Local Civil Defense Program Now Beginning To Take Shape

Police Sgt. Leroy Hill Announces 94 Persons
Have Recently Completed 40-Hour
Civil Police Course

A comprehensive program of civil defense under the direction of John A. Faxon, local civil defense head, to protect the citizens of Newark in the event of an attack either by atomic bombs, guided missiles, or any other means of destruction is taking shape.

In connection with this program, Mr. Faxon announced this week that members of local Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops are distributing to every home in Newark descriptive literature pertaining to action which if taken will increase greatly every individual's chance of surviving disaster resulting from such attacks.

Included in this literature is a card containing air raid instructions to be followed both in case of warning of the attack is previously received and in the event such warning is received after the attack. Definite protective measures are given for those individuals at home, at work, in school, in the open, or in cars, buses, or trolleys.

Also being distributed is an official U. S. government booklet describing emergency action to take in order to save lives. As many persons as possible are urged to enroll in a Red Cross first aid course as soon as possible.

Sgt. Leroy Hill, training officer for local civilian police, announced this week that 94 persons of Newark and vicinity have recently completed a 40-hour course of instruction in basic civilian police training.

According to Sgt. Hill, the Newark area has been divided into 14 zones each of which has a zone leader who has completed the above course and whose responsibility it will be to direct protective and rescue efforts in the event of a disaster.

Included in the course of instruction given locally were such subjects as: Duties and Responsibilities of Civil Police, Patrol Technique and Enforcement, Road Blocks, Public Disorders, Sabotage and Subversive Activities, and Defense Tactics.

Zone leaders which have been appointed in the Newark area are: Bill Gray, William Doyle, Harold Grant, Neil Beckett, Cornelius Morgan, Dave Williams, Ralph Vannoy, Harold Stanley, John Worrell, James Moore, Bill Warwick, John Thornton, George Neighbors, James Wood, Herbert Wood, and Herbert Mayne.

Plans have been completed for the immediate dispersal of all pieces of firefighting equipment of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co.

Eugene Stultz has been appointed to direct the evacuation of all school children to designated safety points.

Frasconi Woodcuts Now On Display In University Gallery

Included In Exhibit Is Print
Used As Cover Design
On Fortune

Included in the exhibition of original woodcuts by Antonio Frasconi, now being shown at the University of Delaware Art Gallery, is his cover design for the August 1950 issue of Fortune. This print entitled "Hay-loader" won an honorable mention at the Pennsylvania Academy. Another of his woodcuts won the Philadelphia Print Club Purchase Prize, 1951. Already one of his fables has been selected by the Print Club of Cleveland for its print of the year, 1952.

Recently Fortune Magazine commissioned Frasconi to do a group of prints depicting the harvest season in the California vineyards. This collection appeared in the September 1951 issue of that magazine.

One of the interesting features of this current exhibition is the display of the print from Aesop: 1480 besides the woodcut from which it was printed.

Frasconi works in a direct way printing his own woodcuts by rubbing the back of the paper with a spoon or the back of his hand. He utilizes the grain of the wood in an ingenious way and gets an additional charm through his use of small block of color.

Dr. Perkins Elected Chairman Of State Geological Group

Johan J. Groot Appointed
Secretary At First Meeting Here

The Delaware Geological Commission held its first meeting recently in the office of Dr. John A. Perkins, President, University of Delaware. Governor Elbert N. Carvel appointed the members of this Commission. They are: Mr. John J. Conway of Seaford, Mr. Richard A. Haber of Dover, Mr. Clayton M. Hoff of Wilmington, Dr. John A. Perkins, and Mr. Daniel F. Shields of Greenville.

The group elected Dr. Perkins chairman of the Commission, and the State Geologist, Mr. Johan J. Groot, 34 Continental Street, was appointed secretary. The aims and purposes of the survey were discussed as related to the Senate bill concerning the geological survey. This involves the systematic investigation of geological structure of the state and the nature and composition of its rocks with emphasis on examination of our mineral resources, including water resources.

The Commission has recently carried out in cooperation with the United States Geological Survey, an inventory of wells in the Newark area, a study of surface geology, and a magnetometer survey or the measuring of the magnetic intensity of the earth. The cooperation with the federal survey is greatly favored by the Commission, since it means that the state has the benefit of their financial and scientific help.

