

King Goodfellowship Ruled Supreme At First Dinner Of Chamber Of Commerce

With Over One Hundred Persons in Attendance Initial Function of New Body Went Over With a Bang—Rev. Trapnell Speaker

Dover Chamber of Commerce Compliments Local Body

"It's always fair weather when good fellows get together." Last Thursday night was one of fair weather in The Commons in Old College Hall, even though it did rain outside. For on that night it was a bunch of "good fellows" that attended the initial dinner of the Chamber of Commerce of Newark.

The Commons has never been known to house a King and there is no throne there for a King to take possession of, but old King Goodfellowship must have brought along his own throne last Thursday and he ruled supreme throughout the evening. The old King made his presence felt and many old acquaintances were renewed and men that have not turned a time in years joined in the singing of songs under the leadership of William P. White, of Wilmington, and James C. Hastings, the local song leader.

Too much credit cannot be given to the committee which had charge of arrangements for the dinner. This committee did not leave a stone unturned toward success and their efforts were richly rewarded by the large turnout that was on hand and the manner in which everyone present enjoyed themselves. There was not a dull moment and everything for a "fellow" to have a good time "from soup to nuts" was on the menu and everyone partook of it all.

This is the first public event that the local Chamber of Commerce has staged since its organization about two months ago and if it is a forerunner of the things to come it is more than evident that the town needed such a body years ago.

For years there has seemed to be a vast difference between the business men of Newark and their associates. But at the Chamber of Commerce affair last Thursday night it was evident that this spirit has died out and a closer relationship has taken its place. This is the spirit that a Chamber of Commerce promotes and every member of the Chamber and those who have not yet joined the organization were strong in their praise of this new feeling and it is a surety that many of the business men of the town who have not yet become members of the organization will become members of the body now that they have seen the workings that it is accomplishing.

George W. Griffin, President of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, acted as toastmaster of the affair and he could not but help to feel proud of being head of such a growing organization and to hear of the many good things said about the local body by speakers from Dover and Wilmington.

Rev. H. Everett Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was introduced by Mr. Griffin and gave the invocation.

The following tempting menu was served:

Tomato Bisque
Lamb Chops
French Fries
Olives
Fruit Salad
Ice Cream	Coffee
Cigars

The dinner was served by the college under the direction of A. G. Wilkinson and Miss Betts. The boys of the College acted as waiters and filled the bill "a la Baltimore."

Between the courses there was singing under the direction of Messrs. White and Hastings, with Mr. Givens at the piano. The following popular songs were sung: "Long, Long Trail," "Old Black Joe," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," "Love's Sweet Song," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," "Smiles," "My Mammy," and "Peggy O'Neil." Everyone joined in the singing of these songs and there was competition between the east and west wing of the diners. Mr. Givens gave several vocal solos.

President Griffin told of this being the first dinner of the Chamber of Commerce and thanked all those who had worked toward making it the success that it promised to be and thanked Kells for the furnishing of the menus.

Marie Gregg Crowned As State's Cook

Local Girl Wins $100 Prize in Home Economics Contest Held at Dover

To be crowned as the best cook and to be awarded a cash prize of $100 was the honor carried off by Miss Marie Gregg, of the Newark High School, in the State Home Economics Contest held at Dover last Thursday.

The newly crowned champion cook was called on to prepare a meal from material provided that could be judged the most appetizing and attractive. It was just this thing that Miss Gregg accomplished to carry off the valuable prize offered by Mrs. A. I. duPont.

The contest was held at Dover following the New Castle County Contest held at New Castle sometime ago. In this contest Miss Gregg together with Misses Ledia Towson, Florence Hey, Helen Barnard and and Marguerite Meschler, representing the Newark High School, carried off the highest number of points. The local girls are taught in their work by Miss Edith Case and too much credit for their excellent showing cannot be bestowed upon her.

The second prize in this contest was awarded to Iva James, of Laurel, and there was a tie for third place between Reta Eatman, of Greenwood, and Martha Pepper, of Georgetown. The former was awarded third place and the Georgetown entry received the fourth prize, with Helen Albers, of the Caesar Rodney School taking fifth place.

This event was the fourth on the program.

The sixth event of the program was for the individual first year girls whose clothing work for the whole year showed the most improvement. In this event Miss Mary Campbell, also of Newark, was awarded second prize, a prize of two dollars and a half in gold was the award. In the efficiency awards with no prizes, Newark High School was awarded second place. Dover carried off the honors in this event and Delaware City was third.

This contest was the fourth event on the program. Twenty-three centers participated in this contest.

For the High School Home Economics Department that put on a play best showing the ideals of home making training, a first prize of $100 offered by Mrs. T. C. duPont, was awarded to Frankford High School, Sussex county; the second prize of $50 offered by Mrs. A. I. duPont, was awarded to Lord Baltimore School at Ocean View and the third prize of $15 given by Mrs. A. I. duPont was awarded to Middletown High School. The second event was the High (Continued on Page Eight.)

School Children Exhibit Their Work

Excellent Work Accomplished by Newark Students Pleases Many Parents

On last Thursday afternoon the children of the primary school, the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the grammar school and the Opportunity Class gave an exhibition of the work completed during the year. The grades giving this exhibition are used as Demonstration Classes in connection with the Teachers' Training Course at the Women's College.

This year is the first one in which an organization of art instruction has been introduced. The work has been carried on by Miss Anna Ritz under the direction of Miss Rachael Taylor, of the Art Department of the Women's College. The art instruction is not taught as a separate subject but is taken in connection with all the other studies of the schools, English, Geography and History particularly.

