Demanding the best for our families. Fighting for the issues we care about most.

Since his grassroots election to the State Senate in 2012, Bryan Townsend has become an outspoken and forceful leader in Dover – fighting to improve our health care, our environment, our schools, and our roads.

A leader who championed critical legislation for our families...

- ★ Increased funding for primary care physicians so people can get good preventative care
- ★ Increased funding for home assistants for people with disabilities
- ★ Led the charge on common-sense gun safety legislation, including background checks and an assault weapons ban
- ★ Ensured that a woman's right to choose is protected under Delaware law
- ★ Put people to work while protecting the environment by enhancing funding for clean water, drainage, and road projects in our community
- ★ Fought back the school testing craze so students can learn and teachers can teach

One of us. Always fighting for us.

The proud son of a police officer and a schoolteacher, Bryan Townsend worked his way through school – Christina School District, University of Delaware, and Yale Law. Bryan became an attorney specializing in Delaware’s respected corporate law and also has represented children in foster care, victims of domestic violence, and a veteran with service-related disabilities. In 2012, Bryan ran a grassroots campaign against Delaware’s highest ranking State Senator – and won. Since then, Bryan has proven himself to be one of Delaware’s most productive legislators, fighting on behalf of children, educators, and working families.

“Good health care shouldn’t be a luxury. It should be a guaranteed right for every Delawarean.”

– Bryan Townsend, State Senator

A champion for better health care in Delaware

As the Chair of the Senate Health Committee, Bryan Townsend is:

Promoting complete care

by expanding primary care services, mental health care, fertility care, and at-home care for Delawareans with disabilities.

Helping to keep your costs down by re-building a primary-care system that promotes wellness, avoids illness, and saves costs.

Battling the opioid crisis by ensuring insurance covers mental health and addiction services, shining light on prescription patterns, and leading a task force to improve drug-prevention programs in schools.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

“I was born in Milford and I love our community. I’ll serve as your Representative with dedication and purpose.”

—Todd Webb

As our Representative, Todd will bring law enforcement professionals, medical and mental health experts, and community leaders together to address the underlying causes of our public safety concerns and get immediate help to those who need it.

Todd Webb comes from a family of local small business owners, where he learned from the hard work and sacrifices they made.

Todd knows firsthand how state policies – both good and bad – can affect our economy, and he is focused on finding new ways to help businesses and employees thrive. That starts with good, affordable health care and the highest quality educational opportunities to prepare tomorrow’s workforce for success right here in our community.
