Firemen's Parade To Feature Carnival Tomorrow Evening

Or More Companies With Five Bands To Be In Line, Parade At 7.30; American Legion Parade Enjoyed By Large Crowd

PRIZE AWARDS SAT.

Tomorrow evening will mark one of the highlights of the Newark Firemen's Carnival, when the annual Firemen's Parade will march through the town of Newark. Last night a feature was added to the Carnival, in American Legion Night, and the parade. Saturday night will be a night when the big prizes, including a Hupmobile 8 sedan, three expensive suits of furniture, a radio and a number of other rich awards will be announced.

Last night's Legion Parade was an exceedingly colorful and harmonious affair. Six posts and five bugle corps were in line, and made the walking parade with martial music. The parade was led by the bugle corps of Delaware Post No. 1, Elkton Post No. 15, second with its bugle corps, color guard and a good representation of post members. The bugle corps of Newark Post No. 507, third. It was followed by the Springfield Post No. 227 bugle corps, Chester Post No. 190 bugle corps, the fifth musical group. Newark Post brought up in the rear with color guard and followed by the Elkton and Newark ambulances. A portion of the evening's proceeds went to the local Legion Post. Due to a delay in starting the parade, part of the route had to be cut off.

The big Firemen's Parade is scheduled to step off tomorrow night at 7.30 sharp, standard time. The parade will form at the east end of Main street, march to the B. & O. and down Delaware avenue to the carnival grounds. Nine companies have accepted to participate in the parade, and there will be five or six bands in line. The Continental Band probably lead the parade. Five pieces of equipment have been offered, and the judges will be officials of the Wilmington Fire Department.

Due to rain the Aetna Company was forced to postpone the opening of the Carnival until last Saturday.

Ann Chalmers Twirls Newark to Victory Over New York "Bloomer Girls"

The New York Bloomer Girls, headed as the champion female baseball team of the world, came to Newark Monday afternoon and met a tougher Amazon of the diamond in our own Ann Chalmers, who let them down with 6 scattered hits and 8 runs. Ann occupied the mound for the Newark Baseball Team from the second to the ninth inning, besides keeping the New York girls from hitting effectively, fanned four of them, and contributed to Newark's offensive by making one clean hit and one run. In two other trips to the plate, Ann walked once, and got on base once through an error.

Hearing that the Bloomer Girls were a fast aggregation with many victories over male teams to their credit, Manager Gregg started the regular Newark lineup with T. Kay in the box. However, the first inning disclosed that the Bloomer Girls were no match for the Newark boys, and the game from then on became a travesty on baseball. The Newark boys battered left-handed, and were extremely chivalrous in letting the girls get on base. In fact the game became dully polite.

The Bloomer Girls started with a male battery, and a male shortstop. As their regular pitcher was somewhere on route, McKenney, a well-known Wilmington twirler, went in the box for them. However, Newark found little trouble in hitting him. He was retired in the sixth inning and Miss Navel, manager of the

YORKLYN BENEFIT SHOOT

The annual benefit shoot of the Yorklyn Gun Club will be held from August 7 to 11. The proceeds, this year will be given to the District Y. W. C. A. Each day women from various parts of the State who are interested in the Girl Reserve movement will serve the dinner. Next Wednesday the following Newark women will serve: Mrs. Laura Hosinger, Mrs. R. O. Bausman, Mrs. William Hayes, Mrs. H. E. Tiffany, Mrs. Ford and Mrs. A. D. Cobb.

The Post Publishing Company

Beginning with this issue, The Newark Post will be owned and published by The Post Publishing Company, and edited by Charles B. Jacobs, Jr.

The Post Publishing Company believes that The Newark Post, founded in 1910 by Everett C. Johnson, is an important and valuable institution in the town of Newark, and is an effective medium for promoting the ideas, ideals and ambitions of the founder of the paper. The Post Publishing Company hopes that it may be able to increase the value of The Post both to the State and to the town of Newark. Arrangements have been perfected by The Post Publishing Company with the Press of Kells, Incorporated, whereby the publication and distribution of The Newark Post will go forward from The Shop of Kells, by and through its new editor.

Mrs. Everett C. Johnson, the retiring editor, bespeaks for the new management and the new editor the same courtesy and support which has always been accorded the paper by the people of the community and the press of the State.

Potato Survey Shows Plant Enemies Active

Dr. Manns And County Agent Will Find Great Quantities Of Leaf Hoppers

Examination of potato fields in northern New Castle County was made early this week by Dr. T. F. Manns, Plant Pathologist of the University of Delaware, and County Agent Ed Willm, Jr. Prevalence of leaf hopper burn and flea beetle damage was found in most of the fields examined. Those potato growers whose fields were surveyed were: Frank Hufural, Horace Dennison, Wilson Pierson, John C. Mitchell and J. Howard Mitchell, all of near Hockessin.

According to Dr. Manns, the chief cause of the present collapse of the potato vines in this area is due to the large numbers of potato leaf hoppers found on the vines. Large numbers of these hoppers were found in practically every patch of potatoes, although many more were discovered in the fields which had received little or no spray during the season. Less flea beetle injury was evident in the fields which had been protected with a proper spray.

