3 Directors Will Be Named by Recreation Association Tuesday

Group Also Seeks Appointment Of Town Council, School Board Members

A discussion of the recreation survey conducted here recently by Weaver, Pughman, representative of F. Ellwood Allen Associates, New York, will mark a general meeting of the Newark Recreation Association next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the New Century Club.

Three directors will also be elected at the meeting to fill the posts held by D. Kenneth Steers, Michael Kubicek and T. D. Smith, whose terms are expiring.

In addition, steps are being taken to secure the appointment of a representative of the Town Council and of the Newark Board of Education to the association. The group's executive committee recently approved an amendment to the NRA constitution to permit the appointments.

Mr. Steers, NRA president, said this week he has not yet sounded out the Council or the school board on the matter.

Following the NRA election, the new directors will join with members of the board in appointing officers for the coming year.

On the board are: Mrs. A. P. Colburn, Alden "Whitey" Burnham, Harry Rawstorn, Miss Ann Chalmers, James Foster and Paul Dolan.

Colburn Co-Inventor Of New Process On Ventilation Of Subs

Patent Covering New Development Issued On March 13

Dr. Allen P. Colburn, provost at the University of Delaware and a chemical engineer, is the co-inventor of a new process for the removal of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere of a submarine.

Patent number 2,545,194, covering the process, was issued on Mar. 13 to Dr. Colburn and Bennett F. Dodge, Hamilton, Conn.

Heretofore, it has been customary to pump the atmosphere of a submarine by chemical reaction of the carbon dioxide in the atmosphere with a hydroxide. The hydroxide, most commonly used, is that of lithium, and is placed around on shelves or in canisters so that the atmosphere within the submarine comes into contact with it.

Although this is a very efficient process, removing substantially all of the carbon dioxide while the hydroxide is active, nevertheless, according to Messrs. Colburn and Dodge, it suffers from the limitation of lasting only a certain number of hours. Consequently, it has been necessary, in the past, to carry an extra supply of the lithium in order to have a sufficient quantity available for a long cruise.

It is the object of their invention to overcome this disadvantage and thus have discovered a novel, continuously operable process whereby the removal of the carbon dioxide is effected without depending upon its reaction with a chemical compound. In other words, under their procedure, the impure air of the submarine is drawn through a cooling device where the moisture in such air is condensed and drained off as water. The resulting dried air is then passed to either one of a pair of oxygen evaporators wherein it is cooled to a sufficiently low temperature to lose its content of carbon dioxide. Finally, the purified air is discharged into the atmosphere of the submarine.

According to Messrs. Colburn and Dodge, the process of their invention is efficient in operation, has small space requirements and consumes comparatively little power.

This patent has been assigned to the United States of America as represented by the Secretary of the Navy.

Retiring president Dr. C. R. Case announced the appointment of Samuel Handloff as the chairman of the group's annual Beaux Arts Ball. Mrs. D. Myrica was selected to replace Mrs. Mina Press Brown as publicity chairman.

Plans For More Thru-Streets To Be Outlined At Public Meeting

A practical approach to Newark traffic problems will be sought at a public meeting April 5 at 8 p.m. in Mitchell Hall on the University of Delaware campus.

Panel talks by a number of representatives of Newark's business, industry, labor groups and the Town Council will lead off the session, which will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The problem of finding an alternate east-west through traffic route to relieve the pressure on Main Street will be the chief item of the round-table discussion.

Ford McBerly, president of the Chamber, said yesterday the purpose of the meeting will not be to draft specific plans nor to make decisions but to draw up recommendations for the Town Council. The latter has urged the Chamber to study over-all community traffic problems.

A number of alternative through traffic routes will be discussed but from an engineering standpoint with a view toward finding a solution that will cause the least friction among property owners.

A number of possible through routes have already been proposed to the Chamber, Mr. McBerly said. They are: extension of Delaware Avenue east to Tyre Avenue and west to Dallow Road; extension of Cleveland Avenue to Capitol Trail; extension of North Street east and west to join with Cleveland Avenue.

The problem, Mr. McBerly said, will be to decide on a method for deciding which of these routes would prove the most practical in all respects. The securing of the cooperation of property owners in the areas affected is as much a part of the problem as the engineering aspects, Chamber officials believe.

Taking part in the panel talks will be: William Coverdale, Frank Durnall, and Carl S. Rankin, all members of the Town Council; George Neighbors, Chamber of Commerce; Franklin Scheeler, representative of the Danfoss Hosiery Union; Homer Seeley, chairman of the Wilmington section of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Academy Expected To Be Ready As Town Council Headquarters By Summer

Renovation of portions of the old Academy building for use as a headquarters for the Town Council is expected to be completed by early summer, Francis Niede, town supervisor, said yesterday.

The work was authorized some months ago by the local lawmakers, but has been delayed due to the fact that town maintenance crews have been busy with more pressing projects.

