WHAT SHALL MY BOY TAKING CAMPING

LOIE E. BRANDON

Summer once was considered the only season for camping out, and of course it is still the favorite time of year, but now the fall and spring hikes with an overnight camp at the end are running the enthusiasm for summer camps a close second. Winter is also becoming very popular as a camping time, especially if there is a permanent camp close at hand with cottages, or Adirondack shelters with fireplaces to provide some heat and protection.

Last year my son attended a summer camp, a five-day camp during the Christmas holidays, and spent ten nights or more during the spring and fall in this most healthful form of recreation.

Kind of Sport

Since the different boys' organizations and clubs are laying so much stress upon this kind of outdoor sport, it behooves the mothers of growing boys to keep step with the times and at least know enough about this form of activity to be able to provide the proper equipment for either a one-night, or a ten-nights camp.

Quite often, especially with the older boys, a camping party is arranged on the spur of the moment. This does not allow much time for thought or study on the part of the mother who is sure to be called upon, either to help locate equipment, supply provisions, or provide proper bedding and clothing for the occasion.

Closet in Attic

From personal experience I have found it wise to set aside a special closet in the attic in which to keep camping necessities. As I have two boys this closet must hold two folding camp cots, two pup tents and one larger shelter tent, a folding camp stove, two mess kits (complete for cooking purposes as well as eating purposes), two canteens, two duffle bags (one large and one smaller), four army blankets, and two old but

P. T. A. Chairmen To Meet Tuesday at Lewes Beach

Membership chairmen of local Parent-Teacher Associations throughout the state and the State Executive Committee have been invited to a conference arranged by Mrs. Glenwood B. Harrington, state membership chairman, at the Poynter cottage, Lewes Beach, on Tuesday, August 25. The morning will be devoted to bathing and crabbing with luncheon served at 12.30, standard time. Problems common to all membership chairmen will be discussed at the afternoon business session and plans will be made for the enrollment of new and old members on the opening of school.

Macaroni Recipe Uses Only Small Amount of Fuel

When you're racking your brain to think of a main dish for tomorrow's luncheon, you'll be glad you heard of this new way of fixing macaroni. It's not with cheese, but it is tasty, and your family will like the variety.

You don't need large quantities of liquid when you cook on a modern electric range. Because of the low-controlled heat obtainable on the surface units, it is unnecessary to use quantities of water to keep food from boiling dry.

And another thing—there is sufficient heat stored in the coils of the heating unit to maintain the cooking temperature for some time after the switch is turned off. In this recipe, the largest part of the cooking is done with the switch off.

Savory Macaroni

1 small onion
½ pound chopped bacon or ground beef
6 cups tomato juice and pulp
3 cups macaroni (broken in pieces)
Salt and pepper to taste
Brown bits of onion and meat in saucepan on surface unit of electric range, with switch turned to high heat. Heat together with tomato juice and pulp to boiling. Add macaroni, salt, and pepper. Mix thoroughly with fork. Cover and turn switch off. Steam without lifting the cover for 25 minutes with switch off.

Kindness
I shall pass through this world but once; any good thing, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any human creature, let me do it now; let me not defer it, or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.—S. Grellet.

Pack Up Your Troubles
I make the most of my enjoyments. As for my troubles, I pack them in as little compass as I can for myself, and never let them annoy others.—Robert Southey.

A diet rich in vitamin A is said to effect a successful treatment of kidney and bladder stones.

heavy comforters to be added for winter camping. Besides this there are two old slickers which are used to spread on the ground to keep the moisture from coming up into the bed-rolls on the occasions when the campers roll up in their blankets and sleep on the ground, some coils of small rope, and a ball of heavy fish-cord, two scout axes, a Red Cross emergency kit, two flashlights, a small waterproof box for carrying matches and a compass.

Taste of Campers

Of course for each occasion the contents of the duffle bags will depend almost altogether upon how long the camp is going to last and the personal tastes of the campers in the matter of "eats." The following suggestions are simply offered for the benefit of the inexperienced mother who is called upon suddenly to solve the problem of providing portable food for hungry hikers: self-raising pancake flour, canned milk, bacon, syrup, and cocoa or coffee, canned baked beans, canned tomatoes, potatoes, sugar, salt, crackers, cookies and fresh fruits.

The campers should have also in his duffle bag, one complete change of dry clothing, an extra pair of hose, a cake of soap, bath towel, tooth brush and dentifrice, comb, extra handkerchiefs and an extra pair of shoes if much walking is to be done. A notebook and pencil, field glasses, kodak and extra films, and a good hunting knife come in very handy on most occasions. Fishing tackle will be wanted when camping beside a stream or lake.

Proper Equipment Helps

Proper equipment goes a long way toward making a camping adventure a success, and while it may be a welcome change to "rough it" for a short time, the most pleasant memories linger about the camping experiences in which some degree of comfort was enjoyed.

"I value kindergarten because it calls the child in an interesting way to invest himself, his interest, his capacities, his curiosity, his incipient talent, in physical, educational and mental activities, and develops in him standards of taste, and capacity for discrimination which are vital in the making of character."—Bery T. Marshall, former President, Connecticut College.

I—The Military Mode

Frog trimmings, broad shoulders, simulated breast plates, wide belts and braided trimmings are seen again and again. The frogs can be purchased already made but the price is prohibitive for many pocket-books. They can be made of fabric to match or harmonize with the garment for which they are intended at very little expense. The method is illustrated here in sketches 1 and 2. Bias trim in boldest colors is excellent when working on wash fabrics.

Cord for lacing, and cords stitched row upon row for belts, make very effective finishing touches.

1. Covering Cord with Fabric. If a very soft cord is desired, several strands of yarn may be covered instead of cable cord as shown here. To provide for turning the covering right side out and drawing the cord through, fold the covering wrong side out over a piece of string and one end of the heavy cord to be covered. Sew the string and the heavy cord in place as shown here. Stitch the edges of the covering material together with the string inside; then pull

Legion Auxiliary Moves To List Women Veterans

The recent past presidents' parley of the American Legion Auxiliary included, as an integral part of its program, the formation of a roster of women who served in the active military and naval forces of the United States during the World War.