The exhibition of last Thursday was planned to provide an opportunity for the parents to see the work of their children and also to give the children a chance to see what the others have been doing, the thought being to inspire them to do better work. Some work of every child in the Demonstration Classes was represented. The main object of the exhibit, however, is not to show the best work, but to exhibit the work that is carried on each day by the students.

The exhibit of the first grade students was really a revelation and to have picked any feature of their work would be an impossibility. This exhibit included much cut-out work including a circus. Flowers, birds and other cut-outs featured the first-year students' work.

In the sixth grade Miss Reynolds teacher, the year's work was exhibited and on the walls were posters drawn by the pupils illustrating the different seasons of the year. There were also some excellent art work exhibited in the rooms of Miss Hoffer and Miss Cooper in the grammar school. The work done by the pupils of the opportunity class under Miss Mary Hoey attracted much attention and favorable comment. Their work exhibited included rugs, tables, chairs, etc.

The youngsters in the primary school exhibited some excellent art work. In Miss Wilson's room the third grade, a map of Newark had been made on the sand table that attracted much attention.

Among the parents interested in the exhibit and who registered on their attendance were:

University Campus Is Thronged For Newark's Memorial Day Exercises

Many Organizations of Town Take Part in Biggest Celebration—Caleb E. Burchenal, Speaker of Affair—Flower Tributes Numerous

War Veterans Decorate Graves of Fallen Comrades

With nearly the whole town's population in attendance, the biggest Memorial Day exercises ever held in Newark were staged on the University Campus yesterday. The exercises started shortly after 10:30 o'clock and civic, patriotic bodies, fraternal organizations, and industrial plants took part. Previous to the exercises on the Campus, the G. A. R., Veterans of the World War, American Legion and other bodies followed the custom of visiting the local cemeteries and the graves of fallen comrades of our wars. Salutes and sounding of taps were also given in the cemetery.

The presiding officer at the program on the campus was Dr. Walter Hullahen, President of the University of Delaware. Invocation was made by Rev. H. Everett Hallman, followed by the entire gathering singing America, under the leadership of William P. White, of Wilmington. Major R. G. Buckingham gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Introductory remarks were made by Dr. Hullahen, who commended the large gathering and told of the honor of having such a body gathered on the Campus of the State University. The Battle Hymn of the Republic was next sung with the Newark Choral Club singing the verses and the gathering taking up the chorus. The address of the morning was made by Caleb E. Burchenal, the speaker giving an interesting history of the country's wars from the time of the Revolution, up to and including the great World War. He paid a glowing tribute to the victims of all of our wars. Mr. Burchenal pointed out the fact that time after time when this country found itself drawn into war, it had always stood for the right and for this reason God had always guided our destinies to victory.

Probably the most touching of the ceremonies was the placing of floral tributes by various organizations and plants of the community on the large boulder standing on the University Campus, where Rural New Castle County's drafted men pledged allegiance to their country. After the placing of the flowers, the boulder was transformed into a bower of flowers. The various organizations making contributions of these tributes were introduced by Seaman J. R. Lewis, of the Rehabilitation Division.

The entire assembly stood as a man with bared heads and tear dimmed eyes as they sang the National anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

The exercises were closed with the firing of the national salute and the sounding of taps. The Continental Band furnished music for the exercises.

That the committee in charge left no stone unturned to make a success of the exercises was evident from the excellent manner in which the program was run off. This committee was composed of Major C. A. Short, Chairman; Mayor Frazer, J. P. Wright, Miss C. B. Evans, Dr. Sypher, Major Row, Capt. Mackenzie, J. R. Lewis, Dr. Walter Hullahen, Miss Drake, Everett C. Johnson and A. G. Wilkinson.

First Annual Exercises to be Held in High School—Eight Graduates

The school was organized in February under the State Department of Immigrant Education of which Miss Marguerite H. Burnett is director. There have been two regular sessions a week with Miss L. Maude Lodge and Mrs. Alexis D. Cobb as teachers. Eight men have completed the term with almost perfect attendance.

The program for the Commencement Exercises will begin at eight-fifteen and will be as follows:

Meet Of New Castle County Brings About 3000 School Children Here

Every Town, Village and Hamlet Represented in Affair Last Friday—Big Parade Feature of Large Gathering

du Pont High School Wins Athletic Honors

With nearly 3000 school children from all parts of New Castle County here on last Friday, Newark took on the aspect of a large playground.

Every town, village and hamlet of the county that has a school was represented on Friday and the students came by automobiles and wagons and those of the immediate neighborhood came by foot. The event was the annual field day of the New Castle Schools.

Starting shortly after 10 o'clock there was a parade of the school children. Many marched on foot and there were others who were carried in the flag bedecked automobiles which had brought them to Newark. All in all the parade was one of the largest that has ever been staged in this town.

Over fifty trucks and floats, loaded to capacity with eager, enthusiastic kiddies, took part in the long line that slowly filed through the streets, around the University and into Frazer Field, the athletic stadium of Delaware. All of the trucks bore huge signs and placards, advertising their respective schools, and propagating many ideas in regard to better schools, more athletic facilities, and other innumerable items. Many of the floats carried immense signs, advocating better health movements; one float that won special interest was fitted with a dentist's chair and apparatus of the dental office, advocating better care of the teeth. At eleven o'clock Frazer Field resembled a huge flower bed; every color in the spectrum was represented in the dresses, head-pieces and banners of the romping, laughing, joyous tots that were out for the time of their young lives. Five May Poles were erected and more than a dozen rings of dancing children formed about the field. Mrs. Nell Krumme Anderson, of Wilmington, sang a song which was amplified and sent to all corners of the field through the medium of a Magnavox electric amplifier. Several popular marches were also played on graphophones and were sent over the crowd through the same amplifier.

