day.

They have finished up Elizabeth Ann, by men folks guarded well,
A younger wife will take her place and in her household dwell,
She is dead and gone to Heaven at the age of fifty-two
Though they never let her ballot, lest she have too much to do.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

President Wilson, naming Thursday, November 25, as the date, has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of changes, which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

"Another year of peace has been vouchsafed us; another year in which not only to take thought of our duty to ourselves and to mankind, but also to adjust ourselves to the many responsibilities thrust upon us by a war which has involved almost the whole of Europe. We have been able to assert our right and the rights of mankind without the breach of friendship with the great nations with whom we have had to deal; and while we have asserted rights, we have been able also to perform duties and exercise privileges of succor and helpfulness which should serve to demonstrate our desire to make the offices of friendship the means of truly disinterested and unselfish service. Our ability to serve all who could avail themselves of our services in the midst of crises has been increased, by a gracious Providence, by more and more abundant crops; our ample financial resources have enabled us to study the markets of the world and facilitate necessary movements of commerce which the war might have otherwise rendered impossible; and our people have come more and more to a sober realization of the part they have been called upon to play in a time when all the world is shaken by unparalleled distresses and disasters. The extraordinary circumstances of such a time has done much to quicken our national consciousness and deepen and confirm our confidences in the principles of peace and freedom by which we have always sought to be guided. Out of darkness and perplexity have come firmer counsels of politics and clearer perception of the essential welfare of the nation. We have prospered while other peoples were at war, but our prosperity has been vouchsafed us, we believe, only that we might the better perform the functions which war rendered it impossible for them to perform.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship, render thanks to Almighty God.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this 20th day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and fifteen, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundredth and fortieth.

"Woodrow Wilson,
By the President,
"Robert Lansing,
Secretary of State."

Fall From Window Fatal
Byron Ongley, producing manager of the theatrical company playing "The Eternal Magdalene" at the Playhouse in Wilmington, fell from a window on the third floor of the Hotel du Pont early on Saturday and was found lying unconscious on the sidewalk, clad in pajamas, by James Cheshire of 420 East Eleventh street. He was taken to Delaware Hospital where he died shortly after his arrival. Three members of the company had spent several hours with him in his room at the hotel and left him at 3.45 a. m.

New Method Of Composting Humus

Mr. J. N. Hoff, of the Alphano Humus Company, of Hackettstown, N. J., visited Dr. Manns of the department of soil bacteriology on October 8, for the purpose of consulting him about methods of composting humus to make it a more valuable product as a soil inoculator, a fertilizer, and a soil improver. During August Dr. Manns visited the plant of the Alphano Company and at that time outlined five different composts. The results have shown the product to be so much improved that the company has composted several tons according to his method. Now to continue the investigation for devising better methods of composting peat, Mr. Hoff contemplates establishing a fellowship in the Department of Soil Bacteriology at Delaware College for that purpose.

Governor Places Bond Issue

Governor Miller announced on Thursday that he had by personal effort succeeded in placing the $60,000 issue of 4 per cent bonds authorized at the last session of the Legislature for needed improvements at the Farnhurst State Hospital. Efforts to dispose of the bonds had failed and the trustees of the hospital were much troubled. They asked the Governor's aid and he, after several weeks' work, succeeded in placing the entire issue at par with accrued interest. The trustees will now be able to proceed with the much needed improvements. Governor Miller is receiving much commendation for his successful management of the matter.

posed for the college there will be dormitories, and that raises the question as to what the attitude shall be toward the fraternity houses. That special committee has not yet been appointed but following its appointment it will take up this question and hear recommendations from all sides.

Reports were received from the committee on agricultural finance, instruction and Women's College, at the meeting last night.

OLD DORMITORY TO BECOME COMMONS

Modern Science Building On Delaware Avenue

Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, president of Delaware College, made some announcements at chapel yesterday morning relative to the disposition of the $500,000, recently given to the college which was of special interest to the student body. Dr. Mitchell explained that about $50,000 of this amount is to be used in remodeling the old dormitory building, to make out of it a large commons for the student body. It was this announcement that was of special interest to the students and will also be interesting to all the old graduates and other friends of the college.

Dr. Mitchell, in discussing the matter, however, made it plain that the historic building is to be preserved as far as the exterior appearances of the structure are concerned. This was the first building erected on the campus more than half a century ago and although it has been added to since by the addition of wings the original building still stands and much sentiment is attached to it on the part of every one connected with the institution.