Demonstrations are being conducted this year by the County Agents to determine the value of proper spraying and fertilization. On the farm of John C. Mitchell, the eight rows which had received no spray applications were deadlier than the ones

Battery "E" Leaves Saturday For Camp

To Proceed To Bethany Beach By Motor Convoy; Battalion Schedules

On Saturday morning, at 7 o'clock, Battery "E" will leave the Newark Armory and proceed by motor convoy for the Delaware National Guard Summer Camp, at Bethany Beach. It will remain in camp until August 18.

The general schedule for both battalions of the 198th Coast Artillery, while in camp will be as follows. The schedule is only a skeleton for each day's work.

From reveille to 7:30 a. m., breakfast and police of camp and quarters. From 7:30 to 8:15, infantry drill. From 8:30 to 8:45, artillery instruction and firing. The two battalions will parade at 5:30 each day, the First Battalion and the Second Battalion on alternate days and the two battalions combined on every third day. The two battalions combined form the entire regiment and the parade on such days will be the regulation Regimental

TRAFFIC CASES

Monday was a big day for traffic violators in Squire Thompson's court, four of them leaving assessments, one on two charges.

William Feldman drove a truck 55 miles an hour on the Lincoln Highway, all unaware that the car following him contained Superintendent of State Highway Police Reynolds. After trailing Feldman for a considerable distance, the superintendent drew up alongside and made the arrest. He turned his prisoner over to State Highway Officer Boyer, who found that Feldman lacked an operator's license. Magistrate Thompson fined him $25 each on charges of reckless driving, and driving without an operator's license.

State Highway Officer Hitchens made two arrests, Monday, on the Glasgow road, and brought both prisoners to Magistrate Thompson. Harry Blank, of Washington, D. C., and Jacob Ruben each paid a penalty of $25 for hurried driving. George Watson was fined, Monday, by Magistrate Thompson for parking alongside a fire plug.

Peter Manning, Tyson Up, Given Wirt Willis Cup

One of the stellar attractions of the Kent-Sussex Fair, last week, was the exhibition race against time by Peter Manning (1:56 1/4) the world's champion trotter. Peter Manning trotted his race on Thursday afternoon, with Herman Tyson, of Newark, in the sulky. At the conclusion of the trial, J. Wirt Willis, of Glasgow, presented the equine champion with a handsome silver cup for his performance. As it was a particularly close and hot day, Mr. Tyson did not let the great horse extend himself for the first half, but let out a wrap or so and sent him over the second half of the mile in 1:03.

Mail Delivery Now Covers Entire Town

Extended Service Inaugurated Today; Mail Receptacles Must Be Provided; Additional Collection; New Post Office Plans

Postmaster William H. Evans, of Newark, was authorized, yesterday, by the Postmaster General to inaugurate a new mail delivery schedule, which went into effect this morning. Under this new schedule, every portion of the Town of Newark, within its corporate limits, is receiving mail delivery service. The new schedule necessitated seven additions to the old routing. In addition, there goes into effect, today, an additional collection service which will make a complete collection between the hours of 3:45 and 4:45 p. m., standard time.

Persons on the new delivery routes will have to provide mail receptacles, either in the form of door slots or mail boxes. If such receptacles are not provided within two weeks, service will be refused.

It was announced in Washington, Monday, that on August 31, sealed proposals for construction of a post office building at Newark, Delaware, will be opened at the Treasury Department. The Government now owns a site at Main and Center streets and the building will be erected there with the main entrance on Main street and a side entrance on Center street. $60,000 was appropriated during the last session of Congress for commencement of construction.

The building will face 59 feet on Main street and 64 feet on Center street, with a high loading platform in the rear. The structure will be one story high, with a basement. The basement will furnish room for three offices, a storage room, a lavatory, carriers swing, and a fuel and boiler room. The work room will occupy the center of the first floor, with a large mailing vestibule in the rear. Outer walls will be of face brick with precast concrete trim.

Broadcasts Swedish Delaware History

John P. Nields Tells How Swedes Founded Wilmington; C. Of C. Sponsors Address

On Monday night, John P. Nields, prominent authority on Delaware history, broadcast, over Station WDEL, Wilmington, some interesting history of the early Swedes in Delaware. He advocated placing in the Wilmington City Hall the portraits of King Augustus Adolphus and Queen Christina, of Sweden, under whose rule Wilmington was founded in 1638. Mr. Nields' address was broadcasted under the auspices of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Nields' address was devoted to a discussion of the ter-centenary of the founding of Wilmington which will be celebrated in 1938, plans for which have already been made by various historical organizations. Mr. Nields advocated having copies made of the two famous portraits of the Swedish sovereigns which now hang in the Historical Society of Pennsylvania headquarters, and having the copies hung in the council chambers as a constant reminder of the great event which will be celebrated by the ter-centenary of Wilmington.

Wilmington is one of the birthplaces of the American nation, Mr. Nields said. He told of the first landing of the Swedes and the founding of the "New Sweden" in Wilmington. Mr. Nields also stated that the honor of inaugurating the policy of peaceful and humane treatment of the Indian is due not to William Penn but to the Swedes who first landed where Sixth street in Wilmington now ends. Peter Minuit, the leader of the expedition, should also be known as the first governor of Delaware, Mr. Nields said.