Company B Wins Military Honors

Cadets of University of Delaware Hold Big Field Meet on Last Saturday

With several hundred people from Newark and surrounding country looking on the competitive drill between the three companies of the University of Delaware, R. O. T. C., was held in front of Wolf Hall last Thursday morning. The event caused a great deal of interest and competition among the members of the various companies.

Company B with Cadet Captain Arley B. Magee, Jr., in command, carried off the first honors and as captain of the winning company, young Magee was awarded the officer's sabre offered by Governor H. D. Denney. Edwin Anderson Hoey, as first sergeant of the winning company, was awarded the Roberts' medal.

The judges of the competitive drill were Majors Charles L. Williams and Harry W. Stark and Captain Lewis A. Hudgins, all of the U. S. A., Fort duPont.

At the close of the exercises there was a battalion review in honor of General James H. Wilson, U. S. A., retired, of Wilmington, and Colonel J. Ernest Smith, of Wilmington, the latter having donated two of the prizes awarded for military efficiency. Cadet Major J. H. Harper was in command of the battalion. The review and the other exercises were witnessed by a large number of visitors and were held on the campus in front of Wolf Hall.

The winning of the Roberts medal is the highest honor that can be obtained by a cadet company of the R. O. T. C., and consequently is highly prized by every member of the company.

Other prizes awarded were as follows:

Lieutenant Clarke Churchman memorial prize amounting to about $25 for the highest military efficiency, Thomas M. Keith, captain of Company C.

Colonel J. Ernest Smith prizes amounting to about $12.50 each, to the best all-round senior military student, Captain Keith, the best all-round junior student, Herman Wallace Cook, sergeant of Company A.

Two sabres given by Senator T. Coleman duPont, awarded to Joseph Howard Harper, major of the battalion, for having attained a high degree of excellence in military matters and for efficiency and faithful service rendered as major, and Samuel Patterson Maroney, for having attained a high degree of efficiency in military affairs and exceptional ability in the study of military tactics.

The letter awards to the qualifying members of the university rifle team went to the following:

Herman Wallace Cook, Joseph Howard Harper, Ezekiel Cooper, Jr., Northrop Rogers Fletcher, Charles Norman Wade, J. B. France, Charles Whitney Woodrow, Willard Davis Boyce, J. W. Brown, Henry B. Geoghegan and Edgar Herbert Pierce.

In addition to the drill and review there were also military events which were of special interest to the visitors. They consisted of pitching shelter camp and attack on the camp, Cadet J. H. Deputy, commanding; bayonet exercises, Cadet H. Pikus, commanding; calisthenics, Captain T. M. Keith, commanding, and attack on M. G. nest by combat patrol, Cadet Paul P. Steele, commanding.

The captains of the other two companies taking part in the competitive drill were: Company C, Captain Thomas M. Keith, and Company A, Captain F. R. Deppe.

Following the exercises General Wilson, Colonel Smith, Dr. Walter Hullahen, president of the university, and the cadet officers who won prizes were guests of Major Row and Captains Mackenzie and Sparks at luncheon in the university commons.

Human Locomotive Passes Thru Newark

New York Newsie Running from New York to Washington is 45 Years "Young"

"The Human Locomotive," that is the name given to Samuel A. Johnson, of New York, who is attempting to run from New York to Washington in 50 hours, and who passed through Newark late Friday night when the most of us were in the lands of dreams.

The "Human Locomotive," a newsboy 45 years old, who is out to demonstrate that a man is capable of doing things even though age does begin to creep upon him.

Johnson has made a wage with George Owens, a New York newspaper man, that he can run from New York to Washington within 50 hours and he is doing his best to prove it and win the money. He left New York on Wednesday morning at 11:50 o'clock and reached Philadelphia last Thursday at 10 a. m. After an hour's wait, spent in getting something to eat and being interviewed by newspapermen he started on the trip that carried him through Newark.

A delay was caused by a wrong reading of his road map and he lost fifteen miles which he was unable to make up and he arrived here much later than he expected to. He jogs along at a speed of about six miles an hour stopping occasionally to smoke a cigarette or take a bite of something to eat. He eats "anything," he says. "This diet stuff is bunk," he declared, "I eat whatever I feel like eating and it doesn't hurt me."

Leaving New York, Johnson weighed 153 pounds and lost eight of them before he reached Philadelphia. Between the latter place and Newark he lost 3½ more.

Samuel says he is married but says he is not running to get away from his wife. He is on an endurance run. He has records from 1910 when he made the run from New York to New London, Conn., 120 miles, in 21 hours and 44 minutes. In 1921 from New York to Albany, 160 miles in 28 hours and 20 minutes. In April 1922 he ran from New York to Boston, 256 miles in 46½ hours.

When Samuel reached Baltimore he wired to President Harding that he was on the way and upon reaching the capital presented his credentials.

OPERA HOUSE OFFERINGS

Theodore Roberts, veteran character, travelled across half of the state of California—the second largest state in the Union—to appear in Cecil B. DeMille's latest Paramount picture, "Saturday Night," which comes to the Opera House Thursday and Friday. Although the part was an important one, the producer foresaw that it could be filmed in relatively little time. So Roberts was cast in another role which carried him high in the Sierra Nevada mountains, five hundred miles from the Lasky studio. And just then Mr. DeMille needed Roberts. Frantic telegraphing and no less frantic auto stage and railroad travelling on the part of Theodore Roberts landed the latter at the Lasky studio the morning of the day he was to appear before the camera in "Saturday Night." Leatrice Joy, Conrad Nagel, Edith Roberts and Jack Mower head the cast.

