COUNCIL ISSUES 7 BUILDING PERMITS

Approval For New Construction
Totaling $37,115
Given In Sept.

Eleven building permits totaling $37,115, largest going to George E. Brinton, for a $14,000 duplex house on Dallow Road, were approved by the Town Council at its monthly meeting Monday evening in the Academy Street offices.

Other permits for September were issued as follows: C. W. Keith, cement block garage, Continental Avenue, $500; S. K. Webster, cement block, two story garage, New London Avenue, $10,500; Vernon Comly, frame garage, 193 Chapel Street, $150; Harry D. Draper, outside stairway, 219 South Chapel Street, $25; Joseph Reed, one and half story masonry house, East Delaware Avenue, $350; Merle L. Taylor, cement block addition, 12 New London Avenue, $2,000; Harry E. Davis, enclose back porch, 50 North Chapel Street, $400; Harry D. Draper, bathroom, 218 South Chapel St., $400; J. Edward Doyle, outside cellar entrance, 324 Wyoming Road, $50; Leon Potts, freight room, 44 East Main Street, $590.

Town Engineer Cleaver Price's report listed installation of four new electric services with primaries extended to Center Street. Four new water services were also installed, and two leaks repaired. Four new connections were made to the sanitary sewer system.

During September, 15,982,000 gallons were pumped for a daily average of 532,760 gallons. This is a daily decrease of 46,111 gallons under the previous month and an increase of 1,270,000 gallons over August, 1945.

TOWN GETS NEW SOURCE FOR WATER

$13,000 Plan
For Emergency
Supply Started

A plan for furnishing the town with an emergency source of water which will virtually double the present supply was authorized by the Town Council at its Monday night meeting.

A $13,000 contract with the Delaware Water Company was approved under the terms of which the company agrees to furnish, when needed, up to about 600,000 gallons per day to the town, an amount approximately equaling the current town supply.

The source of the new supply will be the company's reservoir at Smalley's Dam, Christiana, and, under the contract, the company will install its own pipes to tie in with the town's water mains.

The new supply will be used principally as an emergency source, and the town will continue to rely on its own artesian wells for ordinary demands. The company's water has been subjected to the tests which proved it as sanitary as the present local drinking water.

The project was considered necessary in view of the fact that the town completely lacks an emergency supply, and a breakdown in the present system would result in acute disorder. Also, the plan was considered a foresighted move taking into account future town expansion, coupled with increased water consumption.

Reports Are Heard At Harmony Grange Meet

Center Grange, from Centerville, will visit Harmony Grange on Oct. 21. It was announced at a meeting of Harmony Grange held Monday evening in the Grange Hall. The worthy master, Norman Demsey presided. William H. Staudin, master of New Castle County Penons, Grange announced the presentation of the fifth degree on Wednesday evening at the Masonic Hall in Newport and the sixth degree on Oct. 16 at the Dover Public High School.

Mrs. Frank Cooper reported the proceeds of the recent covered dish supper totaled $28.18. A donation of $10 was made to the United Fund Drive.

The program was under the direction of the lecturer, Mrs. Walter Marshall. Taking part were: Mrs. Roscoe Walker, Mrs. Marvin Klair, Edgar Walker, Mrs. Sabine and Steele Atwell.

Town To Buy New $7885 Street Cleaning Machine

Cleaner and more attractive streets are promised for Newark as a result of a decision made by Town Council on Monday night to purchase a new $7885 Elgin mechanized street sweeper. The ultra-modern vehicle, operated by one man, sweeps and sprinkles streets and carts away debris in a single operation. Delivery, however, is not guaranteed before 14 months.

Once in operation, it is expected that Main Street can be entirely cleaned every day, while the remaining streets can be covered once every 10 days. Council members viewed a demonstration of the vehicle in Chester early this month and were highly impressed with its efficiency.

NEWCOMB IS VOCALIST AT CENTURY CLUB MEET

First Fall
Session Also Includes Film
On Gardening

A program of songs by A. A. Newcomb, of Smyrna, and a technicolor picture, "They Said It With Tulips," were the features of the first fall meeting of the Newark New Century Club held Monday afternoon in the newly decorated club house.

Mrs. R. O. Bausman, president, presided over the business session at which reports by various committee chairmen were heard. Of special interest was the report on the teen-age canteen conducted in the building during the summer, where over 2500 youths were registered, and many others made use of the facilities.

The budget for the year and plans for further improvement of the club house were also discussed. Thus far, the tea room and stage have been decorated. Mrs. Perri Arnold is chairman of the housekeeping committee.

