Six Badly Hurt This Morning As Bridge Collapses

Workmen On Kiamensi Covered
Span Crushed By Falling Timbers; Report Two May Die Of Injuries; In City Hospital

WORK COMPLETED YESTERDAY

Christiana Man Among Seriously Injured; Others From Pennsylvania

Two men were believed to be critically injured, and four others badly hurt at eleven o'clock this morning, when the old covered bridge spanning the Christiana Creek at Kiamensi, collapsed and buried them in the debris.

In response to the call for aid, three Wilmington ambulances made a record run to the scene of the accident before noon and took the six injured men to various hospitals in the city. Two of the group of eight working on the bridge escaped unhurt.

The two who are in a critical condition are:

Paul I. Martin, Christiana, probably broken hip and internal injuries.

John Moore, Atglen, Pa., serious injuries about the head.

Those who were badly shaken up and cut are: Charles Bradley, colored, Parkesburg, Pa., broken left leg; Charles Gardner, colored, Atglen, Pa., contusions and lacerations of feet; William Frazier and Adam Moore, both of Parkesburg, bruises and cuts.

Collapsed Without Warning

The old covered bridge, a landmark in the Kiamensi community for over 60 years, gave way as the workmen were tearing away timbers from the roof this morning, preparatory to rebuilding the structure on a concrete foundation. A small truck was busy on the bridge floor hauling away the lumber, and the men were perched on various places at their work. Without warning, the bridge began to settle, then with a roar, plunged into the creek below. There was little or no opportunity afforded the men to make their escape. Fellow workmen tore away the debris and rescued them within a few minutes after the crash. They were rushed at once to the hospital.

According to County Engineer Charles E. Grubb, who was reached just before leaving for the scene of the accident, work on dismantling the bridge had started yesterday under Joseph A. Coates, contractor of Atglen. Mr. Coates was awarded the contract by the Levy Court a week ago yesterday for the reconstruction work. The bridge is designated in road records as County Bridge No. 150. It was closed last week to travel; before that it had been posted against loads of more than 20 tons. It has a span of about 75 feet, and is thirty feet from the creek bed.

Mr. Grubb could give no cause for the collapse other than the weakened condition of the structure, made more so by the dismantling process.

Doctors at the Delaware Hospital where the seriously injured are quartered, reported this afternoon that the extent of injuries to Moore and Martin could not be ascertained until the X-ray plates had been developed. Both, however, are known to be badly hurt.

FIREMEN OFF TO CLAYTON TONIGHT

About fifty members of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company with their big truck will leave early this evening for Clayton, Delaware, where they are scheduled to take part in the parade being held in conjunction with the Clayton firemen's carnival. The local firemen are planning several such excursions during this month.

NOTED JURIST DEAD

Courtesy of Every Evening
HON. GEORGE GRAY
whose death last Friday was mourned by all citizens of Delaware.

Judge Gray Dies, Relapse Follows His Strong Fight

Delaware's "Grand Old Man" Was International Figure In Active Life;
Hundreds Attend Funeral Monday Afternoon

Judge George Gray, jurist, diplomat and Senator from this State, a man widely known both here and abroad, died at his home in Wilmington, Thursday last, following a severe and sudden attack of grippe. Prior to his last attack, Judge Gray was believed to be recovering slowly from a critical illness which, on several instances, found him within the shadow of death. He rallied time and again, and eventually threw off the illness, and was enjoying a normal convalescence. Naturally his sudden passing last week was a great shock to Delaware citizens and the nation at large.

The funeral services were held from his late home Monday afternoon, interment being private. Bishop Philip Cook and Rev. Aquilla Webb conducted the services at the house. The funeral was marked with utmost simplicity. There were no honorary pallbearers. The streets around the house were lined with people.

Aim To Standardize Display Of Flag Here

Chamber of Commerce Reports Favorably on Movement Sponsored by American Legion. Referred for Action

Newark will soon begin a systematized method of displaying the Stars and Stripes on holidays and patriotic occasions, according to advice from members of the Executive Committee of the local Chamber of Commerce.

The committee met in regular session last week. At that time, the question was brought before them for approval. Instead of the promiscuous draping of the flag from windows, porch roofs, fence posts and home-made staffs, the American Legion, which is leading the movement, aims to have each town maintain a standard display system. Such a system will, it is understood, require the drilling of sockets in pavements outside each house or store, where flags of uniform quality and size attached to staffs, will be placed. Several nearby towns, notably Dover, have this system. To one passing through the streets on a holiday, the effect is not only more dignified, but much more attractive than the present hit-or-miss manner.

The committee was advised of the expenses connected with the project. (Continued on Page 10.)

Two Boys Fined

Fines were recently imposed on Horace Patchell and Herman Renshaw, both young Newark men, for alleged reckless driving here. They were fined $25 and costs each, paid their fines and were released.

Newark Soldier Badly Burned As Gun Jacket Blows

Charles C. Pugh in Hospital Following Accident Yesterday at Rehoboth
Training Camp; Governor Inspects
Today

The first serious accident of the National Guard camp at Rehoboth this week affecting a local man, occurred yesterday morning at the machine gun range, when Private Charles C. Pugh of Newark, a member of Battery E, was badly scalded when the water jacket of his machine gun burst, and the contents sprayed over his body.

According to reports from the camp, Pugh had just finished a burst of firing, and was dismantling the gun. In doing so, he pulled the ejector down too far, ripping the cooling jacket of the gun. Boiling water, under pressure, spurted out from the rent. He was burned about the head, arms and stomach. Comrades rushed him to the camp hospital where Major Barsky, medical officer, rendered first aid. His condition warranted his early removal to a nearby hospital. He is reported to be resting easier today and his recovery is destined to be rapid.

The Newark guardsmen are said to be making quite a record at the camp. Captain Hastings and Lieutenant Cook, commanding the unit, are well pleased with the showing made. The camp at Rehoboth closes late this week, and the Newark boys are due here Saturday.

Governor's Day Today

Governor Robert P. Robinson and his staff will officially inspect the Delaware regiment this afternoon; thousands of visitors from all over the State are on their way to the resort.