The interior, however, will be materially changed to fit it for the present day needs. When completed it will be a building devoted to the social and moral purposes of the college. In this building will be located the reading rooms, resting rooms, Y. M. C. A., literary societies and other social activities of the student body.

Dr. Mitchell, as well as everyone connected with the college, is elated over this latest gift to the institution. Dr. Mitchell states that every department is working in perfect harmony for the good of the institution. He further states that the development of the institution is the outgrowth of faithful work on the part of the alumni, trustees, faculty and student body for years past.

Of the remaining $450,000 it is likely that about $250,000 will be used for the erection of a modern Science Building. This building in addition to all the laboratories will house the agricultural interests of the college. The location has practically been decided on. It will be erected near the corner of Delaware Avenue and Depot Road at a point near where the present residence of Daniel Stoll is located. This property was purchased by the college last summer. While it is not known exactly when the work will be started the Supervising Architect is now preparing working plans and it is possible the work will be started this fall.

The remaining $200,000 will be used as an endowment for a maintenance fund.

Morning Meeting.

Two important committees of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, the arts and crafts of which Miss Mary E. Rich, professor of education of the Women's College, is chairman, and the educational committee of which Mrs. William H. Evans of Newark is chairman, will hold an open meeting and discussion in Science Hall in the morning at 11 o'clock. All interested are invited to this meeting also, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance as there are important matters pertaining to the college to be discussed.

Chief among these is the loan fund plan, by which the State Federation hopes to assist girls through college. They at present give an annual scholarship of $100 but it is thought that a loan fund will assist a number of girls and do a great deal more good. This is in charge of the educational committee. Another matter which Miss Rich is advocating is a State collection of pictures; 10,000 are desired to be loaned among the public schools, as a means of presenting geography, history, and art.

Those attending the morning session are to go provided with box luncheon, and coffee and tea will be served by the home economics department.

This will afford an opportunity for those who have not seen Science Hall to view its interior. Just this week the cataloguing of the Twitmyer Library was completed, some additional volumes were purchased, and it is to be opened next week for use. A model diningroom has been fitted up for the home economics department, the students voting for the choice of silver and china, and this in itself will be interesting to visitors. Then there is a new rest room fitted up for day students, so that there will be plenty to interest all visitors.

The committee having charge of next Saturday's exercises and those who will welcome the guests comprise: Mrs. Alfred D. Warner, chairman of the advisory council; Mrs. William P. Bancroft, Mrs. O.

Roy Young, a violinist on an eastern tour, from Oklahoma, played before the students of the Women's College at Chapel on Tuesday morning.

Students of the Women's College with a number of invited guests, on last Saturday evening thoroughly enjoyed a musical program rendered by Mr. Francis Wyatt, baritone of Hanover Presbyterian church, Wilmington. The program follows: The Violet, Mozart; The Wanderer, Schubert; None but the Lonely Heart, Tchaikovsky; The Maid Sings Light, and The Swan, MacDowell; Elliland, Bon Keltz; Prologue from Pagliacci. Mr. Wyatt was accompanied by Miss Haslett.

Students and members of the faculty at the Women's College have issued invitations to a Halloween party to be given at the College next Saturday evening. The girls have exercised their cleverness on the invitations which present a witch in awesome black, upon whose flowing garments there appears in white lettering the words:

"Come hither! Whither? To W. C. D. Date: 10-30 about 8.03. Hurrah! Hurrah!"

Mrs. Edward Cooch and Mrs. R. C. Reed entertained this afternoon about thirty friends, who met to sew and help swell the building fund of the New Century Club. Aside from the silver offering at the door, the ladies intend to sell carpet rags which they sewed during the afternoon. Dean Robinson was present and told of her western trip last summer. Mrs. S. C. Mitchell also gave an interesting talk.

