Committees For Chamber of Commerce Appointed By President Geo. W. Griffin

Civic, Educational, Industrial, Real Estate, Mercantile and Agriculture Bodies are Named—Meeting on Thursday Night

President Urges Cooperation and Predicts Success

At the last meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, which was made President of the new organization and empowered with the right to appoint the following committees: Civic, Educational, Industrial, Real Estate, Mercantile and Agriculture.

At the time of this meeting Mr. Griffin was in Florida and was greeted with quite a surprise when he returned here to learn that he had been chosen to lead the local Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Griffin has since his return made a thorough study of conditions and the men best suited for the committees that he was empowered to name and has submitted the following to the committees to look after the affairs of the Chamber:

Civic

Norris N. Wright,
D. F. Fader,
Dr. Walter Hüllihen,
J. K. Johnston,
A. G. Wilkinson.

Industrial

E. C. Wilson,
B. S. Gallaher,
Edw. L. Richard,
George H. Stewart,
Lana Handloff.

Mercantile

James Hastings,
C. B. Dean,
Sol Wilson,
Dr. Geo. W. Rhodes,
Charles Strahorn.

the outlining of a policy and a method of procedure. Upon the attendance of the membership and its activity will largely depend the future usefulness of Newark's new Chamber of Commerce. Nothing now but Newark is this week's rally cry. Think up a good slogan for permanent use. Come out, be friendly and get acquainted with each other and see what good fellows we can be. We must grow first before our town can really grow. If you will turn out a hundred strong and bring everybody with you, signed up members or not signed up, you will be giving the new machine a kick-off that will point out the direction of the goal.

The meeting that Mr. Griffin makes mention of in his statement will be held Thursday evening, April 27th, in the fire house.

Educational

E. B. Frazer,
George L. Medill,
W. A. Wilkinson,
R. W. Helm,
J. P. Cann.

Real Estate

D. C. Rose,
Frank Collins,
John T. Shaw,
J. C. Willis,
William H. Evans.

Agriculture

Dean C. A. McCue,
John F. Richards,
R. G. Buckingham,
Walter Geist,
George E. Robinson.

These committees were named by Mr. Griffin only after he made a thorough study of the work that is expected of each of the committees and talked to many of the leading citizens and business men of the town. In regard to the committees named Mr. Griffin has the following to say: "It has not been feasible to interview all the gentlemen named on several committees, but it seems reasonable presumption, in view of interest they have manifested in the new organization, that they will respond to the first call to duty, and by their presence and advice in

The local Chamber of Commerce is still in its infancy but already it has made itself strong in the minds of the broad thinking people of the town. This resulted from the Booster and Dollar Days celebration of a couple of weeks ago. Although only about a week old a temporary committee took charge of this affair and made it a big success. If this is a forerunner of what the new organization is going to do for the town, and all the members claim that it is, it can plainly be seen that Newark is in for a boosting as a result of the efforts of its Chamber of Commerce.

Musical Club To Give Concert

Musical Event by Local Singers in Wolf Hall on May 4th

One of the features of the musical season of Newark will be the concert given by the Newark Choral in Wolf Hall, on Thursday evening May 4th.

This is one of the younger organizations of the town which got under way just before Christmas and which has grown steadily and now has a list of singers developed under leadership of Miss Dora Wilcox.

The club has been rehearsing for several weeks for this concert and the concert on that night will be among the best that the town has ever had. The feature of the event is that it will be held in National Music Week. The purpose of this week is to promote music of the better type.

Ph Turner, of Philadelphia, bari-ton will be the soloist of the evening.

CLAY DEMOCRATS ELECT COMMITTEEMEN

A meeting of White Clay Creek Democrats last night, William Armstrong and Miss E. E. Wilcox were elected members of the committee from the First district and A. Lewis Fisher and Mrs. Pool from the Second district. Christiana district will also elect a man and a woman member of the committee. Herbert W. Price presided at the meeting last night and S. Palmer was secretary.

Thieves Again Visit Buckingham's Store

Cigars, Cigarettes and Candy Are Stolen—Chamber of Commerce May Take Action

There is one man in Newark that is heartily in favor of more police protection for the local merchants and that is R. Gilpin Buckingham, who conducts a general store on Main street.

Within the past three months thieves have twice broken into his store and on both occasions have carried off more than $50 of merchandise. The latest robbery was committed either late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

That the thief or thieves who entered the store took their time in their work is evident from the manner in which they entered the store.

A window in a rear storeroom was first forced open by a "jimmy" or some other blunt instrument. This room is separated from the store proper by a heavy wooden door which was iron bar. To enter the room the intruders nearly tore the door from its hinges.

After entering the store the thieves went about their work in a systematic manner and took about 2500 cigarettes, about 1000 cigars, three five pound boxes of candy and about 6 cents, that they found in the cash register. Nothing else in the store seemed out of place and it is thought that the same thieves that have robbed Kilmon's, McKelvey's and Buckingham's in the past few months were again on the job. Every time there has been a robbery, cigars and cigarettes have been the thing that the thieves seem most anxious to obtain and always carry off.

Several merchants of the town stated today that they were going to bring the matter up at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow night in regard to obtaining more police protection for the town. When the town most needs protection under the present policing system there is no one on duty.

GIRLS FRIENDLY VISITS WILMINGTON

About fifteen members of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church went to Wilmington Monday night where they were entertained by the Girls' Friendly of Calvary Episcopal Church. The trip was made in a bus. Accompanying the girls were Dr. Edgar Jones, rector of St. Thomas', Mrs. Walter Layfield, Miss Hilda Emerson, Miss Elinor Harter and Miss Lily Getty. The Newark girls were royally entertained.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

In the lecture room of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on Tuesday night, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Manns presented an illustrated lecture on "Philippine Islands." This affair was given under the auspices of the Queen Esther Circle and was well attended.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Brown, of Newark, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Casho Brown, to John A. Howell, of Iron Hill.

RUSHING WORK ON LINCOLN HIGHWAY

Work was started yesterday morning on the Newark end of the stretch of the Lincoln highway leading to Roseville. The road is completed from Wilmington to Roseville and some concrete has been laid between Roseville and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The railroad has also started work on the overhead bridge west of Lumbrook under which the highway will pass. The work of grading was started yesterday morning near Dean's plumbing shop on the Newark end. It is expected that the entire work of both bridge and highway will be completed by August.

INFECTED FOOT

J. Herbert Owens, superintendent of the local schools is confined to his home with an infected foot.

NEW QUARTERS

The Blue Hen Tea and Gift Shop is now located in its new quarters at North College avenue and Main street.

Some For—Some Against New Time

Daylight Saving Has Friends and Enemies—In Effect April 30th

Daylight Saving has its friends and also its foes.

This is evident from the comment heard about the town since Town Council last week passed a resolution that will make Daylight Saving a law here starting April 30th. Although there was not a dissenting vote by the Councilmen on the resolution that will send the clocks an hour ahead on April 30th, several of the members did not vote.

There was hardly anything for Town Council to do but pass the resolution, inasmuch as the college and the local schools are going to operate on the new time and many trains of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads will be changed to comply with the new schedule of time.

New York, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Baltimore and many other cities and towns in this district will have the Daylight Saving again this year. Most of these places had this law in effect last year but Newark stuck to the "honest to goodness" time and as a result the town's many commuters found themselves reaching their work before they had really left home according to their clocks, and when they returned home in the evening, they found everyone else in the town ready, or gone out for the evening.

The members of Council who spoke in favor of the resolution giving Newark the new time used this as an argument of why the town should set its clocks ahead in keeping with the other towns and cities.

Had Council not passed the resolution at the special meeting last week it is probable that the townspeople would have found even a harder problem to overcome than last year for with the schools using the daylight saving time nearly every household in the town would be effected.

It is a known fact that farmers in the outlying districts are not in favor of the "manufactured time" but the working man with a garden is heartily in favor of it as it gives him an extra hour in which to work after he returns from work.

The younger people are also strongly in favor of the new time for it gives those who take part in athletic events an extra hour of daylight in which to play.

TRANSFERRED

Captain MacKenzie, of the University of Delaware, received orders this week to report in the Fall to the Infantry School at Camp Benning. No successor for the captain has yet been named.

RADIO-TELEPHONE

Faculty Club To Hear Talk And Wireless Concert

A demonstration and lecture on radio-telephony will be given before the Faculty Club on next Monday night.

Walter Dent Smith will talk on "The Modern Radio Telephone." An up-to-date radio telephone will be set up in the clubroom and a concert will be heard by those present.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

Dr. Jones Will Be Speaker at Next Meeting—Pupils To Sing

Dr. Jones, rector of St. Thomas P. E. Church, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association to be held in the High School on Wednesday, May 11. A special musical program will add to the interest of the evening. Brief reports of the State P. T. A. convention will also be given by the delegates. This is the last meeting of the year. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

SCARLET FEVER

There was one new case of scarlet fever reported here this week. This is the first case in several weeks.

INJURED

Floyd Hubert, one of the stars of Newark High School's baseball team, had his leg badly injured in the game with duPont High in Wilmington, last Friday.

Marshal Joffre, French War Hero, Greeted by Newark's Citizens

Train Bearing Famous Hero Stopped Here for Several Minutes on Monday Morning—Thanks Extended for Reception

About 2000 Persons Crowd B. & O. Station

"Marshal Joffre enroute to New York will stop in Newark at 11.49," was the message phoned by Agent Gallaher of the B & O on Monday. The news went like wildfire. Joffre, hero of France and the world. Joffre who stopped them at the Marne, coming to Newark. Tell everybody. Bring a flag. In half an hour, the whole town and country side had been notified and everybody felt the thrill of martial excitement.

Mayor Frazer was notified at once and arrangements were made for President Hüllihen to speak for the town and voice the greetings that everyone felt.

High School girls and boys, Grammar School and Primary with flags flying, Women's College girls, in files of four student cadets with band and colors, R. O. T. C., veteran heroes and soldiers who fought on French soil, professors, teachers, citizens, housewives—everybody seemed to take a holiday and why not? Here was a very Hero in very life who saved Liberty itself, perhaps. Certainly, an occasion for holiday and tribute!

Just how many persons gathered to greet the war hero is hard to estimate but it is thought that there were about 2000 persons present.

The Marshal and his party occupied a pullman observation car on the rear of a Washington-New York express train. When this train pulled into the station it went rather far up the platform and the crowd immediately surged along with the train. When the train finally came to a stop the Marshal attired in full military uniform made his appearance on the platform of his special car.