Mrs. David Eastburn presented the gardening film, which was given through the courtesy of the Associated Bulb Growers of Holland and covered the story of the introduction of tulips to this country from Holland. Further views showed a number of tulip varieties and suggested effective arrangements for private gardens.

Mrs. Thomas D. Mylrea, program chairman, introduced Mr. Newcomb, who is well-known to Newark audiences. He was accompanied by Mrs. Don Martin, music chairman, and his tenor voice was heard to great effect in a well-chosen program of songs which included: Furtiva Lagrima, Danzetti, Widmung, Schumann, Le Reve de Des Grieux from Mazon by Massenet, Do You Know My Garden, and, in closing, a Negro spiritual. For his encore he sang the ever popular "Brown Bird Singing."

Mrs. Carlton Douglass was tea hostess, assisted by the following: Mrs. William Adams, Jr., Mrs. Earl Armstrong, Mrs. William Barnard, Mrs. Ralph H. Beaman, Mrs. William Berry, Mrs. Robert Berry and Mrs. J. C. Cann. Mrs. A. L. Osterhof, chairman of hospitality, presided at the punch bowl.

Majority Of Violations
For Parking

A record total of 148 arrests, the majority for parking or speeding violations, was made in September by the Newark Police Force, according to Chief William Cunningham's monthly report released this week.

The jump in parking offenses was due chiefly to the influx of strangers here following the opening of the university, it was said.

The September arrests are classified as follows:

Drunk, seventeen arrests; speeding, twenty-four arrests; disorderly conduct, eleven arrests; no operator's license, four arrests; assault and battery, two arrests; reckless driving, three arrests; shooting crap, six arrests; larceny of auto, two arrests; breaking and entering, five arrests; carrying concealed deadly weapons, trespassing, driving drunk, passing on right, failing to stop for police officer, unregistered motor vehicle, improper muffler, failing to give right-of-way, and larceny of bailee, one arrest for each offense; and parking tickets, sixty-three.

Investigations were as follows: Accidents, eight; breaking and entering, two, one cleared; larceny, three; illegal use of motor vehicle, one; and health hazard in apartment house, one, corrected.

There were five cases dismissed, eight cases held for family court, one case held for Court of Common Pleas, and one case held for Court of General Sessions.

Services Held Saturday For Elizabeth R. Miller

Services for Elizabeth R. Miller, aged 69 years, were held at the Cherry Hill Methodist Church last Saturday afternoon. Interment was in the adjoining cemetery.

Mrs. Miller died Wednesday, October 2, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Nottingham Road, Newark.

In addition to Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Miller is survived by one other daughter, two sons, and several grandchildren. The minister of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church officiated at the services.

CLINIC FOR HANDICAPPED OPENS HERE ON MONDAY

Job Aid For All Disabled
At Methodist Church Clinic

Any handicapped person in this area seeking to correct his disability and find suitable work is urged to attend the one-day rehabilitation clinic to be held here on Monday from 10 a. m. until noon, in the Newark Methodist Church.

Sponsored by the State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation in cooperation with numerous civic groups throughout the state as a phase of "National Employ the Handicapped Week," the clinic will provide a free medical examination by experienced physicians.

The four-fold purpose of the clinic will be to locate handicapped persons in this area, determine the extent of their handicaps, arrange for training necessary for them to hold a job, and find them a suitable job through which they can gain independence.

The clinic is one of several being held throughout the state. Employers are being urged to cooperate with the program and to survey the job potentialities in their plants.

When found necessary at the clinic, medical or surgical treatment and artificial appliances will be provided the handicapped under the program of rehabilitation. Vocational Rehabilitation holds out the hope that any handicapped person can be successfully fitted into the nation's economic life and become a productive citizen.

E-52 PLAY IS NOW IN REHEARSAL

35th Offering
To Be "Shadow
And Substance"

For the 35th major production and their first of the current season the E-52 Players of the University of Delaware have selected "Shadow and Substance," the eminently successful Irish drama by Paul Vincent Carroll. Production dates have been set for November 13, 14, and 15 in Mitchell Hall, and rehearsals are already well-underway.

The cast includes a number of actors already familiar to Mitchell Hall audiences. Margaret Guenuev of Marshallton portrays Brigid, the role made famous by Miss Julie Hayden in the Broadway premiere, while James J. Quinn of Wilmington enacts the part of the Canon, which was Sir Cedric Hardwicke's role opposite Miss Hayden.