The town government, already cramped in its tiny quarters at 24 Academy Street, faces an even more acute housing problem following the expected community expansion. Enlargement of the police force, the engineering department and the office force probably is expected.

The Academy building, now used only occasionally for civic club meetings and as the home of the town library, offers the best solution in the view of the lawmakers. The plan is to remodel the first floor and portions of the basement. The library, which now occupies a first floor room, will be moved to another wing.

Thus far the work has been limited to clearing out debris and stripping the lower floor.

3 More Enter Election Race; Contests In All Three Districts

Dr. John R. Downes, Incumbent, And George Wilson, Negro Leader, Opposed In Western District; Battersby's Entry Makes 3-Way Fight In Eastern

Three more candidates entered the town election campaign this week, making a total of seven contestants bidding for the three seats open on the Town Council and creating contests in all three districts.

The line-up, which already assures local voters of a varied slate this year, may increase before the filing deadline at noon Saturday. The election is scheduled for April 10 in the fivehouses.

The western district, which had been without a candidate until this week, suddenly developed a contest on Monday, when Dr. John R. Downes, incumbent, and George Wilson, Negro civic leader, entered the race.

In the eastern district, Norman Battersby announced Thursday that he would seek reelection, turning the contest there into a 3-way fight. Harry Dawson, real estate agent, and Donald Hill, department manager for Sears-Roebuck Company, Wilmington, previously had announced their candidacies.

Dr. Downes, a retired physician, opened an office here in 1924 after 30 years in private practice in Preston, Md. Shortly after coming here, he agreed to serve as the town's first health officer and has held that non-paying post ever since. In 1931 he gave up his practice here to become deputy state health officer in charge of rural New Castle County, resigning in August, 1949, when he reached the age limit.

Dr. Downes was hospitalized recently but is now much improved.

Active in civic affairs, he is a member of the Lions Club and the American Legion. He served as athletic officer for the local post for many years and also headed the athletic committee for the Department of Delaware for four years. From 1942 to 1947, he directed the Red Cross campaign for this district and also chairmaned the new fund drive conducted by the Newark Recreation Association, during World War II he served on the Mayor's Committee, providing guns and supplies to Newarkians in the front forces. The committee was reactivated under his leadership recently.

Dr. Downes holds a 20-year citation as a member of the town's first school committee. For the past four years he has served as chairman of the committee of the Rural Medical Service, Medical Society of Delaware.

His opponent, Mr. Wilson, 44 years old, is a native New Yorker, who was on Council last year but lost out as the town's first Negro candidate and was defeated by Carl S. Rankin who still has another year to go on Council.

A native New Yorker, Mr. Wilson is a graduate of the New London Academy School and Howard High. He now operates his own moving and hauling business. An army veteran of World War II, he is a member of the I. W. O. F. No. 25, American Legion, and of the Order of the Delawarean Lodge, No. 348.

Mr. Battersby, a veteran of the local political scene, is seeking his fourth term on Council. The son-in-law of the town's first mayor, he has headed a number of town committees and projects. Last November he was elected representative to the General Assembly from the ninth district and is currently attending the legislative sessions at Dover. He has been employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad for the past 28 years.

Two Auto Accidents Reported Past Week

Both Mishaps Minor; No Injuries

A car, operated by George J. Scott, 300 North Chapel Street, suffered about $100 in damages last Friday, according to police, when it ploughed into the rear of a vehicle driven by Carl E. Moyer, Stony Creek Mills, Pa. Neither driver was injured.

Both cars were going east on Main Street. The accident occurred when the Moyer car stopped to permit a vehicle ahead to turn left into North Chapel Street. Scott was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting Moyer.

A freak accident occurred Saturday afternoon when a car turned from the Main Street intersection into the B. & O. railroad platform, traveled down the platform to the station, and, in attempting to maneuver over the crosswalk there, tumbled onto the railroad tracks. It is believed the driver, Richard Thomas, of Wilmington, mistook the platform for a roadway.

Heating On April 6 On City Zone Amendment

Charles Long, town secretary-treasurer, issued a reminder this week that a public hearing on the request by City, Inc. for an amendment to the zoning law will be held at 8 p.m. April 6 in the Council Offices, 24 Academy Street.

The perfume firm is seeking the reclassification of an area in the Kella Avenue-Manual Street section in order to erect a plant there.

Little Hal and Bobbie Bots, who spent several months at the Looe home last year, returned last week to visit "Mommie Clare," as they call her. Several enjoyable but busy days were spent, since Cliff and Jeff required some care too in their convalescence from the grippie, and a touch of pneumonia for Cliff.

Saturday brought the Dandel Comleys from Hamilton Square, near renton, to spend Easter with the George Kalbs. Little Karen went back for a week's visit with Grandma and Grandpa Comley.