A rare treat is in store for screen fans. "The Miracle Man," a new Paramount-Artercraft picture, produced by George Loane Tucker, will be shown at the Opera House, Monday and Tuesday. George M. Cohan's Broadway success of the same name, based upon the famous story by Frank L. Packard, is the basis for the fascinating theme which the picture unfolds. Besides being an absorbing entertainment of the highest order, it is a drama with an amazing soul—beautiful, thrilling and intensely appealing.

One by one the famous stories of Robert Louis Stevenson are finding their way to the screen. These narratives, rich in action and dramatic quality, are being recognized as excellent film material. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" serves as a Paramount Artercraft starring vehicle for John Barrymore. The picture is coming to the Opera House Wednesday. Mr. Barrymore is said to offer one of his most striking performances.

U. of D. Freshies Begin Living

Red and Green Ink Spots Disappeared Last Friday—First Year Men Are Happy

The red and green caps of the Delaware College Freshmen disappeared from Newark last Friday. There is probably not a person in Newark that has not noticed this disappearance.

With the passing of these "ink spots" came joy to every Freshie's heart for then he began living the life of a real "rah-rah" boy. Earl DeWitt Brandt, president of the Student Council, announced during the dinner hour on Friday that Freshies were entitled to privileges of Sophomores. The announcement brought forth cheers of joy.

Instead of the old black tie, there appeared ones that could be heard a great deal further than they could be seen, which was a pretty good distance, as they shone with the brilliancy of a peacock's feathers. Colored socks were seen in profusion upon ankles, that three months ago would have cringed to be caught in them.

Civilized hats were perched on heads that had long since forgotten what it felt like to have on anything else than a green and maroon Frosh dink. The campus grass was walked on at every available opportunity in an endeavor to once more acclimate the Frosh feet with nature's carpet. Pipes and cigarettes were seen where a month ago they would have been deemed sufficient evidence for "shot at sunrise."

Books were carried under arms instead of in the old familiar market basket of green and maroon. But more prominent than any thing else was the smile of the Frosh—the smile of hard-earned liberty.

The shades of night had scarcely fallen over the campus when there came a faint flicker of light in the space between Harter Hall and Wolf Hall; then came a small flame which suddenly sprang into a leaping, flickering bon-fire, around which the Freshmen clan danced, howled, shrieked and cheered as they watched those odious red and green market baskets, companions of the past eight months, consumed by the greedy, devouring flames kindled for the purpose. In their whirling, swirling, dizzy pirouettes and turnings, these Freshmen, the coming generation of tomorrow's great business and professional men, were reverted back to the primitive state of man, the savage of the forest. The light of the fire mounted high into the night—it quivered and reflected far into the heavens—the aurora borealis of Freshman liberty.

THE 30 x 3½ tire situation today is just this—

The man who buys an USCO at $10.90 is justified in believing that his money is going farther in tire value than it ever has gone or could go before.

Naturally he appreciates the quality of USCO. That was established long ago.

It is still fresh in his mind that USCO led the national market into the $10.90 price range.

The makers of U. S. Tires always intended the 30 x 3½ USCO to be the highest value in its field.

At $10.90 it creates a new classification of money's worth.

KING GOODFELLOWSHIP RULES SUPREME

present at the dinner a representative body from the Dover Chamber of Commerce and there was likewise "another little thriving town, Wilmington, which we will soon take into our boundaries," represented at the affair.

The toastmaster thanked all those present for the interest shown in the first dinner and assured them even bigger things were in store for the community.

He then called on the first speaker of the evening, Mayor Arley B. Magee, of Dover, who is an active worker in the Capital Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Magee said that it was real pleasure to be present among the men that represented Newark. The speaker told of his first visit to this town and did not mince his words in saying that it looked like a dead town at that time and continued to look so until he made a recent visit here and found that things had brightened up to a great extent and it was there he learned that a short time before this visit there had been a birth here, that of the Chamber of Commerce. He said he did not know how much the Chamber had accomplished in waking up the town but that it surely had improved over his previous visits here.

Mayor Magee said that it was surprising the things that a Chamber of Commerce can do for a town and pointed out many improvements that had been brought about in his own town by the organizing of such a body.

In behalf of the Dover Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Magee said, that he and his party were deeply grateful for the invitation to attend the dinner and that sometime in the near future the Dover Chamber was to have a "feed" and he invited every member of the local Chamber to be present at the affair. The Dover mayor said that on that occasion he would meet the Newark contingent at the entrance to the Capital and turn over to it the key of the town.

The next speaker to be introduced was Dr. Walter Hulihan, president of the University of Delaware. The speaker said that he could sincerely say on behalf of the University that all those present were more than welcome.

Dr. Hulihan said that a State University was different than other institutions of learning and there was no highbrows connected with it and it was all the name implied, a State institution. He said that it was open for the good of the State and such gatherings as the one on hand were always welcomed. Dr. Hulihan remarked that there were all classes present at the affair and there was no distinction and this fact made him feel happier than at any other time since he has been head of the University.

"I congratulate this two-month old baby," said Dr. Hulihan, and he also congratulated Josiah Marvel, of Wilmington, for his good work in bringing into the world the baby. It will be remembered that Mr. Marvel came to Newark and helped organize the local Chamber of Commerce.

The President of the University told a story about a chicken in California. He said a rooster on a farm there roamed to an ostrich farm and there found an egg, after an inspection he managed to shove the egg back to the chicken farm and calling the chickens around said that he had no fault to find with their work but this was the way they did it in other parts of the world. Dr. Hulihan said that was what the local Chamber wanted to know, how they do it in other parts of the world and said that some of those present would probably have some interesting facts to tell the local "infants."

