DRESSING STATION OPEN HOUSE

Invite Public Inspection August 10, 11

Newark's first Sector Dressing Station, located at St. Thomas' Parish House, has been completed, equipped and is ready to administer first-aid in case of any emergency, said H. L. Bonham, chairman of the Newark Council for Civilian Defense, yesterday.

The St. Thomas Station, all equipment for which was donated, will be open to public inspection Monday evening, August 10, from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock and again on Tuesday afternoon, August 11, from 2 until 4 o'clock. Residents are urged to inspect this modern station and view the work and equipment prepared for their protection.

The station contains twelve cots completely equipped with linens and blankets, stretchers and all necessary supplies to efficiently administer first-aid treatment in an emergency. The six windows in the station are all completely blacked-out.

Mr. Bonham also stated that General Paul R. Rindard has given permission for the Newark Armory to be used as a Casualty Clearance Station. Equipment for this project is in Wilmington, Mr. Bonham said, and will be erected in the Armory in the near future.

The rest of the projected nine Sector Dressing Stations will be rushed to completion as soon as materials and volunteer supplies are available.

Commissioned Major

Harvey N. Brown

H. N. BROWN PROMOTED TO MAJOR IN ARMY

Parents Here Notified Last Week of Son's Advancement

Harvey Newton Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brown, 274 East Main Street, was promoted to Major in the U. S. Army last week at Ft. Benning, Georgia, where he is undergoing advanced training at the Infantry Training School.

Active since college in the Reserve Officers Corps, he was called into the Army June, a year ago, as a captain and was placed on active duty as an R.O.T.C. instructor at the City College of New York until transferred to Fort Benning, Georgia.

Married for some time, his wife and two children are residing at Sunnyside, Long Island, where Major Brown made his home previous to entering the Army.

A graduate of Northeast High School, he attended the University of Delaware, securing his degree in 1921, and finishing with a lieutenant's commission in the army reserve.

Prior to his army call, he was engaged in business in New York, and maintained an active interest in the reserve corps. Major Brown's post, upon completion of his training at the Infantry School, is unknown.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown also have another son, Lawrence B. Brown in the Army. A graduate of Newark High School, he was called three weeks ago, entering as a second lieutenant, and has recently been transferred from Camp Upton, N. Y., to Maxwell Field, Ala.

PLAYGROUND ATTENDANCE

8-Week Project Nearing Close

Several days rain last week caused a slight drop in Playground attendance, said director William K. Gillespie.

Total number of children turning out was 376, a daily average of 83. Activities included the regular program of supervised games, baseball and croquet on the athletic field; dodge ball, ping-pong and others in the play court.

Handicraft attendance maintained its daily average, the children engaged now in finger painting and clay modeling.

The scheduled eight week program comes to a close next week, point out those in charge, reminding children of their final opportunity to take advantage of the free recreational facilities.

Newark Lions Club Holds Monthly Business Session

The main item of interest was the authorization of a $25 contribution to the Newark Siren Fund, which amount was raised by members present. Committee chairmen reported on activities of their respective committees with John R. Fader, Membership chairman, reporting that several names had been proposed for membership.

Visitors at the meeting were George Lovett and P. J. Stewart.

TIN CAN DRIVE TO START IN TWO WEEKS

First Collection On August 17 & 18; To be held Regularly 3rd Week Each Mo.

Newark's tin can salvage campaign will open August 17 and 18 with the first collection of prepared cans by the town truck, announced K. W. Oberlin, chairman of the Salvage Committee.

Regular collections will be made thereafter on Monday and Tuesday of the third week in each month in the drive which is to last for the duration.

Plans for gathering tin cans follows the same system as the committee's rubbish collection, except that it will be held earlier in the week. Those districts of Newark in which the regular rubbish collection takes place on Wednesday will be covered for tin cans on Monday. Districts whose rubbish collection is on Thursday are scheduled for the can collection on Tuesday.

By "prepared" tin cans are meant those which have been reasonably cleaned and flattened with labels removed.

Mayor Collins has cooperated with the Salvage Committee by providing his vacant lot on E. Park Place for depositing the cans until forwarded to salvage centers.

Aim of the committee is to collect sufficient quantities of scrap cans each month to warrant bringing a truck from Wilmington to haul them to the salvage plants.

18 NEWARK MEN LEAVE FOR ARMY

Town Engineer Price Is Among Those Inducted

A group of 18 men from Newark was among a large contingent of selectees recently inducted into the Army, according to the list released last week by Selective Service Headquarters.

The town loses a valued employee in George Cleaver Price, who has served as the town engineer since 1936 and as secretary-treasurer of the Town Council for the past year. Cleaver, as he is known to numerous friends here, left for the induction center at Ft. Dix, N. J., yesterday. Employees and members of the Town Council presented him with a gold Hamilton wrist-watch on Monday, in recognition of his faithful and efficient work with that group. Mayor Frank Collins made the presentation at the Council offices. The watch was suitably engraved on the inside cover.

Others in the list, who were sent for induction by New Castle County Board No. 1 are:

SCRAP IRON NETS $40

Two truck loads of scrap iron and metal, accumulated by the Newark Salvage Committee from patriotic families in this area, have been sold for $40, Chairman K. W. Oberlin announced this week.

Scrap metal and tin cans are still the most urgently needed war materials in the salvage campaign. Residents and housewives are urged to save all such materials for monthly collections which will be made by town trucks on the third Monday and Tuesday of each month.

While there is no immediate need for waste paper, it is suggested that residents continue to save corrugated paper and old magazines provided it creates no fire hazard in the home. There will undoubtedly be a need for this grade of paper later.

NEWARK REACHES GOAL IN DISC DRIVE

More Than 2500 Old Phonograph Records Received In Legion Drive

An enthusiastic response late last week carried Newark over its goal in the campaign for old phonograph records sponsored by the American Legion which closed Saturday.

Over 2500 scrap records, the majority received in the last few days of the drive, were Newark's contribution to the nation-wide campaign to provide new records for our fighting men.

Although only a few hundred discs were collected in the first week, renewed effort on the part of legion volunteers and increased interest of townspeople accounted for the success of the campaign. Officials in charge expressed gratitude to those who took part either as contributors or as volunteer workers.