STREET PROGRESS

In spite of weather handicaps, fairly good progress has been made on the street improvement program. The curb is all laid on Orchard road and West Park Place, and about one-half of the macadam and stone base is down on Orchard road. Digging is about finished on East Park Place. Within this week, it is thought that residents of Orchard road will be able to get in and out from their homes.

ON MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Diekey, Mr. and Mrs. David Chalmers and Miss Carolyn Chalmers have completed a motor trip to Oakville, Ontario, going by way of Niagara Falls. They will return by the end of this week.

Western Union Hours

The local Western Union office is now open on Sunday from 9 to 10 o'clock, a. m., advanced time, and from 5 to 6 o'clock p. m., advanced time. The office hours on week days are 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., advanced time.

UNIV. LIBRARY ADOPTS NEW SUMMER SCHEDULE

To Grant Vacation Privileges; New Librarian Arrives

Mr. Donald Coney, librarian of the University of Delaware Memorial Library, announces that, beginning today, the library will adopt a summer schedule of daylight saving time, and will be open from 9 to 12, and from 1 to 5. The library will be closed on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Coney also announces that vacation privileges will be granted people of Newark, who wish to withdraw books to take with them on their vacations. In such cases, the usual limit of two weeks will be extended to cover the period of the vacation. This special privilege will remain in force until the middle of September.

Mr. Elliott L. Moses, who will succeed Mr. Coney as librarian of the University Library, arrived in Newark yesterday, to spend the month of August going over the affairs of the library with Mr. Coney. At the end of the month, Mr. Coney will go to Chapel Hill, N. C., to take up his new duties in the library of the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Moses comes from the University of Michigan, where he had charge of the Engineering Library.

Newark Poultry Class To Be Held Next Week

Many Poultrymen Expected To Attend School; Can Enroll Through Committee

Plans for the Poultry Judging School which is to be held in Newark on August 9 and 10 are rapidly progressing. This announcement comes from the office of County Agent Ed Willm, Jr.

While no exact number of the enrollments at the school has yet been made public, it is expected that the poultrymen of the community will avail themselves of this opportunity to learn more about the culling of their poultry flocks.

All of the chickens used in the school have been trip-nested during the past year. This will help to do away with many estimates or guesses on the real number of eggs laid by these hens. In this way poultrymen who will have an opportunity to handle and judge the trip-nested chickens can compare their guesses and observations on the number of eggs laid, and the quality of the hens with the actual trip-nested records.

County Agent Willm or any of the committee members will be glad to enroll any person who would like to enter this school. The enrollment fee is $1.00. For additional information and registration blanks see the following members of the committee: Howard F. Berg, R. 1, Wilmington; R. Gilpin Buckingham, Newark; H. Wallace Cook, Newark; J. Irvin Dayett, Cooch; Horace Dennison, Hockessin; J. E. Dougherty, Newark; D. H. Hettiger, Elsmere; George Murray, Newark; James H. Hollingsworth, Newark; C. W. Mumford, Newark; Thomas Mallin, Newark; H. C. Milliken, Porters; W. C. Matthews, Hockessin; John Nivin, Newark; Wilson Pierson, Hockessin; W. E. Renshaw, Newark; Warren Singles, Newark; E. D. Steele, Newark; Oliver Suddard, Newark; Ed Willm, Jr., Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Medill and Carolyn Medill, of Wilmington, were guests of Mrs. Philena Medill over the week-end.

Newark Scouts Impress Carnival Crowds With Exhibitions of Their Proficiency

Last Friday night the Newark troop of Boy Scouts pitched a tent on the Newark Carnival grounds, and since then eight of them have been on duty, night and day, doing guard and traffic duty, and policing the grounds. In addition to these services, the scouts give exhibitions, each night, of first aid, tent building and bridge building. The scouts will continue to do 24-hour duty until the close of the Carnival. Their nightly exhibitions have been attended by large and interested crowds.

The Scouts who are on 24-hour duty are: Woodrow Singles, Robert Ford, Donald Hill, Harlan Herdman, Jr., Jack Collins, Harold Walls, Edward O'Dwyer and Roger Dobson. The members of the exhibition teams are as follows: First Aid—William Donnell, Ellis Rittenhouse and James Crooks. Bridge Building and Tent Pitching—Harlan Herdman, Jr., Roger Dobson, Jack Collins, Robert Ford, Harold Walls and Woodrow Singles. Scoutmaster A. E. Tomhave directs the tent pitching exhibitions and Scoutmaster Vernon Steele directs the bridge building. The Scouts are not taking part in the parades, but are being used to help in the direction of traffic during the parades.

Newark Contractors Are Low Bidders On Newark School Jobs

Hutchison To Raise Floor Level In New School Basement; Sheaffer Will Paint Del. Ave. Building

NEW TEACHERS

James H. Hutchison, local building contractor, and I. Newton Sheaffer, local painting contractor, were awarded contracts by the Board of Education, Newark Special School District, after competitive bids had been opened on both contracts.

Mr. Hutchison was awarded the contract for raising and water-proofing a part of the floor in the basement of the new building. Mr. Sheaffer was awarded the contract for painting the exterior of the Delaware avenue building.

Due to a change in the course and level of surface water it has been found necessary to raise the floor levels of the boiler and cold storage rooms in the basement of the new building, 20 inches. The new floors will be of reinforced concrete, mixed with "Celite", a waterproofing compound. The sides of the floor will be joined to the walls with elastic cement, filled in a groove. Mr. H. Harrison Gray has raised the boilers on piers and disconnected all plumbing and heating, in preparation for the work.