This assignment was accepted by the auxiliary because the well-being of women veterans of the World War is a special objective of the group.

It is the desire of the auxiliary to have on this roster the following groups of women veterans:

1. Women veterans in the Government hospitals and Veterans' Administration Facilities.
2. Women veterans hospitalized in civil and state hospitals.
3. Women veterans residing at home or elsewhere who may be interested in the formation of the roster or for whom the parley may be of some assistance as to their general future.

Women veterans in this section are requested to contact Mrs. W. Francis Lindell, 49 Prospect Avenue, president of the J. Allison O'Daniel Unit No. 10, American Legion Auxiliary for additional information.

Substitute Teachers Told To File Applications Now

According to an announcement from the Department of Public Instruction this week, all persons desiring to do substitute teaching in the State Board Unit Schools during the school year 1936-1937 should make application at once to the headquarters in Dover.

In cases where application blanks have not been received, teachers are told to make requests immediately. All application blanks for substitute work must be received by Saturday, August 22.

Only persons holding a Delaware certificate in full force or one that has expired within the last five years, are eligible to be placed upon the printed substitute list.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

½ cup butter
2 egg yolks
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains of cayenne pepper
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup boiling water

With a wooden or silver spoon, rub the butter to a cream, then add the egg yolks one at a time. Beat well, add the lemon juice, salt and pepper. About five minutes before serving, add the boiling water and stir rapidly. Turn surface unit of electric range to Low Heat. Place sauce in a saucepan or in a frying pan and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. This sauce dresses up any fresh vegetable on which it is served.

CHERRY MARSHMALLOW ICE CREAM

(Serves 6)

½ pound marshmallows
2 cups cherry juice
½ cup water
2 cups cherries (drained)
1 cup whipping cream (whipped)

Heat marshmallows and one-quarter cup cherry juice in a saucepan on the surface unit of the electric range, with the switch turned to Low Heat. Stir mixture constantly with a folding motion and heat only until marshmallows are about half melted. Then remove from heat unit, but continue folding over and over until mixture assumes a smooth, fluffy appearance. Chill, and when mixture just begins to thicken, fold in the remaining cherry juice to which the water has been added, the cherries and the whipping cream. Place in freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator, turn cold control to lowest degree of temperature and freeze. Stir once during the freezing process.

MANY ATTEND HUGE CHURCH CELEBRATION

Annual Harvest Home Affair
Draws Throng to Staid
Ebenezer

By Sara Pennington

The Harvest Home of the Ebenezer M. E. Church held last Thursday in Little's Grove attracted one of the largest crowds in several years. It was estimated that approximately 1000 persons were on the grounds during the three sessions. The afternoon speaker was the Rev. Omer B. Poulson of Huntington, Pa., superintendent of the Harrisburg District of the United Temperance Forces of Pennsylvania, who substituted for Mr. John McSparran, who is confined to his home after a serious auto accident. Mr. Poulson's topic was "There Is Hope."

Situation Is Hopeful

He summed up the reason why the temperance situation is so hopeful. A male quartet from Bethel M. E. Church near Chesapeake City sang. Miss Gladys Davis won the honor of being the Harvest Home queen. A pageant, "The Church Through the Ages" was well received. As the performance was being given, a miniature church with memorial windows, steeple and swinging doors, was erected on the outdoor stage.

E. W. Cooch Puts State's Welfare Before Politics

Edward W. Cooch, who last week announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor, practices law in Wilmington and resides at the Cooch homestead in Pencader Hundred. He is thus in close contact with the problems of both city and country. Mr. Cooch is a member of the State and County Bar Associations, and has represented Delaware at meetings of the American Bar Association. He is known as an able lawyer, a safe counsellor and a convincing speaker.

Lawyer and Farmer

In addition to his law practice, Mr. Cooch personally operates a farm devoted to dairying and the raising of grain and fruit. He is a member of the New Castle County Guernsey Breeders' Association.

Mr. Cooch was treasurer of the Wheat Production Control Association, having been elected as such by the farmers of New Castle county. In this position he distributed hundreds of checks to wheat producers of the county both as owners and tenants.

Although active in the support of the Democratic party and its principles, he has always placed the good of the state above partisan politics. He has never held public office.

Red Men and Friends Entertained by Radio Stars

Tuesday evening, following a short business session, Minnehaha Tribe, No. 23, I. O. R. M., members of the Degree of Pocahontas, and a few friends were treated to a musical entertainment given by well known "radio stars" from station WDEL. J. D. Browningby, radio announcer singer, acted as master of ceremonies. After leading all those present in "community singing," the master of ceremonies introduced the performers who were Ammolina Floriable, singer; Anthony Sapinsky, accordionist; and Audrey Stewart, dancers. George Kelly was the pianist.

Each performer was called upon several times, and all were enthusiastically received by the audience. The personal appearance here of the radio stars was arranged by the social committee of the tribe, C. Orville Sidwell, chairman. After the entertainment refreshments were served while those present listened to the Louis-Sharkey fight over the radio.

Another Prize For Minnehaha

Last Friday evening Minnehaha Tribe with a float, and Mineola Council, No. 17, D. of P., of this place took part in the large parade at "Red Men's Night" of the Oxford Fire Company. Minnehaha was awarded second prize of $30.

Hot Dogs and Corn Prove Downfall of Mechanics

"Only routine business was transacted last Monday," said A. Neal Smythe, publicity chairman of the American Flag Council No. 28, Jr. O. U. A. M., in an interview this week, and then Brother Norton, chairman of the Booster Committee invited us to the meadow at Daddy Brown's plantation near Milford Cross Roads."

"Norton had a large fire built around which all gathered," he continued, "and there to greet us was 250 hot dogs, roasted to a crisp, and 125 roasting ears, well done."

"Needless to say, the 30 members present made a clean sweep of all. Colmery had to be stopped from eating the cobs, McMullin ruined his clothes with butter, mustard and corn. Tony Davis lost count of the corn he had and Les Hall, being on a diet could not go far."

