Graham Heads Community Fund Program At Continental-Diamond Fibre For 1960

Out to better its participation in last year's United Community Fund, Continental-Diamond Fibre Corporation, Newark, producers of laminated plastics, launched its 1960 drive last Monday.

"We're proud of last year's effort," William J. Graham, employee relations manager and chairman of the current fund drive said, "but we are going all out to better that mark this year."

A comprehensive program has been set up to contact each of CDF's 625 employees, explaining the needs of Red Feather agencies and the advantage of giving the "United Way," and 51 solicitors have been appointed.

In emphasizing the practice of "giving where you work," CDF again will offer payroll deductions for individuals who prefer to spread their contribution over the year.

Delaware Alumnae Of Local Chapter To Meet Monday

The Newark chapter, University of Delaware Alumnae, will hold a covered dish supper, for their first meeting of the year next Monday evening at 6:30 in the basement of the Room of Warner Hall. All alumnae in the area are invited to attend—and to bring their own table silver and a covered dish. A beverage and dessert will be furnished.

Reservations for the supper should be made by tomorrow evening with Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Mrs. Ralph Barrow, or Mrs. William B. Keene.

The new assistant alumni secretary, Mrs. Nils Quick, the guest of honor, will speak at the brief business meeting following the supper.

Mrs. J. P. Patonovic, president of the group, has announced that future meetings will be on Jan. 9 and March 13.

Committee chairmen for the year are Mrs. Johnson, program; Mrs. Jack Dennison, hospitality; and Anna Frazer, membership.

Mrs. Keene will be in charge of a card party, scheduled for Feb. 14, for the benefit of the chapter's grant-in-aid.

Members unable to attend the supper on Monday are requested to send their dues to Mrs. Barrow at 9 Meadow Lane.

Hypnosis To Control Diet Topic for YWCA Luncheon

Dr. Sheldon W. Weiss, chief clinical psychologist for State Mental Hygiene Clinics, will be the guest speaker at the Alice P. Smyth Center luncheon next Thursday.

He studied at New York University and holds a PhD in clinical psychology. Before coming to Delaware in 1957, he was director of psychological services for the Fairview State Hospital for the criminally insane at Waymart, Pa.

His topic "Hypnosis as an Adjunct to Therapy" will concern hypnosis as an aid in control of obesity.

These YWCA luncheons are open to all women from the Newark area. Guests may bring a sandwich, but a beverage will be provided with facilities for children.

Mrs. Joseph M. Brown is chairman, assisted by Mrs. W. R. Gregg, with Mrs. Richard Pontrich, hostess.

Prize-Winning Pony Dies At Home Near Newark

"Horse-lovers in general, and Stoney's many fans in particular, may be interested—and saddened to learn of the death of Christy Wood, a prize-winning pony, Mrs. Mary B. Smith writes.

Stoney died at his home with Mr. and Mrs. James Smith near Newark off New London Road at the age of 2 1/2 years.

This little 42-in. pony won 20 applause and affection during his 20 years of jumping, winning dozens of "blues" and many cups.

He easily cleared a 3-ft. gate at 27, and never lost his brightness of eye and responsiveness, Mrs. Smith says.

Mayor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, the study of American history is a required subject for all Newark High School students; and

WHEREAS, such a study of history should be more than a required school subject because of the principles laid down by our forefathers for the development of our future; and

WHEREAS, Americans need to be reawakened to their great past, to the sacrifices, hard work, and diligent efforts that have gone into the creation of the American Democracy; and

WHEREAS, the Robert Kirkwood Society, Children of the American Revolution, is working toward the accomplishment of these goals through a special patriotic education committee.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANK M. DURNALL, Mayor of the City of Newark, Del., do hereby proclaim the week of Oct. 19-25, 1960, as Patriotic Education Week, and do hereby urge that both adults and children in Newark devote themselves to refreshing the memory and rededicating their lives to the principles of American Liberty.

Speaking of Money... "Teen-age entrepreneurs"

You know, we all hear so much about juvenile delinquents these days that it's a downright pleasure for me to talk about a brighter side.

There are some ingenious lessons here for all of us, plus some reassurance that some of our teenagers are outstanding. Here are how some of our enterprising young folks licked their unemployment and lack-of-money problems.