A dress parade and review of both battalions by the Governor, early in the evening will be a feature. It was stated that there was a probability of the firing and work of the regiment being photographed in action by motion picture men from the Second Corps Area Signal Corps, for the purpose of pictorial publicity.

The regiment will break camp tomorrow, making a convoy to Milford, where post command will be established.

Private Thomas E. Lane, also of Battery E, has, according to advice last night, been removed from Beebe Hospital, Lewes, to St. Francis Hospital, Wilmington. He has been suffering with acute stomach trouble almost since his arrival at the encampment.

Local Store In New Hands

Beginning Saturday last, the ice cream and confectionery business conducted by Wilson Blockson at the corner of Main and Academy streets, was taken over by Frank Mackie, well known Newark man. It is understood that Mr. Mackie has leased the store and the apartment above, both in the Opera House Building. The new owner has been identified with the fibre business in and around Newark for several years and has also traveled widely in his work. The deal through which the Blockson business passed into his hands, has been pending for some time, it is said.

Mr. Blockson's plans for the future have not been announced.

To Make School Survey

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce last week a committee composed of Messrs. John S. Shaw, H. Warner McNeal and J. Pearce Cann were appointed by President Johnston to make a complete survey of local school conditions at the opening of the Fall term here. The report will likely be delivered at the Fall meeting of the organization.

BAND PLAYS FRIDAY

The next weekly band concert given by the Minnehaha Band will be held on Friday night, August 14th, instead of Thursday evening, on the Academy lawn. The Minnehaha Band is scheduled to play for the Annual Harvest Home at Whiteman's Grove on Thursday, August 13th.

Cecil County Man Winner Of Auto; Carnival Closes With Receipts Over $15,000

CARNIVAL RECEIPTS HIT NEW HIGH MARK

All records for receipts at Firemen's Carnivals here were shattered at the close of business Saturday night last, when a total of $12,870.26 was announced for the seven nights.

The official figures, received today from Treasurer Robert S. Gallaher, are as follows:

Saturday (opening) ...	$1,585.82
Monday	588.46
Tuesday	787.12
Wednesday	1,077.64
Thursday	3,136.51
Friday	1,814.30
Saturday (closing)	3,880.41
Total	$12,870.26

Overflow May Compel Use Of Red Men's Home

Women's College Enrollment Problem
Not Settled, However, Until Return Of Dean Robinson; More Room Is Imperative Need Now

With the assurance of an overflow enrollment at the Women's College this fall, officials of the University are understood to be favoring the procuring of additional temporary quarters for the girls, pending the completion of Kent and New Castle Halls, authorized by the recent session of the Legislature.

For some weeks, it has been rumored that a part of the Red Men's Home, across from the campus, will be utilized to provide added accommodations.

Dr. Walter Hulihan, when asked about the situation today, stated that nothing definite will be done until the arrival of Dean Winifred J. Robinson from Europe. He said she was expected here some time next week. Dr. Hulihan confirmed, however, the possible negotiations for the fraternal home quarters. The Red Men's Home Commission and officials of the University will likely meet and arrange details, providing the deal is approved by the former body.

It is planned, according to reports, to use one floor of the big building for students at the College. A member of the faculty will be in charge of the temporary home. Additional plumbing fixtures and some other minor changes will be installed in case the deal goes through.

There are to date five more on the rolls of the college for the ensuing term than were accommodated during the whole of last year. With the usual heavy pre-term enrollment, it is generally conceded that the existing facilities on the campus will not be sufficient to take care of the students.

Farm Tour a Success

Local Agriculture Experts Talk To Farmers

Approximately 75 farmers and farm women attended the Farm Tour, held in northern New Castle County yesterday. The tour was held under the direction of the Extension Service of the University of Delaware in co-operation with the Farm Bureau and Granges.

The farms inspected included the farm of J. Howard Mitchell, of Hockessin; Malin P. Lee, of Hockessin; John F. Brackin, of Marshallton; and Frank F. Yearsley, of Marshallton. Special attention was given to the production of potatoes, alfalfa, poultry and dairy cattle.

Lunch was served on the farm of Malin P. Lee by the Hockessin Grange. During the lunch hour addresses were made by several members of the Agricultural Staff of the University of Delaware, including Dean C. A. McCue, Dr. T. F. Mamm, Prof. G. A. Schuster, Mr. H. S. Palmer and Mr. R. O. Bausman.

Off For West

Prof. George H. Ryden will leave shortly for his home in Kansas, thence on a vacation trip to the Grand Canyon and later, to the Northwest.

See No Prospect For Gas Service Here This Year

Marshallton Extension Completes Program of Wilmington Company for Present, It Is Understood; Householders Still Anxious

MAY CONTINUE LINE IN 1926

Fervent hopes of local housewives and home owners that gas service will reach Newark this year have been completely dashed to earth, according to citizens here who are close to the situation.

The Wilmington Gas Company, it is understood, contemplates no further extension beyond the present terminus at Marshallton for this year at least. The digging season is nearly over. From now on until frost sets in, their efforts will be directed to the laying of service lines to the homes of that community.

As a result of the Marshallton extension, the gas question here was given new impetus this summer. Two years ago, a survey of the entire community was made by the Chamber of Commerce, resulting in an overwhelming sentiment in favor of the service. Later, a committee conferred with the company officials in Wilmington, but no possibility of an extension was seen at that time.

There is every reason to believe, according to reports, that Newark will be served with gas within a few years. Just when the operation will start, however, is still indefinite. Town Council, while never having given an official opinion, have shown, as individuals, a distinct approval of the project, and will likely co-operate in every way with the gas company.

Fibremen On Outing

600 Expected To Picnic At Riverview
Saturday

What is expected to be the largest outing in its history, will be held by the employees of the Continental Fibre Company on Saturday, when about 600 employees, their wives, families and friends will journey to Riverview Beach along the Delaware for an all day party.

The delegation will leave Newark Center station here about 9.00 a. m. daylight saving time on a special P. R. train, which will take them to Fourth Street Wharf, Wilmington. There they will board a Wilson line steamer for the river ride.