Saturday marked the sixth birthday of Kurt Richard Kalb, and he celebrated with a most enjoyable party. Guests included Janie Ellis, Judy Nichol, Ned Clamer, Rennie Taylor, Mike Kubica, of Newark, and David Ness.

Reverend George Gardiner's parents were his guests at New London over the weekend. We understand the Presbyterian Church was packed Easter Sunday, and that everyone appreciated the special music too. The Sunday School offered a delightful program for all concerned Easter evening.

Mrs. John Kalb and grandson Kurt are enjoying a week on Long Island as the guests of the Alexander Bihns. It is a pleasure to announce that our plucky little neighbor, Mrs. George Herbener, arrived home over a week ago, and is doing very well. Indeed these days after her long bout with illness and surgery.

Marianna Alcock took her children and "go-wagon" firmly in those capable hands and hit the high road last Thursday to spend a few days with her mother at Easter time. Destination was Warren, Ohio, and we're sure the visit was a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nichol spent Easter Sunday at the Charles Cairn home in Sadsburyville.

Roy and Miriam Heath, Bill and Doris Nichol, were Sunday evening callers at the Ness home.

We can join those who will testify as to the nastiness of the recent grippie germ, having been engaged in mortal combat, or so it seemed, with the character this past week.

A dear little colt was born Saturday to Libby Stiff's pony, and the name chosen was "Easter."

The Arthur Nesses entertained a group of sixteen out-of-town guests with a square dance Saturday evening.

The second meeting of the Landenberg 4-H Club was held at the Harold Field home at 7:30 p.m. 28. Seventeen girls were present and they decided on a sewing project for this year. Song Leader Janet Nichol functioned, as did Game Director Beverly Fields. Refreshments were great fun. If any young girls want to join, please contact Mrs. Gerhard Filipi, or Mrs. Harold Fields. The next meeting will be held April 2 at the Filipi home, 7:30 p.m.

Wilson P. Berry, father of Mrs. Bill Pyle, has been confined to a Wilmington hospital for four weeks after having undergone surgery.

We regretfully note the death of an elder member of this community. The deceased, William Pyle, was born in Wilmington in 1881. He leaves several in the immediate family as well as many friends and neighbors to mourn his death. Mr. Pyle was united in marriage to Miss Lydia Emma Goodley of Chester at Claymont in 1907. They had two children, William Goodly Pyle, and Sarah Elizabeth Pyle, (Mrs. Edward Herbener). Louise, Billy, Shirley, and Carol Ann Pyle, Morris and Edward Herbener are the grandchildren. The Pyles lived in Hockessin for seventeen years before moving to this vicinity in 1938. Mr. Pyle was employed for many years at the American Car and Foundry in Wilmington. His death occurred early Tuesday morning. Burial was Friday, Mar. 23, at the New London Presbyterian

"Grow as much feed as possible, which means increasing the acreage planted to corn. Fertilizer should be used liberally and purchased now. Helping the Nation get things done for 75 years

This year is the telephone's seventy-fifth and busiest birthday.

What began as a line between two rooms in a Boston attic in 1876 has developed, in one lifetime, into a Long Distance network that covers the Nation—and extends to most of the world's telephones.

This great system has grown in answer to the needs of a people. And it's a good thing it has. In these threatening times, the Long Distance lines that bind this country together are more vital than ever.

For today they are helping to speed production and guard the Nation's security—jobs that call for nothing less than the best telephone service to the world.

325 Future Farmers Will Enter Judging Tests On April 19

Annual Competition To Be Held At University Farm Near Here

About 325 members of the Future Farmers of America are expected to attend the annual judging contest of the Delaware FFA Association on April 19 at the University of Delaware's farm near Newark.

Paul M. Hodgson, associate professor of agricultural education at the U. of D., who is chairman of arrangements, said that members from 19 schools throughout the state will be present.

"The competition is organized to give boys an opportunity to compete on a state-wide basis and to put into practice some of the things which they have been learning in their vocational agriculture courses," explained Mr. Hodgson. "They will judge dairy animals, poultry, swine, eggs, potatoes, and corn, and they will be asked to identify farm shop tools and kinds of feeds."

"The FFA, a national organization, is made up of boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the high schools. The purpose of the vocational agriculture program is to train persons for the vocation of farming."

"Each boy studying vocational agriculture must have a supervised farming program. Through this program, the Future Farmers receive real experience as a part of their regular high school curriculum. This experience includes, for instance, judging of livestock. The FFA member is able to select wisely and is thoroughly acquainted with the fact that his success in farming may depend on his ability to select the right kind of animals for his farm."

Mr. Hodgson said that the U. of D. farm was selected by the FFA for the judging competition because it has more facilities than any other single place in the state at this time of year. Formerly the judging was an annual affair at the university, but in recent years it has been held at different schools throughout the state.