First is the story of a 17-year-old Texas boy whose idea and follow-up netted him a sizeable sum of money. His dad, who worked at an oil field, was constantly harassed by the problem of sludge pits which caught the leaking oil around each well. They were a dirty and dangerous fire hazard. The oilmen were too busy worrying about the oil they were taking out of the ground to worry about what was lying all over the top of the ground. Our 17-year-old bought an old tank truck, attached a discarded suction pump, and was on his way to major earnings. In his high school years alone he netted $16,000—enough to attend engineering college with some to spare.

Next... an 18-year-old boy read about the tons of pure silver lost annually in photographic solutions which are spilled down the drain after use in developing pictures. After many hours of work he had perfected a means of retrieving the silver from the chemical solutions. He asked local developers to store their waste solutions and he split his profits with them. This boy, now 20 years old, now owns a plant worth $150,000 and makes around $50,000 a year.

And these business ventures aren't limited to boys alone. A 15-year-old Michigan girl happened to take a close look at some fancy trout flies her father had just purchased. She tried her hand at tying a few just for the fun of it—showed them to her dad who tried them out. He came back raving for more. It didn't take long for her father's fishing buddies to notice these new creations, and soon orders were pouring in for these hand-made originals. Today this girl is president of a small company and employs eight other girls who tie thousands of these trout flies every year. Are they making money? Just price a couple of custom-tied trout flies and you'll know.

About the most imaginative idea and one I'd love to try myself was that of a 13-year-old Florida boy. He saved up enough money to buy an army surplus portable mine detector and what do you think he did with it? He'd get up early every morning and sweep the beach near his home.

Invariably he'd find change, jewelry, and other valuables that people had lost on the beach. His idea became very profitable and enjoyable. He bought battery-powered mine detector sets himself, and two and four thousand dollars every year in this swimming trunks on a bathing beach wouldn't like that kind of work?

Meanwhile with countless thousands of kids delivering papers, baby-sitting, mowing lawns, washing cars and otherwise cutting themselves out of the economy, it may be that the enterprise may last beyond our time, after

UNLEASH HIM!

THE ENEMY WITHIN

An increasing number of financial experts warn that our tax system has become a threat to America's economic health. Among them is Arthur F. Burns, Columbia University professor, former chairman of President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers, and authority on business fluctuations.

In a California speech, Burns said we are running a great race in keeping a tax system that not only discourages enterprising investment, but also "diverts the energy of some of our ablest citizens into channels that may bring a tax advantage to them or their firms but do little or nothing to raise national productivity."

He contrasted our stultifying tax system with measures adopted by the Russians to promote individual effort.

"The Russians have in recent years been very methodical in creating large income inequalities," he said. "In particular they reward handsomely their managers, scientists, teachers, and the more skilled factory workers. But while they have been devising special incentives to spur productivity, they are neglecting the practices of our older capitalism, we have adopted a tax system that weakens the incentive to create and produce."

"Can it be," Professor Burns asks, "that the Russians have discovered one of the main secrets of Western economic success, while we have allowed our idealistic impulses to obscure the sources of our own great achievements?"

That is a pertinent question, Professor Burns. We would do well to see it brought up at the next session of Congress.

Can it be," Professor Burns asks, "that the Russians have discovered one of the main secrets of Western economic success, while we have allowed our idealistic impulses to obscure the sources of our own great achievements?"

Letters To The Editor

October 14,
To the Editor:
I, being a citizen of Newark, wish to agree with the writer of the letter published on Oct. 6, 1960 about the behavior of the council concerning the police department and its affairs.

I also agree that the police chief matters that arise in connection with the officers working under him.

Being a policeman is a very difficult job. They naturally have to have someone in charge and that someone, in my opinion, should be the chief and not all the members of the council who wish to put their two cents worth in.

In the past few months the police force of Newark has lost several valuable men mainly because of the great role that the council members played in it. These men were well-trained and very capable of doing a satisfactory job. They are greatly missed by their former colleagues and other citizens.

Nowadays it's as if an officer doesn't toe the line and abide by the rules of the council, he is in for a bad time. I heard of a case where a certain officer happened to arrest the friend of a councilman, therefore, he found himself in hot water. (That officer is no longer on the local force). Also, I know, for a fact, that many of the confidential matters concerning the police are discussed openly in a store, such as in a case a few months ago. This is very bad practice and

Ether's Discovery Topic For Russell At Local Seminar

One of the most dramatic discoveries in medical history was described at the University of Delaware on Friday, when Dr. Fenton Russell, DuPont Company medical division, spoke on "The Ether Controversy."

Dr. Russell participated in the biology seminar in Room 206, Wolf Hall, at 4 p.m.