Though the campaign deadline was Saturday, officials stress that contributions of old discs will still be accepted. The national campaign headquarters will still take records in 100 lb. lots. Any further collected here will be saved until a sufficient quantity for shipment is acquired. Records in any condition are acceptable. Anyone still wishing to contribute should bring the discs either to the legion headquarters or get in touch with any legion member.

Newark's quota has already been shipped to "Records for Our Fighting Men, Inc.", the organization conducting the drive. The records will be sold for their scrap value, the proceeds being used to buy new records for service men stationed throughout the world.

WORK ON HOUSES IN FULL SWING

Essential Materials Now Here

With the arrival of all essential material, work on the Federal housing project at the Wilson tract continued in full swing this week, say those in charge.

The project is expected to take shape rapidly as increased numbers of carpenters are put to work. Officials are ready to take on 100 to 150 union carpenters, as most of the preliminary work, is completed.

To date, foundations for almost all the houses have been laid out, and the foundation walls approximately three-quarters completed.

The sewer lines are also about three-quarters installed.

Those in charge express high satisfaction with the progress now that most of the delays have been eliminated. The scarcity of nails, regarded at first as likely to delay the work, has been overcome.

ALLCORN APPOINTED CLERK

SCHOOLS ASK EARLY REGISTRATION OF PRIMARY STUDENTS

Newark Public School officials have appealed to parents of pupils who will enter Newark schools, for the first time, in September, to register such pupils without delay. This does not apply to students from Christiana, Glasgow, McClellandville and Millford Cross Roads.

Registrations are accepted daily, until noon, at the office located in the high school building. Supl. C. E. Douglass has stated that birth certificates must be presented upon registration.

The cooperation of parents will greatly facilitate the organization of schools preparatory to the beginning of the September term and also prove to be of benefit to all concerned.

It is essential that registrations be completed as early as possible in order that students may be assigned to their respective grades and home-room groups.

Retires

George E. Ramsey

Familiarly known as "Highball" by his associates on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, George E. Ramsey, pictured above, has retired from active service with the B. & O. after 44 years of service.

One of the crack B. & O. engineers for years, Mr. Ramsey is also a member of the Town Council of Newark from the Middle District and entered upon his new duties as Secretary-Treasurer of the Town Council this week, succeeding George C. Price, who has been inducted into the army.

FORMS FOR CANNING SUGAR TO BE MAILED

Newark Board Has Passed On All Canning Forms To Date

All requests for canning sugar received to date have been passed on by the Newark Rationing Board and will be mailed to the applicants.

Persons who have filed such applications are advised they need not apply for them at board headquarters. The forms will be received more quickly if the applicant waits until they arrive in the mail.

Only canning sugar forms are being mailed by the board, all other applications for rationed goods must be applied for when approved at the rationing headquarters.

Although the board had acted on all applications for supplemental gas rationing up to last week, officials are busy considering requests still being received. Over 500 extra gas forms were filed the past week, and the board expects to pass on these in the near future.

Volunteer workers are continuing to assist the rationing staff, doing much to expedite the work which otherwise would be far behind schedule.

THEATRE CLOSED FOR REMODELING

State Theatre To Close From August 10-16

The State Theatre, Newark's only amusement house, will be closed to the public from Monday, August 10, to Sunday, August 16, inclusive, for extensive remodeling operations, Herman Handloff, manager of the State, announced this week.

While some painting and interior decorating is being done at the theatre this week, it will be necessary to close it for several days to complete the program outlined by the management, Mr. Handloff said.

The interior of the State Theatre will be completely renovated and modernized throughout, Mr. Handloff said, with the entire stage and lobby included in the modernization plan. New lighting fixtures and a new stage curtain will enhance the interior upon completion of the renovation.

The theatre will open Monday evening, August 17, with the presentation of Ann Sheridan and Ronald Reagan in "Juke Girl".

CLEAN-UP DAYS

The Council of Newark designated Wednesday and Thursday, August 19 and 20 as clean-up days at their regular meeting held Monday night.

COUNCIL APPROVES RESOLUTION ON HOUSING

Urges Delaware Housing Board To Set Up Local Housing Authority

A resolution, urging in the best interests of the town creation of a local housing authority by the Delaware State Board of Housing to exercise some jurisdiction over housing developments being erected in Newark, was adopted by the Town Council at its monthly meeting Monday night in the Council Offices, presided over by Mayor Frank Collins.

The council also unanimously elected George E. Ramsey, council member, new secretary-treasurer of the Council, replacing George C. Price, who was forced to resign when called into the Army this week.

The housing resolution, introduced by Councilman Norris N. Wright and unanimously adopted by Council, was as follows: "Whereas it is the opinion of the Council of Newark that it is to the best interests of the Town that a local housing authority be created by reason of the building operations now being started or about to be started.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the necessary steps be taken for the appointment of a local housing authority by the Delaware State Board of Housing."

At the suggestion of Dr. John R. Downes, County Health Agent, who appeared before the meeting, the council also approved a project for the installation of sewerage system along Wilson Street to alleviate condemned sanitary conditions there.

Council members voted a month's salary to George C. Price, who has served as Town Engineer since 1936, as a reward for faithful service. Price left for the Army induction center yesterday.

The Treasurer's report for July submitted to Council showed receipts for the month totaling $28,122.03, less disbursements of $15,699.26, leaving a cash balance on hand of $24,777.49.

Electric receipts for the month totaled $5240.62; Power receipts $1947.27; water receipts $535.20; and property taxes collected $19,988.53.

SCIENTISTS AND CLERKS SOUGHT FOR GOV'T JOBS

Physicists And Metallurgists Wanted By U. S. Civil Service

The United States Civil Service Commission is seeking physicists and metallurgists for junior grade positions in the Federal war program, and also to help in the development of passenger rate clerks for computing rates and auditing accounts of rail, steamship, highway, and airline carriers.

Junior physicists will be appointed to positions paying $2,000 a year. Applicants must have completed a full course in a recognized college with 18 semester hours' study in physics. Senior students who will complete their courses in 6 months may apply now, and may receive provisional appointments prior to graduation.

Metallurgists are needed for junior positions paying $2,000 a year. A degree in metallurgy or metallurgical engineering will qualify applicants. Major study in chemistry, geology, physics, or engineering, which included or was supplemented by courses in metallurgy or metallurgical engineering, two War Training courses in metallurgy, or 1 year of paid professional experience in metallurgy will also qualify. (College training in metallurgy is considered professional experience.) Senior and graduate students may apply and may receive provisional appointments.