Junior High Pupils Need Special Work

Program Designed For Those Experiencing Trouble
At Present

Following a recent survey carried out regarding the junior high school pupils who are experiencing difficulty with the regular academic program, local school officials reported to the Department of Public Instruction a need for one or more classes in Special Education.

A recent reply to the report from the Department of Public Instruction indicated that if qualified teachers can be found and space provided, necessary funds would be made available.

At the present time school officials are searching for a teacher trained in this type work. Indications are that there are none in the state since this field is not covered by the education department of the university. The University of Pennsylvania is the only school in this vicinity offering this type of training.

Superior Court Has Reversed Board Of Adjustment Decision

Citizens Studying Plans For Action To Be Taken Against Approval

According to an announcement by William M. Coverdale, city councilman from Newark's eastern district, a Superior Court order has reversed the decision of Newark's Board of Adjustment to permit multiple dwellings on the Wilson tract of land, a residential area.

The Board, composed of Mayor Wallace Johnson, Carl Rankin, and John P. Sinclair, approved multiple dwellings for this area over the protest of the adjacent property owners.

Mr. Coverdale goes on to say, "A writ of Certiorari was instituted by the citizens who objected to the Board of Adjustment's action. The court order issued October 18, 1951 signed by Judge Caleb R. Layton further ordered that the court costs be paid by the members of the Board of Adjustment."

"The court petition was signed by William M. Coverdale, 309 Delaware Circle; Harold Gwaltney, 313 Delaware Circle; E. L. Overbey, Delaware Circle; Raymond Hartman and C. Vernon Steele, Tyre Avenue, in behalf of numerous other land owners who do not favor the project."

Citizens of the area are now studying plans to see what action should be taken against City Council's approval of this project.

Fourth Grade Pupils Will Be Changed To Main Street School

Miss Margaret Morrison To
Be Principal; Parking
Lot To Go

Following the regular meeting this week of the Board of Education of the Newark Special School District, school officials have announced that on Friday 185 students included in six fourth grade groups will be moved into the old Main Street School Building.

Extensive renovations which have been carried out in the building lately include new floors, doors, lights, fire escape, toilets, plumbing fixtures, including automatic oil burner for heat, and a complete paint job on the interior. Open house will be held periodically next week and school officials are anxious to have all interested persons see the newly redecorated building.

Principal of the new building will be Miss Margaret Morrison. Other fourth grade teachers whose classes will occupy the new quarters are: Miss Hazel Johnston, Mrs. Priscilla Vanech, Mrs. Laura Nichols, and Miss Gertrude Baynard. One additional teacher will be added in the near future.

With the moving of the above students into the new quarters a problem was created regarding the city parking lot now located at the rear of the building. Wilmer E. Shue, district superintendent, has stated that the lot would be taken over to be used as a playground during the school day. After school hours and on weekends it will be used for parking under the supervision of the City Council. Plans are made for erecting a fence at the rear of the lot bordering on Delaware Ave. to protect the children while at play.

Although official Council approval has not been given regarding the parking lot change, it is expected in the near future by school officials.

Delaware Students Tour New York City Marketing Agencies

Three Day Visit Will Afford
Chance To See Fruit
Auction Sale

Twenty-three students of the School of Agriculture at the University of Delaware are on a three-day tour of the New York City markets. This group includes the members of the Poultry Marketing, Agricultural Marketing, and the Commercial Vegetable Production classes, as well as seven special students from Germany and one graduate student from South Korea. The entire group is under the guidance and direction of Professors A. F. Kish, W. E. McDaniel and R. C. Smith. The students will visit 12 food marketing agencies, the Mercantile Exchange and Stock Exchange. The principal purpose in making the trip is to give the members of the classes an opportunity to observe actual marketing activities.

The group will observe the receiving, unloading, handling and wholesale selling of nearby and distant shipments of fruits and vegetables. One of the highlights of the trip will be observing the fruit auction sale.

