Grange Meeting On Monday

The Newark Grange will meet in the College Hall on Monday evening of next week.

Attempted Burglaries

A burglar entered the B. & O. ticket office at Newark last Saturday night, but found things so securely locked away that the agent in the morning missed from the premises only a ticket to Barksdale, a hatchet, and an umbrella. Early Sunday morning residents near the corner of Chapel and Main streets were aroused by the burglar alarm on the H. B. Wright hardware store. Officer Appleby was notified but the intruder himself managed to escape. The same hatchet and umbrella missed from the B. & O. office was found outside the raised window at the hardware store. The alarm frightened the man away before he had entered the building.

Pupils Make Splendid Record

The following children in the grammar school have not missed a day during the school year which closes on Friday: Fourth grade—Frank Durnall, Alice Williams; Fifth grade—Bessie Shaw, Arthur Geesaman, Bayard Lindell; Seventh grade—Alma Towson. Among other honorable records for the year is that made by Lydia Young, in the fourth grade, who has not missed one word in spelling during the entire year, and made 100 in the final examination held this week.

Special Meeting Of Board Of Education

At a special meeting of the Board of Education last night Andrew L. Fisher was appointed to make the school assessment. It was decided to place all delinquent school tax bills in the hands of Forrest Lovett, the county tax collector for collection after August 10th.

Miss Martha Strahorn was re-elected teacher in the second primary grade. Several applications were received for teacher of the sixth grade to succeed Miss Louisa Swayne, who has resigned, but the board has taken no action toward electing her successor.

Festival At Appleton

The Ladies of the Appleton Tennis Club will hold a festival on the base ball grounds on Friday evening, June 4th. Everybody welcome. Come and bring your best girl.

Closing Exercises At Home-Making Schools

The Extension Schools which have been conducted during the past five weeks at Viola and Rising Sun by Miss Frances Forman of Elsmere and her assistants, under the supervision of the Department of Home Economics of the Women's College, closed on Friday, May twenty-eighth. The closing exercises occurred at Viola on Friday afternoon. Professor Caudell of the Department of Home Economics presided. County Agent Pence spoke on the relation of Home Economics to Agriculture. Rev. Mr. Brown on the place of the Extension school in the community. Dean Winifred Robinson spoke for the faculty; Mrs. Moore for the members of the class; Mrs. Alfred D. Warner for the Advisory Council of the Women's College; Miss Forman for the extension workers. The principal address was given by Professor Hayward of Delaware College, Director of Agricultural Extension for Delaware, on "Three problems of the open country, the home, the school, and the church."

The entire enrollment at Viola was seventeen. The following members of the class received certificates for having completed the course: Mrs. D. C. Moore, Mrs. G. W. Waltheater, Mrs. Daniel Murray, Mrs. Amasa Kersey, Mrs. J. A. Young, Mrs. Etta Todd, Miss Elizabeth Little, Miss Sadie Roland, Miss Edith I. Torrey, Miss Zora G. Peore, Miss Pauline Jackson.

At Rising Sun, similar exercises were conducted on Friday evening; Mr. Brown spoke for the community and Miss Slaymaker for the class. Musicians furnished by the students of the public schools under the direction of Mrs. Moore.

The entire enrollment at Rising Sun was twenty-three. The following received certificates:

Mrs. Lucy B. Conwell, Miss Anna Voshell, Miss Reedy Voshell, Miss Sally Spencer, Miss Anna D. Matthews, Mrs. J. W. Clark, Mrs. Katie Phillips, Mrs. M. J. Mohler, Mrs. W. W. Moore, Mrs. J. G. Brown, Miss Maria R. Richardson, Miss Elneta Abbott.

Both at Viola and Rising Sun, refreshments were served which gave ample proof to the husbands and brothers that the course had been a profitable one.

State D. A. R. Meeting At New Castle

A State meeting of the Delaware Daughters of the American Revolution will be held on Flag Day, June 14th, at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Selden S. Deemer New Castle. The meeting has been called by the State Regent, Mrs. George C. Hall. The meeting will adjourn at noon when there will be a basket luncheon.

In the afternoon on the lawn of Mrs. Deemer's home a very pleasing entertainment will be given for the benefit of the fund for the tablet which Caesar Rodney Chapter will place in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, to the memory of Caesar Rodney. Admission, 25 cents.

The Cooch's Bridge chapter and their friends are invited to be present.

ALUMNI PLAN TO EQUIP READING ROOM

Banquet Big Social Success

The second annual reunion of graduates of the Newark High School was held last Saturday evening. The business meeting of the Alumni Association, held at the High School at 7:30, was followed by a banquet at the Deer Park Hotel. About fifty persons attended the business meeting, and covers were laid for eighty at the banquet. At the business meeting officers were elected for the year as follows: president, Warren A. Singles; vice-president, Miss Etta Wilson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. N. Reed; recording secretary, Mrs. A. F. Fader; treasurer, Miss Anna Gallagher. Following reports from the various committees, the association decided to offer a prize of $2.50 to the child entered in the School-Garden Contest, having the best garden on July first. The principal was called upon to suggest a way in which the Association might help the schools. In response Mr. Friedel suggested that the recitation room (Room 3) be equipped as a reading room to which students might retire after completing their work, and "browse" for awhile among the books; a responsible person would be in charge of the room which in the evenings might be open to the public. A motion to the effect that the Association have this room in readiness by next fall was carried unanimously, and a committee, appointed to work out the plan in detail. The plan after being approved by the Advisory Board, will be left entirely in the hands of this committee. Miss Elsie Wright was made chairman of the committee. Other members are Mr. R. F. Friedel and Mr. Knowles Bowen.

The question of amending the by-laws, in order to leave the date for the banquet to the discretion of the social committee, owing to lack of time, was not acted upon. This change will probably be made at a special meeting.

"More fun than ever," seemed to be the unanimous opinion of the alumni who attended the banquet at the Deer Park, following the business meeting. Long tables running the length of the room were tastefully decorated with laurel blossoms. Attractive menu cards printed in gold and black.

Government Soil Survey Of New Castle County

Representatives of the Bureau of Soils, of the United States Department of Agriculture, are now at work upon a complete soil survey of New Castle county, Delaware. The party, it is expected, will take several months to complete the examination and mapping of the soils of the county.

The Department requests co-operation on the part of farmers and land owners with the Federal Soil Survey. They should be given facilities to make borings and sample the different soils. They are provided with credentials which will be shown upon request.