Other members of the cast include: O'Flingsley, portrayed by Andrew I. Bolton, Jr., of Edge Moor; Thomasina, by Dorothy Catts of Cranford, N. J.; Father Car, Joseph M. Woods of Wilmington; Father Kirwan, Charles C. Parks of Wilmington; Miss Cooney, Sybil Levenson of Washington, D. C.; Francis Ignatius, Joseph McVey of Newark; Martin Mullahone, Layton Mabrey of Clayton; Rose Violet, Elizabeth Hutchinson of Chatham, N. J.

"Shadow and Substance" was produced at the Abbey Theater in Dublin on January 25, 1937. It had its Broadway premiere under the aegis of Eddie Dowling at the John Golden Theater in January, 1938. The play was an artistic triumph and received wide popular acclaim from its first night on Broadway and throughout its long tour.

Latest fall styles will be modeled at a Newark Fashion Show, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, on Tuesday, October 22, at 8 p. m., in the New Century Club building.

The models will be local women and university students.

The show will last about an hour and will be followed by a coffee hour, during which there will be music and dancing.

Stars In Drama Group Play

Virginia Evans Vaughn

AUDIENCE TO JOIN IN PLAY HERE NEXT WEEK

Ticket Sales
Running High
For Drama In Mitchell Hall

Unusually heavy ticket sales indicate interest is running high in the University Drama Group's forthcoming production, "The Night of January 16th," a mystery play, to be given in Mitchell Hall next Thursday and Friday evenings, reported C. R. Humphries, business manager, yesterday.

Many ticket purchasers have already signified their willingness to serve on the jury which will be drawn from the audience.

Near the end of the play the jurors will render the verdict which will determine the play's ending.

Two possible endings are being rehearsed, and the cast will not know which to use until the jury decides.

Several changes have been made in the cast. Due to a business trip Curley Mahanna and Virginia Mahanna are being replaced by Layton Mabrey and Carrie Thomas. Mr. Maybrey is president of the E-52 Players of the University. He will play the part of the gangster known as Larry Regan. Mrs. Thomas will play the handwriting expert.

The university is represented in the cast by Professor Robert E. Currie of the English Department and Dr. C. Robert Kase, director of Dramatics. Members of the University Drama Group who will be playing their first long roles will be Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wyatt, Edward Hein, Dorothy Dutton, John P. Sinclair, Mrs. E. O. Ottey and Mike Kubicki.

Old timers of the group who will be remembered for parts in previous plays will be Parker Thomas, Carrie Thomas, Leah Ottey, and Taggart Evans. The leading feminine role of Karen Andre being tried for murder will be played by Virginia Evans Vaughn. Betty Kase is the director.

SCHOOLS TO JOIN IN FUND DRIVE

$600 Goal For NHS In United Fund Campaign

The Newark Public Schools will join in the United School Fund Drive to be held October 21st to November 1st, with a goal of $600 for its twelve hundred pupils. The drive will be directed by the Special Drives Committee, headed by Miss Ann Gallaher and including Miss Rebecca Kirk, Miss Mary Cashell, Miss Estelle Kintigh, Miss Irene Wilkinson, Mr. Nicolas Kuzovich, and Mr. Frank Mercer.

Each pupil will be asked to contribute at least fifty cents to meet the six hundred dollars. The total amount of money collected will be distributed in the following manner:

Junior Red Cross, 7 per cent; United War Fund, 33 per cent; March of Dimes (Infantile paralysis), 25 per cent; Cancer Control, 25 per cent; Emergency Fund, 10 per cent.

Miss Ann Gallaher, chairman of the drive committee, stated, "the aim of the drive is to avoid asking for contributions several times during the year, and to give everyone an opportunity to contribute toward all the worthwhile causes."

ZONE LAW CHANGES TO BE STUDIED NEXT WEEK

Council Calls
Special Meet
On Revisions
To Zone Draft

A special meeting to study the mass of petitions for changes in the proposed town zoning ordinance, which have been piling up since the first public hearing early this month, will be held by the Town Council next week in Council Offices.

A complete list of the complaints, recommendations and suggested revisions was submitted by the town Zoning Commission to the Town Council at its September meeting Monday night.

So numerous were the petitions that the Council decided on next week's special meeting to give them full consideration. No date next week can be set, however, until it can be determined when all Council members will be free to attend.

Revisions to the ordinance which are approved at the meeting will be forwarded to the Institute of State and Local Governments, Philadelphia, Pa., which will formally redraft the ordinance. The next step in adoption will then be a second public hearing under direction of Council, when the revised draft will be subjected to further discussion.

Bulk of the complaints on the zoning draft to date center around the provisions for the proposed commercial district. The frequently conflicting petitions call either for broad regulations for expanding the district or register objections against permitting the Commercial zone to move into residential areas.