The next speaker to be called on was Josiah Marvel. The witty remarks of this speaker were features of the evening. In opening Mr. Marvel said that he was told if he brought out the speaker of the evening, Rev. Trapnell, and the song leader, that he would get his supper and that he found upon his arrival that he was down for a speech.

It was a pleasure, said Mr. Marvel, to be present at such a gathering and he told those present that Newark had advanced a great deal in the short time that the Chamber of Commerce has been in operation. He said that the changes were pleasing to him.

We want and invite communications, but they must be signed by the writer's name—not for publication, but for our information and protection.

Mr. Marvel said "There cannot be any misunderstanding between us for I was here when you were born and you are the biggest surprise of any baby that I have even seen and in two months you can talk loud enough to be heard in Wilmington and for miles around." In continuing he said, "you have developed a community spirit here in Newark that was previously a stranger." The speaker said that this spirit binds the town and all those that live here and it is a compliment to the Chamber of Commerce for the manner in which the spirit has been advanced.

The speaker told those present that as long as they served the community they were also serving themselves and said that Newark was just beginning to see the real worth of community spirit.

Mr. Marvel said that few of those present at the dinner would have dared dream a few years ago of a Newark as it is today. He added that there is still a greater Newark to come if this community spirit continues to grow.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. R. W. Trapnell, rector of St. Andrew's P. E. Church, of Wilmington. He gave the member of the Chamber of Commerce and others present some good sound advice and complimented the local body on its workings.

Rev. Trapnell said that Newark was not slow and that it was an honor to be present at the first dinner of the Chamber of Commerce. In continuing he said that the part this organization can play in this community outdistances the vision of anyone and there is no way we can fortify what this organization can accomplish and will accomplish if the present spirit continues to prevail.

"We have reached a time in history of men," said Rev. Trapnell, "when it is our place to magnify the things we have in common and it is the hope of this community and the whole world for better things." In continuing the Wilmington speaker said, "Are you hopeful or are you fearful," this is an important question and we must have confidence in the things that we are to meet in the future, he added.

The speaker spoke of the relationship of the men of the town and the university and encouraged this relationship. He said the University needs just what the Chamber of Commerce represents and the Chamber of Commerce needs just what the University can supply.

Rev. Trapnell said that everyone present was concerned with the future and that all those present could play in this future depended upon the spirit that is shown.

The speaker said that there was a service to be rendered by all present and that was to put back into life, joyousness, service and work. He said that it was a problem how we are to instill this spirit in the work-a-day world and how we are going to put back the realization of service. The speaker said, "The blessing of earth is toil." The Chamber of Commerce can help answer this problem, said Rev. Trapnell.

"You cannot be both hopeful and fearful at the same time without standing absolutely still," were words of the speaker and he urged the members of the Chamber of Commerce to believe that the future of the organization is filled with promise.

A novel feature of the evening was a demonstration of the working of the telephone which was given by E. P. Bardo and a staff of his workers from the Wilmington telephone office. Mr. Bardo said that Newark had more phones for its population than any other place in the State and there were probably fewer complaints from the subscribers than elsewhere. It was pointed out that there are about 3800 phone calls every day handled by the local operators. A miniature switchboard showing just how phone connections are made was put into service and the demonstration was very interesting.

The Dover party consisting of Mayor Magee, H. M. Buckson, Charles W. Hardesty, H. C. McSherry and L. Outten made the trip here in automobiles.

Are You Feeding Enough Whites?

About one out of ten poultry raisers feeds a ration properly balanced for egg production. The common mistake is feeding too much yolk-making material and failing to feed for whites. Grains alone make lots of yolks but few whites.

Purina Chows Balance

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow, fed in equal parts by weight, balance the whites and yolks by supplying an equal number of each. They make hens lay to the limit of their capacity. Sigma Phi Epsilon Holds Senior Farewell Dance in Old College Commons

The past week-end was truly a social one among the various fraternities of the University of Delaware who celebrated the approaching end of the collegiate year with dances and house parties on Saturday night.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity's informal spring dance, which was attended by many of the alumni and invited guests as well as by the active members of the fraternity, was held in the Commons of Old College. This was the senior farewell dance, given in honor of the fourteen Sigma Phi Epsilon men who will be graduated from the University in June.

The decorations were very simple, the lights were covered with red and purple shades, and banners of the fraternity and University were displayed. A large Sigma Phi Epsilon badge, lighted by tiny electric bulbs of red and purple, was suspended from the balcony. The program of plain white bore the fraternity coat-of-arms.

Among the guests who attended were William P. Carlon, R. Leonard Jones, Emmerson Maxwell, Victor Long, Howard W. Quigley, Louis Kramer, Robert Hayes, Harry Betzner, William Buchanan and Robert Johnson.

The patronesses were Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. George L. Townsend, Mrs. Harold E. Tiffany, Mrs. Charles C. Palmer, Mrs. Robert C. Lewis, Mrs. Carl S. Rankin and Miss E. M. Parkhurst.

The 14 graduating seniors are: George G. Carter, Walter D. Smith, Robert Foulk, Robert Stewart, Willard Triggs, Harold Young, Robert H. Carl, William F. P. Jacobs, David R. Allmond, Barclay Challenger, Richard Holton, Louis Roemer, Joseph H. Harper and Alvan Allen.

The members of Sigma Nu fraternity were disappointed in their plans for a lawn party as the weather's abrupt change made it impossible for an out-of-doors affair. They, however, were not to be entirely put out, and immediately changed the evening's entertainment into a house party, which turned out to be a very enjoyable affair. Dancing offered the chief entertainment of the evening.

The invited guests were: Paul Leahy, Richard Thatcher, Clarence Lowden, George Hammond and A. Connor. Patronesses were: Miss Dorothy Alleen Calef and Mrs. Wilson, both of the Women's College of Delaware.