As soon as they have completed their investigations, they will make a large map showing the various kinds of soils and their location by means of colors and shadings. This map will also show the location of the principal roads, schools, churches, railroads and watercourses.

Accompanying the map will be a complete report on the nature of the soils, their suitability for growing various crops, and suggestions for their improvement by fertilizers, cover crops and crop rotations. This report and the map will not be ready for circulation for some months after completion of the survey.

Two of these medals go to Crockett who lowered both the 120 and 220 hurdles records to 17 and 26 4-5 seconds respectively. Others who were awarded the gold medals were, Crothers, who lowered the one mile running record to 4 min. 57 sec.; W. Manning who made a new high jump record of 5 feet 4 inches, and G. O. Smith, a new broad jump record of 20 ft. 1 1-4 in.

The "D" for baseball was awarded to the following: O'Daniel, Hoch, Wallace, Fidence, H. Horsey, D. Horsey, Geoghegan, Gray, Doherty, and Manager Stiver. The "D" for track was also awarded to the following: W. Manning, Crothers, Crockett, Steel, G. O. Smith, and Manager Owens.

Club Women Give Minstrel Show

The ladies of the New Century Club of Delaware City, gave a delightful luncheon last Thursday, with about one hundred in attendance. The luncheon was followed by a clever minstrel show. Newark folk who enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. H. Hayward, president of the Newark Club; Miss Robinson, dean of the Women's College, Mrs. R. A. Whittingham, Miss Edythe Whittingham, Mrs. Bessie Whittingham, Mrs. Herman Tyson, Mrs. W. H. Steel, and Mrs. J. P. Cann.

Stimulated Interest In Bread Baking

The art of baking bread seems to be rapidly dying out. In recent years the competition for wheat bread at the Delaware State Fair has been considerably stimulated by an increase in the premiums.

This year the announcement of the gold medal offered by Mrs. Alfred I. duPont for the best loaf of wheat bread serves to stimulate the competition in a most remarkable degree. The first prize offered by the Fair Association will also be given to the winner of Mrs. duPont's medal, the latter alone being worth the effort involved.

Mrs. duPont is choosing a medal most conservative in character and design, and the inquiries concerning this competition readily indicate the very great interest that is but a forerunner of a display of bread, the like of which has never been known in Delaware.

The State Fair premium lists are being mailed and applications for them will be received any time at the secretary's office, No. 1 West Fifth street.

Soldiers' Graves Decorated

The program as originally planned for services at 2 p. m. in the M. E. Cemetery, Memorial Day, was called off on account of the rain. The bells of the town tolled from two to two-fifty on Sunday, and flowers and flags were placed on the soldiers grave, by bands of children under the direction of J. B. Lutton, and Miss Agnes Medill, on Monday.

Delaware Alumnus Visits Newark

Julius Wolf, class of 1893 of Delaware College, stopped off here Saturday on his way from Washington and was much pleased to note many improvements around the college and to hear of those big things to come. Mr. Wolf lives at Berkeley, California, and as an expert mining engineer is assisting the U. S. Government in establishing its claims to mineral lands in California.

Wallace Signed By Newark

Manager Ellison of the Newark Delaware-Maryland League team has announced that he has signed "Bob" Wallace, the crack Delaware College man, to help Hogan out in the box this season. Wallace has pitched wonderful ball for the college this year and should be of great help to the local club. He will probably join the club on Saturday of next week.

The local games will be started in the future at 3 instead of 3:30 o'clock.

Church Festivals

The ladies of Head of Christiana Presbyterian Church will hold an ice cream festival at the church on June 23. Cake and home-made candy for sale.

The annual strawberry festival given by the ladies of White Clay Creek Church attracted the usual large crowd on Monday evening. Over one hundred dollars was realized.

State Board Working On School Consolidation

Three petitions to the State Board of Education have been made to investigate the feasibility of consolidation, in accordance with the act of the last General Assembly. A preliminary investigation has been ordered in each case and a special committee has been appointed on consolidation of schools, consisting of Professor Harry Hayward, Henry Ridgely and Albert Worth.

The committee on state aid to pupils preparing to teach, was instructed to prepare and report a plan of temporary assistance to all such students as have begun a course and now find state aid discontinued.

Because the quota of non-resident pupils for each county was left at 250, the State Board of Education has adopted the following regulations in the expectation that the number next term may be kept within the quota. Last term the excess was 183 pupils. These are the provisions:

"Every student whose tuition is paid by the state in an approved high school must have completed all the grades of his home school as a resident pupil before he can be admitted to another high school as a non-resident pupil. He must also sustain himself in a satisfactory manner as a student in studies and deportment, or payment of tuition will be discontinued for him.

"Hereafter, admission to approved high schools shall be permitted only to pupils who hold a certificate from the State Board of Examiners setting forth that the work of grade 6 (or some higher grade in case of a local high school) has been satisfactorily completed. To meet this requirement examinations of pupils who wish to attend high school in towns will be arranged and conducted by the county superintendents before the opening of schools in the fall, at one or more places in each county, as may be needed to accommodate the pupils. This provision for the admission of seventh grade pupils to town schools does not excuse rural teachers and commissioners from providing classes and work for seventh grade and the eighth grade pupils in their schools.

"Any refusal of a teacher or of commissioners to provide for and conduct these grades, brought to the notice of the county superintendent or of the State Board of Education, will result in the loss of the state dividend to the district so refusing, if request be made for these grades by any person legally entitled to ask for it."

Cecilton Girl Burned to Death

Her dress catching fire from the explosion of a can of gasoline, the force of which shut and automatically locked the kitchen door, making her a prisoner so far as persons outside the room were concerned, Miss Violet Bennett, aged 19 years, was so badly burned at her home near here yesterday afternoon that she died in great agony at 6 o'clock this morning. She would have been graduated from the Cecilton High School today had she not been compelled to leave school a few weeks ago because of the death of her mother. Since then she had been keeping house for her father, Charles Bennett, a prominent farmer.

The girl was alone in the kitchen preparing supper. She had a can of gasoline in her hand and it is thought she went too close to the stove, for it exploded, the shock closing and fastening the door leading into the yard. Her father and brother were in the yard milking and when they heard the report they ran to the house, but found the door locked. They could hear the girl screaming for help, so the father smashed the door with an axe. They found Miss Bennett writhing in pain on the floor with most of her clothing burned off. They smothered the fire and then Dr. E. V. Crawford of Cecilton, was summoned. He remained with the patient all night but despite all that he could do Miss Bennett died early this morning. She had been badly burned all over the body and in addition had inhaled the flames that enveloped her.