On Monday, an inspection of the interior paint of the new building was made by Mr. Sheaffer and members of the Board. It was found that the paint was in surprisingly excellent condition, which speaks highly of the pride the pupils have taken in their school building. The cafeteria will be painted a lighter color.

New Teachers

Three new teachers have been elected by the Board of Education to fill vacancies made by resignations.

Miss Elsie D. White, of Cranford, N. J., will replace Miss Kathryn Jones, teacher of Grade 2, who resigned to take a position in the Landsdown, Pa., schools. Miss White is a graduate of the Glasboro, N. J., Normal School and has had graduate work at Rutgers. She has also had successful teaching experience.

Miss Lisette Reafer, a graduate of the West Chester Teachers' College, will replace Miss Miriam Scarborough, as teacher of Grade 3. Miss Scarborough is returning to the Women's College of Delaware to complete her work there. Miss Reafer has done graduate work and has had teaching experience.

Miss Sarah H. Glass, of Gouldsboro, Md., will assume the vacancy in Grade 6, left by Mrs. George L. Carey, who left Newark to join her husband in Illinois. In addition to successful teaching experience, Miss Glass has served as principal of an elementary school. She is a graduate of Towson Normal School and has had two summers of graduate work at Johns Hopkins.

A DAY OF SPEED

On Sunday Jim Smith and Waldo Lovett sampled the fastest mediums of transportation that are available in each of the three elements. They rode their motorcycles to Bay Shore Park, Maryland, where they took a spin on the Bay in a speed boat. After coming ashore, they went to Camp Logan, nearby, and had a ride in an aeroplane.

DOG CASES

Game Warden Isaac Mackeson has been active in Newark this week and last night four persons appeared before Magistrate Thompson, charged with harboring unregistered dogs. The minimum fine in these cases is $5, plus costs of $3.50. There are a number of warrants still to be served.

Dr. P. K. Musselman spent the week-end with his family, who are summering in the Pocono Mountains.

Harry S. Smith, of the firm of Smith and Maxwell, livestock dealers, of Rising Sun, was fined $75 by Magistrate Ewing for reckless driving when he ran into and demolished the car of G. C. Johnson, of Camden, N. J., near Richards Oak, Port Deposit.

Two persons were injured when a car driven by Mrs. Alice F. Nash, of Perry Point, and another in which A. T. Crocker, of Colorado, and his wife were passing on the State road, came in contact. Mrs. Nash was hurt about her face and hands, while Mrs. Crocker was cut and bruised about the head and body. Both cars were badly damaged.

Route Auto Trip To Conowingo

The touring bureau of the Delaware Automobile Association, which is affiliated with the Keystone Automobile Club and the American Motorists' Association, with headquarters at Eleventh and West streets, Wilmington, has planned for the convenience of knowledge-seeking motorists a routing to Conowingo, the second largest hydro-electric development in the country.

When viewing the great panorama the visitor wonders that such an outstanding achievement of electrical development, not only from the standpoint of engineering skill and efficiency but also in that the speed of its construction is without parallel in the history of projects of similar size.

The vicinity of Conowingo is rich in historic interest. French troops came to help the Colonists in the Revolution landed at the head of the Chesapeake Bay—and the city at the mouth of the Susquehanna, Havre de Grace, by its name bears mute testimony to the help rendered by France at that time.

GENUINE MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEES AT HEROY'S

Brazilian Coffees
Are Most Popular
Coffees That Only Crowd Heads
Could Drink Now Available
To Everyone

Prior to 1885 there were few coffees in the United States, but due to the tremendous planting and production of coffee in Brazil it became the most popular coffee for roasting and blending. According to Mr. Hero's Hero's, the Hero's Tea Stores, 721 Market Street, the advent of five or more years ago the importation of coffee from the Dutch East Indies and Java for Java has not averaged over 3 per cent the coffee imported into the United States and more than one-half of one cent of the coffee imported into the United States has been from Java. These coffees have never had a Government protection and have not varied in price over five cents pound during all these years. The used to be a difference in the price of Brazilian coffee and Mocha coffee 18c per pound and between Java coffee and Mocha Java of 20c per pound. Today Brazilian coffee is being within a few cents of the price of Dutch East Indies coffee and within a few cents of the price of Mocha.

Due to the high cost Mocha and Java coffee, dealers fifty or twenty years ago began to elate the fact that only the crowd heads of people received these coffees which is a fact. There never has been a fact that Mandehling, Arabian Mocha or the products of the Dutch East Indies were not available and the same thing applies to Mocha, but due to the high cost it averages from forty to forty-five cents per pound and roasted to imitate packers and advertisers of the well-known coffees do not let them, as the cost of roasting, tinning, and the several is required

Shilling-Lake Company Have Very Attractive Window

Shilling-Lake Co., distributors for the Royal Typewriter, Remington Cash Registers and Victor Adding Machines have an unusually good window display in the Ninth street window of their store at Ninth and West streets. This splendid window is for the purpose of advertising the United States Lines of American-owned ships.

