Sept. 1; Current Leaders To Seek Masters' Degrees

The appointment of two persons to the professional staff Newark Recreation Association has been announced by President Joe Shields. Glenn L. Smoot has been named

Francis' year's leave of absence, and Miss Parker will take a year's leave of absence from her duties as assistant director, effective Sept. 1.

Smoot, a director for six years, was awarded a superintendent's certificate from the University of Delaware in 1959. He has been in the recreation field for 15 years, and has been in the Newark Recreation Association for three years. He has been in the Newark Recreation

Brazil Air Cadets
To Visit Newark
In IACE Program

Six Brazilian Air Cadets and their Air Force escort will visit Newark on Saturday, Aug. 5, as part of the International Air Cadet Exchange (IACE).

The group will arrive at 1 p.m. in Delaware Wing, Civil Air Patrol hangar, and tour the city and the University of Delaware.

Capt. Philip Toman, 1961 IACE project officer, and a resident of Newark, explained that the group will be in this country for three weeks and in Delaware for 14 days.

Besides the tour of Newark proper, the Brazilians will visit Cochrane's Bridge where the first Stars and Stripes flew in that battle of the Revolutionary War.

For their last three days in this country, the Cadets will be in Washington to meet President John F.
Kennedy.

This is the 14th year of the IACE, and while the six South American visitors are here, six Delaware CAP cadets are touring abroad.

Cadet Ronald G. Strickland of Newark is visiting Turkey.

$5,879 Premium,
3 1/2% Bond Issue
Low School Bid

The Newark special school district received a low bid of 3 1/2 per cent with a premium of $5,879 last Friday, for a $1,200,000 bond issue to help pay for a new high school.

The bid came from the Philadelphia National Bank, representing a combine of five independent houses.

Three other bidders all offered 3 1/2 per cent, but smaller premiums.
The serial bonds will be retired in semi-annual installments of $50,000 from 1962 through 1983.

Bids for construction of the new high school at Chopin and Salem Church roads in the southern part of the district will be opened Aug.
30.

The school is expected to cost $4,000,000, with the bond supplying $1,800,000 and the $1,000,000 residue from an earlier bond issue, providing the remainder.

Schools Conduct
"Do-It-Yourself"
Maintenance Work

Custodial Staff, Teachers Provide District Savings
With Building Maintenance

A "do-it-yourself" policy has been adopted in the Newark special school district as its maintenance and custodial staff completes maintenance jobs in school buildings during the summer.

By using the district staff for jobs formerly done on a contract basis, the district can realize "considerable" savings in maintenance and repair costs, according to H.
Lewis Miller, administrative assistant in charge of operations.

For example, summer preventive maintenance and repair to the heating systems is being carried out by Harold Wolverson, one of two district maintenance men.

Charles Goudy, industrial arts teacher at Ogletown Junior High, is spending the summer repairing textbooks. This includes mending loose or broken covers, torn pages, and damaged stitching.

Robert Marney, industrial arts teacher from Central Junior High, is working with Eddie Moore of the custodial staff in repainting at several schools, including Christian and Eden.

Clifton Knotts of the maintenance staff is working with custodians from the various buildings in a number of repair operations.

Through these services, the district will have 11 buildings, valued at more than $15,000,000, ready for the opening of school on Sept. 7, Miller said.

Twin-City Guests
Greeted In French
By Russell E. Bing

At a public reception accorded the five young goodwill ambassadors from Newark's twin city of La Garde-Freinet, at the Newark New-Century Club on a hot Thursday evening, Councilman Russell E.
Bing welcomed the French visitors with an address in their own language.

"I used to teach French in high school," Mr. Bing explained.

Mayor Frank M. Durnall greeted the group with a quotation from the AEF upon landing in France in World War I. "Lafayette, we are here," and in welcoming the guests from La Garde-Freinet, said "when you return to France, you can say "Lafayette, we were here."

Madoiselle Josette Internet, who is living in Newark with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Internet, is chaperone for the group, and is a member of the audience of some 200 persons in French and English, expressing thanks for the public welcome, and pleasure at being in America.

The speakers were Mrs. Cyrus Day, chairman of the local U. S. in group; John Hillman, who read a letter of welcome from Governor Carvel; and Mrs. Pauline Lacey.

The Mariselles sang in chorus to the audience, and refreshments were served by members of the Newark High School French Club.