It was further revealed at the session that a tentative draft of the new town charter has been completed, and a town Charter Commission, composed of Herman Wollaston, Norman Battersby and Norris Wright, was named to study the document.

ONE FIRE CALL HERE PAST MONTH

Sept. Report
Also Lists 3
For District

Only one fire was reported in town during September for a total estimated property loss of $3,300, according to Fire Recorder Charles E. Moore's report submitted at the monthly meeting of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company last week.

The single alarm in town was for a dwelling on New London Avenue, owned by Charles Ryder. Three calls were answered in the district and caused a total loss of $125, according to the report.

Early last Sunday evening, an alarm was sounded when flames broke out in the bungalow of George Foraker, Roseville Park, Capitol Trail. Damage was extensive, it was said. The home was vacant at the time and no cause could be found for the blaze.

The town ambulance made 36 runs in September, the report said, and covered 1247 miles.

It was further announced that no more members can be accepted into the company until vacancies develop. The membership permitted under the Aetna charter has already been achieved, and new applications must await openings.

Christiana Presbyterians To Mark Home-Coming Day

The Christiana Presbyterian Church will hold its annual Home-Coming Day this Sunday with services at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. The Rev. William L. Everhart will be the speaker at the morning service, and the afternoon service will be in charge of Rev. Dr. Elliot Field, of New Castle. There will be special music at both services, and lunch will be served at noon by the ladies of the church.

For more than 20 year annual Home-Coming Day has been held for the benefit of the cemetery adjoining the church. A great deal of interest has been shown by both present and former members of the church, and it is hoped a large attendance will be attracted this year. All interested in the church and the cemetery are cordially invited to attend for a day of inspiration and fellowship.

SHOP CLASS OBJECTIVES ARE LISTED

First In Series Of Articles On NHS Departments

Following is the first in a series of articles covering the work and objectives of various departments at the Newark High School. The present article, by Joseph MacCoy, Industrial Art Instructor, outlines the principal aims of the Industrial Arts Course, which was resumed this year at the local school after a lapse of several terms.

"Must my son take Industrial Arts? This question has been put to me many times. No matter what the answer may be, an explanation of the course of study in the Industrial Arts program is needed. Most people have a wrong conception of this course. Many believe that a student takes this subject only because he lacks ability in other classes. Nothing is further from the truth. In Industrial Arts we do not seek nor attempt to teach a trade; rather the student is encouraged to assert leadership, to acquire a taste of and for art and, at the same time to learn the proper procedure for handling the more common tools found in everyday life.

"In the days when home industry flourished, children watched and aided adults in the making of clothes, simple machines, shoes, harness, whips, wagons, candles, and many other things. They were thus induced into adult life activities. Minds and bodies developed normally through this work.

"Today there is little or no opportunity for children to familiarize themselves with these things. Everything can be purchased; and the practical arts heritage is in danger of being lost.

"Industrial Arts provides the opportunity for children through the planning and construction of interesting objects, to learn something of industry and industrial products and their values.

"The following objectives of Industrial Arts are set forth to clarify the meaning of the exploratory and general objectives most commonly listed for junior and senior high school education:

To develop an interest in constructive vocational activities; To increase knowledge of the principal fields of industry and the opportunities therein; To provide the experience and information to aid the pupil, as a consumer; To establish close relationships between industrial arts work and the other school subjects; To develop, by experience in personnel and equipment, the inherent quality of leadership.

this article is concerned. The existence of some definite plan, to aid leadership and self-reliance is a prerequisite. It is with this in mind that the following plan has been adopted in the Newark Industrial Arts Shop. It establishes the teacher in the position of advisor instead of the outmoded age-old conception of master. In this program the following positions are rotated once a week until each pupil has had the opportunity of filling each job; then a permanent incumbent is named for the remainder of the school year.

"The positions are as follows: Superintendent, General Shop Foreman, Tool Crib Foreman, Project Foreman, and Maintenance Foreman.

"In order to be eligible for appointment to the position of Superintendent or Foreman a pupil must demonstrate a knowledge of all shop tools, be able to interpret drawings and show ability in handling other students. All pupil personnel plans must be based on a system of orderly rotation to provide all pupils with the opportunity to move from one position to another. All appointments are for a period of one week, thereby giving other pupils an incentive to demonstrate their right to lead.

While Industrial Arts is given primarily to acquaint the pupil with the general use of tools and to gain a consumer's value of materials, the qualities of leadership are also encouraged.