During the last five years the Shilling-Lake Co. has enjoyed a rapid growth in business, mainly because of their service department of six expert mechanics who keep in perfect order at all times the business machines which the company sells. The Shilling-Lake Co. has branch stores in other large cities. From the Philadelphia store are handled Automatic Pianos and Orchestras, which are proving very popular, not only for the high quality of the music, but as means of increasing the business of many stores and restaurants. The amount of income from Automatic Pianos is surprisingly large—in fact, the Automatic Piano is one of the few articles of modern commerce that really pays for itself and produces a handsome profit for the owner.

counters containing attractive ties and shirts. Nine times out of ten you make an additional purchase.

"Now here is where this little story applies to batteries. If you buy a cheap, little-known battery you are buying from a man whose only interest in batteries is in the price attraction they have to bring customers to his store. With him the battery is a 'five cent collar button.' He has no intention of servicing or guaranteeing it. You are left to take care of that end of it as best you can.

"When you buy Prest-O-Lite Batteries you are buying from the front part of the store. The battery has real value and you will have no trouble getting service on it."

PRINTING SERVICE

It matters not whether you want a hundred letterheads or a hundred thousand letterheads, the K. A. Horner Company, of Wilmington, is fully equipped to render you prompt service on better printing.

When you give a job of printing to this firm, it is not just another job, it is an order from a customer for better printing and no matter what size the order is, the job has the full attention of those responsible for Horner's better printing. It is just this policy that built up the large volume of business enjoyed by this firm. It has customers on its books that started with the firm about nine years ago. What better recommendation can anyone offer.

Your letterhead, don't forget, represents you in your absence, therefore the impression it creates should be in keeping with your firm. It is just such points that are given consideration and attention by Horner's, it is a real service rendered, and you will find the price to be no more than you are paying for just ordinary printing.

INCREASING POPULARITY OF INDUSTRIAL TRUST

Fifteen years ago the industrial loan, as it is known today, was practically unheard of. The person without real estate or moneyed friends was to all intents and purposes useless absolutely without borrowing power.

Eleven years ago, the Industrial Trust Company introduced the industrial loan to Wilmington. Since that time almost every conceivable form of loaning money and giving credit to the working man has been adopted, but none has quite the same attraction to the small borrower as the Industrial Loan.

These loans are made on a yearly basis, the amounts ranging from $25 to $1000, and payable weekly until the loan is repaid.

Everybody."—OUR MOTTO.

AUGUST 1, 1928

First Editorial of The Post (JANUARY 26, 1910)

The name of this paper is THE NEWARK POST. It is to be published weekly. My reasons for starting this paper are: I have always had a desire for this kind of work. Not that I have any editorial ink to spread, not that I have any friends to favor not that I have any enemies to score. I just wanted to do it—to have a paper as a medium for other people, and to try to do something really worth while for the town and country. And a paper can do that, if the right man is at the back of it. Whether I am the right man is to be proven. I hope so. I do not expect to do great things, but there are some little things we can do if you will help me.

If this paper can, by your help, pluck one thorn and plant one rose, as Lincoln tried and succeeded in doing, then I shall be glad; if this paper can be your help, be the means of suggesting and bringing about Good Roads, Flowers, Parks, Better Schools, Trees, Pure Water, Fresh Air and Sunshine for somebody and Work for everybody, then I shall have won—I shall have led a fairly religious life.

I have no special cause to further, no theories to explode. I simply want to have some fun, make SOME money and make good. I expect to do this, with the help of my friends. You can not expect much real help from your enemies. I want "To do my work and be kind."

I am more or less of a stranger to you. I am a product of Sussex county, before the day of good crops. I was for four years (1895-1899) somewhat of a student at the college (I hope you will not hold the Faculty responsible for my English), and have been around here more or less all these years. I am not ashamed of being from Sussex county. I was when I came to college, though I never told it. But not now. Things have changed. Sussex has forged to the front since then. I have been around a bit and know of no better place to be born than in Sussex county.

And New Castle is a very good place to live in. The sun shines very brightly on these hills of White Clay and Pencader to us who live here. And so I ask to be one of you. If there is anything I can do, set the task.

I am interested in the town, her churches and schools, her business men and industries, her social organizations and government. She has possibilities that I do not believe we realize. We need more industries—not so many that it will prove a detriment as a place to live. Some have said that more manufacturers would spoil the educational atmosphere. They urge keeping Newark the educational center of the State.

Factories will not do that. The smokestack has its place in making Newark a better place to live as well as the steeple or the college dome. And the factory whistle is calling at six o'clock just as good men to their work as they who dress hastily to answer the call to their studies at nine o'clock. The boy on the farm who is up and has his cows milked before the boy at college is up, is not any better, but just as good as the college boy who has not seen the sun rise during the college year.

No, factories and more honest working-men would be an advantage to our educational atmosphere. Let Newark be the center of learning in the State and also let it be a place where good work is well done.

I am interested in the traditions of Newark—they are noble—but not to the extent of retarding progress. We must give the future some traditions to represent what we have done. We can't live on our ancestors, altogether. Napoleon, on being asked who his ancestors were replied—"I am an Ancestor."

Do not think this paper expects to accomplish all this. It hopes only to be the medium in which you may discuss publicly, the ways and means of making a better Newark and to give the news of its progress.

The columns of this paper are open to you to say what you will. I hope you will use it.