During the visit to the farms, the FF members will tour all farm facilities and the main campus. The U. of D. Ag Club is assisting Mr. Hodgson with arrangements. The judging will begin at 2:30 p.m.

W. Lyle Nowlins of Dover, supervisor of the program of vocational agriculture, is state adviser to the FFA.

VA Now Offers Job Counseling To Vets Seeking GI Training

New Survey Of Employment Outlook Is Being Used

A new survey of job prospects in a defense economy is being used by the Veterans Administration in counseling veterans planning to take education or training under the GI Bill or Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, V-A announced today.

The survey describes the employment outlook in 91 occupations, many of which have undergone marked changes as a result of America's defense efforts. The jobs range from accountants and acetylene burners to watch repairmen and weather observers.

Prepared in cooperation with V-A by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor, the data will be incorporated in a revised edition of the Occupational Outlook Handbook, to become available for purchase within a few months as BLS Bulletin No. 998.

V-A explained how its new job prospect survey will be used in counseling veterans.

The counseling process itself consists of detailed interviews and tests which point up a veteran's interests, aptitudes and abilities. Results of the interviews and tests enable the V-A counselor to help the veterans make a sound selection of a course of training.

At this point, the occupational survey enters the picture. By taking it into consideration, the veteran with the help of his vocational adviser can decide upon training that not only fits his capabilities, but also serves the welfare of the nation.

Sudan grass pastures make good growth during hot, dry summer months, say University of Delaware agronomists. Sudan pastures help to save grain, and grow when other pasture crops are low. Plan now to plant some Sudan grass this spring or summer.

Safety Hints

HOME, the most dangerous place in America.

Ranking only below the most deadly diseases, accidents are today's greatest killers—and among all accidents more happen at home than anywhere else.

Even the tremendous toll of automobile deaths and injuries comes around to home accidents, says the Delaware Safety Council, which kill more than 34,500 people and injure over 5,200,000 each year.

True—no one can erase the almost unbelievable record of death and destruction that has made home America's most hazardous place. But—each of us can do a lot to make sure that—even if accidents will happen—they don't happen in our homes.

The Delaware Safety Council says it's amazing how much can be accomplished with just a little more foresight in planning the arrangement of furnishings and decorations in each room... a little more care in handling fire, electricity, guns, and sharp implements... a little more thoughtfulness for the risks we create for others when we leave things lying around or fail to put medicine and poisons out of children's reach.

No one can bring back the 34,500 killed annually by home accidents. No one can wipe out the suffering of the 5,200,000 injured. No one can ever cure the 140,000 permanently maimed. But you can do much to safeguard tragedy. Take steps to minimize, if not eliminate altogether, these hazards, and thus make your home a happier, safer place in which to live.

National Emergency May Last 15 Years

Farmers Told To Expect Long Cold War

The present cold war effort may continue for 5, 10, or 15 years, and Delaware farmers should make their plans on that basis, for keeping their soil machinery, and building in good shape, said Edward H. Schabinger, New Castle County Agricultural Agent.

That's the view of W. T. McAllister, Agricultural Economist with the Agricultural Extension Service at the University of Delaware.

He says the big difference we face in 1951 is the need to keep the soil and farm improvements in tip-top shape for full production during the long pull.

During World War II farmers were asked for all-out food production each year at a time. We thought little about conditions for future crops, buildings went unattended, new buildings were put off and we couldn't buy new machinery to meet real needs. This time, machinery, buildings, and soil need to be kept in condition for full production always.

We need full production, and current buying should be only for that purpose, but careful planning for production cannot be called hoarding.

Labor will be short and hard to get. Building and fence repairs should be made at odd times so that labor can be spread as evenly as possible over the year. This will permit full days of work when crops need it.

Careful, long-run planning is the keynote.

Pasture Plan Help To State's Dairymen

"It is possible and practical for every dairymen from Delmar to Hockessin to have a full season, efficient pasture and forage program," states Delmar J. Young, extension dairymen at the University of Delaware.

On the basis of what was done in last year's Greener Pastures Program, Young makes the following observations.

"We have just started on a pasture and forage program in Delaware that is as new as when the first 30 herds joined the Dairy Herd Improvement Association, and when artificial breeding began in New Castle county."

Young feels that Delaware dairymen can learn a lot about grass varieties, pasture yields, pasture management, land use, and use of excess pasture and forage crops through the Greener Pasture Program.

Facts and figures already show a lot. According to last year's records, the best pasture mixture for year-round response and milk production, was orchard grass and Ladino clover, half and half. All grasses weren't the same in palatability or in stimulating milk production. Straight legume pastures result in poor body condition.

Farmers interested in getting more forage or in joining the 1951 Greener Pastures Program can still do so. Just contact your county agricultural agent.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Creswell gave a dance in honor of their daughter, Edith, on her 21st birthday.

Clifford Lomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gray Lomas, is very ill with the measles.

