chosen for April's Caneer Crusade in Brookside. William P. Cooke of 53 Carlisle Road, area captain for Brookside, said each zone will include about 45 homes and the captains will each recruit about four workers for the house-to-house coverage. No captains have been named in Section M, he added, because peo-ple are still moving into that area. They have no telephones and it is difficult to contact them. Mr. Cooke asked that anyone in Section M in-terested in helping the Cancer Cru-ande contact him by calling 6080. More than 200 homes are occupied in Section M so at least four cap-tains will be needed for full cover-age.

The need for severs in his district, says Galyen, should receive immed-iate consideration. Street lights are another long-felt need. Public Opinion

Concerning a recent disclosure that Newark residents had been drinking untreated water for a three-day period in March, a New Castle. Conty Health Department official stated that Newark water, as pumped directly from the city wells, is comparable with public and private water used for drink-ing purposes elsewhere in the state. Chlorination, it was explained, is an extra measure of insurance pro-yided in Newark after the under-ground water is pumped to the sur-face reservoirs and acrated to re-duce objectionable mineral content. Failure of the chlorination equip-ment at the city water works was disclosed by a routine backteriologi-cal check made by the Health De-partment on March 18. The chlorinator was repaired and standby equipment has been pro-vided.

Public Opinion On the city manager plan, he would "go along with the opinion of the people." According to this candidate, changes in zoning should be made cautiously, keeping in mind that Newark is an expanding commun-ity and the needs of the future outweigh the expediency of the moment.

does not involve any expense by the city at this time. In the areas of traffic and park-ing, Galyen would like to see reck-less driving curbed and traffic di-rected along specific routes rather than through the back street of lown. He would ask industrial plants to cooperate in educating their employes in this respect. The growth of the city must not be jeopartized by fear of higher taxes as long as improvements like streets and water service are need-ed, according to the candidate. (Continued on Page 6) apansion requires an ample, adequate supply of power-electricity and gas. We are continuing to expand our facilities to meet the future needs of all the communities we serve. Between World War II and the end of 1954, $100,000,000 will have been spent in our expansion program. Right now at the modern Edge Moor Generating Station, construction of an additional generating unit is in progress. This unit is expected to be in operation by the end of this year. This is being done to meet your future needs-to guarantee more power for the industries, stores, homes and farms throughout the Delmarva Peninsula. We are proud to have an active part in the Peninsula's progress.

THE ALCOHOLIC IN INDUSTRY

A doctor who heads the medical department of a lead ing oil company recently spoke before a group of safety engineers on an extremely important problem-that of the alcoholic in industry.

As all of us know, the drinking driver is responsible for a horrifying high percentage of the carnage on our highways-in Chicago, for instance, it has been officially stated that 50 per cent of fatal auto accidents are the result of mixing alcohol and gasoline. In industry, too, the alcoholic is far more accident prone than others. He is a menace not only to himself but to his associates. On top of that, the alcoholic is often absent from the job, is inefficient, and presents all kinds of recurrent problems to his employer, his friends and his family. The doctor mentioned estimated that there are 2,000,000 problem drinkers in American industry today, that the number is swiftly increasing, that each loses an average of 22 days of work each year because of drinking -and that the payroll cost alone totals at least $741,000,000 annually !

He then offered a solution-and one which has proven sound and effective. Most alcoholics want to be cured and can be, The modern industrial approach to the problem, there fore, lies in dealing with the alcoholic as a sick man who need treatment; in supporting research projects, such as alcoholid clinics; in developing educational programs within compan-ies, and in working closely with outside agencies, such as the tremendously successful Alcoholics Anonymous. The potential return from a program such as this, measured in both human and money values, is beyond estimation—and it is a program which is within the ability of almost every employer and enterprise.

Ford Six and Fordomatic

A FORDOMATIC FORD IS AUTOMATICALLY WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT ... WHEN YOU SELL IT. TOOL

The new Ford 115-n.p. I-block Six whisks you along silently, smo economically. Its deep-block build provides rigid crankshaft support for smoother, quieter operation. Low-friction design and high-turbulese combustion chambers mean more miles from less gas. And, thanks to the Six's higher compression and increased displacement, you get extra "GO" power at all speeds!

Fordomatic Drive shifts for you more smoothly than you could do? yourself. It's the only "automatic" in Ford's field to combine a fluid to converter and an automatic intermediate gear. Should you ever need of burst of speed for passing or hill-climbing Fordomatic's intermediate if takes over automatically when you step down on the accelerator summer day. Abel Hopkin One summer day, Abel Hopkins, driving lish handsome pair of buy-to the earlings, drave the women of him household to Newerk, elem-ping. Not march household shouping was necessary in hose days as al-most everything was grown on ino farms. Sugar cone was calced on all the old farms around here and the sugar from the bottom of the sorphion barrel was carefully scraped out and used. While the Hopkins were in New-ark that lovely sommer day, a very severe olderifs domin came up. The rain was very heavy in the hills and the creek rose higher than common common

Floodwaters Coming home Mr. Hopkins drov nto the ford as usual but the rus of water swept the hornes off their eet and corried the carriage dow reek.

A big old buttonwood that find been bening across the bank was uproded and fell and the horses and carriage washed up against it. The people, scared and in great danger, were able to crewl out of the carriage onto the trunk of the buttonwood and scramble across to solid ground but the horses were lost.

solid ground but the horses were tot. Since then, Hopkins Bridge has been built across the White Clay and makes a beautiful fishing spot. Just a little further up White Clay is Thompson's Bridge where the young people of Newark have built a small dam and have enjoyed the swimming there until last sum-mer notices were put up "No Swim-ming Allowed." Privilege Abased T an told by one of the farmers that this privilege was revolved be-cause, in the meadow he pastured a very fine herd of heifers and one peer-age boy selected one of the letter of a heifer means too much to a farmer for that sort of out-two.

to a farmer for this sort of out-lawry. When William Penn was riding horseback through these hills going to Minquannan, the Indian town, he saw on the banks of While Clay (Greek a Swede named Yocum, training some hop vines up poles. This Yocum had already determined that this new country would need hops for making yeast for bread, so he named this creek bank "Hop yard Farm" one thousand acres of it, at a penny an acre. Parts of this farm have been sold off on time-much of it to a man who came with Wm. Penn-John Chambers Farms