Chuckling, Mr. Smythe summed up the evening's casualties: "Several bad cases of over-indulgence were reported to me, being Whiteman Brothers, Kirk Brothers, Springer and Collins." He laughed and added, "None will be allowed on the relief as reckless eating is self-imposed."

In concluding the interview, Mr. Smythe announced a watermelon party to be held soon but "all who go will have to promise that they will eat in reasonable bounds."

POLICE WILL ENFORCE LAW ON AUTOISTS

Smith Sounds Warning About
Failure to Have Cars
Inspected

PLATES TO BE SEIZED

In accordance with the established custom, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Walter Dent Smith has announced that a fee of $1 will be charged for the inspection of each automobile brought to the safety lanes after the close of the eighth annual motor vehicle inspection campaign on Saturday, August 29.

The inspection, which was started on July 18, is free of any charge until August 29. Those who fail to take advantage of the free inspection by the close of the campaign, will be required to pay the $1 fee for the inspection.

Loss of Registration

Safety lanes will be maintained in Wilmington, Dover and Georgetown for a period of about two weeks, he said.

Loss of registration licenses will confront these motorists who fail to have their cars inspected and approved in the campaign. Police will stop all vehicles not displaying the 1936 sticker.

If those stopped are unable to produce receipt stubs, they will hand the driver a written order to have the vehicle inspected within five days.

Warning Over Failure

Duplicate copies of these orders will be forwarded to the Motor Vehicle Department. Warning will be given that failure to comply with the order will result in the suspension of registration by the department and seizure of the plates by the inspectors. A lane is located all of this week in Rehoboth Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and in Lewes on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Another in Smyrna throughout the week. The two Wilmington lanes are at 43rd and Washington streets and at Pennsylvania avenue and Bancroft Parkway.

Dirt Roads Cost Less For Upkeep States Engineer

The ultimate surfacing of every road in the state until Delaware will offer improved roads into every corner of its boundaries is the goal of the State Highway Department according to a statement made this week by Chief Engineer W. W. Mack.

Contrary to an erroneous idea held by some people, the money now spent on the upkeep of the present dirt roads would not go very far in construction of improved surfaces. Some believe that enough money is being spent on the maintenance of dirt roads to build increasing amounts of improved road. Mr. Mack states that instead of money being saved, more would be needed in addition to the cost of construction, as the cost of keeping the dirt roads in shape is much smaller than the upkeep of better surfaced roads.

Extended Improvements

The present plan contemplates the improvement of the remaining roads until the entire road mileage will be surfaced with either concrete, slag, gravel or stabilized earth, offering unequalled travel conditions in every section and providing highways passable at all times of the year and under all ordinary weather conditions.

The use of stabilized earth in road improvement is proving highly successful and will make the resurfacing of some dirt roads much cheaper than slag and gravel and in many instances, equally as permanent.

Dodge Owners from Coast to Coast Report Sensational
Mileage from Dodge Cars

FOR 22 years the words "Dodge" and "Dependability" have been synonymous... and no wonder... from all parts of the country come reports of Dodge cars that have been driven nine - twelve - fourteen - sixteen years... Dodge cars driven 100,000 miles - 150,000 miles, 200,000 miles, 280,000 miles!... That's one of the reasons why more people buy Dodge cars than any other make with the exception of the three lowest-priced cars!

But, though Dependability scores with every motorist, that's not the only reason Dodge is the fastest-selling big car in America... Dodge economy! - that news too has spread from Coast to Coast like wildfire... owners report 18 to 24 miles per gallon of gas... astonishingly low upkeep cost... money savings so substantial that - in the long run - many owners say they more than make up the few dollars difference in cost between Dodge and small, lowest-priced, competitive cars.

Dodge gives you more for your money - more extra-value features than you can find in cars priced even $500 higher than Dodge... the safety-steel body, genuine hydraulic brakes... the Air-Glide-Ride... Chair-Height seats... redistribution of weight equally to all four wheels... patented Floating Power engine mountings... breath-taking beauty... roomier interiors, more luxurious than ever before.

Don't miss driving this big, new Dodge! Make the free economy test! See with your own eyes how Dodge saves gasoline! And don't forget that Dodge now costs only a few dollars more than lowest-priced cars!

"I bought this car in 1920," says Mr. Capron. "I drive it every day in all kinds of weather. In my opinion, there is no car to equal the Dodge for dependability and economy. I am known by my car, and believe me, it is a real advertisement."

AIRGLIDE-RIDE - This thrilling new Dodge ride is made possible by: (1) longer, more flexible springs with action synchronized front and rear, plus the Levelator which prevents sideways on turns; (2) moving engine forward to distribute weight evenly to all four wheels; (3) lowering floor to permit use of Chair-Height Seats; (4) cradling passengers between the axles.

TIMELY SUGGESTION

The resolution adopted by the J. Allison O'Daniel Post of the American Legion at its meeting last week, calling for the elimination of a dangerous condition which exists for people living north of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, is more than timely. It is something that should draw the immediate attention of both town and railroad officials. School heads and University of Delaware authorities should readily recognize the situation, too.

Suggestion is made that an underground viaduct be cut beneath the B. & O. tracks to connect Center Street with Cleveland Avenue. The idea is to remedy the condition that now has school children and shoppers crossing the tracks at a dangerous point. True, such pedestrians do so at their own risk, but that isn't going to return the horse after it is stolen. And sooner or later, somebody is going to be killed. The chances are more than ten to one that it will be some youngster bound to or from school.

An extension can be made to Center Street, running along the end of the Newark Cemetery, over ground owned by the University of Delaware, under the B. & O. tracks and thence up an unimproved alleyway (at present) between 109 and 111 East Cleveland Avenue.

The cost of such a tunnel, for pedestrians only, shouldn't be unbearable. A government agency has been set up for the eliminations of grade crossings. This condition is even worse than an unguarded grade crossing.

Town, school, college and railroad officials should get together on the idea at once. Make a combined request to the government for funds and DO IT NOW.

