BOY SCOUT SAVES SISTER

Clifford Moore
Rescues Sister
From Drowning

Clifford Moore, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Moore, 105 East Cleveland Avenue, Newark, saved his four-year-old sister, Virginia Lee from drowning while on an outing at Bowler's Beach about a week ago.

Clifford was swimming in the deeper part of the river while his two sisters and a cousin were wading and paddling near shore. Virginia Lee wandered beyond her depth and had gone down for the second time when her mother saw her and screamed.

Young Clifford, who has not been swimming long, and has had no life-saving lessons, swam to his sister's aid and diving, he grabbed her and bringing her to the surface, turning her over on her back and brought her to shore where she was revived.

An unknown man also went to her aid but Clifford reached her first. Clifford is a member of Boy Scout Troop No. 55 and lived up to his Boy Scout teaching.

373 Farmers Have Wheat Crop Insured

Three hundred seventy-three wheat farmers in Delaware have their crops insured against all unavoidable losses under contracts with Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. These farmers have protection on their 1943 wheat crops. But the three-year wheat contracts will be cancelled after the 1943 crop, since Congress voted to discontinue the federal crop insurance program. C. E. Ocheltree, chairman of the Delaware Agricultural Adjustment Agency says that farmers should notify their county AAA committees as soon as possible if they are not getting three-fourths of their normal crop.

COOKERS RECEIVED

The State War Board has announced that about half of Delaware's quota of pressure cookers have been received and are being distributed to purchase certificate holders.

Restrictions On Rotenone Eased

Rotenone can now be used for control of caterpillars on cabbage, through a recent amendment to the rotenone and pyrethrum restriction order, says Paul L. Rice, associate entomologist at the University of Delaware.

The original order restricted use of both of these insecticides to specific essential crops for control of specific insects for which there are no other efficient controls available. The only change in these restrictions has been this addition of caterpillars on cabbage to the uses permitted for rotenone.

Both materials are extremely scarce. They are imported and both the supply at the source and the transportation facilities are limited. All possible conservation is essential to get best results from the supply available.

FEDERAL LIBRARIAN JOBS OPEN

Civil Service To Conduct Examinations

To meet anticipated needs for library assistants in Federal agencies, the U. S. Civil Service Commission today opened a new examination. Persons qualifying may be appointed to positions paying $1,970 and $1,752 a year.

Replacements are needed frequently both in Federal departmental libraries, particularly in Washington, D. C., and in naval station libraries throughout the country. Library assistants in naval air and training stations will replace enlisted men going to sea. Libraries at these stations are for the use of enlisted men, and contain both technical and recreational reading matter.

Salaries given incorporate payment for the 8 hours of overtime included in the 48-hour Federal workweek. No specific experience or education is required to compete in the test, or to be eligible for appointment to the $1,752 positions; however, in order to be appointed to the $1,970 positions, persons must meet certain experience or training requirements in addition to passing the test.

There are no age limits for library assistant positions. The written test will include both general questions and items on elementary library methods.

Persons desiring to take the test must file applications with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Full information and forms may be obtained from Mr. Singles, the Commission's Local Secretary, at Newark Post Office, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Persons now using their highest skills in war work should not apply. Appointments are made in accordance with War Manpower Commission policies and employment stabilization plans.

ODT Grants Wilmington Area 4400 Additional Miles Of Gasoline Bus Transportation Weekly

★ Transportation relief has been granted! This needed increase in our service is the result of a Delaware Coach Company report, recently presented to the Office of Defense Transportation in Washington.

Almost immediately following the 20% service reduction of June 1st, it was evident to us that the cut was causing overcrowded and inadequate service, particularly for War Workers.

A careful survey was made of all gas bus and trolley coach routes for the full period of their operation. This survey confirmed our views that relief was necessary.

A report of our findings, together with an appeal, was placed before ODT officials in Washington. The result—the granting of this gasoline for 4,400 additional miles per week.

This increase in our transportation facilities is in line with our policy . . . to serve Wilmington War Workers and essential civilian riders with the greatest possible efficiency.

New increased schedules are going into effect as quickly as they can be prepared.

Service will be increased, where most urgently needed, on gas bus and trolley coach routes during morning and evening rush hours.

