

To: Alice Ruth Moore (Mrs. Dunbar) (1)
Brooklyn
From: Paul K. Dunbar

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

Washington 2/15/1918 Department.

Dearling:

I can only scribble you a hasty line as I am about going out to lunch and want it to catch the noon mail.

Will you let the home you spent with me some day be your valentine this year, as I have really been so much that I could not get you one.

Kennel is ready to illustrate my book to make 8 drawings. I enclose the names of the stones and want you to try and choose a name for the book - See Mrs.
Dodd's letter. Let me hear from you at once. Don't forget about the journal story.
Love in haste I must. Take a moment to kiss you in spirit

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

STANDARD OF

(2)

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

Department.

My own dear wife,

I love you and will love you forever.

Forget to get my <sup>200</sup> from

Mrs. Matthews.

Your own husband

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Department of