Things have a way of happening immediately before election. Why not accept the Legion's idea and strike while the iron is hot?

DO YOUR DUTY

Every motorist has a duty to perform for operators of other cars on the roads and pedestrians. He must drive safely and must be certain that his car is in such condition as to make this safe driving possible.

That is one of the reasons for the eighth annual motor vehicle inspection campaign, which will be ended on Saturday, August 29. This inspection service, sponsored by the State Motor Vehicle Department, the State Highway Department and the Delaware Safety Council, is free to every car owner.

Through this inspection service, the operator of a car can learn whether his car is in condition for safe driving. Defective brakes, badly focused lights, worn tires and other defects are no aid to safe driving. The operator of a car may be unconscious of any of these defects, until the inspection. But the discovery of any of these faulty parts in a car may be directly responsible for averting an accident on a future date.

If your car has not yet been inspected, take it to the nearest safety lane and have it tested. It is for your own safety and the safety of your neighbor that you are doing this.

Failure to have one's car inspected and approved by August 29 can cost its registration.

THE BURDEN OF THE NEW DEAL

Because the present administration in Washington has indulged in an extravagance of spending unheard of in history, we soon shall find ourselves in the unhappy position of paying out more money in interest each year than we pay for any other single form of Federal service.

At the present time, as a result of an enormous increase in the public debt by the New Deal, the people of this country receive no return whatsoever from every sixth dollar they pay into the Treasury.

Even this small proportion represents the astounding total of $1,400,000,000 a year.

In the past session of the 74th Congress, only two appropriations bills,—and one of them was the WPA boondoggling bill,—were larger than the one which provided the funds to pay interest charges.

Nor does this enormous amount contribute in any way to reduce the national debt. It represents only what we have to pay for the use of money borrowed and spent.

It is an annual charge on every man, woman and child in this country and under the New Deal it is going up at express elevator speed.

It stands as a powerful argument for the election of an administration which will regard this burden as the dead weight which it is and which will devote its efforts,—as Governor Landon has promised to do and has shown he can do,—to effect a reduction in government expenditures, a balanced budget and an ultimate decrease in the national debt.

TWO KINDS OF INSURANCE PROTECTION

A survey as to what kind of life insurance people wish to own discloses that there has been something of a change in the average man's attitude toward this type of investment.

In the future, according to the answers received, considerably less protection type life insurance will be bought,—and considerably more of the kind of insurance guaranteeing old age income and security.

Insurance is as splendid an instrument for protecting ourselves against our declining years as it is for protecting dependents against our death. Every man should adopt an insurance program which adequately balances the two types of protection.

BUT HE WON'T DO IT . . .

SCREEN SNAPS

Introducing Marie Brown

Motion pictures, as such, hold no particular thrill for blonde, 23-year-old Marie Brown, but since movies are made in Hollywood and Hollywood is the place to meet Mickey Mouse, Clark Gable, Bing Crosby and Robert Taylor, the girl arrived in the film colony last week to become a screen actress. Graduated last year from the Yale Drama School, Miss Brown, a native of Harrisburg, Pa., was recently starred in the New York stage production of "Beautiful With Shoes." Her performance attracted the attention of Samuel Goldwyn, who signed her to a contract. Miss Brown has already started work in "Dodsworth," starring Walter Huston and Ruth Chatterton, and under the direction of William Wyler. "Mickey, Clark, Bing and Bob," she explains, "have always been my screen favorites. I was quite determined to carve a career on the stage and had never given a thought to the movies. However, the chance to come to Hollywood meant a chance to meet my celluloid heroes, so naturally I took it. So here I am; see you in the films."

Newark Lady Wins Grand Prize

Mrs. Ella Lindell of this town won the $75 grand prize offered by the State Theatre last week. The lucky number that was drawn was 18275. The winners of the $1 prizes were as follows: Louise Reilly, of Richardson Park, Del., Thomas Silk, Elsie Knight, Leroy Crompton and Hugh Gallagher, all of Newark. This theatre will offer $25 as the grand prize tonight, Thursday, August 20.

Friday and Saturday

Six song hits, all of them currently popular both on the air waves and in dance halls everywhere, are heard in the rollicking tale of romance and melody in the West, "Rhythm on the Range." The picture features two radio head liners, Bing Crosby and Bob Burns, Arkansas "bawzooka" artist, and has Frances Farmer in the leading feminine role. Martha Raye, new comedienne star plays the comedy romantic role opposite Burns. The film casts Crosby and Burns as cowboys. Crosby wins money to buy a prize bull, during the course of a New York rodeo and starts West. Then the fun begins.

Ken Maynard in "Avengeing Waters," a thrilling western will be added to the bill on Saturday.

Monday and Tuesday

"The Green Pastures," picturized by Warner Bros., from Marc Connelly's Pulitzer Prize Play, and hailed by critics as "America's best loved drama," plays this theatre these two days. The picture, which ran for five years as a stage play and thrilled millions of people, is said to be one of the most inspiring spectacles that has ever been screened. The story, representing the primitive conception of the Bible and its characters, is filled with delightful humor, although presented with a tender reverence. The wonderful characterizations of Biblical folk and the beautiful scenic effects are enhanced by the singing of rich and melodious spirituals by the famous Hall Johnson Choir.

Wednesday and Thursday

Life and customs of one of the most unspoiled regions remaining in America are recorded in "Girl of the Ozarks," starring Virginia Weidler, eight-year-old child actress who leaped to fame through her work in "Peter Ibbetson" and other films. Set in the little town of Mill Stream, deep in the Ozark country, the picture tells of the difficulties of an underprivileged mountain girl whose buoyant spirits seem to keep her in difficulties. She is constantly the center of disturbances in schools, in spite of her efforts to behave. Outside, among the villagers, she is considered a good-for-nothing.

LONDON DOES IT AGAIN!
Topeka, Kas.—Gov. Alf M. Landon has balanced his budget again! When Kansas closed its fiscal year June 30, there was on hand a cash balance of approximately $1,250,000, according to the estimate of A. R. Jones, state accountant. This is nearly a quarter of a million dollars more than the cash balance at the close of the 1935 fiscal year.