Charles C. Hubert is in charge of the arrangements, and predicts a wonderful outing. The company's band will go along and are scheduled for several concerts during the day. Bathing, boating and park amusements will entertain the Newark fibremen.

Approve Bank Increase

Plans For New Building To Undergo Changes

Reports from Dover Saturday stated that the application for an increase from $50,000 to $100,000 in capital stock by the Farmers Trust Company here had been approved.

This action paves the way for the issuance of new stock by the institution, and on to an early start in the matter of a new building. Plans for it have been in the possession of the officials here for some time. Several alterations are in working order.

Renovating Roof

Workmen were engaged today in tarring the roof of the Newark Opera House building. Several minor repairs are also to be made to the building.

VISITS HERE FIRST TIME IN 18 YEARS

Thomas B. Jester, of Ravenna, Ohio, has been a recent visitor at the home of his brother, William B. Jester, of this town. It was his first trip to Newark in eighteen years, and needless to say, he was agreeably surprised at the rapid growth of the community.

Mr. Jester left during the past week-end for his Ohio home.

Elkton Firemen Win Major Prize In Big Parade

Thousands Pour Into Town To Witness Biggest Carnival Feature On Thursday Night; Six Bands In Line Of March

STREET TRAFFIC SETS RECORD

For one glorious night last week Main street became Broadway. Newark, the staid and blase borough, suddenly found itself gasping as hordes of visitors poured through its gates Thursday. Old residents rubbed their eyes and looked again—a typical Carnival crowd swirled before their eyes.

All records were broken. Statistic hounds who dote on crowds gave up early in the evening. Conservative estimates placed the attendance total at 12,000 active participants. There may have been more who wouldn't stand still long enough to be counted. Automobiles to the amount of 2500 were believed present during various times Thursday night. They lined the streets, invaded alleyways, filled up empty sheds and sprawled out over open lots in cheerful abandon. Newark figuratively threw the keys of the city away. The town belonged to the firemen and their guests.

It was Firemen's Night. And quite the biggest Firemen's Night in New Castle county. The Aetna management had planned to welcome a big crowd. The response to their invitation, however, gave them palpitation of the heart.

They recovered their composure, however, and successfully directed the big parade of visiting firemen and their equipment. Twelve fire companies from three states were in line. Seven bands blared martial music as the procession passed up Main street. Taking in every detail, it was by far the largest parade ever staged in Newark.

Cecil Companies Win

Cecil County entered two big winners in the competition for the silver loving cups offered by the Aetna Company. In class A, for large companies, the Slingerly outfit from Elkton, sporting their handsome big pumper, took down the main prize for the best equipped company. Over sixty men, natty in their blue and white shirts, marched in the Elkton group. The crack Elkton Band led their section. For general appearance, equipment and number in line, Elkton carried off all the honors Thursday night.

North East won the main cup in Class B, also for the best equipped company. While they were outnumbered by the Cranston Heights group, the Cecil Countians had a larger piece of apparatus, an important issue when deciding the awards.

In Class A the other prize winners were as follows: Largest number of men in line: Kennett Square, Pa.; Company coming the longest distance, Robbins Hose Company, Dover; Cranston Heights won the odd prize in Class B.

All Looked Their Best

While the above named outfits were prize winners, mention should be made of the other competing companies. For instance, Oxford's fire laddies, with their crack marching club and band, made a distinct impression on the crowd. Along the route of march, they were the recipients of continuous applause. Drillmaster Rogers had his marching club in fine fettle and they executed several difficult maneuvers. They were hampered a great deal by lack of room, as the two lines of parked cars on Main street cut down the width of the thoroughfare considerably.

Middletown, with their arch of roses, made a pretty picture as they came up the street. Five Points, Delaware City, Chesapeake City, a new comer in the ranks, and the Robbins Hose Company of Dover, were also heartily applauded during the parade.

Thousands See Parade

Spectators began to line the route of march long before starting time. By eight o'clock, there was hardly a vantage point left on Main street. Each car had its full complement of watchers, stores and second floor porches were filled, as were private homes. The pavements between the College and Academy street were six and seven deep—choked with humanity.

John K. Johnston was chief marshal, and headed the procession on horseback. The Newark company, hosts for the evening, then appeared behind the Continental Band. Only a handful of marchers made up their unit. The majority were back at the Carnival grounds preparing for the "grand rush."

Then followed, in order, Kennett Square, with band; Elkton, with band; Oxford, with band; Middletown, with band; Dover, North East, Cranston Heights, with band; Delaware City, Five Points, Chesapeake City, Elsmere and Clayton.

The marchers passed up Main street to Elkton road, to Delaware avenue and thence to the Carnival grounds. Here the eight fire engines were drawn up along the curb and made an impressive display of fire fighting efficiency.

The judges were the following members of the Chester, Pa., fire department: John F. Bauer, Thomas F. Berry and Philip A. McMonigal. Shortly after nine o'clock, the prize winners were announced by Robert S. Gallaher from the Band stand on the Carnival grounds. As each winner was called, a representative stepped up and received the cup amid cheers from the throng.

The Carnival spirit ran rampant. With one concerted rush, the visitors bore down on the Carnival. Ten minutes after the parade had passed, the grounds were jammed with people. The various booths did a rushing business for three solid hours. The Armory was filled with young people. Here it was the "Charleston" held forth in all its glory. This peculiarly eccentric step has taken the town by storm. Fully as many spectators were present to see it as were dancers to interpret it.

From every angle, Firemen's Night

THE PESTALOZZI SOCIETY

Upon the 10th of May, 1876, the young ladies connected with the college formed a society which they named after the famous Swiss educationist, Pestalozzi. The organizers of this society were the Misses Margaret R. Williamson, Anna R. Springer, Margaret G. Evans, Carrie M. Purnell, Sarah E. Mackey, Anna Willis, Lizzie Dorsey and Emma Blandy. Since that time they have had several public entertainments of a literary character with marked success. They also have succeeded in gathering together a library of books which, if not large, is well selected and continually increasing. At their last anniversary Miss Phoebe Cousins, of St. Louis, delivered a most entertaining lecture.

in Newark was an event of no mean proportions. The firemen made money, everybody was happy, no disorder was apparent, and good nature prevailed throughout the evening. The "roaring forties" had nothing on Newark Thursday night.