During their five-week stay in Newark under the United Nations Organization twin-city program to improve international understanding, Jean-Pierre Courchet, 18, is the guest of the Milton Youngs; Lydie Perrin, 20, is staying with the Edmund Lacey; Rene Salvatrini, 20, is the guest of the John A. Logans; and Roland Viouira, 19, is residing with the Joseph Crowes.
Dr. and Mrs. Day will entertain the five guests at dinner each Monday evening during their stay in Newark.

"Rare" Bug Fails
To Baffle Expert
Despite Telephone

Newark's No. 1 native naturalist, Horace "Rip" Smith, brought a well-equipped, unusual-looking insect to the Newark Post last Friday, seeking identification. And when Rip Smith can't identify any insect, he's a rare specimen.

This occasion was, at least, not from the Post's editor's knowledge.

Dale Bray, entomology expert with the University of Delaware, came up with the answer and identification over the phone before a complete description had been given.

"It has a yellow head, is like a big black wasp, has three long, thin tail streamers about six inches long," Bray was being informed.

"It's an ichneumon," Dr. Bray said promptly, deflating Mr. Smith and the editor.

"A common, harmless insect—in fact, a beneficial one. Lays its eggs in rotting wood where its larvae prey upon wood borers," he said.

Youngsters At Our Lady Of Grace Home Guests With Picnic At Riverview Park

Youngsters of Our Lady of Grace Home at Ogletown were guests at a picnic on Tuesday at Riverview Amusement Park, Pennsville, N. J.

Arrangements were made with Sister Mary Benicia, Mother Superior of the orphanage on Chestnut Hill Road near Newark, by John J. Moore, managing director at Riverview.

The outing for the children included luncheon refreshments and souvenirs; the big swimming pool; and free use of all rides, from the old-fashioned merry-go-round to the new Rollaplane simulating a spaceship's motions.

It would be difficult to say who enjoyed the day more: the youngsters or the crowd watching them.
Topping fun of the miniature railroad, the rocket rides, the whip, and the rest was the outdoor trapeze performance of the Orfols, a team of aerial somersaulting acrobats whose act will give the youngsters something to think about for a long time to come.

The Winners!

The top five race drivers in last Saturday's Kiddie Auto Races at the Newark Shopping Center pose in their cars after the final event.
Left to right are David Cox, six years old, fourth place; Terry Morgan Dick, five, first; Robbie Sadot, four, fifth; Danny Hagan, six, third; and Sidney Sadot, six, second.

Standing are Diane and Clinton Cox; R. E. Dick, John Sadot, Mrs. Helen Hagan, Mrs. Fay Jean Roark and Regina Roark.

Terry Dick, Five
Tops Field Of 200
With Kiddie Races

Five-year-old Terry Morgan Dick turned back challenges by 200 other kids to win the Newark Shopping Center's fifth annual Kiddie Auto Races last Saturday.

Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E.
Dick, 303 Country Club Drive, sped home two lengths in front of the field to win the final heat at 2:30 p.m. after finishing first in his qualifying heat and two semi-final events.

Runners-up in the final were six-year-old Sidney Roark, 4 Laurel Avenue, second; Danny Hagan, six, 12 Caldwell Place, third; David Cox, six, Stanton, fourth; and Robbie Sadot, four, 198 Madison Drive, fifth.

Each finalist received a pedaldriven kiddie car as his prize. The winner also received an enlarged photograph of himself.

The races were held on the shopping center parking lot, where a 100-foot straightaway with five lanes was roped off.

NRA Play Festival
To Be Conducted
At Medill School

11 Playgrounds To Offer Newark Recreation Ass'n
Two-Day Dramatic Events

The third annual play festival of the Newark Recreation Association will be held Aug. 2-3 in the Medill School, with each evening's performance to begin at 7:30, presented by the 11 NRA playgrounds.

Playground music and drama director Judy Frederick reports that youngsters are memorizing; painting scenery; and collecting properties for the event.

Four playground groups have written their own scripts.

The Jennie Smith playground is using the Civil War theme in a production of "The Battle of Gettysburg," written by Ira Lee Riddle and Joanna Pruskiwicz. Chuck Yakimani is chairman of the stage crew and Kathy Bower is stage chairman.

Writers at West Park Place have based their plot on a typical day in the life of the Ballard family; Rosemary Venafro, Carol Mullen and Susan LeJeune wrote the script with help from all members of the playground. Susan Marcantonio and Margie Mayer are in charge of props; Linda Marcantonio, sound; and Betsy Eppes and Tom Morton, stage managers.