New Century Club Meetings Resumed

Regular meetings of the Newark New Century Club will be resumed next Monday, November first. The meeting will open with a reunion song (words written by Mrs. E. W. Dawson). Business, Music, Vacation Talks, and an informal reception will follow. Light refreshments will be served. One member has introduced a novel plan for adding to the building fund by the offer of five cents for every membership fee, paid during the month of November. The Treasurer will be requested to keep a list of names, in the order of payment, which shall constitute a roll of honor to be read at a later meeting. It is hoped many members will win "Honors" next Monday. The meeting will convene in the Council Chamber at two thirty o'clock.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

St. John's Mission

Editor of the Post,

Sir:—I wonder how many non-Roman Catholics in Newark know of the stirring call to spiritual life and truth that is being uttered nightly this week at St. John's R. C. Church by the Rev. Father John D. Harney of New York. Probably not many judging from the scant attendance of Protestants in contrast to the large turn out of members of St. John's Church. Father Harney, like all members of the Paulist order, is a convert and his sermons are models of the mission preaching art—hortatory not dogmatic—designed first and last to bring his hearers to a true knowledge of God and to teach them in no uncertain tones that sin—mortal or venial—bears its inevitable punishment in the next life.

Father Harney's sermons are pure spirit and there has been nothing in them so far that is controversial—nothing to offend the susceptibilities of the most sensitive Protestant. I am not a Roman Catholic but I urge all those who would strengthen their religious life to hear this inspired and convincing preacher.

DELAWARE DEFEATS WESTERN MARYLAND

Second Home Game A Victory

Another victory for Delaware! The players for the Blue and Gold had little trouble in running up nineteen points last Saturday to six on the side of the players from Western Maryland College. Delaware played straight football, the game being featured by the work of the backfield in hitting the line. Taylor and Handy were good for a gain at all times; Fidance and Bratton got away on some long runs.

First Quarter

Delaware received the kickoff and by straight football carried the ball down the field for a touchdown. The fine line plunging of Handy and Taylor made this score possible. On the kick out the ball went to the twenty-five yard line. From here Taylor kicked a pretty goal.

Delaware then kicked to Western Maryland. A series of line plunges failed to gain and they were forced to punt. Bratton fumbled the kick and Meyers recovered the ball for the Marylanders. Near the close of this period, Smart recovered a fumble in midfield. The ball was then rushed to the visitors' thirty-yard line when the quarter ended. Score, Delaware, 7; Western Maryland, 0.

Second Quarter

Delaware carried the ball to their opponents fifteen yard line where Meyers intercepted a forward pass and ran twenty yards before Crothers brought him down. Delaware was pushed back to their own thirty yard line from where Keller attempted a goal from field. The ball went wide and Delaware chose to scrimmage from their twenty yard line. Taylor punted to midfield where Delaware again secured the ball after holding for downs. At this point, the "Blue and Gold" boys began another rush which resulted in their second touchdown, Captain Handy carrying the ball over. Taylor's punt out was bad and Delaware lost a chance for goal.

Delaware kicked off. Western Maryland carried the ball to mid-field on their first play, a forward pass to Langrell. Here the half ended.

Third Quarter

Western Maryland received the kick-off. On the second down, Bratton intercepted a forward pass and ran ten yards. The ball was carried to the twenty yard line where Western Maryland recovered a fumble. An exchange of punts gave the ball to the visitors on their own thirty yard line. Two successful forward passes resulted in a touchdown for the Maryland team. The try for goal failed.

Western Maryland kicked off to Delaware. Taylor made a thirty-five yard run through tackle. Repeated rushes carried the ball to the five-yard line. The whistle prevented Delaware from scoring in this quarter.

Delaware, 13; Western Maryland, 6.

Fourth Quarter

Taylor carried the ball over for the final score. The goal was missed.

Delaware kicked off. Fitzpatrick brought down Keller on the twenty-yard mark. Keller punted to Taylor. Delaware could not advance and was forced to kick, the ball rolling over the visitor's goal line. Two attempts at forward passing failed, compelling Western Maryland to kick out of danger. After Delaware had rushed the ball to the fifteen yard line, they lost it on downs. Western Maryland tried three unsuccessful forward passes, then kicked. A forward pass, O'Daniel to Smart, gave Delaware fifteen yards. Bratton, by a clever run carried the ball to the two-yard line. An end run was attempted without success and the game ended with the ball several inches from the goal line. The score:

Delaware Refuses Games

At a meeting of the Delaware Athletic Council it was decided to refuse the proposition made by the Columbia University football officials to play a game in New York on the Saturday before Thanksgiving. Delaware has a Thanksgiving game scheduled and for that reason turned down the Columbia game.

The Council also refused a basket ball proposition from the management of the University of Pennsylvania, for December eleventh. Delaware's basket ball schedule does not start until after the holidays, and therefore Coach McAvoy would not have a team in shape by the date mentioned.