Freight rate and passenger rate clerks receive $2,300 a year; or $2,600 a year and grant work. Three years of appropriate experience in the employment of a carrier, commercial concern, or governmental agency requiring knowledge of classifications, tariffs, and rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission are required. Applicants for the $2,300 positions must show 1 year of special experience involving the distribution of earnings between carriers in interstate traffic and the application of land grant laws and equalization agreements. For the $2,600 positions, 1 year of special experience which included the quotation of joint rates or fares or the auditing of freight or passenger account bills or fares, or charges must be shown. Provision is made for the substitution of a college course in transportation for a part of the general experience.

There are no age limits for these positions. No written test will be given. War service appointments will be made to extend for the duration of the war and no longer than 6 months thereafter. Applications must be filed with the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met.

Full information as to requirements, and application forms, may be obtained from Ralph B. Kee, Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at the post office or customhouse in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at first- and second-class post offices.

IMPROVE PASTURES THROUGH MOWING

Weeds And Tough Grass Crowd Unmowed Pastures, Specialist Says

To improve pastures and provide better grazing for their livestock, Delaware farmers are urged to include mowing as one of their pasture improvement practices. According to Claude Phillips, forage crop specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, mowing is one of the most neglected phases of pasture management. He has inspected pastures that have not been mowed, and reports that as much as 25 per cent of the space in these pastures he inspected was occupied with weeds and tall growing rough grasses. In these pastures, the farmers were only getting feed for livestock from three out of every four acres set aside for pasture.

Phillips recommends that pastures be mowed twice a year, in early July and in early September. Mowing will check weed growth and keep clovers and grasses from being choked out. Weeds and tall grasses if they are allowed to grow, rob pastures of moisture needed in the hot dry days of August and early September. Systematic clipping will stimulate new fresh, palatable growth and will keep weeds from going to seed. Destroying the weeds will mean less seed in the pasture next year and prevent spreading of seed to other areas on the farm.

$1,000,000,000 A MONTH!

Even in these days, $1,000,000,000 is a lot of money. One billion a month is a larger sum than the human mind can visualize. But the people of America must buy a minimum of $1,000,000,000 a month worth of War Stamps and Bonds so long as the war lasts.

To make this campaign succeed, the Treasury is calling upon veterans in the science of intelligent, appealing promotion. Among those veterans is the retail industry. This July, tens of thousands of retailers, dealing in consumer goods of every kind, are doing everything in their power to impress constantly upon all of us the need for buying War Bonds and Stamps to the maximum of our ability, and they will keep that campaign going for the duration.

A release by the Institute of Distribution, which represents national retail distributors operating 16,000 outlets, gives an idea of the magnitude of the effort. These distributors alone have 185 miles of windows dressed to popularize Bonds and Stamps. They have instructed their 500,000 employees to push and sell Stamps. They use 430,000,000 lines of newspaper space annually—and much of that space will be used to urge War Savings. They have radio programs which reach nearly 45,000,000 listeners—and again, War Savings will be stressed on each program. And other chain systems, along with legions of independent stores, will be in there punching as well.

Take a look at the window displays as you pass along the streets. Read the posters and the advertisements urging you to buy Bonds and Stamps. Then act accordingly. Every retail store participating is an agent of the Treasury—and it is working absolutely free to help raise the money that will beat the Axis.

PAPER IS A FIRE HAZARD

The War Production Board recently reported that its "Salvage for Victory" program met with so great a public response that there is now a surplus of waste paper, and no need now for further collections, except in a few certain territories. As a result, it is likely that paper already collected may be stored for some time. Unless certain rules are carefully followed, storage of paper will create a grave fire hazard.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has issued a simple set of commonsense rules, which should be rigorously observed in handling waste paper now and in the future. The paper should be in tightly tied bundles and whenever available a bailing machine should be used. When paper is sorted and handled, there should be no smoking. Churches, schools, club houses and other public or semi-public buildings should not be used for prolonged storage. When paper is stored, suitable aisles should be maintained between piles. Care must be taken to see that the windows are not blocked, that the paper is not piled directly against walls and that it is not scattered loosely about. The storage place should be periodically inspected by a fireman or some other expert.

In the home, similar safeguards are essential. If the paper is stored in the basement, it should either be kept in a covered box or tied in bundles not over eighteen inches high. Bundles should not be stacked on top of each other, and storage must be well away from furnaces or stoves. Matches should never be struck near the paper.

The observance of such rules as these will go a long way toward eliminating the danger of fire. Safety lies in understanding the hazards—and then taking the definite steps that will offset them.

ECONOMY IN HOME HEATING

The heating of homes, especially those along the Atlantic coast, will be a serious undertaking this winter, even when adequate supplies of fuel oil and coal are available according to W. C. Lowndes, director of the architectural school, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

Before it gets cold enough to put heating systems to work again, Mr. Lowndes said, it would be wise for the head of the household to make a careful check of the amount of fuel used last year and plan a more rigid schedule of operations. In many cases, he said, it will be found that less fuel can be used providing a close watch is kept on doors and windows. Certain rooms in many homes may be shut off from the rest of the house, when cold weather begins. It should be remembered that it is more economical to keep some heat in the house all night rather than to allow all of the house to cool off. When this happens much more fuel is needed to bring back the temperature to a comfortable degree.

Most people could get by comfortably with less heat in bedrooms, Mr. Lowndes said. This is especially true in households where there are no small children.

Many industrial firms are conducting studies of heating systems, and it would be well, Mr. Lowndes said, for individuals to know something of the subject to aid the general program of fuel conservation.

YES, WE HAVE NO OIL TODAY

Most of the gas stations in the rationed areas along the entire Atlantic Coast have been closed on Sundays, and during recent weeks the majority of stations have put up "No Gas" signs on Saturdays. They aren't open at night.

There is talk in Washington to the effect that this sort of rationing might be extended to the whole United States. But the dissatisfaction of the public is so great in the East that it is very doubtful whether the whole country will be restricted.

Reasons given for rationing is the shortage of rubber—and also the shortage of transportation. The ways seem to be open to supplement any shortage of transportation that actually exists. The shortage of rubber is another question.