Among others in the party who were on the platform were Mrs. Joffre and their daughter, the Marshals aides Col. Issaly, Major Davey and Capt. Mallie, Col. U. S. Grant, 3rd.

the latter a grandson of General U. S. Grant, and several other United States army officers.

As the Marshal made his appearance on the platform of the car cheers were sent up by those present and the "Fighting Frenchman" waved his hand to those in the assemblage and smiled a real smile.

Through his interpreter the Marshal thanked the assemblage for the cordial reception extended to him and his party.

The school children of the town in the majority carried American flags which they waved as the General put in appearance and the members of the University stood at attention while the train was standing in the station.

A slip that marred the occasion somewhat was the fact that a welcome to this World Hero was not given. Greetings from Newark were handed him as the train pulled out, a time when Aurevoir, Adieu, Joffre and Vive la France would have seemed fitting and appropriate.

The written greetings given the Marshal follow:

"The people of Newark, its officers, its Public Schools, the Newark Post of the American Legion, and the several colleges of the University of Delaware, its Reserve Officers Training Battalion and the Vocational Rehabilitation Department, composed of Veterans of the World War, present cordial greetings to the distinguished Marshal of France who is honoring the United States with a visit, and extend to him their best wishes for a pleasant trip and a happy return to the great republic of France, recently our ally, always our friend."

A "Missal From Kells" was presented to Marshal Joffre by the Craftsmen Cleaves and Balling.

FIRE SCARE

Several Persons Lose Head When Fire Bell Is Heard

Persons who attended the minstrel show in the Opera House, last Friday night, were given a thrill when several persons in the audience started a rush toward the doors when the local fire apparatus was heard to go down Main street.

Just such incidents as these have resulted in panics and on Friday night there was no need of any such excitement as the fire to which the firemen were responding was over a square away from the Opera House.

When the fire bell first rang, several young men in the balcony of the theatre started out and made quite a noise. This was the start of many persons on the main floor becoming excited. It was not long before many persons got from their seats and started towards the exit, which caused the many persons to believe that the fire was either in the Opera House Building or in the immediate vicinity and one lady nearly fainted before being assured that the fire was on East Main street near Chapel.

MISS MAJOR SECOND

Local School Girl Shows Well In State Contest

Miss Mildred Major, of Newark High School won second place in the State Declamation Contest, held in Dover last week.

In the local contest Miss Major won first prize and in the New Castle County contest, she was awarded second place.

The local contestant received $15 in gold for her efforts in the State contest.

STUDENT LEADERS

The student leaders in the Health program at the High School this week are Evelyn Stoll, Florence Riley, Ida MacMurray, Olive Porter, Alta Crouch, and Elizabeth Cook.

The volley ball court in the rear of the High School has been completed and the students of this school have started practice on this new game.

Opportunity Offered Negroes in Delaware

Show Determination to Do Their Share to Gain Best School Facilities

A group of earnest-minded folk, coming from all parts of Delaware, assembled at Harrington on Saturday, to attend the first annual convention of the Colored State Parent-Teacher Association. One hundred and five delegates from the sixty-two associations registered during the morning, and teachers, parents and trustees swelled the group to approximately 300. That the colored people of the State are awake and determined to do their full share in bringing about the best educational facilities to be found for their race in any State of the Union, was strikingly demonstrated at the morning session, when brief reports of the activities in the various associations were given. Dozens of communities are hard at work, rounding out equipment in their new school buildings. Supplementary books, phonographs, fences, grading and the like are some of the things that the colored communities are furnishing for their school buildings. Dr. H. V. Holloway, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, addressed the meeting, insisting upon the importance of keeping the colored boys and girls in school, in face of what might seem an urgent economic situation. "No man is free until he has the power to read, and realize for himself the experience of those who have been successful in this world," Dr. Holloway said. "The State is providing the opportunity for every Negro child in Delaware to accomplish this; the parent must see that the child makes the most of it."

According to the construction under which the Parent-Teacher Association is now working, a colored chairman from each county is elected at the annual convention, to meet at least twice a year at the call of the State President for conferences in regard to P. T. A. work. The election of these chairmen, which was one of the features of the morning, resulted as follows: For New Castle county, S. Marcellus Blackburn, of Delaware City; for Kent county, J. Graham Scott, of Milford; for Sussex county, I. W. Howard, of Laurel.

Features of the afternoon session were addressed by Dr. Richard Watson Cooper of the Service Citizens of Delaware, and Professor John M. Gandy, President of the Virginia Normal and Industrial Institute of Petersburg, Virginia. Community singing, led by Miss Helen Henderson, director of the Junior Glee Club of the Howard High School. "The Negro race is on trial in Delaware," Dr. Cooper declared in his address. "Four things are necessary for good schools: Children present every day; good teachers; the proper kind of place in which to meet; and some central thought to direct it. Teachers in the Negro schools of Delaware are better trained today than teachers in the white schools, a condition which, it is believed, is largely due to the fact that the promising young women among the colored race have fewer temptations to high salaried positions in other fields. The colored children of Delaware are about to have the finest school buildings in the United States. Already 37 are completed and 26 are now under construction. The schools have a central thought back of them, the result of our present State Department of Education and supervisors, provided for field work. It remains for the colored parents to see that the children are in the schools. We are working toward a 180-day school year."

Professor Gandy talked on "The Influence of the Home." "The morality that a child carried about with him after he is ten years of age, is just about the standard that he has observed in the home up to this time," Professor Gandy said. "Teach your children by example and precept the value of courtesy, the value of the right kind of home conditions, in house furnishings, modesty in dress. The first thing that the colored man ought to do above all things is to get a home. No people can claim freedom until they own their own homes, and master their circumstances. If you have a strong body and strong hands there is no excuse why you should not own your own home. There can only be one reason if you don't. That is, that you waste your earnings. A good home is the fundamental condition of a successful life."

OBITUARY

WILLIAM M. GAMBLE

William M. Gamble, aged 74 years, who had been ill for some weeks, died at his home on Main street, Saturday night. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon with services at 3 o'clock in the Newark M. E. Church, of which he was a member, and interment in the M. E. cemetery. He is survived by three children, two sons Harry and Allen, who live in Indiana, and Miss Bertha Gamble, who made her home with her father.

The deceased was born in Maryland but had lived most of his life in Newark. He was a shoemaker by trade and conducted a shoe repair business up until the time he became ill. He had been a member of Oriental Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Newark for 30 years, and was also a member of the local Council Junior Order American Mechanics. The house in which the deceased lived is the only property between Depot Road and Harter Hall on the south side of Main street not owned by the University of Delaware. When the other properties were bought by the university several years ago Mr. Gamble refused to sell for the price offered.

William Stewart, brother-in-law of Mr. Gamble, who formerly lived here in Newark, died at about the same time as Mr. Gamble, at his home in Newport.

Y. W. M. S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Missionary Society will be held at the church Monday, May 1st, at 6.30.

There will be a supper and Mite Box opening.

Nearby Town Not in Favor of Daylight Saving—Community Association Active

The Christian Endeavor, of White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church, held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Othson, on Sunday evening. The next meeting will be held on Sunday evening, April 30th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ball, Milltown.

The Stanton Community Association held its regular monthly meeting in the Friends meeting house at which time the following officers were elected for the ensuing year, President, Charles P. Dickey; Vice-president, Wm. Sparks; Secretary, Mrs. Mary E. Dickey; Treasurer, Alvin Satterthwaite. The question of a new school building having two rooms was discussed; the present building is an old stone structure built about 1847 and is one of the first public school buildings erected in New Castle county. The necessary repairs to make it comfortable for the pupils for another term will amount to several hundred dollars. The Secretary was instructed to confer with the officials of the State Board of education in regards to the matter. The following were appointed to make the preliminary arrangements for a carnival to be held early in the summer: Wm. Sparks, Harold Mitchell, and Walter Hitchens.

It necessary, under the law, to increase their capital stock from $100,000 to $125,000, in order to take over and operate the Chesapeake bank as a branch institution. The stock will be offered to the stockholders at $75 per share, which is $25 above par. The institution is still being operated at Chesapeake City, but the legal transfer will probably not take place for at least a month. At present, however, it is practically a branch of the Elkton Banking and Trust Company.

Leonard A. Brown is attending a business meeting in Richmond, Va. Mr. Brown is a delegate of the employees' association of the A. T. & T. Co.

Miss Anna Geer, of Perryville, and Miss Edna Cleaves spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Neary, of Haynes, Pa.

Miss Gladys Taylor, of Perryville, visited Elkton friends on Saturday.

Minora Aoki, a native of Japan, and Miss Gertrude B. Steelman, of Collingswood, N. J., were married on Friday by the Rev. Daniel F. Lockert.

The Shore Transit Company which will operate a fleet of busses between Elkton and Salisbury, has made plans to put their busses on the route May 12.

Henry Wirt Buchella, assistant postmaster, and Miss Mary B. Cantwell, daughter of R. D. Cantwell of Elkton, were married Saturday evening at the Presbyterian manse by Rev. John McElmoyle.

As a result of the action taken by the New Castle Presbytery in which they claim that Rev. John McElmoyle, who has been supplying the Elkton church for several months, is causing them some disturbance, the regular Sunday services in the local church were omitted yesterday.

Captain David Perkins, U. S. A., who for the past year has been stationed in Elkton as drillmaster for the local militia has been transferred to Centerville, and will have extra duties in drilling the companies at Easton, Chestertown, Centerville and Elkton.

Mrs. Horace Corey, of Newark, N. J., was a recent guest of her aunt, Miss Emily Thomas.

Mrs. Charles S. Horn, of Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, was the guest of Elkton kin, Sunday.

The pupils of the first, second and third grades gave a very pleasing entertainment after which an egg hunt was enjoyed by all. The prize for the one finding the most eggs was won by Mrs. Wm. Sparks. The meeting then adjourned to meet Friday evening, May 19, 1922.

Diamond State Grange held a very interesting meeting on Monday night. The Law Enforcement came up for discussion. The farmers are opposed to the changing of the time as it causes them a great deal of inconvenience. With regards to the law enforcement week, the facts were brought out of the flagrant way the law is being broken every day with regards to the Volstead act and the following resolution was passed and ordered sent to the Governor and to Mr. E. C. Prettyman and given to the press:

Whereas, We are passing through a critical period in our history. The most difficult problem is to elect men who will enforce our laws. The Grange, National, State, County, and Subordinate have always stood for the enforcement of our laws.