U. S. Is Far in Red as

1936 Fiscal Year Closes

WASHINGTON, D. C.—This was the record of the Roosevelt administration as the fiscal year 1936 came to a close June 30:

A federal debt of 33 billion 913 million dollars.
Spending of 8 billion 793 million dollars during the fiscal year, more than two dollars for every one taken in.

A budget bureau estimate of expenditures of $8,272,554,370 during the new fiscal year, without any alibi such as the veteran's bonus or invalidation of processing taxes.

A federal debt that would be 38 billion 600 million were it not for expert juggling of the figures by the New Deal treasury department, which does not include in its estimate a total of $4,688,733,645 in government guaranteed bonds. Reason given for the omission of the bonds is that some day they will all be repaid, a conclusion which is at least arbitrary.

Knox Will Be Notified

in Chicago on July 30

Washington, D. C.—Col. Frank Knox, Republican nominee for the vice-presidency as Gov. Alf M. Landon's running mate, will accept the nomination in Chicago July 30, John D. M. Hamilton, fiery, red-haired young chairman of the Republican National committee, announced here. This will be one week, to the day, following the notification of Gov. Landon.

More Federal Jobs

In 1932 the civilian employees of the federal government numbered 583,196. President Roosevelt proposed to reduce the number by at least 25 per cent, but in March of 1936 the number of civilian employees was 806,035, an increase of 222,839.

2,000 Cheer Copeland's Defense of Constitution
New York City.—Senator Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, who refused to attend the party's national convention, was roundly cheered by a crowd of 2,000 at a patriotic gathering here when he warned against over-centralization of the federal government, defended state sovereignty and urged that the letter and spirit of the Constitution be upheld.

"What would be the attitude of the people today if one in authority presumed to repeat the acts performed by that despot of the Eighteenth century, George III?" he asked.

"Would we have the spirit to say, as did the authors of the Declaration: 'A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people?'"

Locating Oldest Farms In the United States

There is growing interest throughout the country in the number of farms that can be found in any given county, which have been owned and occupied by members of the same family for 100 years or more.

Because the states of the Middle West were still quite sparsely settled a century ago, most of the 100-year farms will naturally be found along the Atlantic seaboard, but very common in several of those states.

In Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, for example, many of its 10,000 farms have been held by members of the same family for nearly 200 years. Not only are the farms of that great agricultural county fertile and well kept, but it has been characteristic of the thrifty farmers in the "garden spot" of Pennsylvania to pass the farms on from father to son, generation after generation, ever since Lancaster county was settled, more than two centuries ago.

Where Is Unemployment? On Farms, Says Survey

New York.—An unemployment survey reported here shows the following comparison between industrial Connecticut and agricultural Mississippi:

"There are 16,000 less unemployed, on a WPA basis, in Connecticut today than there were in April, 1930, when the depression had scarcely started."

"There are 41,500 more unemployed, on a WPA basis, in Mississippi today than there were in April, 1930, when the depression had scarcely started."

"Mississippi paid $561,125 in individual Federal income taxes for 1934. "Connecticut paid $15,120,000 in individual Federal income taxes in 1934."

"Connecticut has reduced unemployment at least 30 per cent."

"Mississippi's unemployment has increased 270 per cent."

"Has $34,379,585 paid to the cotton planters made Mississippi three and a half times worse off than she was in 1930?"

A Real Installment Plan
Washington.—Paying at the rate of a million dollars a day, it would take more than 37 years to reduce the United States national debt as much as the Roosevelt administration has increased it—that is, if no interest had to be paid.

Washington.—Now one of the New Deal's federal bureaus is going to tell you how much gin to put into a martini or how much "sing" goes into a "Singapore Sling." Alcohol Control Administrator W. S. Alexander has called in the nation's outstanding experts on the art of mixing cocktails to determine for him the proper standard of contents for various highballs, flizzes and other mixed drinks. The resulting testimony will be published in a sort of federal "bartender's guide," to sell for five cents.

Maybe the experts will tell the bureaucrats what to do for a headache after November 3.

ROAMIN' WITH RUTLEDGE

Red Hot Finish

With three teams bunched closer than politicians at a church picnic, it looks like a red hot finish as the second portion of the Bi-State League's 1936 pennant scramble nears the end.

A mere one and one-half games separate Newark in first place and Perryville's first-half titlists in the third slot. Aberdeen is in the middle by a scant half-a-game lead over the Pandours.

Both the Jackets and Cannors have six more games to go, including their important pair of clashes against each other this week-end, while Perryville needs but five more starts to complete the card.

Everything considered, the Jackets have the toughest row to hoe of any of the leading trio.

"THE ROAMER"

RWR

Gotta Step

Starting Saturday at Aberdeen, Cleaver Potts will be forced to fire both barrels in rapid order as a means of protecting the present short margin.

This week-end brings the Cannors as the opposition while Perryville trails right behind the Aberdeenians next week. Neither team is a set-up at anytime or stage of the race.

The Jackets have had six meetings with each of their next antagonists with slightly better than fair success. Aberdeen has held the local club to an even break while the Pandours have been returned victors four times against two games dropped to Newark.

Although Aberdeen has failed to win a single start here, the Jackets, in turn, have taken nothing but losses at Osborn Field. There is plenty of confidence in the Newark camp that the Cannors will be stopped this week in their own bailiwick. That's a good sign. It might be well for the local lads to remember, however, that anything can happen in baseball and that the Cannors are undoubtedly making serious plans to end their own series of failures at Continental Field.

Then, too, there's that debacle at Havre de Grace last Saturday that shouldn't be overlooked.

RWR

Should Be Good

In any event, both of the forthcoming series should bring out the best in three much-better-than-average teams. Fans in Newark, Aberdeen and Perryville are due to witness some high-class performing that will carry all of the tenseness of a post season set of battles. Gate receipts, with any kind of a break from the weather man, should soar on all three fronts.

After Aberdeen and Perryville, the Jackets close with two games at Elkton, one of which was postponed from the Fourth of July.