THE CHILD AND HIS MONEY

A child will learn the value of money only by managing his own budget. In most cases, even a seven-year-old should be given a small allowance. At this age, self-interest should already have become somewhat tempered with both a sense of fairness and desire to share. Parents should continue to help the child to develop attitudes of uncompromising honesty and sincere altruism. The amount, which is to be given to a child regularly, should be decided upon in advance by both parents. It should be in proportion to the income of the family, the age of the child and the responsibilities he is to undertake with it. It should not be made so miserly that he will feel he is not being given a fair amount, and not so liberal that he will have an inclination to spend too freely. Today, the desire to purchase war stamps is a helpful check on a tendency to extravagance.

The youngster will be proud to have a regular "income," and the amount will at first usually sound so big he will feel he can get everything he wants with it. However, he will learn that even 50 cents a week will not go very far if, for instance, 20 cents is spent for a picture show, 10 cents for a notebook, 10 cents for a sundae, 5 cents for candy and 5 cents for Sunday School. A 50 cent football ticket will take all of his allowance for that week unless he has set aside a small amount for several preceding weeks to meet this special pleasure.

An allowance of 50 cents a week sounds liberal to a child but often he will find it inadequate and as a result the desire to earn money will soon become evident. Selling magazines is an excellent way for a boy or even a girl to secure extra change. My son sold magazines at one time and he exercised considerable forethought before he spent the money he had earned in that manner. When he did use his magazine profits for tickets, a ball bat, and similar expenditures, he seemed to derive a great deal of satisfaction and pride from buying these things with the money he himself had made.

Children of nine or ten should begin to be taught to purchase their clothes. Only a few of the less expensive items should be undertaken at first. Then additional responsibilities can be added from time to time as the shoppers become more experienced and acquire rather definite ideas as to values. But parents should give suggestions with regard to shopping and allow the child to aid in making purchases long before he undertakes the full responsibility for himself. If suggestions have been given in a tactful, companionable manner the child will naturally turn to the parents later when in a quandary. But after the responsibility for the purchase of any particular garment has been given over the child, the parent should not try to influence the selection. At times it will be hard to let the children make mistakes in their choices, but it will be necessary for them to make a few mistakes in order to secure experience.

It will be interesting to see how surprised the boy or girl will be when first undertaking to arrange a clothing budget. It is an excellent plan to let children work first on the family budget. Dad's salary sounds astonishingly large

FOOD for THOUGHT

Charlotte Spencer Hurley
"The Morale Vitamin"

Americans are shocked by the report that the conquered European countries are systematically deprived of vitamin B-1 or thiamin so that the people will become unstable, nervous and fearful. Yet many Americans choose to eat meals which are dangerously low in this essential factor.

Vitamin B-1 or thiamin is so essential to health and mental stability that it is often called the morale vitamin. This vitamin must be present before we can turn the starch we eat into energy for work.

There are many foods which supply thiamin. Whole grain cereals such as oatmeal, whole wheat flour and bread, and Enriched flour and bread are all good sources. So are molasses and brown sugar. When white flour or white cereals or white sugar is made this vitamin is removed.

Lean pork, all kinds of liver and other glandular organs are the best sources of thiamin although all lean meats supply some. Dried beans and peas, fruits and vegetables, milk and eggs are other good sources.

However, there is no one food which will give enough of this vitamin for a day's supply. Several foods rich in thiamin are needed if the day's meals are to be adequate. For example, the following foods supply about enough to meet thiamin needs for one day—1 pint of milk, 2 eggs, 1 pork chop, 3 slices whole wheat or Enriched bread, 1 large glass orange juice, 4 servings of vegetables and 1 serving oatmeal.

After foods have been chosen to supply enough of this vitamin, they must be carefully prepared or much of it will be lost. Quick cooking of vegetables, use of vegetable juices, cooking vegetables without soda and in little water are all ways of conserving thiamin as well as other vitamins.

Since ordinary white bread is lacking in thiamin everyone should make an effort to use whole wheat bread or white bread and flour which has been Enriched.

Weekly Sermon

The Law and the Altar

By Dr. Max I. Reich, Director of the Jewish Missions Course Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

In Exodus 20 we have the record of the giving of the law on Mount Sinai. God's commandments were given under most awe-inspiring circumstances of thunders, lightnings, and the sound of a trumpet, which struck terror into the hearts of the people. Indeed, when we come into the presence of God's holy requirements we might well quail, for we have not measured up to the divine standard. Says the Word: "There is not a righteous man that sinneth not."

The Ten Commandments forbid the things man is naturally prone to do. The last commandment is the most searching; it forbids evil desire in the secret depths of the heart; and who can say that he is free from that? Why did God impose such laws on man if his nature is prone to evil and cannot attain to such heights of obedience? The answer is, only thus could we discover our sinfulness. "By the deeds of the law no flesh can be justified," for "by the law is the knowledge of sin."

But how quickly did God turn to a very different matter. As it is evident that on the ground of our keeping the law we cannot approach God in peace, there must be another way, or we are in a hopeless state. And so God speaks of the altar.

The altar is where sin was atoned for. It is a most remarkable picture of Christ's redemption in our behalf. He bore on the cross for us the judgment of the broken law (which not He, but we had broken), and He also presented to God in our name a perfect obedience to His holy will.

There were no steps to the altar. We do not need to climb up to Him. God in the Messiah comes down to us, to our level, to our low estate and our need.

If the law keeps us at a distance, the altar points to the way of access. In His love God made a way between His holiness and our fallen condition. Israel has no altar and sacrifice today. Why has God permitted the passing away of what He once commanded? Because the type has been fulfilled. The perfect sacrifice has been accepted on high. No need of the many sacrifices now. Read the prophecy of Isaiah 53, which points out how the Messiah would give Himself as an offering for sin, that we might be justified.

"No blood, no altar now.
That sacrifice is o'er;
No flame, no smoke ascends on high.
The lamb is slain no more;
But richer blood, from nobler veins,
Has flowed, to purge the guilty soul
And cleanse the reddest stains."

To prevent the loss of soil fertility while increasing the production of food for our nation and our allies, Delaware farmers are urged to continue to follow good crop rotations, sow plenty of legumes, save barnyard manure, protect natural drainageways and improve the quality of their pasture lands.

"BOY WANTED" SIGNS, BEGINNING to appear more frequently in store windows, indicate a new trend of the times—the decline of the delivery truck and the revival of the boy on the bike.