An Announcement of Interest to Every Farmer!

Dayett's Ready-Mixed Feeds

[FOR HORSES, CATTLE, POULTRY]

WE take pleasure in announcing to our friends the installation of a special mixing plant for the manufacture of our own dairy and poultry feeds.

Believing that feeds can be blended at home from formulas sent us by our customers, and knowing that such a move will result in real economy to the farmer, we have taken this step in the interests of better stock and better poultry.

Dayett's ready-mixed Feeds are now ready. They are especially adapted to the needs of the farmers of this section. As for Quality—Dayett mills nothing else but Quality Feeds. Let us show you the new plant, and samples of some of the standard and special mixes.

MEGARY

The Modest Little Rag Rug and the Aristocratic Axminster—

and all the different in-between rugs, with but few exceptions, are included in this August Sale.

Our rug prices are always most moderate and the August Reductions make these prices still more attractive.

The finest makers of the country are represented and there's almost every room size you might want in this big stock.

For bedroom and spare room there's the always popular Rag Rug in the hit-and-miss pattern. In 9x12 they are $15.00, 8x10 they are $10.35 and 6x9 they are $8.00. And the small rugs, 3x6 and 27"x54", are $2.48 and $1.12 this month.

The heavy oval rag rugs in small sizes at $2.95 to $6.30.

There is quite a large variety of the Fibre Rugs. They're light weight, but with very enduring wearing qualities. The designs are dainty and mostly in pastel shades. They're here in ten sizes and priced this month—

9x12	$17.65	7.6x10.6	$15.00
7.6x9	12.25	6x9	11.00
9x9	14.85	6x12	14.40
8x10	17.35	54"x90"	5.85

and small sizes to match. They're very close woven and much more durable than many fibre rugs costing as much and more.

For bedroom use we have a ten-wire tapestry Brussels rug in small, dainty all-over bedroom designs. They're priced this month—

9x12	$28.80	8.3x10.6	$27.00
7.6x9	20.70	6x9	16.65

And then the soft, deep-piled, warm-colored Axminster!

For living-room or dining-room or hall they are the most popular of all rugs. The patterns are rich and of large variety and there are a half dozen makers represented here and all well known and dependable. There are fifteen stock sizes in this big stock and dozens and dozens to choose from. They're priced this month—

9x12	$43.65 to $60.75	7.6x9	$36.00 to $45.00
8.3x10.6	37.50 to 56.25	6x9	22.50 to 36.00

Small sizes and big sizes are here as well as hall runners in various widths and lengths.

A very good Wilton Rug is priced this month—

9x12 $76.50 and $65.25

If your kitchen linoleum is showing signs of wear and you will need another shortly, get it now at August Prices—we will lay it later when you're ready.

Inlaid linoleums are $1.35 to $2.70 the square yard. Printed floor coverings are 90c and 99c the yard.

There's one entire floor devoted to floor coverings and it will very probably pay you to compare this stock and these prices when you're buying.

GEORGE GRAY

Character and The Man

A CHARACTER? No, George Gray was not A Character. He was Character. That is the word we think of and use when we think and talk of him. With all his other qualities, appealing as they were, George Gray to us was first and finally A Man of Character. As such we, as a boy down in Baltimore Hundred, saw and heard him in old Campaign days. As such, we read of him as we passed through College days. As such, we observed him, heard him and were fortunate to know him during the last few years. As such, he will remain with us in memory, and his name is on our Roll of Honor where Character is the theme.

The World, the Nation, the State go on, and will go on, without him. But where is the man to take his place? Of course some one will carry on the work of this day, guided by the light and influence of his character—but our children will miss the personal contact of this Man walking and working with Men. None will, nor can, take his place. Thus the fate and fortune of History.

We are wont to say of passing Great Men, "He is the last of an Old School." Certainly true in this instance. George Gray was of the Old School of the Gentleman Citizen. Yet the most progressive young man had difficulty to keep pace with his present day knowledge and interest.

George Gray had dignity, but was never austere. He was genial, but never trifled; serious but not melancholy; impressive but never spectacular; commanding but never autocratic; modest, but not fearful. He was generous but never sentimental; logical, yet not dogmatic; a genius, but always unassuming; Democratic, but never a man of the street; conservative, but always alert; progressive, but ever thinking; patriotic, but always in action. He was a statesman, but ever realized a citizen's point of view. Never a prince, but always a Premier among men. These traits are ever found in men of character, and George Gray—his life and work, his honor and fame,—typifies character. They were only outward expressions of the man of him.

To us of active age of citizenship comes a task to keep true the work that he did. To those who follow us, we give his own words written in 1921 for An Award Card to School Children of Delaware for Good Attendance. His word to that future Citizenship was an unassuming voice writing an unconscious Biography.

This is what he said:

To the Children of Delaware:

DO YOU who are old enough realize that the great opportunity of life is now yours? If it is neglected, it will never be yours again. Make, then, the most of it. It is the opportunity to fit yourselves for becoming useful men and women—the opportunity, by diligence and self-control, to form those habits that will make well-doing easy. Habits are the warp and woof of character, and the building up of character is the great end of education. Will you not, therefore, my dear boys and girls, think it over, and endeavor to form those habits which will help you to so meet the difficulties and duties of life, that the world may be the better for your having lived in it?

Your friend,

Geo. Gray

What The Constitution Accomplished

The 138th anniversary of the adoption of our federal Constitution by the Philadelphia convention in 1787 falls on September 17th. Commenting on the achievements of the great federal charter, Harry F. Atwood says in the August number of the National Republic:

There is much confusion regarding American history and lack of appreciation of the importance of the Constitution because the average person has the impression that a remarkable, almost superhuman group of people settled here and began building very wisely day by day until they had erected a great structure of which we are the heirs.