Resolved, that we the members of Diamond State Grange, No. 2 P. of H. are in full sympathy with the movement of setting apart one week for the education of the people to the very important question of obeying and enforcing our laws as we find them. And we feel that our present enforcement officials are not doing their full duty in enforcing the Volstead act.

During the Lecture hour a very interesting program was rendered. On next Monday night the men will entertain and Delaware Grange, No. 46 will pay us a visit.

Stanton is showing signs of Spring, some new buildings are going up. Mr. Lourisen has started his house on the ground just purchased from Chas. P. Dickey. A new blacksmith shop has just been completed by Joe Kelly. This shop will fill a long needed want in this locality and Mr. Kelly is well qualified to do the work.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Dickey, and daughter, Elizabeth, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reynolds went to Baltimore with Doris Lodge, No. 9 Rebekah degree I. O. O. F., where they will confer the degree on a class of 100 candidates for Naomi Lodge, No. 3, of Baltimore. Misses Helen Dickey, and Ada Briggs spent the week-end with Miss Florence Roller, of Wilmington.

Memory Cheers Hero

Marshal Joffre—Newark in her heart welcomed you on your visit Monday. We welcomed you as a man. We welcomed the charm of your smile and personality. We welcomed you as the Hero of action in the world's greatest conflict. But we welcomed you most of all, as representing and typifying France. These hills and valleys hereabout have special and peculiar reason for special greetings and honor to you and your country.

As you stood on the platform the other morning, we remembered that just across the skyline, almost within your view, our own tri-color was dipped in its first blood of sacrifice and Truth. We remembered that just out across the hills, your own Lafayette came to us and drew his sword for that Truth so appealingly expressed in our Declaration of Independence. You stood in the very shadow of History linking your country with ours. Through the blur of emotion, we could almost catch a glimpse of the spirit of Lafayette himself mingling with us in our greeting to you. As he came to these hills and offered his all for our Ideal of Liberty under Law, so you, at the Marne, defended his work and the work of our fathers. You with the grandeur and dramatic sacrifice well becoming France, called with appeal and command that Democracy should live. And France answered with her blood and thereby guaranteed this day to you, to us and to the world. We remembered.

Little did you know how much at home you were among the hills of Pencader, White Clay and Brandywine. For here it was that these hills welcomed first your Lafayette and these hills welcomed first your Lafayette and this we remembered, yet you knew it not. And we shall remember always. As you answered our call, so we greet you joyously and pledge our faith to you and yours.

Vive la France!

Meeting of Chamber of Commerce

President Griffin of the Chamber of Commerce announces in this issue, the personnel of the various committees and issues call for a meeting on Thursday night. This will be the President's first meeting and every member should show his practical as well as his moral support by his presence.

Mr. Griffin has just returned from a sojourn in the South and has no doubt picked up some ideas that will find expression in his Inaugural. George Griffin has the knack of keen observation, and a happy faculty of expressing his experiences and philosophy. He is right well appreciative of the honor bestowed upon him in his absence. He is right, too, in asking and expecting the support of those who so generously gave him their vote. His election was unanimous and if support is thus equal, the new community organization can become an effective force for worth while things. There are many things glaring at the organization for attention and the work can start none too soon. There will be and should be discussion. By striking a general average of opinions, a policy of work can thus be outlined.

So then, this is notice, and invitation, to all who are interested. Let us hear and be heard to the interest of this old town and determine to give something of ourselves in making it a little better for us having lived and enjoyed the privileges inherited and provided.

Women Getting Busy

The action of the women in politics so far this year promises a change in the conduct of the campaign. If they enter the primary contests and express themselves, the personnel of the delegates to the Convention will be decidedly different from that in the past. Women of both parties and those active in the League of Women voters insist that they expect to have a voice in the selection of candidates. This is fine if they work while they insist. They do not even begin to sense the power that is theirs and the old line politician is working as never before to teach them the tricks of success. Only by so doing can he remain in power. Once the women really get on to him and his "close communion" methods, they will set to work to clean up. And when they so decide, they need have no fear for their numbers and the aid and encouragement they will receive from the rank and file of men, Success is theirs. And this old State will begin to come into its own.

Your Newspaper and You

H. B. R. Briggs, Editor of the Denver Express, in a talk before the Optimists Club the other day, while claiming some credit for good for the newspapers and admitting certain defects, told his audience that "the public was much to blame if the newspapers were not what the people wanted. He said in part:

"Your newspaper is a complex, hybrid sort of animal—a cross between the ordinary business firm and a public utility. As a business it gathers raw materials (sometimes extra raw) and fabricates them into a product. It markets that product. It must, like every other business, keep out of the 'red ink.' It must be a going concern—or it's a gone concern.

"But added to that is its public utility phase. For its true success—to reader and advertiser alike—is not manufacturing, selling and financing. It is—or should be—service.

"For the reader, it takes the place of the old town crier, village gossip and royal proclamation.

"It is the well-informed acquaintance who tells you what's happened, adds some temperate, well-considered comment, cracks a joke or two, visits with the rest of the family for a few minutes and goes on its way.

"Its relation to the advertiser is again a matter of simple, courteous service. It introduces him to the reader. In effect, it suggests to Mr. Reader that Mr. Advertiser has a business proposition he might like to consider.

"If the newspaper is an honest friend of Mr. Reader, it will not introduce an advertiser it knows or strongly suspects to be crooked. No more than you personally would introduce a crook to a friend.

"This simple introduction is all an advertiser pays for or has a right to expect. The old days of a pair of suspenders with a suit of clothes are gone.

"And the advertiser who seeks to suppress news or have a voice in editorial policy is headed for very definite negative enlightenment—if he tries it with an honest newspaper. Very few do.

"Blame yourselves if you don't like the kind of newspapers you have. A city's newspapers are the composite reflections of its citizenship, past history, and present development.

"You can have any kind of papers you want. If you prefer seven buckets of blood and a fragrant spray of scandal—why, help yourself!

"If you want something better, encourage those who are trying to give it to you.

"You are complacent when a newspaper switches its policy, between editions, on some important political or industrial question, but you damn it roundly if it disagrees with you honestly on some such question.

"One of the worst results of the war was the wave of hysterical, un-American intolerance. Applied to newspapers, it works out this way:

"Depending on your personal bias, a newspaper is either 'owned body and soul by Big Business' or 'catering to the terrible tide of Bolshevism, red flags and pink whiskers.'

"Bunk, either way!

"Critique your newspapers, with constructive criticism. Help them with your suggestions. They are not responsible for the entire moral uplift of the community, you know. Some of it rests on you!"

Head, Heart and Hand

Some one has said that Art is the beautiful way of doing things. Things done beautifully necessitate the Head, the Heart and the Hand. In our triangle making up our imprint are found the three H's which inspire our work and lead us on.

Read what old Ruskin says:

"Fine art is that in which the hand, the head, and the heart, of man go together. Recollect this triple group; it will help you to solve many difficult problems. And remember that though the hand must be at the bottom of everything, it must also go to the top of everything; for Fine Art must be produced by the hand in a much greater and clearer sense than Manufacture is. Fine Art must always be produced by the subtlest of all machines, which is the human hand. No machine yet contrived, or hereafter contrivable, will equal the fine machinery of the human fingers. Thoroughly perfect art is that which proceeds from the heart, which involves all the noble emotions; associates with these the head, yet as inferior to the heart; and the hand, yet as inferior to the heart and head; and thus brings out the whole man."

"Good Roads, Flowers, Parks, Better Schools, Trees, Pure Water, Fresh Air, Sunshine and Work for Everybody."

JOURNALISM

"Journalism—the greatest profession there is in this world for the man with a brain and a heart. The lawyer can serve country only occasionally. But the journalist every day. The minister's message gets itself uttered once in seven days. But the journalist's seven times—line upon line, precept upon precept. No other profession gives a man such an opportunity. And no other nation gives the journalist such an opportunity as ours does. And our country never gave him such an opportunity as now. Could I make it stronger?—A man has no more right to sell his influence as a writer than he has to sell his vote as a voter."—From the address of William Jennings Bryan to the Students of the Medill School of Journalism.

GREATNESS WITHIN REACH OF ALL

Greatness of soul consists not so much in mounting and in pressing forward as in knowing how to range and circumscribe one's self; it takes for great everything that is enough, and shows its stature by preferring moderate to eminent things. There is nothing so beautiful and so legitimate as well and duly to play the man; nor science so arduous as well and naturally to know how to live this life of ours; and of our maladies the most wild and barbarous is to despise our being. * * * For my part then, I love life and cultivate it such as it has pleased God to bestow it upon us.

—Montaigne.

NEW WAYS AND METHODS ALWAYS OPPOSED

In nine out of ten offices or shops let some one propose that a method or process be radically changed and what happens? The suggestion is immediately opposed by almost everyone. Instead of an attitude that says, "Well, let's try this new way, perhaps it is better than the old one," there is a flood of reasons why it cannot possibly be practical.

The habitual attitude of most human beings is resistance to change. That is why no industry has ever revolutionized from the inside. There are few exceptions.

Consider the steel industry. The Bessemer method of making steel was invented by a man whose earlier inventions had been a new way of printing revenue stamps, a new method of producing gold paint, and an improved cannon. The open hearth process of Gilchrist and Thomas was invented by two young chemists.

In the textile industry the first revolution was brought about by the power loom—and the power loom was invented by a doctor named Cartwright.

The cotton gin which revolutionized cotton weaving was invented by Eli Whitney, a lawyer.

Richard Arkwright, whose spinning machinery was epoch-making, was a barber.

James Hargreaves, whose spinning jenny increased the output of cotton thread eight times over, was an illiterate hand spinner. He was driven out of Lancashire and his machinery destroyed by fellow-spinners with closed minds.

Joseph Marie Jacquard, who invented the loom that bears his name, and revolutionized the weaving of silk, was a book-binder.

Every innovation makes its way against opposition.

The world is flux. Nothing stands still. Nothing is fixed. Everything is in process of becoming.

Life is a series of adjustments and success is adaptation.

This is the lesson of all history. Those who cannot or will not adjust themselves must be snuffed out. It is pitiless, perhaps, but it is true. Nature has no place in her scheme for the closed mind.

There is, of course, no mind that is absolutely closed—and there are a few closed minds that were always as impervious as they ultimately became. Closed minds, like everything else, are relative. But in a general way it may be said that most minds are closed to all but a small range of adaptations. Mediocrity is simply another name for this condition. Genius, on the other hand, is no more than open-mindedness.