The three day field trip will include tours of the live poultry terminal, and dressed poultry receivers for the opportunity of observing the actual handling of poultry through these marketing channels. The marketing of eggs will be explained by visits to two agencies, the first a cooperative agency handling nearby eggs, and the other a wholesale receiver of mid-western eggs.

A tour and explanation of operations in the produce, grocery, and meat divisions of a large New York chain store organization will afford an opportunity for the observation of retail food marketing.

Another highlight of this tour will be a visit to the New York Mercantile Exchange. The group will be on the exchange floor during spot sales in butter and egg trading and futures sales in potatoes.

Those students and staff from the University of Delaware School of Agriculture making this field trip are: Heinz Breyer, Otto A. Buehhardt, Helmut K. Drester, Gorg F. Haenlein, Hans D. Chamber of Commerce Plans Annual Santa Claus Visit

William J. Warwick, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has announced that at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors plans for the annual visit of Santa Claus to Newark were formulated.

This year it is planned to have Santa housed in a trailer to be parked in front of the City Hall, Main and Academy Streets. He will be in Newark from December 8 through December 22.

Speaking at Newark's Methodist Church this week at the annual dinner given by the faculty of the Newark schools, for the Board of Education, the administrators and their wives, U. S. Representative J. Caleb Boggs pointed out that "Proper growth and development of education and freedom will be a greater force for peace and good will than all the atomic bombs, even though the bombs have a place. We must solve and eliminate problems through knowledge, understanding and tolerance."

"In the great struggle for the minds of men, the youth behind the Iron Curtain is educated and indoctrinated along the strict government line," said the congressman adding:

"Freedom of expression and training do not exist. Fear and force control the older people. The youth behind the Iron Curtain is our real problem as we look to the future."

"To win their minds we must not only show military strength for our defense. We must be strong in our economy strong spiritually and show that under a free system greater good results to all. We can do this through proper education and training."

Mr. Boggs went on to point out that "Freedom in this time of strife and confusion as well as in the long view depends essentially upon an informed mind primarily through adequate and continually improving educational opportunities."

"We must be as bold in the pursuit of peace and freedom as we are in our battles and wars for survival. In this great task we now know that we may expect delays, irritations, and even bitter frustrations. We have had and we may continue to have seemingly endless disappointments. I am confident that these disappointments will serve principally to solidify American opinion and determination."

Congressman Boggs then pointed out that "The wider development of our minds and skills must go hand in hand with our traditional concept of freedom. Freedom is not a static thing; it is fundamentally based upon freedom. Education and freedom rely greatly upon a free press. I am becoming increasingly alarmed by the various and numerous attacks in our country and our national administration upon the freedom of information."

"Freedom of the press is essential to a free and expanding educational program. I am greatly concerned that this freedom is being endangered by the growth of big government. The President's recent gag order on government information strikes at the basis of an informed citizenry."

"There are new federal attacks aimed at the free press through the Justice Department under the anti-trust laws. Government subsidies have an indirect influence. Certain legislative proposals to restrain freedom of the press increase my alarm. When freedom of the press is destroyed the power of government will be supreme and the freedom of education and the individual will be subject to the whim of the government."

Serving on the committee arranging the event were: Mrs. Mildred Cleaves, chairman, Miss Ann Gallagher, Mrs. Mary Armstrong, Mrs. Okal Condra, Mrs. Eric Bowman, Mrs. Helen Doney, Mrs. Estelle Miller, Miss Doris Dean, Albert Brayman, and Eugene Smith. Miss Gallagher served as toastmistress. Gifts in recognition of 25 years of teaching service were presented to Miss Irene Wilkinson and Mrs. Hazel Sutcliffe of the faculty. Miss Wilkinson has taught the entire period at the Newark school.

Roseville Park Homecomings
Great rejoicing took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander T. Miller, Laurel Avenue, Roseville Park, when it was learned that Grace had discarded her crutches and was to be released from the Alfred I. DuPont Institute. Her many friends have been greeting her after an absence of more than four months. To top it off Grace is reentering school on a half-day basis.

Much excitement has prevailed in the home of Mrs. Walter Reign, Rose Circle Avenue, Roseville Park, ever since word was received that Mr. Reign had landed in Seattle after a long period of naval duty. Joyce Ann was disappointed that daddy did not succeed in reaching home on Armistice Day as had been expected. A phone call from Chicago assured them that he would arrive on Monday.