Most people who enter a hospital for an operation take it for granted that they will receive an anesthetic of some kind that will provide an escape from pain. It does not occur to them to inquire about anesthesia—how it came about, when it started, who established it as a practice, and what price was paid to give it to mankind.

No doubt many people think anesthesia as produced by an anesthetic always existed. The tragic story of the discovery of ether is little known.

Actually the discovery is recent in point of time, and those involved in it each experienced unhappy, painful lives from the moment the discovery was announced to the world. Yet ether gave to mankind one of the greatest boons known—triumph over pain.

These episodes happened daily. The public knows little of them. I wouldn't be surprised what this includes some members of council.

The thought flashed through my mind whether the paragon of police virtues—whether from Maryland, Jersey, or further afield—could have handled these situations any better than our present chief.

Delaware To Meet Marshall On Saturday After Loss To New Hampshire Wildcats

Delaware will take to the air again this week, seeking its first win of the season after four losses, to meet Marshall College at Huntington, W. Va., on Saturday at 2 p.m.

Already assured of their worst record under Coach Dave Nelson since 1952 when they split eight games, the still Fighting Blue Hens will depart Friday night from New Castle County Airport and return after the game Saturday.

Although a 5-4 seasonal record is a possibility, each opponent looks tougher as the weeks go by. However, while Delaware was soundly defeated by the University of New Hampshire Wildcats, 31-14, at Durham last week, Marshall was taking a 22-6 licking by Kent State in the Mid-American Conference.

Marshall possesses a dim 1-4 record, with its only win over Toledo. The Marshalls, however, held Bowling Green—the only team to beat the Hens last year—to 14-7 in an earlier test.

Marshall is in the second year of its rebuilding program under Coach Charlie Snyder, who picked up the loose reins last year and piloted the Big Green to 1-8 record. Snyder has installed the Delaware Winged-T attack and has a host of letter-men.

It will be Homecoming Day at Marshall, and the Big Green will be out to avenge the 30-6 setback at Delaware Stadium last year. The game will be the second meeting between the two clubs.

After piling up an 8-0 lead in the first period, the Blue Hens attack folded last week to give New Hampshire its first win in eight starts against Delaware, and make Homecoming Day at Durham a success.

The Delaware offense collapsed toward the end of the first half after the Blue Hens had taken an 8-0 lead in the first quarter. Dick Kemp, sophomore fullback with the second team, raced up the middle for the final six yards after Delaware had driven from the Wildcat 33. Tom Michaels ran for the extra two points.

A 50-yard touchdown return of an intercepted pass from New Hampshire back Gary Hebert accounted for the Wildcats' first score and led to the Hens' decline. New Hampshire scored again seconds before the end of the first half on a screen pass that covered 19 yards. The same play, this time from the five in the third quarter, gave

New Hampshire a 21-8 lead. A fourth down play on the one-ft. line to open the fourth quarter, and a 32-yard field goal boosted the Wildcats' score to 31 points.

Quarterback Barry Fetterman piloted the second Delaware touchdown in the final six minutes of play, with Michaels, scoring from the one. Fetterman, who has been used mainly on defense, stopped another Wildcat score with an end zone interception of a New Hampshire pass.

Michaels and sophomore running-mate Ron McCoy of Smyrna, led the Hens in rushing.

"Anybody want any bonito—all cleaned?" a friendly, generous and obviously successful young angler asked last Friday night at the Anglers dock in Lewes, and with Commodore Bob Squier and Cap'n Gibby Young we accepted the offer with unanimity, despite our anticipation of a loaded fish box with the smooth sailing forecast for the morning.

The "bonito" proved to be three headless, cleaned, five-pound solid slabs of albacore—"false albacore" to be technically correct according to the research of Francesca Lamotte and Newark's Messrs. Harry Cleaves and Andy Blisotto—but a fighting fish nonetheless.

A long distance telephone call from the fourth member of the scheduled five-man crew interrupted the trio at dinner later that night at the Anglers Restaurant, as Brother Lew Wagman phoned from Baltimore, that automobile trouble had cancelled his reservation for the night and the following day's offshore fishing aboard the Young Un-III—and Lew was far from happy with carburetors in general and one in particular.

"It choked and stalled all the way to the Bay Bridge," he grated with a few embellishments, "and then stalled for good—bad. I mean, I'm lucky to have made it back home to Baltimore," he said.

"Too bad old Lew can't make it," Gibby Young said. "But why doesn't he borrow a car?" Well, he tried that.