National C. Of C. Urges Backing For U. S. Schools

A statement released recently by the United States Chamber of Commerce on "What Makes People Good" listed the following: ability of people to produce and ability and desire to buy.

Findings on what makes people good producers and good consumers were reported as:

Where schools are best, average incomes are increased. Where schools are best, retail sales are increased. Where schools are best, rentals for homes are highest. Where schools are best, more telephones are used. Where schools are best, more magazines are read. Where schools are best, fewer men were rejected under Selective Service.

Education makes people good producers and good consumers. Money spent on schools is a sound investment. The Chamber of Commerce recognizes also the cultural and citizenship values of education.

G. BALDWIN IN GERMANY

Is Assigned To Air Forces

Pfc. Gaylen McVay Baldwin, son of Mrs. Mae T. Baldwin, Newark, has arrived at the European Theater Army Air Forces Replacement Depot, at Furstenfeldbruck, Germany, and will soon be assigned to permanent duties with the occupational Air Force.

From this depot he may be assigned to units servicing Army Air Forces planes in Germany, Austria, Italy or France. While here, in the heart of picturesque Bavaria, he will have an opportunity to enjoy the scenic beauties of the wooded foothills of the Alps. He will also be able to visit the notorious Dachau Concentration Camp.

Located about 20 miles from Munich, this $15,000 former Luftwaffe flying school was Germany's Randolph Field. Now under the command of Col. Malcolm N. Stewart, Hampton, Va., it is one of the best equipped and most attractive air fields in Europe. At present several thousand GIs each month are processed and oriented for their occupation duties at this key station.

Before entering the service in January, 1946, Pfc. Baldwin attended the Kennett Square (Pa.) High School. Later he was employed as a hotel clerk in Wilmington.

BLIGHT CONTROL IN '47 PLANNED

Experts Here List Steps For Reducing Danger

A question in the minds of potato and tomato growers is whether or not late blight disease will be present in 1947. Dr. John W. Heuberger, extension plant pathologist of the University of Delaware, says no one can answer this question now for it depends on the weather next year. Dr. Heuberger points out if the spring of 1947 is wet and cool, conditions will be favorable for the development of late blight disease; if, however, the spring of 1947 is warm and dry, conditions will be unfavorable for its development. As the fungus causing late blight can overwinter only in two ways in Delaware—in potato tubers and possibly in tomato seed—much can be done now to help in late blight control next year. A survey of late potato fields made on October 1 and 2 showed that many fields over the state were rapidly being destroyed by the late blight disease. This means that tuber infection will be serious and thus provide a means for the fungus to overwinter.

Dr. Heuberger gives these steps farmers should take to reduce the chances of blight next season:

First: Growers of late potatoes should not dig their fields until the vines are completely dead. This will help to keep the disease spores from infecting the tubers during harvest. Potatoes should be dug only when the ground is dry.

Second: All diseased potatoes at harvest time should be picked up and either buried or burned. About a month after harvest, sort over the potatoes in storage and then bury or burn all the diseased ones. Remember, the major means of overwintering of the fungus is in the potato tuber.

Third: Tomato growers should fall plow deeply fields that were in tomatoes this year. This will bury the seeds so that they cannot produce diseased volunteer plants next year. It is not felt by many pathologists that infected tomato seed is important in the overwintering of the late blight fungus. However, it can overwinter in the seed to some extent.

Lewisville Methodists To Hold Home-Coming Services

Homecoming services at St. John's Methodist Church, Lewisville, Pa., will be on October 13, 1946. The public is invited to all services.

Church School will be at 10 o'clock. The pastor, Howell O. Wilkins, will preach at the morning service, after which luncheon will be served by the Ladies Aid.

A song service at 2 o'clock will precede the afternoon service at 3 o'clock, at which time the Rev. Dr. Willard G. Purdy of First and Central Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, Del., will speak.

The Rev. Dr. Oliver J. Collins, superintendent of the Wilmington District of the Methodist Church, will preach at the evening service at 7:30, and preside over a meeting of the official board following the service. $40,000 IN GIFTS MADE TO U. OF D.

Contributions totaling $40,000 have been made to the University of Delaware, it was disclosed recently by Dr. William S. Carlson, university president. This money will enable the university to broaden the scope of its academic extension program in Delaware and to acquire the services of experts in several fields as special lecturers.

In announcing these gifts, Dr. Carlson expressed his gratitude to the donors for having made it possible for the university to offer even greater educational services to the citizens of Delaware and stated that he was confident that an increasing number of persons would avail themselves of this opportunity for furthering their education. The university president pointed out that several of the extension courses being offered are in the humanities, thus affording excellent opportunities for the further enrichment of a cultural education.