Another type of homecoming has recently taken place in Capitol Trail. Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Long and children, Anita and "Jack," are being welcomed back to their old home across from White Clay Church. The Longs had resided in Newark for about two years. Mr. Long is Secretary-Treasurer of the Newark City Council.

The latest report on the progress towards the winning of a Philco TV set being offered by the Acme Stores indicates that the students of the New London Avenue School have passed the half-way mark on the number of points required.

From one-third to one-half of the youngsters born on farms move into the big cities. Sociologists say this is nothing to worry about, in fact, it's a healthy situation that exists in every technically advanced country.

COURTESY PAYS

Little courtesies, like sharing the road, help to make life happier.

Consideration for the other fellow is the basis of good party-line telephone service, too. If you are always courteous on the telephone, you're sure to find your party-line neighbors the same. Remember the three R's of party-line courtesy — Relinquish the line as soon as possible when you hear others try to use it; Replace the receiver gently when you find the line in use; Regulate your calls so that others may use the line in between.

Fraudulent Receipt Of Benefits Under DUCAL At Low Mark

Administrative Vigilance And Prompt Punishment Are Cause Of Decline

Continuing administrative vigilance and prompt punishment of offenders has reduced fraudulent payment of benefits under the Delaware Unemployment Compensation Law to an all-time low, according to a report issued by Albert Stetser, chairman-executive director of the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

In the three-months period ending June 30, 1951, for which a review has just been completed, Commission auditor of benefit payments indicate only twelve cases in which there was willful misrepresentation by the claimant. Such overpayments represent only 0.4% of the benefits paid during the period. The total amount of overpayments was $819.00 and during the same period $650.50 was recovered.

During the three months the Commission, through their attorney, former Judge Frank L. Speakman, initiated prosecution of thirty-two offenders during current and past periods. Prosecutions occurred in Municipal Court in Wilmington and in magistrates' courts throughout the state; convictions were secured in every case.

In addition to the willful overpayments the Commission found 144 cases in which $2287.50 had been received by claimants who had made misstatements as to their earnings either in honest error or through misunderstanding of the law. Almost all of these were instances in which a claimant had returned to work but had not yet received his first pay from his employer. They represent 1.12% of all benefit payments during the period. During the same three months $3040 was recovered by the Commission, representing current and past cases of this nature.

In addition to penalties resulting from prosecution, in the twelve cases in which there had been willful misrepresentation the claimants were completely disqualified from any possible receipt of benefits for a year. In every case where overpayment occurred, whether willful or otherwise, no further benefits can ever be paid to the claimant for a period of future unemployment until all the money he has received which was not due him has been repaid to the Commission.

The Commission's procedure, Mr. Stetser explained, is to check the account of every person who receives any benefit payments against all wages reported by Delaware employers for the same months. Where there is any overlap indicated the Commission secures a detailed statement from the employer, listing wages paid to the claimant by weeks. If there then appears to be a possible overpayment a formal hearing is scheduled before the attorney, at which time the claimant is given an opportunity to present his side of the case. Where willful overpayment is found prosecution is initiated. If honest error is established to have occurred, the claimant is formally notified that he must make repayment to the fund before any benefits can ever again be paid him.

Employer cooperation in this program is excellent, Mr. Stetser said, and has led over a period of years to a steady reduction to the present minimum. The Commission also investigates any individual complaint which may indicate possible fraud.

Those churches participating include Red Clay Creek and White Clay Creek Presbyterians, Stanton, Hockessin, Ebenezer, Cedar Methodist, Hockessin Friends, and St. James Episcopal.

The Waverly Club planned at its meeting last week for an anniversary luncheon to be served Dec. 5 at the Hockessin Friends Meeting House. Mrs. H. Ellis Pierson is general chairman. Mrs. Paul W. Mitchell has charge of the luncheon. The club will celebrate its 40th anniversary. This month, Nov. 29, the members will take a tour of the Delaware Art Center in Wilmington. The next meeting at the home of Mrs. Harvey Bell will be held Nov. 28 instead of Nov. 21.