OBITUARY

Professor T. F. Manns received a telegram early Tuesday morning announcing the death at eleven o'clock Monday night, of Mrs. Sarah M. Reid, Mrs. Mann's mother. Mrs. Reid has been an invalid for five years. For several months she has been failing rapidly. Her daughter was called to the bedside over a month ago. Mrs. Reid came to Newark with Prof. and Mrs. Manns in 1912, and remained for over a year.

Mrs. Manns will visit with her sisters and friends during the summer, returning to Newark about September first.

John Griffith McCullough

Mr. McCullough was a Newark boy and a product of our local schools being graduated from the College in 1856 in his twentieth year. In 1858 he finished his course in the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania but his health broke down and he was ordered to go to California. If he wished to live six months longer. The climate of that state made a new and well man of him. He was admitted to the bar of California. In 1861 he was elected to the Legislature, and the year after to the Senate, and at the expiration of his term there was elected Attorney-General.

In 1873 he settled in Vermont and took up commercial, financial and railroad interests. From 1873 until 1883 he was vice-president and general manager of the Panama Railway, of which his father-in-law, Tremor W. Park, was president, and on the latter's death succeeded him in the presidency. In the reorganization of the Erie Railroad, after the depression of 1884 and 1893 he took a large part. In 1888 Mr. McCullough was chairman of its executive committee, and in 1893 one of the two receivers appointed to manage the road.

Mr. McCullough was also president of the Bennington & Rutland Railroad from 1883 to 1900. In 1890 he was elected the first president of the Chicago & Erie Railroad. He was elected Governor of Vermont in 1902, succeeding Gov. William W. Stickney.

Mr. McCullough was president (continued on page 4)

Kinsman, Bishop of Delaware, gave a reception at Bishopstead last evening, in honor of Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, president of Delaware College, Mrs. Mitchell, and Miss Robinson, dean of the Women's College of Delaware. Game And Fish

Laws In Delaware

The open season for bass and pike fishing is now in full swing and promises to be the best we have ever had. The ponds and lakes of Delaware have been stocked with fish and many of them are noted, particularly among residents of some of our neighboring States, as furnishing the best largemouth black bass fishing in the United States. This fish is not a native of our waters, but seems to thrive here amazingly, many of them reaching an enormous size. It is now not unusual for a fisherman to land bass weighing ten pounds and over. Imagine how such a monster can make a reel sing.

Pike, too, are abundant, and are found in many of our fresh water ponds and streams.

The last Legislature changed the open seasons for these fish. They cannot be taken until May 25, five days later than formerly and the season is extended for bass to February 1 and pike to March 1.

In this connection it would be well for all sportsmen, hunters as well as fishermen to note carefully the many changes that were made in the Game and Fish Laws by the last Legislature. For some reason an impression seems to have been circulated that the Game and Fish laws were all repealed and done away with. There is absolutely no ground for such a report. True, the squirrel season was changed and the Resident Hunter License law repealed, thus depriving the State Board of adequate funds for stocking the State covers and waters, but instead of repealing the Game Laws or the Fish Laws, the Legislature not only retained all the old laws, except the two noted above, but passed many new laws, which are now in effect, and in most cases the penalty for violation of the laws was materially increased. The state has a number of wardens, all peace officers, such as sheriffs, constables, policemen, etc., are ex-officio game wardens, with power to arrest with warrant, whose duty it is to see that the laws are enforced.

We publish below a list of the open seasons:

Quail—begins, Nov. 15th, ends Dec. 31st; Reed bird—Sept. 1st to Nov. 1st; Rail—Sept. 1st to Nov. 1st; Wild goose—Oct. 1st to March 15th; Brant—Oct. 1st to March 15th; Summer duck—Sept. 1st to Oct. 31st; Wild duck—Oct. 1st to March 15th; Woodcock—Nov. 15th to Dec. 31st; Rabbit—Nov. 15th to Dec. 31st; Dove—(Kent and Sussex counties only) Aug. 1st to Dec. 31st; Muskrat—(in New Castle county) Dec. 1st to March 10th; Muskrat—(Kent and Sussex counties) Nov. 20th to March 15th; Skunk—Dec. 1st to March 10th; Mink and Otter—Dec. 1st to March 10th; Fox—Oct. 1st to April 30th; Raccoon—Oct. 1st to Feb. 15th; Opossum—Oct. 1st to Feb. 15th; Squirrel—Sept. 1st to Oct. 15th; Frog—July 1st to Dec. 31st; Bass—May 25th to

"Good Roads" Day Observed

Wednesday, May 26, was observed throughout Pennsylvania as "Good Roads" day. Figures sent in by county road superintendents show that between 70,000 and 80,000 men worked on miles of highway in the state. If the weather had proved favorable it is believed three times that number would have volunteered their services. In some counties the rain was so persistent that no attempt was made to do any work, and "Good Road" days will be named later. It is estimated that the work done represents a donation worth $300,000.

Household Hints

The following has been found an excellent plan for cleaning matting. First sweep it with a stiff broom along the grain of the straw then crosswise with a softer broom dipped first in warm water and then shaken nearly dry. Dissolve a handful of salt in a pail of tepid water, and wash the matting, rinsing quickly with clean water. This brightens colored matting, and to some extent, saves it from fading. Very light matting, the sort usually called white, after a good sweeping should be washed with weak borax water, or, rather, wiped over with soft rags wrung out of it.

If bothered with rust, grease the part well with kerosene and lard. To keep a washboiler from rusting after using it on washday, wipe dry, then take a piece of cloth and saturate with kerosene, wiping the boiler inside and out.

Echoes From W. C.

T. U. Convention

After attending the W. C. T. U. convention at Red Clay Creek and listening to an address by Madame Layyah Barakat, a native of Syria, in the course of which she described the part played by the olive-tree in her native country, it seems to me that this information is well worth passing on.

According to Madame Barakat, those of us who are inordinately fond of olives, need not preen our selves overmuch on our fastidious tastes. The olives sold in bottles in this country are the unripe product of the tree. The ripe fruit is the size of a plum, very black and shiny, and when mature, is attacked by a tiny insect, which loosens its hold, and causes it to drop to the ground. Sharp eyes can easily detect the oil flowing freely under the skin.