It should be generally known that the situation grew worse and worse until finally a condition was reached under which, during several years before the Constitution was written the mob drove our Congress from Philadelphia into New Jersey; Shay's rebellion assaulted the court houses in the State of Massachusetts; a condition illustrative of the general situation. Money was worth anywhere from two and a half cents on the dollar down to nothing, trade was paralyzed and discipline at a low ebb.

On November 5, 1786, Washington wrote to James Madison:

"We are fast verging to anarchy and confusion."

In that dark night of anarchy, bankruptcy and despair the Constitution was signed September 17, 1787. Almost immediately order began to come out of chaos. In a few years we had a credit around the world. There followed a hundred years of progress so great that there is nothing in the annals of history with which to make even an interesting comparison, and there was created here under the Constitution for the first time in the history of the world a condition so attractive from the standpoint of opportunity that people of all nations wanted to come here.

So remarkable was the change that on July 19, 1791, Washington wrote to Catherine Macaulay Graham:

"The United States enjoys a scene of prosperity and tranquility under the new government that could hardly be hoped for."

You may search the history of the world and you will find no parallel for the magic change which was brought about through the adoption of the Constitution.

The architects are said to be at odds over a proposed remodeling of the White House. The public is chiefly interested to see it is fixed so that no one can get in by the back door.—Boston Transcript.

Printing and gunpowder were invented in China, and the first newspaper in the world was printed in Peking.

Papers of South Adopt New Code

The Southern Newspaper Publishers' association at a meeting held recently, in Asheville, N. C., adopted a code of ethics based on the assumption that a newspaper's first duty is to print the news, honestly and fairly, unbiased by any other consideration.

Among the points made in the code were these:

"Recognizing honest differences of opinion exist, we may vigorously maintain our own position without denouncing others as dishonest and unfair."

Decency should be the guiding star in the printing of news, editorials, advertising and all feature articles or illustrations.

"Is it fit to print and to be read by my own mother?" should be the test rather than "Will it sell more papers?"

"Consideration for the unfortunate and for guiltless victims of the faults of others."

"No story justifies needless damage to a good reputation nor wanton pain to an innocent."

"Respect and tolerance for those of different religions, races and circumstances of life."

"Honesty in all dealings, whether with readers, advertisers, employees, or competitors."

"Truth first, last and always."

Soybean Growers

The Soybean Growers Convention will open at 10:30 a. m., September 1, at Arlington Experimental Farm with an address of welcome by Dr. W. M. Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture. This will be followed by Charles McHarry, Secretary of the National Soybean Growers Association, and Dr. W. A. Taylor, C. V. Piper and E. C. Butterfield, all of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Lunch will be served at Arlington Farm, and the afternoon will be spent inspecting the soybean fields and experiments.

A night meeting will be held at 7:30 in the auditorium of the New National Museum. This will consist of motion pictures by Uncle Sam on soybeans, and addresses by growers of soybeans, manufacturers of soybean oil and oil meal and feeders of the soybean.

The convention will meet at Union Farm near Mt. Vernon on September 2, at 10:30. An interesting historical fact about this farm is that it was originally owned by General George Washington and played an important part in the early development of this country. The program will begin with an address from Dr. Hutcheson of the Virginia College of Agriculture. This will be followed by addresses from research men from various stations including Prof. G. L. Schuster of the Delaware Experiment Station and J. E. Metzger of the Maryland Station.

Lunch will be served at Union Farm and the afternoon devoted to an inspection of the fields, variety, culture, and inoculation experiments with row and broadcast harvesters. A visit to George Washington's home at Mount Vernon is also included.

The meeting on Thursday is at the Maryland Experimental Farm, College Park. Talks on crop improvement, soybean varieties, seed frauds, etc., will be the topics of the morning. Lunch will be served on the campus. Field inspection of the soybean experiments will prevail in the afternoon.

The headquarters for the convention are at the Harrington Hotel. Anyone wishing to camp will find the Washington Tourist Camp on the Potomac River very desirable or camping grounds are also available at Union Farm which is about fourteen miles from Washington. Anyone interested in soybeans is welcome and are urged to attend. A large attendance from all over the country is anticipated by the officers.

Loss In Nearby Hundreds Heavy During Past Six Months, Say Volunteer Firemen

Fire losses in Christiana, Pencader, and Brandywine hundreds during the six months ending June 30, were unusually heavy, according to the records of the Five Points Fire Company.

While two fires caused heavy losses, they were in districts outside the Five Points section, Edge Moor and Elsmere.

During the six months the local company responded to 25 fire alarms the losses at these fires totaling $114,910. The heaviest loss was reported follows: January, 1; February, 6; March, 7; April, 4; May, 1, and June from Edge Moor where the government's storehouse was destroyed at a loss of $80,000. The Barr and Dougherty Leather Company fire at Elsmere caused a loss of $25,000.

One fire was of incendiary origin, that which destroyed the barn on the Perkins farm near Christiana, entailing a loss of $8,000.

The fire report of the Five Points company for the six months is as follows: The firemen have kept an accurate record of every fire call responded to during the past four years.

The various booths were bereft of novelties long before the close of the evening. No one expected such a crowd on an early weekday night. As it happened the receipts practically equaled those of Saturday night.

The total for the week threw nearly by $15,000 into the coffers of the Aetna Company, about 50 per cent of which will be cleared. While many believe this to be a record, it is not likely the mark will surpass that made in 1920, when $15,063 was taken in.

"Good Roads, Flowers, Parks, Better Schools, Trees, Pure Water, Fresh Air, Sunshine and Work for Everybody"—OUR MOTTO

GEORGE GRAY

(By F. K. Reynolds, Managing Editor "Every Evening")

"For him in vain the envious seasons roll, who bears eternal summer in his soul." Thus sang Oliver Wendell Holmes. And this line applies with rare truth to George Gray, of Delaware, citizen of the great Democratic world—lawyer, judge, statesman, arbitrator of great issues—and withal a plain and unassuming man, who scorned the spotlight, who lived up to the highest ideals of American citizenship, who was ready at all times to give his best for his fellow man, and who was a good son, a good husband and a good father.

Not only the State of Delaware will mourn its loss, but the entire nation. His useful life, honorable in every phase, made it certain that at whatever time and under whatever circumstances he should be taken away, a grateful people would pay tribute of deep regret for his passing and high honor to his memory.