Dorothy Holton is ill with the measles.

When milk from mastitis treated quarters is included in the herd supply, enough of the drug may be present to cause problems in the manufacture and sale of dairy products. So reports E. S. Biddle of the Delaware State Board of Agriculture.

The failure of dairymen to keep milk from having far reaching effect on consumers. Continued use of drug-treated milk may sensitize certain people, thereby destroying the value of the drugs for them in case of serious illness.

When milk from mastitis treated quarters is included in the herd supply, enough of the drug may be present to cause problems in the manufacture and sale of dairy products. So reports E. S. Biddle of the Delaware State Board of Agriculture.

The failure of dairymen to keep milk from having far reaching effect on consumers. Continued use of drug-treated milk may sensitize certain people, thereby destroying the value of the drugs for them in case of serious illness.

Technical Advances Mean Extra Million For Poultry Raisers

Possible Thru Better Breeding, Feeding And Hatching Methods

"With present knowledge of breeding, feeding, and improved incubation methods, together with modern incubators and hatchery plants, we could have hatcheries of at least 90 percent from fertile eggs. This would add one-quarter million dollars to Delaware hatcherymen's profits, and more than a million to growers' annual profits."

So spoke Dr. Arthur T. Ringrose, of the University of Delaware Poultry Substation, Georgetown, at the University's Poultry Disease Short Course.

Dr. Ringrose talked on baby chick diseases resulting from improper handling and incubation. He pointed out that one disease, Omphalitis, a bacterial disease that causes severe navel infection with soft mushy chicks, can cause from one to three percent losses when the chicks are from two days to two weeks old.

Omphalitis infection occurs in the hatchery, said Ringrose, and can be controlled by formalin fumigation and cleanliness. The fumigation must be three times stronger than that used to control pullorum disease. It can be done any time after the egg embryos are four days old, and before the chicks are dried off in the hatcheries.

Seventy-two poultrymen are enrolled in the four-session short course, Wednesday evenings, Feb. 14 through March 7.

FILLIN' IN

All we know about him was that people called him Jack and that he shined and repaired shoes in a dingy cubicle just off the main waiting room of a Philadelphia train terminal. As he rolled up his pants and started to brush his shoes, he gave us a friendly grin and confided that he was a professional student of the human sole, who believed that for every outstanding human being, there was at least two heels. Not that he was an ambitious man, he assured us, it was merely that his professional experience had led him to believe that most well-heeled persons are half souled.

These pungent bits of wisdom were enough to convince us that we were in for an illuminating shine. We asked how business was and Mr. Jack told us that, despite the decline in the art of walking these days, shoes still wear out with gratifying regularity. He was of the opinion that this is due to cement sidewalks, plus the fact that people seem to drag their feet more. The headlines, he maintained, have taken the spring and buoyancy out of the nation's stride, thus setting up a tremendous friction on the sidewalks of America.

We agreed that this might be so, and Mr. Jack, encouraged no doubt by such unusual interest on the part of a layman, went on to explain some additional theories based on his observations of heels and soles. He said that in addition to the increase in shufflers, a rise in the number of shoe scuffers may also be noted. Shattered, he claimed, come to him more often nowadays than formerly. He attributed this to the fact that people just don't look where they are going anymore, and he deduced that the nation is losing its sense of direction.

Mr. Jack also pointed with alarm to the disappearance of boots, brogans and high shoes from the feet of America. This is a sure sign, he warned, that the nation is becoming effete, and is losing its time-honored qualities of ruggedness, forthrightness and sturdy acceptance of individual responsibilities.

Mr. Jack had finished our shine by then, but we remained to listen as he still talked earnestly, he climbed up on his stand and took a seat beside us. The real trouble with the world today, he said, is that people no longer strive for perfection. For illustration he pulled a rubber heel from his apron pocket and pointed to two small round white segments inlaid near its outer rim. He explained that the segments were made of exceptionally durable rubber and were intended to make the heel wear longer.

We nodded and murmured something about this being a fine, progressive step. "Ah, but is it?" asked Mr. Jack. "Why don't they make the entire heel of the white stuff?" Because, we suggested, it might make the heel too expensive. Mr. Jack shook his head knowingly. The increased cost, he pointed out, would be offset by the longer life of the heel, and, besides, the cost of the complicated manufacturing process by which the white plugs are inserted in the softer rubber probably would be as great as making the entire heel of the durable white stuff.

Maybe, we said, the white rubber would be too hard for comfortable walking. Mr. Jack snorted at this. "It's rubber, isn't it? It's not hard, just longer wearing."

We shrugged then and admitted the problem was over our head. This was the moment Mr. Jack had been waiting for. He raised a triumphant finger. "It's because," he said slowly, "the manufacturers are too smart to make a perfect heel. A little better heel than the next is all right, but not a perfect one. They'd run themselves out of business."