Aberdeen plays Newark twice, Havre de Grace in a pair (which probably won't be a bed of roses considering the profound rivalry between the two teams), and two more with Providence, the second of which is also postponed from the Fourth of July.

With prospects for a big slice of coin out of a juicy series, it is doubtful whether Perryville will make a too serious bid to figure overly much in the second-half outcome as far as repeating their first-half triumph is concerned. That is merely problematical, however. In any event, the Pandours engage Elkton twice this week, then Newark in two starts, and finally a single game with Havre de Grace.

There's the complete layout. The Jackets are on top now. It's up to them and them alone to stay there.

RWR

Social Notes

He denies it, of course, but he blushes in doing so, which lends belief to the persistent rumor that Perry (Average Noser) Wharton was married to Dot West, comely University of Delaware co-ed, last December. Maybe that accounts for a lot of things, eh girls?

JACKETS AND RIVERMEN SPLIT

Wilmington Pill-Chaser Wins President's Trophy

HAVRE DE GRACE HANDS NEWARK
SURPRISE DEFEAT; CANNERS WIN

Lead Cut to One Game as Local Crew Divides With 1935 Champs; Aberdeen Trounces Elkton and Gains Forfeited Game Also; Perryville Takes Two from Providence; Record Score Registered

By "The Roamer"

Demonstrating the same brilliant form that carried them to the Bi-State League championship last year, the Havre de Grace Rivermen arose in their present cellar position last Saturday to rout the Jackets from Newark, 6-2.

With Aberdeen trouncing Elkton, 10-5, the same afternoon, Newark's two-game lead over the Cannors was cut in twain. The Jackets reversed the decision over Havre de Grace Sunday, winning behind Rube Argo at Continental Field, 9-2, while Aberdeen was receiving a forfeited victory handed out by an Elkton team "that did not choose to play."

Perryville made it two straight over Providence, taking a 20-19 marathon that was shaved to seven inning on Saturday and making a strong finish to repeat, 8-3, at du Pont Field on the Sabbath.

Thus the stage is set for the truly crucial pair of engagements listed between the Jackets and Cannors this week. The rivals square off at Aberdeen on Saturday and close their series at Continental Field on Sunday.

McNutt Is Master

One big stanza, the fatal fifth, was all that Havre de Grace required for victory last Saturday. They counted all of their runs in that session.

Behind the sterling pitching of "Sir" Nelson McNutt, once the peer of all peakmen in this vicinity and the principal hero for the Rivermen's cause last season, the Havre de Grace crew turned in a grand exhibition. While only two of their runs were earned, they never failed to take advantage of Newark's five boots, three of which were committed during the fifth inning.

Jacket runs were scored in the second and seventh, but never could the local travelers bunt any of their eight belts effectively enough to threaten McNutt's edge. Paul Whiteman and Johnny Craig worked for Newark, with the former being charged with the defeat.

Stephens' Triple Timely

Newark scored first when Willis singled, Roberts sacrificed and Jackson doubled in order in the second.

Nichols opened the fifth by doubling off the right field fence. Jackson almost caught the drive, but the ball bounced away from his gloved hand into the boards. Bridgewater booted Thompson's roller as Nichols took third.

With Thompson making a break for second, Roberts threw into centerfield while Nichols scored and Thompson took third. Barnhart was out on an infield fly to Daly.

McNutt walked and Myers singled to left, scoring Thompson. Jones singled McNutt home with the third run. Larry Preston skied to Willis for the second out. Jones stole second and trailed Myers across the rubber when Burns singled to left. George fumbled the ball, advancing Burns to second. Stephens, the ninth hitter of the frame, tripled to deep center admitting Burns.

Nichols, up the second time, walked, but Craig, who had relieved Whiteman, retired Thompson on a liner to Barrow.

Jackets Count in Seventh

After Daly had popped to Myers in the seventh, Newark scored the final run of the game. Whiteman doubled to left and scored when Sheets, hitting for Bridgewater, poked a single to center.

Picking up single runs in the first, third, fourth and sixth, the Jackets chased Don Mergler, ex-jockey, from the mound here Sunday with none away in the seventh. Thompson, his successor, was also bombarded as four additional runs for the local contingent dribbled across the pentagon. The ninth and final marker was counted off Thompson in the eighth.

Argo was in trouble in one inning only, the fifth, when the Rivermen bunched three hits and a walk for two runs. Charshie and Sheets slammed homeric belts with no mates aboard. Three rapid-fire double killings aided Mergler in early innings.

Cannors Close Fast

Bud Meekins and Charlie Trust staged a great hurling duel at Aberdeen on Saturday—for six innings—as the Cannors held a 4-3 edge. Breaking out with a six-run rally in the seventh, however, the Harford Countians chased Meekins to the showers and put the old ball game right in the hat bag. Denver finished for Elkton.

In addition to hurling the Cannors to victory, Trust was a three-hit batsman. His trio of blows included a home run and triple. Bill Bryan, Elkton first sacker, also had three safeties, one good for the circuit. Although defeated, the Barristers outthit the Cannors, 10-9.

Elkton failed to place a full team on the field Sunday and Umpire Cloak was forced to award the verdict to the Cannors by forfeit.

Marathon at Perryville

The wildest slugging match ever staged in the Bi-State circuit took place at Perryville on Saturday when Providence bowed, 20-19, after having overcome an 18-12 edge held by the Pandours in the last inning.

Limited to seven session by agreement, when early in the game it was apparent that the imbroglio might last far into the night, the battle was ended by the Pandours who crossed the rubber twice in the stretch stanza to cop the verdict.

Providence gathered 22 blows to 20 for Perryville, but six errors and seven walks hurt the Papermakers' chances. Gathering six doubles, three triples and two home runs, the Providence men also outthit the Pandours in the extra-basehit department.

Perryville's three doubles, one triple and one home run were delivered with the bags heavily populated, however, to account for the final difference in the score. Ryan homered for the winners with the bases loaded while Bud Lloyd chased three mates across with a double on another occasion. Ossie Reynolds, Providence shortstop, was the hitting star of the afternoon. His five hits in five times at bat included four singles and a home run.