Hunt Nuts And Make Money

The most valuable land in the world is in the Sahara Desert. It is made valuable by the date trees that cover every spot where enough water can be had to make them grow. This great land value comes because man has there utilized the productive power of the tree, nature's greatest engine of production. It is really remarkable that we in the United States have used trees so little to do our work for us.

An orchard of black walnuts, or shagbark hickories, or native hazels, or Ohio Valley pecans, with trees as good as the best wild ones now growing would be very, very valuable. Why don't we have them? Merely because we haven't noticed and haven't thought. It is high time we caught up with the people of the desert.

We happen to have a million good Baldwin apple trees, and another million good navel orange trees, because somebody took pains to tell about the original good wild trees that started the million. By budding and grafting, that one Baldwin apple tree has become the parent of many millions. We now know how to propagate all the nut trees, and can turn one good shagbark or black walnut or pecan or hazel into millions. But where are the suitable parent trees from which to graft and bud?

To help bring promising nut trees to light, and thus start a new industry, the Northern Nut Growers' Association is offering cash prizes of from $10 to $50 for the best trees of black walnuts, butternuts, shagbark hickories, hazel nuts and northern pecans. Send a dozen nuts from the best nut tree of any kind that you know of to the Dr. W. C. Deming, Secretary of the Northern Nut Growers' Association, Georgetown, Connecticut, and ask for particulars of the prizes and rules of the contest.

We hope some of our readers will get these prizes, for there are some very fine nuts produced in the territory covered by this paper.

Library For The Blind Appreciated

A recent report from the Delaware Commission for the Blind is devoted to an appreciation of the embossed books, which form a circulating library for the blind throughout Delaware.

The Free Library for the Blind is operated in connection with "The Blind Shop," at 305 West Eighth Street, Wilmington, and is under the auspices of the Wilmington Institute Free Library and supported by an appropriate tion by the Mayor and Council of Wilmington.

There are some twenty-five readers throughout the State, half a score of them ravenously devouring the books as fast as they are put on the shelves and many who have little other occupation depending on the Library for recreation have read every book on the shelves several times over. The Library contains 415 Titles, 156 Moon Type, 286 American Braille, 23 English Braille, a total of 772 volumes. The circulation for the past six months has been 280. The books are delivered outside of Wilmington by Parcel Post, free of postage, and in Wilmington by a special messenger, who besides delivering the books, calls each week and consults the readers and advises with them upon the Library and their reading, this being a great help to the readers who are unable to come to the Library and consult the catalogues and look over the books. The readers think almost as much of their messenger as they do of the books. Many good friends of the Blind have subscribed liberally to the Library and it is certain that nothing can give so much enjoyment as a new book in the hands of those who read with the fingers. It is to be regretted that the literature of tangible print is limited to the few books which come from the presses and an unfortunate conflict of types which great efforts are now being made to unify.

Letters written in Braille from many blind patrons show how heartily this splendid work of the library is appreciated.

Many Delaware Breeders In Fifth Poultry Competition

Thirteen poultry breeders from the State of Delaware, will have pens of birds in the Fifth Philadelphia North American International Egg-Laying Competition, which begins at Delaware College on November 1, 1915. The competition, which closes on October 31st, has created a state-wide interest. The work of Mr. Pollard, superintendent of the competition at Delaware College, in giving information to the breeders of the State, has given a great impetus to the development of Delaware poultry interests.

Local poultrymen who have entered birds in the competition are O. A. Newton, Bridgeville, Delaware College, Newark, James Spiers, Newark, Thomas Hutt, Delaware City, M. G. Price, Delaware City, Parkview Egg Farm, Dover, Jacob Kesselring, Dover, Diamond Egg & Poultry Farm, Wilmington, A. E. Grantham, Newark, J. M. McVaugh, Hockessin, Frank McVaugh, Jr., Hockessin, E. H. Bancroft & Son, Wyoming.

Silent Workers Around Us

Great things have small beginnings. A spectacle maker, Jan Peppersheim by name, living in Holland, invented a crude magnifying glass in 1608. Anton von Leuwenhoek, born in Delft, this day 1682, improved this clumsy toy and evolved a compound microscope which has become the most valuable sanitary tool yet devised by man. That first microscope was as far removed from the high-powered instrument of today as is the modern American from the original cave man. Yet by this faculty means, Leuwenhoek, naturalist, physician and botanist, discovered certain minute bodies which he called "little animals." He made drawings of these and today we know them for those useful friends and malignant enemies of man—bacteria.