And to these small links in the nation's distribution system will come again that burden of woe which is the lot of them all. We are thinking particularly of the boy who delivers your groceries.

THEIR DARK EXISTENCE WAS bare for us recently in a secret exposure by an expert of the game, a grisly veteran aged 13.

All Old-timers in the line, he says, are profound cynics. The tender soul he soon calloused by constantly facing the housewife in her lair—the kitchen—dealing with her in her specialty—the buying of the groceries. The errand boy's day is crowded with dark moments, a list of them all waiting for their orders.

For instance, he told us about Mrs. X. The world is full of Mrs. X's. Mrs. X is not an honorable person. Technically, she is a "dribbler". She does not sit down to think out what she wants, order it, and have done. She orders piecemeal—starting off with, say, a loaf of bread to be sent right over. Thereafter, through the day she orders as things pop into her head—inspirational sort of. At regular intervals the store phone rings; it is Mrs. X. She just remembered she forgot a can of beans—or a peck of peas, etc.—will it be sent right over? The errand boy is kept dashing between Mrs. X's and the store like a runner caught between bases.

THEN THERE IS MRS. Y. IT WAS not without a slight tremor that our friend spoke of Mrs. Y. Mrs. Y looks upon small boys as she does stray cats—both are dirty and smelly. She will not let an errand boy set foot in her kitchen, which has always just been cleaned. Rain or shine, the errand boy must stand at the back door while Mrs. Y takes the bundle to the kitchen table, unpacks each item, pokes it, squeezes it, all with the air of one knows she is being tricked and will soon find out.

If she uncovers no dark plot to defraud her, she slams the door in his face—the signal that everything is satisfactory.

BUT MRS. Y IS A LOVEABLE character compared with Mrs. Z. Mrs. Z. always opens the door with the following barrage, "Well, here at last! Where have you been? Did you forget anything?" This last is a typical example of housewife I.Q. Errand boys would like to point out they can hardly be expected to know what they have forgotten.

After Mrs. Z carefully checks the load for errors, our friend waits stoically for what he knows must come. Even so he scarcely restrains a shudder when Mrs. Z begins to blush, then giggle, and simpler fetchingly "Oh, you know. Isn't it funny. I forgot to order bacon. Will you dash over and bring me back a pound, like a good boy?" Stumbling blindly, our little friend departs.

BUT IN EVERY LIFE THERE IS always a bright spot. In the case of the errand boy, it is Mrs. A—a queenly woman to whom a small boy is still a small boy whether he delivers the groceries or not. She phones her order early, and when he comes graciously welcomes him in her kitchen. And on the shelf there is always a full pretzel jar and on the table a glass of cool milk.

IT IS MRS. A WHO KEEPS UP OUR friend's faith in a better world. He needs it, for he does what no one else will do—face the housewife on her home field. Farmers grow it, industry produces it, stores sell it, but there they call a halt. "And a little child shall lead them."

75% FOREST
FIRE LOSS

Every Delaware farm family has a defense job on the home front in seeing that the battle against rural fire losses is won. In an address to the nation, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has asked that a first line defense job on the home front be the control and prevention of forest fires.

This tremendous demand on our forests means that they must be better protected than ever if our wood needs are to be met and our forests are to be preserved. Delaware farm families can do their part by cooperating with State and local foresters in the never-ending fight to prevent forest fires.

This year, every fire in our fields or forests may be considered an enemy fire, for it may hamper in many ways our country's war program. In the end it will make no difference if a forest blaze has been started by a enemy action or by the carelessness of a loyal American.

Nearly three-fourths of all forest fires in Delaware are caused by carelessness on the part of those who allow fire to escape to woodlands while burning off such areas as brush fields and ditch banks.

This means that most of our forest fires in this State can be prevented by using fire wisely and keeping it under control at all times. Fire is a good agent for cleaning up on farms, however it is much better to plow under plant material when possible than to burn it. Plowing it under will mean more organic material in the soil and no possible danger to woodlands nearby.

PRESBIES
IN SOFT-BALL LOOP

Best Commandos
5-2; Playground
Takes 8-4 Count
Over Continental

The Presbies settled securely at the helm of the Playground Softball League when they tripped the Commandos last night 5-2 in a game which broke a tie for the loop lead.

The victory was the third in a row for the Presbies, who kept their talents well hidden the first half by modestly refusing to win more than one game.

The Commandos, who set back Continental Thursday 14-9 earned a tie with Playground for second place. The latter won Tuesday night also at the expense of Continental 8-4.

Although the score provides few hints, the Commandos gave the Presbies some rocky going last night. Trouble started in the first, when the Presbie hurler walked three, loading the bases with one out, then managed to set the Commando sluggers down scoreless. The Presbies scored in four innings, their biggest being the third when they tallied two on a single by Sheaffer and a double by Balling.

The Commandos were held scoreless until the fifth, when they tallied one run, plus another in the sixth.

Playground won by easy stages over Continental Tuesday night, piling up eight runs on 13 hits. Continental opened the scoring in the first with a single run on hits by Baylis and Rogers, a lead which Playground quickly smothered via a four run rally in the second.

Continental collected their three runs in the sixth in what they hoped to be a winning rally, but Playground's lead was too much.

West Coast Race Plant

May Be Taken By U. S.

Another chapter was written in the checkered history of the ill-starred Golden Gate race track at Albany, California this week as two federal agencies studied plans for converting the $1,500,000 plant into housing facilities for war workers.

Ossian Carr, regional housing director of the U. S. Maritime Commission, said that agency already has formulated plans for rehabilitating the track's grandstand and stables as living quarters. The Federal Housing Administration has been studying similar plans but has made no definite announcement.

Carr declared that the track easily could be converted into quarters for 4,000 to 5,000 workers. He envisioned the clubhouse and grandstands as huge dormitories for single men, and the 1,000 stalls in the stable area as 500 two-room apartments for workers and their families.

A burglar took $100 from the cash register of C. L. Farrer's store in Salt Lake City, but overlooked more than that amount which was secreted in the side of a beef in the meat market.

Bob Stewart, Jr. earned his place in the final heat, when he defeated McCauley by a decisive 3 and 1 in the semi-finals last week. The latter bested B. F. Richards, club champion, in the third round for the biggest upset of the tourney, was unable to come to the hot pace against Stewart.