The olive tree is the supreme treasure of the Syrian family. The olive orchards for the entire village, are utterly without separation. Each family possesses a certain tract. When the time for gathering the fruit arrives the whole village turns out for the harvest. Suddenly a faint tinkle of bells breaks upon the air. A little louder! Still more distinct.

and at last, "A caravan! A caravan!" Slowly the riders on their "ships of the desert" approach and dismount. "Calico, calico! One yard for one quart of olives!" Soon enough cloth is exchanged for this commodity, to clothe ladies. Next the shoe maker. A pair of shoes for small bleeding feet for one gallon of the fruit, and so it goes.

"A terrible back-ache" somebody cries. "Rub it with olive oil." "I've cut my finger" howls the small boy. "Apply some olive oil." Stomach ache, toe ache (and I almost said heart-ache) are all treated with that infallible panacea for "ills Syrian."

"Approach the hearth and draw up around the fire with me," invites Madame Barakat. "But if we really were in my country, you must remove your shoes before entering the home." What sociability! What good feeling! What neighborliness! Tonight you pass with me. Tomorrow night we go to our neighbors across the way, and the third night pay our respects to still a third. Do not expect to stay at home and get to bed early. Impossible! And why? Simply because every precaution must be taken not to waste one tiny little bit of wood which is furnished by the olive-tree. In reality a community fire! Wouldn't it strike us convention-bound Americans as folly supreme?

Syrian lamps were exhibited and sold at the convention at thirty-five cents each, olive oil soap at fifteen cents per cake, and a life of Madame Barakat. Cloth wicks are fed by olive-oil, the flame of three being exhibited.

Prof. Spaid also gave a most eloquent talk on "Modern phases of the Temperance Movement."

Big Land Sale In Kent

The real estate of the late Emory Scotten comprising 47 tracts of land, embracing several large farms, located in nine of the ten districts of Kent county, was sold at Dover last Tuesday save one tract which was withdrawn. The property was willed by the owner to his children, Nettie S. Moore, Clara C. Busch, Mary L. Rash, Sarah Anna Busch, Helen W. Dixon, Florence E. Ford, and Amy E. Scotten, subject to the right of dower of Mrs. Ella Scotten, his widow. The sale was made under an order of Court, possibly the first of its kind in the State, the widow having joined with the children to have the property disposed of previous to her death. The sale lasted from 10:30 a. m. till 4 p. m. and was largely attended. The total of the bids reached $63,789.50.

Long Ride On Stolen Bike

Riding a brand new bicycle which a policeman thought might have been stolen Charles Dolson, colored, was arrested in Wilmington on Thursday. Later it was learned from the makers that the wheel had been sold to J. W. Corkran of Salisbury, Md., and had been stolen from his front porch just after he had ridden it home. Dolson had taken it and ridden it for 103 miles to Wilmington. Corkran came to Wilmington with Sheriff Denson of Wicomico county and recovered the wheel. Dolson was taken back to Salisbury for trial.

You Can Now Buy Original Luther Burbank Seeds in Newark

WE have secured the exclusive selling rights of Luther Burbank's original seeds for Newark, having been appointed the special representative of the Luther Burbank Company, San Francisco, Sole Distributor of Luther Burbank's Original Productions.

To tell you of the seeming miracles wrought by the hand and brain of Luther Burbank and their history would require many large sized books.

You now have the opportunity of diverting the great Burbank genius right into your own garden. It has always been his desire to share with the world the results of his years of creative effort and the opportunity is now offered you to enjoy the fruits of labor—to grow the extraordinary flowers and vegetables that he has been years in creating—to have a garden that will be unique, beautiful and profitable.

No other store in Newark can sell you original Burbank seeds. The prices are moderate—no more than you would have to pay for average seeds of good quality.

The securing of this exclusive right to sell Luther Burbank original seeds is but another indication of the progressive policies of this store to give the unusual at all times. Look for the Burbank seal upon every package of seeds you buy. It is the "Sterling" mark of quality and genuineness, and for your protection.

With every $1.00 purchase of seeds we will present you with an interesting and instructive book in which Luther Burbank himself gives valuable directions on "The Culture of Flowers, Fruits, and Vegetables."

¶ We have not found a better buggy for the money than the Burns. They are built here at home and the style is right for our people. They are of good material and nicely finished. When you buy a Burns buggy, you do not pay from four to eight dollars freight as is the case with Western made buggies. Money paid for freight does not represent value in the buggy. We honestly believe you get more value in a Burns than any other buggy sold in this territory. Come in and see our samples before buying a buggy.

He also stated that "as the clear right of way northward had been obtained the road will also come northward." He said he had always been willing to build the highway whenever litigation or the chance of it over the right of way was removed. With the building of the boulevard the stretch of road from Berlin, Md., to the Delaware line will be constructed. Eighty tracts of land will be crossed in the stretch from Georgetown to Selbyville, the right of way costing about $400,000. the High School colors, were found at each place. Each guest's place was marked with a place card of original design, made by the various class secretaries. Some of the cards were dainty water-colored ones; on others appeared cunning kewpies in black and white; some were adorned with jingles recalling pranks of school days; others had drawn upon them a bar or two of music from the class song. Almost all were adorned with the class colors. Classes from 1892 to 1915 were represented. The following menu was served: Grape fruit; Chicken patty, potato Julienne; Finger Rolls; Chifonade Salad; Salted Nuts, Olives; Ice Cream, Assorted Cakes; Coffee and Mints. Members of the Delaware College Orchestra furnished music. Warren A. Singles presided. An original Alumni Song, to the tune of Tipperary, was thoroughly enjoyed after which Dr. Mitchell addressed the Association. The speaker referred to the promise in such an association and to the service which it might render to the community. He also advocated very strongly a four year course in the high school. In the course of his talk Dr. Mitchell referred to a chance meeting with Lynam Powell, now president of Hobart College, and the author of the History of Education in Delaware. Mr. Powell is now preparing a book on the life of Edgar Allen Poe. In the course of his research he has discovered that this genius was for a time connected with Newark Academy, the present High School building. Because of this book before mentioned is to contain a cut of the building and a chapter descriptive of the famous old school.