Aikens Bests Jones

Shutout by Eddie Jones for seven innings, Perryville finally got to him at Providence Sunday for seven runs in the eighth frame and registered another marker off Ort Spratt in the ninth to take an 8-3 decision.

"Sadie" Aiken was credited with his second straight Bi-States League victory. He held the hard-hitting Papermakers to five hits. Jones, showing a great drop ball, worked effectively until the eighth. Although passing five, he came out of several tight corners by fanning as many Pandours in the pinch. It was his first start in several seasons.

The schedule this week, which includes the Jackets-Cannors' series at Aberdeen Saturday and at Continental Field Sunday, takes Elkton to Perryville for two games on Saturday (the Sunday affair being moved up to permit the Pandours to play an independent game on Sunday).

NUGENT WILL
ALTER PHILS
THIS WINTER

Prexy Shows Disappointment As Team Slumps Below Expectations

FEW PLAYERS IMPROVE

By Robert T. Paul

A drastic shake-up, one of the most complete in the club's history, will be given the Phillies during the winter months, according to a statement made this week by President Gerry Nugent.

Nugent, in expressing keen disappointment at the team's failure this season, refrained from mentioning specifically the players who will be caught in the upheaval. It is believed, however, that many familiar faces at Baker Bowl will be missing when the barrier is lifted on the 1937 championship race.

Showing Disappointments

"I'm very much dissatisfied with the showing of the Phillies this year," said Nugent. "Until a few weeks ago I held to the hope that we had a fighting chance to finish in the first division. The team played well on the last western trip but at home it went into a slump and right now it looks as though the best we can do is to beat out the Brooklyn Dodgers for 7th place."

"That's not my idea of a successful ball club. When I became president of the club, I promised Philadelphia fans I'd not stop improving the team until I mounded together a pennant winner. I'm more determined than ever to make changes. I can't stand pat on an 8th or 7th place club. Neither am I content to sit around hoping the present squad will improve."

Men Get Chance

"I've given the men every opportunity to prove their worth. Many have failed to come through. A few of the younger players have improved but as a whole the team has been the biggest disappointment I've experienced in my baseball career. I had been led to believe that this would be a year of vast improvement, that the club was capable of heading the second division and with a few breaks would be fighting for 4th place."

"The pitching in general has been below par. Down South the staff created the impression of all-around strength. Manager Jimmy Wilson, at the time of breaking camp in Winter Haven, said he thought we'd get the best Phillies pitching since the pennant days of 1915. The pitching has been erratic. A regular will hurl one real ball game and follow this with three or four poor ones."

Drastic Shake-up

"We had set 80 victories as our 1936 goal. Well, we won't win 80 unless a miracle occurs. We may not equal last year's mark of 64 wins. That's why I've decided on a drastic shake-up for 1937. I'm still after a winner and I'm convinced the present squad hasn't the power and ability to carry Philadelphia higher in the race."

The younger players believed to have pleased President Nugent with their playing include Bill Atwood, catcher; Claude Passeau, pitcher; Ernie Sufik, outfielder; and Dolph Camilli, first sacker.

Newark Softball Teams
Fail in District Set

Failing to take a single victory against teams from the Claymont League, the Mainstreeters and Aetna Firemen, representing the Newark Softball loop, were eliminated in the initial round of the district series for the championship of Delaware.

Only one triumph in six starts—a victory for the Streeters over the Aetna crew—was credited to both local clubs.

Texaco defeated the Streeters, 3-2, in a hard-fought tussle, while the Engineers downed the same array, 7-4. Aetna lost to the Streeters, 4-2; Texaco, 6-3; and Engineers, 9-8, after leading in the final inning of the last contest, 8-8.

Howard Defeated After Eking Out Win Over "Sanky" In Brotherly Battle

JULIAN IS EX-CHAMP

Pie Noses Out Last Year's Winner of Crown on Eighteenth

Following a bitter struggle, in which brother battled brother, Howard Richards advanced to the finals of the prized President's Cup golf tournament, only to be in turn defeated at the Newark Country Club on Sunday by Howard "Ike" Turner, after climbing within striking distance of the trophy.

Tough Battle

Turner's defeat of Richards by a four and two count was overshadowed by the intense match play by the Richards boys when Howard was forced to play fifty-four holes before overcoming his brother, "Sanky." Ties at the end of two 18-hole conflicts forced the match into another over-time session which was finally won by Howard.

Joe Julian, defending champion, failed to hold his laurels, as he fell prey in the second round to little "Bud" (Giant Killer) Pie, who downed the former champ one-up after another terrific struggle. Pie carded a 76 and Julian a 77 in this match which was not decided until the final hole. Pie later fell before the superior play of Turner, two-up and one to go.

Turner's advance to the final round was made by virtue of a comparatively easy five and four victory over John Giamatteo last week.

The final match proved close at the start with the first nine holes being played on even terms. Richards then went ahead at this point and led, one-up, but lost five of the next seven holes to close the match, 4 and 2.

The President's Trophy, donated by J. P. Wright, is one of the most prized awards at the local club.

Kraemer Wins

Rev. E. J. Kraemer won the second sixteen, beating H. B. McCauley one up and Dr. G. W. Rhodes defeated Harry Williamson in the consolation final, 3 and 2.

"Sanky" Richards scored low medal last Saturday by carding a 73 in the qualifying round of the Miniature Tournament. The tourney is called a miniature one because the two eights play only 9-hole matches.

A new tourney will be held this fall when local golfers will vie for the E. B. Wright Memorial Trophy. Replicas of the cup will be presented by Mrs. Wright, while the winners will have their names engraved on the large trophy which has been placed permanently in the club house.

Outfielder Pat Dougherty and Shortstop Fred Parent were in the Boston Red Sox line-up when Cy Young twirled his perfect game against the Athletics, May 5, 1904, but were on the losing side, October 2, 1908, when Addie Joss, Cleveland, prevented a single Chicago White Sox batter from reaching base safely.