J. F. Anderson, winning over W. Liedlich out of the running in the semi-finals by a 2 up score to break the last round.

Taking over all honors in his semi-finals by easy margins, Bob Stewart, Jr. overcame W. P. McCauley, Jr. in the opening round 9 and 8, bested J. Grant 4 and 3 in the second, and over Don Tammany, 3 and 2, in the semi-finals.

Finding the going a bit tougher in the final, after bying the opener, Stewart out a 1 up victory over George Richards in the second round and despite Ralph Graves by the same score in the third before meeting Liedlich.

WILMINGTON DOLLAR DAY

PLANNED FOR AUGUST 12

Fifty-Seventh Semi-Annual Bargain Day Set For Wednesday

For the fifty-seventh time, the semi-annual "Dollar Day" will be held under the auspices of the Retail Merchants' Association of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, August 12, during the twenty-ninth consecutive year in which unusual opportunities for seasonal bargains have been offered to the conservative shoppers of Delaware and surrounding counties in the Philadelphia and New Jersey area.

The reputation built over the years for this semi-annual special sales event has attracted thousands of shoppers from all kinds of surrounding areas to the city of Wilmington. The event is a big success story for the city and its merchants.

Arthur A. Munch, chairman of the Retail Merchants' Association, stressed that it will be a "Dollar Day" on Wednesday, August 12, with no weather conditions, and that the event will be a success. He said that the event is a big success story for the city and its merchants.

Participating stores, as usual, will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. The event is a big success story for the city and its merchants.

The "Dollar Day" will be under the auspices of a special committee of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, which includes, in addition to Chairman Munch, Manuel Cohen, E. B. Dulac, Herbert J. Mayer, Mac Sumner, Leo Pinckney, F. L. Reuter, and Theodore Tuckerman and John R. Mendenhall.

Conservative Don T. McCauley, J. F. Anderson, and M. W. McSpadden, Jr. are also participating in the event.

CONSERVE SUGAR IN CANNING PEACHES

Sugar Saving Recipes Given By Extension Nutritionist

Peaches are one of Delaware's most important home-canned fruits. Now that the crop is available, homemakers are advised to can a supply for the winter months.

Pearl MacDonald, nutritionist of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, says that homemakers can conserve even if the usual quantities of sugar used are not available. She advises homemakers that peaches, just as any other fruit can be canned without sugar. Keeping depends on the sterilization and not the sugar content.

MacDonald suggests two methods for canning peaches: Method 1—Peel fully ripe fruit, pare, cut in halves and remove stone drop in a bowl of water to which has been added one teaspoon of salt to each quart of water. This salt will prevent discoloration.

Take a thin syrup using one cup of sugar to four cups of water, simmer for four to eight minutes, then cook until soft. Pack hot in sterilized jars, fill with hot syrup, process in hot water-bath 15 minutes, counting the time from the point when the water around the jars is boiling. Method 2—Peel peaches, pare, cut in halves, remove stone, add a little water, cover and pre-cook four to eight minutes. Pack hot in jars and process as above.

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for August

Washington, D. C., August 5.—While maintaining a tentative annual level of twelve billion dollars as its goal, the Treasury Department today fixed the August quota for the sale of War Bonds at $815,000,000 as shown by the accompanying map by states.

In lowering the quota from a billion dollars in July to $815,000,000 in August, the Treasury has given recognition to certain factors which may be expected to result in variations in sales over the 12-month period, such as the seasonal character of farm income.

These factors have been taken into account in determining each state's share for the national quota for August and will be given consideration in fixing quotas for subsequent months.

In addition to the state quotas as set out in the map there is a federal payroll allotment quota of $9,750,000 and territorial quotas as follows: Alaska, $760,000; Canal Zone, $213,000; Hawaii, $4,800,000; Puerto Rico, $440,000 and the Virgin Islands, $17,000.

Brack-Ex, Aug. 5 — Members and friends of the Ever Welcome Bible Class of Brack-Ex Methodist Church were entertained recently at a covered dish supper in the church social hall. Among the guests were: the Rev. and Mrs. John E. Jones and children, John Edward and Ethel May; Mrs. Alice C. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Griffith, and son, Mrs. Doris Kimmye and three children, Mrs. Arthur Buchanan and two children, Mrs. Eugene W. Crossan, R. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Brack-Ex Methodist Church attended a Bible Study Class Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Warren A. Manuel, chairman of the spiritual life committee at her home on Cherry Street in Roselle.

Mrs. John W. Reynolds of North Woodward Avenue in Roselle, Red Cross production Chairman for this section, has announced that there will not be any surgical dressing classes at Brack-Ex Methodist Church until further notice.

Mrs. Herman Garrison will represent the local unit at the two-day session offering instruction in the making of dressings in Wilmington this week.

On Thursday Mrs. Reynolds conducted the weekly sewing class of the Roselle group of volunteers at her home and a box luncheon was served at noon.

Members of the 4-H Oak Grove Girls' Sewing Club have been notified that in order to receive their pins for this year, all work must be completed and exhibited at the County 4-H Club Fair to be held in September, at the University Farm, University of Delaware.

The announcement was made at the meeting at the home of Miss Alice Kendall, of 1208 New Road, Oak Grove.

Miss Phyllis Horn, president, conducted the meeting, and the group voted to discontinue their weekly sewing classes during August. A picnic was planned for the August meeting with Miss Horn and Miss Kendall in charge.

The place and date will be announced later. A social hour followed the meeting.

Mrs. Harry G. Kendall is adult leader of the group.

Ted Kane of 2601 Frederick Avenue, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fiance of Stokely Avenue, Rehoboth.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS IS ACTIVE IN AUGUST

State Health Expert Advises Check On Child

This month and next are the time of the year when infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) is most apt to spread and all illnesses of children at this time should be closely watched, according to Dr. T. D. Hynson, director of the Division of Communicable Disease, State Board of Health. Symptoms of infantile paralysis are colds, headache, nausea, vomiting and weakness, particularly where the child seems sicker than the fever would indicate.

"Immediate medical attention for your child may mean the difference between almost complete recovery or serious crippling," warns Dr. Hynson. He urges every parent who has a child even slightly ill to call the family doctor at once and, if prompt recovery does not occur, have the doctor return soon for another visit. Meanwhile keep all well children away from the sick youngster.