Mrs. Mary Swayne Heyl of Philadelphia, accompanied by Miss Wilson, delighted her hearers with a number of vocal selections. Letters were read from the former principals of the school including Mr. A. J. Lynch, lawyer of Georgetown; J. B. Handy, Judge of the City Court, New York; Albert H. Raub, Associate Superintendent, Public Schools of Philadelphia; Dr. A. Lee Ellis, physician of Baltimore; Rev. T. G. Baxter, pastor of Pine Grove Presbyterian Church, Sunnyburn, Pa.; G. S. Messersmith, U. S. Consul, Fort Erie, Ontario. B. A. Groves of Marshallton had expected to be present, but was detained at the last moment. Mr. R. F. Friedel, the present principal in a few words of greeting pronounced the Alumni Association one of the most hopeful things in connection with the school. One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the selections on the harmonica by Mr. W. P. White, president of City Council of Wilmington. Mr. White played with wonderful skill, many of the old and favorite songs, the guests singing the chorus. "Il Trovatore" was especially appreciated. The greetings of the association were sent to John E. Bucknigham, an alumnus, who has been confined to his home for several years, because of an injury received in an accident while gunning. The Secretary was instructed to write to him and forward the souvenirs of the evening. A rising vote of thanks was given the social committee—Mrs. L. B. Jacobs, Miss Katherine Heiser, and Knowles R. Bowen—also Mr. and Mrs. McKelvey, for their interest in making the banquet such a splendid success.

The invited guests included Dr. S. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Heyl of Philadelphia, Mr. White of Wilmington, Miss Nellie Wilson, Newark. Honorary members of the association present were Principal R. F. Friedel, Miss Armstrong, Miss West, Miss McKee, Miss Swayne, Miss Pennington. Members of the Alumni follow:

MR. HAUPT PREACHES TO H. S. GRADUATES

Church Crowded At Baccalaureate Services

Baccalaureate services in honor of the Newark High School graduating class were held in the St. Thomas P. E. Church last Sunday evening. The graduating class, the teachers of the school, and members of the Board of Education attended the services in a body. The Rev. W. P. Haupt, pastor of the church delivered the sermon from the text, "Be strong and very courageous to observe to do according to all the law." Mr. Haupt in simple, forceful words, delivered a charge to the young people to meet the duties of the commonplace with all the courage that the soldier displays in meeting the duties of the crisis. "The duties of the commonplace are far more difficult to meet heroically," the speaker declared. "It is far easier to be a hero for twenty minutes when the band is playing and all the world looks on to applaud, than to be a quiet, unnoticed hero for twenty years. You young people are untried, inexperienced—you have no conception of the true limits of your power. I urge upon you the cultivation of that strength and courage which will enable you to meet with a smiling face, an undaunted will and a serene heart, the commonplace duties of life."

Every community is in need of the service of educated men and women. The graduating classes of 1915 will soon be called upon to fill the places now taken by their fathers and mothers; by the soldiers, statesmen, writers, and inventors of the present day. They must equip themselves by a courage which shall meet unflinching the duties of hum drum everyday life."

The speaker used the illustration of the rich young ruler, who was given by Jesus the simple task rather than the great, adventurous heroic one, to attain eternal life, and declared "The commonplace affords a splendid field in which every young man may exercise his knighthood. Your town, your office, your street, present problems and afford temptations hard enough to tax all your powers. Be scrupulously honest, refuse to drink and gamble, keep pure, untainted by immorality. Resolutions such as these are declarations of war, and call for the highest type of courage and heroism. The hero is the man who does the right thing at the right moment. Do not wait for the dramatic tasks; do the thing that lies nearest, with all your power. That only is good and faithful service; that only is what makes possible the words: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; thou has been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord."

SEEDS AND DOLLARS

Seed that is not planted does not grow. Dollars that are not banked do not increase. No farmer is so foolish as to think that a paper bag of watermelon seeds, hanging from the rafters, will ever grow until he planted it. Yet are you not expecting those dollars in that bureau drawer will grow without banking them? Dead seeds and dead dollars bring no returns.

A Plea From Serbia

All Americans returning from Serbia report conditions there to be terrible, and give warning that the Serbian epidemic of typhus may spread to other countries. The land has four and a half million inhabitants, ordinarily thrifty and prosperous.

Owing to incessant hardships and the misery of present conditions most of the population, both soldiers and civilians, are in rags, as war has exhausted the resources of the brave little country. These rags cannot be cast aside for lack of other clothing, and on account of the contagion of the epidemic, they are infected and have become the breeding places of typhus-bringing vermin. To check the constantly spreading epidemic all these filthy, vermin-filled garments must be burned up.

What is needed in their place, and what the public is now asked to contribute, is such a number of garments for the women, and of pyjamas as day-clothes for the men, that all the population of the disease-stricken provinces may be reclothed. The woman's garment should be simply made of unbleached muslin, like a short (48 in.) full kimono nightgown with half-high neck bound with a bias band, and buttoned placket in front. Smaller sizes may also be made. The pyjamas should be made in various sizes after the usual manner. In summer time in so primitive a country a very small amount of clothing will suffice. Slightly worn skirts and blouses for the women, if freshly laundered, will be acceptable, but the suggested garment would cover nakedness and permit cleanliness.

If every woman in this country who reads this appeal is willing to make one of the garments proposed, the number desired can be obtained. When made the garments should be sent prepaid by parcel post or express to the Committee for Relief in Serbia, Bldg. No. 8, Bush Terminal, Brooklyn, N. Y., marked with the following trade mark: (A small organization to which the writer belongs has already sent 600 pyjamas, but such great need demands the kindly labor of many more persons.

Therefore we make this earnest appeal to the women of America with full confidence in their sympathy and generosity. May we count on you, the reader of this letter, to give us your aid in the attempt to help the men and women of Serbia in their hour of extremity.

Katherine M. Crooks.

This appeal coincides almost verbatim with an appeal which was addressed to me a few days ago by the Vice-President of the Serbian Red Cross in Nish, Serbia, and I endorse it most heartily.

M. I. Pupin.
Hon. Consul-General of Serbia.
Columbia University, New York,
May 22, 1915.

It is hard for people living comfortably and peacefully here in America to realize the misery and confusion in which the inhabitants of many parts of Europe have now to live day by day. No European country has had a more bitter fate than plucky little Serbia. What the Serbians have had to endure can best be shown by repeating some of the stories of a Serbian lady, lately come to this land. This Serbian lady has been receiving letters from her mother in Serbia who has been living in the hill capital of Nish since the Austrians took Belgrade. The first letter received, about February 1st, and written in December, tells of the retreat from Belgrade to Nish.