He was in his eighty-sixth year. His vigorous mind was still a joy to his associates. For nearly fifty years George Gray has been a name to stir the highest sentiments. No movement intended to make this country a better place to live in could have thrived so successfully without his intelligent and energetic co-operation. In the last fifty years the nation has had no saner student of public problems. George Gray naturally was a leader of men and of his party. When he took his place on the bench he retired from political activities. His accession was hailed as a step which would bring that bench to higher standards.

George Gray's early life differed little from the usual life of the average boy in the same station. From the schools of his native town, he went to Princeton, and after graduation, studied law. Later he rose to the heights of his profession and, in the opinion of many he was the best fitted man in the country for Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

He brought to his work as a judge something more than wide learning. While he illuminated his opinions with notable erudition, he put into them also a knowledge of life and an understanding of the public needs which he had gathered in his own years of contact with the people and as leader of a fierce fight to preserve American ideals.

This is the man whose public career—a career varied only in the field of activity and never in its high standards—we desire to offer to the consideration of our readers today. We particularly invite the youth of our state and nation to study it. It cannot fail to be an inspiration to noble ideals of citizenship and a greater constancy and courage in the adherence to the right for right's sake.

Ruskin said that "Every right action and true thought sets the seal of its beauty on person or thing." It was because he sought above all things to be right in action and in thought that George Gray's strong features bore the seal of that beauty of which Ruskin spoke. Everybody believed in George Gray who knew him, because they knew that his highest ambition was to be right. No one ever doubted his word or questioned his integrity, squareness and fairness, because they knew that Justice was enthroned supreme in his Ideal. There was no deceit, no guile of diplomacy in him. He never wore a mask—never had an axe to grind—never resorted to questionable methods. His absolute honesty and fine sense of justice impressed everyone with his mastership.

The writer of this editorial well remembers the remark a big labor leader made, after Judge Gray had written the Anthracite Coal Commission Report. He said, "No man in the world, other than George Gray, could ever have come out of that conflict with the good feeling of both capital and labor." He wielded a power, showed a wisdom in handling that difficult problem, which did not seem to them to be all human.

It can be said truly that no State in the Union has ever sent to Washington, to represent them in the Senate, a man more respected and beloved by both parties than George Gray, of Delaware. Henry B. F. MacFarlane of Washington, the Philadelphia Record's former correspondent, once said that when Judge Gray rose to speak one could hear a pin drop. No matter what party was in power at Washington, for twenty years, at the time George Gray was in the zenith of his career, when the country needed a great man they came to Delaware for Gray.

"Who hath wrought better than he—who hath served the people more—and now after three score years spent in work for the State and Nation, sits he with those that praise our God, for they that served His world."

Golfers Battling For Finals In Treasurer's Cup

First Round Matches Expected to be Finished This Week; Field Narrowing Down; Easton Match Called Off

With earnestness writ large on their faces, and hope springing eternal in their breast, some eleven doughty golfers remain in the stirring battle for the Treasurer's Cup at the Newark County Club. Competition is waxing keen, as the first round matches near completion. From that point on, the tension grows more acute.

Until darkness settled over the greens and fairways last night, five matches had been played off in the first sixteen, first round. The results are as follows:

A. B. Cartledge, Jr., defeated L. J. Flinn, 4 and 3.
C. T. Gardner beat E. J. Menery, 4 and 3.

J. P. Armstrong beat G. E. Dutton, 3 and 2.
Ernest B. Wright defeated B. F. Proud, 3 and 2.

Clarence Hopkins won from P. F. Pitt, 2 and 1.

The first round matches will yield three more winners to the five mentioned above, in preparation for the second brace. The final three will come from among the following qualifiers: C. J. Moore, F. W. Diver, J. F. Dunn, C. A. Owens, T. R. Dantz and Norris N. Wright.

These matches will in all likelihood be completed before Saturday next, when the play for the second round opens, with eight left in the field.

Here's Another Battle

Active war in a good natured way is not confined to the first sixteen, either.

In the "second eight" the following four men have cleared the first round hurdles and will stage a battle royal for the cup's little brother or something: George W. Rhodes, J. Mercer Terrell, A. P. Clark and E. B. Crooks.

The match scheduled with Easton last Saturday was called off late in the week owing to the number of Newark players who were out of town. Arrangements are being made to continue the series some time this month.

Open Limestone Road

Reports from the upper county yesterday stated that the Limestone Road, which has been closed for most of the summer for a concrete surfacing, will be opened to traffic within a week. The news is being greeted with delight by the many users of this highway.

The trouble in China is said to be for the lack of strong, centralized government—the very thing so many of us have been dreading in this country.—Dallas News.

MARYLAND EXAMINES PUPILS BEFORE TERM

Tests Aimed to Prevent Physically Handicapped from Permanent Injury.

Steps are being taken in Maryland to compel the examination of public school pupils before the fall term begins, it is reported.

The examination of hundreds of school children in the counties of Maryland has shown that a large proportion of them are handicapped by physical defects, many of which could be easily remedied. As a consequence, the progress in school is often retarded and much school time is lost.

The Bureau of Child Hygiene of the State Department of Health is making an effort this summer to examine as many children as possible, who expect to enter school this fall, in order to point out to the parents any defects from which the children may be suffering, so that they can have them remedied through their own physicians before school begins. This will be a very helpful service.

Elkton Drops One To Elk Mills Rivals 3-2

Wright's Error And Bunched Hits In Fifth Cause Downfall; Bel Air Beats Rising Sun

A group of three big runs in the fifth inning upset the Elkton chances for a boost in the Tri-County League ladder last Saturday and they went down before Elk Mills in a hard game, 3-2.

Both Robinson for Elkton, and McGovern of Elk Mills pitched good ball during the fracas, with honors about even. With the exception of the fifth and eighth no runner was brave enough or fortunate enough to spike home plate.

Two Newark boys, Bland and Chalmers, were important cogs in the Elk Mills machine Saturday. Bland handled several hard chances perfectly and Shorty banged out two hits, sharing with Mastin the honors of the day for his outfit.