Henry C. Mitchell was elected chairman of the community committee for 1952 agricultural conservation program at a meeting last Friday night of farmers from Mill Creek, Christiansa, and Hockessin Hundreds at the Mitchell home. Also chosen were Norman T. Dempsey of Corner Ketch, vice chairman; Oliver Koellig of Newark, member; Harvey Gooden of Blue Ball, and Ralph Murray of Marlborough, alternates.

Mr. Raymond Lynam of Paper Mill Road, has returned to his home from the Wilmington General Hospital where he underwent a major operation on his back.

The students have enrolled 100% in the Junior Red Cross drive. The students have completed plans for the Junior Red Cross to distribute at Thanksgiving—224 decorated napkins, 300 candy cups, and 50 menu covers. Ten pounds of candy was donated by the teacher, Mrs. Elsie W. Stradley.

Motion pictures on "Farm Communities" were shown in line with the fourth grade work in social studies last Friday. The students saw "Bob Osborn, Farm Boy," "Farm Animals at the Fair," "The Brook and The Country School."

The school will be closed for the Thanksgiving holidays. The Parent-Teacher Association is scheduling its session for Nov. 20 instead of Nov. 21.

The club pledge and motto was given under his direction. Peggy and Carol Harris played a duet. Delores and Geng Lloyd entertained with a skit. A play "Cinderella's Reception" was given by the union members. The Korner Ketch group demonstrated square dancing.

A merchandise club will be started soon with Mrs. Elma Marshall, Mrs. Irvin Klair, Mrs. J. W. Pennington, Mrs. Roscoe Walker, and Mrs. W. H. Narvel as captains. As this was "Ladies' Night," Miss Ruth Ball served as master. The program arranged by Mrs. Walter Marshall represented a TV show. Being competitive, the judges declared the men, the winning group, their program was given last month.

Three members of Harmony Grange will model in the style show arranged by Mrs. Ruth Hoopes Mitchell, National Grange home economics chairman, also a Harmony member, for tomorrow afternoon at the National Grange's 85th annual sessions at Hotel Morton in Atlantic City. The show is sponsored by the National Cotton Council of America. Miss Eleanor Woodward, Miss Margaret Woodward, and Mrs. Julia Walters with Miss Miriam Wright of Broad Creek Grange in Laurel, will be the only Delawareans in the show. Forty from Harmony will take the seventh degree either tomorrow or Saturday. A number plan to remain in Atlantic City over the weekend as the grange sessions opened yesterday and close Nov. 24.

The story of a faith that paid off

YOU KNOW IT'S TRUE BECAUSE IT'S HAPPENED TO YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

PROBABLY YOU'VE never thought of yourself as a maker of history. But you are. And here is how you, as a citizen of the United States, are creating the greatest success in all history.

Remember back in 1941 when the Defense Bonds you were buying suddenly had to become War Bonds? How you and your neighbors pitched in to buy them in ever-increasing numbers, to back our fighting men and to help achieve the victory of World War II? After V-J Day, when those bonds became Savings Bonds, you continued to buy them because you had learned how regular saving could build security and contentment for yourself and those you love.

The face of the land has undergone some dramatic changes in those years since V-J Day. Now the landscape is dotted with new homes that Savings Bonds built. Thousands upon thousands of new automobiles travel the highways—Savings Bonds cars, bought with the product of individual thrift. On the farms, Bond-purchased equipment has helped produce bumper crops and prosperous years. Everywhere in America, man's urge to get into business for himself has become a bright reality. So has the ambition of loving parents to send their children through college. Time and time again, Savings Bonds have made those dreams and many others come true.

You KNOW they've come true, because it's happened to you or to some of your own friends.

And this is only the beginning of the story. Even after accomplishing so much, millions of American families still enjoy the financial security of owning more than fifty billion dollars—fifty thousand million dollars in Savings Bonds. More than at the peak of war-time Bond holdings!

How much money is that? It's enough to build a new $10,000 mortgage-free home for every family in San Francisco—and Sacramento—and Salt Lake City—and Denver—and Kansas City—and St. Louis—and Indianapolis—and Cincinnati—and Pittsburgh—and New York City—and the whole state of Texas!