We spend our days surrounded by another world, a living world of countless billions, invisible to the naked eye, silent, tireless, destroying the living, consuming the dead, useful in the sciences and arts, yet often followed by a train of sickness, suffering and death. A curious paradox this, yet bacteria are at once the greatest friends and the fiercest foes of every living thing. Not animals, as Leuwenhoek thought, but vegetables, bacteria consists of two classes, those which prey on living things and those which reduce to their original minerals, fluids and gases, every dead thing which they attack. They are of various shapes, round like marbles or straight like little sticks. They grow in clusters, chains, and in pairs. They are ubiquitous. The dusty air, the earth and its waters, the interior of animals and plants all contain them. They cause the fermentation of foods, they make cheese, they produce disease and some of them when killed and injected into an animal protect it from the very disease which they would have produced if living. Many of them live as harmless creatures in the body of an animal for years, only to kill their host when the opportunity presents. Their study has given birth to a science, bacteriology, one of the foundation stones of public health.

Their mere presence does not necessarily produce disease. Recalling the parable of the sower, some bacteria fall by the wayside, some fall upon stony places, and some fall in good ground and bring forth the fruit of suffering, perhaps of death. A normal, temperate life, free alike from the gluttony of idleness or overwork, the sound mind in the sound body, a cheerful, normal environment, these form the stony places in which bacteria take no root. The depraved appetites of mind and body, the dark and sordid atmosphere of penury, the nerve racking and strength undermining trades, these prepare the good ground.

The great weapon against bacteria is cleanliness. The mastery over premature death lies to a great measure in our own hands. Clean persons, clean cities, clean workshops and clean lives are the makers of public health. The U. S. Public Health Service and other sanitary bodies of this country are gradually bringing these facts home to the general public. In this way cleanliness is becoming more general, and the span of life in America is gradually being lengthened. All of which is largely due to the microscope.

Nearly Caught Under Roller

John Brown, colored, had a close call on Saturday at Twelfth and King streets, Wilmington, when caught between a 15-ton roller and a large concrete mixer. Brown was walking between the two machines, the roller pushing the mixer with a pole. The pole slipped and the roller shot forward suddenly. Brown squeezed in between two projections in the side of the mixer and Street Commissioner, who was nearby shouted to the Engineer who reversed the engine. Brown was hurt but it is thought not seriously.

Foiled A Brute's Attack

Jabez Summers, colored, aged 23 years, is lodged in Dover jail, charged with attempted felonious assault last Wednesday evening upon Mrs. Ida M. Jones, wife of George W. Jones, a farmer, living in New Castle county near the Kent county line. Mrs. Jones had driven to Clayton to meet her husband who failed to arrive on train. On her way home Summers, whom she identified at the hearing in Dover, climbed into her carriage from the rear and began choking her. Suddenly she said she saw automobile lights in the road, and Summers leaped out and fled. He was arrested on Thursday at St. Joseph's Industrial School at Clayton, and denies the charge.

field. Now it is a question of votes.

The contest is worthy of note from the prominence of those interested, among the number being J. Wilkins Cooch, T. F. Armstrong, Nathan Motheral, Eben Frazer, C. B. Evans, D. C. Rose, George Ferguson, S. M. Donnell, S. B. Herdman, and a host of others.

To date this is the result of our observation. If both Newark candidates remain in the contest McMullin stands show to win. With either withdrawing and making a combination, they will make it interesting for the Pencader candidate.

Bowen is gaining votes every day. The reasons for this are his past political history, his long residence, his wide acquaintance and personality and Hossinger's withdrawal. His support in the Eastern district cannot be learned definitely. Rumors this morning have pledges of support there.

Fisher is strong in East Newark. If he holds control, he will round up votes in that district. In some of the rural districts he is strong.

The results attending the election make interesting speculations for the political observers. With McMullin winning who will be the recognized leader of the party? Think a moment. With Fisher? With Bowen? None of these men to be sure, but who? The answers to these questions, probably more than any other factor, will figure in the result of Saturday's contest. Another question—Saulsbury, seeing his mistake, is he taking part in the campaign? Take the tip from the Post, he is. And as such he is proving to be the greatest power for continued success of the Republican party known in these hill regions for many a day.

Post Office Side Lights

In the bitterness of the fight, Levi Bowen was compelled to make affidavit that he voted for Monaghan for Governor.