The academic extension program is also important, he said, because of the demand in this area for men and women highly trained in technical fields and such other specialized fields as industrial relations and personnel management.

In the program now made possible by the $40,000, the university hopes to bring to this area scientists and other experts from industry as well as from other universities. Such men will offer a series of lectures and seminars in specialized fields, it was explained.

FORD'S FIRST

FIRST IN SALES. More new Fords have been sold in '46 than any other car. Ford again proved it can out-produce all other makers of low-priced cars.

FIRST IN POWER. Ford's famous 100 h.p. V-8 engine and spirited 90 h.p. SIX are the most modern power plants in their price class.

FIRST IN STYLE. From its massive grille to its roomy trunk, Ford's new sleek-lined beauty puts it "Out Front." And inside, too, there's two-toned beauty.

FIRST IN SAFETY. Ford's "Lifeguard" body gives you the extra protection of an all-welded heavy steel unit. Brakes are oversized.

FIRST IN ECONOMY. Everyone knows that "Ford's Out Front" for low-cost car ownership. But only by seeing the new Ford can you realize how much bigger and better it is than many cars which are far more costly. Order your Ford now.

TWO great Engines!

Formerly, only higher-priced cars offered you a choice of engines. Now Ford, and Ford alone, gives you a pick of power in the low-priced field—the 100 h.p. Ford V-8 or the 90 h.p. SIX!

IF we'd been right smart (which we have never been accused of being) we would have kept our big mouth shut last week about predicting the football fortunes of the untried Newark High School Yellow Jackets.

But, Oh, No! Not us. Old smartypants had to stick his neck out and thereby get it chopped off . . . but good. Coach Walter Matt may have been a joy to his mother and the pride of Selbyville (before coming to Newark) but he sure did fail to live up to our advance billing when his gridiron aspirants bowed (but low) to Brown Vocational on the local amphitheatre Saturday afternoon.

And to think we gave up listening to a ding-dong Columbia-Navy battle to WALK all the way down to the high school just to be loyal and root for the black and gold.

Now, it undoubtedly wasn't all Coach Matt's fault at all. He no doubt has done a creditable job with the material at hand but those lads sure didn't belong on the same football field with the Brown aggregation.

Brown, big, husky, fast and well trained, completely outclassed Newark in all departments of the game and the score just as easily might have been twice 25-0 for all the resistance the Jackets offered. Not, mind you, that they didn't fight. The did (some of them) and valiantly but they simply weren't able to cope with the power-laden thrusts, end-sweeps and off-tackle drives projected by the Brown eleven.

Newark showed promise but we're afraid it will be in the distant future before much semblance of that promise is realized. Now, don't get the idea that we are NOT for the Yellow Jackets. We definitely are, and very much so. But, they'll have to improve a lot before they can hope to compete favorably with any Wilmington teams except Salesianum . . . which outfit they meet in the Wilmington Ball Park Saturday night, at 8:15 . . . and, which team they MAY beat. Pre-game dope would indicate that the two are about even and a tie would not greatly surprise us.

To our lay point of view, Ford, Gregg and Beef Ewing were the shining lights, Saturday, for Newark. The less said about the rest of them the better. And, while we'd like to see them win the rest of the games on their schedule, we cannot conscientiously predict for them anything but a gloomy outlook. Just to go further out on the limb, we regretfully foresee them winning no more than two games of their present schedule . . . and that, in our book, is giving them all advantage of the doubt.

The more we say the worse we seem to make it so we'll shut up now with the expressed hope that Coach Matt and his N. H. S. Yellow Jackets will make us eat every word of the foregoing . . . without salt, pepper or water to wash it down.

The University Blue Hens exceeded predictions to literally swamp an over-touted Randolph-Macon eleven under a 33-0 deluge of points . . . with the so-called first team playing only a few minutes of the game.

Substituting freely to give most all the reserves a chance to see action, the Murray-Burnsian-Martin-coached Blue Hens galloped the green-sward all will to humiliate the visitors . . . looked like the Hens just couldn't keep from scoring . . . with a devastating exhibition of all their twenty-three game winning streak of power.

Coach Murray modestly proclaims that his boys aren't as good as all the rave notices they're getting but we'll continue to think they are until they meet a team capable of giving them some opposition, at least.

Conceding that P. M. C. and Randolph-Macon were only warm-up scrimmages for the Hens, we believe they will meet a little sterner stuff in Western Maryland, whom they entertain at Wilmington, Friday night, at 8:15. But, we also believe that the Hens will beat Western Maryland—and emphatically.