And every week, everywhere in America, new millions of dollars are added to the total—as crisp new Savings Bonds are typed up with your name on them.

Kind of a king-size success story, isn't it? Your success story because you and the millions of your neighbors are living it right now. Your own faith in America—your own desire for the warmth of family security and independence—have made the story of United States Savings Bonds the thrift miracle of all time.

For your security, and your country's too, save now through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds

Safety Hints

John D. Reeder, president of the Delaware Safety Council, had a word today.

"During the past few years," Mr. Reeder said, "millions of words have poured forth in condemnation of the 'teen-age' driver. Actually, there are valid indications that a lot of this criticism is unjustified in the light of actual facts and figures."

Mr. Reeder cited the conclusions of a study conducted last year by the State Motor Vehicle Department on the basis for the current change of opinion in favor of the younger driver, especially in Delaware.

An analysis of the driving records of 2200 drivers, 1100 with driver education and 1100 without driver education, picked at random from the files of the Motor Vehicle Department, revealed that 78.7% of those drivers who had received no driver training were involved in a traffic violation, while only 19.7% of those who had received driver education in Delaware's high schools were involved in traffic violations. A further breakdown follows:

Arrests—24.7% non-trained, 1.7% trained. Accidents—22.9% non-trained, 5.1% trained. Warnings—31% non-trained, 9.2% trained. Total violations—78.7% non-trained, 19.7% trained.

"From an examination of the conclusions reached in this study," Mr. Reeder said, "it would appear that the accident experience of the teen-age driver in Delaware is above the average nationally."

"In the final analysis," he said, "it is up to the 'teen-age' driver himself to disprove by performance the reputation his group has of being careless, irresponsible and reckless. Coolness, composure and just plain good sense on the part of the young driver, plus supervised driver education that is offered in our Delaware schools, will do much to improve the record of the 'teen-age' driver to an even greater degree than has already been noted."

"Biff" Hopkins Making Good

Another former Newark High School star is making football history in other parts. Marion "Biff" Hopkins, playing fullback for Rutgers Prep, is causing a lot of interested attention in that part of Jersey. "Biff" has put another former Newark High School on some good solid beef since starting at Rutgers and no opposing line has been solid enough to stop him. He is being watched by Rutgers College football fans. "Biff" is one of the likeliest backfield candidates they have scouted.

Equitable Life To See Delaware Game

The force of the Wilmington office, Equitable Life Insurance Company of Washington, D.C., 35 strong, will attend the Delaware-Haverford game in a body on Saturday. Roger R. Minker Has Advice For Workers On Social Security

Roger R. Minker, manager of the Delaware Social Security office, has the following advice to offer wage earners regarding their social security accounts.

Your social security card is like an insurance policy—it is the key to your social security account, Mr. Minker says. Show your card to your employer or someone acting for him and make sure he takes down your name and your social security account number exactly as they are shown on the card. Unless your employer reports your wages under your name and number as shown on the card the wages may not be credited to your account. This may result in a loss of benefits for you or your family later.

Every employer you work for in employment covered by Social Security must have your name and account number exactly as on your card. This is necessary for reports he must make to the government showing the wages he pays you and the amount he has taken out for social security taxes. It is necessary no matter how long the job lasts and for a full-time or part-time job.

Mr. Minker reminded those who may have lost their cards that a duplicate can be obtained at his office. If you change your name by marriage or divorce write or visit your social security field office and ask to have the records changed. Never ask for more than one number. If you should get it your pay would be credited to more than one account and both you and your family might have difficulty getting all the benefits that might be due. Anyone who already has more than one account number should notify the social security office.

The staff of the Wilmington Field office, 201 Customs House, 6th & King Streets (telephone 4-7776) is available to:

- 1—Help you to check up on your social security account.
- 2—Explain your rights and duties, and the insurance benefits you and your family may receive.
- 3—Help you or your survivors to complete applications for benefits when that time comes.

Mr. Minker invites anyone who has any questions about social security to visit, write or telephone his office.