Omega Alpha fraternity also held a house party at their home on Quality Hill. Dancing featured the evening's entertainment.

The members of Gamma Delta Rho held their first informal dance in the Newark Century Club. The ballroom was decorated in blue, crimson and gold, the colors of the fraternity; about the walls were hung banners of the various fraternal organizations of the university. The dance was attended by 50 couples, many of whom were invited guests.

The patronesses were: Miss Laura V. Clark, Mrs. Charles A. McCue, Mrs. Lester W. Tarr and Mrs. Charles P. Steele.

The university will suspend classes from 10 o'clock on Tuesday in order that the students may attend local and Wilmington Memorial Day exercises.

A BED MATE

George McManus Finds He Has Possum With Him

How would you like to be awakened from a sound sleep by a scratching and on investigating find a possum laying next to you?

This was the experience of George McManus, a student at the University of Delaware early Monday morning.

McManus heard a scratching noise and upon investigation found the possum along side of him. He captured the animal and took it to the Home Drug Co., and there it was put in the window where it created a great deal of interest.

Fred Knew Johnny

Fred Smith was badly crippled, physically; but his indomitable spirit kept him on a par with other lads of his age. He joined the pig club, and took care of his pig with great skill and enthusiasm.

One day I overheard Fred talking to his crony, and this is what he said: "John Mitchell says his pig is bigger'n mine!"

And then in a tone of great scorn, he added: "I'll bet if we swapped he'd still say his was the biggest!"—Farm Life.

New Music Store
Locates In Newark

Charles Hopkins Firm, of Chester, Has Natty Quarters in Newark Inn

A firm handling up-to-date musical instruments, including pianos, players, talking machines and records has opened here. This new business was started here yesterday by the Charles W. Hopkins Co., of Chester.

The Newark store is under the joint management of U. R. Benjamin and G. H. Horner. Both men are well known in Delaware. On the opening day, flowers were presented to the ladies as souvenirs. Elaborate decorations were added to the store and fitting with Memorial Day plans, the store was prettily decorated with ferns and flowers.

Nothing but standard make pianos and players are in stock. Mr. Hopkins has been manufacturing pianos for twenty years and those having the pleasure of viewing the instruments will be surprised at the quality of them. The pianos are all 88-note; have solid ivory keys and copper base strings.

A full line of talking machines and records is also carried by the Hopkins firm. Among them will be: Brunswick, Cheney, Vocalion and Sonora. All kinds of records are kept in stock.

Mr. U. R. Benjamin, who is a skilled musician, played several overtures on opening day.

LAWN MAKING LAWS

While there is still snow on the ground, it is a good time to sow grass seed and up to May 1. Sowing on the snow is now regarded as an excellent method, the melting snow carrying the seed down to the earth swelled by the moisture and ready to germinate at the first warm spell.

Seed any bare or thin spots on the lawn. If the whole lawn is none too thick and velvety, it will be a good idea to give the entire surface a re-seeding and when the weather has settled a light sprinkling of nitrate of soda will do wonders toward starting a vigorous growth, or the sprinkling of some of the balanced commercial fertilizer specially put up for the purpose of raking into the lawn. All are better than the usual custom of mulching with manure which invariably carries with it a fine crop of weed seeds which come up and mar the beauty of the lawn.

An exception, however, is the pulverized sheep manure, carried by nearly all seed houses which may be sprinkled to good advantage and in its preparation the seeds of weeds have been thoroughly sterilized so that the trouble will be avoided.

Too often people expect a fine lawn without any preparation of the soil. Grass needs fertility just as much as any other plant and will do just as little in the way of flourishing without it.

A mixture of seed should always be selected to fit the soil conditions. There are dry soil mixtures, heavy soil mixtures, shady soil mixtures, tough grasses for frequently used stretches and so on. It is merely a matter of studying a seed list and electing a mixture to suit the situation. It will be found much more satisfactory than applying a general lawn seed mixture regardless of conditions. A mixture prepared for a sunny open situation will not thrive in a shady location. Neither will a mixture intended for rich sunny soil thrive in a poor light dry soil.

Ambition

Infuriated Prof.—Sir, you lack ambition, incentive and backbone. You are hopeless. Do you know that when Sir Isaac Newton was your age he had contributed two great science books to the world?

Impudent Stude—Yes, and when George Washington was your age he was President of the United States!—Judge.

POULTRY MANURE

Poultry manure can be used effectively in the garden. It is a complete fertilizer, but for crops like potatoes, turnips, beets, onions and beans, it is well to use some acid phosphate with it. Poultry manure should be kept dry so that it can be scattered over the soil at the rate of one pound to the square yard. Acid phosphate can be mixed with it at the rate of twelve pounds to the 100 of poultry manure, or applied directly to the soil along with two ounces to the square yard.

A Revised Blessing

Marjorie had been frequently rippedrand by her parents for her too great eagerness to begin her dinner before grace had been asked. On one such occasion her brother, upon whom devolved the duty of asking a blessing, thought he would add a line to cover his little sister's offense. Closing his eyes, he said solemnly: "For what we are about to receive and for Marjorie has already eaten O Lord make us truly thankful." Boston Transcript.

Newark Drop

—New Play
This W

Although the New Castle County team more hits in its game in the Rehab diamond than in any other game, it was again defeated 0 to 5.

It was expected that several new faces line-up for the game. The management was hoping Ewing was the one to appear and he played the first inning double into center field.

The local team collected the delivery of Corbridge, the Five Points players piled up admission and many that do not show in Watkins pitched a first but was not able to get Pointers with the needed.