Now—local Democrats are going to make similar request of Senator Saulsbury.

Look out for another hedge.

Hossinger out of the fight. What did we tell you.

The Newark Postmaster—damned if I do, and damned if I don't—that's Saulsbury's dream.

Where are the old War Horses of White Clay Democracy?

To inject denominations into the fight is poor religion, bad politics, and a pretty narrow method of contest. Newark is too big for that sort of thing.

There are more Democrats just now in White Clay Creek Hundred than have been seen for several years. And more than will be seen for some time to come—or we miss our guess.

We get it from the inside. The Senator at the Conference said, "I suppose all of you always voted straight Democratic ticket." Some said yes, some nodded, some looked out the window.

What did Mr. Fisher say? It is not reported but here's a version—"Senator, I split my vote once but soon got it sewed up. You remember when I voted for Senator duPont. I was excited then as now. I changed the vote all right."

Children Have Good Time

A party of little folk had a royal time last Saturday evening, at the home of Melville Apsley, aged four, the occasion of the young host's birthday. Children's games were played and refreshments served. The young guests included Emma Lovett, Waldo Lovett, Anna Cannon, Hazel Cannon, Olive Porter, Elizabeth Worrall, Evelyn Worrall, Vola Eubanks, Elizabeth Eubanks, Leonard Eubanks, Alfred Ewing, Paul Maxwell, Oscar Morris, Galena Leak, Ida Leak, Roberta Leak, Eleanor Brooks, and Laurence and Alvin Ardis and Betty Winkler, of Wilmington.

APPLETON

Misses Kathryn Pritchett of Washington, D. C., Emily Campbell of Cherry Hill, and Elsie Denney of Wilmington, have been recent guests of the Misses Kimble.

Rev. A. Van Oeveren of Newark is the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Seruch Kimble at Washington, D. C.

Revival services are in progress at Flint Hill M. E. Church.

The "True Blue" S. S. Class from Jackson Hall held its annual reunion and election at the home of their teacher on Oct. 16. Thirteen "True Blues" and two visitors were present.

On next Sunday the monthly prayer service of the Class will be held at Jackson Hall. Freewill monthly offerings for missions will also be offered. Every member is cordially invited.

A week of revival services has been held at Jackson Hall. Very much good has resulted.

IRON HILL ITEMS

Miss Florence Low was an Iron Hill visitor last Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Earle Gillfillan of Sudlersville, Md., spent the week-end with relatives here.

Mrs. Charles Hutchens is slowly improving in the Elkton Hospital. Miss Hettie Slack was the guest of Miss Etta Proud of Centreville, Del., last week.

Mr. Edgar Short of Philadelphia spent Sunday with his parents at this place.

Mrs. Judge Norman J. Marsh of New York, is spending a week with Mrs. O. R. Washburn.

Messrs. Harold and Herman Little, Mr. William Lamborn and Misses Lora and Elizabeth Little Miss Blittersdorf of Avondale, motored to Valley Forge on Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Buckingham spent Thursday with Mr. Andrew Lee and family of Strickersville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Little spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Buckingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Watson of Toughkenamon, Pa., were the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Chambers.

Miss Elva Dempsey has returned home after a pleasant visit with Elkton relatives.

Report Untrue

The story circulated this morning in the rural districts that Levi K. Bowen had withdrawn from the Postmaster contest is untrue. Mr. Bowen said this afternoon that he was in the contest to the finish and had no intentions whatever of abandoning the fight.

Political Card

Mr. McMullen Presents Claim For Consideration

For the purpose of influencing votes against me at the special

Postoffice election, to be held from 1 to 5 o'clock next Saturday at the Delaware Ledger office, reports have been circulated repeatedly during the past ten days to the effect that I am a carpet bagger in this district and not entitled to consideration for the office of Postmaster of Newark.

I desire to say to the Democrats of this Postoffice district who are qualified to vote at the election on Saturday, that I have been a patron of the Newark Postoffice for twenty-seven years. During that time I have sold in Newark products to the amount of about $25, 000 and have spent $15,000 with Newark merchants. I am a resident of the Newark school district and pay school taxes in the district. I feel sure that every Democrat in the district will agree that I am entitled to consideration for the office when these facts are known to them. In case I am fortunate enough to win and receive the appointment I pledge myself to do everything possible to give the patrons of the Newark Postoffice the best service they have ever had in the history of the office.

T. Roseby McMullen.