WHY PRINTING AT KELLS IS AN ART

A great deal of the joy of life consists in doing perfectly, or at least to the best of one's ability, everything which he attempts to do. There is a sense of satisfaction, a pride, in surveying such a work—a work which is rounded, full, exact, complete in all its parts—which the superficial man, who leaves his work in a slovenly, slipshod, half-finished condition, can never know. It is this conscientious completeness which turns work into art. The smallest thing, well done, becomes artistic.

William Matthews.

WHAT DO WE PLANT?

What do we plant when we plant the tree?
We plant the ship, which will cross the sea.
We plant the mast to carry the sails;
We plant the planks to withstand the gales—
The keel, the keelson and beam and knee;
We plant the ship when we plant the tree.

What do we plant when we plant the tree?
We plant the house for you and me.
We plant the rafters, the shingles, the floors,
We plant the studding, the laths, the doors,
The beam and siding, all parts that be;
We plant the house when we plant the tree.

What do we plant when we plant the tree?
A thousand things that we daily see;
We plant the spire that out-towers the crag,
We plant the staff for our country's flag,
We plant the shade, from the hot sun free;
We plant all these when we plant the tree.

—Henry Abbey.

HATCHING EGG BUSINESS YIELDS TO DAY-OLD CHICKS

Apparently the hatching-egg business has reached a stage where it is incomparable with the day-old-chick business—the egg producer finds greater profit in producing chicks rather than trying to reach customers through the usual channels.

Contract hatching-egg producers, on the other hand, find their industry very much more lucrative than formerly, due to the greater demand for baby chicks.

Because of the establishment of the chick business on such enormous scales and the accuracy with which hatching is done by the big hatcheries, the competitive value of hatching eggs has reached a decidedly obscure position and will remain in that position for many generations to come. Every year improvement in hatchability goes on, and the contract hatching-egg producer is getting out a better product as the result of research work along these lines. Of course the improvement is small as yet, but education are doing wonders in bringing about better eggs of greater hatchability. Fertility does not figure so much now since hatchability is recognized as a factor in chick production.

Fertility and hatchability testing is now a part of the big producers' pre-season work, and conditions are re-altered as a result of the pre-season tests. Small incubators are used in many cases for these tests. One section of a mammoth machine is frequently employed, but no matter how tests are made, the results determine the course of the test, and such changes in care and feed, conditions and environment, are made as will increase to a profitable normal hatchability.

BUILDING A NEWSPAPER

"A newspaper cannot be built up in a year. Like a man's life, it is a matter of slow growth and development. Look over your exchanges and you will find that all the successful ones—the leading papers in every town—have long been run under one management. It is so the world over. Money alone can no more create a newspaper than it can suddenly get for a man a new character."—Congressman Guy N. Hardy.

Newark has a fluctuating rency—the races are on.

Havre de Grace has one thing—it transfers our poker interests.

Between poker and racing, give us the track—hoss is natural and something thoroughbred.

Funny isn't it, a man drop a cool hundred to a sportsman and smile. He's a sportsman. Then he'll kick on a tax. He's a poor citizen.

Just as ink is thicker than water, so the printed writing a man mean more than a corner gossip.

It is understood that immediately it was learned that the literary Sherlock Holmes was on the Dover Post Office everybody ran for cover. Sleuth found that some one the Wilmington Gas burning.

The fire that Coleman was to watch is not at the Willard but the Gas jet.

Delaware would be interested in an interview with Boris Delaware's Congressional delegation when he comes to Newark at Commencement.

Won't some one S. O. S. lard Saulsbury? Not that we are Democracy is looking him to appear but what a Silence scheming?

Ruby Vale, "Sim" Pennock Coleman duPont, Willard Saulsbury, Andy Gray, Henry Judge Boyce, "Cale" Lee, "Tom" Miller, Harry Grant William Valliant—pick a winner. Havre de Grace isn't a circumstance.

Senator Bull has nothing to say on the Dover Post Office. Why the sudden silence?

Would that Delaware be Roosevelt now!

Joffre came. He, who was once stopped the German the Marne, completely flustered Newark. Everybody rendered, awed into an awkward silence. Honest now it's funny. We acted like an awkward bare-foot kid down Sussex when the wye came. We stuck our toes in the ground, twirled our heads and grinned.

"Smile and the world is with you; frown and you get of business."

I love the man that can in trouble, that can get strength from distress, and brave by reflection. To business of little mind shrink; but he whose heart firm, and whose conscience proves his conduct, will put his principles unto death.—Paine.

EXPLANATION ACCEPTED

"How fast were you going?"
"Your honor, I was just crawling along."
"It's rather curious that most of the people who are charged in this court with speeding say they were 'crawling along.'"
"Your honor, I'm a professional aviator. An ordinary observer might have thought that my car was traveling at high speed, but to me it was crawling."
"Ahem! I understand your point of view exactly, and out of respect to your hazardous profession, where speed is essential to safety, I'll fine you $25 for crawling."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Proper Tools Aid In Cultivation

Implements of Good Quality Do Better Work and Last for Long Time

The need of good farm, lawn and garden tools is greater today than ever before, for many farmers and gardeners have been unable to replace their wornout equipment since the war.

In making replacements, bear in mind that quality should be the first consideration; for good and economical work cannot be done with poor tools. Therefore, my reader, select the best hardware shop or seed house in your city or town where you know that tools are implements of the best quality and manufacturer are kept.

Patriotic duty during the world war inspired many amateurs to plant a home garden and while some of these were only a partial success, it was to many people the first introduction of vegetables fresh from the garden to the table and as a result home gardening continues to develop. With this in mind, give special attention to the production of the best varieties of vegetable plants and roots and in order to accomplish this you must have the proper tools for preparing the soil; otherwise, your labor is lost as no seed, plants, shrubs, etc., will produce results unless the soil is properly fertilized and cultivated for their particular needs. I will suggest the best tools for your use, particularly for the inexperienced or amateur gardener.

Pruning shears for bushes and shrubs, long-handled pruners and saws for trees and spraying outfits to safe-guard against bugs, worms, and

Fruit Crop Hit Hard By Frost

The Cold Weather of the Past Few Nights Plays Havoc—
Ice on Several Occasions

Unless the temperature starts to climb, the fruit crop of Delaware will soon be in about the same condition that it was last year. It will be remembered the cold nights of the early Spring last year caused the loss of many thousands of dollars to Delaware fruit growers when the blossoms on the trees were frozen.

This year the weather warmed up, the trees broke into blossom and were getting along nicely when within the past week or ten days the nights have been so cold that there has been several frosts and on several nights there was ice. On these nights it had generally rained and trees and blossoms were thoroughly wet and easily frozen.

About 30 per cent. of the expected fruit yield in Delaware has been killed by these cold nights according to a statement made yesterday by Dean C. A. McCue, of University of Delaware. The Dean has been making an investigation of the fruit trees in the past few days and has reached the above conclusion and of course this percentage will go higher unless the weather starts to get warmer in the next few days.

It is still too early to make any final judgment as to the effects of the frost, Professor McCue said, but it is an absolute certainty that harm has been done. Some farmers, however, have expressed the belief that the quality of the fruit this year will be greatly improved because of the smaller number of apples, peaches, etc., that will have to be nourished by their respective trees.

Secretary of State Alden R. Benson of Dover said this week that an inspection of the fruit trees on his farm has led him to believe that only the early strawberries have been injured seriously. The majority of the buds on the apple and late peach trees, as well as the cherry blossoms, do not seem to have been injured or killed, he says.

It is quite likely that Sussex county will be the section of Delaware to sustain the greatest loss from the effects of the cold weather, because of the fact that early strawberries comprise one of the main products of that county. These, it is said, are now in bloom, and the tender blossoms could not have escaped serious injury by the frost.

Late strawberries for the most part have not yet blossomed, and where this is the case no harm has been done the plants. The majority of the peach trees are too far advanced to have been seriously injured by the frosts, but those that are now in bloom have suffered the loss of about 30 per cent. of their buds, according to the general estimate. This has been the fate also, it is believed of other fruit trees that are in full bloom now.

Reports from various parts of Kent county Monday morning indicated that the heavy frost of the past few nights has seriously injured the varieties of strawberries which were out in full bloom the first part of last week. So far, grapes have not been seriously affected. Peaches, apples and pears are believed to be but slightly injured.

CLUB ORGANIZING

Boys' and Girls' Pure Bred Dairy Cattle Club

The fourth Boys' and Girls' Pure Bred Dairy Cattle Club of New Castle County is now under organization. This club is under the direction of the New Castle County Farm Bureau and the Extension Department of the University of Delaware. A. D. Cobb, State Club Leader, and R. O. Bausman, County Agricultural Agent, are giving it their personal attention. There are now over eighty boys and girls of New Castle County enrolled in the dairy clubs. This is the largest number of dairy club members afforded by any one county in the ten eastern states.

As soon as the enrollment in the club is complete, County Agent R. O. Bausman will personally select a car load of well bred pure heifers and be responsible for each member receiving a high class dairy animal. Every member is required to own his own heifer and be responsible for her. This feature is made possible through an arrangement with local banks.

Keen competition is always in evidence at the club shows held in the fall. Champion heifers are taken to the State Fair and club members consider it a rare honor to have their animals form a unit of the Farm Bureau and County Exhibit at the State Fair.

Results obtained with many of these club heifers could be object lessons for many of the practical dairymen of the County.

Now is the Time to Build

Not since the outbreak of the war have building conditions been so favorable as right now.
Prices of material are at the low mark and will probably advance instead of decline. At least this is the opinion of national observers. Labor is easy to get and prices reasonable.

Get your plans outlined and let me go over them with you. I can save you money by a suggestion here and there. But I will not interfere with your ideas. It must be your house — not mine.

That is the secret of what success I have had.
The man who lives in the house is the one to sat-

ON THE SPORT FIELD

Newark Opens
With VictoryLocals Beat Five Points in
New Castle County League
Game—Watkins Stars

Playing a brand of baseball that would have done credit to big league teams the Newark and Five Points teams started the season in the New Castle County Baseball League, at the late place on last Saturday.

The big feature of the game was the fact that the local nine came out with a 3 to 2 victory. The game went twelve innings and the large crowd that was on hand was treated with some excellent baseball.