The Brookside play under the direction of Linda Smith and Kay Lloyd is "Sleeping Beauty." Kay and Linda have leading parts, along with Jan Eissing, Janice Woolen, Jean Bayer and Kenny Dluger.
David Yarmey is stage manager.

A "Roaring 20's" theme is being used at the Gallaher playground in a production of "The Great Gatsby," written by F. Scott Fitzgerald. G-men and Elliott Ness. Several parents are helping the cast with choreography.

The new Windy Hills playground is presenting "Pottery Lane" by Karen Asbrand, a story of an Italian pot-making family. Judy Budd, is director and Paul Chantler heads the stage crew. Jeff Pierce, Carol Mays, John and Nancy Dana and Patricia Fowler have leading roles.

Jerry L. Webb Succeeds Editor Raymond Pierce

Jerry L. Webb has been appointed assistant editor in the department of rural communications for the University of Delaware School of Agriculture.

Webb, who has a B.S. in agricultural agent for Bowling Green County, Mo., replaces Raymond G.
Pierce, who became editor for the cooperative extension service at the University of Alaska, July 1.

Batchelors Boost
Canadian Medicine
With Two Grads

The medical profession and its beneficiaries in Canada received a special boost last month with the graduation of two members of the Batchelor family.

Cecile, daughter of Tom and Frances Batchelor, graduated from St. Mary's Hospital and after further study in November, will become a registered nurse.

Recently they moved to their present home on Tyre Avenue.

The Rev. Pierce attended the University of Rochester and Crozer Theological Seminary.

Cecile and George Batchelor

Son George graduated from Mc-Gill University Medical School and Montreal General Hospital.

The Batchelors are former residents of Newark. Mr. Batchelor is managing director of Hercules Powder Company, Canada.

Nurse Cecile attended Newark Central Elementary and Junior High schools, and completed her high school education at Villa Maria Convent in Montreal.

George attended Newark High School and the University of Delaware and obtained his BA at Mc-Gill in Montreal.

George, incidentally, has become engaged to Louise Bourassa of Shawinigan Falls, Quebec. She is a nurse.

Council Okays UD Expansion, Debates Local Negro Problem

University Proposes To Buy City Property To Expand Dormitory Facilities In Haines Street Area; Wilson Scores City Treatment Of Negroes With Housing, Jobs

Tentative approval for university expansion of dormitory facilities at the south end of Haines Street with the purchase of undeveloped city property, was obtained by Dean George M. Worriow last Tuesday night as the major portion of regular meeting of Newark City Council was occupied with a torrid discussion of complaints concerning inadequate housing, job opportunities, and other sub-standard living conditions for Negroes in Newark.

90th Birthday

Council approved the vacating of city-owned rights of way for proposed extensions of Haines and Chambers Streets and Wyoming Road, subject to public hearing and University of Delaware payment of all pertinent costs to the City of Newark.

"Whether we like it or not," Councilman Carl S. Rankin said in explaining the proposal, "the university is faced with expansion, and this is the logical place to expand."

Costs were estimated at $15,000, including $1,000 for city-owned property; $3,500 for construction of traffic circles at the dead ends of Haines Street and Wyoming Road; and relocation of sewer and water mains.

Residential Approval

Rankin said that residents in the area had expressed the hope that the university proposal "will go through," and that "parking be limited to one side of Haines Street."

The City Planning Commission had approved the proposal, and Worriow expressed appreciation for "the fine job of presentation" by Public Works Director Ben Campagna, and Charles Grubb, planning consultant.

Council insisted on providing Worriow with a transcript of the discussion to avoid any subsequent misunderstanding, and although the agricultural college dean appeared primarily concerned with council approval for sale of the property, he agreed to accept the transcript with "anything to keep them tranquilized is fine."

Western District Councilman George M. Wilson launched the discussion of living conditions for Negroes in Newark by stating that they were denied decent housing and jobs; that "the law was administered differently on different sides of the tracks," and charging the city with a "leave them alone, and maybe they'll leave us alone," attitude.

Wilson reported "rats darn near as big as cats" feeding in the open streets, and "Ghetto without a wall," and charged that Negroes employed as "ditch diggers alongside of white boys, stand in the ditch while white men are upgraded."