FLASHES

By BILL FLETCHER

ACCORDING TO REPORTS, Paul Griffith, a local lad, has applied for the opportunity of filling the vacancy created by J. Harold Bant, who recently resigned from the Newark High School Faculty.

Paul is a graduate of the local school and also grabbed his sheepskin from the University of Delaware's Physical Education Department last June. A lifelong interest in sports further increases his qualifications for the post; an interest which included football, baseball and basketball while in high school and soccer and basketball in college. His familiarity with Coach Gillespie's coaching methods would also prove helpful.

WE PROUDLY PRESENT our first complete pan-letter, which though late in arriving, is nevertheless, too good to overlook this week. We quote: "Dear Slur:

It is undoubtedly, another illustration of 'Ma' Justice holding her scales with a lump of pig iron on one side and a feather on the other.

"WHEN YOU CAN'T lay, even the microbiest claim to journalistic ability, why do you continue this slaughter of the English language and sentence construction. You have, my would-be journalist, in this respect, created a striking parallel to the old Christian massacres by the Romans. Perhaps that old saying, 'History repeats itself' isn't to be passed off. LAURELS FOR NEWARK GIRL

An interesting demonstration of the manœuvres of the life saving crew was given at the life saving station along Rehoboth Beach last Monday.

A large crowd witnessed the management of the sham wreck, the signalling to the distressed passenger, his rescue by means of the Breech Buoy, etc.

To add interest to the occasion it was announced the message to be signalled by means of the flag code, would be the name of the prettiest girl on the beach. The paper on which the message was taken was later presented to Mrs. H. M. Campbell and the letters spelled the name—Marion Campbell.

NEWARK STILL ON TOP

"Jake" Hogan, a southpaw, pitched one of the greatest games ever seen on the local grounds on Saturday, when the Newark Club defeated the Mt. Carmel team of Philadelphia, by the score of 9-2. Hogan made a record, in the way of strike-outs which will no doubt stand for some years in this State. He fanned nineteen men in nine innings. In but one of the nine did he fail to get a strike-out, and in four innings he fanned the side. Outside of the unusually large number of strike-outs, there were no features to the game. The score by innings follows:

More than 45 residents of the Delmarva Peninsula have indicated their plans to join the 1936 Delmarva Tour to Boston, Mass., and vicinity, via the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New England Steamship Company, which leaves Wilmington Sunday afternoon, August 23, at 12:52 o'clock, according to W. Moral Courage Is Key to Character

Chicago, Ill.—The call to moral courage in rebuilding the American dream is the one note to be found in all Gov. Alf M. Landon's addresses and acts, Philip Kinsley writes in the Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Kinsley takes as characteristic of Governor Landon his utterance before a convocation of ministers at Topeka in January, 1933: "In the recent past we worshipped false gods and neglected too much the true and living God, whose precepts have guided mankind through the centuries."

Mr. Kinsley also quotes from an address by the governor in 1935: "For some time—several years in fact—I have been of the opinion that we will not have a real, solid, genuine recovery in this country until we have a moral recovery. And by moral recovery I mean character, integrity, upright honesty and square dealing. There is an old-fashioned phrase that I remember my father and mother using, as a boy. It is somewhat out of date these days, but describes what I mean. It is: 'He is a man of principle.'"

ARTHUR PRYOR, DEAN OF BANDMASTERS, SEES NEW MUSICAL ERA IN AMERICA

Trend in Schools and Colleges Shows Revival of National Interest in Bands

WITH a new wave of great interest in bands and band music manifested throughout the country, Arthur Pryor, the dean of American bandmasters, predicts the dawn of a new era of really significant musical expression in America.

"In spite of the ups and downs of jazz and swing music in the public affection," the bandmaster veteran says, "it is the band—the plain, old-fashioned band—that is the truest expression of music consciousness. The band has always been a group expression, leading to wider development of community spirit and healthy community activity. Just as folk music of the Middle Ages brought men and women together for great singing meets, so does the organization of town and county bands, like the movement now taking place, open a truly national avenue of musical expression."

An authority in the field of band music, Arthur Pryor was a professional musician as a member of his father's band in St. Joseph, Mo., at the age of six. He was for eleven years assistant conductor and trombone soloist with Sousa and has led his own internationally famous band for more than 30 years. He is well known as a composer, probably the greatest trombonist of all time and as the successor to the mantle of Sousa, since the latter's death. He and Sousa, more than any others, were responsible for the development of the band from military or brass band instrumentation to the fine concert organization it is today.

An evidence of the revived interest in band music, Mr. Pryor is currently featured in a radio series, "Cavalcade of America, in Music," tracing the origin and development of band music in America. The surest sign of America's great new interest in band music, he says, is the fact that there are today more than 69,000 bands in American schools and colleges alone, each fully organized with 25 or more members and a library, and thousands of community, industrial and organization bands.

"There is much outstanding talent being developed among these young musicians," Mr. Pryor comments. "An annual contest is held for them, the winner playing before the yearly Bandmasters' Meeting at Interlaken, Mich. As judge at one of these contests a few years ago, I was astounded to hear a high school band from Illinois play Liszt's 'Les Preludes,' one of the most difficult of concert selections. The 80 boys, in age from eight to sixteen, played so brilliantly that the judges agreed on a 100% score, the only perfect one ever made. I have never heard the selection performed so brilliantly, even by Sousa's Band or my own. And many of the crackjack college bands, whose popularity has grown with that of football, are far better musical organizations than the best professional bands of but a few decades ago."

"Unlike symphony orchestras, which usually rely on subsidies from wealthy patrons, bands have to make their own way. Thus they exist only because the public wants them to, and they play the music that the public demands, rather than the music a financial backer thinks they should play. This present great wave of popular interest in band music therefore interprets the real musical heart of America and paves the way to a truly national music, as characteristic of the American temperament as the waltz is of the Viennese."

The employees of all railroads whose lines enter Philadelphia. There will be no admission charge, neither will there be an entrance fee for those who desire to display their flowers. Eminent horticulturists from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland will act as judges to pass on the merits of the exhibits.