We seized immediately on the flaw in this reasoning. How about the rival heel makers, we said. Wouldn't they be likely to develop a similar hard rubber and insert bigger plugs in their heels until finally all heel producers would be forced into making heels entirely of the white stuff?

Mr. Jack didn't think so. "Even if the manufacturers didn't get together out of self-defense, the public would object. People wouldn't buy shoes that would never wear out. They'd get bored with them within a year."

Just then our train was announced, and we regretfully broke off the conversation. "Come back again," Jack shouted after us, "and I'll tell you the secret behind the rise and fall of crepe soles."

We intend to go back our first opportunity.

According to the newspapers, the latest rage throughout the country, especially on the West Coast, is building backyard A-bomb shelters. Many a gardener, we understand, is neglecting his spring seeding in favor of digging a living tomb for his loved ones. Like everything else, the family A-bomb shelter varies according to the income brackets. They range from cheap, fabricated crypts to custom-made deluxe catacombs complete with TV sets and built-in bars. The owners of the latter type apparently plan to have a few intimate friends in for a cozy evening watching the decline and fall of the West.

The toniest and safest shelter in the nation, according to a news item, is the one under the White House. It's practically a showplace of the Atomic Age, equipped with special ventilators for filtering out poisonous gas and radioactive air. It has telephone, radio and telegraph connections and, of course, all modern conveniences.

The trouble, as we see it, with the deluxe A-bomb shelter is that it might turn out to be too good. We'd feel rather silly sitting amid such plush underground surroundings after the bomb fell. We're afraid we might turn out to be the last pinpoint of civilization, the man who made the mistake of becoming an island unto himself, surrounded by blank TV, eternally cold electric blankets and a rapidly drying up built-in bar.

NHS Sports Round-Up

Diamond Dust

After a few postponements, high school baseball got underway last week with Mr. Mercer and Mr. H. Lewis Miller as coaches. Last year the local nine had a ten and two record, winning their last five games of the season. In spite of a heavy loss due to the 1950 graduation, the boys are looking forward to a successful season again this year.

Veterans returning to the diamond are Ronnie Bramble, Bunny Blaney, Tom Baker, Al Sparks, Joe Gregg, Joe Thorp, Jim Seydell, Bill Knolls, Bob Boutin, Jack Cleaver, Dick Lawson. NHS lost its entire infield and star hurler last year.

Pitchers and catchers have been working out for the past two weeks. Regular practice with all candidates officially started last Thursday with twenty-five men on the field. The team continued to practice during the Easter holiday.

Newark Hi-Y Wins Place In Semi-Finals of League

Newark Hi-Y's team won its berth in the semi-finals of the New Castle County Hi-Y Basketball League by finishing in a tie for third place with Wilmington High School. The semi-final eliminations were held Saturday, March 16, at the Wilmington YMCA. Two games were played that day, with Howard High Wolverines defeating Wilmington High and Newark taking a one point decision over P. S. du Pont. The two winners, the Wolverines and Newark Yellowpackets are now engaged in a three-game series for the league championship. The first game in the series resulted in a defeat for Newark on Monday, March 19, with a score of 30-29.

Hodgson Called To Active Army Duty

Lt. Col. John A. Hodgson, assistant business administrator at the University of Delaware and commanding officer of the 387th AAA Automatic Weapons Battalion of the Organized Reserve, has been called to active duty with the Army. He will leave April 16 for Fort George G. Meade, Md., to report to the headquarters, Second Army.

His call to extended active duty is as an individual, and does not affect the status of the battalion, which consists of four batteries at the New Castle Air Base and one battery at Newark.

Colonel Hodgson, who has resigned his position at the university, served more than five years on active duty in World War II, rising in rank from first lieutenant in 1941 to lieutenant colonel in 1946. For 29 months he was overseas in the Southwest Pacific Theatre, participating in the New Guinea and Papuan campaigns.

Following his overseas service, he was assigned as commandant and director of the centralized schools at the Anti-Aircraft Replacement Training Center, Fort Bliss, Tex.

The Newark A A courtmen finished fourth in the Dover Amateur Tournament, after dropping two of its three play-off contests.

The Denton five took the title, with St. John's second and Harrington third in the competition which brought together the top-ranking cage teams on the Eastern Shore.

After defeating the New Castle Air Base, the Newark five dropped contests to Denton and Harrington. The latter nipped them by a 62-52 count Tuesday night.

Hen Nine Triumphs In Debut Tuesday

Nips Hofstra, 4-3, On Frazer Field

The University of Delaware basketball team launched its 1951 season with an upset victory over Hofstra College on Tuesday afternoon, nipping the highly touted New Yorkers, 4-3.

Masterly relief duty by moundsman, Bill Shockley, plus a three-run outburst in the ninth inning, accounted for the triumph.