As a matter of fact, we can't see that they will lose a game this season unless it might possibly be Muhlenberg—the last game on their schedule . . . and this we'll have to see before we believe it. Frankly, we wonder just how good this 1946 U. of D. team really is. We think they're way and away better than any of the opposition listed on their current schedule.

With the grid season now well under way and several good games on tap for this Saturday we'll give you the benefit of an amateur's selection in the following conflicts. We like, of course, Army over Michigan; Navy over twice-beaten Duke; Northwestern over Minnesota; Notre Dame over Purdue; Southern California over Oregon State; Pennsylvania over Dartmouth—and Penn looks like it might be one of THE powers in the East this fall; Pittsburgh over Temple; Princeton over Harvard; unbeaten Texas over Oklahoma and Yale (another definite threat for unbeaten honors) over Columbia—which humbled Navy last week. Now, don't say THAT won't be a toughie.

Excessive cheerfulness is frequently very obnoxious.

Ben Franklin is credited with having said: "Old boys have their playthings as well as young ones—the difference is only in the price."

Also: "Light-heeled mothers make leaden-heeled daughters" . . . and that, Mr. Franklin, can easily work both ways.

JACKETS FACE SALLIES IN NITE CLASH ON SATURDAY; DROP OPENER WITH BROWN

Bear Powerhouse Overwhelms Untried Newark Eleven, 25-0; Jackets Only Nite Clash Set For 8:15 Sat. In Wilm. Park

Rebuffed by a powerful Brown Vocational eleven, 25-0, in their opener here last Saturday, the Jackets, with scarcely time to regain their breath, are scheduled to collide with another formidable obstacle this Saturday, when they meet Salesianum High in a night clash at the Wilmington Ball Park. The kick-off is slated for 8:15 p. m.

Coach Walter Matt's minions will be on the rebound, however, and Salesianum, while the probable favorites at game-time, will not be as strong an opponent as the Brown juggernaut.

Boys' Leader Club Trains To Aid NHS Sport Program

Thirty members of the Boys' Leaders Club played a short game of soccer recently as part of their program to familiarize themselves with the fundamental rules of various games.

Tentative plans for an intra-mural program of full sports at the local school to get under way following the football season were also discussed. Walter Matt, physical education teacher, explained that he plans to run the intra-mural sports for six weeks beginning about the third week in October.

He also stated that he would put physical education classes in the hands of members of the Leaders Club. This would give each member a chance to develop his ability.

WESTERN MARYLAND LOOMS AS DELAWARE'S NEXT VICTIM IN NITE GAME ON SATURDAY

Kick-Off Is Set For 8:15 In Wilmington Park; Blue Hens Aim For 24th Win In Row; Maul Randolph-Macon

Their appetite for victory no wit diminished by the 53-0 mauling handed Randolph-Macon last week, the Blue Hens will lure Western Maryland into their home roost at Wilmington Park this Saturday night, with the grizzly intention of making them number twenty-four on their list of grid victims. The proceedings will begin under the lights at 8:15 p. m.

Always one of Delaware's toughest opponents, the Marylanders are not expected to walk meekly to the slaughter, however. Last week they trampled over Gettysburg, 18-6, and may prove an unexpected stumbling block to the high-flying Blue Hens.

The latter, however, will be working on the principal that it never pays to underestimate an opponent.

The gridiron series between Western Maryland and Delaware was initiated in 1903 when the Terrers were victorious by a 16-6 score. During the next 18 years these teams met eight more times and then did not play again until 1942, after a lapse of 21 years. The upper hand in this 43 year old rivalry is held by the Westminster (Md.) team, the Terrers having won six times to Delaware's four.

In the Randolph-Macon clash last week, the Hens scarcely had their feathers ruffled as the scoreboard registered Delaware touchdowns with the regularity of an adding machine. Aside from the score, the most significant indication of Delaware's amazing power was the fact that the varsity was used only sparingly in the first half and was retired altogether in the second. Coach Murray drained his entire manpower pool in the fracas and most of the scoring was done by the reserves.

Delaware remained fairly well behaved towards their guests in the opening canto, courteously scoring only once, when Paul Hart set the stage with a 43-yard pass to Harold (Buck) Thompson, then, a few plays later, Hart attended personally to the score with a one-yard plunge.