The early stages of infantile paralysis are often identical with "summer grippie," a cold, or other contagious childhood disease like measles, and the physician seeing the child early may not be able to recognize the disease at once.

Many cases never show more than the first symptoms of a cold, namely: headache, pain in the back muscles, fever, restlessness, and sometimes, vomiting. From this the patient may go into complete recovery or directly into the paralytic stage with weakness in one or more extremities. Still others may apparently be recovering from the first symptoms and then after a day or so, become paralyzed. Hence, both early and continuous medical care is vitally important for all sick children now, first, to give the child the best chance for recovery and, second, to prevent the spread of the disease to others.

Dr. Hynson cites one case where the doctor was called the 2nd day that a child seemed ill. He found nothing but the symptoms of a cold so the family did not have him return for 2 weeks. When they finally did have him come back for another visit, paralysis had already developed and the chances for the child's recovery were greatly reduced.

To date this year Delaware has had 3 cases of infantile paralysis with no deaths. Last year was an epidemic year with 25 cases, 4 more cases than occurred in this state for the whole 5 year period from 1936 to 1940. Six deaths occurred from the 21 cases in the 5 year period and one death last year from the 25 children ill with the disease.

The director further advises: "Keep children who become ill, however mildly, away from other children. Keep them away from public gatherings as far as possible. Be very careful that they do not use public drinking cups, towels, and other articles used by the general public. Do not handle young children unnecessarily yourself and do not permit others to fondle them. Maintain their general health at the highest possible level by sensible diet and plenty of rest."

Be particularly careful to prevent your children from associating with other youngsters who may have fever or other symptoms of illness."

An ambulance in Richmond, Calif., was leaving the scene after answering a false report of a railroad crossing accident when a train came along and banded into a truck.

COMMUNITY LEADERS TO AID FARM SERVICE

1000 Rural Men And Women To Back Extension Service Program

To carry urgent information to rural families, the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service is placing new emphasis on a system of education of long standing—a system of voluntary local leaders.

With the assistance of rural families and agricultural agencies, G. L. Schuster, director of the Extension Service, reports that a state-wide system of community and neighborhood leaders has just been completed to be known as the Delaware Extension Service Volunteers.

Over 1,000 rural men and women will aid the Extension Service in this work in 663 neighborhoods throughout the State. Director Schuster says, that this system has been developed to overcome the lack of transportation facilities and to provide a means of reaching all families in the shortest possible time. It will now make it possible for each rural family to learn the details of wartime programs that require action by them.

In case of an emergency, the County Extension Offices will phone the information to their community leaders who will in turn pass this on to the neighborhood leaders. These leaders will see that the last man down to the last farm get the information at once. If necessary, emergency information can be forwarded to every rural family in a few hours.

Information of general wartime developments will be mailed directly to the neighborhood leaders where their neighbors may secure such information at their convenience.

The watchwords of the system will be accuracy, speed, and thoroughness. No information will be relayed unless it originates in official channels and is correct.

As in the past, all regular channels of distributing information will be used, but with this system rural families are provided an additional service when necessary for the duration.

HOMEMAKERS BUSY WITH CANNING

Demonstration Agent Offers Free Instructions

"Homemakers who are thrifty, patriotic, and looking ahead to the health of their families are now canning and will continue to can every bit of food possible for their winter pantries," says Kate Henley Daugherty, County Home Demonstration Agent, University of Delaware Extension Service.

"Lima beans, corn, tomatoes, blackberries, and peaches are the foods receiving the most attention by home canners at the present time," continues Mrs. Daugherty, and in answering some of the questions that are asked her by phone or letter she says that first of all it is not recommended that oven canning be used for any non-acid foods, such as—beans, beets, squash, corn, greens, etc. She states that moist heat by either the hot water bath or pressure cooker are the safe methods by which to can vegetables. Fresh, young, tender products plus perfect sterilization and a perfect seal are the three essentials for the successful canning of any foods. Therefore, one should have good jars, rubbers, and lids before beginning to can. To test for leaks, fill jars with water and screw lid tight; then invert jar for a moment to see if it holds.

Canning experts say that all jars should stand right side up to cool after canning. In no instance should self-seal jars be turned upside down as it might break the seal.

Odd glass jars that store foods come in can be used for canning provided the cap and rubber gasket of the jar will form a tight seal. These jars must have a neck with a standard screw thread so that a standard screw top and rubber ring will form a perfect seal or it must have a glass top with wire clamp.

Crown caps and a capping device are best for sealing bottles of grape and tomato juice. Boil the bottles before filling and dip the caps in boiling water but do not boil them. Leave about 2 inches "head space" when filling bottles with the hot juice to allow for further expansion of juice, seal and process 5 minutes in boiling water.

In conclusion, Mrs. Daugherty states, all canned foods should be stored in a cool dark place since light has a tendency to fade the products and destroy certain vitamins.

Complete canning instructions will be sent free to anyone writing to Mrs. Daugherty, County Extension Service, Newark, Delaware.

NELSON NOW A SERGEANT

Graduates Aerial Gunnery School

Edwin A. Nelson, son of Oscar A. Nelson, R.D. 1, Newark, has been promoted to Sergeant at the Army Air Forces Gunnery School at Tyndall Field, it was announced this week.

Sergeant Nelson earned his rating after successful completion of the intensive five weeks course given picked men at the Florida training center to qualify them as top-notch aerial gunners. Heretofore, graduates have been made corporals.

It is a rigorous schedule, including studies in machine gun mechanism, turrets, gun installations, ballistics, harmonization, sighting and aircraft and naval recognition.

Leaving the school, Sergeant Nelson is slated to report back to the outfit which assigned him to the special training. His next stop may be a transfer to parts unknown for actual combat duty.

IN REVIEW

August 8, 1917

With the largest crowd that ever congregated in Newark on one night, the firemen's carnival closed Saturday night. As usual the carnival was a great success due to the able management of Chief E. Clifford Wilson and his hard working staff.

The crowd Saturday night is estimated at from 8,000 to 10,000. Long before dark the automobiles and teams began to arrive. By 8 o'clock there was hardly a vacant foot of parking space from the Centre to the B. and O.

Total receipts for the affair were $8,796; other receipts will probably bring the total to $7,000.

Mrs. William Aspell, who held ticket R-43 was awarded the automobile. The profit on the machine was $1,922.