"However hard you, my daughter, may be working for the cause of your country in the United States," her mother writes, "it is nothing in comparison to the toils of the army or the sufferings of our people. The refugees from northern and western Serbia who have come to Nish, where we are now, have had to live and sleep out of doors in the snow and rain because there was no shelter for them in this terribly overcrowded town. Not only are these unfortunate suffering terrible physical misery, for there is no food to appease their hunger, but they have had also to endure the mental and moral depression from the deaths of husbands, fathers, and relatives killed in the battles of Yoda, of Thabatz, and on the Drina."

The letter goes on to say: "Many of our friends have had as well the agony caused by the separation from their families, whose members are scattered one from another, no one knowing where the other may be. Your father and I went to the railway station to meet the last train to come in from Belgrade, bringing those who left the city as the Austrians were en-

SCHEDULE FOR SATURDAY
Parkside at Newark.
Elk Mills at Traction Co.
Elkton at New Castle.

As a result of three games in two days, one on Saturday and two on Decoration Day there were several changes in the standing of the teams in the Delaware-Maryland League. Parkside is now in the front leading the league with 4 victories and but 1 defeat. New Castle is second, Elkton third and Newark fourth with two victories and three defeats. These three games brought a number of surprises chief among them being the showing of the New Castle club in winning three straight games and the dropping by Newark of two of the three games played. Newark started out well on Saturday with a victory over Elkton. With "Buck" Hoch pitching at New Castle the fans practically had that game chalked down as a victory but the river boys put up a strong defence and won out 2 to 1. Hastings who had umpired three of the previous games that Newark played was the official again and it is contended that he was just as bad as usual at New Castle. The game will be protested because of a decision of Hastings on an infield fly. The afternoon game on Monday was anybody's until the ninth inning when Traction Company batted in two runs and won 4 to 2.

Defeated Elkton On Saturday
Newark made the first trip of the season to Elkton on Saturday and triumphed over our old rivals by the score of 7 to 3. There was little to this game as Newark both outfielded and outthrew the Elkton crowd. Smith started twirling for Elkton but had to give way to Clay who finished the game. Hogan was able to take it easy the latter part of the game as Newark got a safe lead in the seventh. The score follows:

Lost To New Castle Monday

Morning

A large crowd of fans accompanied the team to New Castle Monday morning and most of them came back blaming Umpire Hastings for the loss of the game. Blaming the umpire to cover up shortcomings of the players is an old gag but in this case there seems to be plenty of justification for the kicks. Newark has been drawing Hastings as the "Ump" in practically all the games and it is about time that President Davies inflicted this official on some of the other clubs. It is not only Newark but a number of other teams are also kicking on the work of Hastings and it is hard to tell how he can last much longer in this league. Old ball players who have watched his work say it is simply a case of him not knowing the game.

Hoch pitched good enough ball to win most any game at New Castle but the team failed to hit back of him at opportune times and one run will not win many games. One of New Castle's runs was due to Hoch losing a pop fly in the sun. Case who was on the rubber for New Castle, the local players claim did not have a thing but his glove but at that he produced enough to hold them to one run. The score follows:

Morley Wins His Own Game

The afternoon game with Traction Company was one of the kind that delights the fans even though the home team did lose 4 to 2. There was plenty of free hitting and fast fielding and Morley, the visitors' twirler, won his own game in the ninth inning with a single to right field which scored two runs. Umpire Wier was the official. This "Ump" has always been popular in Newark and there were few kicks on his decisions.

With one or two exceptions this game was well played and went from the fourth to the ninth inning with the score of 2 to 2. Schimckel, the locals' second baseman, pulled a bone in the fifth inning when there was a chance for Newark to score. With two down Schimckel was on second, from where he could have scored on a hit, Rankin being at bat. The comedian, however, got it into his head that he wanted to steal third, which was poor ball whether he would have been successful or not. He kept taking a big lead off the bag and Morley on his first throw would have gotten him had the throw been good. The next attempt the ball got away from Chase and rolled to center field. Schimckel tried to take third and was thrown out by Doherty. Schimckel, however, has been playing a good game and has become a favorite with local fans.

Both Hogan and Morley were hit rather free in this game but fast fielding pulled them out of a number of tight holes. The exhibition of Morley's was especially good considering the fact that he pitched a full nine inning game against Parkside in the morning. Three Delaware College boys, Huston, Doherty, and Fidance, were on the Traction Company team and their work was largely responsible for Newark's defeat. They scored half of the Traction Company's runs and made half of the hits off Hogan. Fidance started the batting rally in the ninth which resulted in the victory.

Traction Company took the lead in the first. After Doherty was out Wingate beat out an infield hit Jimmy Huston hit a fast one to right field but by quick work Rankin threw him out at first robbing Jimmy of a hit. Wingate stole second and scored on Smith's single. Doherty started the third with a single and took second on Hogan's wild throw. He scored on Huston's single.

Newark tied the score in the fourth when Rankin, Beatty, Kirk and Morris all connected safe. This was the only inning that Newark was able to do much with Morley. The tie lasted until the ninth. In this inning Fidance and Stirlith hit safe and advanced on Chase's sacrifice. Grooms was out on a foul but Morley with two down hit a Texas Leaguer to right, scoring two runs. The score follows:

Continental Going Strong

Manager Jackson has his Continental Fibre Co. team in good shape now and they are putting up a classy article of baseball. With Whiteman, Fossett and Crow, all pitching in fine form opposing teams will have a hard proposition in this aggregation the remainder of the season.

Continental last Saturday with the Third Ward A. C. of Wilmington as opponents gave a fine exhibition of the national sport. The game was won by Third Ward 1 to 0. Whiteman in this game fanned 13 and gave but one walk. A feature was a triple play by Moore, Robinson and Crow. Monday morning with the Crow brothers battery working Continental took an easy game from Luxburger A. C., 12 to 2. Thompson did not pitch such bad ball for the visitors but his support was ragged.