Pyle and Maxwell each collected three of the local team collected while Mote and Grace of hits apiece. Great day in the field, some pitchers.

The fans are assured next Saturday on, not to disappoint several new players make their first appearance. Delay the attraction and played on Frazer Field.

Steele, a new infielder, will have a field; Earl Ramsey of the University of Delaware signed and will be outfield or in the strong, a big favorite and Saturday to strengthen the team. There has been a weak Charlie Tasker, who was a star on the team. Also appear in these new players. Manager Fulton expects to turn in its season.

Although all the fans are clamoring for a team there seems to be no support and in obtaining players the team shown. Newark town in the league support is probably place else and this is reason for the poor show. With the game on Saturday it is hoped that the players will change. A player are confident that City nine will be defeated. Tonight the Elk Miere, the game to be played in the Rehab field. There is between these two the best exhibition game is expected to be Saturday's score:

This Week

Although the Newark team of the New Castle County League collected more hits in its game with Five Points on the Rehn diamond, on Saturday, than in any other game of the season, it was again defeated the score being 10 to 5.

It was expected that there would be several new faces in the Newark line-up for the game on Saturday but the management was disappointed and Joe Kline was the only new player to appear and he proved his worth in the first inning by crashing a double into center field.

The local team collected eleven hits off the delivery of Connors and Strawbridge, the Five Point pitchers, but the players piled up five errors of commission and many of omission that do not show in the box score. Watkins pitched a fairly good game but was not able to beat back the Five Points with the support that he received.

Pyle and Magwell, of the visitors each collected three hits and Bland, of the local team collected a like number while Mote and Watkins had a brace of hits apiece. Watkins had a great day in the field having seventeen assists, something unusual for a pitcher.

The fans are assured a better game on next Saturday and Manager Fulton, not to disappoint them, has gotten several new players who will make their first appearance in Newark uniforms. Delaware City will be the attraction and the game will be played on Frazer Field.

Steele, a new infielder, from Rutgers College, will have a post in the infield; Earl Ramsey, varsity twirler at the University of Delaware has also been signed and will work either in the outfield or in the box; "Vic" Armstrong, a big favorite here will be on hand Saturday to catch and this will strengthen the team at a point where there has been a weakness all season; Charlie Tasker, who not so many years ago was a star on local teams may also appear in the line-up. With these new players all ready to go Manager Fulton expects the local nine to turn in its second win of the season.

Although all the fans of the town are clamoring for a first-class ball team there seems to be a lack of financial support and in these times to obtain players the long green must be shown. Newark is the biggest town in the league but the team's support is probably poorer than any place else and this is one of the reasons for the poor showing.

With the game on Frazer Field on Saturday it is hoped that the conditions will change and all the local players are confident that the Delaware City nine will be dealt out a defeat.

Tonight the Elk Mills team will play here, the game to be staged on the Rehn field. There is always a rivalry between these two teams and one of the best exhibition games of the season is expected to result.

SPORTITORAL

Does interest in big sporting events show in a small town?

The local answer to this must be yes for it seems every baseball "fan" of Newark is following the big league baseball races with the keenest of interest. The team that seems to be a great favorite among local sportsmen again this year is Connie Mack's Athletics.

It doesn't take a man of many years to remember when the Philadelphia American League representative was the talk of the baseball world. Then like a bolt of lightning from a clear sky Connie Mack disposed of a World's Championship baseball nine. Then the tall tactician came in for a world of "panning." Just as does every sport promoter when he does something that does meet the approval of the "fans."

It took years for Mack to come back, for the past few seasons he has been the occupant of the cellar. Many are anxious to stay in this place in these days of prohibition but they are not willing to support a ball club that has its address there.

From the indications thus far this season it seems as though Mack has at least gathered a ball club to represent Philadelphia that will finish in the first division. The "razzing, jazzing fans" of a year ago supplemented by hundreds more are out at Shibe Park this year rooting their heads off for the Macklets who they unmercifully "rode" last year. It was ever thus with baseball "fans."

Right here in Newark the baseball team is getting a slight dose of this bitter medicine at the present time. A team was put in the New Castle County League to represent this town, the club won its first game and everything was "roses" but then the nine hit the skids and dropped four games in a row. Now the "knockers" have brought out their hammers and are using them.

They do not seem to take into consideration the fact that Newark has been without a ball club for several seasons and that the organization did not get started until this year. The only game in which the locals looked really bad was the New Castle affair.

If there is ever a time a team needs support it is when it is losing but the local "fans," in a part, seem unable to realize this. Newark is not going to quit for there are some men in Newark who are going to get back of the club and boost the nine to the limit.

Several new players have been signed and although the team cannot win the pennant in the first half of the season a hard effort to cop the second half honors will be made.

This is the time to root and root hard so get your shoulder to the wheel and shove.

Last week this column told of the school boys' and girls' track meet which was held on Joe Frazer Field on Friday. It was stated then real fighting for honors would be shown.

We made no error either of admission or omission in making this prediction.

It was not a skillful exhibition that was staged by these school students but it was one where real plugging to make good overshadowed by far this lack of skill. Every bare-legged athlete who took part in that meet was out there to "Do or Die" and there were no deaths, for everyone of those boys and girls accomplished his "Do" part.

If our more skillful and older athletes could but enter into competition with this same spirit how much better would be all athletics.

It can be done but for some reason or other that spirit seems to be dormant. Not only on the track but in all lines of sport the spirit in the past few years seems to have died. Why? This is a problem that every sport lover, promoter and writer has tried to solve for the past couple of years but the answer is still unsolved.