Summer Classes At YWCA Shifted
To New Building

Mrs. Melville G. Kershaw, Newark YWCA Center committee chairman, reports that starting next week, all summer classes will meet in the lounge of the new YWCA building at 318 South College Avenue, on the corner of West Park Place.

The lounge, a room with windows on three sides and a fireplace wall, has been redecorated in a gray-green.

Junior and senior high students are registering for a class in ballroom dancing to be held in the lounge on the five Thursdays of August from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Domenick Cannetelli, student of ballet and tap at the Antoinette Studio, will teach basic fox trot, waltz and jitterbug steps.

The Newark YWCA Center office will be closed during August but all questions can be directed to the Wilmington YWCA.

Tuesday morning craft classes will meet in the lounge of the new building, Helen Limber reports.

Chance To Put More Profit Into Farming Provided With U. of D. Farm Field Day

Delaware farmers will have an opportunity next Wednesday to get first-hand information that can put more profit into farming.

On Aug. 2, the University of Delaware will stage its annual Farm Field Day at the school of agriculture's experimental farm near Georgetown. The public is invited—farmers to hear research results in the production of vegetables, fruits, field crops and broilers—non-farmers to see some new developments in agriculture since days spent on Grandpa's farm.

What makes the Field Day especially important to the individual farmer is that the university gears its farm research to practical problems. A farmer with a corn yield problem, for example, can talk with crop production research experts and learn where the trouble lies.

Some 70 different experiments are listed in this year's Farm Field Day program. They range from insect, weed and disease control in various crops, to new varieties and methods of planting, fertilizing, harvesting and marketing.

A special demonstration will be conducted on a high-speed soybean cultivation technique and the new soybean variety Bethel, developed by Dr. William Crittenden of the department of plant pathology, will be shown.

Other field crops research to be reported includes sorghum and field corn variety testing; a corn demonstration encompassing high fields on harvesting, storing and marketing; and clover and alfalfa varieties resistant to parasites causing root and crown rots.

Youths Arrested For Theft Of Newark Automobiles

A 1960 automobile belonging to Reginald Rockwell, and stolen last Monday night, while parked on East Main Street, was recovered by Aston (Pa.) Township police last Tuesday, operated by a 17-year-old Newark youth with a previous police record.

Apprehension of the youth resulted in the arrest of another Newark juvenile for the theft of two automobiles—last May 8, from the parking lot behind Sheaffer's on East Main Street, and June 30, from the Newark Country Club parking lot. Both cars were recovered.

In two of the three thefts, ignition keys were left in the cars, Newark police warn.

ark Moves Toward Public Housing

A Report On The Newark Housing Authority
By Avery H. Goddin, NHA Commissioner

Newark has been under study by civic groups for many years. These groups have consistently indicated a need for housing standards in the city. In 1958, the City Council took the first step in 1958 by drawing up a minimum standard. Also, through the City, the Newark Housing Authority has been created recently, and the planning and development of low rent housing in Newark.

The Mayor's Housing Committee was formed in March, 1957, and studies were continued.

In June, 1957, the League of Women Voters reported that rentals of $40 to $60 per month and dwellings of $8,000 to $9,000 were badly needed in the city, along with city enforcement and enforcement to bring defective dwellings up to standard.
City Council drew up and passed a minimum housing ordinance in 1958.

The Public Housing Act and regulations provide for financial assistance to community efforts to secure and sanitary dwellings for the low income group.
Plans are made to assist in preliminary study, acquisition, and construction of the project as nearly as possible. The local authority will be responsible for the project and will receive federal contributions primarily to cover interest on the capital cost of the project.

The authority must set rentals and must operate the project and must determine the eligibility of applicants, and other requirements such as the number of residents in the city the community.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton
U. of D. Agricultural Extension Service

Summer is the season when family meals and between-meal snacks should be good but easy to prepare.

Feature food for August says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be turkey. Supplies will continue to be quite large as they have been during this month. It is anticipated that during August, prices will be at a record low, lower than they have been since before World War II. This means those of you with freezers should make room for a turkey or two. Everyone, whether you have a freezer or not, should enjoy this meat often during August.

Other August plentiful will be shrimp, plums, summer vegetables, and peaches during the early part of the month. Indications are that the peach crop in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other nearby states will be about 10 per cent less than the yearly average because of severe damage to trees and buds last winter.

Since the majority of our peaches come from these areas during August and September, supplies will be small and prices will go up. For those of you who can and freeze this fruit, I suggest you consider doing it soon while supplies are liberal.