Personally, I shall try to keep as quiet as possible. The days of editorials by country editors on the ways and means of saving the State and Nation are over. I do ask, however, that you give me the same privilege as I have accorded you—to let me say my say, realizing and asking you to recognize that it is only one man's opinion.

I shall fail many times but want to conduct this paper according to the ideal and hope "to so live that when I die they who knew me best will say: 'He planted a rose and plucked a thorn wherever he thought a rose would grow.'"

EVERETT C. JOHNSON.

Attention of Town Council

When the Council of Newark convenes for its regular monthly meeting, next Monday evening, it should take some definite action on the problem of additional police protection for the town. Our one man police force has long ceased to be a matter for light persiflage. Within the past two months, two instances have occurred where citizens have had knowledge of the whereabouts of burglars, and the thieves have escaped because a police officer could not be located within a reasonably short time.

Chief Keeley has an excellent record for preserving peace and order, but the task of efficiently policing the town is hopeless for one man. Chief Keeley should be given at least two assistants, and if one of these was mounted on a motorcycle, he could undoubtedly put the police department on a paying basis.

Another matter to which the Council might give some attention is that of street signs. An inspector from the Postoffice Department, Washington, who recently made a survey of the Town of Newark, paid the town many fine compliments on its street, lighting, sewer and water systems, but severely criticized the lack of street signs. Mayor Frazer and the Council of Newark have worked close to the end of a prodigious program of town improvement, which has already placed Newark on the map as the outstanding rural community in Delaware. Erection of street signs would be a nice finishing touch to this program.

Ellen Terry Comes to America

I set out in 1883 from Liverpool on board the "Britannic" with the fixed conviction that I should never, never return. For six weeks before we started, the word America had only to be breathed to me, and I burst into a flood of tears! I was leaving my children, my bullfinch, my parrot, my "Aunt" Boo, whom I never expected to see alive again, just because she said I never would; and I was going to face the unknown dangers of the Atlantic and of a strange, barbarous land. Our farewell performances in London had cheered me up a little—though I wept copiously at every one—by showing us that we should be missed. Henry Irving's position seemed to be confirmed and ratified by all that took place before his departure. The dinners he had to eat, the speeches that he had to make and to listen to, were really terrific!

One speech at the Rabelais Club had, it was said, the longest peroration on record. It was this kind of thing: Where is our friend Irving going? He is not going like Nares to face the perils of the far North. He is not going like A— to face something else. He is not going to China, etc., and so on. After about the hundredth "he is not going," Lord Houghton, who was one of the guests grew very impatient and interrupted the orator with: "Of course he isn't! He's going to New York by the Cunard Line. It'll take him about a week!"

Many people came to see us off at Liverpool, but I only remember seeing Mrs. Langtry and Oscar Wilde. It was at this time that Oscar Wilde had begun to curl his hair in the manner of the Prince Regent. "Curly hair to match the curly teeth," said some one. Oscar Wilde had ugly teeth, and he was not proud of his mouth. He used to put his hand to his mouth when he talked so that it should not be noticed. His brow and eyes were very beautiful.

Well, I was not "disappointed in the Atlantic," as Oscar Wilde was the first to say, though many people have said it since without acknowledging its source.

My first voyage was a voyage of enchantment to me. The ship was laden with pig-iron, and she rolled and rolled and rolled. She could never roll too much for me! I have always been a splendid sailor, and I feel jolly at sea. The sudden leap from home into the wilderness of waves does not give me any sensation of melancholy.

What I thought I was going to see when I arrived in America I hardly remember. I had a vague idea that all American women wore red flannel shirts and carried bowie knives and that I might be sandbagged in the street. From somewhere or other I had derived an impression that New York was an ugly, noisy place.

Ugly! When I first saw that marvellous harbour I nearly cried—it was so beautiful. Whenever I come now to the unequalled approach to New York I wonder what Americans must think of the approach from the sea to London. How different are the mean, flat, marshy banks of the Thames and the wooden toy light-house at Dungeness to the vast, spreading Hudson with its busy multitude of steamboats, and ferryboats, its wharf upon wharf, and its tall statue of Liberty dominating all the racket and bustle of the sea traffic of the world!

That was one of the few times in America when I did not miss the poetry of the past. The poetry of the present, gigantic, colossal and enormous, made me forget it. The "sky-scrapers"—what a brutal name it is when one comes to think of it!—so splendid in the landscape now, did not exist in 1883, but I find it difficult to divide my early impressions from my later ones. There was Brooklyn Bridge, though, hung up high in the air like a vast spider's web. . . .

I had not to endure the wooden shed in which most people landing in America have to struggle with the Custom-house officials. . . . We were taken off the "Britannic" in a tug, and Mr. Abbey, Laurence Barrett, and many other friends met us—including the much-dreaded reporters. . . .

"These gentlemen want to have a few words with you," said Henry to me when the reporters had done with him. Then with a mischievous expression he whispered: "Say something pleasant! Merry and bright!" Merry and bright! I felt it! The sense of being a stranger entering a strange land, the rushing sense of loneliness and foreignness was overpowering my imagination. I blew my nose hard, and tried to keep back my tears, but the first reporter said: "Can I send any message to your friends in England?"