Delaware Downs
Hopkins In MeetBlue and Gold Trackmen Score
Victory Over Johns Hopkins
Team Saturday

The Blue and Gold trackmen cashed in an easy victory over Johns Hopkins by the good margin of 70 1-3 to 50 2-3 points in their dual track meet on Frazer Field, on Saturday. There were several unique features, two new records established, and one equalled in this meet. "Pat" Hoehy ran a wonderful game race in the two-mile and finished first for a new record of 9 minutes and 47 1-5 seconds, despite attempts of his opponent, Milliken, who tried hard on the stretch. "Tom" McDonnell and Arronsen set a new field record in the pole vault, when they both did 11 ft. 6 in., but tried to do better for a first, but were unable to accomplish anything higher. Pitman, the Delaware sprinter, equalled the track record of 10 seconds from a field that gave him no opposition and little incentive for a better mark. "Doc" Steele finished second in this event.

"Man-o-War" Booth, former Delaware track star, ran against his old teammates in the mile and half-mile events, which he won easily, finishing first by a good 40-yard lead in the mile. Captain Fred Harmer had an odd experience in the 220 low hurdles. The event was run on time, and although Harmer finished ahead of his rival, the watches could not clock the difference, and the points were divided for first. Betzmer, the Blue and Gold field ace, took three firsts in the javelin, discus and shot. France, although he won his event, failed to break the track record in the high jump.

The summary:
100-yard dash—Won by Pitman, Delaware; second, Steele, Delaware; third, Norwood, J. H. Time, 10 sec. (equal to record).

EBENEZERS WINS

Ebenezer won its second game of the season when they defeated the Brack-Ex nine by the score of 3 to 2 in a ten inning game. Hubert provided the hitting sensation, when he eluded a three-bagger in the tenth frame scoring one man and ending the game. Davis' fielding was a feature. The score:

WILL SOY BEANS TAKE THE PLACE OF OATS?

Will soy beans replace oats to advantage in the Pennsylvania farm crop rotation? This question came up during an eight-year experiment with soy beans conducted at the Pennsylvania State College agricultural experiment station, in which the aim was to determine the adaptability of that crop to Pennsylvania conditions. One outstanding feature of the long test was that for an average of eight years it was found that soy beans produced more protein per acre than oats, and when cut for hay the beans also contained slightly more net energy than oats.

However, when it comes to replacing oats with soy beans in Pennsylvania, the college recommendation varies with the use of the crop. In the southern and southeastern counties where the oat crop is relatively poor, the use of soy beans is considered advisable; but in the more central and northern counties, soy beans can only replace oats advantageously when the crop is desired for hay. This is due to the fact that if the soy beans are raised in those sections as a grain crop, they will mature too late to permit the planting of wheat, the succeeding crop. In the southern part, however, it would doubtless be good practice for farmers to raise soy beans instead of oats, provided they care to go to the extra work involved in their production. Inoculation of the soil and cultivation are necessary for the successful production of soy beans, but these extras are offset by the great soil nitrogen storing properties of the soy bean, which is a legume.

The State College of Pennsylvania tests also showed that when a silage of soy beans and corn is desired, the two crops should be grown separately for best results, and mixed at the rate of one ton of beans to two or three tons of corn. The best time for seeding soy beans is in late May or early June. Experiments show that they can be grown and matured anywhere in the state.

He Found A Model

Two men chanced to be sitting opposite each other in a subway train. Presently one of them produced a note-book and proceeded to make a sketch of the other. After he had completed the drawing he shut up the book and returned it to his pocket.

The man opposite was both interested and gratified by this attention, and leaning forward, said: "You are an artist, I perceive, sir."

"No," replied the other, I'm a designer of door knockers."—Kansas City Star.

Persons of Newark who happened to be in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania Railroad on last Friday afternoon at about 3.50 o'clock had the honor of seeing the "Prosperity Special."

This special was composed of twenty oil-burning locomotives, each 100 feet long and weighing 621,000 pounds. Each locomotive bore on its side a huge sign, "Prosperity Special." Two Pennsylvania Railroad locomotives pulled the twenty new engines which are consigned to the Southern Pacific Railway.

Prosperity was denoted by the shipment, because they and thirty more that are to follow, built at the Eddystone plant of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, will be used in pulling freight over the steep grades of the west.

The fact that prosperity is back will be impressed on the minds of citizens all along the route.

The train, which because of its unusual weight, passed through Newark very slowly and all persons who were along the tracks had an excellent chance to view the monsters of the rails.

There was a big send-off at Eddystone before the locomotives left and all along the route engines saluted the heavy train with tooting of whistles and ringing of bells.

What's The Price of Good Clothes ?

The public today will not buy if they believe the article offered is "high priced." Unfortunately, many stores have taken this to mean that people want only cheap merchandise.

That is not our belief. Our customers want fair prices, the lowest prices possible for quality merchandise. But they know we cannot sell good clothing at the same price as cheap clothing.

There is nothing the public buys in which quality is so important as in clothing. Nor is there anything in which cheap workmanship can be so easily concealed from the casual observer.

Good clothing is made up of three things — good fabrics, good design and good tailoring. Skimping any one of them will cheapen clothing in price, but it will cheapen it far more in quality. You can buy cheap clothing which may look well when you first put it on, it may be made of good fabric, but the real test will come after you wear it—that's when quality will begin to show up. The difference between the cost of good clothing and poor clothing is small. But the difference in value—in satisfaction to the wearer—is great.

We sell good clothing. The price represents the quality that's in it. The kind of clothing that makes satisfied customers—and that's the kind we want.

Our Society Brand Clothes are the kind that deserve special consideration from any man who thinks well of his appearance. Good style—good tailoring—and good fabrics.

The price depends on the fabric and trimming—
the workmanship is the same.