Dutch Robinson, besides pitching a whale of a game, led the batters with the willow, getting three solid blows.

Last Week in Dover.

Secretary of State Taylor calls the attention of all automobile owners, desiring to retain same tag numbers for the coming years, 1926, that it will be absolutely necessary for them to make their application for tags with fee attached and have same in the titling department not later than Monday, November 30, 1925.

Any application for special tags after this date will not be acknowledged. The applicant will apply for tags in the form and as soon as application is received in the titling department, same will be filed and tags mailed direct to applicant. By making your applications early, it will insure you of your tags, as soon as same can be put on your car by January, 1926.

Providence Boasts Clean Slate In League

Elk Mills Falls Victim To League Leaders Saturday By Shut Out

Providence kept their slate clean Saturday by shutting out the Elk Mills club by the score of 5-0. Arrangements were in rare form, striking out sixteen of the visitors while he allowed them but four scattered hits.

Richards pitched a good brand of ball but weakened in the closing rounds. Providence collected eight of their ten hits in the last four innings.

Peterson led the attack for the home team with a triple, double and single out of four trips to the rubber. Both teams played airtight ball afield. Charshee's catch of Evan's hard drive being the feature. The score follows:

Judge Gray Dies, Relapse Follows His Strong Fight

Judge Gray was married twice. His first wife was Miss Harriet Black and after her death he married her sister, Miss Margaret J. Black. He was the father of five children.

In 1919 he was appointed as American envoy to the North Atlantic Fisheries Arbitration Court at The Hague, at which the Canadian fisheries dispute between the United States and Great Britain was adjudicated.

He took an active interest in public affairs up to the last. As late as 1915 he was designated a special commissioner to Great Britain. For many years he was a regent and chairman of the Executive Committee of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington.

During the World War, despite his advanced years, Judge Gray took an active part in all movements to support the Government and was a speaker in the Liberty Loan campaigns.

the cemetery where additional short services were held. From beginning to end, it was one of the largest and most impressive funerals ever held here.

The honorary pallbearers were directors of the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company and the Newark Building and Loan Association, of which organization he had been a director for many years. They were as follows:

George W. Griffin, Robert S. Galaher, R. J. Colbert, George W. Rhodes, John Nivin, J. Irvin Dayett, H. Warner McNeal, Norris N. Wright, C. A. Short and A. L. Beals.

All of the various lodges of which he had been a member were well represented, the Knights Templar having about 40 men. Among those present from the Delaware Grand Lodge of Red Men were: Former Congressman William H. Boyce, Captain William Schell of the Wilmington Police; Charles A. Coleman, clerk of the court; Deputy Judge, John Lynn; Edward McIntire, Harry Sinclair, Leonard Heies, James Faulkner, Charles Dybeck, and James B. McManus.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas—It has been the will of Divine Providence to call from his earthly activities our beloved brother, David C. Rose, whose death is a source of sorrow and a very great loss to the membership of Hiram Lodge F. and A. M.

Resolved—That the charter of Hiram Lodge, F. and A. M. be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days as a mark of our respect and a sense of our loss, and that these resolutions be entered in the minute book of our lodge proceedings.

Resolved—That we heretofore express our most heartfelt sympathy for his bereaved family in their irreparable loss, and send to them a copy of these resolutions as a token thereof.

Resolved further—That a copy of these resolutions be sent for publication to Newark Post.

ELK MILLS KIDDIES IN BIRTHDAY PARTY

Four Year Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reed Hostess on Friday Afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reed, of Elk Mills, Md., gave a party in honor of their little daughter, Nellie Pauline, on her fourth birthday, Friday afternoon, August 7. The little folks spent a delightful afternoon with their little friend.

Among those present were: Mrs. Alfred Kay, Mrs. Thomas Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stigile, Mrs. Frank Scott, Misses Hazel Murray and Ella Ford; little Misses Essie Todd, Margaret Seth, Pearl Riggs, Ellenmae Warpole, Hazel and Jean Stocktil, Venita Hammond, Anna Gauzman, Pauline Reed, Dorothy Stigile; little Messrs. Carval Scott, Willard Stigile, Bobbie Widdoes, Arnold Rippes, and Eddie Ford.

Former Resident Dead

Newark friends were saddened to hear yesterday of the death early this week of Mrs. Isabella Bailey, an old resident of this town, in her home in Philadelphia. She was eighty-four years of age.

Requiem Mass will be held for her at St. John's R. C. Church here on Friday morning next at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Newark M. E. Cemetery.

Deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Bertha Lare and Catherine Bailey, both of Philadelphia.

COUNTY CROPS ARE BIG ONES, REPORT

A recent report from Blackbird, center of the lower tier of hundreds, recently published, follows: Tomato prices have taken a tumble largely due to the abundant supply. Five-eighths baskets of choice red tomatoes are now bringing only 10 cents per basket in the local market.

Sugar corn also is very cheap for the time of the year, selling at from 20 to 25 cents a dozen, or from $1.50 to $1.75 for 108 ears. Lima beans are selling for 50 cents per quart shelled, or $1.25 per basket.

Spring chickens are bringing 43 cents a pound and the demand cannot be supplied. Eggs are selling for 32 cents a dozen.

Gross Income Of Nation's Farmers Strike Highest Level Since 1921, Report Shows

Washington, D. C., August 11—The gross income of the farmers for the year ending June 30 was larger than their annual income for any years since 1921. The exact figures mounted to $12,136,000,000 according to a report just made public by the Department of Agriculture here. For the year ending June 30, 1924, the figure was $11,288,000,000 so that the gain was nearly a billion dollars, or approximately 7½ per cent. The gain was due almost entirely to higher returns from grain and meat animals, particularly wheat and hogs, the department states.

This analysis of expenses and receipts for the agricultural industry, says the department, confirms other indications of further improvement in farm income. Still, the average net income per operator, including all farmers, tenants as well as owners, amounted to only $876 in 1924-25, compared with $764 the preceding year, and covers the return on the farmers' equity in his property as well as earnings for the labor of himself and his family for the year.