I answered: "Tell them I never loved 'em so much as now," and burst into tears!—Ellen Terry, in "The Story of My Life."

from the orchard to the pantry is via a good gas range!

IT IS shortest because gas range canning requires less time and effort for you to put up your winter's fruit supply. The modern method of canning is in the oven and since the modern gas range has oven heat regulation, the hot, tiresome part of canning—the watching, the stirring, the waiting—is actually banished. All you do is prepare the fruit, place the jars in the oven, set the regulator at the proper degree of heat, and then forget about the kitchen until the time for "processing" is up.

Christiana

Shortly before midnight Saturday the barn on Mr. Henry Mason's farm, on the Hares Corner Road, was entirely destroyed by fire. Engines from Christiana, Newport, New Castle and Five Points answered the alarm, but it is reported that the Five Points Fire Company could not get their apparatus near enough to the fire to do any good on account of the road being blocked by automobiles. The other companies could do nothing to save the barn, but spent all their energy in keeping the fire from spreading to other buildings. The last of the hay crop had been put in the barn on Saturday, and that naturally made an extra brilliant flame, which lighted up the whole sky and attracted people from miles away. The origin of the fire is a mystery. It is only about eight months ago that the Mason house was burned to the ground. It was, however, rebuilt at once, and the family have been occupying it for some time.

Robert Sapp, son of Mrs. Raymond Lowth, of this place, recently met with a serious and painful injury. He had climbed a tree in the yard to pick apples, when a limb broke and the young man fell to the ground, striking his hip on a grindstone which stood under the tree. Dr. B. B. Peters was called and he had the patient taken to the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital in the Newark ambulance. Late reports are to the effect that Mr. Sapp is resting comfortably, though still in a serious condition.

After next Sunday there will be no services in the Presbyterian Church until the first Sunday in September, the pastor having his annual vacation at that time.

On Monday, August 6th, the Presbyterian Sunday School and Ladies' Aid Society will combine forces in the annual picnic, to be held this year at Deemer Beach. A basket lunch will be served at twelve o'clock, standard time, sports at two o'clock and cake and ice cream will be served later in the day. Mrs. George Appleby is chairman of the general picnic committee, the other members being Mrs. Harvey Maclary and Mrs. Oliver Rothwell.

On Tuesday evening, August 7th, the Christiana Improvement Association will hold their regular business and social meeting in School Hall.

Everybody please bear in mind that the Christiana Firemen's Carnival opens Saturday evening, August 4, and continues for one week. At the close a Ford Tudor sedan will be the big prize given away. In case of

Street Runners Who Solicit

Wedding Couples Defy Cops

Alleged Agents of Elkton's Marrying Parson Refuse to Comply With Law Prohibiting Annoyance of Prospective Brides and Grooms on Streets

Police officials in Elkton, trying to put a stop to the practice of soliciting couples who come to Elkton to be married have met with open defiance by those practicing this nefarious trade. Agents of marrying parsons who hang around the court house to pick up prospective brides and grooms who have been warned to stop the practice have declared to the police that as long as they do not annoy the wedding couples they will continue their line of work and if arrested they will appeal the case to the upper court on the ground that the law covering the situation is defective.

Elkton Town Council seven years ago passed an ordinance prohibiting the soliciting of wedding couples on the streets of the town, but this law was never enforced. At the last meeting of Council it was resurrected and the police were instructed to enforce it and to make arrests where violations were found. Chief of Police George C. Potts warned those engaged in the work that they must stop but he was met with their defiance of arrest and threat of appeal to a higher court.

To make an arrest it would be necessary to have a couple appear as witnesses and in almost every case they invariably refuse to be drawn into the matter, as it would mean for them to give bail and return to Elkton to attend the Circuit Court when in session.

The ordinance was passed in 1921 when there were two taxi concerns fighting for business at the railroad station, but of late years those seeking marriage licenses come to Elkton by automobiles, which have put one taxi company out of business and the other concern is having a hard struggle to make both ends meet.

Three or four former drivers of the taxi companies are the ones now engaged in hanging around the court house, to pick up wedding couples and take them to the home of Rev. C. M. Cope, a Baptist minister who, it is alleged, "tips" those bringing him wedding couples.

For the past year Clerk of the Circuit Court, S. Ralph Andrews, and his deputy, C. Ellis Deibert, have been waging a war on the "marrying parson" but an injunction was sought to prevent Clerk Andrews and his deputy from directing couples to the homes of the ministers who are assigned to churches in the town or county. The testimony in the injunction case, having been completed, the court will set a day to hear argument by attorneys engaged in the case.

Should the court deny the injunction it will mean that those engaged in the jitney business, street runners

Cecil Post, No. 15, American Legion, of Cecil County, will run their fourth annual excursion from Chesapeake City to Riverview Beach on Thursday, August 16. Boat leaves wharf at 9 o'clock, a. m.

The North East firemen, under the direction of George W. Phillips, will begin the erection of booths and stands this week for their annual carnival, which will open in that town Friday, August 17, and closing August 27. A Marmon sedan will be given away the closing night. Valuable prizes will also be awarded each night on the grounds.

The Chesapeake City Firemen's carnival will open on August 3 and close on the 10th, with the award of a valuable automobile.