In the afternoon Continental went to Perryville and defeated the strong club of that town, 9 to 4. Fossett pitched this game. Next Saturday Manager Jackson will take his team to Avondale for a game. The score of the Luxburger A. C. game Monday morning follows:

High School Ends Season With Victory

The Newark High School team closed its season last Friday afternoon with a 6 to 1 victory over Dover High on the local grounds. While Newark won but two of the scheduled games this season the club put up a good article of ball at times and lost a number of games by one run. Chillas in the final game held Dover safe except in the sixth inning the visitors scored their only run. The score by innings follows:

Delaware Has Successful Season

With an easy victory over Western Maryland by the score of 8 to 1, Delaware College closed its baseball season on Saturday. It was one of the most successful seasons the college has ever had in baseball notwithstanding the poor start. Three of the first five games were defeats but since the extra inning game with Johns Hopkins the blue and gold team has been traveling at a fast clip and won every game played. The defeats by Drexel, Swarthmore, and Johns Hopkins, early in the season were largely due to poor work in the field by the best men on the team. The loss of Jimmy Huston back of the bat was also felt early in the schedule but O'Daniel showed wonderful improvement during the past month and his catching was all that could be desired. Cut Price War In Lewes

Cut prices of a chain grocery store opened in the old postoffice building at Lewes last week were met by local dealers and residents were highly tickled and hope the war will be fought to a finish.

SPORTS OF THE WEEK

serves much credit for the improvement in his playing as it was brought about by hard work and close attention to the coaching of Coach McAvoy.

The work of the two pitchers has been a feature of every game. In no game during the season were the Delaware twirlers outpitched. Hoch worked in most of the games and the exhibition he gave against St. John's in holding that club to five hits without giving a pass in seventeen innings gives an idea of the kind of ball he has been pitching.

Wallace who pitched the final game against Western Maryland, made a remarkable record. When Western Maryland scored their one run in the seventh inning of that game Wallace had pitched 27 innings without a run being scored against him. He pitched nine innings against Rock Hill the same number against Haverford, three innings against Muhlenburg, and six against Western Maryland before his opponents succeeded in getting a run over.

His control was wonderful in these games as he did not give a pass in the thirty innings that he pitched. He allowed only 8 hits and fanned 44 men in the thirty innings.

The team has re-elected Doherty captain for next year. Geoghegan is the only member of the team who graduates this year so the prospects are bright for another good club in 1916. The score of the Western Maryland game follows:

KNOCKS AND BOOSTS

With both the College and High School seasons closed local fans can give all their attention to pulling for the Newark Club of the Del-Mar League and the fast Continental team.

Parkside is here for a game next Saturday and as Lewis' club is now leading the league there should be a record turn out.

It is to be hoped that President Davies will not send Umpire Hastings here for the Parkside game. We have seen enough of this official for one season.

A board of arbitration is scheduled to meet this week to decide the Newark-Parkside fifteen inning protested game.

"Biddy" Bounds pitched a fine article of ball against Delaware Hard Fibre for Odessa Monday afternoon but lost 3 to 0. He held his opponents to four hits but Odessa was weak with the bat.

Manager Jackson's club on Saturday pulled off the only triple play that has been made here for years.

With Whiteman, Crow and Fosssett all going fine three games in two days is a small matter with the Continental club.

More hitting is needed on the Newark Club to win games. "Buck" Hoch pitched good enough to win Monday morning at New Castle with a little hitting back of him.

Huston, Doherty, and Fidance, three Delaware College boys, were a big factor in the defeat of Newark Monday afternoon.

Green and Ferguson of the Newark High should make some of the Delaware College candidates hustle for a place on the team next spring if they enter Delaware as reported, in September.

Schmickel's bone in playing too far off second with two out and a good hitter up in the Traction Co. may not have been costly but it is poor baseball.

Plenty of rooting is the life of baseball but personal remarks directed at the opposing players accomplishes nothing more than just criticism for the home fans.

Its the Steady, Consistent, Day-in-and-day-out Performance of the

that makes it the unquestioned "big value but low priced" car of the world.

We do not ask you to buy a Studebaker because of the record a specially constructed car may have made in this, that or the other race, when driven by an expert racing driver. No—but we do ask you to investigate the performance of the Studebaker in every-day use, under every day conditions, and in the hands of thousands of average drivers. It is the use to which you will put a car that should determine its value to you. Let us show you what the Studebaker has done and will do in the service to which you expect to put it. If you ask why Studebakers are better—why they give and always have given thorough satisfaction—consider the aims, ideals and honesty of purpose behind them; the quality of Studebaker materials; the vast extent and intensiveness of Studebaker manufacturing methods; the excellence of their engineering design; and the fact that in each and every important or vital particular these cars welcome comparison with the highest priced.

You will find them competing with cars that sell at prices $500 higher; and you will also find them showing higher quality throughout. Studebaker prices are lower because these cars are completely manufactured in Studebaker plants, carry but one profit, and impose no middleman's tax on the buyer.

Richard Bassett

Associated with the name of Richard Bassett is the story of Bohemia Manor, a part of which he inherited from Mr. Lawson, his father by adoption.

Bohemia Manor was a splendid tract of land—18,000 acres—in Cecil County, Maryland, granted to one Augustine Herman, from Bohemia. The grant was bounded by the Bohemia and Elk Rivers, Black Creek, and the Delaware state line. Herman settled here in 1664, and soon became the dominating force in that part of Maryland. He had his deer park, the walls of which could be seen as late as 1850. Herman rode in a coach driven by liveried servants, and lived in a great mansion, which commanded a view of the Bohemia river to Chesapeake Bay. The bricks, sash, and all the original materials in the house were made in England. Lawyer Lawson who adopted Richard Bassett, married a Miss Inzer, whose family was Herman's heir to Bohemia Manor. In this family the title of "First Lord of the Manor" existed until the Revolution abolished all titles suggestive of class distinction. Richard Bassett became Mr.

Lawson's heir, and by this inheritance came into possession of 6000 acres, pronounced "the fairest and best portion of the manor."

Richard Bassett was born in 1745. He was educated for the law, and in 1795 moved to his estate on Bohemia Manor. In 1778 he had made the acquaintance of Bishop Asbury, the apostle of American Methodism.

Bassett became a convert to the religion of the good Bishop, the two becoming life-long friends. Friends Wesley's Chapel in Dover was erected in 1784, principally by means furnished by Mr. Bassett. As he was both wealthy and liberal his mansion was the principal resort for Methodist ministers. While at the Manor he had two campmeetings in a beautiful grove on his land, a mile north of his home. The first was held in 1808, and the second in 1809.

Richard Bassett had three homes—his old one in Dover, one in Wilmington, and one on the Manor. He seems always to have claimed citizenship in Delaware, however, for in 1786 the Delaware Legislature selected him as their member at the Annapolis Convention, and the next year sent him for Delaware to the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia. His name appears among the Delaware signers on the famous document. From 1789 to 1793 Mr. Bassett served as senator, and was the first member to cast his vote for locating the capital on the Potomac. Later he became governor of Delaware and judge of the U. S. Court for the district which included Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware. The latter position he held at the time of his death in 1815.