August Ceiling On Hogs Set At $14.75

WFA and OPA have agreed to set a flat price ceiling of $14.75 per hundred-weight, Chicago basis, for live hogs, early in August. The ceiling will apply to all grades and weights, and assures packers an adequate margin between price of live hogs and OPA ceilings for wholesale pork cuts and processed pork. Prices are expected to fluctuate seasonally between ceiling and floor prices. To encourage farmers to cut down hog weight in an effort to conserve feed supplies, the price support of $13.75, Chicago basis, for good and choice butchers now covers all weights from 200 to 270 pounds. Previously the support applied only to 240 to 270 pounds. But it is equally important that hogs not be marketed too light—200 to 230 pounds is preferred weight.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

ABOUT THE WAVES AND SPARS

Q. As a WAVE or SPAR will I be expected to serve overseas?

A. The law passed by Congress limits your service to the continental limits of the United States.

Q. What is the term of enlistment?

A. For the duration of the war. You will be discharged within six months after the war ends.

Q. After I have once joined, may I resign?

A. A letter to your Commanding Officer, requesting discharge and stating your reasons will be forwarded for consideration. But in wartime resignations are discouraged.

Q. If I am under 20 and my parents consent, can I enlist?

A. No. By law the minimum age is 20.

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

Your Donald Nelsons can talk glibly about slackened production pace but it took a worker in one of the nearby war plants to put it aptly: "The trouble with this place," he drawled, "is that we work at two speeds—'Slow' and 'stop.'"

And from Washington, a government worker, slightly allergic to red tape, writes, "Reality seems terribly remote here in Washington where men sit and watch each other shirk, where the disappearance of function, (as in our Division) results in frantic reorganization and much hiring of new and thoroughly bewildered folk."

You can charge our "Ge-whiz-we're slipping" questionings to a bad case of nerves—or to the fact that we are comparing our efforts with the ones made overseas.

Stars and Stripes Staff Writer Ralph G. Martin went to school with me out in Missouri. With a strong injection of the "Show Me" attitude, Ralph went to London, then to North Africa. He was the first American correspondent to re-enter Gafsa and more recently, he landed with the Rangers at Gela, another "first." Writing about the initial landing, he says, "It wasn't simple. They landed in those small LCT's with a half a dozen Italian searchlights focused right on them and a flock of big guns shelling their boats. Some boats didn't make it."

"At the beaches, they found minefields, barbed wire and some concentrated gunfire all ready and waiting. One first sergeant got hit in the guts in a blast that killed his captain and temporarily blinded his lieutenant. With one hand covering his wound, the sergeant led his men past the beaches into cover. Then as soon as the lieutenant recovered from the concussion blindness, he and the sergeant each took one half the outfit and did their next cleanup job."

"After that the lieutenant finally persuaded the sergeant to quit and fall back to some first aid station. 'Hell,' said the sergeant, 'I'm not helpless yet. Give me some prisoners to guard or something.'"

About Gela, Ralph remarked, "All the people looked at us as we drove in but there was no cheering, no 'Vive La Amerique'. These people had relatives and friends fighting us only a few miles away. Still, some were glad to see us. 'We have starved too much,' one of them said. Everywhere you saw soldiers handing out their rations and cigarettes to poorly dressed, skinny kids and ragged men..."

Some of the soldiers tried to reassure the Italians, Ralph wrote. "One of them, S-Sgt. Frank Scalfani, of the Bronx, N. Y., went around quoting Tom Paine in Italian. Something about 'We fight not to enslave but to set a country free and make room upon the earth for honest men to live in.'"

Neat Trick
After taking a First Aid Instructor's course in which he learned about treatment for asphyxiation, alcoholic poisoning, arterial bleeding, venous bleeding, internal bleeding, burns, drowning, dislocations, electrical shock, fainting, fractures, gas poisoning, heat exhaustion, shock, snake bite, sunstroke, wounds, Tal Kaufman presented his idea of an ideal accident for a new First Aider—a man lying near his car on a highway, his hand outstretched and blood trickling gently from a

D.S.C. Candidates

The uncontested hero in our local A.S.T. group's first taste of combat is Pvt. Frank Lewis, the best belfry debater we have ever heard tell of. When a bat flew in the window at Harter Hall one study-infested eve, it was Pvt. Lenny Kringold who stepped in as military strategist. With future Hero Lewis flanked by towel-bearers Pvt. Frank Titus and Irv Geibler, the bat hadn't a chance. The last two threw in the towel. Lewis did it with newspapers.

Hey—It's Fattening

I stopped counting after thirty soldiers walked into the DeLuxe at 5:45, 15 minutes before chow. There were more limeades and cokes and peanut butter crackers consumed than you could shake a stick at (shaking sticks being a slightly insane occupation anyway). After one table had finished the first round of refreshments, one of the group's lucky nickel produced "Amen" on the jukebox. That meant management kicked in for 35 cents of free fare. And that was an excuse for the boys to have another round. They bolted out of there just in time to stand in line to parade to the Commons for dinner. Stout fellows, aren't they?

Yale Added to Penn's 1943 Gridiron Schedule

In addition to these contests and a game with Columbia in New York, Penn will have Dartmouth, Army, Navy, North Carolina and Cornell as Franklin Field opponents.