Everyone can be in their backyards cooking steaks and broiling chickens this weekend since both meats are "specials" at many stores.
Those who do not care for these will find economical buys on turkeys. The large size birds continue to sell for as low as 33 cents a pound. Other meats to check are leg of lamb, smoked hams, and veal roast, for a few stores are offering these at special weekend prices.

July, 1958 to become effective in January, 1959.

With an adequate, enforceable ordinance, it was anticipated that dwellings would be needed for families displaced from substandard homes. As study on this problem progressed, additional surveys were made by the City of Newark, the University of Delaware, and the League of Women Voters.

In May, 1959, Newark applied for and was certified for a "working program" under the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. After assembling required data, Newark applied to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for assistance under Section 221 in February, 1960.

This agency concluded that too few families appeared to have income sufficient to purchase the lowest priced housing available under FHA standards, that is, in the $10,000 range. It follows that assistance under this agency would not have significant effect in solving anticipated housing needs of the city.

In the meantime, the city was inspecting dwellings under its minimum housing ordinance. Several were condemned and some had to be vacated and demolished. Thus, the need for low rent housing became more critical with families already displaced.

In July, 1960, the city applied to the State Board of Housing for the creation of a local housing authority. The state board issued a "certificate of determination of need" for a Newark Public Housing Authority in September, 1960.

Delaware law requires that the authority shall consist of six members who shall serve without pay.
Also, that it shall constitute a body both corporate and politic, exercising public powers and having all powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate purposes and provisions of the law.

In accordance with state law, commissioners were appointed on January 13, 1961 as follows:
By Governor Carvel — The Rev.
Robert W. Andrews, six years; Mrs.
Francis E. B. McCann, four years; John W. Meyers, three years.

By Mayor Durnall — Avery H.
Goddin, five years; Mrs. Samuel Handloff, two years; John E. Dawson, one year.

This body held its organizational meeting last March and elected John W. Meyers, chairman, and Mrs.
Francis E. B. McCann, secretary.

Speaking of Money...

"More Fun, Less Cost, in Entertaining Friends"

Let's talk about more fun, less cost in entertaining friends... the right way. When you get that short, rather breathless note indicating that your good friends are coming through town on vacation, don't panic. Even though they are the closest friends you've ever had, don't go into a frenzy in planning an entertainment schedule so big, expensive, and busy that it would make Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip blanch.

Remember the one thing that far too many hosts and hostesses forget. Those friends are coming primarily to see you... to admire the kids... and to catch up on your activities since you were last together. So don't plan to wow them with a tour of night clubs, expensive dinners, or big shows.
You'll only tire them—and yourself—to the bone.

A friend of ours who moved to Chicago became highly skilled at entertaining on a reasonable budget. His story, as I remember it, was this:
"Almost everyone in America, sooner or later, comes to or through Chicago because it is a national crossroads. That includes every friend we've ever had back to age 4, all of our relatives and in-laws, many business acquaintances, and even some people we heartily dislike. Nevertheless, whenever they wrote or called, I felt it was my duty to entertain them.

"At first, I made the mistake of trotting each and every one of them off to the Chez Paree, the Pump Room, Don the Beachcomber's, and so on, up and down Rush Street 'til all hours of the morning. My friends would leave town muttering groggily—I don't know how you can live this life' —and my family would be on short rations for the next two weeks, paying off the high cost of entertaining.

"Then I got smart. I discovered that my out-of-town visitors were far more impressed with such things as the fascinating Museum of Science and Industry, the Planetarium, and shopping at Marshall Field's Department Store. They've loved just looking around at Maxwell Street, Michigan Avenue, and Skid Row. They were delighted with a trip to the Top of the Rock, on the Prudential Building, for a look up and down the Lake Shore Drive.

"In the evening, we'd stay home and have a cookout, even in the wintertime. That's right: we would wrap strips of bacon around hot dogs, secure them with tooth picks... and then go outside into the snow, light up the barbecue, and roast the hot dogs over the coals. It's an odd sight, ear muffs, gloves, and outdoor cooking... but it's a great treat, and a delicious, low-cost, different way to feed those visitors."

Speaking for the Wilmington Savings Fund Society

Seems like it makes sense to entertain your friends the right way. First... enjoy being together with them, rather than rushing them around. Second
... if you must show them the town, show them the unique aspects, not the night clubs. Chances are, they have just as many night spots back home but no planetarium, or antique auction, or pottery industry. Even if you live on a farm, which you might rate as deadly dull, your out-of-town friends will be more fascinated with your animals and acreage than all the dazzling lights of Broadway, Sunset Strip, or Collins Avenue.