Many local fans went to Five Points to see the local team in its first game and they all agree that Manager McCutley has gotten together an excellent bunch of ball tossers. When the fact is taken into consideration that the team was unable to get in a practice last week and that there were only two practices held before the opening game, the team must be handed a lot of credit for the manner in which it played against the Five Points team which was in the league last year.

The real star for the locals was Watkins who did the twirling and can this lad keep going in the manner he worked Saturday there is no doubt that Newark is going to be fighting for the old bunting all through the season. When a pitcher goes twelve innings and only allows three hits to a team including in its line-up "Brookie" August, "Zekie" Strawbridge, "Doc" Doherty, and "Pat" Strawbridge, of Wilmington, it can be plainly seen that he was doing some pitching. An idea of the manner in which he worked can be gleaned from the fact that in the tenth inning he walked the first batter, who immediately stole second, and then on twelve pitched balls he fanned the next three batters. The hardest "knocker" will admit that that is pitching.

Elmer and "Billy" Jackson also starred in the game and the catch made in center field by the former was of the circus variety. Jackson probably saved the game for the Newark nine in the early innings when he took a line drive from the bat of a Five Pointer and doubled a man off third unassisted. In the twelfth inning Hopkins also made an unassisted double play.

Doherty, third baseman of the Five Point team, made a wonderful catch in the first inning when he jumped a hedge in back of third base and caught a foul fly.

Ash who twirled for Five Points also worked well and although he was touched up for eight bingles he kept them well scattered.

The local team hopes to carry its winning streak to two straight on Saturday when Delaware City will be played.

YOUTH IS SERVED

Old Timers in Athletics Are Forced Back

Youth is certainly being served these days. The astounding array of young athletes bursting into bloom in all parts of the country indicates great things for athletes in a few years. If the youthful Weissmuller, Houser, Jones, Collett, Wainwright, Riggins, Richards and others are able to accomplish record achievements at the present time, what will they be able to do with a little more strength and experience that a few years are sure to bring? Johnny Weissmuller, the Chicago boy, is only 17 years old, yet he is already the greatest swimmer that ever touched the water.

He has already made 18 or so world's records at various distances and styles, and this is his first season out. Before he is 20 this young wonder should hold every existing swimming record up to 10 miles. Swimmers, as a rule, improve up to the age of 30, so the possibilities of this modest youth are unlimited.

Last year Bud Houser, a 17 year old high school boy from southern California, defeated Pat McDonald for the national shot putting championship with an astounding heave of about 48 feet. Wait till he grows up.

Young Vincent Richards, who has been performing miracles on the tennis courts for several years is not 20 year old yet. About a week ago he defeated R. Lindley Murray and Bill Tilden on successive days for the indoor championship. Richards has defeated Tilden, the world's champion, on one or two previous occasions. He should improve with age and strength.

BLUE AND GOLD

TRACKMEN WIN

Local Runners Beat Stevens 74 to 38
In First Dual Meet of Season

Delaware track team completely overwhelmed Stevens in a dual track and field meet at Hoboken, N. J., Saturday. The Delaware team scored a total of 74 points against 38 points scored by its opponent. The Blue and Gold cinderpath artists won ten first places, and in five of the events Stevens was unable to place a man.

Pitman captured first honors in two events for Delaware, finishing first in the 100-yard dash and duplicating again in the 220-yard dash. McDonnell was only forced to go 9 ft. 6 in. in the pole vault in order to win.

The Stevens' athletes were best in the middle-distance events, capturing first honors in the half mile run. Delaware's opponents shut out the Newark athletes altogether in the shot put. Summaries:

100-yard dash—Won by Pitman, Delaware; second, Fluri, Stevens. Time, 10 4-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Dodge, Stevens; second, France, Delaware. Time, 17 2-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Harmer, Delaware; second, Smith, Delaware. Time, 53 seconds.

One-mile run—Won by Christfield, Delaware; second, Airt, Stevens. Time, 4 minutes 56 3-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Won by Pitman, Delaware; second, Steel, Delaware. Time, 24 1-5 seconds.

880-yard run—Won by Wiggins, Stevens; second, Steel, Delaware. Time, 2 minutes 15 1-2 seconds.

WHAT SHE LEARNED

Barbara is a wee bit of a girl and recently has been attending the primary department of Sunday School in the teachings of which she manifests a deep interest. She has been most assiduous in her efforts to memorize the lines of Scripture explained to the young folks of her age and in this school in particular a badge of merit for learning the Golden Texts is a little metallic wrist band with a line of the text impressed upon the metal.

A short time ago when asked what she had learned that particular Sunday, the youngster having struggled with the Twenty-Third Psalm, waved her little arm aloft and proudly showing the bracelet lisped: "The Lord is my chauffeur!" — Dallas Journal.

U. OF D. BEATEN

The Delaware University nine visited Annapolis Saturday and was defeated by the Naval Academy team by a score of 13 to 4. Five errors and one bad inning when the Sailors put over 10 runs tells the story of the Blue Hens' defeat.

Kelley, who was on the mound for the Middies, did some wonderful work, allowing the visitors but five hits, but one of which went for extra bases. The Navy boys touched Rothrock and Ramsey pretty heavily and extra base drives came with ease. Rawlings, Hogan and Humphreys accounted for two base hits, while Neimer knocked out a circuit drive.

With the exception of the unlucky second inning when the Navy won the game, the Delaware boys played nice ball. In this stanza Navy marked up nine hits and were allowed but four the remainder of the contest.

The Case Farmer is a Good Farmer

A planter that is irregular in drop is not only annoying but a bad investment. It is a money question.

The Case planter is not a planter just by name but by experience of the best farmers everywhere.

Where Accuracy Means
Dollars to You

NO matter how good your seed corn—or how carefully you prepare the soil—you can't have a perfect corn crop unless your planter has a perfect drop!

We invite you to inspect the J. I. Case—the world's most accurate corn planter. We want to show you why it drops 20 more perfect hills out of every 100. Why it brings you 7 more bushels per acre.

Why it makes you $350.00 more profit for every 40 acres you plant.

This will place you under no obligation to buy whatever. You owe it to yourself to inspect this planter that pays its cost several times over the first year you use it! Come in any time—we shall be glad to show you point by point the mechanism of this planter. It's a wonder!

New Century Club Officers Installed

Last Meeting of Year Interesting—
Reports of Various Committees
Show Good Work

The New Century Club held its last meeting of the club year on Tuesday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock. After a short business meeting the following officers were installed: Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson, President, who was installed by Mrs. Hurd, a former president of the club; Mrs. E. L. Wilson, recording secretary; Miss Eleanor Harter, treasurer and Miss Edith Spencer, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Manns, first vice-president and Mrs. Short, second vice-president were unable to be present for the installation.

Mrs. Wilkinson thanked the members for their hearty support during her term of office.

Following are the reports of officers and committees for the closing year. Recording secretary, Mrs. Wilson, reported that there were regular monthly meetings held from October 4th to April 26th, with the exception of January 17th, which was a stormy day.

One special meeting was called by the President in honor of the President of the State Federation, Mrs. Boyer.

There were fifteen members taken into the club and four resignations. The average attendance was 37 and the highest number to turn out for one meeting was 70.

There were three meetings of the executive board and two joint meetings with the corporation.

Miss Eleanor Harter, treasurer reported a balance on hand from last year of $116.28. From club dues and other sources of revenue there was a total collection of $382.97.

Mrs. Houghton, reported for the Child Welfare committee, that rent of $15 had been paid for a family in need. The needs of seventeen families were investigated and ten homes visited of these eight needed no help.

The committee further reported that two families had been provided with shoes, rubbers, underwear and that the following items had been distributed to four families: coats, sweaters, trousers, dresses, wrappers, caps and shoes.

Mrs. Houghton also reported that toys had been distributed to twelve children and two new sweaters had been given to children and that there were two Christmas baskets and one basket of groceries given to families.

Mrs. McCue reporting for the Social Service committee showed that this committee through the Methodist Church had worked with the Good Will Industries of Wilmington and placed 50 bags for old clothes in Newark homes. The committee in co-operation with the Needle Work Guild secured twelve members, twenty-eight garments and $2.50 in money.

This committee also reported that a party was given to the members of the Rehabilitation School.

The Civics committee, through Mrs. Townsend reported that hot lunches had been served in the Primary School for thirteen weeks. Cups costing $7.35 were given to children and $5.94 worth of cups were sold. The expenses of this committee were $20.04 and $17.80 was collected.

Mrs. Perkins' boarding house donated $34 to this committee and there were other donations of sugar, cocoa, etc. Cocoa was sold to the school children at 3 cents a cup but in many incidents the children had only one or two pennies and they were given the cocoa.

Mrs. Foster of the Library committee reported that there was a balance of $296.69 last year. The library drive brought in $104.50, this with money from dividends, Liberty Bonds and memorials making a total of $647.45.

Mrs. Foster reported that the library spent $61.02 more for books this year than last and that the balance showed a gain of $92.54 over last year's balance.

Opera House Offerings

Marie Prevost will be seen at the Opera House on Thursday in the stellar role of "A Parisian Scandal," a breezy little drama of Paris and its ways. Tom Gallery plays the leading role opposite her and the cast includes Mac Busch, Bertram Grassby, George Fisher, Mme. Rose Dione, Lillian Rambeau, Lillian Lawrence and George Periolat. George Cox directed the production for Universal from Doris Schroeder's continuity of an original story by Louise Winters.

House Peters has perhaps more of an international flavor about him than any other prominent man of the screen. Mr. Peters is English born but has lived in Australia, South Africa, Canada, and finally the United States. Before coming to this country his acting was confined solely to the stage, and for some time he appeared in the spoken drama in New York. Later he went West to California and entered pictures. He is one of the highest salaried players in the industry. Mr. Peters will appear at the Opera House in "The Invisible Power," the Frank Lloyd Production, a Goldwyn release, which will run there for one day, Friday. This is his first appearance in Goldwyn films.

Once every five years there comes a great crook drama.

In 1900 there was "Jim the Penman."

In 1905 there was "Leah Kleschna."

In 1910 there was "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

In 1915 there was "Within the Law."