Know Your Schools

By A. J. Thoroughgood

Newark's two new teachers, when asked their impressions of Newark and its schools, commented that the community is an ideal college town with enough activity for its residents, but not too cluttered to lose the advantage of a rural community. They added that its educational advantages appear to be above those of communities of comparable size. There were thoughts passed on to your reporter by Mrs. Martha Wilson, newly elected teacher of English in the high school, and Mr. Albert Brayman, new mathematics teacher.

Mrs. Wilson was born in Chicago and received her college training at Lindenwood College in Missouri, the University of Missouri and Northwestern University. She holds an A. B., B. E. in Ed., and an M. A. Her specialty is English which she has taught in Missouri Valley College, University of Missouri, and the University of Illinois.

A very particular interest of Mrs. Wilson has been choral music. While residing in Philadelphia she received an audition and was chosen a member of the Bach Festival Chorus. Her second interest or hobby is travel. She reports that she has seen most of the United States and Canada and has lived in England.

Mrs. Wilson came to Newark with her husband who holds a fellowship in biology at the University of Delaware. They have two sons, George, age seven, and David, age two years. At present the family is residing in George Reed Village.

Since coming to Newark last spring, she has been employed as a secretary in the Elementary School Office. She commented to me on the fine public relations which she believes exist between the schools of Newark and the community as discovered during her months as office secretary.

Mr. Albert Brayman

Because of crowded conditions in our school Mr. Brayman has not found a corner to call his own since his arrival two weeks ago. Mr. Brayman came to us from Dallastown, Pennsylvania, where he held the position of assistant principal.

Born in Marietta, Pennsylvania, he attended high school at the time Mr. Wilmer Shue was the supervising principal at Marietta. He was graduated from Elizabethtown College with a major in English and social studies. Since then he has taught at Dallastown with three years and half out for war service with the 107th Mechanized Cavalry. Part of this time was spent in California and the rest with a unit in Bavaria.

His most interesting experiences were during his stay in Germany. One of his pleasant opportunities was a chance to visit the little town of Oberammergau, the home of the Passion Play. Mr. Brayman explained that he was impressed with the spiritual feeling everywhere which had not been lost in spite of Hitler's efforts.

At present Mr. Brayman is boarding in Newark but hopes to find a place for his wife and two sons, Ronald, age seven, and Alan, age ten months,

Farm population, which started decreasing in 1910, sank another 5,000,000 between 1940 and 1950. The farm population of 23,577,000 is about the same as 50 years ago, while national population is some 75,000,000 greater than at that time.

Chief reason for the downward shift is more efficient methods of farming which have resulted in more production with fewer workers, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Flexibility of Design and Availability of Choice Building Sites

The basic Silver Brook home consists of a living room, kitchen, three bedrooms and bath—in addition to a full basement which offers ample space for a recreation or play room.

This home is so designed, however, that with one single minor change it can provide a dining room in place of the third bedroom.

Plans have already been drawn which show how easily a breezeway and garage can be added at additional cost.

In fact the house is so designed as to afford a variety of changes to meet the needs of a particular family.

The basic lot on which each of the first nine Silver Brook homes is being constructed is 110' x 63'. There are available, however, a number of other choice building sites of varying sizes—some of which are bounded by a brook and contain towering oaks and spreading maple trees.

Designed for comfortable, modern living in a convenient and desirable location, these brick ranch homes at the Silver Brook Development in Newark are being sold for only $13,950.

Located on South College Avenue — one mile south of the Pennsylvania Railroad and just inside the new city limits — these well-constructed, planned-for-living homes are adjacent to the beautiful wooded areas of Iron and Chestnut Hills.

Here is your opportunity to buy — at an astoundingly modest price — a home which offers all the advantages of suburban surroundings combined with the convenience of having city utilities — and school bus service at your door.

William H. Brown, 83, Dies Of Injuries Received In Fall

William Harvey Brown, 83, died Sunday in the Wilmington General Hospital following a stroke and injuries received in a fall late Saturday afternoon in front of his late residence, 274 East Main Street.

Mr. Brown, husband of the late Laura R. Brown, was born near Nottingham, Pennsylvania and was a descendant of the earliest settlers of Nottingham. He lived most of his life in Cecil County, Maryland, before moving to Newark 34 years ago. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and has been retired from the Continental Diamond Fibre Co. for the past 15 years.