Starting Pitcher Ray Wright was pulled in the third with Hofstra leading 3-0 and Shockley refused to yield so much as a hit for the remainder of the game.

Shockley also drove in the first Hen run in the fifth, after which things remained quiet until the hectic ninth. Hits by Lank and Jim Monemaker, aided by two walks and a Hofstra error, brought in the brace of winning runs.

Newark Cagers Enter Finals In Susquehanna League Play-Offs

Eliminate Delaware City, 94-73, In Crucial Semi-Final Title Match; Second Game Set For Tonight

The Newark AA moved into the finals of the Susquehanna Basketball League on Saturday night by eliminating Delaware City, 94-73, in the semi-final tilt.

Their opponent in the title play-offs will be the Elkton five, which earned a berth in the finals by defeating VFW of Richardson Park.

The best-out-of-three title series began last night at the Elkton Armory, with the second game scheduled for tonight. The third game, if it proves necessary, will be played Saturday night.

Three Newark players topped the 20-point mark in pacing Newark to its crucial victory over Delaware City. Phil Harrison was the big gun with 23 points, getting close support from Le Kubisen, with 23, and Buddy Caggs with 24.

Individual game honors, however, went to Frank Sullivan, of Delaware City, who dumped in 33 points.

Unseasonable weather forced the late practice start, according to Coach Mercer.

He has a pool of six veterans to start with but still had a number of gaping holes to fill in the starting lineup. There will be plenty of openings for new talent on the squad, he indicated.

Last year Mercer led the Jackets to a record of 10 victories in 12 starts, one of the best showings in recent years.

That's the thrifty performance you've been looking for.

In setting this all-time record, the Rambler carried 4 passengers with driver and averaged over 41 miles an hour. The first Key Club in the State of Delaware is being organized at the Newark school under the tutelage of the Local Kiwanis.

In January, Jim Bueche, Student Council President; Dick Dayton, President of the junior class; Jim Draper, treasurer of the junior class; and Albie Sparks, President of the sophomore class, attended a Kiwanis meeting at the College Inn. At that time the local Kiwanis expressed an interest in assisting in the formation of a Key Club. Two boys from the Elkton Key Club were present to tell about their club and its work.

The following Newark boys have been chosen potential members of the NHS Key Club which is still in process of organization: Jim Bueche, John Speicher, Jim Draper, David George, Eric Schaumann, Albie Sparks, Dan Palmer, George Bachelor, Ed Sobolewski, and Rodney Dann. Activities of the club will not begin until the scholastic year 1951-52.

U. of D. Church Clubs Warned On Holding Sectarian Services

Church Sponsored Groups Told Not To Hold Denominational Rites

Church-sponsored student clubs at the University of Delaware have been asked not to hold denominational services in buildings on the campus.

University authorities said that they feel "that the holding of sectarian services is not in keeping with the non-sectarian character of a state university, and the use of its property for such worship services does not accord with the spirit of the charter of the university."

There are seven student groups affiliated with a "University Religious Council" which they have formed, and these have been informed by Dr. Ardwin J. Dolio, chairman of the committee on coordination of student affairs, that "such denominational services may not be held on the campus."

"Inasmuch as there are several churches in Newark, it is felt that these church-sponsored clubs have ample facilities available for their meetings. The university is pleased that the churches have undertaken to sponsor these student groups, and that most of the Newark churches are sponsoring a student religious club. The university is pleased to have its students associated with any church of their own choice, and it has given every help to all the various denominational groups in determining the names and numbers of sectarians on the campus so that they may be more easily contacted by the churches."

Dr. Dolio explained that "it has come to the attention of the committee that some student religious groups, unaware of university policy, have been holding such services on the campus." The university's policy, he said, has been established by the faculty and trustees for some time in keeping with the proper function of a public institution, and in essence states that:

"Denominational worship services comparable to those held in denominational off-campus religious meeting places are not permissible on the campus."

Planning Important To Family Gardener

Long before spring really starts, a good gardener will plan his garden on paper, according to Howard H. Schabinger, New Castle county agricultural agent.

One of the most important reasons for doing this is to stretch the harvest season, and get a continuous supply of vegetables from early spring to late fall.

For instance—many crops can be planted in series, and fresh, young, tender ones to ready all season. New Zealand spinach will grow through all summer, in spite of hot weather. Some crops planted in the fall will live over winter, and be ready to eat very early the next spring.

Careful planning will decrease the canning, freezing, and storing job necessary, added M. Katharine Jones, New agent. Fresh vegetables are better for you, too. Planning will provide you with a diet that includes yellow vegetables, green, leafy vegetables, root crops, and other groups. This will give your family a better and more varied diet.

Planning is also necessary to have enough to can and freeze to last your family through the winter.

Consider all these things when planning the garden on paper.