Now in 1920 comes Tod Browning with "Outside the Law," an underworld epic, starring Priscilla Dean and in which appear Lon Chaney, E. A. Warren, Ralph Lewis, Wheeler Oakman, Melbourne MacDowell and Wilton Taylor. Whether this will be another classic of crookdom, of course, cannot safely be predicted. But the favored few who have already viewed this Universal-Jewel feature film, pronounce it a smashing human drama, flavored with a romance of the underworld and the mystery of a terrific oriental justice. ## Reception Given Rev. And Mrs. Herson

Congregation of Local M. E. Church Show Appreciation to Their Pastor

At the recent meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Conference, Rev. Frank Herson was returned to the local Methodist Church for another year and last week the members of the church gave a reception to Mr. and Mrs. Herson.

Dean C. A. McCue presided at the affair which was largely attended. Since taking hold of the reins of the local church, Rev. Herson has made things buzz and the church is in an excellent condition. It was in expression of these things that the congregation got together and tendered the reception.

The address of welcome was made by C. A. Short, who told of the excellent work that Rev. Herson had done to benefit the church and said that it was a great pleasure to all members of the congregation to have Mr. Herson return in charge of the church again.

When Rev. Herson responded he thanked the members for their co-operation and told them that they through their willing efforts were able to make the work of the pastor really worth while.

The program for the affair follows: Address of welcome, C. A. Short; singing by the congregation, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds"; instrumental solo, Miss Olive Porter; recitation, Hannah Lindell; vocal solo, Miss Sallie Sweeney; instrumental solo, Miss Gladys Berry; vocal solo, Miss Davis; reading, Mrs. Manns; instrumental duet, Misses Gladys and Corinne Berry.

DR. SYMPHERD ELECTED TO EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Delaware Athletes To Be Governed By Middle Atlantic States Conference

Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, president of the Athletic Council of the University of Delaware, at the organization meeting of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference in Philadelphia, several days ago, was elected one of the seven members of the executive committee of the conference. Dean Howard McClenahan, of Princeton University was elected president of the conference.

The objects of the conference, as set forth in its constitution, are the promotion of harmony in all athletics among its members and the adoption of the highest ethical standards of athletic competition and control. The regulation of eligibility will be one of the first moves. One provision of the by-law will make it necessary after this college year for an athlete changing from one college to another in the conference to be a resident at the latter college for one year before being eligible to play on a Varsity team in any collegiate contest.

The institutions that have accepted the constitution of the conference to date are: Princeton, Columbia, Lehigh, Rutgers, Johns Hopkins, Swarthmore, Haverford, Franklin and Marshall, New York University, Muhlenberg, Bucknell, Susquehanna, P. M. C., Ursinus, Stevens, Gettysburg, and Delaware.

NEW TRANSPORTATION

Automobile on Railroad Tracks Passes Through Newark

Newark's citizens who happened to be in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot on last Monday morning about 10:45 o'clock were treated to a sight. It was a new gasoline propelled railroad coach.

The new style of car was built by the Brill Company, of Philadelphia, and was enroute from Philadelphia to Washington, with officials of the railroad company aboard.

This motor car will seat 35 passengers and has a small compartment for the operator. Those who saw the car were unable to determine just what it was at first.

The use of gasoline driven motor cars to replace the steam locomotive is being tried out by various railroads all over the country and is proving a big success.

LADIES AID SOCIETY

Interesting Program Presented at Monthly Meeting

The Ladies' Aid Society recently held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. H. McNeal. The meeting was opened with the singing of the hymn, "Saviour Lead Me." The scripture lesson was read, followed by prayer.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Rhodes, the leader, presented a very interesting program. A vocal solo was given by Miss Helen Davis. Following this, Mrs. Robinson gave an unusually interesting reading entitled "Patience." Mrs. Manns gave a humorous reading which caused much laughter and amusement. Miss Olive Porter gave a piano solo. At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Rhodes gave a reading. After the meeting was adjourned refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

SUPPER A SUCCESS

The supper and dance given by the Red Men's Band in the Armory on last Wednesday proved a big success and over 250 persons attended. The members of the band express their thanks to the merchants and friends who helped make the affair such a success.

MINSTREL SHOW

Diamond State Four Score In Baseball Benefit

A minstrel show for the benefit of the Newark baseball club was given in the Opera House on Friday night. Although the turnout was not as large as was expected those who did attend were well repaid, for the Jr. O. U. A. M. troupe of Wilmington, who staged the show had a clever cast and several good singers.

The biggest hit of the evening was the playing and singing of the Diamond State Four.

JUNIOR PROM

The annual Junior Prom of the Newark high school will be held in the armory Friday night.

MUSIC TREAT

Music lovers of Newark were given a treat on Saturday night when the Philadelphia Male Quartet gave a concert in Wolf Hall.

There was a large attendance at the concert which was given to raise money for the piano fund.

An excellent program was rendered by the singers.

WORK STARTED

Work was started this week on the new five and ten cent store to be conducted by Mr. Marritz next to his present location.

HIGH SCHOOL CONFERENCE

Nearly Every Town on the Peninsula Will Be Represented

The present indications are that there will be a representative from practically every High School in the State in Newark, on May 5th and 6th. On these dates the fourth Annual Meeting of the State High School Conference will be held.

This meeting will be held in the University of Delaware and an excellent program has been arranged.

The purpose of this conference is to bring the teachers of the various schools of the State closer together and to discuss points of interest to all the teachers.

Another feature of the meeting will be the interscholastic athletic meet which will be held on Saturday afternoon.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

There are unclaimed letters at the postoffice for the following persons: William A. Richards, Roscoe Cameron, James A. Miko, Harvey Huchison, Harry Mallory, Edward Larson, Esther Matthew, Mrs. B. Smith, Charles Soerth, C. F. Moore, Ethel Smith, Miss E. Messenmoth, W. M. Philhower, Millie Walker, Jennie C. Sparks, F. Hulfish and Elizabeth Johnson.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Monthly Meeting Recently Held

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Newark M. E. Church was recently held at the home of Mrs. George Ferguson.

The meeting was called by the president, Mrs. H. Warner McNeal, and opened with the singing of "Just As I Am." The devotions were in charge of Miss Tyson, followed by prayer.

Mrs. H. Williams, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. The enigmas were in charge of Mrs. H. Wright.

After reports from different committees the program was taken over by Mrs. John Moore, who was assisted by the various ladies present.

The topic of the afternoon was "Home Missions and the World's Work." Mrs. Thomas Manns gave a very interesting talk.

INSTRUCTION CLASSES

Instruction meetings for those who intend to be confirmed were started by Dr. Edgar Jones, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, last Friday. A meeting for the prospective boys and girls of the class was held in the afternoon and one for the adults in the evening.

General Joffre Hero Of First Marne Battle

French Marshal Who Stopped Off Here Monday Turned Tide of War

The sixteenth decisive battle of the world—the first battle of the Marne—was won by General Joseph Jacques Cesaire Joffre, commander of the French armies in the west during the great World War. Ending a series of disheartening retreats, after four days and four nights of incessant fight, he stopped 2,500,000 Germans and drove them back when they were within 30 miles of Paris.

"I mean to deliver the big battle under the most favorable conditions, at my own time, and on the ground I have chosen," declared Joffre to his generals. "If necessary I shall continue to retreat. I shall bide my time. No consideration whatever will make me alter my plans."

The onward sweep of the Germans through Belgium, Luxemburg, and Lorraine toward the French capital had reached high tide on September 5, 1914, despite the gallant defense of Liege, the stand at Mons-Namur-Charleroi and a counter invasion of Alsace-Lorraine.

Flushed with success, opposed by a numerically inferior force which had continually yielded ground, the Germans had every expectation of capturing Paris and, France once smashed, of turning their strength to finish the then menacing Russia. The French government, meanwhile, had moved to Bordeaux. Joffre decided to strike September 6, with fast and furious flank attacks, following the terrific frontal onslaughts of the enemy. The German right wing under General Alexander Von Kluck, checked by Joffre's unexpected and tremendous counter-offensive, fell back upon the Aisne river on September 10 and extended itself northward through Picardy, Artois and Flanders to the Belgium coast. Paris was saved and Joffre was acclaimed hero of France.

After the battle of the Marne, the Germans in the West took to the trenches and dug themselves in and then began four years of a new type of warfare in which every death-dealing device and artifice of human ingenuity was employed. Reconnaissance showed that at one time the trenches in the Western front consisted of 32 parallel lines, which with the communication trenches, aggregated 25,000 miles.

Joffre remarked: "We have only to keep the path we are now following to be sure of victory."

From October, 1914, to July, 1918, the long entrenched battle line from the coast to Switzerland remained almost stationary, although numerous terrific attempts to break through were made by the Germans, notably in Flanders, at Ypres, in the Argonne, at Verdun, between St. Quentin and La Fere, toward Amiens, at Chemin des Dames, between Rheims and Soissons and again at the Marne.

PRESERVING EGGS IN "WATER GLASS"

This Is The Season For Putting Away
Surplus Supply For Later Use

Fresh eggs stored in accordance with the following directions will retain their freshness of flavor and appearance for many months and will be found entirely satisfactory both for cooking purposes and table use. This plan is widely followed, but could, to great advantage, be generally adopted by consumers of eggs everywhere, in country and city alike. It would mean that every provident family could thus have good eggs to use freely in fall and winter at the low price of spring eggs.

The preservative is a solution of sodium silicate, commonly known as water glass. This syrup liquid may be secured from druggists and dealers in poultry supplies. In the country it is commonly carried by general stores. And many department stores in the city have a supply on hand during the season. In many cases it is sold merely as "egg preserver."

When purchasing a supply it is well to explain that the sodium silicate is to be used for preserving eggs in order to secure the proper grade. Certain commercial grades are too alkaline to use for this purpose.

The solution is made as follows:

Boil a sufficient quantity of water and allow it to become cold. Combine water and sodium silicate in the proportion of nine parts of the former to one part of the latter, by measure, stirring briskly to insure even mixing.

Place the eggs in suitable containers and pour the solution over them, covering the upper layer of eggs to a depth of one or two inches. Lay a plate on the eggs to prevent any from coming to the surface. Cover the receptacle tightly to prevent evaporation of the preserving solution. Store in a reasonably cool place and inspect occasionally to see that no eggs are uncovered as a result of evaporation. If this happens, prepare some more of the solution and pour it into the receptacle, covering the eggs to the depth specified above.

GARDEN DIARY IS VERY IMPORTANT TO BEGINNER

A gardener who is just starting out on his career as a raiser of vegetables, as well as the older gardener, should make it a point to keep some sort of a garden diary, even if it is no more than marking dates on the calendar. An ideal plan is to make a diagram of the garden on a sufficiently large scale to permit of notations of planting dates, maturing of crops and a record of mistakes and vegetables which did not thrive for one reason or another.