Soldiers' Send Off

Mayor E. B. Frazer at the meeting of Council Monday night stated that he had been approached by a number of citizens who thought a farewell of some kind should be given Company E before the soldiers leave for the training camp at Anniston, Alabama.

Other members of Council were also of the opinion that a farewell should be arranged and the following committee of citizens was appointed to take charge: George W. Griffin, chairman, William E. Hayes, George W. Rhodes, Walter C. Curtis, James A. McKelvey, A. L. Beals, Edward L. Richards, Leslie E. Hill, Louis L. Curtis and Norris N. Wright. The committee will likely meet soon to talk over plans for a reception.

Traffic Signals

Six modern traffic standards will soon be placed at the most congested points in Newark, probably most of them along Main Street. Mayor Frazer has ordered the standards which are often referred to as "silent policemen" and they should arrive this week. This is something that has long been needed, owing to the constant increase of automobiles through the town. The standards really do the work of a traffic officer and will assist materially in preventing accidents. They are being used in almost every city with much success.

Draft Examinations

The rural New Castle County Board of Exemption is completing the physical examinations today of the first contingent of conscripts from which at least a portion of the two districts quota for the Draft Army will be selected. The first 428 men on the conscription list were notified to report for the examination the first three days of this week and judging from the progress made so far it is evident that at least 1000 more will have to be examined before the 214 are secured for the Army if any where near the number who have filed claims are exempted.

J. Pilling Wright, Dr. W. Owen Sypher, and Dr. Walter H. Steel are the members of the board.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Whittingham, Misses Bessie and Edythe Whittingham were visitors at Camp Admiral on Sunday.

Miss Adelaide Lewis is spending a week's vacation at Bryn Mawr.

Mr. Arthur Chillas, of the U. S. Navy, who is now at the Columbia School of Pharmacy at New York was a weekend visitor at his home in Newark.

Mrs. William J. Rowan and Johnson Rowan, and Misses Anna and Marian Gallaher are spending a few days at Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fader, Mrs. Rebecca Gilpin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tibbitts, Mr. Fred Strickland, and Mr. Lee Lewis motored to Betterton Sunday.

Miss Pearl Rowe is recovering from a severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Taylor were the recent guests of John Pilling and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Willis have moved into their beautiful new home on Welsh Lane.

Miss Minnie Armstrong, of Odessa, Miss Lillian West, of Townsend, and Miss Christine McMichael, of Spring City, were the week-end guests of Mrs. R. T. Jones.

English Lad Writes Letter Of Thanks To Local Family

A five-year old English lad, the son of parents who reside in the distressed areas of South Wales, who has been visiting a Newark family for several weeks, has just returned home and written the following letter of gratitude.

Dear—
"I am just writing a few lines to thank you very much for the kind help you have given me. I am 5 years old and attend school every day. I have not yet started to go to Sunday School or Church as it is a long way from my house, but now that I am getting bigger, I am going to start to go every Sunday.
"Thanking you again, from Michael"

CHRISTIANA RED CROSS ACTIVE

Workers Busy On Dressings, Clothing

Red Cross workers in the Christiana District have been concentrating their efforts on much-needed surgical dressings during the past weeks. A total of 6,615 dressings were made in July by the Christiana group under the chairmanship of Miss M. Elizabeth Webber, the Bear Station workers headed by Mrs. C. J. Highfield, and the Glasgow group with Mrs. May B. Leasure as teacher-sponsor. Mrs. John Burge of Christiana received instruction in making surgical dressings at the Wilmington Red Cross Headquarters, and is now qualified to teach other volunteer workers.

In addition to the bandages completed, sewing and knitted work was turned in by the Christiana Branch during July. This included 7 sweaters, 1 scarf, 5 dresses, 7 robes, 1 cap, 1 pair of socks, 5 pairs of Army mittens, 2 suits of pajamas, 1 romper suit, 5 bed jackets, and 5 boys' overalls.

Christiana workers meet every Tuesday afternoon and evening in the Christiana-Salem Consolidated School, the Bear Station group meets each Thursday morning and afternoon, and Glasgow workers meet every Thursday afternoon and evening.

Siren Fund

The Newark Post wishes its readers to know that no individual or group of individuals will profit one cent from this enterprise. We have no axe to grind. Our sole interest is in the protection sirens would afford residents of Newark and adjacent neighborhood. If the people for whose protection these sirens are intended don't want them and aren't willing to support them, it's perfectly all right with us.

However, other towns have felt it prudent to provide sirens for their citizens' protection. Local defense officials thought they were necessary for Newark to the extent that they have placed an order for them.

Now, it's up to you. If you want these sirens, dig down in your jeans and give something towards their cost. If you think the venture is foolish or unnecessary, just continue to be deaf to our plea and we'll gladly drop the whole thing. But, if and when our enemies drop their loads on our unsuspecting heads, don't come crying "it wouldn't have happened if we had provided proper warning precautions."

To those few community minded citizens and organizations that have contributed to this fund, we are grateful. We feel that you have manifest a wholesome interest in your own and your neighbors well-being. It's a shame there aren't more like you in Newark.

Council

The Police Department report by Chief William Cunningham listed 25 arrests classified as follows: drunk and disorderly, 6; disorderly conduct, 5; drunk, 1; assault and battery, 3; speeding, 4; no lights, 1; loitering on streets, 1; riding 3 on motorcycle, 1; and parking, 3.

Investigations carried out were as follows: three accidents, one check forgery, one larceny of pipe from U. of D., and investigation of two runaway children.

Fines collected by the magistrate amounted to $138.50. Three cases were dismissed and one committed to the New Castle County Workhouse in default of fine.

Police calls for the month totalled 305, overnight lodging being provided 11 transients. During July the police car covered 2679 miles and the motorcycle 743 miles.

Town Engineer Price's final report covered work as follows: one water tap and one connection to the sanitary sewer made; two leaks, one in service on Cleveland Ave., the other in main of S. College Ave., repaired; curb and gutter on N. Chapel St., Orchard Rd. and Manns Ave., completed; and storm sewer on Sunset Road installed. The completion of a new curb and gutter laid by the University of Delaware was also reported. The storm sewer and widening in connection with this work is about 60 percent finished.

Water consumption for July was 10.5 percent under last month's and 2.7 percent under July, 1941. The July consumption was 13,594,000 gallons or a daily average of 436,516 gallons.