Band Festival

ten for each band's own use, by the adjudicators, Mr. Carson and Mr. King. The route for the parade is: Leave mid-campus on Delaware Avenue, marching eastward to Haines Street, north on Haines to Main Street, west on Main to South College Avenue, south to Delaware Avenue, east to the mall, and south to the Memorial Library. The parade will require 45 minutes to pass a given point.

The band festival is the first held at the campus since 1947. Assisting Mr. Beymer on the committee are: Russell E. Williams, of Alexis I. duPont School; Philip Taylor, Georgetown High School; and Frank R. Sickmann, Smyrna.

Norris N. Wright

of Education from 1933 to 1935, having been appointed by former Governor Buck.

Elected to the State Senate in 1935, he served four years and was a member of the Town Council. He also was active in Masonic affairs as a member of Hiram Lodge No. 23, A. F. and A. M., Newark; Delaware Consistory of the Scottish Rite, and Lullie Temple of the Mystic Shrine, Philadelphia.

Mr. Wright had served as director and vice president of the Newark Trust Company, and treasurer and director of the Newark Country Club. He also was a member of the Union League of Philadelphia, the Wilmington Club, Wilmington Country Club, Newark Country Club, Vimead Hunt Club, the Young Men's Republican Club and Kappa Alpha Fraternity. At one time he belonged to the Penn Athletic Club, Philadelphia, and was active in football and baseball in college.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Flota Robertson Wright, whom he married in 1920; two daughters, the Misses Eugenia I. and Martha Wright, both at home; and two sisters, Mrs. B. F. Proud of New Bedford, Mass., and Miss M. Elsie Wright of Newark.

Delaware Farmers Sign For 1951 Corn Contest

Farmers in all three Delaware counties are already signing up for the 1951 Corn Yield Contest. According to William H. Mitchell, assistant extension agronomist at the University of Delaware, last year's contest results offer many tips to corn growers.

"For one thing," says Mitchell, "yields were usually higher when a legume cover crop had been plowed under before the corn was planted. When there was no legume cover crop, yields were lower. Farmers who plant their corn early enough this spring will have plenty of time next fall to plant a cover crop."

Four keys to more bushels of corn per acre are: Apply enough plant food, plant thick enough, use a good hybrid, and plant early.

County agricultural agents have summary information on last year's contest, and entry information for the 1951 Corn Yield Contest.

First Issue Of Del. Folklore Bulletin

Copies Are Available From Dr. John Munroe

The first issue of the Delaware Folklore Bulletin has been published by the Institute of Delaware History and Culture for the Delaware Folklore Society. Copies are available from its editor, Dr. John A. Munroe, president of the society, at the University of Delaware.

The bulletin's contents include an explanation of the background and purposes of the folklore society. It is explained that the society developed out of a conference on folklore held last spring on the U. of D. campus "to encourage interest in the subject and to bring into contact with each other those people who share the same interest."

"We Delawareans, small in numbers and inhabiting a small area, cannot expect outsiders to study our heritage for us—we must do it ourselves," the bulletin points out, "and in doing so, we may profit in many ways."

In a listing of "Delaware sayings," the bulletin asks that readers contribute additional "words and sayings that are Delawarean in the sense that they are frequently used here and not so frequently elsewhere." Examples listed range from "a tongue loose at both ends" to "yellow as a duck's foot."

The third major article is "Folklore of Port Penn's Past," by Dr. Harvey C. Moore, a U. of D. graduate and a native of the Port Penn area.

Traffic Meeting

and a member of the firm of consulting engineers for the Delaware Turnpike, Inc., and Howard Ferguson, Civil Engineer.

The moderator will be Dr. Charles N. Lanier, Jr., head of the department of economics and business administration at the University of Delaware.

Some time ago, W. J. Miller, traffic engineer for the State Highway Department, told a meeting of the Chamber that the initiative in solving the community's traffic problem must come from within the town. The state, he said, stands ready to serve in an advisory capacity and will lend professional help when requested, but the town itself, he stressed, must do its own planning.

HERE'S HOW A&P's "Low-Price, Low-Profit" Policy Works to Your Advantage:

1. A&P'S LOW PROFIT OF ONLY 1c ON YOUR DOLLAR makes your money go further.

2. A&P'S STOREWIDE LOW PRICES ON HUNDREDS OF ITEMS EVERY DAY (instead of just a few "week-end specials") makes it easy to save on your food bill any day you shop.

3. A&P'S GUARANTEE OF ALL FULL WEEK PRICES FOR A FULL WEEK protects you against increases in the market prices of items which are not subject to price ceilings.

4. A&P'S SYSTEM OF MARKING PRICES ON ALL ITEMS... as well as on the shelves... and giving you an itemized cash register slip helps you see what you're spending as you shop and check your purchases at home.

5. A&P'S MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE OF SATISFACTION enables you to buy with complete confidence that your money will be cheerfully refunded should any purchase fail to please you.