He is survived by his two sons, Harvey N. Brown, Falls Church, Va., and Lawrence B. Brown, Providence, Rhode Island.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, November 13, at the Ira C. Shellender Funeral Home, Inc., here and interment was at Rosebank Cemetery, Calvert, Md.

'Average Man' Will Have $67.22 Less Income Each Year

The average American will give the government 29 weeks' more pay out of his working life as a result of the higher federal taxes which took effect Nov. 1.

The Commerce Clearing House, a business and tax law analyzing agency, made that estimate today. It defined its average American as 29 years old, married and the father of two, earning $4,300 a year.

Under the old tax structure, the Commerce Clearing House said, he could expect to pay $34,743 in taxes during his working years. Under the new rates, he can add at least $2,420 for a total of $37,163 during his working life.

This "average man" will have $67.22 less spendable income a year as a result of the new taxes, the organization said.

If he works until he is 65, it added, he will pay in taxes a sum equal to his entire earnings for more than eight and a half years.

If Mr. Average Man got a raise, of course, that would throw the estimated figures off.

It would mean he'd have to pay more taxes.

Soils differ in the amount of lime required to neutralize them. That's why it is wise to send in a soil sample from every field, every three to five years, in order to keep your soil adjusted to the crop rotation used on it.

Newark Girls Scouts To Hold Bake Sale

Proceeds Will Be Used To Equip Mariner Troop With Boat

Newark Mariner Scout Troop, The Flying Cloud, will hold a bake sale on Saturday, Nov. 17 at 9 a.m. at the Newark Auto Sales Co. on East Main Street. The girls of this troop are anxious to own a small sailing dingy so that they may actually practice the sailing principles learned in their troop projects.

The following 21 high school girls are members of the Mariner troop which meets every Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Alvin Corey, 13 Townsend Road: Phyllis Baker, Joanna Miller, June Moore, Frances Moore, Frances Boyle, Maryanne Boyle, Betty Bowser, Stephanie Klahr, Irene Klahr, Annette Ely, Julia Wood, Nancy Hopkins, Carolyn Jones, Kathy Lanning, Suzanne Adams, Dorothy Mayne, Ruth Mary Cooper, Dianne Smith, Nancy Trivitt, Lucia Corey, Sue Roberts, Nancy Custer.

The troop leaders are Miss Anne Wooten, Miss Marjorie Winkelman, and Miss Camilla Speicher.

Dr. S. W. Smith is serving as basic navigation consultant and Mrs. D. D. Lanning as sailing consultant for the troop.

Mrs. T. A. Baker, member of the Newark Girl Scout Council, is troop sponsor; the Troop Mothers Committee is composed of Mrs. S. W. Smith, chairman and program director; Mrs. John Z. Miller, in charge of finance; Mrs. Wm. H. Adams, in charge of telephone; Mrs. J. Owen Ely, in charge of transportation.

Annette Ely and Phyllis Baker are troop representatives to the Senior Planning Board and as such meet once a month, with representatives of other senior scout troops of the Wilmington area.

Governor Proclaims Week Of Nov. 18-24 Homemakers Week

It Is Hoped Truman Will Make It A National Event Next Year

Through the pioneering effort of Mrs. Charles C. Wilson, Dover, Governor Elbert N. Carvel has proclaimed November 18-24 as Homemakers Week in the State of Delaware.

This will be unique among the many "weeks" now celebrated, Governor Carvel said, and is set aside to stress to homemakers that they not only have many duties but opportunities as well as they go about their daily life.

Mrs. Wilson approached Governor Carvel on marking the week during which Thanksgiving falls this year as special days to point up the fact that women are the "very foundation of our homes and families to whom we look for spiritual guidance, daily nourishment and constant loyalty."

A civic worker for many years and in a number of organizations, Mrs. Wilson is perhaps best known as Home Economics Chairman of the Delaware State Grange, a post she held from December 1948 to December 1950. "During that time," Mrs. Wilson said, "I realized by personal experience and observation that homemaking is not a glamour job, but its contribution to the general welfare of the family and community is essential."