Notes should be made as to whether the planting produced more than was needed or less, so that another season the quantity of the particular crop planted may be increased or decreased to suit conditions.

An experienced gardener knows fairly well what he can expect but he generally makes a few notes. A new gardener will find that such a record will be of the greatest help to him. It is also useful to note interplanting schemes and good garden wrinkles employed by one's neighbors.

The plan should show where the perennial crops which are fixed quantities are located in the garden.

Hanark Theatre

Louis Handloff, proprietor of the new Hanark Theatre, has arranged a very excellent program for this week and announces that there will be a special matinee on Saturday, at which time children will be admitted for five cents.

The picture offered tomorrow will be "The Lone Wolf," the principal parts in this picture are taken by Hazel Dawn and Bert Lytell. These two stars have often been seen here as stars and one can imagine that it is some picture with the two playing opposite one another.

A picture that will drive away the blues will be featured on Friday when Mack Sennett's "Love, Honor and Behave," will be shown. This picture features the really funny man of the screen, Ben Turpin. "Nuff sed."

The story of mother-love supreme, "The Greatest Love" featuring Vera Gordon will be seen on Saturday. This picture has been a hit in all the bigger cities and Newark movie "fans" are lucky to have an opportunity to see it at popular prices.

One of the biggest pictures on the silver screen today will be shown on Monday and Tuesday when Douglas Fairbanks will appear in "The Three Musketeers." This is one of the really worth-while movies of the day and it compares with the regular movie like opera does with ragtime. Newark people will have a chance to see Doug at his best in this picture.

POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK IS OBSERVED

May 1 Sees Inaugurated First General Campaign of Kind in Service.

Without the Postal Service, business would languish in a day, and be at a standstill in a week. Public opinion would die of dry rot. Sectional hatred or prejudice only would flourish, and narrow-mindedness thrive.

It is the biggest distinctive business in the world and it comes nearer to the innermost interests of a greater number of men and women than any other institution on earth. No private business, however widespread, touches so many lives so often or sharply; no church reaches into so many souls, flutters so many pulses, has so many human beings dependent on its ministrations.

"Postal Improvement Week" has been set for May 1, by the Postmaster General. This is the first general campaign of its kind in the Postal Service for several decades. Business men and their organizations, large users of the mail, newspapers, motion pictures, advertisers, and the entire organization of 323,000 postal workers are to be enlisted in this country-wide campaign of interest in postal improvements. Your help is vital. Address your letters plainly with pen or typewriter. Give street address. Spell out name of State, don't abbreviate. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner of envelope (not on the back) and always look at your letter before dropping in the mail to see if it is properly addressed. This care in the use of the mails is for your benefit and speeds up the dispatch and delivery of mail matter.

If you have any complaints of poor service make them to your postmaster. He has instructions to investigate them and report to the department.

COURTESY

It sticks in human relations like postage stamps on letters. The POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT expects it to be used by its postmasters and employees in dealing with the public.

Help them in its use beginning with POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK, May 1-6, 1922.

THANK YOU

WITHOUT STREET ADDRESS
YOUR MAIL IS DELAYED
AT OFFICE OF DELIVERY

The Dead Letter Office has been in existence ever since Ben Franklin started our postal service. Even then people addressed mail to Mr. Ezekiel Smithers, "Atlantic Coast," and expected Ben to know just where Zeke lived.

Perhaps they had Zeke's address in letters up in the garret, maybe a chest full of 'em, but then it was easier to let Ben hunt Zeke. Today people are addressing letters to John Smith, New York, N. Y., or Chicago, Ill., thinking Uncle Sam can locate him, which is just as incomplete as was Zeke's address of yore. The Postoffice Department asks you to put the number and street in the address. It helps you.

Trinidad Col.

How do you expect the Postal Clerk to know whether you mean Trinidad, California, or Trinidad, Colorado? ALWAYS SPELL OUT THE NAME OF THE STATE IN FULL IN THE ADDRESS.

"MORE BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT"

This apt phrase was used in President Harding's first message to Congress and applies particularly in postal management where postmasters are being impressed with the fact that they are managers of local branches of the biggest business in the world.

HERE COMES A STRANGER!

Let's make our post office look neat, Mr. Postmaster. Straighten up the rural letter box, Mr. Farmer. Tidy up some, Mr. Rural Carrier. First impressions are lasting. Maybe Mr. Stranger, taking notice of these improvements, will come back, bringing you benefits. Start these with "POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK" May 1-6.

HUMANIZING THE POSTAL SERVICE

"There is no unimportant person or part of our service. It is a total of human units and their co-operation is the key to its success. In its last analysis, postal duties are accommodations performed for our neighbors and friends and should be so regarded, rather than as a hired service performed for an absentee employer." Postmaster General Hubert Work.

MODERN POTATO GROWING METHODS DOUBLE YIELD

Excellent records of potato yields in spraying and disease-free seed demonstrations have been compiled from reports sent in by twelve counties, by the agricultural extension pathologists at the Pennsylvania State College. Indications are that last year's records will be shattered in spite of the unusually poor growing conditions experienced during the last season.

Yields from twelve counties show an average of 246.6 bushels per acre for sprayed potatoes, an increase of 112.9 bushels over the unsprayed, or 78 per cent. The state average increase last year was 74.7 bushels.

Disease-free seed gave an average yield of 233.1 bushels in twelve counties, an increase of 96.5 bushels over home grown seed, or 69.8 per cent. Last year's state increase average was sixty-six bushels. It would appear that good seed and spraying will double the potato crop with proper attention.

EARLY CHURCHES

The first church building to be erected by the Colonists in America, was on Sunday, April 26, 1607. It was built in the center of the fort at Jamestown.

One of the first acts at Plymouth was to erect a meeting-house on the hill near the harbor, a large square building with a flat roof, on which were mounted six cannon.

Only four church buildings erected prior to 1700 by the Colonists are now standing. St. Luke's, near Smithfield, Va.; Ship Meeting-House, Hingham, Mass.; "Gloria Dei", Philadelphia; Old Swedes, Wilmington. ART 21

A FEW SUGGESTIONS FOR SMALL GARDENS

To get the most out of garden space arrange the plot so that a late vegetable will follow an early one, etc.; the following small garden lay-out is suggested for a space 15 by 25 feet.

Spring spinach, followed by bush lima beans.

Early beets, followed by mush beans.

Late carrots and swiss chard.

Early carrots, followed by late lettuce.

Onion sets, followed by mush beans.

Bush beans, followed by late beets.

Earl dwarf peas, followed by celery.

Early radish and early turnips.

Early dwarf peas, followed by celery.

Eggplants.

Early lettuce plants.

Tomato plants.

Early cauliflower plants.

Tomato plants.

Early cabbage plants.

Tomato plants.

Seeds are to be planted except where plants are specified.

Beets, carrots, radishes, onions and turnips may be planted in double rows, about a foot apart.

Prepare the soil by deeply turning under leaves, manure or other decayed vegetable matter. When sufficient growth warrants give top dressing of general fertilizer, just before a rain if possible.

Avoid getting any commercial fertilizer on the stalks or leaves of any vegetable.

TWENTY ANCIENT TOWNS

Wilmington in List and Is Older
Than Philadelphia

Following are the names of the oldest twenty towns in the United States and the years in which they were organized:

St. Augustine, Fla., 1656; Jamestown, Va., 1607; New York, 1613; Plymouth, Mass., 1620; Albany, N. Y., 1614; Penikese, Me., 1625; Salem, Mass., 1626; Boston, 1630; Baltimore, 1632; St. Marys, Md., 1634; Hartford, Conn., 1635; Providence, R. I., 1636; New Haven, Conn., 1637; Wilmington, Del., 1638; Chester, Pa., 1638; Newark, N. J., 1666; Trenton, N. J., 1674; Charleston, S. C., 1680; Philadelphia, 1682, and Pensacola, Fla., 1699.

It can be seen from the above list that our neighboring city of Wilmington is quite old and it will be a surprise to many persons that Wilmington is 44 years older than Philadelphia.

COLORS SCHOOLS COMPLETE

Seven one-room schools for colored children, which have been built by the Delaware School Auxiliary Association in Sussex county, have been turned over to the State Board of Education. The schools are located as follows: Blackwater, Friendship, Rabbits Ferry, Muddy Creek, Warwick, Warwick (Moors) and Hollyville.

The dedication of the two-room colored school at Delaware City will take place on Sunday, April 23. This affair will be an event of much importance to the residents of that town as Pierre S. duPont, through whose generosity the school, with many others in the State, was built, is expected to be present and take part in the dedicatory exercises.

Discs To Replace Girls In Stores

Electric Push Button Contrivance with Chutes to Deliver Goods Over Counter

The retail store of the future where package goods are sold will be a place of push buttons, slot machines and chutes, according to Dr. Van Antwerp Clark, engineer and inventor, who had a considerable share in the development of the machine switching apparatus for the automatic telephone.

Dr. Clark recently demonstrated to a few friends his latest invention, a machine that will deliver merchandise to customers by electricity, in New York City, says the Times. Operated by salesgirls in large stores, he says it will save the service of 65 per cent of the girls, and will do away with shoplifting.

The machinery is quite simple. Imagine stacks of goods lined up on the wall of a store, something like packages of cigarettes are lined up in the chain stores. Leading from these stacks are chutes which end at the salesgirl's or salesman's desk. At the desk is laid around what appear to be discs indicating each brand of cigarettes or other goods sold in the place. There is a push key to make the electric contact. Turn the dial to No. 5, meaning Jazzbo cigarettes, press the key and an electric pusher in front of the Jazzbo stack flings a package of the cigarettes into the chute and down it slides to the customer's waiting hand.

Owing to the shape of the spiral chute down which the package is propelled the acceleration is retarded in such a way as to deliver the goods at zero speed.

Now, suppose a customer wants three or four kinds of cigarettes. Contact is made with each disc, the key is pressed and out come three or four packages. Customers are not kept waiting and speed and efficiency are increased.

Another form of the same machine, says Dr. Clark, is one in which the customer waits on himself, dropping his coin into the opening provided and getting the discs for the goods desired. This machine provides a sample counter where the goods that are on sale may be viewed at the end of a chain to prevent shoplifting.