It's more fun... and it costs less to entertain friends, when you rely on your ingenuity instead of your pocketbook.

At the Savings Fund our business is to help people save regularly. Why not start a savings program with us and make it your Savings Fund, too. Your money will earn interest at the current rate of 3 1/2%, even in a Special Purpose account. You can open an account with as little as one dollar, with full passbook privileges at any office regardless of the one at which you opened your account. You can even sit comfortably at home and bank by mail if you wish. Won't you drop in soon?

88th Dollar Days For Wilmington To Begin Aug. 2

The 88th semi-annual Dollar Day sales carnival with four days of shopping opportunities will be observed by Wilmington merchants beginning next Wednesday.

A departure from the usual one-day Dollar Day, a pattern which had been followed for almost a half century, the August sales event this year will be extended Wednesday through Saturday.

Dollar Days are sponsored by the retail merchants' section of the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce and member merchants have planned "real bargain opportunity days," according to Samuel H. Morrison, chairman of the committee.

The change from a one-day sale to four days of money-saving offerings for thrifty shoppers was made permanent with the August event, Morrison explained, after inclement weather forced an extension last February.

It is motive alone that gives character to the actions of men.

Brookside Shopping Area Plundered By Thieves

About $200 was stolen from the Colony Inn at the Brookside Shopping Center and about $25 from the adjacent Brookside Bowling Center last week.

State police detectives said the thieves, after robbing the Colony Inn, used a chair to climb through a high window to the bowling alley.

Vending machines in both places were pried open, change was taken, and both properties were ransacked.

Detectives found blood stains on a table cloth in the Colony Inn and on the floor at the bowling center, indicating one of the burglars was injured.

Four Undefeated In Pony Leagues With Final Week

Four teams remain undefeated going into the final week of regular New York Recreation Association Pony League play.

Montreal of the International League sports an 11-0 record. The Royals downed the Bisons 9-4 and Toronto 25-5 last week.

In American League play, the Orioles and Indians are battling for first place. The Orioles have a 6-2 record while the Indians are 6-3.

The Yankees and Red Sox are tied for third with 5-4 followed by the 5-3 Angels.

The Eastern "B" League Senators remained undefeated after a 21-3 victory over the second place Wildcats.

The Phillies of the National League are undefeated, followed by the Cards, Pirates and Dodgers.

In Major League action the Giants continued where they left off last year when they swept the Pony League championship. The Giants are undefeated with a 4-0 record and seem headed for another division title. The Giants are followed by the 4-2 Colts.

The Newark Recreation Pony Leagues will begin three weeks of playoffs next week which will determine an overall champion.

The Giants and Senators dueled in last year final championship at Medill School, with the Giants eventually winning.

Newark Man Wounded In Accidental Shooting

Bobby Price, 23, of near Newark, sustained a bullet wound of the hand while cleaning a rifle last week at his home.

State police said Price accidentally discharged the rifle; the bullet struck the wall, ricocheted, and struck him in the hand.

Price drove himself to Wilmington General Hospital where the bullet was extracted.

Farm Field Day

Other horticultural crops under test are direct-seeded asparagus and asparagus nutrition, spacing and irrigation; cantaloupe varieties, weed control, marketing and sweetening studies; cucumber weed control; lima bean varieties; pepper disease and weed control; varieties, direct-seeding, transplanting, spacing, irrigation and harvesting; potato pest control; sizes and shapes of seed pieces, and hormone treatment; snap bean varieties, irrigation and fertilization; watermelons and squash.

Among experiments to be reported are those designed to improve sanitation and safeguard poultry health; comparison of litter materials; and effects of withholding feed during extremely hot periods to reduce summer heat losses.

Features of general interest include a display of antique farm equipment items arranged beside modern, up-to-date power units that have "evolved" to do the same basic work.

A pageant will be presented, featuring women dressed in authentic period costumes from Colonial days to the present, portraying the development of America's system of land-grant colleges and state universities.

A special demonstration is planned on correct freezing techniques for fruits and vegetables. And at noon, a fried chicken lunch will be served by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association.

The substitution farm is located five miles southwest of Georgetown on Route 28, the Georgetown-Laurel highway. Morning tours of the experimental plots start at 10 a.m.