The Gleaners of the Elkton Methodist Episcopal Church will be entertained by Mrs. Harry W. Pippin at her cottage at Charlestown, Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The Willing Workers of the Elkton Methodist Episcopal Church will hold their annual outing at Betterton, Tuesday, August 7. Their families are also invited on this trip.

Charles Young, upper Cecil county, who has been held in Elkton jail with Powell Rakes, who is charged with the murder of Oscar Johnson, in Whittaker's barrens, near Theodore, last fall, because he could not furnish $1500 bond as a State's witness, has furnished the necessary bond. Young before he was released, found himself faced with another charge, and he is being held for a hearing. Young was with Edwin Hovory and Crosley R. Cox, of near Rising Sun, on the night of June 12 last, when Cox was shot and killed, and for which crime Hovory is under arrest. Young was also alleged to have been with Powell Rakes and Oscar Johnson last fall, the day Rakes is alleged to have shot Johnson.

The jury summoned by Coroner Howard W. Green, of Elkton, over the body of Malcolm McAuley, of Baltimore, who was killed in an automobile accident along Rising Sun-Conowingo road, near Porters' Bridge last week, met Friday night in the Court House in Elkton, and heard testimony of a number of witnesses. There were seven persons in the Ford car, all from Baltimore. It was driven by Reginald Thompson. He was arrested and has since been in the county jail in Elkton. The jury rendered a verdict to the effect that McAuley came to his death as a result of a fall from an automobile near Porters' Bridge, which resulted in a fracture of his skull. McAuley died in Union Hospital, Elkton. Thompson was released from custody after a hearing before a local magistrate and fined on the charge of reckless driving.

Quite a number of women in the upper section of the county have come to realize that they have been the victims of a pair of swindlers who have been canvassing the country selling silk bedspreads. The "salesmen" in visiting the homes of their victims take "orders" and obtain from $2 to $5 as a first payment. This, the imposters said, would be credited on the amount of their bill. The "salesmen" next visited Oxford, Pa., and were doing a big business, when the town officer took them into custody and brought them before the burgess, who ordered them to give back the money they had collected and leave the town.

Frank Jones, of Middletown, Del., formerly with the Delaware Trust Company, has been appointed cashier of the Chesapeake City Bank, to succeed the late Walter G. Pratt. Mr. Jones entered upon his new duties during the past week.

Services are in progress in a large tent on the Gilpin lot, on East High street, opposite the church house playgrounds. The tent services are conducted by Rev. William H. Vickers of Cambridge, assisted by musicians and gospel singers.

The Elkton Fire Company participated in the firemen's parade at Rising Sun Tuesday evening and they have also accepted an invitation to parade in the annual firemen's parade to be held at Newark, Thursday evening.

Louis H. Jones, real estate agent, of Elkton, last week filed a suit in the Circuit Court of Cecil county, through his counsel, Young, Settle and Crothers, and Henry A. Warburton, of Elkton, to declare a deed from William H. Brown, of Cecilton, to Cheney and Savage, null and void, and to compel an accounting for monies, rents and profits since the sale of the garage property in Cecilton. Jones claims William H. Brown placed the property in his hands for sale, and that he secured Cheney and Savage as purchasers, but that they refused to pay the price. Finally they made a deal with Mr. Brown for the property, and took possession, he contends.

This is to be a great event of the jubilee anniversary year in New Castle county. Valuable prizes will be awarded winners in sports and games. Brother Charles Simken, of New York will be the speaker of the day.

The stores which are participating this year will be known by having price cards and window cards of a distinctive color issued only by the Chamber of Commerce. These cards bear the emblem of the Chamber of Commerce.

A committee of the Mercantile Section of the Chamber has been working on the event for the past two months and every indication points to a sales event that will benefit the shopper.

NEW HUP MODELS

Rumors concerning future activities of the Hupp Motor Car Corporation received official confirmation today with the first public announcement of its 1929 Century models. A complete new line of both the Century Six and Eight is now in regular production and will be displayed by Henry F. Mote, local Hupmobile dealer as soon as shipment is received.

DuBois Young, president and general manager of the Hupp Corporation, announces that a large number of refinements and improvements are incorporated in the new design, full details of which will be made public when the consignment of new cars arrives.

"Hupp is taking an unusual step in offering its 1929 models while its present line of cars is still far from the peak of a demand which ever since last fall has been breaking all records of the company," said Mr. Young.

"In the eight months since the Century line was introduced, many of its distinctive features have been widely adopted by the industry and it is interesting to note that points stressed in recent announcements of new cars were featured in our 1928 product. Hupmobile has taken full advantage of the experience gained during the past eight months to improve our Century line still further and we are gratified to state today, as we did last October, our belief that Hupmobile is the best car of its class in the world."

Potato Survey

which had received the four applications put on by Mr. Mitchell. A like difference was also noticed on the potato vines in the field of Wilson Pierson. "The vines of the sprayed potatoes in both of these cases," says Mr. William, "were considerably greener and less dead than those of the unsprayed portions." These living vines will still help to mature the tubers and in this way increase the size and quality of the potatoes. The unsprayed vines will probably not yield as many potatoes as the sprayed ones.

There will be no potato tour this summer, although any person will be able to see a perfect demonstration on the value of spraying on the farms of John C. Mitchell and Wilson Pierson. These men will be glad to allow any person to inspect their potato fields at any time.