Early Arrival
Texas Bob Kidwell, however, met with better automotive success in driving down from Newark early next morning, and stepped onto the Anglers dock in the gray dawn as we were sluicing the sleep from our eyes with the cold fresh water hose provided with other dock facilities.

"Well, how many have you caught?" Tex asked, and was promptly shown the three albacore fished down in the fish box.
"Fished these up off the stern last night in the canal while we were anchored," Mr. Kidwell was informed truthfully enough.

But Rugged Robert knows his fish, and after an initial jolt, his skepticism of free-running, offshore albacore being caught at dockside led to the full explanation—and let-down.

Calm on The Ocean
A gentle southeast breeze barely ruffled the lazy ground swell of the Atlantic as we turned Cape Henlopen on a course for the offshore P-Buoy, and the calm blue water sparkled under a rising, white gold sun—a near perfect day at sea for a change.

However, the morning's haze limited visibility to some half-mile, and after several stormy weekends over the same route, we arrived at—and passed—our destination ahead of the calculated time schedule.

Goffinett Garner Top Archery Score In Local Tourney

Pete Goffinett was high scorer in the flint round archery event conducted by the New Castle Rod, Gun and Archery Club at the Sun-Set Lake range last Thursday night, with Jim Tyler, Bill Producers, Bob Starkey, and Len Marsh finishing in that order in the handicap archery shoot. Mrs. T. Craig won the women's handicap event.

In last Sunday's National Field Archers Tournament at the local range, Duke Tyler and Mancill Smith won top honors in the 250 class; Buck Crowe won the 175 class event; and Jack McMasters and Ralph Miller finished first and second in 100 class competition.

Joey Russell and Janet Tyler won the junior and women's 75 class events.

Steers' Harriers Defeat Upsala In Opening Meet

Seaford's Wes Stack paced the Delaware cross-country team to a 19-39 victory over Upsala in the opening meet for both schools here last week.

Stack traveled the White Clay Creek course in 22:17.5. The Blue Hens took second and third place with Wayne Callaway and Roy Jernigan.

Coach Ken Steers' Harriers face a triangular meet with LaSalle and Temple, away, tomorrow.

Two hours passed, the haze lifted, and we were all alone on the ocean with no buoy, no land, and no other boats.

"We're way past P-Buoy," Commodore Squier said after some contemplation of the chart, and although there was some difference of opinion on this score, we all had had enough riding and were ready for some fishing. It was decided to come about and troll—and we trolled right back to the buoy and the fishing fleet over the horizon just traversed.

A fish hit the feather trolling from the starboard Calcutta within the first five minutes—got off—and then Bob Kidwell's reel sang a tune as a powerful, fast-moving fish slashed a yard of blue surface water into boiling white foam, and stripped an impressive and disturbing length of personal, prized Cortland Camouflage yardage from the spool.

Whoa!
"Throw her in reverse—turn around!" the worried angler and the equally worried owner of the line roared in unison at Cap'n Young on the flying bridge—and Gibby came about just in time to save the last of the line sizzling from the reel against the star drag—and to save Kidwell's day and fish.

After its initial rush and an exploratory dive, the albacore turned and swam near the surface with the boat, flashing like a sun-struck mirror in the blue-black water, while a free-swimming companion sliced a V across the top of the ocean, looking in vain for one of the other three lures that had been hurriedly reeled aboard at the first strike to avoid entanglement. We avoided both entanglement and another fish.

Bob Kidwell finally boated an albacore of seven silver, satin, steely pounds, and much later the captain was coaxed from his flying bridge to reel in the first bonito—his first fish, incidentally, since taking his ship to Lewes some six weeks ago.

That bonito appealed to Mr. Young—so much so that the captain continued to troll while Tex Kidwell took over the wheel on the bridge. And Gibby caught the third and final fish of the day some hour later—a two-pound bonito that was pumped in without interference from the Young undershirt which generally becomes entangled with his reel when a fish is hooked. It was sunny and warm last Saturday, and O' Gibbo had shed his shirt.

NRA Pony League Giant Champs Honored At Annual Banquet With Phillie Guest

Some 100 Dads, coaches, players, and other friends heard Outfielder Ken Walters of the Phils say that young baseball players should "work hard, think all the time—and practice hard" to make a major league, as Walters addressed the third annual Newark Recreation Ass'n Pony League award banquet.

Sponsored by the Newark Industrial Management Club, the banquet honored championship teams of the five NRA Pony Leagues, and the Newark champions.

Framed, individual certificates were presented to each member of the Newark championship team with the inscription "In recognition of his services as a valuable member of the Major League Giants—Newark Recreation Pony Leagues."