By means of an electric control, an arrangement for coin valuation is provided in the automatic machine so that a man making purchases of forty cents may drop eight nickels, four dimes or a quarter, a dime and a nickel into the machine. If a bogus coin of any magnetic or non-magnetic nature is dropped into the machine it will be ejected. All coins are examined on a score of fifty points by the machine before the goods are delivered. If a coin fails to correspond to one of the points it is rejected. The coin must be fairly perfect and of proper weight.

Goods can be delivered at the rate of six customers a minute from one control desk. The inventor says that any goods that can be put into a package, from needles to oatmeal or canned food, can be sold by the automatic method.

"When a cigar store closes at night, the manager can put into place at the door a separate vending machine that may have several brands of cigarettes or he may connect up a contrivance at the door with the entire shop," said Mr. Clark.

"Drop your coin into place, set the mechanism and you get your cigarettes. The delicatessen store may apply the idea to food of all kinds and the grocer to the many kinds of packaged goods he has for sale. Even drug stores might sell, after hours, some of the common household remedies that people are apt to need in a hurry when some one in the family is ill. The only limit of the machine is the intelligence of the individual buyer in using the machine."

SMASHED OLD SAYING, "IT CAN'T BE DONE"

George White Knew Things Could Be And He Made Millions

"If George R. White set out to do a thing he was pretty sure to come through, despite objections on the part of every 'expert' in the way," said one of his close friends in the Boston Post.

In 1864 young White was an office boy in an old firm of wholesale druggists in Boston. He kept the firm's advertisement scrapbook, but this was only one of his many duties. He really was taken in to be trained, later to take some of the burdens from the partners' shoulders. Still later, he headed the firm. Boston was the recipient of a $7,000,000 gift under the will of Mr. White. It is the largest gift of the kind Boston has received.

White was a poor boy, so to speak. He had a mother and sisters to aid in supporting. He was just an average boy of his time. He faithfully kept at his duties and gradually climbed up the ladder until, in 1878, he had been given a small interest in the business.

Then came his big opportunity. His early keeping of the firm's scrapbook had convinced him of the power of advertising. His firm had compounded a medicinal soap that possessed considerable merit, as well as a salve that old-time doctors found good enough to prescribe.

Young White became convinced that if a good name was coined for the remedies and an effective advertising campaign was put over, the public would realize the effectiveness of the remedies, which would find a ready sale.

In 1889 the firm had grown too big to be a mere partnership and it was incorporated. White became its logical head in 1890.

Mr. White persisted in smashing the old motto "It can't be done," into the discarded. When he bought his summer home at Manchester he told his architects he wanted to move into it the following summer. He specified how he wanted it remodeled. The architects threw up their hands. He had wanted the outside to be done in tapestry brick and limestone. No expense was to be spared.

"It can't be done," said the architects. "No possible way."

At this point White stopped them. He said he was not an architect, but all his life he had had to get things done. He had found by experience that there was a way around every problem. Did they want him to tell them how to do it?

Confident that White could not show the way out, they replied they would like suggestions.

"Build a wooden shell all around the house, put in portable steam boilers, heat the shell up and put the workmen on the job."

The architects gasped and withdrew. The shell was put up, the boilers installed and the workmen laid brick in the heated area all winter.

When the spring came the shell was knocked down and a beautiful residence was exposed to view. Hardly a native in Manchester knew what was going on all winter inside the "shell."

First to establish the $10.90 price—"Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x3½ 'Usco' is $10.90."

The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value.

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price

The same intent to serve that has made "Usco" a standard value for years.

The youth did not know, and seemed very ill at ease at not being able to give the information.

After riding for about three miles he stopped at an inn for some refreshment, and presently he was surprised to see the youth from the village come panting up, all covered with dust. "Are you the gent wot axed where this road led to?" he gasped out. "Yes," said the cyclist.

"Well," was the reply, "I asked my

INTERESTING LECTURE IN M. E. CHURCH

Former Prohibition Commissioner Speaks Before Local Audience— Law Enforcement Week

Before a good sized audience in the Methodist Episcopal Church on Monday night, John F. Kramer, first Federal Prohibition Commissioner spoke on "The Law, The Officers, The People." The speaker was brought here in connection with the National Law Enforcement Week which is being observed this week.

The address was an excellent one and Mr. Kramer told of many interesting happenings of the work of the Prohibition Commissioner and of some of the hardships he runs into through the lack of co-operation of the people to uphold the law of the country.

Rev. Ivanhoe Willis, of Marshallton, was in charge of the meeting and prayer was offered by Rev. George F. Newton, of Ebenezer Church.

Another feature of the meeting was the speaking of Dr. E. C. Crabbe, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, of Delaware and Maryland. This speaker urged all present to do all in their power to see that the law prohibiting the sale of liquor was enforced.

A speaker will be in the local schools on Thursday in connection with the Law Enforcement Week. Who this speaker will be has not yet been announced.

PLAYHOUSE

A cast of international fame will appear at the Playhouse, Wilmington, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, giving two exhibitions daily, starting at 3.30 and 8.20 P. M. in one of the most stupendous productions ever shown on the screen. Sela Hara, a girl known throughout the world for her beauty and charm, plays the lead in "Persecution," the wondrous play. Miss Hara has received letters of commendation on the artistry portrayed in the coming picture. Her acting is superb, and unquestionable is the work of one of the leading lights in the film world. Miss Hara plays the part of Esther, and so realistically does she act that one is carried away on the wings of imagination. The supporting cast is of equal importance, and helps to build the picture to its highest pillar.

GENERAL JOFFRE, HERO OF THE FIRST MARNE BATTLE

Five of the greatest German drives failing, the Allies found themselves in a position again to take the offensive in July, 1918, and the following October they smashed the so-called "Hindenburg Line," cleared the Belgian coast and advanced along the river Meuse, threatening all German communications and compelling the enemy to ask for the armistice which was granted on November 11, 1918.

Meanwhile, Joffre had retired from active command and had been created the marshal of France. After the first battle of the Marne, occasional Allied reverses cast a shadow upon the glory of the great French soldier. He had aroused enmities in the Chamber of Deputies by his dismissal of 14 generals and his replacement of them by younger commanders.

In 1917, a few weeks prior to the entry of the United States in the great struggle, Marshal Joffre and former Premier Viviani, as the heads of the French War Mission, came to this country and discussed with President Wilson and other officials America's participation in the war. They were enthusiastically greeted everywhere in their tour of the cities in the East and Middle West.

In 1918 Joffre was elected a member of the French Academy, thus becoming one of the "Forty Immortals." He was chosen on his literary record. His work was written on September 6, 1914, on the eve of the battle of the Marne in a general order to his army and read: "At this moment, when a battle is about to commence upon the result of which the salvation of our country depends, no one must look behind. All must unite to attack and repel the enemy. Any troop finding itself unable to advance further, must hold the ground at all cost and must fight until death. No retreat."

After the battle of the Marne, a friend remarked, "General, you have won the greatest battle of the ages." Joffre replied, "What I hope I have won is an early rest in my little home in Pyrenes."

THE MAIN THING

"My poor man," said the sympathetic prison visitor, "do let me send you some cake?"

"Thank you, mum. That would suit me fine."

"What kind would you prefer?"

"Any kind, mum," said the prisoner, lowering his voice to a whisper, "just so it's got a file in it."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

CRIMSON CLOVER IS LEAST COSTLY OF FARM CROPS

There is no farm crop south of Pennsylvania that can be produced at so little expense as crimson clover. Considering the season and the number of months it occupies the ground, the cost of seed, fertilizers and soil preparation as contrasted with the value of the crop removed and the effect on the soil, crimson clover is very profitable. The experience of hundreds of farmers is to the effect that crimson clover will produce a splendid crop of hay and leave the soil in a condition of fertility equivalent to applying twelve loads of stable manure per acre.

Crimson clover is especially well adapted to southern Jersey and the Delaware, Maryland and Virginia peninsula, as experience has verified. A seed crop of clover may here be removed in time to grow a crop of corn or late potatoes. Furthermore, the seasonal conditions will allow the clover to be pastured late in the fall, and then again early in the spring periods when other pasture is not available. Eastern soils vary from a stiff clay to almost pure sand, the sandy loam type predominating. Crimson clover has been grown successfully on all of these types, altho the plant will generally do better, other conditions being equal, on a loam soil.

Like other clovers, crimson clover is a heavy feeder of mineral plant food, phosphoric acid and potash, especially the latter. To soils lacking these elements in available form, there must be added some fertilizer. The general practice is to apply to the regular crop only, the clover feeding on the residue in the soil. Crimson clover appears to be a legume that is not sensitive to somewhat acid conditions. Reports about the benefit of liming this crop have consequently been contradictory as in so many cases of conflicting testimony, the information is handed on without analysis. The result has been that those who could grow this valuable crop with fair results and be parsimonious about lime have cultivated it with the help of a potash fertilizer; others have pocketed failure and turned to less valuable crops.

A little sieving of the evidence and application of horse sense would greatly increase the acreage and add to many a farmer's profits. Look at the testimony given. Crimson clover thrives in a loose soil and needs potash. Of course, it does. It is a legume with nitrogen breathing nodules on its roots. But the vital need for developing these nodules and the plant with them are to a degree contradictory. Natural soil aeration and therefore of root breathing are most favorable in loose or sandy soil. But available potash is usually scanty. Clay soils pack and puddle, choking root breathing, but they average high in available potash. A loam, midway between the two in texture, is favorable, but not necessarily sure, until it is proven by crop results or chemical modification, that the true mean has been struck.

The prime function of burned lime is that it crumbs sticky clay, in all soil combinations. The husbandman has in it the sure key to soil aeration and can control the root breathing of legumes to whatever degree is necessary for a full crop on any field. But the secondary of lime is that it liberates available plant food to the nutrient soil water, if it is there. If too heavy a loam is crumbed sufficiently with a chemically active lime, like hydrate, the yield is bound to pay.

DESCRIPTION FITS HIM

Charles Gibson tells us of a down-and-out who came into the railroad office with a tale of woe, not long ago, and tried to work him for transportation out of town.

"I came to Cleveland with good prospects three months ago," explained the unfortunate one. "I thought I could land a good position with a certain company on account of the work I'd done in my own town in their line. But they didn't know anything about me, and they turned me down. I took my letters of introduction to another firm; same result, I was some pumpkins at home, but they couldn't see me here. I didn't have no pull. Then I tried the railroads. I uster work in the deepo back there. But in Cleveland they didn't seem to think that amounted to anything. I wanna go back. Now, as I said, I uster be a railroader. Couldn't I git a pass?"