Property owners are warned that July 1st is not far away and that the new town ordinance forbids drainage into the gutter after that date.

This new ordinance carries a penalty and makes it obligatory upon the Board of Health to report delinquents and be assured this will be promptly done.

There may be a crowd in Squire Lovett's office some hot summer night. A word to the wise.

Ordinance in Effect July 1st

We reprint the following ordinance, at the request of the Newark Board of Health:

An Ordinance for the Government of the Town of Newark.

Red Men's Notes

Within the last two seven Suns Minnehaha Tribe No. 23, of this town have adopted 12 pale faces, and had two for reinstatement, and more pale faces coming along. We are glad to see the boys are awakening to a new life in the ranks of Redmaship, and to see they are scouting the forest with the intention of making a good record for the tribe. The forests here are full of good pale faces, and we hope the Brothers will not cease their efforts in scouting for them until they have succeeded in reaching the last pale face worthy of becoming a Red Man.

We would be glad to see some more of the Brothers come to the kindling of the council fire. Our degree team has had some good work to do in scalping the Pale Faces. Bro. C. T. Denney has taken charge of the team, our former Captain, Bro. Widdoes, turning same over to Bro. Denney and Bro. Denney is trying hard to make a success of it. He is proud to say that the Brothers are doing all they can to assist him to make a success of it.

On Tuesday's sleep, June 8th, Lenape's degree team will pay this Tribe a visit to confer the Warriors' and Chiefs' degrees on the newly adopted pale face brothers and our committee has arranged for some corn and venison in the Banquet Room of the Opera House and we would be glad to have the Brothers come out and make it an enjoyable evening.

Our band had a motion picture benefit on the 27th of May, and cleared about twenty-two dollars. The band members wish to thank all those who helped us in this work and the public in general for their support. This band is supported by the members and has to depend largely upon the Tribe and public for help. It is doing everything possible to make this town a lively one.

The band will go to the Red Men's home on Depot road Saturday afternoon June 12th (Weather Permitting) to assist in the Home Coming Day exercises to be held there by the Red Men of Delaware and hope to see many of our town friends on the grounds. You do not have to be a Red Man or a Red Man's wife. All are welcome to come and make it a regular home-coming day. Everybody come and help a little.

Chief.

tering from the north. We hoped to find your cousin Petrovich on board, who had not been heard of since the battle."

Describing the refugees, the mother writes: "Returning from the station we passed many refugees who were streaming in from the villages this side of Belgrade. Your father stopped one cart containing eight children from 3 to 10 years of age. He asked where their parents were, but they did not know. They had been separated in the flight from Belgrade, and the children had simply followed the crowd," the letter continues. "Many women walking along the roads towards Nish in the rain and snow, for the weather at that time was terrible, carried children in their arms. These little children were dying from hunger, for the mothers had nothing to give them. In their desperation these women offered their children to anyone who seemed better off than they, in the hope of thus obtaining food for the little ones. The unfortunates who had no carts had torn and bloody feet from the constant hurrying and walking, for the Austrians were supposed to be pursuing not far behind. These poor people would not stop to bind up their wounds or to rest, being so terrified that they did not dare to lose a moment."

A later letter tells of two men whom the mother had nursed in the military hospital at Nish.

"One man," she writes, "has not heard from his family for months and does not know whether his wife and children are dead or alive, for the village in which he lived has been burned down by the enemy. The other has been cured and was given a short leave of absence, before returning to the front, to go home to complete his convalescence. He did not seem very cheerful about going, so I said to him:

"Are you not glad to go home?"

"He drew a big, rusty key from his pocket and replied:

"This is all I have of home."

"He had seen his village burn down, including his own house; part of his family had been killed and the others had been carried off as hostages to Austria."

Another letter tells of a journey to Belgrade, during the bombardment in February, which had been undertaken in the hope of obtaining some things for their home life in Nish. Unfortunately the day this lady chose to return to Belgrade proved one in which there was the heaviest firing. As she and the father walked along a street near the theatre the sudden explosion of a bomb terrified them, and they turned aside to seek refuge in the house of a friend in the next street. Here as they approached the house another bomb struck it, covering them with bricks and dust.

"In my terror," the mother writes, "it seemed as if the shell itself was made of bricks." The wife and two daughters of their friend were killed and the friend himself was wounded.

As they were making their way to the police station, where they sought refuge, they met another friend, a professor who told them he had been walking a few minutes before with two men, one on each side of him, when he accidentally changed to the outside. In a few minutes the man in the center was killed by a piece from a bomb and fell to the pavement, while the others were only slightly injured. When he met the mother and father the professor was still shaking with the excitement of his escape.

After this they went to the police office, where they were informed that thirty persons had been killed by Austrian bombs in the past half hour. At the police station the father and mother were advised to try the Grand Hotel. They went there and were given a room through the kindness of Sir Thomas Lipton, who as a distinguished guest doing much for Serbia had been allowed generous accommodations. Several English correspondents had just come in from the fortress of Belgrade, and were highly excited by what they had seen and greatly rejoiced at the chance of describing the bombardment.

"It seemed wrong," the mother goes on to say in her letter, "but while talking with these men I almost forgot about the terrors we had been through and laughed when they narrated something amusing."

"In writing about the epidemic of typhus at Nish, the mother says: 'It is impossible for anyone not on the spot to imagine the distress and misery of the people. Hundreds of wounded and typhus stricken soldiers lie on the ground outside of the doors of our hospitals waiting for admittance, and some of them die there before they can be taken in. There are now three to four hundred deaths daily from typhus at Nish. It is the custom in Serbia,' she continues, 'when there is a death in a family to hang a black flag from one of the windows of the house, but now when a flag hangs out it means that a number of persons have died there.' She describes how the wives of the farmers wear as mourning black kerchiefs around their heads. On market days at Nish the mother writes she meets hundreds of market women with these black head coverings, and, terrible as their need must be, she feels compelled to avoid buying from these women for fear of the infection that may lurk around them. The head of the hospital where the mother toils has died of typhus, the son of the Serbian Red Cross chief has died, as well as some seven relations and friends of the kind lady who has sent her daughter word of all these happenings in the hope that they might stimulate the interest of Americans in the unhappy little land.