In the second quarter, however, the Hens became entirely unmanageable as they went on a touchdown spree which netted 20 points. Delaware's second six-pointer came after a 63-yard march in which Joe Coady was the big gun and which brought the Hens to the Yellow Jackets four. At this point, Tony Storti was elected to tote it over. The third tally came in rapid fire order, when, after the kickoff, Randolph was bottled on its own ten and forced to kick. The punt carried no further than Bob Campbell's chest, however, and Bob fell on the ball in the end zone. Before the half ended, Delaware managed to squeeze in another score, when Carroll Hauptle gathered in a Yellow Jacket aerial and breezed 27 yards for the fourth six-pointer.

Action flared again with the opening of the second half as Coady intercepted another Jacket pass and started the fifth Hen scoring lunge, carrying the ball to the 34 where Art Millman climbed aboard the touchdown special to make the tally.

Coach Murray reached deeper into his reserved horde at this point and drew forth another potential trump in the shape of Mariano Stalloni, brother of Two-Ton Capt. Tony Young Stalloni accounted for two of Delaware's three remaining scores, both through line plunges after Hen marches.

Jim Otten rang down the curtain in the afternoon's festivities with a final six-pointer, manufactured when he intercepted a Randolph-Macon pass and crashed 44 yards to pay-dirt.

COMPANY G PLANS GIVEN

Newark's Company G, Delaware State Guard, will hold a special drill tomorrow night when winter uniforms will be issued and preparations made for the units' participation in a Guard parade in Wilmington on Sunday.

The company will assemble at 12:30 Sunday and move by truck to Wilmington.

Various activities are being planned for the guard, it was said, in an effort to prevent interest from lagging in the various guard companies until this January, when the Guard will be officially discharged.

Company G will take part in a riot or combat problem on November 3. The final state inspection will be held on December 9, and the winning company will act as the Guard of Honor at a final parade and review to be held in Wilmington on January 3. Company G has won the award four times in previous inspections and at present holds the Fighting Cock on its Guidon. The unit stands a good chance of taking the last inspection.

RECRUITING HEAD HERE

Urges Army
Enlistments

Hundreds of thousands of young men are finding a solution to job difficulties in current period of business reversion by signing up for 18 months, two or three year enlistment in the new peacetime Regular Army, according to First Sergeant Botsford, recruiting chief at the local post office station open every Wednesday and Thursday.

Most enlistees, he stated, are men who intend to use their Army training to specialize in one of the many skills and trades taught in Army training schools. When they leave the Army, they will be prepared to begin in such advanced fields as radar, radio, television aviation, jet propulsion and atomic science.

"The Army's offer is hard to beat," said Sgt. Botsford. In addition to food, clothing, quarters, medical and dental care, the recruit receives the highest pay the Army has ever offered. Service overseas will bring 20 per cent extra, plus provisions for family allowances, 30 days vacation yearly, and educational training in Army schools. Retirement benefits after 20 years provide a life income.

Morning Service At Head Of Christiana

Services will be held in the morning at the Head of Christiana Presbyterian Church this Sunday. Sunday School will begin at 10 a. m. with classes discussing "Paul's Conversion to Christ."

The offering for the Restoration Fund will be made at this service. Every member is urged to be present at the Communion Service and to make a contribution or 3-year pledge to the Restoration Fund.

Westminster Fellowship will meet at 6:45 p. m., followed by a combined rehearsal of the Junior and Senior Choirs for the anniversary service. The 240th anniversary of the church's founding will be held Sunday, October 20.

ASTP WORK LAUDED BY ARMY HEADS

Certificate Of Distinction Is Given U. of D.

A War Department Certificate of Distinction, signed by Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, has just been presented to the University of Delaware in recognition of the role played by the university in the training of soldiers in the Army Specialized Training Program during World War II. It was disclosed today by Dr. W. S. Carlson, president of the university.

This is the second time the University of Delaware has been cited for excellence in its war-time military training program. In March of this year, the 1294th Service Command Unit, A. S. T. P.-R. O. T. C. at the University of Delaware was awarded the Meritorious Service Unit Plaque. The 1294th S. C. U. is believed to be the first of the approximately 30 units in the various colleges within the Second Service Command to be so honored. Both officers and enlisted men assigned to the 1294th, which is still the designation of the R. O. T. C. unit at the University of Delaware are entitled to wear on the right sleeve of their uniforms a special patch in honor of this citation.

The plaque was awarded for service from January 1944 to December 1945. The new Certificate of Distinction, however, covers the entire period during which Army personnel received training at the University of Delaware.

From May, 1943, to April, 1946, 1,622 students received training in the Delaware units. Of these, 629 were soldiers assigned from the field for specialized training. These constituted the 3216th S. C. U. The remaining 993 were 17-year-old members of the Enlisted Reserve Corps, who were assigned to the 1294th S. C. U.