If a conservative rate (4.5 per cent) of return for the operator's net capital investment is deducted from the net income of $876, the return for the operator's labor and management and for the labor of his family was only $649 in 1924-25 and $531 in 1923-24.

In arriving at the gross income the department deducts cost of feed, seed and waste from the value of production.

STUDENTS LIKE FRANCE

C. C. Hubert Receives Word From Daughter, Only Newark Girl In Party

In a recent letter to her father here, Miss Kathryn Hubert, the only Newark student member of this year's Foreign Study group, writes interestingly of her experiences in France. She says the French people are doing their utmost to make the year's stay pleasant for the young Americans. Every courtesy, private and official, is being extended them.

Miss Hubert's address for the next ten weeks is: c/o Madame Roussaint, 52 Rue de Tiercelins, Nancy, France.

Attended Summit Camp

Mrs. Pierce Whitcraft was at Brandywine Summit Camp Meeting over Sunday, where she was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hollingsworth and Mrs. Linton, who have been in their cottage there for several weeks.

OBITUARY

William G. Bryan

Local friends were shocked to hear on Monday morning last of the sudden death of William Guy Bryan, brother of the late Charles A. Bryan, of Newark, and well known here.

Mr. Bryan succumbed to heart trouble in his Wilmington home. His death was entirely unexpected, although he had been in poor health for several weeks. He was sixty-four years of age.

Mr. Bryan was born at Chesapeake City, Md., November 8, 1861, coming to Wilmington as a boy. He secured employment with Baynard & Dawson, jewelers, when they were located at 229 Market street. When this partnership was dissolved he went with the late S. H. Baynard to Fifth and Market streets, where the S. H. Baynard Company was formed, with Mr. Bryan as a member of the firm.

In 1909, the firm became known as Baynard, Banks and Bryan. In 1916, when Mr. Baynard retired, the other two members purchased his interest and continued the business at the same place until last September, when they moved to 825 Market street.

It was decided to call in for advice and counsel the local lodge of the Junior Order United American Mechanics. The two organizations will co-operate in carrying through the idea.

Plans were laid for the annual Fall dinner-meeting of the Chamber to be held some time in October. It is expected at that time that written reports from the various committees will be submitted to President Johnston.

MR. GONCE TAKES UP THE TROWEL

The general tone of the Bricklayers' Union in Cecil county has been raised a few notes, of all reports from Elkton are true.

Mr. "Bob" Gonce, of whom there is no whomer, has decided to renounce the hum drum of everyday excitement and become a Knight of the Hammer and Trowel. It's a fact. Bob is taking a short but intensive course in one of Philadelphia's leading bricklaying universities. After that's over he confidently expects to lay a forty foot wall so fast he'll need a ladder to get down for lunch.

All efforts to interview Mr. Gonce Monday night in Elkton failed. He made several turns about town in his Roman chariot, but the interviewer forgot to bring a lasso.

How The Others See It

A court has declared that voting machines must be used in New York elections and poor old Tammany is in a stew. The Tiger knows how to manipulate the vote in the old way, and, grown old, fat and comfortable, it hates to be put to the necessity of learning new tricks. Besides, who knows, anyway, whether or not the machines can be manipulated?—Charleston (W. Va.) Daily Mail.

While it is reported that only four Americans returned incomes of above $5,000,000 for 1924, more than two million returned incomes of $2,000, and that is really what keeps the wheels turning.—Omaha Bee.

It may be time to remark that, in spite of the general uneasiness about von Hindenburg's election, the kaiser does not seem to be getting any nearer to Potsdam.—Boston Transcript.

Poultry Demonstration
A poultry culling demonstration will be held on the farm of John F. Brackin, of Marshallton, at 2 p. m.,

Friday, August 14th. The demonstration will be under the direction of Messrs. H. S. Palmer and R. O. Bausman, of the Extension Service of the University of Delaware. Mr. Palmer will cull the flock of Mr. Brackin and discuss the essential factors of poultry management.

New Faculty Garage

A new five-car brick garage is being erected in the rear of the Women's College grounds here this week. It will be completed before the college year opens, and will prove a great convenience to those of the college staff who own machines.

ESSEX COACH

Will Be Given Away the Closing Night of Carnival

$442 Down — at NEWARK

Monthly payments of $79.00 per month

Same Fine Studebaker Coach —but at a new low One-Profit price

BECAUSE all Studebaker cars are manufactured on the one-profit basis, we have been able to reduce the price of the Standard Six Coach without sacrificing any of the equipment or quality which made it a big seller at a higher price.

Scientific design, better materials, and finer workmanship distinguish it. And the following self-evident superiorities make it more up-to-date than the newest "yearly models":

Excess Power—According to the rating of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce this is the most powerful car of its size and weight.

Abundant Room—Room to stretch your legs—room to enter or leave without disturbing occupant of folding seat.

Sturdy Body Construction—Fine northern ash and hard maple are used. We pay a premium to get the best quality steel.

Full-size Balloon Tires—for which the steering gear, fenders and even the body lines are specially designed.

Automatic Spark Control—eliminating the usual spark lever on steering wheel.

Safety Lighting Control—on the steering wheel.

Instruments—including 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, speedometer, oil-pressure gauge and ammeter, in single grouping under glass, on beautiful silver-faced dial.

Improved One-piece Windshield—automatic windshield cleaner, weather-proof visor, rear-view mirror, cowl lights and cowl ventilator.

Coincidental Lock—to ignition and steering wheel, which serves to reduce the theft insurance rate on Studebaker cars.

New-type Cowl Ventilator—foot operated.

There are only two cars manufactured on the one-profit basis—the Studebaker in the fine-car field, and the Ford in the low-price field. Only in these two cases does one company in its own plants and with its own centralized organization make all bodies, all engines, all clutches, steering gears, differentials, springs, gear sets, gray iron castings, and drop forgings.

Studebaker has no "yearly models," but instead keeps its cars constantly up to date. Therefore this Standard Six Coach is ahead of the newest "yearly model," yet owners are protected from the artificial depreciation which has cut millions of dollars from the resale value of many makes during the past 30 days.