Members of the Giants are Ernest

Hopkins, Richard Nardo, George Arbeiter, Keith Walker, Leslie Welch, Lanny Phillips, James McDonough, Michael McCarter, Paul Thorpe, Donald Short, Wayne Phillips, Wallace Cleaver, Wayne Hurd, William Bomberger, Daniel Smith, Thomas Leamy, Wilbur Davis and Bill Patterson, with Coaches Charles O. Horn and Raymond Phillips.

Championship team trophies and the area championship trophy were awarded by Walters, with George Arbeiter accepting the Major League trophy, and Wallace Cleaver, the championship trophy for the Giants.

The champs had a string of 18 undefeated games, losing but one, early, to spoil a perfect season.

The American League trophy was accepted by Phillip Gibbs of the Orioles for an 8-4 season; the National League trophy went to the Dodgers for an 8-5 season—their fourth championship—with Arthur James accepting the trophy; and Steve Jackson, pitcher for the Syracuse champs, accepted the International League trophy.

Surprise of the evening was the drawing for four baseballs autographed by the entire Phillies team. Proud winners were Wayne Phillips, Barry Lovejoy, Wayne Hurd, and Ronald Baldwin.

Stan Francis, NRA director, was master of ceremonies. Cyril Pearson, president of the Industrial Management Club, presided.

Coach Bill Kent's NHS Soccer Team Loses To Champs

Newark High School's first soccer team in recent years—a squad of enthusiastic beginners coached by veteran soccer star William R. Kent, Jr.—lost Tuesday's opener, away, to the North East (Md.) High School county champions of Coach Fred "Seed" Emmerson, 5-0.

Kent, who played 12 years of soccer—at Federalsburg High School, the University of Maryland, and four years of semi-pro ball in the Eastern Shore League—reports that "most of these boys had never seen a soccer ball until three weeks ago" when the new Yellowjacket soccer team began practicing on the high school field.

The entire squad participated in Tuesday's opener of a five-game schedule arranged by Coach Kent.

The Yellowjackets meet the Delaware freshmen at Frazer field next Monday; play Brandywine on Oct. 28; face the Hen frosh at the high school field on Nov. 3; and close with Brandywine High School in a return engagement on Nov. 7.

Carl Rice, Walt Mackey Star For Wesley College

Two former Newark High School football stars provided Wesley College with the Whippets' two touchdowns last Saturday as Wesley led a 26-14 game to the Cape May Coast Guard Base.

Carl Rice at quarterback, a Yellowjacket star of last year, threw a pair of touchdown passes—one to former Newark All-State End Walt Mackey, and Rice ran for an extra two points.

Coach Bill Kent's NHS Soccer Team Loses To Champs

Newark's unbeaten Yellowjackets—currently sharing top spot in the Blue Hen Conference with a three-win record and Brandywine High School—face an old and rough rival this Saturday here at home at 2 p.m. with William Penn.

The Colonials, however, suffered their first setback of the season last Saturday when previously winless P. S. duPont upset Billy Cole's charges, 19-6.

Newark Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjackets rested—although the Newark gridgers may question this term—with an open date over the weekend.

Hoffman's tentative starting lineup for Saturday's test will be: William Penn includes Ron Pyle and Les Money at ends; Don Frank and Sherman Colbert, tackles; Co-Capt. Art Carney and Bill Mall, guards, and Bucky Eller at center.

Co-Captain Guy Cage is scheduled to start at quarterback; Charlie Word and Lloyd Wells are slated for the halfback spots; and Frank Subach at the fullback post.

The Yellowjackets walked off Wayne Pollari's Blue Hen Conference champions of Mt. Pleasant, 20-6, in Newark's last outing, and the Hoffman herd of local athletes

WINTER NEEDS
Have you prepared for old man winter? He isn't so far away. Is your heating system adequate and in tip-top condition. How about weather-stripping and insulation? Have they been taken care of? A few sensible precautions can make your home warm and comfortable regardless of the cold weather. Your car should be serviced and kept in good running order. You won't mind the cold season if you are ready for it.

You won't mind having your attention called to the importance of a sensible insurance program. Why not let us help. Stop in at your own convenience.

However, the morning's haze limited visibility to some half-mile, and after several stormy weekends over the same route, we arrived at—and passed—our destination ahead of the calculated time schedule.

Two hours passed, the haze lifted, and we were all alone on the ocean with no buoy, no land, and no other boats.

"We're way past P-Buoy," Commodore Squier said after some contemplation of the chart, and although there was some difference of opinion on this score, we all had had enough riding and were ready for some fishing. It was decided to come about and troll—and we trolled right back to the buoy and the fishing fleet over the horizon just traversed.

A fish hit the feather trolling from the starboard Calcutta within the first five minutes—got off—and then Bob Kidwell's reel sang a tune as a powerful, fast-moving fish slashed a yard of blue surface water into boiling white foam, and stripped an impressive and disturbing length of personal, prized Cortland Camouflage yardage from the spool.

Whoa!
"Throw her in reverse—turn around!" the worried angler and the equally worried owner of the line roared in unison at Cap'n Young on the flying bridge—and Gibby came about just in time to save the last of the line sizzling from the reel against the star drag—and to save Kidwell's day and fish.

After its initial rush and an exploratory dive, the albacore turned and swam near the surface with the boat, flashing like a sun-struck mirror in the blue-black water, while a free-swimming companion sliced a V across the top of the ocean, looking in vain for one of the other three lures that had been hurriedly reeled aboard at the first strike to avoid entanglement. Dershimer To Address Junior-Senior High PTA

The Newark Junior-Senior High School PTA will feature a talk by Dr. Richard A. Dershimer, associate professor of education at the University of Delaware, next Wednesday at 8 a.m. in the high school auditorium.

Dr. Dershimer's subject is to be "The Cost of Quality Education—A Report of the Financing of Public Schools in Delaware."

The program will include explanation and discussion of the mathematics program in the junior and senior high schools.

Dr. Edmund J. Cain, PTA president, will conduct the meeting.

Kindergarten and Nursery School Youngsters

A group of happy little people are photographed at the Community Kindergarten and Nursery School conducted at the Christiana Methodist Church by Mrs. Eleanor Anzur, a qualified teacher, and Mrs. Shirley Cook, Delaware Hospital graduate nurse.

The nursery is offered for children of working mothers from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with hourly "baby sitting" classes, too.

Cradle Song To Launch E-52 Program Tonight

The Cradle Song, first major production of the season by the University of Delaware E-52 Theatre, opens tonight in Mitchell Hall on the Newark campus, with curtain time at 8:15.

Leading roles are taken by Allison Ford, Cassandra Williams, Kay Salvatore, Juliet Whittman, and Lyn Lockhart-Mummary, under the direction of Turner Edge, with Alan Billings, technical director.

Tickets will be available at the door, and the play will be repeated Friday and Saturday nights.

C. of C. Plans Billings For Main St. Yule Lights

President Roger Douglass conducted the regular monthly meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce board of directors last Tuesday night at the chamber office, 61 East Main Street, when it was agreed that all Main Street business houses are to be billed a uniform flat rate for annual Christmas lights, Nov. 1, in an effort to overcome the deficit in cost of last year's decorative lighting.

Directors in attendance included "Doc" Maclary, Ray Weimer, Treasurer Clyde Baylis, Jack Handloff, Secretary Bob Rowlands, Bob Sheaffer, Bill Waggaman, and guest Herb Grund of the new Blue Hen Lanes.

Coverdale's Proposal For Police Promotion

"Experience will show that a good, sound and successful police department usually stems from skillful and fair treatment for all employees. Such treatment results in high morale, productivity, and a willing group.

"Council's activity in recruitment for vacancies has been geared to searching outside the department. There is nothing wrong in this if council can honestly say that we lack the material in our own department. I do not believe that we can say this until we are willing to give the same amount of money, men, and support to our own men that we would be willing to give a stranger in order to prove his capabilities.

"I believe we should give every fair consideration to promotions from within, before outside recruitment. I move that present ranking employees in the police department be detailed to positions vacant for a period of six months and at the end of this time, evaluate them for possible permanent promotions."

University Women's Club Plans Newcomers' Tour

A tour of the Delaware campus will be conducted for all newcomers to the University Women's Club this Saturday, at 2 p.m. from the Student Center.

Dr. Alan Gowans, chairman of the art department, will conduct the tour, and Mrs. Carl Shuster and Mrs. Richard Ewing are in charge of arrangements.

In case of rain, the tour will be postponed until Nov. 5.

Mrs. Delaware Addresses Brookside Lions' Club

The Brookside Lions held a "very successful" chicken barbecue on Saturday at Brookside Community Park. Chairman Vince Harris, reported last Monday night at the club's regular semi-monthly meeting at the Glasgow Arms, and President George Kochins expressed regret with delayed servings, and thanks for the patience of the diners.
